This is a basic course for one quinmester to complete grammar review and to build a vocabulary relating to personality development, office relationships, job finding and job success.

Indicators of Success: Applicants must have applied and been accepted in the Cooperative Business Education program and completed "Developing the Art of Communication", Course Number 7725.07, satisfactorily.

PREFACE

The following quinmester course outline has been prepared as a guide to help the students thoroughly understand the framework of English giving them a background sufficient to be able to overcome their inadequacies of speaking and writing.

The pressing need in the business office for competent employees and the opportunities opening up for women executives make a knowledge of grammar extremely important. Success as a business worker will depend upon how well one can express, orally or on paper, facts and ideas.

This outline content covers the essential elements of grammar required to write business letters, memorandums, and reports. The student entering the business world needs to review the sentence, verbs, nouns, pronouns, adjectives, adverbs, prepositions and conjunctions. This course outline is intended to review each aspect necessary to reinforce grammar principles and to build proofreading skill which is necessary for each business employee.

The course is written for one quinmester that allows for 45 hours of instruction. The course outline consists of eleven blocks of instruction. The classroom instruction includes group discussions, lectures, exercises and reports to be done immediately in class after presentation of principles, and the use of audiovisual aids.

Students who have applied and been accepted in the Cooperative Business Education program and successfully completed Course #7725.07, "Developing the Art of Communication", should be admitted to this course.

This outline was developed through the cooperative efforts of the instructional and supervisory personnel, the quinmester advisory committee, and the Vocational Teacher Education Service; it has been approved by the Dade County Vocational Curriculum Committee.
