CAREER PLANNING AND PLACEMENT CENTER

INTRODUCTION

The Career Planning and Placement Center Program seeks to make the concepts of Career Education an integral part of the regular school curriculum. The growth of technology and the ever-increasing complexity of society has progressively removed young people from contact with the world of work, until most of them know little of occupational characteristics and requirements.

When properly approached, career planning requires good decision-making skills. It is reasonable to expect that every student who graduates will possess these skills, and will have had multiple opportunities to apply them to those decisions which directly affect his life. Basic to the decision-making process is the need for relevant information and pertinent facts. Information and facts may come from classroom study, other students, school activities, community activities, business and industry, counseling and guidance, parents, or other experiences. The personnel involved in the Career Planning and Placement Center Program will coordinate information from all these sources and help make it available in a usable form to students who need it.

The Career Planning and Placement Center Program is designed to provide physical facilities where various size groups can be accommodated. A concerted effort will be made to bring career information to the staff, the parents, and the students of the San Mateo Union High School District. The personnel at each center will establish and maintain an occupational information library, information about colleges and scholarships, and will provide multimedia materials which can be utilized by individuals or groups for occupational/educational planning.

Students should leave high school with positive attitudes about the world of work and with entry-level job skills, whether they intend to seek immediate employment or advanced training and/or education. The Career Planning and Placement Center Program will assist students in developing self-awareness, and in acquiring an understanding of, and ability to use, decision-making skills as they apply to their future.

NEEDS ASSESSMENT

The district-wide long-range follow-up study of the graduating class of 1966, the follow-up study of Capuchino High School's class of 1970, and the 1971 Guidance Redesign study at Mills and Crestmoor High Schools have revealed a significant need for career information, vocational counseling, and integration of Career Education materials into the curriculum for all students.

Instead of viewing the district student population as from 60% to 80% college bound, the data suggest a high priority be assigned to providing career guidance and occupational programs for 60% to 70% of the students who will be entering the labor force within three years of graduation from high school.

As a minimum goal, at least 70% of the student body should be assisted to:

- Learn about the world of work
- Relate their personal attitudes and assets to a future career
- Have some work experience
- Make personal career decisions based on objective data about the world of work
- Develop entry-level job skills in one occupational area
- Prepare for higher education

Career Education as defined by Dr. Kenneth Hoyt of the University of Maryland is the total effort of public education and the community aimed at helping all individuals to become familiar with the values of a work-oriented society, to integrate these values into their personal value systems, and to implement these values in their lives. The intent of the Career Planning and Placement Center program is to be part of this effort to develop, in cooperation with the teaching and counseling staff, a systematic support program to begin fulfilling the student's needs for career planning and placement.

PROGRAM GOALS AND EXPECTANCIES

Career Planning and Placement Center Program Goals. The major goals for the functions of the program are:

1. Facility. The Career Planning and Placement Center shall have a flexible space design in order to accommodate large groups, small group seminars, and individual study. The Center shall also provide space for the Guidance Department, Work Experience, and School/Community Service programs.

CAREER PLANNING AND PLACEMENT CENTER

2. Information Resource. Provide audio-visual and printed information on careers and educational training opportunities to serve students, professional staff, parents and the community. Monitor current trends in labor market and social and educational issues as they focus upon changing career patterns.
3. Catalyst (Facilitator). Facilitate more effective involvement of professional staff in systematically introducing career information into the curriculum through units, courses, and mini courses. Included would be major emphasis for student exploration, planning, and decision making.
4. Coordination. Coordinate and provide facilities for inservice training with counselors, Work Experience and School/Community Service teacher/coordinators and faculty in developing multiple ways for dispensing career information, in instructing about the concepts of Career Education and career decision making, and in helping students to realistically integrate such information into their self-concepts.
5. Community Resource. Bring the community into the school with career and training information and to bring the school to the community with Work Experience Education programs, School/Community Service programs, field trips, career demonstrations, and individual visits.
6. Placement. Identify placement opportunities for students to enter advanced occupational training and/or advanced educational programs. Provide employment assistance to place students who have obtained entry-level skills from the various occupational programs and the Work Experience Education programs.
7. Evaluation. Provide evaluations for ongoing programs in terms of changes in occupational demands and assist staff in adopting career planning and placement programs to meet current demands. Conduct yearly follow-up surveys of the graduates of all occupational programs.¹

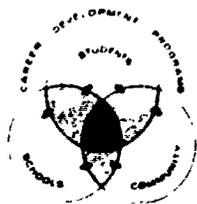

¹Many of the goals listed above are based upon a Career Guidance model presented by Dr. R. J. Swan of California State College-Long Beach at the 1971 State convention of California Personnel and Guidance Association.
