ABSTRACT

This is the latest edition of a handbook designed to assist school administrators in preventing and dealing with school disruptions and certain related legal matters. Because the handbook was prepared specifically for use by administrators in the Los Angeles Unified School District, it is based on laws and regulations that may not apply elsewhere. However, many of the administrative actions and preventative measures it recommends may be of value to school administrators in other states and cities as well. Section 1 lists various types of disruptive activity, suggests steps to minimize the impact of such disturbances, and cites the administrative and legal authority supporting such steps. Section 2 lists various preventative measures that have been successful in one or more school districts. Section 3 discusses from a legal standpoint the substance and rationale for the recommended responses to various disturbances. Section 4 presents the text of the laws, regulations, and policies cited throughout the handbook. Section 5 provides useful information about relevant legal requirements and administrative procedures. Section 6 contains a glossary of terms, abbreviations, and references used throughout the handbook. (JG)

FOREWORD

This third edition of the Handbook is designed to improve its usefulness to administrators by integrating all reference materials developed for the 1973 edition and the 1974 supplement.

The practice of annually adding new or revised materials has increased the size of the Handbook to a point where its bulk is no longer accommodated by the binder in which it was originally released. In order to permit the maximum serviceability imposed by the size of the easily identified, hard cover, green vinyl jacket, all the statutes which are cited anywhere in the text have been packaged separately, alphabetically by code name and in numerical order within each code. It is suggested that this package of statutes be inserted into a separate binder and placed near the Handbook for quick resource. Such an arrangement will permit easier reference to both text and statutes, and will ease annual updating.

This revised 1975 edition contains an INDEX which may be found at the back of the Handbook and a STATUTE INDEX which immediately follows the light green divider labeled STATUTE. Additionally, there are modifications of narrative portions which eliminate sex-discriminating terminology. However, verbatim quotations of statutes, rules, opinions, or excerpts from other authorities have not been tampered with in order to eliminate what might be interpreted as discriminatory expression.

INTRODUCTION

This handbook is designed to provide practical assistance to the school administrator. Its concerns are school disruptions and auxiliary information regarding certain legal matters.

Since the observance of law and order on campus is a necessary District objective, neither disorder nor disruption of the school process can be allowed. Persons attempting such actions will be held accountable.

The identification and labeling of activities herein which are characterized as disruptive represent a composite derived from local experience and a study of reports on the subject by school systems, nation-wide, serving cities with populations exceeding 300,000.

Since laws, rules, practices, judgment and discretion reflect the theories of their originators, this writing may appear to reflect a certain view. Every effort has been made to be objective and provide ready guidelines for coping with or minimizing a school disturbance. Materials to increase familiarity with tangential legal activities are also appended.

It is believed that the reasonable exercise of authority is the key to the maintenance of a healthy campus environment. Positive, firm, insightful action--the responses of a leader--contribute to an atmosphere of respect for other people, their rights, and their efficient functioning in group situations.

In sequence, the handbook (a) identifies, alphabetically, various types of disruptive activity, mentions steps suggested to minimize the impact of such disturbance, and the authority supporting such actions; (b) lists a reasonably comprehensive collection of preventive measures which have been of practical help in one or more districts; (c) treats from a legal standpoint, the substance and rationale for handling a particular type of disturbance in the manner described; (d) sets forth, in numerical order, the text of laws and references to rules and policies mentioned in this compilation; and (e) provides what we believe to be useful collateral information; (f) contains a glossary of terms, abbreviations, or references used in the body of the handbook.

PREVENTIVE MEASURES

Preparation permits the objectivity which frequently is missing during the stress and tenseness created by a disturbance. In establishing the readiness which may help dissipate the impacts of a disturbance; preliminary consideration of the following elements may prove helpful:

STUDENTS

1. Communicate with and listen to students.
(Baltimore, Buffalo, Dallas, Denver, Omaha, Pittsburgh, Seattle)
2. Promote situations which lead to communication. Encourage and promote frequent informal occasions for bringing together faculty, pupils, and administrators.
(Buffalo, Denver)
3. All school administrative personnel should make a special effort to be out in the halls frequently. Be visible. Be easily accessible to any and all students who might want to approach you.
(Omaha, Pittsburgh)
4. Open forums are encouraged to provide students with the opportunity to speak or hear others speak on topics of general interest.
(New Orleans)
5. Generate strategies to encourage full student participation in school life and school activities. Student participation encourages identification with and acceptance of the school program.
(Dallas, Pittsburgh, Seattle)
6. Provide time, place, and opportunity for the free expression of personal views by students, excluding coercion of others into joining their mode of expression, and excluding intrusion in any respect upon the rights of others.
(Dade County)
7. Make student government truly representative and meet with the student leaders several times a month. Hear them! Don't just listen.
(Omaha, Pittsburgh, Seattle)
8. Meet with student groups outside of student government since student government usually represents the "in" students of the school and not those who are likely to become active dissidents. However, student government members should be included in any special advisory organization. Also, emphasis should be placed upon the importance of initial presentation of all proposals and requests to the students' own organizational link to the school administration, the Student Council.

(Omaha)

9. Encourage and provide opportunities for student leaders, both elected and indigenous, to set an example for their peers.
(Baltimore)
10. Involve student participation in the formulation of positive, reasonable, and constructive behavioral guidelines.
(Buffalo)
11. Foster the resolution of problems by students through calm, intelligent discussions. Candid answers beget candid statements of concerns and observations.
(Baltimore, Denver, Pittsburgh, Seattle)
12. Maintain an avenue for the equitable resolution of student grievances.
(Baltimore, Buffalo, Omaha, New Orleans, Pittsburgh)
13. Principals should request that students place their grievances in clear written form prior to grievance meetings.
(New Orleans)
14. Communicate from the outset the limitations of your authority, but indicate the "next step" for students if your available actions don't satisfactorily settle the issue.
(Omaha)
15. Support and accompany any denial of student individual or group requests with the reasons therefor.
(Denver)
16. Insure student awareness and understanding of school rules; identify penalties for rule violations.
(Baltimore, Dade County)
17. Constantly challenge students who are out of class without authorization.
(Baltimore)
18. Consistently bring to bear the full force and effect of disciplinary regulations against students whose repeated misbehavior may lead to more serious or violent incidents.
(Dade County)

PARENTS -- COMMUNITY

19. The school cannot help but reflect the climate prevailing in the community. Encourage community involvement.
(Baltimore, Buffalo, Dallas, Kansas City, Toledo)
20. Establish and cultivate systematic contact with parents and parent organizations as well as with those community groups which have a bona fide interest in the school operation.
(Buffalo, Kansas City)
21. Enlist, organize, and train volunteer parents and school staff who have offered to help in the event of student or community unrest.
(Buffalo, Oklahoma City)
22. Try to restrict appointments with adults from off campus to post-class hours.
(Indianapolis)
23. Develop, publicize, and adhere to specific guidelines for dealing, preferably after the school day, with complaints from parents and/or other concerned groups involving various conflicts that may arise in the school.
(Denver)
24. Develop, publicize, and enforce a system which authorizes campus visitations and excludes unauthorized visitors.
(Buffalo, Cleveland, Dade County, Dallas, Oklahoma City, Omaha, New Orleans)

TEACHERS

25. Emphasize, develop, and maintain good teacher-pupil relationships. Stress understanding. Avoid indifference.
(Baltimore, Denver, Pittsburgh)
26. Make use of inservice training opportunities in attempting a continual refinement of awareness to the changing educational milieu and the cultural distinctions of minority groups.
(Omaha)
27. Among the responsibilities of available male teachers, incorporate the regular patrolling of halls, isolated areas, and known trouble locations.
(Dade County)
28. Arrange for the supervision of restroom areas during breaks between classes.
(Dade County)
29. Facilitate and implement a teacher "buddy system" to provide awareness, cooperation, and assistance to neighboring classrooms.

(Denver)

30. Energize open-line communication whereby school personnel will report promptly any unusual circumstances or rumors.
(Baltimore, Buffalo, Denver, Pittsburgh, Rochester, Seattle)
31. Evolve some means whereby classroom teachers may quickly relay information to the office about ominous problems occurring in their rooms.
(Denver, Omaha)
32. Devise an appropriate procedure and signal by which a teacher may summon immediate help from a designated person.
(Dade County)
33. Evaluate school personnel to determine strength, availability, and special competencies in emergency situations.
(Cleveland)
34. Encourage teachers leaving the building at the close of school to go in groups of three or four to their automobiles.
(Dade County)
35. Guard against forms of insulation and isolation which tend to choke off small hints that precede the rise of big problems.
(Buffalo)
36. Provide for orientation and review at general staff meeting which will regularly acquaint all personnel with security procedures.
(Cleveland, Toledo)
37. Make certain that school staff has sufficient training in emergency procedure to assure appropriate and "automatic" response when emergency occurs.
(Long Beach)
38. Initiate procedures which will keep substitutes, secretaries, and aides informed of all school rules and procedures.
(Baltimore)

SCHOOL GROUNDS

39. At the beginning of the school year, principals should promulgate to all students, parents, teachers and other employees of the Board the official time at which classes begin and terminate at the close of the day at the particular school; also to be provided are the earliest and latest hours at which students may be on the premises or grounds without special authorization.
(New Orleans)

40. Evaluate the school grounds to identify problem areas and situations in need of attention.
(Cleveland)
41. Insure that doors, gates, and entrances to unused rooms or areas are locked.
(Dade County, Oklahoma City)
42. Insure that all classroom as well as other interior and exterior doors may be readily locked from the inside.
43. Secure all school entrances, except the main entrance during the day.
(Baltimore, Buffalo, Dade County, Dallas)
44. Maintain constant observation of halls and school entrances.
(Baltimore, Cleveland, Dade County, Dallas, Oklahoma City, Omaha, Seattle)
45. Provide for spot checks to assure complete securing of school property prior to end of school day.
(Baltimore)
46. Report promptly in order to expedite repair of any plant deficiencies which might facilitate vandalism or other disturbances.
(Baltimore, Cleveland)
47. Institute and test a communication-alarm and emergency procedure system to be utilized in case of disturbance.
(Baltimore, Buffalo, Cleveland, Dade County, Long Beach, Oakland, Omaha, Seattle, Toledo)
48. Consider an "emergency equipment" kit, readily accessible in case of an emergency, consisting of items such as a camera with telephoto lens and film, a battery-operated tape recorder, a bull horn, a walkie-talkie, and a flexible microphone and speaker system. Assign specific people to use the equipment and train them in its use.
(Long Beach, Omaha, Seattle)
49. Regularly check the working order of public address and bell systems along with operability of emergency equipment kit items.
50. Forge and maintain cooperative working relationships with all local law enforcement agencies.
(Baltimore, Cleveland, Dade County)
51. Maintain good relations with the media. Do not be intimidated by the media.
(Dallas)

52. Institute procedures for dealing with unmanageable students and outside intruders which preclude, if possible, initial physical contact by the school staff with such students and intruders.
(Dade County)
53. Establish as routine practice the maintenance of a log listing date, time, location, individuals involved, and nature of all incidents and disturbances.
(Dade County, Dallas)

Preventive Measures: | State Activity

A recognition of the need for safeguards and deterrents as preventive measures in the reduction of conflict and violence in the schools was expressed in a Spring 1974 State Department of Education report.<sup>1</sup>

The study identified four general types of conflict (situational, intergroup, student activism, and crime), drew general conclusions as to its nature and extent (decline of campus disruptions, extensiveness of vandalism, and increasing incidence of crime), explored in some depth student, staff, and community views as to the causes of situational conflict, and described preventive measures designed to mitigate serious school disturbances.

Recommended deterrents for situational and activist conflict included (1) increased involvement in the school and its programs by students and parents, (2) establishment of effective individual and group counseling programs, and (3) an improved physical environment. With regard to prevention of intergroup conflict, recommendations incorporated (1) improved school staff racial balance, (2) inservice emphasis on staff sensitivity to ethnic problems and ethnic differences, (3) adoption of multicultural curricula, (4) advisory-council sharing of decision-making responsibilities, and (5) use of racial relations programs to facilitate improved group communication.

Crime prevention recommendations proposed (1) hiring of security guards or using parents as security guards, (2) improved school emergency communications systems, (3) closer regulation of access to school campuses, and (4) long range, as contrasted with short range, approaches to crime prevention.

An emergency action plan was found to be an absolute necessity in dealing effectively with school disruptions. Its three elements included:

- A. Procedures to be followed prior to the occurrence of an overt problem:
  1. Increase visibility of all adult members of the school community.

1. "Report on Conflict and Violence in California's High Schools," prepared by the Task Force on the Resolution of Conflict. Sacramento: California State Department of Education, 1974.

2. Use paraprofessionals and parents to monitor halls and the campus (found to be more helpful than uniformed police).
3. Free key teachers from their classes to aid in campus control. These should be teachers who know and relate positively to large numbers of students.
4. Seek out leaders of potential conflict, begin a real communication process, and listen well.
5. Counteract rumors by supplying correct information to key groups in the community and ask the community to help.
6. Recognize that many conflicts are the result of real injustice and take immediate steps to correct the injustice.
7. Arrange meetings between competing factions.
8. Bring in sections of the student body and ask for their help.
9. Remove from campus small groups of students quarreling with one another and work toward a better solution for disputes among these groups.
10. Alert local law enforcement agencies of the possibility of violence.

B. Procedures to be taken during the occurrence of an overt problem:

1. Stay cool, listen, and buy time, for time can be a great ally. Don't violate "due process" procedures.
2. Involve the total staff in problem solving.
3. Let students ventilate their feelings verbally.
4. Establish a plan of action to prevent nonstudent forces from coming on campus.
5. Maintain effective communications with the staff, students, and security personnel.
6. Provide a place where students can go to talk out their problems.
7. Be honest. Promise only what can be delivered.

8. Seek aid from community agencies.
  9. Recognize a situation that can no longer be controlled. Call the police and allow them to function when they arrive.
- C. Procedures to be followed after the occurrence of an overt problem:
1. Maintain the involvement of those parents and agencies that came to school in the time of crises.
  2. Critique the now-past problem with members of the school community and police. Identify those actions done poorly and those done well.
  3. Correct the cause of the conflict and design a better plan based on what was learned from the previous situation.
  4. Involve a larger number of school community members in the establishment of school policy.
  5. Share experiences and critique with other administrators and other members of the staff. Learn from the past.
  6. Open more avenues of communication so that the voice of the student can be heard. Establish legitimate channels for grievances and make them known to students.

In some cases rewards have been offered for information leading to the arrest of persons involved in vandalism and other crimes. In other instances parents have been held liable for restitution of losses for acts of vandalism committed by their children, including the payment of any reward.

LEGAL RATIONALE

Abuse of Teachers and/or Pupils

An important factor in maintaining an effective educational environment in the schools is the provision of an atmosphere in which both pupils and faculty feel personally safe and comfortable. Where abuse of the individual is permitted to go unchecked, concern for personal safety will override the element of teacher-pupil interaction so necessary for quality education. For this reason preventive measures are needed to protect pupils and staff members from physical and verbal abuse by outsiders and to deal swiftly and effectively with such incidents when they occur. Concern should also be focused on insuring the teachers' roles as educator and authority figure by protecting staff from such abuse, whether from students, parents, or other adults.

Preventive measures may be taken which can minimize the impact of an incident involving abuse. Experience has shown that since most assaults and numerous incidents of extortion are instigated by outsiders who trespass on school grounds, some type of security measures at campus entrances would be advantageous. Although opinions differ on this practice, all entrance gates could be locked during the school day with the exception of the main entrance where an aide or faculty member could check all incoming persons to make sure each had legitimate business on campus. Faculty and other staff members could be asked to challenge any person who is not recognized as being either a pupil or member of the staff. The means of enforcement of Board Rule 1265 which makes the campus off-limits to non-school persons not securing the principal's approval is a matter of judgment for the local school administrator.

Further preventive measures against abuse of teachers and pupils by outsiders could take the form of strict enforcement of laws proscribing loitering and vagrancy. Outsiders who have been spotted on campus could be warned by the administrator (preferably accompanied by a faculty member to serve as a witness) that their unsanctioned presence on campus is a violation of the law. When one or a group of outsiders fails to withdraw from the campus after being requested to leave, local police could be called for assistance. Administrators should be familiar with (a) Penal Code Section 653g which identifies loitering around a public place where children normally congregate as vagrancy; (b) Penal Code Section 647a (cited in Administrative Regulation 1208-6) which makes it a misdemeanor (vagrancy) to annoy or molest any child under the age of 18 years; (c) Penal Code Section 647b which makes it a crime to loiter about most persons in attendance at schools furnishing courses for adults; and (d) Municipal Code Section 63.94 (cited in Administrative Regulation 1208-6) which forbids any person from using, occupying, playing in or upon, or trespassing in or upon the grounds of any public school in the city. Do not be discouraged if an arrest does not culminate in conviction. Simply arrest again and again, if appropriate. Arrests are not pleasant to the one arrested and carry a severe potential sanction.

Another preventive measure with respect to abuse of pupils and teachers would be to remain constantly alert for the presence of weapons on or around the campus. Strict enforcement of the laws banning possession of various weapons, with assistance from local police, would hopefully serve as a dissuader against assaults including acts of extortion, which are most critical in nature. Administrative cognizance of statutes relating to firearms and other weapons should include:

- a. Penal Code Section 626.9: makes it a crime to bring or possess a firearm on public school grounds without permission of school authorities.
- b. Penal Code Section 12020: makes it a felony to sell, give, lend, or possess certain weapons or to conceal dirk, dagger, or explosive substances on one's person.
- c. Penal Code Section 12021.5: makes it a misdemeanor for a minor to possess a concealable firearm without written permission of parent or unless accompanied by parent.
- d. Penal Code Section 3024 (f): defines and identifies deadly weapons.
- e. California Administrative Code, Title 5, Section 14253: prohibits loaded weapons on school buses except when carried by a peace officer.
- f. Municipal Code Section 55.01: makes it a crime to carry a loaded or unloaded gun or other deadly weapon without a permit.

The development of an atmosphere of respect for others and of give and take between teacher and student in an environment free from prejudice or arrogance would be major elements in establishing satisfactory staff-pupil relationships. An awareness on the part of all school staff of pupil culture, life-style, values, and popular forms of expression serves to reinforce understanding, promote tolerance, reduce tensions, and eliminate bases for teacher abuse by pupils or antipathy toward those in authority.

Pupils should be oriented to the source and content of rules and regulations governing their obligations, conduct, and activities at school. When daily class experience provides the outlet for exchange of ideas and resolution of problems, the positive attitude of respect will supersede outcroppings of resentment, insolence, or "revenge".

Thus preventive measures would include encouraging and promoting situations which lead to improved communication among faculty, pupils, and administrators in both class and non-classroom situations. It is a useful rule-of-thumb when saying "no" to one or more students to explain the reasons why their request cannot be granted. Similar communication guidelines would aid in avoiding parent-teacher confrontations. Personal availability to and frequent contact with parents and parent organizations tend to establish patterns which direct complaints to the administrator and thus would lessen the probability of teacher abuse by a segment of community adults.

Where preventive measures fail and an incident of assault or verbal abuse does occur, prompt action will help alleviate the situation and probably aid law enforcement officials in apprehending the assailant(s). Where the incident involves verbal abuse of a teacher, the teacher should not allow himself/herself to be baited by antagonistic remarks and vulgar language. Every effort should be directed toward retaining temper control and courteous demeanor. When a student is abusive, disciplinary action is available (Education Code Section 10602). If a parent or other adult is involved in the verbal abuse, there may be recourse to criminal action (Education Code Sections 13559-60; Administrative Regulation 1208-5). In either case it would be advisable to secure the names of witnesses, participants, and all other pertinent information.

Where a student or teacher is the victim of an extortion attempt, it is generally advisable to offer no resistance unless circumstances warrant opposition. The victim should relinquish whatever the assailant(s) requests while trying to make mental notes of features and clothing for purposes of later identification. Immediately after the incident, whether or not the victim has relinquished any property, he/she should report it to the principal who, in turn, should call Security. Since extortion and "strong-arm" actions involve threats of physical harm, it is especially important to provide a campus climate in which students are encouraged to come forward and report such incidents when they occur.

Any employee who suffers an assault in connection with his/her employment should report it to the principal immediately. Where there is an assault upon a teacher or pupil, any school employee(s) in the area should take immediate action to terminate the assault while considering safety of self and that of pupils at the scene. A student should be instructed to report the assault to the principal's office immediately. If the assault takes place in the classroom, a student who has been preinstructed in the event of such an occurrence should report what is happening to the teacher in the adjoining classroom. When the assault is being committed by a student, physical restraint should not exceed the minimum physical force necessary. Except for purposes of self-defense, the student should not be struck with an open hand, fist, or any instrument.

After the assault has terminated, immediate attention should be directed to any medical care required by the victim(s). The principal should activate a log giving date, time, nature of incident, names of persons involved, and a description of action taken. Completion of an accident report may prove a practical method for collecting pertinent information. The Area Superintendent should be notified regarding the circumstances of the assault. If the principal or victim (pupil or employee) deems the incident to be of a serious nature, the principal or victim may notify the police for immediate action. In case of a student arrest, the parent should be notified immediately. School personnel who are assaulted should be advised of their right to file a criminal complaint with the appropriate city or county authority. In addition, the employee should be made aware of Board Rules 3602 and 3609 which provide for paid leave up to one calendar year for absence because of an injury resulting from an assault or battery directly related to school duties but beyond the normal risks experienced by an employee. If a pupil participates in the assault, the pupil should be suspended immediately.

Though the aforementioned measures are merely suggestions, the following reporting procedures are required by law:

- "a. Penal Code Section 11161.5: certificated personnel and school nurses are among those who should report to the chief administrator of the school concerning any minor who is observed to have been sexually molested or subjected to infliction of inexcusable physical pain or mental suffering or appears to have had a physical injury inflicted upon him by other than accidental means (see Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin Number 22)."
- b. Education Code Section 10605.5: it is the duty of the chief administrative employee at the school to notify appropriate law enforcement authorities of Penal Code Section 245 violations (assaults).

- c. Education Code Section 12916: any school employee who has knowledge of an assault or attack by any pupil upon a school employee must report it to the appropriate law enforcement authorities of the county or state.
- d. Administrative Regulation 1208-4: all matters of serious misconduct of pupils other than those specified in Administrative Regulation 1208-1 (crimes) may be referred to the Pupil Services and Attendance Branch for consultation or for legal action.

Mandatory and discretionary reporting of California Code violations are outlined in Educational Support Services Division Bulletin Number 23.

Persons who verbally abuse teachers, or assault or extort personal property from pupils or teachers, are subject to a number of penalties. If an assault or act of extortion is committed by a student, such student is subject to immediate suspension. Education Code Section 10602 lists among the grounds for suspension or expulsion, continued abuse of school personnel and assault or battery or any threat of force or violence directed toward school personnel or students. The principal's authority to suspend stems from Education Code Section 10601.5 while Education Code Section 10601 gives a teacher authority to suspend, for good cause, any pupil from his or her class for the day of suspension and the day following. Under this section, the teacher must report the suspension to the principal and request the pupil's parent or guardian to attend a parent-teacher conference on the matter. See Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin Numbers 15, 21, and 43 for suspension and expulsion procedures.

When an incident involves verbal abuse of a teacher in the presence or hearing of pupils, resort may be had to Education Code Sections 13559 and 13560 which make such action a misdemeanor. Administrative Regulation 1208-5 states that when these violations occur they should be reported immediately to the Pupil Services and Attendance Branch or the local police agency by the principal.

Any person who, with intent to annoy, telephones another and refuses to identify himself/herself, addresses to the other any obscene language or threat to inflict injury upon the other's person, family or property is guilty of a misdemeanor. (Penal Code Section 653m). Any person who willfully uses an electronic listening or recording device in a public school classroom without prior consent of the teacher and the principal is guilty of a misdemeanor if a nonstudent or is subject to disciplinary action if a student (Education Code Section 9015).

Where an assault, battery, or an assault and battery. (see Glossary) occurs, the person who commits the act is subject to severe penalties (Penal Code Sections 241, 243, 245). Certain aggravated assaults and batteries such as assault with a deadly weapon, assault with intent to commit rape and assault with intent to murder are felonies and subject the perpetrator to more severe penalties than do simple assault and battery (Penal Code Sections 217, 220, 221).

False imprisonment is the physical restraint of another against his will. It is a misdemeanor unless effected by violence, menace, or deceit in which case it is a felony. (Penal Code Sections 236, 237; People v. Arvanites, 17 Cal.App.3d 1052, 95 Cal.Rptr. 493). For example, in the Arvanites case, supra, U.C.L.A. students were convicted of felonious false imprisonment for surrounding a university functionary in his office and creating a situation so filled with "menace" that he did not leave although he desired to do so. Later they placed their hands on him to stop him from leaving, thus falsely imprisoning by means of "violence".

Robbery is a felony in which the perpetrator uses force or fear to facilitate his taking personal property from the possession of another against that other's will (Penal Code Sections 211, 213). See the Glossary under "Robbery" for the distinction between robbery and extortion.

Any person attending an educational institution who willfully commits any act which would tend to injure, degrade or disgrace a person attending the educational institution is guilty of a misdemeanor. The prohibited acts include hazing (Education Code Sections 10851, 10852, 10853).

- Penal Code Section 650 1/2 is a catchall provision making unlawful the commission of certain acts when done in a manner not otherwise punishable. The prohibited acts include willful: infliction of serious injury, endangering public peace or health, outraging public decency, using another's name in a manner tending to affect his or her moral reputation, and impersonating another for a lewd or licentious purpose.

Additionally, Education Code Section 13558.5 states that every minor over 16 years of age or adult who is not a pupil who comes upon any school ground and willfully interferes with the discipline or lawful conduct of any school activity, with the intent to disrupt, obstruct, or inflict damage to property or bodily injury upon any person is guilty of a misdemeanor. More generally, Penal Code Section 415 declares that every person who maliciously and willfully disturbs the peace and quiet of any neighborhood or person is guilty of a misdemeanor. Where a pupil is the object of abuse, assault, or extortion, the guilty party may be subject to Penal Code Section 647a (cited in Administrative Regulation 1208-6) which makes it a misdemeanor upon first conviction and a felony upon subsequent convictions to annoy or molest any child under the age of 18 years. A person who uses threats of physical harm to coerce a school employee to do any act in the performance of his/her duties is guilty of a public offense (Penal Code Section 71).

Where a person attempts, by means of any threat, to extort money or any property from another, Penal Code Section 524 states that he/she is punishable by up to one year in the county jail (a misdemeanor), or up to five years in the state prison and/or a fine of up to $5,000 (a felony). Where one extorts money or personal property from another, under circumstances not amounting to robbery, by means of force or any threat, he/she is punishable by one to ten years in state prison (a felony).

Morals Offenses

Educators and pupils are subject to abuse from perpetrators of crimes against morals. Penal Code Section 647a making child molestation a criminal offense (see LR-6) is but one of the statutes supporting actions of school administrators seeking to prevent or curb morals abuses. (See CI-38 for suggested procedures with regard to questioning the molested child.)

Where a person accomplishes an act of sexual intercourse with an unwilling or duped woman who is not the perpetrator's wife, the perpetrator is guilty of rape, a felony punishable by a minimum of three years in the state prison (Penal Code Sections 261; 264). Any sexual penetration, however slight, is sufficient to complete the crime (Penal Code Section 263).

Sexual intercourse accomplished with a female under the age of 18 years who is not the wife of the perpetrator is a crime punishable as a felony or misdemeanor in the discretion of the court (Penal Code Sections 261.5, 264).

When a group of two or more acts in concert to rape or to aid and abet in the forceful or violent rape of a woman against her will, each perpetrator is punishable by confinement in the state prison from five years to life (Penal Code Section 264.1).

Any person who willfully commits a lewd or lascivious act with the body or any part of the body of a child under the age of 14 years may be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for from one year to life (Penal Code Section 288).

Several other offenses against morals are less serious than those above mentioned. For example, "streakers" and persons who exhibit their genitals to the public have been arrested pursuant to Penal Code Section 314 which provides that any person who willfully and lewdly indecently exposes himself/herself or procures the indecent exposure of another is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Where a person engages in immoral or degrading practices in the presence of a child or is habitually drunk in the presence of a child within his/her care or custody, that person is guilty of a misdemeanor (Penal Code Section 273g). (See page CI-38 on "Questioning the Molested Child" and page CI-29 on "Corporal Punishment".)

Dangerous or Deadly Weapons

Schools have the responsibility of assuring that the health, safety, and general welfare of members of the school community are safeguarded and promoted (Student Rights and Responsibilities, page 14). In furtherance of the Board's policy of creating and maintaining an educational environment free from elements of danger to person and property, there has been issued Office of the Superintendent Bulletin Number 7 which states that as long as weapons constitute a threat of violence to other students and school personnel, they cannot be brought on or near any public school under any circumstance. Specifically, the Superintendent has declared that "The conveying onto any school campus by any pupil or the possession on any school campus by any pupil of any item described in California Penal Code Section 3024(f) as a deadly weapon constitutes a threat of violence directed toward students and school personnel and is the basis for immediate suspension and a request for expulsion procedures to be initiated * * *."

In accordance with the authority (Board Rule 2351) delegated by the governing board, the Superintendent has "the duty to instigate and promote a safety education and accident prevention program for the purpose of providing a high degree of safety for pupils and employees of the . . . District." Consonant with this authority and the District's policy to provide for a safe and secure place for students to learn and for teachers to carry on their educational responsibilities, school administrators are expected to vigorously enforce the mandate to eliminate the possession on campus of deadly weapons (California Penal Code Sections 626.9, 3024(f)) by students. It should be noted that "possession by a pupil" is defined to include any area over which the pupil may exert a significant degree of control, including, but not limited to, a school locker.

The attention of administrators is called to the substance of certain laws relating to weapons and their possession on a school campus.

- a. California Penal Code Section 626.9: makes it a crime to bring or possess a firearm upon the grounds of any public school.
- b. California Penal Code Section 653 k: makes it a misdemeanor to carry, sell, loan, transfer, or give to another a switch-blade knife with more than a two-inch blade; defines switch-blade knife.

California Penal Code Section 626.10 makes it a misdemeanor to bring or possess upon school grounds any knifelike instrument with a blade longer than 3-1/2 inches or a blade which locks into place or a razor with an unguarded blade. The statute specifically authorizes any certificated or classified employee of a school district to seize such a weapon as contraband.

- c. California Penal Code Section 12020: makes it a felony to manufacture, import, sell, give, lend, or possess certain weapons, most of which fall into the "deadly" category. This section has been amended to make possession of a metal plate having three or more radiating points with one or more sharp edges a felony. It has also been amended to make possession of a "nunchaku" a felony. This weapon consists of two or more bars used as handles connected by a cord, wire, or chain.
- d. California Penal Code Section 12021.5: makes it a misdemeanor for a minor to possess a concealable firearm without his/her parent's written permission or when unaccompanied by his/her parent.

Penal Code Section 12072 makes it a misdemeanor for any person or corporation to furnish to a minor a firearm capable of being concealed upon the person. (This statute authorizes punishment of the gang or friend or adult who furnishes a minor with a concealable firearm.)
- e. California Penal Code Section 12025: makes it a misdemeanor to carry, without a license, a firearm concealed on one's person or concealed within any vehicle.
- f. California Penal Code, Sections 417, 467 make it unlawful to brandish a firearm or other deadly weapon in the presence of another.
- g. California Penal Code, Section 12582 makes possession, sale or use of blowguns or blowgun ammunition a misdemeanor. "Blowgun" means a hollow tube through which "blowgun ammunition", a dart, is propelled by force of a person's breath (Penal Code, Sections 12580, 12581).
- h. It is illegal for any person to possess firearms from which the identifying numbers have been removed or to possess certain equipment such as sniper scopes and silencers (California Penal Code Sections 468, 537e., 12001.5, 12094, 12220, 12520).

Preventive Measures

Each administrator has the responsibility of developing a plan of action to meet the problems of disturbances . . . and disorders which might occur on or adjacent to the school site for which he/she is responsible. (Office of Administrative Services Bulletin Number 20A)

In order to minimize these forms of disturbances, the following preventive steps are suggested:

- a. Use Homeroom, English, and Social Science classes to conduct student orientation programs each semester to inform students of their rights and responsibilities. Include a review of Student Rights and Responsibilities handbook along with code enactments prescribing pupil duties.
- b. Inform students of relevant statutes that relate to weapons on campus.
- c. Call students' attention to the occasion for both regular and emergency searches of both students and lockers. Advise students and parents of guidelines relating to the search of students and the search of lockers.
- d. Acquaint students with limitations on their rights of privacy when the health, safety, or general welfare of others is endangered.
- e. Explain the meaning of "in loco parentis" to students to clarify the relationship between students and school personnel.
- f. Counsel students that school personnel are authorized to conduct searches of students and lockers when there is reasonable cause to believe that a student has a weapon in his/her possession.

Procedures

When information is received leading to the belief that a student has a deadly weapon in his/her possession, it is suggested that the following steps be taken by the school administrator:

- a. Secure as detailed a report as possible as to the time place, and circumstances regarding the observation of a deadly weapon. Assure the informer that his/her identity will be protected.
- b. Identify the person suspected of having a weapon.
- c. Advise the security officer on duty of the situation as well as the Area Superintendent.

- d. When the offending student is located, do not attempt to disarm him/her forcibly.
- e. Request the student under suspicion to come to the office.
- f. If more than one student is involved, seek the assistance of the security officer and other administrators.
- g. If possible, without endangering oneself or other students, confiscate the weapon from the person, locker, desk, or other location.
- h. Turn the confiscated weapon over to the police for further investigation.
- i. If the situation appears so dangerous that the principal believes an assault might occur, contact the police to assist in confiscating the weapon.

Searches

Office of the Superintendent Bulletin Number 7, defines possession to include any area over which the pupil may exert a significant degree of control, including but not limited to, a school locker. California Courts have upheld the authority of school administrators to conduct a search of either a student's person or locker for contraband. (In Re Donaldson, 269 C.A.2d 509) (1969). Similar searches would probably be upheld where weapons are sought. "The District recognizes that students have rights of privacy commensurate with those guaranteed to adults [but these may be] diminished only where there is reason to believe that the health, safety, and general welfare of students at the school are endangered."

Tests

If locker searches are conducted, the following tests must be met:

- a. The administrator must have reasonable cause to believe that, under the circumstances, the student has a weapon in his/her locker, and
- b. The search must be within the scope of the administrator's duties, i.e., to prevent a threat of violence directed toward students and school personnel.

Suggested Procedure

When conducting a search, the following procedures are suggested:

- a. If possible, arrange for the student to be present when his/her locker is being searched.
- b. If possible, arrange for another adult witness to be present when a locker search is necessary.

- c. If there is doubt as to the nature of the contents found, professional assistance (e.g., security agent) may be secured for identification purposes.

Extent of Student Searches

Only an administrator or his/her designee has the authority to conduct a search. The scope of a search may include a student's person and areas over which he/she has control, including the student's locker. Locker may include gym locker. Whether a student's automobile parked on school property would be within the scope of a proper search has not been decided by the courts. It may be argued that permission to use school facilities for parking carries with it the obligation to observe school regulations. California Courts have not ruled on whether conducting a search immediately adjacent to school property is within the school's authority. See In Re Christopher W., 29 C.A.3d 777 (1973) and In Re Fred, 26 C.A.3d 320 (1972). See pages CI-19, CI-20, CI-21. Whenever it appears that the situation cannot be contained, the principal or his designated representative should set in motion appropriate emergency procedures. Office of Administrative Services Bulletin Number 20B suggests emergency procedures that can be followed. Measures that should be considered when the campus situation reaches major disturbance proportions could include:

- a. Assign responsible staff members to receive and direct all telephone calls related to the emergency.
- b. Provide members of the administrative staff with emergency telephone numbers.
- c. Assign an administrator to relay the principal's directives to those designated to receive them and send for help.
- d. Secure the school public address system and assign the responsibility for its use to a staff member.
- e. Notify teachers through the public address system of the disturbance and use a prearranged code to give necessary instructions for the safety of other pupils.
- f. Establish a closed campus.
  - (1) Provide one entrance and one exit.
  - (2) Require those entering to give appropriate identification.
  - (3) Provide those entering with proper identification.
- g. Inform teachers of the necessary extension of class periods to minimize additional student involvement and for general student safety.

- h. Direct teachers to identify and secure names of witnesses, victims, participants and other pertinent information.
- i. Issue a first warning to students or groups of students involved in the disturbance through the use of an amplified speaker system, to:
  - (1) Desist under threat of suspension or expulsion; cite code authority (California Education Code Section 16675);
  - (2) Return to class or leave campus and return to their homes;
  - (3) Cease disturbance or they will be subject to arrest.
- j. If pupils persist in unlawful activities following a second warning, notify pupils of their suspension and direct them to leave the campus.
- k. If students remain on campus, call police to arrest them under authority granted by California Penal Code Section 626.8 and California Education Code Section 16675.

If the situation gets so out of hand that the educational program is completely disrupted and tensions materially affect the instructional program, notification should be issued to the Area Superintendent that the school should be closed to protect the welfare of students in attendance. Confirmation of the principal's decision by the Area Superintendent would serve as the necessary preliminary step and be tantamount to the Superintendent's authority to direct the closing of any school whenever, in his/her discretion, such closing appears necessary to insure the health or safety of the pupils. Such action shall be submitted to the Board for confirmation at its next meeting. Subsequent reopening of any school so closed shall be authorized when the Superintendent determines with the advice of the Area Superintendent that the conditions which necessitated the closing have ceased to exist (Board Rule 1103).

Reporting Assault with Deadly Weapon

In the event a school employee or student suffers an assault with a deadly weapon while on school premises, a report of the incident should be made to the principal. The principal shall notify the police for immediate action.

California Penal Code Section 245 makes it a crime for any person to commit "an assault upon the person of another with a deadly weapon or instrument or by any means of force likely to produce great bodily injury". A pupil who commits such an act shall be reported to the local law enforcement agency in whose jurisdiction the school is situated (California Education Code Section 10605.5).

California Education Code Section 12916(a) states that any pupil who attacks, assaults, or menaces any employee of the school district shall be promptly reported to the appropriate law enforcement authorities in whose jurisdiction the school is situated. Failure to make such a report is a misdemeanor.

In this same subject area, it should be recalled that nonaccidental injuries to children must be reported. The law states that any pupil who is observed by a school physician, nurse, or principal to have an injury or injuries which appear to have been inflicted upon him/her by other than accidental means by any person shall be reported to the appropriate law enforcement agency (California Penal Code Section 11161.5). Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin Number 22 states procedures to be followed.

In the event an assault with a deadly weapon is confirmed, it would be appropriate for the principal to:

- a. Provide for aid, care, comfort, and transportation of the injured. Notify parent of injured pupil; next of kin of injured employee.
- b. Notify the offending student's parent by telephone as soon as possible.
- c. Suspend offending pupil immediately. Promptly initiate steps toward expulsion.
- d. Notify the Area Superintendent regarding the circumstances of the assault.
- e. Advise the school employee or student assaulted of his/her rights to file a criminal complaint with the city (or district) attorney's office.
- f. Secure a written report of the incident as soon as feasible from the assaulted employee.
- g. Prepare a comprehensive written statement (copies of which should be sent to the Area Superintendent, the police, and to the student's parents) describing the incident and all administrative action taken.

Distribution, Use, and Sale of Drugs and Liquor

A most severe immediate problem in our society is the use and abuse of drugs and liquor. Schools are not sheltered from the problem. While regulations such as California Administrative Code, Title 5, Section 301 establish the duty of pupils to refrain from use or possession of intoxicating liquor, narcotics, or dangerous drugs (see Glossary for distinction between narcotics and drugs) on school grounds or in conduct related to a school activity, it is now generally recognized that such proscriptions, alone, are not enough to combat the escalating problem. Programs of education on drug and alcohol abuse have been incorporated into the curriculum as informative preventive measures in elementary and secondary schools.

The school administrator, in addition to actively supporting his/her school's educational program on drug and alcohol abuse, can initiate or intensify other measures which are preventive in nature. Most important of these is constant supervision and patrol of the school grounds and parking lots. Teachers and aides who patrol these areas should be aware of the properties and forms of the various drugs they may find or observe in an exchange between students. They should also enforce rules which do not permit students or outsiders to loiter or trespass on the school grounds or school's parking lots. (See Administrative Regulation 1208-6 which cites Penal Code 647a in making it a misdemeanor to loiter about any school or public place at or near which school children attend; Los Angeles Municipal Code Section 63.94, Ordinance 77,000, which provides that no person shall use or play in or upon, or trespass in or upon the grounds of any public school in the city; Board Rule 2251c, which identifies standards for student behavior, prohibits pupils from remaining in their cars or other cars while parked near the school.) Any unusual rumors or circumstances should be reported to the principal immediately. The principal, according to Administrative Regulation 1208-9, should report to the Pupil Services and Attendance Branch any local establishments (liquor stores, bars, etc.) which he/she feels may be a contributing factor to a school drug or liquor problem.

Where alcohol or drugs are found on school grounds, decisive action is necessary. In the case of alcoholic beverages, the intoxicant should be confiscated and the student's parents contacted. In accordance with the particular circumstance, the principal may not consider it necessary to contact the police unless the child is ill or abusive, or the source of the alcohol is presenting a particular problem to the school.

Where a student is suspected of having narcotics or dangerous drugs in school, it is advisable, if time permits, to contact police to assist in confiscation, particularly where more than one person is involved. The administrator should confiscate the narcotics, with or without police assistance, from the student's person, locker, desk, or other location, taking care to see that the suspect does not destroy the evidence by taking the narcotic, or disposing of it in some way.

With respect to searches of a student's locker, court cases have upheld the validity of locker searches by school administrators where the search is within the scope of the school's duties and the administrator has reasonable cause to believe that there is contraband (narcotics, intoxicants, weapons) in the locker [In re Christopher W., 29 C.A.3d. 777 (1973); In re Fred, 26 C.A.3d. 320 (1972)]. Where it is possible, the student should be present during the search of his/her locker along with several adult witnesses. The confiscated narcotics should be turned over to the police immediately for further investigation. If the narcotics are seized as a result of information obtained from an informant, his/her identity should be protected at all times.

If a person is found to be under the influence of narcotics, he/she should be isolated from other students (possibly in the nurse's office). The pupil's condition should be verified by the nurse or other qualified school personnel, and the local police or sheriff should be called to transport him/her to the hospital, the parent or guardian should be called and told that the child is ill and that they should meet the police or sheriff at the hospital.

If a student is apprehended with drugs or liquor, the administrator should consider immediate suspension and possible expulsion under Board Rule 2280 which cites Education Code Section 10603 (suspension and expulsion for drugs) and Business and Professions Code Section 25608 (misdemeanor to possess or consume alcoholic beverages on school premises). This would include violation of California Administrative Code, Title 5, Section 14251 which forbids carrying intoxicating liquor in a school bus at any time. Education Code Section 10603 also requires any law enforcement agency that arrests a student on drug charges to give written notice to the school district when charges are filed as a result of the arrest. Where charges are not filed, the notification is optional on the part of law enforcement authorities. Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin Number 5 outlines the content and use of these notices. See Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin Numbers 21 and 43 for procedures regarding pupil suspension. Expulsion procedures are outlined in Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin Number 15. According to Administrative Regulation 1208-4, incidents of pupil possession of liquor or narcotics may be referred to the Pupil Services and Attendance Branch for consultation and legal action.

There are several laws which impose penalties on persons furnishing liquor to minors, public intoxication, and minors in possession of alcoholic beverages. A person who is found in any public place under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug is guilty of disorderly conduct, a misdemeanor, under Penal Code Section 647(f). Los Angeles Municipal Code Section 41.27 forbids any person from appearing in a state of intoxication upon any premises owned or occupied by any municipality or governmental agency or instrumentality. It also proscribes the drinking of liquor containing more than 1/2 of one percent of alcohol by volume in any public place. Under Business and Professions Code Section 25658, every person who sells or furnishes liquor to any person under 21 years of age, and any alcoholic beverage sale licensee who permits a person under 21 to consume any alcoholic beverage in the on-sale premises, is guilty of a misdemeanor. Section 25658 also makes it a misdemeanor for any person under 21 to purchase or consume any alcoholic beverage in any on-sale premises. Any person under the age of 21 who has any alcoholic beverage in his possession on any street or in any public place or place open to the public, except where making a delivery pursuant to an order of his/her parent or in the course of employment, is guilty of a misdemeanor according to Business and Professions Code Section 25662. Every person who possesses, consumes, sells, gives, or delivers any alcoholic beverage on the premises of any public school, except where used in the course of instruction with administrative approval, is guilty of a misdemeanor under Business and Professions Code Section 25608.

In the area of drug and narcotic abuse, criminal sanctions are imposed on several forms of conduct. (Sanctions mentioned herein in this regard are only for first offenses.) One form of conduct for which penalties are imposed is possession. Where a person is found in possession of a restricted dangerous drug (defined in Health and Safety Code Sections 11056 and 11057) without having a prescription, Health and Safety Code Section 11377 mandates a sentence of up to one year in county jail or 1-10 years in state prison. Possession of marijuana is also similarly punishable according to Health and Safety Code Section 11357. Where a person is found to have in his/her possession narcotics other than marijuana, Health and Safety Code Section 11350 states that he/she may be sentenced to state prison for at least two years. It is unlawful to possess any device or paraphernalia used for unlawfully taking drugs (Health and Safety Code Section 11364 [as amended 1973]). Health and Safety Code Section 11550 makes one who unauthorizedly uses or is under the influence of a controlled substance liable to punishment for a misdemeanor mandating 90 days to one year's imprisonment in the county jail.

Health and Safety Code Section 11365 makes it unlawful for a person to visit or to be in any room or place where marijuana, heroin, LSD, or like drugs are being used when the visitor knows that such activity is occurring.

Possession of narcotics or drugs for sale is viewed as a more serious offense than mere possession and, therefore, is subject to stiffer penalties. Health and Safety Code Section 11378 prescribes a sentence of 2-10 years in state prison for a person found guilty of possession of dangerous drugs for sale. The same penalty, 2-10 years in state prison, is prescribed by Health and Safety Code Section 11359 for possession of marijuana for sale. Where a person is found to have possessed narcotics, other than marijuana, for sale, he/she may be sentenced to state prison for 5-15 years without release or parole for at least 2-1/2 years. Every person who plants, cultivates, or processes marijuana is guilty of an offense which may be punished as either a felony or a misdemeanor (Health and Safety Code Section 11358). But every person who sells, offers to sell, transports or gives away marijuana is guilty of a felony (Health and Safety Code Section 11360).

Health and Safety Code Section 11382 makes agreeing or offering to sell, furnish, transport or administer any controlled substance to another punishable as either a felony or misdemeanor at the court's discretion.

With regard to the drug problem among young people, the legislature has enacted statutes imposing severe penalties on those who, in any way, expose minors to contact with drugs or narcotics. Health and Safety Code Section 11380 declares that any person 18 or over who violates provisions regarding restricted dangerous drugs by use of a minor as agent, or who induces the minor to violate provisions regarding restricted dangerous drugs shall serve 10 years to life without parole for at least 5 years. This penalty is also imposed by Health and Safety Code Section 11361 on any person 18 or over who uses a minor in preparing, carrying, or selling marijuana, or who offers or sells it to a minor, or who induces a minor to use it. Similarly, Health and Safety Code Section 11353 provides that every person 18 or over who induces, encourages, or intimidates any minor with intent that the minor shall knowingly violate any provision relating to illegal narcotics, other than marijuana, shall be imprisoned for 10 years to life without parole for at least 5 years. A person under 18 years of age who is guilty of any of the acts described in Health and Safety Code Section 11353 is subject to a prison sentence of not less than 5 years under Health and Safety Code Section 11354.

Fights Between Groups and Individuals on Campus

Activity which disturbs the educational program or interferes with the daily operation of the school hampers the ability of students to pursue a normal course of study as mandated by law. Fights between groups or individuals on or near school grounds are disturbances that tend to disrupt and run counter to the legitimate purposes of an educational program.

The ever present potential for school disturbances as well as the frequency of campus disturbances make it imperative for administrators to familiarize themselves with preventive measures and procedures that deter such activity.

First, a distinction must be made between students who are legally on school grounds and engage in illegal activity and outsiders or students from other schools who, by virtue of their very presence, subject themselves to additional sanctions. (See section on Loitering and Trespassing.) Preventive measures and procedures are the same for students or outsiders that are involved; it is the subsequent sanctions that vary depending upon the status of the individuals or the severity of the activity. This section addresses itself to those students who are on campus legally but engage in illegal activity.

Since California Administrative Code, Title 5, Section 5551 makes the principal responsible for the administration and supervision of his/her school, when a fight occurs, the decision to mobilize in accordance with a predetermined plan of action and/or seek assistance rests with him/her.

The State Board of Education has mandated in California Administrative Code, Title 5, Section 5800(m) that the principal "manage all the affairs of the school including general control and supervision of all employees". Similarly, Board policy dictates that every school administrator devise a plan of action to meet problems of disturbance and disorder (see Office of Administrative Services Bulletin Number 20B) and provides information to assist him/her in doing so.

The governing board of every district can prescribe rules to deal with school disturbances that are not inconsistent with law or with the rules of the State Board of Education (Education Code Section 925). Specifically, Board Rule 2265 authorizes the Superintendent to establish methods of controlling pupil behavior. With statutory authority to prescribe rules under Education Code Section 925 and policy guidelines suggested to principals by Office of Administrative Services Bulletins Numbers 20A and 20B, implementation and utilization of any or all procedures and preventive measures are at the discretion of the local principal. Office of Administrative Services Bulletin Number 20B gives a comprehensive plan of action to help deter disturbances when they threaten.

Preventive actions may include:

- a. Request the security agent to place under surveillance the area where the disturbance is likely to occur.
- b. Direct the administrators of the school to supervise the grounds.
- c. Notify the security section to dispatch a car to patrol near the school.
- d. Notify community resources from whom additional assistance is desired.
- e. Notify the Area Superintendent and give an account of the situation.
- f. Inform teachers to secure their classrooms when directed.
- g. Establish lines of communication and rapport with faculty, students, parents, and community.
- h. Keep abreast of and understand the issues and causes developing within the school.
- i. Express a willingness to listen to requests and complaints.
- j. Enlist the support of individuals and groups to seek solutions to problems.

If a fight occurs, the principal, security agent, other administrators, and certificated staff selected to assist have the responsibility to exercise the necessary amount of physical control and to maintain proper order short of jeopardizing their own safety and the safety of others (Education Code Section 13557).

Procedures

If the situation cannot be controlled or there appears to be a threat of injury or serious bodily harm, Office of Administrative Services Bulletin Number 20B suggests that the principal or a designated representative call law enforcement agencies to help clear the campus from any and all disturbance "to safeguard the welfare of pupils and school personnel and to protect school facilities".

If law enforcement officials are called, it is important for principals to control the situation during the interim, before their arrival. Suggested steps include:

- a. Assign responsible staff members to receive and direct all telephone calls related to the emergency.
- b. Provide members of the administrative staff with emergency telephone numbers.
- c. Assign an administrator to relay the principal's directives to those designated to receive them and send for help.
- d. Secure the school public address system and assign the responsibility for its use to a staff member.
- e. Notify teachers through the public address system of the disturbance and use a prearranged code to give necessary instructions for the safety of other pupils.
- f. Establish a closed campus:
  1. Provide one entrance and one exit.
  2. Require those entering to give appropriate identification.
  3. Provide those entering with proper identification.
- g. Inform teachers of automatic extended class periods to avoid additional involvement of students for student safety.
- h. Direct teachers to identify and secure names of witnesses, victims, participants, and other pertinent information.
- i. Direct students or groups of students involved in the disturbance with the use of an amplified sound system to:
  1. Desist under threat of suspension or expulsion; cite authority (Education Code Sections 13558.5 and 16675).
  2. Return to class or leave campus and return to their homes.
  3. Cease the disturbance or they will be subject to arrest.

If pupils persist in unlawful activities following a second warning, notify pupils of their suspension and direct them to leave campus. If students remain on campus, call police to arrest them under authority granted by Penal Code Section 626.8 and Education Code Section 16675

The principal is authorized to establish specific procedures to be followed by teachers when pupil behavior indicates the need of assistance in developing self control (Administrative Regulation 2265-5).

If a teacher observes some pupils about to engage in a fight and the circumstances are such that he/she can prevent the act, Education Code Section 13557 authorizes this to be done. The teacher shall enforce . . . the rules and regulations prescribed for schools (Education Code Section 13556).

If the fight or disturbance occurs or threatens to occur where a crowd situation is likely to develop, such as in the grandstand or on the campus before, during or after athletic contests, the teacher should: (1) dispatch a student to get help from the principal; (2) dispatch a student to seek help from other teachers; (3) disperse nearby students exposed to the threat of injury; (4) urge the combatants to desist from their activity; and (5) maintain whatever control over the situation and the students that is reasonably possible under the circumstances.

If the situation gets so out of hand that the educational program is completely disrupted and tensions materially affect the instructional program, notification should issue to the Area Superintendent that the school will be closed to protect the welfare of students in attendance. Confirmation of the principal's decision by the Area Superintendent would serve as the necessary preliminary step tantamount to the Superintendent's authority to direct the closing of any school whenever, in his/her discretion, such closing appears necessary to insure the health or safety of the pupils. Such action shall be submitted to the Board for confirmation at its next meeting. Subsequent reopening of any school so closed shall be authorized when the Superintendent determines that the conditions which necessitated the closing have ceased to exist (Board Rule 1103).

The procedures enumerated above would also apply to disturbances between individuals or groups of individuals involved in racial disorder, gang activity, or other forms of turbulence.

If outsiders or students from other schools are involved, the procedures to follow for controlling the disturbance remain the same, except that the Area Superintendent should notify principals of neighboring schools regarding the unlawful presence of their students on another campus.

When group disorders are accompanied by racial overtones or involve racial confrontations, school-community consultants from the Urban Affairs Office should be involved to help reduce tension and aid in a viable solution. The principal should arrange a meeting with student representatives, community leaders, and parent advisory groups to help identify the problems and get input for alternative solutions.

Language involving the threat of force or violence against other students or school personnel could be interpreted as tending toward a breach of the peace and serve as a basis for suspension (Board Rule 2280:12; Education Code Section 10602).

Homeroom periods as well as English and Social Science classes provide practical avenues for creating an awareness among students of their duties and responsibilities under the law.

While on school grounds or in conduct related to school activity, California Administrative Code, Title 5, Section 301(b) states that all pupils must refrain from willful or negligent conduct likely to result in injury to other pupils or school employees . . . . All students shall conform to regulations of the school, obey directions of and respect teachers and others in authority and observe good order and propriety of deportment (California Administrative Code, Title 5, Section 300).

In the 1960 edition of Bancroft-Whitney Company's California Words, Phrases and Maxims, it is stated on page 747 that "Fighting" has a well defined meaning and is itself unlawful; persons cannot willfully and unlawfully disturb the peace by fighting without intent to do a wrongful act (Larue v. Davies, 8 C.A. 750).

Students who fight on or near school grounds are subject to suspension, expulsion, and criminal action depending on the severity of injury or damage inflicted upon others. Such activity is contrary to the welfare and best interests of other students (Administrative Regulation 2262-5) if it obstructs or disrupts the educational program of the school or prevents a student, teacher, or other school authority from attending class or performing his duties.

A principal has authority to suspend a student for good cause (Education Code Section 10601.5). Board Rule 2280:1, 2, and 12 enumerate relevant examples of good cause such as continued willful disobedience, persistent defiance of the authority of the teacher, and assault or battery, or any threat of force or violence directed toward school personnel or students. A teacher also may suspend a student for good cause (Education Code Section 10601) from his/her class for the day of suspension and the day following. A report must be made to the principal along with a request for a parent conference.

Willful injury to another pupil or employee as a result of a fight constitutes grounds for suspension or expulsion (Board Rule 1711). As designated in Board Rule 2282, suspension may not be for more than 5 days nor for more than 20 days cumulative, in one school year. If suspension is to be of more than two weeks' duration, approval of the Area Superintendent in charge of the school must be obtained.

Suspension does not necessarily mean complete removal from school premises. It may constitute removal from only one class depending on the circumstances. However, the pupil cannot return to class without the concurrence of the teacher and the principal if this situation arises. (See Division of Educational Support Services Bulletins Numbers 1 and 43. Whenever a student is suspended from school, his parent or guardian should be notified in writing by either the principal or a designated representative (Education Code Section 10607.8).

The circumstances of the disturbance may warrant administrative action toward expulsion. Under such circumstances, the principal of the school shall organize the evidence, suspend the pupil, but not for more than two consecutive weeks, and notify the parents by a registered letter giving the reasons for such actions and provide opportunity for a hearing. Then the Board shall consider expulsion of a pupil upon the recommendation of the Superintendent. Expulsion procedures are set forth in Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin Number 15.

If a student is on probation at the time he/she engages in a fight, the student is subject to additional disciplinary measures. He/she can be adjudged insubordinate or disorderly by the principal and reported for either of these offenses to his/her probation or parole officer (Education Code Section 10607).

Students are subject to sanctions mentioned herein regardless of where on school premises the particular disturbance might occur. If on or near a school bus, Board Rule 2259 authorizes disciplinary measures for any action endangering the safety of other bus pupils. If at athletic events or extracurricular activities that might extend beyond regular hours, fights that disrupt or obstruct any authorized activity are contrary to the welfare and best interests of the students and are subject to disciplinary measures (Administrative Regulations 2262-5).

If fights occur at extracurricular events, the principal should implement pre-arranged plans and exercise his/her best judgment in securing help from security agents on duty, fellow administrators, and teachers to restore control of the situation.

Penalties

This section deals only with local school students who commit illegal acts; it does not refer to outsiders or students from other schools who might cause disturbances. Penal Code Sections 26.8, 647, and 653g deal with the latter group. For the purposes of this section, whenever a fight erupts, procedures for control remain the same regardless of who are involved.

If a student commits an assault on another with a deadly weapon or instrument or by any means of force likely to produce great bodily injury, Penal Code Section 245(a) states that such act is punishable by imprisonment or fine or both. Additionally, if a student commits an assault on a police officer or fireman engaged in the performance of his/her duties, it is punishable by imprisonment for six months to life.

Office of the Superintendent Bulletin Number 7 forbids the possession of deadly weapons on or near school grounds. If students use deadly weapons in a fight or have them in their possession, they are subject to alternative sanctions under criminal law. (See section on Dangerous or Deadly Weapons for appropriate laws and suggested procedures.)

Where two or more persons acting together disturb the public peace by using, threatening to use or urging the use of force or violence, the misdemeanor of "riot" is committed (Penal Code Sections 404, 404.6, 405).

Gang activity in which threats of violence are used will often constitute "riot" and the administrator should remind police that they can arrest gang members who act or threaten in concert for "riot."

Rout is an unlawful assembly in which two or more persons assembled and acting together make an attempt to advance toward commission of an act which would be riot if actually committed. Rout is a misdemeanor (California Penal Code Section 406).

Procedures To Care For Students Injured In Fights

To prepare for instances where a student cannot readily provide information necessary to secure parental consent for hospital care, etc., the school does require that every student submit an emergency information card at the beginning of the school year containing such information. (Refer to Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin Number 39.)

Students who are injured should be given first aid by the school nurse or other personnel authorized to give first aid. An ambulance can be summoned if the nurse or other appropriate school official determines that an injury is so severe as to require additional medical attention. Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin Number 28 outlines who pays the costs of emergency hospital service. It also tells the school administrator whom he/she should contact at the District's Health Resources Branch.

Injuries inflicted upon minors by other than accidental means must be reported by designated school personnel. Those persons not so designated should notify the school administrator. Procedures are outlined in the Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin Number 22.

Administrative Regulation 2325-5 lists procedures to follow in case of serious accidents to pupils.

Reporting Violations

If a fight occurs on or near school grounds and results in serious injury, it is the duty of the chief school administrator to notify appropriate law enforcement authorities of Penal Code violations enumerated under Section 245 (Education Code Section 10605.5). School employees and supervisors (having knowledge) have a duty to report an assault by a pupil against an employee to the appropriate law enforcement authorities of the County or City (Education Code Section 12916).

An act punishable in different ways under the law may be prosecuted under any of such provisions but punished under only one provision (Penal Code Section 654). If individuals are trespassers or can be treated under alternative provisions dealing with deadly weapons, refer to appropriate sections that deal with these disturbances in this handbook. Matters of serious misconduct other than those specified in Board Rule 1208 may be referred to the Pupil Services and Attendance Branch for consultation or legal action (Administrative Regulation 1208-4).

The school may document records of deviant behavior to help with the guidance of a pupil as well as for supporting evidence where suspension or expulsion may become necessary (Administrative Regulation 2265-2).

Investigation By Police Of Pupils

In the event law enforcement officials are summoned on campus to assist in controlling a disturbance or to receive reports of code violations, they may be allowed to interview pupils in the presence of the principal or a teacher (Board Rule 1204) assuming they have jurisdiction over the area where the school is located. Every law enforcement official (with the exception of a uniformed police officer) should present proper identification as a prerequisite to the interview.

If an arrest is made for an injury inflicted on another student or school employee or for damage sustained to school property, students may be taken from school by law enforcement officers when an arrest is made (Education Code Section 13013). Responsibility to notify parents of pupils taken from school by a law enforcement officer rests with the principal. To protect the school district, the school administrator should maintain a record of the school's efforts to reach the parent (Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin Number 3). Peace officers have the right to interview suspects or witnesses who are students while those students are in attendance at school (Cal. Atty. Gen.

Opin. No. 71-28, 54 Ops. Cal. Atty. Gen. 96 at page 97). For this reason, school personnel should not hinder properly identified law enforcement officers from carrying out their duties.

Arrests

A public officer or employee . . . may arrest a person without a warrant . . . if he/she has reasonable cause to believe that the person to be arrested has committed a misdemeanor in his/her presence (Penal Code Section 836.5[a]).

If school personnel choose to make an arrest, they do so as private citizens (Penal Code Section 836).

Whenever feasible, arrests should be handled by the local law enforcement agency or the security agent assigned to serve the local school.

The suggested actions are by no means limited to the preventive measures and procedures mentioned herein. Principals are encouraged to implement what they believe to be the most effective measures for their particular school. These materials are meant to reinforce an administrator's systematic approach to the problems that arise where circumstances might not otherwise lend themselves to consideration of such procedures.

Loitering, Sit-Ins, Trespassing, Walk-Outs

In order that public schools may pursue the business of education with a minimum of disturbance or disruption, it is essential that only those having legitimate business on a school campus be permitted thereon. To support the continuity of this essential governmental activity, the Legislature has expressed its concern for the uninterrupted and orderly operation of schools through various enactments. For example, Education Code Section 13558.5 states that anyone "over 16 years of age . . . who is not a pupil of the school . . . who comes upon any school ground or into any schoolhouse and there willfully interferes with the discipline, good order, lawful conduct, or administration of any school class or activity of the school, with the intent to disrupt, obstruct, or to inflict damage to property or bodily injury upon any person, is guilty of a misdemeanor".

Pursuant to its power to "prescribe rules . . . for the government and discipline of the schools under its jurisdiction" (Education Code Section 1052), the Los Angeles Unified School District Board of Education has mandated in Board Rule 1265 that "No Person shall visit or audit a classroom or other school activity, nor shall any person remain on school premises, without the approval of the principal or his authorized representative". Further, "Rule 1265 shall apply to children as well as adults" (Rule 2002).

Attentiveness to the welfare of pupils and to the continuation of school operation is also found in Section 63.94 of the Los Angeles Municipal Code which forbids the use or occupation as well as the playing or trespassing on the grounds of any public school in the city by persons other than children present under authorized supervision provided by the school.

Also serving as a legislative deterrent to disruption of the school program is Penal Code Section 626.8(a) which makes it a crime (misdemeanor) for "any person who comes into any school building or upon any school ground, or street, sidewalk, or public way adjacent thereto, without lawful business thereon, and whose presence or acts interfere with the peaceful conduct of the activities of such school or disrupt the school or its pupils or school activities, and who remains there, or who reenters or comes upon such place within 72 hours, after being asked to leave by the chief administrative official, the person acting as the chief administrative official, or by a member of the security patrol of the school district who has been given authorization, in writing, by the chief administrative official of that school to act as his agent in performing this duty . . ." See page CI-30 for illustrations of pupil conduct which may be constitutionally protected.

Laws and rules, therefore, exist to support administrative action in handling illegal presence on a school campus and/or legal presence engaged in illegal activity. In order to resolve either or both such situations and hasten the school's return to normal activity, the administrator might find the following actions appropriate:

1. When the presence of an individual, or group of individuals, not having legitimate business on campus, is reported to the principal, it would be prudent to:
  - a. Notify the school secretary and/or other clerical staff present that he/she will confront the individual(s) and may need assistance.
  - b. Advise that another staff member be sent to follow-up within the next 10 minutes if the principal does not return.
  - c. Through a prearranged code, use the school public address system to alert all teachers to the situation in the critical area.
    - (1) Classroom doors and records would be secured by teachers.
    - (2) Teachers hold class in room until passing signal comes from main office; continue teaching.
  - d. Request another adult to accompany him/her to the scene as a witness and to help with both identification and description of trespassers. Both should carry pad, pencil, and camera.
  - e. Advise outsiders of your (principal's) position and ask for their identification and their business on campus.
  - f. If any outsider(s) refuses to comply, warn that peaceful operation of the school is being disturbed, that the outsider is in violation of Education Code Section 16675 and/or Education Code Section 13558.5, and that each is ordered to leave the campus immediately.
  - g. Advise that failure to leave the campus upon request is violation of the law and a crime under Penal Code

Section 62b.8, and that failure to leave a school building when it is regularly closed to the public is a misdemeanor. (Penal Code Section 602 [p]).

- h. If outsiders remain on campus, call police, explain the situation, and ask that arrest(s) be made.
  - i. File a complaint with city (or district) attorney's office and indicate availability when needed.
  - j. If the outsiders disperse as police are sighted, provide law enforcement officers with identification and/or description of as many trespassers as possible, and a description of the sequence of events, including conversations or remarks, as they occurred. Inform Area Superintendent accordingly.
  - k. Activate "incident log" by noting date, time, nature of incident, names of persons involved, and description of action taken.
2. If pupils of the school should singly or by group refuse to go to class, interfere with classroom attendance of other students, attempt to induce others to leave class, engage in walk-outs, or demonstrate in any other form which interferes with normal school operation, it would be judicious to:
- a. Proceed as in 1a, 1b, and 1c above.
  - b. Personally advise students that there are legitimate modes for resolving grievances and suggest a meeting with a leader or small group of leaders selected by the students.
  - c. Enjoin all other students to go directly to class.
  - d. Indicate that students who fail to follow directions are subject to disciplinary removal and, possible, suspension.
  - e. If students do not cease disruptive activities and return to class, follow procedure in 1h above.
  - f. Notify parents of incident, of actions or involvements of minor children, and call each to a conference.
  - g. Add totality of incident to log.
3. If a group of pupils by force of numbers take over, occupy, and refuse to leave classroom, office, library, auditorium or other space normally used to support the educational program, the school administrator should keep in mind that: Sit-ins are usually illegal because they frequently involve violation of a number of laws; such as trespassing or blocking the passage of pedestrians. Even when the administrative decision is to allow the sit-in to continue taking place, public officials have the right to exclude unauthorized intrusions into nonpublic parts of the property.

Persons who trespass with the purpose of interfering with, obstructing or injuring the lawful business or occupation of a person legally occupying the land are guilty of a misdemeanor. [California Penal Code Section 602 (j).] It is also a misdemeanor for anyone to refuse to leave a public building during hours of the day or night when it is regularly closed to the public. [California Penal Code Section 602(p).]

If two or more persons gathered together for the purpose of committing an unlawful act fail to disperse upon command of a public officer, they are guilty of a misdemeanor. (Penal Code Section 416).

Willful and malicious obstruction of a person's free movement in any public place or place open to the public is a misdemeanor (Penal Code Section 647c).

Discretion would indicate that the principal should:

- a. Keep non-participants away and uninvolved by using "free" staff members to isolate sit-ins.
- b. Maintain an emergency schedule, if possible, which would remove students assigned to the occupied room or facility to other suitable space.
- c. Have teachers secure classroom doors and eliminate unessential student passage in halls and on grounds.
- d. Advise by some type of sound amplifier that the group is unlawfully occupying public property, interfering with the school's instructional activities, and that each member of the group (and his/her parents) is liable for any damage or destruction to property.
- e. Advise that the group is serving no useful or constructive purpose by its action. Indicate that established means are available for taking care of grievances.
- f. Suggest a meeting in your office (or other neutral campus site) with one or more group leaders to discuss the group's concerns.

- g. Attempt to enlist aid of parents of ringleaders while site occupation by students continues.
  - h. Order all others to go to their scheduled classes.
  - i. Learn and record identity of disruptive students.
  - j. If students persist in occupation of physical facility, follow procedure in lg and lh above.
  - k. Incorporate all details of disruption in incident log.
4. When groups of individuals express their opposition to conduct, practices, regulations, or activities of the Board of Education or administration by means of picketing, it is incumbent upon the school administrator to:
- a. Maintain normal school operation, if possible.
  - b. Advise teachers to conduct classes with vigor and alertness.
  - c. Limit, as far as possible, the egress of pupils from buildings.
  - d. Try to ascertain the number, identity, and association of the picketers and the nature of their grievance(s).
  - e. Notify the Area Superintendent and Security Section of the local situation.
  - f. Initiate a dialog with the group leader designed to remove the picketers from the school site.
  - g. Warn leader of picketers against any unlawful acts, or violent or boisterous conduct (Penal Code Section 407); that it is a misdemeanor to remain at the place of an unlawful assembly (Penal Code Section 409); that it is forbidden to annoy, molest, or unreasonably interfere with the free passage of pedestrians in and out of school. (Municipal Code Section 41.18[a]).
  - h. Maintain log of sequence of picketing activities, persons and groups involved, content of signs; contacts with groups, discussions, and actions taken.

5. Another aspect of trespass are those situations where unauthorized or ineligible individuals attempt to "crash" a school dance, assembly entertainment, or athletic contest. In most instances, pre-planning and adequate supervision will minimize the potential disruptive effects of non-sanctioned actions. The smooth, undisturbed functioning of such events is generally the result of careful organization, full communication to students of guidelines or regulations which govern the occasion, and fair enforcement of local procedures.

When students who desire to participate in such special school activities create the atmosphere that makes "crashers" undesirable and unwelcome, these functions will become less attractive targets for those who challenge regulated forms of procedure. However, administrative prudence requires that alertness be constant to the possibilities of disruption, that conscientious efforts be exercised to forestall any intruders, and that prompt action be taken to identify and remove the trespassers. Procedures listed in 1e - 1k above are the essential steps to be taken under such circumstances.

From time to time the school campus or its vicinity becomes a focal point for loiterers, idlers, and others who linger about without apparent purpose. Not only is such nonconstructive activity a poor model for school children, but it could become a detriment to both the safety and welfare of pupils if permitted to continue without challenge. Recognition that loafing or idleness may be both dangerous and inimical to student well-being has resulted in the Legislature's making it a misdemeanor to either loiter about schools or other public places attended by children (Penal Code Section 653 g) or to loiter about or molest persons in attendance at schools furnishing courses to adults. (Penal Code Section 647 b). The potential harmful effects of loitering have also been identified by the Los Angeles City Council in Municipal Code Section 103.118(1) wherein it has been declared a misdemeanor for anyone to loiter about premises at which a teenage dance is being conducted, in Section 41.18(b) wherein it is forbidden to loiter in any tunnel, pedestrian subway, or on any bridge overpass, and in Section 41.18(a) wherein persons are prohibited from annoying or molesting pedestrians on any street, sidewalk, or other public way open for pedestrian travel.

Although Board Rule 1265 requires campus visitors to secure administrator approval for presence on school premises, it should be noted that the Court's ruling in People v. Hirst, 31 C.A.3d 75 stated that "outsiders' presence on school grounds during lunch hour for the purpose of distributing leaflets and talking to students about matters of public concern is for a "lawful" purpose and thus does not constitute loitering. Such activity is speech within the protection of the First Amendment which does not materially disrupt classwork or involve substantial disorder or invasion of the rights of others.

Distinguishable from the above are instances where a person accosts others in a public place for the purpose of begging. Such conduct constitutes disorderly conduct, a misdemeanor [California Penal Code, Section 647 (c)].

Whenever two or more persons assemble together (1) to do an unlawful act or (2) to do a lawful act in a violent, boisterous or tumultuous manner, the assembly constitutes "unlawful assembly" a misdemeanor (California Penal Code Section 407).

Remaining at the scene of a disturbance after being lawfully ordered to disperse, is a misdemeanor (California Penal Code Section 409).

Penal Code Section 647, subdivision (e) makes a misdemeanor any person's (1) refusal to furnish identity, (2) by one loitering on the streets, (3) under circumstances that infringe upon the public safety, (4) when a peace officer has requested the identification. In order to uphold this statute's constitutionality, the courts have narrowly interpreted it to mean that the suspected loiterer can be arrested for failure to furnish a peace officer with reliable identification, not for failure to "account for his presence" (People v. Solomon, 33 Cal.App.3d 429; 108 Cal.Rptr. 867).

Since loitering is an improvident activity, at times difficult to detect, caution and circumspection would suggest that:

- a. A polite challenge be immediately addressed by any staff member to one who appears to be loitering on campus.
- b. An effort be made to assure a fairly comprehensive description of the loiterer while asking him to leave the campus if he has no legitimate business there.
- c. The staff be alerted to points on or near the campus perimeter where idlers are observed or where non-school groups tend to congregate.
- d. Active efforts be made to secure descriptions of individuals who "hang around" areas adjacent to or within view of school premises.
- e. Security and local police be notified, of both presence and description of off-campus loiterers.
- f. Pupils be warned against responding to, conversing with, mingling or associating with, or in any manner encouraging communication with loiterers and idlers.
- g. Enlist support of advisory council in eliminating loitering from campus perimeter.

Vandalism (Destruction of School Property)

As a public servant, a school administrator has the responsibility to preserve and protect school property thereby insuring maximum use and return of the public's investment in the education of its youth. A corollary responsibility is to assure an environment in which the property of pupils and staff is safeguarded. Since the range of destruction (other than accidental) is limited only by the imagination, capability, and willfulness of the perpetrator, the school administrator is required, wherever possible and within the scope of laws and rules, to initiate promptly the processes of repair, repayment, or restitution. Both the California Legislature and Los Angeles Board of Education have enacted measures to protect local school property and to hold responsible those who destroy it. Among the forms of student conduct proscribed by California Administrative Code, Title 5, 301 is willful or negligent conduct likely to result in damage.

A school administrator, who has full responsibility for all property located at or belonging to his/her school (Board Rule 1703), regularly considers preventive measures which may be taken to avert destruction of property. By both precept and example, respect for the property rights of others is a maxim which the local school environment should foster (California Education Code 13556.5). Board Rule 1711 declares that teachers shall exercise special precaution to impress the pupil with the value of preserving books and other library materials.

On an operational level, school security procedures play a major role in protecting school property. One preventive measure would be to schedule, as far as practicable, the patrolling of the school grounds, particularly perimeter areas and restrooms. Another precaution would be the locking of unused areas and rooms in addition to the thorough securing of the campus in the evening. Security could be further enhanced by instructing all staff members to report any plant deficiencies which might facilitate vandalism and any circumstances which indicate that destructive activity is in progress or has taken place. Where major campus disturbance is in progress, particular care should be taken to guard and secure school files and records.

When property damage occurs, it is incumbent upon administrators, when possible, to mitigate destruction or loss and to bring those responsible to account. It would be expected that where property damage is minor, the principal will handle the matter with whatever discretion and judgment is appropriate in the particular instance. In cases of major property damage or loss, however, the principal should notify the Security Section, local police, and the Area Superintendent immediately by telephone. Administrative Regulation 1208-1 states that: "Each case of burglary, theft, malicious mischief, arson, or other crime affecting property in schools or offices shall be reported by telephone to the Security Section immediately upon discovery. All cases of burglary shall be reported to the local police or sheriff's department by the principal or other administrative head. All cases of theft, arson, or malicious mischief where there is more than minor loss (i.e., over $25) or damage should also be reported to the local police or sheriff's department." Additionally, Administrative Regulation 1208-2 states that all losses should be reported immediately by telephone to the Insurance Office, Business Division. See Business Division Bulletin Number 1 for procedure in this regard. If the destruction involves personal property of school employees, they should be made aware of Board Rule 1672 which allows for replacement or repair of damaged personal property, including a vehicle, caused by malicious acts.

Where the perpetrator of minor damage is unknown, attempts to secure evidence may be undertaken through questioning of students or members of the staff who might have observed or have heard something about the incident. It is important that this take place as soon in time as possible after the occurrence. Where major damage has occurred, the Security Section and/or the local law enforcement agency would be expected to conduct the investigation with the principal's full cooperation. In this regard attention is called to the fact that California Government Code Section 53069.5 enables a local agency (the School District in this case) to offer a reward for information leading to the apprehension of any person who willfully damages or destroys any property of the local agency. The culpable person, or his/her parents if he/she is a minor, is liable for the amount of the reward.

It would be expected that there would be local disciplinary follow-up in addition to necessary legal filing in cases where a student is found to have caused the destruction of property. Policy with regard to forms of discipline, i.e., suspension and expulsion, is embodied in California Education Code Section 10605 (and Board Rule 2280) to the effect that the governing board of any school district shall suspend or expel pupils for misconduct when other means of correction fail to bring about proper conduct. More specifically, Board Rule 1711 states that willful damage to school property is grounds for suspension or expulsion. Authority for suspension or expulsion also comes from California Administrative Code, Title 5, Section 305 which states that any pupil who defaces, damages, or destroys any school property shall be liable to suspension or expulsion, according to the nature of the offense. For guidelines regarding suspension procedures, see Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin Numbers 21, 43. See Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin Number 15 for procedures regarding pupil expulsion.

Destruction of school property inevitably raises the question of who is liable for the damage. California Government Code Section 53069.6 states that each local agency (the School District in this case) shall take all practical and reasonable steps to recover civil damages for the negligent, willful, or unlawful damaging or taking of property of the local agency. Upon being informed by the principal of malicious destruction of school property, the Security Section will institute legal action for damages where persons responsible for the destruction can be identified. Actions involving claims up to $500 (jurisdictional limit of Small Claims Court) are handled by the Security Section in Small Claims Court while actions for larger amounts are forwarded to the County Counsel for action in Municipal Court or Superior Court.

Where a student, or any minor, causes the damage, liability is attributed to the parent or guardian. Board Rule 2287 states that the parent or guardian of a pupil is liable for damage to property by the pupil. California Education Code Section 10606 states that a parent is liable for all willful damage by a minor child to school property; also for property belonging to the district loaned to the minor and not returned upon demand of an authorized employee. In a more general vein, California Civil Code Section 1714.1 decrees that willful misconduct by a minor which results in injury or death to another, or injury to property of another shall be imputed to the parent having custody or control of the minor. California Civil Code Section 1714.3 provides that injury to the person or property of another resulting from discharge of a firearm by a minor under 15 years of age shall be imputed to the parent for purposes of civil damages. California Education Code Section 28802 declares that any person who willfully detains any book, paper, magazine, or other property belonging to any public library or other educational institution, for 30 days after written notice requesting the return of the property, is guilty of a misdemeanor. Section 28802 also states that the parent or guardian of a minor shall be liable for all such damages caused by the minor. Further, where destruction of property occurs during an activity held under a permit for use of the school facilities, Board Rule 1315 states that the person or group to whom the permit is issued shall be liable for such damage or loss.

In addition to civil liability, a person who destroys school property is subject to a number of criminal penalties. The Security Section, upon being notified by the principal (as per Administrative Regulation 1208-1) that malicious destruction of property has occurred, is responsible for filing a complaint which initiates any appropriate criminal action. Among the criminal sanctions which may be imposed is California Penal Code Section 594 which states that every person who maliciously injures or destroys any property not his/her own is guilty of a misdemeanor. California Penal Code Section 602(j) makes it a misdemeanor to enter any land for the purpose of injuring any party or property rights or with the intention of interfering with or injuring any lawful business or occupation carried on by the owner of such land, his/her agent, or the person in lawful possession. California Education Code Section 13558.5 states that every minor over 16 years of age or adult who is not a pupil of the school who comes on school grounds and willfully interferes with the normal routine of the school, with intent to disrupt or inflict damage to property, or bodily injury, is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $50 to $500, imprisonment up to 6 months, or both. With regard to school records, California Government Code Section 6201 makes it a misdemeanor or felony for any person to steal, willfully destroy, mutilate, deface, alter or falsify, remove, or secret any record, map, or book filed or deposited in any public office, or placed in his/her hands for any purpose.

One who knowingly and without authorization attempts to make or duplicate, makes, duplicates, or possesses a key to public school premises is guilty of a misdemeanor (California Penal Code Section 469).

Any person who takes the personal property of another with intent to permanently deprive the owner of it is guilty of theft (California Penal Code Section 484).

One who finds lost property and keeps it without having made reasonable efforts to return it to the true owner is guilty of theft (California Penal Code Section 485).

Where the destruction of property was caused by fire, one or more crimes may have occurred. California Penal Code Section 448a states that any person who willfully and maliciously sets fire to or burns or causes to be burned or who aids, counsels, or procures the burning of any school or public building shall be guilty of a felony. California Penal Code Section 451a states that any person who attempts to burn or to aid, counsel, or procure the burning of buildings or property is guilty of a felony. It also specifies that the placing or distributing of any flammable or combustible or explosive material in preparation to fire or burn shall constitute an attempt to burn. California Penal Code Section 452 declares that every person who possesses any flammable, explosive, or combustible material or substance with intent to use such material to set fire to or burn any building or property is guilty of a felony. The same section also declares it a felony to possess, manufacture, or dispose of a fire bomb. On a lesser scale, California Penal Code Section 449a states that the burning of personal property worth over $25 is punishable by imprisonment for 1 to 3 years (a felony). California Education Code Section 28801 makes it a misdemeanor for any person to maliciously cut, tear, deface, break, or injure any book, map, chart, picture, or object of curiosity deposited in any public library, museum, fair, or collection.

Destruction of property which occurs on school buses, in addition to being covered by many of the aforementioned rules and laws, is subject to several specific regulations. Board Rule 2255 states that bus conduct shall be consistent with the Education Code and Administrative Code, and shall be complied with by all pupils. Sections of the California Administrative Code, Title 5, in addition to proscribing smoking on buses when pupils are present (Section 14250), intoxicating liquor on buses (Section 14251), animals on buses (Section 14252), and loaded weapons on buses (Section 14253), also defines the bus driver's authority in Section 14263. Section 14263 states, in part, "Pupils transported in a school bus shall be under the authority of, and responsible directly to, the driver of the bus . . . Continued disorderly conduct or persistent refusal to submit to the authority of the driver shall be sufficient reason for a pupil to be denied transportation". Thus, aside from special trips, which must be supervised by a teacher or coach (Board Rule 2257), the driver is the responsible authority on the school bus.

In an effort to clarify the driver's authority, the Los Angeles Board of Education has created several rules which define a standard of conduct for students on buses and explain the driver's disciplinary powers. Board Rule 2256 states that pupils riding school buses shall observe the following rules: (a) remain seated, (b) refrain from loud conversation or boisterous conduct, (c) keep all parts of the body inside the bus, (d) eat no food on the bus, and (e) wear no athletic shoes equipped with cleats or spikes. Board Rule 2258 declares that a bus driver may deny transportation to pupils for not more than three days for continued disorderly conduct or persistent refusal to submit to authority as provided in California Administrative Code, Title 5, Section 14263. Students may be disciplined for misbehavior on buses when such misbehavior consists of continued refusal to comply with rules set forth in Board Rule 2256, any action endangering the safety of other bus pupils, refusal to comply with the authority of the bus driver, persistent minor offenses which distract the driver's attention from driving, or any offense which seriously disturbs the driver's discipline (Board Rule 2259).

Bomb Threats

Expression of specific administrative policies with regard to bomb threats is found in Administrative Regulation 2354-9 and Office of Administrative Services Bulletin Number 18. The bulletin directs that in each case action be taken in the sequence listed and that each step and decision be documented and kept on file. Other than to call administrators' attention to the major categories identified (I. The Threat; II. Administrative Actions and Decisions; III. The Search; IV. Evacuation; V. Disposition of the Suspicious Object or Bomb; VI. Report of Bomb Threat) and suggest at least an annual rereading, this segment is designed to acquaint principals with the substance of some of the statutes having an immediate bearing on the subject.

- a. Health and Safety Code Section 12000 defines "explosives" as a substance or combination of substances the primary purpose of which is relatively instantaneous release of gas and heat.
- b. Health and Safety Code Section 12082 makes unlawful the sale, gift, or delivery of explosives to persons under 18 years.
- c. Labor Code Section 2651 makes unlawful home manufacture of explosives, fireworks, and articles of like character.
- d. Penal Code Section 12301(a)(2) identifies a "destructive device" as including any bomb, grenade, explosive missile, or similar device therefor.
- e. Penal Code Section 148.1(a) indicates that one who falsely reports that a bomb or other explosive has been placed or secreted in any public or private place is guilty of a crime.
- f. Penal Code Section 148.1(b) makes it a crime to maliciously and falsely inform another that a bomb has been placed or secreted in any public or private place.
- g. Penal Code Section 452(a) states that possession of an explosive substance or device with intent to willfully use it to set fire to or burn a school (Penal Code Section 448a) is a crime.
- h. Penal Code Section 452(b) makes it a felony to possess, manufacture, or dispose of (i.e., give away, loan, sell, or transfer) a fire bomb.
- i. Labor Code Section 3367 extends workmen's compensation benefits to one who at the request of a fire or law enforcement officer of a public entity voluntarily renders technical assistance to prevent a fire, explosion or other hazardous occurrence.

Deposition Instructions

The purpose of these instructions is to inform you what a deposition is, why it is being taken, how it will be taken, and pitfalls to be avoided during its taking.

What is a Deposition?

A deposition is your testimony under oath. You will be asked questions by the opposing attorney and in some cases by your attorneys and the questions and your answers thereto will be recorded by an official court reporter. There will be no judge present and in all likelihood the deposition will be taken in one of the attorneys' offices.

There is little difference between testimony at a deposition and testimony in the courtroom, except there is no judge presiding and ruling over the matters as they arise. The judge may do so later.

The Purposes of a Deposition

The opposing side is taking your deposition for three reasons. The first reason is that they want to find out what facts you have in your actual knowledge and possession regarding the issues in the law suit. In other words, they are interested in what your story is now and what it is going to be at the trial.

Secondly, they want to pin you down to a specific story so that you will have to tell the same story at the trial and they will know in advance what your story is going to be.

And, thirdly, they hope to catch you in a lie because if they were to catch you in a lie they can show at the trial that you are not a truthful person and therefore your testimony should not be believed on any of the points, particularly the crucial ones.

These are very legitimate purposes and the opposing side has every right to take your deposition for these purposes and in this fashion. Correspondingly, you have the same right to take the deposition of the opposing litigant.

Expulsion for Conduct Off School Premises

California Attorney General Opinion No. 66-23, July 12, 1966

The Honorable Keith C. Sorenson, District Attorney of San Mateo County, has requested an opinion on the following question:

May the Governing Board of a School District legally expel pupils for conduct away from the school premises, outside of school hours and not involving a school activity or attendance?

The conclusion is:

A student may be suspended or expelled for behavior inimical to the welfare of the other students or behavior which adversely affects school discipline, whether such behavior occurs on or off the school grounds. In addition, a student may be excluded for an indefinite period if the school district governing board determines that he suffers from "filthy or vicious habits" or that he has a mental disability which is such as to cause his attendance to be inimical to the welfare of other pupils. Such determinations are primarily a question of fact to be determined by the appropriate governing bodies.

Analysis

The circumstances giving rise to the question involve a number of high school boys who participated in improper sexual activities with a twelve-year-old girl over a period of several months. The activities did not occur on the school grounds or during school hours. The nature and extent of the activities have become common knowledge among other students at the high school attended by the boys. Parents of other children have expressed concern that some of the participants, because of the nature of this activity and their "contemptuous" and unremorseful attitude, may jeopardize school discipline and prove a bad example to other students.

Various sections of the Education Code<sup>1</sup> specifically set forth grounds upon which pupils may be excluded, suspended or expelled from school. The authority granted to the governing board by these provisions must be exercised with great care because as stated in 39 Ops. Cal. Atty. Gen. 149, 150:

"Education Code section 12101 requires full time attendance in public schools for all children between the ages of 8 and 16 not otherwise exempted by law. Education

Code section 12154 exempts from this requirement children who are being instructed in a private full time day school.

"Not only does society have a right to require full time attendance of the child in a public school or a private school but these provisions have been interpreted as granting to the qualified child the correlative right to attend full time school (see Const. Art. IX, sec. 6; Roman Catholic Welfare Corp. v. Piedmont, 45 Cal.2d 325; Piper v. Big Pine School District, 193 Cal. 664; Ward v. Flood, 48 Cal. 36)."

Sections 10552 and 10553, relating to exclusion of pupils; are contained in article 2 of chapter 1, division 9, part 2 of the Education Code. The expulsion or suspension of pupils is governed by article 3 of chapter 1, division 9, part 2 of the Education Code commencing with section 10601. Section 10552 provides for exclusion from public schools of students with "filthy or vicious habits or children suffering from contagious or infectious diseases." See also section 11902. Section 10553 authorizes exclusion of any child whose "physical or mental disability is such as to cause his attendance to be inimical to the welfare of other pupils." Exclusion of pupils under the foregoing provisions is authorized not as punishment but to provide school authorities a means to protect other pupils. It clearly need not be related to a school activity or school attendance. On the other hand, expulsion or suspension is primarily to discipline a pupil for his misconduct.

Section 10602 as amended by Stats. 1965, chapter 1279 reads as follows:

"Continued willful disobedience, habitual profanity or vulgarity, open and persistent defiance of the authority of the school personnel, or assault or battery upon a student, upon school premises or while under the authority of school personnel, or continued abuse of school personnel, assault or battery upon school personnel, or any threat of force or violence directed toward school personnel, at any time on place shall constitute good cause for suspension or expulsion from school; however, no pupil shall be suspended or expelled unless the conduct for which he is to be disciplined is related to school activity or school attendance. Smoking or having tobacco on school premises constitutes a good cause for the suspension or expulsion of a pupil except when permitted as provided in this section. The governing board of any school district maintaining a junior college may adopt rules and regulations permitting the smoking and possession of tobacco on the campus of a junior college by pupils of the junior college 18 years of age and over and enrolled in grades above the 12th, if the campus is not shared with a high school." (Underlining indicates changes or additions by amendment.)

The new language in section 10602 states that the conduct for which pupils may be disciplined must be "related to school activity or school attendance." It has been suggested that because of this phrase, the governing board of a school district may not legally expel pupils from school for conduct away from the school premises and outside of school hours. This is too narrow a construction.

Both the Legislature and the courts have indicated that conduct occurring off the school premises may constitute grounds for discipline by school authorities. For example, certain conduct specified in section 10602 occurring "at any time or place" subjects a pupil to discipline. This language was also added to the section in 1965. Thus it appears that the Legislature intended that certain acts may constitute conduct related to school activity or school attendance regardless of the place of their occurrence. The section does not state that proscribed conduct must necessarily occur on school premises or during school hours. Section 10604 prohibits membership in secret clubs, fraternities and sororities and provides for suspension or expulsion for pupils who join such a society. Thus a right is given to discipline pupils for membership in secret clubs which usually meet outside of school hours and away from the school grounds. In Bradford v. Board of Education, 18 Cal. App. 19, 27 (1912), the court concluded in sustaining the validity of similar legislation that in the opinion of the Legislature, membership in secret societies "were calculated to diminish the efficiency of the school system of the State and exert a harmful influence upon the younger pupils of its schools.

Misconduct on the way to and from school subjects pupils to suspension or expulsion. See section 13557, Kerwin v. County of San Mateo, 176 Cal. App. 2d 304, 309 (1959).

Section 24 of Title 5, California Administrative Code provides in part:

"Principals and teachers shall exercise careful supervision over the moral conditions in their respective schools . . . ."

These references clearly show that the grounds for discipline listed in section 10602 are not exclusive.

Historically the governing board of a school district has had the power to discipline a pupil for conduct "which has a direct and immediate tendency to influence the conduct of other pupils while in the schoolroom, to set at naught the proper discipline of the school, to impair the authority of the teachers, and to bring them into ridicule and contempt. Such power [to discipline for conduct occurring outside of school] is essential to the preservation of order, decency, decorum, and good government in the public schools." State ex rel. Dresser v. District Board (Wis.), 16 N.W. 232, 235 (1908).

In Nutt v. Board of Education (Kan.), 278 P. 1065, 1066 (1929) the court held that having a child conceived out of wedlock was insufficient reason for preventing a girl from attending school. The court recognized, however, that the school authorities could refuse admission to a child who is of a licentious or immoral character although holding in effect that a single act of immorality was insufficient. Similarly, in California only a child with vicious or filthy habits may be excluded. (section 10552)

This general rule, that pupils may be disciplined for conduct away from school where the conduct directly affects the good order and welfare of the school has not been affected by the 1965 amendments. It should be noted, however, that under section 10605 the exercise of the power of expulsion or suspension is expressly limited to cases where other means to correct misconduct have failed. Wooster v. Sunderland, 27 Cal. App. 51, 56 (1915).

The fact that punishable offenses within the jurisdiction of other authorities such as the Juvenile Court are involved does not have any effect upon the question of whether the governing board has authority to discipline students. An occurrence resulting in proceedings before the Juvenile Court may occur on school property during school hours in which case the board's authority to act under sections 10602 and 10605 cannot be questioned.

In the case presented a question of fact exists as to whether the conduct in question is sufficiently "related to school activity or school attendance" to justify expulsion or suspension or whether the conduct at issue is evidence of a "vicious or filthy habit" justifying exclusion.

Unquestionably the pupil's attitude at school regarding his misconduct may be considered in determining whether discipline or exclusion is warranted. A course of conduct indicating lack of contrition for the acts committed, recitation in detail of the past misdeeds, and efforts to inspire similar conduct in fellow students could well lead to the conclusion that the conduct at issue is inimical to the welfare of the other pupils. Such recitations might also be deemed habitual vulgarity under section 10602.

The statutes involved clearly provide that a student can be expelled only on order of the governing board. See also section 967; cf. Elder v. Anderson, 205 Cal. App. 2d 326, 336 (1962).

Since the decision of the local governing board to expel a pupil is subject to appeal to the County Board of Education (section 10608) it would appear that evidence must be presented to the governing board and a record made which, if reviewed by the county board will show the existence of facts justifying an expulsion.

Although the necessity for appropriate evidence and a record for review is not as apparent insofar as expulsion is concerned, under the circumstances the importance of factual determination and the consistent State policy favoring school attendance would indicate the advisability of a similar hearing, if requested, should exclusion under sections 10552-10553 be contemplated.

Note: The foregoing is the complete opinion found in 48 OPS Atty.Gen. 4-8.

The reader's attention is called to the fact that Education Code Section 10602 has been modified in part by the provisions of Section 10602.5, which were added by Chapter 65, 1975 Statutes, and effective January 1, 1976, and continue to make smoking on school premises a good cause for pupil suspension or expulsion except when the governing board adopts rules and regulations permitting the smoking and possession of tobacco on high school campuses. This new permissive statute states in pertinent part:

"(a) Smoking or having tobacco on school premises, or while under the authority of school personnel, constitutes good cause for the suspension or expulsion of a pupil except as provided in this section.

"(b) The governing board of any school district maintaining a . . . high school may adopt rules and regulations permitting the smoking and possession of tobacco on the campus of a . . . high school or while under the authority of school personnel by pupils of the . . . high school; provided that such rules and regulations shall not permit students to smoke in any classroom or other enclosed facility which any student is required to occupy or which is customarily occupied by nonsmoking students.

"(c) The governing board of any school district maintaining a high school shall take all steps it deems practical to discourage high school students from smoking."

Inspection of District Public Records

The California Public Records Act<sup>1</sup> (1968) "declares that access to information concerning conduct of the people's business is a fundamental and necessary right of every person in this state".

Anything prepared for a public agency in the conduct of official business is a public record.<sup>2</sup>

"Where there is no contrary statute or countervailing public policy, the right to inspect public records must be freely allowed."<sup>3</sup>

The District is empowered to "adopt regulations stating procedures to be followed when making its records available . . .".<sup>4</sup>

District records which are exempt from disclosure requirements<sup>5</sup> would include

- (a) preliminary drafts, notes, or memoranda which are not retained by the District in the ordinary course of business,
- (b) records pertaining to pending litigation to which the District is a party,
- (c) personnel, medical, or similar files, the disclosure of which would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy,
- (d) records of complaints, investigations, intelligence information, or security procedures compiled for correctional law enforcement, or licensing purposes,
- (e) data used to administer an examination for employment or academic examination; and
- (f) other records the disclosure of which is exempted by statute.<sup>6</sup>

2 Memo, Maharg to Board of Supervisors, November 15, 1968

The justification for withholding a record from inspection is its exemption by the act or the fact that, in the public interest, nondisclosure clearly outweighs disclosure.

"Public records" and "public writings" are used synonymously.<sup>8</sup>

Public records are subject to inspection and copying by members of the public only during school or administrative office business hours.<sup>9</sup>

An exact copy shall be provided unless impractical to do so. Computer data shall be provided in a form and at a cost determined by Management Information Division.

A reasonable fee shall be paid for a copy of an identifiable public record.<sup>10</sup> Pursuant to California Government Code Section 6257 charges to the public for copies of public records should be made as listed below:

For the first page or copy $ .25

For the second and succeeding pages or additional copies of any page from the same public record $ .10

This policy should be uniformly applied. It parallels the City of Los Angeles fee schedule. For assistance, please call the Office of Administrative Services. (See Office of Administrative Services Bulletin No. 4)

Charges made for copies requested must represent reasonable cost. This would include labor, material, and other pertinent charges as for equipment or overhead.

Factors justifying service charges are special searches greater than those the District is normally expected to provide, quantity or variety of information requested, or determination that information requested might be secured by inquirer's own effort and without District assistance.

Money collected as fees, deposits and charges is subject to accounting procedures and controls prescribed by the Controller.

Copies of a public record need not be provided on demand for a member of the public, but within a reasonable time. Regular on-going operations supersede the immediate provision of a requested copy.

Schools and offices are not obligated to compile or procure a record or information which is not physically in being or in their possession. If the location of a requested record is known, the inquirer should be referred to the appropriate location.

A document cannot secure exemption status by arbitrarily being labeled "draft" or "confidential" or "for committee use only" or some similar designation when such label is unessential, improper, inappropriate, superfluous, or irrelevant.

Failure or inability of a member of the public to provide a reasonably specific description of a requested record should not be so construed that it becomes a means of withholding a record or information from such member of the public. An unlimited records reference service is not obligatory in the absence of proper information or record identification.

The right to inspect or acquire a copy of a public record is enforceable in a court of competent jurisdiction.<sup>11</sup>

Each school and office should determine which, if any, of its records are exempt by law from public inspection and copying. All remaining records are to be open to inspection and copying.

Set aside suitable space, if available, for reading or copying of records. Provide safeguards to protect records from mishandling, theft, loss, defacement, mutilation, or other damage.

Existing copiers available should be utilized to meet copying requirements as determined by volume and practicality.

Mail and telephone requests should be discouraged. However, mail requests otherwise qualifying, including appropriate postage, should be respected.

Legal questions concerning public inspection of District records should be referred to the Legal Adviser.

Preparation of the Witness

The below numbered thoughts are set out to help a witness testify convincingly.

1. Practice extreme candor.
2. Be yourself, be natural, as relaxed as possible, and follow closely the questions asked of you by both counsel.
3. Answer each question to the best of your ability completely but do not offer more than is asked.
4. Pause briefly before answering each question. Do not pause noticeably. Gather your thoughts carefully before answering and do not permit yourself to be hurried.
5. If the atmosphere becomes so emotionally charged that you feel you must delay your answer momentarily, do so.
6. Do not be afraid of counsel. Do not permit counsel to bully you, i.e., counsel says, "Answer Yes or No," and you cannot in good conscience answer Yes or No -- advise counsel that you are unable to answer Yes or No and point out that if you will be permitted to explain and properly answer you will cogently and succinctly do so.
7. If your composure has been shaken or you are angry or you are otherwise the victim of legal harassment, then pause, take stock of your position and then proceed.
8. A witness should avoid testifying as to conclusions, utilizing pronouns which confuse identity, using educational jargon (ADA, Master Program Card, Curriculum Cards, etc.), and cluttering testimony with irrelevant and immaterial information.
9. Do not memorize your testimony, instead tell the facts as you know them and in a manner intelligible to those who have no knowledge whatsoever of the case.
10. Avoid demonstrations of anger, belligerency, sarcasm or discourtesy.
11. Do not answer any question unless you thoroughly understand it.
12. After counsel has completed his/her direct examination, opposing counsel will be permitted to cross-examine as to all matters brought out in direct examination.

13. After opposing counsel has completed his/her cross-examination, your counsel may again redirect questions to clarify positions that may have been confused by the cross-examination. Opposing counsel will have the opportunity to again cross-examine.

Pitfalls To Avoid As A Witness When Testifying At A Trial (Or At A Deposition)

1. Always remember that either as a litigant or a witness you have no purpose to serve other than to give the facts as you know them. You must give the facts if you have them. You do not, however, have to give opinions and therefore you should not give opinions. Generally speaking, if you are asked a question which calls for an opinion your attorney will object to the question. (However, after his/her objection, if he/she advises you to go ahead and answer and you do have an opinion on the subject, then you may give it at a deposition.)
2. Never state facts that you don't know. Quite frequently you will be asked a question by an attorney and in spite of the fact that you feel that you should know the answer, you do not, and therefore, you will be tempted to guess or estimate what the answer should be. This is a mistake. If you do not know an answer to a question, even though you would appear ignorant or evasive by stating that you don't know, you should nevertheless state that you do not know because a guess or an estimate for an answer is almost always the wrong answer and one from which the opponent can show that you either don't know what you are talking about or imply that you are deliberately mistating the truth.

Generally speaking, the attorney is in a position to know what the answer should have been and it may very well be that the reason he/she asked the question was because the attorney knew you wouldn't know the answer but felt that you would be compelled to guess.

3. You are only to give the information which you have readily in mind. If you do not know certain information, do not give it. Do not turn to your counsel and ask him/her for the information or do not turn to another witness, if one should be present, and ask him/her for the information. Do not promise to get information that you don't have readily in mind unless your attorney advises it. If you know an answer to a question at the time that it is being asked, then you should answer it. Do not agree to look up anything in the future and then supplement the answer you are then giving unless your counsel advises you to.

4. Do not, without your counsel's request, reach in your pocket for a Social Security Card, or other documents. A discovery deposition is to elicit facts which you know and have in your mind and not for the production of documents. If the opposing side is interested in obtaining documents from you, there are other legal procedures by which to obtain them. Do not ask your counsel to produce anything which is in his/her file at the time because generally the same rule applies for obtaining these as applies to things which may be in your pocket.
5. Never attempt to explain or justify your answer. You are there to give the facts as you know them. You are not supposed to apologize or attempt to justify those facts. Any attempt as such would make it appear as if you doubt the accurateness or authenticity of your own testimony.
6. Do not let the opposing attorney get you angry or excited. This destroys the effectiveness of your testimony and you say things which may be used to your disadvantage later. It is sometimes the intent of attorneys to get a witness (deponent) excited during his/her testimony, hoping that the witness will say things which may be used against him/her.

Under no circumstances should you argue with the opposing attorney. Give him/her only the information which you have. That is all he/she is entitled to. Give opposing counsel the information in the same tone of voice and manner that you do in answer to your own attorney's questions. The mere fact that you get emotional about a certain point could be to your opponent's advantage in a lawsuit.

Do not be afraid of counsel. Counsel is not permitted to bully you, i.e., counsel says, "Answer Yes or No," and you cannot in good conscience answer yes or no -- advise counsel that you are unable to answer yes or no and point out that if you will be permitted to explain and properly answer, you will cogently and succinctly do so.

If the atmosphere becomes so emotionally charged that you feel you must delay your answer momentarily, do so.

If your composure has been shaken or you are angry or you are otherwise the victim of legal harassment, then pause, take stock of your position and then proceed.

7. If your attorney begins to speak, stop whatever answer you may be giving and allow counsel to make his/her statement. If he/she is making an objection to the question that is being asked of you, do not answer the question until your attorney, after he/she has made an objection, advises you to go ahead and complete your answer. If your attorney tells you not to answer a question, then you should not answer the question.

8. Take your time in answering a question. If you don't know an answer to a question, the most important thing is to say so. It is advisable to answer all questions in a direct and straightforward manner. (Remember, the deposition does not show the length of time which you used in considering your answer.)
9. Tell the truth. The truth on the witness stand (or in the deposition) will never really hurt a litigant. A lawyer may explain away the truth, but there is no explaining why a client lied or concealed the truth. The mere fact that you may have had an accident before of almost an identical nature or with similar injuries, or that you may have sued or been sued by other people at other times for similar claims, or even that you have a criminal record, does not destroy the validity of your claim or defense. However, the deliberate concealing of such an action would be devastating to your veracity at the trial and would hurt your case immeasurably and would also make you subject to future perjury proceedings.
10. Never joke on the witness stand (or in a deposition). The humor may not be apparent (especially on the cold transcript) and may make you look crude or cavalier about the truth.
11. Do not volunteer any facts not requested by a question. Such information cannot help your case and may hinder it.
12. After the deposition is over, do not chat with the opponents or their attorneys about the case or anything remotely connected with it. Remember, the other attorney represents interests adverse to your own. Do not let his/her friendly manner cause you to drop your guard and become chatty.
13. Do not try to figure out before you answer whether a truthful answer will help or hinder your case. Answer truthfully. Your lawyer can deal with the truth effectively. He/she is handicapped when you answer any other way.
14. A witness should avoid testifying with pronouns which confuse identity, using educational jargon (ADA, Master Program Card, Curriculum Cards, etc.) which, if not explained, will have little meaning to the court (Judge), and will clutter testimony.
15. Your initial testimony will be similar to what follows:
  - a. You will be called by name and should come forward;
  - b. You will swear to give honest answers;
  - c. The attorney who has summoned you will ask:
    - (1) your name;

- (2) your occupation;
- (3) your place of work;
- (4) how long you have been at your place of current employment;
- (5) the title of your job;
- (6) the qualifications for the job you perform;
- (7) the type of work you perform.

After you have read all of these suggestions, please write down any questions which you may have and ask them of your counsel prior to the trial (deposition).

Search of Student Lockers.

Background Authority

1. "The public interest demands that all dangerous conditions be prevented or abated" (Camara v. Municipal Court, 387 U.S. 523 at page 537).
2. "The school stands in loco parentis and shares, in matters of school discipline, the parent's right to use moderate force to obtain obedience . . . and that right extends to the search of appellant's (i.e. the student's locker . . .)" (In re Donaldson, 269 Cal.App.2d 509 at page 513).
3. Principals, teachers and other certificated employees of a school district have the right to exercise such physical control over their students as is necessary to "maintain order, protect property, or protect the health and safety of pupils" (California Education Code, Section 13557).
4. Schools are not independent enclaves where state penal laws do not apply. "Every person is liable to punishment by the laws of this state, for a public offense committed by him therein" (California Penal Code, Section 777).
5. Matters of school discipline, within the scope of the duties of school officials, control of which may justify a warrantless search of student lockers located on school premises, include:
  - (a) a student's possession upon school grounds of "narcotics or other hallucinogenic drugs or substances" (California Education Code 10603; See also, In re Donaldson, 269 Cal.App.2d 509, 75 Cal. Rptr. 220);
  - (b) any person's possession upon school grounds of any dirk, dagger, knife having a blade longer than 3-1/2 inches; folding knife with locking blade, or exposed blade razor (California Penal Code, Section 626.10, subd. (a); 1974 Stats., Ch. 103);
  - (c) Any minor's possession upon school grounds of a concealable firearm when the minor has neither written permission from a parent nor is he/she accompanied by a parent (California Penal Code, Section 12021.5);

- (d) any person's possession upon school grounds of a blackjack, slungshot, billy, sandclub, sandbag, set of metal knuckles, sawed-off shotgun, or nunchaku (California Penal Code, Section 12029);
- (e) any person's possession upon school grounds of a firearm, unless it is with the permission of the school authorities or unless allowable due to the person's status as a peace officer, member of the military, designated agent of a peace officer, or unless the person is licensed to carry a concealed weapon (California Penal Code, Section 6269).
6. The school stands in loco parentis over students. A school administrator is not a government official within the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendment prohibition against unreasonable searches and seizures where the primary purpose of the school administrator's search of a student locker was not to obtain convictions, but to secure evidence of student misconduct. (In re Donaldson, 269 Cal.App.2d 509 [School principal searched locker of student from whom a student informer had purchased drugs; search uncovered marijuana.]
7. "We believe that the appropriate test for searches by . . . school officials is two-pronged. The first requirement is that the search be within the scope of the school's duties. The second requirement is that the action taken, the search, be reasonable under the facts and circumstances of the case." (In re Christopher W., 29 Cal.App.3d 777 [Following up tips from four students, school administrator searched Christopher's student locker and found marijuana])
8. "The controlling standard of reasonableness . . . [does not] foreclose prompt inspections, even without a warrant, that the law has traditionally upheld in emergency situations" (Camara, supra, at page 539; People v. Lanthier, 5 C.3d 751 at pages 755, 756).
9. "It was reasonable for the school authorities to obtain the services of a police officer to effect the search they were authorized to make. The search was the sole product of the initiating action taken by the school authorities; was executed in their presence . . . [¶] We conclude the constitutional guarantee against unreasonable searches does not proscribe solicitation and use of professional assistance by school authorities in conducting an authorized search of a student for good cause" (In re Fred C., 26 Cal.App.3d 320, at page 325 [School administrators, informed by third party that a student was selling drugs, called police to search student after the latter refused to let them search his/her bulging pockets.]).

Recommendations

1. Conduct each semester a pupil orientation re locker purposes, uses and privileges.*
2. Make pupils aware of need for both regular and emergency locker inspections and/or searches.
3. Advise students that rights of privacy are not invaded when the health, safety, or general welfare of others are endangered.
4. Explain meaning of "in loco parentis".
5. Whenever possible, have the student present if his/her locker is being searched.
6. Whenever possible, have another adult witness present when there is reason to believe that a locker search is necessary.
7. If there is doubt as to the nature of the contents found in a locker, professional assistance may be enlisted for identification purposes.
8. Keep in mind the fact that complete license is not granted to school authorities to conduct searches under any and all circumstances (i.e. reasonable cause to believe that contraband is present -- "probable cause" is not required).

NOTE: Refer to page 4, Drug Abuse Control, (1973 edition published by Office of the Superintendent, Los Angeles City Schools) for drug and narcotics search related to pupil possession or involvement.

Conclusion

An administrator may upon the reasonable belief that contraband material is in a student's locker search that locker. The administrator's reasonable belief may result either from the administrator's firsthand knowledge or from information conveyed to him/her by others who are considered reliable.

Youngsters may be searched when an administrator is of the reasonable belief that the youngster is concealing contraband. Any search should preferably occur in the presence of at least one other administrator; and in those instances in which the youngster physically refuses to be searched, public authorities should be called.

*Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin No. 11 states that at the time a locker is assigned to a student, he/she should be instructed to read and sign the student locker assignment card. This card outlines the terms and conditions for the use of a locker by a student.

Search of Student's Home

The County Counsel is of the opinion that Los Angeles Unified School District security officers should "abstain from any search of a juvenile's [parents'] home unless either a search warrant or parental consent is obtained."<sup>1</sup>

In situations in which a district security agent accompanies a juvenile to his/her home for the purpose of recovering stolen district property and a consenting parent is not present, the County Counsel recommends<sup>2</sup> that this procedure be followed:

1. If the juvenile has confessed to the wrongful possession of district property, no search would seem to be necessary, and it would thus suffice for our agents to wait outside the house for the juvenile to bring the property out.
2. When the juvenile does not admit the wrongful taking or possession of district property, or will not voluntarily bring the property in question out of his/her parent's house, district agents should not rely upon the juvenile's consent to search the home, but rather should obtain parental consent or a search warrant.

Subpoena of Person or Records in Civil Actions

Background

An attorney, acting as an officer of the Court, may call an individual to testify and/or bring specific records to Court which have a bearing on the particular matter being litigated. Service of a subpoena helps to assure the presence of such individual or records at a precise time and place.

The subpoena is a writ (i.e., an order or precept) which is issued in the name of the Court shown thereon and which commands the person designated in it to personally attend court to testify as a witness at the time and place indicated or be penalized for failure to appear through contempt. A subpoena duces tecum is an order of the court which requires the person named therein to produce in court certain designated documents.

Service

Proper service of a subpoena requires that the writ be handed by the process server to the person for whom intended or, if acceptance is refused, placed as close to the individual as possible with an accompanying statement to the effect that the document is a subpoena. (Code of Civil Procedure Section 1987[a])

A process server who intends to serve an employee individually should be directed to the school principal or office administrator to whom the individual reports. The administrator will notify the employee and arrange for service in a private office. In no event is a process server authorized to go directly to a classroom. An employee may refuse to accept the subpoena and such failure to report to be served shall not be regarded as insubordination or improper conduct. In any event, there should be no interference with the school routine.

Fees

Fees must be demanded immediately upon service or they will not be paid. Section 68097 of the Government Code provides that "Witnesses in civil cases may demand the payment of their mileage (20¢ per mile, one way only) and fees ($12 per day) for one day, in advance, and when so demanded shall not be compelled to attend until the allowances are paid". Witness fees and mileage rates are set forth in Government Code Sections 68093, 68095, and 68096. Failure to demand the witness fee or mileage upon receipt of the subpoena constitutes a waiver of these allowable payments. Employees in paid status are required to forward to the Controlling Division any witness fees received for response to subpoena. Mileage may not be demanded for mailing, in lieu of personal appearance, of certified copies of subpoenaed pupil records in accordance with the provisions of Education Code Section 10754.

Service of a subpoena is frequently a last minute act and often leaves the recipient with very little time to make convenient personal arrangements or to locate records which are demanded in the subpoena duces tecum. With regard to the production of records, the individual need do only the best that he/she can under the circumstances. If the time allowed is insufficient to find the specified records, the individual served with the subpoena duces tecum may explain to the Court the reason for his/her inability to produce the ordered documents on the date indicated. It is recommended that when adequate time has not been allowed, the person subpoenaed should call the attorney having the subpoena served and so advise him/her.

Role Of Pupil Services And Attendance Branch

Service of a subpoena duces tecum requesting the records of pupils should be directed to the Pupil Services and Attendance office serving the school the child attends or attended. If this is not possible, such subpoena should be accepted only by a school administrator, who should immediately work out with Pupil Services and Attendance a mutually satisfactory plan for answering the subpoena. (See last sentence of section on Fees.)

Role of Insurance Section

In the event that an employee is served with a subpoena in connection with an employment-related accident or other matter that is covered by Los Angeles Unified School District's insurance, he/she should immediately notify Dr. Clifford H. Allen, Insurance Supervisor, Contractual Relations Branch, Room 215, Business Services Center, 1425 South San Pedro Street, Los Angeles 90015 (Telephone 625-5366).

Official Governmental Order

Payment of salary is provided for time necessarily spent in involuntary federal jury service or for any necessary absence of one day or less in response to an official order from another governmental jurisdiction (Board Rule 3602 i).

Questions relating to the captioned subject should be directed to County Counsel attorneys (625-6367) or the Legal Adviser (625-6606).

Assault or Battery Determination

Board Rule 3609 which is applicable only to employees in regular, substitute, or temporary status, provides in relevant part:

" . . . leave may be granted to an employee . . . for absence because of an injury resulting from an assault or battery directly related to the performance of duties but considered to be above and beyond the normal risks experienced by an employee. Determination that the injury was the result of an assault or battery shall be made by the immediate administrator."

This rule is applicable only to employees in regular, substitute, or temporary status (Board Rule 3609, subd. a).

It should be noted initially that there is a distinction between civil assault and/or battery and criminal assault and/or battery.

The former is a tort and any subsequent judicial action usually involves a suit for monetary damages by the injured party against the offender. The latter is a crime and is prosecuted (by the State) for an offense proscribed by the Penal Code.

A civil assault is an intentional tort in which the defendant creates an apprehension of a physical injury on the part of the plaintiff. Thus a civil assault is primarily a mental invasion of plaintiff's person, e.g., you see the fist coming--you have been assaulted.

A criminal assault need not create the mental foreboding on the part of the victim. To constitute criminal assault there must be present both an unlawful attempt and a present ability to commit a violent injury on the person of another (California Penal Code, Section 240). Thus the element of "apprehension" on the part of the injured need not be present to constitute a criminal assault.

A civil battery is an intentional tort wherein there is a deliberate and unpermitted contact with the plaintiff's person. One's person includes all those things which are in contact or connected with it. There must be absence of consent to the contact on the part of the plaintiff. A touching which unreasonably exceeds permitted contact constitutes a battery.

A criminal battery is an unlawful and willful use of force or violence upon the person of another. Here a deliberate physical invasion by the defendant must be shown.

In civil assault and/or battery, the fiction of "transferred intent" is applicable. Thus an intent on the part of "A" to assault or injure "B", which results in apprehension and/or injury to "C", provides "C" with a basis for civil (tort) action for damages against "A". Not every apprehension and touching or injury is remediable since one may act in self-defense and thus injure an innocent bystander.

In a criminal prosecution for assault and/or battery, the element of intent must be present. If an assault is charged, there need only be shown the unlawful attempt to injure plus the ability to cause the injury. If a battery is charged, there need only be shown the willful and unlawful use of force against another's person.

The basis for the District's assault and battery leave is the criminal act making an employee the victim.

When, from all the facts and circumstances, it is the principal's judgment that an employee has been intentionally

Frightened, menaced, threatened, intimidated, or terrorized, so that the employee

Felt an immediate physical threat, then

The principal should report the incident as an assault, i.e., as a mental invasion of the employee's personal integrity.

When, from all the facts and circumstances, it is the principal's judgment that there has been

A voluntary intent to cause an unpermitted contact with the employee, any part of his body, or anything attached to it; and

Actual contact with the employee; and

Absence of consent to the contact by the employee; then

The principal should report the incident as a battery.

When, from all the facts and circumstances, it is the principal's judgment there has been an assault and battery, he/she should report the incident immediately as such.

Accidents, of course, do not by any test constitute either an assault or a battery.

Auxiliary Role of Public Information Unit

Under the authority provided by Education Code Section 1071(c) to governing boards to promote the advancement of education and the mandate to the Superintendent in Board Rule 1401 to "establish the procedures to be followed in the dissemination of information concerning activities in the schools," the Public Information Unit has been delegated the responsibility to "inform and make known to the citizens of the district, the educational programs and activities of the schools therein."

In discharging its responsibility to fully inform the citizens of the community, the Public Information Unit helps publicize the broad spectrum of school activities, Board policy decisions and District events. The Unit supplies information to the media in times of crisis by virtue of its inclusion as an integral part of the District's emergency system. Close working relationships are maintained with the District's Security Section and local law enforcement agencies to facilitate the dissemination of this type of information.

When a school is involved in an emergency or crisis situation, staff of the Public Information Unit are ready and available to lend a hand to the administrator in charge. If a call comes to the school from the media requesting information, Public Information will assist in whatever way the administrator desires. Some means for providing assistance, in the form of questions and answers, follow:

When will the Public Information Unit assist a school administrator?

- During sit-ins, student walk-outs, teacher strikes, disturbances caused by outsiders or accidents on the playground or at the school
- During times of natural disasters such as fires or earthquakes as well as when schools have been vandalized or if there is an emergency closing for any reason
- When incidents erupt involving students and/or former students in instances such as gang activities or shootings
- When there is a rumor of an incident, the Unit will check it out whether the rumor originated at the school or was brought to the Unit's attention by the media.

- When serious incidents occur involving school personnel or students, either on or off campus

How can you get help?

- The principal or the designated representative should call the Unit (625-6166) and give all the information available to an information officer
- If it appears that the media will turn out in force, ask that an information officer be sent to the school immediately to assist you
- If it appears that the incident is less serious--you've only had one inquiry, call the Unit for advice on how to handle the media

What will an information officer do at the school during a crisis?

- Gather all pertinent information from the principal or the designated representative
- Set aside an empty classroom or a conference room where the media can await information and which can be used for "briefings" by the administrator
- Take calls from the media and make calls to the media as needed
- Serve as a spokesman for the administrator as needed

What should you tell the media?

- Tell them what you know, honestly and straightforwardly. It's bad policy to try to cover-up an unpleasant situation. Do not speculate about the facts.
- Give the media a perspective, if you can. Put the incident in perspective.

Corporal Punishment

One type of abuse which may be suffered by a pupil is excessive or unjustifiable corporal punishment. Although the nationwide trend is toward an abandonment of any form of corporal punishment, its exercise is still authorized by Education Code Section 10854 and subject to the limitations set forth in Board Rule 2268. Aspects of abuse related to this element of activity of which administrators should be aware include:

- a. Certificated personnel may administer corporal punishment not prohibited by law only when milder measures have failed. [The problem for teachers, as well as administrators, has been to determine what corporal punishment is "not prohibited by law".]
- b. Certificated employees of a school district are not subject to criminal penalties for the exercise of reasonable control over a pupil (Education Code Section 13557).
- c. Inflicting "unjustifiable" physical pain or mental suffering upon a child or permitting either to be inflicted is a criminal offense (Penal Code Section 273a). "Unjustifiable" as used in Penal Code Section 273a means the infliction of physical pain or mental suffering which was not excusable nor properly authorizable under the circumstances (People v. Curtiss, 116 Cal.App.Supp. 771 at page 778).
- d. Any person who willfully inflicts upon any child any cruel or inhuman corporal punishment or injury resulting in a traumatic condition is guilty of a felony (Penal Code Section 273d).

NOTE: A teacher may be sued civilly for inflicting unjustifiable corporal punishment upon a child (Serres v. South Santa Anita School Board, 10 C.A.2d 152, 51 P.2d 893).

Disruptive Conduct v Freedom of Expression

First amendment rights of freedom of speech or expression, applied in light of the special characteristics of the school environment, are available to teachers and students, and neither students nor teachers shed such rights at the schoolhouse gate (Tinker v. Des Moines Community School District, 393 U.S. 503; 89 S.Ct. 733; 21 L.Ed.2d 731).

California Education Code Section 10611 states in part, "Students of the public schools have the right to exercise free expression including, but not limited to, the use of bulletin boards, the distribution of printed materials or petitions, and the wearing of buttons, badges or other insignia . . .". However, the statute specifically excepts expression which is obscene, defamatory, or likely to incite students to commit unlawful or disruptive acts on school premises from the range of protected expression.

Board Rule 1276 and Administrative Regulation 1276-1 detail Los Angeles Unified School District policies and procedures regarding what forms of printed expression may be permitted or prohibited and to what extent the time, place, or manner of expression of outsiders, district employees, or students may be regulated. These Administrative Guide references, coupled with Board Rule 1274, represent the District's implementation of the mandate stated in California Education Code Section 10611, supra.

Public school students sometimes engage in symbolic acts such as wearing of armbands, berets, or buttons in order to publicize their opinions upon a given subject. The leading case regarding the extent to which school authorities may regulate such symbolic acts is Tinker v. Des Moines Community School District, supra, in which the U.S. Supreme Court held that a regulation issued by public school authorities prohibiting students from wearing black armbands during school hours violated the students' First Amendment right of freedom of expression where the students' purpose was to express their objections to the war in Vietnam and where there was no evidence that the prohibitory regulation was necessary to avoid material and substantial interference with school work or discipline. On the contrary, the action of the school authorities appeared to have been based upon an urgent wish to avoid the controversy which might result from the expression. The key to arriving at a workable rule of thumb in the handling of symbolic acts by students may well lie in the Tinker court's reasoning as expressed at 393 U.S. 503, 508 that the problem posed by the facts of the case did not relate to dress or hair style regulations nor to aggressive, disruptive action, nor group demonstrations, but related solely to a "silent, passive expression of opinion unaccompanied by any disorder or disturbance" which latter form of symbolic act expression "involves direct, primary First Amendment rights akin to 'free speech'." Disruptive conduct accompanying expression which is neither obscene, libelous nor likely to incite riot may be regulated to the extent reasonably necessary to maintain discipline in the operation of the school. However, such expression itself, no matter how disturbing its content, may not be prohibited nor regulated more than is absolutely necessary to maintain discipline in the operation of the school.

In California, a person who disrupts regularly scheduled classes or any other lawful form of school assembly may be subjected to penal sanctions pursuant to the following simple rules:

A person who willfully uses conduct which disturbs or breaks up any lawful assembly or meeting other than those which are religious or political in nature is guilty of a misdemeanor (California Penal Code Section 403).

When California Penal Code Section 403 is considered ". . . in light of the purposes of the provision and the competing First Amendment interests at stake, section 403 authorizes the imposition of criminal sanctions only when the defendant's activity itself-- and not the content of the activity's expression-- substantially impairs the effective conduct of a meeting" (emphasis in original) (In re Kay, 1 C.3d 930 at page 942; 83 Cal.Rptr. 686).

Notification to Parent Re One- or Two-Day Pupil Suspension

California Education Code § 10607.8 provides:

"Whenever a pupil is suspended from school, the parent or guardian shall be notified of such action. Any notification to a pupil's parent or guardian concerning the suspension of the pupil shall be signed by the school principal or his designee."

Grounds for suspension of a pupil and District policies and procedures regarding pupil suspension are detailed in Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin Number 43. Such Bulletin Number 43, at page 4, provides in relevant part:

"When a pupil is suspended from school for one (1) day, but not for more than two (2) consecutive days, the pupil's parent or guardian shall be notified as to the reason for the suspension, the school policy involved, and the duration. If requested by the pupil's parent, or guardian, the meeting shall be held promptly to discuss the suspension with school officials. (Education Code § 10607)" (Emphasis added.)

The California Court of Appeal has interpreted California Education Code § 10607 as meeting the due process requirement of the Fourteenth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution when the following procedures are followed by the school administrator:

- "(1) Notice by telephone, mail, or other appropriate method to the parents or guardian within a reasonable time after the suspension, advising of the fact of such suspension, its duration, and the reasons therefor, and further stating that, if desired, a prompt meeting or hearing will be held at which the suspension may be discussed with school officials.
- "(2) If requested, a meeting or hearing within a reasonable time at which the suspended student may also be present, where the student shall be afforded an opportunity to present informal proof of his side of the case."<sup>1</sup>

1. Charles S. v. Board of Education; 20 Cal.App.3d 83; 97 Cal.Rptr. 422

The form of the sample suspension letter set forth below eliminates the need for any administrative concern regarding whether the parent or the administrator should suggest a suspension meeting. The letter's form conveys administrative notification to the parent or guardian that a prompt meeting or hearing concerning the suspension will be held if the parent or guardian so desires.

Parent Responsibilities

The scope of this segment is limited to identifying those legal responsibilities which require the cooperative efforts of parents in helping the public schools accomplish their mission. Of specific concern is accountability for injury or damage caused by minor children<sup>1</sup> or parental conduct which contributes to the delinquency or truancy of a minor.

Only parental rights correlative to parental responsibilities within the scope of this article are recognized here.

Pertinent information is divided into two broad categories: responsibilities and rights. Other sanctions, not necessarily school related, are preceded by an asterisk.

Responsibilities<sup>2</sup>

14. *Penal Code Section 626.8. A person who comes on school premises without lawful business and interferes with or disrupts peaceful conduct of activities thereon, and remains there after being asked to leave by the chief administrative official is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Rights

7. Education Code Sections 10607, 10607.8. The parent or guardian of a suspended pupil shall be given a written request to attend a meeting with school officials on or before the third consecutive school day of the period of suspension. Causes, duration and other matters pertinent to the suspension shall be discussed at this meeting.

2. Education Code Section 10608. The parent or guardian of a pupil who has been expelled from school may appeal the suspension to the county board of education.
3. Education Code Section 10757. A parent or legal guardian shall be permitted to inspect the written records concerning his or her child or ward in any reasonable manner in consultation with a certificated employee of the district when the parent requests to do so during regular hours of the school day. If the child's parents or legal guardians are divorced or separated, only the parent, guardian, or other person having lawful custody of the child shall be permitted to inspect the written records of the child pursuant to this section. Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin No. 35 states, "The right to inspect the written records does not imply the right to copy the records or obtain a copy of the records."

The prohibitions imposed by the last two sentences in the paragraph immediately preceding have been overruled by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 and the 1974 revision of Education Code Section 10751. Either natural parent may now inspect and/or secure copies of the child's educational records. Also overruled by the same legislation are the limitations set forth in Education Code Section 10758 (below) and Bulletin No. 35 concerning the completeness of a response to a parent's written request for information regarding pupil academic performance.

4. Education Code Section 10758. When a request is made in writing, the governing board of the school district shall give to each pupil's natural parent or legal guardian the same written information concerning academic performance that is given to the parent having custody of the pupil. For the purpose of obtaining written information concerning academic performance without inspection of the written records by the parent or guardian, the provisions of this section shall control over Section 10757. Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin No. 35 states, "Academic performance does not include marks in Conduct (Work Habits and Cooperation; Effort and Citizenship), or Attendance." For further information concerning inspection of district public records see pages CI-11 through CI-13, inclusive.
5. Education Code Section 10759. The parent or guardian or any pupil whom the teacher feels is in danger of failing the course is entitled to either notification that a conference will be held concerning the pupil's progress or to a written report. The refusal of the parent or guardian to attend the conference or to respond to the written report, shall not preclude failing the pupil at the end of the grading period.

6. Division of Educational Support Services Bulletin No. 35. A parent who does not have custody but does have reasonable rights of visitation with the child may visit the child at school during school hours provided no court order barring such visitation has been furnished to the school and provided the visit does not interfere with the conduct of school work. See the above mentioned bulletin for further details.
7. *Penal Code Section 12020 (1974 amend.). Any person who manufactures, imports, offers for sale or attempts any of the foregoing or who possesses a nunchaku, specifically described metal plate instrument, blackjack, slungshot, billy, sandclub, sandbag, metal knuckles or sawed-off shotgun or who carried concealed upon his/her person a dirk, dagger or explosive substance is guilty of a felony.
8. Board Rule 1265. No person shall visit or audit a classroom or other school activity, nor shall any person remain on school premises, without the approval of the principal or his/her authorized representative.

B. Civil Accountability

9. Education Code Section 10606. Any *** minor who willfully cuts, defaces, or otherwise injures in any way any property, real or personal, belonging to a school district is liable to suspension or expulsion, and the parent or guardian shall be liable for all damages so caused by the *** minor. The parent or guardian of any such minor shall also be liable for the amount of any reward paid pursuant to Section 53069.5 of the Government Code. The parent or guardian of a *** minor shall be liable to a school district for all property belonging to the school district loaned to the *** minor and not returned upon demand of an employee of the district authorized to make the demand.
10. Civil Code Section 1714.3. Injury to person or property of another resulting from discharge of a firearm by a minor under 15 years of age shall be imputed to the parent for purposes of civil damages if the parent permitted the minor to have the firearm or left the firearm in a place accessible to the minor.
11. Education Code Section 28801. The parent or guardian or a minor who maliciously cuts, tears, defaces, breaks, or injures any library item shall be liable for all damages so caused by the minor.
12. Education Code Section 28802. The parent or guardian of a minor who willfully detains any property belonging to a school library after written notice to return the article or property shall be liable for all damages so caused by the minor.
13. Government Code Section 53069.5. Parent or guardian or a minor who willfully damages or destroys any property of the school district is liable for the amount of a reward, offered and paid by the school district, for information leading to the identity and apprehension of such minor. See Education Code Section 10606.
- .. Government Code Section 53069.6. The school district shall take all practical and reasonable steps, including appropriate legal action, to recover civil damages for the negligent, willful, or unlawful, damaging or taking of the property of the district.

Questioning the Molested Child

Where the abuse of a minor has taken the form of one of the offenses against morals mentioned on pages LR-7 and 8, the school administrator or other District employee should not assume the role of investigator or assume the sensitive task of questioning the child who appears to have been molested. Although there may be a temptation to interrogate, the particular circumstances generally warrant more immediate consideration of such elements as the child's need for medical assistance, emotional distress, desire for privacy, incoherence, or other factors. It should be noted that the following suggested procedures are substantially different than those recommended to parents in a Los Angeles County publication entitled "Laws For Youth" (p. 27):

1. It should be immediately determined by the District employee who receives any report of sexual advances or acts from a child whether medical assistance and/or complete privacy, including an opportunity to lie down is necessary. The child's physical welfare is the primary concern.
2. If the person who first receives such report is not a school administrator, the incident should be reported to the principal as soon as possible.
3. Only the most general form of questioning should be attempted (e.g., What happened to you? How did it happen?). No leading questions of any kind should be advanced which would or could suggest to the child what to say.
4. Call the police. Trained investigators will be dispatched to determine if a crime has been committed and to follow up as circumstances dictate.
5. Notify the parent(s) and advise that the police have been called.
6. Make available to both police and parent(s) the names of individuals who may be able to provide information.
7. Note that the foregoing procedures differ markedly from those outlined on page 1 of H.E.L.P.

Removal of Pupils from Schools by Law-Enforcement Officers

School administrators have at times been reluctant to release a pupil to law-enforcement officers until the parent or guardian of such pupil has been contacted. The Office of County Counsel has advised that Welfare and Institutions Code, Section 625, authorizes a peace officer to take a minor into temporary custody without a warrant. Education Code, Section 13013, authorizes the release of a pupil to a peace officer and requires immediate continued and reasonable efforts on the part of the school administrator to advise the parent or guardian of the pupil's removal from school by the peace officer and of the place to which the pupil has reportedly been taken.

Procedures

- A. Prior to releasing the pupil to a peace officer, every reasonable effort should be made by the school administrator to obtain the parent's consent. However, law enforcement officers may not be denied the custody of a pupil, when acting under legal authority.
- B. To protect the school district, the school administrator should maintain a record of the school's efforts to reach the parent. Such efforts may include requesting the Pupil Services and Attendance Counselor assigned to the school to make a home visit to notify the parent orally or by leaving a written notice that the pupil has been removed from the school by law-enforcement personnel and giving the place of the pupil's detention.
- C. In the event that a pupil has been removed from school by a law-enforcement officer and the school administrator or assignee has been unsuccessful in notifying a parent, guardian or responsible relative of the pupil by the close of the regular school day, it is suggested that the law-enforcement agency be contacted and informed that the school has been unable to notify the parent. Effort to contact the parents should be continued until the school administrator is assured they have been notified.

Restrictions Upon Political Activity of School District Officers and Employees

The California Government Code<sup>1</sup> states that the right of school district employees to engage in political activity is determined in accordance with the provisions of the California Education Code.

Board Members

The governing board of any school district may make known to the citizens of the district the educational programs and activities of the schools therein.<sup>2</sup>

"The governing board of any school district or any member of the governing board of a school district may prepare or disseminate information or may make public or private appearances or statements for the purpose of urging the passage or defeat of any school measure of the district. . . ."

"No school district funds, services, supplies, or equipment shall be used for the purpose of urging the passage or defeat of any school measure of the district, including, but not limited to, the candidacy of any person for election to the governing board of the district."<sup>3</sup>

No school district governing board shall enact or enforce any ordinance or promulgate or enforce any rule or regulation which limits participation of school employees in political activities during their off-duty hours, provided such political activities are not prohibited by the Education Code.<sup>4</sup>

No member of the governing board of a school district in which the merit system has been adopted may directly or indirectly solicit or be concerned in soliciting any assessment, contribution, or political service of any kind whatsoever for any political purpose from any person who is in the classified service or on an eligibility list.<sup>5</sup>

"During school hours, and within one hour before the time of opening and within one hour after the time of closing of school, pupils of the public school shall not be solicited on school premises by teachers or others to subscribe, contribute to, join, or work for any organization not directly under the control of school authorities . . ." except a charitable organization legally chartered as such soliciting for charitable, nonpartisan purposes after receiving permission from the governing board of the school district.<sup>9</sup>

No person who is in the classified service or who is on any eligibility list may be appointed, demoted, or removed, or in any way discriminated against, because of his/her political acts, opinions, or affiliations.<sup>10</sup>

Any other person who does the foregoing shall be ineligible to hold any office or employment under the State of California.<sup>12</sup>

Any employee of a school district who is knowingly a member of the Communist Party is subject to suspension and dismissal.<sup>13</sup>

No teacher giving instruction in any school in the public school system shall advocate or teach communism with the intent to indoctrinate or to inculcate in the mind of any pupil a preference for communism. This prohibition does not make unlawful the teaching of the facts about communism.<sup>14</sup>

The grounds for dismissal of permanent employee include:<sup>15</sup>

- (a) Immoral or unprofessional conduct.<sup>16</sup>
- (b) Commission, aiding or advocating acts of criminal syndicalism (Criminal syndicalism means any doctrine or precept advocating, teaching or aiding and abetting the commission of crime, sabotage or unlawful force, violence or terrorism as a means of accomplishing a change in industrial ownership or control or effecting any political change.)<sup>17</sup>

Use of School Facilities and Services

The Board of Education of the Los Angeles Unified School District permits, as it is statutorily authorized to do, the use of school buildings or grounds for day care programs or public, literary, scientific, recreational, educational or public agency meetings, or for the discussion of matters of general or public interest provided that any such permit must be consistent with the use of the buildings and grounds for school purposes and must not interfere with the regular conduct of school work.<sup>19</sup>

Officially recognized certificated employee organizations may be granted the privilege of the use of school mail service for the free distribution of material relating to the business of the district, upon approval by the Assistant Superintendent, Office of Staff Relations, after the organization has complied with the procedures detailed in Board Rule 3020.

A separate bulletin board with an area of at least nine square feet shall be made available for the use of the Certificated Employee Council and recognized employee organizations for appropriate material of the Certificated Employee Council and recognized employee organizations. One-fourth of the area of such bulletin boards shall be reserved for use by the Certificated Employee Council. All materials posted on this bulletin board shall be dated at the time of posting, signed by the employee posting it, and identified with the name of the organization responsible for its publication. In the event the immediate administrator deems any materials inappropriate, he/she shall contact the Assistant Superintendent, Staff Relations, for the determination.<sup>20</sup>

Based upon the foregoing applicable laws, the following guidelines for administrative action during district related bond elections and tax override elections are quoted verbatim from the Superintendent's memorandum of February 22, 1974, titled "General Legal Concepts Pertaining to Bond Elections and Tax Overrides":

19. California Education Code §§ 16551, 16552, 16554.5, 16556, 16557; Board Rules 1301, 1302; see Administrative Regulation 1302-1 and Office of Administrative Services Bulletin No. 2 for district regulations regarding use of equipment and permit application procedure respectively.
20. Board Rule 3022

"A school administrator should " be responsible for:

the compilation of all available facts pertaining to the needs of the Los Angeles City Schools as these facts relate to the school, to the total school district, and to the school bond;

the dissemination and interpretation of these facts to individual citizens and groups upon request; the acceptance of invitations by community groups for speakers to discuss the reasons for the proposed school bond measures at community meetings held during school hours. Any person having administrative responsibilities (vice principals, counselors, registrars, deans) may also accept such invitations.

the distribution of factual information requested by PTA groups, local chambers of commerce, and other groups, even though the administrator knows in advance that the organization has expended or may expend its own funds or use its own facilities in an active campaign for or against an issue;

the distribution of PTA newettes to be carried home to parents if the material is all factual and does not advocate a position.

avoid:

any compilation or interpretation of data which would tend to exaggerate or distort any fact relating to school bond measures; the dissemination of information which might be categorized as propaganda for or against a given issue;

the acceptance of any invitation to an employee of the school district to leave his teaching assignment for the purpose of speaking for or against the school bond measure.

the misrepresentation or the denial of any facts even though it is known in advance that the organization or individual requesting the facts has campaigned or will campaign for or against the school bond issue;

the distribution at any time of PTA newettes or other materials which are not factual and which are of the propaganda type."

NOTE: During their out-of-school hours, school administrators teachers, and other employees may prepare materials or work with groups in the community for or against any measure or candidate in any election. This regulation includes a district school bond election.

PTA MEETINGS

The Parent Teacher Association is expressly authorized under the Civic Center Act to hold meetings in public schools. Accordingly, this organization may consider any subject which is authorized by the Act. This authorization allows the PTA to discuss the pros and cons of school bond elections. In addition, the organization is not required to confine itself to matters directly involving a local school. The subject matters discussed are not necessarily subject to the control of the local school or of the Board of Education.

The PTA may use the school facilities without charge even though admissions are charged or contributions or dues are solicited, as long as the proceeds are used for the support of the PTA and its school activities. If supplemental custodial service is required, see Board Rule 1324.

Factual information relating to any ballot measure which concerns the welfare or activities of the schools may be disseminated by the school district in oral or written form in PTA meetings held on school premises.

It is essential that this information be shared with your entire staff so that we clearly understand our role in providing information to our schools and communities.

Subpoena of Person or Records in Criminal Cases

Background

The rules and procedures regarding subpoenas in civil actions stated on pages CI-23 and CI-24, are generally applicable to the subpoena of persons or records in criminal actions. Pertinent exceptions are noted in the information which follows. The writ (legal paper) by which the attendance of a witness in court is required is the subpoena. In a criminal case the subpoena may be signed and issued by the district attorney or the public defender or either's investigator or by a judge or magistrate or either's clerk.<sup>1</sup> In criminal prosecutions, the defendant has the right to have the process of the court to compel the attendance of witnesses on his/her behalf. This right is protected by both the United States and California Constitutions.<sup>2</sup>

A subpoena duces tecum is an order of the court which requires the person named therein or the appropriate custodian of the records requested to produce in court certain designated documents. When a subpoena duces tecum is duly issued and is served upon a custodian of records or other qualified witness, and his/her personal attendance is not required by the subpoena, the 150 mile or same county limit on power of a subpoena to compel attendance shall not apply.<sup>3</sup>

Service

In criminal cases any person may serve the subpoena. Service is made "by delivering a copy . . . to the witness personally."<sup>4</sup>

When Witnesses Must Attend

Compulsory attendance of a subpoenaed witness is ordinarily governed by the same rule as applied in civil cases, i.e., the witness must attend if he resides within the county or within 150 miles.<sup>3</sup> But in any case, on an affidavit of the prosecutor or the defendant stating a belief that the evidence is material and the attendance is necessary, the judge must endorse a court order mandating attendance of the witness. [fn. Id.] Disobedience to a subpoena is punishable as contempt of court. A witness who disobeys a subpoena issued on behalf of a defendant in a criminal case is liable to the defendant in the sum of one hundred dollars which may be recovered in a civil action, unless the witness can show good cause

1. California Penal Code, Section 1326
  2. California Constitution, Art. I, Sec. 13; U.S. Constitution Amends. VI and XIV cf. Washington v. Texas, 388 U.S. 14, 87 S.Ct. 1920; see also California Penal Code, Section 686 (?)
  3. California Penal Code, Section 1330
  4. California Penal Code, Section 1328

for his/her nonattendance.<sup>5</sup> The party at whose request the subpoena was issued and the subpoenaed witness may agree to allow the witness to appear at a time different from that specified in the subpoena. Failure to appear pursuant to the agreement may be punished as a contempt by the court issuing the subpoena.<sup>6</sup>

Fees

It should be noted that in criminal actions witness fees typically are not paid by the process server to the individual subpoenaed. Therefore it is not essential as it is in civil matters that, upon service of a subpoena, witness fees and mileage fees be immediately requested.

The Penal Code now provides:<sup>7</sup>

"(a) When a person attends before a magistrate, grand jury, or court, as a witness in a criminal case, whether upon a subpoena or in pursuance of an undertaking, or voluntarily, the court, at its discretion, if the attendance of the witness be upon a trial may by an order upon its minutes, or in any criminal proceeding, by a written order, direct the county auditor to draw his warrant upon the county treasurer in favor of such witness for witness' fees at the rate of twelve dollars ($12) for each day's actual attendance and for a reasonable sum to be specified in the order for the necessary expenses of such witness. The court, in its discretion, may make an allowance under this section, or under Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 68070), Title 8, of the Government Code, as it may deem appropriate. The allowances are county charges.

"(b) The court, in its discretion, may authorize payment to such a witness, if he is employed and if his salary is not paid by his employer during the time he is absent from his employment because of being such a witness, of a sum equal to his gross salary for such time, but such sum shall not exceed eighteen dollars ($18) per day. The sum is a county charge.

"A person compensated under the provisions of this subdivision may not receive the payment of witness' fees as provided for in subdivision (a)."

Section 1329(a), supra, allows the court to make an allowance for fees under the provisions of the Government Code. California Government Code, Sections 68093 (superior court), 68094 (grand jury),

California Penal Code, Section 1331

California Penal Code, Section 1331.5

California Penal Code, Section 1329 (as amended Stats. 1973-ch. 1083 §1)

and 68096 (justice court) all provide not only for a $12 per diem witness fee as does California Penal Code, Section 1329(a), supra, but also a fee of $.20 per mile for mileage traveled one way. A municipal court may determine the manner in which it will compensate witnesses.<sup>8</sup> However, in most cases it appears that California Penal Code, Section 1329, supra, is utilized for purposes of convenience and uniformity.

California Welfare and Institutions Code, Section 664 provides that a witness attending a juvenile court hearing in compliance with a subpoena issued by the court to compel testimony of the witness or production of papers may be awarded fees in the discretion of the court, pursuant to California Government Code, Section 68093. Section 68093 provides that the court may allow a properly subpoenaed witness compensation of $12 a day plus $.20 a mile for mileage traveled one way.

California Code of Civil Procedure

§ 1985. [Subpoena: Definition: Subpoena duces tecum, affidavit.]

The process by which the attendance of a witness is required is the subpoena. It is a writ or order directed to a person and requiring his attendance at a particular time and place to testify as a witness. It may also require him to bring with him any books, documents, or other things under his control which he is bound by law to produce in evidence. When a county recorder is using the microfilm system for recording, and he is subpoenaed to present a record, he shall be deemed to have complied with the subpoena if he produces a certified copy thereof. [1]

A copy of an affidavit shall be served with a subpoena duces tecum issued before trial, [2] showing good cause for the production of the matters and things described in such subpoena, specifying [3] the exact matters or things desired to be produced, setting [4] forth in full detail the materiality thereof to the issues involved in the case, and stating [5] that the witness has the desired matters or things in his possession or under his control.

The clerk, or if there be no clerk, the judge, shall issue a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum signed and sealed but otherwise in blank to a party requesting it, who shall fill it in before service. Nothing herein shall authorize the issuance of a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum in cases provided for by Sections 68097.1 to 68097.10, inclusive, of the Government Code unless the required payment or deposit has been made. [6] [Am. Stats. 1967, ch. 431, § 1; Stats. 1968, ch. 95, § 1.]

§ 1985.1. [Same: Agreement to appear at time other than that specified in subpoena: Contempt by failure to appear: Affidavit as to agreement.]

Any person who is subpoenaed to appear at a session of court, or at the trial of an issue therein, may, in lieu of appearance at the time specified in the subpoena, agree with the party at whose request the subpoena was issued to appear at another time or upon such notice as may be agreed upon. Any failure to appear pursuant to such agreement may be punished as a contempt by the court issuing the subpoena. The facts establishing or disproving such agreement and the failure to appear may be proved by an affidavit of any person having personal knowledge of the facts. [Added by Stats. 1969, ch. 140; § 1.]

§ 1987. [Same: Service.]

(a) [1] Except as provided in Sections 68097.1 to 68097.8, inclusive, of the Government Code, [2] the service of a subpoena is made by [3] delivering a copy, or a ticket containing its substance.

to the witness personally, giving or offering to him at the same time, if demanded by him, the fees to which he is entitled for travel to and from the place designated, and one day's attendance there. The service must be made so as to allow the witness a reasonable time for preparation and travel to the place of attendance. Such service may be made by any person.

(b) In the case of the production of a party to the record of any civil action or proceeding or of a person for whose immediate benefit an action or proceeding is prosecuted or defended or of anyone who is an officer, director, or managing agent of any such party or person, the service of a subpoena upon any such witness is not required if written notice requesting such witness to attend before a court, or at a trial of an issue therein, with the time and place thereof, is served upon the attorney of such party or person. Such notice shall be served at least 10 days before the time required for attendance unless the court prescribes a shorter time. If entitled thereto, such witness, upon demand, shall be paid witness fees and mileage before being required to testify. The giving of such notice shall have the same effect as service of a subpoena on the witness, and the parties shall have such rights and the court may make such orders, including the imposition of sanctions, as in the case of a subpoena for attendance before the court. Such notice cannot require the attendance of such witness at a place more than 150 miles from the residence of such witness. [1]

(c) If the notice specified in subdivision (b) is served at least 20 days before the time required for attendance, or within such shorter time as the court may order, it may include a request that such party or person bring with him books, documents or other things. The notice shall state the exact materials or things desired and that such party or person has them in his possession or under his control. Within five days thereafter, or such other period as the court may allow, the party or person of whom the request is made may serve and file written objections to the request or any part thereof, with a statement of grounds. Thereafter, upon noticed motion of the requesting party, accompanied by a showing of good cause and of materiality of the items to the issues, the court may order production of items to which objection was made, unless the objecting party or person establishes good cause for non-production or production under limitations or conditions. The procedure of this subdivision is alternative to the procedure provided by Sections 1987 and 1987.5 in the cases herein provided for, and no subpoena duces tecum shall be required.

Subject to the provisions of this subdivision, the notice herein provided shall have the same effect as is provided in subdivision (b) as to a notice for attendance of such party or person. [4] [Am. Stat. 1963, ch. 1487, § 3; Stats. 1968, ch. 933, § 1; Stats. 1969, ch. 311, § 1, ch. 1034, § 1.]

California Education Code

§ 921. Control of district by board of trustees or board of education

Every school district shall be under the control of a board of school trustees or a board of education.

§ 925. Adoption of rules by governing boards

The governing board of each school district shall prescribe and enforce rules not inconsistent with law or with the rules prescribed by the State Board of Education, for its own government.

§ 967. Executive sessions

Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 966 of this code and Section 54950 of the Government Code, the governing body of a school district may hold executive sessions to consider the expulsion, suspension, or disciplinary action in connection with any pupil of the school district, if a public hearing upon such question would lead to the giving out of information concerning school pupils which would be in violation of Section 10751 of the Education Code.

Before calling such executive session of the governing board of the district to consider these matters, the governing board of the district shall, in writing, by registered or certified mail or by personal service, if the pupil is a minor, notify the pupil and his parent or guardian, or the pupil if the pupil is an adult, of the intent of the governing board of the district to call and hold such executive session. Unless the pupil, or his parent, or guardian shall, in writing, within 48 hours after receipt of such written notice of intention, request that the hearing of the governing board be held as a public meeting, then the hearing to consider such matters may be conducted by the governing board in executive session. If such written request is served upon the clerk or secretary of the governing board, the meeting shall be public. Whether the matter is considered at an executive session or at a public meeting, the final action of the governing board of the school district shall be taken at a public meeting and the result of such action shall be a public record of the school district.

§ 1051. Maintenance of schools and classes

The governing board of any school district shall maintain schools and classes as provided by law.

§ 1052. Rules

The governing board of any school district shall prescribe rules not inconsistent with law or with the rules prescribed by the State Board of Education, for the government and discipline of the schools under its jurisdiction.

§1071. Certain powers relating to promotion of advancement of education

The governing board of any school district may:

(a) Conduct studies through research and investigation as are determined by it to be required in connection with the present and future management, conditions, needs, and financial support of the schools; or join with other school district governing boards in the conduct of such studies.

(e) Subscribe for membership in, or otherwise become a member of, any national, state or local organization of governing boards of school districts or members thereof which has for its primary purposes the promotion and advancement of public education through research and investigation and the co-operation with persons and associations whose interests and purposes are the betterment of the educational opportunities of the children of the State.

(f) Select a member or members of the board to attend meetings of any society, association, or organization for which the school district has subscribed for membership, or any convention to which it may pay the expenses of any employee.

§1073. [Authority of governing board to urge passage or defeat of "school measure; prohibition of use of district funds, services, supplies, or equipment; authorized appearance before citizens group]

The governing board of any school district or any member of the governing board of a school district may prepare or disseminate information or may make public or private appearances or statements for the purpose of urging the passage or defeat of any school measure of the district.

As used in the section, "school measure" includes any proposition for the issuance of bonds of the school district, an increase in the maximum tax rate of the school district, the acceptance, expenditure, and repayment of state funds by the school district to enable the school district to construct buildings and other facilities, or the candidacy of any person for election to the governing board of the school district.

No school district funds, services, supplies, or equipment shall be used for the purpose of urging the passage or defeat of any school measure of the district, including, but not limited to, the candidacy of any person for election to the governing board of the district.

Nothing in this code shall be construed as prohibiting any administrative officer of a school district from appearing at any time before a citizens group, which requests his appearance, to discuss the reasons why the governing board of the school district called an election to submit to the voters of the district a proposition for the issuance of bonds or for an increase in the maximum tax rate of the district and to answer questions put to him by any taxpayer concerning the cost of such proposals.

§ 1171. Corrupt practices as a misdemeanor

The offering of any valuable thing to any member of the governing board of any school district, with the intent to influence his action in regard to the granting of any teacher's certificate, the appointment of any teacher, superintendent, or other officer or employee, the adoption of any textbook, or the making of any contract to which the board of which he is a member is a party, or the acceptance by any member of the governing board of any valuable thing, with corrupt intent, is a misdemeanor.

§ 9011. Prohibited study or supplemental materials

Except as to textbooks approved by the state board or a county board of education, no bulletin, circular, or publication may be used as the basis of study or recitation or to supplement the regular school studies if the material contained in the bulletin, circular, or publication has been disapproved by the governing board of the school district in which the school is situated.

§9015. The Legislature finds that the use by any person, including a pupil, of any electronic listening or recording device in any classroom of the elementary and secondary schools without the prior consent of the teacher and the principal of the school given to promote an educational purpose disrupts and impairs the teaching process and discipline in the elementary and secondary schools, and such use is prohibited. Any person, other than a pupil, who willfully violates this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Any pupil violating this section shall be subject to appropriate disciplinary action.

This section shall not be construed as affecting the powers, rights, and liabilities arising from the use of electronic listening or recording devices as provided for by any other provision of law.

§ 9021. Prohibited solicitations on school premises

During school hours, and within one hour before the time of opening and within one hour after the time of closing of school, pupils of the public school shall not be solicited on school premises by teachers or others to subscribe or contribute to the funds of, or become members of, or to work for, any organization not directly under the control of the school authorities, unless the organization is a non-partisan, charitable organization organized for charitable purposes by an act of Congress or under the laws of the state, the purpose of the solicitation is nonpartisan and charitable, and the solicitation has been approved by the county board of education or by the governing board of the school district in which the school is located.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting the solicitation of pupils of the public school on school premises by pupils of that school for any otherwise lawful purpose.

§9031. Prohibition and definition. No teacher giving instruction in any school, or on any property belonging to any agencies included in the public school system, shall advocate or teach communism with the intent to indoctrinate or to inculcate in the mind of any pupil a preference for communism.

In prohibiting the advocacy or teaching of communism with the intent of indoctrinating or inculcating a preference in the mind of any pupil for such doctrine, the Legislature does not intend to prevent the teaching of the facts about communism. Rather, the Legislature intends to prevent the advocacy of, or inculcation and indoctrination into, communism as is hereinafter defined, for the purpose of undermining patriotism for, and the belief in, the government of the United States and of this state.

For the purposes of this section, communism is a political theory that the presently existing form of government of the United States or of this state should be changed, by force, violence, or other unconstitutional means, to a totalitarian dictatorship which is based on the principles of communism as expounded by Marx, Lenin, and Stalin.

§ 10552. Habits and disease

The governing body of any school district may exclude children of filthy or vicious habits, or children suffering from contagious or infectious diseases.

§ 10553. Disability inimical to welfare of other pupils

The governing board of the school may exclude from attendance on regular school classes any child whose physical or mental disability is such as to cause his attendance to be inimical to the welfare of other pupils.

§ 10601. Suspension by teacher

A teacher may suspend, for good cause, any pupil from his or her class for the day of the suspension and the day following. The teacher shall immediately report the suspension to the principal of the school and send the pupil to the principal for appropriate action. As soon as possible, the teacher shall ask the parent or guardian of the pupil to attend a parent-teacher conference regarding the suspension. A school administrator shall attend the conference if the teacher or the parent or guardian so requests. The pupil shall not be returned to the class from which he was suspended, during the period of the suspension, without the concurrence of the teacher of the class and the principal.

Each governing board of a school district and each county superintendent of schools shall adopt rules and regulations relating to the exercise of free expression by students upon the premises of each school within their respective jurisdictions, which shall include reasonable provisions for the time, place, and manner of conducting such activities.

prior to graduation to any official of a private business or professional school or college approved, authorized, or certified pursuant to the provisions of Division 21 (commencing with Section 29001). No private business or professional school or college, as provided for in this section, shall use such information for other than purposes directly related to their own solicitation activities. Any violation of this provision is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not to exceed two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), and, in addition the privilege of the school or college to receive the lists shall be suspended for a period of two years from the time of discovery of the misuse of such lists.

§10754. Copy of record submitted in lieu of appearance in response to subpoena. The service of a subpoena upon a public school employee solely for the purpose of causing him to produce a school record pertaining to any pupil may be complied with by such employee, in lieu of a personal appearance as a witness in the proceeding, by submitting to the court or other agency issuing the subpoena, at the time and place required by the subpoena, a copy of such record, accompanied by an affidavit certifying that such copy is a true copy of the original record on file in the school or school office. The copy of the record shall be in the form of a photostat, microfilm, microcard, or miniature photograph or other photographic copy or reproduction, or an enlargement thereof.

§ 10757. Inspection of pupil records

A parent or legal guardian shall be permitted to inspect the written records concerning his child or ward in any reasonable manner in consultation with a certificated employee of the district when he requests to do so during regular hours of the schoolday. § 10758. Written information on academic performance

The governing board of any school district shall give to each pupil's natural parent or legal guardian, upon written request, the same written information concerning academic performance that is given to the parent or guardian having custody of the pupil. For the purpose of obtaining written information concerning academic performance without inspection of the written records by the parent or guardian, the provisions of this section shall control over Section 10757.

§ 10759. Pupil's progress

The governing board of each school district shall prescribe regulations requiring the evaluation of each pupil's achievement for each marking period and requiring a conference with, or a written report to, the parent or guardian of each pupil whenever it becomes evident to the teacher that the pupil is in danger of failing a course. The refusal of the parent or guardian to attend the conference, or to respond to the written report, shall not preclude failing the pupil at the end of the grading period.

§ 10760. Written request for removal of information

(a) The parent or guardian of a pupil may file a written request with the superintendent of the district to remove any information recorded in the written records concerning his child or ward which he alleges to be: (1) inaccurate; (2) an unsubstantiated personal conclusion or inference; (3) a conclusion or inference outside of the observer's area of competence; or (4) not based on the personal observation of a named person with the time and place of the observation noted.

(b) Within 30 days of receipt of such request, the superintendent shall meet with the parent or guardian and the certificated employee who recorded the information in question, if any, and if such employee is presently employed by the school district. The superintendent shall then sustain or deny the allegations.

If the superintendent denies the allegations and refuses to order the removal of the information, the parent or guardian may, within 30 days of the refusal, appeal the decision in writing to the governing board of the school district.

(c) Within 30 days of receipt of such an appeal, the governing board shall, in closed session with the parent or guardian and the certificated employee who recorded the information in question, if any, and if such employee is presently employed by the school district, determine whether or not to sustain or deny the allegations.

If the governing board sustains the allegations, it shall order the superintendent to immediately remove the information from the written records of the pupil.

The decision of the governing board shall be final.

Records of these administrative proceedings shall be maintained in a confidential manner and shall be destroyed one year after the decision of the governing board, unless the parent or guardian initiates legal proceedings relative to the disputed information within the prescribed period.

(d) If the final decision of the governing board is unfavorable to the parent or guardian, or if the parent or guardian accepts an unfavorable decision by the district superintendent, the parent or guardian shall then have the right to submit a written statement of his objections to the information. This statement shall become a part of the pupil's school record until such time as the information objected to is removed.

§ 10761. Hearing on request to remove information

The hearing panel shall be provided with verbatim copies of the information which is the subject of the controversy.

A written finding shall be made setting forth the facts and decisions of the panel, and such findings shall be forwarded to the superintendent or the governing board, depending upon who convened the panel.

The proceedings of the hearing shall not be disclosed or discussed by panel members except in their official capacities.

4. Where she is at the time unconscious of the nature of the act, and this is known to the accused;
5. Where she submits under the belief that the person committing the act is her husband, and this belief is induced by any artifice, pretense, or concealment practiced by the accused, with intent to induce such belief.

§261.5. [Unlawful sexual intercourse] Unlawful sexual intercourse is an act of sexual intercourse accomplished with a female not the wife of the perpetrator, where the female is under the age of 18 years.

§263. [Essentials of crime]: Penetration sufficient. The essential guilt of rape consists in the outrage to the person and feelings of the female. Any sexual penetration, however slight, is sufficient to complete the crime.

§264. [Punishment for rape: Recommendation by jury: Discretion of court]

Rape, as defined in Section 261, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than three years. Unlawful sexual intercourse, as defined in Section 261.5, is punishable either by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or in the state prison for not more than 50 years, and in such case the jury shall recommend by their verdict whether the punishment shall be by imprisonment in the county jail or in the state prison; provided, that when the defendant pleads guilty to an offense under Section 261.5 the punishment shall be in the discretion of the trial court, either by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or in the state prison for not more than 50 years.

The preceding provisions of this section notwithstanding, in any case in which the defendant committed rape as defined in Section 261, and in the course of commission of the rape, with the intent to inflict such injury, inflicted great bodily injury on the victim of the rape, such fact shall be charged in the indictment or information and if found to be true by the jury, upon a jury trial, or if found to be true by the court, upon a court trial, or if admitted by the defendant, defendant shall suffer confinement in the state prison from 15 years to life.

If a court of competent jurisdiction has made a final adjudication in either a civil or a criminal action that a person is the parent of a minor child and the person has notice of such adjudication and he or she then willfully omits, without lawful excuse, to furnish necessary clothing, food, shelter, medical attendance or other remedial care for his or her child, this conduct is punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year or in a state prison not exceeding one year and one day, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by both such fine and imprisonment. This statute shall not be construed so as to relieve such parent from the criminal liability defined herein for such omission merely because the other parent of such child is legally entitled to the custody of such child nor because the other parent of such child or any other person or organization voluntarily or involuntarily furnishes such necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for such child or undertakes to do so.

Proof of abandonment or desertion of a child by such parent, or the omission by such parent to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care for his or her child is prima facie evidence that such abandonment or desertion or omission to furnish necessary food, clothing, shelter or medical attendance or other remedial care is willful and without lawful excuse.

The court, in determining the ability of the parent to support his or her child, shall consider all income, including social insurance benefits and gifts.

The provisions of this section are applicable whether the parents of such child are or ever were married or divorced, and regardless of any decree made in any divorce action relative to alimony or to the support of the child. A child conceived but not yet born is to be deemed an existing person insofar as this section is concerned.

(4) The attorney of record for the defendant.

§ 1328. Subpoena, by whom and how served

A subpoena may be served by any person, but a peace officer must serve in his county any subpoena delivered to him for service, either on the part of the people or of the defendant, and must, without delay, make a written return of the service, subscribed by him, stating the time and place of service. The service is made by delivering a copy of the subpoena to the witness personally.

Whenever any peace officer designated in Section 830 is required as a witness before any court or magistrate in any action or proceeding in connection with a matter regarding an event or transaction which he has perceived or investigated in the course of his duties, a subpoena requiring his attendance may be served either by delivering a copy to such peace officer personally or by delivering two copies to his immediate superior or agent designated by his immediate superior to receive such service. If service is made upon the immediate superior or agent designated by the immediate superior, the immediate superior or such agent shall deliver a copy of the subpoena to the peace officer as soon as possible and in no event later than such time as will enable the peace officer to comply with the subpoena.

If the immediate superior or his designated agent upon whom service is attempted to be made knows he will be unable to deliver a copy of the subpoena to the peace officer within such time as will allow the peace officer to comply with the subpoena, such immediate superior or agent may refuse to accept service of process and is excused from any duty, liability, or penalty arising in connection with such service, upon notifying the server of such fact.

If an immediate superior or his agent is tendered service of a subpoena less than five working days prior to the date of hearing, and he is not reasonably certain he can complete the service, he may refuse acceptance.

If an immediate superior or agent upon whom service has been made, subsequently determines that he will be unable to deliver a copy of the subpoena to the peace officer within such time as will allow the peace officer to comply with the subpoena, the immediate superior or agent shall notify the server or his office or agent not less than 48 hours prior to the hearing date indicated on the subpoena, and is thereby excused from any duty, liability, or penalty arising because of his failure to deliver a copy of the subpoena to the peace officer. The server, so notified, is therewith responsible for preparing the written return of service and for notifying the originator of the subpoena if required.
