ABSTRACT

Presented are duplications of the responses given by the Berkeley Outreach Recreation Program (California) as part of a project to collect, share, and compile information about, and techniques in the operation of 18 community action models for recreation services to the disabled. Model programs are categorized as consumer, client competency, recreation and leisure services, parks and recreation, rehabilitation, and voluntary health agency models. Reported are program services in the following areas: the population served (all physically handicapped persons in the Bay area); primary activities (swimming and gymnastics, cooking, dance, trips and overnights, and wheelchair track and field); primary facilities used (high school pool, university gymnasium and various recreation center and library meeting rooms); staffing (two program coordinators, a lifeguard, two drivers, a swim specialist, an attendant supervisor, a bookkeeper, and two athletic trainers); total budget ($25,550) and primary sources of support (grants from the City of Berkeley); and values and goals achieved through the program (providing the physically disabled with opportunities to become involved in innovative and active recreational programs and overcoming basic barriers in public transportation, attendance care, and activities). A copy of the completed survey form is also provided. (SBH)

Documents acquired by ERIC include many informal unpublished materials not available from other sources. ERIC makes every effort to obtain the best copy available. Nevertheless, items of marginal reproducibility are often encountered and this affects the quality of the microfiche and hardcopy reproductions ERIC makes available via the ERIC Document Reproduction Service (EDRS). EDRS is not responsible for the quality of the original document. Reproductions supplied by EDRS are the best that can be made from

Dear Colleague:

The project, "National Institute on Models for Community Based Recreation for Handicapped Children and Youth," is entering its second year. During the first year, a survey and identification of existing programs was undertaken, as well as the convening of the National Institute at the University of Iowa.

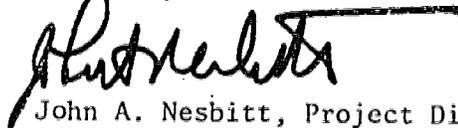

The National Institute, held July 7-9, endeavored to collect, share, and compile information about, and techniques in, the operation of the most feasible and effective methods of community action models for recreation service to the disabled.

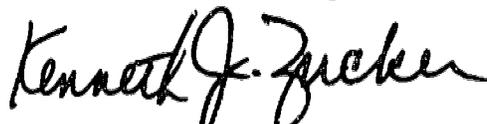

As an outgrowth of these efforts, training materials are being developed and plans are being made for the replication of the National Institute in all regions of the United States.

A number of successful models were identified and have transmitted data to the project staff with permission for us to distribute the information.

Enclosed are duplications of the responses from eighteen of the identified models. Additional training materials will be distributed based upon completion of response forms.

Sincerely,

John A. Nesbitt, Project Director

I. Program Overview

The respondent reports their service in the following areas:

- Who served, how many people served and the geographic or political area served
- Primary activities provided
- Primary facilities used
- Staffing (number and titles)
- Total budget and primary sources of support
- Values and goals achieved through your program

Who served, how many and geographic area: The programs offered by the Berkeley Outreach Recreation Program is open to all physically disabled persons in the Bay area. The main geographical areas that are served are Berkeley, El Cerritto and Oakland. (The last two being the locations of the two orthopedically handicapped schools.) Approximately 200 persons a week are served among the two projects.

Primary activities provided: The Community Based Program offers swimming, twice a week, gymnastics weekly and other programs in four to six week sessions (cooking, self-defense, archery, yoga, dance, etc.). Trips and overnights are taken monthly. Wheelchair track and field is the major emphasis on the program based at the two schools for the orthopedically handicapped. Attendant care is provided for all participants and transportation is provided for those living in Berkeley.

Primary facilities used: The Berkeley Outreach Recreation Program uses available community facilities which include the high school pool, the university gymnasium and various recreation center and library meeting rooms.

Staffing (number and titles): On staff there is one full time program coordinator and one part time program coordinator. All other positions are part time, Swim Specialist (1); Attendant Supervisor (1); Lifeguard (1); Drivers (2); Bookkeeper (1); Athletic Trainers (2).

Total budget and primary sources of support: Our total budget is $28,550. This is a result of two grants from the City of Berkeley. $17,000 is from the General Fund for the Community Based Project. $8,550 is for the School Based Program and is from the Community Action Agency.

Values and goals achieved through the program: The general goals of BORP is to provide the opportunity to physically disabled persons to become involved in innovative and active recreational programs. We are working to overcome basic barriers which prevent the disabled from enjoying recreational activities. These include a lack of accessible public transportation, accessible activities, attendant care and extra assistance during programs.

II. Number of Handicapped Served

General Category: The model respondent indicated the scope of disabilities served and their numbers, when available.

Statements	Agree	←————→			Disagree
	5	4	3	2	1
1. Recreation programs for the handicapped should be considered basic to a total recreation program.	(5)	4	3	2	1
2. Evaluation procedures of a recreation program should include input in the process handicapped representations.	(5)	4	3	2	1
3. Recreation programs for the handicapped require professionally trained staff personnel.	5	4	3	(2)	1
4. Our recreation agency recognizes a need for a statewide Therapeutic Recreation Specialist for consultation with community recreation agencies.	5	4	(3)	2	1
5. The handicapped citizenry of a community have the right to consistent availability of recreation and leisure services.	(5)	4	3	2	1
6. Recreation programs for the handicapped are more costly than "normal" recreation program activities.	(5)	4	3	2	1
7. Insurance is a "barrier" to the initiation of recreation programming for the handicapped.	(5)	4	3	2	1
8. It is important that recreation and park professionals take action to remove architectural barriers from their present facilities and require future facilities to be barrier-free.	(5)	4	3	2	1
9. There exist some direct values to having consumer input thru handicapped people in recreation planning and design.	(5)	4	3	2	1
10. At this time, there are no specific federally funded programs for the provision of actual recreation services to the handicapped.	No answer submitted
	5	4	3	2	1

11. In many instances, existing municipal recreation and park personnel can adequately conduct and supervise recreation programs for the handicapped.	5	(4)	3	2	1
12. Recreation programs for the handicapped are best provided in a segregated manner--that is separate activities and facilities for the handicapped.	5	4	3	2	(1)
13. Recreation has the potential to promote positive change--that is it has the potential to be "therapeutic."	(5)	4	3	2	1
14. At the present time, local, state and federal funding assistance is sufficient to meet handicapped programming needs.	5	4	3	2	(1)
15. When designing recreation programs for the handicapped, integrated programs are best--those that combine handicapped and non-handicapped participation.	5	(4)	3	2	1
16. The involvement of municipal recreation agencies to research activity is important.	5	4	3	(2)	1
17. The present city government recognizes fully the importance of recreation and leisure fulfillment for its citizens and the community at large.	5	4	3	2	(1)
18. Recreation programs for the handicapped should be considered supplemental to the total recreation program.	5	4	3	2	(1)
19. Activity programs for the handicapped often require expenditure outlays for special recreational equipment.	5	(4)	3	2	1
20. Overcoming mis-perceptions and attitude barriers is often needed when initiating a recreation program for the handicapped.	(5)	4	3	2	1

Efforts and success in eliminating any of the above problems or other special problems.

There is only one indoor pool that is wheelchair accessible. This severely limits certain flexibility in our program. When the water and air temperature was too low for the participants, we were left no other possibilities as far as a pool was concerned. Facilities for other programs tend not to be as specialized as a pool and we have not had any problems.

The public transportation in Berkeley is not wheelchair accessible (with the exception of the Bay Area Rapid Transit which has limited service and does not operate at night). The Center for Independent Living is a services and advocacy center for the disabled. They run an accessible transportation service. Some participants use CIL's night time service (dial-a-ride). We also contract with them for the use of the unused vans in the evenings to transport persons to our program. With the support of CIL we are able to alleviate the problem of accessible transportation.

However, we feel that we have only partially solved this problem. Limited accessible public transportation to BOPR programs is the major reason participants are unable to become involved with the programs we offer.

There are people in Oakland and those who are outside of the CIL target area that cannot get to our programs. All of our activities are free and transportation and attendant care is offered. There are seven persons on staff, with only one of these being full time. With the exception of the swim program all classes are taught by volunteers and we utilize a core of about 30 volunteers to provide assistance and attendant care at all of our programs. In regard to financial support we are operating on a very small budget. The persons who have been the hardest disabled to locate have been those shut-in their homes. They often are not in contact with the same resources that BOPR is.

There are basically no community attitudinal barriers. However, it must be made clear that this program was initiated by members of Berkeley's disabled community - whereas the city itself did not take direct responsibility.

XVI. Assessment/Evaluation/Accountability

These procedures are used for assessment, evaluation, and accountability in the program and service by and of participants, of personnel, of programs, of activities and/or of methods.

1. We can assess a program's success often times by the number of persons participating in the activity.
2. An evaluation form is used for each program and the program's success is assessed by the participants, the instructor and the program coordinators.
3. Monthly project status reports are used by the City of Berkeley (our funding source) to assess the program's success. The division of Program Development and Contract Administration submits an annual evaluation of services to the city manager as part of the re-funding process.
