I. INTRODUCTION

On July 18, 1990, the Committee on Labor and Human Resources ordered favorably reported S. 2863 with an amendment in the nature of a substitute to the full Senate. S. 2863 was originally introduced on July 17, 1990 by Senators Kennedy, Hatch, Bingaman, Simon Pell, Durenberger, Metzenbaum, Jeffords, Mikulski, Dodd and Adams.

The legislation may be cited as the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Health Care, Education, Training and Community Services Amendments of 1990. S. 2863 reauthorizes the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act programs within the jurisdiction of the Committee on Labor and Human Resources.

II. SECTION BY SECTION ANALYSIS AND COMMITTEE VIEWSSECTION 1: TITLE

This Act may be cited as the "Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Health Care, Education, Training and Community Services Amendments of 1990."

SECTION 2: DEFINITION OF HOMELESS

Section 103(b) is amended to clarify that a homeless person is automatically eligible for service in the Job Training Partnership Act and does not need to meet income eligibility tests. While the McKinney Act originally amended JTPA to make the homeless automatically eligible for this program, the Act also included language that stated the homeless had to meet the income-based eligibility criteria of specific programs referred to by the McKinney Act. This ambiguity in the law has raised eligibility questions in some states, which the Committee intends to correct with these amendments.

SECTION 3: REAUTHORIZATION OF CERTAIN HEALTH PROGRAMS WITHIN THE PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE ACT

Section 3(a) Primary Health Services for the Homeless

The program is amended by repealing subparagraph 340(e)(1)(B)(ii) of the Public Health Service Act (PHSA), a provision relating to non-federal matching funds made available before February 26, 1987. This provision is no longer necessary since the funds to which it refers—provided by The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation—were phased out in 1989.

Section 340(g) of the PHSA is amended to allow violence counseling in those programs which provide mental health services. Increasingly the effects of violence on homeless individuals—especially children—has been thought to cause tremendous damage. Homeless individuals, because they only sporadically have access to decent shelter, are at relatively higher risk both of observing violence and of falling victim to violence. The Committee believes that violence counseling would help to address this serious problem.

The program is reauthorized through 1993. The 1991 level of $66.2 million has been increased to $69 million to accommodate a portion of the amount forwarded funded by the appropriations Committees for fiscal year 1991, which was intended to be spent in the first quarter of fiscal year 1991. Additionally, $90 million is authorized for fiscal year 1992 and $95 million for fiscal year 1993. The additional funds are required to accommodate the need for more Health Care for the Homeless programs to provide care and treatment to the increasing number of homeless individuals and to provide additional drug and alcohol abuse treatment.

Section 3(b) Alcohol and Drug Abuse Demonstration Projects

Authorizations for this program are maintained at $17 million in 1991, and such sums through 1993

Section 3(c) Community Mental Health Demonstrations

Authorization for 1991 are maintained at $11.5 million in 1991, and such sums through 1993.

SECTION 4. REAUTHORIZATION OF CERTAIN PROGRAMS WITHIN THE
STEWART B. MCKINNEY HOMELESS ASSISTANCE ACT

Section 4(a) Job Training for the Homeless

The amendments modify section 733(a)(3) so that outreach may be conducted on the street in addition to in shelters. The Committee is concerned that certain homeless individuals do not utilize shelter services and, therefore, questions whether such individuals are being assisted by the important programs under this act unless on-street outreach is conducted.

The amendments also recommend that the Secretary of Labor, where appropriate, target funds to urban and rural areas of greatest need as indicated by a large concentration of homeless individuals, high rates of poverty, or lack of available affordable housing within the project area. Last year, the Department of Labor funded only 25 projects out of a total of 293 applicants. Therefore it is appropriate that due consideration be given by the Secretary to ways to maximize the services provided from limited funds. It is expected that the Secretary will evaluate applications with this in mind, while carefully considering the merits of each proposal. The Committee urges the Secretary to ensure that grants are awarded to diverse geographical areas of the nation.

The Committee believes that job training will continue to be a critical component of any overall strategy for providing assistance to homeless individuals so that they may become employable and once again return to a stable home and work environment.

The amendments also strengthen the provisions in current law on coordination with other training related organizations. In a recent report, "Helping the Homeless be Choosers: The Role of JTPA in Improving Job Prospects," the National Commission for Employment Policy stresses the importance of coordination of programs and services. In a series of case studies for this report, the most successful programs were those that integrated job training programs with other training related services, provided incentives to attaining and keeping a job, and used intensive individual case management. The Committee recommends that the Secretary of Labor to give special consideration to programs that include formal reciprocal referral agreements with other programs such as substance abuse counseling, local shelters, and subsidized housing.

The termination of this program (Section 741), currently required to occur in October 1990, is repealed.

The amendments increase the authorization for this program to $15 million in 1991, $16.5 million in 1992, and $18 million in 1993. Of these amounts the following will be available for Section 738—the Veterans Reintegration Projects: $3 million in 1991, $3.5 million in 1992 and $4.5 million in 1993.

The Committee believes that the increased percentages for services to veterans are warranted by evidence that veterans, comprising a significant portion of the homeless population, face considerable obstacles in seeking employment and receiving treatment for drug and alcohol abuse. Funding under this program provides comprehensive therapeutic programs, providing assistance with housing, employment, medical and mental health needs, legal problems and a full range of social services. As before, if the full amount is not authorized for this section, the amounts available for Section 738 shall be ratably reduced.

Section 4(b) Amendments to the Emergency Community Services Homeless Grant Program

The amendments modify Section 753(b) to allow the use of 5% of funds for administrative purposes at the state level. Grant recipients continue to be allowed to utilize 10% of their total grant for administrative purposes. The Committee believes that this change is necessary to assist the states in administering the important programs under this part.

The amendments also modify Section 753(c) to allow funds under this program to be used for the purchase and renovation of buildings required to deliver services. The Committee recognizes that these types of facilities are crucial in the delivery of services and may not be available in all areas.

Because the Committee is increasingly concerned about the effects of community and domestic violence on homeless children and adults, the amendments also specify in Section 753(c) that the provision of, or referral to, violence counseling is an allowable activity under this program.

The amendments authorize $50 million in funding for this program for each of fiscal years 1991 through 1993.

SECTION 5: AMENDMENTS TO STEWART B. MCKINNEY HOMELESS ASSISTANCE ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION

Section 5(a) Statewide Literacy Initiatives

Literacy Program grants for homeless adults are made available to state and local educational agencies and to partnerships of LEAs and SEAs with public or private nonprofit agencies, private businesses or other appropriate agencies with demonstrated effectiveness in carrying out literacy programs. Priority for awards would go to partnerships. In 1989, the Committee changed the Adult Education for the Homeless Program from a state formula grant program to a state competitive grant program. The Committee remains supportive of this change, but believes that the pool of applicants should be expanded.

Special consideration would go to applicants that will serve areas of greatest need (including rural and urban areas), to areas with proportionally higher numbers of homeless individuals, high poverty areas, or to areas with high numbers of individuals who have not received a secondary education or its equivalent. The Committee believes that given the limited funds available under this part, attention must be provided to targeting areas with the greatest need of services.

The authorization for Literacy programs is increased from $10 M to $15 M. This increase is justified based on the demand for funds, particularly since only 30 of the 50 state applications were funded.

Section 5(b) Congressional Policy

Congressional policy currently says that states should revise residency requirements in law to ensure homeless individuals access to education. The Amendment broadens the policy contained in Section 721(2) of the Act to say that states should revise any laws, regulations, or practices that may act as barriers to the enrollment of homeless children and youth in school. The Committee intends that this policy and the amendments made by this Act that are relevant to children, shall apply with respect to all children in every educational setting, including runaway and "throw away" youth.

Section 5(c) Grants for State and Local Activities

Authorized activities

The amendments to section 722 provide that training programs for teachers and administrators are developed and implemented and that funds received by states may be used for grants to local educational agencies.

Functions of State coordinators

The amendments eliminate the requirement that state coordinators collect data on the number of homeless children and youth and give this responsibility to the Education Department. This is in response to concerns by both the state coordinators and the Education Department that methods used to obtain counts by states differed among states and were unreliable and inconsistent, and that too much time was devoted to counting children rather than serving them.

Moreover, the requirement that state coordinators report to the Secretary on problems of access to services for homeless children is changed from annual to biennial and the state coordinator is required to facilitate coordination between agencies providing services to the homeless.

State plan

Amendments to the current provisions (Section 722(e)) relating to the state plan include: education of school personnel, parents, shelter operators and others about the rights of homeless children; and ensuring that those who meet eligibility criteria are able to participate in school food programs and other appropriate nutrition programs.

The Committee stresses that the amendments made by this part are intended to clarify the following: (1) that children should be able to remain in the same school in which they were enrolled, or transfer to the new school district, and (2) that "school of origin" may mean either the school in which the child or the youth was enrolled when last living in permanent housing, or the last school in which the child or youth was enrolled.

These amendments are intended to curb the unfortunate practice of children and youth transferred to several schools within a single school year, as the family moves to different temporary housing situations. For example, assume a child attended school A when last in permanent housing, and transferred to school B when the family moved to a temporary shelter. If the family moves again to another temporary housing situation near school C, the child or youth should have the option of transferring to new school C or of remaining in school B where currently enrolled, or of returning to school A, if, for example, the family contemplates obtaining permanent housing again in that location. In addition, this choice is extended to children whose families become homeless during the summer months. This is meant to allow children to remain in the school in which they were enrolled rather than transferring to the school near a shelter, when, for example, the parent is seeking permanent housing in the same neighborhood in which they were living, and contemplates returning to that area during the school year. It is hoped, that to the maximum extent feasible, the parent's request will be considered by the local educational agency in making a school assignment.

Further, the amendments to Section 722(e) clarify that an LEA is required to provide transportation for homeless children and youth to no lesser an extent than transportation is provided for non-homeless children and youth. LEAs are also required to coordinate with other agencies providing services to homeless, and to designate a liaison to ensure that children enroll and succeed in school and that children and families receive other services for which they are eligible.

Authorization for all activities under this part (federal, state, and local) is placed at $50 M for 1991, and such sums for 1992 and 1993. States may reserve the greater of 5% of the state allocation, or the appropriation they received in 1990, to continue activities of the State coordinator.

Section 5(d) Local Educational Agency Grants

A new grant program (a new Section 723) is established in place of the current exemplary grant program to help LEAs overcome identified barriers to the enrollment and success of homeless children and youth. The Committee absolutely does not intend that funds provided under this section be used to establish a separate educational system for homeless children and youth. Rather, it is intended: that these services be supplementary to the educational programs provided such individuals in school, and not replace them; that these services enhance the opportunities for homeless children and youth to enroll in and be successful in school; that to the maximum extent feasible, unless otherwise specified, these services be provided in an environment which includes housed children and youth rather than one which includes homeless children and youth only. The Committee recognizes that some services may be most efficiently provided at the shelter or temporary housing facility, and that these are likely to include only homeless children and youth.

Funds are provided to states by Chapter 1 formula under the state grant program above. Within states, SEAs award grants to LEAs that apply on the basis of need until appropriations reach $100 M at which time LEAs receive funds by Chapter 1 formula.

Section 723(c)(3) states that the uses of funds may include: expedited evaluation for special programs; before- and afterschool and summer educational programs; adaptation of space at nonschool facilities for educational activities during nonschool hours; preschool programs; counseling, social work and psychological services, including violence counseling, and referral to such services; referral to health services; school supplies; parent education; sensitization of school personnel to needs of homeless children; transportation; records transfer; coordination with other agencies serving homeless; and other emergency assistance.

In this section, the term "violence counseling" means counseling to counteract the potential emotional or psychological damage done to a child or youth who observes or is victim of violence. The Committee is concerned that homeless children may be disproportionately exposed to violent behavior and strongly urges that the Secretary and LEA's give special attention to this troubling problem.

Also in this section, the Committee includes the terms "school supplies" and "other extraordinary or emergency assistance determined by the Secretary as essential to enable homeless children and youth to attend school". While schools do not normally distribute clothes for children to wear to school, it may be determined that because of the unique situation of homeless children clothes should be included under such "supplies" or "emergency assistance". It is also contemplated that where exceptional circumstances such as safety concerns related to domestic violence exist, for example, involving a parent who is not living at home, or other issues are present, funds may be used for the provision of homebound services when it is not in the child's best interest to attend school.

Section 5(c) National Responsibilities

The amendments to Section 722(g) require that funds are distributed by formula to SEAs (and to LEAs when appropriations exceed $100 million) by the Chapter 1 formula. It is recognized that Chapter 1 eligibility does not necessarily provide an accurate proxy for areas where there are homeless children and youth. However, Congress tried, in the first authorization of McKinney to obtain counts from states of where homeless children and youth are located, with the intention that such counts might be used to allocate funds. This effort has not been successful, with both the Education department and the State education agencies declaring that accurate counts cannot be obtained in this fashion. The Committee has therefore removed the responsibility for counting homeless children and youth from the SEAs and given it to the Secretary.

The Committee is still left with the dilemma, however, of how best to determine the most effective way to distribute these funds. The Committee has included a requirement (Section 724(a)) that the GAO, in consultation with the Education Department, conduct a study, within two years, of the most effective way to distribute funds to SEAs and LEAs. The results of this study will be presented to Congress within 2 years, which will give the Committee a sufficient opportunity to study and consider these recommendations before the next reauthorization of this Act.

In transferring the data collection requirements from the states to the Education Department, the Committee has imposed three new requirements on the Department of Education in this area: first, within 240 days, the Education Department shall develop a study, in consultation with SEAs, LEAs, and advocacy groups regarding the best way to count homeless children, and carry out that count and report the results to Congress within one year of completion of the study. In 1991, $250,000 is provided for this purpose and such sums in 1992. Second, the Education Department shall evaluate whether state plans adequately address the problems of homeless children regarding access to education. Third, the Education Department shall provide support and technical assistance to state education agencies.

Section 724(b)(2) [as redesignated] requires the Secretary to monitor compliance with this Act. The Committee intends that this duty be enforceable in any court of competent jurisdiction by homeless children or their representatives. But federal monitoring shall provide no defense in any action against any state under this section.

SECTION 6: EVALUATION AND REPORTS

The Committee included a new section, 755 of the Act, to provide for an evaluation of all of the programs within the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Health and Human Services. The evaluation will be conducted as rapidly as possible and will consider the organization and effectiveness of the programs in preventing and alleviating homelessness. Further, the Committee expects that the evaluation of community-wide comprehensive service delivery models will address how Federal funding streams hinder or facilitate the development of such models, and how Federal funding should be restructured to foster the replication of successful models in other States and communities.

The Committee strongly urges the Department to complete this evaluation as rapidly as possible in order to provide further guidance as to the needs of the homeless and the available policy options to combat homelessness.

It has come to the attention of the Committee that certain federal agencies have faced considerable obstacles in their attempts to assist the homeless in various communities. For this reason, a new section, 756, is also established, requiring the Secretary to report to Congress on ways to reduce federal barriers and thus enable federal agencies and facilities to donate excess prepared foods to agencies serving the homeless.

SECTION 7: DEMONSTRATION GRANTS FOR THE PREVENTION OF INAPPROPRIATE SEPARATION OF HOMELESS FAMILIES AND FOR THE PREVENTION OF CHILD ABUSE AND NEGLECT

The Committee is deeply concerned about the increasing incidence of children being separated from their families when the family becomes victim to eviction or tragedy and thus becomes homeless. While no comprehensive studies have been conducted on the potential effectiveness of combining child welfare and housing services, the Committee feels strongly that programs of this type must be conducted. Toward that end the Committee has authorized several demonstration projects aimed at determining the effectiveness of a coordinated strategy to prevent family homelessness and prevent the break up of at risk families.

Section 7(a).—Congress finds that as many as one-third of the nation's homeless people are members of families with children, that homelessness too often results in the separation of children from their parents, and that strong coordination between child welfare and housing agencies can help protect homeless children from abuse and neglect and prevent the unnecessary or prolonged separation of families.

*Section 301(a).*¹—Entities eligible to receive grants shall be state and local agencies responsible for out-of-home placements of children and youth.

Section 301(b).—Eligible geographic areas include those in which housing problems and homelessness are threatening the well-being of children, contributing to the placement of children in out-of-home care, preventing the reunification of children with their families; or in the case of older youth, preventing them from living independently.

Section 301(c).—Because the Committee strongly believes that successful programs under this part must be comprehensive in nature, agencies applying for funds under this act must show that they have entered into agreements with appropriate entities regarding planning, coordination and delivery of services, including child welfare agencies, public housing agencies, and appropriate public and non-profit private agencies which provide services to homeless families. Recipients must obtain a 20 percent non-Federal match.

Section 301(d).—Grants may be for periods up to 3 fiscal years.

Section 302(a).—The Committee believes that staff training is a critical component of any comprehensive program in this area. All grant recipients must establish a program to jointly train child welfare and housing authority staff in issues including the relationships between homelessness and housing problems and the unnecessary placements of children in out-of-home care; the housing related needs of families whose children are at risk of out-of-home placement; and the resources available to prevent initial or prolonged placement in out-of-home care of children whose families are homeless or have other housing problems.

Section 302(b).—Other allowable activities include: hiring additional personnel to help families find housing when their children are at risk of placement or delayed return home, and to assist older youth leaving out-of-home care for independent living; providing training and technical assistance for personnel of shelters and other programs for homeless families to assist them in the prevention and identification of child abuse and neglect among the families who need social services; the provision of emergency housing-related assistance such as rent or utility payments, move-in costs, partial rent subsidies for up to 6 months and other housing-related assistance; the development and dissemination of information materials; and other activities authorized by the Secretary.

Section 303(a).—Grantees will annually submit a report to the Secretary describing the specific activities carried out, and will evaluate the extent to which their activities have been effective in carrying out the purpose of this section.

Section 303(b).—The Secretary will conduct an evaluation to determine the effectiveness of programs in strengthening coordination between child welfare agencies, housing authorities and programs for homeless families and preventing unnecessary or prolonged out-of-home placements due to homelessness or other housing problems. The Committee intends that this evaluation be utilized to assess the effectiveness of, and need for, programs authorized under this Title.

Section 303(c).—Not later than March 1, 1993, the Secretary shall report to Congress, describing the activities carried out under this section, and assessing the effectiveness of the program in preventing unnecessary or prolonged out-of-home placements due to homelessness or other housing problems.

Section 304.—Requires agencies to submit a description of the intended use of the grant and the methods to be utilized in evaluating such a grant.

Section 305.—$25 million are authorized for each of fiscal years 1991, 1992, and 1993.

III. VOTES IN COMMITTEE

S. 2600 was reported favorably by the Committee on July 18 by a unanimous roll call vote. All 16 members of the Committee voted in favor of the motion to report favorably, no member opposed the motion.

Note—Details in this table may not add to totals because of rounding

The costs of this bill fall within budget functions 500 and 550.

Basis of estimate: S. 2863 would reauthorize and expand certain provisions of the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act and the Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act to aid homeless individuals and families. This estimate assumes that all authorizations are fully appropriated at the beginning of each fiscal year. Outlays are estimated using spendout rates computed by CBO on the basis of recent program data.

The bill would authorize appropriations of $69 million in 1991, $90 million in 1992, and $95 million in 1993, to provide primary health services to the homeless. Because this program already has a 1991 authorization of $66.2 million in current law, however, this bill would authorize an additional $2.8 million in 1991.

The bill would authorize $17 million in 1991 and such sums as may be necessary in each of 1992 and 1993 for demonstrations to develop and expand alcohol and drug treatment services for homeless individuals. This program is already authorized at a such sums as may be necessary level for 1991. CBO estimates such sums authorization levels by adjusting the provision's current appropriation level for projected inflation. The homeless alcohol and drug abuse demonstration program has a current appropriation of $16.4 million. Without the enactment of further legislation, CBO estimates the 1991 authorization level would be $17 million. Therefore, this legislation would not authorize any additional funds for the demonstration program in 1991. CBO estimated the authorization levels for 1992 and 1993 by adjusting the authorization level of $17 million for projected inflation.

The bill also would authorize $11.5 million in 1991 and such sums as may be necessary in each of 1992 and 1993 for demonstrations to expand mental health services for homeless individuals. This program currently authorizes appropriations of such sums as may be necessary for 1991, however. Given that $6 million is appropriated for the program in 1990, CBO estimates that, without the enactment of further legislation, the 1991 authorization level for this program would be $6.3 million. Therefore, this bill would authorize an additional $5.2 million for homeless mental health services demonstrations in 1991. CBO estimated the authorization levels for 1992 and 1993 by adjusting the 1991 authorization for projected inflation.

S. 2863 would reauthorize federal funds to provide job training to the homeless. In addition, the bill would reauthorize federal funds for emergency community services for homeless individuals. The bill specifies the authorization levels for both of these programs.

The bill would provide $50 million in 1991 and such sums as may be necessary in each of 1992 and 1993 for education of homeless children and youth grants. The bill also would provide $15 million in 1991 and such sums as may be necessary in each of 1992 and 1993 for literacy training grants. CBO estimated the 1992 and 1993 authorization levels for both grant programs by adjusting the respective 1991 authorization for projected inflation. In addition, the bill would authorize such sums as may be necessary in 1992 for the Secretary of Education to prepare a report on the best method of counting the number of homeless children and the estimated cost of such procedure. The report would be part of the Department of Education's 1992 budget submission. Based on information provided by the Department of Education, CBO estimates that the report would cost less than $500,000 in 1992.

S. 2863 would require the Secretary of Health and Human Services (HHS) to evaluate the effectiveness of services provided to homeless individuals under programs that he administers. In addition, the Secretary of HHS would have to study and report the extent to which federal laws and policies are hindering federal facilities from giving food that has not been consumed to entities serving the homeless. CBO estimates that these provisions would cost less than $500,000 in 1991.

Finally, the bill would authorize the appropriation of $25 million per year in 1991-1993 to establish demonstration grants for the prevention of inappropriate separations of children from their families and for the prevention of child abuse and neglect.

6. Estimated cost to State and local government: In order to receive grants to provide primary health services to the homeless, eligible agencies would have to provide $1 of non-federal funds for each $3 of federal funds provided in the first year of the grant, and $1 for each $2 of federal funds provided thereafter. In addition, state and local agencies receiving grants for demonstration projects to prevent inappropriate separations of children from their families as well as child abuse and neglect, would have to contribute $1 for each $4 of federal funds.

7. Estimate comparison: None.

8. Previous CBO estimate: None.

9. Estimate prepared by: Karen Graham, Deborah Kalcevic and Cory Leach and Diane Celuch.

10. Estimate approved by: C.G. Nuckols (for James L. Blum, Assistant Director for Budget Analysis).

V. REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT

Rule XXVI paragraph 11(b) of the Standing Rules of the Committee requires the Committee to issue a statement assessing the regulatory, inflationary and paperwork impact imposed by legislation for which they issue a report. It is believed that this Committee bill will have little or no regulatory impact on individuals and businesses. The major portion of the bill consists of routine reauthor-izations and it is not yet possible to determine the number of youth affected by the new sections ensuring education for homeless children and coordination of housing and child welfare agencies.

The Committee estimates that all provisions of the bill will have an overall positive economic impact on the individuals served by the bill. The programs provide for improved health, job training, education, counseling, and support services, which should lead to the improved employability of these individuals. The legislation is intended to improve overall the economic conditions of the nation by promoting self-sufficiency and productivity among citizens who are currently dependent on public and private assistance for their basic needs. Nevertheless, it is impossible to determine the specific economic impact of the legislation at this time.

Finally, there is no cause to believe that this new legislation would significantly affect privacy of individuals or the volume or flow of paperwork at the local, state, or federal level.

VI. CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW
