Service Act. It also reauthorizes a variety of other public health service programs. As a result of this legislation, funding for these health professions efforts would be reduced from current appropriated levels by 7.5 percent during the reauthorization period.

These 44 programs are consolidated into 6 general and flexible authorities which are designed to train health providers most inclined to enter practice in rural and other medically underserved areas. The six general authorities provide for: The training of primary care providers and minority and disadvantaged students, education financial assistance, the establishment and operation of area health education centers, nursing education, and general health care work-force development. To ensure that these programs are accountable and effective, each grant applicant would be required to have a strong evaluation component.

A. Family Medicine, General Internal Medicine, General Pediatrics, Preventive Medicine, Physician Assistants, and General Dentistry

Purposes: (1) Provide for the training of family physicians, general internists, general pediatricians, preventive medicine physicians, physician assistants, and general dentists to improve access to and quality of health care in underserved areas and to enhance state and local public health infrastructure; (2) Provide administrative flexibility and simplification.

General Description: Under this provision, funding for family physician, general pediatrician, general internist, preventive medicine physician, physician assistant, and general dentistry training would be authorized. These providers are generally needed to fill both rural and underserved health professional shortage areas and to help improve staffing in public health departments. Generally, priority would be given to programs which have a history of training health professionals who eventually enter practice in rural and urban underserved areas. In addition, general dentistry training would be funded if the Secretary first determines that such personnel are nationally in short supply.

Current Law Authorities Consolidated:

- (1) Family Medicine Training
- (2) General Internal Medicine and General Pediatrics Training
- (3) Physician Assistant Training
- (4) Preventive Medicine and Dental Public Health
- (5) Geriatric Medicine and Dentistry Faculty Development
- (6) General Dentistry Training

Summary of Provisions:

ELIGIBLE ENTITIES

Health professions schools, academic health centers, or other public or private nonprofit entities could apply.

ACTIVITIES

Grants and contracts would be made as appropriate to develop, operate, expand, or improve:

1. Departments (or academic administrative units) of family medicine.

2. Residency training programs in family medicine, general internal medicine, general pediatrics, preventive medicine, or general dentistry.

3. Physician assistant training programs.

4. Faculty development initiatives in primary care, including geriatrics.

5. Medical school primary care training initiatives.

Departments of Family Medicine

Departments of family medicine would be funded. Such units lead to a greater number of medical students choosing careers in primary care.

Residency Training Programs

Family medicine, general internal medicine, and general pediatrics residency programs would compete with one other for funding. Two outcome standards would be established to determine a funding preference. First, those programs with the highest percentage of providers who enter primary care practice upon the completion of training would receive a priority. In addition, programs which successfully produce professionals who go on to provide service in underserved areas would receive a preference.

Preventive medicine residencies would not compete for funding with family medicine, general internal medicine, or general pediatrics. Rather, they would receive an appropriate amount of funding, as determined by the Secretary. A preference would be given to those programs which train a high percentage of individuals who enter practice in state and local public health departments.

In addition, general dentistry residencies would not compete for funding with the other residency programs. Rather, they would receive an appropriate amount of funding, as determined by the Secretary. These programs would only receive funding if the Secretary first determines that general dentists are nationally in short-supply.

Physician Assistant Training Programs

Physician assistant training programs would receive an appropriate amount of funding, as determined by the Secretary, from the appropriation for this section. Those programs which have a higher output of providers who eventually enter practice in underserved areas would receive a preference for funding.

Faculty Development

The Secretary would determine which type of faculty development projects to fund based on national and State work force goals. Geriatric fellowships and faculty development could be funded.

Medical School Primary Care Training

Primary care training activities at medical schools would be funded through departments (or administrative units) of family medicine, general internal medicine, or general pediatrics. Applications from general internal medicine and general pediatrics administrative units would be required to demonstrate their institution's commitment to primary care education by: (1) a mission statement which has a primary care medical education objective; (2) faculty role models and administrative units in primary care, and (3) required undergraduate community-based medical student clerkships in family medicine, internal medicine, and pediatrics.

AUTHORIZATION

There would be $76 million authorized for fiscal year 1996 and such sums as necessary through fiscal year 1999. Combined funding for these authorities in fiscal year 1995 is $79.015 million. Family medicine departments would receive no less than 12 percent of the overall funding. This is consistent with the current set-aside that such departments receive.

B. Minority and Disadvantaged Health Professionals Training

Purposes: (1) Provide for the training of minority and disadvantaged health professionals to improve health care access in underserved areas and to improve representation in the health professions; and (2) Provide administrative flexibility and simplification.

General Description: Under this provision, the Secretary would have broad discretion to fund projects which improve the number and quality of minority and disadvantaged health professionals. Many believe that an increased number of minority and disadvantaged providers would result in improvements of services in underserved areas because such individuals tend to practice in those areas more than others. Generally, most minority groups are currently under-represented in the health professions relative to their representation within the entire U.S. population.

Current Law Authorities Consolidated:

- (1) Centers of Excellence in Minority Health
- (2) Health Careers Opportunity Program
- (3) Minority Faculty Fellowships
- (4) Faculty Loan Repayment

Summary of Provisions:

ELIGIBLE ENTITIES

Schools of medicine, osteopathic medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, podiatric medicine, optometry, veterinary medicine, public health, allied health professions schools; schools offering graduate programs in mental health practice; State or local governments; a consortia of health professions schools; or other public or private non-profit entities could apply.

ACTIVITIES

Grants and contracts would be made, as appropriate, to plan, develop, or operate:

- (1) Demonstration programs.
- (2) Minority faculty development and loan repayment programs.
- (3) Programs to develop the pipeline for individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds to enter and remain in health professions schools.

(4) Programs of excellence in health professions institutions to increase the number of minority individuals trained in health professions disciplines.

(5) For the provision of technical assistance, work force analysis, and information dissemination.

Any grant which is funded could incorporate one or all of these activities. In addition, a preference would be given to projects which involve more than one health profession discipline or training institution and, beginning in fiscal year 1999, for centers of excellence at certain Historically Black Colleges and Universities.

The Secretary would fund grant applications which have the greatest chance of improving minority representation in the health professions and which have an above average record of retention and graduation of individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds.

AUTHORIZATION

There would be $51 million authorized for fiscal year 1996 and such sums as necessary through fiscal year 1999. Combined funding for these authorities in fiscal year 1995 is $50.806 million. For fiscal years 1996 through 1998, there would be a $12 million set-aside for the centers of excellence at certain Historically Black Colleges and Universities. This is consistent with the current set-aside that such institutions receive.

C. Area Health Education Centers and Other Education Centers

Purposes: (1) Provide support for training centers remote from health professions schools to improve and maintain the distribution of health providers in rural and urban underserved areas; (2) Provide support for geriatric training centers and public health training centers; (3) Provide administrative flexibility and simplification.

General Description: This authority would enhance the community-based training in underserved areas of various health professionals. This goal would be achieved through greater flexibility in the design of such programs and through the leveraging of State and local resources. Area Health Education Centers (AHEC's) are generally located in underserved areas. Exposure to these settings is generally recognized as a determinant in whether a health professional returns to practice in such settings. In addition, these centers help support practicing providers in such areas through continuing medical education programs. Geriatric training centers and public health training centers would also receive funding from the combined appropriation for this provision.

Current Law Authorities Consolidated:

- (1) Area Health Education Centers
- (2) Health Education and Training Centers
- (3) Geriatric Education Centers
- (4) Rural Health Interdisciplinary Training
- (5) Public Health Special Projects

Summary of Provision:

ELIGIBLE ENTITIES

Health professions schools, academic health centers, State or local governments, or other appropriate public or private nonprofit entities.

ACTIVITIES

I. Area Health Education Centers. Grants and contracts would be made as appropriate to plan, develop, operate, expand, conduct demonstration projects, and to provide trainee support, for projects which:

1. Improve the distribution, supply, quality, utilization, and efficiency of personnel providing health services in urban and rural underserved populations.

2. Encourage the regionalization of educational responsibilities of the health professions schools into urban and rural underserved areas.

3. Prepare individuals effectively to provide health services in underserved areas through: preceptorships, the conduct or affiliation with community-based primary care residency programs, agreements with community-based organizations for the delivery of education and training in the health professions, and other programs.

4. Conduct interdisciplinary training of the various health professions.

5. Provide continuing medical and health professional education to professionals practicing in the underserved areas served by the grantee.

A preference would be given to projects which involve one or more health professions discipline or training institution, train individuals who actually enter practice in underserved areas, and have a high output of graduates who enter primary care practice.

II. Geriatric Education Centers. Grants and contracts would be made for the establishment of geriatric education centers. Such centers would be required to provide training opportunities for students, interns and residents, and practicing health providers.

III. Public Health Training Centers. Grants and contracts would be made for the operation of public health training centers. Funded projects would be based on the goals and objectives of Healthy People 2000.

AUTHORIZATION

There would be $43 million authorized for fiscal year 1996 which would be reduced to $29 million by fiscal year 1999. Combined funding for these authorities in fiscal year 1995 is $41,541 million. The $14 million in funding reductions over the 3 year period is equivalent to the current combined appropriations for the Health Education and Training Centers, Rural Health Interdisciplinary Training Programs, and the geriatric training centers. Funding will be phased down to allow for the completion of current project funding periods.

D. Health Professions Work Force Development

Purpose. Provide support to strengthen capacity for the education of individuals in certain health professions which the Secretary determines to have a severe shortage of personnel and to improve the care of underserved populations and other high-risk groups.

Current Law Authorities Consolidated:

- (1) Health Administration Traineeships and Special Projects
- (2) Geriatric Optometry Training
- (3) Allied Health Advanced Training and Special Projects
- (4) Podiatric Primary Care Residency Training
- (5) Chiropractic Demonstration Projects
- (6) AIDS Dental Services

Summary of Provisions:

ELIGIBLE ENTITIES

Schools of medicine, osteopathic medicine, public health, dentistry, allied health, optometry, podiatric medicine, chiropractic medicine, veterinary medicine, pharmacy, or graduate programs in mental health practice.

ACTIVITIES

Grants and contracts would be made as appropriate to plan, develop, or operate programs to strengthen the capacity for health professions education and practice. The Secretary shall have broad discretion to fund projects, but shall give priority to projects which would improve care for underserved populations and other high-risk groups and which would increase the number of practitioners in any health professions field for which the Secretary determines there is a severe shortage of professionals.

In general, funds under this section could be used to provide for faculty development, model demonstration projects, trainee support, technical assistance, or work force analysis.

AUTHORIZATION

There would be $16 million authorized for fiscal year 1996 and such sums as necessary for fiscal years 1997 through 1999. Combined funding for these authorities in fiscal year 1995 is $13.467 million.

E. Nursing Work Force Development

Purposes: (1) Provide for the training of advanced degree nurses and other nurses to improve access to and quality of health care in underserved medical and public health areas; and (2) Provide administrative flexibility and simplification.

General Description: This proposal would provide for the training of advanced degree nurses, including nurse practitioners, nurse midwives, nurse anesthetists, and public health nurses. In addition, projects to improve nursing work force personnel diversity and to expand the training of nurses in certain priority settings would be supported. The Secretary would have broad discretion to determine which projects to fund. Generally, projects which would ultimately lead to a greater number of nursing providers for rural and underserved areas, including local and state public health departments, would receive a funding preference.

Current Law Authorities Consolidated:

- (1) Nursing Special Projects
- (2) Advanced Nurse Education
- (3) Nurse Practitioner/Nurse Midwife Education
- (4) Nurse Anesthetist Training
- (5) Nursing Education Opportunities for Individuals from Disadvantaged Backgrounds
- 6) Professional Nurse Traineeships

Summary of Provisions:

ELIGIBLE ENTITIES

Schools of nursing (collegiate, associate degree, diploma), nursing centers, State or local governments, and other public or nonprofit private entities.

ACTIVITIES

Grants and contracts would be made, as appropriate, to plan, develop, or operate:

1. Advanced practice nurses training programs including programs for nurse practitioners, nurse midwives, nurse anesthetists, and public health nurses.

2. Programs to increase nursing work force diversity.

3. Projects to strengthen the capacity for basic nurse education in certain priority areas.

Amounts provided under any one of these areas could be used for faculty development, demonstrations, trainee support, work force analysis, technical assistance, and dissemination of information.

In determining which projects to fund under each of these areas, the Secretary would give priority to those projects which would substantially benefit rural or underserved populations, including public health departments. Generally, those programs which tend to produce nurses for these areas, including primary care nurses, would receive funding priority. In addition, the Secretary would have broad discretion to distribute the appropriation among these different activity areas. Funds would be allocated among these activities to meet the priority for underserved areas and to meet relevant national and State nursing work force goals.

The National Advisory Council on Nurse Education and Practice would continue to advise the Secretary regarding nursing issues. Funding for this council would be provided through the appropriations under this section.

Advance Practice Nurses Training

Projects that support the enhancement of advanced practice nursing education and practice would be funded. In addition, a grantee could use a portion of the funds to provide for traineeships. Such traineeships would provide stipends to students to help cover the costs of tuition, books, fees, and reasonable living expenses. Programs which could receive support under this authority are those which train nurse practitioners, nurse midwives, nurse anesthetists, public health nurses, and other advanced degree nurses.

Programs to Increase Nursing Work Force Diversity

Projects to increase nursing education opportunities for individuals who are from disadvantaged racial and ethnic backgrounds under-represented among registered nurses would be funded. Such projects could provide student stipends or scholarships, pre-entry preparation, or retention activities.

Projects to Strengthen Basic Nurse Education

Funding priority would be given to basic nurse education programs designed to: (1) improve nursing services in schools and other community settings; (2) provide care for underserved populations and other high-risk groups such as elderly, individuals with HIV-AIDS, substance abusers, homeless, and battered women; (3) provide skills needed under new health care systems; (4) develop cultural competencies among nurses; (5) and serve other priority areas.

AUTHORIZATION

There would be $62 million authorized for fiscal year 1996, which would be reduced to $59 million for fiscal year 1999.

F. Generally Applicable Provisions for Each Training Authority

Outcomes Evaluation:

Each program would be required to set performance outcomes and would be held accountable for meeting such outcomes. The performance outcome standards would be consistent with State, local, and national work force development priorities.

Non-federal Match:

The Secretary would have discretion to require institutional or State and local government matching grants to ensure the continuation of the project once Federal aid ends.

Transition:

Current grantees would continue to operate under existing authorities through the remainder of their funding cycles. The new provisions would apply only to new grants.

G. Consolidated Financial Assistance and Other Loan Programs

Purposes: (1) Provide consolidation of current loan repayment, scholarship, and scholarship payback programs into a flexible National Health Service Corps program requiring service payback in underserved areas in return for Federal financial assistance; (2) Continue certain loan programs which do not require Federal appropriations or that guarantee the availability of loan sources in the market for health professions students; (3) Consolidate scholarship programs for the disadvantaged; and (4) Provide administrative flexibility and simplification.

General Description: This proposal would combine most of the current targeted scholarship and loan repayment programs into the existing National Health Service Corps Scholarship and Loan Repayment program. As such, individuals would only receive "free" financial support in return for service provided in underserved areas. This would help to eliminate the shortage of over 5,000 positions in primary care underserved areas and in underserved public health positions in State and local health departments.

The three scholarship programs for minorities and disadvantaged students would also be consolidated into a single scholarship program for disadvantaged students.

The authorities which would not be consolidated are those which do not require appropriations but, rather, are revolving loan funds which currently exist at schools. In addition, the current Health Education Assistance Loan Guarantee program would be left in place.

Current Law Authorities Consolidated:

- (1) Scholarships for Disadvantaged Students
- (2) Exceptional Financial Need Scholarships
- (3) Financial Assistance to Disadvantaged Health Professions Students
- (4) State Loan Repayment Program
- (5) Community Based Scholarship Program
- (6) Nursing Loan Repayment Program
- (7) National Health Service Corps Scholarship Program
- (8) National Health Service Corps Loan Repayment Program
- (9) Public Health Traineeships

Current Law Authorities Continued Without Consolidation:
(These are revolving loan funds administered by schools which do or would not require appropriations.)

- (10) Nursing Student Loan
- (11) Primary Care Loan Program
- (12) Health Professional Student Loans
- (13) Loans for Disadvantaged Students

Current Law Authority Requiring a Separate Appropriation:

- (14) Health Education Assistance Loans

Summary of Provisions:

Part I. Consolidated Scholarships and Loans

- (A) National Health Service Corps Scholarship and Loan Payback

ELIGIBLE ENTITIES

Health professionals and public health professionals (for loan payback only).

ACTIVITIES

The Secretary would have broad authority to offer the following scholarship or loan repayment options to persons who agree to provide services through the National Health Service Corps in underserved areas. This consolidated authority would be patterned after the existing National Health Service Corps Scholarship and Loan Repayment programs and would:

1. Provide scholarships to health professional students in return for a commitment for such students to practice in the National Health Service Corps in underserved areas once their education is completed.

2. Provide loan repayment to:

a. Health professionals and public health personnel in return for a commitment from such persons to practice in the National Health Service Corps designated underserved sites or, in the case of public health personnel, State and local health departments with public health professional shortages.

b. Nurses for an amount no greater than 85 percent of their debt for persons who agree to practice in National Health Service Corps designated underserved areas.

3. Provide funding to State to operate their own loan repayment or scholarship programs. States could designate their own underserved areas utilizing their own criteria if such criteria were approved by the Secretary.

The Secretary would determine how much to provide for each activity to meet the goals of providing service to underserved areas and retaining providers in underserved areas. States applying for grant funding to run their own programs would receive priority.

AUTHORIZATION

There would be $90 million authorized for fiscal year 1996 and such sums as necessary through fiscal year 1999. This amount of funding is consistent with the combined current appropriations for these programs.

(B) Scholarships for Disadvantaged Students

ELIGIBLE ENTITIES

Health professions schools.

ACTIVITIES

The Secretary would award grants to health professions schools for the awarding of scholarships to disadvantaged students. Eligible entities would receive a preference based on the proportion of graduating students going into primary care, the proportion of minority students, and the proportion of graduates working in medically underserved areas.

AUTHORIZATION

There would be $32 million authorized for fiscal year 1996 through 1999. This amount of funding is consistent with the combined current appropriation for these programs.

Part II. Current Loan Authorities Continued without Appropriations

ACTIVITIES

The current Nursing Student Loan (NSL) program, Primary Care Loan (PCL) program, Health Professions Student Loan (HPSL) program, and the Loans for Disadvantaged Students (LDS) programs would continue. These programs would continue using the revolving funds which remain at health professions schools.

AUTHORIZATION

There would be $8 million authorized in each of fiscal years 1996 through 1998 for the LDS program. For fiscal year 1999, the authority for appropriations would be repealed after the revolving funds begin to be paid back by current loan recipients.

The NSL, PCL, and HPSL programs, which do not currently receive appropriations, would not be authorized to receive appropriations.

Part III. Heal Loans

ACTIVITIES

The HEAL loan program would continue in its current form.

AUTHORIZATION

This program would continue to be authorized at such sums as necessary to guarantee sufficient funds for the insurance pool for loan defaulters. The current premiums provided by borrowers are insufficient to meet the needs of this fund. As a result of reforms made in this program in fiscal year 1992, HHS is improving its loan collection and the insurance fund is growing. Over time, this program may not require appropriations. The current appropriation is $24.972 million.

H. Office of Minority Health

The authority for the office would be extended through fiscal year 1999. Furthermore, the provision assures that the office is only coordinating services—not conducting its own services and research program. The authorization would be $19 million for each fiscal year through fiscal year 1999. This would be a 11 percent reduction from the current appropriation of $20.668 million.

I. State Offices of Rural Health

There would be “such sums as necessary” authorized through fiscal year 1997. The cumulative appropriations would be capped at $20 million. In fiscal year, after these offices have been established in every State, the program would be repealed. The current appropriation for this program is $3.875 million.

J. Birth Defects

An enhanced intramural program for birth defects at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) would be authorized. Through this program, research centers would be established, epidemiologic review of data would occur, and a national information clearing house would be established. This program is consistent with current CDC plans in this area. No funds would be authorized specifically for this program, but funding would occur under the general CDC program authority.

K. Traumatic Brain Injury

This provision would provide for the National Institutes of Health (NIH) to conduct research on traumatic brain injury without an authorization for a separate appropriation. It would also authorize $5 million a year for a demonstration program to be administered through the Health Resources and Services Administration, subject to the availability of funding for the development of State systems of care for persons with traumatic brain injury. Finally, the provision would authorize a consensus conference at NIH regarding the treatment of individual with this illness.

L. Health Services for Pacific Islanders

This would extend the Pacific Islands initiative, with technical changes only. The program would be authorized at $3 million in fiscal year 1996 and in each year through fiscal year 1999. Finally, a study would be authorized to determine the usefulness of this initiative.

M. Demonstration Projects Regarding Alzheimer's Disease

There would be $5 million authorized in each of the fiscal years from fiscal year 1996 through fiscal year 1999. There are many technical revisions.

II. BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

GENERAL

Congress continues to be concerned with developing a national health professions work force policy to: (1) improve the distribution of and quality of health professionals needed to provide health services in underserved areas, (2) enhance the production and distribution of public health personnel to improve the State and local health infrastructure, and (3) provide accountability based on uniformly agreed upon outcome measures. This policy could be achieved by: (1) improving the national supply of certain health professionals, (2) improving the geographic distribution of health professionals in certain urban and rural areas, and (3) increasing minority representation in the pool of practicing health professionals.

Under current law, 44 separate Federal programs to support the health professions education and training through individual and institutional support are authorized under the Public Health Service (PHS) Act in titles III, VII, and VIII. The programs are administered by the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) at the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS).

Continuing Federal budget constraints necessitate program consolidation and administrative simplification. Such consolidation would result in a better targeting of limited resources to address national health work-force training and distribution deficits. In addition, an evaluation of each funded project would ensure that Federal resources are used wisely.

INTRODUCTION

Title VII of the PHS Act provides Federal support for health professions education in the fields of allopathic and osteopathic medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, optometry, podiatric medicine, chiropractic, pharmacy, public health, graduate programs in clinical psychology and health administration, physician assistant and allied health. Title VIII of the PHS Act provides for a comprehensive set of nursing education programs. Titles VII and VIII provide two forms of assistance: (1) institutional support to health professions and nursing schools in the form of grants and contracts; and (2) student assistance in the form of loans, loan guarantees, and scholarships for students enrolled in these schools.

The Health Professions Educational Assistance Act of 1963 (P.L. 88-129), authorized a 3-year program for medical school construction and loan programs for students in schools of medicine, dentistry, and osteopathy. This initial enactment of Federal support for health professions education was in response to a critical shortage of health manpower, and the 1963 legislation was designed to increase enrollment at various health professions schools and assure the financial viability of these schools. However, by the mid-1970's when studies began to indicate that the supply of health professionals would be sufficient to meet the Nation's future needs, the focus of support under title VII began to change. Two areas of need were emerging: first, rural and inner-city communities experiencing shortages of health professionals and second, a relative shortage of primary care providers to specialists. Subsequent extensions of title VII programs began to focus Federal institutional and student assistance on projects designed to encourage health care personnel to practice in medically underserved shortage areas and increase the number of primary care providers. In particular, the 1992 reauthorization provided a preference for those programs which trained the greatest numbers of individuals who enter practice in underserved areas.

Similarly, the Nurse Training Act of 1964 originally authorized support to nursing schools and students to improve the supply of well trained nurses through grants to institutions to strengthen and improve nurse education, and direct student assistance through low interest loans and scholarships. As national nursing needs changed, the programs of title VIII were modified to focus on the training of advanced practice nurses, such as nurse practitioners, nurse midwives, and certified nurse anesthetists.

Title III of the PHS Act authorizes the National Health Service Corps (NHSC) program, which was originally enacted by the Emergency Health Personnel Act of 1970 (P.L. 91-623) to respond to the geographic maldistribution of health professionals. The NHSC program was designed as the Federal Government's primary strategy to relieve health professions shortages. The NHSC program is currently authorized through the year 2000 (last amended in 1990 by P.L. 101-597), and is comprised of a field program that places an array of qualified health professionals in areas that have shortages of health personnel, and scholarship and loan repayment programs (added in the PHS Amendments of 1987, P.L. 100-177) that provide educational assistance to health professions students in return for a period of obligated service in shortage areas. Communities that apply for and are designated as health professions shortage areas (HPSA's) are eligible for placement of federally funded providers through the NHSC. The NHSC program has generally placed primary care providers, including allopathic and osteopathic physicians, dentists, nurse practitioners and other nonphysician providers, in federally designated HPSA's. Since program activities began in 1972, the NHSC field program has placed over 16,000 health care providers in HPSA's as of 1991.

GEOGRAPHIC MALDISTRIBUTION

Today, there continues to be national shortages of primary care providers, public health professionals, and certain allied health professionals. There is a continued need to improve the supply of these health professionals, and to improve the geographic distribution of health professionals in order to assure access to health care in medically underserved urban and rural communities.

Some have argued that Federal support for the title VII programs over the past 20 years has resulted in overall surpluses of health practitioners and improved their distribution, and there is no longer a need for this legislation. According to the American Medical Association, the total number of physicians grew by 140.3 percent between 1965-93 while the total U.S. population only grew by 32.3 percent. Since 1980 there has been a net entry of over 173,000 patient care physicians into the work force.

However, others point to the fact that there continue to be areas of the country experiencing shortages of physicians and other health professionals. Health professions shortage areas provide one measure of how adequately the supply of physicians is geographically distributed. During part of this period of significant growth in the supply of physicians, from 1980 to 1986, the number of HPSA's remained relatively constant. However, during the past 8 years the number of HPSA's has been increasing steadily. As of December 1994, there are 2,736 communities designated by the Federal Government as HPSA's, in which an estimated 5,341 primary care providers are needed. The Office of Shortage Designation at HRSA estimates that there are over 27 million persons residing in these underserved areas.

SPECIALTY DISTRIBUTION

Today, most experts agree that there is an imbalance between primary care and specialist physicians. In 1931 about 87 percent of U.S. physicians were practicing primary care; by 1970 the proportion had dropped to 38 percent, further falling to 34 percent in 1993. According to the Association of American Medical Colleges, between 1982 and 1993, the proportion of graduating medical students planning to become board-certified in family medicine, general internal medicine or general pediatrics fell from 36.1 percent to 19.3 percent. It is important to note that the percentage of graduating medical students choosing primary care training in 1993 had increased to 19.3 percent from only 14.2 percent in 1992.

During this period of decreasing numbers of medical school graduates entering primary care training, there has been a significant expansion of nonprimary care specialties residencies. In 1988, there were under 85,000 physicians (both allopathic and osteopathic) in residency training; by 1992, there were over 101,000 residents, representing a 19 percent increase in a 4 year period. Over the same period, the number of residents in medical subspecialties grew by over 60 percent and other specialties grew by 28 percent.

The Fourth Report of the Council on Graduate Medical Education (COGME) published in January 1994 includes physician supply projections of the Bureau of Health Professions (BHP) within HRSA at DHHS. The BHP, incorporating COGME work force goals for the years 2000 and 2020, estimates that there will be a shortage of 35,000 generalist physicians by the year 2000, assuming that there would be no changes in the current training pipeline of physicians and a health care delivery system dominated by managed care arrangements. The BHP_r also estimates a projected surplus of 115,000 specialist physicians and an overall surplus of 80,000 patient care physicians by 2000. By 2020, BHP_r projects that the physician surplus and specialty imbalance would worsen and there would be a shortage of 80,000 generalist physicians and a surplus of 200,000 specialists.

MINORITY REPRESENTATION

The committee continues to be concerned about the underrepresentation of minorities in the health professions compared to their proportion in the general population. The concern with increasing the number of underrepresented minority health care providers is part of an overall strategy to increase the availability and accessibility of health care providers to populations who have difficulty obtaining adequate health care, i.e. low-income and minority populations.

African Americans, Hispanics, and Native Americans are considered to be underrepresented in most of the health professions. Taken together, African Americans, Hispanics and Native Americans constitute 22 percent of the U.S. population, but are only 7.1 percent of the total physician work force. African-Americans constitute about 12.1 percent of the U.S. population, and although the number of African American physicians has increased, the percentage of black physicians has remained at about 4 percent of the total physician work force. Similarly, the percentage of African American nurses has remained at about 8 percent, physician assistants at less than 5 percent, and dentists at 1 percent. For Hispanics, who represent about 9 percent of the total U.S. population, the percentage of Hispanic physicians and nurses has remained at less than 5 percent.

According to the COGME's Fourth Report, physician-to-population ratios for the overall population of 221/100,000 are much higher than those for African Americans (67/100,000), Hispanics (121/100,000), or Native Americans (45/100,000). In 1992, 2,309 underrepresented minorities entered medical schools, the largest number of minority entrants on record, representing 12.1% of the total number of entrants. However, the number of medical school entrants is significantly below the goal established by COGME of 3,350 underrepresented minority entrants by the year 2000.

Most RNs are female white, non-Hispanics. Although there have been increases in the total number of nurses, there has not been significant change in the number of underrepresented minority nurses, and as a proportion of the total RN population racial/ethnic minority nurses actually declined. According to DHHS, in 1988 the number of RNs from racial/ethnic minority backgrounds accounted for only 7.6 percent of all registered nurses compared to 8.2 percent in 1984. Although data is limited for other health professionals, the public health workforce is considered to also have a problem of minority underrepresentation, although according to a survey of students by the Association of Public Health Schools 20 percent of students are minorities. Similarly, in many allied health professions the proportion of minorities remain small.

NURSES AND NONPHYSICIAN PROVIDERS

According to the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) 1992 Sample Survey of Registered Nurses, there are 2.2 million nurses in the U.S., with 83 percent actively employed. Over two-thirds of nurses are employed in hospitals. Nursing jobs outside the hospital setting have shown the strongest growth rate, and even within the hospitals setting, nurse employment in outpatient departments grew by 66 percent between 1988 and 1992. Nurse employment in public health and community settings also increased by 30 percent.

There is some anecdotal information indicating that new nurses are having difficulty finding employment in hospitals due to hospital downsizing and decreasing patient lengths of stay. However, there are regions of the country that continue to have an unmet demand for hospital-based nurses, and many underserved rural areas and inner-city facilities continue to experience shortages of nurses. In addition, the demand for nurses is expected to continue to exceed the available supply in community-based care sites such as home health care agencies, long-term care facilities, independent clinical practice, nursing centers, school systems and birthing centers.

A major source of primary care providers for medically underserved or rural communities are from nonphysician providers, who are generally nurse practitioners, certified nurse midwives, and physician assistants. Today in the U.S. there are over 20,000 nurse practitioners, and over 4,300 certified nurse-midwives. Unfortunately, for every nurse practitioner or nurse that is trained today, there are at least 4 medically underserved communities requiring their services. In addition, in 1978, approximately 74 percent of physician assistants (PA's) were working in primary care; by 1994, the figure had dropped to 48 percent. The percentage of PAs practicing in rural areas with populations of less than 10,000 was 17.7 percent in 1994. According to the Academy of Physician Assistants, the possible reasons for more specialization among PA's and fewer PA's locating in rural areas are similar to those for physicians and other health professionals. These may include higher pay for specialty practice, more interesting and intellectually stimulating work in specialty practice, and greater professional and economic opportunities outside of isolated or small rural communities.

The experience is similar for nurse anesthetists. Graduates of such training programs dropped by 44 percent from 1980 and 1990. The number of training programs fell from 163 in 1980 to 80 in 1990. Many rural hospitals rely on nurse anesthetists for anesthesia services. Without the service of these nurse anesthetists, important surgical procedures may often be postponed, thus limiting access to needed care.

Studies, surveys, and reports by groups such as the American Medical Association, American Hospital Association, American Society of Allied Health Professions, the Department of Health and Human Services and the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences provide further evidence of the diminishing pool of certain allied health personnel. The demand is high for allied health practitioners in physical therapy, occupational therapy, clinical laboratories, medical imaging, dental hygiene and respiratory therapy. It is projected that by the year 2000, the demand for physical therapists will increase by 57 percent, for occupational therapists by 49 percent, for laboratory technologists by 24 percent, and for medical imaging technologists by 66 percent.

GENERAL ACCOUNTING OFFICE REPORTS

In July 1994, the U.S. General Accounting Office (GAO) released a report on the health professions education and training programs authorized in titles VII and VIII of the PHS. The report fulfilled the provisions enacted in the 1992 amendments reauthorizing the programs which required the GAO to evaluate the effectiveness of these strategies and programs of titles VII and VIII.

Generally, the GAO results were inconclusive regarding the direct impact of the titles VII and VIII programs. GAO concluded that, although the supply of nearly all health professions had increased faster than the population, no data were available to demonstrate that the increased supply had improved access to care in rural and urban underserve areas. Further, GAO reported that the programs under titles VII and VIII could not be shown to have had a significant effect on the changes that had occurred in the supply, distribution, and minority representation of health professionals. GAO found that it would be difficult to establish cause-and-effect relationships for the programs because many of the programs had other objectives besides improving supply, distribution, and minority recruitment among health professionals. In addition, because the programs had no common outcome goals or measurements of their effectiveness, the programs were difficult to evaluate.

GAO also concluded that the 75 percent increase in the number of primary care physicians between 1975 and 1990 did not improve the geographic maldistribution between urban and rural areas. The increased numbers of primary care physicians in urban and rural areas had not improved their availability in HPSA's. However, the GAO did not assess the severity of shortages which would have resulted if the titles VII and VIII programs had not been in effect.

One important change created in the 1992 reauthorization, which the GAO could not evaluate, was the effect of providing preferences for programs which train health professionals in underserved areas. Over time, the impact of this provision may help to draw providers to underserved areas. Many believe, and some limited data support, that individuals trained in underserved areas tend to enter practice in such settings once their training periods are completed.

GAO recommended that the Congress rethink the role of the title VII and VIII programs and establish common outcome measures, goals and reporting requirements. The report also suggested that in redefining the objectives of titles VII and VIII, the Congress consider expanding the NHSC to have a more direct and immediate impact on relieving underserved communities.

In 1990, the GAO also published a report on the NHSC, looking specifically at why the number of NHSC physicians had been declining and if the PHS Amendments of 1987 (P.L. 100-177) to the program which created the loan repayment program had offset the decline in NHSC physicians. GAO found that the significant reductions in funding for the NHSC since 1980 had resulted in the decline in the numbers of physicians available for placement in shortage areas through the NHSC. Facilities that relied on physicians provided through the NHSC and the populations served by these facilities were at risk of losing their access to health care services. In addition, GAO found that the NHSC loan repayment program enacted in the 1987 amendments had not significantly reduced the shortage of providers needed by the Corps at that time, because limited funding had curtailed their effectiveness.

TESTIMONY RECEIVED

On March 8, 1995, the Committee on Labor and Human Resources held a hearing on the Federal health professions programs. Despite the inconclusive results of the GAO evaluation, the testimony supported a continuation of Federal health professions training and distribution programs because some of the initiatives have been successful. According to Dr. Philip Lee, Assistant Secretary for Health in the Department of Health and Human Resources:

They have significantly enhanced the quality of primary care curriculum and fostered a growth in the interest of medical students in generalist practice.

Funding of residency training opportunities in family medicine, general internal medicine, and general pediatrics have increased our national supply of much needed primary care physicians.

They have opened opportunities for greater numbers of minorities to pursue and succeed in health professions careers and thereby expanded the access of millions of Americans to basic medical care.

They have spurred an unprecedented growth in student enrollment among the mid-level professions of nurse practitioners, nurse midwives, nurse anesthetists and physician assistants.

In response to the GAO conclusions, Dr. David Kindig noted that the underserved situation would have been much worse if the health professions programs had not been funded. Dr. Kindig stated that improving access for underserved areas would require "* * * targeted generalist physician education programs, as well as improving the infrastructure through community/migrant health centers, the National Health Service Corps, and Medicare and Medicaid programs." Furthermore, he testified, "I do not believe it is possible to precisely separate the influence of each of these components, but I am quite certain that they have acted in concert to keep the number of shortage areas as low as they are."

III. LEGISLATIVE HISTORY AND COMMITTEE ACTION

S. 555 was introduced on March 14, 1995, by Senators Kassebaum, Kennedy, and Frist. The bill was referred to the Committee on Labor and Human Resources.

The Committee on Labor and Human Resources considered S. 555 in an executive session held on Wednesday March 29, 1995.

Senator Kassebaum offered an amendment in the nature of a substitute, and the committee approved an amendment by Senator Harkin. The bill as amended was adopted by voice vote and favorably reported to the full Senate.

The Harkin amendment changed the authorization level for section 104, the health work force development provision, in fiscal year 1999 from $5 million to "such sums as necessary."

IV. COMMITTEE VIEWS

TITLE I—HEALTH PROFESSIONS EDUCATION AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

General

The committee sets two general goals for programs authorized under this title:

A. Federal health professions education programs and distribution programs should assure health through: (1) improvements in the distribution of and quality of health professionals needed to provide health services in underserved areas; and (2) enhancement of the production and distribution of public health personnel to improve the state and local public health infrastructure.

B. The bureaucracy required to administer the existing programs should be simplified and reduced.

Furthermore, due to Federal fiscal constraints, the committee has only authorized funding for the training of health professions which it has determined to be in short-supply nationally and for which an increased supply would benefit not only underserved areas, but all areas of the country.

The only exception to this standard is for general dentistry training. Experts, including the Institute of Medicine, have not been able to conclude if there is a shortage of general dentists. For this reason, before funding general dentistry training under section 747 of the Public Health Service Act, the Secretary must first determine that there is a national, rather than regional, shortage of such professionals.

Through out title I of this legislation, the committee intends that whenever the term "medical school" is used, it shall mean both allopathic and osteopathic medical schools. Furthermore, whenever the term "medical students" is used, it shall mean both allopathic and osteopathic medical students.

Subtitle A—Health professions, education programs

Section 101. Minority and disadvantaged training

The committee recognizes the benefits of training greater numbers of individuals from disadvantaged and minority backgrounds. Such individuals tend to enter primary care practice and practice in underserved areas to a much greater degree than others.

The committee encourages the development of innovative initiatives to increase the supply of minority and disadvantaged individuals. However, the renewal of existing centers of excellence programs or health career opportunities programs could occur under this consolidated provision.

Although historically black colleges and universities may apply for funding in addition to the $12 million set-a-side, the committee intends that this should be done as part of a single application from each entity. This would help provide administrative simplification over that afforded by the preparation and consideration of multiple grant proposals from a single entity.

Section 102. Training in family medicine, general internal medicine, general pediatrics, preventive medicine, physician assistants, and general dentistry

While the proposed authority would allow grants or contracts to be targeted in part toward training in a particular discipline (e.g., the various primary care medical specialties, preventive medicine, physician assistants, and advanced general dentistry), the committee intends that the Secretary encourage interested entities and groups to collaborate in efforts to meet primary care and related work force needs of communities, States, or regions served. When possible, applications could be submitted and goals established by consortia of health professions schools, health care facilities, community organizations, and other entities that can work together to address shared needs for ambulatory care training sites, curriculum improvement, faculty development, data analysis, and quality assurance. Such community-wide educational initiatives would accomplish educational goals and reduce repetitive administrative tasks for both the government and applicant institutions.

In carrying out these directives, the committee does not intend that the department create a funding preference or priority for such consortia applicants. In addition, such consortia applicants should meet the program requirements as specified in the legislation. For instance, general internal medicine residency programs in a consortia should only receive priority consideration based on the actual output of individuals who enter practice in primary care.

Regarding the priority based on an applicants success in actually training providers that practice primary care, the committee intends that entities with a record of training primary care providers be given the preponderance of priority points over applicants whose percentages increase over time. Significant weighting is an important way of promoting applications from those programs which are truly engaged in the primary task of producing generalists.

The committee also intends that osteopathic internships continue to receive consideration for funding under this section. In general, individuals in osteopathic internships complete residency training and successfully enter practice in primary care.

Finally, regarding the distribution of funding for each of the various options delineated in this section, the committee urges the Secretary to distribute such funding in a manner which meets the overall goals of this legislation as outlined above.

Section 103. Enhanced health education and training

Area health education centers have successfully trained individuals to practice in underserved settings. The committee continues to support this model of training. Because of fiscal constraints, the committee encourages applicants to obtain matching funds. In addition, the Secretary should place greater emphasis on providing funds for new entities or for the expansion and enhancement of existing entities.

In the development of area health education center programs, there is need for emphasis on training of health professionals in managed care, quality improvement, and other skills needed under new systems of organizing health care.

Regarding the distribution of funding between Area Health Education Centers, Geriatric Education Centers, and Public Health Training Centers, the committee urges the Secretary to meet the general goals of this legislation. In addition, the Secretary should consider the impact of other title VII and VIII programs in meeting the objectives of each of these programs.

Section 104. Health professions work force development

If the nation is to target Federal health professions educational initiatives effectively toward areas of greatest national and local need, additional information on those needs must be collected and analyzed. To allow responsible measurement of program outcomes, additional information also is required on the relative effectiveness of various ways of meeting health work force needs. In addition to reserving a minimum of $2 million in Health Professions Work Force Development funds specifically for health professions research and data activities, the committee encourages the administration and grant recipients to use the authority available under all of the title VII and VIII consolidated authorities to spend a portion of grant funds for data analysis as appropriate to meet recognized health work force objectives.

The committee also notes that the chiropractic medical school demonstration projects program authorized under section 782 of Public Law 102-408 has been consolidated under the Part E—Health Professions Work Force Development provision in this bill. In so doing, the committee does not in any way intend to diminish the importance of this innovative collaborative effort among chiropractors and physicians to enhance health professions training, education, and cooperation in the area of spinal injury and lower back pain conditions. The committee looks with interest on the outcome of this current demonstration project.

In deciding whether to fund such collaborative efforts in the future under the requirements of this provision, the committee encourages the department to consider how much such continued collaboration between chiropractic colleges and medical schools could increase the number of women and minorities in the chiropractic health care professions; enhance the prospects for improved training in the area of lower back pain and spinal maladies; and improve the conduct of related health professions research and data collection by chiropractors and physicians.

Furthermore, the committee also recognizes that in Alaska a limited variety of primary care for residents of remote villages is often provided by certified community health practitioners. The department is encouraged to consider entities which train such practitioners for funding under this provision.

Subtitle B—Nursing education

Section 123. Part A—General provisions

The committee strongly endorses the need for and reauthorization of the Nurse Education Act (NEA). Due to important differences between nursing and other health professions education, it is important that title VIII programs of the Public Health Service Act remain separate from title VII programs.

The need for Federal support of nursing education continues. Particular educational support is needed to improve primary care delivery, management of care and chronic diseases, health promotion and disease prevention, and home and other care outside of the hospital.

The committee urges the Department of Health and Human Services to fund creative approaches to nursing education. In addition, the committee believes that the central purpose of program support is to encourage creativity with start-up funding rather than to provide routine funding of long-term programs that could become self-sufficient.

Section 802 is not intended to require linkages for all applications, but the Secretary has the discretion to decide whether a "linkage" is required. Regarding the funding preference in section 805, an applicant should receive consideration not only if it trains nurses in underserved areas, but also if its program leads to individuals providing services in underserved areas after their training is completed. Other applicants, which do not meet the preference criteria, should not be excluded from funding, but should not receive a funding preference.

Section 123. Part B—Nurse practitioners, nurse midwives, and other advanced degree practice nurses

The committee recognizes the important role that nurse practitioners, nurse midwives, and nurse anesthetists play in providing quality care to medically underserved and rural communities. The committee continues to support nurses pursuing advanced education, especially in the primary care, public health, and geriatrics. Support for programs leading to careers as nurse practitioners, nurse midwives, and nurse anesthetists are a priority. The committee recognizes that programs which prepared nurses to serve as nurse educators have proven to be a valuable investment. Finally, the committee continues to support traineeship to provide for advanced practice nursing students. Only students who have completed the requirements for the registered nursing degree should be eligible for these traineeships.

Section 123. Part C—Increasing nursing work-force diversity

The Division of Nursing has shown a strong commitment to enhancement of diversity in the nursing work-force. The Division is encouraged to focus its continuing efforts in this regard on enhancement of diversity among nurses prepared at the baccalaureate and graduate levels to enable greater participation of nurses in leadership positions in community health, primary care, education, and administration.

Section 123. Part D—Strengthening capacity for basic nurse education and practice

The Division of Nursing is encouraged to enable regional collaborative nursing workforce development projects. Developing pilot initiatives with such groups as regional educational compacts, State departments of public health, higher education councils or boards, and other key parties would be useful in those efforts.

Recognizing the importance of telecommunications, informatics, and other advanced technology to both nursing education and practice, the division is encouraged to support innovative demonstrations in this area. The Division is also encouraged to provide leadership in this area, promoting dissemination of new technologies and outcomes of supported projects.

The committee continues to support continuing education for nurses; appropriate retraining opportunities for nurses not currently practicing nursing; efforts to resolve geographic inequities in the distribution of registered nurses; support for clinical nursing programs which combine educational curricula and clinical practice in health care delivery organizations, including long-term care facilities and ambulatory care facilities.

Section 123. Part F—Appropriations

Given the rapidly changing nursing marketplace, the committee does not support set asides for the training of different types of nurses or for the different training activities, such as strengthening the capacity for basic nurse education and practice. In making a decision on how best to allocate funds under this section, the committee urges the Secretary to consider how the funds could best be utilized to: (1) Improve the distribution of and quality of nursing professionals needed to provide services in underserved areas and (2) enhance the production and distribution of public health personnel to improve the State and local public health infrastructure. To meet these goals, the Secretary should consider the relative benefit of training individuals from disadvantaged and minority populations.

Subtitle C—Financial assistance

Section 132. Restructuring and technical amendments

Under this program, the Secretary shall have different options to provide loan repayment or to provide scholarships. The committee encourages the Secretary to distribute funds between the various options in the manner most consistent with the general goals of this legislation as previously outlined. The committee continues to support the primary objective of the National Health Service Corps programs to enhance health care services in underserved areas.

Section 136. Loans for disadvantaged students

The committee intends that funding for this program should be repealed after 3 years. This should provide sufficient time to complete the establishment of these revolving loan funds at institutions currently operating such programs.

Section 142. HEAL lender and performance standards

The committee intends that the exceptional performance requirements for HEAL lenders, holders, and servicers be implemented in a manner similar to the exceptional performance provision for the Department of Education guaranteed loan programs. In addition, the committee intends that, in determining whether a lender, holder, or servicer demonstrates exceptional performance, the financial and compliance audit include a review of compliance with all requirements associated with the HEAL loan that are performed by the lender, holder, or servicer, from the making of the loan through submission of a claim. Finally, it should be understood that lenders, holders, or servicers seeking designation as exceptional performers should be required to provide compliance audit results, in accord with established time frames, to the Division of Student Assistance of the Bureau of Health Professions, Health Resources and Services Administration. Failure to do so should result in loss of the exceptional performance designation.

Section 151. Scholarships for disadvantaged students

With regard to the eligibility of allied health schools under the new Scholarships for Disadvantaged Students program, the committee recognizes that there are over 3,000 accredited allied health training programs and therefore expects that, consistent with eligibility provisions under the former Scholarships for Disadvantaged Students program, the Secretary will limit participation to the following baccalaureate or graduate degree allied health professions schools or programs: Dental hygiene, medical laboratory technology, occupational therapy, physical therapy, and radiologic technology.

The committee intends that the primary care funding priority under the new Scholarships for Disadvantaged Students program be implemented as follows: (1) For schools of medicine and osteopathic medicine, by using conditions patterned after those in section 723(b)(2) of the act, which determine whether a school is eligible to maintain Primary Care Loan funds; and (2) for schools of nursing, by applying the priority to those programs leading to a baccalaureate or graduate degree in nursing since one of the distinguishing features of these programs is the substantial focus on preparation for community health practice. Further, the committee intends that, in the event appropriations are insufficient to fund at a reasonable level the requests of all eligible schools, funding be limited to schools that meet at least one of the three funding priorities.

The committee expects the Secretary to apply appropriate standards in determining which schools have complied with the requirement to be carrying out a program for recruiting and retaining students from disadvantaged backgrounds, using outcome-based measures that provide an indication of the success of any such program. The existence of such a program should not, in itself, result in the eligibility of a school if the school is unable to demonstrate that the program has achieved some measure of success, based on the number and/or percentage of disadvantaged students who graduate from the school.

TITLE II—OFFICE OF MINORITY HEALTH

The committee expects that the Office of Minority Health will continue to report directly to the Assistant Secretary of Health and that it will ensure coordination of all the programs under the Assistant Secretary's authority. The office should serve as a resource for the entire Public Health Service, and assure the appropriate sensitivity and attention to efforts to improve the health status of racial and ethnic minorities, among all Public Health Service programs.

The committee urges the development and implementation of interagency agreements with Public Health Service agencies and staff offices to increase the participation of minorities in health service and health promotion, and to stimulate and undertake innovative projects. The committee expects that any interagency agreements will emphasize a collaboration between the Office of Minority Health and the agency. The committee expects that the agency will contribute resources to any collaborative project. The office should perform a coordinating role within the Public Health Service rather than operate or directly administer project grants.

The committee urges better information dissemination, education, prevention, and service delivery to disadvantaged racial and ethnic minorities. The Secretary would also be authorized to provide grants and contracts to support new and innovative programs designed to reduce the incidence of specific illnesses and improve the health status of racial and ethnic minorities. The committee strongly encourages the Secretary to consider and support innovative proposals designed to reduce the incidence of specific illnesses among racial and ethnic minorities.

TITLE III—SELECTED INITIATIVES

Section 301. Programs regarding birth defects

Birth defects are the leading cause of infant mortality in the United States, accounting for one in five infant deaths. In addition, birth defects cause significant morbidity. The committee is concerned that lack of birth defects surveillance and research has hindered the identification of causes of birth defects and development of prevention efforts.

As such, the committee encourages the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to address birth defects through its intramural program. Such activities should include the collection and analysis of birth defects information and the operation of regional centers for the conduct of applied epidemiological research on the prevention of such defects. Although states are encouraged to improve birth defects surveillance systems, the committee does not intend that States should be required to establish such systems as a condition of receiving any kind of financial or non-financial support from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Section 303. State offices of rural health

The committee encourages the completion of the establishment of state offices of rural health. Funds authorized under this section are intended to help all states establish such offices, but are not intended to provide ongoing support. During this authorization period, the establishment of such offices in each State should be finalized. Thus, the appropriations for this program are repealed before fiscal year 1998.

Section 304. Health services for Pacific islanders

The committee expects the Secretary, through contract, to conduct a comprehensive study regarding the effectiveness of these programs to determine if such programs should continue to be funded in the future. In addition, if such programs are successful, the committee is interested in determining if they could be replicated in rural America, or for developing innovative health personnel training programs for inner-city populations.

Section 305. Demonstration projects regarding Alzheimer's disease

The Alzheimer's Home and Community Care Demonstration projects reauthorization expands the existing program which is designed to improve services to meet the special needs of persons with Alzheimer's and related dementias. This reauthorization removes the limit on the number of States that may participate in the program and allows extension for grants to States for more than 3 years.

The purpose of the program is to encourage coordination among public and private agencies providing health and long term care services in the State, to expand access to existing services for persons with Alzheimer's and related dementia, and to develop services to fill gaps in the existing system. Special emphasis is placed on services that support family caregivers.

TITLE IV—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Section 407. Required consultation by the secretary

In general, the Secretary is provided broad authority to determine general funding priorities under titles VII and VIII of the Public Health Service Act. For instance, under the section 747 programs, the Secretary will decide how much funding to devote to predoctoral training versus residency training.

The committee urges the Secretary to consider recommendations from all interested parties regarding the establishment of general priorities for each of the general programs authorized. The committee does not intend for the public and interested parties to become involved in the administrative details or selection process of grantees. It is the intent that all interested parties would comment on a general program description which the Secretary shall publish as frequently as the Secretary changes the general priorities. In no event is the publication of a general program description intended to be a rule-making process.

V. COST ESTIMATE

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, May 22, 1995.

Hon. NANCY LANDON KASSEBAUM,
Chairman, Committee on Labor and Human Resources,
U.S. Senate, Washington, DC.

DEAR MADAM CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for S. 555, the Health Professions Consolidation and Reauthorization Act of 1995, as ordered reported by the Senate Committee on Labor and Human Resources on March 29, 1995.

Enactment of S. 555 would affect direct spending. Therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures would apply to the bill.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them.

Sincerely,

JAMES L. BLUM
(For June E. O'Neill).

Enclosure.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE COST ESTIMATE

1. Bill number: S. 555.
2. Bill title: Health Professions Consolidation and Reauthorization Act of 1995.
3. Bill status: As ordered reported by the Senate Committee on Labor and Human Resources on March 29, 1995.
4. Bill purpose: This bill would amend the Public Health Service Act to consolidate and reauthorize education programs for health professions and for minority and disadvantaged health professions students.
5. Estimated cost to the Federal Government: Most of the spending that would occur under S. 555 would be subject to the availability of appropriated funds. For purposes of this estimate, CBO assumes that the bill will be enacted by the end of this fiscal year, and that all funds authorized by the bill for the 1995-2000 period will be appropriated. Estimated outlays are based on historical spending patterns of existing programs administered by the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) and the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Health (OASH).

This bill would affect direct spending by authorizing Health Education Assistance Loan (HEAL) guarantees for fiscal years 1996-1999. In addition, S. 555 could affect offsetting receipts by increasing collections from the estates of certain borrowers whose federally insured student loans were in default, but the amounts involved would be negligible.

Table 1 summarizes the estimated budgetary impact of the bill under the assumption that where such sums as necessary are authorized, appropriations would be increased from the 1996 authorization to account for discretionary inflation. The estimate assumes that appropriations would be reduced evenly for the intervening years when the bill specifies lower authorizations in 1999 than in 1996 and authorizes such sums as necessary in 1997 and 1998.

The estimate assumes that appropriations would be reduced evenly for the intervening years when the bill specifies lower authorizations in 1999 than in 1996 and authorizes such sums as necessary in 1997 and 1998.

The costs of this bill fall within budget function 550.

6. Basis of estimate: Title I—Health Professions Education and Financial Assistance Programs. This title would consolidate current programs providing support for health professions training and education into six new programs. It would also reauthorize several other programs without consolidating them. In addition, the bill would reauthorize guarantee authority for the Health Education Assistance Loan (HEAL) program. In general, 1996 authorization levels in this title are comparable to the amounts appropriated for 1995.

Subtitle A would consolidate current programs authorized under Title VII of the Public Health Service Act and would authorize four new programs. Section 101 of this subtitle would permit the Secretary of Health and Human Services to make grants to or enter into contracts with health professions schools, state and local governments, and eligible nonprofit organizations. The funds provided could be used to plan, develop, or operate projects intended to increase the number and quality of minority and disadvantaged health professionals. This program would consolidate current authority for Centers of Excellence in Minority Health, the Health Careers Opportunity program, and the Minority Faculty Fellowships and Minority Faculty Loan Repayment programs. This section would authorize $51 million for 1996 and such sums as necessary for 1997 through 1999. Funding for the programs consolidated under this section is $51 million in 1995.

Section 102 would consolidate current authority for Family Medicine Training, General Internal Medicine and General Pediatrics Training, Physician Assistant Training, Preventive Medicine and Dental Public Health, Geriatric Medicine and Dentistry Faculty Development, and General Dentistry Training. The new program would permit the Secretary to make grants to or enter into contracts with health professions schools and eligible nonprofit organizations planning, developing, or operating projects to improve training in these areas. Preference would be given to programs with historical success in training health professionals who enter practice in underserved areas. This section would authorize $76 million for 1996 and such sums as necessary for 1997 through 1999. Funding for the programs consolidated under this section is $79 million in 1995.

Section 103 would provide support to eligible entities planning, developing, or operating projects to train health professionals in rural and underserved areas. It would also provide funding for geriatric training and public health training centers. Current authority for Area Health Education Centers, Health Education and Training Centers, Geriatric Education Centers, Rural Health Interdisciplinary Training, and Public Health Special Projects would be consolidated. This section would authorize $43 million for 1996, such sums as necessary for 1997 and 1998, and $29 million for 1999. Funding for the programs consolidated under this section is $42 million in 1995.

Section 104 would permit the Secretary to award grants and enter into contracts with health professions schools and nonprofit organizations for projects to strengthen their capacity for the education of individuals in certain health professions determined to have a shortage of personnel. This section would consolidate current authority for Health Administration Traineeships, Geriatric Optometry Training, Allied Health Advanced Training and Special Projects, Podiatric Primary Care Residency Training, Chiropractic Demonstration Projects, and AIDS Dental Services. This section would authorize appropriations of $16 million for 1996 and such sums as necessary for 1997 through 1999. Funding for the programs consolidated under this section is $13 million in 1995.

Subtitle B would consolidate six nursing education programs authorized under Title VIII of the Public Health Service Act. It would authorize the Secretary to make grants to or enter into contracts with schools of nursing, nursing centers, state or local governments, and other nonprofit organizations. Amounts provided could be used for training program development and support, faculty development, trainee support, and other specified purposes appropriate to meet recognized nursing objectives. Current authority for Nursing Special Projects, Advanced Nurse Education, Nurse Practitioner/Nurse Midwife Education, Nurse Anesthetist Training, Nursing Education for Disadvantaged Individuals, and Professional Nurse Traineeships would be consolidated into three grant programs. This subtitle would authorize $62 million for 1996, such sums as necessary for 1997 through 1998, and $59 million for 1999. Funding for the programs consolidated under this subtitle is $61 million in 1995.

Subtitle C would consolidate several loan repayment, scholarship, and scholarship payback programs, reauthorize without consolidating revolving loan programs operated by schools, and reauthorize the HEAL Guarantee program.

Part 1 of this subtitle would consolidate Public Health Traineeships, and the State Loan Repayment, Community Based Scholarship, and Nursing Loan Repayment Programs into the existing National Health Service Corps Scholarship and Loan Repayment Program. This program provides support to health professionals and public health professionals in return for providing service in underserved areas. This part would authorize $90 million for 1996 and such sums as necessary for 1997 through 2000. Funding for the programs consolidated under this part is $85 million in 1995.

Part 2 of this subtitle would reauthorize four school-based revolving loan programs: the Nursing Student Loan (NSL) program; the Primary Care Loan (PCL) program; the Health Professions Student Loan (HPSL) program; and the Loans for Disadvantaged Students (LDS) program. The NSL, PCL, and HPSL programs would continue using revolving funds that remain available at health professions schools and would not be authorized to receive appropriations. This part would authorize $8 million annually for the 1996-1998 period for the LDS program. Authority for appropriations would be repeated for 1999.

Part 3 of this subtitle would reauthorize the Health Education Assistance Loan Guarantee program with minor changes. First, loan repayment would be delayed for borrowers who provide health care services to Indians through an Indian Health Service program. Second, this part would permit collections from the estates of deceased HEAL borrowers whose loans are in default. Third, for lenders not meeting specified performance standards, this part would reduce federal payments from 100 percent to 98 percent of any losses incurred through loan defaults. CBO estimates that these provisions would have a negligible effect on the federal budget.

This part would authorize lending limits for HEAL of $350 million for 1996, $375 million for 1997, and $425 million for 1998 and 1999. A provision in current law that permits lending to previous borrowers after authority has expired means that the new authority in each year would be less than the lending limit for that year. For example, assuming that borrowers were in four-year programs, about 75 percent of 1995 authority would be estimated to carry over into 1996. Similarly, CBO estimates that 75 percent of the 1999 authorization would carry over into 2000. For the purposes of this estimate, CBO assumes that loan disbursements would be equal to the amount authorized. Further, CBO estimates that these disbursements would entail an average subsidy rate of 7 percent. Thus, direct spending is estimated to be $5 million in 1996, rising to $30 million in 1999.

Part 4 of this subtitle would consolidate three scholarship programs for minorities and disadvantaged students into a single program. This part would permit the Secretary to award grants to health professions schools for scholarships to disadvantaged individuals. This part would authorize $32 million annually over the 1996-1999 period. Funding for the scholarship programs consolidated under this part was $36 million in 1995.

Title II—Office of Minority Health. This title would extend authority for the Office of Minority Health through 1999. It would further ensure that the office only coordinates services, and does not conduct its own services and research program. This title would authorize $21 million for 1996, such sums as necessary for 1997 and 1998, and $19 million for 1999. Funding for this office was $21 million in 1995.

Title III—Selected Initiatives. This title would authorize five research programs. First, Section 301 would authorize the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) to establish an intramural program for research on birth defects. Funding would occur under the general CDC appropriation; no specific authorization is made for this program and CBO has no basis for estimating the amount that would be spent on this type of research. Funding for the CDC was $2.1 billion in 1995.

Section 302 would provide for the National Institutes of Health to conduct research on traumatic brain injury and would authorize a demonstration program on the development of state systems of care for people with traumatic brain injury. The demonstration program would be administered by the Health Research and Services Administration. This provision would authorize $5 million for 1995 and such sums as necessary for 1996 and 1997.

Section 303 of this title would extend authority for State Offices of Rural Health through 1997, after which the authority would be repealed. Such sums as necessary would be authorized for 1996 and 1997, with a cumulative limit of appropriations of $20 million. This estimate assumes appropriations of $4 million a year.

Section 304 would extend the initiative that permits the Secretary to make grants to or enter into contracts with organizations serving the health needs of Pacific Islanders. This section would authorize $3 million for 1995, $4 million for 1996, and $5 million for 1997. The authority for 1995 is not included in the tables because an appropriation was made for that year, and the authorization would not result in additional spending.

Finally, Section 305 would extend authority for demonstration projects regarding Alzheimer's disease. Such sums as necessary would be authorized for 1996 through 1998. Based on 1995 funding, this estimate assumes appropriations of about $5 million a year for this purpose.

Title IV—Miscellaneous Provisions. This title makes a number of technical revisions. Section 404 would permit recovery of the federal share of construction costs with interest for facilities whose owners cease to be eligible for funding in support of health professions education. CBO has not basis on which to estimate the budgetary effects of this provision.

7. Pay-as-you-go considerations: Section 252 of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 sets up pay-as-you-go procedures for legislation affecting direct spending or receipts through 1998. Enactment of S. 555 would affect spending for Health Education Assistance Loan guarantees, which are classified as mandatory under the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990. Enactment of S. 555 could also affect offsetting receipts because it would increase default collections from the estates of deceased borrowers. CBO estimates that the amounts of such collections would be negligible.

Requires the Secretary to provide preferences for: (1) projects involving more than one health professions discipline or training institution with an above average record of retentions and graduating individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds, and (2) centers of excellence at Historically Black Colleges and Universities beginning in fiscal year 1999 and thereafter. Authorizes appropriations of $51 million for fiscal year 1996, and such sums as may be necessary for fiscal year 1997 through fiscal year 1999. Further requires the Secretary to set-aside $12 million of the appropriated amounts in fiscal year 1996 through fiscal year 1998 for making grants to centers of excellence at certain Historically Black Colleges and Universities.

Repeals section 795 of the PHS Act, which requires individuals receiving scholarships, stipends, loan repayments, or other financial assistance under title VII, to complete their educational program, enter and complete a residency in primary care and practice in the primary care specialty for 5 years if they attended a school of dentistry. Provides for the continuation of existing agreements in effect as of the day before enactment in effect in accordance with the terms of the original agreements. Counts any period of practice as a primary care provider toward satisfying of the requirement of practice in section 795.

Section 102 amends Part C of title VII of the PHS Act to create Training in Primary Health Care and Preventive Medicine program. Repeals section 746, authorizing the Area Health Education Center Programs, and sections 748-752 authorizing General Provisions related to traineeships and fellowships awarded to individuals under these programs. Amends section 747 to provide the Training in Family Medicine, General Internal Medicine, General Pediatrics, Preventive Medicine, Physicians Assistants, and General Dentistry authority. Under the new section 747, provides for grants to: (1) plan develop, and operate, or participate in approved professional training programs (including an approved residency or internship program) in the field of family medicine, or pediatrics, that emphasize training for the practice of family medicine, general internal medicine, or general pediatrics; (2) provide financial assistance to medical students, interns, residents, practicing physicians, or other medical personnel, who plan to specialize or work in the practice of family medicine, general internal medicine, or general pediatrics; (3) plan, develop, and operate a training program to teach family medicine, general internal medicine (including geriatrics), or general pediatrics; (4) provide financial assistance to physicians who are participants in any such program and plan to teach in a family medicine, general internal medicine (including geriatrics), or general pediatrics; (5) meet the costs of projects to plan, develop, and operate or maintain programs for the training of physician assistants, and for training of individuals who will teach such programs; (6) meet the costs of projects to plan and develop new residency training programs and to maintain or improve existing residency training programs in preventive medicine, that have available full-time faculty members trained and experienced in the field of preventive medicine, and for providing financial assistance to residency trainees enrolled in such programs; and (7) meet the costs of planning, developing, or operating programs that would lead to significantly greater ratio of participating individuals in such programs eventually entering practice in general dentistry in rural and medically underserved communities. Allows the Secretary to fund programs that provide a significant amount of care for underserved populations and other high-risk groups, including programs in general dentistry if the Secretary determines that there is a national shortage of general dentists.

Expands the Secretary's authority to provide grants or contracts for academic administrative units of medical schools to meet the costs of projects providing clinical instruction to include family medicine, general internal medicine, or general pediatrics; provides preference in making awards to applicants agreeing to establish and operate an academic administrative unit, or substantially expand such a unit, for programs in family medicine, general internal medicine, or general pediatrics. Requires the Secretary to give priority in awarding grants to qualified applicants with a record of training the greatest percentage of providers, or that demonstrate significant improvements in the percentage of providers which enter and remain in primary care practice after completing their initial board certification. Prohibits the Secretary from providing grants or contracts for administrative units, unless the medical school has a mission statement that includes a primary care medical education objective, faculty role models and administrative units in primary care, and required undergraduate ambulatory medical student clerkships in family medicine, internal medicine, and pediatrics.

Authorizes appropriations of $80 million for fiscal year 1996, and such sums as may be necessary for fiscal year 1997-99. Requires the Secretary to make available not less than 12 percent of appropriated amounts for awards of grants and contracts to family medicine academic administrative units.

Section 103 amends Part D of title VII providing for Area Health Education Centers (new section 750 of the PHS Act), authorizing the Secretary to make grants and enter contracts with eligible entities for projects to: (1) improve the recruitment, distribution, supply, quality, utilization, and efficiency of health personnel providing care for urban and rural areas with serious unmet health care needs; (2) encourage the regionalization of educational responsibilities of health professions schools; (3) design projects to prepare, through field placements, preceptorships, community-based primary care residency programs, agreements with community-based organizations, and other programs training individuals to effectively provide health services in health professions shortage areas [HPSAs]; (4) conduct health professions education and training activities consistent with national and State priorities, including geriatrics; (5) encourage health promotion and disease prevention activities; (6) conduct interdisciplinary training and practice involving other health professionals; (7) conduct continuing education programs for health professionals or coordinate with such programs; and (8) address other areas determined appropriate by the Secretary.

Requires the Secretary to give preference in awarding grants or contracts to projects that involve more than one health professions discipline or training institution, and have a good record of retention and graduation of individuals that enter practice in medically underserved communities. Requires the Secretary to award grants or contracts for the establishment of geriatric education centers, making a determination to fund a center if the Secretary determines that a greater need exists for training through geriatric education centers rather than through other entities, taking into consideration the impact of programs under section 747, as amended by the bill, would have on the production of geriatric health professionals. Also authorizes the Secretary to award grants or contracts for the operation of public health training centers accredited for the provision of graduate or specialized training in public health, that plans, develops, operates, and evaluates projects furthering the Secretary's goals for the year 2000 in the areas of preventive medicine, health promotion and disease prevention, or improving access to and quality of health services in medically underserved communities. Authorizes appropriations of $39 million for fiscal year 1996, and such sums as may be necessary for fiscal year 1997 and fiscal year 1998, and $25 million for fiscal year 1999.

Section 104 amends Part E of title VII to provide the health Profession Workforce Development program by redesignating section 776 (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome Special Training Project) as section 761 (Public Health Traineeships), and striking sections 777 (Geriatrics Special Training Project) and 778 (Rural Areas Special Training Project). Creates a new section 762, Health Profession Workforce Development program, authorizing the Secretary to award grants and enter contracts for projects to strengthen the capacity for health professions education and practice. Requires the Secretary to give priority in awarding grants and contracts to entities that will use grant amounts for the purposes of: (1) providing care for underserved populations and other high-risk groups; (2) increasing the number of individuals who are pursuing a course of study in a field in which there is a severe shortage of health professionals; (3) conducting health professions research and data collection; and (4) carrying out other activities in areas determined appropriate by the Secretary. Authorizes appropriations of $16 million for fiscal year 1996, such sums as necessary for each of fiscal year 1997 and fiscal year 1998, and $5 million for fiscal year 1999. Further requires the Secretary to reserve $2 million of the amount appropriated in a fiscal year for carrying out health professions research and data collection and analysis in accordance with section 792, which is amended to require the Secretary to expand the uniform health professions data reporting system when necessary and collect data on clinical social workers.

Amends section 301 of the Health Professions Education Extension Amendment of 1992 (P.L. 102-408), to extend the required date for the Advisory Council on Graduate Medical Education's final report on health professions issues until April 1, 1999, and extends the termination date authorizing the Council until September 30, 1999. Authorizes the Secretary to provide funding for the Council from appropriations provided under title VII. Transfers the section to part E of title VII as section 763.

Section 105 repeals Part F of title VII, Miscellaneous Programs; amends Part G of title VII by redesignating such part as Part F; strikes section 791(b) requiring applicants to submit information to the Secretary describing the program to be administered with such a grant; repeals section 793 (Statistics; Annual Report) requiring the Secretary to collect, analyze, and report annually on health professions data; repeals section 798 (Certain General Provisions); and redesignates section 799 (Definitions) as section 799B. Inserts new section 796, requiring applicants for grants under this section to submit to the Secretary an application that meets the requirements of the section including a plan for carrying out a project consistent with Federal, State, or regional program plans, contains specification of performance outcome standards for the grant or contract, and includes a description of the linkages between relevant educational and health care entities. Also provides that grant or contract funds could be used for training program development and support, faculty development, model demonstrations, trainee support, technical assistance, workforce analysis, and the dissemination of information, as appropriate. Entities receiving grants or contracts would be required to agree to maintain expenditures of non-Federal amounts at a level of expenditures in the preceding fiscal year. Authorizes the Secretary to require the entity applying for a grant to provide non-Federal matching funds. Payments would be made under a grant, cooperative agreement, or contract for a period not exceeding 5 years, subject to annual approval by the Secretary. Grant applications submitted under this title to be evaluated by a peer review group. In considering a preference or priority for funding based on outcome measures for an eligible entity, allows the Secretary to consider the future ability of the eligible entity to meet the outcome preference or priority through improvements in the eligible entity's program design. Requires the Secretary to use appropriate funds to provide technical assistance.

Section 106 amends section 791 by providing a preference, to permit new programs to compete more equitably for funding, for programs that meet certain criteria demonstrating that substantial clinical training of health professionals would be focused on preparation to serve in medically underserved areas, student assistance linked to service in medically underserved communities, and a placement mechanism for deploying graduates to medically underserved communities would be included.

Section 107 amends section 799B, as amended by the bill, replacing, in the definition of an eligible entity, a program in clinical psychology with a graduate program leading to the licensure in professional psychology. Adds to the definition of a medically underserved community a: (1) State or local health department that has a severe shortage of public health personnel as determined under criteria established by the Secretary; (2) ambulatory practice sites designated by the State Governors as shortage areas or medically underserved communities for purposes of State scholarships or loan repayment programs; or (3) areas with practices or facilities in which not less than 50 percent of the patients are recipients of aid under Medicaid, or eligible and uninsured. Also defines programs to train physician assistants as programs that: (1) extend for at least one academic year and include supervised clinical practice and at least four months of classroom instruction to prepare students to deliver health care; (2) have enrollment of not less than eight students, and train students in primary care, disease prevention, health promotion, geriatric medicine, and home health care.

Section 108 authorizes the Secretary to continue in effect any grant or contract made under the authority in effect the day before enactment of the bill, subject to the duration of such a grant or contract that was in place when the first financial assistance was approved, or in approving the most recent request made (before enactment) for continuation of such assistance.

Subtitle B—Nursing Education

Section 121 provides the short title, the Nursing Education Consolidation and Reauthorization Act of 1995.

Section 122 specifies that the purpose of this title is to restructure the nurse education authorities of title VIII of the PHS Act to permit a comprehensive, flexible, and effective approach to Federal support for nursing workforce development.

Section 123 amends title VIII of the PHS Act by striking the title heading and all that follows except subparts II (Student Loans) and III (Loan Repayment Program) of Part B, and sections 855 (Prohibitions Against Discrimination by Schools on the Basis of Sex) and 860 (Certain Generally Applicable Provisions), and inserting new sections in title VIII. Redesignates subpart III as subpart II, strikes section 837 (Authorization of Appropriations for Student Loan Funds). Inserts a new section under Part A (General Provisions) providing definitions of eligible entities, schools of nursing, accredited programs, nonprofit, and State. Requires eligible entities to submit an application to the Secretary with a plan for meeting the objectives of the title along with performance outcome standards relevant to national nursing needs, and a description of linkages with relevant educational and health care entities. Authorizes the use of grant or contract funds for nurse training program development and support, faculty development, model demonstrations, trainee support, technical assistance, workforce analysis, and dissemination of information appropriate to meet recognized nursing objectives. Also provides for maintenance of effort for activities supported by grants, requiring that entities agree to maintain expenditures of non-Federal amounts for such activities at a level that is not less than the entity maintained for the preceding fiscal year before getting the grant. Authorizes the Secretary to require an entity to provide non-Federal matching funds, as appropriate, to ensure the institutional commitment to the program. Requires the Secretary to give preference to applicants with projects that will substantially benefit rural or underserved populations, or public health personnel shortage professions in State or local health departments. Further requires the Secretary to ensure that grants and contracts are awarded on a competitive basis to carry out innovative demonstration projects to provide strategic workforce supplementation activities needed to meet national nursing service goals. Requires the Secretary to annually approve the payments of a grant or contract, and limits payments to a period that may not exceed 5 years. Applications for grants, except advanced nurse traineeship grants, would be required to be submitted to a peer review group for evaluation. Prohibits the Secretary from approving an application unless a peer review group has recommended the application for approval.

Establishes a National Advisory Council on Nurse Education and Practice, consisting of the Secretary or delegate, and 15 members appointed by the Secretary. Requires the Council to include full-time nursing students, the general public, practicing professional nurses, and leading authorities in the various fields of nursing, higher and secondary education, representative of hospitals and other institutions providing nursing services. Requires the Council to advise the Secretary in preparation of general regulations and with respect to policy matters related to administering nursing education programs in title VIII, including issues relating to nurse supply, education and practice improvement. Authorizes the Secretary to use amounts appropriated under title VIII to support the education and practice activities of the Council.

Authorizes the Secretary to use funds appropriated under title VIII to provide technical assistance for the programs under this title.

Provides for recovery of construction assistance, plus any interest, by the Federal government any time within 20 years after completion of construction of a facility, if the owner of the facility ceases to be a public or nonprofit school, the facility ceases to be used for the training purposes for which it was constructed, or the facility is used for sectarian instruction or as a place for religious worship.

Provides for new Part B—Nurse Practitioners, Nurse Midwives, and other Advanced Practice Nurses program (section 811), authorizing the Secretary to award grants and enter contracts with eligible entities for the costs of projects to support the enhancement of advanced practice nursing education and practice, and traineeships for individuals in advanced practice nursing programs. Requires the Secretary to prescribe guidelines for authorized programs for nurse practitioners and nurse-midwifery, and other advanced practice nurse education programs, designed to train such providers to be qualified to effectively provide primary health care in homes, ambulatory care facilities, long-term care facilities, and other health care institutions. The guidelines include, at a minimum, requirements that the program: (1) extend for at least one academic year and consist of supervised clinical practice to prepare nurses to deliver primary health care and include at least 4 months (in the aggregate) of classroom instruction directed at the delivery of primary care, and (2) have an enrollment of not less than six full-time equivalent students. Prohibits the Secretary from awarding a grant to an applicant unless the applicant agrees to provide traineeships to pay all or part of educational expenses and the reasonable living expenses of a student. Also prohibits the Secretary from obligating more than 10 percent of the traineeships for individuals in doctorate degree programs. Requires the Secretary to give special consideration to entities that agree to expend the award to train advanced practice nurses who will practice in designated HPSA's.

Provides for new Part C—Increasing Nursing Workforce Diversity program (section 821), authorizing the Secretary to award grants and enter contracts to meet the costs of special projects to increase nursing education opportunities for individuals from disadvantaged racial and ethnic backgrounds underrepresented among registered nurses by providing student scholarships or stipends, pre-entry preparation, and retention activities. Requires the Secretary to take into consideration the recommendations of the First and Second Invitational congresses for Minority Nurse Leaders on "Caring for the Emerging Majority" in 1992 and 1993, and consult with nursing associations in carrying out this program. Authorizes the Secretary to request information on annual admission, retention, and graduation rates for ethnic and racial minorities from schools receiving grants, and if any of the rates reported fall below the average of the two previous years, the grant or contract would be required to provide the Secretary with plans for immediately improving the rates. If the grant recipient with falling rates fails to improve the rates within the 1-year period beginning on the date of implementing the plan, the grant recipient would become ineligible for continued funding.

Provides for new Part D—Strengthening Capacity for Basic Nurse Education and Practice program (section 831), authorizing the Secretary to award grants and enter contracts with eligible entities for projects to strengthen capacity for basic nurse education and practice. Requires the Secretary to give priority to entities that will use amounts provided to enhance the education mix and utilization of the basic nursing workforce by strengthening programs that provide basic nurse education for purposes of: (1) improving nursing services in schools and other community settings; (2) providing care for underserved populations and other high-risk groups such as the elderly, individuals with HIV-AIDS, substance abusers, homeless persons, and battered women; (3) providing case management, quality improvements, delegation and supervision, other skills needed under new health care systems; (4) developing cultural competencies among nurses; (5) providing emergency health services; (6) promoting career mobility for nursing personnel in a variety of training settings and cross training or specialty training among diverse populations; or (7) other priority areas determined by the Secretary.

Provides new Part E—Authorization of Appropriations, authorizing appropriations for new sections 811, 821 and 831 of $62 million for fiscal year 1996, and such sums as necessary in each of the fiscal years 1997 and 1998, and $59 million for fiscal year 1999.

Section 124 authorizes the Secretary to continue in effect any grant or contract made under the authority in effect on the day before enactment, subject to the duration of such grant when it was first approved or most recently requested for continuation.

Section 125 amends section 810A of the PHS Act, as amended by the bill, requiring that new nurse training programs be given preference to allow them to compete equitable for funding, as long as the program was designed to prepare nurses to serve in medically underserved communities and encourage practice among underserved populations.

Section 126 provides an effective date for the provisions of this subtitle of October 1, 1995, or the date of enactment of the bill, whichever is later.

Subtitle C—Financial Assistance

Part 1—National Health Service Corps Financial Assistance Programs

Section 131 amends section 338B, the Loan Repayment Program, to include public health disease prevention and health promotion activities, public health professionals, and public health schools as eligible activities, individuals, and institutions to participate in the NHSC loan repayment program.

Authorizes appropriations of $90 million for fiscal year 1996, and such sums as may be necessary for fiscal years 1998 through 2000.

Requires the Secretary to determine the most appropriate manner to allocate amounts between the scholarship, loan repayment, and State loan repayment programs. Also requires the Secretary to give priority to funding State-based programs as appropriate under chapter 3, distributing amounts among the programs in a way that furthers both Federal and State needs for health professionals in underserved areas.

Amends section 338I, Grants to States for Loan Repayment Programs, to include public health professionals among eligible health professionals, and amends references to HPSA's to include public health disease prevention and health promotion activities in Federal HPSA's or approved State designated HPSA's. Provides that a State may waive the requirement that a health professional be assigned only to public and nonprofit private entities to include service in a full-time private clinical practice in a HPSA. Amends section 723(a) to require student loan recipients to practice primary health care for 5 years after completing the required residency program in primary health care.

Section 136 amends section 724(f)(1) authorizing Federal capital contributions to student loan funds, authorizing appropriations of $8 million for each of the fiscal years 1996 through 1998. Repeals the authority for appropriations effective October 1, 1998.

Section 137 amends section 836(b) providing, pursuant to uniform criteria established by the Secretary, the 10-year repayment requirements for any nursing student borrower who during the repayment period failed to make consecutive payments and who, during the last 12 months of the repayment period, had made at least 12 consecutive payments could be extended for a period not to exceed 10 years. Amends section 836(g) requiring a minimum payment of $15 dollars per month during the repayment period of a loan from a loan fund, to require a $40 minimum payment. Eliminates the statute of limitation for loan collections by adding a new section to the end of section 836, providing that obligations to repay loans would be enforced without regard to any Federal or State statutory, regulatory, or administrative limitation on the period within which debts may be enforced. Also provides that no limitation would terminate the period within which a suit may be filed, a judgment enforced, or an offset, garnishment, or other action may be initiated or taken by a school of nursing with an agreement with the Secretary seeking the repayment of a student loan. Both statute of limitation provisions would be effective on enactment. Creates a new section for breach of agreements for nursing student loan recipients who agreed to provide health services for a period of time in return for receiving loan repayments, requiring recipients to repay the Federal Government for the amount of the award, plus interest at the maximum legal prevailing rate within a three-year period. Amends section 839 to include requirements for capital distribution when a school terminates a nursing loan fund.

Includes conforming amendments and provides an effective date that applies to services provided on or after the first day of the third month that begins after the date of enactment. Also amends section 714 by allowing the Secretary, in the case of a borrower who dies, to collect any unpaid balance of a loan owed to the lender, holder of the loan, or the Federal Government from the borrower's estate.

Section 142 amends section 707(a) requiring the Secretary to pay an insurance beneficiary not designated for exceptional performance a sum equal to 98 percent of the amount of the loss sustained by insured on a defaulted loan. Adds new section providing the Secretary to pay 100 percent of a loan loss, if the Secretary determines that an eligible lender, holder, or servicer of a loan has a compliance performance rating that equals or exceeds 97 percent. A compliance performance rating would be determined with respect to compliance with due diligence in the collection of loans for each year for which the determination was made, and eligible lenders interested in an exceptional performance designation would be subject to annual financial and compliance audits.

Section 143 amends section 702(a) authorizing the total amount of new loans made to borrowers under the HEAL program in 1996 of $350 million in 1997 of $37 million, and $425 million for each of the fiscal years 1998 and 1999. Amends section 710(a)(2)(B) extending the Secretary's authority to reserve $1,000,000 from the Prohibits the Secretary from making a grant or entering a contract unless the health professions and nursing schools agreed to give preference to students for whom the costs of attending the school would be a severe financial hardship. Requires the Secretary to give priority to such schools based on the proportion of graduating students going into primary care, the proportion of minority students, and the proportion of graduates working in medically underserved areas. Also establishes the maximum scholarship award for an individual in a year of $3,000. Authorizes appropriations of $32 million for each of fiscal years 1996–99. Requires the Secretary to ensure that not less than 16 percent of the appropriated amounts be distributed to schools of nursing.

The Advisory Committee would be required to make recommendations regarding language as an impediment to health care, the equitable allocation of grant awards under certain programs with respect to various racial and minority populations, and require the Secretary to ensure that information and services are provided in the language, educational, and cultural context most appropriate. The Deputy Assistant Secretary would be required to ensure that grant, contracts awards, and cooperative agreements, are made to public and nonprofit private entities. Further requires the Deputy Assistant Secretary to submit to the relevant congressional committees a biennial report, describing the activities carried out in the preceding two fiscal years, and evaluate the extent to which such activities have been effective in improving the health of racial and ethnic minorities.

Requires the Secretary to: (1) collect and analyze data by gender, and by racial and ethnic group; (2) collect data from birth certificates, death certificates, hospital records, and other appropriate sources; and (3) encourage States to establish or improve programs for collecting and analyzing epidemiological data on birth defects and make the data available. Also requires the Secretary to establish and maintain a National Information Clearinghouse on Birth Defects to collect and disseminated to health professionals and the general public information on birth defects, including the prevention of such defects. Authorizes the Secretary to make grants and enter into contracts with public and nonprofit private entities to carry out these programs. Not later than February 1 of fiscal year 1997, and every second year after, requires the Secretary to submit to the relevant congressional committees a report containing information regarding birth defects, including; (1) the incidence and prevalence of birth defects and the extent to which they contribute to infant mortality; (2) similar information specific to various racial and ethnic groups; (3) assessment of the effectiveness of various approaches of preventing birth defects; (4) a description of the activities of these programs; and (5) any recommendations regarding birth defects.

Section 302 amends section 1261 of the PHS Act, the Interagency Program for Trauma Research, requiring that the program activities include the authority to make awards of grants or contracts to public or nonprofit private entities for the conduct of basic and applied research regarding traumatic brain injury. Also amends Part E of title XII of the PHS Act, Trauma Care, authorizing the Secretary to make grants to States for the purpose of carrying out demonstration projects to improve the availability of health services regarding traumatic brain injury. Authorizes the Secretary to make a grant only if the State involved agrees to establish an advisory board within the appropriate health department or another appropriate department required to be cognizant of findings and concerns of Federal, State and local agencies, citizens groups, and private industry. The advisory board would be required to encourage citizen participation through the establishment of public hearings and other types of community outreach programs. The bill authorizes the Secretary to make grants to States if the State agrees to make available in cash, non-Federal contributions toward the costs of not less than $1 for each $2 of Federal funds provided under the grant.

Requires the Secretary to report to the relevant congressional committees not later than 18 months after enactment, on the findings on the incidence of traumatic brain injury. In addition, requires the Secretary to report to the relevant congressional committees not later than 3 years after enactment on the findings made as a result of identifying common therapeutic interventions and developing practice guidelines. Requires the Secretary, acting through the appropriate agencies, to conduct a national consensus conference on managing traumatic brain injury and related rehabilitation concerns.

Authorizes appropriations of such sums as may be necessary for each of the fiscal years 1996 and 1997, and increases to $20 million the aggregate amount of grants that may be made under the section. Repeals section 338M, as redesignated by the bill, effective on October 1, 1997.

Section 304 amends section 10, Grants for Health Services for Pacific Islanders, of the Disadvantaged Minority Health Improvement Act of 1990, expanding the use of the grants for improving the quality and availability of substance abuse services and eliminating the use of the grants for improved health data systems. Further amends the use of the grants for improving the quality and availability of health care providers, including programs and projects to train new and upgrade the skills of existing health professionals. Eliminates the use of the grants to improve facility and equipment repair and maintenance systems, and to improve alcohol, drug abuse, and mental health prevention and treatment services and systems, and redesignates the following paragraphs. Provides for grants to be used to: (1) provide primary health care, preventive health care and related training to American Samoan health care professionals; and (2) improve access to health promotion and disease prevention services for rural American Samoa. Requires the Secretary to prepare and submit to the relevant congressional committees, not later than July 1, 1996, a report describing the findings made by the study.

Section 305 amends section 398 of the PHS Act eliminating the limit on the number of demonstration projects regarding Alzheimer's disease, and limits the provisions of respite care to individuals who are living in single family homes or in congregate settings. The bill would provide grants for programs to improve the access of such individuals to home-based or community-based long-term care services, particularly for individuals who are members of racial or ethnic minority groups, who have limited proficiency in speaking the English language, or who live in rural areas. Amends section 398A, eliminating the limitation on the duration of the grant, renaming the section as Requirement of Matching Funds, and continuing to provide a matching fund requirement. VIII. ADDITIONAL VIEWS OF SENATORS COATS, ASHCROFT, GREGG,
ABRAHAM, GORTON, AND DEWINE

Sections 141-143 reauthorize the Health Education Assistance Loans to Graduate Students. Current HEAL loan regulations at 42 C.F.R. 60.11 may infringe on the civil rights or religious freedoms of certain health care providers by permitting deferral of HEAL loan repayment only if the loan recipient attends a residency program accredited by the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME). The ACGME has proposed standards that require accredited programs to provide or arrange for training in induced abortion procedures.

An amendment by Senator Coats that would have addressed this situation was not offered after Members on both sides expressed concern with the new standard and an interest in working on acceptable language. In the meantime, the ACGME and other interested parties have agreed to meet and revisit the proposed standards.

We reaffirm our resolve to ensure that this legislation does not violate the civil rights of health care providers by conditioning receipt of government benefits on a provider's willingness to perform or train induced abortions or to arrange for the performance or training of induced abortions.

(B) COMPLIANCE PERFORMANCE RATING.—For purposes of subparagraph (A), a compliance performance rating is determined with respect to compliance with due diligence in the disbursement, servicing, and collection of loans under this subpart for each year for which the determination is made. Such rating shall be equal to the percentage of all due diligence requirements applicable to each loan, on average, as established by the Secretary, with respect to loans serviced during the period by the eligible lender, holder, or servicer.

(C) ANNUAL AUDITS FOR LENDERS, HOLDERS, AND SERVICERS.—Each eligible lender, holder, or servicer desiring a designation under subparagraph (A) shall have an annual financial and compliance audit conducted with respect to the loan portfolio of such eligible lender, holder, or servicer, by a qualified independent organization from a list of qualified organizations identified by the Secretary and in accordance with standards established by the Secretary. The standards shall measure the lender's, holder's, or servicer's compliance with due diligence standards and shall include a defined statistical sampling technique designed to measure the performance rating of the eligible lender, holder, or servicer for the purpose of this sec-

(I) ADDITIONAL REVOCATION AUTHORITY.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, a designation under subparagraph (A) may be revoked at any time by the Secretary if the Secretary determines that the eligible lender, holder, or servicer has failed to maintain an overall level of compliance consistent with the audit submitted by the eligible lender, holder, or servicer under this paragraph or if the Secretary asserts that the lender, holder, or servicer may have engaged in fraud in securing designation under subparagraph (A) or is failing to service loans in accordance with program requirements.
