ABSTRACT

In fall 1994, Westchester Community College (WCC), in New York, conducted a study of the 1,018 students who graduated in summer or fall 1993 or spring 1994 to determine educational and work-related outcomes and compare findings to outcomes for previous years' graduates. Study findings, based on responses from 436 (42.8%) of the graduates, included the following: (1) respondents were 54.3% female, down slightly from 56% in 1993; (2) the percentage of Blacks in the graduating class rose from 11.3% in 1993 to 15.9% in 1994; (3) 59.9% of the respondents indicated that they had transferred to a four-year college, with 78.8% of these intending to achieve a Bachelor's degree; (4) factors facilitating transfer included availability of desired program, cited by 72.1% of the respondents, and location and cost, cited by 66.7%; (5) 70.2% of the respondents were employed, while the mean salary of graduates employed full-time was $27,071, up almost $2,000 from 1993; (6) as with the 4 previous graduating classes, at least 96% of the 1994 respondents gave a very satisfied or satisfied rating for their overall WCC experience; (7) the student services which received the highest numbers of very satisfied ratings from 1994 respondents were library services at 68.3%, computer services at 51.3%, and tutorial services at 47.8%; and (8) 75.2% indicated that their goals had been met by their WCC degree. Data tables and the survey instrument are appended. (BCY)

COMMUNITY COLLEGE

September 1, 1995

Dear Reader,

We are proud to present this report on the Westchester Community College graduates of the Class of 1994. They are making a significant contribution to the educational and economic well being of Westchester county.

As noted in the Appendices, our graduates currently are employed at 125 companies and firms in Westchester county and at another 25 companies in New York State, but outside the county. In total, over four fifths (81.8%) of the respondents are employed in Westchester county or New York state. Their average salary is $27,071, up almost $2,000 over that of the 1993 graduates.

Also as noted in the Appendices, our graduates are continuing their education at 68 colleges throughout the United States, including prime institutions such as Columbia University, Dartmouth, and the University of Michigan. In total, three-fifths of the respondents (59.9%) transferred to a four-year college.

The respondents' evaluation of Westchester Community Colleges, including the instruction and services we provided them, is very gratifying. So is their high appraisal of the College's success in helping them to achieve the goals they had when they came to the College.

We hope you take as much pleasure as we do in learning about their successes and the contributions that Westchester Community College has made to their lives.

Sincerely yours,

Executive Summary

Based on a number of indicators, the 1994 Westchester Community College graduates responding to the 1994 survey appear to have fared quite well since graduating. The mean salary of those employed full-time is $27,071, up almost $2,000 from that reported by the Class of 1993 ($25,278). Nearly the same percentage reported being employed (70.2%) as last year's graduating class (73.8%), and, of those employed, almost the same percentage reported being employed full-time (70.9%) as the previous year (69.3%).

Demographic Characteristics: A review of the demographic characteristics of the entire class of 1994 including the respondents, reveals several minor changes.

Gender: The percentage of female graduates (54.3%) remains slightly ahead of the males (45.7%). But the trend of an increasing percentage of women graduates was reversed this year, going from 56.0% in 1993 to 54.3% in 1994.

Ethnic background: The percentage of Blacks in the graduation class is up rather substantially, going from 11.3% in 1993 to 15.9% in 1994. The percentage of Hispanics in the class also is up going from 7.7% in 1993 to 8.5% in 1994.

Age: The most noticeable change in demographics is the decrease in the percentage who graduated under age 22. There was a marked decline, going from 30.3% in 1993 to 23.4% for the 1994 graduates. This decrease continues a trend that has been occurring in the last few years.

Education: The percentage transferring to a four-year college remained approximately the same, with three-fifths (59.9%) of the 1994 class reporting they had transferred to a four-year college compared to 63.1% of the 1993 class.

Attending College full time: The percentage of 1994 graduates who reported attending college full time (70.5%) was down slightly from that reported by the previous class (73.8%). As in previous years, however, a particularly high percentage of those under 22 (88.3%) are attending full time.

Degree Aspirations A large percentage of respondents continuing their education intend to obtain a Bachelor's degree, as in previous years. The percentage of 1994 graduates was down slightly (75.5%), however, from last year's class (82.6%).

Factors Facilitating Transfer: Responses to a set of questions exploring factors important to facilitating transfers showed that the factors considered very

Factors Facilitating Transfer: Responses to a set of questions exploring factors important to facilitating transfers showed that the factors considered very important by the largest percentage of respondents were: Availability of Program Desired (72.1%); Location and Cost (66.7%); and Reputation of College (63.3%).

Employment: Not only is the mean salary of the 1994 graduates up approximately $2,000 over last year's class, but there is also positive news about how the graduates feel about their jobs.

Satisfaction with Job: Over four-fifths of the graduates report being satisfied or very satisfied with their jobs (81.8%) and more than two-thirds (70.1%) were either very satisfied or satisfied with their Opportunity to Advance. Seventy percent (70.0%) felt that their WCC education prepared them for their current job either To a Great Degree or To A Slight Degree.

Location of employment: Over seventy percent (73.2%) of the graduates who are working continue to find employment in Westchester county. This percentage is slightly up over last year's class (71.1%). Another 15.0% of the 1994 graduates were employed outside of Westchester, but inside New York. This means that 88.2% of the 1994 graduates who are working are employed in New York State, a percentage somewhat higher than the 1993 graduating class (87.3%).

Evaluation of College Experience: The respondents in the 1994 survey continued to give unusually high marks to WCC on several broad questions concerning the college and the experience they had while attending.

Overall College Experience: As with the four previous graduating classes (1990 through 1993), at least 96% of the 1994 graduates gave a very satisfied or satisfied rating when asked about their Overall WCC Experience. With regard to the Quality of Instruction, 96% of the 1994 graduates also were either very satisfied or satisfied, a rating very similar to that given by the graduating classes of the four previous years.

Courses in Major: In evaluating Courses in Their Major, a large percentage (95%) were either very satisfied or satisfied. This also compares similarly with the four previous graduating classes.

Availability of Courses: The graduates continue, however, to express some dissatisfaction with the Availability of Courses of Interest to You. For the 1994 graduating class only 83% gave a very satisfied or satisfied rating. While this is up 3% from the previous year (80%), over a period of five years the rating has gone down from 90% in 1990 to 86% in 1991, to 85% in 1992.

Evaluation of Student Services: Respondents were asked to evaluate nineteen student services. The services which received the highest percentage of very satisfied responses were Library Services (68.3%), Computers Services (51.3%), Tutorial Services (47.8%), and Reading and Math Skills Facilities (41.6%).

Effectiveness of WCC in Helping to Achieve Goals of Respondents: Almost three-fourths (75.2%) of the respondents indicated that their goals had been met by their college degree. This is down from the percentage given by the 1993 graduates (78.8%).

Major Goals: When asked what their major goals were in attending WCC, over half (52.2%) said their prime goal was To Increase Their Chances of Getting a Specific Job. Another 28.6% said their prime goal was to Transfer to a Four-Year College. An additional fifth (19.2%) indicated it was To Reach Other Goals Such As Self-fulfillment.

Transfer Goals: The graduates who transferred also were asked to evaluate how effective WCC had been in helping them to achieve their transfer goals. Almost ninety-five percent (94.7%) indicated WCC had been very effective or somewhat effective in helping them to Transfer to a Four-Year College. A smaller percentage (89.5%) indicated WCC had been either very effective or somewhat effective in helping them to Attain Skills Useful On a Job.

Increased Knowledge: Almost all of the respondents (99.1%) felt WCC had been very effective or somewhat effective in achieving their goal of Increased Knowledge, and 97.2% felt WCC also had been very effective or somewhat effective in increasing Their Desire and Ability to Learn.

In closing, it should be kept in mind that the results of this survey are based on the responses of those graduates who took the time to return the survey--42.8% of the entire class. We are grateful to them for their cooperation. We also know from past experience, however, that those who return the surveys are disproportionately the ones who feel successful. To the extent this has occurred, a bias is built in to the results and should be kept in mind. On the other hand, it is clear from those who did respond, that a very high percentage have an unusually high opinion of the College and the benefits they received from having attended.

THE GRADUATES OF 1994

The 1994 Study of Graduates of Westchester Community College provides information about the 1994 graduating class in three ways. First, it profiles the demographic, educational and work-related characteristics of these graduates. Secondly, it compares these graduates to the graduates in previous years. Such a comparison seeks to identify trends existing among our recent graduates.

Third, it provides the results of an evaluation by the graduates of the services and resources offered at WCC, along with an evaluation by graduates of how effective WCC has been in helping them to achieve their goals. These evaluations are useful to the faculty and administrators of the College for planning and assessment purposes.

METHODOLOGY

In Fall 1994, a survey (see appendix 14) was sent to students who graduated from Westchester Community College either in the late summer of 1993, the fall of 1993, or the spring of 1994, otherwise considered the graduating Class of 1994.

The initial mailing was followed with a reminder letter several weeks later. This, in turn, was followed by a third mailing to all of the remaining non-responding graduates. The final response rate was less than hoped for even with concerted effort. Of the 1,018 students who graduated with the Class of 1994 (941 with degrees and 77 with certificates), a total of 436 returned a completed, usable survey. This gives a sample size, of 42.8%.

A comparison of the respondents to the known demographic characteristics of the entire 1994 graduating class shows that the percentages are similar with regard to ethnic background and gender, a good indication that the results of the sample reflect the entire class. For example, over two-fifths of respondents (45.4%) are males, while in actuality males comprise 45.7% of the 1994 graduating class. With regard to ethnic background, 73.6% of the respondents are white, while in actuality white students comprise 70.3% of the graduating class; 12.4% of the respondents are Black compared to 15.9% of the graduating class; and 8.9% of the respondents are Hispanic compared to 8.4% of the graduating class.

DEMOGRAPHIC PROFILE OF ENTIRE CLASS OF 1994

Gender: Over half (54.3%) of the graduating class of '94 is female, as shown in Table I. This is a slight decrease over the previous year (almost two percentage points), but fairly consistent over a five-year period.

Age: Almost one-fourth of the graduates (23.4%) were under 22 years of age at the time of graduation, and 44.0% were between 22 and 29 years. Another 28.7% were between 30 and 49 years of age. Only 3.9% were over fifty. Of particular note is the fact that the percentage of graduates under 22 years of age has dropped considerably from the previous year going from 30.3% to 23.4%

EMPLOYMENT STATUS

Seventy percent (70.5%) of the 1994 graduates who responded reported being employed, as shown in Table IV. Of these employed respondents, 70.9% reported being employed full time.

Status	1994 Number	1994 Percent
Total employed	306	70.2%

EMPLOYMENT STATUS 1994 GRADUATES: FULL TIME & PART TIME

Salary: The mean salary (average) for 1994 graduates employed full time in a new job was $27,701. The median salary for the 1994 graduates employed full time was exactly $25,000. Three-fifths of these graduates (61.1%) were either very satisfied (11.9%) or somewhat satisfied (50.0%) with their salary, as shown in Table V. Over twenty percent (21.3%), however, were somewhat dissatisfied, and another 16.9% were very dissatisfied.

Job Satisfaction: More than four-fifths (81.8%) reported being either very satisfied (32.1%) or somewhat satisfied (49.7%) with their job duties, as shown in Table V. More than ten percent (12.4%) of the respondents, however, reported being somewhat dissatisfied and another 5.8% reported being very dissatisfied.

Seventy percent (70.1%) were either very satisfied (26.6%) or somewhat satisfied (43.6%) with their opportunity to advance, but nearly one-third (29.8%) were either somewhat dissatisfied (16.6%) or very dissatisfied, (13.2%), as shown in Table V.

TABLE V: 1994 GRADUATES SATISFACTION WITH SALARY AND JOB

Work Item	Very Sat.	Somewhat Sat.	Somewhat Dissat.	Very Dissat.
Salary	11.9%	50.0%	21.2%	16.9%
Job Duties	32.1%	49.7%	12.4%	5.8%
Opportunity to Advance	26.6%	43.6%	16.6%	13.2%

Location of Employment: Of the respondents who reported being employed (306), 73.2% or 224 graduates reported working in Westchester county. Another 15.0% or 46 graduates reported working in New York State, but outside Westchester county, bringing the total of those working in the state of New York to 88.2%. Only 5.9% reported working outside the state. The remaining 5.9% failed to indicate where they were working.

WCC's Impact on Employment: Over two-fifths (44.5%) of those employed felt that finishing their degree was important to getting their current job. Similarly, around two-fifths (37.7%) of the respondents felt that their specific program of study was important to getting their current job.

Two-fifths (39.5%) indicated that their current occupation was highly related to their program of study at WCC and another 26.9% indicated it was slightly related. A third (33.5%), however, stated their current job was not related to their program of study at WCC.

Seventy percent (70.0%) of the respondents felt that their WCC education prepared them for their current job either to a great degree (37.2%) or to a slight degree (32.8%). Well over one-fourth (29.9%), however, responded that it had not helped them at all.

1994 Graduates Compared to Previous Classes: When the respondents of the graduating Class of 1994 are compared to the four previous graduating classes, the most noticeable difference is the marked increase in the mean salary. The mean salary reported by respondents increased over last year's class from a mean of $25,278 in 1993 to $27,071 in 1994, up almost $1,793, as shown in Table VI. The median salary declined from $26,000 for 1993 graduates to $25,000 for 1994 graduates.

The percentage of respondents working in Westchester increased slightly over last year, going from 71.1% for 1993 graduates to 73.3% for the 1994 graduates, as shown in Table VI.

Another 15.0% of the 1994 graduates were employed outside of Westchester, but within New York State, a slight increase over the Class of 1993. This means that 88.2% of the 1994 graduates who are working are employed in New York, which is slightly higher than the percentage (87.3%) for the 1993 Class. Only a small percentage (5.9%) are employed outside the state, almost the same percentage as the previous year.

SALARY OF RESPONDENTS SINCE 1990

As shown in Table VII, 70.2% of the graduates reported being employed, down 3% from the previous year and almost back to the 1990 employment rate (68.7%). The percentage of the Class of 1994 who reported working full time also has changed little from 69.3% in 1993 to 70.4% for 1994. The percentage employed part time remained almost constant, as did those who reported still seeking employment going from 7.8% in 1993 to 6.7% in 1994.

EDUCATION STATUS

Graduates Attending College: Three-fifths of the respondents (59.9% or 261 people) reported that they were attending a college, university, or training center, as shown in Table VIII. Moreover, seventy percent of these students (70.5%) reported attending full time.

TABLE VIII: EDUCATIONAL STATUS OF 1994 RESPONDENTS

Not attending College	175	40.1%
Total	309	100.0%

Attending Full time	184	70.5%
Attending Part time	77	29.5%
Total	261	100.0%

Demographic Characteristics of Those Attending College: Almost three-fifths of the graduates continuing their education reported being female (50.2%); almost four-fifths are white (77.0%); 9.6% are Black, and almost eight percent are Hispanic (8.0%), as shown in Table IX.

TABLE IX: DEMOGRAPHICS OF RESPONDENTS ATTENDING COLLEGE

A larger percentage of men (76.9%) than women (64.1%) are attending school full time. In addition, an unusually high percentage of those under 22 years of age (96.3%) are attending school full time.

WCC's Contribution in Achieving Transfer: Based on the responses, the 1994 graduates consider WCC to have been very effective in assisting them to transfer. Of the students who had as a goal the desire to transfer, almost two-thirds (65.4%) indicated that WCC was very effective in helping them to achieve their goal of transferring to a four-year institution. Almost thirty percent (29.4%) felt WCC was somewhat effective. Slightly over five percent (5.2%), however, felt it was not effective. The remainder did not know.

When graduates were asked to what extent they felt WCC prepared them for further study, almost two-thirds (65.5%) replied, well prepared. Another third (33.2%) responded, somewhat prepared, and only 1.3% responded, not at all.

A large percentage of these transfers are in a field of study either highly related (59.3%) or slightly related (22.9%) to their program of study at WCC. Eighteen percent (17.9%), however, reported being in a field of study not related or applicable to their program of study at WCC.

Four-Year College's Contribution to Affecting Transfer: Less than half (44.3%) of the students who transferred felt that the recruitment process used by the institution they are now attending was not important, as shown in Table X. Only 17.9% felt it was very important, and another 29.0% somewhat important.

TABLE X: IMPORTANCE OF FOUR-YEAR COLLEGE TO AFFECTING TRANSFER

Factor	Very Important	Somewhat Important	Not Important	Don't Know
Availability of Program	72.1%	21.9%	4.0%	2.0%
Location and cost	66.7%	22.1%	10.4%	0.8%
Reputation of College	63.3%	30.3%	4.8%	1.6%
Ease of Transfer Process	53.0%	29.3%	14.9%	2.8%
Advice From Others	20.1%	40.2%	33.7%	13.8%
Recruitment by College	17.9%	24.0%	33.7%	13.8%
Social Envir. Of College	18.0%	33.6%	41.3%	5.6%

What the respondents did feel was very important were the availability of the program they wished to study, the ease of access both in terms of location and cost of attending, and the reputation of the college to which they were transferring. In each of the three cases almost two-thirds or better of the respondents indicated these factors were slightly important, as shown in Table X.

Of lesser importance was the ease of transfer to the college of which only 53.0% identified it as being very important. Factors deemed not very important by the respondents were: Advice From Others (20.1%); The Social Environment (18.0%); and The Recruitment Process by the College (17.9%).

Future Educational Goals: Almost four-fifths of the respondents continuing their education expect to earn a Bachelor's degree (78.8%) at the completion of their studies, as shown in Table XI. Only a small percentage (3.2%) are continuing their education with no plans to earn a degree.

Of those respondents currently not attending college, almost three-fourths (74.2%) indicated that they plan to continue their education in the future. The remaining fourth (25.8%) indicated they had no plans at this time.

A Comparison to Previous Classes: A comparison of the 1994 graduates to the three previous classes with regard to continuing their education shows that the percentage who are continuing their education has declined slightly. As shown in Table XI, 59.9% of the 1994 graduates reported transferring to a four-year college compared to 63.1% of the 1993 class, 63.5% of the 1992 class, and 63.6% of the 1991 class. The percentage of those attending full time in each class has also dropped slightly from 78.1% in 1991 to 70.5% for the class of 1994.

TABLE XI: PERCENTAGE TRANSFERRING AND EXPECTING BACHELOR'S DEGREE

Goal	1991	1992	1993	1994
Transfer to Four-Year College	63.6%	63.5%	63.1%	59.9%
Full-Time transfers	78.1%	73.1%	73.8%	70.5%
Part-time transfers	21.9%	26.9%	26.2%	29.5%
Expecting Bachelor's Degree	78.1%	82.8%	84.7%	78.8%

Around four-fifths of the respondents in the last four graduating classes who continued their education indicated they expect To Earn a Bachelor's Degree at the Completion of Their Current Studies. The percentage, however, is down from 84.7% for the 1993 class to 78.8% for the 1994 graduates.

STUDENT EVALUATION OF ACADEMIC EXPERIENCES

Overall Evaluation: For the last five years, the graduates responding to the graduate surveys have consistently given high marks in their overall evaluation of the college, the faculty, and courses they took in their major, as shown in Table XII, below.

At least 96% of the respondents, for example, gave a very satisfied or satisfied rating in evaluating their overall WCC experience, and the overall quality of instruction they received.

TABLE XII: STUDENT EVALUATION OF COLLEGE EXPERIENCES:
1990 TO 1993

Item Evaluated	1990	1991	1992	1993	1994

Table XIII further breaks down the evaluations for the Class of 1994 into the more specific responses of very satisfied, somewhat satisfied, somewhat dissatisfied, and very dissatisfied. Seventy percent (70.2%) of the respondents gave a very satisfied response to their overall WCC experience. Almost two-thirds (65.3%) gave a very satisfied response to the quality of courses in their major.

TABLE XIII: EVALUATION OF WCC, FACULTY, AND INSTRUCTION

Availability of Courses of Interest to You	44.3%	38.3%	10.8%	6.7%
Courses Outside Major	50.8%	43.4%	3.8%	2.0%

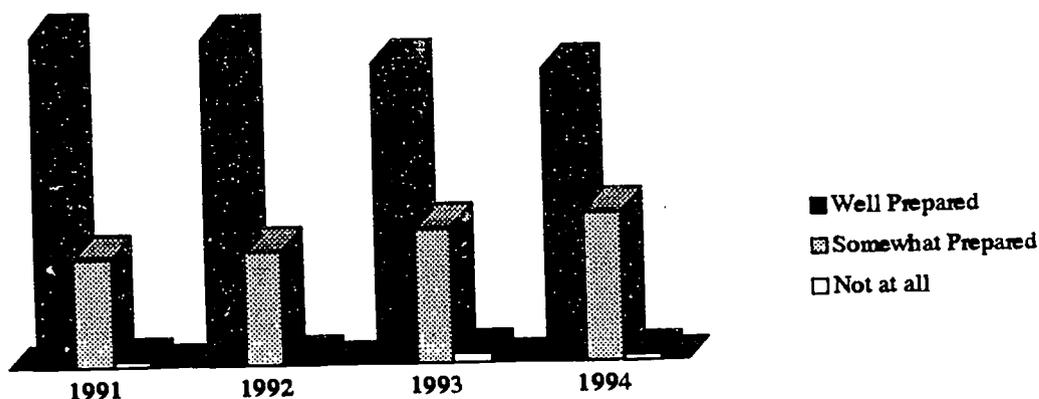

One aspect of the college experience with which the 1994 respondents did express substantial dissatisfaction concerned the availability of courses of interest. Seventeen percent (17.5%) indicated they were either somewhat dissatisfied (10.8%) or very dissatisfied (6.7%), as shown in Table XIII.

Degree of Preparation for Further Study: Respondents who had transferred to a four-year college also were asked to evaluate the extent to which WCC had prepared them for further study. Table XIV shows that approximately two-thirds of the 1994 respondents (65.5%), felt they were well prepared. This is a slight drop from 1993 (67.4%) and a considerable drop from 1992 (73.4%) and 1991 (74.2%).

TABLE XIV: DEGREE OF PREPARATION FOR FURTHER STUDY

EVALUATION OF COLLEGE SERVICES

In addition to evaluating the College academically, the graduates were asked to evaluate student services. Table XV is a breakdown of the results in descending order of the percentage who were very satisfied. Students who had not used the services were excluded in calculating percentages.

TABLE XV: EVALUATION OF STUDENT SERVICES

The results of the evaluations of student services show that the graduates were particularly positive about the library. It received the highest percentage of very satisfied responses (68.3%) and the highest percentage of combined satisfied or very satisfied responses (95.6%).

Computer Services (51.3%), Tutorial Services (47.8%), Reading and Math Skills (41.6%), and Faculty Advising (39.7%) also received a high percentage of very satisfied responses.

In terms of usage, the services most frequently used were registration (97.0%), the library (96.2%), admissions (93.9%) and faculty advising (88.0%). The least-used services were tutorial services (50.5%), financial aid (47.5%) and health services (27.1%).

EFFECTIVENESS IN STUDENT GOALS ATTAINMENT

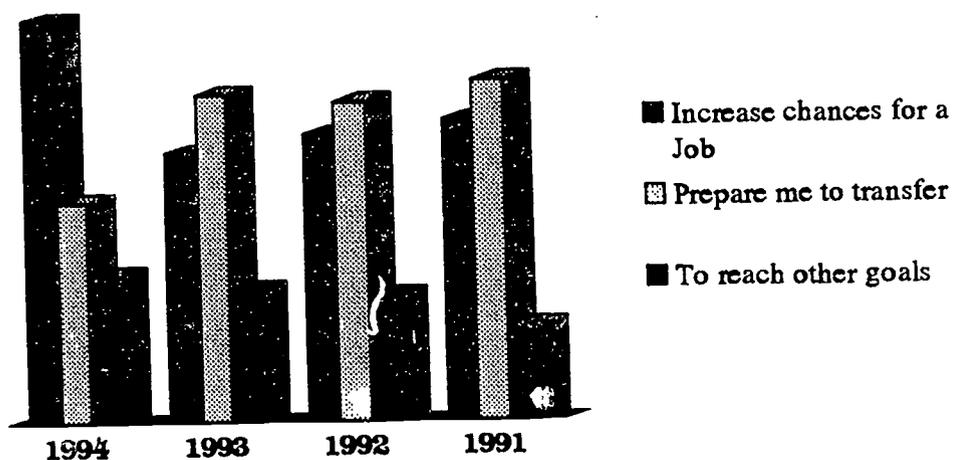

WCC graduates were asked what best describes their most important reason for earning a college degree. Table XVI shows that the largest percentage of the 1994 graduates (52.2%) selected To Increase Chances to Get a Specific Job or a Better Job. More than a fourth (28.6%), however, chose To Prepare Me to Transfer to a Four-year College. Another fifth (19.2%) selected To Reach Other Goals Such as Self-fulfillment.

What is noteworthy about these percentages is the substantial increase over previous years of those who are attending to improve their employment opportunities. In 1993, that goal was selected by just 34.9% of the respondents.

TABLE XVI: MOST IMPORTANT REASON FOR EARNING A DEGREE

Most Important Reason	1994 Number	1994 Percent	1993 Percent	1992 Percent	1991 Percent
Increase chances for a Job	206	52.2%	34.9%	37.1%	39.0%

MOST IMPORTANT REASONS FOR EARNING A DEGREE: 1991-1994

An additional battery of questions asked the graduates to evaluate how effective WCC had been in helping them to reach specific goals in five areas: (1) transferring to a four-year college, (2) getting a job, (3) developing learning skills, (4) improving personal skills and self-esteem and, (5) increasing appreciation of the arts and humanities. The following is a synopsis of the results in each area.

Transfer Goals: Table XVII shows that an exceptionally high percentage of the graduates (94.7%) felt WCC had been either very effective (65.3%) or somewhat effective (29.4%) in helping them to achieve their goal of transferring to a four-year institution. Since seventy percent of all the respondents (70.9%) identified this as a goal, this information is particularly important in evaluating WCC's success in meeting students' goals for assessment purposes.

The graduates also were asked how effective WCC had been in helping them to achieve their goal of meeting professional or graduate school requirements. More than half (56.9%) of the respondents identified this as a goal, and of those that did, more than half (52.0%) felt WCC had been very effective, as shown in Table XVII.

TABLE XVII: HELPING TO ACHIEVE THE GOAL OF TRANSFERRING

Goal	Very Effective	Somewhat Effective	Not Effective	% Consider It a Goal
Transferring	65.3%	29.4%	5.2%	70.9%
Meeting Professional Requirements	52.0%	37.5%	10.5%	56.9%

Employment Goals: Table XVIII consists of six questions exploring the effectiveness of WCC in accomplishing the graduates' job-related goals. Taken collectively, approximately eighty-five percent of the respondents consistently indicated that WCC had been either very effective or somewhat effective in helping them to attain these goals. This was similar to the responses by the graduates in the previous year (Class of 1993).

TABLE XVIII: ACHIEVING EMPLOYMENT GOALS

Goal	Very Effective	Somewhat Effective	Not Effective	% Considering It A Goal
Attaining Required Degree for A Job	56.0%	30.6%	13.4%	82.3%
Developing Idea of Career Goals	46.5%	43.8%	9.6%	88.1%
Attaining Skills Useful on a Job	47.4%	40.7%	11.9%	90.8%
Developing a New Career	41.5%	40.4%	18.1%	84.6%
Improving chances of Making More Money	45.9%	31.8%	16.3%	89.9%
Improving Professional Status	45.7%	37.6%	16.7%	79.8%

In terms of very effective responses, the highest marks were given to Attaining a Required Degree for a Job (56.0%), and Attaining Skills Useful on the Job (47.4%). The lowest was given to Developing a New Career (41.5%).

Academic Goals: Table XIX shows that on each of the six questions exploring WCC's success in helping graduates to achieve increased knowledge, at least 85 percent or better indicated that WCC had been very effective or somewhat effective in doing so. This also was the case with the previous year's graduating class (Class of 1993).

With regard to the specific question of how effective WCC was in achieving their goal of increased knowledge and understanding, two-thirds (67.8%) responded very effective. Combined with another 31.3% who felt WCC had been somewhat effective, 99.1% of the graduates responded positively.

TABLE XIX: ACHIEVING GOAL OF INCREASED KNOWLEDGE

Goal	Very Effective	Somewhat Effective	Not Effective	% Considering It a Goal
Increased Knowledge	67.8%	31.3%	0.9%	96.1%
Increased Desire and Ability To Learn	64.5%	32.7%	2.8%	95.4%
Preparing for Continued Intellectual Growth	55.0%	39.3%	5.7%	92.7%
Developing oral Expression Skills	41.4%	49.8%	8.8%	91.5%
Expressing Yourself in Writing	39.5%	51.6%	8.9%	90.6%
Improving Reading Skills	34.3%	54.9%	10.8%	80.3%

With regard to more specific skills, over two-fifths (41.4%) responded that the college had been very effective in developing oral expression skills. Almost the same percentage (39.5%) felt WCC had been very effective in developing writing skills, and a 34.3% felt that WCC had been very effective in improving reading skills.

Social and Cultural Goals: A considerably smaller percentage of students considered social and cultural goals as part of their reason for attending WCC. Over two-thirds (68.3%) considered increasing their appreciation of art, architecture and other visual arts as a goal, as shown in Table XX. This, incidentally, is a substantial increase over last year's class (Class of 1993) where 60.1% considered this a main goal.

Around three-fifths considered increasing their appreciation of the theater (60.1%) or their appreciation of musical performances (58.7%) as a goal for attending. Two-thirds (66.3%) considered involvement in social activities a goal, while over two-fifths of the respondents (52.8%) considered involvement in political activities a goal.

TABLE XX: ACHIEVING CULTURAL AND SOCIAL GOALS

Goal	Very Effective	Somewhat Effective	Not Effective	% Considering It a Goal
Appreciation of Art and Architecture	26.8%	44.3%	28.9%	68.3%

Appreciation of Opera Symphony, Musicals	16.0%	37.9%	46.1%	58.7%
Political Activities	13.0%	33.9%	53.1%	52.8%

Of the students who included cultural and social enrichment (listed in Table XX) as part of their goals for attending WCC, barely a fifth in any category felt WCC had been very effective in helping to achieve these goals. The exception was in the field of art and architecture where twenty-six percent (26.8%) felt WCC had been very effective.

Personal Goals: A fairly high percentage of students considered achieving personal growth as a part of their reason for attending. Table XXI shows that over four-fifths of the respondents considered eight of the nine objectives identified in the survey concerning personal growth, a goal in attending WCC. Less than three-fourths (73.4%) considered participating effectively in the community to be a goal.

TABLE XXI: WCC EFFECTIVENESS IN ACHIEVING PERSONAL GOALS

Goal	Very Effective	Somewhat Effective	Not Effective	% Considering It a Goal
Develop Interest in New Ideas	51.0%	44.5%	4.5%	91.3%

Participate Effectively In My Community	28.4%	45.9%	25.7%	73.4%

Table XXI also shows that Improving Your Self-Confidence (51.6%), Developing an Interest in New Ideas (51.0%), and Developing a Sense of Personal Responsibility (50.8%) were the three personal growth questions to which the respondents gave the highest percentage of very effective responses in terms of WCC's contribution. To Participate Effectively In My Community (28.4%) received the lowest percentage of very effective responses.
