ABSTRACT

This directory includes information on 155 Latino organizations, cross-community agencies, and professional and employee groups that serve the Latino population in Colorado. Each listing includes name and address, a mission statement, available services, and events sponsored by the organization. The directory also lists media sources, including Latino newspapers and magazines published in Colorado, national Hispanic print media, and Hispanic radio and television stations; organizations offering scholarships to Latino students; and Internet sites relevant to the Latino community. An index lists organizations and resources by issue area: advocacy, civil rights, community development, culture, economic development, information clearinghouses, education, the elderly, emergency services, employment and training, health, housing, immigration, job placement, migrant farmworkers, public policy, social and human services, technical assistance, women, and youth. L·A·R·A·S·A

The Latin American Research and Service Agency (LARASA) is a nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization created in 1964 to improve the social, economic, political, and educational status of Colorado's Latino community. LARASA communicates Latino community needs to service providers and policy makers by providing information and skills that are used for capacity building and advocacy. LARASA's staff conducts public policy research, provides technical assistance, training, information clearinghouse services, and serves as a catalyst for plans and programs that will improve the quality of life for Latinos throughout the state.

The mission of LARASA is to lead and influence change to improve the quality of life for Latinos throughout Colorado. Work toward this mission is accomplished through the following goals:

- ◆ To increase the Latino community's capacity to create policies and systems that meet their needs and to challenge those that do not.
- ◆ To increase equity through advocacy, taking direct action and creating opportunities for the Latino community.
- ◆ To increase awareness and educate the community on Latino issues in Colorado towards the development of effective public policy.
