INTRODUCTION

The San Antonio College Fact Book provides general statistical information about the College which may be useful to those engaged in planning, preparing reports, writing grant proposals, or other endeavors within the College.

It is important for the reader to be aware that data presented in this publication may differ slightly from statistics found in other College and District reports. Such variances may result from differences in the source of information used, the date on which the report was generated, or the reporting period included in the report. For these reasons, the source of the information in each table and graph is cited. Trends should be tracked using identical sources each semester.

This year we reviewed historical data, checked it against the original sources and made corrections where necessary. Therefore, some of the historical data in this edition of the Fact Book differs from the data presented in previous editions of the Fact Book. This edition represents the most accurate and consistent data sources currently available.

HISTORY

San Antonio College was established as University Junior College in September 1925, under the auspices of the University of Texas. The following year control of the college was transferred to the San Antonio Independent School District and the name was changed to San Antonio Junior College. Following passage of state legislation authorizing junior college districts, the San Antonio Union Junior College District was formed in 1945 and in 1946 assumed control of San Antonio Junior College and its sister college, St. Philip's Junior College. In 1948, San Antonio Junior College's name was changed to San Antonio College, and in 1951, the college was moved to its present location on San Pedro Avenue. Five hundred students were enrolled at that time. The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools granted accreditation to the college in 1955.

In the late 1960's, San Antonio College became a comprehensive community college by expanding offerings in occupational and technical courses and by assuming the San Antonio Independent School District's continuing education program. The name of the college district was changed to San Antonio Community College District in 1978; and in 1982 the district was renamed the Alamo Community College District.

In support of the mission of the Alamo Community College District, San Antonio College responds to its service area's diverse population by providing high quality general education, liberal arts and sciences, career education, continuing education and developmental education. The college has an average semester enrollment of 21,000 credit students and an average annual enrollment of 15,000 other-than-credit students. San Antonio College is the largest single-campus community college in Texas and one of the largest in the United States.

Student Learning Assistance Center

The Student Learning Assistance Center (SLAC) supplements classroom instruction by offering learning strategies that enhance the success potential of traditional and non-traditional students in the college environment. The goal of the SLAC is to enable the Alamo Community College District (San Antonio College, St. Philip's College, Palo Alto College, and Northwest Vista College) students to be independent and resourceful learners by providing learning strategies appropriate to non-traditional students and students with diverse learning styles. SLAC develops independent learners by teaching students how to learn rather than merely giving them quick answers. The learning strategies offered through the SLAC include: Tutoring Services, Computer Services, Video Tape Services and Study Skill Services.

The SLAC has several computer programs for student use such as Accounting, Electronic mail, Foreign Languages tutorial, Internet access, Microsoft Office and word processing. The computers are available on a first-come, first-serve basis. On occasion, a teacher will bring a class into the SLAC for a demonstration of a specific software package, which may require several computers to be reserved for the class period.

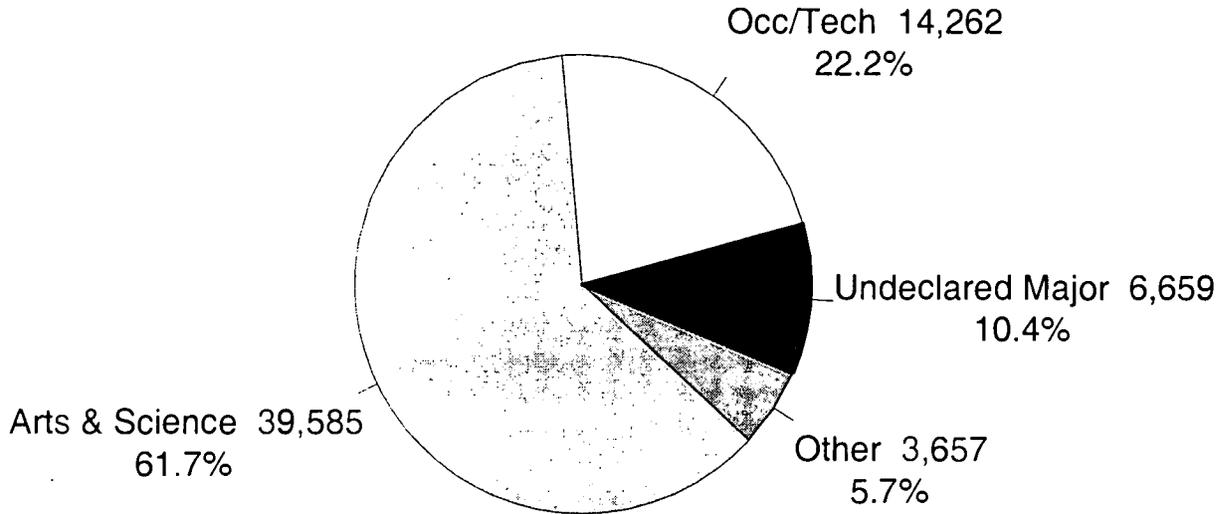

During the 1998-99 school year, the SLAC had 64,163 student visits to use the computer facilities. Software programs include MS Word, WordPerfect, accounting, spreadsheets, databases, Internet, foreign languages, management, history, psychology, mathematics and chemistry. Over 400 class sessions were held in the SLAC during the year from Management, Business Administration, Legal Assisting, English, Public Administration, Chemistry, Computer Science and Continuing Education.

TRANSFER*Tech Prep

San Antonio College is engaged in major technical and professional career preparation by providing continuity of learning and quality educational opportunities for all students. The Tech Prep/Associate Degree program is a significant component of this concept providing educational and career preparation in technical fields to high school students who will be the workforce of the future.

The concept of Tech Prep involves a sequence of knowledge and skills acquisition beginning in elementary school, linked with a guided, integrated high school plan of academic and technical subjects which connects the student to the community college and the university. Articulation provides the avenue for high schools and community colleges to share a jointly developed competency-based, industry-validated curriculum without duplication or repetition. The Tech Prep curricula in high schools and colleges represent a rigorous body of knowledge and skills that will prepare a better-educated worker with advanced skills and the ability to apply these skills as the world of technology changes.

In collaboration with regional independent school districts, San Antonio College has developed Tech Prep Associate Degree programs in Child Development, Computer-Aided Drafting and Design, Criminal Justice/Law Enforcement, Electronics, Medical and Dental Assisting and Office Systems Technology. A new Memorandum of Understanding between the U.S. Navy and San Antonio College has been signed allowing high school students to earn articulated credit toward an associate degree in nuclear electronics, advanced electronics and computers. These programs have been approved or are pending approval by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

Transfer Resource and Advisement Center

In the Transfer Resource and Advisement Center, students may obtain 2 + 2 degree plans, admission and scholarship applications to four-year colleges/universities, information on transferring, as well as several computer programs including: Peterson's Financial Aid Program and World Wide Web resources that include Web U. S. universities by state; college and universities-Mexico; office of admission at Universities on the Web, minority scholarships and fellowships, and academic advising resources on the Internet. Use of computers is on an appointment basis. Visits to four-year colleges and universities are offered periodically to allow students to see first hand local and out-of-town college campuses. Admission representatives from various colleges and universities provide students with firsthand information about transferring. A schedule of these visits is maintained in the Transfer Center.
