This bibliography lists separately, with price and publisher, Greek and Latin works published in the United States, Canada, and Great Britain. While bilingual and interlinear texts are omitted in favor of annotated editions of authors, the inclusion of a vocabulary or occasional translation is indicated. Entries appear in the following categories: (1) single author texts, (2) beginner's books (including graded series), (3) grammars and metric works, (4) readers and anthologies, (5) composition, (6) dictionaries, (7) New Testament Greek (beginner's books, grammars, and dictionaries), and (8) Later Latin. An extensive list of publishers' addresses is included. (AF)

TEXTBOOKS IN GREEK AND LATIN: 1968 LIST

The following includes Greek and Latin works, listed separately, as follows: I. Texts (chiefly of individual authors); II.a. Beginner’s Books (incl. graded series); II.b. Grammar; Metric; etc.; III. Readers; Anthologies; IV. Composition; V. Dictionaries; VI. New Testament Greek (a. Beginner’s Books; Grammars; b. Dictionaries) and Later Latin.

Texts of authors are, in general, annotated editions. Bilinguals (e.g., the Loeb Classical Library), interlinears, and series of plain texts e.g., the Oxford Classical Texts), have been omitted. The few annotated editions which include a translation are identified by “(t),” while the presence of a vocabulary is indicated by “(v),” except where this may be assumed from the nature of the work (Beginner’s Books, Composition) or the nature of the series (see below, Publishers, under O and SM). The list is confined to works published in the United States, Canada, and Great Britain, with auxiliary material in English, except where shown otherwise.

We are happy to have been enabled this year, through the kind cooperation of Mr. Graham I. E. Tingay, King’s College School, Wilmington, London, S.W. 19, to incorporate the British listings in our own. The overseas list “is intended to be reprinted every two years, with an intervening supplement.” Last year’s “A list of editions in print,” as we reported then, “it is hoped, contains all the annotated editions of Greek and Latin texts, published in Great Britain, in print on September 1st 1966. It does not include plain texts, simplified versions, or selections with extracts from more than one author, apart from a few obvious exceptions.” Copies may be obtained, for 3s. post free, from the Joint Association of Classical Teachers, 31 Gordon Square, London, W.C. 1, but their stock is nearly depleted. This year’s supplement reached us in typed form. It shows additions, errata, deletions; no price changes.

All the British items listed by us appear in our Greek and Latin Texts categories (except for one, to be found in the last section). Once again, we have used exclusively books that are not available from any American or Canadian source, and we have not added any British entries to those supplied by Mr. Tingay. His contributions can be readily identified via the British prices. This time, however, we were authorized to bring the British data into editorial alignment with our own practices. More complete information concerning the presence of vocabularies has been promised for next year.

Within the above limits, completeness has been aimed at, in the listing as such, and in the descriptive information. As always, the data are as accurate as it was humanly possible to get them. For the sake of such accuracy, we have removed 12 items of 2 publishers who chose not to respond. Conversely, last year’s dropouts were given a chance to be reinstated. This time, all seven responded. Comparison with the previous list will reveal many changes in details. Naturally, prices and availability are subject to change without notice.

Mr. Tingay has furnished as well the addresses of the British publishers. It will be noted that Oxford is the only supplier to be represented on both sides of the Atlantic. Their "British" items simply are not available here (or, in some cases, have not yet been announced here as forthcoming). We deemed it best to use our old "O" symbol for "American" items, "OUP" for the rest. Apart from OUP and UTP, British publishers are identified by full one-word names, not abbreviations. All British books may also be ordered from Blackwell's, Broad St., Oxford, England.

Users of this list are requested to mention it in their contacts with publishers, and they are advised to inquire about teachers' discounts. Some publishers charge postage on orders from individuals.

Readers may wish to familiarize themselves with the yearly issues of "Textbooks in Print" (basically through Senior High School, and including Related Teaching Materials; E. R. Bowker Co., 1180 Ave. of the Americas, N.Y. 10036; $4.00 in U.S.A. and Canada; $4.40 elsewhere; 1/3 off on 5 min.).

The British "clearing house," to which we referred last year, is in full operation. Under this system, publishers inform Mr. Tingay of what editions were most urgently needed, and from their answers a short list of 'popular' desiderata was prepared and is being circulated to publishers with an enquiry whether they are contemplating the publication of any of these editions. We hope this may prove a useful exercise.
