These articulation agreements have been negotiated so that the junior college student may complete the first two years toward his baccalaureate with courses that meet the requirements of his major. This bulletin merely lists the acceptable courses; details of curricula, course titles, descriptions, or units of credit may be found in the catalogs of the respective colleges. From this listing, the student can see what is needed, not only for his major, but also for completing his general education requirements. In some cases, a certain course may satisfy both needs. If the student elects courses that satisfy neither requirement, he may have to spend extra time in the lower division before transfer. This schedule also lists courses that satisfy minor and major requirements toward teaching credentials. The report may serve as a guide for other schools wishing to establish similar agreements. (HH)

INTRODUCTION

The parts of this bulletin have been developed through negotiations between the University of California Office of Relations with Schools, and the Los Angeles City Schools' College Curriculum Office. The purpose of these agreements is to enable the prospective UCLA student attending a junior college to complete the first two years of his baccalaureate objective, with courses which meet the requirements for his particular major, as well as the breadth or general education requirements.

This bulletin merely lists courses acceptable for meeting the various requirements. Details regarding curricula, course titles, descriptions, or units of credit, may be obtained from the catalogs of the respective colleges and of the University.

In planning his two-year junior college program, the student should first consider the requirements for the Major. Next, he should plan to complete as many of the general requirements as possible. (A given course may be applied to both the major and general education requirements). The including of electives which do not meet either the Major or General Requirements, could result in extending the time required for completion of the bachelor's degree.

With the exception of Engineering, the undergraduate Majors at UCLA are under the jurisdiction of either the College of Fine Arts or the College of Letters and Science. Letter symbols after the Major title are for the purpose of referring the student to the pattern of general education related to his major:

FA  College of Fine Arts
LS  College of Letters & Science

To guide the student in the selection of electives, Part III lists all courses acceptable for transfer credit, including those applicable to the various requirements. All these courses are transferable to any branch of the University for credit, but may differ as to their applicability to majors or general education requirements at the various branches.

Electives: Courses in social sciences and humanities (including foreign language).
Students who intend to apply for admission to a medical school and who wish to complete the requirements for a bachelor's degree before such admission should select a major within the College of Letters and Science. In addition to fulfilling the requirements of the chosen major, the student should satisfy requirements of medical schools to which he expects to apply.

PREMEDICAL CURRICULUM: THREE YEARS (LS)

It is important for the student to bear in mind that the class entering the School of Medicine is limited; in the past, a great many more students have applied than could be admitted. A student who finds himself excluded from the School of Medicine at the end of this three-year curriculum will be unable to obtain the bachelor's degree in the College of Letters and Science at the end of a fourth year unless he has planned his program with this contingency in mind. He should, therefore, either enter a departmental major at the beginning of the third year, at the same time meeting all premedical requirements, or include in his premedical program a sufficient number of appropriate courses in some major department. Provision for the completion of such a major does not prejudice the student's eligibility for admission to the School of Medicine.

Students who fulfill the following curriculum requirements in the College of Letters and Science at Los Angeles and who are then admitted to the School of Medicine at Los Angeles without the Bachelor's degree may, by petition, upon satisfactory completion of the first year medical curriculum, be eligible for award of the degree Bachelor of Science in Premedical Studies by the College of Letters and Science.

The three-year program requires a total of not less than 34 courses (a maximum of 70 semester units may be transferred from a junior college) including:

No lower division students will be admitted to this program. Continuing and transfer students must complete the degree requirements for this major by September, 1970. The School of Social Welfare recommends that students consider majors in sociology or psychology as effective preparation for admission to that school.

This major is designed to give the student a suitable background for professional training at the graduate level in the School of Social Welfare. It also provides a broad foundation in the various social sciences. Completion of this major does not guarantee admission to a school of social welfare, and the student should consult his adviser regarding the specific requirements of the school he expects to enter.
