FOREWORD

Because it promised to fill a tremendous and previously unmet need, the first edition of Resources for the Aging—An Action Handbook, was financed by the Office of Economic Opportunity. That promise has been richly realized; therefore the O.E.O. is pleased once more to have funded the compilation of this second, revised edition, for the use of those dedicated to improving the quality of the lives of our aging poor.

By the most conservative estimates, 30 percent of all the people in the United States over 65 years of age are poor and at least 20 percent of all the poor are old. We must fight against the elements of poverty that rob them of their human right to dignity and a continuing role in society during their later years. We must work to restore a sense of self-worth to the venerable citizens of our land.

This volume is a valuable source of comprehensive information of public and private agencies, of trusts and foundations, of bibliographies and other pertinent listings, to help you in the accelerating fight against poverty among the aging.

Bertrand M. Harding

Acting Director
Office of Economic Opportunity
INTRODUCTION

What are the vital needs in the later years of human life? Food and shelter and the good health to enjoy them. Which is another way of saying: a roof over one's head, a decent meal, a healthy body. Or, in the language of the sociologist-activist: adequate housing, properly balanced meals, expert medical attention. In short, a rebirth of human dignity... through employment wherever possible, through assistance services where indicated. The needs are the same at all stages of life, only more so for the aging poor. Frailty and isolation are added burdens. Poverty has always been the enemy.

An overpowering and formidable enemy, stalking 30 to 43 percent of the aged who are poor—20 percent of the poor who are old. More than one-third of all family households in the United States who live at a minimal or poverty level are headed by persons over 55 years and older, a total of 9.7 million persons plunged in poverty.

Resources for the Aging-An Action Handbook in this revised second edition, can be a useful, perhaps even an indispensable weapon in the war against poverty among the aging. They have been called the forgotten ones, the invisible members of our society... because the natural reaction to the threat of helpless old age, to the grip of poverty in later years, is withdrawal, isolation from the mainstream, self-effacement.

This book then, is designed to help you articulate a meaningful call to action, designed to help you activate dynamic programs for the aging poor in your community, your county, your state.

They need to know that now, they are not forgotten. They need to know that you are there, to help them. They need to know that you are at the ready, set for action, armed with life’s most effective ammunition: the Rx Tender Loving Care, and all that implies: a roof, a decent meal, medical attention, and perhaps best medicine of all for the rebirth of human dignity—hope of a job...
You'll find in this book new directions to provide new dollars for the creative development of new programs geared specifically to the needs, capabilities and potentialities of the aging poor of your community.

A Roof Over One's Head

Many older poor Americans would rather remain where they are, in abodes of many years perhaps, no matter how limited the facilities and conveniences, than move out of the block, away from urban or rural neighborhoods into unknown strange new environs, regardless of how much better they may be.

The aging poor are frightened, even sickened, by change. The mental strain, the anguish resulting from uprooting, have been known to result in many serious health problems—even death.

This Handbook will help you help them cope with inevitable change or the disturbances of on-the-spot housing rehabilitation. You will find agencies dealing with housing, urban and rural development and renovation of dwellings which can furnish you with assistance in obtaining improved housing conditions for the aging poor in your area. You will find suggested methods to help you implement your own programs and innovate new ones.

A Decent Meal

Food is a large and worrisome problem to the aging poor. In many places they have been found starving for want of fresh vegetables. In many places they have been found to be ignorant of their rights to obtain proper food, or intimidated by the red tape, no matter how minimal, that stands between them and a decent meal.

Many cannot manage by themselves to cook a meal. Many have no gas or electricity to do so, even if they could. Solutions to needed supply, preparation and distribution of food are obtainable. Refer to the section concerned with such services, for ways and means to bring them to your area.

A Healthy Body

It has been learned that many illnesses among the aging—even chronic complaints—have disappeared after a regimen of three well-balanced meals a day for a few months. Doing a productive job of work has seemed to effect the same kind of miracle.

Old Age is a Long, Long Time . . . Finding Jobs for the Aging Poor

Old age takes an estimated 25 to 30 percent of a lifetime. As geriatrics advances the span of human life, it may grow even longer. To earn one’s bread—the American ethic—is the significant link between that ever-growing span when jobs ends, for whatever reason, and the only alternative available seems to be a static and deadening waiting period . . .

For those who in their earlier years earned a living, no matter how meager, this is a painful bridge to cross. They are often victims of an eroding sense of worthlessness that can be prevented with suitable jobs or job training. Failing health can be restored in many instances through meaningful work. Fitting the aging man or woman with new skills within their scope of accomplishment, has been known to serve a remarkably effective and therapeutic purpose. This book can help you find just the channel leading to such restorative service and which in turn can prove of great service to the community as well.

There are of course, the bedridden who are so easily forgotten. And the aging who suffer irreparable loss of sight, hearing, or other physical handicaps. Means of assistance for them will also be found in this catalogue of resources.
RESOURCES

For the most part, we have listed nationwide, federally sponsored programs in depth and with added suggestions to help you formulate presentations for assistance in establishing your own program needs.

National voluntary agencies and associations increasingly geared to programs and service for the aging poor are similarly listed for your consideration. We have included a wide and representative array of foundations geared to the needs of the aging poor, chosen from The Foundation Directory, published in 1967 by the Russell Sage Foundation.

Foundations are obviously an excellent source of financial aid and support and many of them are applicable to programs and projects which do not easily fall into Federal program requirements.

Generate vitality in your lines of communication with your state's Commission on Aging and other state and Federal agencies. Keep in touch with local family service organizations, churches, business, labor and other volunteer groups. Try to engender or increase their efforts on behalf of the needy aging. Study their programs—to help improve your own.

If you need help in preparing a proposal or setting up a program or involving a group, the staffs of the National Council on the Aging, Administration on Aging and O.E.O. in your area, can furnish materials, guidance and counsel. Specialized assistance to Community Action Agencies and others interested in working with the older poor is also available from the regional staff of the Office of Economic Opportunity and other specialized agencies described.

The National Council on the Aging is pleased to have had the opportunity to prepare this volume on behalf of the Community Action Program of the Office of Economic Opportunity. Your comments regarding its format, content and usefulness to you will be welcomed.
It is our hope that this Handbook will serve you well in your efforts to create a healthy climate for the initiation and growth of needed programs and services for the aging poor in your community, which will in turn provide valuable service to your total community.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

In preparing this revision of the Resources for the Aging-An Action Handbook, we were assisted immeasurably by the information and guidelines that were so generously forthcoming from all the departments and agencies of government and the private sector, as expressed in their prompt and courteous responses to our requests for additions, deletions and updating of materials that appeared in the first edition.

Among those to whom we wish to express our thanks are the Administration on Aging of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare; the Departments of Agriculture, of Housing and Urban Development, and of Labor; the Small Business Administration of the Department of Commerce, the staffs of the Office of Economic Opportunity and in particular its network of agencies concerned with the welfare of the aging poor, and the staff of the National Council on the Aging. We acknowledge with deep gratitude our debt to all we have mentioned and additionally, to as many more who were similarly always available and willing to help with answers to questions dealing with the ever-increasing resources to help the aging poor, and upon which this Action Handbook is designed and based.

Program Title: ADMINISTRATION ON AGING—SERVICES FOR OLDER AMERICANS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This broad program provides grants to states, public or nonprofit agencies, organizations, institutions, and individuals to furnish services to the aged. Grants to states are made for community planning and coordination of programs, demonstration projects, training of special personnel, establishment of senior centers. Grants made to other agencies and organizations and individuals, can be for study, development, demonstration, evaluations, and training for specialized personnel. Administration of the grants is carried out by the Administration on Aging, which also serves as an information center gathering and disseminating information, stimulating and developing programs and activities, and providing technical assistance through a consultation service. Funds may be used to eliminate gaps in services to, or knowledge of, older people, and all categories of the aging needs.

TYPES OF PROJECTS SPONSORED:

Examples of projects which localities might undertake in accord with a state's approved plan:

1. Community planning and coordination of programs.
2. Demonstrating programs or activities.
3. Establishing new or expanding existing programs.
4. Training special personnel.
5. Developing communitywide programs of health, social services, employment, recreation, and education.
7. Developing preparation for retirement courses.
8. Staffing informational, counseling, and referral centers.
10. Increasing the numbers and the effectiveness of volunteer workers, affording older people an opportunity to participate in giving as well as receiving.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Support in the form of grants provided to public and private nonprofit agencies and associations in areas of research, demonstration, and training which are national in scope and implication, or would be of benefit to a number of states. Projects might include:

1. Conducting experiments in total community organization of services to older people.
2. Developing or demonstrating new approaches, techniques, and methods that hold promise of helping all older persons.
3. Stimulating research in areas not now being supported by existing programs.
4. Developing training materials.
5. Designing and testing curricula.
6. Providing short-term or in-service training courses.
7. Providing traineeships, fellowships, and stipends for advanced training.

ELIGIBILITY:

Grants are administered under three titles. Under Title I, any state that has a designated state agency and a plan for programs and activities that is approved by the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare is eligible to receive funds on a formula basis. Any public or nonprofit agency may apply directly to the state agency administering the plan.

Under Title IV any public or nonprofit agency, organization, or institution may receive grants—on contract with the Administration on Aging—directly for research, demonstration, and training projects. Title V offers additional training grants.

PROCEDURE:

Contact regional office of the Administration on Aging in your area with your requirements. Indicate what you consider to be priorities. At the same time contact your state Unit on Aging for information and technical assistance in preparing your request for assistance.

Don't hesitate to apply because you doubt your eligibility. Help is offered in all amounts.

Legal Basis:

Older Americans Act of 1965; P.L. 89-73; 79 STAT 218. (Amended in P.L. 90-42, July 1, 1967). $3 million to be appropriated for grants and contracts to public and nonprofit private agencies during the 1967 fiscal year, and $3 million for the 2 succeeding fiscal years.

Each fiscal year, the Congress appropriates Federal funds to be made available to states with approved plans. From each state’s allotment, 10 percent or $25,000, whichever is greater, is available to pay one-half of the cost of administering the Older Americans Program. The remainder of the allotment is used by the designated state agencies to make grants to assist communities in implementing priority service and activity programs in aging. These grants may be used to pay up to 75 percent of the cost for the first year, 60 percent for the second year, and 50 percent for the third and final year of project support. States or recipients of such grants make up additional costs.
Program Title: OLD AGE ASSISTANCE

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This program provides grants to state programs to pay part of the costs of furnishing financial assistance, medical care, and other welfare services to needy persons 65 years and older. The primary objectives of the program are to provide needy aged persons with income and services to help them attain or retain self-care insofar as it is practicable. Financial assistance and supporting services are made directly to needy individuals 65 years of age and over by the state. In determining the individual applicant’s need for assistance, the state plan may require consideration of the income or resources of the individual, but may permit the state agency to disregard the first $10 plus 1/2 of the remainder of the first $50 of earned income a month. When a state plan comprises both financial and medical assistance for the aged, the program also allows the state to provide medical assistance to elderly individuals who are not recipients of old age financial assistance, but cannot afford the necessary medical services.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
State plans must meet Federal requirements as to income, age, residence requirements, etc. Federal grants equal $29 of the first $35 of a maximum average monthly payment of $70 per recipient. The Federal proportion of the next $35 varies from 50 to 65%, depending on the average per capita income in the state for the most recent 3 years. Federal funds are available for 75% of the cost of certain preventive and rehabilitative services. Federal funds also cover 75% of staff training. The Federal share of other non-assistance costs is 50%.

ELIGIBILITY:
State plans must be in effect in all the state’s political subdivisions, and if the program is to be administered by political subdivisions it must be mandatory upon them. Administration is usually vested in a single state agency.

NOTE:
It is suggested that you become familiar with state and/or Social Security welfare laws to help make clear to claimants their rights and procedures. This also holds true for listing on next page.
Program Title: SOCIAL SECURITY—RETIREMENT, SURVIVORS AND DISABILITY INSURANCE

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a social insurance program that provides a regular monthly income to: (1) a worker and his family when he retires, (2) a worker and his family if he becomes disabled, and (3) to his family upon his death.

This program is financed by contributions in the form of Social Security taxes made by both employees and employers. These taxes are made into a special fund and benefits are paid from the fund to replace part of the earnings lost when earnings stop due to retirement, death, or severe disability.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Monthly cash benefits can be paid to retired or severely disabled workers and to certain of their dependents, and to the survivors of a deceased worker. Eligibility is dependent upon the worker having credit for sufficient work covered by social security. Cash benefits payable to retired workers 65 or over and to disabled workers range from $55 to $189.90 a month in 1968. Benefits to dependents and survivors are figured from the worker's rate. Family benefits range from $82.50 to $395.60 a month in 1968.

ELIGIBILITY:

Retirement benefits can be paid to workers and their wives at 65, and in a permanently reduced amount as early as 62. Disability benefits can be paid to workers of any age up to 65, if their impairment has lasted or is expected to last 12 months or to result in death.

Children of retired, disabled, or deceased workers can receive benefits until 18; or to 22 if they are fulltime students; or after 18 if they were severely disabled before reaching 18 and continue to be disabled. Widows of deceased workers can receive benefits at 62 or in a permanently reduced amount at 60. Severely disabled widows 50-60 may receive permanently reduced benefits.

Dependent husbands and widowers can receive benefits at 62. Severely disabled dependent widowers 50-62 may receive permanently reduced benefits. Dependent parents of a deceased worker can receive benefits at 62.

Mothers (wives or widows of retired, disabled, or deceased workers) who are caring for entitled children under 18 or disabled children, can receive benefits regardless of their age.

Program Title: HEALTH INSURANCE FOR THE AGED—MEDICARE

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
The two parts of this program are: Hospital insurance that helps pay the costs of hospital and related care, and voluntary medical insurance that helps pay the cost of doctors’ services and other medical services and supplies not covered by hospital insurance. Hospital insurance is financed by a special social security contribution paid by employees, their employers, and self-employed persons. Voluntary medical insurance is financed by premiums shared half-and-half by the older people enrolled and the Federal Government.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
The hospital insurance plan will pay the cost of covered services for the following hospital and post-hospital care:

- Up to 60 days in a hospital, except for the first $40, and all but $10 a day for the next 30 days during each “benefit period.”

- A 60-day “lifetime reserve” which can be used after the 90 days of hospital care in a “benefit period” have been exhausted. Hospital insurance pays all but $20 a day of covered expenses. “Lifetime reserve” days are not replaced after use.

* A “benefit period” starts on the first day a person receives covered services as a bed patient in a hospital or extended care facility and ends after the person has not been a bed patient in any hospital or skilled nursing home for 60 consecutive days.

- Up to 20 days in an extended care facility after hospitalization (a skilled nursing home or separate section of a hospital) and all but $5 a day for an additional 80 days in each “benefit period.”

- Up to 100 home health visits by part-time nurses or other health workers from a home health agency in the 365 days after discharge from a hospital or extended care facility and before the start of a new “benefit period.”

Medical insurance pays 80 percent of the reasonable charges for the following services, except for the first $50 in each calendar year.

- Physicians’ and surgeons’ services, no matter where the services are received—at home, in the doctor’s office, in a clinic, or in a hospital.

(Beginning April 1, 1968, a person does not have to meet the $50 deductible before medical insurance pays for X-ray or laboratory services of physicians for a bed patient in a hospital. The full reasonable charge, not 80 percent, is paid).

- Up to 100 home health visits in a year, with no prior hospitalization required.

- A number of other medical and health services, such as diagnostic tests, surgical dressings and splints, and rental or purchase of medical equipment.

- Starting July 1, 1968, outpatient physical therapy services—whether or not a person is homebound—furnished under supervision of a participating hospital, extended care facility, or home health agency, approved clinic, rehabilitation agency, or public health agency.

ELIGIBILITY:
Everyone 65 and over who is eligible for social security or railroad retirement benefits is eligible for hospital insurance. Most other people 65 and over can have this protection even if they do not have credit for enough work covered by social security to qualify for cash benefits. Excluded are past and present Federal employees covered by the Federal Employees’ Health Benefits Act of 1959 and certain aliens.

Nearly everyone 65 and over is eligible to enroll for voluntary medical insurance during a 7-month enrollment period which begins 3 months before the month he reaches 65. A person who missed his first chance to sign up can do so during an open season, the first 3 months of each year, within 3 years of his first opportunity. Excluded are certain aliens.

NOTE:

Local CAP Agencies should be encouraged to promote a Medicare Alert Program to insure that all who are eligible are correctly informed of their legal right to Medicare assistance. Medicaid listed on next page can receive similar program.
Program Title: KERR-MILLS PROGRAM—MEDICAL ASSISTANCE TO THE AGED (MEDICAID)

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This is a grants program available to states for the development and operation of a medical assistance program for the aged. Under this the state furnishes broad medical assistance to persons 65 years and over. This would include recipients of welfare assistance and individuals who are not recipients of assistance, but cannot meet necessary medical service costs. The objective of this program is to encourage the states to provide a wide range of medical services and appropriate social services to low-income aged persons who generally have sufficient income to meet their needs except for medical care. Under Title XIX of the Social Security Act of 1965, the Kerr-Mills program is expanded to provide a minimum program of in-patient and out-patient hospital services that would include physicians, laboratory, and nursing home services by July 1, 1967. Coverage of other items of medical service is optional with the state plan. Extension of coverage is also authorized to include dependent children, blind and disabled persons, and all persons who qualify as medical indigents.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
This assistance is in the form of payment to suppliers of part or all the cost of such care and services made available to eligible individuals under the state program. State and local governments are required to match a portion of the medical assistance. This portion varies from 17 to 45% of expenditures under the plan. In addition, state and local governments are required to cover 25% of the cost of providing staff training and certain preventive rehabilitation services designated by the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. An additional condition for the state plan is a requirement that plans provide a minimum of services designated by the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. When state plans do not meet the minimum services, the non-Federal share is 50%.

ELIGIBILITY:
Federal funds are available to states making expenditures under a plan that has been approved by the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. Each state must provide that the program shall be in effect throughout the state and be mandatory in all political subdivisions. This program may be superceded by Medicare as it is due to expire in 1970. Until then the states have the option of selecting this program or the newly established Medicare Program.

Program Title: COMMUNITY HEALTH SERVICES FOR CHRONICALLY ILL AND AGED--STATE FORMULA GRANTS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE

This is a matching formula grant program enacted to assist states to increase the availability of and to improve the quality of community health services. Emphasis is given to projects that develop and improve nursing care of the sick-at-home, homemakers' services, coordinated home care information and referral services, health appraisal, and nursing home care.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Grants are allotted among the states by a formula which takes into consideration the population, financial need, and extent of the health problem. Minimum grant for any state is $60,000. The 1965 legislation extended the program until fiscal year 1967 and then through 1969.

ELIGIBILITY:

All the states, the District of Columbia, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands are eligible to receive formula grants upon submission and approval of a state plan.

Available Printed Information:

NOTE:

If your state is not participating because of the requirement for matching state funds in order to receive Federal funds, CAPs should organize on a statewide basis for the purpose of supporting legislation to meet Federal requirements. CAAs might also stimulate the development of such services where they do not exist.
Program Title: LOW-RENT PUBLIC HOUSING

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

The low-rent public housing program was established by the United States Housing Act of 1937 to assist communities in the provision of decent, safe, and sanitary housing for low-income families. This housing may be provided through new construction, purchase and rehabilitation as needed of existing structures, or the leasing of privately owned dwellings.

In 1956, Congress took note of the special housing needs of the low-income elderly by authorizing public housing units to be specially designed for the elderly. In recognition of the fact that many of the elderly have very low incomes, Congress also authorized an additional annual subsidy of $120 for units occupied by elderly households, when necessary to keep rents within the means of the lowest income elderly and still assure financial solvency of the low-rent project.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Federal financial assistance under the public housing program includes preliminary loans for planning, temporary loans for construction, and annual contributions to amortize bond issues sold to pay off the capital cost of the housing. Since project rental income need only cover operating expenses and payments in lieu of taxes made to local governments, rents are set on the basis of the ability of low-income tenants to pay.

ELIGIBILITY:

Federal financial assistance can be made only to local housing authorities, autonomous corporate entities established by local governing bodies in accordance with the provisions of applicable state laws (where an Indian tribe has an established governing body with police power for its Reservation, it can establish a local authority). In addition, all requests for assistance must be approved by local governing bodies.

Occupancy of low-rent public housing is restricted to "families of low-income" which is defined by statute to include the remaining member of a tenant family as well as single elderly, physically handicapped, disabled, and individuals displaced by government action.

Program Title: FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION—RENTAL HOUSING FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
The general aim and purpose of this program is to fill a housing credit gap in rural areas and offer rental housing to senior citizens, 62 years of age or older, who are capable of caring for themselves and who live in rural areas. Two types of assistance are provided—direct loans and insured loans. Direct loans are made to consumer cooperatives and private nonprofit corporations. Insured loans may be made to individuals, trusts, associations, partnerships, and corporations, including state, municipal, or local corporations. Both may be used to purchase, construct, improve, or repair rental housing. This housing may consist of individual detached houses or cottages, duplex units, or apartment buildings—but must be designed to meet the needs of the elderly and be suitable for independent living only. The loans may also be used to provide recreational and service facilities for tenants; to buy and improve the land on which the buildings are to be located; and to develop the water, sewage disposal, heat and light systems needed for the housing.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Direct loans may not exceed $300,000 and insured loans $300,000. The rate of interest is 3% on the unpaid principal on direct loans and 5-3/4% on insured loans. The maximum term of repayment is 50 years for the direct loan and 40 years for an insured loan.

ELIGIBILITY:
For eligibility purposes a rural area is defined as open country or small rural towns of not more than 5,500 population which are rural in character and not part of, or associated with, an urban or suburban area. Applicants must be able to incur the obligations of the loan, give adequate security, and have sufficient income for repayment. They must also show the ability and intention to maintain and operate the housing for the purposes for which the loan is made. Applicants must show evidence that they are unable either to finance the housing with their own resources or with credit from private or cooperative sources.

NOTE:
Not intended for the elderly poor or disabled, but for senior citizens able to pay. However, many CAP agencies have initiated this kind of program in their locales by making contact with the regional O.E.O. office. In construction of such housing and development of the land, there are employment possibilities for the elderly poor. For assistance in planning and developing such a program, contact the regional office of the National Council on the Aging in your area.
Program Title: ELDERLY HOUSING LOAN PROGRAM

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This program of direct loans to nonprofit groups permits assistance in the development of rental housing projects to serve those elderly and handicapped people whose incomes are above the levels set for admission to public housing projects but below that needed to pay the rentals for adequate private housing otherwise available. The elderly are defined as those over 62 years of age, or a younger spouse. Single handicapped persons are eligible. Occupancy is limited to those whose annual incomes, at admission, do not exceed the official maximum income limits set for the project. Loans are available for both newly constructed and rehabilitated rental housing, but they are not available for refinancing purposes. Loans may also be used to provide related social and service facilities to be used by the residents, although it is important that maximum use is made of existing community facilities and services. Examples of project facilities which may be eligible include the following:

1. Management office space.
2. Maintenance workshop and storage space.
3. Recreation and social center, including a lounge.
4. Snack bar.
5. Crafts shop and art room.
6. Multi-service center (where social, educational, counseling, and employment services could be made available).
7. Laundry facilities.
8. Limited facilities for health examination and emergency treatment, but no nursing homes or hospital facilities.
9. Cafeteria or dining hall.

Ineligible facilities covered by the loan include chapels, or other facilities of a religious nature; nursing facilities; and any service facility not essential to the needs of the residents of the project.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Loans may cover up to 100% of the total approved development cost of a project and can be repaid over a period of up to 50 years. Below market interest rates are set by the Secretary, but not to exceed the statutory limitation of 3%. Projects must be designed for economical construction, operation and maintenance in order to achieve the lowest possible rents. Groups contemplating the construction and operation of rental housing for senior citizens can receive advice and guidance from the program and technical staffs in the Regional Offices of Housing and Urban Development and Home and Housing Administration.

An applicant should be an established organization whose purposes include the promotion of the welfare of older persons, including the provision of housing, or should be sponsored by a fraternal, civic, religious, charitable or similar organization which is firmly community based. The site selected should be close to essential services and transportation. The Market for the requested housing will be shown and the rentals should be as low as possible. Admittance to projects will be regardless of race, creed, color, or national origin.

ELIGIBILITY:

An eligible applicant must be a private non-profit corporation, consumer cooperative or non-Federal public body or agency not receiving financial assistance exclusively under the Housing Act of 1937.

NOTE:

This program offers many opportunities for local Community Action agencies to sponsor individual services for and by the elderly poor. Item 6, for example, is a broad base for action.
Program Title: RENT SUPPLEMENTS FOR DISADVANTAGED PERSONS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This program assists individuals and families of low income who are elderly, handicapped, displaced by government action, occupants of sub-standard dwellings or dwellings damaged or destroyed by a natural disaster (subsequent to April 1, 1965) with rent supplement payments to help make privately owned rental housing available. It can also apply, on a restricted and experimental basis, for housing under F.H.A. housing for the elderly (financed by direct Federal loans), rental housing for the elderly, and housing financed by F.H.A. low-interest rate mortgages. Only new housing projects or existing housing projects involving major rehabilitation are eligible to receive rent supplement payments.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Payment will be made directly to the owners or projects on behalf of qualified tenants. Families and individuals who are eligible will be required to pay 25% of their income for rent. The difference between this amount and the full market rent for the particular dwelling unit occupied will represent the amount of the rent supplement.

ELIGIBILITY:
Eligible housing owners for contracts to receive rent supplements for eligible tenants should be nonprofit, cooperative, limited dividend owners who provide housing financed with mortgage insured with F.H.A. Such a mortgage must be approved for insurance by the F.H.A. subsequent to August 16, 1965. Certain other housing, particularly for the elderly, is also permitted on an experimental basis.

Eligible tenants are persons whose incomes do not exceed the maximum amount for public housing in their locality and must fall under one of the following categories:
1. Have been displaced by government action, such as: urban renewal, code enforcement, or highway development, etc.
2. Either applicant or spouse is 62 years or older.
3. Either applicant or spouse is physically handicapped.
5. Occupies or did occupy housing destroyed or extensively damaged by natural disasters.

Program Title: F.H.A. EXPERIMENTAL HOUSING PROGRAM

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

The Experimental Housing Program, which is operated under Section 233 of the National Housing Act, is designed to foster the utilization and testing of advanced technology in housing design, materials, methods of construction, and in standards for environmental design.

Through the underwriting of mortgages on housing utilizing experimental materials, designs, or techniques—this program helps to speed the use of new concepts and materials by reducing the risks involved.

TYPES OF PROJECTS SPONSORED:

Proposals must be beyond the idea stage, must have undergone some testing and must be ready for full scale field testing in an experimental situation.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

The Experimental Housing Program is an insurance program and as such, offers no assistance in the form of grants or demonstration funds.

ELIGIBILITY:

Nonprofit and profit-motivated sponsors or public agencies planning experimental housing projects, including housing for senior citizens.

Available Printed Information:

FHA Experimental Housing, No. HUD-IP 30.

Program Title: FOSTER GRANDPARENT PROGRAM

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
The Foster Grandparent Program recruits and trains, low-income persons over 60 years of age to serve neglected and deprived children who lack close personal relationships with adults. Objectives of the program are to create new opportunities for the old, to provide new roles and functions for older people with low incomes, and, at the same time give emotionally deprived children the affection and attention they need in their daily relationships with adults.

ELIGIBILITY:
Any public or private nonprofit organization, including a Community Action Agency that meets the requirements set forth in the Community Action Program Guide, is eligible.

Program Title: DEMONSTRATION PROJECTS IN PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This is a grant program which is designed to assist state public welfare agencies in the development of pilot, experimental and demonstration projects, to improve the methods and techniques of administering assistance and related services to help needy persons achieve self-support or to maintain and strengthen family life. The following provisions are included:
1. Authority is given to the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare to waive, for the duration of such project, compliance with any requirement of the Social Security Act which might prevent a state agency from testing a potentially constructive innovation.
2. Inclusion of costs, not otherwise included as public assistance expenditures under the regular reimbursement formula, as part of an approved project for the duration of such project.
3. Encourage the development of projects of state and national significance, and assistance to states that do not have funds available to participate in the demonstration projects program, by making special Federal project funds available to finance part or all of the costs which would otherwise be paid by the state.

TYPES OF PROJECTS SPONSORED:
The program encompasses two types of projects: (1) a pilot or experimental project which introduces a new method or approach to a new local or state agency program in order to make necessary adaptations and promote its successful development; or (2) a demonstration project which extends a successful method or approach to a new local or state agency program in order to make necessary adaptations and promote its acceptance and support on a statewide basis.

ELIGIBILITY:
Special Federal project fund grants are awarded to states, public or nonprofit agencies, and individuals on the basis of the following factors:
1. The relationship of project activities to the objectives of the Social Security Act.
2. Soundness of the project design.
3. The possibility of incorporating the new approach into regular state and local public assistance programs.

LEGAL BASIS:
Public Welfare Amendments of 1962; P.L. 87-543; 76 STAT 192; 42 USC 1315; Public Welfare Amendments of 1967; P.L. 90-248; 79 STAT 293; 42 USC 1315. An amount of $4 million per year was authorized.

Available Additional Information:
General information, requests for applications, and inquiries should be obtained from the DEMONSTRATION PROJECTS BRANCH, Office of Research, Demonstration, Training, and Education, Social and Rehabilitation Service, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D.C. 20201.
Program Title: RESEARCH AND DEMONSTRATION PROJECT—SOCIAL WELFARE AND SOCIAL SECURITY

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a grants program—authorized under the 1956 amendments to the Social Security Act—which offers financial support to pay part of the costs to state, public, and other nonprofit agencies and organizations for research or demonstration projects relating to the broad field of social welfare and social security.

Projects must add to existing knowledge or practice in such areas as prevention or reduction of dependence, improvements in the administration and effectiveness of programs, and coordination of planning between public and private welfare agencies. The projects must relate to programs carried out or assisted under the Social Security Act.

These may be for the following purposes:

1. Experiments in total community organization of services to older people.
2. Developing or demonstrating new approaches, techniques, and methods which hold promise of helping older persons.
3. Stimulating research in areas not now being supported by existing programs.
4. Providing short-term or in-service training courses.
5. Developing training materials, designing and testing curricula, etc.

To the extent that consumer education can develop or improve skills in allocating limited financial resources, it can contribute towards raising levels of living. A consumer education research or demonstration project to assist low-income groups could therefore, meet the overall purposes of this research or demonstration grant program.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Grants may be made to pay part of the cost of research or demonstration projects. Grantees are required to share in the total cost of the project. For projects that require more than 12 months for completion, continued support is dependent on satisfactory progress and on Congressional appropriation.

ELIGIBILITY:

Grants may be made to state, public and other nonprofit agencies and organizations, but are not available to individuals or to profit-making organizations.

NOTE

Because of the special and unique needs and requirements of American Indians, all programs and services designed to help them, and in particular to help their aging members, are compiled in the following comprehensive listings.
Program Title: GENERAL ASSISTANCE AND SOCIAL SERVICES TO AMERICAN INDIANS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a general assistance and social service program established to assist needy Indians living on Indian reservations and in the states of Oklahoma and Alaska within the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, when assistance is not readily available from other sources. The program includes—as well as financial assistance—social services for families and individuals.

ELIGIBILITY:

Persons eligible for this program are needy American Indians who live on Indian reservations or in Oklahoma and Alaska, within the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Assistance is provided for persons who are not eligible for the public assistance programs under the Social Security Act, and may be provided to persons who are eligible, pending the determination of eligibility by a state or local agency.

Program Title: DIVISION OF INDIAN HEALTH

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

Financial and technical assistance is provided to Indian and Alaska native tribes, groups and communities to improve water supplies, waste disposal facilities and general sanitary conditions. The Indian and Alaska native people participate in the various construction projects and have contributed more than one-third of the costs through donated labor, materials and funds.

Upon completion of the sanitation projects, community or individual water supplies, waste disposal and drainage facilities, ownership of the facilities is transferred to the community group or to individuals who then assume normal operation and maintenance responsibilities.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Technical assistance is provided by sanitarian aides, professional sanitarians and engineers who work as partners with the population groups served to improve the total environment for better health. Included in activities are environmental health education and training in the maintenance and operation of all types of sanitation facilities.

ELIGIBILITY:

Indian and Alaska native tribes, groups and communities that are recognized beneficiaries of Federal health services may request assistance.

Program Title: HEALTH SERVICES AND FACILITIES FOR AMERICAN INDIANS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This program offers two types of assistance to American Indians to help them maintain health standards. In the first, the Federal government directly constructs and operates hospitals and health facilities for Indians; and, in the second, provides additional services through controls with state and local health departments and private physicians and dentists. The total program provides child and maintenance care, dental care, school health clinics, field health clinics, tuberculosis sanitaria, hospitals, public health nursing, disease control, and health and nutritional education.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Grants may be provided to states and local public or nonprofit agencies for construction of community hospitals, after consultation with the Indians and when the need is determined.

Program Title: VOCATIONAL JOB TRAINING FOR AMERICAN INDIANS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
Provisions of the Manpower and Training Act of 1962 also authorize occupational training for American Indian groups. These services, in the form of vocational training courses, may be provided in public and private institutions and may include on-the-job training.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Training allowances are made to individuals for up to 104 weeks, and can include subsistence and travel allowances.

ELIGIBILITY:
Any Federal, state or local agency serving Indians who reside on a Reservation may apply for grants.
Individual services are available for any Indian residing on a Reservation who is unemployed or underemployed.

Program Title: ADULT VOCATIONAL TRAINING—AMERICAN INDIANS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

In this program, the Bureau of Indian Affairs provides grants and assistance to Indian adults to help them obtain reasonable remunerative and satisfactory employment. Services include: clinics, counseling, and guidance; institutional training in a recognized trade or vocation; on-the-job training and assistance in obtaining employment.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Grants or assistance cover subsistence during periods of training; tuition and related costs of actual training or counseling; health coverage; transportation costs to and from the site of training; and subsistence until receipt of first check.

Institutional training usually is for a period not to exceed 24 months but is extended to 36 months in the case of nurses' training.

ELIGIBILITY:

An applicant must be an Indian of a recognized tribe under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, live on or near a Reservation, be older than 18 years, and need training to obtain employment.

Program Title: BUREAU OF FEDERAL CREDIT UNIONS—LOANS, THRIFT AND FINANCIAL COUNSELING

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Federal Credit Unions administers the Federal Credit Union Act. Its program consists of chartering new Federal credit unions; supervising and examining existing Federal credit unions; providing information and technical assistance to individuals and groups, including the aging, concerned with consumer problems or interested in credit unions.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Credit unions provide their members with a convenient place to save as well as a source of loans at reasonable rates for provident purposes. In addition, they are an important source of financial counseling and other consumer information. Credit unions have become important components in over 120 community action programs. There are also more than 700 credit unions serving religious groups.

ELIGIBILITY:

Any associational or religious group of 200 or more members, any occupational group of 100 or more employees of one employer, or any rural community group of 200 or more families is eligible to qualify for a Federal Credit Union Charter.

NOTE:

There is strong potential here for the development of Credit Unions to serve the elderly which should be explored by local CAA for possible development.
Program Title: FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION—
LOANS TO RURAL FAMILIES WITH LOW INCOMES

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a direct loan program to provide capital assistance to individual low-income farm and non-farm families, living in rural areas or small towns, who need capital to improve their earnings, but are unable to obtain the needed credit at reasonable rates and terms. These loans may be made to farm and non-farm rural families and can be used to finance agricultural enterprises, small businesses, trades and services. Farm families may use loans to finance the purchase of farm equipment or livestock; to buy land and carry out improvements such as: fencing, drainage, liming, land clearing and leveling; to acquire membership or stocks in farm purchasing, marketing, and service cooperatives; to develop water supplies; to refinance debts; to pay farm operating expenses.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

The maximum loan to any one family is $3,500, but the actual amount loaned will be limited to the family's needs and reasonable ability to repay. The interest rate is 4-1/8% a year on the unpaid principal, and repayment can be to the maximum term of 15 years. Each loan is scheduled for repayment within a period consistent with the borrower's ability to repay. Technical assistance is also available to borrowers to help them in planning, budgeting, and solving other management problems.

ELIGIBILITY:

Both farm families and non-farm families living in open country or in small towns of not more than 5,500 population are eligible for this program. To qualify, all applicants must have limited resources and be receiving an income from all sources that is too low to cover basic family needs, be unable to obtain the necessary credit elsewhere at reasonable rates and terms, and must have reasonable prospects of earning more income and repaying the loan. If the loan is planned for a non-farm enterprise, evidence must be submitted that indicates that the service or product is not being adequately supplied by others in the community.

NOTE:

An excellent program for the elderly poor in rural areas. It makes it possible for them to remain on their own land, work the farm, and with crop renewal, and marketing, their prospect of earning enough to repay the loan is reasonably good.
Program Title: LOANS TO COOPERATIVES SERVING RURAL FAMILIES WITH LOW INCOMES

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

Under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, loans may be made to cooperatives serving low-income rural families to improve incomes and level of living. These may be used to finance local cooperative associations which provide services, supplies, or facilities serving to raise income and standards of living of low-income rural families. The loan may be used to:

1. Process products grown on members' farms.
3. Purchase and make available to members essential machinery and equipment.
4. Provide services to market agricultural products.
5. Purchase and make available to members farm operating and home industry items.
6. Purchase land and buildings to carry out processing, purchasing, and marketing services.
7. Pay costs of organizing cooperative associations.
8. Refinance certain debts.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Maximum terms of the loans are not to exceed 30 years at an interest rate of 4-1/8%.

ELIGIBILITY:

Incorporated or unincorporated cooperative associations operating for the mutual benefit of their members and under their control and having a membership at least two-thirds of whom are low-income rural families unable to obtain necessary credit from other sources at reasonable rates or terms.

Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, as amended 1967

NOTE:

This is an ideal method for rural CAPs to stimulate community organization through the formation of Cooperatives which will serve a twofold purpose: 1) it will provide funds to establish the necessary credit required by low-income rural families and 2) the formation of groups in the area will bring other needs and possible solutions to light.
Program Title: FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION—OPERATING LOANS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

Under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, the Farmers Home Administration makes loans to local cooperatives providing essential processing, purchasing and marketing services for low-income rural families. Such assistance is intended to raise and maintain the income and living standards of low-income rural families by making available services, supplies and facilities jointly when they cannot obtain them individually.

Loans may be made to qualified applicants to furnish essential:

1. Processing services which put raw products into condition for marketing and home use.
2. Purchasing services including the purchase of machinery and equipment, and other supplies and services essential for farm and home needs.
3. Marketing services such as marketing of raw or processed agricultural products, timber and timber products and handicrafts, and home produced finished goods.
4. Facilities directly related to processing, purchasing or marketing.
5. Improvements to building sites or construction of buildings essential to the cooperative’s business.
6. Operating capital.
7. Pay costs of organizing cooperative associations.
8. Refinance certain debts.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Amount of loans depends upon the plan of operation and the applicant’s ability to repay the loan rather than the amount of security he can provide. Rates of interest vary from 3 to 5% on the unpaid principal, depending upon the purpose of the loan. The schedule, or term, for repayment also varies but usually does not exceed 7 years. Terms are generally flexible, allowing the borrower to make larger or smaller payments during years of high or low income.

Management and technical assistance are also available to borrowers.

ELIGIBILITY:

To be eligible for an operating loan an applicant must:

2. Have a farm background and the experience or training needed to be successful in the proposed operation.
3. Possess the character, industry, and ability to carry out the proposed operation.
4. Be unable to obtain sufficient credit elsewhere at reasonable rates.
5. Manage and operate the farm.
6. After the loan is made, be an owner or tenant operating a not larger than family farm.

Services

Program Title: Community Action Program--Senior Opportunities and Services

General Nature and Purpose:

The purpose of Federal assistance to community action programs is to help urban and rural communities to mobilize their resources to combat poverty. Because community action programs are intended to effect a permanent increase in the capacity of individuals, groups and communities afflicted by poverty to deal effectively with their own problems so that they need no further assistance. From its inception in 1964, the EOA was intended to meet the needs of the elderly.

Recent Amendments:

1. Program Development
   - Grants for program development are made under Section 204 of the Economic Opportunity Act to encourage the development of plans and programs and sound and effective plans and programs and to organize for community action.

2. Conduct and Administration
   - Grants for community action programs are made under Section 205 for a wide variety of projects, including but not limited to the following:
     - Remedial and non-curricular education.
     - Employment, job training and counseling.
     - Health, family planning, and vocational rehabilitation.
     - Housing and home management.
     - Welfare.
     - Consumer services.
     - Multi-service neighborhood centers.
     - Research and demonstration.

3. Recent legislation
   - The 1966 legislation, particularly the Scherer Amendment, provides that $88 million in community action funds be specifically earmarked for a public employment program in the 1967 fiscal year. It also provides that the community action funds be designed to enhance the dynamic of social change and conflict in the national urban areas. However, in the past two years the Congress, OEO itself and many local community action agencies, have demonstrated an intense interest in the impact of community-action-oriented programs.

well as the Special Emphasis Program under Section 222. Under the 221 authorization, Congress has made specific references to the elderly as beneficiaries of all 221 programs and activities. All appropriate 221 programs should contain program content and procedures to assure that older persons are reached and served. Local older persons' membership groups should be encouraged to participate in CAA programs and activities. All Title II components should be designed to provide employment and upgrading opportunities for older persons. Specifically—during the 1967 session, the Congress amended the Economic Opportunity Act in five Titles to reflect this shift in priority for older poor persons:

- Section 126 requires the involvement of older persons in Title I manpower programs as both participants and as program staff.
- Section 221 directs the involvement of the elderly poor in all 221 programs.
- Section 222 creates “Senior Opportunities and Services” as a special emphasis program.
- Section 223 directs the employment of older persons in all Title II component programs.
- Title III, rural loans, now includes the elderly as loan recipients to improve their housing or living conditions.
- Title VI establishes the Office of the OEO Assistant Director for Older Persons as the focal point for Federal activity on behalf of the older poor.
- Title VIII, VISTA programs now authorizes special programs for the elderly poor as both volunteers and as participants.

ELIGIBILITY:

Private nonprofit and public agencies are eligible for CAP financial assistance. Grants are made both to broadly based Community Action Agencies (CAAs) representing an entire community and to single purpose agencies. CAAs may delegate individual projects by contract to other agencies. Single-purpose agencies must submit project proposals to local CAAs for comment. For grants under Section 204 and 205, non-federal contributions must take up a part of total project costs and applicant agencies must provide for participation in policy-making by residents of the areas and groups served. Non-federal contributions are also encouraged in connection with grants under other sections of the Act.

NOTE:

Where necessary, CAAs are urged to develop specialized programs and components under 221 authorization to meet the unique and intensive problems of older persons. An example of this may be development of a Senior Citizens Neighborhood Center which serves as a community focal point for organization of the elderly, and for delivery of services to them.

The Special Emphasis Program for the Elderly, funded under Section 222 as a national program, will focus on the special needs of (continued) persons above the age of 60, and the creation of maximum opportunity for employment and volunteer services for persons 55 years or older. Programs under this Section should:

1. Be directed toward problems which cause or contribute to the poverty of older persons, such as physical and social isolation; chronic health problems; unemployment and unemployability; low income largely related to such fixed sources as Social Security, Old Age Assistance or pensions; malnutrition; consumer problems; lack of recreational resources, transportation or educational assistance; housing problems, etc.

2. Have a substantial majority of the beneficiaries who are poor persons above the age of 60 and all above the age of 50.

3. Have low-income persons 55 years or older as a large majority of the professional and non-professional employees of the program.

4. Have direct procedural relationships with other CAA and community services which might be utilized by elderly, such as legal, consumer, referral, housing, employment and training, transportation, health, etc.

5. Be coordinated with other community services which are especially designed to serve the older poor, including senior citizens centers, gerontological medical services, recreational services, senior citizen membership groups, etc.

6. Contain a high degree of community organization which will assist the elderly to better call for and utilize existing public services.

7. Be directed toward a greater equity in the distribution of community services to the elderly on a par with other interest and age groupings.

8. Be related to employment and work programs funded under Title I for the employment of persons 55 and older.

9. Have policy committees or program advisory boards composed of the elderly poor themselves, which review all aspects of the program.
Program Title: COMMUNITY ACTION PROGRAM—ASSISTANCE FOR MIGRANTS AND SEASONAL FARM WORKERS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This program provides financial assistance to public or private organizations to assist the migrant and seasonal agricultural worker and his family. Title III-B of the Economic Opportunity Act provides for housing, health care facilities, educational services for adults and children, and day care projects. A broad range of services and projects is available within those categories. Title II-A provides for establishment of Community Action Agencies (CAAs) which may also deal with the needs of migrant farm workers. The CAA may include financial assistance for many of the programs discussed in the Title III-B provisions, plus additional projects, including establishment and operation of migrant opportunity centers; manpower training; counseling before and after a migrant leaves agricultural work; and demonstration projects to test and develop new methods of assisting migrants. These programs are directly related to the War on Poverty and should be developed and conducted with the maximum feasible participation of residents of the area and members of the groups served.

ELIGIBILITY:
Public agencies and private nonprofit organizations concerned with the migrant and impoverished farm worker are eligible to apply either jointly or independently. Direct grants can be made to eligible organizations. Up to 100% of project costs may be paid under Title III-B and up to 90% under Title II-A, provided that the community maintains or increases its previous level of effort in related activities and that the project would increase opportunities for the worker and his family to achieve economic independence and social self-sufficiency.

Program Title: COMMODITY DISTRIBUTION PROGRAM

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This program provides a Federal-state-local system for furnishing supplemental food help for needy persons and school children. The program assists recipients in attaining more nutritious diets at the same time as it broadens the market for foods acquired under Federal price support and surplus removal operations. Donation programs have been established in all states and foods may be made available to state and local welfare agencies for distribution to low-income families and individuals, charitable institutions serving needy persons, needy Indians on Reservations, and nonprofit school lunch programs and summer camps for children.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
The Department of Agriculture donates food, which it processes, packages and ships in carload lots to points designated by the states. State and local governments pay all costs of intrastate transportation, storage and distribution.

Currently as many as 14 foods, having a retail value of about $7 per person per month, are available to improve the diets of needy families and individuals living alone on limited incomes. It is recommended that nutrition education activities accompany these distributions to insure that recipients derive maximum benefits from donated foods.

A more limited quantity of foods is available for distribution to eligible institutions. Many hospitals, nursing homes, day centers for older persons, and other charitable institutions receive donated foods which add substance and variety to the diets of needy persons served.

ELIGIBILITY:
Any local government may distribute donated foods to needy families and individuals if it agrees to arrange for proper certification of the need of recipients and for adequate storage facilities. If a local government can demonstrate that it cannot finance its share of the donation program for its needy, the Office of Economic Opportunity may consider applications for assistance under the Community Action Program.

In addition the Department of Agriculture has limited funds available to assist selected low-income counties in initiating distributions for families.

Any nonprofit charitable institution that serves the needy is also eligible, as is any public or nonprofit private school.

NOTE:
This program is available and applicable to serve rural and urban needs. Make contact with regional office (State Distribution Agency) for its implementation in your community.
Program Title: FOOD STAMP PROGRAM

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This program, like the Commodity Distribution Program, was enacted to expand the market for domestically produced foods and, at the same time, help to improve the diets of low-income families. Food supplements in the form of coupons are provided to low-income families who can then purchase domestically produced food in retail stores. In exchange for money that the family would normally spend for food, the government or representing agency provides coupons at a value greater than the money exchanged. The U.S. Government assumes the difference between the two values. Families may then use the coupons to buy any domestically produced food (imported foods are excluded). Food retailers are authorized by the Consumer Marketing Service of the United States Department of Agriculture. Coupons can be redeemed by retailer, at face value, or local banks or authorized wholesalers.

ELIGIBILITY:

Any state agency administering Federally aided public assistance programs may submit requests for the program on behalf of local governments that want to participate.

Individual families are eligible if:

1. There is a program in the area in which they live.
2. They are receiving some form of welfare assistance and are unemployed, or employed part-time, working for low wages, or living on limited pensions.
3. They are found by local welfare officials to be in need of food assistance.

The eligibility of families that are not receiving welfare assistance is based upon income, level of liquid assets, and family size.

Program Title: LOW-INCOME HOUSING DEMONSTRATION PROGRAMS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This program provides assistance in the form of grants to public and private agencies and organizations to develop and demonstrate new and improved methods of providing housing for low-income or physically handicapped persons and their families. Its general aim is to stimulate innovations and improve the means of providing homes.

Proposals may include, as well as construction, other aspects of housing such as new and improved means of finance, land acquisitions, land use, and design.

ELIGIBILITY:

Grants may be made for proposals from any public nonprofit and private group, agency, or other community organization. Whatever the organization, it must demonstrate that it has the authority, power, and capacity to carry out the proposed project.

NOTE:

Local CAPs can initiate the development of a sponsoring group which will be eligible for grants necessary to bring housing for the elderly poor to their locales.
Program Title: RENEWAL ASSISTANCE ADMINISTRATION, REHABILITATION GRANT

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

Title I of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended, authorizes a program of grants to owner-occupants of one-to-four dwelling unit properties in urban renewal and concentrated code enforcement areas, to enable them to rehabilitate their homes so as to meet the specified requirements of the Urban Renewal Plan or local code, as applicable. The aims of this program are to effect rehabilitation of housing or repairing and replacing rather than by clearance and redevelopment.

ELIGIBILITY:

Applicants with yearly incomes which do not exceed $3,000, may qualify for a grant of up to $1,500. Applicants with yearly incomes which exceed $3,000 may qualify for a grant when repayment of a rehabilitation loan plus their other housing expenses use up more than 25% of their monthly income.

For Further Information Contact:

Renewal Assistance Administration, Dept. of Housing and Urban Development, Washington, D.C. 20411 (or) Regional Office of the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development.

Legal Basis:

Title I of The Housing Act of 1949, as amended.

NOTE:

Here is an opportunity to repair homes in need, which have been neglected due to lack of funds and to provide employment to the able elderly as well. Perhaps most effectively used in urban areas where redevelopment is taking place or active code enforcements require compliance. Make application through local redevelopment agency or Housing Authority conducting the program. Elderly residents should be encouraged to participate in social action wherever possible.
Program Title: RENEWAL ASSISTANCE ADMINISTRATION, REHABILITATION LOANS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

The Housing Act of 1964, as amended, authorizes the Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development to make direct, low interest loans to owners or tenants of property located in urban renewal or concentrated code enforcement areas. These loans are made to finance the rehabilitation work required to bring the property up to the requirements of the code, or the requirements and objectives of the Urban Renewal Plan, as applicable. In addition, loans made to owner occupants of one-to-four dwelling unit properties may include an amount to refinance existing debt secured by the property.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

For a residential property, the amount of the loan cannot exceed the lesser of the cost of rehabilitation (except in the case of refinancing) or $10,000 per dwelling unit, except in high cost areas where the maximum loan is $14,500 per dwelling unit. For a nonresidential property, the maximum total loan that may be made to a borrower, or combination of borrowers, for a property shall not exceed the lesser of:

1. Rehabilitation cost.
2. $50,000
3. 80 percent of the value of the property after rehabilitation.

In addition, the loan amount to a property owner shall not exceed an amount which, when added to any outstanding indebtedness related to the property, creates a total outstanding indebtedness that is in excess of 80 percent of the estimated market value of the property after rehabilitation.

ELIGIBILITY:

These loans can be made only if the borrower is unable to get a loan from other sources on comparable terms and conditions. Currently at an interest rate of 3%.

NOTE

This program offers assistance to elderly home owners whose dwellings are threatened with dilapidation because they are otherwise unable to obtain financing. CAPs are advised to utilize this availability on behalf of their aging population by going directly to local redevelopment agency for assistance in all necessary paper work pursuant to obtaining a rehabilitation loan.
Program Title: FARM LABOR HOUSING—LOANS AND GRANTS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
Loans and grants may be provided to build, improve, buy, or repair farm labor housing including: facilities for kitchens, dining halls, and appropriate health and recreational facilities. Loans and grants may also be used to develop water, sewage disposal, heating, and light systems needed for the housing and other related facilities. Grant funds may also be used to buy land on which housing is to be located.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Loans are made for the maximum term of 33 years or the useful life of the security, whichever is less, at an interest rate of 5% a year on the unpaid principal. A loan to an individual farm owner may not exceed the normal value of the farm as improved, less other liens.

ELIGIBILITY:
A loan may be made to a farm owner or association of farmers, state or political subdivision or nonprofit organization. A grant may be made to a state or political subdivision or a broadly based nonprofit organization that intends to provide labor housing as a community service.

NOTE:
There is the possibility in this program for rural CAPs to develop the means of providing decent housing and even some labor for the elderly poor. If possible, form a nonprofit group to meet requirements of eligibility and proceed to assist them in obtaining the necessary loans and grants.
Program Title: FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION—RURAL HOME LOANS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a loan program to assist farmers and non-farm residents of a rural area or small town to construct, improve, or repair rural homes and related facilities and farm service buildings. Funds may also be used for fallout shelters; to provide water for household and farm use; for modernization, enlargement, or remodeling service buildings and related facilities—such as yard fences and driveways. Rural residents may also use the loans to buy a minimum adequate site on which to build a house.

Special provisions and considerations are given to rural residents including senior citizens who are 62 years of age or over who need a co-signer.

Low-income families may also participate in a mutual self-help project providing they cannot individually afford to build modest houses by customary methods. Each family must be able to repay a loan for the cash cost of the house built by the self-help method. Families who take part in a self-help project must be willing to work with others and have the time and physical ability to participate.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Loans average $10,000, but vary according to the needs of the applicant. The maximum repayment term is 33 years. Each loan must be adequately secured.

ELIGIBILITY:

Rural areas are defined for purposes of eligibility as open country or small towns (with populations of not more than 5,500) which are rural in character and not part of, or closely associated with, an urban or suburban area. An applicant must:

1. Be unable to finance the improvements himself or to obtain credit from other sources at reasonable terms.
2. Be a U.S. citizen, or a person who resides in the United States after being legally admitted for permanent residence, of legal age and of good character.
3. Own a farm or non-farm tract or be a rural resident who will own an adequate building site when the loan is closed.
4. Be without decent, safe, and sanitary housing, or without essential farm service buildings.
5. Have sufficient income to pay operating and living expenses and meet payment on debts, including the proposed loan. A rural resident including senior citizens who do not have enough income to repay a loan may be able to qualify if someone else co-signs his note.

NOTE:

It is suggested that CAP directors "round up" former building trade workers among their aging citizens, and utilize this pool as a manpower resource. It is also programmaticallly sound to help in the organization of processing rural home loans for aging applicants by not only informing them of the assistance they can get, but also helping in the filling out of necessary application forms and other paper work.
GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a broad loan program devised to assist individuals to pay for alteration, repair, improvement, or conversion of existing homes and other structures; two-family dwellings; apartments; non-residential dwellings such as stores or service buildings. The work to be done must substantially improve or protect the basic utility of the property. Loans are also available under this title for new building of certain non-residential structures—such as retail stores, warehouses, or farm service buildings.

These loans are made by banks, savings and loan associations, finance companies, and other lending organizations that are approved by the F.H.A. Commissioner. Many loans are arranged through local contractors, but they can also be made directly by individuals. By insuring private lenders against loss on the loan, the F.H.A. makes it less expensive for the individual to obtain the needed credit.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Maximum limits vary depending upon the kind of construction and the use of the structure. Rates of interest and terms of repayment also vary. Most loans, however, are made in amounts up to $3,500, at an interest rate of from 8.54% to 9.58% for a term up to 5 years.

ELIGIBILITY:

Individual applicants must own the property they wish to improve, purchase it under a contract, or hold it under a lease not to expire sooner than 6 months after the repayment term of the loans. Applicants must also have sufficient income to assure repayment. Both residential and non-residential properties are eligible.

Program Title: F.H.A. MORTGAGE INSURANCE—RENTAL HOUSING FOR THE ELDERLY

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This program was enacted to facilitate the financing of rental housing projects designed specifically for tenants who are 62 years and over and for handicapped persons of any age. It provides mortgage insurance to both profit and nonprofit sponsors of new or rehabilitated rental housing. Structures in the project may be detached, semi-detached, or apartment houses.

Projects assisted in this program offer more extensive non-residential facilities and services than is generally the case under the direct loan program of the Community Facilities Administration of the Public Housing Administration low-rent program.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

The maximum interest rate on insurance on mortgages may not exceed 6-3/4%. The maximum financing is 100% of estimated replacement cost for nonprofit sponsors and 90% of estimated replacement cost for profit-motivated sponsors on new construction. If a structure is to be rehabilitated, these maximums apply to estimated value of the project after completion.

ELIGIBILITY:

Any individual, corporation, association, or nonprofit organization is eligible if the project contains at least eight dwelling units and meets minimum F.H.A. property standards in regard to location, design, and adequacy of market.

Nonprofit sponsors must show in the proposal that they have had a long-term interest in providing adequate housing for the elderly and handicapped.

Profit-motivated sponsors must provide capable and experienced management.

Program Title: F.H.A. MORTGAGE INSURANCE—HOUSING FOR FAMILIES OF LOW AND MODERATE INCOME

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
The aim of this program is to assist the provision of homes at costs within the reach of people of low and moderate income. The program insures mortgage financing for construction or rehabilitation of single-family homes and multi-family rental projects. Families displaced by urban renewal or other government action are given special consideration and lower financing terms for purchase or construction of homes. F.H.A. also administers the rent supplement program which aids families in paying their rents.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
The maximum mortgage amount of an individual home is $12,500 (which may be increased to $15,000 in high-cost areas) at a maximum of 6-3/4% interest, with a varying maximum term of repayment from 30 to 40 years. Mortgage insurance premium is 1/2 of 1%.

Maximum mortgage amount for multi-family rental projects is $12.5 million. Repayment must be made the lesser of 40 years or 3/4 of the remaining economic life of the property. Maximum interest rate is either 3 or 6-3/4%.

ELIGIBILITY:
Any family (or person) of low or moderate income, or displaced by urban renewal or other government action, may apply. Multi-family rental projects at the regular market rate are available to any mortgagor approved by the F.H.A. Multi-family rental projects (financed at below-market interest rates) are available to public agencies, cooperatives, private nonprofit corporations or associations, and builder-seller and limited distribution mortgagors.

Occupancy of below-market interest rate multi-family rental projects is controlled by limitations of family income established by F.H.A. and special priority is given to elderly, handicapped, and displaced persons.

Occupancy of rent supplement units is limited to those families whose incomes are at the public housing level for their locality and who have been displaced from their homes because of governmental action; are now living in substandard housing; are elderly or handicapped, or have had their homes substantially damaged or destroyed by natural disaster.

Program Title: F.H.A. MORTGAGE INSURANCE—COOPERATIVE HOUSING

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
Under Section 213 of the National Housing Act of 1964, the F.H.A. offers insurance for long-term mortgages to nonprofit cooperatives who construct or rehabilitate projects consisting of 5 or more dwelling units. Financing, for which insurance is available, may be used in a number of ways:
1. For new construction or rehabilitation of existing structures.
2. For acquisition of an existing project.
3. To improve and repair a project already owned by the cooperative corporation and to finance the resale of individual memberships.
4. In the case of individual family dwellings, to construct or rehabilitate dwellings that will be sold to individual members and to provide mortgage financing for individual members purchasing homes in such projects.
5. And to construct or rehabilitate a project that the owner intends to sell to a nonprofit cooperative.

The intention of the program is to provide assistance for a variety of housing for both central and suburban areas and for families of different sizes and incomes.

ELIGIBILITY:
Insurance for mortgage financing is available to any nonprofit ownership housing corporation or trust whose permanent occupancy of the housing will be restricted to members or beneficiaries. Nonprofit corporations and trusts organized for the purpose of constructing homes for members or beneficiaries are also eligible. Individual mortgagors approved by the F.H.A. Commissioner and who intend to sell such property to a nonprofit corporation or trust may also receive insurance for financing.

Property for the proposed housing may be located in any area approved by F.H.A. when a need for such housing is indicated by the Housing Market.

NOTE:
If there is a cooperative housing project as described in your area, it should offer opportunities for the elderly seeking or requiring employment, social or cultural outlets. An excellent opening for the integration of housing for the elderly with younger families, in both urban and rural communities, and the incorporation of such program planning as Foster Grandparents, elderly baby-sitting service, etc.
Program Title: F.H.A. MORTGAGE INSURANCE—FINANCING HOME PURCHASES AND HOME IMPROVEMENTS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a broad program that provides insurance for mortgage financing to mortgagors at a more favorable rate than is usually allowed. Financing can be used to purchase proposed or existing dwellings of 1 to 4 units, to rehabilitate existing properties, and to refinance debts owed on the property.

This program does not apply to urban renewal areas and can include farms of 5 or more acres which are adjacent to a highway and non-farm, rural single-family dwellings. It also applies to financing for proposed improvement, alteration, and repairs to existing structures.

ELIGIBILITY:

Persons eligible for the program can be both occupant or non-occupant mortgagors, but applications must be submitted by an F.H.A. approved lender.

Minimum requirements of location and construction are also prescribed by F.H.A., and the applicant must meet these standards. Elderly persons may qualify for these loans but may be subject to shorter repayment periods.

NOTE:

CAP directors in rural areas should try to take advantage of this opportunity to help the elderly meet the individual requirements to obtain assistance for home improvements. Work in conjunction with regional representatives of F.H.A.
Program Title: F.H.A. MORTGAGE INSURANCE—FOR URBAN RENEWAL

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This is an urban renewal program to assist in removing the conditions of blight and slums and in preventing deterioration of property. It provides insurance on mortgages made to investors, builders, individual home owners, and apartment owners. Financing may be used toward new or rehabilitated homes or multi-family structures, but such properties must be located in designated urban renewal areas.

Special sections of this program provide authority to insure financing for improvements that will enhance and preserve homes and apartments in designated areas.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
In general, the terms of this program are more advantageous than the F.H.A. regular home and multi-unit mortgage programs; greater maximum loans are allowed and smaller equity investments are possible.

ELIGIBILITY:
This program is limited to properties located in designated urban renewal areas or an area in which a program of concentrated code enforcement activities is being undertaken. Any individual home owner, apartment owner, investor, builder, or developer whose property falls in these areas, is eligible.

Program Title: FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION—FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO SMALL TOWNS AND RURAL GROUPS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a loans and grants program primarily to assist small towns and rural areas to develop domestic water and waste disposal systems. However, the uses of the program are very broad.

Loans and grants may be used to:

1. Install or improve rural water supply and distribution systems including water supply reservoirs, pipelines, wells, pumping plants, and water purification facilities that furnish water for numerous purposes.
2. Purchase a water supply or water right.
3. Install, repair, improve, or expand waste collection, treatment, or disposal systems (including sewer lines), treatment plants, setting basins, and lagoons.

Another section of the program provides loans only to such projects as:

1. Rental housing for rural senior citizens.
2. Establishment of recreational facilities.
3. Installation or improvement of drainage and irrigation facilities.
4. Soil conservation measures.
5. Reorganization of land use for grazing, wild-life, forest, and recreation areas.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Maximum total of loans and grants cannot exceed $4 million. Rates of interest for loans cannot exceed 5% and term of maturity is 40 years. Security is required also.

Technical assistance is also available during the early planning phases of the project.

ELIGIBILITY:

Public or quasi-public bodies and nonprofit corporations serving residents of open country and rural towns and villages, up to 5,500 in population and not part of an urban area, are eligible when:

1. They are unable to obtain needed credit elsewhere at reasonable terms.
2. They have the legal capacity to borrow and repay money, to pledge security for loans, and to operate the facilities or services installed under the loan.
3. They are financially sound and effectively organized and managed.
4. The proposed improvements will primarily serve farmers, ranchers, farm tenants, farm laborers, and other rural residents.

Program Title: INFORMATION PROGRAM—HOUSING FOR THE AGED

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This is an information service in which agricultural engineers and home economists design and make available plans for housing for the elderly, which are functional and economical to both construct and live in.

ELIGIBILITY:
Individuals, profit and nonprofit organizations, state and local governments may apply for plans and information.

Program Title: MODEL CITIES ADMINISTRATION

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This is a new mortgage insurance provided for homes in areas approved for Federal financial assistance for concentrated rehabilitation projects (Model Cities). This insurance can be used for rehabilitation purposes.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
The amount of the mortgage can be up to 100% of the value of rehabilitated structures; interest rate is 6-3/4% on most programs, plus 1/2% mortgage insurance premium; the maximum term of maturity is 5 to 40 years.

ELIGIBILITY:
Any property owner in a concentrated rehabilitation project area may be eligible.

NOTE:
Availability of assistance is extremely important to poor aging homeowners whose properties have fallen into serious need of repairs, most particularly in concentrated urban neighborhoods. Direct individuals to regional FHA office and assist them with filling out forms etc.

Program Title: DEMONSTRATION (OR MODEL) CITIES PROGRAM

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This program is designed to help selected localities to plan and carry out a comprehensive five-year program to solve the social, economic and physical problems of large blighted neighborhoods. In attacking these problems, cities are expected to use innovative approaches and techniques, reach a high degree of cooperation and coordination of Federal, state and local efforts and involve neighborhood residents in planning and carrying out the program. Accomplishments should serve as models to be followed by other cities facing the same problems. The goals of the Model Cities Program include improving the physical environment, housing, job opportunities, health services, recreational and cultural opportunities and transportation and reducing the incidence of crime and delinquency in the model neighborhoods.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Grants and technical assistance are provided at the planning stage up to 80% of the cost of planning, developing, and administering programs. At the execution stage, there are supplemental grants that could provide up to 80% of the non-Federal contribution to the Federal grants-in-aid programs in the demonstration.

As of June 1968, seventy-five cities had received Model Cities planning grants, and additional cities are being selected.

ELIGIBILITY:
Municipalities of all sizes are eligible to apply for Model Cities funds. In larger cities the neighborhood may include up to 10 percent of the city population and in smaller cities up to 15,000 people. Cities must demonstrate their capacity to carry out the total program.

NOTE:
Senior citizens should be encouraged and assisted to become involved in planning boards wherever Model Cities Programs are being set up or anticipated. They can be valuable in bringing “visibility” to the needs of the aging by stating those needs clearly at meetings. Possible employment in actual construction should also be given careful attention for the elderly.
GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This Institute was established to focus on and support research and training related to health problems of human development and aging. Through research in the biological, medical, behavioral and social sciences, the Institute hopes to promote better understanding of problems related to maternal health, child health and adult development and aging.

TYPES OF PROJECTS SPONSORED:

This program supports research designed to investigate human developmental processes, including adult development and aging. Eligible for support, for example, are studies of progressive changes in cells, tissues and organ systems as they relate to aging of whole organisms or species, studies on age differences in psychological function, and social aspects of aging.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Research and training grants are awarded to universities and other nonprofit institutions. Research Career Development Awards and Fellowships are awarded for the support of individuals who wish to prepare for research careers in areas of human development. Research grants include funds for salaries, equipment, and supplies. Training grants support faculty, provide tuition and stipends for students, and include funds for equipment and supplies for student research.

ELIGIBILITY:

Eligible for support are state or local agencies, public or nonprofit agencies and institutions, and individuals.

NOTE:

While this program does not offer any direct financial assistance to programs dealing with the aging poor, CAP directors wishing to do so are advised to communicate the necessity to help them cope with today's economic and social strata, to schools or institutions in your region applying for this kind of grant and/or implementing such a study. Assistance may also be offered through the elderly in your community to set up a reaching-out research program such as Project FIND (NCOA) for their information.
Program Title: GRANTS FOR COMMUNITY HEALTH PRACTICE AND RESEARCH

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This program was established to support basic health programs and stimulate the development of new and improved programs. It provides financial and technical assistance to local governments, individuals, agencies and organizations.

Financial assistance is administered in the form of two types of grants: formula grants and demonstration grants. The first are allotted to states to support health programs which treat problems not covered by the special purpose grants. Matching funds are required on an equal basis. Research and demonstration grants are available: to state and local government agencies, universities, nonprofit organizations, and individuals for research into the development of comprehensive health services and new or improved methods of providing out-of-hospital health services. There are no matching requirements for research and demonstration grants.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

The average size of the research and demonstration grants negotiated under this program has approximated $20,000 for 1 year, but individual contracts have ranged from $5,000 to $60,000. Support is generally given for not more than 1 year, but additional support may be given on an annual but diminishing basis.

ELIGIBILITY:

Any state agency is eligible to apply for grants for basic health programs (or the formula grants). Local agencies cannot apply directly but may receive support through state programs.

Nonprofit agencies and organizations, educational institutions and individuals, may apply for the research and demonstration grants.

Technical assistance and training services are available to Federal, state and local agencies and organizations.

NOTE:

CAP directors can make use of this program to establish projects such as Project FIND innovated by the National Council of the Aging. Such research and demonstration programs when funded can offer a wide spectrum of employment opportunities for the elderly poor.
Program Title: HILL-BURTON RESEARCH PROGRAM

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This is a grant program that supports experiments, research, and demonstrations relating to: the development, use, and coordination of services, facilities, and resources of medical facilities, agencies, and institutions.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Assistance is provided in the form of grants. The Federal share for experimental construction or equipment projects cannot exceed $500,000 or 50 percent of the total approved outlay. Research projects expenditures must include 5 percent or more contributed by the receiving institution. Matching is not required for demonstration projects.

ELIGIBILITY:
States, political jurisdictions, public and private nonprofit institutions and organizations may apply for grants under this program.

Program Title: DEVELOPMENT AND EXPANSION OF COMMUNITY MENTAL HEALTH PROGRAMS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This program was developed to assist states to improve the treatment of the mentally ill and mentally retarded. Grants are provided to states for facilities and services on a matching basis: Federal 50% and state 50%.

TYPE OF PROJECTS SPONSORED:
Funds are authorized for the following: (1) To aid in planning for the mental health need of citizens. (2) To assist in constructing comprehensive community health services. (3) To help mental hospitals and institutions for the retarded improve their therapeutic services. (4) To provide in-service training for staff of state mental hospitals and institutions. (5) To assist the expansion of services and research programs related to mental retardation.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Funds are allotted to states by a formula and require equal matching funds from the state or local agencies. The size of the grants have been steadily increasing since the inception of the program in 1948. By 1964 the minimum grant was $115,000 and the 1965 fiscal year appropriation for the total program was $5,740,000. In addition to grants, professional and technical assistance is also available from the National Institute of Mental Health which plans and executes field studies and acts as a clearing house for legal and technical information relating to mental health.

ELIGIBILITY:
Mental health authorities, as designated by the states, are eligible to receive formula grants upon submission and approval of a state plan for their use. Local agencies may participate through state programs.

Program Title: MENTAL HEALTH—RESEARCH AND TRAINING

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This research program was established to stimulate projects designed to improve methods and to strengthen programs for treating and preventing mental illness, and for promoting better mental health including the mental health of older people. The programs support experiments, studies, and demonstrations to develop new knowledge, methods, and techniques for treating and preventing mental illness, to apply new knowledge, methods, and techniques to mental health service programs, to evaluate these techniques, and to coordinate existing service resources to promote the improvement of the care, treatment, and rehabilitation of the mentally ill.

The training program provides grants to institutions, graduate and undergraduate traineeships to enable them to improve or expand educational instruction and research training in areas pertaining to mental health.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Research grants are regularly authorized for research in problems of the aging. Both basic and applied research projects are supported. Small grants are awarded for a period of one year in the amount of $5,000 or less to support preliminary research exploration.

Training support is provided to qualify institutions to improve the quality of mental health training and to enable the greater number of persons to pursue careers in mental health disciplines and related areas such as aging.

ELIGIBILITY:

Individual project grants are available to state and local agencies, laboratories, public or nonprofit agencies and institutions, and individuals.

NOTE:

Research in problems of the aging can be proposed on the model of a project such as FIND for a reaching out among the elderly by older persons acting as paid volunteers.
Program Title: CONSTRUCTION OF COMMUNITY MENTAL HEALTH CENTERS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This program became law in 1963 to meet the need for the development and improvement of mental health facilities. It authorizes and provides formula grants to state and local governments and public and private nonprofit agencies for construction of public and other nonprofit community mental health centers. Projects may propose the construction of completely new facilities, expansion or remodeling of existing facilities, and initially equip and staff the centers.

Such centers should be oriented to the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of mental illness in both out-patient or in-patient facilities; and for rehabilitation and education of mentally ill. The administration of the project grants is made through a single state agency which is responsible for the development of a comprehensive plan that sets standards for operation and maintenance of facilities. Projects must be part of an approved state plan.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

The authorizing legislation provides for a minimum allotment of $100,000. Allotments above that figure are determined on a formula basis which considers population, financial need, and need for community mental health centers for each state. The full authorization of $35 million was appropriated for the fiscal year 1965, but was substantially increased for 1966 through 1968 and 1969.

ELIGIBILITY:

Private nonprofit organizations, state and other local public agencies may apply for a grant for construction of mental health centers, providing the project meets a community need as determined by the state administering agency and is included in the state plan. Applications must be submitted through the state agency.

Available Printed Information:

NOTE:

CAP directors may help elderly poor become involved with boards of local sponsors of such mental health centers, for expression of needs not being met at present. If there is no health center as herein described in your region and the need is great, it may be possible to stimulate a community-based demand for such a center through the organization of a community action committee.
GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This program supports professional and technical staff in community mental retardation facilities. Public and nonprofit facilities which provide diagnosis, treatment, education, training, or personal (custodial) care may apply for support. Also included are sheltered workshops, if they are sheltered workshops, if they are part of facilities which provide or will provide comprehensive services for the mentally retarded. Staffing grants can be made for the initial operation of new facilities or new services in existing facilities.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Grants are available on a declining percentage basis—75% of eligible staffing costs for the first 15 months of grant period operation; 60% for the next 12 months; 45% for the next 12 months; and 35% for the next 12 months.

ELIGIBILITY:
Public and nonprofit agencies, as described in General Nature and Purpose above, are eligible to apply.

Program Title: MANPOWER EXPERIMENTAL AND DEMONSTRATION PROJECTS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This program seeks to try out new ideas in manpower through actual experiments. It provides new approaches and innovative techniques in such matters as recruiting, counseling, and training, and placement that may be translated into action programs. Most projects seek to reach and train disadvantaged workers who might not be able to participate in regular occupational training. They are directed toward such groups as the hard-core unemployed, physically handicapped, mentally retarded, disadvantaged minorities, and others with special employment problems, such as older workers.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Full Federal financing is available for selected projects. During fiscal 1967, about $15 million was allotted for experimental and demonstration projects.

ELIGIBILITY:

Any Federal, state or local agency, Community Action Program, educational institution, or organization with manpower capabilities may apply for a grant or contract.

Eligibility requirements for individuals specify that persons must be unemployed or under-employed with problems that preclude using regular MDTA programs. They may be recipients of welfare, lack significant work experience, or possess less than a 6th grade education.

Program Title: HEALTH FACILITIES FOR APPALACHIAN REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This grants program was enacted in 1965 to assist the Appalachian Region to develop needed health facilities. Funds can be used for construction, equipping and operating multi-county demonstrations, health, facilities (including hospitals), diagnostic and treatment centers. Facilities may be constructed to provide for a broad range of health areas—child health, mental health, chronic diseases, geriatrics, communicable diseases, training and research facilities, etc.

Provisions of the Hill-Burton Program are used as the criteria for assessing applications for these grants, but state ceilings set out in those provisions do not apply here.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Funds appropriated for the 1965 and 1966 fiscal year amount to $20,875,000 and are available until expended. The 1967 authorization was established at $41 million.

Matching funds are required. The Federal share of the total cost of construction cannot exceed 80%. Costs of operation may be covered to 100% for the first 2 years of operation and 50% of the costs for the next 3 year period. Operation grants cannot exceed a 5 year period.

ELIGIBILITY:

Private nonprofit agencies and organizations, state, and other public agencies are eligible provided that the proposed project is part of the approved state plan. Applications are made through the state agency and in turn the Appalachian Regional Commission.

Program Title: PROJECTS FOR HOSPITAL IMPROVEMENT FOR THE MENTALLY DISABLED

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a demonstration grants program whose purpose is to improve the general level of care in hospitals, both public and private, and other institutions for the mentally disabled.

Innovation and experiment are important components of this program; grants can be used for a wide variety of programs that might include the following:

1. To develop special programs for particular groups such as geriatric mental patients, emotionally disturbed children, alcoholics, etc.

2. To set up diagnostic units which might obviate placing the mentally retarded in institutions.

3. To experiment in pre-discharge programs, use of voluntary or auxiliary personnel, etc.

ELIGIBILITY:

State, nonprofit agencies, private hospitals, and other institutions offering services to the mentally disabled may apply for these grants.

Program Title: HOSPITAL AND MEDICAL FACILITIES
CONSTRUCTION AND MODERNIZATION

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

Popularity known as the Hill-Burton Program, this program provides grants and/or loans to assist states to provide adequate hospital and medical facilities. Such facilities include nursing homes as well as hospitals, public health centers, diagnostic centers and rehabilitation facilities. Assistance may be utilized for the construction of new facilities, expansion, remodeling or alteration of existing structures, and the original equipment required for new or remodeled facilities.

In addition, grants may be used for research and demonstration projects that seek ways to expand or improve the use and services of health and rehabilitation facilities. (See Hill-Burton Research Program).

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Loans may be made for a maximum period of 40 years at a low rate of interest.

Matching funds are required; the Federal share varies from state to state between 1/3 and 2/3 of the total cost of construction and equipment.

ELIGIBILITY:

Individual projects must apply through state agencies and must conform with the approved state plan.

Program Title: NATIONAL COMMUNICABLE DISEASE CENTER

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
Under the Vaccination Assistance Act of 1962, this program assists states and local agencies to provide broad immunization programs against diphtheria, poliomyelitis, tetanus, whooping cough, measles, and other diseases presenting a major health problem. Assistance may be either in the form of vaccines (and Federal personnel to administer them) or in grants.

Immunizations are particularly for young children, but may include practically all susceptible persons in the community.

Grants may be used to plan, organize, and promote programs: to study the needs for immunization; to maintain epidemiologic and laboratory surveillance; to purchase vaccines for preschool age children; and to finance salaries and other related expenses.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
1965 legislation extends the provisions of this program through fiscal year 1968, at an annual authorization of $11 million.

ELIGIBILITY:
Any state or, with the approval of the state health authority, any political subdivision or instrumentalities may apply for grants to carry out intensive vaccination programs.

Program Title: HILL-BURTON PROGRAM

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
The Hill-Burton Program makes Federal grants or loans available to assist in constructing and equipping public and private nonprofit hospitals and other health facilities for which a need is established.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Modernization and Grant Funds:
Modernization and replacement funds for a 4 year period, beginning with fiscal year 1966, total $160 million. This new grant program for modernization and/or replacement of public and nonprofit hospitals and other health facilities is the most far-reaching change in the program.

In addition, new amendments also provide the following:
1. Project grants to help develop regional metropolitan area, or other local area plans for health and related facilities.
2. A single category of long-term care facilities ($70 million).
3. Use by states of 2% of their allotments (up to $50,000 a year) to assist in efficient and proper administration of state plans.

SPECIAL AREAWIDE PLANNING GRANTS:
The Surgeon General can make grants to states to cover 50% of the costs of projects for developing, supervising, and carrying out regional, metropolitan area, or local area plans for coordinating health and related facilities and services. Appropriations authorized for these special grants totaled $2.5 million for fiscal year 1965, and $5 million for each of the next 4 years.

ELIGIBILITY:
Eligible facilities include: hospitals, public health centers, long-term care facilities (including nursing homes), diagnostic and treatment centers, and rehabilitation facilities. Types of projects may include: (1) construction of new buildings, (2) expansion, (3) modernization of existing structures, and (4) equipment.

Federal share varies from state to state, ranging from 1/3 to 2/3 of the construction costs. The state administering authority can provide information on Federal share applicable to that particular state.

Authorized Appropriations:
Authorized appropriations for construction purposes covering the next five years are as follows: hospital and public health centers, $680 million ... long-term care facilities, $350 million ... diagnostic and treatment centers, $100 million ... rehabilitation facilities, $50 million.
Program Title: ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT ADMINISTRATION

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This program is aimed at helping create permanent new jobs in communities suffering from severe unemployment or low family income problems. Grants and loans are provided and may be made available for construction or expansion of nursing homes where it can be demonstrated that such assistance is needed for creating new employment opportunities.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Grants and/or loans. The extent of grant assistance is determined by the extent of the community economic distress but in no event may any combination of Federal grant assistance exceed 80 percent of the project cost.

ELIGIBILITY:
The project must be located in an area designated as eligible to participate in the program. States, local subdivisions thereof, Indian tribes, and private or public nonprofit organizations or associations are eligible to receive grants and loans.

Available Printed Information:
Grants and Loans for Public Works and Development Facilities.

For Further Information:

NOTE:
CAP directors will find this program well-suited to the needs of the aging in communities as described. Construction or expansion of nursing homes offer two-fold benefits—(1) the chance for employment in construction programs and (2) the chance for services that can be performed within the nursing homes by the able elderly poor. The third advantage of course, is that which accrues to the nursing home residents themselves in being helped by their peers.
Program Title: STATE HOME FACILITIES FOR FURNISHING NURSING HOME CARE

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This program provides for Federal participation with states to increase and improve nursing home care facilities operated by the states for care of war veterans. It provides for construction of new buildings, the expansion, remodeling, modification, or alteration of existing buildings, and the providing of initial equipment for any such buildings.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Federal participation may be up to 50% of project costs. The state must pay for land acquisitions. Authorized number of state-operated beds is 1 1/2 beds per thousand war veteran population.

ELIGIBILITY:

A state, through its designated agency, is eligible to apply for this grants program.

Program Title: VETERANS' NURSING HOME CARE PROGRAM

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

Nursing home care is furnished eligible veterans in facilities under the direct and exclusive jurisdiction of the Veterans Administration. This program provides skilled nursing home care, supportive personal care, and individual adjustment for veterans. The program is designed to meet the total needs of each patient and restore his maximum potential for self-help and independent living.

ELIGIBILITY:

Eligibility is limited to veterans who have been hospitalized under prescribed VA regulations and have attained maximum hospital benefits, or have been domiciled under prescribed VA regulations and require a period of nursing home care.

Program Title: F.H.A. MORTGAGE INSURANCE—NURSING HOMES

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a mortgage insurance program that assures financing to provide nursing homes. Homes may be profit and nonprofit.

Minimum capacity for any proposed home applying for insurance is 20 beds and the structure must be of such a nature as to house patients safely and properly. Certain non-residential facilities such as social, recreational, and other common facilities may be included in the mortgage loan.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

The maximum amount of any loan or new construction cannot exceed $12.5 million or 90% of the estimated value of the property when the proposed improvements are completed. For rehabilitation programs, loans cannot exceed 5 times the cost of new improvements. The rate of interest cannot exceed the maximum 6-3/4%, plus 1/2 of 1% premium for mortgage insurance. Maximum mortgage term of maturity is the lesser of 20 years or 3/4 of the remaining economic life of the property.

ELIGIBILITY:

Public mortgagors are not eligible. If a public body wants to sponsor a home, it must create a private entity to be the mortgagor.

Need for such facilities or care must be substantiated from the appropriate state agency and minimum standards of licensing and operation must be met.

In the event there is already a plan underway for construction of a nursing home with this type of mortgage insurance, submit your recommendations for the non-residential facilities which are indicated above and which can offer social and employment advantages to the aging poor.
Program Title: VETERANS’ COMMUNITY NURSING HOME CARE

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

The primary purpose of the Community Nursing Home Care Program is to aid the veteran, his family, and the community in making the transition from a VA hospital to a community care placement. It provides time at VA expense, if needed, for them to marshal their resources for his continued care.

ELIGIBILITY:

Only veterans who have been hospitalized in a VA hospital and received maximum hospital benefit discharge and need skilled nursing home care for convalescence, rehabilitation, or continued care for a protracted period of time, are eligible. Veterans who require more than occasional visits by physicians or more time, are eligible. Veterans who require more than minimal laboratory, X-ray, and other program. Generally, six months of nursing home care at VA expense should provide sufficient time to accomplish the primary purpose of this program. Veterans who require more than six months of nursing home care for treatment of a service-connected condition following hospitalization, will be offered a bed in a VA nursing home care unit.

Homes might also be provided through this program, for veterans who require help in reentering the workaday world, by elderly residents in need of meaningful occupations.
Program Title: MANPOWER RESEARCH PROGRAMS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

A program of manpower research, supported through grants and contracts, authorized under the Manpower Development and Training Act. It is designed to improve the Labor Department's operational programs, develop new perspectives and solutions to manpower problems, and provide early warning of emerging problems. There are four kinds of programs: research contracts, small research grants, grants for doctoral dissertations in the manpower field, and institutional grants for developing manpower research capabilities.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Full Federal financing is available for approved projects. During fiscal 1967, about $3.8 million was authorized for research.

ELIGIBILITY:

Applications for contracts are accepted from universities, state and local government agencies, and other organizations or individuals with research capabilities in the manpower area. Grants are available only to universities or other nonprofit organizations.

CAP directors can involve the aging in their communities in public hearings, board meetings and other dynamic actions, to bring their needs to the fore. They should also exert every effort to see that the elderly are made available for possible employment in research areas. (Project FIND). See your regional OEO and NCOA for assistance in developing these possibilities.
Program Title: MANPOWER DEVELOPMENT AND TRAINING

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
Under the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962, as amended, a program of occupational training is provided for unemployed and underemployed persons who cannot reasonably obtain appropriate full-time employment without training. Basic education may also be provided to enable trainees to undertake occupational trainings or to find a job. Training programs under the MDTA are conducted either in vocational schools, or on-the-job, or a combination of both.

The Act also provides authorization to train or retrain persons residing in designated redevelopment areas to qualify them for job opportunities created through economic redevelopment, public works projects, or existing job vacancies.

A 1966 amendment to the MDTA authorized the Secretary of Labor to provide, where appropriate, special programs of testing, counseling, selection, and referral of persons 45 years of age or older for occupational training and further schooling designed to meet the special problems faced by such workers.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
The Federal Government provides financing to 90 percent of the cost of training; the state must pay 10 percent of the costs. For redevelopment areas, special funds are made available for full Federal financing.

The program provides payment of training allowances up to 104 weeks to eligible trainees plus transportation and subsistence allowances. The institutional allowance costs are paid by the Federal Government. On-the-job trainees are paid by the employers.

ELIGIBILITY:
State educational agencies and public or private local training agencies are eligible for institutional grants. Employers may apply for on-the-job training contracts. Individuals eligible to receive training must be:
1. Unemployed workers (including members of farm families with less than $1,200 annual net family income).
2. Persons working less than full-time, or who will be unemployed because their skills have become or are becoming obsolete.
3. Persons working below their skill levels.
4. Disadvantaged youth, 16-22 years, who are out of school and/or in need of occupational training.
5. Persons unemployed or underemployed in redevelopment areas.

NOTE:
Attention is called to the items under “Eligibility” which offer a wide range of opportunity for special vocational training for older workers. CAP directors are urged to take cognizance of these advantages and adapt them. Contact local State Employment Service Agency, and/or regional NCOA offices for assistance.
Program Title: OFFICE OF SPECIAL MANPOWER PROGRAMS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

The experimental and demonstration program seeks to develop, through actual project operations, new ideas and techniques to meet manpower problems more effectively, particularly the problems of disadvantaged groups. Programs try to develop, on a small demonstration scale, new techniques and new types of organizational arrangements which could be applied widely to "reach" and help make such workers trainable, provide them with employment skills, and place them effectively in jobs.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Limited funds are awarded on a short term contract basis for projects to experiment with improved techniques and demonstrate the effectiveness of specialized methods in meeting the manpower, employment, and training problems of particularly disadvantaged worker groups.

ELIGIBILITY:

Projects focus on distinctive needs of the unemployed and underemployed persons who are not being aided effectively by established manpower service programs.

Available Printed Information:

Program Title: WORK EXPERIENCE AND TRAINING PROGRAM

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

Designed to help needy, disadvantaged persons to become self-supporting, this program offers a comprehensive scope of services to improve motivation, education, work skills and overall employability. Present and potential public assistance recipients comprise the target group—principally needy parents of dependent children.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Federal financing up to 100% is available for approved projects. Project participants receive a maintenance grant, work and training connected costs, medical care, and child care. Services available to prepare them for paid jobs include: counseling and guidance, education (adult basic and high school equivalency), constructive work experience, vocational training, individual and group casework services, job placement services and related activities.

ELIGIBILITY:

Work Experience and Training projects are conducted by local or state public assistance agencies and only these agencies may make application. However, maximum use is made of community resources. Individuals accepted for project participation must be needy in terms of the state's standard for AFDC (Aid to Families with Dependent Children) with respect to income and resources, be parents of dependent children, be potentially employable, and find it feasible to enter a training program and later take a job. Aging persons who meet these criteria are eligible for projects. In addition, project participants may be trained for jobs which would be of direct service to aging individuals. Older persons with particular skills may also find employment in carrying out parts of projects.

NOTE:

Your attention is directed to the section under "Eligibility," which specifically states that the aging who meet the criteria set forth are eligible for work experience and/or training. Innumerable areas of employment are possibly applicable to the aging, such as Homemakers, Home Health Aides, building construction, etc. Line up your requirements along with record of your eligible elderly poor and apply for further information and direction to your regional office, Assistance Payments Administration and/or your regional NCOA office.
GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

Under Section 241 of Title II of the Manpower Development and Training Act, occupational training and retraining of an institutional or on-the-job nature are provided for persons residing in designated redevelopment areas to assist them to qualify for employment.

Eligible trainees in redevelopment areas also receive training allowances which include: transportation and subsistence, as well as other expenses, for a period up to 104 weeks. Training is conducted in cooperation with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the need for such training or retraining is determined in consultation with the Department of Labor.

Under the 1965 amendments to the MDTA, Section 241 programs are authorized for full Federal financing without earlier apportionment among states.

ELIGIBILITY:

To be eligible, persons must reside in a designated redevelopment area and be unemployed or underemployed.

NOTE:

This program is of paramount importance to CAP directors in redevelopment areas who should examine its basis very carefully and take advantage of the possibilities available to the aging poor who are eligible for vocational training. Make contacts with local business leaders and Chambers of Commerce and your local State Employment Service.
Program Title: U.S. EMPLOYMENT SERVICE, BUREAU OF EMPLOYMENT SECURITY

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is an employment services program available to all persons through a nation-wide system of public employment offices. Offices serve employers, employees, and community groups. Services are broad and far-reaching and include counseling, testing, selection for training, job development and placement; recruitment and industrial services for employers; compilation, analysis, and publication of occupational and labor supply-demand information and statistics; training programs for manpower development; research in counseling, testing, occupational information, and other related fields. Special services and office specialists are provided for the older workers, handicapped, veterans, youth, etc.

In many Employment Services Offices, services to claimants for unemployment insurance benefits are available, claims taken and examined in accordance with state laws.

ELIGIBILITY:

Government agencies, community groups and organizations, employers, and individuals are all eligible for services.

NOTE:

The elderly unemployed worker is frequently bewildered and even intimidated by “paper” requirements and therefore unable to function to his (her) own best advantage when it comes to job hunting or attempting to find new job training. CAP directors could serve their needs by forming an employment pool for older men and women who are employable or trainable and bring them to the attention of the local State Employment office.
Program Title: SOCIAL AND REHABILITATION SERVICE—RESEARCH AND TRAINING CENTERS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a program of grants to universities or other institutions affiliated with universities to carry out research and teaching in all rehabilitation disciplines for the purpose of:

1. Attracting outstanding personnel to establish a stable program of research and training which emphasized the coordinated utilization of resources in a continuing effort to develop more effective and efficient services, techniques and methods of rehabilitating disabled persons;

2. Advancing scientific knowledge concerning all aspects of the rehabilitation process through creative research programs;

3. Developing and supporting innovative training program for professional and allied personnel in the physical, psychosocial, educational and vocational aspects of rehabilitation; and

4. Providing comprehensive rehabilitation services, which serve as program models, for those patients and clients participating in research and/or training activities.

The program began in 1961, and in 1968 included eighteen Research and Training Centers—eleven centers specializing in the medical aspects of rehabilitation; three in vocational rehabilitation; three in mental retardation; and one in the area of deafness.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Appropriations and expenditures for this program in 1968 were $10,225,000. No specific matching is required, but it is expected that grants will pay only part of the cost; ratios are determined by those administering the program.

ELIGIBILITY:

Educational institutions, state vocational rehabilitation agencies, and other nonprofit organizations that have a comprehensive program of training and research with a rehabilitation orientation are eligible to apply.

For Further Information Contact:

Legal Basis:

Vocational Rehabilitation Act of 1920; P.L. 66-236; 41 STAT 735; 29 USC 21-41(1964) as amended.

NOTE:

Although Community Action Agencies are not eligible per se, they could act as technical assistance resources for employment and training programs for older persons, through contacting local state Vocational Rehabilitation Agencies.
Program Title: SOCIAL AND REHABILITATION SERVICE—RESEARCH AND DEMONSTRATION

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This grants program provides assistance to states and public and private nonprofit agencies to meet part of the costs of research and demonstration projects that contribute significantly to the solution of vocational rehabilitation problems. The general purpose of the program is to expand and improve the nation's public and private programs of vocational rehabilitation for the disabled.

TYPES OF PROJECTS SPONSORED:

These include disorders of aging, mental and personality disorders, alcoholism, drug addiction, mental retardation, and speech, hearing and visual handicaps; and projects on counseling, evaluation of clients, new patterns of services, and development of experimental rehabilitation facilities.

There is a particular concern in this program for older persons with disabilities mentioned above. Projects might also include consumer education programs, which could serve the disabled by saving them unnecessary expenses.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Appropriations and expenditures for this program in 1967 were $8,575,000 for 18 centers throughout the nation. No specific matching is required.

ELIGIBILITY:

Universities, state vocational rehabilitation agencies, and other nonprofit organizations that have a comprehensive program of training and research in areas related to rehabilitation, are eligible to apply.

NOTE:

CAP directors can generate initiative among community organizations, etc., to establish vocational and rehabilitations demonstrations for the aging whose special “disorders,” whether physical, mental, social or economic, can best be relieved, as part of the general purpose of the program.
GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

Under this program funds on an allotted, formula basis are provided to states to pay the costs of providing vocational rehabilitation services to persons with physical or mental handicaps. The program covers a wide range of services: diagnosis and evaluation, counseling, training and employment placement, financial assistance for physical restoration and related services, transportation, maintenance during rehabilitation; and, in addition, assistance in establishing rehabilitation facilities and workshops, tools and equipment, other goods and services, and vending stands for handicapped persons.

Funds are also available to develop new and expanded services. State rehabilitation agencies and other nonprofit agencies and organizations are eligible to receive research and demonstration grant funds for vocational rehabilitation projects for the aging.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Federal support for the basic Vocational Rehabilitation program in each state is on the basis of $3.00 for every $1.00 made available by the state. The Innovation Grant program is a formula grant program designed to stimulate new programs. The matching rate for this 5-year grant program is 90-10 for the first 3 years and 75-25 for the last 2 years.

ELIGIBILITY:

Officially designated state agencies, the District of Columbia, Guam, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. In addition, grants can be made to state and other nonprofit agencies for projects to expand rehabilitation services.

NOTE:

CAP directors can innovate establishment of vocational rehabilitation projects for the aging elderly in their area if one is lacking, by contacting the regional or local State Vocational Rehabilitation office, or stimulating interest among qualified voluntary or other service groups in the community to do so, through applying for a grant. Make sure your state has allocated matching funds before making application for such a grant.
GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This program provides financial counseling and assistance to individual small businesses. Loans may be made either in participation with a bank or other private lending institution or directly from the SBA when a participation loan cannot be arranged.

Loans may be used for the following purposes: to purchase facilities, machinery, equipment, supplies, or materials; to provide working capital for business construction, conversion, or expansion. Special low-interest loans are available to small businesses that have been displaced by urban renewal, highway and other construction programs supported by Federal aid. Loans cannot be granted unless they conform to certain SBA stipulations.

In addition, this program provides guarantees up to 90% of a loan made by a bank to eligible small businesses.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct loans generally range from $15,000 to $100,000; however some loans are for less than $1,000. The maximum loan at this time is $100,000. The maximum rate of interest is 5-1/2% and the maximum term for repayment is 10 years. Participation loans, in which SBA and a bank take a share, may be up to $150,000, plus the bank’s share. SBA may guarantee up to $350,000 of a loan made by a bank to a small concern. The interest rate for the bank share of participation and guaranteed loans is established by the bank, but may not exceed 8%. On the SBA share of a participation the interest rate is 5-1/2%. Maximum loan term is 10 years.

ELIGIBILITY:

Small businesses are defined by specific criteria established by the Small Business Administration; generally a small business is one that is independently owned or operated and is not dominant in its field.

NOTE:

This program can be extremely helpful in cases where the elderly own small neighborhood stores (groceries, stationery, upholstery, shoe-repair) who, for reasons perhaps of illness, deteriorating slums, etc., are heading toward poverty and loss of their livelihood, who can be helped to sustain themselves if assisted to apply for loans under this program.
Program Title: ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY LOANS TO SMALL BUSINESS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
Under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, the Small Business Administration was authorized to make loans to disadvantaged and/or low income individuals who are in business or want to go into business. Greater emphasis is placed on character and ability of the individual in evaluating the risk, than on traditional credit standards. Both loans and management assistance are provided. Loans may be made directly by SBA, or in participation with a bank.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Loans may be made to the maximum amount of $25,000 at an interest rate of 5-1/2% (except in severely depressed areas, where it is lower), on the SBA share. Maximum maturity is 15 years, except when the loan's purpose is for working capital; then it is limited to 10 years.

ELIGIBILITY:
Applicants must be of low income or lacking in opportunity to expand or start a business.
By law financial aid can only be made to persons unable to obtain financing from banks, other private sources, or from other government lending programs.

Program Title: SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION—COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT LOANS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
Through this program the Small Business Administration assists communities to create new jobs and increase income and tax revenues. Loans are given to state and local development companies to help them provide long-term loans and equity capital to small businesses in the local community.

Almost any type of new or existing small retail, service, or manufacturing business may receive loans. Financing may be used for construction, expansion, or modernization of buildings; purchase of equipment or acquisition of land.

Any size community may organize to form development companies that are chartered for the express purpose of promoting economic development within a particular community.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Generally local development companies may receive as much as $8 of every $10 it loans to small business on a long-term, low-interest basis. SBA will loan a local development company as much as $350,000 for each small business concern for up to 25 years. The interest rate is 5-1/2% but may be reduced in certain cases to 5%.

ELIGIBILITY:
SBA requires that development companies must be largely controlled and owned by people who live in the local community, that each SBA loan assist a specific firm, and that businesses receiving loans conform to criteria defining “small business.” Usually a small business is one that is independently owned and operated and is not dominant in its sphere of activity.

State development companies must be incorporated under a special state law, and local development companies must be incorporated for the purpose of furthering economic growth to be eligible to apply for loans.

Program Title: MANAGEMENT AND TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE TO SMALL BUSINESS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
Under authorization of the Small Business Act of 1953, SBA established a program of management and technical assistance to assist small businesses.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
The general forms of this assistance provide:
1. Workshops, courses, conferences and clinics for both prospective and current business owners.
2. Publications of various types to assist management of small businesses.
3. Economic and management surveys.

ELIGIBILITY:
Persons eligible for this assistance include small businessmen, prospective small businessmen, and, in some cases, development companies and community groups. In general, a small business is one that is owned and operated independently and is not dominant in its field. The Small Business Administration has criteria that specifically define small businesses by industries.

Program Title: U.S. OFFICE OF EDUCATION, BUREAU OF RESEARCH

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

The Bureau of Research, Office of Education administers grants and contract programs available to educational institutions to assist them in meeting the cost of research, surveys, and demonstrations in the field of education. Its general aim is to support the development of knowledge of major problems of education at all levels of education—which could include education for the aged.

Contracts and grants may be awarded for basic research, surveys, and demonstrations; for constructing and equipping national and regional educational laboratories; for the establishment of centers for research and demonstration; and for training researchers in education.

TYPES OF PROJECTS SPONSORED:

During 1968 the Bureau supported several studies that dealt with the educational problems, needs, and interests of older people. These projects have included such topics as: development and demonstration in adult training and retraining and patterns of information-seeking in adult education, learning in the older adult reader and exploration of simulation as a retirement education technique.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

The 1968 appropriation for the Bureau of Research was $90 million. The average size of the grants has been approximately $50,000 for a 2-year project, but ranges from $1,000 to $1 million.

ELIGIBILITY:

Proposals for research grants and contracts may be submitted by institutions of higher education, state departments of education, private industry, and individuals. Proposals for educational laboratories may be made by a state department of education, colleges and universities, local school systems, and private industry.

PROGRAM TITLE: COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICES

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

Through the Cooperative Extension Service, the U.S. Department of Agriculture provides technical subject matter and organizational leadership to help disseminate useful and practical knowledge on subjects relating to home economics and agriculture. Educational programs are carried out in cooperation with county governments in both rural and urban areas. These programs, which are locally organized, may include such fields as: home economics, consumer service and education, youth development, and agricultural production and marketing.

The aging are served by several of the broad programs of the Cooperative Extension Service, but especially the continuing education programs of an informed nature available in local communities throughout the nation. These programs have increasingly included topics and problems that meet specific needs of older people. These include, as illustrations, the following:

1. Nutrition education in the interest of maintaining good health.
2. Design of housing for safety, convenience, energy saving, and within the economic limits of the families concerned.
3. Financial and home management and planning, including supplementary income possibilities.
4. Information about inheritance laws, wills, transfer of property, etc.
5. Family relationships and personal development. Leisure and recreation activities suitable to the aging and their interests.

ELIGIBILITY:

Any individual or community group is eligible for these services.

NOTE:

Coordinate your efforts to obtain technical assistance education for the elderly in your community with the local Cooperative Extension Service Office. This should provide an excellent source of help in rural and urban areas.
Program Title: LIBRARY OF CONGRESS, DIVISION FOR THE BLIND AND PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

Located in public and private institutions, regional libraries for the blind and physically handicapped distribute recorded and embossed books provided under the Federal program. They furnish the housing, supplies, and equipment necessary for their functions within the program. The library staff of each maintains records of the needs and preferences of its borrowers. As area requirements for additional service become evident, new regional libraries are established. By placing books from its collection in other libraries in the area, a regional library may make it possible for readers to browse and receive personal attention in their own community.

ELIGIBILITY:

Since reading normally involves the ability to hold a book or magazine, to turn pages, and to see the print clearly and comfortably for a reasonable length of time without special aids or devices other than regular eyeglasses, the degree to which a person's vision or manual dexterity is impaired will determine his eligibility. The following are examples of physical handicaps where muscle or nerve deterioration or paralysis might be present: cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, arthritis, infantile paralysis, myasthenia gravis, and diplegia. The program is available to residents of the United States and American citizens temporarily abroad. To qualify for this library service, an individual should secure a brief statement describing the characteristics of his physical disability and certifying his eligibility from a competent authority.

AVAILABLE MATERIALS:

Books selected for the blind and physically handicapped range from titles of current and popular interest to classics and vocational and practical materials. Selective are made for all age levels. Magazines are also included. Most widely used of the media provided by the program, talking book records are significant in providing a new and easy avenue to continued reading. Record players especially designed for operation by blind persons are lent to readers free of charge by the Library of Congress through more than 50 lending agencies.

Two bi-monthly publications—Talking Book Topics and Braille Book Review—are mailed free of charge to blind and physically handicapped persons who borrow books from the regional libraries and their branches and to other interested individuals and organizations. Pamphlets describing all aspects of the program are available on request. The Library also offers a national reference and referral service on all aspects of blindness and other physical handicaps, working closely with organizations which are sources of information and statistics on those subjects.

Legal Basis:

Recent expansion of the library program resulted from the passage in July, 1966 of Public Law 89-522, which authorized the Library of Congress to extend its books-for-the-blind program to people who are unable to read conventional print materials because of physical limitations.

NOTE:

Local, regional, and national associations working with or interested in physically handicapped people help governmental agencies in both publicizing the service and evaluating its effectiveness.

Offers opportunity for volunteer services.
Program Title: TEACHING MATERIALS FOR THE BLIND

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE: This is a program of annual grants to state departments of education to be used in purchasing teaching and educational materials for blind students. Part of the awarded grants is made to each state's chief school office and part to each resident school for the blind.

The American Printing House for the Blind furnishes the material, which includes: tape recorded educational programs, talking books, Braille books and music, large-type texts, and other aids.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE: The allocation of grants is made to each state on the basis of the population of blind students registered in state schools and institutions.

ELIGIBILITY: Only state departments of education may apply for grants.

Program Title: CAPTIONED FILMS FOR THE DEAF

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a loan service program to provide captioned films and other visual aids—such as tapes, transparencies, programmed instructions, etc.—for groups of deaf persons. The general aim of the program is to promote educational and cultural advancement for the deaf by providing and distributing a broad range of films and by conducting research in the use of educational and training films.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Films are made available free, on loan, to eligible groups. Annual appropriations have increased progressively since the inception of the program in 1960. The 1966 and 1967 fiscal years' appropriation was $3 million annually, to be increased to $5 million for 1968 and for 1969—rising thereafter to $7 million annually. The film library contains more than 500 films.

ELIGIBILITY:

Groups of 3 or more deaf persons, clubs, classes, schools, and other organizations are eligible to borrow films.

Groups and individuals must provide assurance that: (1) films will not be shown for an admission fee, (2) will not be broadcast by television, (3) will be exhibited only to groups of deaf persons, and (4) copyright will not be violated or infringed.

Program Title: LOANS FOR RECREATIONAL ENTERPRISES AND FACILITIES

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This program makes or insures loans to rural community groups to finance recreational facilities that will primarily serve farmers and other rural residents by either direct use or economic benefits. Generally this is limited to outdoor recreational facilities and activities. In general, most of the financing is provided by private lenders and insured through the program, but in certain cases loans may be made directly from the Farmers Home Administration.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
The maximum term of the loans is 40 years, and the interest rate may not exceed 5%. The average loan is approximately $100,000. Security is required. Technical assistance is also available to determine cost estimates, organization, financing, and management.

ELIGIBILITY:
Rural community groups (rural is defined as an area or small county town of not more than 5,500 population which is not part of an urban area) that are unable to obtain needed credit at reasonable rates and terms from other sources, are eligible to apply.

NOTE:
CAP directors in rural regions can perform a great service to older farmers who are "land poor" in assisting them to make application for this type of loan, to develop their properties for recreational enterprises such as ski resorts, picnic grounds, camping sites. This can be developed into an excellent and lucrative project in view of the fact that recreation now rates among our leading industries.
Program Title: HOME MANAGEMENT EDUCATION FOR AGED WELFARE RECIPIENTS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This is a service program, administered by the Extension Service of the Department of Agriculture, that provides aged welfare recipients with educational programs designed to assist them in making the most of their limited resources.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
The service provides program organization and curricula, teaching aids, and instructions and lectures through the state land-grant universities.

ELIGIBILITY:
Individuals, groups, state and local governments may apply.

Program Title: ADULT BASIC EDUCATION

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This broad program, established by the Economic Opportunity Act, was set up to support and stimulate local educational agency programs for persons 18 years of age and over. Administered through a state plan of basic adult education, it assists research and demonstration projects, ongoing programs of instruction, and development or improvement of techniques or supervisory services by the state educational agency.

Criteria for application call for new, imaginative, and creative approaches to the development of courses related to consumer buying practices, health habits, homemaking, employment information, family and community relationships, and citizenship responsibilities. Recent amendments also provide grants for teacher training in adult basic education.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Federal assistance is provided up to 90% of the total cost of the program; state or local contribution is 10%.

ELIGIBILITY:

Eligible applicants are educational agencies, organizations, and institutions identified under each state plan. This plan and the state agency administering the program will establish the procedures, limits of the program, and criteria by which local proposals can be approved and funded. Teacher training grants may be made to colleges, universities, state or local education agencies, and other public and voluntary nonprofit organizations.

Program Title: FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION—CONSUMER EDUCATION

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
In conjunction with its efforts to enforce laws governing foods and drugs, the Food and Drug Administration also provides a broad educational program which offers general information and professional consultations. Information is made available to interested persons or groups.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Consumer information service includes: the preparation and distribution of pamphlets, periodicals, films, radio and TV scripts, booklets and visual aids for teachers, and radio and TV spot announcements.

ELIGIBILITY:
Any individual or local community group may purchase materials.

For Further Information Contact:

NOTE:
This is a vital part of any CAP program. If there is no such facility in your area for which information like this would be needed, contact a local agency to stimulate the establishment of one. See Note on preceding page for fuller explanation.
Program Title: COMMUNITY RELATIONS SERVICE

This is a human relations program devised to assist individuals and communities to resolve racial disputes satisfactorily. It provides conciliatory arbitration service, action to develop programs to end discrimination or correct inequities, and it works with news media to share information on how they can improve race relations and avoid creating tension.

Community Relations Service may enter a community experiencing racial dispute upon its own decision or come at the request of state officials, groups, or individuals concerned. Conciliators of the program are required by law to respect confidences and work to avoid unnecessary publicity.

Another aspect of the service is the preparation and distribution of pamphlets, brochures, and films that attempt to improve relationships between races.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Assistance is in the form of conciliators, persons to develop programs to seek and to eliminate the causes of the dispute, and improve intergroup relations.

ELIGIBILITY:
This service is available to any community or individuals who have been affected by disputes or problems which result from discriminatory practices that infringe upon the rights of individuals or groups.

Program Title: EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY COMMISSION

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

Under Title VII the Commission is concerned with discrimination in employment by four major groups—employers, public and private employment agencies, labor organizations and joint labor-management apprenticeship programs.

Title VII applies to employers of 25 or more persons, labor unions with 25 or more members or which operate hiring halls, and employment agencies dealing with employers of 25 or more persons.

The Commission has two basic responsibilities. First, it investigates complaints of employment discrimination, and if the Commission finds they are justified, seeks a full remedy by the process of conciliation. Second, the Commission promotes programs of affirmative action by employers, unions and community organizations to put the idea of equal employment opportunity into actual operation.

ELIGIBILITY:

If a person believes that he or she is a victim of discrimination by an employer, labor organization, employment agency or joint labor-management program for apprenticeship or training, that person may file a complaint with the Commission.

If a person lives in a state which has a fair employment practice law, the Commission may be required to turn the case over to the state or local agency. The person will be notified if this is done and the person will be informed of his or her right to file the charge with the Commission at a later date, if he or she wishes to do so.

Under this program war veterans permanently and totally disabled by non-service causes who are in need, may receive regular financial benefits. The pension is paid monthly at varying rates according to level of need.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Veterans without dependents whose annual income does not exceed respective levels of $600, $1,200, or $1,800 are eligible to receive pensions of $104, $79, or $45; rates and levels for veterans with dependents are increased to $109, $84, or $50 for incomes $1,000, $2,000 or $3,000. Supplements are also available for veterans in lowest income levels ($5 for each dependent to maximum of 3 dependents) and for veterans who are not ambulatory and require care and assistance, or are housebound.

ELIGIBILITY:
To be eligible a veteran must have:
1. Been in active service in the Armed Forces during time of war for 90 days, under other than dishonorable conditions.
2. Had permanent disability, that is not service-connected that precludes pursuit of gainful employment. Veterans who are 65 years of age or over are considered to be permanently and totally disabled without the need of establishing any degree of disability.
3. Specific need for assistance—both income and estate are considered.

NOTE:
Attention is directed to the special category affecting veterans 65 years of age or older. For veterans in your area, CAP directors are advised to contact the Veterans Administration Regional Office for more specific information.
Program Title: VETERANS' DISABILITY COMPENSATION

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
Under this program, veterans whose earning capability has been reduced due to service-connected disability may receive compensation in the form of direct financial assistance. Assistance is given according to degree of disability and is paid monthly.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Compensation payments vary according to per cent of disability and range from $21 per month, for persons with 10% disability, to $300 per month for those totally disabled. Additional compensation is made to those with 50%, or more, disability who have dependents and for certain specific impairments such as loss of limbs, loss of sight, etc.

ELIGIBILITY:
Benefits are paid to veterans of the Armed Forces who have incurred at least 10% disability in line of duty and have been discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable.

The Veterans Administration presumes that 6 months service in time of peace (or one or more days in wartime) indicates freedom from pre-existing disability conditions except under special circumstances.

NOTE:
CAP directors should examine the histories and records of elderly veterans in your region to ascertain the benefits they may be entitled to and are not receiving. This procedure is recommended for the program on the next page also.
Program Title: VETERANS' DEPENDENCY AND INDEMNITY COMPENSATION

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
Upon the death of a veteran due to service-connected injury or disease, dependents of the deceased may receive regular monthly benefits. Benefits are paid to widows, minor children, or parents whose income does not exceed stipulated limits. This program administers benefits to the dependents.

Death of the veteran must have resulted from injury or disease incurred or aggravated during the period of service. Service may be either during war or peacetime. Benefits are not paid to veterans whose separations were dishonorable.

ELIGIBILITY:
Persons eligible for benefits are widows, children, and parents. Widows must have been married to the veteran within 15 years from date of separation, or for one year, or for any period of time if a child was born to the parents of the marriage.

Program Title: VETERANS' DEATH PENSION

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
Under this program financial assistance is provided for widows and children of dead wartime veterans whose death was not attributed to conditions incurred in service. Recipients must also, as a condition, be needy.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Financial assistance rates vary considerably and depend upon the number of dependents surviving the deceased and the amount of their annual income. A widow only may receive from $29 to $70 per month. This amount increases from $45 to $86 per month for widows with one child and then by $16 increments for each additional child. A widow, in need of aid and attendance, will receive an additional $50 a month.

Pensions are payable for or to surviving children. This rate is $40 for the first child and $16 for each additional child.

ELIGIBILITY:
In order to apply for this assistance, a veteran must have served at least 90 days active service, of which part was during a period of war. Conditions of release or discharge must have been other than dishonorable.

Statutory limits are also established for amount of annual income; when income exceeds the limit, payments are terminated. Payments also terminate for a widow upon remarriage and for children at age 18, or 23 if attending school, or upon marriage. Special concessions are made to children who are permanently incapable of supporting themselves prior to reaching 18 years.

NOTE:
In order to help survivors of veterans (particularly older survivors) it is essential that CAP directors make themselves thoroughly familiar with the laws affecting the elderly in this category.
Program Title: VETERANS' DOMICILIARY PROGRAM

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This program offers shelter, sustenance, and continued medical care on an ambulatory self-care basis for eligible disabled veterans. The program is designed to assist these veterans to attain physical, mental, and social well-being through special rehabilitation programs. It provides means of caring for veteran who are disabled by age or disease, but are not in need of hospitalization or nursing care services.

ELIGIBILITY:
To be eligible a veteran must have been: discharged or released from active service for a disability incurred or aggravated in line of duty, or in receipt of disability compensation when suffering from permanent disability, or suffering from tuberculosis or a neuro-psychiatric ailment, with no adequate means of support; or a veteran of any war or of service after January 31, 1955, if he is unable to defray the expenses of necessary domiciliary care.

NOTE:
This program is especially helpful to CAAs in rural areas which may not have a veterans' hospital in their immediate locale. Transportation can be arranged through the regional Veterans Administration office.
Program Title: VETERANS' RESTORATION PROGRAM

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This program assists in restoring disabled veterans to more purposeful and independent living. It emphasizes their return to community life, with special attention to the social and economic effects of illness and disabilities. The primary goal is to return the veteran to the community with employment. The secondary goal is his placement in the community in a self-sustaining independent living situation that frees him from the immediate control and support of the institution. Physicians, nurses, social workers, physical medicine and rehabilitation therapists, and psychologists provide direct care services in the restoration of members to the community.

ELIGIBILITY:
Any veteran who has received maximum benefits of VA hospitalization or domiciliary care is basically eligible. The medical staff responsible for his treatment and care determine his suitability as a candidate for the Restoration Program. Final acceptance of all candidates for the Restoration Program will be the decision of the Restoration Program director. If a patient is accepted but subsequently does not prove to be a suitable candidate or fails to realize his potential, he will be discharged to the appropriate VA facility.

NOTE:
CAP directors in whose area reside aging veterans capable of receiving this kind of Restoration Program, are advised to examine records and whatever documents relate to veteran status so that an older poor veteran may benefit from this kind of rehabilitation.
Program Title: VETERANS' HOSPITALIZATION

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a broad program of hospital, medical, and dental services available to veterans who have service-connected disabilities, or disorders, or who are unable to pay the costs of hospitalization. It provides in-patient, medical, surgical and neuropsychiatric care, and related medical and dental services.

ELIGIBILITY:

Eligible veterans are those who require treatment for disabilities or diseases that are service-connected. This group has first priority. When beds are available, any veteran with wartime service or service after January 31, 1955, who has not been dishonorably discharged, and who cannot meet the costs of hospitalization—may also be admitted.

Available Printed Information:

NOTE:

This is an excellent opportunity for CAPs, whether rural or urban, to establish employment possibilities for older persons at veterans' hospitals in the region. If there happens not to be such a facility, transportation could be arranged through volunteer agencies, to bring the older poor capable of employment to the hospital. Such work as nurses aides, handymen, assistants in marking linens, etc., which would not disemploy others is suggested.
PROGRAM TITLE: VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION—TRAINING FOR DISABLED VETERANS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a broad rehabilitation training program for veterans with service-connected disabilities. The general purpose is to provide necessary training to persons with physical, mental, or social handicaps to enable them to find and hold suitable and satisfactory employment. Physicians, psychiatrists, clinical psychologists, training specialists, and social workers are utilized to train or retrain the disabled. Training programs may include workshops and on-the-job training in universities, colleges, schools, business establishments, and farms.

Costs for training and necessary supplies are paid by the V.A. and subsistence allowances are paid monthly for the duration of the training.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Subsistence allowances range from $95 to $175; the actual amount received depends upon the number of dependents of the veteran and the type of training undertaken.

ELIGIBILITY:

Eligible veterans must have: served in the Armed Forces since September 16, 1940, suffered a service-connected disability that qualifies them to receive compensation, not been released or discharged dishonorably; been recommended by the V.A. as in need of vocational rehabilitation.

Program Title: PLANNING FOR COMMUNITY HEALTH FACILITIES

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This program was set up in 1964, upon the enactment of the Hospital and Medical Facilities Amendments of 1964, and provides project grants, information, technical assistance, and consultation to help develop comprehensive regional, metropolitan, or local area plans for health and related facilities.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
The appropriation for the fiscal year was $2.5 million. Matching is required for grants and the Federal share cannot exceed 50% of the total cost of the project. Information, technical assistance, and consultation are available for planning new and improved means of providing services outside of hospitals.

ELIGIBILITY:
Only state agencies authorized to administer the Hill-Burton Hospitals Program may apply for these planning grants. Such agencies may apply in their own behalf or for public and nonprofit agencies within the state.

NOTE:
CAAs should make every effort to get the elderly in your communities involved through placement on boards of the agencies who will apply, and in other "visible" actions, such as attendance at hearings etc., to plan for community facilities to meet their health needs.
Program Title: NEIGHBORHOOD FACILITIES PROGRAM

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a program of project grants to assist local public agencies and bodies to provide neighborhood facilities. These facilities must provide a wide range of health, welfare, educational, social, recreational, cultural, and other similar community services. Facilities must, also, provide new services or extend and improve existing services in the neighborhood. Grants may be used to build new facilities or to purchase and rehabilitate an existing building. Priority is given to those projects that benefit primarily low-income families or otherwise substantially further the objectives of a local community action program. Plans and proposals should be discussed at length with local Community Action Agencies.

Further requirements of the administering agency are that:

1. A facility should serve all age groups in the neighborhood, although programs and activities designed to serve a particular age group, such as senior citizens, may take place in the facility.
2. The neighborhood facility is intended to bring its activities close to those whom it serves. Thus, the neighborhood or area served should be well defined in terms of area and population.
3. Major recreation facilities such as indoor swimming pools, ice skating rinks, bowling alleys, and large outdoor recreation facilities are excluded.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Grants may cover up to two-thirds, and in certain instances three-fourths, of the project costs.

ELIGIBILITY:

Local public agencies, including Community Action Agencies in those states where the CAA is considered a public agency may apply for grants. Private, nonprofit groups may contract with local public bodies to own and/or operate an eligible project. Facilities must be needed to carry out programs of health, recreation, social, and similar community services and must be consistent with comprehensive planning for the community.

It is expected that the great majority of neighborhood facility projects will be designed to further the objectives of the Community Action Program.

Program Title: PROPERTY MANAGEMENT AND DISPOSAL SERVICE

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
Personal property, no longer needed by the Federal government, is donated under this program to tax-supported nonprofit institutions and organizations for educational and public health, civil defense, and public air purposes.

Property may include such things as: office machines and equipment, hardware, scientific and electronic equipment, vehicles and miscellaneous other items that are appropriate for the stated public purposes.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Donation of surplus personal property—no specified limitations, except for eligibility.

ELIGIBILITY:
Donations may be made to: (1) Tax-supported or nonprofit hospitals, health centers, medical institutions and clinics. (2) Tax supported and nonprofit educational institutions—schools for the mentally and physically retarded, universities, colleges, schools, educational radio and TV stations. (3) Civil defense organizations. (4) Public libraries. (5) Public airports. Program Title: NEIGHBORHOOD YOUTH CORPS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This is a work training program that provides grants and technical assistance to state and local agencies, nonprofit voluntary organizations, and institutions to provide work experience for young persons. Training programs should aim to serve unemployed young persons 16 to 21 years of age who need work experience to qualify for full-time employment or funds to resume or continue education.

This program could be used by social agencies, settlement houses, parks, and recreation departments to train workers and to supplement staff.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Matching is required. The Federal government share may be up to 90% of the total costs of the program. The 10% share expected of the sponsor may be in cash or kind (services, equipment, facilities, or supplies to carry out the program).

Federal funding of the program for 1966 was estimated at $365 million for 540 approved programs providing an enrollment of 265,000 persons.

ELIGIBILITY:
Those eligible for the program are state and local agencies or institutions, local school systems, nonprofit hospitals and clinics, community action groups, parks and recreation agencies, community centers, and settlement houses. Projects may not be intended for use in construction, operation, or maintenance of any facility for sectarian or religious worship. Individual enrollees must be permanent residents of the U.S., from low-income families who need part-time or full-time training, and between the ages of 16 to 21 years.

Program Title: CAPITAL GRANTS FOR URBAN MASS TRANSPORTATION

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

The Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964 initiated a program of grants to assist public agencies in providing capital facilities and improvements for use in mass transportation service in urban areas.

The purposes of the program are to provide assistance to state and local governments and their instrumentalities in financing improvements for urban mass transportation systems to be operated by public or private mass transportation companies as determined by local needs; and at the same time, to encourage the planning and establishment of areawide urban mass transportation systems needed for economical and desirable urban development, with cooperation of both public and private mass transportation companies.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

A grant may be made for not more than two-thirds of that part of the cost of the project which the Secretary determines cannot reasonably be financed from revenues (the "net project cost").

Where the program for a unified or officially coordinated urban transportation system is under active preparation but not yet completed, and there is a demonstrated urgent need for the project, the grant may not exceed fifty percent of the net project cost. If preparation of the program is completed within three years after the date of the grant contract, an additional grant to bring the total Federal grant up to two-thirds of the net project cost may be made.

ELIGIBILITY:

Only public agencies are eligible to apply for grants or loans.

Private transportation companies may participate in assisted projects through contractual arrangements with a public agency.

Eligible public agencies include: states; municipalities and other political subdivisions of states; public agencies and instrumentalities of one or more states, or of one or more municipalities or other political subdivisions of states; and public corporation, boards, and commissions established under state law.

Eligible projects include the acquisition, construction, reconstruction or improvement of facilities and equipment for use in mass transportation service in urban areas and in coordinating such service with highway and other transportation in urban areas. Repairs, maintenance and other operating costs, and ordinary governmental or non-project operating expenses, are not eligible as part of project costs.

Program Title: TECHNICAL STUDIES FOR URBAN MASS TRANSPORTATION

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
Section 9 of the Urban Mass Transportation Act authorizes a program of grants to assist public agencies in making technical studies to improve mass transportation service in urban areas. The basic purpose of this program is to bridge the gap between Federally assisted transportation planning of an overall nature and Federally assisted capital investments in mass transportation facilities and equipment. Accelerated progress in providing needed urban mass transportation facilities is the expected result.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Under the technical studies program the Department of Transportation is authorized to make grants to state and local public bodies and agencies to plan, engineer, and design urban mass transportation projects. The technical studies and the projects themselves must relate to a program for the unified or officially coordinated urban transportation system, which must be part of the comprehensively planned development of the urban area. Studies must promote the sensitive integration of mass transit location and design with the overall development and redevelopment goals of local communities and neighborhoods.

The activities that may be assisted include studies relating to management, operations, capital requirements and economic feasibility; preparation of engineering and architectural surveys, plans and specifications; and similar activities in preparation for the construction, acquisition, or improved operation of mass transportation systems, facilities and equipment.

Grants authorized under this program must be matched by state and local financial participation of at least one-third of the cost of the grant project.

ELIGIBILITY:
Only public agencies are eligible to apply for grants for technical studies.

Eligible public agencies include states; municipalities and other political subdivisions of states; public agencies and instrumentalities of one or more states, of one or more municipalities or other political subdivisions of states; and public corporations, boards, and commissions established under state law.

The project sponsor may employ a staff especially recruited for the grant project, or may assign, on a full-time basis, existing staff of its own. However, no part of salaries of elected officials or appointed principal executives of the public agency may be charged to the project.

Program Title: URBAN MASS TRANSPORTATION DEMONSTRATIONS

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

Urban mass transportation demonstrations are authorized by Section 6 of the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964.

This program provides Federal financial assistance in testing and demonstrating new ideas and methods for improving mass transportation systems and service. The Federal grant will usually not exceed two-thirds of the net cost of an approved demonstration project.

The program is intended to benefit not only those communities which participate, but also other communities with similar problems, through publication of the results of each demonstration in a report which describes the project, the way in which it was carried out, and the results obtained.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Demonstration projects are primarily oriented to operational problems of mass transportation rather than to planning or basic research. Types of eligible projects include: service improvements; experiments in pricing policy; improvements in forms of mass transportation traffic flow; coordination of various modes of urban transportation service; testing new and improved technology; determination of factors affecting passenger motivation; and coordination of mass transportation with urban development.

ELIGIBILITY:

A contract for a demonstration grant will ordinarily be made only with a public agency or nonprofit organization that has legal authority to undertake the project. Other public agencies and private organizations may participate in and contribute to the demonstration, but responsibility for contracting for such participation and for direction of the project, the proper use of grant funds, and fulfillment of the contract conditions rests with the project sponsor.

Program Title: URBAN RENEWAL

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a broad program that provides Federal loans and grants to assist public agencies to implement urban renewal in both residential and nonresidential areas.

The purpose of Federal aid for urban renewal is to help achieve the elimination and prevention of slums and blight.

Urban renewal is a local program. The program is operated by local governmental agencies under authority granted by state legislatures.

The keystone of an urban renewal program is the Urban Renewal Plan, prepared and approved locally, to define the rehabilitation, redevelopment, and new land uses for project areas.

Since effective planning depends on intelligent citizen participation, elderly people may have a special contribution to make in following local urban renewal plans and proposals, and helping, through their active involvement, to formulate the plans that will best meet the city's needs.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Matching is required from the local community. For most communities over 50,000 population, the Federal share is 2/3 of the net project cost. For cities and communities with less than 50,000 population, the Federal contribution is 3/4 of the net project cost.

ELIGIBILITY:

Local public bodies, usually local renewal agencies given legal authority by state law, may apply for project assistance.

All renewal projects must be approved by the local government and by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

NOTE:

CAP directors should involve their elderly poor residents in activities and "visibility" on the board of Urban Renewal Programs so that they may make their special needs understood and included in projected plans.
Program Title: URBAN RENEWAL DEMONSTRATION GRANT PROGRAM

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This is a demonstration grants program that assists projects which develop, demonstrate, test, or improve methods and techniques of urban renewal. Analysis and written reports are integral to the program, and reports of demonstrations or other activities are published and made available to assist programs in other cities.
Projects may also investigate, evaluate, analyze, and report completed programs.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Matching is required; the Federal share of the project may cover up to 2/3 of the cost of the demonstration. But publications and reports of the project are funded at the full cost.

ELIGIBILITY:
Only public bodies with legal authority to initiate urban renewal and to contract with the Federal government, and able to provide adequate staff and supervision to carry out the project may apply.
These could include departments of local government, local urban renewal agencies, housing authorities, etc. Public and private agencies and institutes may participate by contract through the participating public body.

Here is a good opportunity to design an urban renewal program to meet the special needs of the elderly in housing. Contact regional National Council on the Aging staff for assistance in drawing up a demonstration presentation.
Program Title: VOLUNTEERS IN SERVICE TO AMERICA (VISTA)

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a volunteer program which provides staff assistance to local public and voluntary agencies that are participants in the anti-poverty program. Volunteers from a variety of backgrounds are selected, trained, and placed by VISTA to live and work among the poor for at least one year.

Volunteer assistance is provided to all states and territories, in urban and rural areas, on Indian Reservations, among migrant workers, in hospitals, and in social agencies. Individual volunteers are given a 4-6 week training course at various training centers throughout the nation and then sent to communities upon request and given specific jobs to do. Assignments may involve work with the following kinds of services: teaching and counseling trades, home economics, and basic education skills; manning health clinics, settlement houses, day care services; organizing youth centers, and developing communities' services in a variety of local areas.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

VISTA Volunteers receive room, board, medical care, and a personal expense allowance of $75 per month. Upon completion of one year of service, the volunteer receives an award of $50 for each month served.

For retired persons VISTA service could provide supplementary income. At present only the personal allowance—$75 per month and the $50 award—are considered wages by the Social Security Administration.

ELIGIBILITY:

Volunteers may be requested by any local, state, or Federal agency; nonprofit voluntary organizations; or institutions that have programs to overcome conditions of poverty.

Individual volunteers must be at least 18 years of age with no dependents under 18, a resident of the U.S. or its territories, and be able to contribute one full year of service. Married persons may apply when both are accepted and if they have no dependents under 18 years of age. There are no minimum education or experience requirements and no entrance examinations. However, VISTA volunteers are selected upon their ability to adapt to the job to be done and to communicate their knowledge or experience to others.

NOTE:

VISTA can provide employment and service to the elderly poor in many ways. For assistance and further details contact the regional National Council on the Aging office in your area.
Program Title: CONGRESSIONAL SUBCOMMITTEE ON CONSUMER INTERESTS OF THE ELDERLY

GENERAL NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This subcommittee of the Committee on Aging was set up to investigate quackery, frauds, or deceptions that exploit the elderly and to study special consumer problems affecting older persons.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
The subcommittee investigates phony mail-order land sales, health frauds and quackery, deceptive health insurance policies, preened normal plans and all other fraudulent representations. Information on all such practices is available.

For Further Information Contact:
Subcommittee on Consumer Interests of the Elderly, U.S. Senate Special Committee on Aging, G-233 Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.
TRUSTS AND FOUNDATIONS
According to J. Richard Taft, authority on "grantsmanship", author of Understanding Foundations—Dimensions in Fund Raising, 1,200 new foundations are formed annually. A brief two decades ago there were approximately 500 in the United States. Today they number more than 20,000 with approximately $20 billion in assets. They are currently granting funds totalling over $1 billion each year to projects of every conceivable dimension and objective. Neither their size, nor the size of your request need be a crucial factor in your decision to appeal for funding. Make your applications simple and in keeping with requirements set up by the foundation whose help you seek.

This section is devoted to a selected sampling of foundations with their specific purposes and dispensating histories.

VOLUNTARY AGENCIES
Name: ADULT EDUCATION ASSOCIATION OF THE U.S.A.

NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This association is a nonprofit membership organization established to further the concept of education as a process continuing through life. Particular concerns are the middle-aged and aged, and the association is devoted to developing sound concepts of maturity by providing broad programs of education that also include pre-retirement and retirement. There is a section on aging with several hundred members.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

The association offers general information services receiving and distributing educational information, encourages and assists agencies to develop adult education programs, and sponsors pre-retirement programs through local affiliates.

Available Printed Information:

Education for Later Maturity, a handbook.

For Further Information Contact:

Adult Education Association of the U.S.A., 1225 19th Street N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

NOTE:

This resource can help you with pre-retirement plans for education, etc., as noted. Coordinate your effort with the federally funded adult basic education program and this association for complete utilizations.
NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This department of the AFL-CIO represents the interest of the latter in health and welfare programs, under both public and voluntary auspices, at the local, state, and national levels. There are 148 local AFL-CIO community services representatives located in 123 cities whose responsibility is to carry out the community services program.

The major elements of the community services program are (1) sponsorship of union counselor training courses to develop in-plant referral agents, (2) development of programs to meet local health and welfare needs and seeking to carry out these programs through existing health and welfare agencies or through independent action if necessary, (3) promote pre-retirement classes, blood-banks, fund-raising programs for health and welfare, and other related areas.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

One significant course offered in many localities is consumer counseling, along with consumer clinics and institutes. These are, of course, open to both retired and active workers.

Local community services staff are encouraged to survey the needs, problems and interests of retired members in order to provide factual information that can be used to develop a varied program of activities. Some of these activities are:

1. Regular monthly meetings for retired members.
2. A newsletter or special news column in local union paper for and about retired members.
3. A drop-in activities center.
4. A visitation program conducted by retired members for those who are home bound or ill.
5. Birthday parties, picnics or other special events for retired members and their wives.
6. Regular notices of union meetings and activities mailed to retired members.
7. Counseling and referral services on special problems and needs.
8. Courses in hobbies, arts and crafts, etc.

One of the most popular projects has been the establishment of drop-in centers for not only retired union members but for all older persons in the community wishing to make use of such a facility.

The exact program developed will, of course, depend on a variety of local factors—the number of retired members involved, major areas of interests and needs, financial resources, physical facilities, and the nature of community resources available.

Pre-retirement education is an important program which attempts to give the worker still on the job some information about retirement so that he can plan in advance for this phase of his life.

ELIGIBILITY:

In most communities with labor staff the foregoing programs and activities are open to all older persons in the community.

Available Printed Information:

Two AFL-CIO publications, The Aging and the Community and Labor and the Golden Years are available from the office listed below.

For Further Information Contact:

AFL-CIO Community Service Activities, 815 16th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006

NOTE:

Offers an across-the-board program of assistance at all levels. CAP directors should familiarize themselves with the general nature and purpose as outlined and apply whenever possible to the needs of the aging poor in your areas.
NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This is a membership association of executive, business, and professional women established to promote common interests and serve civic and national interests. At local levels there is a wide range of Altrusa Club programs that provide services to the aging. These include sponsorship of senior centers, recreation clubs, hobby fairs, job clinics, training and employment services; volunteer services to homes for the aged, nursing homes, and the aged in hospitals; meals-on-wheels and homemakers services; and individual financial assistance for training or rehabilitating older women.

Available Printed Information:
The International Altrusan, magazine published monthly with a yearly annual on the aging.

For Further Information Contact:
Altrusa International, Inc., 332 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60604

NOTE:
CAP directors should utilize this agency's programs as listed above. Employment for the aging poor is a distinct possibility. Particular attention should be given to the possible sponsorship of a new Senior Center on local levels, if one is needed. Your state Technical Assistance Agency and regional National Council on the Aging staffs are available to help formulate such a proposal.
Name: AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF HOMES FOR THE AGING

NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This is a national membership association that provides means of identifying and solving problems of mutual concern so as to protect and advance the interests of the residents of voluntary nonprofit and governmental homes for the aging. The association's primary efforts toward the achievement of its goals have been in developing liaison and working relationships with special committees whose tasks are identifying and solving problems in their field through programming and legislative leadership.

This association works in close conjunction with the National Council on the Aging.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
The general services provided by this association include developing standards of accreditation for homes, consultative technical assistance, general information, and other services and liaison roles with local, state and national voluntary and government agencies.

ELIGIBILITY:
Membership to the association is open to nonprofit organizations; services are available to any organization or individual, but certain priorities are given members.

Available Printed Information:
AAHA-New Symbol of Service, Integrity, Resources; Social Components of Care; Publication List

For Further Information Contact:
American Association of Homes for the Aging, 315 Park Avenue South, New York, New York 10010

NOTE:
This is the agency to contact for assistance in making housing plans for the elderly in your region. Contact your regional office of National Council on the Aging for more information and advice.
NATURE AND PURPOSE:

To understand aging as a modern social achievement; to offer the older citizen opportunities for self-appraisal and for planning a way of life designed to attain the maximum amount of realization and enrichment in the years ahead; to foster equality of opportunity for the aging population; and to aid retired persons in every way.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

AARP offers to members American Heritage, and around the world tours, bi-monthly news bulletins, a Hospitality House, out-of-hospital major medical insurance (for the members 65 and over), testamentary life insurance, automobile insurance, reduced prices on prescription and non-prescription drugs, a nursing home in California, Institutes of Lifetime Learning in Long Beach, Calif., and Washington, D.C. and almost 500 local community chapters.

ELIGIBILITY:

Fifty-five years of age or over, whether or not they are employed, semi-retired or retired.

Available Printed Information:

Modern Maturity (bi-monthly); AARP News Bulletin (bi-monthly); Dynamic Maturity (bi-monthly); Journal of AARP International (quarterly). Literature available on membership, plans and programs.

For Further Information Contact:

NOTE:

There is a host of program possibilities inherent in the work of this organization of which CAP directors can avail themselves. Write to AARP headquarters for information on how to bring a school program for the elderly to your locale, thus enabling their retired teachers to continue community participation on a volunteer basis and bring new motivations to the aging.
Name: AMERICAN CAMPING ASSOCIATION

NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This is a membership and affiliate association whose aim is to further the welfare of adults and children through camping; to extend the educational and recreational benefits of outdoor living; and to develop standards, materials, and aids for camping.

The association includes a national committee on camping for senior citizens. This committee has been instrumental in collecting information and literature about camping for older adults.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

Information services from the association include articles and pamphlets on camping in general, as well as published standards for resident camps.

Available Printed Information:

“Camping,” magazine, “Resources on Camping for Older Adults”—mimeographed pamphlet.

For Further Information Contact:

Name: AMERICAN NURSING HOME ASSOCIATION

NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This is a membership association dedicated to improving the general health of the community through service to the nation's nursing homes and their patients. It plays a major role in upgrading standards of care and in raising nursing home administration and care to a professional level. It sponsors training programs for nursing home administrators, the professional nursing staff, and other employees. Affiliates of the association are located in 48 states and in Ontario, Canada.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
The association's information service provides brochures, pamphlets, training texts, and other audio-visual aids as a public service.

Available Printed Information:
Nursing Homes, a monthly publication; Thinking About a Nursing Home; Facts About Nursing Homes.

For Further Information Contact:
American Nursing Home Association, 1101 17th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036

NOTE:
CAP directors may obtain assistance from the association branch in your region, for sponsorship of a training program which would benefit the older poor who are capable of receiving training leading to employment in nursing homes. There is a broad spectrum of opportunity indicated here which would open many avenues of occupation for the older residents of your community.
Name: AMERICAN OPTOMETRIC ASSOCIATION

NATURE AND PURPOSE:
The general aims and purposes of this association are to advance, improve and enhance the vision care of the public. A National Committee on Vision Care of the Aging acts to investigate and report changes in vision caused by the aging process, to prepare and disseminate information to state and regional affiliates, to develop curricula in schools and colleges of optometry, to expand the use of aids for the partially sighted older patient, and to assist in vocational rehabilitation of the aging.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
In addition to its normal information service—that makes available various publications—the association provides exhibits and programs through state associations for fairs, senior citizens' groups, conferences, public health exhibits, etc.

Available Printed Information:
Vision of the Aging Patient, a textbook; Mature Vision and Its Care, a pamphlet; Driving Tips for Senior Citizens, a pamphlet; Getting Used to Bifocals, a pamphlet; How Healthy are Your Eyes?, a pamphlet; Answers to Your Questions About Glaucoma, a pamphlet; Answers to Your Questions About Cataract, a pamphlet.

For Further Information Contact:
Mr. Reynold W. Malmer, Director of Public Relations, American Optometric Association, 7000 Chippewa Street, St. Louis, Mo. 63119.

NOTE:
Part of this group's stated purpose is to "assist in vocational rehabilitation of the aging." It would be advantageous to contact them for more information, advice and methods to implement what they do, or could do, in your area.
Name: AMERICAN PODIATRY ASSOCIATION

NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This is a membership association composed of more than 5,000 members in 50 state societies. This association has had a long interest in the foot health of the older person. Through its Committee on Aging it stimulates, guides, and assists states and local communities to develop general educational programs regarding foot care. It also assesses the needs and resources to provide for adequate foot care.

Available Printed Information:
Journal of the American Podiatry Association; Foot-Care, a leaflet.

For Further Information Contact:
American Podiatry Association, 1301 16th Street, N.W. Washington, D.C. 20036

NOTE:
If there is no clinic for adequate foot care in your locale, it would be useful to communicate with this association and request assistance in setting one up.
NATURE AND PURPOSE:

This membership association is a national voluntary organization representing local, state and Federal public welfare departments and public welfare personnel at all levels of government. Its membership includes voluntary agencies and any individuals who have an interest in public welfare. The Public Welfare Project on Aging directs its efforts to work with all public welfare agencies to expand and improve programs designed to meet the social, economic and health needs of the aging. It is also involved in working with all training personnel to improve the delivery of services to the aging through working with administrators and staff development, supervisory and casework personnel.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

The association serves the aging through a national Committee on Aging, through divisions, seminars for executives, and annual regional and biennial conferences. The Project participates in the above, but extends its activities to serving the aging through institutes, seminars, workshops, preparation of training films, publications, informational services, technical assistance and consultation to assist agencies to improve programs and services for older persons. It also undertakes training projects with state and local public welfare agencies and schools of social work, and cooperates with Federal and national voluntary agencies.

ELIGIBILITY:

Any individual or agency interested in public welfare is eligible for membership.

Available Printed Information:

Public Welfare, a quarterly journal; Aging Highlights, a bi-monthly newsletter; Guide Statement on Protective Services for Older Adults; Medical Care for the Aging: Casework Services in Public Welfare Agencies; Medical Care for the Aging: Public Welfare's Administrative Role; Program Planning for Strengthening Services to the Aging Through Public Welfare Agencies (new materials are continually developed for publication).

Name: FAMILY SERVICE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA

NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This Association is the national accrediting and leadership federation for voluntary family social work services throughout the United States and Canada. Through its 335 affiliated agencies, a variety of services are offered to older persons and their families, including a substantial number of aging poor.

At the national level, the Association, with headquarters in New York, works on behalf of the aging through special projects on aging, publications, educational plays, research, demonstrations, statistics, public information, regional and national workshops and conferences, and other means. A national project on the “differential use of staff in services to aging” was launched by FSAA in September 1966 through a four-year grant from the national institute of Mental Health. Five local agencies are exploring different patterns of service and attempting to find new solutions to the use of manpower in Family Service agencies testing the efficacy of the “team” approach in extending services to older persons.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
Local Family Service agencies, supported in large part by United Funds and private or governmental grants for projects, provide a wide variety of services to aging people in some 300 communities. The casework method is the major one at the core of the Family Service Program. Services include information, enabling and referral services, homemaker programs, and counseling for a wide variety of individual and familial relationship problems.

ELIGIBILITY:
Voluntary Family Service agencies serve people from all walks of life, charging a fee for those able to pay and making the same service available to those unable to pay. A large proportion of elderly people who seek help at Family Service agencies are poor or have relatively low incomes.

Available Printed Information:
Based on a Ford Foundation-supported Project on Aging available at FSAA are: Creative Approaches in Casework with the Aging by Edna Wasser, a study of latest developments in casework theory and practice in behalf of the aged (98 pp., 1966, $2.50). Also, Selected Bibliography for Casework with Older Persons, compiled by Edna Wasser (32 pp., 1963, $1).

Plays for Living:
Dramas currently in wide use for discussion groups include: Ever Since April by Nora Stirling, a play helping people prepare for constructive retirement; and A Choice to Make by Nora Stirling, a play to help older people and their relatives understand aging, and the use of inner strengths in making the most of the later years. Name: NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR MENTAL HEALTH

NATURE AND PURPOSE:

The general purpose of this membership association is to establish and develop a citizen's voluntary movement to work toward the improved care and treatment of the mentally ill and handicapped; for improved methods and services in research, prevention, detection, diagnosis, and treatment of mental illnesses and handicaps; and for the promotion of mental health.

Programs and services for the aging are included in the regular program of public education and consultation about the need to provide adequate social and medical services for elderly persons; support and stimulus for multidiscipline research in mental illness, and sponsoring social, vocational, and medical rehabilitation for the mentally ill.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:

The Association generally supports and sponsors research and services of a selective nature. Its information services include publications, books, and films which deal with aging and are available to industry, service organizations, and other groups at a nominal fee. Consultation services are also available.

Name: NATIONAL BOARD OF YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION OF U.S.A.

NATURE AND PURPOSE:
This is a board of regional affiliates and individual members, founded in 1851, to improve spiritual, social, recreational, and physical life of young people. Regional and local associations provide residence hotels, conduct adult educational classes, sponsor cultural and sports programs, and provide personal counseling.

FORM AND EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE:
In 1962, the board initiated a Committee on YMCA Work with Older Adults to plan activities for older persons. As a result there is now a large number of associations throughout the country that sponsor and develop programs specially designed for old and retired persons.

ELIGIBILITY:
Programs are generally organized around clubs within a local association, and activities emanate from this organization with stimulus given by both the local association and the national board.

Available Printed Information:
National Council Bulletin; YMCA At Work With Older Adults

For Further Information Contact:
National Board of Young Men's Christian Association of U.S.A., 291 Broadway, New York, New York, 10007

NOTE:
Y's are a possible means of finding facilities for the aging poor, and even possible employment, as their programs for senior citizens are developed. Particularly meaningful in urban areas.
NATURE AND PURPOSE:

The Council is concerned, specifically, with Homemaker-Home Health Aide Service. This service helps people remain in their own homes when medically suitable for them to do so—safeguarding close family relationships of children, adults, old people and the chronically ill.

Although still in short supply, Homemaker Services are growing rapidly. In 1963 there were 300 programs providing direct services to people... in 1968 there were over 800. Expansion should continue until it is available to all people in the community who need it, regardless of income or geographic location of the family.

FORM AND EXTENT OF SERVICE:

National Council for Homemaker Services is the only national voluntary agency concentrating solely on the development and extension of homemaker-home health aide service. The Council works with national organizations such as the Family Service Association of America, Child Welfare League of America, the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Social and Rehabilitation Services, Public Health Services, Office of Education, the American Medical and Hospital Associations, insurance companies and associations, United Cerebral Palsy Associations, United Community Funds and Councils of America.

NCHS provides consultation, conferences and seminars, programs and educational materials, public information, guidelines for establishing and conducting services. The program falls into two categories.

A. General Program and Administration—Board and staff work with community volunteer and professional leaders through existing health and welfare agencies. They help assess community problems, improve services and demonstrate good practices.

B. Special Projects—These include directories, publications, promotional and educational materials to provide the field with tools essential for the development of service.

Available Printed Information:

News, the Council’s newsletter started in 1964, is published five times each year, October through June. It is sent to 1,500 readers.

1964: To Temper the Wind—Plays for Living Drama—Report of the 1964 National Conference on HMS

1965: Standards Manual for H-HHA Service

1966: Implementing Recent Legislation for Effective HMS; H-HHA Service for Families with a Mentally Retarded Member

1967: Director of H-HHA Services (lists all known services); A Guide for Training H-HHA; Report of the 1967 Forum on H-HHA Service; Potentials of a Centralized Community Homemaker Service; Publicity KIta (a) Aid to H-HHA Service to get publicity, (b) Aid to Community to establish H-HHA Service (Cooperating with the AMA and the Women’s Auxiliary AMA). "Homefires"—consultant to MH Film Board, producer

1968: Help at Home (Five leaflets produced collaboratively with national health organizations to promote use of service for families and individuals whose need is related to health. One organization is distributing 50,000, another 20,000 to their affiliates).
