This manual is written to provide an overview of the Federal programs which are available at the local level and to aid school administrators in locating particular Federal programs that will fulfill specific educational needs. The guide is designed for use as a tool in planning and programming a comprehensive educational program, rather than as a key to the solution of specific problems. The manual is organized according to the following problem or functional categories: adult education, community services, construction, curriculum and instruction, educationally disadvantaged students, food services, guidance and counseling, handicapped children, health services, library resources, research and development, staff training, student aid, and vocational education. Each program listed contains the program title, purpose, eligibility and procedure, information source, printed information available, authorizing legislation, and administering agency. (Author/MF)

INTRODUCTION

There has been a substantial increase in the amount of federal funds allocated to education over the last few years. These funds are made available through various legislative titles administered by separate program offices—often different government agencies—and all have unique requirements, guidelines, and conditions for application. As a result of this growth and the constantly changing variety of federal assistance programs available to states and local educational agencies, it has often been impossible for the school administrator to locate particular programs that will fulfill his specific educational needs. This manual is written to satisfy that need and to provide an overview of the federal programs which are available for local use.

This guide is designed for use as a tool in planning and programming a comprehensive education program, rather than as a key to the solution of specific problems. The variety of federal aid programs described herein is not limited to programs which offer direct assistance to local governments, as many educational activities mentioned must be administered through state governments and agencies. Thus, local officials must deal with these agencies rather than with the federal government directly, if they wish to make use of these programs.

Federal financial assistance is limited, and in most cases, the demand for aid far outweighs available appropriations. As a result, funds are often parceled out and allocated among the various states and local education agencies, and many applications must be rejected or put on waiting lists. Careful planning and establishing of priorities will increase an applicant's chance of obtaining assistance, and an early inquiry to the appropriate department or agency will give the applicant an idea of the likelihood of obtaining a grant. In addition, the knowledge that funds are available for specific activities may be very helpful in making decisions on the scheduling and funding of local programs.

Federal assistance programs should be coordinated with each other, and with state, local, and other resources, in the development of effective educational plans and programs. Maximum use should be made of federal and outside resources before local funds are committed. For example, a school system may desire to establish a remedial reading program in a target school. To implement such a program, a comprehensive plan is developed involving the following steps:

1. Research to determine the scope of the problem and possible alternative solutions.
2. In-service training programs for teachers of reading.
3. The purchase of teaching machines and new instructional materials and audio-visual aids.
4. The recruitment and use of teacher-aides.
5. Additional source material for the library.
6. Other supportive services.

This plan may be funded from several sources. Funds may be applied for from Title IV of the Elementary and Secondary School Act (ESEA) for research and plan development. An in-service training program for teachers is eligible for support through the Education Professions Development Act. The primary source of project support to include teaching machines and other materials could be Title III, ESEA. Funds from Title I, ESEA may be utilized for support of the teacher-aides. Title II, ESEA can be a source of support for additional source material for the school library. Other supportive services will also be eligible for funding under appropriate legislative titles. Thus, wise utilization of federal funds can provide the local system with a great amount of additional resources.

This manual is organized according to problem or functional categories. Each section contains the major federal programs and aids which have an impact on its subject area. Details on the requirements and application procedures for each program are not included because of the individual nature of each program and its sponsoring agency. For detailed information concerning a specific program, the applicant is encouraged to write the agency in charge.

Organization of the manual is based on the following fourteen major categories or subject areas.

I. Adult Education
II. Community Services
III. Construction
IV. Curriculum and Instruction
V. Educationally Disadvantaged Students
VI. Food Services
VII. Guidance and Counseling
VIII. Handicapped Children
IX. Health Services
X. Library Resources
XI. Research and Development
XII. Staff Training
XIII. Student Aid
XIV. Vocational Education

Within each category are listed the federal programs which are applicable. Those that relate to more than one major category or subject area may be found in each. For example, support for a Bilingual Education program may be found under the major category "Curriculum and Instruction," as well as under "Educationally Disadvantaged Students." The section on "Guidance and Counseling" includes training programs for counselors, as well as other programs with which the counselor should be familiar, such as those on financial aid for prospective college students. Finally, the Table of Contents lists each federal program alphabetically by category.

ADULT EDUCATION
PROGRAM TITLE: ADULT BASIC EDUCATION

PURPOSE

This program provides grants to support State efforts to help adults learn such fundamentals as reading, writing, and arithmetic and thus qualify themselves for occupational training and better employment. Supported projects provide instruction below the eighth grade level to persons 16 years old and over who have not achieved an equivalent level of education and who are not enrolled in school.

Federal funds may be used to: (1) assist local educational agencies to establish programs of Adult Basic Education; (2) assist State agencies to improve their technical and supervisory services to adult basic education; and (3) conduct experimental demonstration projects, teacher training, and research under the State plan.

The Commissioner of Education is also authorized to make direct grants for Special Experimental Demonstration Projects and Teacher Training.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

State educational agencies apply for State grant funds by submitting a State Plan.

Special Experimental Demonstration Projects—Any local educational agency or other public or private nonprofit agency, including an educational television station, is eligible to submit an application.

Teacher-training Projects—Any college or university, State or local educational agency, or other appropriate public or private nonprofit agency or organization is eligible to submit an application.

All applications should be sent to the address shown below.

PROGRAM TITLE: CIVIL DEFENSE EDUCATION

PURPOSE
This program provides for civil defense education through organized educational channels. It seeks to develop among adults an understanding of the basic principles and practices of civil defense, providing them with experience in personal and community survival planning. It provides for the development of civil defense information and instruction, contributes to the support and development of local and State civil defense programs, including training for shelter managers and radiological monitors, and makes civil defense training and materials for curriculum purposes available to schools. The program also provides advice and guidance to local school officials in support of civil defense programs, and assists them in those areas in which they have civil defense responsibilities.

Federal funds provide 100 percent of the cost of the program.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE
All States, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico are eligible. State Departments of Education or state universities submit a plan to the address shown below.

Local communities apply to the State Department of Education.

PROGRAM TITLE: MANPOWER DEVELOPMENT AND TRAINING

PURPOSE

This program provides occupational training for unemployed and underemployed persons who cannot reasonably obtain appropriate full-time employment without training. Basic education, when required, enables trainees to either undertake occupational training or to find a job. Training programs under the Manpower Development and Training Act (MDTA) are conducted either in vocational schools, or on the job, or a combination of both. Experimental and demonstration programs provide new approaches and innovative techniques in such matters as recruiting, counseling, training, and placement that may be translated into action programs.

The program provides payment of training allowances up to 104 weeks to eligible trainees plus transportation and subsistence allowances. The institutional allowance costs are paid by the Federal government. On-the-job trainees are paid by employers.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

Priority for selection for training is given to: (1) unemployed persons (including members of farm families with less than $1,200 annual net family income), (2) persons working below their skill capacity or substantially less than full-time, (3) persons unemployed because their skills have or soon will become obsolete, (4) disadvantaged youth between 16 and 22 years of age who are out of school and in need of occupational training, and (5) persons who will be trained in skills needed first within the labor area in which they live, and second within the state where they live.

PROGRAM TITLE: MANPOWER DEVELOPMENT AND TRAINING--CLASSROOM INSTRUCTION

PURPOSE

This program provides funds to train unemployed and underemployed people to help them enter or reenter the job market or to upgrade their abilities.

Responsibility for all manpower training conducted in classrooms is delegated to the Office of Education. Congress appropriates money for the Manpower Development and Training program to the Department of Labor, which transfers funds for classroom training to the Office of Education.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

The State vocational education agency prepares and submits training plans and budgets to the appropriate Regional Offices of the Office of Education and the Department of Labor (see appendix). Project proposals are reviewed and approved jointly by the Regional Offices. Funds are paid to the State educational agency if the approved project is under State jurisdiction, or to a private training organization if the classroom work is being done on contract.

Individuals seeking information about their eligibility for training and the availability of training courses should inquire at their State or local employment service office. Information concerning actual course content can be obtained from the State Vocational Education Agency.

PROGRAM TITLE: NATURALIZATION

PURPOSE

This program promotes instruction and training in citizenship responsibilities of persons who are interested in becoming naturalized citizens of the United States. It includes the preparation of textbooks on citizenship by the Immigration and Naturalization Service at different levels of reading ability, and their distribution, free of charge, for use in learning English, and acquiring a knowledge of the history, Government, and Constitution of the United States. Additionally, with Service cooperation, State educational institutions make available correspondence courses in citizenship education, and Service textbooks especially adapted for home study are furnished, free of charge, for use in these courses. Persons who cannot qualify for free textbooks may purchase copies from the Government Printing Office at a moderate price.

The program also provides a procedure for making available information appearing in immigration and naturalization records, such as data pertaining to an individual's age, date and place of birth, citizenship, etc., for use as evidence in support of applications for Medicare and Social Security benefits, and in connection with legal proceedings.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

Under this program, the public schools who conduct citizenship classes in each state are furnished the names and addresses of newly arrived immigrants and other resident aliens who may be in need of citizenship instruction and training. The public school officials then invite these immigrants and other aliens to attend citizenship classes.

COMMUNITY SERVICES
PROGRAM TITLE: COMMUNITY SERVICE AND CONTINUING EDUCATION

PURPOSE

This program provides grants to States to enable them to apply the resources of public and private institutions of higher education to the solution of community problems by enlarging and extending university extension and continuing education programs, and by encouraging institutions to undertake programs of research and training in community problems. The goal is to make the university an integral part of the community, instructing its students and advising its citizens.

The State must develop a comprehensive, coordinated, and statewide system of community service programs with particular emphasis on such urban and suburban problems as housing, poverty, government, recreation, employment, youth opportunities, transportation, health, and land use.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

States designate or create a State agency for the development and administration of a statewide plan, which is submitted for approval to the address shown below. The broad objectives set forth in the individual State plans are refined in annual program amendments. Institutions of higher education submit proposals for community service programs designed to reach the objectives of the State plan to the designated State agency.

PROGRAM TITLE: SPECIAL IMPACT

PURPOSE

Special Impact is a job-creation program concerned with the socio-economic problems of inner-city ghetto areas. Its purposes are to: (1) solve critical manpower problems in a limited number of depressed urban areas; (2) be of sufficient size and scope to diminish the tendencies of these areas toward dependency, chronic unemployment and rising community tensions; (3) help structure and coordinate projects aimed at improving employment prospects of neighborhood residents; and (4) aid in the development of minority group entrepreneurship.

The program provides Federal funds and technical assistance to projects initiated, developed and sponsored by business organizations. Contracts provide funds to defray part of the cost of acquiring land, building a plant, and purchasing capital equipment. In addition, they include provision for training and full-time, permanent employment of specified numbers of disadvantaged residents from the area served. The Federal Government will provide no more than 90 percent of the cost of these projects.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

The Special Impact Program is open to persons 16 years and over who are residents of the community or neighborhood served by the project, and who are unemployed or are members of low-income families. Projects may be sponsored by private business organizations.

Enrollees may not be employed in projects involving construction, operation or maintenance of any facility used or intended for use in sectarian or religious worship. Also, enrollees may not displace any employed workers or impair existing contracts for service.

PROGRAM TITLE: VOLUNTEERS IN SERVICE TO AMERICA

PURPOSE

VISTA is a manpower organization that provides volunteers who are willing to live and work with the poor. The volunteers live on subsistence allowances in urban slums, in rural poverty areas, on Indian reservations and in migrant camps. Many volunteers contribute specific skills as lawyers, health technicians and architects. However, the basic job of the volunteer is to help the poor find leadership from within the poor community. The volunteer should take a significant role in developing an atmosphere in which leadership can be found and problems resolved.

A volunteer must be over 18 years old. During the past year 5 percent of the volunteers were 18 or 19 and about 25 percent were retired persons over sixty.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

VISTA Volunteers are requested by and serve under the immediate supervision of a sponsor, which may be a public or private agency or group. There is a wide variety of sponsors: the most frequent are Community Action Agencies, the locally controlled agency for the Office of Economic Opportunity, and local public groups such as county and city health units of school boards. The State of Alaska is the sponsor for all volunteers in the State and the Appalachian Volunteers, a private group, sponsors most volunteers in the mountain areas of West Virginia and Kentucky. Individual churches or church oriented groups are often sponsors. Applicant Sponsors should write: VISTA, Washington, D.C. 20506.

PROGRAM TITLE: FOOD AND DRUG—CONSUMER EDUCATION

PURPOSE

The Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, enforced by FDA, is basically a consumer protection law. In some areas, the law operates to do what consumers cannot do for themselves, as, for example, testing of food additives for safety. In other areas, consumers must make their own choices. Wise choices are possible only when the consumer has a background of information. Through its consumer information program, FDA seeks to help the consumer to buy foods wisely; use drugs safely and effectively; protect children against poisoning in the home; choose health products and services wisely; steer clear of frauds and cheats; think critically about claims in labeling and advertising; evaluate information about foods, drugs, cosmetics, food additives and pesticides; participate in governmental processes such as the setting of food standards; assist others in getting the most benefit from consumer protection laws enacted by Congress.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

PROGRAM TITLE: NUCLEAR SCIENCE INFORMATION

PURPOSE

To broaden scientific understanding of atomic energy and encourage industrial progress in its peaceful uses, the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) employs various means to communicate scientific and technical information to scientists and engineers, students and teachers, and the general public. AEC publications include educational literature such as the "Understanding the Atom" series of booklets, written primarily for students and teachers; more advanced technical books, monographs, and journals for scientists, engineers, and teachers; and Nuclear Science Abstracts, a semimonthly journal which abstracts and indexes much of the world's nuclear literature. Exhibits of nuclear science are prepared for extended showings in museums and halls of science, and as traveling presentations at fairs, expositions, and meetings. Each year lecture-demonstration units, some co-sponsored by States, graphically portray "This Atomic World" in visits to hundreds of secondary schools. Information is also disseminated to the public through service to news media, and the AEC maintains 10 motion picture lending libraries throughout the country where films are available on a variety of nuclear energy subjects. Many of the more than 300 film titles available in the libraries are of primary interest to schools.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

Requests for AEC's publications (some of which are free of charge) may be sent to U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, P.O. Box 62, Oak Ridge, Tenn. 37830.

Requests for free-loan motion pictures on nuclear energy may be sent to USAEC Film Libraries, listed in the USAEC Film Catalog (see below).

Requests for information on AEC exhibits and lecture-demonstration units should be sent to Oak Ridge Associated Universities, Post Office Box 117, Oak Ridge, Tenn. 37830.

PROGRAM TITLE: NEIGHBORHOOD YOUTH CORPS

PURPOSE

The Neighborhood Youth Corps has three major divisions: (1) an in-school program which provides part-time work and on-the-job training for students of high school age from low-income families; (2) a summer program that provides these students with job opportunities during the summer months; (3) an out-of-school program to provide economically deprived school dropouts with practical work experience and on-the-job training to encourage them to return to school and resume their education, or if this is not feasible, to help them acquire work habits and attitudes that will improve their employability.

Federal funds and technical assistance are given to projects that are initiated, developed, and sponsored by local groups. The Federal government will finance up to 90 percent of the cost of these projects. The local sponsor's share may be in cash or in kind (facilities, equipment, services provided, and supplies). PROGRAM TITLE: TEACHER CORPS

PURPOSE

This program provides teams of teacher interns for supplementary teaching tasks in school districts serving large numbers of disadvantaged youth. The Teacher Corps was established to improve the educational opportunities available to children in areas with concentrations of low-income families and to encourage colleges and universities to broaden their program of teacher preparation. Each team is supervised by an experienced teacher. The interns study at a nearby university and receive practical experience by working in local schools with school officials and team leaders.

Corpsmen become employees of a school district, which pays 10 percent for their salaries. Teacher Corps grants to the local schools pay up to 90 percent of their salaries plus administrative costs. Grants to universities cover all tuition and administrative costs for graduate studies.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

Any school district may apply for Corpsmen if it has one or more schools in which at least 50 percent of the pupils come from low-income families. Colleges and universities are eligible to apply for the graduate portion of the program, as are consortiums of institutions. Application should be made to the address shown below.

Individuals interested in becoming Teacher Corpsmen may apply to chief state school officers or to college placement officers. Prospective Corpsmen must have had at least two years of college.

PURPOSE

Upward Bound is a national pre-college program for underachieving high school students from low income families. Normally, they are students with potential for higher education who lack the motivation and resources to actively pursue it. Upward Bound is designed to compensate for the economic, cultural and educational deficiencies which have handicapped these students. Each project consists of a six to eight week intensive summer program and an academic year followup in which gains made during the summer are reinforced through after-school tutoring and weekend sessions. Projects take place on college campuses and most Upward Bound students live in residence halls.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

Any accredited college, university, or secondary school with a residential capacity, or a Community Action Agency with one or more accredited academic institutions, may apply for funds.

Students are referred by teachers, school principals and counselors, welfare and juvenile authorities, and local Upward Bound staff interviewers. The academic institution has final responsibility for staff and student selection and content of the programs including academic subjects and cultural and recreational activities.

FOOD SERVICES
PROGRAM TITLE: COMMODITY DISTRIBUTION

PURPOSE

This program helps to improve the nutrition of school children and families in need of food assistance, and to increase the market for domestically produced foods acquired under surplus removal and price support operations. Available foods may be donated to nonprofit school lunch programs, summer camps for children, needy Indians on reservations, charitable institutions serving needy persons, and State and local welfare agencies for distribution to low-income households. These foods are also available for use in disaster relief such as earthquakes, hurricanes, floods, etc.

All States have a donation program for one or more of the eligible outlets cited above. The U.S. Department of Agriculture pays for processing and packaging the foods and for transporting them in carload lots to receiving points chosen by the State. State and local governments pay all costs of intrastate transportation, storage, distribution, and, in the case of low-income households, certification. In certain selected low-income counties, Federal financial assistance is being provided through the U.S. Department of Agriculture to cover a share of the intrastate costs.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

Any local government may participate in the needy family program; any public or nonprofit private school or any charitable institution serving needy persons is eligible for commodities. If a county or city can demonstrate that it cannot finance a donation program for its low-income families, the Office of Economic Opportunity will consider an application for assistance under the Community Action Program.

Families may participate if they (1) live in an area that has the program; (2) are found by local welfare officials to need food assistance; (3) are receiving some form of welfare assistance; and (4) are unemployed, part-time employed, working for low wages, or living on limited pensions. If families are not receiving welfare assistance, eligibility is based on family size and income and level of liquid assets.

PROGRAM TITLE: EMERGENCY FOOD AND MEDICAL SERVICES

PURPOSE
This program provides grants to make available on a temporary basis basic foodstuffs and medical services to counteract conditions of starvation or malnutrition among the poor. Funds can be applied in a number of different ways. Among these are (1) to develop a new program in counties without existing programs, (2) to supplement or expand an existing program (such as the Food Stamp Program or the School Lunch Program), (3) to extend the services of an existing program, as by providing transportation to distribution centers or increasing outreach services, (4) to cover the costs of medical examinations and treatment for conditions related to malnutrition, (5) to develop an innovative project aimed at finding techniques of improving food assistance methods, and (6) to develop a program of consumer and nutrition education.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE
Any public or private non-profit organization is eligible to apply for funds. Normally, however, it is expected that the community action agency (CAA), in localities where one exists, would serve as grantee. In the absence of a CAA, the local welfare department would be expected to serve as grantee. Actual operation of a program may be delegated to a local agency in the community.

The completed application should be submitted to the OEO Regional Office, with informational copies sent to the Health Services Office, Community Action Program Office of Economic Opportunity, 1111 18th St. NW., Washington, D.C. 20506 and to the Governor of the State (Attention: State Technical Assistance Office).

PROGRAM TITLE: EQUIPMENT TO INITIATE OR EXPAND SCHOOL FOOD SERVICE

PURPOSE

This program provides States with grants-in-aid and other means to supply schools in low-income areas with equipment for storing, preparing, transporting, and serving food to children. State educational agencies arrange for grants through the Secretary of Agriculture and then contract with eligible public and nonprofit private elementary and high schools needing equipment to initiate or expand nonprofit food service for children. The cash grants are distributed by State educational agencies to schools participating in the program. In States where State educational agencies cannot legally administer the program in private schools, such schools contract directly with the Department of Agriculture for grants.

Payments to States from appropriated funds are made on condition that at least one-fourth of the equipment cost shall be borne by State or local funds. Funding for this program in fiscal 1969 is authorized on a limited basis.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

Assistance is limited to schools in low-income areas that have no food service facilities or very inadequate facilities. Each applicant school submits to the State agency a justification of the need for assistance and proof of the inability to finance food service equipment needs. Each request is accompanied by a detailed description of the equipment to be acquired and the plans for its use to improve child nutrition in the school.

GUIDANCE AND COUNSELING
PROGRAM TITLE: COLLEGE STUDENT WORK-STUDY

PURPOSE

This program helps students finance their college education by providing grants to colleges and universities which support projects for student employment (on and off campus) up to an average of 15 hours a week during regular academic periods and up to 40 hours a week during normal vacations. All employment must be with public or private nonprofit agencies, including the school itself.

Federal matching funds pay 80 percent of the cost of a work-study program. The participating college provides 20 percent of the program's cost.

College work-study programs are designed to both combine with and supplement other student financial assistance programs such as scholarships, Educational Opportunity Grants, and student loans. Job preference must be given to students from low-income families.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

Any accredited college or university and certain area vocational education schools and proprietary schools for post-high school education are eligible for work-study funds. Application is made to the appropriate Office of Education Regional Office. (See appendix.)

To participate in the work-study program, applicants must be full-time students, citizens of the United States (or meet specific residence requirements), high school graduates (or equivalent), and pursuing programs of at least 6 months duration leading to gainful employment in recognized occupations. A student who wishes to apply for a grant should write to the Director of Student Financial Aid at the school he wishes to attend, or contact his high school guidance counselor.

PROGRAM TITLE: EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY GRANTS

PURPOSE

Educational Opportunity Grants (EOG) make higher education available to students of exceptional financial need.

A student is eligible to receive an EOG if he is studying fulltime and if his financial resources are severely limited. He does not need a high academic record in order to qualify.

Grant recipients receive $200 to $1000 per academic year, depending on their needs. Every EOG recipient also receives a matching award, such as a National Defense Student Loan, College Work-Study job, or a grant from a state scholarship program, in an amount at least equal to the EOG. EOG recipients may also receive Veterans Administration payments, provided that the combination of the EOG, matching award and VA benefits does not exceed the student's need. The grants may be renewed for up to four years of undergraduate study.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

Institutions of higher education which meet the eligibility criteria specified in the legislation may apply for and receive an allocation of funds with which to make Educational Opportunity Grants to eligible students. Applications for each fiscal year of participation (July 1-June 30) must be submitted each fall to the appropriate Regional Office of the Office of Education. (See appendix.)

A student who wishes to apply for a grant should write to the Director of Student Financial Aid at the institution which he wishes to attend.

PROGRAM TITLE: CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S SERVICES

PURPOSE

This program provides grants-in-aid to States for extension and improvement (especially in rural areas and areas of severe economic distress) of services to crippled children and children suffering from conditions that lead to crippling. These services include locating crippled children and providing medical, surgical, corrective, and other services for diagnosis, hospitalization, and aftercare for such children.

The program also provides grants for special projects of regional or national significance which may contribute to the advancement of services for crippled children. A portion of the annual appropriation is earmarked for special projects for mentally retarded children.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

States are eligible for grants for crippled children's services. Each State's grant for crippled children's services is determined, after a uniform allocation, by such factors as the number of children under 21 years of age, the financial need of the State for help in carrying out its program, and its relative number of rural children. Each State must match, on a dollar-for-dollar basis, one-half of the Federal funds.

Special project grants may be made to State crippled children's agencies and institutions of higher learning. There are no matching fund requirements for the special project funds. States may contact the addresses shown below.

PROGRAM TITLE: EDUCATIONAL MATERIALS FOR THE BLIND

PURPOSE

The American Printing House for the Blind is a private, nonprofit institution located in Louisville, Ky. Founded in 1858, it is the oldest national agency for the blind in the United States and the largest publishing house for the blind in the world. Products of the Printing House—Braille books and music, talking books, large-type textbooks, recorded educational tapes, and other tangible aids for the blind—are distributed to all public educational institutions for the blind and to State departments of education.

PROGRAM TITLE: MATERNAL AND CHILD HEALTH SERVICES IMPROVEMENT

PURPOSE

Grants-in-aid are provided to States so they may extend and improve services (especially in rural areas and in areas suffering from severe economic distress) for reducing infant mortality and promoting the health of mothers and children.

Services include maternity clinics, visits of public health nurses, well-child clinics, pediatric clinics, school health programs, dental care for children and pregnant women, family planning, and immunizations against preventable diseases. States conduct special clinics for mentally retarded children where diagnostic, evaluation, counseling, treatment, and followup services are provided.

The program also provides grants for special projects of regional or national significance which may contribute to the advancement of services for maternal and child health. A portion of the annual appropriation is earmarked for special programs for mentally retarded children.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

States are eligible for grants for maternal and child health services. Each State's grant is determined, after a uniform allocation, by such factors as the number of live births in the country, the State's financial need for help in providing services, and its proportion of rural births. Each State must match, on a dollar-for-dollar basis, one-half of the Federal funds.

Special project grants may be made to State health agencies and institutions of higher learning. There are no matching requirements for the special project funds. States apply to the address shown below.

PROGRAM TITLE: REGIONAL EDUCATIONAL LABORATORIES

PURPOSE
A national network of 20 Regional Educational Laboratories has been created to speed progress in education at all levels. Laboratory in this case does not mean a building but rather an association of colleges and universities, State departments of education, schools, and other educational interests working together to solve the educational problems of a geographical area. Their overriding goal is to bridge the gap between educational research and sound educational practice by helping local schools and school systems choose and make adaptations from among tested alternatives which show promise of bringing about educational improvements.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE
The network of Regional Educational Laboratories was completed in 1968. Local schools and school districts, State education agencies, colleges and universities, nonprofit and profit-making businesses and organizations, and cultural interests such as museums and libraries are eligible for participation in these laboratories. Individuals or school systems desiring to utilize laboratory services or to join in the laboratory effort should contact the staff of the Regional Laboratory in their geographical area. PROGRAM TITLE: REGIONAL EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH

PURPOSE
In this program, the nine Office of Education Regional Offices administer support for Regional Project Research (projects involving less than $10,000 in Federal support and completed within 18 months) and for Research Development Grants (up to $50,000 a year on a decreasing basis for three years to groups of higher education institutions seeking to develop their educational research capacities). The operation of this program within the regional offices helps improve communication between the educational research community and the Federal support structure in education. It also permits within-region competition for support of small projects and research development activities.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE
Colleges and universities, State and local education agencies, public and private organizations, and individuals are eligible for Regional Project Research support. Research Development Grants are used by cooperating groups of colleges whose member institutions plan to develop their research orientation toward educational improvement. Applications (formal proposals) competing for available support within regions are submitted to the appropriate Regional Office of the Office of Education (see appendix) where they are evaluated in terms of educational significance, soundness of design or operational plan, adequacy of staff and facilities, and economic efficiency by staff and non-Government specialists in the area concerned.

PROGRAM TITLE: TEACHER CORPS

PURPOSE

This program provides teams of teacher interns for supplementary teaching tasks in school districts serving large numbers of disadvantaged youth. The Teacher Corps was established to improve the educational opportunities available to children in areas with concentrations of low-income families and to encourage colleges and universities to broaden their program of teacher preparation. Each team is supervised by an experienced teacher. The interns study at a nearby university and receive practical experience by working in local schools with school officials and team leaders.

Corpsmen become employees of a school district, which pays 10 percent of their salaries. Teacher Corps grants to the local schools pay up to 90 percent of their salaries plus administrative costs. Grants to universities cover all tuition and administrative costs for graduate studies.

ELIGIBILITY AND PROCEDURE

Any school district may apply for Corpsmen if it has one or more schools in which at least 50 percent of the pupils come from low-income families. Colleges and universities are eligible to apply for the graduate portion of the program, as are consortiums of institutions. Application should be made to the address shown below.

Individuals interested in becoming Teacher Corpsmen may apply to chief state school officers or to college placement officers. Prospective Corpsmen must have had at least two years of college.
