This report of an experimental program, developed at the Jeffersontown High School in Louisville, Kentucky, describes 26 nongraded elective English courses which are divided into five ability-level phases. Phase 1 and 2 courses (for less advanced students) deal with such areas as developmental reading, vocational English, oral communication, humanities, and composition; phases 3 through 5 (requiring more highly developed skills and understandings) focus on creative writing, poetry, theater arts, Shakespeare, and English and American literature. Literary objectives, an outline of content, a week-by-week description of activities, suggested teaching approaches, a list of supplementary materials, and a bibliography are provided for each course, which lasts 12 weeks. Appended is the school's book selection and material reevaluation policy. (MF)

FOREWORD

The Administration and English staff of Jeffersontown High School recognized that in adding one grade yearly, the school had a unique opportunity to build an effective English course of study geared to actual student needs. Accordingly, they devoted much time and effort to investigating new and promising projects in other systems with the expressed idea of adapting parts of these programs to needs of the Jeffersontown community. Permission to depart from the State Program of Studies was then granted by the State Department of Education whose staff members were instrumental in the initiation of the program.

The tentative revised curricula developed by the Jeffersontown English Department with the Supervisor of English Instruction is nongraded. In addition, students elect classes from a variety of course phases according to the level of difficulty. The basic program fulfills many worthwhile objectives which serve to enrich the English offerings.

Each course comprises twelve weeks of study, and each student is required to take a minimum of three English courses per year. However, the cost of the program to the individual student does not exceed current textbook expenditures.

In conclusion, the ultimate goal in attempting such a project is to provide for each student a changed attitude toward English; this, in turn, produces an individual program designed to serve realistically each student's immediate needs as well as his future objectives.

DESCRIPTION OF PHASES

Phase 1 includes courses designed for students who may have reading or learning problems and for those who have, to date, shown little or no interest in English studies. In the selection of materials and in the planning of activities, care has been given to (1) increasing interest through greater enjoyment and greater relevance and (2) developing basic skills. Much student involvement is strongly recommended.

Phase 2 courses are designed to increase motivation and competence in reading, language usage, and composition. A course bearing this phase designation does not introduce books of known difficulty but stresses interpretation and transfer of understandings in works at a comparatively easy reading level.

Phase 3 courses require a higher level of reading competence than do Phases 1 and 2 as well as a willingness to extend this and other language skills. The application of basic principles in literature, language, and composition makes a Phase 3 course a more structured approach to learning.

Phase 4 includes courses that require students to work at a more sophisticated level and to demonstrate a higher degree of self-motivation. Course materials and activities demand a high reading level, a grasp of language structure, and a degree of proficiency in writing.

Phase 5 designates courses equal, in level of difficulty, to those of college freshmen. The design of Phase 5 courses presupposes students with highly developed skills and understanding as well as maturity in thought and purpose. Both Phase 4 and Phase 5 courses focus on depth and quality rather than breadth and quantity of work.

DEVELOPMENTAL READING TECHNIQUES (Phase 1-2)

Course Description

Developmental Reading Techniques is an individualized course designed to help students read with less difficulty with emphasis on comprehension and speed.

Achievement Level

The students more than likely read below eleventh grade level but have a desire to improve their reading skills.

General Literary Objectives

To meet individual needs in reading
To develop efficient reading habits

Specific Literary Objectives

To develop speed and comprehension in reading
To increase reading vocabulary
To avoid regressions
To recognize facts and main ideas
To read in phrases
To encourage concentration

Materials Provided for Students

Audiovisual Research Reading Rateometers, Model A
Educational Developmental Laboratory filmstrips and tests
Reading materials (e.g., paperback books, periodicals, and library books)
Science Research Associates, Laboratory IVa
Tactics In Reading II
Materials Purchased by Students

Three-ring notebook paper; folder

Course Outline

I. Orientation
   A. Individual reading
   B. Conferences

II. Administration of reading tests

III. Charting of reading profile

IV. Explanation of the use of equipment
   A. Tactics In Reading II
   B. Science Research Laboratory, IVa
   C. Rateometer
   D. Controlled Reader

V. Recognition of poor reading habits

VI. Recognition and exercise of good reading techniques

VII. Evaluation

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Week 1

Present orientation.

Administer Advanced Iowa Silent Reading Test, A M form.

Chart reading profile.

Week 2

Describe poor reading habits.

Illustrate the use of the Rateometer,

Introduce Tactics In Reading II.

Conduct free reading sessions.

Direct SRA time; test and have students record progress.
Week 3

Stress good reading habits.
Introduce SRA Laboratory.
Use Controlled Reader.
Continue use of Rateometer and Tactics.
Devote part of each period to free reading.
Test and record.

Weeks 4-11

Conduct individual conferences as needed.
Group for Controlled Reader filmstrips twice a week.
Continue free reading and daily use of Rateometers, Tactics, and SRA Laboratory.
Test; require students to record weekly progress.
Encourage concentration and enjoyment in reading.

Week 12

Administer Advanced Iowa Silent Reading Test, C M form.
Chart reading profile to show improvement.
Evaluate course.

Suggested Approaches

Administer the standardized test to indicate students' weaknesses in reading.
Use the Tactics exercises, the SRA Laboratory, the Controlled Reader, and the Rateometers to develop the various reading skills.
Allow frequent free reading periods.
Test regularly to indicate progress.
Have students briefly record daily summaries of readings and progress.
Confer with students concerning their reading.
Administer the second standardized test and evaluate students' progress.

ENGLISH FUNDAMENTALS (Phase 1-2)

Course Description

In English Fundamentals attention is directed toward the development of skills (e.g., vocabulary and the mechanics of writing) and toward improvement of appropriate classroom English usage.

Achievement Level

The students should be aware of deficiencies and possess a desire to overcome them in one or more of the language areas.

General Literary Objectives

To give the students a greater degree of proficiency in oral and written communication through the development of skills

To expose the students to useful and appropriate English experiences and available resources

Specific Literary Objectives

To help the students gain confidence through an acquired knowledge of the basic mechanics of grammar and vocabulary

To provide opportunities for students individually to develop practical communication skills in reading, writing, listening, and speaking

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Weeks 1-2

Discuss course requirements and possible outcomes accruing to the students.

Lead the class in their determining what communication is.

Read the text material of the investigation of language symbolism.

Trace the development of the English language from its origin.

Formulate with students criteria for "correct" and "incorrect" grammar usage; use prepared transparencies.

Have students conclude what English is.

Week 3

Explore with the students language structure.

Conduct a discussion of the necessity of a language system.

Lead students to deduce human language as primarily an oral-aural system of signalling.

Emphasize, through discussion, the necessity of order.

Weeks 4-5

Plan opportunities for discussion of the relationship of vocabulary to the culture and interests of other peoples.

Point out that, contrary to popular student opinion, grammar has a definite relationship with reality.

Week 6

Introduce the concept of order in written and spoken English.

Explain form classes (e.g., noun, verb, adjective, and adverb).

Continue explanation of the use of form classes.

Assign related material in text and provide experiences for students to enforce their learning.

Weeks 7-8

Define, explain, and study function words (e.g., determiners, auxiliaries, and intensifiers).

Assign class work to implement this study.
Weeks 9-10

Ask students to determine what a sentence is.

Apply these definitions to teacher selected sentence patterns.

Discuss and study the types of sentences and sentence patterns.

Week 11

Present the concept of broadening basic sentence patterns.

Show how prepositions (noun markers) present a relationship among words in sentences.

Ask students to explain how conjunctions connect similar word patterns.

Illustrate the manner in which sentence patterns can be expanded by the use of subordinators.

Review and evaluate course work.

ORAL COMMUNICATION (Phase 1-2)

Course Description

Oral Communication is a practical course designed to help students gain poise, confidence, and enjoyment in communicating orally with others. Several communication techniques are introduced with emphasis on employing these in everyday conversation, group discussions, short talks, oral interpretation, listening, and personal speech habits.

Achievement Level

Students need only to have a desire to improve their speech at various levels of communication.

General Literary Objectives

To demonstrate the importance of the communication tools in the everyday speaking process

To promote a general understanding of oral communication and of the important role it plays

To help the students become aware of listening as a very important communication technique

To improve the individual voice for speaking in the everyday environment

To promote learning of the basic types of speech preparation and delivery

Specific Literary Objectives

To give students practical experiences in learning the tools to effective communication

To aid the students in gaining poise, confidence, and security in speaking situations which may develop throughout life

Materials Provided for Students

   B. Short Story (three minutes)
   C. Impromptu talks

IV. Listening
   A. Listening and communication
   B. Presentation of other voices
   C. Group activity
      1. Discriminative listening by students
      2. Discussion of sound and movement
      3. Formulation of guides to effective listening

V. Group discussion
   A. Group discussions in a democracy
   B. Organization, presentation, and results
   C. Evaluation
   D. Oral work
      1. Discussions presented by small groups (six students)
      2. Research performed by students

VI. Speech preparation
   A. The outline in relation to speech making
   B. Types of speeches
C. Oral work
   1. Presentation of four different types of speeches
   2. Criticism

VII. Oral interpretation
   A. Explanation of methods
   B. Exposure to various professional readers
   C. Standards
   D. Criticism by teacher; evaluation
   E. Oral work
      1. Oral reading
      2. Short recital
      3. Personal evaluation and criticism
      4. Skits

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Week 1

Introduce class goals, activities, and projects.

Ask each student to give a self-introduction.

Discuss with the students how poise and emotional adjustment may be developed.

Prepare for oral work and recorded session: have each student tell a short story (possibly something personal that has happened to him), requiring some kind of movement and lasting no longer than three minutes.

Listen to student impromptu talks; record.

Week 2

Lead a discussion concerning the important part listening plays in communication.

Allow time for practice in discriminative listening.

Listen together to voices of others (e.g., actors, announcers, lecturers, oral readers, commentators on the radio).

Explain terms involved with listening and speaking.
Week 3

Replay tapes of the voices recorded during the first week; discuss the various sounds which affected the voices of the speakers.

Introduce guides to effective listening.

Week 4

Explain the importance of group discussions.

Point out the part discussion plays in a democracy.

Explore the make-up of a group discussion (e.g., how it is organized, presented, and the results it can bring).

Divide the class into groups of six; prepare these groups for a discussion.

Week 5

Begin to organize groups for a discussion (research techniques should be employed).

Hold discussions and evaluations by students.

Prepare for library work in order to research for discussion.

Week 6

Lecture on the outline in relation to speech making.

Hand out a summary sheet of the types of speeches to be given during the next four weeks.

Listen to student presentations of the three-minute "How To" speech involving a visual aid.

Week 7

Explain and allow student discussion of critique sheets of the previous speech.

Evaluate orally the outlines which are to be turned in for each talk.

Hear students present the second speech (whichever type seems to be the best for this time period).

Week 8

Present and evaluate the third speech.

Explain oral criticisms which will be given by the students as well as by the teacher.
Week 9

Hear students' fourth speech.

Critique the speeches in front of the class; encourage class criticism.

Week 10

Explain what oral interpretation is and the role it plays in effective communication.

Expose the students to good interpretation through records, tapes, and oral reading by the teacher or other persons.

Allow students to bring to class selections they enjoy reading and those that will be suitable for oral reading.

Teach the students a sound, basic method for preparing an oral reading.

Week 11

Allow students to present an oral interpretation recital.

Tape at least one student reading with video recorder.

Evaluate and criticize while replaying the tape.

Week 12

Perform impromptu skits from student-written suggestions.

Evaluate speech notebooks.

Give oral evaluation of the twelve weeks of work.

Suggested Approaches and Teaching Aids

Any examinations given may be determined by the individual teacher as to time and material to be included.

Pertinent or general information may be presented by the teacher in a lecture-question-discussion manner.

Mimeographed sheets of additional information may be given to students.

Student participation in other speech activities may occur within the school and community and should be encouraged.

A student speech notebook or scrapbook may be required. (This should include speech outlines; pictures, visual aids, if possible; extra class material obtained during the twelve weeks; and any other material they feel would make an interesting collection to aid them in future talks.)

VOCATIONAL ENGLISH I (Phase 1-2)

Course Description

Vocational English offers students an opportunity to discover their individual weaknesses and to build skills in vocabulary, spelling, mechanics in writing, conversation, and observation. At the same time, emphasis is placed on seeking and gaining employment as well as on worthy use of leisure time.

Achievement Level

This course is designed for students who have experienced difficulty in traditional English courses and who do not plan to attend college but elect to pursue a vocation.

General Literary Objectives

To provide practical experiences in English related to vocational needs

To educate students to the dignity of work

To build the students' self-confidence as they prepare for gainful employment

To instruct students to become more discriminate consumers of leisure time

To design work in areas of special need and interest with teacher assistance and guidance

Specific Literary Objectives

To build improvement in the areas of reading, listening, writing, speaking, and reasoning

To investigate various job opportunities related to the interests of the individual students

To provide classroom discussion and experience in the procedures for seeking and obtaining employment

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Week 1

Orient students to course purposes, class projects, and expected outcomes.

Inventory individual needs and aptitudes.
Evaluate needs and aptitudes and establish individual projects.

Introduce classified sections from the local newspapers.

Distribute selected Cross Word Puzzles for students to try in class.

Discuss the importance of job-related spelling and vocabulary building.

Week 2

Begin a class discussion of why English on the job is important; review common grammar errors in oral and written communication.

Introduce the role of employer and employee; emphasize the importance of attitudes.

Study assigned spelling and vocabulary.

Ask students to write an information report from the classified section of a local newspaper.

Require students to write initial paragraphs concerning personal goals.

Week 3

Discuss, in general, abilities needed for vocational careers.

Provide classroom experiences to improve writing and speaking habits (e.g., demonstration speeches, and oral and written reports on vocations).

Arrange individual speaking activities.

Have class read orally vocational pamphlets to ascertain teacher and student information.

Continue studying spelling and vocabulary; develop a word list from work begun in the vocational pamphlets.

Week 4

Hear and discuss speeches on explanations and directions; conduct individual conferences.

Make related spelling and vocabulary assignments.

Week 5

Evaluate handwriting; discuss needs for good writing.

Work on improving written communication.

Study spelling and vocabulary.

Schedule guest speaker.
Week 6

Initiate discussion relative to securing employment.
Evaluate spelling and vocabulary progress.
Discuss and work with application forms.

Week 7

Simulate an interview that will provoke discussion.
Assign individual classroom interviews.
Schedule guest interviewer.
Discuss related spelling and vocabulary.

Week 8

Show film from South Central Bell entitled Telephone Manners Pay Off.
Demonstrate telephone usage with equipment provided by South Central Bell.
Provide practical experience of telephone usage (e.g., calling for an interview).
Build spelling and vocabulary related exercises.

Week 9

Examine uses of newspaper (e.g., looking for a job).
Bring job-related news clippings for oral readings.
Introduce students to trade magazines.
Conduct discussions on information from newspapers and magazines.
Acquaint class with child labor laws and social security information.
Provide students the opportunity to apply for social security numbers.

Week 10

HUMANITIES 1 (Phase 1-3)

Course Description

In Humanities 1 the students explore the art achievements of several main periods in the development of Western Civilization. The primary stress of the course is upon student discussion of literature, art prints, filmstrips, and recordings representative of each period.

Achievement Level

The students should be able to learn to present their views in a class discussion, to take notes with direction from the teacher, to listen with understanding, and to have a curiosity about their cultural heritage.

General Literary Objectives

To develop a breadth of identification, interpretation, and appreciation of the cultural pattern of the Western World

To compare the various art forms as they relate to each other

Specific Literary Objectives

To develop a technique of general, critical analysis by which the students can arrive at their own evaluations and judgment of works of art

To determine how the various art forms relate to each other

Materials Provided for Students

XI. Evaluation

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Weeks 1-2

Introduce course objectives and requirements; assign student reports. Discuss the humanities and the difference between civilization and culture. Have students view The humanities: what they are and what they do. Show the film Art and architecture: Art--why is it? what is it? Discuss this with the students. Introduce the Egyptian period (e.g., religion, art, and architecture). Continue discussions; view filmstrips: Ancient Egypt and Exploring Ancient Egypt. Conclude the Egyptian period. Analyze Greek period (500-100 B.C.), with major emphasis on architecture, literature, sculpture, and philosophy; use selected filmstrips on Greece: Athens, Exploring Ancient Athens, Greece: Athens, Greece: History, and The Hellenic Greeks. Discuss Greek mythology. Assign for in-class reading Homer's Iliad; discuss chapters daily; critique. View film on Oedipus Rex. Conclude the study of the Greek period with student oral reports; teach the theme of comparison and the theme of contrast. Quiz.

Week 3

Introduce Roman period; discuss the arch, the dome, the Pantheon, Colosseum, and aqueducts; assign oral report topics; use selected filmstrips (see Supplementary Materials).

Discuss the Roman alphabet and derivations of Latin words; lecture on Roman mythology. Arrange for an authority of mythology to speak to the class on the major gods and their roles in mythology; relate lecture to the Greek study. Discuss Roman sculpture; compare and contrast to that of the Greeks.
Evaluate with the class music and art of this period.
Conclude Roman period.
Quiz.

Week 4
Analyze the Romanesque (refer to knowledge of prefixes and suffixes) periods as a transition between the Roman and the Middle Ages.
View the film, Emperor and Slave, to illustrate Romanesque philosophy.
Synthesize Everyman and Canterbury Tales as illustrations of the religious belief of the period.
Play recordings to illustrate the music of the Romanesque period. (see Recordings)

Weeks 5-6
Introduce the study of the Middle Ages; discuss the architecture of the Medieval church, the Trappist Monastery at Bardstown, Gothic architecture, and Notre Dame in Paris.
Have students view the filmstrips: Medieval Towns and Cities, The Middle Ages, and The Medieval Church; assign oral reports.
Schedule, by chapters, in-class discussions of The Prince.
Discuss the art of the Middle Ages, Pope Gregory's ideas, Giotto, and frescoes.
Listen to selected recordings of Medieval music and Gregorian chants (e.g., "Gregorian Chant," "Who Will Answer"); analyze and discuss.
View filmstrip Giotto's Life of Christ.
Conclude discussion of Medieval period.
Provide time for student oral reports and written themes.

Weeks 7-8
Introduce the Renaissance period; assign reports dealing with major Renaissance artists (e.g., da Vinci, Michelangelo, Raphael, Botticelli, and Rembrandt).
Present pictures: Mona Lisa, The Last Supper, Creation of Man, and Dali's The Sacrament of the Last Supper.
Permit student reports to be heard by the class as individuals complete their research on them.
Discuss architecture (Palladio) and music (Palestrina and Martin Luther).

Listen to record, "A Mighty Fortress"; view filmstrip, Reformation.

Conclude survey work of the Renaissance period.

Quiz.

Week 9

Introduce the Baroque, Rococo and Classical periods; assign student reports on musicians and artists; lecture, discuss, and hear student reports on the music of Bach, Handel, Mozart, and Haydn; discuss the art of Tintoretto, Rubens, and Bernini.

Present art prints: Head of a Boy and Portrait of Isabelle Brant; listen to recording, "Great Sacred Choruses."

Conclude class study; quiz.

Weeks 10-11

Introduce the survey of the Romantic period; make report assignments.

Have students discuss samples of the music of Beethoven, Schubert, Chopin, Mendelssohn, Strauss, and Wagner.

View and discuss the major art work of Delacroix and Goya.

View filmstrips: Bach, Beethoven, and Mozart.

Listen to remaining student oral reports.

Conclude discussion of the period; quiz.

Week 12

Schedule the in-class writing of the second major theme.

Review and evaluate course work with students.

Suggested Approaches

Encourage student participation in classroom discussions.

Have each student to keep a loose-leaf binder of class notes.

Require each student to compile a scrapbook of material, representative of the periods studied.

37
Offer a list of oral report topics and make assignments on selected readings concerning each period.

Assign two, three-or four-page, well-developed themes, comparing and contrasting art forms of major periods or noting particular aspects of a personality or period.

Award extra credit for the attendance at cultural events which must be critiqued in a written form and the critique submitted to the teacher.

Allow extra credit for the construction of models, mobiles, and other worthwhile, class-related projects.

BASIC COMPOSITION (Phase 2-3)

Course Description

Basic Composition is designed to help students develop basic writing skills in narrating, describing, and explaining. Assignments are based upon expression of ideas in an effective way. Extensive work is done in class on the development of the sentence and the paragraph.

Achievement Level

The students should have a desire to improve their writing. A lack of mechanical accuracy will not preclude enrollment in this class. Students with a good command of basic writing techniques should be guided into an advanced composition course.

General Literary Objectives

To teach the patterns of expository, narrative, and descriptive writing
To provide opportunities for expression in three types of writing

Specific Literary Objectives

To conduct an in-depth study of the use of words
To explore in depth the use of sentences
To construct paragraphs
To help students distinguish writing styles

   2. Recognizing ambiguities

VI. Review of course work and evaluation

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Weeks 1-2

Explain course requirements and expected student outcomes.
Formulate, with students, course goals and objectives.
Generate a discussion of descriptive words.
Lead into an in-depth study of narrative words: concrete and abstract.

Weeks 3-4

Begin discussions of the sentence.
Explain and discuss controlling subject and predicate.
Demonstrate sentence shift for emphasis.
Have students discuss the writing of balanced sentences.

Weeks 5-6

Present methods of sentence construction.
Help students to understand importance of writing connected sentences.
Emphasize repetition of words and phrases and references to words previously stated (e.g., pronouns and their antecedents).

Weeks 7-8

Stress, through class discussion, the importance of word pictures to express one's experiences.
Point out that spacial relationships (e.g., the arrangement of people, houses, mountains, and mosquitos) are effective in self-expression of experience.
Weeks 9-10

Lead the students, through examples and discussion, to the realization that they must build a framework in their writing in order to achieve organization in expressing their thoughts.

Schedule classroom experiences in paragraph patterns.

Week 11

Differentiate between spoken and written language; point out flexibility and informality of spoken language and the formality of written language.

Week 12

Plan practice sessions for the students in editing and in eliminating unclear meaning and ambiguity.

Review course work; evaluate students' progress.

Suggested Approach

Provide time daily for written application.

Bibliography

Course Description

In Individualized Reading the students read in class materials that are of interest to them. Students are encouraged to formulate a wide range of reading interests and to read the selections for greater depth. During the second half of the course, as the students continue reading in depth, they receive instruction in writing an analysis of five hundred to a thousand words based upon either an author's life, a central theme, or upon genre or type of reading.

Achievement Level

These students are readers of or above grade expectancy who wish to extend their background in various kinds of reading.

General Literary Objectives

To develop ability in the students to read various kinds of materials
To raise the maturity level of the students' reading

Specific Literary Objectives

To relate reading to previous experiences
To widen the students' reading interests
To explore for understanding and appreciation various kinds of reading

Materials Provided for Students

Course Outline

I. Orientation
   A. Individual reading
   B. Conferences

II. Administration of reading questionnaire

III. Analysis of a chosen topic

IV. Evaluation

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Week 1

Present orientation.

Administer reading questionnaire.

Have students read silently and record titles, pages, and comments in folders.

Confer with students.

Weeks 2-6

Continue explorations in reading.

Hold conferences concerning characterization, theme, and comparisons.

Weeks 7-12

Conduct panel or small group discussions.

Use accelerator when need is indicated (optional).

Continue reading and conferring.

Have students complete a reading project of an analysis of an author, theme, or genre.

Suggested Approaches

Provide students time for reading and conferring with the teacher and require them to keep records of readings.
Following each conference, encourage students to enter comments about the book they have read.

Ask students to complete a reading project which is an outgrowth of their interests. Students should be apprised of this requirement early but should begin active work on the project near the middle of the course.

VOCATIONAL ENGLISH II (Phase 2-4)

Course Description

Vocational English II is designed to stimulate and to involve students in their preparation for life. This course deals with the personal problems of the practical aspects of living and working with other people.

Achievement Level

This course is designed for those students who have experienced difficulty in traditional English courses and who do not plan to attend college but elect to pursue a vocation. It is our belief that greater benefit will occur to those students who have completed Vocational English I.

General Literary Objectives

To provide additional practical experiences in English related to vocational needs

To educate students further to the dignity of work

To continue to build the students' self-confidence as they prepare for gainful employment

To further instruct students to become more descriminate consumers of leisure time

To design more work in areas of special need and interest with teacher assistance and guidance

To challenge students to evaluate personal goals and to encourage self-development

Specific Literary Objectives

To continue to build improvement in the areas of reading, listening, writing, speaking, and reasoning

To investigate further various job opportunities related to the interests of the individual students

To continue to provide classroom discussion and experience in the procedures to seek and obtain employment
Materials Provided for Students

   C. Securement
   D. Adjustment

IV. Course evaluation

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Week 1

Orient students to class purposes, class projects, and relate anticipated class development.

Ascertain vocational interests and future goals of students.

Evaluate vocational interests and possibility of attainment.

Institute job-related vocabulary and spelling study to be continued throughout the course.
Week 2
Show and discuss in relation to work several films on self-understanding.
Administer personality and character trait quiz.
Have students prepare a self-inventory.

Week 3
Discuss problems in family living.
Determine attitudes and encourage improvement in relationships with employers, friends, neighbors, families, and community.
Secure speaker to answer questions regarding social living.

Week 4
Assign and develop individual vocational research projects.
Present consultant to counsel on selected vocations.

Week 5
Assign job-setting project.
Present and explain job-related business forms.
Schedule professional personnel counselor to advise students concerning job securement.

Week 6
Introduce qualified speaker from industry to emphasize the importance of English competence in the world of work.
View films relating to various vocations.

Week 7
Conduct student evaluation of information related by guest speakers.
Begin unit on common errors in the practical use of English.
Continue emphasis of correct English usage throughout the course.

Week 8
Study salary possibilities of various vocations.
Direct students to prepare an itemized projected budget for a year by months, based on the amount of income expected in their first year of working; give class direction and allow students to work individually for the remainder of the week.
Week 9

Acquaint class with bank forms.
Teach the use of forms.

Invite as a guest speaker a representative from a community bank to discuss students' concerns of banking regulations, facilities, and services.

Week 10

Develop a study unit to enable students to familiarize and to evaluate communications and other entertainment forms of today.

Schedule speakers representing numerous vocations, not requiring college degrees.

Week 11

Introduce information to stimulate discussion and evaluation of sales methods and approaches.

Have students prepare and present a television sales talk.

Video tape sales talks and play back.

Conduct session for constructive criticism of student talks.

Week 12

Prepare students for personal interviews.

 Arrange for personnel counselor to conduct individual interviews simulating actual job-seeking experiences.

Culminate course with a review discussion and student evaluation of information received.

Suggested Approaches

Keep Vocational English II extremely flexible as to time arrangement of weekly units. Make use of available services, materials, and professional people within the community as schedules will allow to consult and to inform the students of the necessary requirements to enter and succeed in particular vocations.

Emphasize instruction in the language arts in all class activities but use a subtle, sometimes oblique, approach.

Let the primary vocational interests of the class govern the selection of proper materials and speakers.
Arrange field trips when feasible.

Answer individual needs and give attention to remedial areas of need.

Provide materials to aid in improving possibilities of getting and keeping a job.

DRAMA WORKSHOP (Phase 2-5)

Course Description

Drama Workshop is an introduction to the elements of drama which include writing, acting, directing, producing, and criticism. A textbook is used in addition to paperback books, and class discussion is utilized to a great extent. Classical plays as well as current Broadway hits are studied.

Achievement Level

Students who have an interest in plays and playwrights and who are eager to gain a deeper knowledge of how the play comes to life on the stage will enjoy this course.

General Literary Objectives

To develop within the students a sense of appreciation of drama and theater as an art form and as an influence in the changing civilizations of the world.

To promote practical class activities from which students will be able to learn about the elements of drama.

Specific Literary Objectives

To teach an understanding of the types and styles of drama.

To create individual interests in drama for high school students.

To give an understanding of the structure and elements of a play including theme, characterization, plot, dialogue, setting, and atmosphere.

To develop a standard of evaluatory criticism of a play as a literary product.

To provide knowledge of the physical elements of production including the stage, blocking, costuming, and makeup.

To determine through discussion the areas of interest for the students so that they can work well with school productions.

To initiate acting experiences for the students.

   E. Readings
   F. Movement

IV. Reading activities
   A. Arts section of newspaper
   B. Plays
   C. Critiques

V. Evaluation of class projects and course
Twelve Weeks' Plan

Week 1

Introduce class activities, projects, and materials to be covered.

Give a very brief history of the theatre and its adaptation to various civilizations.

Distribute teacher-written pantomimes to be worked out by each student and presented the following day.

Ask students to develop original pantomimes to be presented in class; have the students determine what each pantamimist is doing.

Distribute for examination copies of the arts section of the local Sunday newspaper; familiarize the class with reviews and other drama-related articles.

Week 2

Discuss play reviews as they appear in the newspaper.

Explore the value of professional criticism.

Ask students to research national, international, and local critics; discuss, where possible, the techniques of each.

Describe the types of plays and have students read excerpts from specific plays to reinforce this learning experience.

Hear group presentations of the various periods of the history of drama.

Week 3

Review material covered in Week Two by promoting discussion.

Lead the students in learning to identify specific types of plays.

Read and discuss together an example of each type.

Week 4

Read a short play orally in class (e.g., Caine Mutiny Court Martial); assign parts.

Weeks 5-6

Explain how to do a one-character cutting.

Distribute examples of a cutting to the class; guide students in the selection of a cutting; assign cuttings to be performed.
View student performances of the cuttings; critique.

Initiate the exploration of Everyman as an example of a morality play; allow the students to rewrite a section in modern English and read them to the class.

Week 7

Study blocking and movement in relation to a full-length play and class cuttings.

Explain how to do a two-character cutting.

Assign a two-character cutting; schedule in-class performances of the cuttings.

Critique.

Week 8

Begin discussions of one-act plays which could possibly be performed in class.

Assign individuals to work on character development, sound, lighting, and costumes.

Have students read in class a one-act play (e.g., Sandbox).

Present critical reviews concerning this play.

Week 9

Encourage the students to continue working on the cutting of the one-act play they select.

Create an atmosphere in which to begin the preparation of class presentations of these short cuttings.

Reemphasize the techniques of performing before an audience.

Week 10

Present cuttings to enable students to apply what has been learned.

Ask for the presentations of completed work on sound, lighting, and costumes that were assigned in Week Eight.

Evaluate orally work completed on the play cuttings.

Week 11

Discuss projects.

Promote the exploration of current plays and movies in relation to what has been learned.

Distribute critiques to class concerning professional criticisms.
Week 12

Evaluate and discuss projects.
Schedule time to listen to professional readers on record.
Plan time to explore radio acting.
Compare TV and radio acting.
Review and evaluate course.

Suggested Approaches

The specific plays discussed in this unit should be determined by the types of students in the class.
The play selected to be read in class should be thoroughly examined before making the assignment.
Give the class an opportunity to explore the school stage which will be used for production; compare the school's stage to professional stages.
Create as many different drama projects to be worked on as possible.
Devise a form to be filled in after reading a play; assign twenty plays to be read during the twelve weeks period (e.g., those found in the textbooks provided for the students).

CREATIVE WRITING (Phase 3-4)

Course Description

Creative Writing is designed for those students who wish to express themselves creatively and imaginatively in such literary forms as the short story, poem, essay, and drama. Continued reading and careful observation along with the keeping of a journal is encouraged as sources of ideas for expression. Techniques, insofar as they might aid the students in expressing themselves artistically, are studied, and students are encouraged to enter work in contests and for publication. Quality writing is a goal.

Achievement Level

The students should be able to read at the expected grade level and to analyze what they read.

General Literary Objectives

To produce an outlet for the individual who has something to say and desires to say it creatively

To develop within the students a greater sensitivity to their surroundings

To foster in reading of all types a sustained interest and appreciation, not only as a source for ideas but as a model of literary expression

To establish criteria by which the students can more objectively evaluate the work done by themselves and their peers

Specific Literary Objectives

To teach the students how to teach themselves to write

To encourage the students to master those writing techniques which might aid them in writing effectively and artistically

To stimulate and sustain an interest in literary output by providing publication for outstanding effort

   B. Pattern

V. Culmination of course work

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Week 1

Explain course objectives and discuss talent, careers, and conferences.

Define senses and observation, associating them with writing ability.

Have students experiment in improving observation powers; teach note-taking.

Initiate student writing.

Week 2

Introduce Stop, Look, and Write; discuss Selections One and Two.

Help students interpret writings from Selections One and Two.
Assign writing from outside source.

Arrange student conferences.

Week 3

Schedule student discussions of the writings dealing with Selections Three and Four.

Ask students to evaluate writings from outside selection.

Allow time for readings of students' writings.

Conduct student conferences.

Week 4

Lead a discussion on the writings dealing with Selections Five, Six, and Seven.

Ask students to consider writings from outside selection.

Schedule conferences with students.

Week 5

Provide time for the students to write about Selections Eight and Nine.

Lead students in the evaluation of writings from outside selection.

Have readings of students' writings.

Conduct conferences.

Week 6

Assign writings dealing with Selections Ten, Eleven, and Twelve.

Allow opportunity for discussing writings from outside selection.

Meet in conferences.

Week 7

Ask students to write about Selections Thirteen and Fourteen.

Provide time for students to analyze writings from outside selection.

Schedule readings of students' writings.

Conduct conferences.
Week 8

Let students discuss writings dealing with Selections Fifteen, Sixteen, and Seventeen.

Arrange class time for student writings from outside selection.

Schedule conferences.

Week 9

Allow time for discussions of writings on Selections Eighteen and Nineteen.

Provide opportunity for class to listen to writings from outside selection.

Let students hear and analyze readings of students' writing.

Arrange conferences.

Week 10

Help students assess writings dealing with Selection Twenty.

Conclude discussions on Stop, Look, and Write; have students complete writings using this book.

Arrange time for discussing ideas gathered in students' journals.

Ask students to work on completing papers due the following week.

Week 11

Collect papers; assign an out-of-class theme from journal idea.

Hold a student observation period; assign writings on increased powers of observation.

Discuss writings from outside selections.

Set up student conferences.

Week 12

Compare early and later writings of the students.

Assign student writings on outside selection.

Conduct readings of students' papers, helping students recognize improvements.
Suggested Approaches

Assign three outside writings.

Expect five entries per week in student journals.

Organize a fishbowl of topics for short writings.

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Week 1

Introduce class activities; keynote the course.

Guide students in filling in a speech information blank.

Divide class into twos and have them introduce each other.

Prepare class for two-minute speeches on "factors of life" and "professions." (See Teaching Speech in the Secondary Schools.)

Week 2

Prepare class for two-minute speeches on "Lighthouse" and "Death on the Desert." (See Teaching Speech in the Secondary Schools.)

Create a good atmosphere for listening to speeches.

Keep diagnostic notes on each talk.

Week 3

Discuss the outline in relation to speech making.

Lecture on the essential steps in composition and the reasons for the outline being placed in the scheme.

Devise a form to be used to outline a famous speech.

Evaluate and discuss speeches in class.

Apprise the students of the use of notes in making a talk.

Week 4

Assign a speech in advance so that each student can choose the general subject, formulate his purpose, state his central idea, and work it down into logical subdivisions.

Designate a laboratory session to meet individual problems.

Guide student work with tongue twisters; use tape recorder.

Explain the importance of good articulation when speaking.

Week 5

Lecture on the necessity of learning to follow directions.

Employ an exercise with geometrical drawings (e.g., one student explains how the figure is to be drawn while another draws it on the board).

Emphasize body control when speaking.
Week 6

Explain the various types of speeches to be required during the next six weeks.

Distribute supplementary materials to be given to each student.

Aid the students in their beginning preliminary work on the simple "How to" speech.

Begin class work on the outline; compile outside sources.

Week 7

Use part of the class time to discuss previous speeches.

Help students prepare material to be read orally and taped.

Replay tapes and critique.

Discuss the second speech to be worked out.

Week 8

Promote student class work on the outline for the second speech in class.

Go over student outlines individually.

Begin the writing session of second speeches by the students.

Week 9

Prepare for student oral presentation of second speech.

Use the remainder of the week for careful preparation.

Week 10

Create an atmosphere in which to work in class on the choral reading, The People Sleep; another may be substituted.

Week 11

Discuss the principles of a good oration.

Aid the students in employing research techniques when preparing the oration.

Week 12

Allow time to present a six-minute oratory speech.

Analyze the speeches orally and use critique sheets.

Evaluate student work and the course.
Suggested Approaches and Teaching Aids

Speeches to be made during this unit's work might include informative, persuasive, entertaining, stimulating, "How to," oration, and short announcements.

Visual aids may be used with the "How to" speech; creativity is encouraged.

Bulletin boards create a great interest; use imagination for excellent boards help emphasize speech.

Use supplementary material for oral reading (e.g., tongue-twisters, poetry, and short readings); these may be mimeographed.

THEATRE ARTS (Phase 3-5)

Course Description

Theatre Arts is designed to introduce the students to various aspects of the theatre as a valuable art form through different modes: education, entertainment, performance, and criticism. The students study the theatrical art forms of makeup, costuming, directing, set designing, production, dramatic criticism, and history.

Achievement Level

Students who are eager to participate in either the educational theatre, the audience, the performance itself or as a critic will be interested and find value in this course.

General Literary Objectives

To communicate to the students the importance of recognizing the theatre as a valuable art form

To help the students realize that the theatre is valuable to study because it depicts life

To guide each individual in securing information concerning more technical aspects of the theatre

To promote constructive criticism of the dramatic arts

To generate a fervor which the students can apply to the school's drama program

Specific Literary Objectives

To develop the student's special skills in makeup, costuming, staging a production, and directing

To encourage students to read extensively in dramatic literature and to develop discrimination in their selections

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Weeks 1-2

Introduce materials to be covered in class and activities to be performed.

Present the film, Makeup for the Theatre.

Display a theatrical makeup kit to the class.

Introduce the various kinds of makeup.

Have students fill out a makeup chart for doing makeup on themselves; do a "straight" makeup on self, using no more than ten students and allowing no more than twenty-five minutes.

Critique the makeup activity.

Practice applying old age makeup; have one student do a nose, one a beard, one a tooth, and so forth.

Ask other students to apply the various techniques of character makeup.

Weeks 3-4

Present the film, The Costume Designer.

Allow students to explain the importance, to them, of costuming a play correctly.

Show fabric samples.

Require each student to choose a one-act or three-act play and costume a character from it.

Have class members fill in a costume chart on the character they choose.

Ask students to prepare a five-to seven-minute oral report on the costume.

Schedule class time to hear reports on specific costume periods; include Roman, Medieval, Renaissance, and 17th, 18th, and 19th centuries.
Weeks 5-6

Present the film, Directing a Play.

Read and analyze a one-act play in order to determine its theme, style, mood, form, and structure.

Require the students to select a four-to six-minute scene from the play and type enough copies for each of the characters in that scene to use.

Instruct the student in visualizing the scene action and block the scene in the margins of the typed script.

Plan the student direction of scenes using classmates.

Accept criticism from the class.

Initiate the demonstration of blocking scene "pictures" which reveal specific situations (e.g., three people whispering, two women quarreling, three people at a tea party, and five people showing surprise).

Weeks 7-8

Assign two one-act plays to be acted and directed by students. These should be ready to perform during Week Nine or Ten.

Introduce stage terms valuable to designing a set.

Select for the class a one-act play in which to determine the style, line, and color needed to communicate the play's mood and locale.

Direct the students in drawing a ground plan of the set to scale ($\frac{\frac{1}{4}}{\text{in.}}$ to 1 ft.).

Schedule class reports on specific topics (e.g., constructing flats, covering flats, painting flats, assembling scenery, shifting scenery, and constructing a rock, tree, or column).

Weeks 9-10

View student performances of two one-act plays assigned in Week Seven.

Lead the students in the construction of a complete prompt or production notebook for a three-act play in which certain phases of production are included (e.g., short summary of the plot; theme in one sentence; floor plan drawn to scale; description of set, its color, line, and mood; water color or pencil sketch of set in perspective; costume plot for each character; makeup chart for each character; property list for each scene; placement of property; and publicity schedule: poster and ticket design).

Assign a short paper on dramatic criticism of the one-act plays presented in class.

138
Weeks 11-12

Choose a play performance to attend, if possible.

Guide students in writing a critique of the play.

Divide class into groups and assign a different TV program to view; critique these and present critiques to the class.

Present the critiques of professional critics concerning their writings about various shows.

Compare criticisms of two different, professional critics concerning the same Broadway show.

Review the history of the theatre to bring the various aspects of study into perspective.

Evaluate course work.

Suggested Approach

Examinations may be given and should be determined by the individual teacher as to time and material covered.

GREAT BOOKS (Phase 4-5)

Course Description

Great Books is a study of selected literature of cultural value and enrichment that seems to have aided man in the search for self-discovery in order to find his place in his environment. Students explore and critically evaluate several significant literary works, and the writing of critical analyses constitutes a vital aspect of the class plan.

Achievement Level

Students should be reading above grade expectancy and should have the ability to analyze and interpret outstanding and complex literary selections. In addition they should be motivated to read extensively.

General Literary Objectives

- To stimulate and sustain an interest in man's quest for self-discovery
- To stress worth and dignity of the individual
- To acquaint students with ethical and philosophical values
- To help students understand their problems in relationship to their environment

Specific Literary Objectives

- To present literature as a source of rich, personal development through understanding others and self
- To encourage students to appreciate and develop a sensitivity to literature

Materials Provided for Students

Books

Dostoevski, Fedor. Crime and Punishment

Bible. King James Version.
Hemingway, Ernest. The Old Man and the Sea
Ibsen, Henrich. A Doll's House
Knowles, John. A Separate Peace
Paton, Alan. Cry, the Beloved Country

Course Outline
I. Introduction to course
II. Objectives for teaching the Novel
   A. To acquaint students with ethical and philosophical values
   B. To stress literature as a source of rich, personal development
III. Novels to be studied
    A Separate Peace
    Bible: "The Book of Job"
Crime and Punishment
Cry, the Beloved Country
Search for Meaning
The Old Man and the Sea

IV. Objectives for teaching Drama

A. To encourage students on a path of self-discovery
B. To point out how the theater depicts life

V. Dramas to be studied

Man and Superman
Othello
A Doll's House

VI. Course conclusion and evaluation

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Week 1

Present theme of course; explain teacher's requirements and expectancies.

Discuss the theme in relationship to Man's pertinent need of self-discovery in our present civilization; ask students to copy the question, Will the study and interpretation of related literature enlighten us in our quest for self-discovery?, in their notebooks and be prepared to answer this question at the end of the course.

Assign the novel Crime and Punishment to be completed by Week Eleven.

View the film on Understanding and Appreciation of the Novel; initiate class discussion.

Assign A Separate Peace (allow one week for reading); use recording of John Knowles' reading from this novel.

Begin the study of Othello by presenting a plan of study for this drama.

Week 2

Use sound filmstrips on what to look for in drama and fiction.

Promote and guide class discussion of these filmstrips.

Complete the study of Othello.
Assign composition topics on A Separate Peace that will stimulate class discussion.

Evaluate A Separate Peace and Othello.

Week 3

Assign "The Book of Job" from the Bible; study and discuss in class this work as it relates to the course theme.

Use recordings on "The Book of Job."

Give essay tests.

Week 4

Allow students to select one or more books from the supplementary reading list to be presented as oral book reports to class in Week Seven.

Have students present In a Penal Colony to the class.

Present a film on Shaw.

Lecture on Shaw's works; begin the reading in class of Man and Superman.

Study and complete this drama during Week Four.

Give test on the drama.

Week 5

Schedule guest speaker who will present an oral book review on Frankl's Search for Meaning.

Have students present discussion on this novel.

Lecture on Ibsen; have students read and discuss in class A Doll's House.

Use recordings.

Assign a theme on Ibsen.

Give test on A Doll's House.

Week 6

Assign Cry, the Beloved Country (allow two weeks for reading).

Schedule a lecture by visiting missionary on Nigeria.

Present a film on Africa.

Have students present a panel discussion on the study of this novel; assign composition topics on the novel.
Week 7

Complete the study of Cry, the Beloved Country.

Give essay test on the novel.

Week 8

Schedule oral book reports from the supplementary reading list this week.

Present film Balzac.

Lecture on Balzac's works.

Permit students to organize a panel discussion based on the book reports heard.

Week 9

Continue and complete the oral book report assignments.

Assign papers on authors and various books from this study.

Week 10

Lecture on Hemingway; assign The Old Man and The Sea.

Present films on Hemingway.

Lead a class discussion of Hemingway and this novel.

Give essay tests.

Week 11

View film on Russians: Insights through Literature, Parts I and II.

Study Crime and Punishment in class using Cliff study guides.

Assign composition topics on this novel.

Give essay test.

Schedule film on Solving Our Problems.

Week 12

Complete the study of Russian literature.

Formulate general discussion on class progress and make reassessments.

Evaluate the course.

HUMANITIES II (Phase 4-5)

Course Description

Humanities II focuses on the students' creating a basic understanding of the humanistic development of man. Students delve into the world of thought in survey fashion via three avenues: the creative process, man's evolving philosophic thought, and man's subsequent religious beliefs. Opportunities are provided that help synthetize relationships among the various art forms: art, architecture, music, philosophy, religion, and literature.

Achievement Level

The students should be capable of reading and understanding grade-level material and, most important, should possess an open mind.

General Literary Objectives

To develop the students' ability to read critically
To recognize the plurality of thought patterns
To aid the students in introspection
To acquaint the students with the characteristics of major periods in the development of Western thought

Specific Literary Objectives

To enable the students to read and react to the primary ideas of several of the great philosophers
To acquaint the students with the basic tenets of the great religions of the world
To stimulate and create a better understanding of aesthetics

Materials Provided for Students

Art reproductions
Durant, Will. The Story of Philosophy
Gaer, Joseph. How the Great Religions Began
Ghiselin, Brewster, and others. The Creative Process

Recordings

Study guides on artists and periods

Supplementary reading list

Course Outline

I. Introduction to the humanistic development

II. The creative process
   A. Art
   B. Music

III. Great philosophers

IV. Great religions of the world

V. The relationship between man's thought, political structure, religion, and creativity.

VI. Evaluation

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Week 1

Relate the requirements of the course and projected outcomes; formulate goals.

Generate discussion centered around the term humanities.

Discuss the correlation of the arts and man's environmental influences.

Week 2

Have students begin reading assignments in The Creative Process; assign oral reports.

Study the Life filmstrip series on Michelangelo.

Schedule classtime to listen to oral reports.

Evaluate student-selected art reproductions.

Week 3

Continue oral reports.

Assign additional reading in The Creative Process.

Hold daily discussions and critiques on assigned readings.
Week 4

Have students finish reading The Creative Process.

Discuss and evaluate music of today (e.g., Stravinsky, the Baroque revival, and atonality).

Quiz.

Week 5

Introduce The Story of Philosophy; assign chapter readings.

Discuss Plato and Aristotle.

View the Life study series on Greece.

Week 6

Continue philosophy readings with sections on Spinoza, Voltaire, and Kant.

 Permit the class to discuss reading assignments as completed.

Have students write a key paragraph on each philosopher studied to date.

Week 7

Assign and discuss the chapter about Nietzsche.

Continue readings on contemporary philosophers (e.g., Bertrand Russell, George Santayana, William James, and John Dewey).

Review and quiz.

Week 8

Assign readings in How the Great Religions Began; discuss.

Ask students to write brief reflections concerning each religion studied.

Week 9

Continue readings and discussions of How the Great Religions Began.

Complete the summaries written on each religion.

Week 10

Conclude assigned readings in How the Great Religions Began.

Require final written summaries.

Review and quiz.
Week 11

Begin a unit of study on the modern period in American Society to draw together all of the concepts learned.

Ask students to relate Contemporary America's art, music, philosophy, religion, and socio-political structure.

Week 12

Complete the study of Modern American Society.

Review and test.

Conduct a final evaluation of the course with the students.

Suggested Approaches

Have writing activities to help the students formulate their views on the material being studied.

View and discuss art reproductions; arrange field trips to museums.

Listen and discuss musical compositions (Recognition and appreciation should be of prime concern).

Allow the students to do extra credit in the form of oral or written reports on course-related topics.

Encourage or require attendance at teacher-approved cultural events.

RESEARCH TECHNIQUES (Phase 4-5)

Course Description

Research Techniques introduces students to college research writing and requires either a scientific, historical, or literary research paper.

Achievement Level

Students should be able to think abstractly and to work independently on an extensive research paper as well as be skilled in the reading and writing arts equivalent to the twelfth grade level.

General Literary Objectives

To teach students to acquire experience and knowledge in research techniques.

To introduce students to ways in which they can glean and utilize research material.

To introduce the tools of research.

To teach the techniques of research.

To encourage the habit of independent study.

To prepare the students for college writing.

Specific Literary Objectives

To develop the expository mode as it is used in research writing.

To instruct the students in the organization and writing of the research paper.

To use effectively the resources of the library.

To employ knowledge from the course in individual research papers.

Materials Provided for Students

Bibliographies, indexes, encyclopedias, and yearbooks.

Course Outline

I. Introduction to course
   A. Library study
   B. Research techniques

II. Selection of research subjects
   A. Preparation of a preliminary bibliography
   B. Reading and evaluation of material

III. Conferences with instructor and librarians
   A. Discussion of problems
   B. Evaluation of preliminary work

IV. Library facilities

V. Presentation of final research themes

VI. Evaluation of course
   A. Individual conferences
   B. Class evaluation

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Week 1

Introduce the class to the course objectives, requirements, and projects.
Discuss available library facilities and the need for independent study.
Evaluate the role of research in the students' lives.
Point out common problems the students may encounter in their research.
Schedule visits to the school library; help reinforce the students' knowledge of library tools.
Ask the school librarians to visit the classroom for consultations and discussions.

Assign, to be discussed, common readings about a controversy created by published research (e.g., one of Shakespeare's plays or the scientific validity of Rachael Carson's Silent Spring).

Weeks 2-4

Introduce research techniques.

Explore topics for research paper; have students submit a short list of research topics along with ideas for development; select topics for research.

View filmstrips and listen to accompanying records.

Require students to prepare a preliminary bibliography.

Weeks 5-8

Have students submit a tentative outline for a research paper.

Schedule structured library periods for the reading, evaluation, and notetaking of material for the research paper.

Schedule individual student conferences.

Arrange for students to work with teachers of other departments when the topic of research is within those teachers' fields of specialization.

Evaluate final bibliography cards and note cards.

Weeks 9-11

Complete final outline.

Review content and form of final paper.

Have students begin work on rough drafts for teacher correction.

Work in class on rough draft revision.

Complete dummy copy of research paper along with footnotes and bibliography.

Submit final copy of research paper two weeks before end of course.

Week 12

Arrange student discussion and reports concerning common readings about a controversy created by published research.

Evaluate course.

WRITING LABORATORY (Phase 4-5)

Course Description

In Writing Laboratory students cover the total writing experience from learning how to discuss significant ideas to controlling ideas within their own written work. Focus is centered upon appropriate uses of the various rhetorical methods in achieving unity, coherence, and emphasis.

Achievement Level

The students should be skilled in the reading and writing arts and should have an avid interest and desire for improvement in self-expression.

General Literary Objectives

To develop the students' ability to learn more proficiently the art of expression by writing

To teach respect for the written thoughts of others

To help the students learn to understand the meaning of their experiences in relation to their writing

To enhance personal living through the pleasures of written expression

Specific Literary Objectives

To learn a variety of sentence structures, to increase vocabulary, and to organize written thoughts

To lead the students toward mental growth to increase their original thinking

   B. Development of writing techniques in literary criticism

VIII. Final Evaluation

Twelve Weeks' Plan

Week 1
Discuss course objectives of Writing Laboratory with students to stimulate and determine interests and present knowledge.

Have students compose extemporaneous themes to determine writing skills and grammatical background.

Conduct class critic session on committed evident errors.

Review and explain sentence structure and sentence skills.

Week 2
Practice writing based on the study of the sentence and discuss.

Introduce paragraph structure and forms; assign the reading of examples in the text.

Discuss assignment on paragraph development.

Have students write examples that indicate knowledge of good paragraph development.

Week 3
Continue reading paragraph examples from text and developing writing skills.

Lead students to develop a topic paragraph into a limited composition (i.e., selecting a subject, organizing and arranging material, outlining, writing, and revising).

Allow class time for students to practice writing compositions.

Week 4
Study and discuss exercises in prose writing (i.e., the informal essay, the essay of opinion, the book review, and the précis).

Schedule prose writing activities for the class.
Week 5

Have students study and discuss narrative writing (i.e., the nature, the organizing, and the composition).

Read to the class and ask students to simulate author's examples.

Week 6

Explain exposition writing; plan the time for practice.

Week 7

Discuss the techniques of comparison and contrasting; develop examples based on models in the text.

Combine narration and description into exposition.

Week 8

Combine expository techniques to best suit writer's purpose for the writing of an expository composition.

Week 9

Ask students to read and discuss short stories for analysis.

Have the class write an analysis of a selected short story.

Week 10

Begin student writing of short stories, incorporating dialogue and other techniques.

Week 11

Continue with the students' writing of short stories.

Week 12

Decide with the class the writing form for final composition.

Have individuals submit outline and write composition.

Evaluate student compositions and course work.

BOOK SELECTION AND MATERIAL REEVALUATION PROCEDURES

Revised June 27, 1969

We seek to educate young people in the democratic tradition, to foster a recognition of individual freedom and social responsibility, to inspire meaningful awareness of and respect for the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, and to instill appreciation of the values of individual personality. It is recognized that these democratic values can best be transmitted in an atmosphere which is free from censorship and artificial restraints upon free inquiry and learning, and in which academic freedom for teacher and student is encouraged.

It is further recognized that there are areas of such a controversial or questionable nature that some restraints upon complete academic freedom are necessary.

The Jefferson County Board of Education wishes to meet ignorance, hatred, and prejudice not with more ignorance, hatred, and prejudice; but with understanding, goodness, and reason. Therein, no individual will be allowed to impose his personal views in any subject area, and the best professional behavior and individual thought will be expected at all times. When political, moral, or social problems arise within the classroom as topics of discussion or study, opportunities for opposing points of view must be provided.

The Board of Education does not advocate a policy of censorship, but a practice of judicious selection of materials to be used with students in the classrooms of Jefferson County Public Schools, and wants only to be helpful to the teachers in providing good learning experiences for boys and girls. Teachers shall use prudent judgment in determining whether materials are of such nature and shall submit items to their principal and supervisors for approval before inclusion in their instructional programs. Should such materials be selected for inclusion in a teacher's curriculum guide, and objections to same evolve, the Board insists upon the following.

Individuals involved will be provided an opportunity to discuss the matter fully with local school personnel.

The materials reevaluation procedure will be initiated and conclusions reported to the school and individuals involved. See attached BOOK SELECTION AND MATERIALS REEVALUATION POLICY.

With reference to library books per se and book selection, the form used in 1968-69 and the years before may be used. See attached CITIZEN'S REQUEST FOR REEVALUATION OF MATERIAL.

Furthermore, in recognition of the scope of this problem, the Board encourages the administrations of the local schools to form panels of qualified persons, appointed fairly (e.g., teacher, parents, and other school and community representatives) to consider materials to be used in the curriculums that might have an adverse effect on students. In addition, the Board suggests that individual school departments be encouraged to consider, read, and review all supplementary curricular inclusions that might be offensive politically, socially, or otherwise.
BOOK SELECTION AND MATERIALS REEVALUATION POLICY

Individuals, organizations, or groups who challenge or criticize instructional materials shall be asked to complete the form Citizen's Request for Reevaluation of Material comparable to that suggested by the National Council of Teachers of English.

After completing the above mentioned form, a school committee composed of the teacher in the subject area, the principal, the supervisor, and the librarian shall review with the complainant the written criticisms and attempt to reach a decision concerning the complaint.

If a decision is not reached which is satisfactory to the complainant, the principal shall request the Associate Superintendent for Instruction to delegate a central committee to review and make a final decision concerning the disposition of the complaint. This decision will be reported back to the principal by the Associate Superintendent for Instruction. This central committee shall be composed of an administrator, a supervisor in the subject area under question, a classroom teacher in the subject area, the Coordinator of Library Services, and a mature* parent, preferably from the school district from which the complaint originates. No member of the central committee shall have been a member of the local school committee with the exception of the supervisor.

The materials involved shall have been withdrawn from general circulation and use pending a decision in writing by the central committee.

However, in the event the complainant does not concur with the decision he may request that his child be excused from any contact with the objectionable subject matter. Such requests will be honored.

*The word mature in this context applies to all members of the committee and means highly developed or advanced in intellect, moral qualities, and outlook.

The materials center in each school should have on file "Citizen's Request for Reconsideration of a Book" from The Students' Right to Read. Reprinted by permission of the National Council of Teachers of English, October 16, 1963.

BOOK SELECTION AND REEVALUATION POLICY

Objectives

The primary objective of the school materials center is to implement, enrich, and support the educational program of the school.

The school materials center should contribute to the social, intellectual, cultural, and spiritual development of the students.

Selection

Materials for the school materials center should be selected by librarians in consultation with administrators, supervisors, faculty members, students, and parent.

Reputable, unbiased, professionally prepared selection aids should be consulted as guides.

Criteria for selection

Selection should consider the needs of the individual school based on a knowledge of the curriculum and on requests from administrators and teachers.

Consideration should be given to individual students on a knowledge of elementary and secondary youth and on requests of parents and students.

Selection should provide for a wide range of materials on all levels of difficulty, with a diversity of appeal and the presentation of different points of view.

The instructional materials should have high literary value.

Materials should have superior format.
