Audio-visual materials, found in a variety of periodicals, catalogs, and reference works, are listed in this guide to expedite the process of finding appropriate classroom materials for a study of William Shakespeare in the classroom. Separate listings of films, filmstrips, and recordings are provided, with subdivisions for "The Plays" and "Shakespeare and his Age." Included with each entry is a brief annotation of the content, the names of performing artists, the length, and the rental or purchasing costs. An index of producers and distributors is also provided. (JB)
The extensive and intensive study of Shakespeare and his works is reflected in the profusion of volumes devoted to Shakespeare. In 1964, during the celebration of the 400th anniversary of the birth of this greatest of all English writers, we were once again reminded of the universal popularity and importance of Shakespeare.

Indeed, much has been written, and much is being written. As teachers of English, we know that we do not have to do much searching to find books which will help us in our preparation for and presentation of Shakespeare. However, securing appropriate audio-visual materials for classroom use is another matter. Usually, we cannot go to the nearest library and readily pick up something related, for instance, to our study of Macbeth. We must find out, somewhere, what is available and where these items can be rented or purchased, and then order what we feel will be useful. Often, the process of finding out what is available is time-consuming. This involves obtaining and searching through audio-visual catalogues and reference works. Nevertheless, if one does take the time to look, he will find that there is much to be had.

It is hoped that the audio-visual guide presented here will serve as a timesaver for those who find profitable the use of films, filmstrips, and recordings. A brief glance over the following lists will reveal that an abundance of material covering the Elizabethan Age, Shakespeare's life, the Elizabethan theater, and Shakespeare's plays is available. The lists are by no means exhaustive. However, most teachers should be able to find aids that will, if properly used, make the study of Shakespeare and his plays more interesting and rewarding for their students.

No attempt has been made to be selective nor to offer evaluations. My purpose is simply to indicate the great quantity of materials available and to state briefly what the contents of the materials are. Where possible, however, I have made reference to reviews by competent reviewers in highly respected national magazines and professional journals which are close at hand in most schools.

The films, filmstrips, and recordings listed in this guide have been gathered from a variety of periodicals, catalogues, and reference works. Those sources having the greatest wealth of information in this area are volumes of the Educational Film Guide and the Filmstrip Guide published by the H. W. Wilson Company; film rental catalogues from major universities; the Schwann Long Playing Record Catalog; and the NCTE publication, An Annotated List of Recordings in the Language Arts, compiled and edited by Morris Schreiber.

Films, of course, are quite costly. Most of the films listed are available on a rental basis from university rental bureaus, such as the Bureau of Audio Visual Instruction of the University of Wisconsin. Larger secondary schools might find it possible to purchase several basic films.

Filmstrips and recordings, on the other hand, are relatively inexpensive. Departments of English should think seriously of requesting a certain amount of money in their yearly budgets to make possible purchases of recordings and filmstrips. In this way a fine recording-filmstrip library can be built up over a period of years. Many excellent filmstrips and recordings may be purchased through the National Council of Teachers of English. Also, Educational Audio Visual, Inc. offers an exceptionally fine selection.

The guide that follows is divided into four parts: Films, Filmstrips, Recordings, and Index of Producers and Distributors. Each of the first three divisions is subdivided into two parts: The Plays and Shakespeare and His Age. The listings in the subdivisions are numbered and alphabetized by titles. Sources for reviews are entered parenthetically following item descriptions.

I. Films

The titles of films are followed by abbreviations of the names of the firms from which they are available; full names and addresses of these firms are found in the last section of this guide. Also given is the number of minutes a film runs. Finally, whether the film is black and white, colored, or both, is indicated.

A. The Plays:

4. Four Views of Caesar. (Film Associates, 23 min., B&W). Produced by CBS News, the film presents four playlets which show Caesar as he was seen by Plutarch, Shakespeare, Shaw, and Caesar himself. Louis Calhern and Claude Rains appear in this film.

5. Hamlet. (Baylor, 20 min., color). This film includes the major scenes. It shows the five-stage area and discusses costumes and make-up.

6. Hamlet. (United World, 159 min., B&W). The full-length J. Arthur Rank film starring Sir Laurence Olivier. Because of its length, special arrangements would have to be made for the showing of this film.

14. Julius Caesar: Rise of the Roman Empire. (EBF, 22 min., color or B&W). Shot on the set of "The Fall of the Roman Empire," this study of Caesar and the rise of the Roman Empire presents good historical background for the play.

16. Macbeth. (Association, 120 min., B&W). Produced by the National Broadcasting Company for Hallmark Cards. Judith Anderson and Maurice Evans star in this kinescope recording of the Hallmark "Hall of Fame" television production. Showings of this film are restricted to minimum audiences of 75 persons in high schools and colleges.

17. Macbeth. (Brandon, 85 min., B&W). A condensation of the Orson Welles' production starring Orson Welles, Roddy McDowell, and Dan O'Herlihy.

18. Macbeth. (Eastin, 16 min., B&W). The murder and sleepwalking scenes performed by Cathleen Nesbit and Wilfred Lawson.

20. Marc Antony of Rome. (TFC, 25 min., B&W). Adapted from the Paramount production of Cleopatra, this film shows Caesar's return to Rome in 44 B.C., the assassination, and the defeat of Antony by Octavius.

21. A Midsummer Night's Dream. (Brandon, 132 min., B&W). This Warner Brothers' production starring James Cagney as Bottom, Mickey Rooney as Puck, and Olivia De Havilland, in her first screen role, as Hermia.

24. A Midsummer Night's Dream: Introduction to the Play. (Coronet, 14 min., color or B&W). A presentation of the key scenes. The setting and plot are illustrated through the use of familiar passages and important actions.

27. Romeo and Juliet. (Contemp. Films, 138 min., color). The British production starring Susan Shentall and Laurence Harvey.

28. Romeo and Juliet. (TFC, 39 min., B&W). Presents scenes dealing with the love story of Romeo and Juliet. From the MGM production starring Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard.

29. Shakespeare and Kronborg. (Danish, 10 min., B&W). Excerpts from Hamlet. The film shows the castle as Shakespeare may have seen it.

30. Twelfth Night. (Brandon, 88 min., color). A Russian production with English dialogue.

B. Shakespeare and His Age:

1. Drama Comes of Age. (Net, 30 min., B&W). A brief study of neo-classic drama and Shakespeare's theater.

4. English Literature: The Elizabethan Period. (Coronet, 14 min., color or B&W). This film gives an overview of the people and the times and presents excerpts from writers of the time.

5. The Fair Adventure. (Association, 56 half-hour films, B&W). Dr. Frank Baxter, winner of the first George Foster Peabody Award for television education, discusses many of the plays, Elizabethan life, and the theater by using maps, diagrams, models, and photographs. Some of the plays featured are Romeo and Juliet, Twelfth Night, Hamlet, and Macbeth. A complete list of available films in this series may be obtained from the distributor. (For a review of this series see Literary Cavalcade, October 1964, p. 19).

8. Memories of Shakespeare. (Hoffberg, 30 min., B&W). A biography of Shakespeare, showing various places of interest, such as his birthplace, home, and the Memorial Theater.

9. Shakespeare’s England Today. (Eastin, 16 min., color or B&W). A tour of the places associated with Shakespeare, such as his birthplace and Anne Hathaway’s cottage.

11. Shakespeare's Theater. (TFC, 15 min., color). The first sequence of Sir Laurence Olivier’s Henry V is used to show the Elizabethan theater in action.

12. Shakespeare's Theater: The Globe Playhouse. (Calif. U., 18 min., B&W). A reconstruction of the Globe is used to show how the stage may have been used. Narrated by Ronald Coleman.

13. Stratford Adventure. (Contemporary, 40 min., color or B&W). Depicts the creation of the Stratford Festival Theatre in Ontario, Canada. Shows Alec Guinness and Irene Worth in Stratford, Tyrone Guthrie directing rehearsals, and scenes from All’s Well That Ends Well and Richard III.

16. William Shakespeare: Background for His Works. (Coronet, 14 min., color and B&W). Depicts life in the time of Shakespeare. Also presented are brief episodes from Romeo and Juliet, Macbeth, Taming of the Shrew, Merchant of Venice, and Hamlet.

17. Yesterday's Actors. (COMMA, 30 min., B&W). Edwin Burr Pettet parodies the "To be or not to be" soliloquy as it may have been performed by famous actors of the past from David Garrick down to Marlon Brando. He concludes with an interpretation of how Shakespeare himself might have performed it.

II. Filmstrips

The filmstrip listing follows the same general form as that used for films. The number of frames per filmstrip is given when that information is available.

A. The Plays:
The following filmstrips of plays are available from Educational Audio Visual, Inc., at prices ranging from $4.00 to $7.50. The filmstrips were made from various Shakespearean productions. All are in color except the two Olivier filmstrips.
1. Antony and Cleopatra
2. As You Like It
3. Hamlet (Olivier)
4. Henry IV, Part 1
5. Henry IV, Part 2
6. Henry V (Olivier)
7. Julius Caesar
8. Macbeth
9. Measure for Measure
10. The Merchant of Venice
11. Merry Wives of Windsor
12. A Midsummer Night's Dream
13. Much Ado About Nothing
14. Richard II
15. Richard III
16. Romeo and Juliet
17. The Taming of the Shrew
18. The Tempest
19. Twelfth Night
20. The Winter's Tale
22. Backgrounds to Shakespeare's Plays. (EAV, two tape/filmstrip combinations, color). The two sets are:
   a. Macbeth. A combination of readings from sources such as Holinshead's Chronicles and contemporary accounts of superstitions, illustrated by pictures on the filmstrip.
   b. Hamlet. Readings from the ur-Hamlet, Belleforest, etc., combined with illustrations on the filmstrip.
25. Julius Caesar. (EAV). A filmstrip giving an historical account of the career of Caesar from his start in politics to his assassination.
28. The Merchant of Venice. (United World, 52 fr., B&W). Presents some of the most famous Shylocks of the past with notes of what the critics have said about each.
32. Stories From Shakespeare. (EBF, six filmstrips of 50 fr. each, color). Drawings and captions are used to present simplifications of the plots and settings of these six plays:
   a. As You Like It
   b. Hamlet
   c. Henry V
   d. Julius Caesar
   e. Macbeth

B. Shakespeare and His Age:
5. How Shakespeare Spent the Day. (EAV, tape/filmstrip). Daily life in the age of Elizabeth, especially in the areas of literature and the theater.
6. Introduction to Shakespeare. (Eye Gate, 49 fr., color). Uses photos, drawings, and paintings to describe Shakespearean theaters found in

8. Life of Shakespeare. (EAV, tape/filmstrip). Shakespeare is given life through the use of contemporary comments and pictures.

9. Life of William Shakespeare. (McGraw, 47 fr., color). Uses drawings to present the life of Shakespeare. His family, plays, and other works are described. From the "Life in Elizabethan Times" series.

10. Personalities Around Shakespeare. (EAV, tape/filmstrip). Discusses the influence of Marlowe, Jonson, Queen Elizabeth, and Drake on Shakespeare's work.

11. Shakespeare. (Filmstrip House, a series of four filmstrips and two records). Four filmstrips and two 10" LP records are used to present Shakespeare's home and family; the people who influenced him; his major themes and style; and the atmosphere of Elizabethan England. Four titles are: "His Life," "His Times," "His Works," and "His Style." (Reviewed in Scholastic Teacher, March 18, 1965, p. 22).

12. Shakespearean Stage Production. (EAV, tape/filmstrip). Traces all the steps in putting a play on the stage, from its writing to its presentation.

14. Shakespeare's London. (EAV, tape/filmstrip). The London of Shakespeare is shown by the use of contemporary and near-contemporary prints and paintings. Narrated by Bill Glover.

15. Shakespeare's Stratford. (Lit. Bkgrds., record/filmstrip, color). Seventy-three filmstrip frames (and a 21-minute LP disc) are used to show places in Stratford and scenes from King Lear, presented at the Memorial Theater during festival time.

16. Shakespeare's Theater. (EBF, four filmstrips, color). Uses paintings by C. Walter Hodges and photographs of a model of the Globe built by Richard Southern to trace the history of the English theater from its beginnings to the building of the Globe. The four filmstrips are:
   a. "Prologue to the Globe Theater"
   b. "The Playhouse Comes to London"
   d. "A Day at the Globe Theater" (See the review in EJ, March 1963, pp. 236-37.)

17. Shakespeare's Theater. (YAF, 43 fr., B&W). Shows how a high school class built a model of the Globe.

18. Shakespeare's Theatre. (EAV, tape/filmstrip). The early theaters, playwrights, and patrons illustrated by the use of contemporary materials. Narrated by Bill Glover.

20. Styles in Shakespearean Acting, 1890-1950. (Creative Assoc., 58 min. tape/30 fr. filmstrip, color). Shows changes in styles of Shakespearean acting from 1890 to 1950 as seen in roles from Shakespearean plays. (See Morris Schreiber, An Annotated List of Recordings in the Language Arts, item #313.)

23. William Shakespeare. (EAV #2844, B&W). Shows places where Shakespeare spent his life and many of his contemporaries and fellow-dramatists.

Richard III
Romeo and Juliet
The Taming of the Shrew
The Tempest
Twelfth Night

3. The Marlowe Society: The Marlowe Society of the University of Cambridge has recorded the entire canon of Shakespeare's plays. All have been released on the London record label. Most of the albums consist of three or four records and present the plays in their entirety. For specific albums and their stock numbers, consult any recent issue of the Schwann Long Playing Record Catalog.

4. The Shakespeare Recording Society: The plays performed by this group are issued on the Caedmon label. Some of the renowned actors heard on these recordings are John Gielgud, Paul Scofield, Rex Harrison, Albert Finney, Anthony Quayle, Ralph Richardson, and Michael Redgrave. The texts which are used are edited by G. B. Harrison. The Society has recorded these plays:

- Antony and Cleopatra
- As You Like It
- Hamlet
- Henry IV, Part 1
- Henry IV, Part 2
- Julius Caesar
- King John
- Macbeth
- Measure for Measure
- The Merchant of Venice
- A Midsummer Night's Dream
