INTRODUCTION

This volume of abstracts of child day care facility licensing requirements is intended to serve as an introduction to selected aspects of the licensing process within the several states by reviewing (1) the various definitions of day care facilities in the jurisdictions covered, and (2) the prescribed regulations established by the states to effect accord with minimum state licensing standards. Part I of the Summary covers day care centers, Part II, family day care homes. Entries are also included for the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

Child care facilities which are recipients of federal funds are further subject to compliance with the Federal Interagency Day Care Requirements as well as state licensing laws and regulations. The purpose of this document, however, is to set forth only state-imposed requirements in the selected areas of coverage; therefore, federal standards are reflected only to the extent that such have been incorporated into a state's own requirements and made mandatory for all affected licensees.

While actual coverage of the Summary is somewhat broader, as indicated by the "Explanations" below, the areas of primary focus are:

Child Eligibility - Age and Health
Staff/Child Ratios
Enrollee Group Size Limitations
Staffing and Adult Supervision Requirements
Staff Qualifications - Age, Training, Health
Laws, Ordinances, Regulations, and Administrative Approvals (Other Than Specific Day Care Provisions) to Which Facilities Are Subject

Provisions Relating to Physical Expansion of Facilities
Investigation and Inspection of Facilities
Useable Space for Operations - Floor Levels
Indoor/Outdoor Space Requirements
Individual Napping Accommodations Requirements
Isolation Space Requirements
Child Nutrition - Meal and Snack Service

Summary abstracts are normally limited to the mandatory; however, suggested and desirable procedures or standards have been selectively included when such relate to any of the focal points noted above, or are addressed to other elements of the licensing process which appear consistently throughout the entries of the main text.

Those sections of the Summary covering staff qualifications (for homes as well as centers) do not generally reflect exclusionary provisions of laws and/or regulations which prohibit the employment of, or the presence of, certain classes of persons in a day care facility. These provisions relate to persons with criminal records, persons with some history of mental illness or disability, the use of narcotics or alcohol, and to other behavioral factors. Appendix II sets out selected constraints on operator and staff eligibility imposed by some of the states.

Two other types of compliances, exclusive of specific day care provisions, to which some facilities are also subject, and which are not generally reflected in the Summary include provisions relating to mandatory communicable disease reporting and to conformity with state motor vehicle regulations by facilities providing transportation for client children.

The abstracts in Parts I and II, unless otherwise noted, have been extracted from the text of laws and regulations in effect during the conduct of Day Care Survey 1970 (September 1970-January 1971), and from explanatory matter incorporated in the applicable regulatory documents.

As indicated previously, the Summary is selective rather than comprehensive in scope and coverage. Furthermore, any document of this type must be regarded as secondary source material; thus, the reader who either is contemplating the establishment of a day care operation in a specific jurisdiction or wishes to conduct a more in-depth review and analysis of state licensing requirements in general is advised to consult the text of applicable laws and regulations. The reader is also reminded that the development of regulations is a process of continuous revision. Revision document issuance policy varies among the states. Some have established loose-leaf supplement procedures, some transmit changes via administrative memoranda, others periodically issue revised editions of the entire body of regulations. Each system operates with varying frequency. To be assured of having current information it is best to consult the responsible licensing agency.

The entries in Parts I and II are each divided into sections which cover broad categories related to the licensing process. The "Explanations" below define the content of each section.
Explanations - Part I (Centers)

DAY CARE CENTERS
1. Licensing Agency and Contact

   Bureau of Child Welfare
   Alabama Department of Pensions and Security
   Montgomery, Alabama

2. Legal Reference

   "It shall be the duty and responsibility of the state department to . . . license annually all institutions and agencies except those under state ownership and control, caring for, receiving, or placing minor children and to revoke such license for cause.

   The term "day care center" shall mean any person, or group of persons, association, corporation, institution or agency providing care, for compensation, reward or otherwise, to more than four children during part of, or all of the daylight hours, but less than twenty-four hours, apart from their own parents or guardians. . . The term includes day nurseries, nursery schools or other similar units of operation under any other name. The term shall not include kindergartens and nursery schools operating under public school auspices, or kindergartens or nursery school operating in connection with parochial or other properly established and authorized grade schools. Care given to children on church premises while their parents attend services are excluded.

   (The information below was extracted from the 1960 Minimum Standards which continue applicable to facilities serving children 2 1/2 years of age and over, pending revision of said standards.)

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

   A day care center must accept only children who are ready for group activity. Decisions regarding the group care of children between the ages of 2 1/2 and 3 years should be based on the development of the individual child. Children under 2 years of age must not be accepted for care and children between the ages of 2 and 2 1/2 years can be accepted only with the approval of the Department.
Within the two weeks preceding admission the child must have a medical examination by a licensed physician. If there is evidence of tuberculosis in the family, a chest x-ray should be made before admission to the center. Immunizations against small pox, tetanus, typhoid, whooping cough, polio and diphtheria should be completed before admission or within three months following admission. Re-examination of the child must be required annually or at any time the need is indicated.

The following shall be used as a guide in determining the ratio of teachers in relation to the number and ages of children. The teacher must have a full time assistant when the number of children enrolled exceeds the adult ratio set forth in the following schedule:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Age</th>
<th>Adult/Child Ratio</th>
<th>Maximum Group Size</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2 1/2 to 4 years</td>
<td>1 to 10</td>
<td>10 children</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4 to 5 years</td>
<td>1 to 20</td>
<td>20 children</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5 and 6 year olds</td>
<td>1 to 20</td>
<td>20 children</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>school age</td>
<td>1 to 25</td>
<td>25 children</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

In no instance shall a day center operate with less than two staff members, one of whom shall be designated as the director.

There must be additional personnel for cooking, maintenance and clerical staff. Those persons must not be included in the adult/child ratio, but may be used as emergency substitutes temporarily if their duties and qualifications permit.

4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

The child care staff, that is those working directly with the children, must have at least a high school education or its equivalent.

The director must have had at least a high school education or its equivalent and must have had a period of observation and a minimum of three months successful teaching experience with a day care service of recognized standing. If the owner of a day care center does not have the required abilities, he must employ a teaching director who does. In centers serving a large group of children, for instance thirty or more, the director must have advanced college training, successful experience in child care and development and ability in the administration of a sound program of child care.
Teachers, in addition to meeting educational requirements, must be mature, responsible adults, in good physical and mental health, with qualities of warmth and friendliness, and ability to understand and accept individual differences in children and with all persons with whom they will be working.

If persons younger than 21 years of age or over 70 years of age are members of the staff, persons between the age of 21 and 70 must be on hand at all times to give help and assistance in the care of children if needed.

Each staff member must have a complete medical examination, including a tuberculin test (and chest x-ray if necessary), at the time of employment and annually thereafter. Volunteers and substitutes should meet the same health requirements prescribed for regular staff. All staff who handle food must obtain a food handler's permit from the local health department if the department issues such permits.

5. Facilities

Applicable local ordinances (including fire, health, building, zoning, etc.) must be complied with before a license is issued by the Department of Pensions and Securities.

Plans for new buildings, or additions, or major alterations to existing buildings should be sent to the Department for review and approval before construction is started. Clearance with local building, fire, health and zoning departments should be made before proceeding with plans to build or to use a building already constructed.

All such agencies shall be subject to visitation and inspection by the county board of health, and visitation, inspection and supervision by the State Department of Pensions and Security.

Normally, ground or first floor space must be used; under certain conditions, basements and second stories may be used, provided that they also meet the approval of local fire and health officials.

The indoor space must have sufficient floor area for play to provide 35 square feet of floor space per child.

The outdoor play area must contain at least 60 square feet of usable play space per child and be fenced if there are traffic hazards.

There must be a heating system that will maintain an even temperature of 65° to 70° F. Lighting conditions at work and play levels should be at the recommended minimum of 30 sustained foot candles. A telephone must, if possible, be in the center for use in emergencies.
There must be one toilet seat and one lavatory for each 10 children. The substitution of a potty chair and/or wash basin may be approved for not more than one toilet seat and lavatory (to serve a maximum of ten children). Adequate toilet and washing facilities for the staff should be provided.

The kitchen must be equipped with stove, refrigerator, sink, dishes and cooking utensils adequate to prepare and serve food. Hot water (180°F.) or bactericidal rinse is specified for sanitization.

Outside exit doors must open outward.

There must be an individual cot or bed, with sheets and a blanket for each child who remains in the day care center for more than five hours a day.

The day care center must provide isolation quarters. This space should be in an area not used by other children and must be located where it can have constant supervision by a staff member.

The day care center must make adequate provision for meeting the food needs of children in care. Each meal should furnish approximately one-third of the day's food needs. The noon day meal must include at least one hot dish, preferably the main dish.

6. Special Notes

New facilities proposing to serve children under age three are subject to the requirements of the 1969 Minimum Standards relating to care of children under three.

7. Political Subdivisions with Separate Licensing Regulations
1. Licensing Agency and Contact

   Division of Public Welfare
   Alaska Department of Health and Welfare
   Pouch H
   Juneau, Alaska 99801

   Mrs. Brenda K. Higgins

2. Legal Reference

   Alaska Statutes, Sections 47.35.010 - 47.35.080.

   No person may, without a license or permit to do so,
   (1) maintain or conduct a boarding home, foster home, nursery, institution or other place for the regular reception or care of children under 16 years of age, or
   (2) engage in the business of receiving or caring for children under 16 years of age, with or without compensation, in which a child, not related by blood or marriage, or legal adoption, to the owner or manager of the business is lodged or boarded.

   The term "nursery" is defined as any establishment providing care and services for part of the 24-hour day for any child not related by blood or marriage to the owners or operators. This has been interpreted to exclude any establishment whose primary purpose is educational rather than child care. Thus, such facilities as kindergartens and nursery schools would not be subject to these (day nursery) regulations.

   Two categories of nurseries have been established based on size - group care nurseries and family day care homes.

   A group care nursery is one caring for more than six children at any one time.
3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

Every child admitted to a group nursery shall have a physical examination by a licensed physician no later than two weeks after he is admitted, if he has not had such examination within one month prior to admission. Subsequent annual examinations shall be required.

In a group care nursery, the ratio of staff to children shall be one person for each group of 10 children or fraction thereof, with a minimum of 2 staff members. There also shall be sufficient staff for maintenance of the premises in a clean, sanitary and safe condition and for meal preparation.

When children under 3 are cared for, it is recommended that there be personnel with responsibility only for their care, and that there be at least one staff member for each 5 such children.

If children under the age of 3 are cared for, a separate program shall be provided for them, taking into consideration their special needs. Separate play and sleeping space shall be required.

4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

The Administrator or person responsible for operation of the nursery shall be at least 21 years of age.

All personnel with responsibility for staff supervision shall have at least a high school education. Exception to this requirement may be made for persons who, through experience, have demonstrated their ability to care for children in a group.

All staff members shall undergo a physical examination within six months prior to employment or not later than one week after employment, and annually thereafter. Chest x-ray or other test for tuberculosis shall be part of the examination. (Serological test is recommended.)

5. Facilities

Regulations concerning the physical plant of a group care nursery are based on the standards set forth in the Uniform Building Code of the Pacific Coast Building Officials Conference, 1958 Edition. A group care nursery shall meet the requirements for Group "C" occupancies.
The group care nursery shall conform to all State and local regulations with regard to fire protection, and shall be subject to periodic inspections by the State Fire Marshal or the local Fire Department.

A group care nursery shall conform to all applicable State regulations contained in Title 7 of the Alaska Administrative Code and local regulations with regard to sanitation, and shall be subject to periodic inspection by state and/or local sanitation authorities.

All State and local health regulations shall be followed in the nursery.

Any substantial change in the physical plant of the nursery or its program shall be subject to review and approval by the Division (of Public Welfare). The Division shall be notified at least thirty days prior to the initiation of such changes.

Decision regarding licensure of any nursery shall be made by the Director of the Division of Public Welfare, based on a study of the nursery -- its staff, management and program -- by a staff member of the Division in cooperation with State and local sanitation and fire protection officials, to determine whether said nursery complies with the regulations for day nurseries.

If the group care nursery is on the ground or first floor, the building must be of on-hour-fire-resistive construction. If more than one story is used, or the nursery is located above the first floor, additional building specifications must be met.

A group care nursery shall have not less than 30 square feet of useable floor space per child.

Outdoor play space shall be sufficient to accommodate the number of children cared for. 75 square feet per child is recommended. This area shall be well drained and enclosed in such a manner as to prevent the children from leaving the premises without proper supervision.

At least two exits shall be provided in a building, or portion thereof, which is used as a group care nursery. If nursery is more than one story in height, there shall be at least two exits on each floor. Each exit shall be equipped with panic hardware.

A group care nursery shall have a central heating unit which is the sole means of heating the building.

Every nursery shall have a telephone, or one shall be readily available.
Individual cots or beds shall be provided for each child.

The group care nursery shall have a separate room to be used for isolation of a child who is ill until arrangements can be made for his removal from the nursery.

For children who remain more than four hours in the nursery, a complete and well-balanced meal shall be provided. At least one-third of the child's daily minimum requirements shall be provided.

6. Special Notes

Each group care nursery shall procure bodily injury liability insurance in an amount of not less than $10,000 one person, $50,000 one accident in companies authorized to do business in the State of Alaska. Such policies shall be endorsed as follows:

"In the event of cancellation of this policy, the company hereby agrees to give 30 days notice to the Division of Public Welfare, Department of Health and Welfare, Alaska Office Building, Juneau, Alaska."

Rules and Regulations for Child Day Care Agencies, (DH).

Child care agency includes any person who maintains facilities for the purpose of providing care, supervision or training for 5 or more children not related to the proprietor under the age of 16 years for periods of more than 1 hour, but less than 24 hours per day apart from their parents or guardians for compensation excepting parochial and private educational institutions which are operated for the sole purpose of providing an education to children in substitution for an education in the public school system. Other exemptions include public schools, and religious organizations conducting nurseries in conjunction with their religious services.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

Infant shall mean a child under 18 months or, one who has not yet reached the steady walking stage, or who requires the use of diapers. Infants may be enrolled; however, special permission from the Department is required to do so.

Recordkeeping requirements prescribe that individual children's records include a report by the parent or physician noting history of immunization, illness susceptibility and special requirements for health and maintenance.

The maximum number of children in attendance per staff member in agencies that are licensed for more than 10 children shall not exceed the following:

10 - infants of crib or toddler stage
10 - pre-school children up to 3 years
15 - children 3 years to 4 years
20 - children 4 years to 5 years
25 - children 5 years to 6 years and above.
Staff, for the purpose of adult/child ratios, is limited to directors, teachers and assistants. Domestic and maintenance personnel are not included for adult/child ratios.

When children are in attendance, a director or a qualified person designated by the director shall be on the premises at all times and in charge of the agency. An agency shall have a minimum of 2 staff members on duty whenever the number of children on the premises exceeds 10. Where 10 or less children are present one adult need be on the premises with a second continuously and readily available for relief.

4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

The minimum age for the director (or his designee in charge) is 21 years.

The minimum age of staff members shall be 18 years of age except that persons of 16 to 18 years may be used under adult supervision.

Within six weeks prior to employment, all personnel must have a physical examination which includes a blood test. Personnel must also present a negative tuberculosis report at the time of employment and annually thereafter.

If the agency is conducted in a private home, every member of the household shall be subject to these same health requirements.

5. Facilities

All new construction shall meet the requirements of applicable local and State codes, including the most recent edition of certain documents - set out in the regulations - relating to building, electric, plumbing, refrigeration, elevator safety, fire prevention, and food service establishment standards.

Building additions, conversions and alterations must meet the standards for new building construction.

When local construction standards and exit requirements are more restrictive than those mentioned in the Rules, local requirements shall prevail.

Plans, working drawings and specifications for new construction or alteration must be submitted to the Department before any work is initiated.

A notification of current inspection from the regularly appointed fire inspector certifying compliance with the local fire ordinances is required to be attached to both initial and renewal applications for licensure.
Upon application for a license, an appointment will be made by the Department to investigate the facilities, activities and standards of care of the agency to see that the agency conforms with the standards prescribed by the Department. Additional inspections may be made without appointments by the Department at any time during the hours of operation of the agency.

Rooms of new agencies used for preschool, kindergarten, first or second grade pupils shall not be located above the first story above grade except in buildings of Type I (concrete and steel) construction.

At least 35 square feet of indoor play area per child shall be provided.

The outdoor play area shall have at least 75 square feet for each child occupying the area at any time and be fenced adequately.

At least one flush toilet and one lavatory for 10 or less children, at least two flush toilets and two lavatories for 11 to 25 children and at least one flush toilet and one lavatory for each additional 20 children. (Infants using diapers need not be included.)

When occupied by more than 25 individuals, a manually operated fire alarm system and heat detection alarm system shall be provided in the building. Portable fire extinguishers shall be installed and maintained.

A cot or crib will be provided for each child. If the child is in short session (less than 5 hours) clean individual rugs are acceptable.

Isolation quarters, separated from the facilities used by the children, shall be provided.

Meals shall be available to all children at customary meal times. Individual sack lunches provided by the parents are acceptable. A warm meal shall be served the child in the variety and amounts necessary to meet approximately one-third of the recommended dietary allowances of the National Research Council (when sack lunches are not provided by the parents).
6. Special Notes

Special infant care requirements are included in the rules and regulations for those agencies which have received infant care permission from the Department. The full text should be consulted for the infant care requirements.

   Day Care Center Standards, (DPW), 1970.
   Day Care Standards for Children under 3 Years, (DPW), 1970.

   "Child Care Facility" means any facility which provides care, education, training, custody, or supervision for any minor child who is not related by blood, marriage, or adoption to the owner or operator of such a facility, whether or not the facility is operated for profit, and whether or not the facility makes a charge for the services . . . this definition includes, but is not limited to, a nursery, a nursery school, a kindergarten, a day care center, or a family day care home, foster homes, group homes and custodial institutions.

Exemptions from licensing requirements include:

1) Special schools or classes operated solely for religious instruction.

2) Facilities operated in connection with a church, shopping center, business, or establishment where children are cared for during short periods of time while parents or persons in charge of such children are attending church services, shopping, or engaging in other activities during such periods.

3) Any educational facility, whether private or public, which operates solely for educational purposes in grades one or above and does not provide any custodial care.

4) Kindergartens operated as part of public schools of Arkansas.

5) Any arrangement by which one or more persons care for children of not more than two families at the same time.
A day care center is any place maintained or conducted under public or private auspices on a profit or non-profit basis, for the care of six or more children, between the ages of 3 and 6 years, for as many as 5 or more hours of the 24-hour day. This includes children who come to the facility for kindergarten and remain for additional custodial care during the day. This also includes facilities that give care to children before and after school.

Because of the difficulties in finding suitable child care facilities for children under 3, the Arkansas Department of Public Welfare has established standards for regulating infant care in day care centers.

(With the exception staff/child ratios for children under 3 years of age, the summary below relates to the care of children between 3 and 6 years of age.)

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

A health "record" including appropriate immunizations and notations of physical limitations, if any, must be submitted for each child within one week after enrollment.

The following staff/child ratios will be maintained:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Age of Child</th>
<th>Adult/Child Ratio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Under 2 years</td>
<td>1 to 4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 to 3 years</td>
<td>1 to 6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3 and older</td>
<td>1 to 10</td>
</tr>

If there are as many as 10 children in attendance, there must be two people on duty during peak hours of the day.
4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

The Director of a center and other responsible members of the staff must be between the ages of 21 and 65 and must have the equivalent of a high school education. Younger staff members may be trained to assume more responsibilities. Persons between 12 and 21 may serve under the supervision of older workers.

The Director and staff must attend at least one of the following during the year:

- Staff Training Workshops
- Meetings of Local Pre-School Workers
- Professional Meetings
- First Aid Training

Every member of the staff must be a person of good character; a statement from a physician concerning applicant's physical and mental health is required. Tuberculosis and venereal disease tests will be specified.

If the center is operated in a private home, information or health card must be furnished as to the character and physical and mental health of all other members of the household who will be in contact with the children. Tuberculosis, venereal disease and mental health information from a physician must be provided at least once a year.

5. Facilities

All day care centers must comply with local fire, health, building and zoning ordinances. An annual inspection by the Health Department and Fire Department is necessary for licensing and renewal. If there is no local person available for this inspection, a state representative will be required.

Centers must also comply with regulations of the Arkansas State Board of Health relating to kitchens and waste disposal, and State Health Department food service regulations.
The child caring facility shall be inspected and approved by a duly authorized representative of the Welfare Department prior to accepting children for care and issuance of a license. The Department shall have the authority to visit and inspect the facility at all reasonable times.

Ground or first floor space is recommended for day care centers. Basements or second story space may be used only after approval.

The indoor play area shall contain a minimum of 35 square feet of useable floor space per child.

The outdoor play space must contain 75 square feet per child and must be fenced.

Heating shall be adequate to keep the floor warm and the room temperature at 68° to 70° F.

Paint used in any way in the facility must be lead-free.

A telephone must be provided.

The following ratios must be met for toilets and wash basins:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Number of Children</th>
<th>Number of Toilets and Wash Basins</th>
</tr>
</thead>

A city or city and county may impose and enforce higher standards and requirements for facilities licensed by the State than the minimum standards and requirements specified by the State.

A day care center is any child care facility receiving more than 8 children for daytime care during all or part of a day. The term "day care center" includes facilities commonly called "child care centers", "day nurseries", "nursery schools", "kindergartens", "play groups" and "centers or workshops for mentally or physically handicapped" with or without stated educational purposes. The term does not include (a) kindergartens or nursery schools or other daytime programs operated by public or private elementary school systems or secondary level school units or institutions of higher learning; (b) facilities operated in connection with a shopping center or service, or other similar facility where transient children are cared for temporarily, if parents or custodians of the children are occupied on the premises, or are in the immediate vicinity and readily available; (c) any type of day care center that is conducted on federal government premises; or (d) special activities programs, including athletics, crafts instruction and similar activities conducted on an organized and periodic basis by civic, charitable and governmental organizations.

Day nurseries are day care centers which receive pre-school age children for short-term or extended hours of care, and which provide essential personal care, protection, supervision, training and programs to meet the needs of the individual children served.

Nursery schools are day care centers which receive children between the ages of 2 and 6 years and which are established and professionally operated primarily for educational purposes to meet the developmental needs of the children served.

Centers or workshops for mentally or physically handicapped are day care centers receiving mentally retarded or physically handicapped children, for short periods or extended hours, and which provide services and programs to meet the children's needs for care, protection and training.

A child is any person under 18 years of age.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

Each child, unless exempt for reasons prescribed, shall be given a thorough examination, and prescribed immunizations by a licensed physician, not more than four months prior to admission and at least once every two years thereafter (except in the case of school age children whose subsequent examinations shall be in accordance with requirements under the Illinois School Code).
The physician's report shall indicate that the child was found free of communicable disease, including active tuberculosis verified by a tuberculin skin test, or a chest x-ray if the skin test is positive, and that the child has been immunized against smallpox, measles, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and poliomyelitis.

Application of the immunization program may be waived or modified for a child:

a) Who, for clinical reasons, should not be subjected to immunization;

b) In whose behalf parent or guardian has sought waiver on constitutional grounds. A center admitting such a child shall do so upon its sole responsibility.
Children under two years of age may be admitted only when conditions are favorable and as prescribed by special requirements for services to children in this age group.

A center receiving children six years of age and over must also comply with special requirements for services to older children.

A day care center or night-time center if children are present for extended periods during normal waking hours, shall limit the group size and provide staff to give continuity of care and supervision to the children on a day-by-day basis. The maximum numbers of children, grouped according to ages, and the minimum staff required are as follows:

No more than six two-year olds or nine three-year olds shall be included in a group of children of mixed ages.

A center which has space and is otherwise equipped may enroll one or two additional children in each group, three years of age or older, in order to compensate for absenteeism. Over-enrollment must be controlled so that the number of children generally in attendance does not frequently or consistently exceed the licensed capacity.

The small center, operating with only one regular staff member, shall arrange for a responsible person to assist with the children when needed. This must be a person, or persons, who can respond immediately to a call without the adult in charge leaving the children unattended.
4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

The Director shall be responsible for duties ordinarily considered to be administrative. A child care worker shall be responsible for the planning and supervision of the activities of the children. The positions may be combined, according to the type, size and sponsorship of the center.

In a day care center, a newly employed or designated director or child care worker shall be at least 21 years old; shall have achieved a minimum of two years of college credits from an accredited college or university, or have a high school diploma or equivalency certificate, plus three years of experience as director or child care worker of a licensed child care facility, or experience in related fields of service involving children. If the party has a high school diploma or equivalent, he must provide proof of enrollment in an accredited university or college with a plan to acquire two years of college credit, including courses concentrating on early childhood development.

Assistants to child care workers shall be at least 18 years of age and have a high school diploma or equivalent, or certificate showing successful completion of an approved course of study and training and child care.

Student helpers shall be at least 14 years of age and at least 5 years older than the oldest child with whom they work. They will be under the direct supervision of a qualified director or child care worker and shall not substitute for regularly employed staff.

There shall be sufficient service staff so that assignment of service duties shall not interfere with the child care staff's responsibility for the direct care of the children.

Volunteers may be assigned to assist in any capacity if they meet the qualifications required for the position.

Professional staff (teacher, physician, nurse, caseworker, counselor, nutritionist, dentist, psychologist, etc.) employed or retained by the center, shall have achieved the prescribed standards of their respective professions including required certification or license to practice, and shall be qualified otherwise, to perform satisfactorily the services expected of them in a child-centered program.
Each member of the staff and substitute shall have a complete examination within six months prior to employment and at least every two years thereafter. Such examination must include a tuberculosis examination.

Volunteers must meet the same health requirements imposed upon employed staff.

If the center is conducted in a private home and children use common facilities, such as bathroom and kitchen, with members of the household, each member or employee of the household, who comes in direct contact with the children, shall be subject to the same medical examination requirements imposed upon other persons in the center.

Food handlers may be required to have other tests, in addition to routine examinations, because of local ordinances or the examining physician's findings.

5. Facilities

A person or organization proposing to establish a new center, or to relocate, or to undertake major remodeling of buildings housing a child care program, shall submit building plans to the Department and to any other governmental authority, State or municipal, which requires prior approval. This shall be prior to housing a new program in existing buildings; prior to construction of new buildings for an existing program; or prior to major remodeling of facilities housing an on-going program.

There shall be no child occupancy of a newly established center, new premises, new buildings, or of buildings undergoing major remodeling, without a temporary permit or full license issued by the Department. Zoning and other necessary clearances, including licenses, required under municipal ordinances, must be obtained before a permit or license will be issued.

The building housing a center shall be approved by the proper health and fire authorities and comply with State and local public health safety codes. Centers serving ten or fewer children, in family residential facilities, shall have an initial inspection and clearance through the local fire department, services of a reliable insurance underwriter, or the State Fire Marshal. Routine annual inspections for such premises may be waived unless there are obvious or questionable hazards or other conditions necessitating periodic inspections, or are specifically required under municipal ordinance.
If water is obtained from sources other than an approved public supply source, it shall be approved by local or state health authorities.
The Department, its agent, must re-examine every child care facility for renewal of license, including the examination of the premises and records of the facility as the Department considers necessary to determine that minimum standards for licensing continue to be met.

It is recommended that the center be located on the ground floor whenever possible.

Children under 2 must be cared for in an area separate from older children and which is arranged so that no more than six infants are in one unit.

There shall be a minimum of 35 square feet of activity area per child in centers for normal children two years of age and older; 45 square feet per child in centers for ambulatory handicapped children over two years of age; and 25 square feet of space per child in units for children under two years of age. Space must be useable and exclusive of exit passages and fire escapes, kitchen, storage areas, etc.

There shall be a minimum of 75 square feet of safe outdoor play area per child for the total number of children using the area at any one time. It shall be safely enclosed or otherwise protected from traffic and other hazards.

A temperature of no less than 68°F., within two feet of the floor, shall be maintained indoors. Areas where children read, paint, or participate in other activities requiring close eye work, shall be provided with a minimum of 50 foot candles.

 Provision shall be made for proper cleansing and sterilization of dishes and storage of food in the kitchen in accordance with public health standards.

The following ratio of toilets and lavatories shall be provided:
Number of Children in Center | Toilets and Lavatories
1 to 10 | 1
11 to 25 | 2
26 to 50 | 3
51 to 75 | 4
76 to 100 | 5
101 to 125 | 6
126 to 150 | 7
151 to 175 | 8

A telephone shall be provided on the premises.

Small, healthy animals may be permitted on the premises unless prohibited under local health ordinances. A qualified veterinarian shall certify that the animals have been inoculated, when required, or otherwise are free of diseases that could endanger the children's health.

Children who remain for as long as four consecutive hours, in a day care center, shall have at least one supervised rest period, and there shall be a supervised nap period for children, under six years of age, who remain five or more hours.

Both day care and night-time centers shall provide a separate crib, bed or cot and individual sheets and other bedding, except, in a night-time center, two siblings between two and ten years of age, or two older brothers or two older sisters, may share a full-sized bed.

Cots, cribs or beds used by children in a day care center may be used for other children at night, if a facility is licensed to conduct both a day care and night-time center, and if separate sets of clean sheets and other bedding are provided each user, and cots, cribs or beds have been well aired and freshened between uses.

If washable rugs or mats are used for short rest periods in part-day programs, they shall be used in conformity with requirements prescribed by local health departments.

Suitable space shall be provided for a child who becomes ill at the center. Such space shall be adequately ventilated and heated, and equipped with a cot and materials that can be easily sanitized.
In a day care center children in attendance for more than two, but less than five hours shall be served a mid-session snack consisting of one-third to one-half cup of pure fruit juice, or properly processed canned or frozen fruit juice with high citric content; or one-third to one-half cup of whole milk; or one serving of fruit with high citric content.
Children in attendance five to ten hours shall be served at least one-third of their daily food requirements which shall include a well-balanced, nutritive hot meal. Occasional picnic-type meals may be substituted for a main hot meal. Mid-morning and mid-afternoon snacks consisting of fruit, fruit juice, or milk as prescribed above, shall be included.

Formulas and foods for children under two years of age shall be provided according to individual needs, including medically prescribed formulas or diets.

6. Special Notes

Centers in operation at the time the 1970 revised standards were adopted as Department regulations have two calendar years from the date of adoption to achieve compliance with revised or new standards which require major changes in organization and administration, staffing, services to children, and physical plant and facilities.

As indicated in the preceding sections of this summary, the State also issues licenses for night care facilities which are defined as centers or homes in which children are received for periodic care during the night when a single parent, or both parents, are absent from home because of employment, emergency or other reasonable circumstance, and the children are in need of supervision during sleeping hours. A facility may be licensed for either day care or night-time care, or both if circumstances permit, and whether the same children are served according to the work shifts of their parents or other circumstances.

A night-time center is a facility which is established to receive 9 or more children, but not to exceed 20 children, for night-time care.

The minimum standards cited above apply both to day and to night centers, in most respects. The premises of a licensed day care center, operating a full day care program, ordinarily would meet the requirements for a night-time center, particularly with respect to the general physical plant facilities, equipment, furnishing, and such. Therefore, license may be sought to conduct a night-time center at the same location as a day care center, using the same equipment and facilities provided for the day care program, under circumstances prescribed in the regulations.

Minimum Requirements and Recommended Standards for Day Care Centers, 1964, (DFW).

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation or association to operate, maintain, or conduct a boarding home for children, a day nursery, a children's home or child caring institution or to engage in or assist in conducting a business of placing children as herein defined, without having in full force a written license therefor from the State Department of Public Welfare. Provided, that nothing in this act shall apply to any state institution maintained and operated by the State.

A day nursery is defined as any institution operated for the purpose of providing care and maintenance to children separated from their parents or guardian or person in loco parentis during a part of the day for two or more consecutive weeks excepting a school or other bona fide educational institution.

The licensing law does not include provisions for licensing "nursery schools" or "kindergartens;" therefore, the Minimum Requirements are not intended to pertain to those facilities.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

The day nursery shall not admit a child less than 3 years of age. The day nursery shall not admit a child less than three years of age, nor a child three years of age or over whose needs it obviously cannot meet or whose presence would be undesirable or dangerous for other children in the day nursery.
Each child shall receive a health examination from a physician within four weeks prior to admission to the day nursery. The examination must include:

Health history;

Physical examination;

An intradermal tuberculin skin test and/or chest x-ray, if necessary;

Such x-ray or laboratory procedures as are determined to be necessary by the examining physician;

A certification that the child is currently immunized in accordance with an immunization program approved by the State Board of Health. Such program shall include but not be limited to immunization against smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough, poliomyelitis, and tetanus. An exception may be made, however, when the physician considers immunization to be a hazard to the child.

Health examinations of children, the same as required on admission, shall be repeated annually and whenever the day nursery's physician or the director shall have reason to suspect that a child participating in the program may have a condition hazardous or potentially hazardous to others, or finds that the child's general condition indicates the need for such examination.

The parent shall provide a written statement at the time of admission that the child has not to his or her knowledge been exposed to a communicable disease within the previous three weeks.

The maximum number of children in the day nursery per staff member supervising them shall be as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Age</th>
<th>Adult/Child Ratio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3 years old</td>
<td>1/10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4 years old</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>5 years old</td>
<td>1/15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6 years or older</td>
<td>1/20</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Where there is a combination of ages within a group the number of required staff shall be determined on the age of the youngest child.

Maintenance and clerical persons shall not be included in determining the number of staff required for supervision of children.
In no instance shall a day nursery operate with less than two staff members, one of whom shall be free from housekeeping or cooking responsibilities while in charge of children.

4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

The director shall be responsible for the operation of the day nursery at all times. During his necessary absence, a responsible staff member shall be designated to be in charge.

A person in charge of a day nursery at any time shall be at least 21 years of age.

In day nurseries licensed for more than 30 children the Director shall have completed four years of training in an accredited college or university with courses in early childhood education or related fields; or shall have had work experience or a combination of education and experience that provides preparation equivalent to the college trained.

In day nurseries licensed for 30 children or less, the Director shall have completed at least two years of training in an accredited college or university with courses in early childhood education or related fields; or shall have had work experience providing equivalent preparation.

The qualifications of a director who does not meet the full educational requirements for his position shall be subject to approval by the State Department of Public Welfare.

In day nurseries licensed for more than 30 children, the Head Teacher or other person responsible for planning and supervising the activity of the children and promoting the development of teaching staff, shall have completed at least two years of training in an accredited college or university with courses in early childhood education or related fields; or shall have had work experience that provides preparation equivalent to the college training.
In a small day nursery one staff member may carry multiple responsibilities. The director and the head teacher may be the same person provided that such person meets the qualifications for both positions.

Any person serving as director or any person employed in the position of head teacher on the effective date of the rules and regulations is exempt from the specific educational requirements for his position.

Teachers shall have a minimum of a high school education except for the person who has been employed for one year or longer as a teacher prior to the effective date of this rule is exempt from the educational requirement.

Day nurseries which enroll 10 or more school-age children shall have at least one staff member who is qualified by training and experience in group activity to work with this age group.

Professional staff members other than teachers, such as social workers, nurses, and psychologists should meet state licensing requirements, if any, or the minimum professional standards for their professions.

Volunteers shall meet all the requirements and qualifications of the positions to which they are assigned.

No person shall be permitted to perform any services in the day nursery until he has furnished the day nursery with a statement from a physician that he is free from all medical conditions which might be harmful to children including venereal and other communicable diseases, and that he is currently immunized in accordance with an immunization program approved by the State Board of Health. Such program shall include but not be limited to immunization against smallpox, diphtheria, poliomyelitis, and tetanus. Each such person is required to have a health examination immediately prior to entering the service of the day nursery and annually thereafter or more frequently as required by the day nursery physician. Child Care Licensing Laws and General Regulations, (DH), 1967-

Kansas State Board of Health Regulations for Licensing Group Day Care Centers, (Effective April 1, 1962).

The term boarding home for infants or children shall mean a house or other place conducted or maintained by anyone who advertises or holds himself out as conducting such a place as a boarding house or home for infants or children; or who has in his control or custody one or more infants under three years of age or children under sixteen years of age unattended by parent or guardians for the purpose of providing such children with food or lodging, or both, except children related to him by blood or marriage, or legal adoption; or any children's home, orphanage, day nursery or other institution; or association, organization or individual engaged in receiving, caring for, or finding homes for orphans, dependent or neglected children; or any receiving or detention home provided or maintained by, or receiving aid from any city or county or the state.

A group day care center is defined as a day nursery providing care for 5 or more children over 3 years of age for part or all of a day, away from the home of the parent or legal guardian, and it includes full day group care, nursery schools, play groups, centers giving emphasis to special programming for children, kindergartens not accredited by the State Department of Public Instruction, and other establishments offering care to groups of children for part or all of the day.
The power to grant licenses is vested in the State Board of Health; however, no license shall be granted, without the approval of the Division of Child Welfare Services of the State Department of Social Welfare.

To permit development of state-operated children's institutions and their child-care facilities in harmony with privately operated institutions and facilities, licenses may be granted to them on request, provided that standards and requirements of the State Board of Health are met.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

No infants under the age of 3 years shall be received for care in any group day care center.

Group day care centers giving care to school-age children before and after school and during the summer months shall have space and equipment for this age group.

Children showing gross mental retardation, emotional disturbance or physical handicaps shall be screened with the greatest care. Any such exceptional child considered for admission shall be reported to the Maternal and Child Health Division for consideration by the Joint Licensing Committee. Reportable handicaps include: blindness, deafness, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, mental retardation (obvious and notable, or below I.Q. 75), severe orthopedic handicapping congenital deformities, severe speech defects, and any other condition which makes it impossible for the child to lead a normal life, or to profit by education offered in the public schools.

A thorough physical examination shall be given each child at the time of admission to a child care facility, and at yearly intervals thereafter or oftener.
No child shall be admitted to a group day care center, except in an emergency, before obtaining from his physician the prescribed statement that he is free from communicable disease and that he has been immunized or is in the process of receiving immunization against smallpox, whooping cough, polio, diphtheria, and tetanus. Only medical exemptions to immunization, signed by a licensed physician, are acceptable. Immunity against the above diseases may be considered effective as shown by the administration of booster injections following the original course of injections.

There shall be at least one person between 21 and 60 years of age with a group of children at all times.

There shall be at least one adult for each 12 children between 3 and 5 years of age.

There shall be at least one adult for each 16 children between 5 and 7 years of age.
There should be a second adult available for any group, no matter how small, so that emergencies may be handled adequately.

Total enrollment for any session shall not exceed 48 children.

4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

No new center may be established for more than 16 children unless the operator of the center furnishes proof of graduation from an accredited college with a major in child development or preschool education, and at least one year of satisfactory experience under the supervision of a trained person. After a center operated by an untrained person has been in operation for at least one year and the operator has demonstrated her ability to supervise such a center, the Joint Licensing Committee may consider a request for increased enrollment.

All staff members directly responsible for children shall be qualified to give care to children by temperament, emotional maturity, sound judgment, education, experience, and an understanding of children.

All employees and other persons coming into contact with the children shall submit a physician's certificate stating that they are free from physical and mental illness which might conflict with the children's interest and that they have had a test which indicated freedom from active tuberculosis.

5. Facilities

The building shall meet the legal requirements of the community as to zoning, sanitation, fire protection, water supply, and sewage disposal. Where local regulations do not exist on these matters, accepted standards of the Kansas State Department of Health and the State Fire Marshal shall prevail.
A facility must be inspected by the Department of Health before a license is granted, and at least once every 6 months. In all cases where the State Department of Social Welfare deems it necessary, an investigation will be made by the county welfare department or other designated agent.

Only ground or first floor space may be used in caring for children with use of basement (for part-day sessions, not exceeding three hours) and upper floors permitted under certain conditions. A basement area shall not be used for full-day care.

The indoor area for play must contain a minimum of 35 square feet of usable floor space per child.

Outdoor play area of at least 100 square feet of usable play space per child shall be provided. If adjacent to a highway or other dangerous area it shall be fenced.

All quarters occupied by children shall be adequately lighted. The combined natural artificial lighting shall reach a minimum of 20 foot candles in all parts of the room.

In full day care centers, the kitchen shall be separate from the playroom.

There shall be one toilet and one wash basin for each 12 children receiving care.

There shall be a telephone located on the premises and readily available.

Napping facilities shall consist of individual cots, beds or mattresses at least 2 inches thick. For children receiving care for 4 hours or less, individual rugs or pads may be used for a short rest period.

An additional room located so that it can be under adult supervision shall be furnished for the isolation of children suspected of illness until such time as arrangements can be made to take the child home.
Children remaining at the group day care center for as much as two and a half hours shall receive mid-morning and mid-afternoon refreshments such as fruit, fruit juice or milk. All milk served in a group day care center shall be pasteurized. If children remain in the group for longer than four hours, a full balanced meal, with at least one hot dish, shall be provided by the day care facility. This meal shall provide at least one-third of the child's total daily requirements of calories, proteins, minerals, and vitamins. Each noon meal shall consist of: a main dish of meat, eggs, fish or cheese: a vegetable, bread and butter, fruit and milk.

6. Special Notes

With respect to the operational aspects of the licensing process, responsibility for processing applications, making evaluation restudies, and coordinating reports from health and welfare agencies may be delegated to the director of a full-time local health department able to provide such services. In all cases the State agency shall actually issue licenses, set minimum standards, exercise general supervision, and initiate legal action in cases of violation of the law.

The 1962 day care center regulations cited above were intended to focus on facilities for preschool children. The State is presently developing regulations for provision of after school and summer day care services. Some consideration is also being given to development of standards for group care facilities for children under three years of age.

Minimum Requirements for Licensure of Day Care Centers, (DPW), 1965.

The term "child welfare agency" shall include child-caring institution, child-placing agency, maternity home, family boarding home, and day care center. Any child welfare agency which is under direct management of an administrative department of the State shall not be subject to licensing requirements. Any child welfare agency which is under direct management of any parish, municipality or private organization or person shall be subject to those requirements. The licensing act does not apply to organizations or to individuals whose function is to provide a part-time program of four hours or less per day in a nursery or kindergarten setting or provide irregular care on an hourly basis. It also does not apply to elementary schools, having grades in addition to nursery school and kindergarten, which accept children only over two years and eight months of age. If regular and irregular care are given in the same facility and result in their being as many as five or more children in care at one time, the provisions of the Act shall apply.

A day care center is defined as any place operated by a person, society, agency, corporation, institution or any other group, wherein are received for pay 5 or more children under 17 years of age who are not related to such person and whose parents or guardians are not residents in the same house, for day time control, care and food.
3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

Medical requirements for admission include:

A statement from a physician that the child is in good health and free from communicable disease established by a medical examination. This examination should be made within two weeks' period prior to admission.

A statement that the child has been immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and poliomyelitis, before being admitted; or a statement signed by a physician as to why this was not accomplished and when it is to be done.

A statement regarding results of a tuberculin test.

A child whose mental and/or physical condition appears to be such that it may present a problem in the center should be accepted only through recommendations from an appropriate social agency or the center's staff physician.

There shall be a personal interview with the parent(s) or guardian before a child is admitted.

Each child in the center shall have an annual physical examination and an official statement that the child is in good health and free from infectious or contagious diseases.

Children enrolled on an irregular basis shall meet the same requirements as regularly enrolled children.

If the day care center has less than 10 children enrolled, there shall be one competent adult in charge if the children are over the age of 18 months. It is desirable that part-time help be available to assist. If there are any children in care under 18 months of age, there shall be a competent adult and part-time help.

If the center has more than 10 children enrolled, there shall be at least two staff members in attendance. One staff member should be responsible for each of the following age groups:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Age</th>
<th>Number of Children</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Under 18 months</td>
<td>6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Over 18 months</td>
<td>14</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
A staff member shall be designated to supervise the toddler group. This group shall be separated from the infant group.

An additional worker shall be employed for cooking and housekeeping when the number of children in care is 20 or more.

If the number of children exceeds 35 it is assumed that administrative responsibilities will consume a large portion of the Director's time and substitute help should be employed to meet staff requirements.

No child shall be cared for in a day care center more than 10 hours per day.

4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

The Director or operator should be qualified by education, experience and temperament. It is preferable that the Director and all personnel supervising children have a high school education. The director should be willing to continue to learn and to avail himself of opportunities to further his knowledge and understanding of children.

The staff members must provide responsible references and shall have a suitable personality to work well with children.

It is suggested that a trained social worker be employed to serve as a counselor to parents and staff, in order to give well-rounded services to the children. Arrangements may be made in small centers to share a social worker, or to employ one on a part-time basis. A center serving between forty and seventy-five children needs a social worker on a full-time basis. Those centers in which more than seventy-five children are in care will need additional casework service.

Each person working within the center shall be required to obtain, before beginning work, and at least once a year thereafter, a written statement from a physician that the person is in good health and physically able to care for children; is free from infectious and contagious diseases; and has no evidence of active tuberculosis.

Each person living in a private residence, part of which is used as a day care center, shall meet the same medical requirements as employed personnel and children enrolled.
5. Facilities

A center shall in all respects meet the requirements of the fire prevention and safety authorities having jurisdiction over it. A yearly report of approval from the fire prevention and safety authorities is required. It is the responsibility of the staff of the center to request the yearly inspection of the fire prevention or safety authorities.

The plant and equipment shall conform to state and local ordinances governing sanitation, as certified by a written statement given during preceding twelve (12) months by an authorized representative of State Board of Health. It is the responsibility of the staff of the center to request the yearly inspection by the Health Department.

State and local health requirements regarding children's sleeping arrangements must be met.

The toilet facilities shall be kept clean and shall conform to state and local ordinances.

It shall be the duty of the Department of Public Welfare, through its duly authorized agents, to inspect at regular intervals without previous notice all child welfare agencies.

There shall be a minimum of thirty-five square feet of play space per child.

Kitchens, bathrooms, halls used as passageways, family bedrooms, lockers, laundry rooms, built-in cabinets and any other quarters with furniture used as family living space shall not be considered as floor space available for play space. The living room can be included if unrestricted play is permitted.

Allowances will be considered for absenteeism. The following formula will be followed:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>No. of Children according to space</th>

There shall be outdoor play space provided for the children. Different age groups may use the outdoor play space at varying times. There shall, however, be a minimum of seventy-five square feet for each child in the group at any one time. The minimum outdoor play space shall be available for at least one-half of the number of children in care. The outdoor play space shall be enclosed in such a manner as to protect the children from traffic hazards and to prevent the children from leaving the premises without proper supervision.

There shall be a nursery room for infants only. Children who are walking shall not share a room with infants. Young toddlers shall have separate quarters except in centers providing care to less than ten children.

There shall be a telephone at the center for use in emergencies.

Each child shall be provided with a cot or a bed. There shall be no more than two children to a bed, if a double bed is substituted. There shall be individual cribs provided if infants are in care.

There shall be provisions for isolating a child having or suspected of having, a communicable disease so that he can be removed from the other children. This space should be equipped with a bed or cot and suitable toys that can be easily cleaned and sterilized.

Well-balanced, nourishing meals must be provided. Children coming without breakfast must be served this meal; in addition, children must be served one hot meal and mid-morning and mid-afternoon snack. Children are not to bring their own food to the nursery. Special formulas for infants may be supplied by the parent. Food cannot be sold to the children or staff at the day care center.

6. Special Notes

A record which states that the child has been completely immunized against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, poliomyelitis, measles and vaccinated for smallpox and the approximate dates of these procedures, or that inoculation and vaccination took place at the time of examination and will continue to completion;

A description of all abnormal conditions which were found on examination.

Arrangements may be made for care of school age children outside of school hours when evidence of such need is presented. It is essential that staff be assigned to conduct a suitable program for these children during their out-of-school hours.

When the number of children in the nursery exceeds ten, full-time assistance for the director is to be provided, in the following ratio:

Minimum Ratio:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Age of Children</th>
<th>Minimum Ratio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2 1/2 and 3 years</td>
<td>1 adult assistant to each 10 children or fraction thereof, beyond the first 10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4 years</td>
<td>1 adult assistant to 12 children beyond the first 12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5 years</td>
<td>1 adult assistant to 20 children beyond the first 20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 1/2 thru 5 years (mixed age group)</td>
<td>1 adult assistant to 10 children beyond the first 10</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

If 35 or more children are enrolled, the Director should be free from a regularly scheduled teaching assignment.

A minimum of two adults is required for any group of children to insure adult supervision at all times. When the group is small enough to be under the guidance of one person, the second person must be available in the center to assist upon call.
4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

The Director or person in charge of a day care center shall have a minimum of two years of study at the college level.

Assistant should be under the supervision of the person in charge and should have some preparation for and experience in working with young children.

The head teacher or person in charge of programming of the nursery school shall meet the educational qualifications as determined by the Michigan Department of Public Instruction for nursery school assignment:

A Bachelor's Degree in elementary education with an Elementary Provisional or Permanent teaching certificate and a minimum of 15 semester hours of credit in child development, or

A Bachelor's Degree with a Secondary Provisional Certificate and a major of at least 24 semester hours in child development, or

A Bachelor's Degree with a minimum of 15 semester hours of credit in child development and nursery education and a life certificate.

Assistant teachers in the nursery school should be under the direction of a fully qualified head teacher. They should have a minimum of two years of study at the college level and experience in work with groups of children under six years of age.

Members of the service staff should have a real liking for young children. They should be sufficiently flexible in performing their duties to adjust to the variations inherent in such programs.

Every person working in the center shall have a physical examination within 1 year prior to the time he or she is employed at the day care center (or nursery schools) or within 30 days after employment and annually thereafter. Such an examination shall include a stool examination for typhoid if there is a history of typhoid and a test for communicable tuberculosis. The examining physician shall provide a statement certifying the person to be free of communicable tuberculosis including an indication of the method.
by which he determined this, and shall make any chest x-rays available to the health department if requested to do so. The tuberculosis test is required within 1 year before employment.

No person who is a known carrier of typhoid bacilli or has a communicable disease, including tuberculosis in a communicable state, shall be employed or reside in a day care center. Persons shall not work at the center on days when they have sore throats or colds. Adequate provision shall be made for substitute employees who have met all health requirements so that regular personnel can stay home when illness occurs.

5. Facilities

In the selection of a new site the location shall comply with applicable zoning regulations.

The building shall conform to the state and local building, plumbing, electrical, fire and other applicable laws, regulations and ordinances.

All housing shall be approved by the state fire marshal or local full time fire bureau.

Disposal of either garbage or rubbish on the grounds shall be in accordance with the Michigan Solid Waste and Air Pollution Acts.

All liquid wastes from the day care center shall be discharged into a public sewer system when possible. When a public sewer system is not available the sewage disposal system shall meet state or full-time local health department requirements.
A center should report to the Department of Social Services any contemplated change in operations (including physical expansion of facilities). Plans for remodeling or construction of new buildings should be presented to the Department for review before work is undertaken. A complete set of plans and specifications for all new construction, additions, conversions and remodeling shall have the approval of the appropriate fire inspection authority before construction is commenced.

Before issuing a license, the Department of Social Services shall investigate the activities and standards of care of the applicant. The Department shall have the authority at any time to investigate and examine the conditions of any home or other place in which a licensee receives and maintains children, and shall have the authority at any time to examine and investigate the books and records of any licensee.

The Department of Health may visit any licensee to advise on matters affecting the health of children and to inspect the sanitation of the buildings used for their care.

Every agency other than a foster home whose buildings house minor children shall be inspected relative to their fire safety by the State Fire Marshal (or appropriate municipal fire department) when requested by the Department of Social Services. An inspection and approval by the local full time fire department or State Fire Prevention Bureau and by the State or local full-time health department for the proposed housing of the center will be requested by the Department. With each renewal of application similar inspections will usually be requested annually by the Department.

Except under very favorable conditions, day care centers shall be conducted on the first or main floor of buildings only. Unless a building is of fire resistant construction, with stairways properly enclosed to provide protected exits to the outside, floors above the first shall not be used.

Spaces located partially below grade may not be used as day care centers unless approved in writing by the local health officer or the Michigan Department of Public Health and meet the following requirements:
Rooms located in the basement must be at least 50\% above grade;

The floors and those portions of the walls below grade are to be of waterproof and damp proof construction;

There is a secondary means of egress available;

Complies with requirements for lighting and ventilation;

Complies with requirements for finish material of floors, walls, and ceilings.

The use of basement space is further subject to requirements imposed by the State Fire Marshal:

Basements shall be used only under very favorable conditions, and where the occupancy is separated from all other basement use by fire resistant walls and fire doors;

At least one of the required exits shall be direct to the outside from the occupied room or space.

Basements where a sufficient portion of the basement floor is not below grade so as to permit required means of egress exits without use of stairs or steps, shall be considered a first floor insofar as the intention of prescribed State day care center regulations is concerned.

There shall be at least 300 cubic feet of air space and at least 35 square feet of floor space per child exclusive of halls, baths, kitchens and closets.

There should be a minimum of 75 square feet of play area and at least 1,000 square feet of play area per child available to each day care center. There shall be adequate protection from hazards, such as traffic, dangerous playthings, etc.

All rooms used for play and story activities shall be provided with at least 20 foot candles of artificial illumination in all areas.
The heating plant shall have a proper capacity and be so located and operated as to maintain a temperature at approximately 70°F. at a point two feet from the floor.

A washable cot shall be available for each preschool child if time spent at the center is longer than three hours.

An isolation room shall be provided for the isolation of any child having or suspected of having any communicable disease or any acute illness. This room shall have as minimum furnishings a cot and a chair and shall be of easy access to supervision.

Food provided by the day care center shall be of sufficient quantity and nutritional quality to provide for the dietary needs of each child, after taking into consideration meals served to the child away from the center.

Children in group care from five to eight hours a day should have one-third to one-half of their food needs for the day met at the center. This should be provided by serving one main meal and one or two snacks.

Children in group care longer than eight hours a day should be furnished at least two-thirds of their day's food needs. These may be provided by two regular meals and one or two snacks.

Children arriving at the center before 8:00 A.M. with little or no breakfast need food soon after they get to the center. This should include fruit or juice, cereal or egg, toast, and milk.

6. Special Notes

The cooperative Nursery School or Cooperative Nursery

These centers are organized by parents to provide good group experiences for their children and to study young children through active participation in the program.
If the teacher has a certificate approved by the Department of Education, the center may be licensed as a nursery school, otherwise it is licensed as a day care center. The ratio of assisting parents in such centers should be approximately one adult to every five children.

Centers for the Exceptional Child

When the purpose of a center is to care for exceptional children, additional qualifications for the staff may be required as determined by the need of the children, e.g., certificate in special education, or a smaller ratio of staff to children.

7. Political Subdivisions with Separate Licensing Regulations

Some of the larger cities or counties impose additional health requirements.

(Amendments to the Minnesota licensing law were approved on May 26, 1971. Pending revision of implementing regulations, the Standards in force on the date of enactment continue in effect (with the exception of any provisions in conflict with the 1971 amendments). The following summary reflects definitions and requirements in effect during the period covered by Day Care Survey 1970. Notes on the 1971 amendments appear in the section, "Special Notes.")

2. Legal Reference

Minnesota Statutes Annotated, Sections 257.081, 257.101 et seq.

Standards for Group Day Care of Pre-School and School-Age Children, (DPW), (Child Welfare Rule No. 3).

A "facility for foster care" means any facility which for gain or otherwise regularly provides one or more children, when unaccompanied by their parents, with a substitute for the care, food, lodging, training, education, supervision or treatment they need but which for any reason cannot be furnished by their parents in their homes. This includes but is not limited to the following: an institution, detention home, boarding home, free home, work home, children's home, day care home, day nursery, nursery school, or school for handicapped children.

A facility for foster care does not include the following:

(a) A home caring for a child placed there for legal adoption unless legal adoption is not completed within two years after placement;

(b) A home caring for children from no more than one family for a period of less than 30 days;

(c) A home caring for children related to the operator thereof by blood or marriage;
(d) A school which in the judgment of the commissioner of public welfare operates for the primary purpose of educating children, rather than for the primary purpose of providing a needed substitute for the care, supervision, food, lodging, education, treatment or training provided most children in their own homes;

(e) A facility for foster care under the management and control of the commissioner of public welfare, or the Youth Conservation Commission.

A facility for foster care shall not use the name "school" unless it also meets standards of education and teacher certification established by the state board of education.

"Children" means one or more persons under the age of 16 years or persons over 16 years of age if for reasons of mental retardation they still require the protection needed by persons under 16 years of age.

The term group day care refers to any facility that, for compensation or otherwise, regularly provides care for six or more children for all or part of a day.

Such group day care may be known as day nursery, nursery school, special school for pre-school children, day care center for school age children, after-school program, or vacation day care program.

A group day care center affords opportunities for physical, social emotional, and intellectual growth to the maximum of the child's capacity.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

Children shall be of appropriate age for the group:

- Pre-School (3-5 years);
- Primary (6-8 years);
- Intermediate (9-11 years).

Special permission from the Day Care Section of the State Department of Public Welfare must be obtained for children who do not meet age requirements.
The child is socially and emotionally ready as determined by the person in charge of the facility after an individual interview with the parents and the child.

Parents shall present a physician's statement certifying that:

The child has passed a physical examination within three months prior to admission. This should contain an evaluative statement about the child's special medical needs or problems.

The child has current immunization against smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, and polio.

Since the passage of a State law requiring measles immunization for children prior to their initial attendance in school, all group day care facilities are expected to require measles immunization as part of the child's health admission examination.

A health report confirming an examination by a physician must be a part of the records. This annual examination shall include statements of up-to-date immunizations and tuberculin test.

There shall be no discrimination because of race, religion, creed, or origin.

The ratio of children to staff shall not exceed 10 children to one staff person. This person should be with the children at all times and free from housekeeping or cooking responsibilities.

A responsible person should be readily available as a substitute when a staff member cannot be in attendance.

4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

The staff shall consist of one or more persons who by virtue of training and/or experience are qualified to provide a meaningful group care experience for children.

The term "school" may be used only by a center that has at least one teacher certified by the Minnesota State Department of Education. There should be one certified nursery school teacher for every 20 children. To qualify as such a teacher or teachers must be active on the premises during the major part of the daily program.
Each employee must be in good physical and mental health, and as evidence of this a report of a recent medical examination by a licensed physician must be submitted at the time of employment and annually thereafter. This report must include findings of a chest x-ray, vaccination for smallpox within the last five years, and current polio and diphtheria immunizations.

If the nursery group is to be in a private home, there must be information about the character and health of all members of the household.

5. Facilities

The building must meet local legal requirements for zoning, housing, sanitation, fire protection, water supply, and sewage disposal. Where there are no such local regulations, the recommendation of the State Board of Health and the State Fire Marshal shall be met.

The building in which the nursery group is housed must have the number of fire extinguishers determined by the State Fire Marshal.

A license for a group day care center is issued after consultation and review of the total program by an authorized agent of the Commissioner of Public Welfare. Every licensed facility for foster care is subject to visitation by the Commissioner.

Only ground or first floors that have at least two exits on the ground level shall be used for children, with the following exceptions:

- Upper floors may be used if they have more than one approved exit, safety rails on the stairways, and guards across windows and at the top of the stairways.

- Basements (50% below ground) may be used as an accessory space and must be adequately ventilated, warm, and free from dampness and must have at least functioning exits.

There must be a minimum of 35 square feet of usable floor space per child, exclusive of hallways, bathrooms, lockers, kitchens, and floor space occupied by sanitary equipment.
There must be at least 75 square feet of useable outdoor play space per child; it must be safely enclosed to prevent children from leaving the premises unsupervised.

A minimum room temperature of 68° shall be maintained, measured at 24 inches above floor level.

Lighting shall be adequate in all rooms used by children.

There shall be at least one toilet and one wash bowl provided for each 15 children or fraction thereof.

There must be a telephone in the facility.

A cot must be provided for each pre-school child in an all-day program. If rest periods are included in a half-day program, each child who rests must have his own mat. Beds used by members of the household must not be used by the children.

There must be a protected space equipped with a cot, sheets and blanket set aside for isolation in case of illness.

If children remain in the group for longer than 4 consecutive hours, a well balanced meal must be provided. If children bring lunches, supplements may be needed. A snack of nutritive value should be served in the mid-morning and/or afternoon. Food from home should be limited to factory packaged items in their original packages.

6. Special Notes

The operator of the nursery school should carry insurance protection, such as accident and liability or Workman's Compensation when appropriate. If transportation is provided by the facility, adequate insurance must be provided for all passengers.

The State imposes additional requirements on centers for handicapped children. "Additional Standards for Group Day Care of Physically and Mentally Handicapped Children" are incorporated in the Standards for Group Day Care.

1971 Amendments

"Day care facility" means any facility operated to provide care for children for limited periods of a day. Day care facilities include but are not limited to family day care homes and group day care centers.
"Group day care center" is a facility providing day care for six or more children at one time and includes but is not limited to facilities for children known as nursery schools, day nurseries, child care centers, play groups and day time activity centers.

"Family day care home" is a facility providing day care for no more than five children at any one home including the family day care home operator's own children under five years of age.

No person shall operate a day care or foster care facility or advertise or offer such facility without a valid license except:

(1) A home caring for a child placed there for legal adoption unless legal adoption is not completed within two years after placement.

(2) A home caring for children related to the operator thereof by blood or marriage.

(3) A facility under the management and control of the commissioner of public welfare or the youth conservation commission.

(4) A facility supervised or licensed by any other state agency.

(5) A facility caring for children from no more than one family, except that a foster care facility so utilized for a period of greater than 30 days must be licensed.

(6) A day care facility caring for children for periods of short duration while the parents remain on the premises.

(7) A day care facility doing business for a period of less than 30 days in any one year.

It is further provided that facilities which in the judgment of the commissioner of education operate for the primary purpose of educating children shall be exempt from the regulations governing the operation of foster care and day care facilities except insofar as the regulations affect the health and safety of the children therein.

"Children" means one or more persons under the age of 16 years. (L. 1967 Reg. Sess. c.539)

Minimum Standards for Licensing Group Day Care Facilities for Children, (DPW), (effective February 26, 1965).

Facilities governed by these standards by whatever name called, are those which care for seven or more children who are unrelated to the operator of the facility during a part of the 24 hour day.

The facilities to be licensed under these standards are:

Nursery School - a school for children from two through four years of age the primary purpose of which is to foster good growth and development through appropriate educational experiences based upon individual needs. This school usually operates for more than four hours per day.

Kindergarten - a school for five-year olds operating not more than four hours per day which provides educational experiences appropriate to the child's state of development and designed to meet his physical, social, mental and emotional needs.

Day Care Center - a facility which provides care for a child in a group for a part of the 24 hour day while the parent is not of the home or otherwise unable to care for the child. Day Care is designed to supplement and strengthen home life while it provides good educational experiences appropriate to the child's stage of development.

Note: No mandatory licensing law.
Day Care Centers for Pre-School Children.

If the day care center provides care for children ages two to six, it provides within the "long-day" the equivalent of a good nursery school or kindergarten program depending on the ages of the children cared for.

Day Care Centers for School-Age Children.

If the day care center provides care for school-aged children before or after regular school hours or if it provides day care for retarded or other handicapped children it provides a program suitable to the needs of the children cared for.

Others - All other facilities, such as play schools, play groups, day nurseries, etc., which provide part-time group care of children away from their own homes.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

Children under two years of age must not be accepted for care. (See Section 6, "Special Notes")

The parent must furnish a health certificate not more than one month old from a physician or from the county health department certifying that the child has had a complete physical examination and is free from communicable disease, and that there is no history of recent exposure to communicable disease.

A certificate by a physician or by the county health department showing that the following immunizations have been completed must be presented on admission to the center:

- Diphtheria
- Whooping cough
- Tetanus
- Poliomyelitis.

Other immunizations such as typhoid fever immunization shall be given if required by the county health department and if the local circumstances require it.

A tuberculin test shall be done on recommendation of the examining physician or the county health officer when indicated before admission of a child to a center.
The following table must be used in staffing the center. This teacher-child ratio must be maintained in all areas of programming, including outdoor play. The numbers in the table refer to number of children enrolled rather than to numbers in average daily attendance.

<table>

Because a child's age and state of development determine the size of the group in which he can be cared for, the following table must be used in grouping children. The number in the table refers to numbers of children enrolled rather than number in average daily attendance.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Age of Children</th>

In day care centers, the group may be mixed by age with no more than a two year age span provided that the size of the group does not exceed that specified for the youngest child in the group. For example, two and three year olds may be cared for in the same group if the size of the group is kept at eight, and four and five year olds may be cared for in the same group so long as the group is kept at fifteen.

At no time shall any child or group of children be left unattended. There must always be a second adult on the premises readily available to assist in emergencies.
4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

The Director must be over 21 years of age and no more than 70 years of age. If the Director assumes any teaching responsibility, she must not be older than 65 years of age.

The Director must have at least two years of college work including courses in child development and the behavioral sciences. Two years of regular paid employment in a day care center or pre-school facility may be substituted for the two years of college work.

The Director must have administrative and supervisory ability.

The teacher must be over 21 years of age and under 65 years of age.

The teacher must have at least two years of college work including courses in child development and the behavioral sciences. Two years of regular paid employment in a day care or pre-school facility may be substituted for the two years of college work.

When the enrollment requires additional staff, assistant teachers may be used to work with the children. These assistant teachers must have high school education, be given in-service training or pre-employment training, and be of the temperament necessary for working with young children. Assistant teachers must have had the education or life experience so that:

- They are of at least average intelligence;
- They are able to work and speak grammatical English;
- They have an interest in, and basic knowledge of, the world around them.

The center must have sufficient service staff (such as cook, janitor, maid) to prepare food and keep the building clean and premises neat. In addition to ability to perform assigned tasks, service staff who have contact with the children should enjoy them and must be the kind of people with whom the children can spend time.
The staff of centers shall be expected to attend workshops, conferences, and in-service programs dealing with day care services for children.

All persons who care for children in centers or who must come in contact with their food or clothing shall be in good physical and mental health.

Each person caring for children in a center must have a medical examination at least once a year and must present a medical certificate from a licensed physician certifying that he is in good physical and mental health and is free from communicable disease. The medical examination must include medical history, physical examination, x-ray of the chest, or tuberculin test and such other laboratory examinations as deemed necessary by the physician or health officer. Laboratory examinations for the typhoid carrier state, syphilis and gonorrhea shall be done when deemed necessary by the physician, a regulatory agency or the sponsoring agency.

Every person preparing or serving food in center must have a food handler's permit from the local or county Department of Health.

If the physical fitness or mental and emotional stability of a person caring for children in a center is brought into question, the regulatory agency shall be empowered to call a panel consisting of a staff member of the State Department of Public Welfare, Child Welfare Division, a physician on the staff of the State Health Department or a county health department, and a licensed physician in practice in the community. The decision of this panel shall be binding and subject to review in six months if warranted by a change in the status of the examinee.

5. Facilities

The housing of all group child care facilities shall conform to local and state building codes and with local fire ordinances.

Heating systems shall be approved by local fire departments.

If food is served, the center must meet all conditions specified in "Regulations Governing Food and Food-Handling Establishments" of the State Board of Health. Proof of compliance must be submitted in the form of a written statement from the local health department.
It is further specified that if meals are served, all necessary kitchen equipment must be provided. The handling of food and care of dishes and kitchen equipment will be governed by State Board of Health regulations as set forth in "Regulations Governing Food and Food-Handling Establishments."

All centers shall comply with the State Board of Health regulation governing control of flies, mosquitoes, rats and other vermin.

An approved facility must report to the Department of Public Welfare any major alteration, addition to or change in the building.

A review of the program will be made periodically by a representative of the Department. Special consultation is available on request.

All facilities shall have an annual inspection by a local fire prevention officer.

All facilities must be maintained in a sanitary manner and must be inspected annually by the local health department and as often in addition to that as deemed necessary by the Health Department.

The center must be in a safe location. It is preferable to house children on the first floor. Under no circumstances may children be housed above the second floor or in basement rooms which are without windows that children can see out of.

There must be 30 square feet of indoor floor space per child. Halls used as passageways, bathrooms and kitchen, adjoining bedrooms, and floor space used by permanent built-in cabinets must not be considered as play space for children. The indoor space is to be used by the children for play and for materials, equipment, and furniture.

Although the total enrollment of a center may be sufficiently large to warrant several groups, each group of children (according to age), must have an area designated for its use for indoor activities. This area must be separate or partitioned off from other groups so that each group can function as an independent unit.
The outdoor play area provided must contain at least 65 square feet of usable play space per child. There must be adequate protection from hazards, such as traffic, dangerous play equipment, deep pools, holes, etc. If the play space is not fenced, such protection can be provided by adjacent building walls, thick hedges, etc.

There must be adequate light and ventilation in all parts of the building at all times. In order to insure that there is sufficient light and ventilation, the ratio of glass areas to floor area must be at least 1 to 8, additional artificial lighting as needed and provision for ventilation by either an adequate mechanical system or windows which can be opened at the top.

Separate kitchen area must be provided by those centers serving one or more meals during the day. This area must not be used for other purposes during food preparation.

There must be one toilet and lavatory for every 10 children under 5 years of age and one toilet and one lavatory for every 20 children age 5 and over.

If afternoon naps are a part of the program, a washable cot or mat for each child must be provided. Individual sheets and adequate covers (when necessary) must be provided. There must be a sufficient number of sheets to allow for changing once a week.

There must be a provision for an isolation area where a sick child may be cared for until he is taken home. A cot, bed linens and play equipment which can be sterilized must be provided.

The Day Care Center must make adequate provision for meeting the food needs of children in its care. If a child is in care for more than four hours, he must be served a hot, well-balanced meal. Each meal served must be planned to provide one third of the total daily requirements of the child. For Centers keeping children three hours or more, a mid-morning or mid-afternoon snack must be provided. (All snacks must include a fruit juice with Vitamin C content or milk). For centers keeping children more than five hours both a mid-morning and mid-afternoon snack must be provided.
6. Special Notes

The foregoing summary reflects established standards during the period covered by Day Care Survey 1970.

On February 9, 1971 the State Board of Public Welfare approved group care for children under two years of age. Facilities providing such care must meet the following additional requirements:

1. The youngest age shall be no less than six weeks (preferably no child under three months will be accepted).

2. The Adult-Child ratio shall be a minimum of one child care worker for every five children.

3. Staff members must be assigned to specific children in order for the child to have the security of being handled, fed and cared for by one person.

4. Each child shall have his own crib.

(There may be an occasional situation where the need for day care is urgent and a physician's statement cannot be secured before admission. In such circumstances when the general health appraised is good, the child may be enrolled but the medical statement must be provided as quickly as possible and in no instance later than 30 days.)

All children shall be immunized against diphtheria, poliomyelitis, whooping cough, and vaccinated against smallpox unless the child's physician or religious belief gives reason for not immunizing.

In addition, children under five years of age shall be immunized against whooping cough. Any child with a history of measles would be considered immunized. These requirements would be waived only in the case of a signed statement by a physician indicating that immunizations would be contraindicated for health reasons.

Handicapped children may be included in the group provided a suitable program is provided for them and provided that there would not be a hazard to the other children. There shall be adequate staff who are familiar with and able to cope with problems.

Each group should have a full-time teacher and an assistant, and shall be limited to the number of children of a given age whose individual needs can be appropriately met. The desirable number of children in the different age groups using enrollment figures, is:

Certification by the Board of Health and the State Fire Marshal cannot be waived.

Upon receipt of the application for a day care facility, the State or county welfare department, shall, within a reasonable time, make an investigation to determine whether or not a license should be granted.

The State Department of Public Welfare is responsible for annual inspections of all day care facilities. The annual inspection responsibility is shared by the State Board of Health and the State Fire Marshal. Annual licenses are issued only if all of these agencies give their approval.

The annual inspection to determine compliance with the State Fire Marshal's Standards shall be made by the authority having jurisdiction.

6. Special Notes

Public liability insurance and fire insurance shall currently be in force for the protection of the operator, staff and the day care facility.

An application for a license is made to the State Department of Welfare through the county department of welfare in the county where the applicant lives. An applicant must take the initiative in contacting representatives of the State Fire Marshal's office and the State Board of Health for inspections of the day care facility.

The State has also developed guidelines for group care of migrant children. These are contained in "Information Sheet - Care of Migrant Infants in Groups - 0 to 3 Years of Age."

The State Fire Marshal shall take responsibility for determining fire safety measures for each center providing care to children or by delegating this responsibility. Compliance with sanitation standards shall be determined by the State Environmental Health Services. SEHS may delegate this responsibility to local health agencies.

A representative of the Division of Social Services shall visit and study each center requesting an application to provide care for children. The Division may delegate this evaluation responsibility to licensed child-placing agencies or to County Divisions of Public Welfare. A mid-morning and after-nap-time snack shall be provided for the pre-school child. An after school snack shall be provided for older children.

6. Special Notes

It is noted that in the regulations that ordinary liability insurance does not protect children in child care. It is recommended that operators desiring this protection should seek out a reliable insurance broker or agent to obtain suitable coverage for the type of child care they provide.
If the center provides transportation, the operator should carry adequate automobile liability insurance to provide protection for all passengers.

Rules governing center administration require that a tax supported agency shall have an advisory committee for its child care program.

Responsibilities normally discharged by a Licensing Representative of the State Division of Social Services may be delegated to a member of a county division of public welfare or to a licensed child welfare agency.

Be at least 21 years of age;

Have supervisory and administrative ability;

Have had 2 years of training in the field of work with children, such as social work, nursing, or teaching; or, 2 years of successful experience, under supervision, in working with children. Directors who do not meet the training or experience requirement may do so by attending workshops or institutes acceptable to the Welfare Division

In the absence of the director, there shall be a person in charge capable of carrying on his functions. This person shall not be under the age of 21 year.

If the facility considers itself a school, qualifications of the teachers shall be evaluated in consultation with the certification supervisor of the State Department of Education.

At the time of initial application or employment, all staff members and/or members of the household are required to obtained a health certification from a physician.

For all adults, 18 years and over, the health certification shall verify that the individual is free from communicable disease and is physically and emotionally able to care for children. A chest x-ray and serology is required and other tests may be required as clinically indicated.
For children who are members of the household, the health certification shall verify that the child is free from communicable disease.

At least every two years thereafter, or whenever indicated by the examining physician or deemed necessary by the licensing worker, a new health certification is required. For adults a chest x-ray is required annually.

5. Facilities

The Day Care Facility must comply with all local ordinances relative to zoning or privilege licensing. A business license may be required in some localities.

Specific building requirements to establish safety from a fire and health stand-point vary somewhat from community to community but the Division will ascertain that buildings meet at least minimum standards. Specifics which are considered for these purposes are incorporated in the Standards as Appendix I under the title Building and Fire Code Requirements.

If the water supply is from other than a public source, the water system's location, constructions and operation shall comply with the standards approved by the Health Division.

The food handling permit shall be posted in the kitchen of the facility.

All cooking and eating utensils shall be stored according to the Health Division regulations.

If a group day care facility is extensively remodeled, or if an existing structure is converted for use as a child care facility, properly prepared plans and specifications for such remodeling or alteration shall be submitted to the Welfare Division for approval before such work is begun. Child care facilities hereafter constructed should have their plans submitted to the Division for review and approval prior to construction to avoid later difficulties in obtaining a license.

At the time of application for license and at least annually thereafter, a group day care facility shall be inspected by the appropriate regulatory agency to insure that fire and safety standards are being met. The Welfare Division reserves the right to request a fire inspection at any time it deems appropriate. Each floor shall be equipped with the proper type of fire extinguishing equipment as recommended by the fire inspector. Such equipment shall bear a current inspection stamp.
There shall be an initial and periodic inspection of the day care facility and premises by the representative of the Welfare Division with regard to standards of housekeeping and general repair of the facility. The building and premises shall be clean, sanitary, and in good repair. When deemed appropriate, the inspectors of other regulatory agencies shall be requested to inspect the facility and premises for conformance to all regulations with regard to sanitation, water supply, garbage and sewage disposal. If occupancy is eleven or more, an inspection by the Health Division shall be required.

A representative of the Division shall visit each facility after receipt of the application and shall decide whether the facility meets the minimum requirements and determine the maximum capacity. A representative of the Division may visit at any time to determine compliance with the standards and will be available for consultation as appropriate.

Only the ground floor level shall be used by children unless the fire inspector grants an exemption and unless there are two exits from the second floor rooms. Basement rooms may be used for play space but never for sleeping or resting.

Indoor space for children shall be at least 35 square feet of floor space per child exclusive of space for bathrooms, kitchen, halls, offices, and stairs.

Outdoor space shall be at least 75 square feet per child. The play area shall be enclosed by a five feet non-climable fence, well-drained, partly shaded, and free of debris, trash, or hazards of any kind.

No animals shall be maintained or permitted to remain on the premises of a group day care facility unless they are housed and maintained in a safe and sanitary manner at all times.

In facilities serving more than ten children, an exhaust fan shall be installed above the stove to remove cooking odors and excess steam due to food preparation. The fan shall be maintained in a clean, grease-free condition.

All eating utensils shall be single service tableware or shall be cleaned either with chlorine rinse or a dishwasher with a rinse of 180°F.
One toilet and wash basin shall be provided for every 10 children. Separate facilities for boys and girls shall be provided for all children six years old and over.

Every group day care facility shall have a telephone.

Individual cots or beds are required for napping. Beds must be used for night sleepers. Children shall not use beds of staff members. Children may use beds of members of the household for napping if individual linens are laid over the bedspread and each child has his own blanket and pillow. Sheets and blankets of family members shall not be used by children in care. No bunk beds with more than two tiers shall be used and children under six may occupy only a lower level bunk. The upper bunk shall have safety guard rails. Individual bedding shall be provided by either the parents or the day care facility. Bedding shall be laundered as needed and always upon change of occupancy.

The facility shall provide an area for temporary isolation of ill children which is within sight and hearing of a staff member.

Children in care during normal mealtime hours shall be served balanced meals. Simple nourishing snacks shall be served mid-morning and mid-afternoon. All milk used shall be pasteurized Grade A.

6. Special Notes

A child care facility shall be licensed to offer only one type of child care. Day care and twenty-four hour care shall not be provided in the same facility.

Each group day care facility shall carry public liability insurance in the amounts appropriate for protection of all concerned. A "Certificate of Insurance" shall be required to verify that the policy is in force. In case the policy is cancelled or not renewed, notice of such action shall be sent to the Welfare Division 20 days prior to the effective date of cancellation or non-renewal.

Any religious training offered shall have the approval of the child's parents.
It is usually undesirable that children are brought into or taken from a facility between the hours of 9 p.m. and 7 a.m. since these are the ordinary sleeping hours for children. However where the work schedule of a parent requires that children must be brought at irregular hours in the late night or early morning, a provision shall be made for appropriate sleeping facilities and the program shall be adjusted. If the child regularly remains in the facility for more than eleven consecutive hours, consideration will be given to application of standards for full-time care or to referral of the child for foster family care.

Another class of group child care facility which must be licensed is the Group Recreation Facility. Recreational care in an adult recreation area is that type of care provided up to five hours a day while parents or guardians are engaged in adult recreation which prohibits the accompaniment of children. Such care is covered under separate standards entitled Group Recreational Facilities; the standards for Group Day Care are not applicable to these facilities.

   Regulations and Standards for All Day Care Facilities, (DHW), 1968.

   Regulations and Standards for Group Day Care Facilities, (DHW), 1968.1/

   A child caring agency is any person, firm, corporation or association who (1) operates or maintains a boarding home, foster home, or institution for children or (2) receives for foster care, custody or control one or more children under the age of sixteen years unrelated by blood or marriage and separated from parent or guardian, except children committed by a court, or during part or all of the day regularly gives care to one or more unrelated children under twelve years, whether or not the care is given for compensation, and whether or not the service is known as a family day care home, child care center, day nursery, day care agency, child development center, nursery school, kindergarten, play school, progressive school, or by any other name. The term child-caring agency does not include a bona fide summer camp, a hospital, a public school, a private school approved by the State Board of Education or a private home or other facility in which a child is left by his parent or guardian for temporary care for a period not exceeding 30 days in any calendar year...2/

2/ See Special Notes, below, for amended definition of child-caring agency.
A group day care facility includes any facility which gives day care to seven or more children from three to sixteen years for part of the 24-hour day. Such facilities include a private nursery school or kindergarten, a day care center, day nursery, or any other facility which cares for seven or more children. These may be privately operated or sponsored by a church, social agency, cooperative group of the community or any agency other than the public schools.

Nursery Schools and Kindergartens are educational enterprises for preschool children. The former enrolls three and four-year olds; the latter five-year-olds or those entering school the next year. In all qualified nursery schools or kindergartens there is a teaching staff whose educational background includes graduation from an accredited four-year college with major work in early childhood education. They may be privately owned or sponsored by a community agency. Some are parent-cooperative endeavors; some are laboratory schools attached to universities. Some are for exceptional children - the deaf, blind, mentally or emotionally handicapped. Most nursery schools and kindergartens operate a half day.

Play Groups or Play Schools are usually organized and operated by a group of parents who wish to provide desirable social activities and wholesome play for a small group of children.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

No child shall be admitted until the service has received a physician's report showing:

That the child has been or is in the process of being satisfactorily immunized against smallpox, whooping cough, tetanus, diphtheria, polio and measles unless there is a medical reason why these are not to be done;

That the child over three years of age who was immunized over two years previous to admission shall receive a booster of polio unless contraindicated on medical grounds;

The presence of any condition affecting the general health of the child, any handicap, and shall include suggestions that would be helpful to the service.

(Hearing and vision screening and TB testing should ideally be incorporated into the physician's evaluation, and hemoglobin and urinalysis as indicated.)
The health examination shall be repeated each year as long as the child attends the service.

Health examination regulations shall not apply where parents object to them on religious grounds.

Children should be grouped by age as much as possible both to protect younger and smaller children from roughness of older children and to place appropriate expectations on a given age group in activities and relationships. Desirable numbers for groups should be:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Age Group</th>
<th>Group Size</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>three to four-year-olds</td>
<td>12 to 15 children</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>four to five-year-olds</td>
<td>15 to 20 children</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>five to six-year-olds</td>

All staff members must file a certificate with the director of the center before beginning work, signed by a physician officially licensed to practice medicine, stating he or she has been examined within 90 days of starting work, and is free of any mental or physical illness which might adversely affect the welfare of the children. The examination shall be repeated every year... Wholesome, nutritious foods, handled in a sanitary manner and attractively served, shall be provided in the variety and amounts necessary to meet a child's food needs. Each meal shall be planned to provide about one-third of a child's food needs: for care from three to four hours—light nutritious mid-morning or mid-afternoon snack; for care from five to nine hours—one regular meal and one or more snacks; for care ten hours or more—two meals and one or more snacks.

Attention shall be given to the planning and preparation of special diets for children with health problems as ordered by the physician if such children are in care.

For infants and toddlers:

There shall be no formula preparation at the center. Parents shall provide nursing bottles of milk or pre-packaged formula approved by the doctor.

Every child shall be given milk every day (unless on written order from physician). Solid foods shall be varied each day and include vegetables, fruit, eggs, cheese or meat.

For school-age children receiving before/after school care:

If children are in care for longer than four hours they shall be given a nutritious meal.

Children arriving for care after regular school hours shall be given a nutritious snack.

For children in nighttime care:

Nutritious meals shall be served to children in care during ordinarily mealtime. A bedtime snack shall be served.

6. Special Notes

   50-11-06.6 - 50-11-10.

   Any person, partnership, voluntary association, or corporation owning or operating a home or institution receiving for day care or full-time foster family care for children or otherwise during the calendar year, one or more children under the age of eighteen years shall procure annually from the public welfare board a license so to do. The provisions of this section shall not apply when the children received by such person are related to him by blood or marriage, nor shall it apply to any home or institution under the management and control of the state.

   A day care center is a facility, separate from a family home, which provides care for children on a regular basis.

   The name of the facility shall not determine whether it falls under the licensing for day care. This determination is to be decided by the program and the length of time the program is to cover. Any facility which provides care for more than four hours to the same group of children must be licensed as a day care center regardless of whether it is called a preschool program, head start, nursery school, kindergarten, or another name. . . The day care center must meet the standards for licensing, unless it is operated by a governmental agency other than the county welfare board or the Public Welfare Board.
Since nursery schools are often difficult to differentiate from day care centers, nursery schools shall be defined as group programs for four and/or five year olds which operate on no more than a four-hour basis. If the program is set up to offer a full day's care to a child, it shall constitute a day care center. A nursery school may or may not have a more structured program than a day care center. Therefore, the program alone is not a sufficient basis to differentiate the two.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

Day care centers shall not accept children under three years of age unless the center has been planned specifically for younger children and has been licensed for the care of children under three years of age. Approval of the Administrator of Services for Children and Youth or his appointed representative must be obtained before a center may be licensed for children under the age of three.

Before he enters day care, each child must have immunizations prescribed by the family physician unless objected to for religious reasons.

The day care operator must have a statement from a physician pertaining to the health and immunizations of each child.

If day care is purchased by the county, the child must have medical and dental examinations before entering day care and annually thereafter, unless more frequent examinations are indicated.

There shall be at least one attendant for each ten children between three and five years of age. For children from two to three years, there must be a ratio of at least 1 to 5 and for children under two years a ratio of 1 to 3.

There shall be at least one attendant for each twelve children between five and seven years of age.

There must be a second attendant available for any group no matter how small, so that emergencies may be handled adequately. Volunteers and aids may be used to assist the adult responsible for the group. Teenagers are often very successful in working with younger children when supervised by an adult. However, the ratio stated above must be met by paid staff. Volunteers shall be in addition to this.
4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff.

Staff must understand the needs of children and have a warm and positive feeling toward the children they serve.

The Director of a day care center shall have at least a high school education and, preferably, some additional training in child development, early childhood education, nursing, social work, or a period of satisfactory experience in an approved center.

Before a person is employed in a day care center, and annually thereafter, the individual must have a physical examination including an appropriate check for tuberculosis. The physician must have knowledge of the child care employment contemplated and his report should indicate that the person has no communicable disease or other known physical or mental health problem detrimental to child care. This is to be verified by the prescribed medical report form.

5. Facilities

The Public Welfare Board will take into consideration the recommendations of the State Health Department and the State Fire Marshal in licensing any existing facilities.

The water supply should be from an approved municipal system, or, if from some other source, a sample must be tested and approved by the State Health Department.

Any plans for new buildings or for extensive remodeling of existing structures shall be transmitted to the Public Welfare Board in triplicate for approval. One copy of the plan will be given to the State Health Department and one copy to the State Fire Marshal for recommendations.

The county caseworker shall make a study of the facility. The licensing study shall be forwarded to the area social service center with recommendations concerning licensing. The day care facility should be reevaluated semi-annually, with recommendations concerning relicensing sent to the area social service center before the date the license expires.
For pre-school children, ground floor space is particularly desirable. If any other floor level is used, particular attention shall be given to the adequacy of light and ventilation, temperature control, and accessible safe exits.

There must be a minimum of 35 square feet of play space per child indoors and a minimum of 75 square feet of play space per child outdoors. If the outdoor play space is not large enough for the entire enrollment, the children may be divided into smaller groups and use the outside play area in shifts.

If the outdoor play area is near a busy street, highway, or other dangerous area, it shall be provided with a fence of such construction that the children are protected.

In a full-day day care center the kitchen shall be separate from the play room.

It is recommended that there be one toilet and one lavatory for every ten children up to 20 children. Thereafter, the ratio may be 15 children for each toilet and lavatory.

There must be a telephone in a convenient location within the center.

An individual cot or bed must be provided for each child receiving full day care. For children receiving care for 4 hours or less, individual rugs or mats may be used for a short rest period.

If a child becomes ill during the day, he must be isolated promptly from the other children. If a center has a nurse on the staff and a well-equipped isolation room, the sick child may be cared for at the center. Otherwise, arrangements must be made for the child's care elsewhere.

The facility must provide adequate and nutritious meals and snacks prepared in a safe and sanitary manner. A midmorning and afternoon snack should consist of fruit, raw vegetables, cheese wedges, crackers, or cookies with milk or fruit juice. A noon lunch should consist of at least one of the following: meat, fish, poultry, eggs, cheese, dried peas, or dried beans; raw and cooked vegetables; bread and butter or margarine; fruit or other dessert; and milk. One of the vegetables and/or fruits should be a Vitamin C rich food. Milk served must be pasteurized or obtained from a dairy approved by the Dairy Commissioner or by the Health Department. Meals in a full day program must include a morning snack, a hot lunch and an afternoon snack for all children. Children whose period of care covers two normal meal hours, must be provided two full meals in the day care center.

6. Special Notes

The center must have adequate liability and fire insurance.

Any person wishing to operate a day care facility must request licensing from the county welfare board.

Social service is an integral part of day care service and must be available from the county welfare board staff to parents desiring this service when considering day care for their children regardless of their financial circumstances.

The county welfare board has the further responsibility of carrying on a program of community education within the county to inform residents of the law requiring licensing of day care, the benefits derived from licensing, and the procedure to follow if licensing is desired. If there are homes or centers known by the county welfare board to be providing day care, the county welfare board must inform the operators of the law providing for licensing.

including tuberculosis, verified either through negative tuberculin skin test or by negative chest x-ray and has had the immunizations required by statute for admission to school under section 3313.671 of the Revised Code, except that the age at which infants are required to have such tests or immunizations shall be established by the state department of health. The immunization requirement may be waived by the administrator of a center on a parent's written request for exemption.

The children must be organized in small groups. The maximum number of children per child-care staff member, by age of children is as follows:

- Under eighteen months: 8

Any structure used for the operation of a center shall be constructed, equipped, repaired, altered, and maintained in accordance with applicable provisions of State laws (Chapters 3781 and 3791, Revised Code) and regulations of the Board of Building Standard for the safety and sanitation of new and existing structures used for this purpose. Existing structures used as child day-care centers are subject to applicable enforcement and appeal procedures prescribed in Chapters 3781 and 3791. The Board of Building Standards shall prescribe minimum structural conditions, sanitary equipment, light and ventilation requirements, fire prevention measures, and any other minimum safety and sanitation standards pertaining to construction, equipment, and maintenance of such centers as necessary for the health and safety of the children receiving care.

For initial license and renewal, the center must have from the board of health of the health district in which it is located or the state department of health a current license permitting the preparation or serving of meals or lunches, as provided in Chapter 3732 of the Revised Code and any relevant regulations adopted by the public health council. If a meal is to be served to children other than children of the owner or administrator, the preparation and serving of food in a child day-care center is included in the meaning of "food service operation" under section 3732.01 of the Revised Code, whether or not a consideration is received for such food.

For initial license and renewal, the state fire marshal or the fire chief or fire prevention officer of the municipal corporation or township in which the center is located must have inspected the center within the preceding year and have found the center to be free from conditions dangerous to the safety of children.

Oklahoma Statutes Annotated 1961, Title 10, Sections 401-410.

Standards for Day Care Centers and Family Day Care Homes, (DISRS), 1971.

"Child care facility" . . . shall mean any public or private institution, child placing agency, foster family home, group home, day care center, or family day care home, providing either full-time or part-time care for children away from their own homes, and which is owned or controlled by a political subdivision, a corporation, an unincorporated organization or association, or individual.

"Day care" . . . shall mean the provision of care and supervision of a child who resides in its own home or with relatives but is in the care of another person for part of the day who is conducting a family day care home or persons conducting a day care center.

A "day care center" means a licensed or approved facility which provides care and protection of six or more children for a part of the twenty-four hour day. The definition of . . . day care center does not include informal arrangements which parents make independently with neighbors, friends, and others, caretakers in the child's own home, and does not include nursery schools, kindergartens, or other facilities of which the purpose is primarily educational, recreational, or medical treatment. (10 O.S.A. 1961 sec. 402).

A Day Care Center is further defined (in the standards) as meaning a facility which provides care for six or more children for six or more hours of the 24 hour day.

"Child" or "minor". . . shall mean any person who has not attained the age of eighteen (18).
The provisions of the licensing act shall not apply to licensed hospitals, maternity homes, to schools under the supervision of the Department of Education, the home of a child maintained by his parent, stepparent, grandparent, brother, sister, uncle or aunt.

The provisions of the act shall be equally incumbent upon all private and public child care facilities. Provided, that any institution furnishing full-time care for children for ten (10) years prior to the effective date of this act shall, upon written notification to the Department, be exempted from the provisions of this act, if it is not receiving any state or federal funds for furnishing food, clothing, shelter, or upkeep for such children; and provided, further, that any institution being operated by a war veterans' organization and furnishing full-time care for children on the effective date of the act shall be exempted from the provisions of this act, regardless of whether it is receiving state or federal funds.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

In general, care of infants away from their families should be discouraged, but if deemed necessary, it shall be in a situation where all the child's needs can be consistently met by one individual, rather than a series of persons and where the child can have an opportunity to develop a strong, warm relationship with one mother figure.

It is recommended that, within a month after entry, day care directors require parents or guardians to submit to the day care director a statement from a duly licensed physician indicating that:

a. The child has had a recent physical examination.

b. The extent of his immunizations. If immunizations have not been completed, they must be and evidence so presented; and

c. Any special needs.

Upon enrolling a child in a day care center, parents or guardians shall sign an authorization for the director to administer prescribed medications.
There must be an overall total number of staff members to correspond with the chronological age of the children present. Recognizing that all children do not develop at the same rate, the following guide for staff ratio need not necessarily be the guide for exact grouping of children:

- Infants in cribs—at least 1 staff member to 4 children
- Toddlers (Approximate age 10 months to 2 years)—at least 1 staff member to 6 children
- 2 years up to but not including age 3—at least 1 staff member to 8 children
- 3 years up to but not including age 4—at least 1 staff member to 12 children
- 4 years up to but not including age 6—at least 1 staff member to 15 children
- 6 years and over—at least 1 staff member to 20 children

When a day care center gives care to mixed ages, there shall be a ratio of one staff member to eight children. No more than two of these children may be infants or children who require special care.

There should be no more than the following number of children in one group:

- Infants and Toddlers—8
- Two and three year olds—15
- Four year olds—20
- Five year olds—25

An adult staff member shall be present at all times and provision shall be made for a substitute adult staff member at all times to care for children in an emergency situation.

Construction and Fire Safety Standards with which day care centers must comply provide that there must be a minimum of one staff member, for each floor, on duty at all times.
4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

The day care center shall be sufficiently staffed in order to provide adequate programming for said center.

All staff members must be of good character and be equipped by education, training, and/or experience for the work they are to perform.

All teaching and supervisory staff must be high school graduates or have an equivalent of education and experience—substitute 1 year of experience in group care of pre-school children for 1 year of high school with maximum substitution of 2 years. It is desirable that all staff members working with children add to their knowledge of child development when and where feasible, such as extension courses, institutes, workshops, and various reading materials concerning the field of child development, education and training.

No claims as to standards of care or specialized service shall be made or placed in advertisements unless the center has staff members who are professionally qualified to offer such specific services.

There shall be adequate staff to carry out the necessary clerical, housekeeping and maintenance responsibilities. Maintenance staff—cooks, maids, custodians—must be able to read and write. Such persons may be used as substitute helpers if their personal qualifications and duties permit.

All staff members must possess adequate physical and emotional health. A report of an annual physical examination by a duly licensed physician in the state of Oklahoma is recommended for each person who works in a day care center.

Report of a physical examination by a duly licensed physician in the state of Oklahoma shall be required by the Department for each person working in a day care center who is unable to perform her normal duties or if there is evidence that she has a physical, mental or emotional problem. If a question exists, the licensing worker can request this.

In addition to the aforementioned types of staff health reports, the individual personnel record must include report of an annual tuberculin test and a chest x-ray if indicated.
5. Facilities

The day care center shall comply with the Construction and Fire Safety Standards for Day Care Centers as set forth in Appendix 1 of the Standards. Any day care center which operates on a round-the-clock basis may be required to meet other construction standards required in State Adopted Codes, as determined by State Fire Marshal Inspection. This type facility must submit plans to the State Fire Marshal for any new construction, addition, alteration, or major remodeling.

The day care center shall also comply with local fire ordinances and regulations.

Private water supplies and water systems shall meet requirements of the State Department of Health.

Sewage systems shall meet requirements of the State Department of Health.

Food preparation and service shall comply with the standards established by the State Department of Health for public eating establishments except for those day care centers operating in a private home. These facilities shall comply with all provisions pertaining to public eating establishments except the following:

1. Commercial three compartment sinks shall not be required. Three suitable compartments or containers including the kitchen sink shall be provided to be used exclusively for the dishwashing, rinsing and sanitizing procedure. Domestic type home dishwashers shall be permitted when installed and operated according to the manufacturer's recommendations.

2. Self-closing doors shall not be required on toilet room doors.

3. Handwashing lavatory facilities in the bathroom shall be deemed convenient.

Additions to and major alterations to an existing structure, or conversion of an existing building must conform to "New Construction" standards set forth in Construction and Fire Safety Standards for Day Care Centers.

Before issuing a license, the Department shall investigate the activities and standards of care of the applicant and if satisfied that the applicant meets the requirements as provided in the (licensing) act, a license shall be issued.
The Department shall have authority at any reasonable time to investigate and examine into the conditions of any child care facility in which a licensee receives and maintains children.

The Department of Health may visit any licensee at the request of the Department to advise on matters affecting the health of children and to inspect the sanitation of the buildings used for their care.

The State Bureau of Investigation, or other agency performing the duties of State Fire Marshal, may visit any licensee at the request of the Department to advise on matters affecting the safety of children and to inspect the condition of the buildings for their care.

Only ground or first floor space may be utilized in caring for children with the following exceptions:

(1) A warm, dry, properly ventilated basement may be used for short periods of time as an accessory play space if adequate provision is made for fire prevention and protection.

(2) Upper floors may be used:
   (a) If adequate provision of fire prevention and protection is made.
   (b) If all other safety provisions are provided such as stair rails, stair gates, and secure window and door screens.

There shall be minimum indoor space of 35 square feet of floor area per child (50 square feet recommended) exclusive of hallways, bathrooms, kitchen and space occupied by furniture not for the children's use. This applies to centers starting or expanding after July 2, 1970.

There shall be outdoor play space of 75 square feet per child (100 square feet recommended). This applies to centers starting or expanding after July 2, 1970. The outdoor play area shall be fenced and free from hazards.

All quarters occupied by children shall be adequately heated, lighted, and ventilated. The recommended temperature is 68°F. maintained at height of children. The recommended lighting is 25-35 foot candle power. Rooms should be relatively free from moisture condensation.
Bathroom facilities shall be suitable, adequate, and easily available to the children. At least one toilet and one wash bowl for every 10 children is required for new or converted facilities. Potty chairs may supplement toilets for emergency purposes.

There shall be a telephone located within the center. Pay telephones are not acceptable.

There shall be an individual cot or bed with individual bedding for each child who remains more than five consecutive hours in the day care center. Each infant and toddler shall be provided with a separate crib and/or play pen. The mattresses and play pen pads shall be covered with waterproof, washable material.

There shall be a room or space available in which children who become ill in the day care center may be cared for. This space may be used by others when not in use by sick children.

Children remaining in the day care center for longer than a four hour period shall be served a balanced meal which shall provide at least one-third of the child's total daily nutritive requirement. Snacks shall be provided both mid-morning and mid-afternoon when the interval between regular meals is four hours or longer.

Sufficient formula, food, sterilized water, juice, etc., should be furnished by individual parent or guardian. When formula or infant is furnished or prepared by the day care center, it shall be prescribed by a physician and adequate sterilization methods shall be used.

6. Special Notes

There must be provided... safe off-street loading space so that the children are protected from backing cars, from being between cars, and from all traffic hazards.

Where transportation is provided by the day care center, the vehicle used for transportation shall be covered by passenger liability insurance.

With respect to general management of a day care center, it is recommended that adequate liability insurance be provided for children under care as well as for the employees of said center.
With respect to center business organization, the voluntary day care center shall operate under a governing board responsible for the development of policies and the establishment and maintenance of sound financial structure.

General Laws of Rhode Island 1956, Section 40-15-1 et seq.

Any person who receives for the purpose of nursing and care apart from their parents or guardian, at one (1) time, three (3) or more children not of common parentage, under the age of four-ten (14) years, for a period or periods exceeding four (4) but not exceeding twelve (12) hours, irrespective of compensation or reward, shall be deemed to maintain a day nursery. (GL §40-15-1).

Licensing provisions shall not apply to persons caring for relatives, to institutions receiving aid from a town, city or the state, or maintained by a town, city or the state, to institutions with special charters, or to charitable institutions established in this state on April 30, 1948.

As further defined in the Standards, the terms day care center and day nursery, used interchangeably, refer to a group facility in which three or more children, not of common parentage and from three to fourteen years of age, spend more than four hours of the day. The Center is a setting which offers group day care services to children away from their homes, their parents or guardians.
Here the young child can play, work, and grow under the guidance of a trained teacher. The older child in his after school hours and vacation days is guided by an understanding group leader.
The facility is operated by a Director, professional who is responsible for the Center which is regularly inspected and appropriately licensed.
Day Care Services include comprehensive and coordinated direct care and protection; offer educational, social, health and nutritional opportunities to children; and involve parent participation. Directed toward serving the best interests of both children and their parents, the services help to strengthen family life.

A nursery school is a facility operated by an individual, or a voluntary, independent or public agency which meets the needs of the pre-school child, giving opportunity for developmental experiences, child guidance, parent education, and family consultation services. When operating less than four hours a day, a nursery school is under the jurisdiction of the Department of Education and its operation must seek approval from that Department.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

A child must have passed his third birthday to be eligible for participation in the program of the day care center.

Results of a pre-admission health examination show the child to be free from evidence of contagious disease and explain his mental and physical handicaps if any. . . . The examination may be made by the child's own pediatrician, by a community health clinic, or by the center's physician. Pre-admission medical history is completed by the parent including proof of immunization and vaccination against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, measles, poliomyelitis, and smallpox.

All children except the exceptional child should possess sufficient motor control and coordination to care for their basic bodily needs.

Children with handicaps should be admitted only after a team of specialists recommend they try group day care in this setting.

Other criteria for admission should include:

- Need for the day care service is clearly indicated and is in the best interests of the child and his family;
- Expected regularity in the child's attendance;
- Parental willingness to meet the cost of his appropriate share for the day care services offered.
Staff, in addition to the head teacher, should approximate the following ratio:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Age of Children</th>
<th>No. of Children</th>
<th>Assistant Teachers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3 years</td>
<td>7 to 10</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4 years</td>
<td>10 to 15</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5 years</td>
<td>15 to 25</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

If the maximum number of children in a category is exceeded an additional responsible adult must be provided. A second responsible adult should be readily accessible in case of need.

Volunteers and other auxiliary personnel must not be included as "staff" to help with the staff-child ratio.

There must be at least two adults on the premises at all times.

4. Professional and Other Qualifications of Staff

There must be a nucleus of people who work full time...who will utilize the supplemental help of part time specialists...who are needed only for a fraction of the day or week, but whose skills are necessary to the well-being of children.

In addition there may be other personnel: (1) services purchased as needed from an established agency (child welfare, family service, mental health agency); services purchased on a fee basis (psychological testing); and volunteers who give of their time because of their concern for children.

Director. One who has had experience in administration and professional preparation in a field appropriate for those who work with small children such as social work, education or nursing. The Director and Head Teacher may be one and the same person if all qualifications for both positions can be met.

Head Teacher. There must be in each day care center a head teacher who is professionally prepared in early childhood education and experienced in working with young children. Minimum requirements for this position shall be: A bachelor's degree from an accredited college with preferably a major in early childhood education. Substantial credits in courses dealing with early childhood education plus considerable teaching experience with young children, may be presented in lieu of the bachelor's degree if plans have been initiated for the completion of the minimum requirements within a five-year period.
If this staff person is in charge of a group of children she must have full-time assistance of another duly appointed adult.

Assistant Teacher. The assistant teacher should have an associate degree with courses in early childhood education or child growth and development.

Minimum requirements shall be at least a high school education; a minimum of two years of higher education or equivalent life experiences.

Social Worker. Casework service, an integral part of day care programs, is particularly concerned with admittance, refusal, and termination of services to the child; continuing contact with his parents to coordinate and extend the work of the program; and fee setting so that financial arrangements are in accord with family's ability to pay. The social worker should meet these requirements—a master's degree from an accredited school of social work, preferably with experience, and/or orientation in child welfare or early childhood education.

Minimum requirements for a caseworker shall be a bachelor's degree preferably with a major in sociology, psychology, or early childhood development, preferably with social work experience in a recognized social agency. Social service may be part of the regular day care center service or it may come through some other agency in the community.

Day Care centers with limited staff and small pupil enrollment may not need a full time caseworker, yet all centers benefit greatly from social service. It is recommended that in selecting staff, a person with knowledge and experience in the helping professions be assigned the duties usually assumed by the caseworker; or that arrangements be made with other agencies to share the service of a social worker.

Consultants. The agency shall call on trained personnel from other fields as needed: Medicine, Nursing, Nutrition, Education, Psychology.

The service of a nutritionist, the center's consultant physician, and/or nurse should be used in planning the nutrition program.

Kitchen and Maintenance Staff. All persons selected for employment should in character and personality be appropriate for a day care program. In addition, they should be able to maintain high standards in carrying out their specific assignments.

(The person who serves as custodian should do his work when the children are not present.)
Clerical Staff. The clock-hours of employment will depend on the size of the agency. Personnel employed for clerical work should give evidence by training and experience that they can be held responsible for maintaining records, handling funds, and performing other office duties assigned to them.

Aides. Manpower shortage gives opportunity for a day care center to employ persons who lack professional skills but who are able to relate successfully to children. Whether a volunteer or not, an aide should work directly with a designated professional who always retains the responsibility for the welfare of the children with whom he is charged.

Volunteers. Volunteers and other auxiliary personnel may be used at the discretion of the agency.

In the interest of the health and safety of all who participate in a day care program, every employee must conform to all regulations set by the State Department of Health and the Department of Social and Rehabilitative Services which apply. More specifically:

At the time of original employment every employee must have a complete physical examination, including chest x-ray, smallpox immunity, and any other test required by the Center's physician.

The employee must file with the Director documentation signed by a licensed physician that he is in good health, free from contagion, and will not be a source of contagion.

Every employee must have a yearly physical examination and chest x-ray, and file evidence of his continuing good health.

5. Facilities

Site selection considerations should include:

- Zoning ordinances concerning the location; away from industrial plants and traffic dangers.

- Availability of community facilities including fire and police; or in the absence of public facilities others approved by public health and police authorities.

The building(s) must meet all specific requirements of the State Fire laws and preferably should be of fireproof construction.

The kitchen must meet adequately the health, fire, and building laws.
The center must comply with all rules and regulations established by local and State authorities for the health and safety of children. In setting up its health plan local and State regulations must be observed by the day care center.

The building must be approved by the State Fire Marshal, State Health Officials, local fire chief, and local building inspector. All their recommendations must be met before a day care license can be granted.

Children and staff must participate in monthly fire drills as directed by state fire laws.

... Individuals or groups proposing...to make major changes in existing facilities must consult with the licensing agency during the early stages of their planning.

Day care center inspections are conducted by Child Welfare Services and fire, health and building authorities. When the formal application and statements of approval (i.e., fire, health, building) have been received, an investigation is made by the designated Child Welfare Services official. If the designated official approves a day care center a license will be issued. Prior to expiration of the license, renewable annually, a Child Welfare Services official will make arrangements for the annual re-evaluation visits. Following the renewal study made by the several inspectors (fire, health, building) and the receipt of all the re-approval documents, a new license will be issued.

Day care centers are subject to semi-annual review by the State Fire Marshal, local fire chief, local building inspector, and sanitary inspector.

Rooms occupied by pre-school children must be on the ground floor.

At least 35 square feet of floor space (5' x 7') is required for each child in the activity rooms. This is exclusive of storage areas, cloakrooms, bathrooms, isolation area, office, halls and kitchen.

Outdoor play space is an essential, especially for children in city day care centers... There must be at least 75 sq. ft. for each child... There must be a fence at least four feet in height around the outer boundary to protect children from hazards. Gates must be secured.

Rooms should be well-lighted; adequately ventilated without drafts; and dry.
There should be at least one-fourth as much window as floor space; adequate artificial lighting (20 to 35 ft. candle power); temperature at least 72°F. at the level of the children's height, with heat constant; and a minimum of 300 cu. ft. of air space for each child.

When children remain for meals a separate unit must be provided exclusively for food preparation. The kitchen should preferably be on the ground floor, reasonably near the classrooms, and large enough for the number of children and adults to be served. If it is to be shared after hours with other groups safeguards for food supplies, dishes and cleanliness must be carefully worked out with the licensing agency.

The day care center must be adequately equipped with toilet and handwashing facilities, located on the same floor as the children, preferable adjacent to each classroom, and for the exclusive use of the children. There must be one flush toilet 12 to 14 inches from floor, and one washbowl without stopper 24 inches from the floor, for each ten children registered. There must be a minimum of two in each center. Staff must have separate facilities, near the teacher's rest area or the administration office.

There must be a telephone in the day care center.

Individual washable cots, preferrably the stacking type, must be provided for children on the premises more than four hours.

An isolation space must be provided for the child who becomes ill. Not used by other children, this area must be located where the child can have the supervision of a staff person.

A child who spends five to eight or more hours in the day care center needs a substantial part of his total daily food intake during his stay. That is, a major part of his daily food needs must be provided in the mid-morning snack, usually a hot lunch, and the mid-afternoon snack. In some centers it may be desirable to serve breakfast in addition. Morning snack should be simple and nourishing; served at one and one-half hours before the noon meal; and consisting of fruit juice (preferably citrus), pieces of fresh fruit or raw vegetable sticks, and a plain cracker or cookie. Sweet drinks and candy must not replace foods needed for growth. Afternoon snack should be more substantial than the morning snack, and may include a glass of milk, a bread and butter or other simple sandwich, or plain crackers or simple cookies. (Milk should be homogenized. Dried milk or powdered milk must not be used for drinking purposes.) Noon meals must be nutritionally balanced and usually hot.

   Any vehicle used to transport children must carry liability insurance.

Code of Laws of South Carolina 1962, Section 71-231 et seq.

(also In S.C. Code 1962, Rules and Regulations, "Welfare, Public Department.")

Any agency, institution, or family home engaged in the business of receiving children for care and maintenance, either part time or full time, shall be classed a child welfare agency.

Exceptions are (1) the existing (March 9, 1956) agencies operating under established religious denomination except as these agencies voluntarily assume the rights and obligations of this Act; (2) The Children's Bureau; (3) any children's home or institution to which state funds are appropriated.

"Day Care Facility" shall mean and include any agency, institution, center, home, day nursery, nursery school, play school, or other place, however styled and whether operated under public auspices or as a private business, in which are received for temporary custodial care apart from their parents, part of the day or all day or part of the night, and upon any number of successive days one or more children not related to day care family or staff of facility; but the term does not include the day care service of any agency to which State funds are appropriated, nor does it include any kindergarten or school which has as its primary function educational instruction and which operates (1) under the supervision of the State Board of Education or a County Board. of Education, or (2) under a qualified teacher, or (3) less than four hours per day. Provided, however, that any kindergarten or school exempted under this provision may be licensed upon its voluntary agreement to subject itself to the terms and provision of the law relating to child welfare agencies. Day care services owned and operated by established religious denominations may be included only if such facilities voluntarily assume the rights and obligations of the Licensing Act.

A "Child Care Center" may mean or include any home, center, agency, school or place, however styled, where children not related to operator are received for care, apart from their parents whether for compensation, reward, or otherwise, during part or all of the day or night and upon any number of successive days or nights.

A "Day Care Center" is a facility, operated apart from the regular family living quarter, which provides care for children apart from their parents during the day only.

"Adults" shall mean a person 21 years or older.

"Infant" shall mean a child under 2 years of age.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

Within thirty days before admission (preferably a week before admission), each child must be given a thorough physical examination by a physician.

The physical examination shall indicate that there is freedom from communicable disease; no history of recent exposure to communicable disease, and that the child has been satisfactorily immunized or in the process of being immunized against smallpox, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and polio, unless there is a medical reason why these immunizations should not be done.

Tuberculin tests shall be given when history indicates.

Generally group care is not recommended for children under three; however, the ratio of adults to children when grouped by age follows:
Infants (under two years old) - one adult for four to six children.

Two year olds - one adult for six to eight children.

Three year olds - one adult for eight to ten children.

Four year olds - one adult for ten to fourteen children.

Five year olds - or over - one adult for fifteen children.

There shall be a minimum of two adults for any group, however small.

At all times, one adult shall be designated as being in charge.

At no time shall any children be without adult supervision.

Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

The director shall be a mature, competent person who is responsible and who has a knowledge of and sympathy for the needs of small children.

All members of the regularly employed staff shall be qualified adults of good character, who are mentally and physically able to provide good care for children, maintain responsible supervision and stimulate normal development appropriate for the children enrolled. Consideration may be given to the use of a limited number of mature minors (18 years and above) who have had training and experience in child care. At no time, however, may a minor be left alone with the responsibility of the facility and there must be a sufficient number of adults to wisely use the help of a minor.

All staff, whether full or part time, shall submit, before beginning work and annually thereafter, a physician's certificate stating that they are free from any illness which might conflict with the children's interests. The first certificate shall include a report of a serological test by an approved laboratory and of a chest x-ray which was interpreted as showing no evidence of active tuberculosis.
Cooks, food handlers, janitors, maintenance staff, etc., shall secure a health card from the County Department of Health according to the requirements of the South Carolina State Board of Health.

If the facility is operated in a private home, every member of the household shall be expected to have the same physical examination as is required of the staff.

5. Facilities

The facility shall be free of fire hazards and shall conform to the sanitary laws and ordinances of the State, County, City or Town in which it is located.

Toilets are required to be of the flush type unless the facility is located in a rural area, in which case toilets provided shall be approved by the State Department of Health (or county department).

Any changes in the facility or its operation which affect the best interest of children under care shall be reported immediately to the county department of public welfare. If additional space becomes available or other changes made which indicate an increase in the license, the county department may request the State Department of Public Welfare to increase the number of children to be cared for by the facility.

There shall be annual inspections and compliance with the recommendations made by such health authorities and fire authorities who are required or permitted to inspect and enforce health, sanitation, and fire regulations.

Each day care facility shall be studied by a duly qualified representative of the Department of Public Welfare, or by a licensed child placing agency. A license shall be issued or denied on a basis of the review of a study and recommendation sent to the State Department by a County Department of Public Welfare. Annual renewal of the license is contingent upon the yearly evaluation of the facility by the county welfare department. If, upon the review of the evaluation in the State Department, the day care facility meets the basic requirements for licensing, the license will be renewed.
Location shall be in a safe and convenient place which will be:

(1) usually on the first floor,
(2) never above the second floor unless in a completely fireproof building, or
(3) never in a basement room with floor more than three feet below surface. . . When children under three are cared for upstairs, a gate must be provided at the head of each flight of stairs to which children have access.

The facility shall not be overcrowded. Thirty-five square feet of space per child is required, and it should be recognized that a desirable amount is fifty square feet. Kitchen, bath and isolation area must not be included in the thirty-five square feet.

Outdoor play space shall be provided and a minimum of 75 square feet of fenced play space per child is required. . .

Rooms used by the children shall be comfortably heated in cold weather and provisions shall be made for keeping rooms cool in extremely hot weather. The rooms shall be free of dampness and have adequate ventilation.

Adequate natural and/or artificial light shall be provided.

There shall be adequate toilet and washroom facilities easily accessible to playrooms and playground. A minimum standard is one commode and one lavatory or other suitable facility for each eight children. . .

If age of child warrants it and if time spent in group is longer than three hours, there shall be space and equipment so that each child can secure adequate rest and develop good sleep habits. This usually means: a washable cot, crib, bed or suitable sleeping pad for each child. . .

If children are kept overnight the sleeping arrangements should include a bed with comfortable mattress. . .

Space shall be provided for temporary isolation in case of illness. A separate room with at least a day cot is needed and this should be a place not used regularly for other children. It should be ventilated with either a fan or window, preferable a window. After use by a sick child, the linen should be changed and washed, the room thoroughly aired, and the cot washed. This room, when not in use for isolation, might well be used for a child who needs to have a quiet spot and some rest from the group.

The children in a center giving overnight care shall have regular, planned meals and snacks, which are well balanced, appetizing, varied, and sufficient for their nutritional needs.

There shall be spacing of mealtime so that in the 24 hours there are no unduly long periods without food.

If children are cared for at least three hours, but not all day, provision shall be made for snacks and lunches.

   Day-care center shall mean any place, except places under the supervision of any religious organization, operated by a person, society, agency, corporation or institution or any other group wherein are received for pay eight (8) or more children under 17 years of age for group care, without transfer of custody for less than 24 hours per day.

   Any child welfare agency . . . which is under the direct management of an administrative department of the state, a county, or a municipality, or any combination of these three, shall not be subject to license but shall meet the minimum standards of program and care as required of such child welfare agencies. Schools for preschool children under six years of age operated or approved by any county, city, or special school district board of education operating a system of public schools are not subject to the provisions of the licensing law, but must comply with the rules and regulations established by the State Board of Education for schools for children under six years of age.

   Day-care centers exempt from licensing may apply for a license from the Department if they wish to have an official evaluation of their services made in terms of State licensing requirements.

   Although not licensed, these facilities are subject to inspection.
3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

Children under 2 years of age are not permitted in a day care center.

The parent(s) of each child must present a certificate to the day care center, signed by a licensed physician, stating that the child has had a medical examination during the two weeks before or within the week following admission. The certificate must state that the child is free from communicable disease and must give the dates he was immunized, or indicate that he is in the process of being immunized against smallpox, tetanus, whooping cough, diphtheria, poliomyelitis, and measles. This requirement also applies to the operator's own children, grandchildren or other relatives in the day care center. All immunizations must be completed within a three-month period after admission unless there is a medical reason, certified by a physician, why these immunizations should not be made. The physician's certificate must state the presence of any condition affecting the general health of the child, or any handicap, and should include any suggestions that will be helpful in caring for the child. If there is evidence of tuberculosis in the family, a tuberculosis skin test must be made on the child and, if indicated, an x-ray of the chest.

Each child must receive a physical examination annually and at any other time indicated by his general condition. Such booster shots as the individual physician recommends should be given annually.

A teacher must have a full-time assistant within the group whenever the number of children exceeds the maximum in the following schedule:

If school-age children are cared for, it is strongly recommended that they be in separate group supervised by staff qualified to work with this age level.

Because of the many emergencies that occur in the care of young children, there must be adult supervision at all times. Arrangements must be made for a teacher to be able to call a second adult in an emergency without having to leave the group.

Clerical and maintenance staff must not be included in the teacher-child ratio, but may be used as emergency substitutes if their duties and qualifications permit.

If meals are served, the person who is responsible for preparing meals and washing dishes cannot be included in the adult-child ratio while performing these duties.

4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

Persons under 21 or over 65 years of age must not have responsibility for a group of children unless supervised or assisted by a person between these ages.

There must be a director, responsible for staff and program and in charge of the center. There must be an adult designated to substitute in his or her absence. The administrative duties of the director must be considered in determining the number of teaching staff required.

The director should have a bachelor's degree with a major in early childhood education, child development or nursery education. If the director has not had this professional training, he or she must meet the qualifications for teachers.

All teachers must be high school graduate or have an equivalent combination of education and experience, substituting one year of experience in the group care of preschool children for one year of high school, with a maximum substitution of two years.
It is recommended that teaching staff who have not had formal training in early childhood education, child development, or nursery education should attend at least one of the following each year:

(a) Workshop or institute for preschool teachers sponsored by the Department, any local preschool organization, college or university.

(b) Course work, resident or extension, in early childhood education, child development or nursery education at any college or university. The director or board should give each member of the teaching staff the opportunity to attend such training programs. All teaching staff should participate in related professional organizations such as the Tennessee Association on Children Under Six, Southern Association on Children Under Six, National Association for the Education of Young Children, Association for Childhood Education International.

Day care centers which employ or use the services of professional staff such as physicians, nurses, psychologists and psychiatrists must use persons who meet professional standards in their fields. The caseworker must be a graduate of an accredited four-year college or university.

Cooks, maids, and custodians must be able to read and write.

Prior to employment and annually thereafter, all members of the teaching staff must be examined by a licensed physician to determine that they are free from any illness which might interfere with the performance of their duties or endanger the health of the children. The examination must include a tuberculin skin test and an x-ray if indicated. This requirement for medical examination of staff applies also to other adults who are frequently in the day care center including all members of the household.

Staff members who prepare or serve food must obtain an annual food handler's permit from the Health Department.

5. Facilities

All buildings must be approved by the Fire Prevention Division of the Tennessee Department of Insurance and Banking, and by the Department of Public Health.
Bath room facilities must have the approval of the sanitarian of the local Department of Public Health. There must be at least one flush toilet and one hand-washing facility. If the day care center has no flush toilet, the special approval of the sanitarian of the Health Department must be obtained.

Drinking water must be from a source approved by the Health Department.

Eating, drinking, cooking and other utensils used in the storage, preparation, and serving of food must be washed in warm water with soap or detergent, and subsequently treated by immersion in boiling water at a temperature of not less than 212°F. or by a hot water rinse with subsequent immersion in bactericidal solution approved by the Tennessee Department of Public Health.

The Commissioner of the Department of Public Welfare, based upon a study by a representative of the Department, together with written reports of inspections made by the State Department of Public Health and the State Fire Marshal, will determine whether a license will be issued. The statute provides that it shall be the duty of the Department, through its duly authorized agents, to inspect at regular intervals without previous notice all child welfare agencies...within the State.

Ground or first-floor space is desirable for children. A well-ventilated and lighted basement may be used if approved by the Department of Health and the Fire Prevention Division of the Department of Insurance and Banking. Second story space may be used if it has fire prevention clearance.

The indoor playrooms must have sufficient floor area available for play. For each preschool child there must be 30 square feet of floor space occupied only by the children's play material, equipment and furniture. Fifty square feet is desirable. Kitchen, bathrooms, halls used as passageways, family bedrooms and floor space occupied by permanent built-in cupboards must not be considered as floor space available for play.
TENNESSEE

(School-age children spend more time outdoors than preschoolers. They take more excursions and when indoors tend to work and play in closer contact with each other. They do need ample outdoor and indoor space.) If less than 30 square feet of indoor play space is provided for school-age children, special permission must be obtained from the Department.

The outdoor play area provided for the day care center must contain at least fifty square feet of usable play space per child in any group using the playground at one time. One hundred square feet is recommended. Any area which contains garbage pails, drainage ditches, or like hazards must be fenced so that children cannot come in contact with them. If there is a traffic hazard, adequate fencing must be provided to prevent children from running on driveways, streets or highways. If the play yard is not subject to traffic hazards, a hedge or an informal type of boundary can serve as a fence.

Each group of children must have a designated area. This can be a room or a series of rooms. If one large room has enough floor space and is used for two groups, it must be divided by some means, such as screens, so that each group has a place of its own.

Rooms used by children must be well ventilated and lighted. Window space must be equal to at least 10 per cent of the floor area except in rooms which are air conditioned and which have artificial light amounting to at least 25- to 35-foot candlepower. Windows must be openable unless the room is air conditioned.

All rooms used by the children must be adequately heated. A temperature of not less than 68°F is recommended.

There must be a telephone for use in emergencies.

There must be individual cots or beds, sheets, and a blanket for each child who remains for more than five hours in a day care center. These must be kept in a sanitary condition. Beds used by family members must not be used by children. Children may take a midmorning rest on rugs or mats if each child has his own and it is kept in a sanitary condition.
Space must be provided for children requiring isolation in case of emergency illness or when a child needs to be by himself. It must contain a cot, bedclothes, and play equipment which can be easily sterilized, and must be located where it can have constant supervision by a staff member.

For children in the center four hours or longer, a noon meal and one snack must be provided to meet one-third to one-half of the daily food needs of the child. For those in the center longer than eight hours, the food needs of the child must be furnished in one meal and two snacks. It is recommended that children who have had no breakfast at home be served food soon after they arrive.

Each meal must be well balanced and planned to provide approximately one-third to one-half of the day's food requirements for children and must include one cup of milk, one to two ounces of meat or alternate (fish, poultry egg, cheese, dried beans, peanut butter), a combination of fruits and vegetables amounting to 3/4 cup, and one serving of enriched or whole grain bread or cereal. All milk used must be pasteurized.

6. Special Notes

Insurance to protect children and operators in case of accidents should be provided.

Every nonprofit day care center must have a governing board which is broadly representative of the community it serves.

Additional requirements are prescribed for use in licensing centers for mentally, physically or emotionally handicapped children. These are contained in Day Care Standards.

7. Political Subdivisions with Separate Licensing Regulations
September 1971 standards, applicable to both commercial and non-profit day care centers, supersede those current during the conduct of Day Care Survey 1970 which addressed each type of facility separately. The following summary, as noted below, covers both the current and superseded standards.

2. Legal Reference

Texas Civil Statutes (Vernon) Article 695c, Section 8(a).

Minimum Standards for Day Care Centers, (DPW).

A day care center is any place maintained or conducted under public or private auspices, without profit, which cares for more than six (6) children during a part of the twenty-four (24) hours of the day. (Tex. Civ. Stat. (Vernon) Art. 695c, § 8(a), l(c)).

The 1971 Standards further define a nonprofit day care center as one that has received a certificate of incorporation as a nonprofit corporation from the office of the Secretary of State, Texas and/or one that has received tax exempt status from the Internal Revenue Service.

A commercial day care center is any place maintained or conducted, for profit, under public or private auspices which cares for more than six (6) children during a part of the twenty-four (24) hours of the day. (Tex. Civ. Stat. (Vernon) Art. 695c, §8(a), l(d)).
Child-caring institutions and agencies which are owned and operated by the State are exempt from the licensing and regulatory provisions of the licensing act except that this provision shall not prevent the State Department of Public Welfare, or the Board which controls a State-owned child-caring institution or agency, from requesting the State Department of Public Welfare, or an Advisory Board composed of the Executives of Licensed institutions, to give counsel, to be expressed in a written opinion, on any matter which might contribute to the efficiency of said institution or agency, and hence might be in the public interest.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

Commercial Centers

Each child must have a licensed physician's signed and dated statement (current within one week before the date of child's admittance to the center) and renewed annually, certifying the child is free of infectious and contagious diseases, and indicating any special conditions (such as allergies, special diets, restrictions on physical activities, or specifications on medications) which the physician feels will be helpful to the day care director in care of the child. Required immunizations include diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, smallpox and polio vaccine, and dates thereof will be verified by a statement signed by a licensed physician. If these have not been obtained prior to the child's enrollment, they must be started within one week of admittance unless the child's physician recommends to the contrary in writing.

The medical statement shall specify the presence or absence of any disabling conditions affecting the child's participation in group activities.

Each day care center shall have a pre-admission conference with the child's parents or guardian, and an agreement shall be reached at such conference regarding factors relating to services to be provided, fees therefor, etc.

There shall be a plan for grouping the children. When there are enough children in the same age group to have more than one group, placement shall take into consideration not only chronological age, but physical, mental, emotional and social development.
The ratio of child care staff to children shall be as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Age of Children</th>
<th>There Shall Be</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Under 2 yrs.</td>
<td>1 adult to 4 children</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>18 mos. to 3 yrs.</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 yrs. to 3 yrs.</td>
<td>1 adult to 8 children</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3 yrs. to 4 yrs.</td>
<td>1 adult to 12 children</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4 yrs. to 5 yrs.</td>
<td>1 adult to 15 children</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5 yrs. to 6 yrs.</td>
<td>1 adult to 18 children</td>

<td>1 adult to 25 children</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

(Own children up to age 14 are included in this staff-child ratio, if they are under care in the center.)

In connection with above staff ratios, use the age of the youngest child in the group to determine which ratio must be met.

In considering the above-outlined ratio of supervisory staff to children the factors enumerated below are mandatory:

a. If there are 50 or more children enrolled in the day care center, the jobs of director, cook, and domestic are full time jobs (defined as a minimum of 8 hours in an all-day program). Only one director may be considered a part of the child care staff.

b. If there are 30 through 49 children enrolled in the day care center, the jobs of full time domestic and cook can be considered as 1/2 staff member each in the staff-child ratio. The director may be considered a part of the child care staff.

c. If there are 7 through 29 children enrolled in the day care center, there must be a domestic employed at least 3 hours (for an all-day program) in the center, doing domestic work. The director may be considered a part of the child care staff.

This staff ratio shall be maintained at all times during hours of care for children.

Any and all members of the child care staff shall be relieved of all other duties during hours of care or supervision of the children. There shall be a qualified child care staff member readily available to substitute for the regularly assigned staff members in each group. Such person shall be on duty when the regularly assigned staff member is away from the group, for no matter how short a period of time, whether indoors or out.

A separate program shall be planned when there is group day care for infants. In arranging such a program, plans shall be made for the infants to have consistent day care daily by the same mother substitute.

Non-profit Centers

It is strongly recommended that no child under four (4) years of age be cared for outside a group-care program unless he is being received for short-time care while another plan is being worked out. Group care for infants should not exceed temporary periods of from one to three months.

The study made preceding admission shall include a medical examination with required routine tests and laboratory work, a social study and an indication of the child's mental capacity.

Before a child is admitted the day care center shall have the report of a medical examination by a licensed physician. The examination must include immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, and other immunizations and tests recommended by the local health authorities. Any child not so immunized shall be required to obtain such immunizations within thirty days of admission.

The day care center shall not admit a child whose needs it obviously cannot meet, nor a child whose presence would be undesirable or dangerous for other children in the center.

The employees of the day care center, whose time is wholly devoted to child care and without other responsibilities, shall number at least 1 to every 10 children over 2 years of age and 1 to every 4 infants under 2 years of age. This ratio shall be maintained at all hours the children are given care.

No day care center shall offer at the same time full-time care and care for part of the day, unless entirely separate facilities are set up and both types of licenses are granted.

1971 Standards

The day care center shall keep an individual medical record for each child admitted to the center. This record shall contain:
Upon admission, a statement dated and signed by a physician duly licensed to practice medicine, certifying that the child has been currently examined by the physician and the child is physically able to participate in the day care program.

A statement from health personnel that the child has been skin tested for tuberculosis with appropriate follow-up.

A written statement from a physician or health personnel in the administering agency that the child has been immunized at an appropriate age against diphtheria, tetanus, smallpox, rubella, poliomyelitis and other diseases designated by the State Board of Health.

OR

A written statement from a physician or health personnel that immunization against at least one of the aforementioned diseases has been started and that all immunizations will be completed as soon as is medically feasible. A written statement from the physician or health personnel when the immunization cycle has been completed.

OR

A signed affidavit from a physician that in his opinion immunization would be injurious to the health and well-being of the child or any member of his family or household.

OR

A signed affidavit from the parent or guardian that immunization conflicts with the beliefs and practices of a recognized church or denomination of which he is an adherent or a member.

Mentally retarded or emotionally disturbed children shall not be present in a day care center without prior consultation about and written approval of the day care program as it applies to these children by an individual approved by the State Department of Public Welfare. The person(s) legally responsible for the day care center, or his representative, shall notify the State Department of Public Welfare in writing in advance of the admission of a mentally retarded or emotionally disturbed child to a center where no such child is presently enrolled.

The number of children supervised by one child care staff member shall not exceed the following ratio:

A minimum of one staff member for
- 4 or fewer children under 18 months old
- 6 or fewer children at least 18 months old but under two years old
- 8 or fewer children at least two years old
- 12 or fewer children at least three years old
- 15 or fewer children at least four years old
- 18 or fewer children at least five years old
- 20 or fewer children at least six or seven years old
- 25 or fewer children at least eight years old or older.

When there is a combination of ages within a group of children, the age of the youngest child shall determine which of the above staff-child ratios is applicable.

In determining the staff-child ratio, the following shall apply:

Any person under 14 years of age in the center shall be counted as a child.

The director or the assistant director in charge of a day care center shall be counted in the staff-child ratio only during those hours when she gives full attention to supervising children.

Service workers (cooking, housekeeping, maintenance staff) shall be counted as child care staff only during regularly scheduled hours when the service workers give full attention to supervising children (e.g. early morning or nap time).

Staff members working with children shall be free from all other duties except those directly pertaining to the children.

Grouping shall be according to the staff-child ratio, (e.g. 12 or fewer children at least three years old shall be in one group).

Each group shall be under the supervision of one or more specific staff members.
If the child is to take part in water activities, the parent's or guardian's signed and dated permission shall be on file.

A day care center shall not accept children for irregular (drop-in) care unless all of the following conditions are met:

The facility is operating below licensed capacity or spaces are retained specifically for drop-ins.

The staff-child ratio in each group is maintained.

All other licensing requirements are met including a file on the child containing the up-to-date immunization record, emergency form, etc.

Parent or guardian is informed that he must determine in advance if space is available before leaving the child.

4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

Commercial Centers

The director shall be at least 21 years of age and not over 65, unless there is an assistant with the qualifications of a director who is between 21 and 65.

The director shall provide the Department of Public Welfare representative with four references which may be contacted to gain knowledge of the director as to the reputation, character, judgment, understanding of children, and experiences pertinent to child care practices and general attitude towards children.

A specific staff person shall be named as assistant director so that in the event the director must be absent, there is a clear understanding as to who is in charge.

All child care staff members between the ages of 16 and 21 years shall be under the supervision of a qualified adult who is above this age range. (It should be understood that a license cannot be granted where any regularly employed child care staff member is under the age of 16.)

The director in turn shall require references of all employees prior to their employment.

Where swimming pools exist on the premises of the day care center, there shall be a qualified life guard...
All adult members of the household shall be of good character. No adult member of the household may be alcoholic, mentally ill, or mentally retarded, nor may a mentally deficient child member of the household be present if there is danger to other children in the center, nor may any totally disabled person in the household be in the center during the hours the children are in care.

If in the course of a licensing study there is any indication from any source that some member of the household may use alcohol to excess or be mentally ill or mentally retarded, such a matter shall be thoroughly explored by the Department of Public Welfare worker through contacts with references, law enforcement officials, physicians, etc. A license may not be issued if facts so gained indicate the presence of any of these conditions, if in the opinion of the Department of Public Welfare there is danger to other children in the center. A physician, school records, community guidance records, etc., will be used in the instance of a mentally ill or mentally retarded child member of the household to evaluate the possibility of danger to other children in the center.

If there is any question regarding the above factors, the Department of Public Welfare representative shall have the right to request the center to provide professional information on the matters at issue from a recognized authority, such as physician, psychiatrist, etc.

Arrangements shall be made for any totally disabled person in the household not to appear before any of the children who are in care.

All persons working in the day care center shall have a medical examination by a licensed physician prior to employment, annually thereafter, and at any other designated times as needed. As shown by a signed statement of the physician the director and employees shall be in good health and able to care for children, have no communicable diseases, have negative chest x-ray and blood serology and immunization against smallpox within the last five years. In instances where requirements for a food handler's card cover the foregoing requirements this will be acceptable in place of a signed statement by a physician.
Nonprofit Centers

The executive (appointed by the responsible governing body) shall be charged with setting up safeguards for the children's health and welfare.

The executive is responsible for the child's adequate supervision in the center at all times. A responsible person shall be left in charge during any absence of the executive.

A medical examination by a licensed physician, recorded on forms provided by the State Department of Public Welfare, shall be required of each staff member before he or she is employed in a day care center. This examination shall include all the necessary tests to insure the employee's freedom from communicable and infectious diseases, and shall attest to the employee's ability to care for children.

Any person employed in or operating child care centers who handle food must have a health examination indicating that they are free of disease.

Re-examination of the individuals who handle food shall be made as frequently as necessary in compliance with the regulations as set up by the local health department.

All employees handling food shall wear clean clothing, hair nets, and shall keep their hands clean at all times while engaged in their work at the day care center.

6. Special Notes

Commercial Centers

The nonprofit day care center shall have a responsible governing body which shall be one of the following:

A board of local citizens elected or appointed for that purpose,

A religious or charitable organization such as a church, religious order, lodge, veterans' organization, etc.

A public authority.

Day Care Standards and Procedures for Licensing Centers Caring for Groups of Children, (DPW), 1968.

... No day nursery, person, association, corporation, institution, or agency shall provide care and supervision for three or more children under fourteen years of age in lieu of care and supervision ordinarily provided by parents in their own homes, for periods of more than four but less than 24 hours in any one day, with or without charge, without having in full force a license issued by or under the authority of the division of family services.
... Excluded from the licensing provisions is care given to children by or in the homes of parents, legal guardians, grandparents, brothers, sisters, uncles or aunts, or as part of the program of an educational institution regulated by the boards of education of the state, or as part of the program of a parochial educational institution.

The Standards apply to day care centers established to care for children 2 to 14 years in a group of seven or more who are under care for more than four hours and less than twenty-four hours in any one day.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

In general, group day care is appropriate for children between the ages of three to twelve years.

Children between two and three years of age should be accepted only under careful considered circumstances. These include the child's readiness to be separated from his parents for the prolonged period of the day. The greater emotional and physical helplessness and vulnerability of the child under three require more extensive and detailed planning for program and facilities and special selection and greater number of staff. This makes such care more expensive; unless it can be provided adequately, the experience will be detrimental and hazardous to children.

Children under two years of age shall not be accepted for care.

Any child accepted for care must present, at the time of admission, a statement from a licensed physician, certifying that such child was examined and is free from any communicable disease or from any physical or mental handicap which will interfere with his acceptance for day care. Such examination shall have been performed within three days prior to admission. Any health problem (i.e. heart disease, orthopedic defect, allergy, etc.) which in any way may affect the child's care should be stated clearly on the medical certificate.

All children should be vaccinated against smallpox and immunized against diphtheria, whooping cough, polio, and against other diseases as recommended by the family physician.

There shall be at least one teacher for each:

(a) Ten children, two years of age;
(b) Fifteen children, three and four years of age;
(c) Twenty children between five and six years of age; and
(d) Twenty-five children between seven and fifteen years of age. (sic)

When there are insufficient children enrolled to make the above groupings and it is necessary to combine children of various ages, groups may be formed as indicated below, with a teacher for each group.

Children should be grouped according to age and maturity. Experience has proven that the following grouping of children is most beneficial to a child's development and growth:

Not over 10 children, 2 up to 3 years of age in any one group
Not over 10-15 children, 3 up to 4 years of age in any one group
Not over 15-20 children, 4 up to 5 years of age in any one group
Not over 20-25 children, 6 up to 8 years of age in any one group
Not over 20-25 children, 8 up to 12 years of age in any one group

It may be necessary, in the smaller centers, to combine some of these groups because of the range in the ages of the children enrolled. When any of the above groups are combined, the age of the youngest child in the groups should determine the number of children to include in the group. For example, if it is necessary to combine a group of two and three-year olds, then the total of the group should not exceed ten. Likewise, if a group of three and four-year olds is combined, then the total number in the group should not exceed fifteen. This same plan would apply to the combining of any of the other age groups.

In any group day care center there shall be a minimum of two adults, no matter how small, (sic) to ensure that the children are never left without supervision and that emergencies may be handled adequately.

Licensed centers will not be permitted to take "drop-ins" on an hourly basis. A "drop-in" is defined as a child who is not in regular attendance at least one day per week, who does not have a current medical and day care register form on file.

4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

The licensee, or a qualified person designated by the licensee to be responsible for the operation of the center, must be present in the center at all times it is open.

Qualifications for the director and assistants who care for children include:

A reasonable knowledge of the growth and development of children, and of their physical and emotional needs, and of approved methods of handling such occurrences as aggressiveness, withdrawal, temper tantrums, etc., such as might be obtained by a reasonably careful study of such standard publications as published by the United States Children's Bureau, (e.g., The Child from One to Six.)

The director or person in charge must furnish three references regarding their character and ability for such work.

There must be enough individuals, in addition to the teachers, to maintain cleanliness, to keep the plant in a safe and sanitary condition and to do the cooking. Cooks must be able to plan good food service, which includes wise selection of food, planning of good menus, resulting in the serving of well-prepared, tasty, and attractive meals suitable for children.
Centers with fifteen or fewer children may not be required to have additional staff for cooking and housekeeping, provided that the two persons already in the center can adequately supervise the children and perform these other services. The licensing agency shall be the sole judge of this.

Each person caring for the children, preparing the food, or otherwise coming in contact with the children must be of sound physical and mental health, evidenced by certification of a licensed physician according to standards approved by the State Department of Health. Medical examination shall be obtained by a staff member prior to commencing work and not less than once a year thereafter. Persons may be asked to sign a statement authorizing the Welfare Department or its representative to obtain additional information from the examining doctor.

5. Facilities

Each day care center is responsible to investigate and conform to state laws and regulations and local ordinances regarding housing, zoning, sanitation, fire precautions, water supply, etc.

Day care centers must comply with all local ordinances pertaining to the operation of day care centers before a license will be issued by the State Department of Public Welfare.

Regulations on "Food Services" in nursing homes established by the State Division of Health shall also apply to Day Care Centers. These regulations require that:

- Any and all milk, market milk products, ice cream, and other frozen desserts intended for children's consumption shall be obtained only from sources and of a quality approved by the State Department of Agriculture.

- Any and all meat products and canned foods intended for child consumption shall be obtained only from sources approved by the Utah State Department of Agriculture.

Local fire departments and the State Health Department will assist in making these (i.e., housing, fire) inspections. The State Health Department may work in cooperation with local health departments in making inspection of sanitation facilities.
A thorough investigation of the application shall be made securing the information necessary to granting or denying the license.

The Division of Welfare will assign the application for investigation to a member of the State staff or to the local county department of welfare in the county which the applicant intends to operate the day care center.

The department making the investigation shall be responsible for writing to the Division of Health requesting an inspection of the sanitary conditions and standards relating to food.

In communities where there is a city ordinance regarding sanitary and health conditions of a day care center, requests for inspection will be sent to the Division of Health. They will be responsible in working out cooperative procedure with the local health departments and will either make the inspection or obtain a copy of report of inspection made by the local health department and forward to the county welfare department who requested the inspection.

The agency making the investigation shall request the local fire department to make an inspection.

In communities with a local ordinance requiring a license to operate a day care center, the department making the investigation shall be responsible to verify if a local license has been issued.

Licensed day care centers will be under supervision and subject to inspection at any time by representatives of the State Department of Public Welfare and agencies cooperating in the licensing, such as the Health Department and the Fire Department. The State or the county, whichever made the investigation, shall be responsible for determining if the care provided is in compliance with the standards.

First floor space is best. Upper floors may be used only when fire and safety regulations are met. Children under four years of age must be kept only on the first floor. A basement may be used only if it is well ventilated, dry, and properly lighted.

There shall be a minimum of thirty-five square feet of play space for each child, excluding halls, stairs, bathroom and kitchen. The play area must be clear of adult furniture.
There shall be a minimum of forty square feet of outside play space for each child. All outdoor play areas should be easily accessible to the indoor facilities and must be completely enclosed with a secure fence.

If it is not possible to furnish separate playrooms for each group, a single room used should be divided by screens so that the youngest children will not be in constant contact with four and five-year olds. Separate space on playground is also desirable.

Heating, ventilation, and lighting facilities should be adequate to protect the health of the children. A comfortable temperature should be maintained in all rooms occupied by the children. Thermometers shall be at child's level, 24 inches from the floor, and the temperature maintained around 70 degrees.

Window space shall equal at least ten per cent of the floor area; windows should have adjustable shades, artificial light providing at least 20 foot candle power should be available.

There shall be one permanent toilet and one permanent wash basin for every ten children or portion thereof. Where a two-year-old group of children receives care, one portable chair toilet and one portable wash basin may be substituted for permanent fixtures for the group.

Children must have individual cots or beds for rest periods . . . Each bed shall have clean adequate bedding, and for bed wetters rubber sheets or satisfactory substitute must be provided. Beds used by members of the household must not be used by children for rest periods.

No bunk beds with more than two tiers shall be used under any circumstances for the care of children, and children under eight years of age may occupy only a lower bunk. In general, the use of bunk beds is considered inadvisable for safety, convenience, and health reasons.

Space for the isolation of a child who is ill or suspected of coming down with a communicable disease shall be provided near enough to the office or playroom so that the child will be within sight of a staff member and will not feel he is being left alone.
The center shall provide a noon-day meal. Also mid-morning and mid-afternoon supplements which should provide at least one-third of the day's food requirements. Nutritious foods to meet the needs of individual children should be wisely selected and prepared to be tasty, attractive, and retain nutritional values. Only pasteurized milk shall be used.

6. Special Notes

In religious training, the day care center staff must respect the belief of the parents and be observant of the child's training as to holidays, church attendance, diet, etc.

If the center provides pickup and delivery service, it is recommended that any vehicle used for transportation be covered by adequate passenger liability insurance.

If a center complies with all the standards with the exception of some minor aspect of one of the standards which does not adversely affect the care children may receive, the Department of Public Welfare may issue a license.

Minimum Rules and Regulations for Day Care Centers (issued by Vermont Department of Social Welfare) [1970] [Proposed]

A day care facility is any place operated as a business or service on a regular or continuous basis, whether for compensation or not, whose primary function is protection, care and supervision of children under sixteen years of age outside their homes for periods of less than twenty-four hours a day by a person other than a child's own parent, guardian or relative. (This provision includes private kindergartens and nursery schools not under the supervision of the Department of Education.)

The day care center serves groups of twelve or more children. It utilizes subgroupings on the basis of age and special need but provides opportunity for the experiences and learning that accompanies a mixing of ages. Day care centers should not accept children under three years of age unless the care available approximates the mothering in the family home. Centers do not usually attempt to simulate family living. Centers may be established in a variety of places: private dwellings, schools, churches, social centers, public housing units, specially constructed facilities, etc.

The following persons are exempted from licensing provisions relating to day care facilities:

(1) A person providing care for children of not more than two families other than that of the person providing the care.

(2) A hospital or establishment holding a license issued by the department of health, or a person operating a program primarily for recreational or therapeutic purposes, unless the hospital, establishment or person provides services for the care, protection and supervision of children not incidental to its primary purpose in which case subsection (a) shall apply to those non- incidental additional services.
(3) Day care facilities operated by religious organizations for the care and supervision of children during or in connection with religious services or church sponsored activities.

(4) Preschool establishments, attended by children of less than compulsory school age, that are under the supervision of the department of education.

The proposed Minimum Rules referenced above include both State required and Federal Interagency required standards. All facilities, other than those exemptions noted above, must meet the Vermont licensing requirements in order to operate legally.

Both Vermont and Federal Interagency Requirements must be met by all day care facilities receiving federal funds under any of the following programs:

1. Title IV of the Social Security Act
   a. Part A - ANFC
   b. Part B - Child Welfare Services
2. Title I of the Economic Opportunity Act - Youth Program
3. Title II of the Economic Opportunity Act - Urban and Rural Community Action Programs
4. Title II of the Economic Opportunity Act - Part B - migrants and other seasonally employed.
5. Title V of the Economic Opportunity Act - Part B - Day Care Projects

Where the administering agency contracts for services with private individuals, or proprietary day care it must be sure that these are licensed facilities which meet Federal Interagency Requirements.

Since September 1, 1970 the Vermont State Office of Economic Opportunity, Day Care Operations Unit has had responsibility for day care licensing. Licensing responsibility was first acquired by the SOEO under contract with the State Department of Social Welfare, later by transferral through gubernatorial executive order.
(The summary below reflects only the proposed Vermont State requirements.)

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

   Prior to admission a physician must sign a written statement that child is free from communicable diseases, or the medical history must be taken by an R.N. or a P.H.N. ...

   When child enters day care, a comprehensive health evaluation by the family's physician or the staff physician should be provided within a month.

   The administering or operating agency must ensure that each child has had all immunizations appropriate to his age. If this has not been done prior to entering day care, operator should work with parents toward getting this accomplished.

   There must be 2 adults on duty at all times for the first group of 12 pre-school children except during brief periods of rest and relief.

   For each additional group of 9 pre-school children, one additional staff member is required. In no event should the ratio of child to staff exceed 8 to 1.

   It is not recommended that children 2 years old or under be cared for in a center. If there are some this age, there must be one adult for every two infants.

   If after-school care is given which increases the number of children, the licensing authority shall determine whether additional part-time help is needed.

4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

   The director must have had a satisfactory combination of training and/or experience relating to children. Acceptable experience consists of a minimum of one year of experience with groups of children, preferably preschool. The suitability of the Director must be attested to by reliable and satisfactory references.
Directors should attend and allow staff to attend any available workshops or in-service training meetings available in their locality which they think would upgrade their skills in working with children.

The director shall be responsible for having competent staff who have acquired sufficient knowledge of early childhood development and developed skills in working with children through formal training and/or work experience.

Regular staff who assume major responsibilities must be at least eighteen years old.

Aides under eighteen years may assist under supervision.

All staff must have an annual physical examination, or a written statement from their family doctor stating they are in good physical and emotional health. This must include a T.B. patch test or an x-ray.

Consultation should be available from a qualified nutritionist or food service specialist.

5. Facilities

Each Center shall conform in sanitary and safety requirements to local legal ordinances and regulations. In questionable cases, as determined by the licensing agency representative, the advice of a local fire chief or a health official may be required. If neither is available the State Fire Marshal and State Department of Health may be consulted.

Heating equipment shall be in good condition and vented and shall comply with state or local regulations.

Basement are not recommended but if used must be free from dampness, have adequate lighting, heating, ventilation, window space and quick, easy means of exit in case of an emergency. Unfinished attic rooms are not accepted.

Indoor space must be provided in a well-ventilated room with light and sufficient window space to afford sunlight. Play space should be at least 25 square feet per child.
There must be provision for an outdoor play area which provides a safe and adequate space for the children (minimum of 75 square feet per child recommended). The play area must be protected from traffic or other hazards in a manner safe for children. This protection may be a fence or a natural barrier.

The bathroom shall be adequate and easily accessible. One toilet for every twenty children.

Advance planning must be made for the care of a child who may become injured or ill, including supervised isolation and immediate notification of parents.

The facility must provide adequate and nutritious meals and snacks prepared in a safe and sanitary manner. Special diet shall be given to the child only on written permission of the parent or guardian.

6. Special Notes

   Each center shall carry liability insurance for its own protection.

   If transportation is provided for children, automobile insurance with special passenger-carrying permit at limits of bodily injury liability of not less than $50,000/$100,000 and property damage liability of $10,000 must be carried.

   When center is community or agency operated, the governing board has the responsibility of planning and providing services.

   "Special License" may be issued to permit certain exception when it is in the best interests of the children.

   Minimum Standards for Licensed Child Care Centers, (DWI), (adopted Sept. 12, 1967).

   "Child care center" means any facility operated for the purpose of providing care, protection and guidance to a group of children separated from their parents or guardian during a part of the day only except (1) a facility required to be licensed as a summer camp . . . (2) a public school or bona fide educational institution; and
   (3) a school operated primarily for the educational instruction of children from three to five years of age at which children three or four years of age do not attend in excess of four hours per day and children five years of age do not attend in excess of six and one half hours per day.
   (Va. Code 1950 #63.1-195)

   The Standards further define a child care center, oftentimes referred to as a day care center, day nursery or school, as a home or place wherein ten (10) or more children are provided care on a regular basis. Where group care is offered fewer than ten children in a facility other than a private family home, the child care center standards also apply.

   "Child" means any natural person under 18 years of age.

   The following institutions are construed to be within the definition of a child care center.

   The institution is not operated as a part of the program of a college, university, or public elementary or secondary school, or private school meeting the rules and regulations promulgated by the State Board of Education under the provisions of Section 22-115.33, Code of Virginia.
The institution does not qualify as a nursery school, that is a school which is primarily educational in nature which meets the needs of the child of three and/or four years and operates not in excess of four hours per day.

The institution does not qualify as a kindergarten, that is a school which is primarily educational in nature which meets the needs of the child of five years and operates not in excess of six and one-half hours per day.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

Before admission and annually, each child shall have had a physical examination and shall present a physician's certificate of freedom from communicable diseases. If any chronic conditions or defects are present, the record of examination should include recommended diet and/or treatment.

Each child admitted to the child care center shall have had a TB test and shall have been immunized against diphtheria, smallpox, whooping cough, polio, tetanus and measles (Rubeola). In the case of infants below two years of age, the medical statement referred to above shall include a statement from the physician as to the child's immunization status since the timing of immunizations for infants will be a determination of the child's physician.

There shall be competent and consistent supervision of all children. Due to the long hours of operation of the nursery and the necessity to stagger the staff hours, the ratio of the total (supervisory) staff computed on a full-time basis to the total number of children two years of age and older shall not be less than one to ten.

If children under two years of age are given care, there shall be at least one staff member on duty all the time for every three infants under two years of age, such staff to be assigned specifically to care for infants.

Service personnel are not to be included when considering the ratio of child care supervisors or teachers to the number of children enrolled, but may be used as emergency substitutes if their personal qualifications and duties permit.

Regardless of the number of children under care, a minimum of two responsible adults must be present at all times.
4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

Maintenance staff--adequate maintenance help or janitorial service shall be provided to maintain the building and grounds in a safe and sanitary condition.

If volunteers are used, they should be carefully selected and their duties clearly defined.

Public health nurses should be used as resource persons when needed and available.
The child care center shall require of each employee and volunteer who comes in contact with the children and each staff person responsible for preparation and serving of food, a current medical certificate certifying as to his or her good health and freedom from communicable disease based on an examination by a licensed physician, including a chest x-ray and serological test for syphilis. For proposed new buildings or alteration of additions to existing occupancies evidence is required that plans and specifications for the work have been submitted to, reviewed by, and approved by the State Fire Marshal for compliance with the Virginia Fire Safety Regulations. A copy of the Fire Marshal's letter of approval will be considered as satisfactory evidence. With existing buildings, evidence will be required prior to licensure that the buildings or addition or alteration have been inspected to comply with the Virginia Fire Safety Regulations. The child care center must be free from fire hazards as determined through annual inspection, under usual circumstances, by the local fire safety inspection authorities.

Upon receipt of the application the Department will request an inspection and report as to sanitary conditions from the local health department. In order to determine compliance with State Fire Safety Regulations, the Department will request an inspection or a report of previous inspection by the office of the State Fire Marshal. Following these requests, a representative of the Department will make a study of the proposed services and facilities of the applicant. Health and fire inspections and reports will be requested by the Department prior to renewal of license, and the Department will make a study to determine continuing eligibility for license.

There shall be a minimum allowance of 200 cubic feet of air space per child. A separate crib, canvas cot, or slat bed shall be provided for each child and kept in a sanitary condition.

Provision shall be made for a separate room for isolation of children in case of illness.

Minimum Licensing Requirements for Day Care Centers (Washington Administrative Code, Chapter 388-66).

Summary of Minimum Licensing Requirements for Day Care Centers, (DPA), 1970.

"Day-care center" means an agency which regularly provides care for a group of children for periods of less than twenty-four hours.

Facilities which regularly provide care to a group of children during any part of the 24-hour day in a setting other than a family residence are required to be licensed in accord with the regulations governing operation of day care centers.

Exemptions from licensing requirements include:

(a) Nursery schools or kindergartens which are engaged primarily in educational work with preschool children and in which no child is enrolled on a regular basis for more than four hours per day;

(b) Schools, including boarding schools, which are engaged primarily in education, operate on a definite school year schedule, follow a stated academic curriculum, accept only school-age children and do not accept custody of children;

(c) Seasonal camps of three months' or less duration engaged primarily in recreational or educational activities;

(d) Hospitals licensed pursuant to chapter 70.41 RCW when performing functions defined in chapter 70.41 RCW; nursing homes licensed under chapter 18.51 RCW and boarding homes licensed under chapter 18.20 RCW.
(e) Facilities providing care to children for periods of less than twenty-four hours whose parents remain on the premises to participate in activities other than employment;

(f) Facilities approved and certified under RCW 72.33.810 (mentally and physically handicapped);

2. Legal Reference

West Virginia Code 1966, Sections 49-1-1 et seq., 49-2-3 et seq.

Standards and Licensing Requirements for Day Care Centers, (DW): 1965.

"Child welfare agency" means any agency or institution maintained by a municipality or county, or any agency or institution maintained by a person, firm, corporation, association or organization to receive children for care and maintenance or for placement in a family home, or day care center or any institution that provides care for unmarried mothers and their children, but shall not include county shelters established and maintained for the detention of delinquent children or those charged with delinquency.

A day care center, sometimes called a day nursery, has been defined by the West Virginia Department of Welfare as a facility which has as its primary purpose the care and protection of six or more children over two years of age serviced for part of a day away from their parents in a group setting. Increasingly three years is accepted as the minimum age for such group care. A day care center provides a well planned program of stimulating activities for the children or special training programs for the mentally retarded or physically or emotionally handicapped children.

3. Children Eligible, Adult/Child Ratios and Group Size

Each child must have a statement from a physician based on an examination given prior to admission or a re-examination after a three months absence.
The examination report should include health history, a physical examination, and an evaluative statement from the physician including immunizations needed. Day Care centers should require immunization of children against diseases such as smallpox, D.P.T. (Diphtheria, Pertussis, Tetanus), polio and perhaps measles and mumps.

The number of children to be cared for depends upon the adequacy of the facility, space, equipment, program, and especially the quality and number of staff.

There must be one person for every eight children under three years of age and one person for every ten children three to six years of age and one person for every twelve to fifteen children of school age.

Agencies large enough to group children by age grouping may use the following staff member-child ratio as a maximum:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Age Group</th>
<th>Staff to Children Ratio</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2 - 3 years old</td>
<td>1 adult to 8 children</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3 - 4 years old</td>
<td>1 adult to 10 children</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4 - 5 years old</td>
<td>1 adult to 15 children</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5 - 6 years old</td>
<td>1 adult to 18 children</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6 - School Age</td>
<td>1 adult to 20 children</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Staff working directly with children should not have the responsibility of the cooking or cleaning.

It is desirable that there be at least two adult staff members at the center working with the children regardless of the number of children in attendance.

When children are accepted for after school care in a day care center and the total number of children then exceeds that for which the regular staff can give care according to the prescribed standards, an additional staff person must be employed for the school age group, with one person responsible for a maximum of twenty children of school age. If the facility accepts only school age children, the prescribed standards for staff apply in all respects except that each staff person may be responsible for a maximum of twenty children. A minimum of two responsible adults must be available at all times.

4. Professional and Other Qualifications for Staff

The director must be a warm and understanding person who knows the needs of young children, at least twenty-one years of age, mature and competent as an administrator. The director should have had experience with pre-school children and must have a high school education. Directors without a high school education employed in agencies licensed prior to January 1, 1966, will meet acceptable educational requirements. It is desirable that directors attend courses and workshops in pre-school education and child development sponsored by colleges, universities, West Virginia Department of Welfare or other organizations.

All regular staff must be at least eighteen years of age. Part-time staff under eighteen years of age with work permits may be used as aides for staff members, but not left alone with children without adult supervision. Staff members must have a capacity for enjoying children, ability to accept violently expressed emotional feelings without being unduly upset, dependability, and have the ability to handle emergency situations intelligently and quickly.

Preferably, there should be staff specially employed to care for children under three years of age if there are more than two or three children under three years of age.

When possible, a professionally trained caseworker shall be employed by the center, otherwise such services might be secured from other local agencies.

All staff members must submit, when employed and once a year thereafter, a physician's statement based on a recent physical examination that they are free from illness or health conditions which might be detrimental to a child's health. This must include a report of a chest x-ray and laboratory findings when prescribed by the physician.

Public Health Nurses may be used as a resource when available in the local county health department to review and advise on the health program and services.

5. Facilities

Day care centers must meet local and state fire regulations, sanitation regulations, zoning and other ordinances.

All state and local health regulations must be followed in regard to sanitation and diseases.

The toilets and bathing facilities and their use must be approved by the appropriate health department.
Plans for new buildings, additions, or remodeling must be approved by the State Fire Marshal and the State Health Department before construction is undertaken.

Whenever a center builds new buildings, the State Licensing Board must be notified.

Before issuing licenses the licensing board shall investigate the activities and standards of care of the applicant. If satisfied as to the need for the agency, as to financial stability, equipment, good character and intent of the applicant, and that the services are conducive to the welfare of children, a license shall be issued.

The premises and building must be inspected at least once a year preferably by the county health department and certified as meeting sanitation standards.

A fire inspection report by the State Fire Marshal’s office and a health inspection report by the West Virginia Department of Health must accompany both the application for initial license and subsequent applications for renewal.

First floor rooms with low outside windows allowing the children to look outside are preferable for day care programs.

The indoor playspace used by the children for play, eating and sleeping, must include 35 square feet of floor space for each child exclusive of hallways, lockers, laundry, furnace rooms, and that part of the kitchen occupied by stationary equipment.

Outdoor area must provide 100 square feet of safe play space and free from debris such as glass, etc., for each child for both active and safe play. Outdoor play area must be enclosed (fence or wall-nonclimbable) in such a way as to prevent the children from leaving the premises without proper supervision.

Children of different age groups should have separate playrooms. Each group area should have its own toilets, sleeping facilities, and dining equipment.

Playrooms must have exposure to sunlight from one or more sides, and have adequate ventilation, lighting, and proper heating.
There must be one basin and one water waste carriage toilet for every ten children.

There must be individual sheets, blankets and cots for each child, to be used only by that child.

A sick child must be isolated immediately from the group until arrangements can be made for his care away from the center.

Children must be served a regular hot meal supplying one-third of their daily food needs if their attendance covers more than four hours at the center each day. In the full day program, a morning snack must be served pre-school children, also a hot lunch and an afternoon snack.

6. Special Notes

There must be insurance to protect the child and the operator in case of accident.

If the owner of an independent day care center resides outside the geographical boundaries of West Virginia, he must delegate to the director of his day care center, in writing, the responsibility for complete operation and responsibility for the center. A copy of such an agreement must be presented to the State Licensing Board at the time of application for a license is made.

The day care center may be a voluntary welfare agency, operated as a community service, sponsored by a public authority, church, United Fund, civic group, or a private group of individuals. Also applicable to any voluntary welfare agency are provisions relating to articles of incorporation:

A child welfare agency shall not be incorporated in this State unless the articles of incorporation have first been examined and approved by the state department (Department of Welfare). Proposed amendments to such articles of incorporation shall likewise be subject to the examination and approval of the state department.

ALABAMA

1. Licensing Agency and Contact

   Contact: Director, BCW

2. Legal Reference

   Minimum Standards for Family Day Care Homes, (DPS), 1960.

   Foster family day care is care of the child in a family home other than his own for part of the twenty-four hour day. Persons providing care for five or less unrelated children must secure a family day care license from the County Department of Pensions and Security.1/

3. Child Eligibility

   The number and ages of the children that can be cared for in a home depend upon the facilities and space in the home, the skill of the foster mother in dealing with children of different ages and the amount of time that she and other adults in the household can give to the children, and the community resources available for part time supplementary care.

   (In homes in which child care is purchased by the State, the number of children must not exceed five, not more than two of whom may be under two years of age, when the age range of the children is infancy through six years; when the age range is three through 14 years, the number of children must not exceed six. The maximum number of children that may be served includes the family day care mother's own children, infancy through 14 years.)

   Each child should have a physical examination before being accepted for care and evidence should be presented that he is free from communicable disease at that time.

The child should be vaccinated before admission except in cases where a physician considers it inadvisable. If the child is over six months of age and has not been immunized against diphtheria he should have such immunization as soon as possible after admission.

4. Operator Eligibility

The day care mother should be of suitable age and temperament to care for children. She should have a liking for children and an understanding of their needs. She should be capable of handling an emergency situation promptly and intelligently.

She should be in good health and have no disqualifying mental or physical handicaps. Upon offering to serve children through foster day care, she should have a recent physical examination and present evidence that she is in good health and capable of caring for children. The physical examination should be made twice a year.

5. Facilities

The dwelling should conform to state and local fire and sanitary regulations. No rooms used for the care of children should be located so that the floor is below street level.

During winter months a temperature of 70 degrees Fahrenheit should be maintained in all rooms occupied by children.

A safe and sanitary outdoor play space should be provided, free from conditions which may be dangerous to the life or health of children.

Individual beds or cots should be provided for all children.

If more than one child is in the home the arrangement should be such as to permit temporary isolation in case of illness.

The child's diet should be planned on the basis of knowledge of what the child gets at home, so his total food requirements will be met.

Family Day Care Licensing Regulations (Department of Social Welfare Circular Letter #2446. Aug. 31, 1970). The purpose of the amendments transmitted by the Circular Letter is primarily to bring family day care licensing regulations into conformity with federal interagency regulations. These regulations will apply to all foster homes whether the federal funding is provided in the care of the child or not.

Family Day Care Homes - Family homes, non-institutional in character, which provide day care only, with or without compensation, for:

a) not more than five children, including the family day care mother's own children through the age of sixteen, when the age range is infancy through six.

b) not more than six children, when the age range is three through sixteen, including the family day care mother's own children through the age of sixteen.

A home may be licensed to care for children ranging in age from infancy through six or for those children three through sixteen. An exception to these age groupings may be allowed when siblings are placed in the same home; however, the total number of children in the home must not exceed the requirements as outlined above in a) and b).

3. Child Eligibility

In homes licensed to care for infants, at no time can there be more than two children under two in the home, including the day care mother's own children.
Every child admitted shall have a physical examination within two weeks after admission unless he has had a complete physical examination within a month prior to his admission. The appropriate immunizations for his age shall have been given or shall be in process.

4. Operator Eligibility

All members of the foster family, household or employees must be in good health, both physically and mentally and free from defects or disabilities which would adversely affect the care of children. When foster parents and/or other members of the household have claimed exemption relating to the requirements relating to intradermal tuberculin test and chest x-rays on the basis of their religious faith the license shall be limited to the care of children of the same faith.

There shall be provision for another adult to be readily available on whom the day care mother can call, in case of emergency or illness, to provide temporary care for the children in the home.

If one or more children in the home require more than usual care because of emotional disturbance, retardation or other handicap, there shall be at least two adults providing care for the children in the home on a regular basis.

5. Facilities

Homes must conform to state laws and regulations governing housing, sanitation and fire safety.

Each family day care home shall provide space and equipment for free play, rest, privacy and a range of indoor and outdoor activities suitable for the children's ages and the number of children in the home.

Individual cots or beds shall be provided for rest periods.

Space shall be provided for the isolation of children who become ill.
6. Special Notes

There is also provision for licensure of Special Day Care Homes which provide day care for from seven to ten children, aged three through sixteen, including children of the foster family through the age of sixteen. The ratio of adults to children in such facilities shall not exceed one to six. If one or more preschool children are in care, the adult-child ratio must be one to five. No child under three shall be accepted in this type of care.

Family day care homes are licensed by the county welfare departments through delegation of this power to them by the State Department of Social Welfare. Counties, however, must follow the state licensing regulations and actually license in the name of the Department.

2. Legal Reference

   "Day care home" means a child-care facility (a) which is a private family home caring for not more than four children not "related to" the owners of the facility, or, with the approval of the commissioner, not more than six such children of whom at least five are of common parentage, such approval being based on such considerations as space, number of persons in the home, and the age differential of the children, and (b) where the children are cared for not less than three nor more than twelve hours during a twenty-four hour period, and (c) where the care is given on a regularly recurring basis, and (d) where the "day care parents" (means) are the owners of and use the facility as their private family living quarters, and (e) the facility is not licensed or licensable as a day care center.

3. Child Eligibility

   The total number of children accepted for care shall not exceed four, except where five or more of the children are of common parentage, in which case the total number of children shall not exceed six.

   Not more than two children under 2 years of age, including the operator's own children, shall be cared for in a day care home unless a competent, full-time adult is present to care for not more than 2 additional children under 2 years of age.

   The child's parents retain responsibility for providing routine or ongoing medical and dental care, including the preplacement physical examination, and for knowing and approving the arrangement to be made in the case of emergencies.
4. Operator Eligibility

The day care mother should like and understand children and be capable of giving them affection and security. The day care parents must be able to accept supervision and work with the Department of Welfare for the best interests of the child.

The day care family may consist of the mother alone.

Only children of school age are placed in the home of a working (day care) mother whose hours for working must coincide with or be less than the school hours.

There shall be evidence that the health, character, and temperament of all members of the household are such that they are not injurious to the physical, mental, or moral health of the child in the home. The day care family must be free from infectious or communicable diseases, and the day care mother must be physically able to care for a child.

Proof of health may be obtained from the family physician. If there has been no recent physical examination or if the doctor has not had recent contact with the family, the family is asked to have physical examinations. Report of a health examination by a doctor or clinic obtained within the past year for such purposes as life insurance or employment can be used. If there are other members besides the immediate family in the home, a doctor's statement regarding their health should be obtained. In case of any questionable health condition, the licensing worker consults with the District Office Medical Consultant to determine that a child will not be affected. A personal telephone call to the doctor is preferable to accepting a signed statement alone.

If there is a history of tubercular infection in any member of the household, the (licensing) worker will inform the Medical Director, Central Office. If there was no recent examination, the Medical Director will arrange for a medical examination with the State Tuberculosis Commission within 90 days of the date of request. The report on the examination will contain a recommendation as to whether or not the person in question would represent a health hazard to children placed in the home. In cases where the prospective day care mother was the patient, the recommendation will include a statement as to whether the care of a child placed in the home might impair the day care mother's improvement.
5. Facilities

The home must meet the fire, safety and zoning regulations of the individual town.

Among the causes for revocation of license are failure to comply with applicable state and local laws, ordinances, rules and regulations relating to building, fire protection, safety, sanitation and zoning . . . failure or refusal to admit the commissioner of welfare or his authorized representative to the facility premises at any reasonable time for the purpose of investigation.

The home shall be in a neighborhood conducive to the general welfare of the child. The home should be on or accessible to a road passable 12 months of the year.

The foster parents shall be able to arrange for private transportation or public transportation shall be near and available. The day care family should have its own car or be able to arrange for transportation in case of emergency.

The home and grounds shall be reasonably free from things that would constitute hazards to the children.

There shall be provision or arrangements for both indoor and outdoor play, depending upon the age of the children.

A bed, cot, mat, or other provision for each child's nap or rest period will be made.

The day care parents shall provide a wholesome general diet, or special diet as directed, and shall agree to follow any health program directed by the child's physician.

6. Special Notes

In addition to the licensing day care centers and family day care homes, the State of Connecticut licenses:

Facilities which receive more than six children for a period between 7:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m.

3. Child Eligibility

   There shall be no more than four children for pay in a family day care home. Children accepted on an hourly basis must be considered in the total number of children in care. The maximum number of preschool aged children, including the family's own children, shall not exceed six. If there are as many as six children in the home, part-time help must be available to assist.

   Only children whose physical and/or mental condition is such that they will be able to profit from the day care experience and whose presence will not be detrimental to the other children in the home should be accepted.

   Before a child is admitted to a family day care home, there must be a personal interview with the parents, guardians or other responsible individuals.
Prior to admission, the following medical information must be submitted:

A statement from a physician regarding the child's health. This examination should be made within a two weeks' period prior to admission and yearly, thereafter.

All family members and employees shall be free from physical or mental illness which might be detrimental to a child. Each member of the family shall be required to obtain, during the initial study (of the home), a statement from a physician regarding his general health and certifying that he is free from infectious and contagious diseases. The family's pre-school age children shall meet the same requirements as the children in care.

If any member of the household has been an inmate in a mental hospital, a home shall not be approved until there is sufficient evidence that the person has recovered and that his presence would not be harmful to the children.

Children in a family day care home should always be under the supervision of a competent adult. No person caring for children should be under eighteen years of age.
5. Facilities

Approval of Fire, Health, and Building Inspection departments must be secured where local ordinances apply.

Any changes in the home or its operation should be reported immediately to the Department of Public Welfare.

A representative from the Department of Public Welfare shall visit the home at reasonable times to determine if the requirements are being upheld and to investigate any complaints.

The family day care home shall have adequate space to provide for the number of children in care. Space must be available for indoor and outdoor play. The outdoor area must be safe.

All persons responsible for the children must be at least 18 years of age, must be competent, mature, and must have understanding and knowledge of the needs of young children.

If the day care mother is to care for the children alone, provision must be made for two responsible adults, 18 years or older, to be on call, so that one of them is available at all times in case of emergency.

No person having active tuberculosis, known to be a typhoid carrier, or who has a venereal disease in a contagious form shall be eligible for a license.

5. Facilities

Following receipt of application for a license to operate a family day care home, a representative of the Department of Health and Welfare will evaluate the adequacy of the physical plant in accordance with the applicable standards adopted by the Department of Health and Welfare.

No license to operate a family day care home at any location can be issued until such home passes a satisfactory inspection for fire safety and fire protection. Such an inspection must be made annually thereafter if the renewal license is to be issued to provide care for more than two children. All inspections shall be made under the provisions of Title 25, including section 2360, 2391, 2392, and 2452 of the revised statutes.

If a satisfactory supply cannot be provided, a license or renewal of a license cannot be issued.

The day care home should be in or near the neighborhood where the children live.

Blankets, individual cots, or mats, or beds and bedding must be provided for each child. For infants under 18 months a crib with sides must be provided.

If the child becomes ill during the day, he must be isolated from the other children until arrangements can be made for his care elsewhere.

The day care mother must provide nourishing meals and snacks: there must be a morning snack, a hot lunch, and an afternoon snack for all children.
6. Special Notes

There must be evidence of liability insurance covering the facility to protect both the child and the day care mother in case of accident.

The State also licenses group day care homes which provide care for seven to 12 children under 16 years of age. Regulations governing these facilities are contained in "Law Providing for the Licensing of Group Day Care Homes and Rules and Regulations Pertaining thereto."

"Family day care" is defined . . . as care given in lieu of parental care to from one to not more than four children under the age of sixteen, in a facility located outside of the home of the child's parents or legal guardian, for a part of a twenty-four hour day, if compensation is paid for the care. A "family day care home" is defined as the facility where the care is provided.

Exemptions from the licensing requirement include:

(1) A person related to the child by blood or marriage;

(2) In the counties, a person who is a close friend of the child's parents or legal guardian and is providing such care on an occasional basis for not more than four children regardless of any agreement between the parties as to payments; or

(The summary below relates to licensure of individuals providing family day care.)

3. Child Eligibility

No child shall be admitted without a written certificate of medical examination completed within not more than three months prior to admission to the family day care home, unless such a certificate has been submitted on a previous admission within one year. If the health of the child is such that he may be in day care only if special circumstances or conditions are observed, the certificate shall so state. The certificate must be renewed annually.

Before admission to a family day care home, there shall be submitted for each child a physician's written statement of successful vaccination against smallpox or specific contraindication for smallpox vaccination; and of completion, or acceptable plan for completion, of vaccinations against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, poliomyelitis, and measles, or specific contraindication. A booster dose shall be required prior to admission when, in the opinion of the physician, it is indicated.

4. Operator Eligibility

No license shall be issued to any person under the age of 21 or over the age of 70. A license issued to a person before the age of 70 shall automatically expire when the licensee reaches the age of 70.

The applicant must be in good physical and mental health and shall provide a written certificate of a physician, on a form provided by the Department, that the applicant is physically and mentally capable of providing day care to children, and documentation that the applicant is free from tuberculosis.

The resident members of the applicant's family, as well as all household help, must be in good mental and physical health and the applicant shall supply certificates of a physician that each is free from physical or mental illness or disability which would jeopardize the welfare of children and documentation that such persons are free from tuberculosis.

Prior to any renewal, the local welfare department shall require documentation that all members of the household are free from tuberculosis. (Renewal is required annually.)

The applicant must provide references.

5. Facilities

The home must conform to state and local health and sanitary requirements, and the facility must be approved in writing by the local health authority prior to the issuance of any license.

No license shall be issued unless . . . the local welfare department has made a study, which shall include an interview with the applicant and the day time adult resident members of the day care home and a visit to the day care home, and finds that all of the requirements of the law and rules and regulations have been complied with.

Prior to any renewal, the local welfare department shall . . . shall make whatever study or reevaluation as is necessary to determine that the licensee remains qualified for a license, and shall make a redetermination as to the number of children for which a license will be reissued.

The physical facilities of the home in which day care is to be provided must have adequate space for the daily activities of children.

There must be ample accessible space for outdoor activity free from conditions which may be dangerous to the life or health of children.

There must be a telephone in the home.

The facility must contain furniture and equipment, including adequate facilities for napping, which are comfortable, durable, safe and adapted to the ages of the children for whom the care is to be provided.
If a child has a rash, fever, or other symptoms of illness which occur during the time care is being provided, the parents or legal guardians should be notified immediately and the child should be isolated in a comfortable place until such time as his parents or legal guardians or other authorized person can call for him to return him home.

An adequate well-balanced diet shall be provided for each child in day care. If the child is in day care ten (10) hours or more a day, such diet shall consist of the total daily nutritional requirements of the child, and shall include: (1) an adequate breakfast, (2) a mid-morning feeding, (3) an adequate mid-day meal; (4) a mid-afternoon feeding, and (5) an adequate supper. If the child is in day care for less than ten (10) hours a day, the diet shall consist of a suitable proportion of the total daily food needs as determined by the hours the child is in day care.

In the event care is provided for an infant, the licensee shall follow the schedule and employ the formula or foods set forth in the written recommendations of a physician, which shall be submitted to the licensee by the parents or legal guardians.

Before admitting a child, the day care parent must have a dated statement signed by a duly licensed physician certifying that the child is currently ready for day care away from his own home, is free from communicable diseases, and that he has been satisfactorily immunized against smallpox, whooping cough, tetanus diphtheria, poliomyelitis and measles. If there is a medical reason why these immunizations are not to be done, the statement must include the reason for such exemption. This certificate must be renewed annually.

Children over three years of age, upon admission to the facility, who have been immunized against whooping cough, tetanus, and diphtheria more than two years prior to admission must receive a booster dose against these diseases prior to admission or immediately thereafter unless such prophylaxis is considered contra-indicated on medical grounds.

Sleeping rooms for children must be above the ground level but not above the second floor unless there are two stairways and an adult is in attendance; must have natural light and ventilation with one or more windows, at least two feet of space separating each bed, cot or crib, with allowance for fifty square feet for each child and with no more than three children in one room.

The home must have a telephone for use in emergency situations.

Each child whose age and development require periods of sleep or rest must be provided with an individual bed, cot or crib, suitable to the needs of the individual child. For infants under 18 months, a crib with sides must be used. Family beds may be used, if adequate, clean covering is provided.

Special care as needed must be provided a child who becomes sick during the day. This care must include separate and comfortable bed space apart from the other children until arrangements are completed for his removal.

Standards for Family Day Care Homes in Minnesota, (DPW), 1956, (Child Welfare Rule No. 2).

A facility for foster care means any facility which for gain or otherwise regularly provides one or more children, when unaccompanied by their parents, with a substitute for the care, food, lodging, training, education, supervision or treatment they need but which for any reason cannot be furnished by their parents in their homes. This includes but is not limited to the following: an institution, detention home, boarding home, free home, work home, children's home, day care home, day nursery, nursery school, or school for handicapped children.

Children means one or more persons under the age of 16 years or persons over 16 years of age if for reasons of mental retardation they still require the protection needed by persons under 16 years of age.

A "Family Day Care Home" is a facility for foster care supervision and training for children during part of a day (less than 24 hours) as a substitute for the care, supervision and training parents or guardians usually provide.

Excluded from Licensure is day care provided only to children related to the family by blood or marriage, or day care provided children from only one family for less than 30 days.

* See Part I - Day Care Centers for notes relating to 1971 amendments to the licensing law which also impact on day care homes. The Minnesota summary for day care homes reflects legal definitions and requirements in effect during the period covered by Day Care Survey 1970.
3. Child Eligibility

No family will be licensed for the care of more than five pre-school children, including own children under five years. No more than two of these may be under one year of age. Exceptions will be made upon recommendation of the supervising agency in instances of special skill and ability of foster parents to care for more than the number specified, subject to approval of the Commissioner of Public Welfare.

Each admission of a child to a licensed family day care home shall be subject to mutual agreement of parents and licensee.

The day care family must have on file a statement from a physician regarding the child's physical condition at the time of admission. This shall include a report of health problems requiring special care and attention, and if the family plans to accept, or has other children in care, a report of any infectious conditions which would place other children in jeopardy.

Children who are ill and in need of convalescent or nursing care must not be accepted unless there are no other children in the home. No family day care mother is expected to take a sick child into her home unless she especially agrees to care for such a child and provides for isolation of said child.

Child must not be kept in the day care home overnight unless special authorization is given by the supervising agency for a specific child (children) for a specific period of time because of an emergency situation.

4. Operator Eligibility

The family day care parents must be kind, responsible people who have a genuine liking for children and who will safeguard the child's interest.

The day care mother must be of suitable age and temperament to care for children and must be capable, in the judgment of the supervising agency, of handling an emergency situation promptly and intelligently.
All adults in the family day care household who will be in contact with the children must submit a statement from a physician certifying to their good health and freedom from infectious conditions and disabilities which would jeopardize the well-being of children. The examination must include Mantoux tests and, if positive, a chest x-ray given no longer than six months before date of application of license.

5. Facilities

The day care home must conform to local and state building codes as determined by the Commissioner upon the advice of the local fire inspector or State Fire Marshal.

The day care home must have adequate toilet and heating facilities, sewage disposal, sanitary water and milk supply, proper lighting and ventilation, as determined by the Commissioner in consultation with the Department of Health.

The licensed child-caring or child-placing agency, or the county welfare board, or any other duly authorized representative of the Commissioner recommending the license, is responsible for supervising the home and reviewing periodically the licensee's continued conformance to requirements and for a recommendation at least annually as to whether the home shall be licensed or relicensed.

Basements, if warm and dry, light and well-ventilated, may be used for short periods of active play, but must not be used for sleeping or eating.

If the home is located so that the play area is near dangerous or unprotected traffic areas or railroad tracks, the outdoor space must be enclosed by a fence.

Beds or cots used by members of the family must not be used for day care children unless separate bed clothing is provided for the child. All children under school age are expected to have a rest period during the day.

The day care mother shall have an approved plan for isolating a sick child from other children receiving care.
A well-balanced lunch must be served which includes at least one hot dish. If other meals are given because of special working hours of the parents, they must be well-balanced and nourishing.

6. Special Notes
Mississippi has no mandatory licensing requirements for family day care homes; however, the State Department of Public Welfare does conduct a program of voluntary certification of such facilities.

2. Legal Reference

   Family Day Care is care of children in a family home by a day care mother for a part of the twenty-four hour day.

3. Child Eligibility

   The number and age of children under care at one time shall be as follows:

   Infancy through 6 years. No more than two children under 2 and no more than five in total, including the family day care mother's own children under 14 years old.

   Three through 14 years. No more than six children, including the family day care mother's children under 14 years old.

   Three through 14 years. Groups may range up to 12 children but the child-staff ratio never exceeds 6 to 1. No child under 3 should be in this type of care. When preschool children are cared for, the child-staff ratio should not exceed 5 to 1.

   Each child must receive dental, medical, and other health evaluations appropriate to his age upon entering day care and subsequently at intervals appropriate to his age and state of health.
Accessibility of the home for regular attendance at school will have to be considered in terms of the children that the home will accept. The hours of operation and type of children to be cared for may make this provision unnecessary.

4. Operator Eligibility

It is imperative that the family day care mother have some knowledge of what children are like at different ages and that she be willing to learn more about child development and behavior... She should have good health and an abundance of energy to meet the needs of the children she keeps.

It is not necessary for there to be a father in the day care home.

The health of each member of the day care family shall be free from contagious or infectious disease and of such nature as to render the day care family physically and mentally capable of providing adequate care for children. The health of the day care family will be determined by an examination of a licensed physician.

In the use of a family day care home, there must always be provision for another adult on whom the family day care mother can call in case of an emergency or illness.

There are circumstances where it would be necessary to have on a regular basis two adults in a family day care home; for example, if one or more of the children were retarded, emotionally disturbed, or handicapped and needed more than usual care. (The use of volunteers is very appropriate in family day care. Volunteers may include older children who are often very successful in working with younger children when adequate supervision is provided.)

5. Facilities

Each home shall conform in building, safety, and sanitary requirements to the legal ordinances and regulations of the local community, county, and state.

After a Certificate of Approval has been granted, the County Department of Public Welfare, maintains a supervisory relationship to the family day care home in the interest of the protection of the child.

Each family day care home must have adequate indoor and outdoor space for children, appropriate to their ages, with separate rooms or areas for cooking, toilets, and other purposes.
The yard must have adequate protection from hazards, such as traffic, dangerous play equipment, deep pools, holes, broken glass, etc. If the play space is not fenced, such protection can be provided by adjacent building walls, thick hedges, etc.

If handicapped children are kept provisions should be made for meeting the particular needs of these children.

Pets such as cats, dogs, etc., must be properly vaccinated.

Provision must be made for safe and comfortable arrangements for naps for young children. It is not necessary to have a separate bedroom for each child receiving day care, however, there must be a room where they can sleep. Baby beds or cribs must be available for every child under one year of age.

Advance arrangements must be made for the care of a child who is injured or becomes ill, including isolation if necessary.

Adequate and nutritious meals and snacks suitable for the age group must be provided and prepared in a safe and sanitary manner. A day care home provides care to children in the operator's own home for compensation. The total number of children cannot exceed seven, provided there is sufficient space for this number, with not more than two children under 2 years of age, including the operator's own children or relatives' children under 13 years of age. In family day care homes not more than two children under two years of age shall receive care. This includes the day care mother's own children under two years of age.

New regulations governing family day care home operation were approved in September 1971.
No child shall be accepted for day care unless immunizations are in effect for smallpox, tetanus, diphtheria, whooping cough and poliomyelitis. It is recommended that each child be inoculated against measles.

It is recommended that each child have a physical examination before entering a day care home.

Applicants for a license to provide care to children in their homes shall not be more than 65 years of age nor less than 21 years of age.

All adult persons regularly in the home and working directly with the children shall have a licensed physician complete and sign the prescribed medical information form. This report establishes that the individual is free from communicable or infectious diseases at the time of examination and is physically able to care for children. The medical examination is required each year or more frequently if the individual’s medical report shows some medical complications or problems. The completed medical report is filed in the office of the Division of Children and Family Services.

Adults living in the home, but with no responsibility for working with the children, shall have a chest x-ray or a tuberculin test completed each year.

The day care mother should be a person sympathetic with and understanding of children’s needs and problems...

The applicant is responsible for determining that all local zoning requirements and building codes and ordinances have been met.

Any building changes must be reported to the Division of Children and Family Services.

When the completed application form is received, requests for fire and sanitation inspections will be made by the Division of Children and Family Services.

The State Fire Marshall shall take responsibility for determining fire safety measures for each home providing care to children or by delegating this responsibility.

Compliance with sanitation standards shall be determined by the State Environmental Health Services. SEHS may delegate this responsibility to local health agencies.

A representative of the Division of Children and Family Services shall visit and study each home requesting an application to provide care for children. The Division of Children and Family Services may delegate this responsibility to licensed child-placing agencies or to County Divisions of public welfare. A representative shall visit on a continuing basis to assure that standards are being met.

A basement shall be used for play only if it:

- Has been approved by the fire inspector.
- Has two exits.
- Is warm, dry, well ventilated, and well lighted.
- Children shall have no access from the play area to other basement areas.

The second story shall be used for napping only if:

- It has been approved by the fire inspector.
- All upstairs windows are securely screened.

A nourishing, hot, well-balanced lunch shall be provided for every child who is in the home for four hours or more and a mid-morning and after nap time snack, including milk or fruit juice shall be provided.

An after school snack shall be provided for school children.

6. Special Notes

The Standards assert that ordinary liability insurance does not protect children in day care. It is recommended that operators desiring this protection seek out a reliable insurance broker or agent to obtain suitable coverage for the type of child care they provide. It is also recommended that operators inquire whether a child is covered under a family health and accident insurance plan.

If the home provides transportation, it is recommended that suitable car liability insurance cover any child who may receive transportation for any purpose.

The State also licenses Day Care Nurseries for Infants which provide care for not more than four children under thirteen years of age, including the operator's children or relatives' children under thirteen years of age, from 6:00 a.m. to 12:00 midnight, providing an adult is awake during the time the children are in the home. All four children may be under two years of age. With the exceptions of the number of children that may be cared for and the number of children under two years of age for whom care may be provided, these facilities are subject to the regulations governing operation of day care homes.
The State permits simultaneous provision of boarding care and day care. When both services are provided to children, the standards for boarding care shall apply. Provision of dual services is subject to the following conditions:

Six children may receive care. Not more than four children shall be boarded. The boarding parents' own children under thirteen years of age and relatives' children under thirteen years of age regularly in the home shall be included in this number.

Not more than two children shall be under two years of age. This includes children of the day care parents or relatives' children regularly in the home under two years of age.

Responsibilities normally discharged by Licensing Representatives of the State Division of Children and Family Services may be delegated to members of county divisions of public welfare or to licensed child welfare agencies.
Family Day Care is defined as a facility where a person provides for compensation care of one to four unrelated children under sixteen years of age less than twenty-four hours a day.

Family Day Care Homes are not licensed.

The maximum number of children in a family day care home shall not exceed 6, including preschool children related to the day care mother. An exception may be made at the discretion of the Division when school age children are cared for after school for a short time or for a meal.

Each child shall have had, preferably within two weeks of admission, a medical examination by a physician. The examination must be repeated annually... as long as the child remains in the home. (In case of infants a more frequent examination is recommended.)

The family day care home shall conform to the building, sanitation, and maintenance standards of the local Board of Health, whose approval shall be registered on the prescribed form accompanying application for a license.

The home shall conform to the fire and safety standards of the local fire department whose approval shall be registered on the prescribed form accompanying application for a license.

Where no more stringent laws and regulations affecting buildings are enforced locally, provisions relating to exits, stairways, and fire extinguishers specified in the standards for day care homes shall be deemed minimum requirements of licensing.

Water that is not from a tested public supply must be tested periodically through the State Health Department.

Applicants will be visited by a child welfare worker from the Division of Welfare who will evaluate the facility requesting a license.

There shall be adequate indoor and safe outdoor play space provided with play equipment to meet the developmental needs of the child.

All rooms used by children in day care homes shall have an adequate amount of sunlight. Social Services Law, Section 390.

Family Day Care Homes, 1968.

Day care of children shall mean care provided for three or more children away from their own homes for less than 24 hours per day in a family home which is operated for such purpose, for compensation or otherwise for more than five hours per week.

Day care in a family home shall mean day care of not more than six children provided in an individual's own home.

The requirements of Section 390 shall not apply to care given (a) in a city wholly including one or more counties, except (family home) day care provided therein under certificates issued pursuant to subdivisions two through ten, or (b) by parents or relatives within the second degree of the parents of the child or children.

3. Child Eligibility

No more than six children may be permitted to be cared for by the family day care home at any one time. Children of the operator of a family home, who are under 13 years of age and present in the home, shall be deemed children in the care of such home.

Although not reiterated in the rules governing operation of homes, there are statutory exceptions to the ceiling of six.

... Where the social services official shall find that such other children are over the age of six years and are enrolled in a school or other educational or recreational facility requiring the attendance of such other children during the approximate hours at which home care would be rendered then the presence of such other children in the home shall not reduce the number of children which may be cared for.

Such certificate (or permit) may permit the care of more than six brothers and/or sisters of the same family.

An enforcement clause incorporated in the rules however, does permit some flexibility in the application of prescribed requirements. (See Special Notes.)

No infant less than 8 weeks of age shall be admitted for care.

No more than two children under the age of 2 years shall be cared for at any one time.

No child shall be accepted for care unless such child has received a complete medical examination by a physician within 30 days prior to admission, and a written statement signed by the examining physician has been furnished to the family day care home giving assurance that the child:

(1) is free from contagious or communicable disease;

(2) has received prophylaxis against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, poliomyelitis and measles, when there are no medical contraindications.

It is further provided that the child's physical examination include laboratory tests as indicated, a dental examination and an initial appraisal of his health and development.

4. Operator Eligibility

A permit or certificate shall be issued for day care in a family home only when the applicant and all members of the household enjoy good health and are of good character, habits and reputation; the applicant's fitness to care for children is attested by satisfactory references.

The applicant must give satisfactory evidence of good physical health, with no disqualifying mental or emotional handicaps and freedom from communicable disease. Physical fitness shall be shown by a certificate from a physician at the time of application.

No person under 18 years of age shall be left in sole charge of the children at any time.

5. Facilities

Each family day care home shall comply with the requirements of state and local departments of health. Adequate and safe water supply and sewage facilities shall be provided and shall comply with state and local laws.

Before any . . . certificate shall be issued by an authorized agency, it shall visit and inspect the premises for which a certificate is requested to ascertain compliance with applicable requirements.

Children shall be cared for only on such floors as are provided with readily accessible alternate means of egress which are remote from each other. All rooms to be occupied by children shall be above ground level and shall have windows.

All rooms, outdoor play space, equipment, supplies and furnishings shall be kept clean and sanitary at all times. The premises shall be kept free from dampness, odors, vermin and the accumulation of trash.

Heating, ventilating and lighting facilities shall be adequate for protection of the health of the children. A temperature of at least 68 degrees shall be maintained in all rooms to be occupied by children. Rooms shall be effectively screened against insects.

There shall be an adequate number of fire extinguishers which shall be tested and maintained in good working condition.

Any pet or animal on the premises, indoors or outdoors, shall be in good health properly cared for, and known to be a friendly, suitable pet for children.

The family day care home shall provide plentiful and nutritious meals and snacks which shall be prepared in a safe and sanitary manner and served at appropriate intervals. If a child is in the home for more than four hours per day, he shall be served a hot meal which shall supply at least one-third of the child's daily food requirements. If a child is in the home for more than ten hours per day, he shall be served two meals, of which at least one other than breakfast shall be hot, which shall supply at least two thirds of the child's daily food requirements.

Where infants formula is required, it shall be prepared and provided by the parent or other responsible person in the infant's home.

6. Special Notes

Family home day care may be provided under the terms of either a permit issued by the State Department of Social Services or a certificate issued by an authorized agency from which an applicant desires to receive children. New York City, not subject to State permit requirements, licenses day care homes under the City's Health Code.

Family day care homes operating under a certificate are subject to the Social Services provisions of the rules governing day care homes.

Family day care home rules also provide for flexibility in enforcement.

If in the enforcement of this Part, however, the department finds that to require a particular family day care home to comply literally with one or more of these rules, or parts thereof, will result in undue hardship, and if the family day care home is in substantial compliance with these rules and the applicable regulations of the department and their general purpose and intent and, in addition, it complies with such specific condition or conditions as the department may deem necessary for the protection of the health, safety and welfare of children, the department may determine that such family day care home is in compliance with this Part.

1971 amendments to the licensing law place the day care home rulemaking responsibility in the State Department of Social Services. This function formerly was performed by the State Board of Social Welfare.
1. Licensing Agency and Contact

   Family and Children's Services Section, State Department of Social Services, Raleigh, North Carolina.

   Contact: Day Care Unit.

2. Legal Reference

   The family day care home provides day care for five or fewer children. It is the smallest facility licensed by the State Department of Social Services. It offers the most informal and the most flexible program for child care. Here children, generally of varying ages, find care for some part of the twenty-four hour day in the home of another family not unlike their own, and often within their own neighborhood.

   The family day care home may be operated by an individual on a private basis or as an agency day care service under the supervision or auspices of a county department of social services or another social agency.

   (The summary below reflects requirements for licensure at Level I, the standards below which care is not acceptable.)

3. Child Eligibility

   A day care mother must decide for what ages of children she prefers to care. This decision is defined as the licensing "age range," and all children enrolled in care must be within this age range.

   The total number of children in the home shall not exceed five. This number shall include all preschool children of the day care mother and her older children falling within the licensing age range.

   Prior to enrollment the parent shall provide a certificate from a physician which shows the child has had or is receiving immunization recommended for his age. The immunization certificate shall be kept current.
4. Operator Eligibility

The day care mother shall be at least 21 years of age; she shall demonstrate mature judgment and have the energy and flexibility necessary to care for young children.

The day care mother shall demonstrate emotional and mental stability.

The speech of the day care mother shall be free of impairment and she shall be able to communicate coherently with other adults and children.

Her suitability will be attested to by the written statement of three satisfactory references.

Any person employed by the day care mother to assist in the care of children shall have the same personal qualifications as those required of the day care mother.

A health certificate or medical statement verifying freedom from communicable disease shall be required for each member of the day care family and such certificates or statements shall be renewed annually.

Any person employed to assist with care of children in the home shall meet the same health requirements as the day care mother.

Each day care mother must identify another responsible adult who, in case of emergencies, is available to assist in the home.

5. Facilities

The family day care home shall meet all local ordinances.

Initial inspection of the day care home shall be made by the local building inspection department. Where no building inspection department exists, the local fire department shall make the required building inspection report.

Initial inspection of the day care home shall be made by the local fire department. Fire safety inspections shall be made at least annually thereafter.

Initial inspection of the day care home shall be made by the local health department. Sanitation inspections shall be made at least annually thereafter.
The Day Care Unit (DSS) will conduct a pre-licensing study prior to formal application for licensure, and an application study after receipt of the application. The latter evaluation will determine whether the standards have been met and if so, at what level a license can be recommended. Continuing evaluation of a licensed facility will include periodic visits during the year by the Licensing Specialist.

The home must provide adequate indoor and outdoor space for daily activities of young children and present no hazards to their health and safety.

Outdoor play area shall be on premises or easily accessible. For each child at least 75 square feet shall be available for outdoor activities except where local ordinances require space in excess of this amount. The outdoor play area shall be well defined by fence, natural barrier, hedge, to make it safe from traffic and other hazards except where local ordinances require that play areas be fenced.

An individual bed, crib, cot, or mat (at least two inches thick) shall be provided for each child's rest or sleep. If the child is in the family day care home during his regular nighttime hours, (only as a part of his twenty-four hour day) he shall be provided an individual bed, crib, or firm cot fitted with a mattress and appropriate linens. Beds used by the day care family shall not be used by children in care. If mats are used they shall be of a washable waterproof material and shall be folded so that the floor side does not contact the side slept on.

Children under 18 months shall rest or sleep in individual cribs with side rails for protection.

A nutritious, well-balanced meal shall be served to each child in care for four or more hours. If the child continues in care nine or more hours, two meals shall be served. Each meal shall be planned to meet 1/3 - 1/2 of child's daily food needs. Nutritious snacks shall be provided in the morning and afternoon but at least 1 1/2 hours before scheduled meals.

Children with health problems requiring special diets shall be accepted for care only if foods can be provided in the amount and variety ordered by the physician.
The parent shall provide formula for the infant in care and either the parent or the day care mother shall provide supplemental food with instructions provided by the child's doctor.

6. Special Notes

If transportation is provided by the home, children shall be protected by liability insurance.

The Department also issues licenses for small group homes which provides care for six to 15 children.

Day care homes will not be subject to licensure under the State's mandatory licensing law (effective January 1, 1972); however, such facilities will be required to register in accordance with a plan for such registration.
Day Care Homes

NORTH DAKOTA

1. Licensing Agency

Public Welfare Board of North Dakota, Bismark, North Dakota 58501.

2. Legal Reference

North Dakota Century Code, Sections 50-11-01 - 50-11-06, 50-11-06.6 - 50-11-10.

Any person, partnership, voluntary association, or corporation owning or operating a home or institution receiving for day care or full-time foster family care for children or otherwise during the calendar year, one or more children under the age of eighteen years shall procure annually from the public welfare board a license to do so. The provisions of this section shall not apply when the children received by such person are related to him by blood or marriage, nor shall it apply to any home or institution under the management and control of the state.

A family day care home is a family home which provides care for any unrelated child up to a maximum of six children on a regular basis.

3. Child Eligibility

From infancy through six years there may be no more than two children under the age of two and no more than five in total, including the day care mother's own children under fourteen years, who are physically in the home during the hours day care is given.

If there is a reliable helper in the home, there may be up to five children regardless of age.

From ages three to fourteen years, there may be no more than six children in total, including the day care mother's own children under fourteen years, who are physically in the home during the hours day care is given. Provision must be made for another adult on whom the family day care mother can call in case of an emergency or illness.
If one or more of the children were retarded, emotionally disturbed, or handicapped and needed more than usual care, it would be necessary to have fewer children cared for by one adult or by two adults on a regular basis. The ratio of adult to child requiring more than usual care must not exceed one to four.

Before he enters day care, each child must have the immunizations prescribed by the family physician unless objected to for religious reasons.

The day care mother must have a statement from a physician pertaining to the health and immunizations of each child.

If day care is purchased by the county, the child must have medical and dental examinations before entering day care and annually thereafter, unless more frequent examinations are indicated.

4. Operator Eligibility

The day care mother must be resourceful, dependable, consistent, flexible, and willing to learn. She must be of a suitable age to have the vitality to tolerate children's activities and to work constructively with the child's energetic responses. This is to be verified by the licensing study and reference letters.

The day care mother must not have any health problem which would be detrimental to the care of the child. This is to be verified by the prescribed medical report form. A physical examination shall be required for other family members only if there are indications of a health problem in the home.

The use of volunteers is very appropriate in family day care. Volunteers may include older children who are often very successful in working with younger children when under the supervision of an adult.

5. Facilities

County welfare boards will take into consideration the state and local health, fire, and sanitation regulations.

The water supply must be from an approved municipal system, or, if from some other source, a sample must be tested and approved by the Health Department.
Milk served must be pasteurized or obtained from a dairy approved by the Dairy Commissioner or Health Department.
The county caseworker shall make a study of the facility. The licensing study shall be forwarded to the area social service center with recommendations concerning licensing. The day care facility should be reevaluated semi-annually, with recommendations concerning relicensing sent to the area social service center before the date the license expires.

Generally trailer homes or basement and upstairs apartments are unsatisfactory due to lack of space, fire hazards, and inconvenient exits. County welfare board staff should not seek out such homes for day care, but if parents needing day care for their children have already selected such a home, it may be given consideration provided there is particular consideration given to possible fire hazards and the situation is otherwise desirable for day care of the specific child.

A basement room, if warm, dry, light, and well ventilated, may be used for a portion of the day provided there is an adult present at all times and there are adequate precautions taken for the safety of the children. There must be a safety rail on the stairway; the heating unit and any potentially dangerous tools or equipment must be closed off from the play area. There must be an emergency exit from the basement. A basement window would be sufficient if it is easily opened and of sufficient size and suitable location for a child to crawl through.

There must be a minimum of 35 square feet of play space per child indoors and a minimum of 75 square feet per child of play space outdoors.

There should be a telephone in a convenient location within the home.

Satisfactory arrangements for naps must be provided for preschool children. Individual cots are recommended, but beds used by other members of the family may be used for the child's nap provided the child has his own bed linens and does not share the bed with an unrelated child.

If a child is sick, he must be isolated from the other children in a quiet area equipped with a cot or bed to reduce the risk of infection to others. The mother, or some other specified person, must be notified and arrangements must be made for his care elsewhere if there are other children in the home.
The family must provide adequate and nutritious meals and snacks prepared in a safe and sanitary manner. A mid-morning and afternoon snack should consist of fruit, raw vegetables, cheese wedges, crackers or cookies with milk or fruit juice. A noon lunch should consist of at least one of the following: meat, fish, poultry, eggs, cheese, dried peas, or dried beans; and a raw and cooked vegetable; bread and butter or margarine; fruit or other dessert; and milk. One of the vegetables and/or fruits should be a Vitamin C rich food. Children whose period of care covers two normal meal hours must be provided two full meals at the day care facility.

6. Special Notes

The applicant should be encouraged to discuss with her insurance agent liability and fire insurance covering the day care operation.

Any person wishing to operate a day care facility must request licensing from the county welfare board...

In addition to offering day care related social services, the county welfare board has the further responsibility of carrying on a program of community education within the county to inform residents of the law requiring licensing of day care, the benefits derived from licensing, and the procedure to follow if licensing is desired. If there are homes or centers known by the county welfare board to providing day care, the county welfare board must inform the operators of the law providing for licensing.

The State also licenses group day care homes. A group day care home is a family home which provides care for a minimum of six and a maximum of twelve unrelated children on a regular basis. Standards for these facilities are also included in Chapter 425 of the Social Work Manual (section 6).

Requirements for Approval of Family Day Care Homes (DPW), 9/15/70. (DCS 33).

Revised Approval Procedures - Family Day Care Homes and In-Own-Home Day Care, (DPW), Sept. 15, 1970. (Day Care Services Letter No. 4).

"Family Day Care Home" means a home which is not subject to licensing as a "Day Care Center" because it serves fewer than five children other than the Day Care Mother's own children.

A day care mother is a person who provides day care services to children who come to her home for care.

The State requirements for "approval" pertain to family day care homes in which services are purchased by the county welfare agency. The approval procedure covers the following programs:

a) Work Incentive Program.

b) Day Care Subsidy for Low Income Families (Ohio Senate Bill 229).

c) AFDC vendor payments for child care.

d) Any day care facility funded through Federal Child Welfare Services Funds.1/

1/ The only time the county welfare department does not have approval responsibility is when federal child welfare services funds are used to reimburse a county children's services board (or the county welfare department when a children's services unit is part of an integrated agency) for day care placement of children under supervision. Then, evaluation and approval is the responsibility of the supervising agency, which is either the children's services board or a children's services unit of an integrated agency.
3. Child Eligibility

A family day care home serves no more than four children not related to the day care mother.

The county agency must have on file a statement signed by a licensed physician certifying that each child entering the day care home has been examined and found to be free from communicable diseases, including tuberculosis, and that he has had the immunization required for admission to school. (The immunization requirement can be waived upon a parent's written request for exemption.)

4. Operator Eligibility

The day care mother must be 21 years of age or older.

The day care mother shall have training or experience in caring for children.

The day care mother must have a statement signed by a physician within 30 days before employment which indicates that she is free from communicable disease including tuberculosis and is physically able to care for children.

If there are other adults or older children who will be assisting in caring for children, they must also meet the above health requirements.

5. Facilities

The family day care home must be a clean and safe facility which is in good repair, free from fire hazards, and with no obvious hazards to children. (If this is questionable, request inspections from appropriate building, fire, and health authorities).

An agency worker must visit the proposed day care mother's home or interview the day care aide to determine compliance with the appropriate requirements. After a family day care home is approved, the home must be visited by a worker from the county agency at least semi-annually for an evaluation to insure that the home is complying with the requirements and the approval can be continued.

There must be adequate indoor floor space (approximately 35 square feet per child) available to the children for day care activities.

There must be a safe outdoor play space easily accessible.

There must be a good lighting and ventilation system and a moderate temperature.

There must be sanitary food preparation facilities, including a refrigerator for storing perishables.

There must be toilet and washing facilities which are available for the day care children.

There must be beds or cots available for the pre-school child for a regularly scheduled nap each day. Cribs are to be provided for children under two years of age. Children from the same family may share a bed.

There must be a separate area available for isolation of a sick child.

A well-balanced midday meal shall be provided, which contains at least one-third of the nutritional needs of a child. Nutritious midmorning and midafternoon snacks should be provided.

6. Special Notes

The county agency shall develop a system whereby day care mothers and day care aides can be identified as being available when new day care arrangements are needed.

It is essential that the Bureau of Day Care Services have, at all times, a current file of all day care homes . . . within the State. Such information is to be made available to the Bureau by the county agencies through the appropriate District Offices.

Day care home approval responsibility may be either shared with or delegated to the county children's service board by the county welfare department.
The State has also established a procedure for the "approval" of "in-own-home day care" services which is the provision of day care to a child in his own home. Such care is provided by the "day care aide." Any number of siblings may be cared for in their own home. Requirements for this type of service are set forth in Requirements for Approval of In-Own-Home Day Care (DCS 32), and Day Care Services Letter No. 4.

Any institution, or family home engaged in the business of receiving children for care and maintenance, either part time or full time, shall be classed a child welfare agency.

Exceptions are (1) the existing (March 9, 1956) agencies operating under established religious denomination except as these agencies voluntarily assume the rights and obligations of this Act; (2) The Children's Bureau; (3) any children's home or institution to which State funds are appropriated.

"Day Care Facility" shall mean and include any agency, institution, center, home, day nursery, nursery school, play school, or other place, however styled and whether operated under public auspices or as a private business, in which are received for temporary custodial care apart from their parents, part of the day or all day or part of the night, and upon any number of successive days one or more children not related to day care family or staff of facility; but the term does not include the day care service of any agency to which State funds are appropriated, nor does it include any kindergarten or school which has as its primary function educational instruction and which operates (1) under the supervision of the State Board of Education or a County Board of Education, or (2) under a qualified teacher, or (3) less than four hours per day. Provided, however, that any kindergarten or school exempted under this provision may be licensed upon its voluntary agreement to subject itself to the terms and provision of the law relating to child welfare agencies. Day care services owned and operated by established religious denominations may be included only if such facilities voluntarily assume the rights and obligations of the Licensing Act.

"Adult" shall mean a person 21 years or older.

"Infant" shall mean a child under 2 years of age.

3. Child Eligibility

A family day care home shall have no more than seven children, including own children. It is desirable, however, that there be no more than five. It is also preferable that the children be of different ages and that there be no more than two infants in order that family-style living may be possible.

The number of children in ... family day care ... depends upon the facility and space in the home, the skill of the day care mother, and the amount of help she has. Consideration may be given to the availability of household help from a member of the family.

Each child shall have a physical examination before he is accepted for care and evidence presented that he is free from communicable diseases. Inoculation against common childhood diseases shall be required except in a case where the physician considers it inadvisable.

4. Operator Eligibility

The day care mother should like and understand children and be able to give them warmth and security. She should be of an age and temperament so as to possess the maturity, energy, and flexibility for young children.

All members of the household must be in such physical and mental health as will not affect adversely either the health of the child or the quality and manner of his care. The family should be willing to have this fact verified and shall submit statements annually certifying that all are free from communicable and contagious diseases.

The children under care shall never be left without competent adult supervision. There shall be a designated person who can be called in an emergency. This person must have a health card.
5. Facilities

Day care homes shall be safe, with adequate space, light, heat, ventilation, screening, and sanitary toilet facilities; be reasonably free of fire hazards, and shall conform to the sanitary laws and ordinances of the State, County, City, or Town in which it is located.

Toilet and washroom facilities shall meet the standards of the local health ... authorities.

Any changes in the facility or its operation which affect the best interest of children under care shall be reported immediately to the county department of public welfare. ... If additional space becomes available or other changes made which indicate an increase in the license, the county department may request the State Department of Public Welfare to increase the number of children to be cared for by the facility.

There shall be annual inspections and compliance with the recommendations made by such health authorities and fire authorities who are required or permitted to inspect and enforce health, sanitation, and fire regulations.

Each day care facility shall be studied by a duly qualified representative of the Department of Public Welfare, or by a licensed child placing agency.

A license shall be issued or denied on a basis of the review of a study and recommendation sent to the State Department by a County Department of Public Welfare. Annual renewal of the license is contingent upon the yearly evaluation of the facility by the county welfare department. If, upon the review of the evaluation in the State Department, the day care facility meets the basic requirements for licensing, the license will be renewed.

All rooms used for children must have windows above street level with adequate sunlight and ventilation.

Outdoor and indoor play space of ample amounts shall be available and safe for the life and health of the children. A recommended guide is 35 square feet per child indoor, exclusive of bath, kitchen and isolation area, and 75 square feet per child outdoor. The outdoor area should be fenced if the location would be unsafe for children without this protection.
An individual cot, bed, or suitable sleeping pad shall be provided for each pre-school child who is under care more than three hours.

If more than one child is in the home, the arrangement should be such as to permit temporary isolation in case of illness... In the case of illness or an accident to a child, he shall be isolated promptly from the other children until arrangements can be made for his care elsewhere.

A full-balanced meal shall be served in the middle of the day and the diet shall be varied, adequate and wholesome. In those communities where night care is necessary, full and balanced meals shall be served if children are under care at the hour of the evening meal or breakfast time. Food for infants shall be provided under medical direction.

6. Special Notes

The State also licenses the group day care home which provides care in a family home during the day only for no more than 15 children, including the day care parents' own children. The summary of regulations set out above (other than with respect to the total number of children for whom care may be provided in one facility) applies also to group day care homes.

Any agency or institution maintained by a municipality or county, or any agency or institution maintained by a person, firm, corporation, association or organization to receive children for care and maintenance or for placement in a family home, or that provides care for unmarried mothers and their children, shall be deemed to be a child welfare agency.

A child welfare agency shall be licensed . . . for activities which fall within one or more . . . categories which include the providing of care and supervision of a child, or children, as a supplement to regular parental care, without transfer of legal custody or placement for adoption, with or without compensation, on a regular basis for part of a day in a family home, which shall be known as a foster day-care home.

Exemptions from licensure include . . . the care of children by a baby-sitter, friend or neighbor, the exchange of care of children by parents under informal mutual arrangements, care furnished by a legal guardian.

As further defined by the Standards, a foster day care home is a private family home that provides for care and supervision for one child or a limited number of children for a part of the 24-hour period. It is unique in that it provides such care in a family setting rather than in a group. It is especially recommended for children who are not ready for or cannot adapt and profit from a larger group experience; or for brothers and sisters who need the security of being cared for together rather than being separated; or for a child under three.
3. Child Eligibility

The number and ages of children in a foster day care family home, both own and foster children, should be determined by the stamina, capacities and skills of the foster parents, the physical accommodations of the home, and the effect upon the equilibrium of the family as a unit.

The number of children to be cared for in any one foster family home shall not exceed six, including the foster family's own children. There shall be no more than two children under two (including foster parents' own children under two) among the six children.

Foster family homes caring for more than six children, including foster parents' own children, prior to the effective date of these standards may be excepted from this limitation, for these children only, on approval of the licensing agency.

The licensing agency may make an exception to the standard of six children in a foster family home including own children when it is evident that the foster family has the capacity and facility to meet the needs of all children in the home.

A certificate of health, signed by a physician, indicating the child is well and free of communicable diseases is required.

Parents shall submit a medical certificate stating that their child is actively immuned against smallpox, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and polio.

Foster day care parents for a child placing agency shall accept children only from that agency, or without that agency's permission.

4. Operator Eligibility

Foster care parents shall be selected on the basis of having personal characteristics and relationships which will make it possible for them to undertake and perform the responsibilities entailed in caring for children who are in their home for a portion of the day and whose own parents retain primary responsibility or...and be able to work with a social agency.

Foster parents, under the age of 21, shall not be licensed. Age of foster parents should be considered in relation to their physical energy, flexibility, and ability to care for a foster child, and also in relation to the probable duration of placement of a foster child.
The foster care applicants shall be in good health and have had a physical examination within a year of the date of the Application for Foster Day Care License. The prescribed physician's report shall be completed and signed by a duly licensed physician stating that the applicant is in good health and free from any physical or mental illness which might be detrimental to a foster day care child. Any other member of the household shall submit the prescribed medical form, a signed statement by a duly licensed physician, certifying that they are free from communicable and contagious diseases and free from any physical or mental illness which might be detrimental to a foster day care child. These forms shall be filed with the State Department of Public Welfare at the time of licensing, and at the time of renewal of the license when this seems indicated to the licensing agency.

A physical handicap in either foster parent which does not interfere with ability to give adequate physical care to a foster child should not be a bar from foster parenthood. The meaning of the handicap to the individual should be evaluated, how it affects his personality, and whether it may have significance to a foster child.

Foster parents should have such education and evidenced intelligence as will permit them to provide adequately for the care of their own family and a foster child, and to stimulate their family and the foster child to use their intellectual capacities to the fullest extent.

It is desirable for the foster day care family to include two parents, in order to provide maximum opportunities for personality development.

The presence of other children in the home, either own or foster children, or related or unrelated adults, should be taken into account as they may be affected by, or have an effect upon, another child.

It is presumed that foster parents should be persons... who have a reputable character, values and ethical standards conducive to the well-being of children...

5. Facilities

An approved public water supply is required. If another resource is used, it must be tested by the State Department of Health as a safe water supply.
The state department of health and its duly authorized agent may visit any child welfare agency to advise the agency on matters affecting the health of children and to inspect the sanitation of the buildings used for their care.

The decision relative to licensing a foster day care home by the State Department of Public Welfare is dependent on an evaluation of the foster day care applicants and their home, written and approved by a child placing agency, submitted for approval and licensing by the State Department of Public Welfare. Renewal will be based on the approval by the State Department of Public Welfare of the evaluation of the foster day care family and its care of children during the past year, submitted by a child placing agency. Supervision by a child placing agency is desirable for all licensed foster day care homes.

Rooms used for day care shall be dry, warm, and well ventilated and lighted. It is desirable to have space on the ground floor.

Provision for outdoor play must be provided. It is desirable to have a fenced area where children can play without hazards.

The family day care home shall have a telephone or an accessible means of communication.

Each child should have an individual cot or mat for naps. The bedding must be cleaned and aired regularly. If the family bed is used, individual linen must be used. Infants should have cribs or beds with protective sides.

If there is evidence of illness, the child should be isolated promptly.

Food provided in full day care must meet the total daily food needs and should complement meals served in the child's own family. If the child is in day care for more than a four hour period, the child shall be served a warm meal which supplies at least 1/3 of the day's health needs. Food shall be wholesome, of good quality and in sufficient amounts. Milk should be pasteurized. Mid-morning and mid-afternoon snacks of juice or milk are necessary to insure good nutrition for the growing child.

If formula is used, adequate sterilizing equipment is required.
6. Special Notes

Limitations on combining types of care include:

Caring for foster children on a full time basis and on a day care basis in the same home shall not be permitted except as authorized by the licensing agency.

A home being studied for adoption, an approved adoptive home, or an adoptive home where a child has been placed for adoption for less than 1 year, shall not take a child for foster day care.

Exceptions shall be permitted only as authorized by the licensing agency.

There is also general provision for some relaxation of physical standards of facilities. Any exceptions must be approved by the licensing agency.

In addition to full and provisional licenses for foster day care, the rules also contain provision for "license for specific children."

A foster day care home, which does not meet all the provisions of the established standards of foster day care, may be licensed for care of a specific child or children only. This refers to situations where the best interests of a specific child or children are served by placement in this home rather than in any other licensed foster day care home.

   Day Care Standards, (DPW), 1966.

   ... Child welfare agency shall include child-caring institution, child-placing agency, maternity home, family boarding home, family day-care home, and day-care center ...

   Family day care home shall mean a home operated by any person who receives therein for pay five or more children under 17 years of age, who are not related to such person and whose parents or guardians are not residents in the same house, for day time supervision and care, without transfer of custody.

   A family day care home cares for a limited number of children, and it is the only day care facility which may care for infants and toddlers under two years of age. It is also used for older children with special needs.

   A license is not required for a home caring for fewer than five children.

3. Child Eligibility

   The total number of children including the operator's own preschool children or other relatives must not exceed seven, with no more than three children under 18 months of age.

   If all children being cared for are under three years of age, the maximum number of children must not exceed five.

   The parent(s) of each child must present a certificate to the day care home signed by a licensed physician, stating that the child has had a medical examination during the two weeks before or within the week following admission. The certificate must state that the child is free from communicable disease and must give the dates he was immunized, or indicate that he is in the process of being immunized against smallpox, tetanus, whooping cough, diphtheria, poliomyelitis, and measles. This requirement also applies to the operator's own children, grandchildren or other relatives in the day care home. All immunizations must be completed within a three-month period after admission unless there is a medical reason, certified by a physician, why these immunizations should not be made.
The physician's certificate must state the presence of any condition affecting the general health of the child, or any handicap, and should include any suggestions that will be helpful in caring for the child. If there is evidence of tuberculosis in the family, a tuberculosis skin test must be made on the child and, if indicated, an x-ray of the chest.

Each child must receive a physical examination annually and at any other time indicated by his general condition. Such booster shots as the individual physician recommends should be given annually.

Before accepting a handicapped child for care, the day care home mother must receive information to help in determining whether the child's placement is best for him and will not interfere with the progress of other children. This includes reports from the physician, psychologist, and other specialists in the child's handicap.

The requirements for admission of children to day care centers must also be met. Other than the health requirements noted above, these are general requirements relating to pre-admission exchange of information between parents and operator and understandings as hours of care, fees and payment thereof.

Family day care homes must not provide 24-hour care to children.

4. Operator Eligibility

All persons caring for the children must be at least 18 years of age.

There must be on file medical reports certifying that all persons responsible for the care of the children are free from communicable disease. These must be renewed annually. The medical examination requirement, which applies also to other adult members of the household, includes a tuberculin skin test and an x-ray if indicated.

The children must have constant supervision. There must be at least one adult with the children at all times. Definite plans must be made to obtain additional adult help for emergencies.
5. Facilities

The home must meet all requirements of state and local ordinances concerning sanitation and fire prevention. Before a license can be granted, approval must be obtained from the Tennessee Department of Public Health and the Fire Prevention Division of the Tennessee Department of Insurance and Banking.

The Commissioner of the Department of Public Welfare, based upon a study by a representative of the Department, together with written reports of inspections made by the State Department of Public Health and the State Fire Marshal, will determine whether a license will be issued.

The statute provides that it shall be the duty of the Department through its authorized agents, to inspect at regular intervals without previous notice all child welfare agencies within the State.

The day care home must not be located where conditions exist that will be harmful to the physical or moral well-being of the children.

The playground area must be protected from traffic hazards.

All rooms used for children must have sunlight, ventilation, lighting, and heat.

All preschool children must be required to rest on individual cots or beds after the midday meal. If family beds are used, a clean coverlet must cover the bed. Two children from the same family may use one bed if each child is covered with a separate cover.

Any child showing or developing symptoms of fresh cold, sore throat, inflammation of the eyes, fever, rash, or diarrhea must be excluded from the group until his parents can call for him, or other arrangements are made for his care elsewhere.

For children in care four hours or longer, a noon meal and one snack must be provided to meet one-third to one-half of the daily food needs of the child. For those in care longer than eight hours, the food needs of the child must be furnished in one meal and two snacks. Each meal must be well balanced and planned to provide approximately one-third to one-half of the day's food requirements for children and must include one cup of milk, one to two ounces of meat or alternate (fish, poultry, egg, cheese, dried beans, peanut butter), a combination of fruits and vegetables amounting to 3/4 cup, and one serving of enriched or whole grain bread or cereal. All milk used must be pasteurized.

6. Special Notes

They should be people whose marital relations or personal problems present no situation or irregularity likely in the opinion of the State Department of Public Welfare to be harmful to the interests of the children to be cared for. All members of the family should accept the child as a member of the family group.

\(^1\) A 1971 amendment to the licensing law requires DPW to promulgate rules and regulations relating to immunization of children in child care facilities. The rules must require immunization of each child against diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, rubeola, rubella, smallpox, and other diseases as determined by the State Health Department.
All members of the household and employees engaged in child-caring must be in such physical and mental health as will not affect adversely the well being of the child or the quality of care given him in the foster home. Applicants for a boarding home license shall provide the State Department of Public Welfare a written report of examinations of the foster parents and of any other members of the foster family or employees for whom examinations seem indicated. Such reports shall be made by a qualified licensed physician on forms provided by the State Department of Public Welfare. They will be provided by the applicants during the initial study of the home, annually thereafter, and at any other time when indicated.

There shall be no mentally ill or mentally defective person in the home.

The home shall comply with state building regulations and laws, with city zoning ordinances, with all health and sanitary standards of the State Department of Health as well as local health and sanitary ordinances and with State and local fire laws.

The plumbing shall be safe and in compliance with the city ordinance.

The water supply shall be obtained from the public water system if available, otherwise from a source or system meeting the State Department of Health standards.

There shall be adequate and sanitary sewage disposal through connection to the public sewer system. If there is no public sewer system available, the method of sewage disposal shall meet the State Department of Health standards.

Toilets shall be of the flush type unless the boarding home is located in a rural area, in which case toilets provided must comply with the State Department of Health Standards.

It is recommended that only those foods be used which comply with the provisions of the Texas Food and Drug Law and Sanitary Regulations requiring the proper protection of food stuffs from contamination and that meat be used only from properly inspected plants.
Grade A pasteurized milk shall be served to the children unless permission is given by the local health department to serve other grades. The method of home pasteurization prescribed by the local health department shall be used if pasteurized milk is not available in the community. Home milk supplies must meet local health department standards.

The licensee shall immediately report to the State Department of Public Welfare any change in the condition of the boarding home which might in any way, positively or adversely, affect the welfare of the children boarding in the home. Examples of such reportable changes include changes in the housing. If additional room or other changes warrant an increase in the license, the licensee shall request the State Department of Public Welfare to increase the authorized number of children which may be boarded in the home.

Inspections by health and fire departments shall be made prior to issuance of a license and annually thereafter. If such inspections are not available, the licensing worker shall observe and report hazards in these areas.

The boarding home shall be inspected and approved by a duly authorized representative of the State Department of Public Welfare prior to accepting children for care and issuance of a license. The State Department of Public Welfare shall have the authority to visit and inspect the boarding home at all reasonable times, to ascertain if it is being conducted in conformity with the law or if any conditions exist which need correction and to investigate any complaint. The home has the right to ask the Department for help and consultation.

... When children under 2 are cared for upstairs a gate shall be provided at the head of each flight of stairs to which children have access or at each hall door.

The home shall not be overcrowded. 500 cubic feet per child of living space actually used by the children are required.

Sufficient floor space (usually considered to be at least 30 square feet per child) shall be allowed each child in a sleeping room.

The outdoor play area shall be enclosed by a fence.
Rooms used by the children shall be adequately ventilated, the heat in winter months to be controlled by a room thermometer. 68°F. to 72°F. is recommended for sleeping rooms; 68°F. to 80°F. for other rooms.

Window space and artificial lighting shall be sufficient to prevent eyestrain.

Comfortable beds shall be provided and shall be kept in a clean and sanitary condition at all times. The bedding shall be adequate and suitable to the season. If the child is kept in the boarding home for only part of the day, a cot is permissible for rest during the day. Each child shall have a bed alone.

Any child showing signs of illness (such as a running nose, watery eyes, flushed cheeks, rash, cough, apparent rise in temperature, or vomiting, fatigue, irritability, or unusual behavior) shall be isolated promptly from other children in the home. Any child suspected of having a communicable disease shall be reported to the local health officer and shall be isolated from other children in the home.

Substantial meals suitable to the needs of growing children as recommended by Texas Food Standards shall be provided.

Meals served to children in the boarding home should be planned so that in each 24-hour period the standards for children are met. If a child remains in the boarding home only part of the day, cooperation of the boarding home and the own home is necessary.

Formulae and additional feeding for infants shall be prescribed by a physician licensed by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners.

6. Special Notes

The license shall be in effect from date of issuance as long as the home meets the minimum standards for the facility set out by the Department of Public Welfare or until the licensee notifies the Department that he has closed operation.

No boarding, convalescent or nursing home which provides care for chronic patients or the aged shall be licensed as a boarding home for children, except that in unusual circumstances a license may be issued to meet the needs of a specific child.
Another type of family day care facility is the "agency boarding home" which is defined by statute as:

... a private home, caring for six or less children, used only by a licensed child placing agency, which agency has determined and has certified to the State Department of Public Welfare that such home meets minimum rules and regulations promulgated by the State Department of Public Welfare, and which agency shall provide supervision both for the boarding home and each child so placed therein.

These facilities are not required to be licensed separately by the State Department of Public Welfare, provided that they are designated as such in writing by the user child-placing agency. Although not required to be licensed, agency boarding homes must meet minimum standards prescribed by DPW, and the Department is authorized to visit any such home with a view to ascertaining whether the child cared for in the facility are being properly serviced and properly supervised by the child-placing agency.

   . . . No day nursery, person, association, corporation, institution, or agency shall provide care and supervision for three or more children under fourteen years of age in lieu of care and supervision ordinarily provided by parents in their own homes, for periods of more than four but less than 24 hours in any one day, with or without charge, without having in full force a license issued by or under the authority of the division of family services. . . Excluded from licensing provisions is care given to children by or in the homes of parents, legal guardians, grandparents, brothers, sisters, uncles or aunts, or as part of the program of an educational institution regulated by the boards of education of the State, or as part of the program of a parochial educational institution.

   A family day care home is a private home caring for a limited number of children for part of a day. If three or more unrelated children are cared for (see exception below) it is necessary for the home to be licensed. Family day care is defined to include homes caring for six or fewer children for a minimum of four hours, but less than twenty-four hours. The day care family's own pre-school children shall be included in the count of six or fewer children.

   Exception: A license may be issued to a family day care home caring for fewer than three children upon receipt of application and when it has been determined that standards have been met.

   Family day care homes caring for children, for whom the Department has accepted responsibility or agreed to pay the cost of care, must have a license regardless of the number of children cared for in the home.
3. Child Eligibility

Family day care is most appropriate for:

- Children under age three.
- Children of any age for whom group care is unsuitable due to physical handicaps, emotional disturbances or mental retardation.
- Children of one family in which there is a child under age three and with one or more older children for whom it is most advantageous to arrange day care together.
- Children living in scattered residential areas, where it is not feasible to establish a group care facility.
- Children whose parents work schedules do not coincide with that of the day care center.

The day care mother must have a statement, signed by a licensed physician, certifying that the child is free from communicable diseases and make known any health problem the child may have. If other health problems exist the day care mother should evaluate with the parents the feasibility of accepting the child and what precautions are indicated.

A home shall not be used for a day care home and a foster home concurrently.

4. Operator Eligibility

The day care mother should not be too young but old enough to have maturity but not too old to lack sufficient stamina and flexibility to care for young children.

The day care mother and other persons responsible for the children must have an interest in and a capacity for enjoying children. They should be dependable and consistant and have the ability to discern the feelings and needs of children and possess good judgement. They should be able to handle normal, as well as difficult situations, promptly and intelligently.

The suitability of the day care mother should be attested to by two satisfactory references.
There shall be a statement signed by a licensed physician certifying that all persons responsible for children in the household are free from health problems which would limit them in caring for children. These reports shall be renewed annually and be available for inspection by a representative of the licensing agency.

A responsible adult, such as a neighbor, should be available on call for emergency situations.

5. Facilities

The day care homes must comply with all local ordinances relative to zoning or privilege licensing.

The home should be provided with public water and sewer utility service or if there is an individual water and waste disposal system it must have been approved by the State Health Department or the local health department.

Food storage, preparation and serving facilities should comply with Utah State Health Department sanitation regulations as applicable.

All licenses for family day care shall be issued by the Public Welfare Commission after a report from the county office is received indicating that a family day care home is meeting required standards. It shall be left to the discretion of the person making the evaluation as to whether or not others, such as the public health nurse, sanitarian, fire marshal, or nutritionist are requested to evaluate the home. If there are reasons to be concerned about any of the foregoing areas pertaining to the safety and well being of children, then a representative of the cooperating agency shall be requested to appraise the home and make recommendations.

Day Care Homes licensed under the provisions of these standards shall be under the supervision and inspection, at any time, by representatives of the licensing agency or those cooperating departments who may be asked to make any appraisal of the home.

All rooms used for the children must have plenty of sunlight, adequate ventilation, lighting and heating.

Each child should have his own bed or cot and bedding. Family beds may be used if clean coverlets are placed over the beds to provide the necessary protection. For infants a crib or bed with sides is required.
Provision should be made for the isolation of a child who becomes ill...

Foods known to supply the essentials for good health and growth should be provided in adequate amounts. Children should eat regularly foods from each of the following basic food groups: Milk, fruits, vegetables, meats, cheese, eggs, cereals and bread. Babies usually establish their own regular feeding schedules. Details of the child's diet should be obtained from the natural mother or guardian.

Vermont Statutes Annotated, Title 33, Sections 2752, 2852.

State of Vermont Required Standards and Federal Interagency Recommended Standards for Family Day Care Homes and Family Group Day Care Homes, (VOEO) [Proposed]

A day care facility is any place operated as a business or service on a regular or continuous basis, whether for compensation or not, whose primary function is protection, care and supervision of children under sixteen years of age outside their homes for periods of less than twenty-four hours a day by a person other than a child's own parent, guardian or relative.

The family day care home is a family home other than the normal one of the child which offers care and protection to children for all or part of the working day. . . A family day care home usually has no more than six children in total, including the family day care mother's own pre-school or handicapped children. (Proposed Minimum Rules. . .for Day Care Centers, 1970, p.5)

All day care facilities, other than those exempt by statute, must meet State licensing requirements. Facilities receiving federal monies—directly or indirectly must comply with both State and federal standards.

(The summary below relates to proposed Vermont State requirements.)

3. Child Eligibility

A day care home shall be given a regular license to care for no more than six children, ages 0 to 14 years, including the family's own pre-school or homebound handicapped child.

Of this six, only two shall be two or under, unless a second person is available to give special attention needed for infants.
The number and ages of children in a day care home should be determined by the experience, physical strength, skills and capacities of the day care mother, and her ability to deal with children of different ages.

Day care homes frequently provide before school and after school care for short durations of time. If such care is given which increase the number of children, the licenser shall determine whether additional help is needed.

If family's own children are in school during day care hours, they need not be counted.

A special License may be given to day care homes allowing up to nine children without a second adult if children are three and over and if mother has had sufficient experience in caring for larger groups of children. There must be sufficient space and equipment.

Each child should have a signed statement from a physician before being accepted at the day care home which says he is free from communicable diseases. All immunizations and a complete physical must be completed one month from time of admission.

Own children in the day care facility shall be expected to meet the same health standards and have the same immunizations as required for children coming into care.

4. Operator Eligibility

The day care mother, shall be of suitable age (18 at least) and temperament to care for children. She must understand the needs of children, be able to give the children the affection and security they need, and have had satisfactory experience in the care of children. These characteristics must be attested to by reliable references.

With respect to training of the supervising mother and aides in day care and group homes, the proposed Vermont Standards provide that if group training sessions are available in locality of day care or group homes supervising adult will be urged to go if volunteers are available to substitute.
The day care aide may be paid or volunteer. She must fulfill the requirements above except that her experience may be derived on the job under the supervision of the day care mother.

The use of volunteers and aides is very appropriate in family day care. Volunteers may include older children who are often very successful in working with younger children when under adequate supervision. Volunteers and aides may be used to assist the adult responsible for the group. Teenagers are often highly successful in working with younger children, but caution should be exercised against giving them too much responsibility.

The day care parent, and all members of the family who have any contact with the children shall have a yearly medical statement from a doctor verifying that each person is in good mental and physical health. A test for tuberculosis must be included.

Any child care aide who is hired, or volunteers who help in the home must also have a medical statement from a doctor verifying their good health.

If day care mother is alone for any reason there shall be a responsible adult available or on call for emergencies.

5. Facilities

Fire prevention and protection must be emphasized. These standards shall be determined by the State Fire Marshal and the State Department of Health.

Unfinished attic rooms are not acceptable. If basements are used they must be free from dampness, have good lighting, heating, ventilation and window space, with means of quick and easy exit in case of emergency.

Indoor play space shall be adequate and safe for children. Recommended: 25 square feet per child.

The outdoor play area must also be safe and adequate and protected from traffic and other hazards in a manner safe for children. Recommended: 75 square feet per child. Playing in the street or on sidewalk area in front of house is not permissible.

A day care home shall have a telephone with posted telephone numbers of local doctors, fire department, police department, hospitals and parents of children in care.
Provision shall be made for a rest period of at least an hour daily; individual cots are recommended. Mats or sleeping bags may be used if floor is clean and free from drafts and dampness. Cribs for infants should have sides. Beds regularly used by the family should not be used for day care children.

Provision should exist for temporary isolation of the child in case of emergency illness until the parent can make other arrangements.

All food shall be wholesome, well prepared, and the diet shall be carefully planned and shall include at least one pint of milk a day for each child who attends a full day.

6. Special Notes

Liability insurance should be carried by the day care homes.

The State also licenses family group homes which may provide care for six to twelve children age three or over under the terms of a regular license.

A Family Group Home may be given a special license to allow not more than two children age two or under in the group provided that the day care mother is experienced and has at least one aide.

Minimum Standards for Family Day Care Homes and Independent Foster Homes, (DWI), (adopted March 15, 1949).

"Family day care home" means any private family home in which a child or children are received for care, protection and guidance during only a part of the twenty-four hour day, except children who are related by blood or marriage to the person who maintains the home.

Private family homes which provide day care to less than ten (10) children are also subject to licensing. . . (Minimum Standards. . .Child Care Centers, 1967, p. 1.)

"Child" means any natural person under 18 years of age.

3. Child Eligibility

In a foster home it is necessary that there be at least one adult on duty all the time for every three infants under two years of age and for every six children above two years of age.

The licensee shall require a medical report on each child at the time of acceptance in the home, and provision for immunization against childhood diseases is to be arranged with parents of young children. Provision should be made for medical and dental care.

4. Operator Eligibility

Foster parents must have an understanding of the problems of childhood and sympathy for them. They should be able to give the child the affection and security that he needs.
All members of the foster household including relatives, lodgers and servants, if there are any, must be responsible, wholesome and emotionally stable people of good character and reputation.

It is necessary that a foster home applicant submit a statement from a licensed physician to the effect that applicant and members of the household are free from communicable disease and that the extra responsibility of caring for children will not jeopardize the health of anyone in the house.

5. Facilities

The home must be free from fire hazards and have adequate fire protection. Inspection and approval of such authorities as are either required or permitted to inspect and enforce fire regulations will be required in instances when conditions seem to indicate need for same.

Except where water is obtained from a municipal supply and the house is connected to municipal sewer line, the water supply and sanitary disposal must be approved by the local health officer.

The statute provides for investigation of applicants and facilities, and for inspection of facilities at all reasonable times.

Emphasis should be on homemaking rather than housekeeping, yet the premises must be kept clean. There must be adequate space in the home to meet the needs of the family in addition to that required for boarding children.

There must be space for play indoors and outdoors.

Some provision for refrigeration must be provided. The house must be screened and properly ventilated and must be dry and heated in the winter.

There must be adequate bathing and toilet facilities.

Each child must be provided with a separate bed (except that brothers or sisters when of the same sex may occupy double beds)...

Provision for isolation of sick children is necessary.

The diet of children shall be well balanced and adequate for nutritional and health standards. Special diets are to be provided as prescribed by a physician for individual children.

Revised Code of Washington Annotated, Sections 74.15.010 et seq., 74.13.031.

Minimum Licensing Requirements for Foster Family Homes and Family Day Care Homes, (Washington Administrative Code, Chapter 388-65).

Summary of Minimum Licensing Requirements for Family Day Care Home, 1970.

A family day care home is a family dwelling in which a child or children receive care for periods of less than 24 hours per day in place of care in their own homes, whether for pay or not.

Not required to be licensed is a child's legal guardian or relative by blood or marriage (parent, grandparent, brother, sister, stepparent, stepbrother, stepsister, uncle, aunt, first cousin). Also exempt from licensing are parents who exchange care of one another's children on a mutually cooperative basis, and the occasional care of a neighbor's or friend's child or children.

3. Child Eligibility

No home shall be licensed for more than two children under two years of age, including the children of the day care parents.

A day care home may be licensed for the care of more than six children, including the day care mother's own children under the age of 12, only when:

None of the children are under 2 years of age;

The day care mother is assisted at least half-time by a helper who is 16 years of age or older and who, in the judgment of the Department or the supervising agency, is mature enough to act competently in an emergency;
A planned program of both group and individualized activities including periods of free play is maintained;

A variety of suitable play equipment is provided.

No home shall be licensed for more than 10 children, including the day care family's own children under 12 years of age, unless all of the nonrelated children are from the same family.

Before and after school care for periods of not more than three hours shall be disregarded in the count of children for which a day care home may be licensed, provided the total number of children under 12 years of age does not exceed ten on the premises at any given time.

Regardless of the number of the day care parent's own children, no home which otherwise meets licensing requirements shall be denied a license for the care of a single day care child or single family of such children.

No home shall be licensed for both day care and full-time foster care nor for the care of both children and adults, except with the written permission of the Department or supervising agency.

4. Operator Eligibility

Day care parents must be emotionally stable and have the ability and personality suited to meeting the physical, mental, emotional needs of the children in care.

Day care parents should have all the attributes of a good, normal family, including a genuine interest in children.

The physical and mental health and character of all members of the household must be consistent with the welfare of the children in care. Depending on family's health history, physical examinations may be required. TB examinations are required for household members over the age of 14 where such examinations are available at no cost.

5. Facilities

... Home and grounds shall be reasonably free from hazards. If question arises concerning fire danger, the local fire protection authority shall be consulted.

Drinking water from a private source must be approved by the County Health Department or other authorized agency.
The Department or supervising agency shall visit licensed homes periodically to determine whether there is continued compliance with requirements.

There shall be adequate, safe play space and equipment both indoors and out. The outdoor play area shall be fenced if conditions require.

There shall be sufficient ventilation, light and heat to insure health and comfort and facilities for sanitary storage, refrigeration, preparation and service of food.

There shall be adequate space and toilet facilities to accommodate all members of the household.

There shall be daily inspection of each child as he enters the home and before he has mingled with other children; if there are indications of illness, cold symptoms, or skin eruptions, the child shall not be admitted, or shall be separated from the other children.

A well-balanced meal at noon, and mid-morning and mid-afternoon snacks shall be provided. The use of raw milk is prohibited.

West Virginia Code 1966, Section 49-1-1 et seq.

Child Care Services - Agency Standards for Out of Home Care, (DW), 1969. (In Family and Children Services, 12,000 ff.)

Child care is a service purchased by the Agency which offers care of children away from their homes, usually called day care, or in their homes for part of the day while parents work, receive job training, are absent from home or are unable for other reasons to provide continued parental supervision.

Family day care is child care for part of a day provided in a private family home approved by the Agency's service worker to serve no more than six children including the family day care mother's own children.

Family day care homes are approved and supervised by county welfare departments.

3. Child Eligibility

Family Day Care is appropriate for:

A. Children under three years of age.
B. Children of any age for whom a day care center is unsuitable because of special conditions such as physical handicap, mental retardation, or emotional difficulty.
C. Children of one family in which there is a child under three and one or more older children for whom day-time care together is advantageous.
D. Children in scattered residential areas, smaller communities or rural areas where it is not feasible to establish a day care center.
E. Children of school age whose parents' work schedules do not coincide with that of the group day care center.
Each child must receive dental, medical and other health evaluations appropriate to his age upon entering day care and subsequently at intervals appropriate to his age and state of health. Arrangements must be made for medical and dental care and other related treatment for each child by the parents, agency or through community resources or by cooperation of all three. The child's parents must give consent and approval for all medical and dental care.

The Agency service worker must ensure that the size of groups be limited as follows:

Infants Through Six Years of Age

No more than two children under two years of age and no more than five in total, including the family day care mother's own children.

Mixed Age Groups

No more than five children with only two under two years of age, including the family day care mother's own children under 14 years. Six children may be served if all children are over three.

School Age Children

No more than six children including the family day care mother's children under 14 years of age.

4. Operator Eligibility

The day care mother must be at least 21 years of age and no more than 60 years of age. An exception to the upper age limit may be made if the service worker's observation and a physical examination by a licensed physician indicate that her health is adequate to meet the needs of young children.

Others in the home assuming responsibility of the children must be at least 18 years of age.

Persons responsible for the care of the children must have a physical examination including tests for T.B. The physical and emotional health must be assessed annually.

Low income families and AFDC families may apply to be approved as family day care homes.
There must always be provision for another adult on whom the family day care mother can call in case of an emergency.

Volunteers who have had instruction from the Agency may be used in family day care homes at the request of the family day care mother. They may be used by the family day care mother in helping with story telling, food service, playing with children, conducting a craft program, etc.

Guidance for providing adequate food for the children under care may be obtained from a nutritionist of the West Virginia Department of Health or a home economist.

Facilities

The service worker with a member of the day care family must apply the home firesafety check list published by the American Insurance Association or obtain inspection and approval of the home by fire authorities. This must be done prior to approval of the home and annually thereafter.

A study must be made of each home before approval is given for the placement of children.

There should be space indoors and outdoors for the child to play.

Outdoor play space should be on the premises or easily accessible, free from conditions which may be dangerous to the life or health of the children.

All rooms used for children must have adequate light, ventilation and proper heat.

There should be at least one telephone in the home or nearby for easy communication in the event of an emergency.

Each child should have an individual bed or cot kept in clean and sanitary condition at all times. Beds currently used by family must not be used by the child unless clean linen is provided. An infant under 18 months of age should have a crib or bed with sides.

Children must be served a regular hot meal supplying one-third of their daily food needs if they are in attendance more than four hours at the family day care home. In the full-day program, pre-school children must be served a morning snack, a hot lunch and an afternoon snack.
When infants are cared for in the family day care home, the child's own mother should supply the prepared formula for the daily needs of the child.

Children coming to the family day care home after school should be served a snack.

6. Special Notes

The day care family should have standard liability insurance coverage for the protection of both the child and the day care family in case of accident or injury.

The day care family must have standard automobile liability insurance before transporting children.
There is no statutory provision for licensing of day care facilities caring for less than four children. Any facility caring for four or more children must be licensed as a day care center.
