The elective (7-9) course in world religions outlined in this guide is designed to fit the quinmester organization of schools. The course is described as a study of world religions, focusing on religion as an institution in society. It includes effects of religion on people, governments, and internal relations. The guide is divided according to: 1) a broad goals section; 2) a content outline; 3) objectives and learning activities; and, 4) multimedia resources for teacher and student. Goals for the course include the following: 1) to examine the basic scriptures of selected religions (Buddhism, Christianity, Confucianism, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism, Taoism, Shinto); 2) to describe the effect of religion on the arts of selected societies; 3) to describe the relationship between the institutions of religion and the state in selected societies; 4) to describe the teachings of selected religions on the nature of man, the natural universe, and the supernatural; 5) to describe the moral code of selected religions; and, 6) to assess the role of religion in the life of modern man. Related documents are: SO 002 708 through SO 002 718, SO 002 768 through SO 002 792, and SO 002 947 through SO 002 970. (Author/MAW)

INTRODUCTION

This course of study was written as part of a total effort to revise curriculum to fit the quinmester administrative organization of schools. The materials and information in this guide are meant to be neither all-inclusive nor prescriptive; but rather, an aide to teachers as they plan instructional programs, taking into account student needs and characteristics, available resources, and other factors.

The major intent of this publication is to provide a broad framework of goals and objectives, content, teaching strategies, class activities, and materials all related to a described course of study. Teachers may then accept the model framework in total or draw ideas from it to incorporate into their lessons.

The guide is divided into 1) a broad goals section, 2) a content outline, 3) objectives and learning activities, and 4) materials. The first section provides descriptive and goal-oriented information for the teacher; "Indicators of success" refers to suggested prerequisite or corequisite experiences. The content outline illustrates, in general terms, the scope and major subdivisions of the course. The objectives and learning activities section, hopefully, provides a total picture of the concept or main idea and specific behavioral objectives for a set of given learning activities. The materials section of the guide lists resources in four categories: essential textural or other material; alternate classroom materials to use in place of or in addition to the aforementioned; supplementary teacher resources; and supplementary student resources. The appendix may include other material appropriate for a specific course: e.g., pretests, readings, vocabulary, etc.

Anyone having recommendations relating to this publication is urged to write them down and send to: Social Studies Office, Room 306, Lindsey Hopkins, A-1.

COURSE DESCRIPTION: A STUDY OF SELECTED WORLD RELIGIONS, FOCUSING ON RELIGION AS AN INSTITUTION IN SOCIETY. INCLUDES EFFECTS OF RELIGION ON PEOPLE, GOVERNMENTS AND INTERNAL RELATIONS.

CLUSTER: Behavioral Studies
GRADE LEVEL: 7-9
COURSE STATUS: Elective

COURSE RATIONALE: Our children live in a world of stress, challenge and rapid change. In reaction, increasing numbers of young people seek a spiritual adjustment to a complex environment. This search leads to questions difficult to answer: Do the religions of man call for worship of different gods or the same God differently? Can we know the true nature of man? Are the ethics of the major world religions basically the same? How do these varying religions affect the lives of those who believe in them? Years of study, reflection, and introspection are necessary to deal with such questions. This course is intended as a first step toward the competency to deal with such issues.
COURSE GOALS:

1. THE STUDENT WILL EXAMINE THE BASIC SCRIPTURES OF SELECTED RELIGIONS.

2. THE STUDENT WILL TRACE THE HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENT OF SELECTED RELIGIONS.

3. THE STUDENT WILL DESCRIBE THE EFFECT OF RELIGION ON THE ARTS OF SELECTED SOCIETIES.

4. THE STUDENT WILL DESCRIBE THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE INSTITUTIONS OF RELIGION AND THE STATE IN SELECTED SOCIETIES.

5. THE STUDENT WILL DESCRIBE THE TEACHINGS OF SELECTED RELIGIONS ON THE NATURE OF:
   A. MAN
   B. THE NATURAL UNIVERSE
   C. THE SUPERNATURAL

6. THE STUDENT WILL DESCRIBE MAN’S DESTINY AS ENVISIONED IN THE TEACHINGS OF SELECTED RELIGIONS.

7. THE STUDENT WILL DESCRIBE THE MORAL CODE (ETHICS) OF SELECTED RELIGIONS.

8. THE STUDENT WILL COMPARE SELECTED RELIGIONS ON THE FOLLOWING FACTORS:
   A. ORIGIN
   B. USE OF SCRIPTURES
   C. RELATIONSHIP WITH THE STATE
   D. EFFECT ON THE ARTS IN THOSE SOCIETIES WHERE THE SELECTED RELIGIONS DOMINATE
   E. VIEWS ON MAN
   F. VIEWS ON THE NATURAL UNIVERSE
   G. VIEWS ON THE SUPERNATURAL
   H. VIEWS ON MAN’S DESTINY
   I. MORAL CODES

9. THE STUDENT WILL ASSESS THE ROLE OF RELIGION IN THE LIFE OF MODERN MAN.

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Browne, The World's Great Scriptures</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Have small groups read and analyze the contents of given scriptures in relation to a given topic. Each group can report to the class the findings of their research (e.g. &quot;What the Koran says about honesty&quot;).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Have the students do library research to investigate the historical background of the scriptures of the various religions. They can prepare reports and time-lines from their findings.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. Have the students prepare posters displaying &quot;sayings&quot; that they feel are meaningful from various scriptures. The posters can be displayed around the classroom and used as the basis for discussions.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. Have the students conduct a panel discussion (after adequate preparatory research) on the value of scriptures to an organized religion.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6. Have a student construct a time-line displaying the time(s) of origin of the scriptures of the various religions.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7. Have the students write an essay on the &quot;purpose&quot; of a given scripture.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8. Have the students invite members of the various religions (or do research) to discuss the use of the scripture(s) in their religion (e.g. source of prayers, church organization).</td>

All religions give man some hope for the future. | F. The student will describe man's destiny as envisioned in the teachings of selected religions. | 1. Have the students "Brainstorm" to define "Salvation" in terms of:
   a. What man is from
   b. What man is saved for

2. Have the students locate and discuss passages from the scripture of the various religions that relate to man's fate (i.e., salvation).
   SOURCE: Addison, Life Beyond Death in the Beliefs of Mankind

3. Have students role-play members of the various faiths and give speeches on "What is Salvation?"

4. Have the students read a short story or watch a T.V. program. Have them evaluate the protagonist's chances of salvation based on comparison of his behavior and the teachings of a given religion.

5. Have the students write a poem expressing any given religion's viewpoint on the nature of salvation.

6. Have the students discuss this quotation: "There is no such thing as a single scheme of salvation. Salvation is not the monopoly of any church. All paths lead to the hilltop of one and the same God-consciousness. The different religions are suited to the different aspirants in their various stages of progress." Swami Nikhilananda
   Have the students suggest how leaders of the various world faiths might react. Have them discuss what is meant by "stages of progress."

|       |           | 9. Have the students brainstorm to get a list of "behaviors" that are considered immoral in modern America (e.g. murder, theft, plural marriage) Have the students do research to identify those behaviors from their list that are "condemned" by the various religions under study. Repeat the activity with sanctioned behavior to get a list of common "do's" and "don'ts" for the world's major religions.
