ABSTRACT
The Look-Listen Poll, reported in this paper, is based on television program gradings from over 2,000 adults and nearly 2,000 high school students in 32 states. The "report card" used by the respondents to rate TV programs and the method used in the study are described first, and then information is provided about the respondents, their top and bottom choices for best programs, and the kinds of programs they would like best to see. Then, for each category of program--drama, variety, news, information, children's, and music--the responses are summarized. A detailed opinion sampler, presented next, quotes the respondents' own words to throw light on why they liked or disliked specific programs. In addition, sections on movies shown on TV and on advertising are provided. A further discussion and description of the respondents and a summary of responses to a questionnaire conclude the report.

This is the nineteenth annual report of the Look - Listen Poll, conducted by the American Council for Better Broadcasts - a national non-profit, educational organization.

From mid-September to mid-November of 1971, over 4,242 people living in 32 states became monitors in the Look-Listen Poll, returning 25,872 gradings of television and radio programs. The adults numbered 2,253. Many of them were recruited by local groups throughout the country. Most of the young people were in high school classes which were interested in the poll. 1989 young people participated in it.

Each monitor was asked to give thoughtful attention to eight programs aired Saturdays and Sundays or late afternoons and evenings of other days. To avoid wide scattering among programs, monitors were asked to confine the monitoring to Children's Programs, Drama, Variety, Music, News, Information. 6 network and 2 local programs were suggested.

PURPOSE OF THE POLL:
The object of the poll is to find reasons for preferences of people across the country. So anyone may take part in this poll and effort is made to let people know of it. Their preferences do not constitute a recommended list. They are grassroots judgments based on people's tastes and desires.

REPORT CARD USED: The form is kept simple.

(Movies are not to be compared with the above. Their total score, 777.)

Sesame Street (for children) 229 48 277

LOW SCORES: Dean Martin -482; Laugh-In -472; Hee-Haw -374; Green Acres -160. These programs are in the minus columns of adults and youth.

Difference of taste between adult and teenage monitors is seen most conspicuously in the gradings of the Lawrence Welk program; also in such series as "Alias Smith and Jones," "Longstreet," "Hawaii-5-0," and "Night Gallery." Similarity of taste is apparent in the scores for "Disney's Wonderful World," "Marcus Welby, M.D." and Flip Wilson.

WHAT THE MONITORS SHOWED THEY WANT: Programs of quality, material suitable for the family, and scheduled with the ages of the audience in mind — ages of the younger members of the family as well as adults.
Drama

Script writers - In other years actors and acting received much critical attention in the Look-Listen Poll. This year the monitors were concerned about the writing and the writers, though quite aware of the quality of the acting. They judged a number of the scripts too poor for the actors -- for Mary Tyler Moore, Doris Day, Shirley MacLaine, Jimmy Stewart, and a number of others. Compliments went to the writers for "All in the Family," "Marcus Welby, M.D.," "Night Gallery," "Ironside," and others.

The Plot must be realistic. As used by these monitors, realistic means truthful, honest, believable. And there must be a plot.

Doris Day has "no plot" - relies, instead, on beautiful clothing." "All in the Family" is "essentially truthful." "Adam 12" is unrealistic.

"It is totally unrealistic to solve four robberies in half an hour."

"The same old plot" is a frequent comment: meaning the same routine - deed, capture, escape, chase, etc. It is found to be "boring."

Improbability also bores. Of "Mission Impossible," one monitor says, "Impossible is the word for this exaggerated plot and unreal story."

Subject matter - Murder? Monitors abhorred the amount of violence seen in the plays. Of "Gunsmoke" one reported, "Whoever said violence was off television?" this show, one of the most violent, is on in prime time for children." Of the same play a man living near Chicago says, "An ordinary western that got right down to business -- three dead and a clobbering - a pose -- and the level-headed marshalls - in a rather trite, corny, and tired story." A high school student says of it, "I dislike it because of the gun fights. They always draw blood, and the saloons look like only the slos go there."

Substance there should be, according to these monitors, even in a comedy. "The appealing thing about 'All in the Family' is the amount of truth there is in it," says a schoolboy. Of another play, "Boring. No substance in the script," from an adult.

Time of day for different kinds of plays - The time of evening for different plays had much to do with the monitors' opinion of them. This one quotation makes the point - very politely: "'All in the Family' should be switched to a weeknight. (A lot of families have weekend plans) And the time should be changed to 9:30 since younger children are usually in bed by this time. Some of the material is too deep for pre-teens and they fail to understand the motive behind the program."

Some suggested that unusually good entertainment be scheduled on Friday night. Friday nights many children stay up later.

Annoyances: Laugh-track. Background music that comes out front. Commercials - many and frequent - that break up programs.

Variety

What is considered funny makes a difference in the scores. Of Flip Wilson - "Some comedy shows can make you very uncomfortable and bored, but this one seems to really make you laugh," from a teenager in Oconomowoc, Wis. Of Laugh-In - "The first year I liked it, but after that, the water in the face, trap doors, dancing, and sick puns make the show a last resort," from a high school student in Florida. Of Dick Cavett - "He keeps the conversation within the bounds of decency by exercising unusual control," Of Dean Martin - "There is much insinuation and suggestion." (both from adults)
NEWS

If one turns on a newscast - from a sense of duty (not from joy because he is going to hear news - doesn't everyone enjoy hearing news?) It may be because "they don't tell you any news because most of it you already know." That is what a high school student discovered, and a number of teenagers said practically the same thing. It is something to think about when the News is on! How much of it is news?

Bias - A few complained of bias, but fewer than usual.

One monitor caught this unlabelled editorial comment: "Congress is unable to deal effectively with ---." It is interesting; for it is the kind of remark a newsmen might make and be unaware that he had expressed an opinion, unless he is unusually careful.

Making much of a trivial incident or event = making it seem important - There is some complaint of this lack of proportion.

Subject matter = The editor of the newscast will claim he has the right to say what the country shall be fed. But several people in the LookListen Poll claim the right to know about many constructive goings-on. "We would like to be informed about the progress being made in many fine projects," writes the leader of a group which had discussed this matter. Many believe they are not being informed on many paths of progress.

Editorials on all three networks, segregating personal opinions from facts: Many monitors spoke happily of the editorials.

Local news = Some local news is very good showing initiative in interviewing officials, attending meetings of the school board, the city council, and public addresses, also broadcasting news about the state. Others depend on the police blotter, broadcast news of fires and accidents. Very few complaints of bias were made, but there were a few, locally.

INFORMATION

The absence of CBS NEWS was deplored, also the removal of "Sixty Minutes" from prime time Tuesday evenings to Sunday afternoons, when it is likely to be preempted by some sport. The informational programs with the highest scores this year are: "Wild Kingdom," "Sixty Minutes," "National Geographic," "Today," "The Firing Line," "David Frost," "Jacques Cousteau.'"

CHILDREN'S PROGRAMS

A parent's comment on a program - "It was not harmful but it didn't do anything for the child either," shows the respect she has for the value of a child's time (and it is typical), a respect all broadcasters do not share. More parents than usual were enjoying good children's programs with their children.

MUSIC

Young People's Concert = one of the very few musical treats on television. PBS - The UN Concert was especially enjoyed, with Pablo Casals. The Metropolitan Opera Matinees, sponsored by Texaco, were remembered from a year.

OPINION SAMPLER

The Opinion Sampler, which begins on the next page, is the heart of this poll. It quotes the monitors' own words to throw light on WHY they liked or disliked specific programs. In it, HS = high school; Y = youth; A = adult.
OPINION SAMPLE

The Opinion Sampler is the monitors speaking for themselves.

So that the quotations from monitors may fairly represent them, they were asked to grade as Excellent, Good, Fair, or Poor the programs they judged, as well as to tell why they judged each program as they did. The quotations in the sampler correspond roughly to the degree of approval indicated by the grades, and are typical of the reasons monitors gave for their judgments.

In scoring, each Excellent counts 2; Good, 1; Fair, -1; Poor, -2.

NEWS

THE NETWORKS' EARLY EVENING NEWSCASTS

All three early evening newscasts by the networks are among the Top 20 scores in the poll. Last year none of them placed that high. The scores reflect in general higher respect for the programs and the fact that a greater proportion of monitors paid attention to them and reported on them.

The Viewers' Criteria

The Poll lights up some standards and convictions of the viewers:

They believe that

Reports of significant events and discoveries should replace unnecessary length of violent scenes on television.

They insist on

Clearly marked separation of a broadcaster's opinions from the reporting of facts.

They like

Editorials, partly because they mark division between opinion and fact, also because they usually stimulate thinking.

They are irritated by

Portions of a report which waste their time; such as:

1. Repetitions of the same report several times;
2. Attempts to be funny, when being funny is not natural.

They appreciate

Interviews with persons 'in the know'; not with the uninformed.
ABC EVENING NEWS
with Howard K. Smith and Harry Reasoner

QUALITIES Praised:
"Both sides presented. Well balanced and factual." (Beloit, Wis.)
"Comprehensible material and diction." (Yankton, S.D.)
"Excellent photography, vocabulary, objectivity." (Menomonee Falls, Wis.)
"I like the preview summary." (Ibid.)
"Enjoy the editorial." (Mt. Pleasant, Ill. and many, many more)
"Enjoy the humorous touches."

THE NEWSMEN: There was much praise for Howard K. Smith and Harry Reasoner -- for one or the other, evenly divided. The majority praised both.

EDITORIALS: "I do not always agree with Smith or Reasoner, but I rate them highly for separating their own views from the actual reporting of news events." (Milwaukee) "ABC news seems more thorough. I enjoy the editorial." (Newport News, Va.)

Adverse view: "We are told the pros and cons of a situation, and then are shown an interview elaborating on only one side." (Wallingford, Conn.) "The comment at the end does sometimes involve name-calling and 'glittering generalities!'" (HS Fort Walton Beach, Fla.)

Two high school students call for more background: "I would enjoy it more if, perhaps, more background is given." (HS Shallmar, Fla.) "If one has not seen the program the night before, he will not know the complete story." (HS Fort Walton Beach, Fla.)

WHAT THE PROGRAM DID NOT DO: (rated Fair or Poor) "No enlightening discussion of the administration's economic policy. Did not make this subject a news department special." (Kiel, Wis.) "Reasoner said crowds at the moratorium were 'relatively small' but showed no pictures to verify his statement. In the C-5A report Senator Proxmire criticized the air force; air force side not given." (Newport News, Va.) "I deeply resent prime network time given to a very minor ex-CIA employee to push his book. The story by ABC is unfair. No time was offered to the CIA for rebuttal." (Plattv Center, Neb.)

ADVERTISING: "Way too many commercials." (HS Ft. Walton Beach, Fla.) "Too much repeat advertising." (Portland, Ore.)

ON BALANCE, monitors (almost 4 - 1) grade ABC News excellent or good.

CBS EVENING NEWS
with Walter Cronkite

FAVORABLE OPINIONS (a sampling): "Unbiased news. That is a news program's best asset." (Columbus, O.) "Concise and thorough evaluation." (Oklahoma City) "It tells what is happening all over the world." (Shreveport, La.) "Gives all sides, and that is as it should be." (Somerville, Mass.) "Given without emotionalism. Guests are allowed to express their own opinions." (Phoenix) "Concise. Some rather fearless reporting at times." (Fuquay-Varina, N.C.) "Interviews by people connected with the subject or experts in it." (HS Tucson) "They make reports simple and very interesting." (HS Beloit, Wis.) People of opposing viewpoints are interviewed." (Winona, Minn.) "Serious news but always with some humor." (HS Santa Maria, Cal.)

REPORTERS: "CBS has excellent men: Cronkite, Sevareid, Schorr." (Winona, Minn.) "Cronkite's meticulous reporting, as well as that of Roger Mudd, Marvin Kalb, plus Sevareid's laconic and discerning evaluation and an occasional 'On the Road' by Charles Kuralt." (Fredericksburg, Va.)
CBS, cont. "Walter Cronkite doesn't try to be a comic or a humorist -- just a reporter doing his job." (Baton Rouge, La.) "Walter Cronkite is honest and dependable." I don't believe he would be dictated to, as to what he reports and does not report." (Whitewater, Wis.) "Diction excellent." (Weatherford, Okla.) "Eric Sevareid's comments are filled with deeper insights." (Mosinee, Wis.) "Especially like the touches of humor and Charles Karalt's points of interest." (Gainesville, Fla.) "I especially like the part with the man on the road." (Oconto, Wis.)

UNFAVORABLE: "Sometimes I think they tear down the President's speeches too much." (Yankton, S.D.) "Too much attention is given to riots and not enough to achievements, but on the whole the report is well balanced." (Fairview, W.Va.) "I feel that all newscasts are presented to appeal to emotion rather than reason." (Stevens Point, Wis.) "CBS is always one-sided. It seeks one minor story and blows it up out of proportion. There is no end to My Lai." (Platte Center, Neb.) "I was offended by Cronkite's using (when talking of freedom of the press) such emotional terms as 'poison gas in the room,' 'dark shadow of surveillance,' 'Chilling threat.'" (ibid.) "He relishes telling about FBI agent Youk's blood. According to the Chicago Daily News, Cronkite's report was untrue." (Chicago) "I dislike comments after the President's speeches." (Peshtigo, Wis.) "Since when are the CBS news stars -- Joan Baez, Dr. Spock, John Lindsay -- foreign policy experts?" (San Carlos, Cal.) (reported 10-26-71)

FAVORABLE: "Balanced. During the news, no editorial comments." (Lombard, Ill.) "Covers much world news. It did speak of GOOD news." (Glenmore, La.) "Presented in an unemotional, logical manner. Camera work is excellent -- nice variation of long shots, close-ups, fade-outs, and dissolves. One interesting technique was the blurring of the picture, then focussing it gradually." (Baton Rouge) "John Chancellor's presentation is easy to follow -- never any doubt as to his meaning." (Humboldt, Tenn.) "Well organized. Simple explanations. True facts." (Huntington, W.Va.) "I like John Chancellor. He covers more current topics with a little more detail." (Atlanta, Ga.) "Gave both 'ides. Variety of subjects. Different newscasters." (Shreveport, La.) "Much more honest than in the past. Editorializing has been cut down. When an opinion is given it is labelled as such." (Racine, Wis.) "Given quickly, without the personal opinion of the newscaster." (Point Arena, Cal.) "Reporters are articulate and personable. Concise. I enjoy their personal interest stories." (Rhineland, Wis.) "It sometimes elaborates on a rumor, but I find this interesting and exciting." (LeCompte, La.)

UNFAVORABLE: "Such statements as 'The peace movement may have died today,' 'Congress is unable to deal effectively,' were made in tonight's program. These examples illustrate our criticism of the Monday through Saturday NBC news. Editorializing is commonplace. If a conclusion is drawn, the reporter should declare it as his own." (Bismarck, N.D.) "I have always considered this an excellent newscast. However, recently in handling news about this city facts have been distorted, causing me to wonder about the validity of news treatment in matters with which I am not familiar." (New Orleans) "Three times in this program, newsmen said, in effect, 'It is time the government recognizes..." Also an item about army officers who opposed atrocities in Vietnam was aimed at putting the military in the worst possible light. But, all in all, news on this program is fairly handled." (Dayton, O.)

NETWORK NEWS ON RADIO

Very few cards on radio news. CBS morning news, of enviable reputation, is labelled "Factual. Not propaganda." "All Things Considered" on the public network, "Newsmakers are allowed to speak for themselves -- several labor leaders, Huey Newton, Bobby Seale." (Madison)
LOCAL NEWS PROGRAMS

The poll asked for reports on local programs. It received over 200 reports on local newscasts from adults, and about the same number from teenagers.

Some local newscasts are apparently very good; as, from KQED, San Francisco, "The news is superior in many respects to the network reporting. Reporters have personally spent time analyzing the news story." (Oakland, Cal.) And from KNTV, San Jose, "It included community social issues, with some constructive ideas for improving them." (Salinas, Cal.)

State and community news is stressed in the better stations, as in Bismarck, N.D. and in Oklahoma City, where KOCO concentrates on state events."

Complaints—substance of newscast: "Much local news is taken from police blotters, I'm sure, e.g. Joe dokes, 37 years of age was killed in an accident—probably the only newsworthy Joe dokes ever gets credit for." (Western Spgs., Ill.) From WFLD, 7 p.m. "In less than a half-hour program, more than ten minutes was spent on football, then additional sports, and eleven commercials." She watches most evenings, 7 - 11:15 - "The only local program is the local news." (Dayton, O.)

Bias — for "for violence, crime, and making one doubt law and government." (Fairview Ls.) "Before an important state election the impression this station gave is that there are only two candidates for lieutenant governor." (Newport News, Va.) "The reporter's inflections and facial expressions show his feelings about the news." (Troy, Mich.) (Rockville, Md., the same)

Chitchat and banter — "Broadcasting should be dignified with no wasting time in chitchat." (Madison) "John struggles to show some humor. It's not natural to him..... it seems they are all putting forth such an effort—futilily." (Colgate, Wis.) "The weather report makes an attempt at comedy, when all the viewer wants to know is whether he'll need his umbrella." (Dayton, O.)

On the other hand — "I enjoy the kidding among the men." (Sullivan, Ill.)

"The humor is most pleasant." (Winona, Minn.) "They're good natured," (Silverton, Or.)

Personalities, a most important asset. Most of the newsmen are liked.

Weather — More enthusiasm shown for a good weather man than for anyone else.

Some GOOD news is given — from WMAQ, Chicago, at noon, for instance.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND LOCAL NEWS

When News Really Isn't News

Ratings and opinions of teenagers give direct leads:

POOR— "They don't tell you any news because most of it you already know."
FAIR— "You get sick of hearing the news every minute."
FAIR— "Before this news, there's another an hour's worth altogether. Each says the same thing. Why don't you have one program or the other?" (Ennis, Mont.)
POOR— "I don't like news because they always say the same things over and over." (Columbus, O.)
POOR— "It's a repetition of things every day." (Oklahoma City)
POOR— "I like to know what's going on around, but the news is boring." (Ibid.)

Two classes, who are younger (12-13 years) struck at the substance of newscasts:
POOR— "Because it makes me scared. It makes me sick when I hear about accidents." (Columbus, O.)
FAIR— "It's boring because all you hear, because all you hear is bad news, like murder, fires, riots, all sorts of trouble." (Ibid.)

Some young students have learned ways of judging news programs:
FAIR— "Authenticity of reports not given." (Oconomowoc, Wis.)
GOOD— "Used personal interviews and pictures to back up news report." (Tucson, Ariz.)
POOR— "Comments are biased, trying to sway viewers." (Oconomowoc)

"Commercials are bothersome." (said by many)
POOR— "He's trying to be funny, when you're just trying to listen to the news." (Milwaukee)
INFORMATION

Informational programs receiving the highest scores in the poll are:

WILD KINGDOM, SIXTY MINUTES, NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC, TODAY, THE FIRING LINE, DAVID FROST, JACQUES COUSTEAU.

The popularity of these programs comes in spite of obstacles. "Sixty Minutes" has been expelled from prime time and placed late on Sunday afternoons. So far as this poll is concerned, the "National Geographic" series and Jacques Cousteau had only one program during the poll. "Today," as a morning program, was, strictly speaking, not included in the poll. David Frost is seen on comparatively few stations.

WILD KINGDOM - EXC. - "Authentic and reliable. The narration was effective." (Dayton, O.) "Not merely isolated pictures of animals, but also has a theme." (Crosby, N.D.) "It emphasizes the interdependence of all living things." (Shreveport, La.) "A realistic adventure series which emphasizes the right of animals to be free." (Wallingford, Conn.) "Outside of pictures in books, most of us will never have a chance to see these animals." (Ibid.) "It makes one appreciate animals and not destroy them." (Marksville, La.) "The family can simultaneously enjoy it." (Minneapolis, Minn.) "Scientifically correct." (Ibid.) "A great show on ecology." (Portsmouth, Va.) "It gives me a feeling of kinship with all life. It enriches me." (Skokie, Ill.) "My children range from three years to fourteen. All four sit spellbound." (Temple Terrace, Fla.) "Must viewing for our family." (Racine, Wis.) (Oconto)

SIXTY MINUTES: - EXC. - "It presents problems and situations that one would never know about if it were not for this program." (Newport News, Va.) "It goes into problems that are little known, yet are important." (Nel Ennis, Mont.) "The subjects were refreshingly free from sensationalism." (Glen Ellyn, Ill.) "Not biased. Objective interviewers on Supreme Court nominations, enlightening." (Lincoln, Neb.) "Leaves me feeling I've learned something of value." (Binford, N.D.) "The ideas set forth were proven by the pictures." (Dayton, O.) "Usually educational, but it was wrong to show how locks can be picked. Wish the time was not Sunday, so early, so that more people could see it." (Kell, Wis.) "Thought-provoking." (Hampton, Va.) "Unusual topics." (Winona, Minn.) "Glad to see this program locally again." (Randolph, Ks.) "Provides viewer opportunity to praise or criticize the program." (Green Bay, Wis.) FAIR - "This could be a real in-depth hour - so far not so. What happened to documentaries that could and did give two sides to the day's problems?" (Fayetteville, N.C.)

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC -- MONKEYS, APES, AND MAN - EXC. - "Excellent camera usage. Informing and easy to listen to. Conducive to further thinking. Good editorial comment subtly given, such as, 'A peaceful society transformed by sudden riches.'" (HS Baton Rouge) "Exceptional photography, exceptional narration." (Glen Ellyn, Ill.) "Beautiful photography. Inclusion of old film clips effective. Suitable to an audience of different ages and backgrounds." (Baton Rouge) "A family learning experience." (Wheaton, Ill.) "Offered enjoyment for our children. My husband and I listened attentively." (Plover, Wis.) GOOD - "I wanted to hear more about the Rhesus monkey. One must compliment the cameramen on their capturing of monkeys and apes on the move in their natural habitat. For the most part they used common techniques, but once they focused on an object in the foreground and then slowly switched the background into focus." (Baton Rouge)
12.0% 0 am

"It is geared to tell the truth by giving many views on a subject." (Springfield, S.D.) Stimulating programs, such as on Oct. 26, on the U.N. vote." (Ibid.) "A very informative report on admission of Red China to the U.N. Pauline Frederick explained what was happening in the viewer's terms." (HS Benton Rouge) "I have learned a good bit from this program." (Ibid.) "Gave broad and specific information on admission of the People's Republic of China to the U.N. gave insight into how people outside the U.S. viewed the event." (Weatherford, Okla.) "This week (Oct. 6) originating in Japan was excellent. The shows taken in other countries, such as Romania are truly educational and delightful." (Leonardville, Ks.) "To me satellite broadcasting is wonderful. Such a world! The 2,500-year celebration in Iran was great. Didn't like the cast doing commercials by tape when team was in Far East." (Milwaukee) "One program I try to find time for. I could do without commercials by the principals." (Dayton, O.) "The experienced newscaster on this program is one of the most accurate and objective--very meticulous in his pronunciation, place-names included." (Madison, Wis.)

THE FINING LINE - EXC. or GOOD - "is a pleasure to hear his inclusive questioning." (Rockville, Md.) "It is refreshing to hear the 1/3 rd of the English language that is seldom used. I refer not only to Buckley but to his guests and student participants." (Milwaukee) "I respect him greatly as a standard-bearer for the use of the mind in solving problems." (Norrisville, Tenn.) "A fascinating person." (Springfield, S.D.) "He is very supercilious and I seldom agree with his philosophy, but I think he is good for me." (Milwaukee) "Fair= Pompous attitude, ponderous questions. No feeling of conclusion follows the arguments." (Hartley, N.J.) "Timely subjects. As host he sometimes beats back a guest (or tries to) saying 'be careful of your exaggeration instead of proving it was exaggeration. Probably couldn't prove it. Poor debating.'"

DAVID FROST - EXC. or GOOD - "Original, witty." (Quincy, Mass.) "A genius at questioning guests. While getting frank answers, he controls conversation so that the offensive is not allowed." (Wilsonville, Ore.) "Stimulating. Makes ironing tolerable." (Winfield, Ill.) "I like it best with many guests, singers, groups. Turn it off if there are pop singers." (Portland Ore.) "I object to raucous singing, bands that bang." (Saltillo, Wis.) "The range of guests is fantastic: Richard Burton, Truman Capote, Herbert Humphrey, John Lindsay." (HS Oconomowoc, Wis.) "Has guests who are in the news, usually two with different views." (HS Tucson) "I enjoy his spending 90 minutes with some one." (Lombard, Ill.) "Fair= Lacks guests with a sense of social obligation." (Fredericksburg, Va.) "His questions are too personal." (Ibid.)

JACQUES COUSTEAU - EXC. - "The photography is breathtaking. It showed the failure to conserve our wild life." (Stratford, Conn.) "Coustau has a love and appreciation of nature that comes across well." (Calamus, Ia.) "Alerted the public to the problem of another vanishing animal." (Rhineland, Wis.) "It is fascinating -- the thrill of a part of the universe that most of us forget about." (Byron) "Public again made aware of danger to our living creatures." (Hightstowne, N.J.) "The sea otter was beautiful." (Oconto, Wis.)

CBS REPORTS - "Picasso is 90" - "The Influence of Picasso's Spanish upbringing, early Parisian life, numerous women, and the Spanish Civil War on his work was well documented by his own work." (Troy, Mich.) "CHICANO" - "The report on the Chicano movement in East Los Angeles was good because it showed both sides." (HS Guadalupe, Calif.)

THE STRUGGLE FOR CHINA - "More information about other countries. This gave me great help toward understanding." (Baraboo, Wis.) A LOOK AT CHINA = "One of the best programs on China, to date." (San Francisco)

- 10 -
CHRONOLOG: EXC. - "One of the most informing and interesting programs. The section from Lourdes was amazing. It was presented without editorialization. The section on the blood market was enlightening and frightening... frightening enough to reveal need for reform." (Baton Rouge) "It didn't go around facts. It went into them." (H.S. Ibid.) "Gave unusual, up-to-date, factual information." (Chevy Chase, Md.) "Liked variety of subjects." (Hartley, Ia.) GOOD = "Could occupy itself with topics of more immediate importance." (Shreveport, La.) "Gives in-depth views of timely subjects." (Sarasota, Fla.)

THE ADVOCATES - EXC. - "The only debating show of issues on the air. Lots of fun." (Glen Ellyn, Ill.) "Gives both sides and leaves the viewer to make his own choice." (Wallingford, Ct.) "Both sides of controversy presented pleasantly, but no punches pulled." (Milwaukee) FAIR = I question the authenticity of some of the remarks. Could have had panelists who could give a more accurate view." (Glen Ellyn, Ill.)

THE NETWORK INTERVIEW PROGRAMS: Face the Nation: "Firsthand information -- actually a cross-examination of elected and appointed officials, enlightening the public." (Superior, Wis.) "Interviewers ask pertinent questions." (Ibid.) "Helps me to keep informed." (Hibbing, Minn.) Issues and Answers: "Different people are on it every week. I, as a high school student, find it interesting." (HS Superior)

Meet the Press: "It helps us understand problems and have sympathy for those who must solve them." (Ocoho, Wis.) "Keeps you informed on top current events. Mr. Spivak is an excellent moderator." (Kiel, Wis.)

PUBLIC TELEVISION'S NEWS PROGRAMS: "World Press" : EXC. = "It is different from other news on the air in that its panel of linguists keep track of newspapers published in different parts of the world, report on what is printed about events of worldwide consequence, and answer one another's questions." (Madison) "Press reports were given from Italy, England, Japan, Germany, and Russia." (Anthony, Ks.) "They quote from the most influential papers in the world." (Ibid.) "Washington Week" = "I feel I can believe what they say. The atmosphere is relaxed and natural." (Skokie, Ill.) FAIR: "Participants interrupt one another. sentences, to say nothing of thoughts, in eagerness of some to talk." (Madison)

BOOK BEAT (PBS) EXC. = "Bob Cromie, interviewing authors, asks just the right questions to bring out interesting points in the book." (Baraboo, Wis.) "A warm, intelligent discussion of ideas by worthwhile people." (Skokie, Ill.)

The President's Speech on Phase II of the Economic PROGRAM: and Comment: "I suggest that, following the President's speech the screen should go dark and give everybody a chance to say, 'What a great speech!' or 'What a terrible speech.'" (N.N, Va.) "Come to think of it TV should go blank frequently."

ON NATURE: "UNTAMED WORLDS" - EXC. = "Describes animals in their native habitat and their vital role in the animal Kingdom." (Manchester, Ct.) OF LAND AND SEAS: (synd) "About nature or travel." "Scenic, Informative." "Background music is just that." SAFARI: (travel pictures) "I try to see it whenever it's on." (Portland, Ore.)

RELIGIOUS PROGRAMS: Very few reports of local religious programs were sent in, and they were scattered. Of those heard more or less nationally, these are reported as helpful: "Lamp unto My Feet," "The Lutheran Hour," "The Christophers," "Church of the Air," Billy Graham, "Insight," Oral Roberts, Rex Hambard.

NEWS INTERVIEWS: The Phil Donahue Show is syndicated, seen in many places, discusses news, books, problems with expert guests answering questions. Several local shows follow this pattern: "Talk-In" in Minneapolis, "The Issue," Columbus, 0. It is encouraging that many local shows develop discussion, as is the interest of young people in question contests: "High Quiz Bowl," "In the Know," and others. The pleasure of daytime audiences in programs of substance must be gratifying.
MUSIC

YOUNG PEOPLE'S CONCERT - EXC. = "A pleasure to see this great orchestra led by Yehudi Menuhin, himself an accomplished concert violinist when he was very young." (Madison, Wis.)

UN CONCERT = PBS SPECIAL OF THE WEEK - EXC. = Pablo Casals conducting the United Nations orchestra and special guests. Fine music, in honor of Casals' ninetieth birthday -- a rare and exciting evening." (Kenosha, Wis.) "There are not many programs of classical music to be found on television; so this was a real treat." (Springfield, S.D.) "The Hymn to the U.N., done so beautifully by the United Nations Singers, and dear Mr. Casals' solo (Improptu) so beautifully done -- a wonderful evening." (Baraboo, Wis.) "The awarding of peace medals to the conductor and the poet (in absentia) was a fitting tribute to them and to music as the language of peace among nations." (Winona, Minn.)

ROBERTA PETERS = PBS SPECIAL OF THE WEEK - EXC. = "A beautiful voice and a good running commentary." (Milwaukee) "A delightful and varied program of arias from operas and folk songs. At intervals between her numbers a film was shown of Roberta Peters at her home displaying her treasures and relating her experiences." (Madison)

On radio - MORMON TABERNACLE CHOIR - EXC. = "Beautiful religious music, with an incomparable choir and excellent organ -- music and commentary entirely non-denominational." (Winona, Minn.)

THE BOSTON POPS (on PBS through September) - EXC. = "Variety in music to please the whole family." (Milwaukee) "Music to reach all age levels." (Brunswick, Ga.) "My family and I have always enjoyed the light classics. But I turn off the sound when possible, when rock groups are on." (Albany, N.Y.)

MUSIC MAGIC OF BURT BACHARACH - EXC. = "An unusual presentation of all these beautiful songs written by B.B. (Wauwatosa, Wis.) "Fine performers; program well produced, a memorable hour." (Mequon, Wis.) POOR = "Too casual." (ibid.)

ANNUAL COUNTRY MUSIC AWARDS - GOOD = "Excellent music and great commentary. As usual, Kraft commercials were quite good and not too lengthy." (Simmesport, La.) "Fast-paced. Camera well handled." (Baton Rouge) FAIR = "Ford seemed tired. Stilted reading of cues." (ibid.) "Though not my preference in music, it was most appealing." (Atlanta Ga.) POOR: "They seemed self-centered." (Tulahoma, Tn.)

AMERICAN BANDSTAND - GOOD = "Dick Clark adds so much to the show by being like he is." (Shreveport, La.) "Plays all ten top tunes. Introduces popular musicians." (ibid) "Helps teenagers keep up with latest dances and music." (HS Slide'1, La.)

ROLLIN' ON THE RIVER = GOOD - FAIR = "Songs of 'yesteryear' and current popular tunes." (Bunkie, La.) "Good music. Sometimes humor is strained." (Forest Hill, La.)

On PBS = "Philadelphia Folk Festival" EXC. = "One of the most satisfying music festival documentaries I've seen." (Madison) "Full Circle" - EXC. = "Cat Stevens and Leon Russell were excellent. PBS has more of these pop rock artists than other stations." (Hammond, La.) "A lot of people watch these programs." (HS Oconomowoc, Wis.)

METROPOLITAN OPERA MATINEES - EXC. = "A word on last year's whole grand opera broadcasts, and a note of thanks to Texaco, which makes it all possible, without advertising." SEVERAL GOOD MUSIC stations had votes of gratitude for "many pleasant hours."

A) EXC. - "Good dialogue and acting. Some episodes are excellent as instructional aids to social work." (Platte Center, Neb.) "Believable dialogue. Shows how it matters if parents care about their children, as to whether they repeat their trouble." (Menomonee Falls, Wis.) GOOD - "Very clear diction. Good follow-through on cases." (Dayton, O.) POOR - "It's totally unrealistic to solve four robberies in half an hour. They always get their man immediately." (Ft. Atkinson, Wis.)

Y) EXC. - "Has depth and doesn't slant the picture against anyone." (Oconomowoc, Wis.) "Realistic. In technical details, such as reading 'the rights' to all suspects, it excels." (Santa Maria, Cal.) "The conversations seemed natural." (Tucson, Ariz.) FAIR - "Acting and dialogue are wooden. Had no emotional impact." (Baton Rouge)

A EXC. - "Totally realistic. Could easily be neighbors. Acting tremendous. Vocalizes different prejudices people all over have - without being distasteful." (Green Bay, Wis.) "The listener can see how he can be prejudiced and a bigot without being aware of it." (Reading, Pa.) "Actors, directing, writing - all of the best." (Huntington, Ct.) "Essentially truthful. Treats touchy subjects with humor." (Hortonville, Wis.) GOOD - "Would be as funny without name-calling." (White Lake, Wis.) "I'm not sure whether it will erode bigotry or will introduce new prejudices to young minds under the guise of humor." (The writers have fallen victim to the 'TV Father Syndrome' of demeaning the American male." (Madison) POOR - "Spews disrespect for all races. Not funny or honest. Excellent cast and writers waste their talents." (Platte Cen.)

EXC. - "My only objections are the time slot and the NEW saturday night schedule. In my opinion it should be switched to a week night (a lot of families have weekend plans) and the time should be changed to 9:30, since younger children are usually in bed by this time. Some of the material is too deep for pre-teens and they fail to understand the motive behind the program." (Hampton, Va.) This is said by Many.

Y) EXC. - "The appealing thing about it is the amount of truth there is in it." (Beloit, Wis.) "It opens your eyes to prejudices." (Santa Maria, Cal.) "It gets down to most all the real prejudices of our society." (Ennis, Mont.) "While we laugh at prejudices on this show, we can see how stupid our prejudices are." (Altadena, Cal.) "Not a funnier program. Archie is fantastic. My Mom thinks that at times it gets a little off-beat for general family viewing." (Oconomowoc, Wis.)

GOOD - "This show should be moved to a later time. It's not fit for younger people to watch." (Santa Maria) FAIR - "It widened the gap between Americans and other nationalities within the U.S." (Shalimar, Fla.) POOR - "(The audience) laughs because they're being paid to do it. It's not a bit interesting." (Solon Springs, Wis.)

They are all good adult education." (Wyola, Mont.) "Concerned, the way so-called 'Research' companies delve into our personal lives without our knowledge and without checking the facts." (Madison) "Excellent story. This type of employment investigation does exist." (Morristown, Tenn.) "Very educational concerning law and courtroom procedure." (Baton Rouge) GOOD - "I like programs about reality and social problems. Disappointed at cancelling of The Senators." (Glen Eilwen, III.)

FAIR - "Unrealistic." (Newport News, Va.) POOR - "All topics involved were discussed only slightly, nothing in detail. So I'm puzzled as to what the show was about." (Grafton, Va.)

Youth - "I liked the way they showed love between different races and nationalities." (Lincoln, III.) "Excellent acting. I was totally involved and was left with helpful after-thoughts." (Ft. DICK VAN DYKE

A) Dick Van Dyke's humor is so natural, This show must have the best comedy writers available. Hope Lange is a good balance for Van Dyke's humor." (Manchester, Ct.)

GOOD - "Sequels are never as pleasant as the original series. Dick Van Dyke and Fanny Flagg are comedians with superior instincts for comedy and timing." (Baton Rouge)

"This series is low-key and clever with fewer slapstick gags than in the old series. There is too much laughter canned or otherwise going on all the time."

"Not as good as the original show. No matter how good the performers, the show still stales with time." (Baraboo, Wis.)

FAIR - "Dick has gray hair - is supposed to be older than in the old series, but acts younger. He should mature - not fall back on the old actions." (Mequon, Wis.)

Y)

EXC. - "Fast-moving and easy to follow." (Baton Rouge)

GOOD - "A family program that entertains everyone. The comedy is clean and still funny." (Lutcher, La.)

EXC. or GOOD = "Realism and acting, very good. Advertising very discreet." (Newport News, Va.) "Interesting, but too many of the shows have the same plots." (Shreveport, La.) "Scenery was good, and there was violence, but it wasn't piled on." (HS Milwaukee) "I tried to depict case histories of criminals in their true light, with their faults, weaknesses, and passions." (Nashua, N.H.) "The conversation was natural, and the acting seldom overdone." (HS Eureka, Ks.) "Good story, but I don't like a show in two parts." (Chicago) "Having stories from the FBI files makes it believable." (Humboldt, Tenn.) FAIR = POOR = "I don't really go for it. It's too repetitious." (HS Oconomowoc, Wis.) "It's just another detective movie with a few exciting places where people fall off cliffs." (Ennis, Montana) "In Prime time for children -- Title: 'The Game of Terror.' It lived up to its title. "Good drama based on good literature, well acted with authentic settings." (Fredricksburg, Va.) "The acting, the direction, the staging, the costuming — all add up to MAN AND THE CITY - SCORE, 36 -- but evidently attracted thoughtful viewers.

FAIR - "The plot, so typical of many being shown, ... always centering around violence, tries to pack all the problems of our society - of law against gangs or political corruption or wheeling-dealing. They don't always leave a realistic insight into today's problems, if that is their purpose, or help us to think better of our society's structure and institutions." (Glen Ellyn, 111.)

GOOD - "The problems of the city are not seriously examined. It would be interesting to take problems peculiar to our cities, and with a dramatic script stretched over several weeks, examine the problem from several viewpoints." (Madison)

EXC. — "My children (ages 5 and 7) enjoy it. The plots are easy for children to follow. They dance to the music." (Phoenix) "Good family entertainment. The important thing is that it emphasizes the family as a unit." (Green Bay, Wis.)
A) GOOD - "This particular show, educational for little children. It showed how one could be cruel to another family member and not realize it." (Shreveport, La.) "The music is skillfully worked into the stories." (Wallingford, Conn.) POOR - "Unrealistic and dull, jazzed up with music I'd rather listen to than watch. Plots meaningless, children's behavior sometimes 'bratty.'" (Stevens Point, Wis.)

Y) "A good family program. It isn't all flowers and roses. They have family problems, too." (Superior, W1.) "I like this because I like David Cassidy and I like the songs they play." (Lincoln, 111.)

FAIR - "Funny lines make good comedy, but some situations are trite." (Altadena, Cal.)

POOR - "As to plot or family appeal, it scores zero. Totally unrealistic." (Alexandria, La.)

THE SIX WIVES OF HENRY VIII -- EXC. - all reports. The series ended before most people started to monitor; so the number is small.

"The technically brilliant series of shows plus a competent and thoroughly professional troupe of actors from the Royal Shakespearean troupe in England gave a fascinating and tremendously enjoyable history of Henry VIII." (Baton Rouge) "Beautiful use of the English language. Brilliant acting, especially in the development of the character of Henry VIII." (Madison) "Made one want to do more reading of history. Let's have more like it." (ibid.) (All reports by one said, "Let's have more like it.""

"Fascinating. History come to life! The costumes were so gorgeous it was like seeing a Holbein painting come to life." (Beloit)
THE SIX WIVES OF HENRY VIII -- EXC. -- "The characters were all portrayed sympathetically and apparently with historical accuracy. There should be much more viewing of this nature." (Chevy Chase, Md.) Very stimulating. More historical plays would be welcome, if they were kept factual." (Beloit, Wis.) "A very informative program. My teenage children enjoyed it, too." (Nashua, N.H.) "The ads were short and to the point." Another remarks, "The advertising was done well in that it did not intrude on or break apart emotional scenes." "We need more programs like this, which serve to elevate the human intelligence and experience."

A) EXC. - GOOD - "It is good to see a police program where the cops aren't always shooting someone." (Franksville, Wis.) "Henry Fonda, nice kids, gentle humor, no violence." (Leonardville, Ks.) "It portrays Mr. Smith as an average person with average problems." (Superior) FAIR = "It does not seem necessary for the head of a household to prove himself once a week. No one should be expected to justify his job to his children and neighbors." (Glen Ellyn, Ill.)

Y) EXC. - Good - "Police life from the family point of view!" (Pasadena, Cal.) "In this show people are helping those in trouble - especially young people." (Byron, Neb.) "It shows situations that can happen every day in your family." (Salinas, Cal.) POOR = "Dialogue unnatural and acting overdone." (Oconomowoc) "Not an honest family situation. They treat each other like strangers, using stiff, stereotyped lines." (Pasadena)

A) EXC. - "A clean, wholesome show that people of any age can watch." (Dayton, O.)

GOOD = "It was a little more than a comedy. It tells you about yourself." (Shreveport, La.) "The acting is natural. The plots are true to life." (Milwaukee)

POOR = "An inane comedy trying to get by on a famous actor's name." (Dayton, O.)

Y) GOOD = "The success of the show is because of James Stewart." (Oconomowoc) "The problems are those that usually don't occur, but they capture your interest. I don't like their not showing enough about Jimmy Stewart's being a high school professor." (Baton Rouge) "Cute characters and plot, though at times parts were overacted." (Ibid.) POOR = "Disappointing. Humor is overplayed, characters are definitely unreal and remote from ordinary people." (Pasadena, Cal.)

A) EXC. - "A nice balance of wit and comedy through action. The frequent asides Stewart made to the audience not only carried wit, but gave a nice feeling of intimacy." (Baton Rouge) "It hits close to reality." (Buena Park, Cal.) "This show is tops. There are times when I need an extra bathroom in my house, too. It's true to life and very cute." (Blair, Wis.) "The many ages represented make it appealing." (Greensburg, Ks.) "Wholesome, with many touches of humor." (Bismarck)

GOOD = "Slow-paced. Good to see something a bit quieter." (Madison) FAIR = "No plot to speak of." (Hartley, La.) "It doesn't hurt the child viewers, but it doesn't give them anything, either." (Glen Ellyn) "Stewart's talent is being wasted." (Wessington, S.D.)

DAYTIME SERIALS are outside the time limits of this poll. However, 71 monitors reported on "As the World Turns." Its score is 35. A sampling of opinions of it:

EXC. - "It takes the average housewife out of her own little household." GOOD:="They are common folks and have troubles like most of us." FAIR = "Acting if O.K. I don't like these series - too many of them. Don't have them all at the same time so that we have nothing to choose from."

"The water bed vignette hilarious. Sometimes Carol's antics are lacking in simple good taste." (Shreveport, La.) "...an elaborate parade of costumes, set designs, and talent." (Baton Rouge, La.)

GOOD - "...the part given to audience participation." (Dayton, O.) "Program for the whole family." (Brunswick, Ga., Chicago, Ill., Weatherford, Okla., and others.)

FAIR: "One of my favorite shows, should be shown later in the evening." (Mequon, Wis.) "Could be good...spoiled by smut." (Green Bay, Wis.)

POOR - "Scenes such as the Oscar acceptance speech...lasting through a pregnancy...revolting." (Atlanta, Ga.) "Funny costumes did not redeem a tasteless script. Contrived, labored skits and lack of wit, zest, delight--let alone credibility. Scripts are dehumanizing--it is the richly human that is really funny." (Skokie, Ill.)

Youth: EXC. - "Adds to the show when she talks to the audience and she tells them the truth." (Tucson, Az.)

"The humor is intelligent and the satire is sharp and thought-provoking. The acting is tremendous, and it leaves me much happier." "Finds humor in contemporary themes...helps people get a better perspective of life." (both--Oconomowoc, Wis.) "She makes everyone in the family laugh." (Lincoln, Ill.)

GOOD - "She can make herself look ridiculous...I like series of 'As the Stomach Turns.'" "No canned laughter." (both--Tuscon, Az.) "Good production values grab attention." (Santa Maria, Calif.)

A.dult: EXC. & GOOD - "I like the variety of people...and the way he handles them. When he has a guest as host, I do not watch." (Kiel, Wis.) "Unbeatable for witty adlibbing...viewers a bit uneasy when discussion on children (without legal marriage) took place." (Baton Rouge, La.) POOR - "Carson often says things in poor taste." (Washington, D.C.) "At times the conversation gets provocative...Carson capitalizes on 'sexy' subjects." (Lombard, III.) "Trivial and thoughtless conversations." and "Carson is funny and banter is great." (Morristown, Tn.) "His interest in guests is superficial. Many acts are subjected to supercilious glances." (Beloit, Wis.)
Youth: EXC.- "It's funny...interesting...they talk openly...it's different." (Tucson, Az.) "Have 'Mighty Carson Art Players' perform more." (Lincoln, III.) FAIR - "Carson makes fun of his guests." (Shelburne, Fl.)
Several complaints about too numerous commercials breaking continuity of program.

DICK CAVEllT: Adult Monitors 49, Score +50; 7 Youth, Score -6 = +44
"Never hesitates to apologize or explain when things happen...he was unable to control." (Col. Herbert interview) "Learned more truths from listening to this than from reading...for five years or more." (Lombard, Ill. and others made similar remarks.) "Keeps the conversation within bounds of decency by exerting unusual control." (Binford, N.D.) "Guests are usually anti- something or anti-people." (Humboldt, Tn.) "It's shown too late (11:30)!' from several viewers.

FUNNY-SIDE: 123 Adult Monitors, Score +38; 54 Youth, Score +29.111 = +67
EXC. & GOOD - "It's fun to watch and it has no violence." (West Ridge, Pa.) "It does not humiliate people for their attitudes." (Bridgeport, W. Va.) "Sketches done in good taste...cast is very good." (Okla. City, Okla.) "Gently satirical, contemporary comment in a cheerful spirit..." (Milwaukee, Wis.) HS - "I understand this show a little better than 'Laugh-In.'" (Baton Rouge, La.) "Makes you laugh at things that are heart-breaking." (Slidell, La.) FAIR - "It lacks punch. Seems like a great story told by a poor storyteller." (Wheaton, Ill.) "Canned laughter is insulting." (Lombard, Ill.)

MERY GRIFFIN: Adult Monitors 60, Score +18; 29 Youth, Score -20 = -2
"Like the new format." (San Francisco, Calif.) "Merv appears to be sincere and appreciative of good taste." (Villa Park, Ill.) "Statements by non-experts that marriage, the family unit, and fidelity to a life partner are unfashionable, unworkable, and undesirable. A recurring subject--espoused by 'show-biz gypsies'--thrusting their frustrations and neurosis on the public. Young impressionable minds make up a part of this audience." (Madison, Wis.) HS - "Nothing exciting ever goes on...same boring thing everyday." (Ennis, Mt.)

Adult: EXC. - "Good music--corny, but funny jokes. Family show." (Humboldt, Tn.) "Clean, humorous, relaxing." (Somerset, Mass.) POOR - "Too repetitious. Clark, the guitarist--the one redeeming feature." (Ehitewater, Wis.) "Jokes are elementary. Some actions so crude--would never want children to imitate." (Bismarck, N.D.) "Characters over-play." (Baton Rouge, La.) "Corny" and "Immature" were frequently used words, judgment "nothing of value" expressed often.
Youth: POOR - "Jokes are all the same theme...no one could laugh at them." (Ennis, Mt.) "Monotonous...in poor taste." (Superior, Wis.) "Insults one's intelligence," was a constant remark, as was "Humor in bad taste." "The jokes are corny and I don't like country music." (Tucson, Az.) "Put something worthwhile on for a change of taste." (La Fayette, La.)

ICE FOLLIES with SNOOPY: "Great for all ages. Time early enough for children to watch." (Salinas, Calif.) "A program we (the family) could watch together. Wish we could have more programs of this type." (Newport News, Va.) "Excellent for family viewing," was the usual comment. - 28 -

Adult, EXC. & GOOD - "Dean's ability to act with such ease is unbelievable. The Ding-a-Ling Sisters are super good, too!" (Bridgeport, W.Va.) "Good variety of skits, songs, jokes." (Delavan, Wis.) "Good guest stars." (Brodhead, Wis.) "Everything Dean says is a little risque." (Hamilton, Ks.) "FAIR & POOR - "This was my favorite program... There is much insinuation and suggestion. The only things good now are the songs and some of the guests." (Xenia, Ohio) "No amount of beautiful sets or talent can detract from the utter lack of taste in staging this program." (Menomonee Falls, Wis.) "Almost repulsive at times. There are theaters I could go to if I wanted to see burlesque." (Humboldt, Tn.) "Every time he comes on he has a drink in his hand or is smoking a cigarette." (Cheneyville, La.) "Just tired of seeing Dean making up to the young girls he has on." (Grand Island, Nb.) Preceding objections occur almost universally, expressed again and again with words such as: vulgar, dirty, indecent, obscene, nauseating, cheap, immoral, crude, disgusting, ridiculous. "Treats women as plastic beings without individuality, intelligence, personality, sex objects only. Insulting to wife and daughters." (Brookfield, Wis.) "If he would only stick to singing." PROGRAMS FOR CHILDREN

Children's programs receiving the highest scores are:

SESAME STREET, 277; YOU ARE THERE, 113; THE ELECTRIC COMPANY, 83; CHILDREN's FILM FESTIVAL, 73; CAPTAIN KANGAROO, 69; - MISTEROGERS and Mr. WIZARD following.

More parents than usual reported on programs for children. Typical comments:

ARCHIE - FAIR - "Too much arguing and scheming among friends." (Stevens Point, Wis.)
AESOP - EXC., - "It brought out good points about life. My children were thrilled with the talking animals." (Lombard, Ill.)
BARRIER REEF - "Showed concern for other people. Showed effects of storm at sea."
BATMAN - POOR - "Violence is still there, and seen on a daily basis, it is bound to have influence." (Brunswick, Ga.)
BUGALOOS - FAIR - "Costuming and color photography are excellent. I object to the material presented -- the often frightening situations, improper use of the English language, name-calling, physical pushing, punching." (Racine, Wis.)

CBS FILM FESTIVAL - EXC., - "Enjoyed by the whole family including three pre-teenagers. A welcome relief cartoons!" (Mohall, N.D.)

CAPTAIN KANGAROO - GOOD - "Good variety. Uses books, stories, songs, puppets, animals, films, arts and crafts." (Temple Terrace, Fla.) "It incorporates classical music." (Ibid.) "I would rank this Excellent, except for the poor presentation of commercials and the fact that Capt. Kangaroo is required to 'do' commercials." (Tampa, Fla.) "New ideas are given to children constantly." (Bridgeport, Va.)

EXC., - "Captain Kangaroo gives out a warmth that children understand." (Pt. Arena, Cal.) "It has interesting people, animals, and fun games." (Superior, Wis.)

CURiosity SHOP - GOOD - "My husband and I watched it with the children and think it excellent, fascinating -- a little different." (Walworth, Wis.)

EXC., - "It is well produced, flashy to catch a child's eyes. The show is devoted to one idea." (HS Ft. Walton Beach, Fla.)

THE DOUBLEDECKERS - POOR - "No adults on the show, except the type that's goofy." (Wilmington, Ill.)

THE ELECTRIC COMPANY - "Its short spurts with humorous instructive scenes hold attention. (Salem, Wis.) "Bright and happy and sensible with a nonsensical approach." (Madison) "Never dull." (San Leandro, Cal.)

GOOD - "Vivid, colorful sets, lively music, comic sketches and cartoons feature letters used in words and whole sentences." (Temple Terrace, Fla.)

FAIR - "Just a little too fast, actors a little too hip." (Wheaton, Ill.)

EXC., - "It not only makes the learning easier but more fun, and definitely not boring." (HS Oconomowoc, Wis.)

HORTON HEARS A WHO - EXC. - "A delightful adventure in music, color, imagination, and rhyme." (Hortonville, Wis.)

Children look forward to these special days, absorb every minute, remember them in great detail." (Ibid.) "It taught that the smallest person is important." (Ft. Atkinson, Wis.)

THE JACKSON FIVE - FAIR - "Interrupted so often by commercials that it would be hard for young children to keep the thread." (Fredericksburg, Va.)

MISTEROGERS' NEIGHBORHOOD - ESC. - "Mister Rogers teaches children to have good feelings about themselves. It helps to know that others do the same things and feel the same way." (Temple Terr.) "I'm proud to have my children exposed to Mister Rogers' calm approach, creative and inventive ideas in drama, music, theatre, opera, and to his gentle oral and social teaching." (Madison) "He makes each child feel important and special." (Milan, Minn.)
(Mister Rogers', cont.) "He regularly demonstrates care of one's belongings (such as clothes, fish, etc.) which is excellent. Mr. Rogers, though not appealing to me as an adult, did seem to reach out and talk directly to the children without at any time talking down to them." (Temple Terrace, Fla.) "A marvelous show, teaching love, good order, lack of fear, good grooming." (Gainesville, Fla.)

PEBBLES AND Bamm Bamm - FAIR = "Sunny situations. Not of great value in the use of children's time." (Brookfield, Wis.) This point comes up over and over. Evidently programmers do not think in terms of use of children's time.

THE PInK PANTHER - EXC. = "The humor depends on such factors as bad luck and poor judgment by the characters themselves rather than on excessive violence. Th the misadventures we can see our own mistakes and failings magnified," (Lombard, Ill.)

ROAD RUNNER - POOR "Too much violent behavior." (Manchester, Conn.)

ROMPER ROOM - ROMPER ROOM = "Good, but they push buying Romper Room toys too much." (Eureka) FAIR = "Too commercial. The advertisements are increasing." (Ibid.) "I've looked at these toys. They're cheaply made (expensively priced) junk!" (Lombard, Ill.)

GOOD = "Many good learning experiences. Lacks imagination." (Temple Terrace, Fla.)

Sabrina = FAIR = "A waste of children's time, and it makes them uncreative and lazy." (Winona, Mn.) "Violent." (Wadsworth, Wis.) POOR = "Solutions accomplished by magic. Ten commercials 'pushing' different products made the show secondary to the sales." (Newport News, Va.)

GOOD = "My children (11 and 12, enjoy this. I would like more for this age-bracket." (Nashua, N.H.) "Use of monsters and a teen-aged witch is its appeal. One show, in simple terms and the story line, explained the effects of pollution." (Hightstown, N.J.)

Scooby - DOO! = "I wouldn't like my children to waste time watching reruns of reruns." (Ibid.)

SESAME STREET - EXC. = "A colorful menagerie of fun and learning - a delightful experience." (HS Santa Maria, Ca.) "Teaches while entertaining." (Ibid.) "I am excited about the original ideas for children's education." "It's great. It teaches the kids the alphabet and how to count, but in a fun way with jokes, songs, and stories told and acted out in unusual ways." (HS Oconto, Wis.)

"Sesame Street is a bonn for anyone who has small children. Mine watch it twice a day and all Saturday morning." (Lombard, Ill.) "It doesn't allow its information to be static or boring. It is always changing, yet coming back to review the important lessons of the day." (Baton Rouge) (Mainly enthusiasm, with a few suggestions.)

TAKE A GIANT STEP - EXC. = "Helps children make their own judgments." (Spfd., S.D.)

TIMMY AND LASSIE - GOOD = "I've always enjoyed this because of its boy-dog love and the solid, secure family relationships." (Tampa, Fla.)

TREE TOP HOUSE - EXC. - "Explains Bible verses to children." (Delavan, Wis.) "Makes children think." (Yankton, S.D.)

MR. WIZARD - EXC. = "Mr. Wizard challenged Andy to locate different types of joints, then showed athletes using them in different sports." (Wilmington, O.) "My pre-school children enjoyed it as much as I did." (Green Bay, Wis.)

YOU ARE THERE - EXC. = "Besides making history come alive, it also interviews realistically individuals who are making history." (Troy, Mich.) "Acting, sets, scripts, and camera work are excellent. It is not exclusively for any one age-group." (Baton Rouge) "Excellent monologue and dialogue by real and distinguished CBS newsmen enhances the realism of the situation." (LeCompte, La.)

Good = "It needs a better time for showing." (Tampa, Fla.) FAIR = "Has the ingredients of a winner but is entirely too cut up with commercials.... "Two weeks ago I counted 11 in a thirty-minute show. Today 8 -- all geared to a younger age-group which does not watch the show." (Fuquay-Varina, N.C.)

Louisiana report on Network Movies (except NBC, Wed.) 233 Monitors, Score +229.

SUNDAY:
No Way to Treat a Lady - "Enjoyed film but suggest it be shown later in the evening." (Mequon, Wis.) To Sir with Love - "...like the dignity with which he handles problems." (Morristown, Tenn.) Guess Who's Coming to Dinner - "...I felt stirred by feelings of anger, sadness, and joy." (Turners Falls, Mass.) Battle of the Bulge - "Having second segment following week,...(viewer) tends to lose interest." (Oconomowoc, Wis.) Sand Pebbles - "...thoughtful story, relevant to a modern day world." "...have the movie on consecutive nights, or in one sitting." (Wallingford, Conn.)

MONDAY:
Cat on a Hot Tin Roof - "Adult movie...NBC keeps showing replays." (Glen Ellyn, Illl.) How to Frame a Flag - "Kind we need often - family style." (Santa Maria, Cal.) P.J. - "Glorifying a mistress and showing people at their worst. When I don't enjoy a show, I am also annoyed by commercials." (San Francisco, Cal.)

TUESDAY:
ABC Movie of the Week - "Made-for-TV movies are coming into their own; movie-movies suffer from tight TV scheduling." (Winfield, Illl.) Excellent variety of subjects. The short movies are made with distinction." (Pasadena, Cal.) Youth - "Good movie every week... shown for the first time." (Ennis, Mont.) Commercials didn't chop the movie up." (Oconomowoc, Wis.) A Taste of Evil and Last Child - "Frightening at this time period." (Glen Ellyn, Illl.) Too much horror at time when children watch." (Whitewater, Wis.)

THURSDAY:
"Object to X-rated movies on TV. Even though cut...." (Norton, Ks.) Good movie. Lost a lot in transition to TV. Too many commercials at the wrong time." (Glen Ellyn, Illl.) 8 channel breaks, 32 commercials... too much." FRIDAY:
CBS New Movies - Raggedy Ann - "Believable character -- human struggles shown -- heroine's fight for maturity seemed real. Good production." (Troy, Mich.) "...not for the young. Too emotional." (Madison, Wisc.) Why must obscene, vulgar language be written into scripts of films that are written for TV... poor example for children. Uncouth programming is as unwelcome in my home as an uncouth guest." (Albany, N.Y.) Murder Once Removed - "Good because the doctor would give people shots with a needle and kill them. Good when he smashed a man's head in with a shovel." (HS West Salem, Wis.) NBC World Premier - "Have never been disappointed in the quality of the program. Considerably more interesting than many of the reruns we are flooded with." (Milwaukee) Plots original, challenging, and well done.

SATURDAY:
"Can't networks schedule a family type movie on weekends?" (Fox Lake, Wis.) With more and more movies being shown on TV, it is disheartening to see... mediocre plots and performances... dealing with crime and sexual deviates." (Springfield, S.D.) More adventure and wilderness movies instead of cop pictures.... Commercial should be put at beginning of program." (Teen, Jeffers, Mont.) Excellent. (ABC) better than regular movies." (HS Oconomowoc, Wis.)
ADVERTISING

The response to this year's hint that the viewer may want to comment on advertising on the back of the report card is nowhere near as large as response on the programs. It does, however, provide clues as to what advertising, if any, is liked or disliked.

People watch television for the program. Since advertising takes time from the program, it must offer some value, if it is to be liked. Otherwise - otherwise it is resented, barely tolerated - or not watched.

There are too many commercials. That judgment is practically unanimous. However, some of them are praised. WHICH? WHY?

Heinz' Great American Soup. - "My very favorite commercial - Ann Miller dancing on a giant can. I love it and often do a dance for my kids when I serve them soup. They think it's hilarious. I always enjoy Stan Freberg's ads." (Lombard, Ill.)

Coca Cola - "Is by far the best ad I've ever seen. No matter how many times I've seen it, it is not tiring. To see a group of mixed races singing is very refreshing." (Ft. Atkinson, Wis.) "The scenery, people, and ideas are so refreshing, and the music makes you want to sing along. Their product is as excellent as their commercial." "I like the commercial. I would like to teach the world to sing. It has people from all nations." (12 years, Cols. O.)

Kodak - "They really reach people by using a cute little blonde, which appeals to all people. Most appealing commercial on this show." (Atlanta, Ga.)

Kraft Foods - "These commercials make me hungry." (Wheaton, Ill.) "Interesting ads, attractively done." (Brunswick, Ga.)

Alka-seltzer - "If one has to watch commercials, too bad. they can't all be for Alka-seltzer -- best commercials out." (Milan, Minn.)

OTHER COMMERCIALS, APPEALING TO THOUGHT

"Any commercial that has to do with the improvement of our environment, in regard to helping children, people helping people, planting flowers, keeping our communities clean, building lower income housing, etc, we consider good," from Somerset, Mass., fits several commercials.

General Electric - "Showed use of wiring in electrocardiograms, informing, fascinating. These longer commercials have more depth and appeal than many short and different ones that disrupt a program." (Atlanta, Ga.)

Eaton Electronics - "Informative and pleasantly appealing." (Chevy Chase, Md.)

American Oil - "This commercial points out the importance of clean air. I think this is good, especially when they use the same amount of time for their product and for clean air." (HS Ft. Walton Beach, Fl.)

Humble Oil - "Fine commercial about establishing schools for drop-outs." (Anthony, Ks.)

Mobil Oil - "Is doing a real service in sponsoring 'Masterpiece Theatre.'" (Brookfield)

Hallmark Cards - "Commercials always beautiful, low-key, and pleasant." (Madison)

U.S. Steel - "Amazing how in 90 seconds it shows how many things the company can do..." "Informational. Best commercial I've seen for a long time."

Polaroid - Praised for sponsoring 'Young People's Concerts' and 'French Chef.'

Commercial, unobtrusive. Soft-sell!

Texaco - "Metropolitan Opera!!"
Many Commercials are disliked.

For one thing, there are too many commercials. Several monitors listed on the back of the card the commercials and found that the sixty-minute programs had 12-15 advertisements, most of them short. In Shreveport, La., CBS Evening News is reported as having ten commercials. That is a half-hour program, unless it was extended locally.

Interruptions of thought:

Newscasts: 6 NEWS, Racine, Wis., "interrupted by too many commercials."
WBBM radio, Chicago, "News is heavily larded with commercials and one must patiently listen through gobs of them to get any news."
"I don't know if the announcer is starting off on news or a commercial, as one voice frequently does both." "I respect CBS announcers, but the commercials are too heavy a cross for me to bear. I dialed out WBBM and turned to newspapers." (Skokie, Ill.)
Bethesda, Md., WMAL 11 p.m. News "Irritates me with commercials. The news headlines are given to tease, and then a break for commercials. Five minutes later you get the news."

Talk Shows: "(On David Frost Shows) the commercial interruptions, which are indeed frequent, have broken many a train of thought." (Hightstown, N.J.)
"(On Merv Griffin Show) If they do come up with an interesting thought, a commercial nips it in the bud before it can be developed." (Shreveport)
"I was most annoyed when the subject matter had to be interrupted at least twice by commercials." (Newport News, Va.)

Drama: "(In 'Mission') commercial interruptions have broken many a train of thought." "(In 'Mod Squad') The ads break into the most exciting parts of the show, which I don't like." (Shreveport, La.) "(In 'Night Gallery') the commercials often ruin the entire effect." (HS Oconomowoc, Wis.)

Some are boring:

Folger's Coffee: "Mrs. Olson should retire gracefully from her unbelievable situations." (group opinion, Lake Geneva, Wis.) Several others agreed.
Clear-eyes: "To watch someone put drops in their eyes is boring." (Baton Rouge)
Dr. Pepper: "The man is under the car talking about the product." (Albany, Ore.)
Arrid: "Indelicate. Who wants to know she perspires heavily since she's pregnant?"

Sex:

Command Hair Spray (sex appeal) "Power gum is kissing gum." (also sex appeal.)

Misleading - or at least Unconvincing:

"Is need for 'truth in advertising' of pills and other medicines on TV. They are given as magical. Very Misleading." (Milwaukee)

Unguest Pantyhose: "Should not quote a price of $5.00 because he fails to say the C.O.D. charges will be $1.20. It is misleading." (St. Paul, Minn.)

Listerine: Gargling with their product would not prevent a cold. Leads one to believe that it would." "This product does not do what the commercial says. I think people should say only what is true." (HS Shalimar, Fla.)

Mouthwash commercials, "In general, obnoxious. As if the right one will cure any problem mankind has. Certainly they claim great strides or losses in one's romantic life." (Bethel Park, Pa.)

Mitchum Deodorant: "Very poor taste. Seeing a nude man in bed could not sell me this product." (Eureka, Ka.)

One-a-Day Vitamins "aims for sales by creating unwarranted concern."

"VO-5" "Not believable. Girls go through wind and water spray. Girl with VO-5 on hair had hair that stayed in place."

Ocean Spray Cranberry Juice, Haley's MO and Westinghouse. I think these products are not superior in their different categories." (Baton Rouge)
SOME PET PEEVES:

"My intelligence is insulted when someone shows housewives standing around squeezing 'Charmin' bathroom tissue' and discussing its softness."

"Tired of hearing how people got their clothes dirty and Tide got it out."

"Wonder Bread is ridiculous; also toothpaste ads."

"Formica floor shine - 'That's a hard shine' in a nasal voice. Horrors!"

"Pristeen's Spearmint Gum has been running so long it's boring."

"Alpo has too many extremely stupid girls, compared with their brilliant husbands who prefer Alpo. If they'd eliminate the fat from the food and allow brains for the females, they'd be O.K."

Bragging - "Arlen's Snow-Blow ad makes children think it the thing to brag about their snow-blower. Encourages a poor sense of values — a keep-up-with-the-Joneses attitude." (Mosinee, Wis.) "I don't like Colgate's commercial about the 'have's' and the 'have-not's.' Just because a person has a lot does not make him a better human being, and the kind of toothpaste a person uses won't change a thing." (Albany, Ore.)

The public service announcement which showed a man in the act of quitting the habit of smoking emptying the remaining cigarettes from a carton into a river and then throwing the carton in after them. "This is an insult to our environment improvement campaign. His lungs are saved, Our water Is polluted in the process." (Hampton, Va.)

Some Products Should Not Be Advertised on Television:

Feminine Hygiene, Feminine deodorants, and Preparation H head the list of products. "FDS is offensive! I cannot say enough against it and Preparation H. I object most strongly to airing these on TV at any time." (Springfield, Mass.) (Same sentiments from Wheaton, Ill., and others)

"I personally found the Pristeen commercial distasteful, as I do all those of similar products." (Bridgeport, W.Va.)

"I don't believe patent medicines should be advertised on TV."

Queer Goings-on

"It seems incongruous to me for CHRYSLER to promote a network program and then our local station comes on at the break and advertises AMERICAN MOTORS. I notice this being done with other competing products." (Waunakee, Wis.)

"So much advertising is crowded into local 'spots' that some very important program continuity is lost. On the 'Today' show often we do not hear the next guest introduced, and we do not know until he is leaving who he is."

Some Local Advertising

There are complaints of local stations advertising some fine program from their networks, then buying an old movie and reaping shekels from local advertisers, substituting the old movie for the fine program.

From Winona, Minn., a complaint of a half-hour program of children and adults playing instruments in a music store. "It is a 30 minute commercial."

Suggestions for Improvement

The frequently made proposal that advertising be congregated in one part of the hour or half-hour — probably in the first five or ten minutes.

TRUTH

These monitors are strong for truth in advertising and in pictures of life.

"Why not put truth in everything portrayed on the air?" says one. "Even repetitious or dull commercials can be tolerated on an excellent program. But the dishonest ones irritate."
THE MONITORS

The monitors are those without whom there is no poll. In the 1971-1972 Look=Listen Poll they numbered 2,253 adults and 1,989 teenagers. They live in 32 states. They contributed 25,872 opinions.

In a country as wide-spread as this one, great differences of opinion might be expected. But differences assignable to geography were not noted. From Louisiana, Virginia, Oregon, the Dakotas one will find in hunting through reports on most programs the same attitudes, the same suggestions, even sometimes almost the same wording. If they did not live miles apart, you might think that one had copied from another.

More Junior Women's Clubs than usual took part in the poll this year -- a fact which made a difference in the number of children's programs reported on. One club in Florida went so far as to restrict itself to monitoring programs for children. The point that the reactions of these young parents drove home was that they set high value on their child's time. A program should contribute.

Some groups met after their reports were written to talk over their findings. One remarked on the increased awareness of program quality gained from participation in the poll. Another wrote about its concerns as to future programming, and forwarded group suggestions.

Most monitors were conscientious in making their statement of reactions helpfully definite. Some gave unexpectedly expert opinions on use of the camera, not so much on the technique as on the results of the technique in establishing mood, giving insight, -- as in: "Then a quick pulling back from a close-up to a long shot to take in the whole situation provided interest and variety" or "The lack of music and the quick fade-out at the end of the show was dramatically effective." (Both these are from Baton Rouge.)

Again the state of Louisiana did an outstanding job of reporting programs -- the adults, the State University, the State Colleges, and fourteen high schools. In Wisconsin, aside from general interest of scattered clubs throughout the state, the Poll is promoted very actively in northeastern Wisconsin by the Green Bay Diocesan Councils. In the northwestern part of the state, the action centers almost entirely in Superior, where 765 people contributed to the poll -- from 29 adult organizations, the University of Wisconsin-Superior, and 7 high schools.

The young people in some schools are also becoming experts -- especially if their schools have taught them some things to watch for in evaluating programs. For instance-- from typed reports on network newscasts sent from Hayes High School, Delaware, Ohio, we cull: "Mr. Cronkite spoke distinctly." "The map of Viet Nam helped you to know he had switched to a new story; also gave background." "Reporters did not slant news by choice of words or tone of voice." And so on. Their opinions are their own, but the young people have been taught to watch for ways of making a point and to be sensitive about honesty in reporting.

One need the Poll shows is the need for teaching evaluation of television and the fruitful response of young people to it.
CHAIRMEN'S REPORT - LOOK-LISTEN POLL
A Summary of Chairmen's Responses to a Questionnaire

1. Have the stations failed to air excellent programs of their networks?
   Yes. "A good program was advertised, and then an old movie shown, Instead." (Cols.0.)
   Three complaints that Public TV programs were not heard well in all sections.

2. What types of programs did your monitors like most?
   Drama - a 3 - 1 lead over other types.
      Hallmark, Children's film Festival, Marcus Welby, Medical Center, especially mentioned. In denouncing filmey dramatic series, several said, "There should be more shows like 'The Six Wives of Henry VIII.'"
   Information - inquiry as to 'What happened to 'Sixty Minutes'."
   Family programs
   Variety
   News
   Good Music - Station KINK-FM especially mentioned, Portland, Oregon.

3. What type of programs did your monitors dislike (if any)?
   Variety - Dean Martin Mentioned
   Violence and Crime - especially if many children would be watching
      Children's cartoons
      Too many mystery shows. "I made a count on Tuesday and found
      7 crime dramas between 7:30 and 10 p.m."
   Drama - plays with the same plot. Slapstick. New movies.
   Situation comedies like Hogan and Gilligan.
   Sports - much too much football. Wrestling is ridiculous.
   Song and dance programs - Singing and dancing on all of them much the same.

4. Did monitors suggest types of programs they wished were on the air?
   Better music
   More children's specials, Educational programs for children.
   More travel, biography, art, nature.
   Better scheduling, with the audience in mind. Murder, if any, late at night.
   Better programs on Friday nights.
   NOT scheduling two excellent programs to compete with each other.

5. As to Advertising, did monitors indicate that, other things being equal, they were inclined to:
   (a) buy products that sponsored excellent programs? Yes, a few.
   (b) buy products with acceptable advertising? Yes.
   (c) buy products for which the advertising is usually:
      bossy, brief, changed often, lacking proof of claim made,
      conversational in tone, dignified, comic, Informing, loud, repetitive?
      Brief was an easy winner, not meaning a flock of brief onestopgether.
      Dignified, Comic, Informing, and Changed often followed in that order.
      Especially disliked -- Bossy and Loud commercials; and the 'Use this product and your troubles are over' type.
      Especially disliked -- frequency - constant interruption.

6. Did monitors indicate what they might do to help get more desirable programs? Yes, several said they planned to take part in the Look-Listen Poll next fall.
