This report contains a listing of Federal health, education, and welfare programs that benefit Indians residing on Federal reservations. Selection of programs was based on the Senate Appropriations Committee publication entitled Federal Facilities For Indians. Within the publication were reports directly from Indian reservation officials listing programs then operating on the reservation. Two publications were used for the details of the programs, the Listing of Operating Federal Assistance Programs Compiled During the Roth Study (House Document 399, 90th Congress, 2d Session) and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance published by the Office of Economic Opportunity. The format of each was retained in this report and the source is identified with (R) for the Roth Study and (O) for the OEO report.

In the process of researching the subject it was decided there were three categories of programs (1) Those that are for Indians; (2) Those that Indian tribes, among others, can qualify for; and (3) Federal programs that provide assistance to states. There is, however, an overlap between (2) and (3) since some state assistance programs include Indian tribes as qualified direct participants. The following report is then divided into three sections entitled (1) Federal Indian Programs; (2) Federal Programs that Include Indian Tribes as Recipients; and (3) Federal-State assistance Programs.

No. 7.128 -- American Indians -- Public Housing Program

Name: This program is unofficially referred to as the Indian Public Housing Program, although it is merely a part of the basic public housing program.

Nature of Program: Indian tribes that have established governing bodies with police powers on Reservations can create housing authorities to develop, own, and operate public housing. In Oklahoma and Maine where tribes do not have police powers, the state legislatures have enacted statutes to provide for the establishment of housing authorities. In addition to providing conventional public housing on Indian reservations, HUD has devised a "mutual-help" program in cooperation with the Bureau of Indian Affairs to meet the needs of very low-income Indians who cannot afford even the rents necessary for conventional public housing. Under the mutual-help method, a group of participating Indian families contribute their labor in the construction of their homes. The participants or the tribe contributes the building site and where feasible, indigenous building materials. When the units are finished the participants enter into a lease-purchase type of agreement and are given credit for their labor contribution. HUD pays annual contributions to help repay the funds borrowed by the housing authority in the development of the mutual-help housing. Each mutual-help participant is responsible for the maintenance and utility costs for his home and must pay an administrative charge to the tribal housing authority. Participants are also required to make additional payments, on the basis of family income, which increase their equity toward home ownership. The Bureau of Indian Affairs provides a vital element in the mutual-help program by giving administrative guidance to the tribal housing authority and construction supervision to the participant families. The United States Public Health Service also assists the mutual-help program by providing water and sewage facilities for Indian homes.
Department of the Interior

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR (NO. 8) (R)

NO. 8.10 -- LIAISON WITH STATE AND LOCAL WELFARE PROGRAMS (R)

Narrative summary of program follows: Indian people who are residents of Indian reservations or within jurisdictions under this Bureau are eligible for many state and local welfare programs on the same basis as all other citizens of the state or local community. This Bureau has assumed a liaison responsibility to refer Indian people to the appropriate agency and to assist them to secure the benefits available to them under these programs. For example, the Indian people on reservations are eligible for public assistance under the Social Security Act (old age assistance, aid to the blind, aid to families with dependent children) which are administered by state and local public welfare departments. When necessary Bureau field staff will help Indian people to apply for these programs, and follow through their applications to receive appropriate consideration.
NO. 8.11 -- COUNSELLING AND GUIDANCE IN FAMILY AND SOCIAL PROBLEMS (R)

Brief narrative summary of BIA counselling program follows: This Bureau provides counselling services to Indian people residing on Indian reservations or within other jurisdictions under this Bureau. Counselling services cover the broad field of family and individual social problems, such as marital counselling, parent-child relationship problems, school attendance dependency, delinquency, financial money management program, etc. This program is carried out in a social services approach in providing counselling to the Indian people. This is provided through field agencies on reservations and formal application is not necessary.

NO. 8.17 -- RANGELANDS (R)

Nature of Program: The objective is to assist Indian owners develop ability to direct the proper conservation and use of 40 million acres of Indian grazing land. This involves helping Indians in the development of management plans for the grazing land of each reservation; the development of range water supplies; the granting of grazing privileges looking toward the highest return consistent with undiminished future use; and the encouragement of Indian use of Indian range land.

Eligibility: Indians receive most of the benefits; however, in some instances where the Indians presently do not use all of the range resource, non-Indian permittees, through grazing permits issued by the Reservation Superintendent, get some benefits.

Available Assistance: Technical assistance to provide the Indian owners with range management plans. These plans provide for the division of the range into practical use units, proper stocking rates and season of use, and for range improvement and betterment programs to obtain full use of the forage with sustained production. Range water for livestock is developed through drilled wells, paved catchments, pipelines, etc., from a portion of the range land appropriation. Advisory and education assistance is provided to owners of Indian land and livestock as to potentials for improvement of the forage resource which will increase their economic benefits.

Use Restrictions: Providing technical assistance for proper management, use, and development of the Indian range resource.

Appropriations Sought: FY 1969, $1,785,000.

Past Appropriations: FY 1968, $1,737,000; FY 1967, $1,737,000; FY 1966, $1,725,000.

Washington Contact: See Administrator.

Related Programs: Other Federal agencies which have range land programs on public lands under their jurisdiction are the Bureau of Land Management and Forest Service.
Inasmuch as the programs do not direct or control grants or loans, an overview of these programs is provided by the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior.

Following is a brief sketch of the program:

1. Development of Commercial Recreation Facilities: The present staffing of this program is small at the present time due to the newness of this concept in reservation development. Some Indian areas have recreational resources that are "ready-to-go". Others fall into the intermediate and longrange time-phase development projects. These will be carefully categorized to include planning, funding, construction, financing, operations and maintenance, allowing ample time for lead-time training requirements to facilitate the ultimate objective, Indian ownership and Indian employment.

2. Development of Commercial Enterprises and Opportunities: This program will concentrate on the creation of employment in, and income from, manufacturing and processing. The increasing Indian payroll, now approximated to be $120 million, creates new markets and opportunities for individual Indian businessmen. A recent review showed 700 types of franchises available to small Indian businessmen. These opportunities in villages and shopping centers hold promise.

3. Development and Marketing of Indian Products: This portion of the program is staffed by only one professional who works closely with Indian craftsmen to help develop markets for Indian arts and crafts.

None of our programs involve the direction or control of loan and grants by this branch.
NO. 8.19 -- INDIAN IRRIGATION PROGRAM (R)

Name: The construction, extension, operation and maintenance of irrigation projects and related power system located on Indian reservations is known as the "Indian Irrigation Program."

Authorizing Statute: There is no one authorizing statute. Many of the projects were authorized under specific Acts. Other projects were authorized under either appropriation or general Acts of Congress.

Administrator: Mr. George W. Hubley, Jr., Assistant Commissioner of Economic Development, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C.; telephone 343-4591.

Nature of Program: The ultimate goals of the Bureau of Indian Affairs for the Indian people are maximum economic self-sufficiency, equal participation in American life and equal citizenship privileges and responsibilities. The Bureau is working toward the attainment of these goals through two basic programs, one of which is education, and the other is the economic development of reservation resources. One of the approaches through economic development of reservation resources is the development of all suitable irrigable land on Indian reservations as a means of providing a better standard of living for resident reservation Indians.

Development of Indian Irrigation projects under such conditions must necessarily be correlated with and become an integral part of the total reservation program. For example, if the economy of the reservation is built around a livestock program, then feed produced on irrigable land will be the predominant crop in quantities sufficient to meet the needs of the livestock in connection with fully developed grazing lands.

On those Indian reservations where the generation and/or the transmission and distribution of power are an integral part of the irrigation project, such power systems not only are serving their primary purpose of furnishing electrical energy for project purposes, but furnish power under contract to residents of the reservations and to local industrial and commercial enterprises on or adjacent to the reservation. Often times the power furnished by these projects is the only source of power available.

Eligibility: Irrigation project programs are for the primary purpose of serving individual Indian-owned lands and tribal lands. However, non-Indian landowners within the reservation and project also receive benefits, but are required to pay the full cost of any service received as a result of the project.

Available Assistance: The assistance available is the construction of irrigation facilities to serve Indian-owned lands and the improvement and rehabilitation of such facilities from time to time as may be required as well as the operation and maintenance of the facilities or systems. In those instances where Indians are required to pay O&M charges, funds are available for the payment of such charges when the Indians are financially unable to pay. Technical assistance is also available to the Indians.

Use Restrictions: Funds made available under the irrigation program may be expanded for: (1) surveys, investigations and plans for irrigation and power facilities on Indian reservations; (2) protection of Indian water rights; (3) construction extension and rehabilitation of Indian irrigation projects and related power systems; (4) purchase of water and reservoir storage and; (5) operation and maintenance of irrigation and power facilities and system serving Indian-owned lands.

Appropriations Sought: Appropriated Treasury Funds -- Construction funds FY 1969, $5,721,000; Operation and Maintenance funds FY 1969, $1,379,000. Assessment Collections and Power Revenues -- Anticipated Irrigation Operation and Maintenance Assessment Collection, $3,692,000; Anticipated revenue from sale of power, $3,200,000. Total, $13,992,000.

Local Contact: The responsible Regional officials for the Irrigation program are the Area Directors.

Related Programs: A program related to Indian irrigation administered by this agency is the Soil and Moisture Conservation program on irrigated farm lands. Programs related to Indian irrigation that are administered by other Federal agencies include the U. S. Geological Survey, Bureau of Reclamation, and Corps of Engineers. However, normally these Federal agencies perform services for Indians or on Indian lands only when requested to do so by the Bureau of Indian Affairs.
NO. 8.20 -- OUTDOOR RECREATION (R)

Administrator: George W. Hubley, Jr., Assistant Commissioner (Economic Development), Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior, 1951 Constitution Ave. NW., Washington, D.C. 20242; telephone 202-343-4591.

Nature of Program: Indian reservations contain many outdoor recreation resource opportunities which should be developed to provide the full economic potential return to the Indian owners. In 1966, there were in excess of 7,148,000 visitor-days use of Indian outdoor recreation resources. Visitors to Indian reservations now spend approximately 50 cents per visitor day on reservations. In comparison, most recent published estimates indicate visitors to national parks, including travel to and from the park, spend from $9.50 to $15.50 per day. The average visitor to a national forest spent $13.50 per day and typical visitor to a State park spent $8.00 per day. The goal of this program is to obtain increased expenditures for use of recreation and tourist facilities on Indian land. In addition to the income produced for Indians, development of recreational opportunities will create more jobs which are attractive to the interests and capabilities of Indians. It can also provide managerial public relations exposure and training to Indians and will enable Indians to more easily advance from small campground, fish and wildlife management enterprises to the more sophisticated managerial responsibilities of commercial enterprises such as motels, lodges, stores, ski resorts, etc.

Development of reservation outdoor recreation resources will create the attraction and increased visitor-day use which in turn will provide the base for satellite commercial enterprises such as motels, laundromats, service stations, fishing and hunting supply stores, etc.
Eligibility: The Indians will derive the economic benefits, whereas the outdoor recreation activity provided by the resource will be enjoyed by the general public as well as the Indians.

Available Assistance: The intent is to provide assistance for development, improvement and rehabilitation of the fish and wildlife environment, water oriented activities and facilities (non-commercial) required for general public use on Indian lands. User fees collected should be sufficient to provide operation and maintenance requirements. Presently many Indian owners of outdoor recreation resource potentials cannot participate in other federal and state programs because of lack of matching funds to be provided by the Indian.

Use Restrictions: Funds may be spent for construction of dams for lakes which will provide environment for fishing, water, oriented sports, camp and picnic grounds; enhancement of scenic, historic, and nature areas through overlooks, access roads, foot and horse trails; interpretation centers; improvement of forage areas for increasing game and wildbird numbers.

Appropriations Sought: FY 1968, $200,000.

Past Appropriations: None. FY 1969 will be the first year this program is specifically funded.

Obligations Incurred: None.

Postgrant Requirements: Annual reports which will show visitor days use, user fees collected, and amount of fees used for operation and maintenance.

Washington Contact: See Administrator.

Related Programs: Related programs include those administered by Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, National Park Service, Bureau of Land Management, Corps of Engineers, and Forest Service for public lands.
NO. 8.21 -- CREDIT AND FINANCING PROGRAM, BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS (R)

Authorizing Statute: There is no one authorizing statute. Many of the projects were authorized under specific Acts. Other projects were authorized under either appropriation or general Acts of Congress.

Administrator: The Branch of Credit and Financing conducts staff activities related to providing loans to Indians and Indian organizations; aids them in obtaining funds for financing commercial, industrial, agricultural, and other developmental activities, and in the use of tribal funds for the same purposes. Indians and their organizations are furnished advice and guidance in financial and other business practices. The Bureau operates on three administrative levels, i.e., Washington, Area, and Agency.

Washington Office: Robert L. Bennett, Commissioner, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior; George W. Hubley, Assistant Commissioner, Division of Economic Development; Albert Huber, Chief, Branch of Credit and Financing, 1951 Constitution Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20242.

Nature of Program: Lack of access to adequate sources of credit is one of the most serious problems confronting Indian self-advancement. Private investments in under-developed areas and to a largely undeveloped people often are not available, or are available only at excessive cost. Indian production usually is insufficient to meet high costs. Indian credit needs cannot be met without Federal action. The specific goal of the program is to increase the capital available for adequate development of Indian resources, both physical and human, to a point where Indians will enjoy a suitable standard of living from their own productive efforts; where they will have assumed responsibility for utilization and management of their own resources; and where they will be integrated politically and socially into American life. Tribes that have funds of their own available are helped and encouraged to use their own moneys to advance their economic development. Those that do not have funds of their own are assisted in obtaining financing from customary lenders, both Governmental (non-bureau) and non-Governmental. Indians unable to obtain financing from customary lenders are eligible for loans from a revolving fund authorized by the Congress. The Government makes loans (1) to Indian organizations to enable them to make loans to their members and associations of their members and associations of their members; to establish and operate tribal business enterprises; to encourage industries to locate on or near Indian reservations to provide employment for Indians; and to enable tribes to pay for expert assistance in connection with the preparation and trial of claims pending before the Indian Claims Commission, and (2) to Indian cooperative associations and individual Indians ineligible for loans from tribes.

Eligibility: Tribes and other Indian organizations, and individual Indians are eligible for loans. Loans from the revolving fund to individual Indians, either direct from the United States or from Indian organizations, are restricted to those of more than one-quarter degree of Indian blood.

Available Assistance: Assistance in obtaining financing from customary lenders, and in administering credit programs conducted with tribal funds, and with funds borrowed from the United States.

Use Restrictions: The basic legislation (25 U.S.C. 470) authorizes loans "* * * for the purpose of promoting the economic development of such tribes and of their members * * *".

Appropriations Sought: FY 1969, $450,000 for loans for expert assistance.

Past Appropriations: FY 1968, $450,000; FY 1967, None; FY 1966, None.
Obligations incurred: FY 1968, $2,282,774 (to April 1, 1968); FY 1967, $2,366,524; FY 1966, $2,395,141.

Average Assistance: Records are not maintained on the average size of loans to Indian organizations, and any "average" would be meaningless because of the length of time the revolving fund has been operating involving increasing price levels, and the varied purposes for which loans are made. On loans to individual Indians, the record to June 30, 1967, is: Loans over $1,000, 14,322; $501-$1,000, 8,501; $101-$500, 19,480; less than $100, 4,988. Total, 47,291.

Assistance Prerequisites: Applications must show a reasonable prospect of repayment. The purpose of the loan must be for economic development (including loans for educational purposes.) Applicants must also show that they are unable to obtain financing elsewhere on reasonable terms and conditions. Indian tribes that have funds on deposit in the Treasury or elsewhere are required to use their own funds on deposit in the Treasury before a loan from the Bureau's revolving fund may receive approval.

Postgrant Requirements: Applicants are required to adhere to operating plans included in all loan agreements over $1,000 unless the loans are fully secured. They are also required to conform to repayment schedules. The Bureau follows the policy, when loan installments are due, of "collect, extend, or liquidate".

Washington Contact: See Administrator for address. Telephone numbers are as follows: Mr. Bennett, 343-2111; Mr. Hubley, 343-274; Mr. Huber, 343-374.

Application Deadlines: There are no deadlines. Most tribes, however, do not accept applications during the last two weeks of each fiscal year.

Approval/Disapproval Time: Dates are not available.
Reworking Time: Data are not available.

Related Programs: The program is related to credit programs of other Federal Credit Agencies, i.e., Farmers Home Administration, Federal Housing Administration, Office of Economic Opportunity, Rural Electrification Administration, Small Business Administration, Economic Development Administration, etc.

NO. 6.22 SUMMER PROGRAMS FOR INDIAN CHILDREN AND YOUTH (R)

Administrator: Assistant Commissioner, Division of Education, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior.

Nature of Program: The objective of the program is to provide wholesome activities for Indian Children and Youth. These activities are designed to improve academic achievement, to broaden the Indian Child's background through enriching field trips, and cross cultural pursuits, to provide job opportunities and to extend the range of recreational opportunities available to Indian children and youth.

Eligibility: Indian people residing on or near reservation areas are eligible to participate in these programs.

Available Assistance: Eligible Indian students may attend Public Schools during the summer and charge any tuition cost to the summer program account.

Use Restrictions: Tuition costs for Public School summer programs, enriching field trips, admission to fine arts cultural events, supplies for academic and recreational activities.

Appropriations Sought: FY 1969, $950,000.

Obligations Incurred: Entire amount obligated in each case.

Average Assistance: No grant or loan since the Bureau operates program directly. Funds are allocated to its 13 administrative areas and agencies on the basis of scope and range of the programs.

Assistance Prerequisites: Bureau administrative areas submit plans that have been prepared at the local level to the Central Office for review and funding. Programs funded after extensive consultation with Area and Agency officials.

Nature of Program: Scholarship aid to Indian students enrolling in degree-granting accredited colleges and universities.

Eligibility: Indians of 1/4 or more degree Indian blood who are members of tribes for which the Federal Government has trust responsibility and who have financial needs that cannot be met from other sources.

Available Assistance: Grants to individuals.

Use Restrictions: Tuition and fees, books and supplies, room and board, and other incidental expenses connected with school attendance.

Appropriations Sought: FY 1969, $3,000,000.

Past Appropriations: FY 1968, $2,248,000; FY 1967, $1,998,000; FY 1966, $1,400,000.

Obligations Incurred: FY 1968, Not available; FY 1967, $1,913,320; FY 1966, $1,388,696.

Average Assistance: $811 in 1967.

Assistance Prerequisites: In order to receive assistance the student must show ability to do college work, and must have financial needs that cannot be met from other sources.

Postgrant Requirements: Individual progress reports.

Washington Contact: Glenn C. Lundeen, Chief, Branch of Public School Relations, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Washington, D.C.

NO. 8.25 -- ASSISTANCE TO PUPILS IN NON-FEDERAL SCHOOLS -- PUBLIC SCHOOLS (R)

Administrator: Charles N. Zellers, Assistant Commissioner (Education), Bureau of Indian Affairs, Division of Education, Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20242.

Nature of Program: Supplementary financial aid to eligible public school districts.

Eligibility: Public school districts having unmet financial needs related to the presence of large blocks of tax-exempt Indian owned lands within the districts, and relatively large numbers of Indian children enrolled in their schools. Aid is extended after all other sources of funds have been exhausted.

Available Assistance: Supplementary financial assistance.

Use Restrictions: Normal school operating costs exclusive of capital outlay, and expenses of special activities undertaken to meet the educational needs of Indian children.

Appropriations Sought: FY 1969, $13,352,000.

Past Appropriations: FY 1968, $9,952,000; FY 1967, $9,510,000; FY 1966, $8,854,000.

Obligations Incurred: FY 1968, Not available; FY 1967, $9,510,000; FY 1966, $8,854,000.

Assistance Prerequisites: Show evidence of need for supplemental funds to maintain an adequate school after evidence of reasonable tax effort and receipt of all other aids.

Postgrant Requirements: Annual statistical and evaluative reports following close of school year.

Nature and Purpose of Program

The United States is responsible for providing to Indians and Indian tribes all of the options and opportunities that are available to Americans generally. This includes working with Indian communities, other communities, the States, and other Federal agencies toward education for Indian capability to manage their own affairs, promotion of political and social integration, and fulfillment of the Federal responsibility for Indian trust property. The goal is to assist Indian people to take their place in the social and economic life of the Nation on the same basis as other citizens.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

Members of recognized Indian tribes under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Indian Affairs and living on or near an Indian reservation are eligible. In some cases, the degree of Indian blood, age, and financial need are qualifying factors for eligibility. Apply through the nearest listed Area Office.

<td>This program helps to improve the nutrition of school children and families in need of food assistance, and to increase the market for domestically produced foods acquired under surplus removal and price support operations. Available foods may be donated to nonprofit school lunch programs, summer camps for children, needy Indians on reservations, charitable institutions serving needy persons, and State and local welfare agencies for distribution to low-income households. These foods are also available for use in disaster relief such as earthquakes, hurricanes, floods, etc. All States have a donation program for one or more of the eligible outlets cited above. The U.S. Department of Agriculture pays for processing and packaging the foods and for transporting them in carload lots to receiving points chosen by the State. State and local governments pay all costs of intrastate transportation, storage, distribution, and, in the case of low-income households, certification. In certain selected low-income counties, Federal financial assistance is being provided through the U.S. Department of Agriculture to cover a share of the intrastate costs.</td>
<tr>
<td>Who Can Apply and How to Apply</td>
<td>Any local government may participate in the needy family program; any public or nonprofit private school or any charitable institution serving needy persons is eligible for commodities. If a county or city can demonstrate that it cannot finance a donation program for its low-income families, the Office of Economic Opportunity will consider an application for assistance under the Community Action Program. Families may participate if they (1) live in an area that has the program; (2) are found by local welfare officials to need food assistance; (3) are receiving some form of welfare assistance; and (4) are unemployed, part-time employed, working for low wages, or living on limited pensions. If families are not receiving welfare assistance, eligibility is based on family size and income and level of liquid assets.</td>

<td>Nature &amp; Purpose of Program</td>
<td>This program provides direct loans to low-income farm and nonfarm rural families who need capital to improve their earnings but are unable to obtain credit elsewhere on reasonable rates and terms. Loans to farm and nonfarm families living in the country or in small towns (5,500 population or less) may be used to finance small businesses, trades, or services such as well drilling, carpentry, trucking, and other income-producing activities. Loans to farmers may be used for such purposes as to buy livestock and farm equipment; to buy an interest in cooperatively used equipment; to develop water supplies, farmland, and buildings; to buy operating materials; or to pay farm operating expenses. The total amount loaned to any one family may not exceed $3,500 at any one time and will be limited to the family's need and ability to repay. The maximum loan term is 15 years at 4.1/4 percent interest per annum on the unpaid balance. The loan must be secured by a promissory note and a loan agreement. Loans will be accompanied by technical and management assistance.</td>

Nature and Purpose of Program

This program is designed to enable low-income rural families to obtain adequate housing even though their income is not sufficient to finance construction by customary methods. Families who will occupy the dwellings perform most of the construction work under the supervision of an expert. Each family in the group agrees to work an agreed-upon number of hours to complete all the houses in the group. Materials may be purchased on a group basis for economy.

Loan funds are used to buy material and to pay for any contracted skilled labor which the participating families are unable to perform. Loans also may be used to purchase building sites.

The Farmers Home Administration will assist in providing plans for the homes, advise on assistance available from other public bodies and conduct preconstruction meetings instructing in the self-help concept.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

Small groups of from six to 10 families may make application for self-help housing loans. An application from each participating family is accepted and processed on an individual basis. Each family must be able to repay the loan for the cost of the house. The family labor normally amounts to one-third or more of the total value of the finished home.

Each family will sign a promissory note as evidence of a desire to participate in the self-help housing program and to furnish the required labor to complete the house. A membership agreement outlining the operation of the project also will be signed by each family.

Applications are made at local county Farmers Home Administration office.

NO. 6.50 -- REGIONAL ACTION PLANNING COMMISSIONS (R)

Authorizing Statute: Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965 -- Public Law 89-136, Title V.

Administrator: Legislation mentioned above in Item Two designates the Secretary of Commerce to administer this program. The Secretary has designated the Assistant Secretary for Economic Development to carry out his functions. In turn, Mr. John E. Cosgrove, Director of the Office of Regional Development Planning, EDA, has been designated to work directly with the Regional Commissions.

Nature of Program: In carrying out the purposes of this Act, each Commission shall with respect to its region --

(1) advise and assist the Secretary in the identification of optimum boundaries for multistate economic development regions;

(2) initiate and coordinate the preparation of long-range overall economic development programs for such regions;

(3) foster surveys and studies to provide data required for the preparation of specific plans and programs for the development of such regions;

(4) advise and assist the Secretary and the States concerned in the initiation and coordination of economic development districts, in order to promote maximum benefits from the expenditure of Federal, State, and local funds;

(5) promote legislative and other recommendations with respect to both short-range and long-range programs and projects for Federal, State, and local agencies;

(6) develop, on a continuing basis, comprehensive and coordinated plans and programs and established priorities thereunder, giving due consideration to other Federal, State, and local planning in the region;

(7) conduct and sponsor investigations, research, and studies, including an inventory and analysis of the resources of the region, and, in cooperation with Federal, State and local agencies, sponsor demonstration projects designed to foster regional productivity and growth;
NO. 6.50 -- REGIONAL ACTION PLANNING COMMISSIONS (R), Continued

(8) review and study, in cooperation with the agency involved, Federal, State and local public and private programs and, where appropriate, recommend modifications or additions which will increase their effectiveness in the region;

(9) formulate and recommend, where appropriate, interstate compacts and other forms of interstate cooperation, and work with State and local agencies in developing appropriate model legislation; and

(10) provide a forum for consideration of problems of the region and proposed solutions and establish and utilize, as appropriate, citizens and special advisory councils and public conferences.

Eligibility: The Secretary is authorized, with the concurrence of the States concerned, to designate appropriate "economic development regions" within the United States if he finds (A) that there is a geographical, cultural, historical, and economical relationship among the areas; (B) that the region is within contiguous States, with the exception of Alaska and Hawaii; and (C) that the region has lagged behind the Nation as a whole in economic development on the basis of such factors as unemployment rates, family incomes, living conditions, the decline of dominant industries, the outmigration of labor, adversely changing technology or national defense expenditures, and relative growth rates.

Those currently eligible for benefits include:

(1) Coastal Plains Regional Commission.
   a. Portions of North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia.

(2) Four Corners Regional Commission.
   a. Portions of Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, and Colorado.

(3) New England Regional Commission.

(4) Ozark Regional Commission.
NO. 6.50 -- REGIONAL ACTION PLANNING COMMISSIONS (R), Continued

(5) Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission.

Available Assistance: The Secretary is authorized to provide technical assistance which would be useful in aiding the commissions to carry out their functions under this Act and to develop recommendations and programs. Such assistance shall include studies and plans evaluating the needs of, and developing potentialities for, economic growth of such region, and research on improving the conservation and utilization of the human and natural resources of the region. Such assistance may be provided by the Secretary through members of his staff, through the payment of funds authorized for this section to other departments or agencies of the Federal Government, or through the employment of private individuals, partnerships, firms, corporations, or suitable institutions, under contracts entered into for such purposes, or through grants-in-aid to the commissions. The Secretary, in his discretion, may require the repayment of assistance provided under this subsection and prescribe the terms and conditions of such repayment.

Appropriation Sought: $7,020,000 of which $538,000 is for CRDP.

Past Appropriations: FY 1968, $6,935,000; FY 1967, $4,265,000; FY 1966. There were funds appropriated in FY 1966 but not under Title V of the Act and not for this Office.

Washington Contact: John E. Cosgrove, Director, Office of Regional Development Planning, 2001 Wisconsin Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20230, 343-8634.

Local Contact: The chairman of the regional commissions.

Approval/Disapproval Time: 20-30 days.
NO. 6.50 -- REGIONAL ACTION PLANNING COMMISSIONS (R), Continuea

Reworking Time: 10-15 days.

Related Programs: There are approximately 170 Federal programs providing financial and technical assistance to State and local governments and individuals.
NO. 6.51 -- INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT LOANS (R)

Nature of Program: Industrial development Loans are provided to business firms expanding or establishing in economically depressed areas that have been designated by EDA as a redevelopment area or development districts. (Within a development district, loans are available to firms in the growth center as well as in the development areas that comprise the district.)

The objective of this loan program is to assist and enlist private initiative and capital in bringing about industrial growth that will result in the creation of new, permanent jobs and increased income for residents of economically depressed areas.

Eligibility: Businessmen, public agencies, Indian tribes and local development groups located in EDA-designated areas and that have been approved by an agency of the State or political subdivision directly concerned with economic development.

A listing of all EDA-designated areas is available at EDA Area Offices.

Available Assistance: This program provides two types of assistance.

A. Direct Loans, not to exceed 65% of the total eligible project cost, for up to 25 years -- except that maturity is ordinarily based on the useful life of the fixed assets to be acquired at an interest rate determined by the cost of government borrowing (the present interest rate is 4-3/4%), and with EDA having at least a second lien position on the fixed assets to be purchased.

B. Working Capital Loan Guarantees, not to exceed 90% of the unpaid balance of funds made available to the recipient of a direct EDA loan by a private lender. Applications are submitted by the private lender.
Funding Use Restrictions: Direct loan funds may be used to acquire or construct eligible items of land, building, machinery and equipment. Details on ineligible items are available at the Area Offices.

Appropriations Sought: For FY 1969, EDA requested an appropriation of $58,500,000 for this program.

Past Appropriations: The appropriations for this and the two previous years are: FY 1968, $55,000,000; FY 1967, $55,700,000; FY 1966, $46,200,000.

Obligations Incurred: The obligations incurred for the loan program in this and the two previous years are:

Average Assistance: The size of the average loan is $750,000. The size of the average working capital loan guarantee is $350,000.

Assistance Prerequisites: In addition to the condition that an applicant must be located in an EDA-designated area and may not borrow to relocate his business, EDA requires that: A. The requested funds not be obtainable from other sources on terms that will permit the accomplishment of the project; B. The project not be in an industry experiencing a long-run overcapacity situation; C. There be reasonable assurance of loan repayment; D. The project be consistent with the EDA-approved Overall Economic Development Program (OEDP) for the area; and E. The project construction contractors pay prevailing wages to meet requirements of the Davis-Bacon Act.

EDA also requires that at least 15% of the total eligible project cost be supplied as equity capital or as a subordinated loan, repayable in no shorter period of time and at no faster amortization rate than the EDA loan.

At least 1/3 of the 15% if to be supplied by the State or a community or area organization. There is an exception for projects involving financial participation by Indian tribes.

EDA may also waive the "5% community requirement" in certain hardship cases and allow the applicant or other non-Federal sources to supply the funds directly to the project.

To stimulate investment by private lenders, EDA encourages the applicant to borrow as much as possible of the project cost, above the first 15%, from private lending institutions. Such loans may be repaid before the Federal loan and may be secured by a lien having precedence over the Federal lien, if EDA determines it necessary for the project.

Postgrant Requirements: Borrowers are responsible for keeping the Economic Development Administration fully informed about the financial and operating conditions of the project for which the loan is made.

Washington Contact: While Washington officials, under the direction of Mr. Abell, are always available for consultation, potential applicants will receive responsive cooperation if they contact the Area Office officials.

Local Contact: For Delaware: Mr. Robert Cox, Jr., Area Director; Mr. Edward Morris, Chief, Business Development Division.

Mid-Atlantic Area Office, 19 North Main Street, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania 18701. (717) 825-6811, Area Director: (217) 825-6203, Chief.
Application Deadlines: There are no application deadlines.

Approval/Disapproval Time: New guidelines are presently being instituted within the Office of Business Development which provide for an average of 130 calendar days to process a fully documented application to the point of approval. With the institution of these guidelines, it is expected that most denials will occur within 35 calendar days of application submission.

Reworking Time: Prior to formal application submission, potential applicants are strongly advised to arrange a pre-application conference with Area Office Business Development Chiefs. The purpose of these conferences is to advise applicants of the requirements for a complete application. Complete applications are processed without the need for reworking by the applicant.

Related Programs: All programs established under the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965 are related to and concerned with objectives similar to the one outlined for this program.

Adult Basic Education (0)

POPULAR NAME

This program provides grants to support State efforts to help adults learn such fundamentals as reading, writing, and arithmetic and thus qualify themselves for occupational training and better employment. Supported projects provide instruction below the eighth grade level to persons 16 years old and over who have not achieved an equivalent level of education and who are not enrolled in school.

Federal funds may be used to: (1) assist local educational agencies to establish programs of Adult Basic Education; (2) assist State agencies to improve their technical and supervisory services to adult basic education; and (3) conduct experimental demonstration projects, teacher training, and research under the State plan.

The Commissioner of Education is also authorized to make direct grants for Special Experimental Demonstration Projects and Teacher Training.

Who Can Apply and How to Apply

State educational agencies apply for State grant funds by submitting a State Plan.

Special Experimental Demonstration Projects -- Any local educational agency or other public or private nonprofit agency, including an educational television station, is eligible to submit an application.

Teacher-training Projects -- Any college or university, State or local educational agency, or other appropriate public or private nonprofit agency or organization is eligible to submit an application.

<td>This program helps colleges and universities to expand the library resources available to their students by providing grants for the purchase of books, periodicals, documents, magnetic tapes, phonograph records, audiovisual materials, and other related library materials, including necessary initial binding. There are three types of grants: (1) basic grants not to exceed $5,000, which must be equally matched by recipients; (2) supplemental grants not to exceed $10 per full-time student, with no matching requirement, except that a basic grant of not less than $1,500 must have been applied for and approved; and (3) special purpose grants, which must be matched by one institutional dollar for every three Federal grant dollars. Grants for special purposes include: (1) Type A grants, which help meet needs for quality in the educational resources of institutions; (2) Type B grants, which meet special national or regional needs; and (3) Type C grants, which meet special needs in establishing and strengthening joint-use materials.</td>

Nature and Purpose of Program

This program provides grants to States for allocation (1) to local education agencies operating elementary and secondary schools with concentrations of children from low-income families; (2) to State-operated or State-supported schools for the handicapped; and (3) to State or locally operated institutions for neglected or delinquent children. Also included in the program are Department of the Interior schools for Indian children and special grants to States with concentrations of children from families of migratory agricultural workers.

Funds are used to establish, expand, and improve programs designed to meet the special needs of educationally deprived children attending either public or nonpublic schools. Programs may include remedial instruction services, physical education and recreation services, health and welfare services, construction where required, purchase of instructional materials, vocational education services, and inservice training for teachers.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

The State education agency notifies each eligible local education agency or other eligible institution of its entitlement; then the eligible agency makes application to the Chief Program Officer, Title I, ESEA, State Education Agency. (A local education agency is one having administrative control and direction of free public education through grade 12 in a county, township, independent or other school district.)

Bureau of Indian Affairs schools apply to the Bureau of Indian Affairs, U.S. Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240.

Nature and Purpose of Program

This program provides grants and loans to assist the State of Alaska in providing housing for natives and other residents of Alaska whose incomes are too low to enable them to finance housing and related facilities on terms they can afford.

The grants and loans are made in accordance with a HUD-approved State-wide program prepared by the State or its designated agency. Grants may not exceed 75 percent of the aggregate cost of the housing and related facilities to be provided under the approved program. The cost of dwellings, including land and related facilities, may not exceed an average of $7,500 per unit.

Who Can Apply and How to Apply

Only the State of Alaska or any authorized agency of the State may apply.

Nature and Purpose of Program

This program provides grants to construct community water and sewer facilities that are basic to efficient and orderly areawide community growth and development.

Grants cover up to 50 percent of land and construction costs for new water and sewer facilities. The facilities must be consistent with a program for a coordinated areawide water and sewer facilities system which is part of the comprehensively planned development of the area. Until October 1, 1969, a grant may be approved for a project where a program for an areawide water or sewer system is in preparation but not yet completed, if the facility is urgently needed and is expected to be required as part of such program.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

Cities, towns, counties, Indian tribes, or public agencies or instrumentalities of one or more States or one or more municipalities established to finance specific capital improvement projects are eligible.

Application is made to the HUD Regional Office that serves the area in which the facility is located.

Nature and Purpose of Program

This program provides grants to foster sound community, regional, and statewide comprehensive planning.

Grants of up to 2/3 (3/4 in some instances) of the cost of a planning project are made to supplement State and local funds for comprehensive planning in areas having common or related development problems.

Eligible activities include preparing general and functional plans, programming capital improvements, coordinating all related plans and activities of the State and local governments concerned, and preparing regulator and administrative measures (ordinances, regulations, etc.). These activities may cover such subjects as land use, transportation, water and sewers, open space and recreation, housing, health, and education facilities, community development and renewal, manpower, training, and other aspects of physical and human development and governmental management.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

Those eligible include: official State, metropolitan, and regional planning agencies; organizations of public officials; cities; counties in redevelopment areas; multi-state regional commissions; official governmental planning agencies for federally impacted areas; localities that have suffered a major disaster; and areas that have suffered a decrease in employment from declining Federal purchases or closing of a Federal installation.

Cities and other municipalities with less than 50,000 population, counties, non-metropolitan districts, and Indian reservations apply through their State planning agencies. Other applicants apply directly to the appropriate HUD Regional Office.

Nature and Purpose of Program

This program provides loans and annual contributions which permit public agencies to provide decent, safe and sanitary housing for low-income families at rents they can afford. Local housing authorities rent to low-income families dwelling units provided by construction, rehabilitation of existing structures, purchase from private developers or builders (the Turnkey method), and by lease from private owners. The leasing program and other specialized housing programs are discussed in the following sections.

There are special provisions for people of limited incomes who are displaced by urban renewal, highway construction, government actions, natural disasters, for the elderly, handicapped, and for American Indians.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

Local housing authorities established by a local government in accordance with state law, authorized public agencies, or Indian tribal organizations are eligible. The proposed program must be approved by the local governing body, and a certified Workable Program for Community Improvement is required.

Nature and Purpose of Program

This program provides grants to aid in the construction and/or rehabilitation of multiservice neighborhood centers which offer a wide range of community services. Grants may cover two-thirds of the development cost of 75 percent in areas designated for redevelopment under Section 401, Public Works and Economic Development Act 1965. Facilities must create, extend, or improve existing health, welfare, social, educational, cultural, and recreational services in the neighborhood. The facility must be (1) needed to carry out a program of community service (including a Community Act Program under Title II, Economic Opportunity Act, 1964) in the area, (2) consistent with comprehensive planning for the area, and (3) accessible to a significant proportion of the area's low-or moderate-income residents.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

Local public bodies, agencies, or Indian tribes possessing authority under state or local law are eligible. These groups may contract projects to nonprofit organizations with appropriate legal, financial, and technical capability. Application is made to the HUD regional office serving the area.

This program supplies several species of warm water fish to establish self-perpetuating populations in farm fish ponds and tanks, and also trout or channel catfish on a biannual basis for ponds where these species do not normally reproduce but where they will do well in other respects.

The purpose of the program is to provide recreational fishing, stimulate tourist activity and interest, and increase expenditures for supplies and equipment in the area. In addition, production of high quality protein food is achieved.

Municipalities, organizations, or individuals who own suitable ponds are eligible to receive fish. Fish are not provided where a charge is made for fishing.

NO. 8.39 -- GRANTS FOR WASTE TREATMENT WORKS
CONSTRUCTION (R)

Authorizing Statute: Section 8 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, as amended (33 U.S.C. 466 et. seq.).

Administrator: Mr. Joe G. Moore, Commissioner, FWPCA, Department of Interior.

Nature of Program: These grants are made to States, municipalities, intermunicipal or interstate agencies to assist in the construction of waste treatment works, including intercepting and outfall sewers, which are needed to prevent discharge of inadequately treated sewage or other wastes.

Eligibility: The Act authorizes grants to any State, municipality, or intermunicipal or interstate agency for the construction of necessary waste treatment works. A municipality is defined in the Act to mean any city, town, borough, county, parish, district, or other public body created by or pursuant to State law and having jurisdiction over disposal of sewage, industrial wastes, or other wastes, and an Indian tribe or an authorized Indian tribal organization.

Available Assistance: The Federal Water Pollution Control Act, as amended, provides that the first $100,000,000 of funds appropriated for the construction of sewage treatment works shall be allotted among the States as follows: (1) 50 percent of such sum in the ratio that the population of each State bears to the population of all the States, and (2) 50 percent of each sum in the ratio that the quotient obtained by dividing the per capita income of the United States by the per capita income of each State bears to the sum of such quotients for all States. The 1965 amendments to the Act specified that any appropriation in excess of $100,000,000 will be allotted to the States on the basis of relative population only. Under the Act, sums allotted to a State which are not obligated within six months following the end of the fiscal year for which allotted shall be reallocated to other States having approved projects for which grants have not been made because of lack of funds. Prior to reallocation, these funds may be used to finance supplemental grants for projects where the need for sewage treatment works is attributable in part to a Federal installation or Federal construction activity. (For projects on which construction was started after June 30, 1966, and which are approved by the State water pollution control agency and the Secretary of the Interior, but were constructed without Federal assistance or with a lesser amount of Federal assistance than authorized by law because of a lack of Federal funds, such projects may be eligible for reimbursement of State or local funds used if adequate funds had been available.

Appropriations Sought: FY 1969, $225,000,000.

Past Appropriations: FY 1968, $203,000,000; FY 1967, $150,000,000; FY 1966, $121,000,000.

Assistance Prerequisites: Section 8(b) of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, as amended by the Clean Water Restoration Act of 1966, specifies that prior to July 1, 1967, a grant may not exceed 30 percent of the estimated reasonable cost of construction or $1,200,000, whichever is smaller, or $4,800,000 in the case of multimunicipal projects. After July 1, 1967, the dollar limitations are removed and the grant may be 40 percent if the State also contributes at least 30 percent and 50 percent if the State also contributes 25 percent and the project is in conformity with enforceable water quality standards. In metropolitan areas the grant may be increased by 10 percent if the project is in conformity with a comprehensive metropolitan plan (Section 8(f)). Grantees are required to pay all costs not covered by the Federal grant and to assure proper and efficient operation of the treatment works after completion.

Washington Contact: Additional information may be obtained from the Division of Construction Grants, Office of Facilities Management, Federal Water Pollution Control Administration, U.S. Department of the Interior, 633 Indiana Avenue, N.W. Washington, D.C. 20242. Mr. Thomas Ferry, Director, Division of Construction Grants.
Local Contact: The construction grants program is administered in cooperation with the State water pollution control agencies. Application forms are obtained from the State agencies which review the completed applications for conformance with State water pollution control plans and establish a priority for grants. Following State action, the applications are sent to the appropriate Federal Water Pollution Control Administration Regional Office for processing.

Approval/Disapproval Time: If application complete in all respects, approximately 2 months.

Reworking Time: Approximately 1 month.

Related Programs: Other Federal legislation pertaining to Federal grants for waste treatment facilities and related projects, are: (1) The Appalachian Regional Development Act of 1965 (Public Law 89-4) which permits the U.S. Department of Commerce to increase contribution from other Federal Programs in Appalachia up to 80 percent of project costs. (2) The Housing and Urban Development Act of 1965 (Public Law 89-117) which permits the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to make grants and loans for basic water and sewer facilities. (3) The Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965 (Public Law 89-136) which authorizes the U.S. Department of Commerce to make grants and loans for public works in economically distressed area. (4) 1965 Amendments to the Consolidated Farmers Home Administration Act of 1961 (Public Law 89-240) which authorizes the supply, waste treatment and disposal facilities. Detailed information may be obtained from Washington headquarters or local offices of these Federal departments.

Nature and Purpose of Program

The Neighborhood Youth Corps has three major divisions: (1) an in-school program which provides part-time work and on-the-job training for students of high school age from low-income families; (2) a summer program that provides these students with job opportunities during the summer months; (3) an out-of-school program to provide economically deprived school dropouts with practical work experience and on-the-job training to encourage them to return to school and resume their education, or if this is not feasible, to help them acquire work habits and attitudes that will improve their employability.

Federal funds and technical assistance are given to projects that are initiated, developed, and sponsored by local groups. The Federal government will finance up to 90 percent of the cost of these projects. The local sponsor's share may be in cash or in kind (facilities, equipment, services provided, and supplies). In private on-the-job training projects (work training in industry projects which are also funded from NYC out-of-school sources) the Federal government will pay legitimate training costs while the employer is responsible for the trainee's wages.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

The in-school program is open to students from low-income families, grades 9 through 12, or those who are of high school age but are in lower grades. The out-of-school program is open to unemployed youth from low-income families who are 16 years of age or older.

Enrollees may not be employed on projects involving construction, operation or maintenance of any facility used or intended for use in sectarian or religious worship. Also, enrollees must not displace any employed workers nor impair existing contracts for service.

<td>Nature and Purpose of Program</td>
<td>This program helps local communities mobilize human and financial resources for combating poverty. The primary instrument for developing a local strategy is the Community Action Agency (CAA), composed of public officials, representatives of the poor, and private groups. The CAA plans and carries out programs and activities to improve local planning and coordination; stimulate innovative programs and techniques; provide for more effective organization of services at the neighborhood or community level; increase effectiveness of participation by the poor in programs which affect them; and increase resources allocated to combat poverty. OEO provides assistance for the activities of the CAA board and staff, for a variety of programs to fill unmet needs and to strengthen existing services. Projects may be locally designed or selected from CAP's national emphasis programs. Locally designed programs may include: Consumer Action (buying clubs, credit unions, consumer education) Cooperatives, Education (tutorials and literacy training), Housing (Housing Development Corporations, housing code enforcement, self-help housing), Manpower (recruitment, training, counseling, placement, with such supportive services as day care centers) and Social services (home management services and food distribution).</td>

Nature and Purpose of Program

This program provides grants for the establishment of health centers which offer comprehensive health care to low income persons and are located in areas having high concentrations of proportions of poverty with inadequate health services.

The health care may include treatment, screening and diagnostic services, home care, outreach rehabilitation, dental care, family planning, mental health care, and other health related services. In addition, the grants may help to obtain equipment and supplies, training for personnel, planning activities, evaluation of projects, and transportation for patients. Special technical assistance is available for rural areas.

Provisions must be made to assure that all health services are under competent professional supervision and meet high standards of quality.

All appropriate elements of the community, including those served, must be involved in the projects' planning and development. OEO funds are a "last dollar" resource and cannot be used to support services, facilities, equipment or supplies for which support is already available.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

Any public or private non-profit agency, such as a medical society, medical school, hospital, public health department, group practice plan, or health corporation may apply. The projects are usually operated as independent, delegate agencies of local Community Action Agencies.

Instructions, application forms, and related materials are available from: Address below.

Nature and Purpose of Program

This program provides funds to establish law offices in low-income neighborhoods and provides attorneys to advise and represent clients who cannot afford to pay for a lawyer's services. By statute, such representation is limited to civil cases. Clients must meet the standard of indigency which is set locally. Local Legal Services agencies also provide representation to groups, provide assistance in plans for economic development and attempt to make the Law more responsive to the needs of the poor through the prosecution of test case.

A local group may be provided funds through the local Community Action Agencies as components of the total community anti-poverty program. However, each legal services project is directed by an independent board which includes representatives of the legal profession, the community and the poor. Federal assistance may not exceed 80 percent of the costs, except in very poor communities where grantees can be relieved of all or part of the non-Federal share.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

Existing Legal Aid societies, non-profit corporations organized for the specific purpose of providing legal assistance, universities, and bar-sponsored organizations are examples of agencies operating programs. The programs are operated as independent delegate agencies of local Community Action Agencies.

Administrator: Training Branch, Training and Technical Assistance Division, 1200 19th Street, NW., Washington, D.C. Edward G. Wilms, Chief; Thomas F. Broden, Chief, Training and Technical Assistance Division; Theodore Berry, Director, Community Action Program.

Nature of Program: The staff training program involves the orientation and training of all community action personnel -- volunteer board members and payroll employees at the Washington Headquarters, the seven Regional Offices and the more than 1,100 Community Action Agencies and their delegated agencies across the nation.

Available Assistance: Through a network of nine multi-purpose training centers and seven urban Training Centers, offered to community action program personnel, boards and neighborhood advisory groups. A number of single purpose training grants are authorized as needed.

Use Restrictions: Training funds are spent in four major areas: (1) Training for professional and non-professional employees of community action agencies; (2) Training for CAA and Regional Officer personnel in the area of general administrative and management support; (3) Training for specific program areas such as aging, housing, and manpower; and, (4) Training for personnel working with special programs for Indians and migrant workers.

Appropriations Sought: For FY 1969, the cost of training is expected to remain at $13,000,000.

Past Appropriations: FY 1968, $13,000,000; FY 1967, $12,300,000; FY 1966, $10,500,000.

Obligations Incurred: Same as above only that in 1968 and FY 68-69 the bulk of the training funds will be decentralized to the Regions and Special Field Programs.
Average Assistance: Grants for training vary between $15,000 and $100,000 depending on the size and scope of training.

Assistance Prerequisites: Applicant must justify the competence in training and their administrative ability.

Postgrant Requirements: During the grant period, the grantee is required to submit quarterly statistical and narrative reports on program operation, monthly financial reports and to make provisions for continuous independent evaluation reports is required. Headquarters staff makes periodic site visits and in some cases evaluates programs. A monitoring system of trainees has been established by Headquarters.

Local Contact: Regional Training Officers in the OEO Regional Office for Delaware: George Beschner, OEO-Mid-Atlantic Region, 1832 M Street N.W., Washington, D.C. 20506.

Approval/Disapproval Time: 3 to 6 months -- depending on volume of applications.

Reworking Time: About 10 days.

Related Programs: OEO/CAP -- Funds CAA through Regional Offices -- authorizes Demonstrations, Research and Technical Assistance programs OEO -- also funds, Job Corps, VISTA -- etc.
NO. 26.10 -- SUMMER YOUTH PROGRAM (R)

Administrator: The Office of Economic Opportunity's Community Action Program through its Regional Offices.

Nature of Program: The summer program is designed to meet the needs of young people, 5 to 25 years of age, who reside within the target area serviced by the CAA. CAP's effort is part of a united Federal, state, and local effort to mobilize both public and private sectors for this summer. The purpose of the program is to give youth the experiences which provide for the development of leadership, self-direction, increased skills and self-respect.

Eligibility: Any local community being served by a community action agency.

Available Assistance: Planning and operational grants.

Use Restrictions: Jobs, recreation, community services, cultural enrichment.

Appropriations Sought: $3 million within the OEO total appropriation ($500,000 for planning grants and $34.5 million balance program).

Past Appropriations: $36.7 million for 1967; $20 million for FY 1966; not applicable for FY 1965.

Average Assistance: Grants range from $5 million to New York City down to $3,000 in smaller communities.

Assistance Prerequisites: Standard conditions as outlined in CAP Guide, Volume 1, Instruction for Applicants.

Post-Grant Requirements: The grantee will use the Management Information System.

Local Contact: For Delaware, Mr. Leveo V. Sanchez, CAP Manager, OEO Mid-Atlantic Region, 1832 M Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20506. Telephone: 382-7284.

Approval/Disapproval Time: 3 weeks.

Reworking Time: 10 days; analyst contacts the grantee and works out any difficulties.

Authorizing Statute: The Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, as Amended as 1974, Section 222(a)(5).

Administrator: Dr. Thomas A. Billings, Director, Upward Bound, Community Action Program, OEO, Telephone 382-6025.

Nature of Program: Upward Bound is the pre-college preparatory program of OEO. It is designed to generate the skills and motivation necessary for success in education beyond high school among young people from low income backgrounds and inadequate secondary school preparation. This is done through sustained contact with a youngster over an approximately two year period, the objective of which is, through a year-round program of academic aid, to prepare the child for acceptance to, and success in, a college environment.

Eligibility: "Benefits" in the case of Upward Bound, would be a definition of the target population, and the grantee population. The target population are academically and financially disadvantaged youngsters of secondary school age who have the potential for post-secondary education, but in whom that potential is not being actualized. The grantee population are 280 accredited institutions of higher education nation-wide who, in cooperating with the local Community Action Agencies of OEO, administer the specific programs on their campuses for these students.

Available Assistance: Federal assistance is available for 80 percent of all funds spent. The funds are made by grant action to the institution of higher education, based upon a proposal budget, for operation of a sustained year-round program, which paid staff both professional and non-professional, to provide academic skill-acquisition for the target population.

Use Restrictions: Funds may be spent for any allowable cost, as listed in the Upward Bound Guidelines, pages 43-48. These costs will allow for various expenditures such as staffing costs, medical examination costs, costs for purchase of books and curricular equipment, and indirect costs to the grantee to defray the costs of their housing and maintaining the program throughout the year.
Appropriations Sought: 38 million dollars.

Obligations Incurred: All monies earmarked for Upward Bound were obligated by grant actions in each of the fiscal years.

Average Assistance: The average grant size amounted to approximately 100,000 dollars. The average federal dollar cost per child per year is approximately $1,300.

Assistance Prerequisites: The applicant agency must be an accredited institution of higher education, or a Community Action Agency, with one or more such institutions which will serve as delegate agencies. An eligible accredited institution must offer a liberal arts and general curriculum. Further conditions which an applicant must meet are noted in the application procedures sections of the Upward Bound Guidelines.

Postgrant Requirements: Post-grant reporting and evaluation procedures include preliminary audits for new grantees, monthly financial reports for all grantees, participation in the Management Information System of OEO for all grantees, as well as regular evaluation visits by consultants and staff to all projects. A significant amount of narrative and statistical data is thus gathered on both the fiscal and programmatic aspect of each grantee.

Local Contact: Upward Bound is a national emphasis program of OEO. Thus all interested persons should contact Dr. Billings in Washington.

Application Deadlines: The funding cycle is a yearly one, with new proposals being due January 3. The next funding cycle thus must have proposals submitted to OEO by January 3, 1969, for grants for the 1969-1970 program year.

Approval/Disapproval Time: Applications received by January 3 are notified within 90 days or less as to the status of that application.

Reworking Time: 15 to 20 days, often less.

Related Programs: In a narrow sense of related there are no related programs administered by OEO; in a broad sense of related, all OEO programs are related, at least administratively.

The U.S. Office of Education administers Contracts to Encourage Full Utilization of Educational Talent (Higher Education Action, Section 408) which works with a different disadvantaged clientele and compliments the work of Upward Bound.
PROGRAM TITLE | Volunteers in Service to America (0) | POPULAR NAME | VISTA
---|---|---|---
Nature and Purpose of Program | VISTA is a manpower organization that provides volunteers who are willing to live and work with the poor. The volunteers live on subsistence allowances in urban slums, in rural poverty areas, on Indian reservations and in migrant camps. Many volunteers contribute specific skills as lawyers, health technicians and architects. However, the basic job of the volunteer is to help the poor find leadership from within the poor community. The volunteer should take a significant role in developing an atmosphere in which leadership can be found and problems resolved. A volunteer must be over 18 years old. During the past year 5 percent of the volunteers were 18 or 19 and about 25 percent were retired persons over sixty. |  |
Who Can Apply and How To Apply | VISTA Volunteers are requested by and serve under the immediate supervision of a sponsor, which may be a public or private agency or group. There is a wide variety of sponsors: the most frequent are Community Action Agencies, the locally controlled agency for the Office of Economic Opportunity, and local public groups such as county and city health units of school boards. The State of Alaska is the sponsor for all volunteers in that State and the Appalachian Volunteers, a private group, sponsors most volunteers in the mountain areas of West Virginia and Kentucky. Individual churches or church oriented groups are often sponsors. Applicant Sponsors should write: VISTA, Washington, D.C. 20506 |  |

(3) FEDERAL STATE ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS
This program provides grants-in-aid to States to help them expand services and opportunities for more meaningful lives for older persons and to help fund State agencies on aging. The States support projects to: (1) plan and coordinate programs for older persons; (2) demonstrate programs and activities which have proven effective; (3) provide specialized short-term training for those working with, or planning to work with, older persons; and (4) establish or expand direct services, such as multipurpose senior centers, information and referral, counseling, special transportation, recreation and education, homemakers, home-health aides, friendly visitors, telephone reassurance, meal services, and other services to meet needs and problems of older persons.

All States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa are eligible for an allotment of funds upon designation of a single agency to run the program, and approval by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare of the agency's plan for operation under the program.

Application may be made to the designated State agency on aging by public agencies or private non-profit organizations for a project grant under (1), (2), (3) or 4 above. Federal support is limited to three years. The aim is development of services which will continue to operate after Federal support is terminated. The applicant must be able to contribute at least 25% of project costs for the first year, at least 50% of second year costs, and at least 75% of third year costs.

Nature and Purpose of Program

This public assistance program provides financial help to States to make income-maintenance payments to poor families with dependent children. Since the program is intended to help maintain children in their own homes, payments are made not only for the child but for the parent or other relative taking care of him. All States have AFDC programs. Nationally, the average monthly payment for a family of four in July 1968 was $170; State averages ranged from $35 to $277.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

Through grants made to States, the Federal Government pays part of both maintenance payments and administrative costs. To receive Federal funds the program must be in effect statewide, and Federal requirements for individual eligibility must be met in the State plan. Applicants for AFDC go to their local welfare agency. In general, a needy child, to be eligible, must be: under age 18 or, if attending school, under 21; living in the home of a parent or other relative; and lacking parental support or care because of a parent's death, continued absence, or physical or mental incapacity or, in some States, because the father is unemployed. State eligibility requirements must also be met. The welfare agency must refer appropriate members of an AFDC family to the U.S. Department of Labor's Work Incentive Program if it believes they will benefit.

Nature and Purpose of Program

This program provides financial aid and other assistance to public agencies in the planning, acquisition, and development of public airports and heliports to help them take part in developing an adequate nationwide system of public airports. It also provides for the conveyance of Federal lands under certain circumstances, where needed, to carry out an airport project or for the operation of a public airport, and provision and operation of air navigation facilities.

Property interests in Federal lands, where appropriate, as well as Federal grants, are available for projects that are essential to the operation and safety of airports.

Grants can be made for: (1) land acquisition, (2) site preparation, (3) construction, alteration, and repair of runways, taxiways, aprons, and roads within airport boundaries, and (4) construction and installation of lighting and utilities and certain other on-site and off-site work.

The Federal Government generally provides 50 percent of the cost and the local public authority provides the remaining 50 percent.

Program Title: Comprehensive Health Planning -- Grants To States (0)

Popular Name: Partnership for Health

| Nature and Purpose of Program | This program provides grants to the States to finance statewide comprehensive health planning that will identify health needs, establish objectives and priorities for health services, and recommend actions to meet objectives. These grants are contingent upon a State establishing a single State Agency, which may be an interdepartmental agency, to administer or supervise the administration of the State's health planning functions under the plan. It must also establish a State health planning council to advise the planning agency. A majority of the members of the council must represent health services consumers. States must also develop a State plan for comprehensive State health planning. The Federal share of funds may be up to 100 percent until fiscal 1970, when the Federal share may not exceed 75 percent. Allotments are to be determined on the basis of population and per capita income, except that no State allotment may be less than 1 percent of the sum appropriated for any fiscal year. |
| Who Can Apply and How To Apply | The designated State comprehensive health planning agency in each State is eligible. Grant applications should be directed to the appropriate Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (DHEW) Regional offices. |

| Nature and Purpose of Program | This program provides grants to foster sound community, regional, and statewide comprehensive planning. Grants of up to 2/3 (3/4 in some instances) of the cost of a planning project are made to supplement State and local funds for comprehensive planning in areas having common or related development problems. Eligible activities include preparing general and functional plans, programming capital improvements, coordinating all related plans and activities of the State and local governments concerned, and preparing regulatory and administrative measures (ordinances, regulations, etc.). These activities may cover such subjects as land use, transportation, water and sewers, open space and recreation, housing, health, and education facilities, community development and renewal, manpower, training, and other aspects of physical and human development and governmental management. |
| Who Can Apply and How To Apply | Those eligible include: official State, metropolitan, and regional planning agencies; organizations of public officials; cities; counties in redevelopment areas; multi-state regional commissions; official governmental planning agencies for federally impacted areas; localities that have suffered a major disaster; and areas that have suffered a decrease in employment from declining Federal purchases or closing of a Federal installation. Cities and other municipalities with less than 50,000 population, counties, non-metropolitan districts, and Indian reservations apply through their State planning agencies. Other applicants apply directly to the appropriate HUD Regional Office. |

This program provides States with annual grants to extend and improve public library services where adequate services are lacking, to promote inter-library cooperation, and to assist in providing certain specialized State library services.

A basic grant is allotted to each State, and the balance of funds allotted to each is proportional to the ratio of State population to national population. Grants may be used (1) to help finance the cost of salaries, books, materials, and equipment, (2) to help finance public library construction in areas lacking library facilities, (3) to develop local, regional, statewide, or interstate cooperative networks between public, school, academic, and special libraries, (4) to help correctional, hospital, and other State-supported institutional libraries, and (5) to help develop libraries for the non-institutionalized physically handicapped.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

State and territorial agencies concerned with library services are eligible. They must submit a State plan to the address below.

The States and their local subdivisions are allowed to determine the best uses of these Federal funds.

Nature and Purpose of Program | This program provides grants to States to administer medical assistance programs that benefit: (1) the needy -- all public assistance recipients in the federally aided categories (the aged, blind, disabled, and families with dependent children) and those who would qualify for that assistance under Federal regulations; (2) at a State's option, the medically needy -- people in the four groups mentioned above who have enough income or resources for daily needs but not for medical expenses; and (3) all children under 21 whose parents cannot afford medical care. State plans must include at least five basic services for the needy, and a similar or less extensive program for the medically needy. Family planning services may be included in both. A timetable for introducing two additional services leading toward the 1975 goal of medical care for substantially all who cannot afford it is included in the 1967 amendments. All States must set up Medicaid programs by January 1, 1970, or forego Federal funds for medical assistance now given under public assistance grants. | Medicaid Title XIX

Who Can Apply and How To Apply | The program must be statewide and be administered or supervised by a single State agency. Other requirements of Federal law must be covered in the State plan. The 1967 amendments limit Federal contributions for the medically needy to those whose income is no more than 133-1/3 percent of a State's AFDC payment. Individuals and families may apply for Medicaid services at State and local public welfare offices. |

Nature and Purpose of Program

This program provides seven support activities in health communications. These benefit medical students and personnel by aiding the development of medical library facilities, resources, and services through grants: To construct new library facilities (the Federal share may not exceed 75 percent of necessary costs); to support the expansion and improvement of a medical library's basic resources (the grant cannot exceed 50 percent of the library's average annual operating budget); and to develop regional medical library services through support of major existing health libraries in key geographical locations.

Grant programs also encourage the development of health information personnel and technology through the support of training grants and fellowships for health communications service and research; grants for special scientific projects related to health information; grants for research and development in communications related to health; and grants for biomedical communications publications projects.

Who Can Apply and How to Apply

Public or private nonprofit institutions of higher education, public or private nonprofit medical libraries and related scientific communication instrumentalities are eligible for aid under this program. Individuals may apply for fellowships support under the grants. Information on application procedures is available from the address shown below.

Nature and Purpose of Program

This program provides grants to State mental hospitals for initiating and improving hospital staff development programs and for projects which provide improvement in the care, treatment, and rehabilitation of patients.

Hospital Improvement Project grants may be used for projects aimed at improving services to patients. A hospital or institution may receive support for a project or series of projects for a period up to 10 years. Maximum support in any one year is $100,000.

The Hospital Staff Development Program is aimed at upgrading and extending the skills of hospital staff with first priority to training of staff involved directly in patient care. In-service training of other mental health employees also is supported. Maximum grant support for any one institution in any one year is $25,000.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

All State mental hospitals may apply for assistance. No matching funds are required. Apply to the address shown below.

Under this program, grants to the States are authorized to assist them in establishing and maintaining public health services -- community, mental, environmental.

To qualify, a State must submit a State plan for public health and mental health services which includes assurances that (1) funds paid to the State will be used to make a significant contribution toward providing and strengthening public health services in its various political subdivisions; (2) funds will be made available to other public or private nonprofit agencies to secure maximum participation of local, regional, or metropolitan agencies and groups in providing services; and (3) funds will be used to supplement and increase the level of support by these other agencies.

At least 70 percent of the Federal funds allotted to the State health and mental health agencies must be available to support services in communities of the State.

State health and mental health authorities are eligible for formula grants for public health services. State allotments for each fiscal year will be determined on the basis of population and financial need. At least 15 percent of a State's allotment must be allocated to the State mental health authority for provision of mental health services.

The Federal share shall be not less than one-third and not more than two-thirds, based on per capita income.

Grant applications should be directed to the appropriate Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (DHEW) Regional Offices.

Nature and Purpose of Program

Federal grants are provided to State welfare agencies for social services to families and children receiving AFDC (Aid to Families with Dependent Children). Based on each family's special circumstances and requirements, these services assist the family to attain or retain capability for self-support and care to maintain and strengthen family life, and to foster child development.

Effective July 1, 1968, States are required to furnish child care services as needed for each individual receiving AFDC who is referred to the Department of Labor for training and employment in the Work Incentive Program (WIN). Family planning services must be offered to each appropriate individual. In addition, Federal funds may be used by State welfare agencies to provide day care for other children who may be in need of it.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

State public welfare agencies are eligible for these grants. Federal funds are authorized to pay 85 percent of State costs for services to needy families and their children through fiscal year 1969. After July 1, 1969, Federal funds are authorized to pay 75 percent of State costs. Individuals should contact their local or State welfare department for assistance. State agencies may apply to the addresses shown below.

Nature and Purpose of Program

This program provides teams of teacher interns for supplementary teaching tasks in school districts serving large numbers of disadvantaged youth. The Teacher Corps was established to improve the educational opportunities available to children in areas with concentrations of low-income families and to encourage colleges and universities to broaden their program of teacher preparation. Each team is supervised by an experienced teacher. The interns study at a nearby university and receive practical experience by working in local schools with school officials and team leaders.

Corpsmen become employees of a school district, which pays 10 percent of their salaries. Teacher Corps grants to the local schools pay up to 90 percent of their salaries plus administrative costs. Grants to universities cover all tuition and administrative costs for graduate studies.

Who Can Apply and How To Apply

Any school district may apply for Corpsmen if it has one or more schools in which at least 50 percent of the pupils come from low-income families. Colleges and universities are eligible to apply for the graduate portion of the program, as are consortiums of institutions. Application should be made to the address shown below.

Individuals interested in becoming Teacher Corpsmen may apply to chief state school officers or to college placement officers. Prospective Corpsmen must have had at least two years of college.

<td>Nature and Purpose of Program</td>
<td>The purpose of the grant program is to assist in the preparation of water quality control plans for river basins. Section 3(c) of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, as amended, specifies that a grant may be made at the request of the Governor of a State or a majority of the Governors when more than one State is involved. To qualify for a grant, the agency must provide for adequate representation of appropriate State, interstate, local or (when appropriate) international interests in the basin. Grants may be made for a period of 3 years and may not exceed 50 percent of the planning costs.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Who Can Apply and How To Apply</td>
<td>To be eligible, a planning agency must be capable of developing an effective and comprehensive plan for water quality management in accordance with the requirements set forth in section 3(c) of the act. An agency must make its application through the Governor of the State involved, or through a majority of the Governors if more than one State is involved. Agencies applying for grant funds should contact the appropriate Federal Water Pollution Control Administration Regional Office.</td>

| Nature and Purpose of Program | The purpose of this program is to develop new and improved methods for the prevention and control of water pollution. Research and development grants made for this purpose are specifically concerned with three categories: (1) storm and combined sewers, (2) advanced waste treatment and joint treatment systems for municipal and industrial wastes, and (3) methods for prevention of pollution by industry, including, but not limited to, treatment of industrial wastes. In both categories (1) and (2), no grant may exceed 75 percent of the project cost, and projects must have the approval of the State water pollution control agency. Under category (3), grants may not be in excess of $1 million or 70 percent of the project cost. Under these grants, the technical feasibility and applicability of the method used must be technically evaluated as an integral part of the project. |
| Who Can Apply and How To Apply | Any State, municipality, intermunicipal or interstate agency concerned with water pollution control is eligible to receive research and development grants for categories (1) and (2) above. Any qualified individual or organization is eligible for grants in category (3). Apply through Headquarters or any listed local office. |
