INTRODUCTION

This directory is designed for the use of training officers in the Washington, D. C. area for prescribing learning programs to meet employee training needs. It describes available group and self-instructional programs used for the training of supervisors and managers.

The courses listed may assist agencies to meet requirements of the Civil Service Commission's guidelines (FPM, Chapter 410, Appendix A) for supervisory training.

To reduce design costs and development efforts, interested agencies may reproduce and/or purchase the course materials listed in this directory.

Each course listed contains the pertinent information necessary to make the determination of its appropriateness to meet the training needs of an agency. The course information was obtained from agencies who produced them "in-house" or under contract. Course developers agreed to share the content with users who have training needs that can be achieved by using these "hand-off" materials. After the program has been reviewed, appropriate materials can be provided by the CSC Consultation and Guidance Staff.

The directory consists of program course descriptions and characteristics, and an index which lists courses by contributing agency. Periodic reviews will be made to up-date this directory. When changes occur in the listed programs or new programs are developed, which can be shared with other agencies, the CSC Training Technology staff should be notified. Your efforts to keep this material current can benefit other training officers having similar training needs in addition to dollar savings throughout the Federal training community.

The programs listed are available for review by contacting the Consultation and Guidance staff of the Training Assistance Division, Bureau of Training, Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C. 20415. (Tel.: Area Code 202 632-7630 or IDS Code 101-27630.

TITLE: Introduction to Supervision

DEVELOPER: U. S. Civil Service Commission, Bureau of Training, General Management Training Center

SUBJECT MATTER: Supervisory training

PURPOSE: To familiarize the new supervisor, or experienced supervisor who has had formal training in supervision, with supervisory concepts and techniques. By completing a work distribution study as a part of precourse assignments, participants have an opportunity to apply concepts and ideas to their own day-to-day activities. (Participants with limited supervisory experience should attend this course prior to attending the other separate Commission courses -- "Supervision and Group Performance" and "Basic Management Techniques I".)

ENTRY LEVEL: All supervisors in addition to those employees designated to assume supervisory positions

FORMAT: Through case studies, small group discussions and practical exercises, the topic in each session is enlarged upon by providing printout materials and selected readings from the text. Session topics are: Expectations of the Federal Supervisor; Personnel Management and the Supervisor; The Sociology of Work; Labor Management Relations; Principles and Practices of Supervision; Dynamic Leadership; Processes for Solving Problems; Training for Results; Equal Employment Opportunity; Improving Communications and Self Development. Two 16mm films are used. (CSC conducts an "Instructor's Institute" for those who plan to conduct this course. Cost $300.)

TYPE OF PROGRAM: Group instruction

SUPERVISION: Instructor is required to be on hand at all times to assist in discussions and to monitor group activities.

TIME TO COMPLETE: 40 hours including home assignments

VALIDATION DATA: Not available

COPYRIGHT: In public domain

Introduction to Supervision - Continued

COST: Course materials consist of: (1) Guide for Instructors ($2.50 each) and (2) Participant Print-outs ($2.25 per set). These materials are available at Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

RELATED MATERIALS:

Text: Management-Minded Supervision by Bradford B. Boyd, McGraw-Hill Book Co., Distribution Center, Highstown, N.J. 08520, 1968, 301 pages, $6.95.

Films: "Listen Please" BNA Films, Bureau of National Affairs, Inc., 5615 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md., 20852, Purchase -- $125 per film; Rental -- $25 per film (per week).

"Styles of Leadership," Roundtable Films, Inc., 321 South Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, Purchase -- $45-color per film (per week).

TITLE: Supervisory Training Course I

DEVELOPER: Agricultural Research Service, Personnel Division

SUBJECT MATTER: Supervisory training

PURPOSE: "Through interaction with supervisors from other divisions and by exchanging experiences with them, participants compare and contrast their own supervisory situations with those of others in order to:

- gain a better understanding of range of activities which contribute to the character, attitude, and philosophy of ARS
- gain a better appreciation of scope and impact of ARS programs."

This course covers the first 40 hours of instruction as required by the U.S. Civil Service Commission's FPM 410 (Appendix A: Supervisory Training) while also providing meaningful problem oriented instruction to ARS's own first-line supervisors.

ENTRY LEVEL: First-line supervisors, WS and GS catagories

FORMAT: This course uses programmed materials and employs a variety of media, methods and techniques. An audio tape is used during several portions of the program to present information and to set the pace for group discussion and involvement. Role playing, problem guidance devices, case studies, a paper and pencil program, tape/workbook exercise, and problem workshops are used. A film is also used in the conduct of the course. The user must provide a 16mm projector, a tape recorder, and a flip chart stand. (ARS conducts an "Instructor's Institute" for those who plan to conduct this course.)

TYPE OF PROGRAM: Group instruction

SUPERVISION: An instructor is required to: observe student progress, respond to student requests for information, and conduct group discussions.

TIME TO COMPLETE: 40 hours

VALIDATION DATA: Not available

Supervisory Training Course I - continued

RELATED MATERIALS: Film: "You're Coming Along Fine," Roundtable Films, Inc., 321 South Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, Purchase $170-b/w, $290-color; Rental -- $27.50-b/w, $45-color (per week).

Tapes: "Selected Problems"
"Work Assignment Process"
(Agency should modify these tapes to fit their own situation. Available from ARS on a loan basis only, for reproduction purposes.)

TITLE: Supervisor Development Program: Basic Course

DEVELOPER: Department of the Army, Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel

SUBJECT MATTER: Personnel management

PURPOSE: To acquaint supervisors with the role and functions of the supervisor in Army management and provide training in the laws, regulations, policies, and procedures relating to Army-wide civilian personnel programs.

ENTRY LEVEL: Designed for new first-level supervisors who have had little previous training in supervising a civilian work force. Some units of the course are also appropriate for experienced supervisors at any level in the organization who need additional basic training to improve performance.

FORMAT: Participant activities include: lecture, buzz groups, case studies, role play, conferences, and reading assignments. Film, filmstrips, charts, and tape recordings, some of which have been developed by Army, are used. A series of Army Civilian Personnel Pamphlets (CPP) provide guidelines in the form of suggested subject matter coverage, agenda, and training methods. The course consists of 15 individual topics.

TYPE OF PROGRAM: Group instruction

SUPERVISION: Requires one instructor and guest speakers for some units.

TIME TO COMPLETE: Depends upon agenda selected. Total course average from 60 to 80 hours.

VALIDATION DATA: Not available

COPYRIGHT: In public domain

COST: No charge to Government agencies for course materials prepared by developer

RELATED MATERIALS: Suggested instructional support materials are listed in each pamphlet.

TITLE: Basic Supervisory Training Course

DEVELOPER: Internal Revenue Service, Training Division, Management Training Branch

SUBJECT MATTER: Supervisory training

PURPOSE: Suggests ways to improve interpersonal skills with special emphasis on the supervisor's relationship to his employees and management. It also covers behavioral theory, communication, and group processes. In addition, the course is oriented toward the supervisor's administrative functions which include: Work Organization; EEO; Performance Evaluation; Labor Relations; Position Management; and Promotion.

ENTRY LEVEL: First-line supervisors

FORMAT: A variety of instructional methods and techniques are used throughout the course. The application of case studies to actual job related problems help to develop human behavioral concepts. An in-basket exercise provides an opportunity for the new supervisor to deal with a variety of situations which demand the setting of priorities. An instructor guide and handouts are used in Part 1 -- Interpersonal Aspects of the Supervisor's Job, and Part 2 -- Administrative Aspects of the Supervisor's Job. Part 1 also has a programmed student course book.

TYPE OF PROGRAM: Group instruction

SUPERVISION: Instructors are required during most of the course activities to conduct class discussions, apply personal experiences, and enliven formal procedures.

TIME TO COMPLETE: 80 hours -- usually conducted during two consecutive weeks

VALIDATION DATA: Not available

COPYRIGHT: In public domain

COST: No charge to Government agencies for course materials prepared by developer

RELATED MATERIALS: Text: The Successful Supervisor: In Government and Business by William R. Van Dersal, Harper and Row Publishers, Inc., 49 E. 33rd St., New York, N. Y. 10016, 1968 (2nd Edition), 210 pages, $4.95.

TITLE: Fundamentals of Supervision

DEVELOPER: Social Security Administration, Office of Administration, Division of Training and Career Development

SUBJECT MATTER: Supervisory training

PURPOSE: To develop in the newly appointed first-line supervisor the understanding, knowledge, attitudes, and skills required to direct individual efforts of others toward the accomplishment of desired goals. Introduces modern concepts and practices of effective supervision, and reinforces natural qualities of leadership which contribute to the selection of the newly appointed supervisor.

ENTRY LEVEL: Newly appointed first-line supervisors (GS 5-14) and project leaders who meet the definition of a newly appointed supervisor.

FORMAT: Group centered approach, with emphasis on the experimental and associative involvement. The methods used in this course are lecture, conference, large and small group discussions, case studies, interviewing, role-playing, practical exercises, games, tests, etc. The following materials are needed to conduct the course: two films and overhead transparencies. The user must provide a 16mm projector, an overhead projector, a projection screen, and a chalkboard. A Discussion Leader's Manual provides the necessary content to conduct the course. (SSA conducts a "Trainer's Institute" for those who plan to conduct this course.)

TYPE OF PROGRAM: Group instruction

SUPERVISION: Discussion leaders work as a team. One team member is required to be present at all times to assist in discussions and to monitor group activities.

TIME TO COMPLETE: 40 hours including home assignments

VALIDATION DATA: Course was developed based on information from CSC audits, SSA management and personnel practices surveys, and a joint union management committee task group to derive supervisory responsibilities in SSA. The course was piloted three times in Central Office and in the field. Trainees were measured for attitude and behavior changes in a one-day evaluation and critique session.

DEVELOPER: Navy Facilities Technical Training Center (NFTTC), Navy Public Works Center

SUBJECT MATTER: Basic concepts and techniques of first-level supervision and management

PURPOSE: As a correspondence course or classroom training course (including home study assignments), it is designed to assist activities to provide the first increment of basic pre-supervisory training for new supervisors as well as potential supervisors, as outlined in FPM, Chapter 410, Appendix A.

ENTRY LEVEL: New first-level supervisors or supervisors-select, both GS and WS, who have not had formal training in basic supervision.

FORMAT: This home study course is arranged in ten chapters following the ten subject areas listed in FPM, Chapter 410, Appendix A, Sub-chapter A-2d (2).
As a correspondence course it includes an examination booklet with 12 study assignments and 12 examination assignment question sets and multiple-choice student response sheets for each, designed for return to a course coordinator for grading. The Examination answer key is available upon written request.

TYPE OF PROGRAM: Correspondence Course (home study), but can be adapted to a classroom training course.

SUPERVISION: As a Navy correspondence course it is administered and lessons are graded by NFTTC; for administration by others, arrangements, such as funding of costs for instructional materials, etc., would have to be negotiated with NFTTC Norfolk.

TIME TO COMPLETE: Twelve assignments could be covered in 40 classroom hours; also could be staggered over several weeks.

VALIDATION DATA: Not available

COPYRIGHT: In public domain

COST: No charge to DOD components, and quantity costs to other Federal agencies for course materials are subject to negotiation.

Supervision and Management for Navy Civilian Personnel - Continued

RELATED MATERIALS: If used for classroom instruction, the course could be supplemented by appropriate films, filmstrips, video-tape recording and playback, case studies, role play, and other instructional techniques.

TITLE: Commerce Supervisory Course

DEVELOPER: U.S. Department of Commerce, Office of the Secretary, Office of Personnel

SUBJECT MATTER: Supervisory training

PURPOSE: To develop among supervisors in the Department of Commerce a familiarization of a modern concept of supervision. The following areas are covered: the nature of the supervisors's job, the supervisor's role and activities in the building of groups, the Commerce Department's bureau organization and its relationship throughout the Department, the requirements of personnel management in the Federal Service, supervisory work management activities and responsibilities, and the importance of developing a program of self-development as a supervisor.

ENTRY LEVEL: All employees who have been appointed to supervisory positions

FORMAT: The course consists of 15 Discussion Leaders's Guides and related training materials that are used with a variety of instructional techniques to accomplish maximum participant involvement. Each session can be used alone or combined to meet local needs and to provide the local supervisor with the desired training. Films, transparencies, and texts are listed with each Discussion Leader's Guide.

TYPE OF PROGRAM: Group instruction

SUPERVISION: Instructors in the various sessions are required to conduct discussions of the subject matter involved.

TIME TO COMPLETE: 40 - 80 hours

VALIDATION DATA: Not available

COPYRIGHT In public domain
