The Academic Advisory Staff (AAS) of the Office of International Training (OIT), Agency for International Development (AID) analyzes and interprets the academic credentials of AID participants from cooperating countries in terms of the educational system of the U. S. To carry out this service the AAS has developed a library of reference materials for use by credential analysts, educators, and AID staff members. This document lists the references contained in the library. The references are grouped in terms of their content and usefulness on either a world-wide basis or by regions of the world. Within each region the countries are listed alphabetically, and the pertinent references follow each country. (HS)

The Academic Advisory Staff (AAS) of the Office of International Training (OIT), Agency for International Development (AID) in Washington, D.C. analyzes and interprets the academic credentials of AID participants (foreign students) from cooperating countries in terms of the educational system of the U.S.

To carry on this service the AAS has developed an outstanding library of reference materials for use by credential analysts, educators, and AID staff members. This library has had the continuing input of resource suggestions from AACRAO professional credential analysts, 50 of whom during the past seven years have spent periods of two weeks each in the Office analyzing AID participant dossiers and filling out the "Credential Analyst Worksheets" (CAW) which are used as guides in the placement and admission of the participants in U.S. universities and colleges. No other foreign student admissions library in our country has had such continuous professional advice in accumulating its resource materials.

This list, therefore, has been prepared so that the credential analysts assigned by AACRAO to work with Miss Hattie Jarmon in Washington may know in advance what reference materials will be available to them in the Office library. It also enables them to suggest additional resource materials which then can be added to the library. The references are grouped in terms of their content and usefulness on either a world-wide basis or by regions of the world. Within each region the countries are listed alphabetically, and the pertinent references follow each country.

This list was produced as one of the services of the AACRAO-AID Project. Mr. Robert Hefling, Director of Graduate and International Student Admissions, University of Colorado, has been in charge of this project. Mrs. Esther Jurgens, also of the University of Colorado, prepared the material for publication.

ADDITIONAL COPIES ARE AVAILABLE FROM MISS HATTIE JARMON, ACADEMIC ADVISORY STAFF, OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL TRAINING, DEPARTMENT OF STATE, A.I.D., WASHINGTON, D.C. 20523.
