SPELLING ENDINGS ADDED TO E

LEVEL: III
UNIT: 5
LESSON: 1

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR
MANPOWER ADMINISTRATION, JOB CORPS
NOVEMBER 1989
1.

Keep your eye on the e.

The main part of the word careful is care. As you know this is called the root; ful is the ending.

In the word careless, the root is care and the ending is ________________.

LOOK AT the word encouragement, the root is ________________ and the ending is ________________

Many words can be used to create new words by adding endings to them. For example, the words careful and careless both start with the word ________________:

- Careful is made of two parts ________________ and ________________.
- Careless is made of two parts ________________ and ________________.

CIRCLE the root and UNDERLINE the ending in this word:

- arrangement

2.

The words in this spelling lesson will all have two parts. The main part of the word is called the ________________; the part added onto the main part of the word is called the ________________.
3.

KEEP your eye on the final e of the root word in the list of words below. See what happens to this e when an ending is added and a new word is formed.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Root</th>

NOTICE that when an ending is added to some words the final e on the root word is kept and in other words the final e on the root is dropped.

What happens to the final e of the root?

CHECK the correct column:

When endings are added to root words the spelling of the root words sometimes changes.

In this lesson you will learn about root words that end in e. Throughout the lesson, KEEP your eye on the final e of root words as they are combined with endings.

NO RESPONSE REQUIRED

5.

UNDERLINE only the root in the words:

careful definitely careless

What happened to the final e on the root word in each case when an ending was added to it?

☐ the e was dropped
☐ the e was kept

KEEP your eye on the final e of the root. COMPARE the root with the new word formed when an ending is added to it.

admire believe admirable believing

What happens to the final e of the root word when an ending is added to it?

☐ the e is dropped
☐ the e is kept

careful
careless

the e was kept

6.

MATCH the statement with the words below:

A. the final e is kept ___ coming ___ lovable
B. the final e is dropped
   ___ definitely ___ admiring

7.

In order for you to learn whether to keep the e or drop the e before you add endings to words you must recognize two types of letters: vowels and consonants.

The vowels are: a, e, i, o, u

The consonants are: all the other letters in the alphabet which are not vowels

CIRCLE the vowels in these words:
- met: m e t
- about: a b o u t
- life: l i f e

CIRCLE the consonants in these words:
- met: m e t
- about: a b o u t
8.

The letters a, e, i, o, u are named:

- [ ] consonants
- [x] vowels

The letters t, p, q, b, x are examples of:

- [ ] consonants
- [x] vowels

WRITE either V for vowel or C for consonant on the lines beside each letter.

9. REVIEW

In the word arrangement:

- the root is ____________
- the ending is ____________

The root ends in the letter e which is a:

- [ ] consonant
- [ ] vowel

The ending begins with the letter m which is a:

- [ ] consonant
- [ ] vowel

LOOK AT the root words above. Both root words end in which letter? ____________

The ending ment begins with a:

- [ ] consonant
- [ ] vowel

The ending able begins with a:

- [ ] consonant
- [ ] vowel
11.

REFER TO FRAME 10.

What happened to the final e of the root word when the ending beginning with the consonant was added.

- [ ] it was dropped
- [x] it was kept

What happened to the final e of the root word when the ending beginning with a vowel was added to it.

- [ ] it was dropped
- [x] it was kept

12.

READ this list of words:

- arrange + ment = arrangement
- care + ful = careful
- care + less = careless
- definite + ly = definitely

With what kind of letter do all the endings above begin?

- [ ] consonants
- [x] vowels

What happened to the e in all the words listed above?

- [ ] the e was dropped
- [x] the e was kept

14.

Before endings can be correctly added to a root word, you must first keep your eye on the final e of the root word to see whether you keep the e or drop the e.

Next you LOOK at the ending which is to be added to the root to decide whether it begins with a vowel or consonant.

In the case of the word: arrange + ment you first notice that the root ends in e.

The ending begins with a:

- [ ] consonant
- [ ] vowel

The Rule is: when an ending which begins with a consonant is added to a root which has a final e you:

- [ ] drop the e before adding the ending
- [x] keep the e before adding the ending

15.

Using the rule, add endings to the words below:

RULE: KEEP the final e before endings beginning with a consonant.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Word</th>
<th>Endings</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>manage</td>
<td>-ment</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>positive</td>
<td>-ly</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>replace</td>
<td>-ment</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table> management positively

16.

In the case of the word: admire + able you notice that the root ends in the letter __________

The ending begins with a:

- [ ] consonant
- [ ] vowel

The new word is admirable.

The Rule is: When an ending which begins with a vowel is added to a word ending in final e, you:

- [ ] drop the e before adding the ending
- [ ] keep the e before adding the ending

17.

Use the rule and add endings to the words below:

RULE: DROP the final e before endings beginning with a vowel.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Word</th>
<th>Ending</th>
<th>New Word</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>hinge</td>
<td>ing</td>
<td>__________</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>make</td>
<td>ing</td>
<td>__________</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>live</td>
<td>able</td>
<td>__________</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- hinging
- making
- livable
18. MATCH the correct rule to the words below.

A. Drop the final e of the root before adding an ending which begins with a vowel
   - encourage-ment
   - writing

B. Keep the final e of the root word before adding an ending which begins with a consonant
   - hopeful
   - typing
   - careless

19. COMPLETE the words below.

APPLY the rules you have learned about adding endings and form new words with the following:

- live + ly = ______
- fire + ing = ______
- ride + ing = ______
- rare + ly = ______

lively firing riding rarely

20. CIRCLE the words which are correctly spelled in each of the examples below:

1. definitely
   - definitely
   \(\text{\textcircled{definitely}}\)
2. believable
   - believable
   \(\text{\textcircled{believable}}\)
3. making
   - making
   \(\text{\textcircled{making}}\)
4. replacement
   - replacement
   \(\text{\textcircled{replacement}}\)
21. MORE PRACTICE

ADD endings to these words:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Word 1</th>
<th>Word 2</th>
<th>New Word</th>

</tbody>

22. PREVIEW FRAME

You have just learned two rules which will help you remember whether to keep the final e or drop the final e of the root word when you add endings to words. These rules will work for you most of the time, but unfortunately there are some words for which the rules do not fit. The next few frames will acquaint you with some of the exceptions to the rule.

NO RESPONSE REQUIRED

GO ON TO THE NEXT FRAME

23. WATCH the final e when endings are added to these words:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

24.

What happened to the final e of the root when an ending was added to each of the words in Frame 23:

- [ ] the final e was dropped
- [x] the final e was kept

If you remember, one rule you learned was that if a root ends in final e and the ending begins with a consonant you ordinarily would:

- [ ] drop the e
- [x] keep the e

Do the words in the frame follow the rule?

- [ ] no
- [ ] yes

25.

In order to help yourself remember the exceptions to the rule, the words have been put into two sentences:

- I am duly and truly sorry for the awful argument we had.
- The judgment was wholly unfair.

ADD endings to these words: - Use the sentences to help yourself.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Word</th>
<th>Ending</th>
<th>Form</th>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>judge</td>
<td>+ ment</td>
<td>judgment</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>whole</td>
<td>+ ly</td>
<td>wholly</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
26.

Help yourself remember the exceptions to the rule by CROSSING OUT the final e in each case and WRITE the whole word in the blank provided. The first one is done for you.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>I am duly and</th>
<th>sorry for the</th>
<th>we had.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>duly</td>
<td>truly</td>
<td>awe+ful</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>argument</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The _______ was _______ ________ unfair.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>I am duly and</th>
<th>sorry for the</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>truly</td>
<td>tru+ly</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>argument</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

we had. The judgment was wholly _______ ________ unfair.

27.

All the words in this list are exceptions to the adding endings rules.

CORRECT each misspelled word. If the word is correct, PLACE a x in the blank.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>argument</th>
<th></th>
<th>x</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>aweful</td>
<td></td>

28.

CIRCLE the words which are exceptions to the rule for adding endings in each example below:

| arrangement | wholly   | definitely  |
| argument    | positively | careless |
| management  | careful   | truly     |
| replacement | positively | awful     |

REVIEW

COMPLETE the words below by adding the ending and making a new word. What rule did you apply? MARK the letter of the rule.

a. Drop the final e of the root before endings beginning with a vowel.

b. Keep the final e of the root before endings beginning with a consonant.

c. Exception to rule

| use       | + age          | usage          | a         |

PART II

30.

PREVIEW FRAME

In Part I of this spelling lesson you have been keeping your eye on the e, and you have had to decide whether to keep the final e or drop the final e on the root words before adding endings to these root words.

In Part II of this lesson you are going to learn to add endings to words which end in y and you will be asked to keep your eye on the y to see what happens when endings are added to these words.

NO RESPONSE REQUIRED

GO ON TO THE NEXT FRAME

31.

WATCH the y and see what happens when endings are added to the words in the list below:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Root Word</th>
<th>+</th>
<th>Ending</th>
<th>=</th>
<th>New Word</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>carry</td>
<td>+</td>
<td>ed</td>
<td>=</td>
<td>carried</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>happy</td>
<td>+</td>
<td>ness</td>
<td>=</td>
<td>happiness</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>penny</td>
<td>+</td>
<td>less</td>
<td>=</td>
<td>penniless</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

In each new word above, what happened to the y?

☐ the y was dropped
☐ the y was kept

COMPARE: \[\text{carry} + \text{ed} = \text{carried}\]

What letter replaces the y when ed is added to carry?

\[\text{i}\]

Does the same letter replace the y in the list of new words above?

☐ yes
☐ no

UNDERLINE the letter which replaced the y in each of these words:

busy + ness = business vary + ed = varied
32.
REPLACE the y with an i in each case below to form new words:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>busi + ness =</th>
<th>business</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>weary + ly =</td>
<td>wearily</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>weary + ed =</td>
<td>wearied</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

33.
You have noticed that to what words ending in y you replace the y with what letter before adding endings? an i 34.

Certain words in their singular form (implying one) which end in y can be made plural (more than one) by adding the letters es.
KEEP your eye on the y and LOOK AT the singular and plural forms of these words:

| secretary  | secretaries |
|沁ury      | inquiries   |
| lady       | ladies      |

What letter of the singular word was changed before the plural ending es was added? the y 35.

CHANGE the y to i before adding endings to these words:

- secretary + es = secretar___
- inquiry + es = inquir___
- lady + es = lad___

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>secretaries</th>
<th>inquiries</th>
<th>ladies</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

36.

APPLY what you have learned about words ending in y and CHANGE these singular words into plurals by adding the ending es.

- utility + es = _____________
- allergy + es = _____________

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>utilities</th>
<th>allergies</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

37.

REVIEW FRAME

MATCH the statement which best describes what happens to the root word when an ending is added to it.

| A. change the y to i | 1. ____ duty |
| B. drop the final e | 2. ____ replacement |
| C. keep the final e | 3. ____ truly |
| D. exception to (b) | 4. ____ ladies |

43. SELECT the misspelled word from the lists below. If all are correct, CHECK the box labelled none misspelled:

- argument
- positively
- believable
- hingeing
- none misspelled

hingeing (should be hinging)

44.

- ladies
- penniless
- believable
- encouragement
- none misspelled

encouragement (should be encouragement)

45.

- judgment
- definitely
- careless
- lovable

none misspelled
46.

- extraordinarily
- duly
- wholly
- coming (should be coming)
- none misspelled

47.

- allergies
- inquiries (should be inquiries)
- management
- utilities
- none misspelled

48.

CONCLUSION

Now you have learned how to add endings to certain words. If you remember to keep your eye on the final e and keep your eye on the final y, you will help yourself spell words correctly when adding endings to them.

ADVANCED GENERAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

A HIGH SCHOOL SELF-STUDY PROGRAM

CAPITALIZATION
LEVEL: III
UNIT: 5
LESSON: 2
As anyone knows who has ever read a sentence in English, every letter in the alphabet may be written as a CAPITAL LETTER, or as a small letter.

Although you are probably so accustomed to capitalization that you barely notice it when you read, proper capitalization is of great use to you in helping you understand the written word. Capital letters are signs of the beginning of sentences, of names of people and places, of days of the week, and of many other types of words which you, as a reader, must take note of. The capital letter alerts you to what is taking place or to what is being said.

In this lesson you will learn when capitalization is required and how it is used.

2.

Get out!
Please leave the room.
Why don't you forget about it and go?
It would be better if you left.

Above are four instances of the most common type of capitalization. We say a word is capitalized if it begins with a capital letter as do the underlined words above.

Which one of the following best sums up the rule of capitalization exemplified by all four of the illustrations above?

- Capitalize the first word of every command.
- Capitalize the first word of every question.
- Capitalize the first word of every sentence.

UNDERLINE the words below that should be capitalized.

they spent the day on the beach.
she explained that they spent the day on the beach.
did they spend the day on the beach?

CIRCLE the letters in the following selection that should be capitalized.

we asked her if she would like to help us. she was angry that we could have thought her capable of refusing. who could have imagined that? incredible! we were amazed that she, the only daughter of a rich and doting father, pampered and spoiled all her life, should be so eager.

we asked her if she would like to help us. she was angry that we could have thought her capable of refusing. who could have imagined that? incredible! we were amazed that she, the only daughter of a rich and doting father, pampered and spoiled all her life, should be so eager.
Another major use of capitalization is to designate the names of people and places.

Jane Fields, my brother Harry, Professor Peterson, Aunt Lucy, Mrs. Harris, and three doctors gathered for the meeting on Elm Street. There they elected a president for their new organization. One of my cousins was supposed to be there, but she was ill and went to see Dr. Stone instead.

The examples given below are all in small letters. On the basis of the above selection, CHECK the types of words that should be capitalized.

- first names
- family names
- family relations (e.g., sister, uncle, niece)
- titles of people when they accompany their names (e.g., uncle Tom, mayor Leonards, judge Harkness)
- titles not accompanying names (e.g., an uncle, a mayor, a judge)
- names of streets
- types of groups (e.g., club, committee, company)
5. All names of people, places, organizations, and the like, are capitalized. In addition, all titles accompanying names are capitalized, while those which do not are not.

Consider the following example:

Last year three new judges were elected. Judge Coleman was among them.

CIRCLE the letters in the sentences below that should be capitalized.

My aunt Sue went to see a doctor about her cold.

My brother was elected chairman of a new club called the greybeards.

Yesterday I saw Mrs. Smith and her daughter.

I think Mayor Richards is the youngest mayor we have ever had.

6. Remember that only words referring to people, places, or things by name should be capitalized.

DRAW an X over every letter that is incorrectly capitalized in the sentences below.

Tomorrow my Brother and my Cousin are visiting a new Lawyer on Elm Street. The Lawyer, whose name is John P. Riley, is a member of the Bar Association. His partner is another Lawyer who was once a Professor at State University. His name is Mr. Green and he is the Uncle of one of the richest Bank Presidents in town.

Tomorrow my Brother and my Cousin are visiting a new Lawyer on Elm Street. The Lawyer, whose name is John P. Riley, is a member of the Bar Association. His partner is another Lawyer who was once a Professor at State University. His name is Mr. Green and he is the Uncle of one of the richest Bank Presidents in town.
7.

CIRCLE the letters in the sentences below that should be capitalized.

Tom Smith, my sister, and Uncle Sidney all came on time.

There were three doctors there, one of which was Dr. Rocklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Townsend brought their daughter Melissa.

8.

As was mentioned before, just as names of people are capitalized, so are names of places capitalized. This includes nations, states, cities, parks, buildings, geographical regions, and the like. Every word in the name must be capitalized.

Places are only capitalized, however, when they are referred to by name, as in the following example:

New York City is the greatest city in the world.

CIRCLE the letters in the sentences below that should be capitalized.

The Middletown Public Library building is situated just outside chestnut park. Chestnut Park is the only park in that part of town and many of the larger streets in the neighborhood lead into it. One of its main gates opens onto Oak Street and Grayson Boulevard.
9. Examine the following sentences for words indicating direction.

   California lies west of Texas.
   California is in the West.

   The words, north, south, east and west are capitalized when they indicate:
   - direction
   - a section of the country or a geographical region
   - both of the above

   CIRCLE the letters below that should be capitalized.

   Birds travel south in winter because they know that it is warmer in the south than in the north.

   a section of the country . . .

   Birds travel south in winter because they know that it is warmer in the South than in the North.

10. Remember that a word is capitalized only if it refers to a specific place, section, or geographical region.

   CIRCLE the letters below that should be capitalized:

   I have never seen Eskimos since they live in the north and I was born and bred in the south.

   I have never seen Eskimos since they live in the North and I was born and bred in the South.
11. CIRCLE the letters in the sentences below that should be capitalized.

I live just south of central park, the largest park in new york city.
Their new office is located in the chase manhattan building.
Mary's mother comes from the south, just north of selma, alabama.

12. Just as names of places are capitalized, so are names of nationalities and languages, as in the sentence below.

Tom is Portuguese by birth. He speaks Portuguese fluently and French like a Frenchman. Unfortunately, he is not as good at learning mathematics and physics as he is at learning languages.

CHECK the examples below that are incorrectly capitalized:

- a Genius
- a Red-haired man
- Irish
- a Geography book
- a Spanish costume
- a Millionaire
- an Englishman
- a Chinese book

I live just south of Central park, the largest park in New York city.
Their new office is located in the Chase Manhattan Building.
Mary's mother comes from the South, just north of Selma, Alabama.
13.

Just as names of places are capitalized, so are names of nationalities and languages.

CIRCLE the letters below that should be capitalized:

The Latin teacher remarked that many languages such as French, Italian and Spanish come from the language spoken by the Romans in days of old. However, the Romans did not excel in their treatment of arithmetic, and the Arabic number system has replaced Roman numerals in the world today.

CIRCLE the letters in the sentences below that should be capitalized:

Professor Dumont is a Frenchman who speaks Indian and Hebrew.

He is a professor of languages, geography, and economics.
15.

Not only names of people, but names of literary compositions such as titles of books, songs, poems, and the like must be capitalized.

Consider the following two titles carefully.

   The King and I

   And Then There Was You

In the upper title all the words are capitalized except ________________.

Compare this to the lower title.

The comparison suggests that this word is not capitalized when it occurs:

☐ at the beginning of a title
☐ inside a title
☐ both of the above

16.

The general rule is that all words in a title should be capitalized except small connecting words such as: on, a, of, in, and, the. However, if these words occur at the beginning of a title, then they are capitalized.

CIRCLE the letters below that should be capitalized:

  the sea around us a treasury of poetry of mice and men in the still of the night
17.

Important exceptions to remember are:
- on, a, of, in, and, the

COMPARE the following two titles:
- In Search of a Rainbow
- A Road in the Desert

On the basis of the examples above, DRAW an X over the words below that are incorrectly capitalized.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>The Wizard Of Oz</th>
<th>The Wizard Of Oz</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>In Tribute to A Friend</td>
<td>In Tribute to A Friend</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Song Of A Lark</td>
<td>Song Of A Lark</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I Send You All My Love</td>
<td>I Send You All My Love</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Up On High</td>
<td>Up On High</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Stroll In The Park</td>
<td>A Stroll In The Park</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
18.

Names of days, months, and literary or musical compositions should be capitalized.

Remember, no matter what word a title begins with, the first word in the title is always capitalized.

Using the rules above, CIRCLE the letters below that should be capitalized.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>On the third Sunday of November we met to discuss a new book entitled A Night on a Star. We decided that two weeks later, which would be the first Sunday in December, we would compare this book with another by the same author, entitled In a Moment of Weakness.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

19.

CIRCLE the letters in the sentences below that should be capitalized.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Try singing &quot;the ragman&quot;. Have you read Portrait of a Soldier? On Saturday, February 3, we finished A Tale of Two Cities. His book is called Peace on Earth.</th>

</tbody>
</table>

YOU HAVE NOW FINISHED THE FIRST PART OF THIS LESSON. WRITE DOWN THE TIME. THEN, AFTER YOU HAVE REVIEWED THE MAIN IDEAS IN THE FOLLOWING SUMMARY, TAKE THE MASTERY TEST AT THE END OF THE BOOKLET.
WHEN TO USE CAPITALIZATION

BEGINNING OF A SENTENCE

Capitalize the first word of every sentence.

Examples: Get out! Please leave the room. Why don't you leave already? It would be better that way.

NAMES OF PEOPLE AND PLACES

Capitalize the full names of people.

Example: Judith Gail Murphy

Capitalize titles of people but only when they accompany names.

Examples: Judge Jones, Uncle Mack, Mayor Bradley, Mrs. Townsend but, a judge, an uncle, a mayor.

Capitalize the full names of streets, cities, states, countries, buildings, parks, and the like.

Examples: the Chase Manhattan Bank Yosemite National Park Grayson Boulevard

Capitalize the words, north, south, east, and west when they designate a section of the country, but not when they indicate direction.

Examples: California is in the West. but, California lies west of Texas.
| NAMES OF PEOPLE AND PLACES (cont'd) | Capitalize the names of languages, but not other subjects.
Example: The Latin professor teaches French and German, but, The Latin professor teaches French, mathematics and geography.
Capitalize names of nationalities.
Examples: He is Portuguese, Tom is an Englishman.
Capitalize the full names of all literary works or compositions, such as titles of books, songs, and poems.
Examples: And Then There Was You The Sea Around Us
Exception: Do not capitalize small connecting words in a title such as, on, a, of, in, and, the, unless they occur at the beginning of the title.
Examples: In the Still of the Night Of Mice and Men
Capitalize the names of days of the week and months of the year.
Examples: The last day I remember is Saturday, February 21. |
| NAMES OF LITERARY WORKS | |
| NAMES OF DAYS AND MONTHS | |

Time completed

WHEN YOU HAVE FINISHED THIS TEST, WRITE DOWN THE TIME. THEN TAKE THE LESSON TO YOUR INSTRUCTOR OR HIS ASSISTANT FOR CHECKING. WAIT UNTIL THE LESSON IS APPROVED BEFORE GOING ON TO THE NEXT LESSON.
When someone is telling you a story, he pauses after each sentence, or after certain groups of words, to let you know that he has just completed a separate statement. If he did not do this, you would not be able to follow him; and, what's more, he would soon run out of breath.

Readers, too, can "run out of breath." If we did not have a way of pausing when we read, we would soon be lost in a tangle of words and ideas that seem to have no meaning.

In order to tell readers when to pause, we use punctuation. We use periods, commas, and other marks to tell our readers that we have come to the end of a single phrase or sentence. Without these marks, it would be very difficult to make any sense out of Written English.

Look at this paragraph written without any punctuation at all:

During the Middle Ages due as much to politics as to problems of supply transportation and mobilization it was impossible to attain strategic surprise in military campaigns it took weeks even months to assemble an army and even when the force was collected it could move only a few miles a day even the massing of ships though more secretive was difficult to conceal

As you can see, we need "breathing stops" in Written English, too. In this progression you will learn what punctuation marks are, and when and how they should be used.

1.

You are about to begin several lessons that will teach you how to punctuate. These are punctuation marks used in the English language. Many of them may be familiar to you.

. period
, comma
; semi-colon
: colon
— dash
' apostrophe
? question mark
! exclamation mark
( ) parenthesis
" " quotation marks

In an earlier lesson you learned how to use an apostrophe. When you form possessives, you add an apostrophe and an s; it looks like this 's.

For example:

John owns that car.
That is John's car.

Which of the following require an apostrophe?

☐ Where is my coat
☐ Is that coat yours
☐ No, that is Roach's coat

Apostrophes are used another way. Which of the following sentences has an apostrophe?

☐ It is cold here!
☐ It's cold here!

No, that is...

It's cold here!
2.

Knowing what a period is presents no problem. It's a dot. But, some other marks might be confused. For example, you might confuse a comma with an apostrophe because they almost look alike. However, they are always placed differently.

LOOK AT this example:

Geoffrey, where is that man's bicycle?

Which mark is placed above the letters?

- [ ] the apostrophe
- [ ] the comma

MATCH the following marks with their names:

| A. Jack. | 1. ____ comma |
| B. Jack. | 2. ____ apostrophe |
| C. Jack's | 3. ____ period |

3.

Two other marks that might be confused are colons and semi-colons. However, these punctuation marks are easy to tell apart. Notice that a colon has two dots and a semi-colon has a dot and a comma.

MAKE the correct punctuation mark beside its name:

- semi-colon ____________
- colon ________________
- comma ________________

the apostrophe

1. B
2. C
3. A
4.

Question marks and exclamation marks have dots in them.

CIRCLE the mark that is a question mark:

CIRCLE the mark that is an exclamation mark.

5.

Here are three more punctuation marks that you should be familiar with:

dash —

parenthesis marks ( )

quotation marks " "

Sometimes a dash looks like this --

Sometimes a dash looks like this —

Instead of two short lines, it is one long line.

CIRCLE the dashes below:

-- ---- — ---

Parenthesis and quotation marks always come around groups of words. That is why they are shown in pairs. LOOK AT these examples.

(And all went well).

She said, "All went well."

PUT parenthesis marks around sentence one and quotation marks around sentence two.

1. It couldn't happen

2. She said, It couldn't happen

(It couldn't happen)

She said, "It couldn't happen."
FILL IN the blanks with the right letters:

A. -- ______ period 1. H
B. , ______ comma . B
C. ; ______ semi-colon 3. C
D. ( ) ______ colon 4. I
E. " " ______ dash 5. A
F. ! ______ apostrophe 6. G
G. ' ______ question mark 7. J
H. . ______ exclamation mark 8. F
I. : ______ parentheses 9. D
J. ? ______ quotation mark 10. E
7.

PREVIEW FRAME

Question marks (?) and exclamation marks (!) are the subject of this lesson. You have no doubt been responding to these signs since you started this program. In reading selections from literature you saw that question marks and exclamation points helped you understand the author's point of view or the character's attitude. Every time you answered a question you were responding to a question mark.

In this section you will review these signs and learn how to use them correctly.

8.

Some sentences ask questions. CHECK the sentences below that ask a question:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>Who opened the door?</th>
<th>I opened the door.</th>
<th>Did you really?</th>
<th>Who opened . . .</th>
<th>Did you . . .</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

9.

Every sentence which asks a question MUST have a question mark at the end. The question mark looks like this: ?

Place a question mark at the end of the sentence which asks a question:

- My name is Bill.
- Is his name Domenic?

GO ON TO THE NEXT FRAME
10.

Some sentences show more emotional feeling than others.

CHECK the sentence which shows more emotional feeling:

- Oh my God, I think I'm going crazy!
- The sky is as grey as it was yesterday.

Oh my God, I ...

11.

Place an exclamation mark (!) after the sentence that shows a strong emotional feeling and a question mark (?) after the sentence that asks a question:

- Oh my God, how did that happen?
- Watch out for that automobile!

...happen?
...automobile!

12.

Most sentences which do not ask a question can end with either a period or an exclamation mark.

Exclamation marks should only be used when there is strong feeling.

Which of these sentences would not usually end with an exclamation mark:

- How sad she is!
- Is it quiet!
- I never saw anything so beautiful in my life!

How sad ...
Is it ...
13.

Most sentences take either a period or an exclamation mark. It depends on how the sentence is used.

If someone asks me when my birthday is, my answer would usually have a period at the end:

"My birthday is today."

On the other hand, if I just woke up and I realized that I am going to get a motorcycle for my birthday, I might shout:

"Today is my birthday!"

In other words, exclamation marks are used for showing strong feelings. CHECK the sentence that should have an exclamation mark:

☐ John asked me how I felt. I said, "I'm fine"

☐ The nurse said she would have to give me another injection if I felt sick. I yelled, "Listen, I'm fine"

The nurse . . .

14.

Use the best punctuation to end each of these sentences:

He asked me to go to the movies

Hands up, or I'll shoot you

We won the game. Hurray!

Who lost?
15.

EXAMINE the exclamations below.

That was a great trip!

Wow, that was a great trip!

What a great trip, Jack!

Wow, Jack, what a trip I had!

Like question marks, exclamation points belong:

☐ after the name of the person being addressed
☐ at the first place in the sentence at which the exclamation can be understood
☐ at the very end of the sentence

The name of the person being directly addressed is set off from the rest of the exclamation by a

☐ comma
☐ exclamation mark
☐ period

One of the exclamations above is introduced by the word wow. Introductory words such as wow, gee, well, oh, and the like are set off from the rest of the exclamation by a:

☐ comma (,)
☐ exclamation mark (!)
☐ period (.)

FILL IN the blanks below with the punctuation appropriate to the following different types of sentences.

Mary__pick up the phone__

Well__we haven't seen you for a while__ 16.
Where do you think you left it, Bill?
Gee, I wish I knew.
Bill, think!
On the basis of the examples above, PUNCTUATE the sentences below.
Did you hear me
Say that again
Gosh this is delicious
He asked me if this was the place
Nancy are you all right
Be careful

17.
FILL IN the blanks below with the proper punctuation.
I asked him how much it cost
Do you know how much longer it will take you
You rat you knew it all along
Joe what a lovely surprise
Tell him I’ll only be a minute

YOU HAVE NOW FINISHED THE FIRST PART OF THIS LESSON. WRITE DOWN THE TIME. THEN, AFTER YOU HAVE REVIEWED THE MAIN IDEAS IN THE FOLLOWING SUMMARY, TAKE THE MASTERY TEST AT THE END OF THE BOOKLET.
RECOGNIZING PUNCTUATION MARKS

- . period
- , comma (below the letters)
- ' apostrophe (above the letters)
- : semi-colon (dot and a comma)
- : colon (two dots)
- ? question mark
- ! exclamation mark
- — dash
- ( ) parenthesis marks
- " " quotation marks

QUESTION MARK

Every sentence that asks a question MUST have a question mark (?) at the end.

Examples: QUESTION - Who opened the door?

ANSWER - I opened the door.

POSITION OF QUESTION MARKS

Question marks always belong at the end of the sentence.

Examples: Nancy, are you all right?
          Are you all right, Nancy?
          but not, Nancy? are you all right.
          and not, Are you all right? Nancy.

USE OF COMMA IN A QUESTION

A comma is used to set off the name of a person being directly addressed from the rest of the question.

Examples: Nancy, are you all right?
          Are you all right, Nancy?
| EXCLAMATION MARKS | A sentence that shows strong emotional feeling ends in an exclamation mark (!).
Most sentences which do not ask a question can end with either a period or an exclamation mark. Exclamation marks should only be used when there is strong emotional feeling.
Examples:
I never saw such a beautiful sky!
but, The sky is as grey as it was yesterday.
but, The nurse said she would have to give me another injection if I felt sick. I yelled, "Listen, I'm fine!"
John asked me how I felt. I said, "I'm fine." |
|---|---|
| POSITION OF EXCLAMATION MARKS | Like question marks, exclamation marks always belong at the end of the sentence.
Examples:
Wow, that was a great trip!
That was a great trip, Jack!
but not, Wow! that was a great trip.
and not, That was a great trip! Jack. |
| USES OF A COMMA IN AN EXCLAMATION | A comma is used to set off the name of a person being directly addressed from the rest of the exclamation.
Examples:
Joe, what a lovely surprise!
What a lovely surprise, Joe!
A comma is also used to set off introductory words such as, wow, gee, well, oh, and the like from the rest of the exclamation.
Example: Gosh, this is delicious! |
I  DECIDE whether the punctuation marks that have been underlined are correct or incorrect. CHECK only the sentences which are not punctuated correctly.

1. □ Are you coming with us.
2. □ Watch out for the falling rocks!
3. □ He asked us if we were going to Peru?
4. □ Do you think that's all there is to it?
5. □ For Pete's sake, be careful.

II  CHECK the correct punctuation for the sentences below.

6. Ask him whether he's coming with us__
   a. □ us.
   b. □ us?
   c. □ us!

7. Are you coming, Mr. Jones__

WHEN YOU HAVE FINISHED THIS TEST, WRITE DOWN THE TIME. THEN TAKE THE LESSON TO YOUR INSTRUCTOR OR HIS ASSISTANT FOR CHECKING. WAIT UNTIL THE LESSON IS APPROVED BEFORE GOING ON TO THE NEXT LESSON.
This lesson, like the previous one, deals with a form of punctuation with which you are already very familiar, both from your own reading, and from earlier lessons in this program.

As you have already learned, quotation marks ("...") are used to indicate that someone is speaking. The quotation marks surround the words being spoken. You may remember from the lessons on literature how quotation marks are commonly used to distinguish a character's speech from description or narrative.

Quotation marks are a powerful device to help the reader understand what is going on in the selection he is reading. In this lesson you will learn to use them correctly.

There are two ways of writing what someone said: you can quote the exact words used, or you can restate what was said.

For example:

Suppose your friend says:

"I am going home."

You can use his exact words:

My friend said, "I am going home."

or you can use other words:

My friend said that he was going home.

In which case do you use QUOTATION MARKS?

☐ the exact words
☐ other words

the exact words
3.
Which of these sentences should have quotation marks:

- [ ] She said she was trying her best.
- [x] She said, I am trying my best.

... I am trying my best.

4.
To QUOTE someone, is to use the words that he used.

A direct quote uses the exact words; an indirect quote uses other words.

CHECK the sentence which is an INDIRECT QUOTE:

- [ ] He said, "I am your friend."
- [x] He said he was my friend.

He said he was my friend.

5.
Which sentence is an INDIRECT QUOTE?

- [ ] He told me he was sick.
- [ ] "I am sick," he told me.

He told me he was sick.
6.

In the sentence below the words enclosed in quotation marks are underlined.

"Billy," she cried, "stop that!"

UNDERLINE the words in the sentences below that are enclosed in quotation marks.

His lawyer warned him, "Don't lose your head!"

His lawyer warned him not to lose his head.

From the above examples you can see that an indirect quote is:

- enclosed in quotation marks
- not enclosed in quotation marks

When quotation marks are used, they:

- appear only before the first word quoted
- appear only after the last word quoted
- enclose only the words that are quoted
- enclose the entire sentence containing the quote

7.

Quotation marks are used to mark off words that were actually spoken by someone. They surround the words that were actually spoken, so that the reader can easily distinguish between description or narrative, and speech or dialogue.

Since quotation marks surround only words that were actually spoken, they are used only for:

- direct quotes
- indirect quotes

CHECK the sentences below that should contain quotation marks.

- Hello there! he cried.
- I explained to him that a green light means go.
- The boy shouted, Buy your ice cold orange drinks.

"Don't lose your head!"

not enclosed in quotation marks enclose only the words that . . .

direct quotes

Hello there! he cried.

The boy shouted, Buy your . . .
8.

"Don't I know you from somewhere?" he asked.

Quotation marks are used to enclose only direct quotes.

ENCLOSE the appropriate portions of the sentences below in quotation marks, as in the example above.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>She told him that it was too much to expect of Barry.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Use only one teaspoon of salt her mother warned.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Two for a dollar the woman cried.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Peter said that he would never understand it.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I asked her if she minded growing old.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>She answered, No, I don't.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

9.

ENCLOSE the direct quotes in the sentences below in quotation marks.

"Don't," I pleaded.

I warned him not to ask for too much

That's a fine idea, he answered.

Listen, she told me, it's really not as bad as you make it out to be.

The Doctor told him to take it easy.

It's just too terrible she cried.

"That's a fine idea,"

"Listen," . . . "it's really not as bad as you make it out to be."

"It's just too terrible,"
10. Some direct quotes end with a question mark or an exclamation mark.

FILL IN the correct punctuation:

He said, "Ouch, that hurts____

"Did you give me that book____ she said.

"When will you be there____ I asked.

11. Direct quotes end in periods ONLY when they end a sentence.

CHECK the sentences which do not end with direct quotes:

- He said, "I am leaving."
- "I am leaving," he said.
- He said, "I am leaving," and then he left.

"I am leaving," he said.
He said, "I am leaving," and . . .

12. When a sentence which gets a period at the end does NOT end a sentence, it is given a comma.

For example:
We are at home. (there is a period after home)
"We are at home," they said. (there is a comma after home)

PLACE a comma or period in each of these sentences:

"We are the best ball players__" players."
"We are the best ball players__" they said.
They said, "We are the best ball players__" players."
13.

Sentences which do NOT have direct quotes do not have any special punctuation.

For example:

DIRECT QUOTE: They asked, "Are you going?"

INDIRECT QUOTE: They asked if we were going.

INDIRECT QUOTE: Did they say they were going?

FILL IN the blanks with the proper punctuation:

| Phil is the man who said he needs money_ | money. |
| Phil said, "I am the man who needs money_ | money."
| Are you the man who said he needs money_ | money?

14.

The comma, period, exclamation mark or question mark that are part of the direct quote come inside the quotation marks. For example:

"Money," he said "is the root of all evil."

CHECK the sentence that is not correct.

- "Mr. Cohen left prematurely", she said.  "Mr. Cohen left . . . .
- The angry woman asked, "why did he leave so early"? The angry woman asked, . . . .
- "I can't tell you," the secretary answered.
15.
FILL IN the blanks in the sentences below with the proper punctuation.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>I asked him if he would be finished soon.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I asked him, &quot;Why weren't you there?&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>She cried out, &quot;Gee, that's wonderful!&quot;</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

16.
FILL IN each blank with a quotation mark and a period, question mark, or exclamation mark.

| She explained, "You cannot play with matches."                |
| "No!" exclaimed the child.                                     |
| He asked them, "How many times must I repeat this?"           |
| "Where is the dog?" she asked.                                 |

17.
FILL IN the missing periods, quotation marks, and exclamation points in the following sentences.

| "Will you wait for me?" I asked.                                |
| She cried out after me, "Be careful!"                         |
| He answered me honestly, "I really cannot help you."          |
| She asked him, "In which war did you fight?"                  |
18.

REVIEW FRAME

FILL IN the missing punctuation in the sentences below. First FILL IN quotation marks where called for. Then add the rest.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Don't she screamed</th>
<th>&quot;Don't!&quot; she screamed.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>When did it happen Mary asked</td>
<td>&quot;When did it happen?&quot; Mary asked.</td>

<tr>
<td>He cried out Great</td>
<td>He cried out, &quot;Great!&quot;</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

19.

So far, you have learned about quotation marks used for direct quotes.

Another use of quotation marks is to enclose titles of songs, poems, stories and essays.

Book titles, however, are not placed in quotes; they are underlined.

Use quotes or underlines for the titles in these sentences:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>His story How I Caught the Fish was the best story I had read.</th>
<th>&quot;How I Caught the Fish&quot;</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The book Farewell to Arms is not on our list.</td>
<td>Farewell to Arms</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The reading of the essay Why I am Glad to be an American was the best part of the evening.</td>
<td>&quot;Why I ... American&quot;</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
20.

FILL IN the missing quotation marks or underlines in the sentences below.

| The poem Daffodills was recited at the eighth-grade assembly. | "Daffodills" |
| Where did you learn that new song called Peanuts? | "Peanuts"? |
| The song Transfixed, an old-time favorite, is enjoying a revival. | "Transfixed" |
| Did you read Son of Tarzan or any other book? | Son of Tarzan |

21.

PREVIEW FRAME

Earlier in this program you learned a little about the use of commas in relation to quotation marks. Like all other punctuation, commas that are relevant to the words inside the quotation marks belong inside the quotation; marks and commas that have nothing to do with the contents of the quotation marks belong outside of them.

Now you will learn a few rules that specifically govern the use of commas in and around quotation marks.

22.

Sometimes punctuation belongs to the sentence quoted. When that is so, the punctuation should be placed BEFORE the final quotation mark.

For example:

He said, "Are you ready yet?"

Since the question mark belongs to that sentence, it comes before the final quotation mark:

"John, are you ready yet?" he asked.

Which of these sentences is NOT punctuated correctly?

☐ "Are you there"? he asked.
☐ "Are you there?" he asked.
☐ "You're right!" I replied.
☐ "You're right"? I replied.

23.

Punctuate this sentence where it is underlined:

"How are you___ I asked.

(Be sure the question mark comes before the quotation mark.)

24.

When a direct quote does NOT end a sentence, it can have which of the following before the final quotation mark:

☐ a question mark
☐ an exclamation mark
☐ a period
☐ a comma
25.
Which sentence has correct punctuation marks underlined:

- "Do not close the door," I said.
- "Do not close the door," I said.

26.
When a direct quote does not begin a sentence, there is a comma before the first quotation mark:

For example:

- We said, "Do not close the door."

Which of the following is correct:

- Fred cried, "Aren't you ready yet?"
- Fred cried "Aren't you ready yet?"

27.
Whenever a quotation does NOT end a sentence, there MUST be a question mark, exclamation point or a comma just before the last quotation (you cannot use a period).

For example:

- "Jump in the lake," he said, "or I'll push you."

(NOTICE that there are TWO commas, one before a quotation mark and one after.)
28.

FILL IN the underlined spaces with the correct punctuation marks. BE CAREFUL whether the quotation mark comes before or after the comma in each case.

"San is not here, we insisted, but he will be here soon."

29.

The two rules for placing commas which you have just learned are:

A direct quote or part of a direct quote is preceded by a comma outside the punctuation marks when it is introduced by an earlier phrase in the sentence.

When a direct quote is interrupted in the middle of a sentence, the first part of the quote is followed by a comma inside the punctuation marks.

On the basis of the above which of the following sentences is punctuated correctly?

- "Tom," she cried, "how've you been?"
- "What happened?," she asked.
- "That's wonderful!", he exclaimed. "I never would have guessed it."
- "Listen" Tom begged, "I promise I'll never do it again."
- Mary cried after him, "Behave!"
- "What was that you said?" he asked.
- "Where did you buy that hat?" she asked. "I've been admiring it all evening."

- "Tom," she cried, "how've . . . .
- Mary cried after him, "Behave!"
- "Where did you buy that hat?" . . .
30.

"After I read that story last night," said Peter,
"I could think of nothing else."

Using the above example as a model, FILL IN the missing commas in the sentences below.

"Sylvia " he cried " you're looking wonderful!"

We asked them "Where did you disappear to?"

"None of your business!" they answered us.

"You don't understand " she told him "that I am ill."

"Open the window a bit " said George. "The breeze outside is refreshing."

"When I heard the good news " said Mrs. Bundy
"I was simply beside myself."

I warned him "Keep out!"

31.

FILL IN the missing commas in the sentences below.

He asked her incredulously "Did you really mean what you said?"

"Listen " I assured her "I'll take care of everything."

"When will you be leaving? " I asked.

"Have you seen their new house yet? " she asked.

"It's beautiful."

"Marvellous! " she exclaimed.

"Perhaps you might know " he asked "when the eclipse of the moon will take place?" 32.

REVIEW FRAME

Which of the following sentences are punctuated correctly?

☐ "When are we going?", he asked.
☐ Robert asked what the matter was?
☐ "Stay here! Tom shouted"
☐ "George," he said, "wait just a minute."
☐ He asked "What's new?"
☐ She cried out, "Great!"
☐ He asked her "if she would leave quietly."
☐ "Leave!" he ordered.
☐ "After you left," she explained, "the party ended."
☐ "Can you make it?" asked David. "We need you."
☐ He recited "The Old Man" for us.

YOU HAVE NOW FINISHED THE FIRST PART OF THIS LESSON. WRITE DOWN THE TIME. THEN, AFTER YOU HAVE REVIEWED THE MAIN IDEAS IN THE FOLLOWING SUMMARY, TAKE THE MASTERY TEST AT THE END OF THE BOOKLET.
GENERAL USE OF QUOTATION MARKS

Quotation marks ("...") are used to mark off a direct quote, that is, to enclose the exact words that were spoken. They are not used to mark off indirect quotes, that is, they do not enclose a quote that uses words other than the exact words spoken.

Examples:

DIRECT QUOTE - They asked, "Are you going?"
INDIRECT QUOTE - They asked if we were going.

PERIOD AT END OF QUOTE

Direct quotes end in periods ONLY when they end a sentence.

Examples: He said, "I am leaving."
but, "I am leaving," he said.

COMMA AT END OF QUOTE

When a sentence which gets a period at the end does NOT end a sentence, it is given a comma.

Examples: "We are at home."
but, "We are at home," they said.

INDIRECT QUOTE

Sentences which do NOT have direct quotes do not have any special punctuation.

Examples:

DIRECT QUOTE - I asked him, "Will you be finished soon?"
INDIRECT QUOTE - I asked him if he would be finished soon.

PUNCTUATION INSIDE QUOTATION MARKS

The comma, period, exclamation mark or question mark that are part of the direct quote come inside the quotation marks. Those that are not part of the direct quote go outside the quotation marks.

Examples: "Why did you leave so early?"
but, She asked, "Why?" (Note position of comma)
When a direct quote does not begin a sentence, there is a comma before the first quotation mark.

Example:  "Jump in the lake," he said "or I'll push you."

(Notice in this example that there are TWO commas, one before a quotation mark and one after.)

Quotation marks are used to enclose titles of songs, poems, stories and essays.

Book titles, however, are not placed in quotes; they are underlined.

Examples:  His story "How I caught the Fish" was the best story I read.

but,  The book Farewell to Arms is not on our list.

COLONS AND DASHES
LEVEL: III
UNIT: 5
LESSON: 6

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR
MANPOWER ADMINISTRATION, JOB CORPS
NOVEMBER 1969
1.

PREVIEW FRAME

You have been learning, in the last few lessons, about punctuation marks — question marks, exclamation marks and quotation marks.

In this lesson you will learn about the colon (:) and the dash (–).

2.

GO ON TO THE NEXT FRAME

The colon is often found in formal writing, such as official reports and textbooks, to introduce a list. For example,

The member nations are: Great Britain, France, Belgium, and the Netherlands.

Which of the following is a colon?

3.

STUDY these examples:

A The furniture to be sold includes: a sofa, two upholstered chairs, two lamp tables, and a carpet.

B Please ship the following items: one gross demi-tasse cups, one gross demi-tasse saucers, three dozen dinner plates.

Example B is not punctuated correctly because a list of things follows the beginning statement.

A beginning statement that is followed by a list should be punctuated by:

- a colon ( : )
- a semi-colon (;)

The items in the list are separated by:

- commas ( , )
- semi-colons (;)

4.

For each of the following CHECK the mark or word that should go in the blank:

These are among the Beatle's greatest hits: "A Hard Day's Night," "Good Day Sunshine," "Yellow Submarine" and "Taxman."

- a semi-colon (;)
- a comma ( , )
- a colon ( : )

You are advised to bring these articles: sheets, pillowcases, pillows, blankets and towels.

- ;
- ,
This is what I want you to do: clean the porch, water the lawn, and practice your piano.

He said he wanted to go home.

Then two things happened: (1) I ran away and, (2) Bob got married.

Bring the following: two pairs of socks and a radio.
6.

Sometimes a dash can be used to introduce a list, instead of a colon. When a list is introduced informally, we substitute a dash (–) for a colon.

LOOK at these examples:

The following people were there: Bob, Tom, and Will.

They were all there – Bob, Tom, and Will.

CHECK the sentence that incorrectly uses a dash.

☐ All right -- tell me everything and be quick about it.

☐ He saw them -- The mayor, the priest, and the butcher's son.

☐ I need you here -- helping me, watching me, and cleaning up.

☐ The countries that signed the treaty were the following -- Japan, the United States and Canada.

The countries that signed . . . .
7.

READ this example:

The answer was simple -- find the owner of the house.

The dash (--) is also used to join a group of words to a sentence, or to join another sentence to the first, when the second explains, illustrates, or restates the first.

CHECK the pair of sentences below that could be joined by a dash.

- Everyone knows about George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Other famous presidents are Theodore Roosevelt and Franklin Delano Roosevelt.
- The students in our class are intelligent. I like our teacher, Mrs. Jones, too.
- The daisy is a common flower. It is found along every road.

8.

Often the dash is used to join to a sentence a few words that explain, illustrate or re-state its meaning.

LOOK at this example.

His greatest pleasure was playing the violin -- a hobby he had had since childhood.

In this case "a hobby" further explains the violin playing, so it is joined to the sentence by a dash.

CHECK the sentences that require dashes.

- He found the boys as they slept huddled on the cold hard ground.
- That is what I want to be a doctor.
- Tell her you love her.

The daisy is a common flower.

He found the boys as they . . . .

That is what I want . . . .

<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tell her about the time we went to Paris_ beautiful Paris.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Now show me_ where did this take place?</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

10.

Another correct use of the dash is illustrated below. Here it sets off a final explanatory or summarizing word.

To abolish slavery, John Brown committed another crime--murder.

A group of words, even long clauses, may be set off by the dash:

We practice what we preach--or so we believe.

Using the examples above to guide you, PUNCTUATE the following. If no punctuation is needed WRITE C after the sentence to show that it is correct as is.

<td>... hobby--a boring tale.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Then they saw it_ an eight-story egg plant.</td>
<td>... saw it--an ...</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
11.

CHECK the sentences that are punctuated incorrectly.

☐ Bring the following items to the examination room: two sharp pencils, a pen, a compass, a ruler and a protractor.

☐ I made sure of my facts; I could not afford to be wrong.

☐ It is an event you may never see again--a total eclipse of the sun.

☐ This was the treasure they found--two gold coins.

☐ The room was perfect, chairs were in order, magazines were neatly piled on the table, the floor sparkled with wax and fresh air filled the room.

I made sure of my facts: . . .

The room was perfect, . . .

PREVIEW FRAME

The comma has many uses; it is, indeed, the most common punctuation mark—and the most misused.

In this lesson, you will learn the correct use of commas and semi-colons to separate words and phrases in a series.

NO RESPONSE REQUIRED

2.

The chief exports are coal, oil, and steel.

Joan, Nancy, Mary, and Louise are members of the club.

You can have milk, tea, or coffee with your dinner.

Each of the above sentences contains a series of nouns separated by commas.

Where do the commas appear?

☐ after every noun in the series except the noun following the conjunction "and" or "or".

☐ after the last noun in the series

☐ before the first noun in the series

Using the above sentences as a guide, CORRECT the punctuation of the sentences below. CIRCLE unnecessary commas and INSERT missing commas.

Horses, elephants and cows are all mammals.

You can use crayons paint, or chalk for your drawing.

Horses, elephants, and cows are all mammals.

You can use crayons, paint.
3.

The meal included soup, meat, potatoes, salad, and dessert.

When the last two members of a series are joined by a conjunction, the comma precedes (comes before) the conjunction.

INCORRECT: I like cats, dogs and, canaries.

COPY the above sentence, and PUNCTUATE it properly:

I like cats, dogs, and canaries.
4.

NOTE: When we speak of words in a series, we refer to three or more words. READ these examples:

1. Tom and Dick were there.

2. Tom, Dick, and Harry were there.

NOTICE that there is no comma in sentence 1, in which there are only two items in the series.

UNDERLINE the series in the following sentences. In the space at the left of each sentence, WRITE the number of items in the series in each sentence.

1. Robert Anderson and Tom Doyle are our half-backs. 2

2. Riding, swimming, and running, they were having a great time. 3

3. He likes Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, and Otis Redding. 4

4. Worrying and fretting will get you no where. 2

5.

Remembering that only series with three or more items needed commas, CHECK the sentences below that are not punctuated correctly.

☐ The girls ordered sandwiches, and sodas

☐ We cleaned the garage, the attic, and the basement

☐ Most schools teach reading writing and arithmetic

☐ The girls ordered. . . .

☐ Most schools teach. . . .
5. (continued)

ADD commas if they are needed in the following sentences. WRITE "C" after the sentence if it is correct as is.

1. Bob and Will come early. ________________

2. I saw Ben Hur, Cleopatra and Bikini Beach Party. ________________

3. She and I are both angry. ________________

4. You will need bricks, mortar, a trowel and some string. ________________

5. She put two pairs of shoes, two skirts, and three blouses in the small suitcase.

They like to ride, swim, and ski.

This model is available in red, black, green, or blue.

The members of a series need not simply be a series of nouns; they can be nouns with adjectives, adjectives alone, verbs, even phrases or clauses. However, the members of a series are usually identical in form.

Examples of different kinds of series are shown above.

PUNCTUATE the following sentences:

Give me the red pencil the ruler and the eraser. . . pencil, the ruler, and . . .

I don’t know whether to ask Carol Fran or Irene. . . Carol, Fran, or . . .

There were books on the chair on the table on the desk and under the bed. . . chair, on the table, on the desk, and . . .
7.

PUNCTUATE where necessary:

- New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania are the Middle Atlantic States.
- The room was done in shades of green blue and yellow.
- We looked in the cupboards on top of the refrigerator behind the door and under the table.
- They learned to read, write, and do simple arithmetic.

<td>...read, write, and...</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

8.

- She is probably in her room or in the kitchen.
- My favorite colors are red and yellow.

When a series has only two members, as in these examples, no comma is used.

CHECK any sentence which is incorrectly punctuated:

- California has high mountains, beautiful beaches and fertile valleys.
- Martha and Nancy came home from school together.
- Take your raincoat, and your umbrella.
- This box is longer, higher, and wider than the other.

We had ice cream and candy and soda.

Generally it is not advisable to use a conjunction such as and between all the members of a series, as in the above example. But even good writers do it once in a while, for emphasis or to convey a mood.

If you do put conjunctions between all the items in a series, do not use commas.

PUNCTUATE the following. If the sentence does not need any commas, WRITE "no commas" after it.

Boys and girls and men and women came running.
---
You can put a turtle or some goldfish in that bowl.
---
He owns two cars a boat a motorcycle and a plane.
---

10.

CHECK the sentences that are NOT punctuated correctly.

☐ I want a bike or a doll or a new dress for my birthday.

☐ Skiing swimming skating and riding are his favorite sports.

☐ The male bird is usually brighter and larger.

☐ We will get two dollars from Joe three dollars from Marion and fifty cents from Dora.
11.

Among the Indian tribes they saw were the Choctaws, the Chickasaws, the Sioux.

The last member of a series need not be preceded by a conjunction. In formal writing, you will occasionally see a sentence like the one above.

In a series that does not contain a conjunction:

- all members of the series are separated by commas
- all members of the series except the last two are separated by commas
- none of the members of the series are separated by commas

PUNCTUATE the following sentence:

Houses, trees, animals, even people were buried beneath the landslide.

Houses, trees, animals, even...
12.

CHECK the sentences that are NOT punctuated correctly.

- Chess pieces can move up down sideways or diagonally
- I emptied his pocket and found a skate key and a ball of string and two pennies and an old nail.
- Pioneer women baked bread made soap washed clothes and sewed in their spare time.
- The next speaker will be the Russian delegate or the French delegate.
- The primary colors are red orange yellow green blue violet.

13.

Charles is a tall, skinny, quiet boy.

A series of adjectives preceding a noun should be separated from each other by commas - but only if each adjective is of equal importance, as in the above sentence.

Sometimes the adjectives in a series are not equally important, so commas are omitted:

He wore a bright red hunting coat.

A simple test reveals where to use commas: try saying "and" between each pair of adjectives; if the result sounds ridiculous, omit commas; otherwise, insert them.

For example "Charles is a tall and skinny and quiet boy" sounds clumsy but not ridiculous. On the other hand, "He wore a bright and red and hunting coat," is nonsense.

INSERT commas between adjectives where appropriate:

- My brother has a little red wagon.
- She is a sweet old lady.
- We entered the warm dimly-lit room.
14.

PUT IN commas if they are needed. If the sentence is correct as is, WRITE a "C" after it.

In this frame and the next, you will have a chance to review everything you have learned so far in this lesson.

CHECK any sentence which is incorrectly punctuated:

- Bathing in the warm, calm, transparent water was delightful.
- It was a 1935, Ford, sports roadster.

HOW TO PUNCTUATE A SERIES

Semi-colon (;)

Example: His greatest pleasure was playing the violin - a hobby he had had since childhood.

Example: The daisy is a common wildflower - it is found near every road.

RULE: Use a dash to join a group of words to a sentence or to join one sentence to another when the second part of the complete sentence explains, illustrates, or restates the first.

Example: To abolish slavery, John Brown committed another crime - murder.

RULE: Use a dash to set off a final word that explains or summarizes what has gone before.

Examples: They liked to swim, ride, and skate.
She packed shoes, sweaters, slacks and socks.
She packed black shoes, long-sleeved sweaters, and furry socks.
Among the Indian tribes they saw Choctaws, Chickasaws, and Sioux.

RULE: Use a comma between each item in a series. If a conjunction is used at the end of the series, use a comma before it. If the last item of the series is not preceded by a conjunction, use a comma before the last item. A series consist of:

- three or more nouns
- three or more nouns with adjective modifiers
- three or more verbs
- three or more adjectives
- three or more phrases or clauses.

Example: The zoo had seals, walruses, and sea-lions in a pool; deer, giraffes, and elephants in outdoor cages; and birds, fish, monkeys, and reptiles indoors.

When the items in a series contain commas within them, the series should be separated by semi-colons.

MORE CONFUSING WORD PAIRS

LEVEL: III
UNIT: 5
LESSON: 8
1. Like people, there are certain pairs of words which look very much alike, although they have different or even completely unrelated meanings. They can be a source of great confusion to people who do not know them well. In order to use them correctly, you must be able to tell these words apart and know the meaning of each. In the following lesson you will get to know some of these "word-pairs."

2. emigrate - immigrate

You are already familiar with part of the word pair above from previous lessons. The portions that are different in the two words are underlined.

To migrate is to leave one country to settle in another. "E" means "out" and "im" means "in."

An emigrant is a person:

- [ ] entering a country
- [x] leaving a country

3. emigrate: to leave one's native country to settle elsewhere

immigrate: to enter a foreign country for the purpose of settling there

FILL IN the blank with one of the words above:

The population of Ireland greatly decreased because so many people ________d, when a lack of rainfall created a food shortage. Many of these people ________d to the United States. America accepted nearly everyone who wanted to ________.
4. FILL IN the blanks below using one of these words:

emigrate
immigrate

5. Some words which look alike have similar meanings. Others, although they look very much alike, have nothing to do with each other.

Consider the following word pair:

allusion
ilusion

CIRCLE the portions of the words above, in which they differ from each other.

6. READ the following definitions:

- allusion: a reference to something
- illusion: a false impression or belief

The meanings of these two words are:

- related but different
- completely unrelated

WRITE one of the above words in the blanks, to correctly complete this sentence:

By making frequent ________s to little-known facts, he created the ________ that he was well educated. He was able to maintain this ________ by reading constantly and remembering details.

A HIGH SCHOOL SELF-STUDY PROGRAM

SEPARATING SENTENCE PARTS WITH PUNCTUATION

LEVEL: III
UNIT: 5
1.

A comma (,) shows you where to pause when you're reading a sentence. A pause is a short stop in thinking or speaking.

When you see a comma in a sentence, you should pause before reading the next word. READ this sentence aloud, pausing for a second at each comma:

   Jack, bright and alive, jumped out of bed.

Now READ this sentence aloud, and notice that it has no pauses (and no commas); you read it all in one breath:

   Jack jumped out of bed.

FILL IN THE BLANK:

   Commas are used in a sentence to show ________ pauses ________.
2.

A simple sentence, such as "Jack jumped out of bed," needs no pauses and thus doesn't have any commas. However, when you start adding modifiers you need commas to make your sentences easier to read, and clearer in meaning. For example, if you want to describe Jack as tired and hungry, you would say:

Jack, tired and hungry, jumped out of bed.

The modifying words are not absolutely necessary in this sentence. The main idea of the sentence is that Jack jumped out of bed, NOT that he was tired and hungry.

Commas are put before and after "extra" or modifying words, to show that they are extra, and you don't really need them.

UNDERLINE the "extra" or modifying words below:

Billy, sick and tired, lay down on the grass to sleep.

Billy lay down on the grass to sleep.

The board, falling, scared Allan out of his wits.

The children brightened up the schoolyard.

The children, laughing and playing, brightened up the schoolyard.

Can you see that mountain, towering and snow covered, through the blue haze?

The red house is across the street.
3.

CIRCLE the commas that mark off the extra words in these sentences:

John, walking down the road, saw some blue Chickory flowers.

The banana peel, soft and yellow, made Silvia slip on the cement.

Tom Jones, a hungry boy, munched on the apple.

My only chance, I knew, was to patch the life raft with tape.

Where are the commas placed in the above sentences?

- before and after the extra words
- after the verb
- after the verb and its adverb

4.

WRITE in commas before and after the extra words in these sentences:

Maria ran quickly but carefully over the rocks toward the ocean.

I guess I should finish I told myself even though I'm sleepy.

The vase tall and green sat on the shelf.

The fire engine loud and flashing red raced down the street.
5.

CHECK the sentences that are not punctuated correctly because they are missing a comma.

☐ Every now and then the phone would ring, annoying and loud, and interrupt her sleep.

☐ The dancer, while waiting behind the curtain fainted with nervousness.

☐ The radio, which sounded fine when it was new now sounded like a chorus of crickets grackles and hornets.

☐ The robin bedraggled and dusty, chewed on his worm.

Where were the commas missing in the sentences you checked?

☐ after the verb
☐ before the extra words
☐ after the extra words
☐ before an "and" connecting a list of items
6.
Sometimes, long groups of words, or clauses, are used in the middle of a sentence. These long groups of words modify the sentence. Such long modifiers usually need commas before and after them. An example of this is:

Abraham Lincoln, because he freed the slaves, is known as the great emancipator.

Lyndon Johnson, who is our president, will talk on TV.

Long modifiers are often hard to find in a sentence. An easy way to find them is to look for the key word that starts the modifying phrase. Some of the key words are: who, even though, because, which, whose, and in spite of.

CIRCLE the key words in the sentences below:

Washington, D.C., which is located on the east coast, is the capital of our country.
The doctor managed, in spite of the snow, to get through to the dying man.
He fixed the flat, even though the spare was in terrible shape, because it was a ten-mile walk home.
The poster, because of its color and design, won first prize in three exhibits.
7.

UNDERLINE the long modifiers in these sentences. LOOK for key words to help you find the long modifiers.

Washington, D.C., which is located on the east coast, is the capital of our country.

Washington, D.C. is the capital of our country.

Patrick, who is the President's son-in-law, has made it.

The next child in line, who needed a vaccination, started crying.

The playground, which is covered with green carpet, is in the park.

The balloon, which is red, slipped out of Chrissy's hands and slid toward the sky.

The guitar player, in spite of his blindness, sounds great!

The guitar player sounds great!

which is located on the east coast who is the President's son-in-law who needed a vaccination which is covered with green carpet which is red

in spite of his blindness
8.
The key words introducing long modifiers (groups of extra words) are underlined below. WRITE IN commas before and after the long modifiers. (The first is done for you)

Philadelphia, which is located in Pennsylvania, is the city of brotherly love.

The door which is gray is spattered with green paint.

The baby who needed a sweater was crawling on the floor.

Steven although having eaten a large lunch had a chocolate sundae with Marcia.

His mother who lives in the dusty city of Chicago is a secretary.

"Life" which is a popular magazine is interesting because it has lots of photos.
Commas are used before and after groups of extra words in sentences. Sometimes, however, you may see groups of words such as you've been studying that are not extra -- they're so necessary that the meaning of the sentence would be unclear without them. Since these words are so closely related to other words in the sentence, you DON'T pause or put commas before or after them.

When extra words or clauses are used in a sentence, you:

- do use commas
- do not use commas

When necessary words or clauses are used in a sentence, you:

- do use commas
- do not use commas

When a modifying clause is needed to make the meaning of the sentence clear, you:

- do use commas
- do not use commas
Here's a sentence with a necessary clause describing the subject. The key word telling you there is a clause is who.

The girl who is crossing the street is Pat's sister.

No commas are needed around this clause. Who is crossing the street is necessary because it tells you WHICH girl is Pat's sister. Suppose the clause was left out, like this:

The girl is Pat's sister.

If there were many girls around you, could you tell just from that sentence which girl was Pat's sister?

☐ yes

☒ no

There were no commas in the sentence containing the clause because the clause told you:

☐ which girl was being talked about

☐ something extra about the girl that you didn't need to know 12.

READ the sentences below. Both have long modifying clauses that begin with a key word -- who.

A. Beverly, who is working in the other room, is wearing a brown dress.

B. The girl who is working in the other room is wearing a brown dress.

Now READ the sentences without the clauses:

A. Beverly is wearing a brown dress.

B. The girl is wearing a brown dress.

In sentence A, which girl is wearing a brown dress?

☐ Beverly
☐ you can't tell

In sentence B, which girl is wearing a brown dress?

☐ you can't tell
☐ (or equivalent response)
This frame shows you how to decide if a clause is necessary. FOLLOW these steps:

1. READ the sentences below and LOOK for the key words that point to a modifying clause.
2. CIRCLE the key words
3. CROSS OUT the clauses

(The first sentence is done for you.)

A. The hit\textcolor{red}{\underline{wished\-would\-make\-him-a-record-breaker}} turned out to be a foul ball.

B. His failure to hit a home run, which would have made him a record breaker, made him very unhappy.

C. People who like sailing usually know how to swim.

Now let's see if we can tell who or what is being talked about in each of the sentences above when you take out the clauses:

Sentence A. What hit turned out to be a foul ball?
   (you don't know without the clause)

Sentence B. What made him unhappy?
   (the failure to hit a home run)

Sentence C. Which people know how to swim?
   (without the clause you don't know)

If you don't know the person or thing referred to in a sentence, a modifying clause is needed. Which sentences need the modifying clause you crossed out?

\[\square A \quad \square B \quad \square C\]
14.

When a modifying clause is needed to make the sentence tell you who or what is being talked about, there are no commas around that clause.

Which of these sentences needs the clause?

- The boy who is throwing the ball has a sprained ankle.
- Jack, who is throwing the ball, has a sprained ankle.

15.

Let's review the rules for putting commas around groups of words in the middle of a sentence.

1. If the group of words is extra (not needed) commas are needed.
2. If the groups of words are needed to tell you who or what is being talked about, commas are not needed.

CHECK any sentence that is punctuated incorrectly because it has commas where they are not needed:

- This .30 caliber rifle, which I bought last year, is well made.
- Ask a man, who owns a Ford truck, if Ford trucks are any good.
- It is certainly true, she said to herself, even though it was hard to believe.
- All of us, who live in this valley, grow corn.
16.

Here are the rules for commas in shorter form:

1. Extra words? commas
2. Needed words? no commas

CHECK any sentence that is punctuated incorrectly because it should have commas.

- The car that stopped at the red light is a Ferrari.
- My edition of Ulysses, which is on the table has many beautiful drawings.
- Whenever I travel even if I'm tired, I take pictures and make notes of what I see.
- The song that you're listening to was written by Bob Dylan.
17.

You've worked hard at putting commas in the right places and taking them out of the wrong places. As you know, the right place for commas in a sentence is before and after extra words. When words are needed for the meaning of the sentence, you don't use commas.

Since you've worked so hard at placing commas in the right places, it would be a shame to mix them up with other punctuation marks such as colons (:) or semicolons (;).

REMEMBER the correct uses of commas that you've studied, and CHECK the sentences below that are WRONG because they use a colon or semicolon INSTEAD of a comma:

- We left the house; it was time to go to work.
- The fireman; who was wearing a hard hat, grabbed the hose.
- Instead of buying a coat: Perry bought a hat.
- Jerry: a farmer, owned three tractors.
- Porcupines, which have sticky quills, eat these foods: mice, frogs, and beetles.
- Running quickly into the house; Cynthia grabbed an umbrella and dashed out again.

PREVIEW FRAME

So far, you have learned about putting commas around groups of words that appear in the middle of sentences.

In the following frames, you will learn about groups of words that appear at the beginning of a sentence.

GO ON TO THE NEXT FRAME
19.

Extra words and needed words, when they come at the beginning of a sentence, are always followed by a comma. CIRCLE the key word and UNDERLINE the modifying clause in the sentence below:

When the night watchman arrived home, it was too early to eat breakfast.

20.

Extra words and needed words at the beginning of a sentence usually come immediately before the subject of the sentence. For example, grease is the subject of the sentence below.

Usually hard to wash out, grease sometimes gets on work clothes.

CIRCLE the comma in this sentence.

UNDERLINE the long modifier.
21.

CIRCLE the commas in these sentences:

Five miles before we reached the campground, Matilda and I stopped to rest.

Since it’s not important, you and Margie shouldn’t bother with it.

Before leaving, he packed his duffle bag.

When I was 17, it was a very good year.

Where are the commas in each of the sentences?

☐ before and after the modifier
☐ after the modifier

22.

WRITE IN commas after the beginning words or clauses in these sentences:

Until they stopped the party none of us got to sleep.

Walking slowly the hunter stalked the deer.

Wishing for the lucky number she bought the lottery ticket.

After all it’s not that serious.

All the cement having been poured we started to trowel it.

Wanting someone to look at his work he brought it to school.

party,

slowly,

number,

all, poured,

work,
23.

Many sentences need commas for more than one reason. Sometimes, there may be extra words at the beginning AND in the middle of a sentence, to show two or three or more pauses. For example, READ this sentence:

Before turning off the radio, Peter, who was eager to get to work, left to catch the bus.

Comma 1 is there to show the pause after the beginning clause Before turning off the radio. Commas 2 and 3 are there to show pauses before and after the group of extra words who was eager to get to work.

WRITE IN commas in this sentence:

After eating his lunch the mechanic who was tired decided to go home.

After eating his lunch, the mechanic, who was tired, decided to go home.

24.

WRITE IN commas in the proper places below:

As soon as we sat in the bus a girl who was wearing a bathing suit sat down beside us.

Baloney! thought Gregory who didn’t like the teacher.

Even though we worked late Mickey who was a nice guy brought us some sandwiches.

bus, a girl, who suit, sat Baloney!, Gregory, who late, Mickey, guy,
25.

LOOK AT the underlined portions of these sentences to see if they are correct. If the sentence is not correct, CHECK the box at the left.

☐ Although we had time we didn't see the movie.
☐ Since you've gone I've been lonely.
☐ Peter Piper, who picked a peck of pickled peppers was pretty pickled.
☐ Margaret Smith who is a senator, comes from Maine.
☐ His mother who knits sweaters, is good at telling yarns.
☐ Furthermore; she wondered if he was really right.
☐ Nike Ajax, an atomic missile is an effective defense.
☐ The right thing to do, I knew was to change the oil.
☐ After we arrived home, the butler James who was waiting at the door, put away our coats.

Although we had time.

Peter Piper, who picked a .

Furthermore; she wondered .

Nike Ajax, an atomic .

After we arrived home, .
26.

CHECK the box showing the CORRECT version of the underlined part of the sentence.

I watched the man, working in the garage.

- man: working
- man working
- man, working

OTHER USES FOR COMMAS AND SEMICOLONS

LEVEL: III
UNIT: 5
LESSON: 10
1. READ these two sentences:

   The man is tall.

   His wife is short.

Which of the following sentences was made by joining together these two sentences?

- The man is tall, but his wife is short.
- The tall man has a short wife.
- His wife is short; the man is tall.

   The man is ...

   His wife is ...

2. Here are two ways of combining the two sentences:

   A. The man is tall, and his wife is short.

   B. The man is tall; his wife is short.

   In A, the two sentences are connected by a comma and a connecting word (, and).

   In B, they are connected by a semi-colon (;).

   In other words, when you use a word like and or but to connect two different sentences, you need a:

- semi-colon
- comma
3.
Sometimes, when two sentences are joined into one, a connecting word is used.

Find the connecting word which connects the following sentences:

The cupboard was bare, and so the poor dog had none. ____________

We walked home, but we were early. ____________

| and | but |

4.
Sometimes the connecting word comes at the beginning of the sentence.

UNDERLINE the connecting words in each of these sentences:

Although we sat quietly, we were scolded. ____________

After Sonny ran home, he cried. ____________

| although | after |

5.
The semi-colon looks like this : (It is a comma with a period over it.) The semi-colon can be used INSTEAD OF a connecting word.

Instead of writing:

He was calm, but I was angry.

We could change ____________ but into : and get:

He was calm; I was angry.

CROSS OUT the connecting word and CORRECT the punctuation mark:

Trudy danced, and Murray sang.

danced; Murray
6.
CHANGE this sentence by adding the connecting word BUT and correcting the punctuation:

Fred saw the boat; he didn't tell me.

__________

boat, but he didn't...

(but sure you put in a comma.)

7.
In each blank, ADD either a comma (if there is a connecting word) or a semi-colon (if there is no connecting word):

Howard is sick of eating___ his brother is hungry.
We heard the lecture___ we didn’t like it.
Arnold was young___ but he was wise.

eating; his lecture;
young, but

8.
In each of these sentences, the connecting word is at the beginning of the sentence. ADD the comma at the place where the second sentence begins:

While Ruth ate her toast Charles told her a story.
After we won the game the crowd cheered.
Before the rain started we went to the park.

toast, Charles game, the started, we 9.

In each sentence, UNDERLINE the comma and the connecting word. If there is no connecting word, CIRCLE the punctuation mark.

| When we fired the gun, they ran. | when gun. |
| We fired the gun; they ran. | ( ) |
| We fired the gun, and they ran. | and |
| Until we fired the gun, they did not run. | until gun. |

10.

COMPLETE these sentences:

When there is a connecting word, you should use:
- ☐ a comma
- ☐ a semi-colon

When there is no connecting word you should use:
- ☐ a comma
- ☐ a semi-colon

11.

Remember that the rules just mentioned apply ONLY when two complete sentences are joined. Which of the following sentences are NOT made up of two complete sentences?

- ☐ John and Floyd played cards.
- ☐ John played cards; Floy did not.
- ☐ John played cards and won.
- ☐ Henry played cards, while we laughed.

John and Floyd...
John played cards...
12. When you do not have two complete sentences, you need not punctuate with a comma or semi-colon (even if there is a connecting word.)

In the sentences below, WRITE in a comma or semi-colon wherever it is needed. If no punctuation is needed, just WRITE none in the blank after the sentence.

<table>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>The crowd cheered but it started to rain.</td>
<td>___________</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

13. Some connecting words are used in pairs. For example, "neither...nor" is a pair of words which is used as ONE connecting word:

EITHER John has the book, OR I still have it.

In the sentence above, the comma comes before the word ___________.

14. ADD a comma before the connecting word which begins the second part of each sentence:

Either I go home or you stay.

If we make enough money then they will let us go.

If he gives up then they will take him out of the race.

LOOK AT the underlined part of each sentence below. WRITE the correct punctuation in the blank which follows the sentence. If the punctuation is already correct, WRITE correct.

If we want to see the show, we can go.

Bill and Max are writing.

John flies, while Henry fights.

John flies, and fights.

While John flies, Henry fights.

Tony searched the basement and Rocky looked in the attic.

Fred read the book, Tony watched television.

We saw the movie, they stayed home.

---

CHECK the sentences which are correctly punctuated:

- I whistled loudly enough, and the bird sang.
- I whistled loudly enough; the bird sang.
- Either I whistled or the bird sang.
- When I whistled the bird sang.
17.
Sometimes parts of a sentence already have commas.
For example, suppose we want to combine:

    Fred, Arthur, and Tony are here.

with

    George is in Texas.

It would not be clear to write:

    Fred, Arthur, and Tony are here, but George is not.

To make it easier to read, we use a semi-colon instead of a comma before the connecting word:

    Fred, Arthur, and Tony are here; but George is in Texas.

CHECK any sentence that is correctly punctuated:

☐ Martha; Dorothy; and Nancy; played in the yard; while we ate lunch.

☐ Martha, Dorothy, and Nancy played in the yard, while we ate lunch.

☐ Martha, Dorothy, and Nancy played in the yard; while we ate lunch.
18.
CHECK any sentence that is correctly punctuated:

- [ ] After they had gone home, Larry, the doctor's son, showed up.
- [ ] After they had gone home; Larry, the doctor's son, showed up.
- [ ] After they had gone home, Larry, the doctor's son; showed up.

After they had gone home, Larry, the doctor's son, showed up.

19.
FILL IN the correct punctuation above the part of each sentence that is underlined. (If there is no punctuation WRITE none in the blank after the sentence)

When we came back they were chopping wood.
__________________________

We came back they were chopping wood.
__________________________

We made supper while they were chopping wood.
