ABSTRACT

Major Eastern philosophies and/or religions consisting of Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Taoism, and Shintoism are investigated by 10th through 12th grade students in this general social studies quinmester course. Since Eastern philosophical ideas are already influencing students, this course aims to guide students in a universal search for values and beliefs about the meaning of life. Through suggested activity learning, the five major religions are compared and contrasted for their differences, similarities, and are examined for their influences upon Non Western and Western civilizations. Lastly, students trace contemporary ideas to Eastern philosophies. The course is arranged, as are other quinmester courses, with sections on broad goals, course content, activities, and materials. ## INTRODUCTION

This course of study was written as a part of a total effort to revise curriculum to fit the quinmester administrative organization of schools. The materials and information in this guide are meant to be neither all-inclusive nor prescriptive; but rather, an aide to teachers as they plan instructional programs, taking into account student needs and characteristics, available resources, and other factors.

The major intent of this publication is to provide a broad framework of goals and objectives, content, teaching strategies, class activities, and materials all related to a described course of study. Teachers may then accept the model framework in total or draw ideas from it to incorporate into their lessons.

The guide is divided into 1) a broad goals section, 2) a content outline, 3) objectives and learning activities, and 4) materials. The first section provides descriptive and goal-oriented information for the teacher; "indicators of success" refers to suggested prerequisite or corequisite experiences. The content outline illustrates, in general terms, the scope and major subdivisions of the course. The objectives and learning activities section, hopefully, provide a total picture of the concept or main idea and specific behavioral objectives for a set of given learning activities. The materials section of the guide lists resources in four categories: essential textual or other material; alternate classroom materials to use in place of or in addition to the aforementioned; supplementary teacher resources; and supplementary student resources. The appendix may include other material appropriate for a specific course: e.g., pretests, readings, vocabulary, etc.

Anyone having recommendations relating to this publication is urged to write them down and send to : Social Studies Office, Room 306, Lindsey Hopkins, A-1.

COURSE DESCRIPTION: A BRIEF INTRODUCTION TO THE WAYS OF BELIEVING WHICH HAVE SHAPED EASTERN THINKING FOR THOUSANDS OF YEARS. SOME SYSTEMS OF PHILOSOPHY WHICH WILL BE STUDIED ARE: HINDUISM, BUDDHISM, CONFUCIANISM, TAOISM, SHINTO.

TITLE: GENERAL SOCIAL STUDIES

GRADE LEVEL: 10-12

COURSE RATIONALE: In the narrowing of the world's boundaries through modern advances in transportation and communication, as well as the impact of the Vietnam War, the influence of Eastern philosophical ideas is being felt today by American youth. That the young people are searching for a philosophy to guide their lives seems evident in every area of youth involvement. This course attempts to introduce systematically the five major philosophies and/or religions of the Eastern World in order to help guide students in the universal search for values and beliefs about the meaning of life.

COURSE GOALS:

1. THE STUDENTS WILL EXAMINE AND GATHER BACKGROUND DATA ON THE FIVE MAJOR EASTERN PHILOSOPHIES.
2. THE STUDENTS WILL INVESTIGATE HINDUISM AND DESCRIBE ITS INFLUENCE UPON INDIA.
3. THE STUDENTS WILL INVESTIGATE BUDDHISM AND RELATE IT TO HINDUISM.
4. THE STUDENTS WILL INVESTIGATE CONFUCIANISM AND INFER ITS INFLUENCE UPON CHINA.
5. THE STUDENTS WILL INVESTIGATE TAOISM AND MAKE A GENERALIZATION OF ITS PHILOSOPHY.
6. THE STUDENTS WILL INVESTIGATE SHINTOISM AND COMPARE IT TO THE OTHER FOUR RELIGIONS.
7. THE STUDENTS WILL DISCOVER SOME OF TODAY'S YOUTH IDEAS THAT CAN BE TRACED TO EASTERN PHILOSOPHIES. FOR EXAMPLE: LOVE, BROTHERHOOD, PEACE, ANTI-GOVERNMENT, NON-COMPETITIVENESS, ANTI-MATERIALISM, LOVE OF NATURE, YOGA, AND CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE.

GOAL 1: THE STUDENTS WILL EXAMINE AND GATHER BACKGROUND DATA ON THE FIVE MAJOR EASTERN PHILOSOPHIES.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
I. PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION AS TERMS.	A. The student will define the two terms.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Have the students orally recall the likenesses and differences between the two terms: philosophy and religion.</li> <li>2. Have the students compare orally their definitions of the two words.</li> <li>3. On the blackboard, develop a class understanding of the two terms.</li> <li>4. Ask the students to suggest some Western religions and write on the board some ideas such as God, worship, faith, beliefs, symbols, prophet etc. Then ask the pupils to give in one or two sentences some philosophical idea they may have such as brotherhood, peace, love, war, etc. Compare the concepts.</li> <li>5. Review with the students the differences and likenesses of the two terms. Discuss the following questions:               <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. What is the difference between the two terms?</li> <li>b. Can the two terms ever be synonymous? Give examples.</li> <li>c. If not concomitant, which of the two comes first? (Example: Christ and his philosophy, then formalized religion.) Why?</li> </ol> </li> <li>6. Have the students write in one or two sentences the differences and similarities of the two terms: philosophy and religion. Then explain to the class that generally in the course the terms will be used synonymously.</li> </ol>
	B. The student will define and classify terms.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. OBJECTIVE

C. (cont.)

D. The student will get population statistics concerning the major countries in the East.

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

5. Give ditto of map outline to each pupil and have them fill in the names of the major countries in order to relate the areas to the religions or philosophies to be studied.
6. Have the students look up in the Atlas, Almanac, or Encyclopedia the square miles contained in each major country in order to grasp the vast expanse of Asia.
1. Have the students research population statistics for the major countries (Japan, China, India, Vietnam, Korea, Pakistan.)
2. Have the students compare the statistics and each add the population figures to his map ditto.
3. Assign groups to break down population statistics to the five major Eastern religions to be studied in this course (see Almanac). Have them present their study in the following form:

ASIA	NORTH AMERICA	WORLD TOTAL

4. Refer to maps, transparencies, and statistical charts to discuss the following questions:
  - a. Will the population in the Eastern countries continue to grow at the approximate same rate in the next ten years? Why, why not?
  - b. How does the Eastern population rate compare with the Western world? Would this affect the spread of Eastern philosophy? How?
  - c. Can media communication spread the growth of Eastern ideas still further? Give examples.

FOCUS

D. (cont.)

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

4. (Cont.)

- d. Does the Vietnam War have any influence on the spread of Eastern philosophy? Can you name a few of the current ideas that may have come from this area?
- e. Do you have any idea of number comparison in Eastern and Western religions? Which religion now has over one-fifth of the world population as its followers? (This should involve more research by volunteer pupils)

5. Show the film, Major Religions of the World (Dade County #1-13416).

6. Discuss the film with the pupils. Review the population statistics and followers of each major religion. Ask some of the following questions:

- a. Which of the five religions is the oldest?
- b. Which of the five religions has the largest following?
- c. Which one or two is gaining in acceptance in the United States?
- d. Which ones stress:
  - meditation      reincarnation      one prophet
  - rituals            symbols            personal God
  - many Gods        morals
 Discuss the relevance of these terms to religion or philosophy.
- e. How do you think the oldest religions have influenced the newer ones? Give examples.

GOAL 2: THE STUDENTS WILL INVESTIGATE HINDUISM AND DESCRIBE ITS INFLUENCE UPON INDIA.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
	A. The students will investigate Hinduism.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Have the students read (see Bibliography) a general description of Hinduism.</li> <li>2. Show film, Asian Earth, #1-12040.</li> <li>3. Write Santana Dharma (The Eternal Religion) on the board. Give oral translation, Hinduism.</li> <li>4. Have the students find India on their ditto map and have them draw arrows to China, Japan, and Indonesia to show the spread of the religion.</li> <li>5. Construct a chronological chart on the board to show that Hinduism is the basic source of all Eastern religions.</li> <li>6. Have the students copy the chart (see below) and then assign them the task of dating the various religions. Have them date at this time Hinduism at 5000 B.C.</li> </ol>   <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>7. Ask the pupils to refer to their list of definitions and take notes while the teacher discusses the basic precepts of Hinduism. These should include (not necessarily in this order) the following ideas:             <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. World's oldest faith.</li> <li>b. No ecclesiastical organization.</li> <li>c. No practices or beliefs universal.</li> </ol> </li> </ol>

A. (cont.)

7. (cont.)

- d. Polytheistic: hundreds of thousands of gods. Siva and Vishnu (popular Gods of today)
- e. Animal worship. (not just the cow as commonly thought)
- f. Reincarnation.
- g. Karma: deeds in previous life.
- h. Caste: indicates spiritual status.
- i. Ultimate goal: released from cycle of rebirths and absorbed by the absolute.
- j. Progress in goal not due to study of dogma but to worship and human experience.
- k. Yoga: asceticism and discipline help achieve ultimate goal.
- l. No fixed canons of sacred books (see Vedas below).
- m. Vocabulary:

ATMAN - God within, Self.

BRAHMAN - Unapproachable creative spirit or God.

OM - Symbol of Brahman, translated loosely as peace, peace, peace.

B. The student will read Hindu writings.

- 1. Introduce and show the class various paperback readings for Hinduism (See Bibliography).
- 2. Write on the board the word VEDAS and explain to the pupils that these are ancient accounts of mystical revelations and inspirational verse. They are considered the primary source of all Hindu spiritual guidance. They were written in Sanscrit at approximately 1500 B.C. (the time thought to be when the Aryan tribes arrived in India).
- 3. Have pupils read Upanishads (p. 64) silently.
- 4. Have the whole class read the page orally together and ask them to note the musical rhythm of the words and the strange mystic terminology.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
B. (cont.)		5. Open for discussion the following questions: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Who is Brahman? Can you describe him?</li> <li>What are the three requirements?</li> <li>What does Chandogya say about the will of man?</li> <li>Explain the terms: (in your own words)               <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>purified mind</li> <li>illuminated consciousness</li> </ul> </li> <li>What does it say about immortality?</li> </ol>
		6. Divide the pupils into three groups to read the following parables in Upanishads: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Satyakama (pp 65-68)</li> <li>Boy Svetaketa (pp 68-71)</li> <li>Boy Narada (pp 71-74)</li> </ol>
		Have them note the following information during their reading task: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Manner of writing.</li> <li>How one is to attain knowledge.</li> <li>How can one learn about oneself?</li> <li>What do they say about Brahman, subtle essence?</li> <li>How does animal life fit into the picture?</li> </ol>
G. The students will discuss and clarify the Hindu ideas of God and love of learning.		<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>In class discussion review the three groups' ideas on the above questions. Encourage the groups to give examples from their readings.</li> <li>Assign the class silent reading in Upanishads the chapter Chandogya (pp 64-78); Brihadar Anyaka (pp 79-81).</li> <li>The teacher should encourage the students to relax and listen while he reads Gargya aloud to them.</li> <li>Have the pupils do a choral reading of Ajatasatru (pp 81-86) in Upanishads.</li> </ol>

FOCUS

Note to the teacher:
The Vedas ( or Hindu scripture) is so very mystic, it is necessary for the students to listen, read silently, and choral read to get the feel of the Asian wording and ideas.

C. (cont.)

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

5. Discuss with the class afterwards the following affective responses:
  - a. How did you feel when you read the dialogue?
  - b. Does it remind you of something you've read before? How? What?
  - c. What do you think the words "meditate" and "self" mean?
  - d. Do you think there is a way to reach immortality in Hinduism? How? Do you believe any part of this yourself? Which part?
  - e. Would you like to read more?
  - f. Can you find a few lines that you would choose to memorize for the class?

6. Give the students the assignment to choose a few lines they may memorize as a class assignment. Give them choices in reproduction such as choral reading, tape recording, or dramatic play.

7. Have the students read silently Kaivalya (pp 114-116) in Upanishads. Then ask them to write in their own words what they know so far about the attainment of Brahman.

8. Encourage the pupils to share their paragraph writings with the class.
  1. The class will view the film Mahatma Gandhi (Dade County, VW, 1-12457).
  2. Lead a class discussion on the film including the following questions:
    - a. Was Gandhi's life meditative or active or both? Explain your answer.
    - b. What is a Mahatma?

D. The students will see a great Hindu leader and his use of the ancient philosophical ideas.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
Note to the teacher: For accelerated pupils or as a special assignment, have the pupils read His Life and Message for the World; (see bibliography).	D. (cont.)	2. (cont.) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>c. What Hindu Veda doctrines shine through his life?</li> <li>d. Did you see any subtle changes in his philosophy? Can one find immortality in Hinduism in an individual way or through special steps? Why do you think so?</li> <li>e. What is the Gita?</li> <li>f. How did Yoga play a part in Ghandi's life?</li> <li>g. What is civil-disobedience and how did the Mahatma use this as part of his political-religious life? Has any evidence of this reached the United States?</li> </ul> 3. Read Gita (pp 141-143) to the class and suggest other special readings. 4. In introducing the sacred book, Bhagavad-Gita (Song of the Lord or Celestial Song); lecture on the following points: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. Sacred book of the Hindus written around 5-6 B.C.</li> <li>b. Epic poem with prophetic verse.</li> <li>c. Vedanta philosophy of the Universe.</li> <li>d. Considered the longest poem in the world, over 20,000 verses.</li> <li>e. Collection of narratives, often in parable form.</li> <li>f. Though younger than Upanishads (perhaps by 25 centuries) considered equal in spiritual gospel importance.</li> </ul> 5. Have pupils read "Introduction" by Aldous Huxley (pp 11-22) in Upanishads. 6. Lead class discussion and build on ideas of Hinduism already learned.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
	E. The students will view a modern Indian family in the Hindu tradition.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Have the class view the film, A Hindu Family, (Dade County, BW, 1-04766).</li> <li>2. Afterwards, lead the class in a discussion using some of the following questions:             <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. What parts of the old are left in the traditional Hinduism? (cow, shrines, temples, rivers, Yoga)</li> <li>b. How have social and economic changes affected Hindu philosophical ideas? (caste, women's role, active Yoga).</li> <li>c. What universal truths have been able to live on for over 5000 years? (God, self, peace, brotherhood).</li> </ol> </li> <li>3. Have the students discuss what ideas they have today on life, peace, brotherhood, self, government, nature, and non-materialism. Get them to decide which of their own ideas remind them of the ancient Hindu beliefs and why they think they know and feel these same credos today.</li> </ol>

GOAL 3: THE STUDENTS WILL INVESTIGATE BUDDHISM AND RELATE IT TO HINDUISM.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
BUDDHISM Note to teacher:                      American youth have many vague, incorrect ideas about Buddha, one being that he is Chinese. They have been exposed to symbols, pictures etc. but most of it is confused in their mind and full of misconceptions. Johnson's Buddhism is an excellent source for this goal.	A. The students will investigate Buddhism.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Review the ditto maps and population graphs to see the location and number of practicing Buddhists today in the Far East.</li> <li>2. Then lead an inductive discussion on what the pupils already know about the man or religion. Some of these may include:                             <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. his appearance</li> <li>b. caste and reincarnation</li> <li>c. religion and ceremonies</li> <li>d. Viet Nam monks</li> <li>e. lotus blossom</li> </ol> </li> <li>3. Discuss with the class where and how they have seen pictorial explanations of Buddha. (posters, Beetles, Mia Farrow, Viet Nam media, Export-Import stores etc.)</li> <li>4. Then ask the pupils to draw a picture of the Buddha. Have them compare their drawings (note that he is usually connotated as Chinese in origin which is incorrect).</li> <li>5. Have the pupils visit an Export-Import Store or bring in statues, posters, pictures etc. for the bulletin board.</li> <li>6. Read to the class the child-like but mystic story of Buddha's Life, The Prince Who Gave Up a Throne. (see bibliography)</li> <li>7. Discuss with the class some of the new ideas they have learned about Buddha just from this simple story. Some of these are:                             <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. He is a Hindu.</li> <li>b. He was of the highest caste.</li> <li>c. He was Indian.</li> <li>d. He worshipped no idols, started no formal religion, built no temples.</li> <li>e. He had disciples.</li> </ol> </li> </ol>

- A. (cont.)
- B. The students will do group work on the life of Buddha.
- C. The students will translate learnings of Buddha from readings and speeches.

8. Assign choices in readings on the Buddha. (see bibliography)
1. Divide the class into four groups to discuss the life of Buddha. The group tasks should be by choice and may include some of the following:
- a. Outline form
  - b. Pictorial
  - c. Drama
  - d. Music
  - e. Poetry
2. Have the groups share their information with the class and display their work on the bulletin board. This may take more than one day's preparation. Extra credit should be given to individuals who would like to do something creative on Buddha's life for the class.
1. Contact Dade Junior College or the University of Miami and ask if a Buddhist student might visit the class and speak on his views of the religion.
2. List the following terms on the board and assign definitions to the students:
- a. Nirvana
  - b. Eight Fold Path
  - c. Law of Karma
  - d. Zen
  - e. Middle Way
  - e. Siddhartha Gautama
  - f. Four Noble Truths
  - g. The Enlightened One
  - h. The Bo Tree
  - i. Mahayama
3. Have student volunteers give definitions of terms and lead class discussion. Encourage different interpretations and point out the mystical vagueness of the Buddhist doctrine.

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
C. (cont.)		4. Lecture to the class and have them take notes on some of the following philosophical ideas of Buddhism: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. Nirvana: a condition of enlightenment and detachment from the world. How did Buddha attain this? Where was he supposed to have found Nirvana? Did he mention God as a condition to finding Nirvana? What does Nirvana do to the cycle of successive rebirths in Hinduism? etc.</li> <li>b. Middle Way: Path beyond sorrow and suffering... between austerity and sensuality.</li> <li>c. Eight Fold Path and Existence: Suffering from craving can be destroyed by Eight Fold Path.</li> <li>d. Love: Buddha held everything in the Universe with enfolding love.</li> </ol> 5. Read and discuss Buddha's "Sermon at Benares" in Religious - Philosophical Systems, pp. 2-4. What did he say about the "good life?" 6. Read to the class about the four kinds of Buddhism in Four World Views, pp 45-66 (see bibliography). 7. Show the class the film, The Buddhist World, Dade County, I-00297. 8. Lead the students in a film review with the following questions: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. Is Buddhism today a simple faith or formalized religion? Give examples.</li> <li>b. Does Buddhism contribute to man's competitive nature? Why?</li> <li>c. How does true Buddhism conflict with war?</li> <li>d. Is a Buddhist materialistic by faith?</li> <li>e. How does the sacred cow tie in with Buddha's teaching?</li> </ol>

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
Note to the teacher: Special library research, particularly in current periodicals can contribute a great deal to student's understanding of modern day Buddhism.	D. The student will relate Buddhism to current life in the Far East. E. The student will generalize on the historical growth of Buddhism from ancient Hinduism.	1. After completing library research, divide the class into four or five groups to discuss and present to the entire group the relationship of Buddhism to modern day Far East: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. Have the students write an essay explaining the historical growth of Buddhism from ancient Hinduism.

GOAL 4: THE STUDENTS WILL INVESTIGATE CONFUCIANISM AND INFER ITS INFLUENCE UPON CHINA.

FOCUS CONFUCIANISM	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
A. The student will investigate Confucius' writings.		<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Review the chronological chart (p.5) with the students and note the closeness of time in the rise of Buddhism and Confucianism.</li> <li>2. Tape the following or put on separate slips of paper the following verses. Give one to each pupil, have him read it and be ready to discuss with the class. See item #3 for follow-up activity.             <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. A scholar should serve the crown.</li> <li>b. Be slow to speak and quick to act.</li> <li>c. Courage without sense of right, make rebels of the great.</li> <li>d. All hangs on faithfulness and fellow-feeling.</li> <li>e. Honeyed words and flattering looks seldom speak of love.</li> <li>f. Through wide learning and singleness of aim, through keen questions and searchings of heart we come to love.</li> <li>g. Serve your parents with courtesy while they live.</li> <li>h. Study without thought is vain; thought without study is dangerous.</li> <li>i. I hate evil speaking cloaked in honesty.</li> <li>j. Exalt the straight, set aside the crooked, the people will be loyal.</li> <li>k. Bad it is when a man eats his fill all day and has nought to tax the mind.</li> <li>l. Loveless men cannot hear need long.</li> <li>m. Beware of living in a sink; where the filth of the world all streams together.</li> <li>n. The chase of gain is rich in hate.</li> <li>o. OBJECTIVE

A. (cont.)

6. Write the word "Mystery" and then the word "Paradox" on the board. Have the pupils discuss how these words may affect the understanding of Eastern philosophy. See if they can find any examples of this kind of thinking in Western philosophy. Ask the questions:
  - a. Does the form of writing affect the meaning? How?
  - b. Do you feel that you understand Tao as well as Confucius? Why or why not? Give some examples.
  - c. What do you think Tao is trying to say?

7. Give the pupils a dittoed sheet of the following examples of Tao writings:
  - a. Yet Heaven and Earth and all that lies between
Is like a bellows
In that it is empty, but gives a supply that Never Fails.
  - b. We should recognize the usefulness of what is not.
  - c. He who takes the longest strides,
Does not walk the fastest.
  - d. We put 30 spokes together and call it a wheel.
But it is on the space where there is nothing
That the usefulness depends.
  - e. We turn clay to make a vessel,
But it is on the space where there is nothing
That the usefulness depends.
  - f. We pierce doors and windows to make a house
And it is on these spaces where there is nothing
That the usefulness of the house depends.
  - g. Do nothing and everything is done.

3. Have volunteers lead the group in various Yoga practices. Further explain that Yoga is probably Buddhist (dbyana) in origin and concentrated on fixed staring or the eye method of trance induction. It is thought that a Tso-wang originated Tao trance induction with the use of breath control.

C. The students will compare the use of drugs with Tao trance-induction.

1. Place on the overhead projector the following quote:
The practice of Tao consists in subtracting day by day. Subtracting and yet again subtracting...

2. Ask the following questions:

- a. What might this mean to a Taoist?
- b. How does this conflict with Buddhism, Confucianism?
- c. Could this mean a form of Yoga? Explain.
- d. Is it reality? Why?
- e. Could you call this selflessness, passivity?
- f. Does the use of drugs produce the same effects? Aftereffects? What is different, the same?
- g. Does a Taoist recommend the use of drugs?
- h. Do some drugs make the senses over-react? Is this the goal of a Yoga from the East? Why not?
- i. How does the use of drugs and the Viet Nam War combine in the artificial attempts at Eastern Yoga.
- j. Which do you prefer? Why?
- k. Which do you think will grow in usage in the United States: Eastern passivity or drug use? Why?

D. The student will generalize on the meaning of Tao philosophy.

1. Give to the pupils a dittoed copy of the following. Have them read it silently and write about what they think the Taoist philosophers are trying to say to man.
One may think of it as the mother of all things under heaven.
Its true name I do not know.
Great Tao is like a boat that drifts;
It can go this way, it can go that.

Then ask the class if they think any of these things might have to do with religion or Eastern philosophy. Put two columns on the board: Religion and Philosophy. With the class participating, list under one or both which items may be included in Japanese religion. (Almost any item concerning manners, ceremony, tradition, nature should be under both columns). 3. Assign the class the following reading choices and have them write two or more paragraphs concerning their readings and be ready to share the information with the class. These may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Historical and population statistics on Shintoism today.</li> <li>Shinto Gods</li> <li>Japanese Emperors</li> <li>Tea drinking ceremony</li> <li>Shinto Temples</li> <li>Shinto Shrines</li> <li>Japanese Ancestral Worship</li> <li>Japanese Art</li> <li>Japanese Festivals</li> </ul>

FOCUS	OBJECTIVE	LEARNING ACTIVITIES
RELATIONSHIP OF EASTERN IDEAS ON TODAY'S YOUTH.	A. The student will predict the growth of Eastern philosophy.	1. Have the students review the population statistics and the modern advances in communication and transportation and predict the future growth of Eastern philosophical ideas. Have them judge whether this is good or bad. Ask them to state personally whether they accept one or more of the Eastern ideas or reject them and state their reasons why.
Note to the teacher: The Korean War was also a great influence in the spread of Eastern thought but probably holds little interest to the teenager today.	B. The students will discuss critically the implications the Viet Nam War has had on the spread of Eastern philosophy.	1. Have the students in small group or individual debate discuss the implications of the Viet Nam War on the spread of Eastern philosophy and religion.
	C. The student will compare and contrast today's use of drugs with the Eastern ideal of peace and passivity.	1. Divide the class into two groups: one to list the ways drug usage is similar to the Eastern ideal of peace and passivity; the other to list the ways drug usage negates completely the Eastern way of natural body and spiritual peace. (The second group should come up with a greater number on the list.) Have the two group leaders share the information with the class.
	D. The student will discover and write some of today's ideas that may be traced to Eastern philosophical thought.	1. Have each student write a paragraph on at least three modern day ideas or commitments today's American teenagers have that are similar and may be traced to Eastern philosophy. 2. Have the students share this information with the whole class.
