This content analysis schedule for HABLA-Helping Advance Bilingual Learning in Abernathy, Texas, presents information on the history, funding, and scope of the project. Included are sociolinguistic process variables such as the native and dominant languages of students and their interaction. Information is provided on staff selection and the linguistic background of project teachers. An assessment is made of the duration and extent of the bilingual component, and the methods of second language teaching in general. Included is an analysis of materials, student grouping, tutoring, curriculum patterns, and cognitive development. The report also discusses self-esteem, learning strategies, the bicultural and community components, and means of evaluation. Attached to the report are an outline of the bilingual education program for 1971-72 and additional information on cognitive development. (SK)

Instructor Component

I. Kindergarten
   1. Oral language development - English and Spanish
   2. Video tapes to develop sentence patterns and vocabulary that will be used in first grade reading.
   3. Video-taped stories in both languages to enrich background of underprivileged children and also aid in language development in both languages.

II. First Grade
   1. Continue oral language development with emphasis on patterns and vocabulary that will be used in reading.
   2. Daily drill on letter sounds.
   3. Reading readiness program.
   5. Video-taped guides with classroom follow-up in Spanish language arts.
   6. Video-taped guides with classroom follow-up in bilingual mathematics.

III. Second Grade
   1. Continue oral language development.
   2. Begin translation drills, English to Spanish and Spanish to English.
   3. Continue basal reading program in English.
   4. Video-taped guides for Spanish language arts program with classroom follow-up.
   5. Video-taped guides with classroom follow-up for bilingual mathematics.

Evaluation of Instructor Component

I. Kindergarten
   1. Pre- and post-test (TOBE - Language and General Concepts)
   2. Locally devised spot evaluation instrument (Pre- and post-)
3. Random sampling of progress toward stated objectives by Evaluator at six-week intervals. (Teachers will be given behavioral objectives for each six-weeks period. Evaluator will prepare tests based on these objectives.)

4. Feedback to teachers based on results of six-weeks spot evaluations.

II. First Grade
1. Ability test in accordance with regular school testing program.
2. Pre- and post- achievement tests.
3. Oral language test to be developed by staff (first and second language).
4. Random sampling of progress toward stated objectives by Evaluator at six-week intervals. (Teachers will be given behavioral objectives for each six-weeks period. Evaluator will prepare tests based on these objectives.)
5. Feedback to teachers based on results of six-weeks spot evaluations.

III. Second Grade
1. Pre- and post- achievement tests. (Post-test at end of first grade may be used as pre-test for second grade.)
2. Oral language test to be developed by staff (first and second language).
3. Random sampling of progress toward stated objectives at six-week intervals by Evaluator. (Teachers will be given behavioral objectives for each six-weeks period. Evaluator will prepare tests based on these objectives.)
4. Feedback to teachers based on results of six-weeks spot evaluations.
OBJECTIVES

The long range objectives of HABLA are to develop fluency in both English and Spanish among as many students as our resources and facilities will permit. Another objective is to provide our students with an education that will ultimately enable them to move easily in the circles of either English-speaking or Spanish-speaking cultures. This will require much more than merely teaching a second language to members of either group. It will necessitate the development of an appreciation of the heritage and attainments of each culture.

While keeping an eye on this ambitious goal, we realize that there must be intermediate milestones. The most important intermediate objective is that of reducing the alarmingly high rate of failures or retentions among the Mexican-Americans in the lower grades. We intend to accomplish this through the use of a bilingual approach to instruction. Hopefully by the end of grade three, the target group will be on level with their age-mates and be able to proceed in a class with English instruction.

More specifically, our immediate objectives are:

For Kindergarten:

The purpose of the Title VII kindergarten program is to provide an opportunity for the Mexican-American child to begin "bridging the gap" between the Mexican-American culture of the home and the Anglo-American culture of the school, to begin learning the English language, to broaden his experience and understandings, to increase his abilities and skills, and to develop wholesome attitudes through a planned environment.

The terminal objectives of the bilingual kindergarten are to provide experiences that will enable the children to:

1. Label (orally) animate and inanimate objects within the framework of their experiences in either English or Spanish with seventy percent accuracy.

2. Ask routine questions in either language and respond to routine classroom instructions when given in either language.

3. Describe sensory and perceptual responses in either language in such a manner that a person could recognize the stimulus from the child's description.

4. To enter the first grade the following year with a feeling of confidence and worthiness.

The specific objectives can be broken down into four categories: Physical development, emotional development, intellectual development, and social development.
First Grade -- The first grade students have made considerable progress but have not progressed as much in reading in their second language as we had hoped. Their responses to oral instructions indicate, however, that they are making progress in learning a second language.

The first grade pupils were administered a pre and post achievement and ability tests. The results were:

The Stanford Early School Achievement Test was given by closed-circuit television. A close-up view of each picture of the test was shown and instructions were given first in Spanish (local translation) and then in English. The teachers and aides who were proctors in their respective classes were interested to note that many of the Anglo children were responding to the Spanish instructions.

The plans for first grade instruction were drawn up in the spring of 1970 before we knew that we would participate in the special "Reading in Spanish" program in cooperation with the Houston schools. Participation in this program has caused some changes in our plans—the major change being the delaying of reading instruction in a second language.

The Spanish-speaking children were taught reading in Spanish while the English-speaking children were taught reading in English. The Spanish reading was taught by a teacher from Mexico who was instructed to teach just as she taught in Mexico.

Instruction in reading in the second language was not introduced until January 1971.

Methods of Second Language Teaching

(Select all that apply; some projects may use a combination of methods)

1. Audio-lingual habit skills or behavioral approach. Emphasis on communication. Includes contrastive analysis of sounds (units) in both languages by teacher and students, student repetition of tapes and/or fluent teachers' model sentence patterns until responses are automatic. Structural drills and dialogues are systematically presented. Includes direct association between object and word in second language in a sequence of patterns learned in complete sentences. Inductive-generalizations drawn from examples.

2. Transformational-cognitive approach. Acquiring an understanding of the structural patterns or grammatical rules of a language.
2a-inductive - generative approach: through listening to communication, perhaps of peers, and attempting the new language in situations which call for the student to generate sentences - test his understanding. (the way native language is acquired)
Includes direct association between object, picture or action and word in second language.

2b-deductive - the cognitive code approach: through initial formal study and analysis of grammatical structures, then applying them through examples, i.e. answering questions, or transforming affirmative sentences to negative, declarative to interrogative, active to passive.

14.0 INTEGRATION OF SECOND LANGUAGE LEARNING WITH OTHER LEARNING:
(mark all that apply)

1-Second language learning is only a separate subject for English-speaking students; the second language is not used as a medium of instruction for other subjects.
2-Second language learning is both a separate subject and also a medium of instruction for other subjects.
3-Second language learning is always integrated with the learning of course content (such as social studies) or as a medium of cognitive development.
4-Academic content taught in the native language is used as the referential content of second language learning (the same concept taught in the native language is taught in the second language).
5-Different academic content is taught in the second language from that which is taught in the native language.

V UTILIZATION OF RESEARCH AND EXISTING MATERIALS

A comprehensive study of Mexican-American students in the Abernathy Secondary schools was made during the 1967-68 school year. We feel that many of the things revealed by this study are a reflection of problems faced by these students in the elementary grades. We believe that the "language barrier" has been a stumbling block that we have not adequately removed. Although we have placed the non-English speaking students in a separate class at the first grade level in an attempt to help them, we have not attempted a truly bilingual program.

B.

We have visited the bilingual programs in the San Antonio, Laredo, and Edinburg school systems and at the McAllen Migrant Center. We have also visited with personnel and looked at the material being prepared by the Southwestern Educational Developmental Laboratory at Austin, the Region I Service Center at Edinburg, and the Southwestern Cooperative Educational Laboratory at Albuquerque, New Mexico. Of the programs we visited, we were more favorable impressed by the one at Laredo than the others. The programs at San Antonio, Edinburg and McAllen were placing most of their emphasis on learning English as a second language, while the program at Laredo was more nearly in line with the program we plan to implement.

C.

While we are planning to conduct classes bilingually, we realize that an important part of our program will be to teach English as a second language to one group and to teach Spanish as a second language to another group. We feel that the ESL kits developed by the Region I Service Center would most nearly fit our needs. We submit the following reasons for selecting it:

1. It is more flexible.
2. It is presently a more complete program, including such things as lesson plans, language cards, visual-stimulas picture cards, recordings, and filmstrip-record stories.
3. It will more nearly lend itself to a true bilingual program.
4. It is less expensive.
15.0 TREATMENT OF CHILD'S LANGUAGE:

1-The child's language is respected. It is not corrected, rather, all of the child's speech is accepted. However, the teacher provides a model of the standard language aiming toward child's eventual control of the standard form.

2-The child's language is corrected—the teacher points out errors and demonstrates the standard form.

Development of Materials

Numerous visual aids have been developed (such as uniform alphabet cards for all classrooms) as a result of suggestions and ideas presented at staff meetings. We have placed much emphasis on development of video tapes since this enables us to use the language proficiency of one bilingual teacher in all classrooms. We have developed sixty tapes on first grade mathematics, forty tapes for language development and have adapted fourteen children's stories and taped them. These stories presented each Thursday in Spanish and the following day in English serve a two-fold purpose. First, in our adaptation of them, we try to use short, simple sentences and, where possible, use the same sentence pattern several times. (Example: Jack and the Beanstalk. "This is the little yellow house. This is Jack's mother.") Thus we can stress various sentence patterns as a part of language development. The second benefit derived from these stories is that it helps fill some gaps in the background of some of the children. We have not tried to produce a new story each week, but have tried to show a new story every other week while repeating stories on alternate weeks. With each video tape is a written teacher's guide (not necessarily a verbatim script) with suggested follow-up activities for the classroom teacher. An example of these guides is included as Attachment A.

We also obtained permission from the author to translate a pre-primer and use it to introduce Spanish reading. However, this was not as successful as we had hoped it would be.

Materials Development

I. Textbooks

1. Basal readers in English will be used in accordance with state and local policies.

2. Math books in English will be used in accordance with state and local policies.

3. Appropriate books in Spanish will be selected for use as basal Spanish readers.

II. Video Tapes

1. A number of video tapes have been made and others will be made to expedite bilingual instruction.
2. Script and suggested follow-up activities will be given to classroom teachers prior to show of each video tape.

3. Video tapes will be shown as follows:

III. Supplementary Materials

1. Supplementary materials in English and Spanish, will be selected and/or developed in pre-service and in-service training sessions.

2. Bilingual Aides will assist in preparation of supplementary materials.

3. Audio-visual equipment such as 16 mm film projector, film strip projectors, language masters, record players and tape recorders are available to provide a variety of means of presenting supplementary materials.

Evaluation of Materials

I. Check sheets on usage.

II. Check sheets on value of materials.

III. Group discussion and critique of materials in staff meetings.
4. Social studies -- (Example) A video tape of proper table manners and conduct in the cafeteria can be prepared.

In evaluating the program, we intend to make a video-tape of classroom activities at intervals and keep them for comparison. This will also serve as an effective means of self-evaluation for the teacher.

It is our intent to make occasional video tapes of classroom activities and invite parents in to view them.

In the kindergarten program, normal kindergarten activities will be carried on with this one exception -- English and Spanish will be used as a medium of instruction.

The kindergarten groups will be small -- fifteen to eighteen -- with sessions lasting two and one-half hours. The kindergarten teacher will work with one group in the morning and after a lunch break will work with another group in the afternoon.

At the kindergarten level the emphasis will be on oral work and much of it will be for the purpose of removing culture deficiencies that these children might have. Many of these children are from homes that not only do not speak English but are culturally deprived as well. We feel that one of our first objectives should be to help remove this cultural lag. Therefore a great deal of time will be spent on activities such as learning nursery rhymes, story telling, learning poems, and learning songs. These will be taught in Spanish and English. Much of the time will be spent learning acceptable social habits. Included in these social studies will be learning to follow rules, learning to work cooperatively with their fellow students, learning to respect those in authority, and learning good manners.

We intend to have our rooms divided into various areas, with a family life corner, an art corner, and a science corner.

Equipment will include:

- Building blocks
- Toy housekeeping equipment
- Table and chairs
- Walking boards
- Record Player
- Creative arts equipment

FIRST GRADE OBJECTIVES - MATH

First Six Weeks

2.1 a. Students will be able to count to 20 by ones in first language.
   b. Students will be able to count to 10 by ones in second language.
   c. Students will be able to count objects up to 10 in first language.

2.2 Students will be able to join 1 with sets of 1, 2, 3, 4 to form a new set.

2.3 Students will be able to write numerals up to 10.

2.4 Students will be able to recognize and place numerals 1-5 in their proper sequence.

Second Six Weeks

2.1 a. Students will be able to count to 100 by tens in first language.
   b. Students will be able to count to 20 by ones in second language.
   c. Students will be able to count objects up to 10 in both languages.

2.2 Students will be able to join a set of 2 with sets of 1, 2, 3, to form a new set.

2.3 Students will be able to write numerals up to 20 by ones.

2.4 Students will be able to recognize and place numerals 1-10 in proper sequence.

Third Six Weeks

2.1 a. Students will be able to count to 100 by ones and by tens in their first language.
   b. Students will be able to count to 20 by ones in second language.
   c. Students will be able to count objects up to 10 in both languages.
   d. Students will be able to count to 30 by ones in second language.

2.2 Students will be able to join and separate sets 1-6 when given instruction in either language.

2.3 Students will be able to write numerals up to 100 by tens.

2.4 Students will be able to recognize and place numerals 1-15 in proper sequence.

Fourth Six Weeks

2.1 a. Students will be able to count to 100 by ones, fives, and tens in their first language.
   b. Students will be able to count to 100 by ones and tens in their second language.
   c. Students will be able to count objects up to 20 in both languages.

2.2 Students will be able to join and separate sets 1-9, illustrating by making a number sentence using the symbols + or - and =.

2.3 a. Students will be able to write numerals up to 50 by ones.
   b. Students will be able to write number words 1-5 in their first language.

2.4 a. Students will be able to recognize and place numerals 1-20 in proper sequence.
   b. Students will be able to recognize and place numerals ending in zero up to 100 in proper sequence.

2.5 Students will be able to identify and name a penny, nickel, and a dime.

2.6 Students will be able to recognize and tell time by hours in first language.

Fifth Six Weeks

2.1 a. Students will be able to count to 100 by ones, fives, and tens in both languages.
   b. Students will be able to count to 50 by twos in both languages.
   c. Students will be able to count objects up to 30 in both languages.

2.2 Students will be able to join a two digit number ending in zero with another two digit number ending in zero.

2.3 a. Students will be able to write numerals up to 75 by ones.
   b. Students will be able to write number words 1-10 in first language.

2.4 Students will be able to recognize and place numerals 1-50 in proper sequence.

2.5 Students will be able to identify and name a penny, nickel, dime, quarter, half-dollar, and a dollar.

2.6 a. Students will be able to recognize and tell time by hours and half-hours in first language.
   b. Students will be able to recognize and tell time by hour in second language.

Sixth Six Weeks

2.1 a. Students will be able to count to 50 by twos in both languages.
   b. Students will be able to count objects up to 50 in both languages.

2.2 Students will be able to join numbers 1-9 with two digit numbers ending in zero.

2.3 a. Students will be able to write numerals up to 100 by ones.
   b. Students will be able to write number words 1-10 in both languages.

2.4 Students will be able to recognize and place numerals 1-100 in proper sequence.

2.5 Students will be able to recognize combination of coins that will make five cents, ten cents, or twenty-five cents.

2.6 Students will be able to recognize and tell time by hour and half-hour in both languages.
21.0 SELF-ESTEEM

Stated methods of project component expected to increase self-esteem:
no self-esteem not mentioned as an objective
0 self-esteem is an objective but methods not specified
Teacher encourages pupil to verbally express his feelings:
1. through role-playing
2. puppetry
3. language-experience approach: students dictate stories from their own experience
4. teacher accepts, acknowledges ideas and feelings
5. teacher encourages non-verbal expression of child's feelings through painting, music, dancing
6. teacher provides experiences in which the various ways that children act are accepted by the teacher; their actions are discussed and the children are encouraged not to make fun of "different" ways
7. teacher provides experiences leading to competency and success
8. teacher provides experiences where occasional failure is acknowledged as part of everyone's experience; second attempts are encouraged
9. other (specify) (xerox or summarize) document page #

Teacher provides experiences in pupil self-direction and acceptance of responsibility, such as:
10. pupils act as tutors for other pupils
11. pupils have some options in choice of curriculum
12. pupils choose activities from a variety of interest centers
13. older pupils participate in curriculum planning and/or development
14. pupils write a bilingual newspaper for dissemination to the community
15. other (specify)

22.0 LEARNING STRATEGIES

1. The project mentions the following specific learning strategies as important for reaching a particular ethnolinguistic group: (specify or xerox) Document and Page no.
Example: Navajo children resist participation in an authoritarian, traditional classroom. An open classroom where teacher participates rather than directs all activities and students or groups of students initiate activities, move about freely or sit in a circle or horseshoe rather than sit in rows, has been found more effective.
0 none mentioned

25.0 Impact Evaluation

25.1 Project mentions description or dissemination of the bilingual program through:
   0. Newspaper articles
   2. Radio programs
   3. TV programs
   4. Video-tapes
   5. Films
   6. Visitors to observe the program
Community Involvement

At the beginning of the year eight couples were asked and accepted to serve as a parental advisory committee -- four Anglo and four Mexican-American. Meetings were held once each month at which time they were briefed on our activities and suggestions and/or criticisms were requested. All the parents of children participating in the bilingual program were invited to one meeting and a number of them attended. They will be invited again for the May meeting.

We have asked mothers of the children in the bilingual program to help with school sponsored parties at Christmas, Valentine's Day and Easter.

Community Involvement

I. Parental Advisory Committee

1. The parental advisory committee will meet on the second Tuesday night of each month except March.

2. The committee will be given a progress report and will be asked for advice on and/or recommendations for planned activities in our program.

II. Community at Large

1. All parents of children in the bilingual program will be invited to meet with the staff and advisory committee in October and May.

2. There will be a school-wide open house (usually scheduled on the first Friday night in March).

3. Parents will be asked to assist teachers in various activities for the children. (Christmas parties, etc.)

III. News Media

Articles concerning the bilingual program will be published in the biweekly school newspaper and in the local paper, The Abernathy Weekly Review.

Evaluation of Community Involvement

In the small community in which we are located, members of our staff are in daily personal contact with many people in the area including community leaders. This enables us to get constant evaluation and feedback.
25.2 Project's impact:
1-Project mentions that other classes in the school, but not in the program have picked up methods or material from the bilingual program
2-Project mentions other schools in the local educational system have started bilingual programs
3-Project mentions that a University has instituted teacher training courses in bilingual education to meet staff development needs

4. For the first time, the Mexican-American people entered candidates.

26.0 ROLE OF EVALUATOR

26.1 Evaluator has field tested, on a group of children who are of the same language, culture and grade levels as the children in the bilingual program:
0-not mentioned
1-published measures
2-staff developed measures
3-staff translations of published measures
4-staff adaptations of published measures
