This guide was developed to provide a record of the instructional resources available to media centers for use in Grades 7 through 9. Included and annotated are listings of: (1) simulation and instructional games, (2) devices for individualized instruction, (3) guidance kits, (4) cassette tapes, (5) filmstrips, (6) Films (8mm and 16mm), (7) professional books and documents and (8) books for students. Announcements of publishers and suppliers supplement the text as does a subject index. (SN)
Because of Governor William T. Cahill's interest in career orientation and vocational education, and because Governor Cahill's Career Development Project has seen fit to provide the funds for the publishing of this manuscript, we respectfully and gratefully dedicate this publication to his honor.

The future looks promising for career orientation programs in New Jersey schools. The plan approved by the State Board of Education projects — by 1977 — a growth of a state-level system for planning and implementing a widely useful school-based Career Education model. And even more important, local New Jersey schools are now finding the money to expand their Career Education programs without special federal or state funds.

Grades 7, 8, and 9 Learning Resources for Career Education

by Edwin York, Priscilla Walsh, Madhu Kapadia, Gordon Law Jr., and Leo Richards

Discoveries about one's self and one's world during the middle school years have an especially important role to play in the career development of today's students. School media centers should be greatly involved in such individual career development.

Why all the urgency? Why should school media centers emphasize career orientation as a major area for purchasing this year? Three reasons seem to be emerging. (1) if the schools are becoming more humane centers of activity, the life-long career concerns of the students will be increasingly emphasized; (2) at present the majority of each year's high school graduates are unemployable and are therefore condemned to a continued dependency which is harmful to both the student and society; and (3) the people's representatives - the U.S. Congress and the President - have passed the "Education Amendments of 1972," which includes an amendment to E.S.E.A Title II (Section 203 (a) 3) requiring that federal aid to school libraries include an emphasis on career preparation equal to the emphasis now given the traditional academic curriculum (P.L. 92-318, Title V, Section 506a).

Those completing ninth grade cannot be expected to have many job skills or anything more than tentative career choices. However, the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades are important to career development because during these years the students expand their knowledge of themselves and their own skill potential and interests to the point where career exploration during the high school years will have a platform for in-depth experimentation and development.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This publication is the result of the combined efforts of the whole staff of the N.J. Occupational Resource Center at Edison over a two month period in the fall of 1972. Readers may well want to know who was in charge of what.

Edwin York, Coordinator of the N.J. Occupational Resource Center, coordinated and edited the manuscript. Priscilla Walsh, Assistant Coordinator, N.J. Occupational Resource Center, was responsible for the "Books for Students" section. Madhu Kapadia, Supervising Information Specialist, N.J. Occupational Resource Center, was responsible for the sections "Professional Books and Documents" and "Publishers and Suppliers;" Gordon Law, Jr., Research Associate, N.J. Occupational Resource Center at Edison, had responsibility for such sections as "Simulations and Instructional Games," "Guidance Kits", and "16mm Films;" Leo Richards, Coordinator, N.J. Career Education Media Evaluation Project at the Edison center, had responsibility for such sections as "Cassette Tapes," "Filmstrips," and "Super 8mm Film Cartridges;" and their own skill potential and interests to the point where career exploration during the high school years will have a platform for in-depth experimentation and development.

The manuscript also owes much to the following persons who carefully reviewed it and made suggestions for its improvement before its final draft form.
Most junior high school media centers have some resources concerning a few dozen occupations. But such provision of information just isn't enough. Career development is a complex process demanding both wide and deep resources. To assist a school or a district in choosing such resources is the main purpose of this publication.

Those developing curriculum for the nursery to adult Career Education programs throughout the nation, tell us that when a committee of teachers sits down to orient the curriculum to career development, these are the dimensions that get careful attention:

1. Career awareness. (students will gain knowledge about the range, nature and requirements of various careers)
2. Self-awareness. (students will gain knowledge about their own interests, abilities, aptitudes and potential)
3. Responsible attitudes. (students will demonstrate attitudes appropriate to exploring and developing their career potential)
4. Decision-making. (students will develop skill in making “next step” decisions concerning employment and/or education)
5. Backgrounds of current careers. (students will gain knowledge about economics, and the societal and technological aspects of careers in contemporary American society)
6. Basic educational skills. (students will acquire the basic communicative and computational skills necessary for entry level employment and/or continuing education)

You feel this is a major reconstruction of the curriculum? Exactly. It is. And isn't it about time? After all, the whole student body will need to be employed some day, even though 20% might make it through college. If you want some reliable data on the appalling need for such a movement in American education, send to us for a free special paper “Why Career Education, the Facts.”

If you want to discuss New Jersey's Introduction to Vocations Program—a widely recognized and rapidly growing program for grades 7-10—phone Dr. Margaret Blair or Mr. John Williams at (609) 292-5623.

For the convenience of the reader, this listing is organized by different types of media. In listing these resources, the types of media probably least familiar will be listed first. Consequently, films and books will come last. The sections will be as follows:

1. Simulations and Instructional Games
2. Devices for Individualized Instruction
3. Guidance Kits
4. Cassette Tapes
5. Filmstrips
6. Super 8mm. Film Cartridges
7. 16 mm. Films
8. Professional Books and Documents

Hard-to-find publishers' addresses are provided at the end of this publication. A subject index is also provided.

1. simulations and instructional games

A great number of instructional games, particularly economics and social studies games, are available for use with junior high school students. The following list, which is by no means exhaustive, contains games which are appropriate for the career orientation of junior high school students and are available at the N.J. Occupational Resource Center for examination or loan.

CONSUMER. (by Gerald Zaltman) This game simulates the economic life of everyday individuals. Eleven to thirteen, four may play in two hours or so. The game is an ideal one for consumer education. [Available from Western Publishing Company, Inc., School and Library Department ($30.00)]

DIRTY WATER. (by Judith Arrerson, Helen Trilling, Roger Moody, and Richard Rosen) DIRTY WATER simulates the problems involved in water pollution control. Two to four may play in an hour or two. [Available from Urban Systems, Inc. ($10.00)]

ECONOMIC SYSTEM. (by James S. Coleman and T. Robert Harris) Illustrates the workings of our economy. Seven to thirteen may play in 2-4 hours. The game is one of the best instructional economics simulations available. [Available from Western Publishing Company, Inc. ($25.00)]

budget game. It takes at least an hour for one to forty players. FLIP is somewhat more complex than CONSUMER, the best known consumer education game. [Available from Instructional Simulations Incorporated. ($34.00)]

GHETTO. (by Dove Toll) GHETTO illustrates the economic and social problems of inner city residents, and their difficulty in overcoming these problems. Seven to ten may play in 2-4 hours. The game is perhaps better used in suburban schools than in inner-city schools, where the nature of the depicted processes may be well understood already. [Available from Western Publishing Co., School and Library Department. ($20.00)]

LIFE CAREER. (by Serene S. Boocock) LIFE CAREER simulates the career development of individuals. Two to twenty may play in 1-6 hours. LIFE CAREER is of direct relevance to programs of Career Education and career guidance. [Available from Western Publishing Co., School and Library Department. ($35.00)]

SITTE. SITTE simulates the activity of interest groups in urban government. Fifteen to thirty-six may play in one to five 50 minute periods. [Available from SIMILE II. (25 student manuals for $35.00)]

SMOG. (by Judith Anderson, Helen Troling, Roger Moody, and Richard Rosen) SMOG simulates the problems involved in air pollution abatement programs. Two to four may play in 1 to 2½ hours. With DIRTY WATER, a good beginning for an introductory course in environmental education. [Available from Urban Systems, Inc. ($10.00)]

SUNSHINE. (by David Yount and Paul Dekock) SUNSHINE simulates a racial crisis in a typical American city. Twenty to thirty-five may play. The exercise requires 16 to 22 class periods. [Available from Interact. ($10.50)]

TRACTS. TRACTS is an urban land use game. Twelve to forty may play in two to four hours. [Available from Instructional Simulations Incorporated. ($39.00)]

Compulearn Career Education Program.

8½” x 11” Compulearn Console (simple desk computer), 322 program cards (112 for gr. k-6; 60 for gr. 6-7; 60 for gr. 8-9; 99 for gr. 10-12), and various guides. $65 for elementary; $65 for middle schools; $65 for gr. 10-12; Console alone, $25 Developed with U.S.O.E. funding, the Compulearn Program of Career Education is divided into three modules: the Awareness module (Grades K 6), the Guidance module (Grades 7-9), and the Establish module (Grades 10-12). (A) In the Awareness module, the student is taught to recognize the fact that everybody works, that all careers are important, and that all people need each other’s services. (B) In the Guidance module, the student uses a decision-making routine to determine his career profile, and is then directed to careers having the same characteristics. He then defines his own ideas of success and of what he wants from his career. (C) The third module, the Establish phase, gives the student basic facts about such items as average yearly salary, employment outlook and length of training time required for over 200 careers: the student is then taught how to research and evaluate career information, and is finally given a set of guidelines to help him prepare for his future after high school graduation, be it a career, college, vocational school, or the armed services.

To use this device, a program card is selected and placed on the face of the 8½” x 11” box The Question Probe is inserted into a hole corresponding to a question the person chooses to answer. The Answer Probe is inserted into the chosen answer outlet. If the answer chosen was correct, a light appears. A Select Button will provide the correct answer with a light.

Field testing in Pittsburgh and North Carolina showed the system to be of continuing value in both group-structured and independent learning settings.
3. guidance kits

WIDENING OCCUPATIONAL ROLES KIT (WORK). WORK contains 400 Junior Occupation-Briefs, 5 Junior Guidance Booklets, 35 Student Record Books, 5 color filmstrips, 1 Teacher’s Guide, and 1 Index. The kit may be used with either groups or individuals. [Available from Science Research Associates, Inc. ($211.35)]

CAREER GAMES. (by E. N. Chapman) Educational Progress Corporation, P.O. Box 45663, Tulsa, Oklahoma 74145. [398 cards: score pads; filmstrip; cassette; guide: $78.50] A guidance tool for grades 8-13, designed as a classroom kit or individualized semi-programmed activity in a resource center. The individual is taken on a career search in which he is confronted with unavoidable decisions. More similar to other guidance kits listed than to the simulations listed above.

CAREER DESK-TOP KIT (JUNIOR HIGH KIT). The JUNIOR HIGH KIT contains 900 job descriptions. An updating subscription service is available from the publisher, through which approximately 240 descriptions are provided per year. [Available from Careers, Inc. ($114.50)]

V.I.E.W. (Vital Information for Education and Work). Central Jersey Industry-Education Council, 2 Main St., Woodbridge, N.J. 07095. [120 punched cards with a microform aperture, $50 with updating of $25 per year. This deck of aperture cards provides key information on 99 different occupations important in the Middlesex and Somerset Counties area. Sorting can be by hand or by machine. Each aperture contains microforms of up to four 8½” X 11” pages. A pamphlet with the title V.I.E.W. is available from C.J.I.E.C.

4. cassette tapes

Five major sets of cassette tapes are now available: (a) Voices for Careers; (b) Motivation for Career Success; (c) Creating Your Future; (d) American Occupational Series; and (e) Career Development Laboratory.

A. VOICES FOR CAREERS

A brief description of a new kind of resource is in order — a resource that should be important for many aspects of career exploration for seventh, eighth, and ninth grade students: the Voices for Careers system. It is a way for New Jersey educators to secure free copies of any of 502 cassette tapes helpful to career exploration.

To work the Voices for Careers system, a New Jersey educator obtains a copy of the catalog from the N.J. Occupational Resource Center, picks up to five different items and sends the request to the Center with an appropriate number of blank cassette tapes. Each item may be duplicated in as many as six copies. The cassettes are duplicated on special high speed machinery at the Edison center and sent to the requestor without charge. Remember that this is an "on demand" system to serve individual educators and not designed to build library collections. However, school media centers would do well to expedite the use of this unique system for their patrons' sake.

Some examples of cassette tapes available to New Jersey educators through the Voices for Careers system may help the reader to see the quality of this collection. Specific occupations given attention are as follows:

- Actors and Actresses
- Anthropologist
- Architects
- Astronauts
- Atomic Scientist
- Authors
- Banker
- Cartoonists
- Corporation Executives
- Geologist
- Herpetologist
- Industrial Designers
- Lawyer
- Manual Laborer
- Medical Profession
- Musician
- Organized Labor Leaders
- Ornithologist
- Photographer
- Political Leaders
- Publisher
- Singers
- Sports Stars
- Teachers

B. MOTIVATION FOR CAREER SUCCESS

38 cassettes in a coordinated instructional system with manuals, schedules, and evaluative devices. Education Achievement Corporation, P.O. Box 7310 Waco, Texas 76710.

Presents concepts critical to career success for junior and senior high school students. These six instructional modules form the structure for the thirty lessons of this system: (A) Developing Commitment for Career Success; (B) Developing Habits for Career Success; (C) Developing a Life-Style for Intelligent Action; (D) Developing Leadership Ability for Career Success, and (E) Planning for Career Success; and (F) Education for Career Success.
C. CREATING YOUR FUTURE.

38 cassettes in a coordinated instructional system with manuals, schedules, and evaluative devices. Education Achievement Corporation. P.O. Box 7310, Waco, Texas 76710. Especially designed for the career orientation of underachieving youth and adults, these six instructional modules form the structure for the thirty lessons of this system: (A) Developing Awareness for Career Commitment; (B) Learning Habits to Build Your Career; (C) Developing a Life-Style for Career Successes; (D) Developing Leadership Skills for Career Opportunities, (E) Planning Your Future, and (F) Education for Your Future

D. AMERICAN OCCUPATION SERIES.

E. CAREER DEVELOPMENT LABORATORY.

30 cassette tapes, each with two interviews; placement survey forms; guide: $228.70. [Educational Progress Corporation. P.O. Box 45663, Tulsa, Oklahoma 74145] Sixty interviews with successful working people; for grades 8 through 13. Sixty percent of the careers are professional, forty per cent are technical and non-professional. The survey form guides students to appropriate cassettes.

5. filmstrips

The following compilation of .5mm filmstrips is limited to items dated no older than 1968. The National Information Center for Educational Media Index for 35mm Filmstrips, together with various publishers' catalogues, provided the sources for the information contained in this list of filmstrips. Filmstrips are a widely accepted form of media, are relatively inexpensive but are troublesome to shelve.

A brief description of the content of each filmstrip is included below. Cost and length are given where available. The source of the publication is also added. These filmstrips are generally in color and with sound, except as otherwise indicated. All are owned by or have been ordered for the N.J. Occupational Resource Center at Edison.

Series will be listed before individual filmstrips.

6. super 8mm. film cartridges

A check of the NICEM (National Information Center for Educational Media) Index to 8MM Motion Cartridges, both the 1969 and 1971 editions, revealed two extensive series of “Super 8’s” important for career orientation. The more extensive series of the two is by Encyclopedia Britannica Educational Corporation, is entitled “Job Opportunities,” and includes fifty silent color film loops. The other series is by Doubleday Multimedia, is entitled “Careers in the Seventies” and involves 13 sound color film loops.

A. JOB OPPORTUNITIES.

This series of fifty silent color 8 mm. film loops provides a picture of the nature of the work in each of fifty occupations, ranging from manual occupations to skilled trades and technical occupations. Teacher's guides accompany each loop. Although recent, there is no date of production. [Available from: Encyclopedia Britannica Educational Corp. $22.00 each item] The titles follow.

B. CAREERS IN THE SEVENTIES.

This series of thirteen sound color film loops introduces occupations in twelve fields and offers an additional loop on making a career choice. They vary in length from 9 minutes to nearly 16 minutes.

The objectives of the series are: (1) To help move students along a vocational guidance continuum toward confidence in a specific preference; (2) To positively affect student's attitudes toward work; (3) To stimulate student's interest in learning more about occupational fields; (4) To expose students to a broad range of occupations within the major career fields, and to introduce them to some occupations not known to them before; (5) To help students see relationships between their abilities and interests and their occupational choices; (6) To assist students in making decisions about career choices; and, (7) To enhance schools' vocational guidance programs.

Recent field testing of these materials (in 16mm. format) with 3,051 9th and 11th grade students from four high schools in Orange County, California revealed that: (1) the above objectives were met (52% for objective #1, and over 88% for the rest); (2) the material was most effective when used as a part of a vocational guidance program; and (3) the material was also effective when followed by student-led discussions. (The Orange County, California Vocational Guidance Research Study: An Evaluation of Career Guidance Films, no date.) All were produced in 1970. [Available from Doubleday Multimedia — $98.50 each, except for "Making A Choice" which costs $188.50] The titles follow:

"Careers: Making A Choice"  "Careers: Government Services"
"Careers: Agri-business"    "Careers: Health Services"
"Careers: Clerical"         "Careers: Labour Services"
"Careers: Communications"  "Careers: Mechanical"
"Careers: Construction"    "Careers: Sales"
"Careers: Education"       "Careers: Technicians"
"Careers: General Services"

7. 16mm. films

All of the 16mm. films listed in this section are dated since 1968, are indexed by NICEM (National Information Center for Educational Media) and have been reviewed or described in publications other than those of the producers or distributors. It is a token listing. An exhaustive list would certainly involve several thousand films. Here is an example of the extensiveness of these films: in the NICEM Index to 16MM Films, 272 films are listed under just the category "Guidance, Vocational."

Each entry includes the film's title, technical characteristics, distributor, year of production, and a concise statement of content. Also, a citation to a review or description is provided.

School media centers should make their own contacts for the rental of 16mm. films. Only the film Career Education is available from the N.J. Occupational Resource Center.

"U.O.I." is an abbreviation used to report availability of a film from the Visual Aids Service of the University of Illinois, Division of University Extension, 1325 South Oak Street, Champaign, Illinois 61820. Regulations on renting films from this source are found in any issue of the journal The Lens and Speaker.

The films are presented under the following topics: (a) the employment marketplace; (b) specific occupations; (c) the job; and (d) an overview of the concept of Career Education for educators and parents.

A. THE EMPLOYMENT MARKETPLACE

JOBS IN THE WORLD OF WORK: A GOOD PLACE TO BE. (McGraw-Hill) 1969; 12 Min., Sound, Color. Stresses the importance of preparation for employment. For further information, see Landers Film Reviews, V. 15, N. 4.

B. SPECIFIC OCCUPATIONS

C. THE JOB

D. AN OVERVIEW OF THE CONCEPT OF CAREER EDUCATION FOR EDUCATORS AND PARENTS.

CAREER EDUCATION (U.S.O.F.) 1972, 27 Min., Sound, Color. Revised edition; original edition was withdrawn. Five major directions for Career Education are identified and illustrated: (1) the whole community, including the home, must be involved; (2) every teacher in every subject area must contribute to and greatly benefit from the Career Education approach; (3) guidance programs must be expanded to include career development for all; (4) business and labor must be partners with the schools in providing work experience programs; and (5) specific skill training is necessary for job entry, skill upgrading or job re-entry. A major value of the film is that educators come to see Career Education not as "cast in bronze" or as a finished blueprint but as something that must be invented locally if it is to be effective. Reviewed in Career Education Progress, Vol. 1, No. 2 (Spring 1972). The revised edition, when released, will be available for loan without charge from the N.J. Occupational Resource Center, Edison. If you wish to purchase a copy of the revised edition: $92.50 from Sales Branch, National Audio-Visual Center, Washington, D.C. 20409.
Teachers and administrators are an important target for the services of junior high school media centers. Consequently, the resources uniquely meeting their needs are consideration which should not receive an "optional" or "next year" treatment.

Carefully development of resources for professional use is especially important because of both the continuing need for the growth of professionals and also the substantial expense of some of the suggested resources.

The subsections below will consider: free ERIC documents in microfiche form; career information; education in the U.S.; multi-media information; and printed instructional materials. All items listed are available for examination at the N.J. Occupational Resource Center at Edison, or have been ordered.

A. FREE E.R.I.C. DOCUMENTS

New Jersey educators now have the advantage of having access to free copies of nearly every E.R.I.C. (Educational Resources Information Center) document in microfiche form. This means that every school media center utilizing this service has added to its resources for its professional educators a collection of about 85,000 documents. E.R.I.C. covers the entire range of education, from early childhood education through university levels. This nation-wide information system has been in operation since November of 1966. Every month nearly one thousand current reports are added to E.R.I.C.

“The New Jersey Career Education Research Utilization System" is the name given to a unique E.R.I.C. availability service which began in June 1971 and distributed 17,000 documents to New Jersey educators during its first year of operation. A local school media center or individual educator phones or writes the Resource Center at Edison with “ED” document numbers and the staff of the Resource Center reproduces the documents and mails them normally within 24 hours directly to the requestor. At this time, no other public agency is performing this function in New Jersey.

Just to get started, school media centers could (1) rely on listings of E.R.I.C. documents found in various publications such as Feedback or Career Education Progress, which are both quarterlies issued by the N.J. Occupational Resource Centers; and (2) rely on borrowing a portable microfiche reader for short periods from where such readers are stationed in every county in New Jersey.

In order to fully exploit this system, school media centers need E.R.I.C. indexes (less than $100.00), some type of portable microfiche readers (about $100.00) and this phone number and address: 201-985-7769; N.J. Occupational Resource Center, Bldg. 871, R.M.C., Plainfield Avenue, Edison, N.J. 08817.

Some useful E.R.I.C. indexes are listed here with ordering information:

1. Research in Education. A monthly abstracting and indexing journal announcing recently completed research or research-related reports and other documents of educational significance. Reading only the abstracts in one's subject area is itself an education. Subject, author, and institution indexes. (Annual subscription: $21.00 with annual index, $28.00. Available from Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402)

2. E.R.I.C. Educational Documents Index 1966-69. $34.50.

5. Abstracts of Research and Related Materials in Vocational and Technical Education. A quarterly journal incorporating abstracts of research and other related documents. (Annual subscription for each of these two is $11.00. Available from: The Center for Vocational and Technical Education, The Ohio State University, 1900 Kenny Road, Columbus, Ohio 43210).

6. Career Education, an ERIC Bibliography. CCM, 1972. (distributed by Macmillan, Library Services) $9.95. Includes all ERIC citations and abstracts concerning the relation of education to work and increasing the career options of every student.

B. CAREER INFORMATION

implications of automation as a form of technological change, and the manpower challenge it creates. Surveys programs designed to meet the manpower revolution, and suggests education’s responsibilities in preparing students and others for changing job markets.

COUNSELOR’S INFORMATION SERVICE. B’nai B’rith Vocational Service. Quarterly. $7.00 per year. An annotated bibliography of current literature on occupations, and educational and vocational guidance. Each issue describes nearly 250 publications. Its listing of guidance and educational periodicals with complete ordering information is especially helpful.

The definitions provide the following information: functions performed by the worker; significant aptitudes, interests, and temperaments required by the job; and, critical physical demands and working conditions.

Volume II: Occupational Classification and Industry Index. 1965. 665 pages. $4.25. Volume II complements Volume I by presenting the occupational classification structure consisting of two arrangements of jobs: (1) occupational group arrangement and (2) worker traits arrangement.

Supplement I: Selected Characteristics of Occupations. 1966. 280 pages. $2.75. Lists individual physical demands, working conditions, and training time data for each job defined in the Dictionary.

Supplement II: Selected Characteristics of Occupations by Worker Traits and Physical Strength. 1968. 156 pages. $1.25. Rearranges the data of Supplement I by grouping together jobs according to the worker traits.

MANPOWER. (Monthly magazine). U.S. Department of Labor. Manpower Administration, Washington, D.C. About 34 pp. per issue; annual subscription of 12 issues. $7.50. Covers broad spectrum of programs and developments in job training and employment, including efforts to aid the disadvantaged, and improve vocational education and research.

NVGA BIBLIOGRAPHY OF CURRENT CAREER INFORMATION, National Vocational Guidance Association, 1969 129 pages. $2.00. This compilation lists more than 1,300 publications, with the levels of recommendation, evaluated from 1966-1968 in the Vocational Guidance Quarterly, which systematically reviews and grades the current career literature.

OCCUPATIONAL LITERATURE: AN ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY. Forrester, Gertrude. New York, H. W. Wilson, 1971 edition. 519 pages. $15.00. The 1971 edition of this comprehensive bibliography annotates nearly 6,000 selected references to available occupational literature. Only 1500 are books but 4,500 are pamphlets, otherwise difficult to locate. Approximately 1,000 publications are available free. Publications are classified under about 500 occupational titles arranged alphabetically and with DOT numbers. Titles are annotated with complete bibliographic information and some of them are starred or double starred for recommendation. It is an indispensable work of great value for building a collection of career literature.

OCCUPATIONAL OUTLOOK HANDBOOK 1972-73 EDITION. Bureau of Labor Statistics, GPO, 1972. 879 pages. $6.25. This Handbook is the most comprehensive, most authentic and most valuable source for occupational and career information. The current (eleventh) edition describes 800 occupations and 30 major industries. For each occupation, it explains: the nature of that work; places of employment; training and other qualifications required; advancement opportunities; employment outlook; and, earnings and working conditions. It also identifies sources of additional information.

The introductory chapter, "Tomorrow's Jobs", gives a graphic overview of where people work today, what will be the employment growth through the 1970's and the interrelationship of education, training and job opportunity.

The Handbook is designed for use by students, parents, teachers and counselors. Counselors looking for career information should always first turn to this outstanding work. The Handbook is revised and reissued every two years. In between editions, one is kept up to date by the Occupational Outlook Quarterly, which reports the findings of new Occupational Outlook research.

A total of 141 reprints on different occupations is available separately for 10c-20c. Also available for $10.00 is a set of 40 color slides, Jobs for the 1970's, describing the occupational composition of today's work force and the changes anticipated during the 1970's.

A STARTER FILE OF FREE OCCUPATIONAL LITERATURE. Eisen, Irving and Goodman. L. H. B'nai B'rith Vocational Service. 1970. 29 pages. $1.25. This is a list of carefully selected materials which can be ordered to organize a cost-free occupational file. Selection is based on the career interests and needs of young counselors. For each of the 103 careers, the DOT code number, pamphlet title, year of publication, and name and address of publishing organization are included.

C. EDUCATION IN THE U.S.

CAREER EDUCATION: THE NEW FRONTIER. Worthington, Ohio. Charles A. Jones Publishing Co., 1972. 128 p. $5.95 This book by Ressler was designed to assist teachers and administrators in initiating Career Education programs in elementary and secondary schools.

DIGEST OF EDUCATIONAL STATISTICS. Washington, D.C. G.P.O., 1970. 140 pages. $1.25. Published annually. This annual is a compilation of statistics, presented entirely in tables and charts. The data has been gathered from governmental and private sources, and covers the whole field of American education from kindergarten through graduate school. The publication contains information on a variety of subjects within the field of educational statistics, including the numbers of schools and colleges, enrollments, teachers, graduates, educational attainment, finances, federal funds for education, libraries, international education, and research and development.

EDUCATION INDEX. Monthly (except July and August). New York, H. W. Wilson. $25.00 per year. This basic and fundamental index to periodical literature is an indispensable reference work in education. Currently it indexes about 240 American and a few British titles. Although primarily a periodical index, it also includes some proceedings, year-books, bulletins, monographs and material printed by the U.S. Government. For each citation, it gives author, title, volume, paging, and date of the periodical, with an indication of illustrations, portraits, and bibliographies when these arc found in the articles.

EDUCATION U.S.A. SPECIAL REPORTS. Washington, D.C., National School Public Relations Association. $36.00 per year for 10 Special Reports. Each Special Report probes in depth a single area of education, bringing you up to date on current developments, reports on successful programs in operation in school districts, contains case studies and profiles of effective projects and tells you how to locate additional helpful information. Some of the reports are: year-round schools, vocational education, differentiated staffing, etc. Each individual report is available for $4.00.

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH. 4th. ed. Macmillan, 1969. 1522 pages. $31.00. This encyclopedia provides "a critical and evaluative synthesis of the literature of educational research." The scholarly articles typically include a critical summary and evaluation of research on the topic to date and suggest needed research in the area. The long lists of selected references to research studies and educational literature in general is the most valuable feature of this work. The encyclopedia is updated by the Review of Educational Research.

STANDARD EDUCATIONAL ALMANAC 1971. Los Angeles, Academic Media, 1971. $59 pages $35.00. Published annually. This is a comprehensive, up to date guide to educational facts and statistics useful as a ready-reference source of educational information for teachers, librarians, administrators and the general public. The entire volume is conveniently divided into six parts: education (general); elementary and secondary education; higher education; education and the federal government; related statistics of education; and directories of education. The index provides quick access to specific topics such as adult education, vocational education, legislation, busing, etc.

D. MULTI-MEDIA INFORMATION

AUDIOVISUAL MARKET PLACE, 1971: A MULTIMEDIA GUIDE. Bowker, 1971. 234 pages. $15.00. Published annually. An annual directory of both hardware and software producers and distributors. Entries are arranged alphabetically by firm name and indicate addresses, phone numbers, names of key personnel, types of equipment or material offered, and availability of printed material supplied with the product.

CATALOG OF EDUCATIONAL FILMS, 1969-72. Visual Aids Service, University of Illinois, 1969. 599 pages. $3.00. The Visual Aids Service at the University of Illinois has one of the largest and finest collections of 16mm educational films available on a rental basis. This catalog annotates more than 10,000 titles. The coverage is broad and extensive. In addition to the description of the film's content, each entry gives the name of the producing organization and/or national distributor of the film, running time, black and white, or color, production date, grade level and rental rate. Film descriptions are listed alphabetically by title. There is a fairly detailed subject index.

EDUCATIONAL PRODUCT REPORT. Monthly, published nine times a year, October through June. Educational Products Information and Exchange Institute. $35.00 per year. EPIE provides information and counsel based on impartial independent studies of availability, use and effectiveness of educational materials, equipment, and systems. Some of the reports on instructional equipment are: Day Study Carrels, 8mm Silent and Sound Projectors, Helical Scan Video Tape Recorders, Dial Access and Alternative Systems, 16mm Projectors, etc. Educational Product Report is indeed unique and indispensable. Every month the Report contains information that can save a school many times its yearly $35.00 membership fee.

GUIDE TO SIMULATION GAMES FOR EDUCATION AND TRAINING. Zuckerman, David W. and Horn, Robert E., eds. Information Resources, Lexington, Mass. 1973. 501 pages. $15.00. This is an up-to-date, carefully edited reference source giving complete information on over 400 simulation games. Descriptions of these instructional games are arranged by subjects such as business, economics, ecology, reading, mathematics, urban affairs, etc. This Guide should lead one to discover some really interesting games suitable for a wide variety of instructional settings. Be sure to get the second edition.

INDEX TO 8MM MOTION CARTRIDGES. 3rd. edition. New York, Bowker, 1972. $34.50. Lists and describes over 18,000 educational 8mm motion cartridges, with the following information: annotations; running time; series listing; audience level; year of release; producer/distributor codes; color or black and white; whether film is silent, or has optical or magnetic sound track; and L.C. card number.

INDEX TO VOCATIONAL AND TECHNICAL EDUCATION. 1st ed. New York, Bowker, 1972. $22.50. The National Information Center for Educational Media is the world's largest data bank for audiovisual materials. NICEM has published a number of indexes.

This multimedia index is a valuable source to over 15,000 titles in seven media areas dealing with all aspects and all levels of vocational education. For each entry, arranged alphabetically by title, it gives the following information: descriptive annotations; series listings; physical description of media, such as type, color, speed, etc.; audience level; producer/distributor codes; and year of release.

Only three more individual indexes are annotated here; some other NICEM indexes are to 16mm films, to filmstrips, and to audio tapes and records.

NEW EDUCATIONAL MATERIALS, 1970. Markham. Lois, comp. New York, Citation Press, 1970. 239 pages. $3.75. Published annually. This edition evaluates more than 500 items including books, films, recordings, multi-media kits, filmstrips, transparencies, film loops, teaching-learning games and professional guides. Entries are arranged by title and provide author, publisher, year, price, pages and suggested grade level and rating. With this 1970 annual, the New Educational Materials series brings together over 2,200 evaluations. Every school library should have the complete series.

INDEX TO EDUCATIONAL OVERHEAD TRANSPARENCIES. 3rd edition. New York, Bowker, 1972. $49.50. Lists and describes over 35,000 transparencies with the following information: descriptive annotation, series listing, physical size, type (prepared, operable, polarized), number of overlays, color, audience level, producer/distributor codes, and year of release.

INDEX TO EDUCATIONAL VIDEO TAPES, 2nd edition. New York, Bowker, 1972. $16.50. Lists and describes the educational content of over 9,000 tapes. The alphabetical title section, in addition to providing annotation for each title, contains the following information: length in minutes, series listings, indication of broadcast quality, tape size availability (1/2", 3/4", 1" and 2"), release date in the U.S. and producer/distributor codes. Most video tapes are available from distributors in either standard quadruplex or helical scan tape configurations.

E. PRINTED INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS

Excellent resources for career orientation are available for teachers at this age level.

Suggestions for Implementing and Organizing Prevocational Education Programs for South Carolina. Teacher’s Guide. A Unit in Prevocational Education. VT015627 - ED067490
During the grades 7-9, the student should become more aware of the many careers available, what is required for major types of careers, and what he or she likes and does well.

As in the elementary grades, several publishers provide series which include information about many individual careers. The Richard Rosen Press has 105 titles in the two series, "Careers In Depth" and "Aim High Vocational Guidance Series". The Messner Publishing Company has at least 39 titles in its "Career Books Series" and there are 61 titles listed in the Vocational Guidance Manuals Series. All the titles in the above series have not been included in this list, but only those titles appearing since 1968.

The titles have been arranged under the following categories: (A) individual careers, (B) career fiction, (C) books on several careers or career decisions, (D) career exploration activities, and (E) foldouts and comic books. Author, title, publisher, publication date, and cost is given for each book, as available.

All of the books on this list are, or will be, available at the Edison Center for loan. The reader is advised to examine specific books at the center before making selections for purchase.

D. CAREER EXPLORATION ACTIVITIES

The Boy Scouts of America has an outstanding set of pamphlets helpful for both young women and young men in their career exploration. Their authoritativeness and usefulness earn them a place here in this listing.

This series of pamphlets - known as the "Merit Badge Library" - now numbers 124. Frequent revision is a feature of the series. The following fifty-two pamphlets have been revised since 1968:

American Business, #3325
Art, #3320
Astronomy, #3303
Aviation, #3293

E. FOLDOUTS AND COMIC BOOKS

A foldout series and two comic book series concerning careers are now available for use or distribution in school media resource centers, classrooms, cafeterias, and even hallways. At least examine each set before deciding about their usefulness.
PEOPLE AND CHOICES CAREER FOLIOS. Seven sets, each with ten career biographies with 1d-out formats: 7½" x 8½" folded; color. Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, 1970. $7.95 per set; $7.95 per teacher's guide and introductory sample of ten biographies from different sets. The careers of real persons are presented vividly. The materials were designed to appeal to minority group members in urban settings. The sets now available are as follows:

1. Health Careers;
2. Teaching, Social Work, Government;
3. Business, Finance;
4. Science, Technology;
5. Performing Arts;
6. Communication, Transportation;
7. Creative Arts.

Three other sets in preparation are as follows:

8. Personal Service;
9. Building Maintenance, Repair Crafts;
10. Sports, Recreation.
