INTRODUCTION

This is the fourth annual edition of A GUIDE TO PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT OPPORTUNITIES FOR COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY ADMINISTRATORS. Its purpose is to help college and university administrators locate places where they can get help on management procedures throughout 1974.

This edition includes a wide variety of activities from a large number of sponsors. In addition to activities sponsored by associations, corporations, and consulting groups, a number of seminars and short-term professional development courses given at colleges and universities have been included. As in previous editions, university degree programs and their component courses are not included. Nor have we listed the extensive programs which many professional associations carry on at their annual meetings.

The enthusiastic response to the previous editions of this guide testifies to the widespread interest of college administrators in improving their management capabilities. Reasons behind the need for such opportunities—the financial pinch, social turbulence, pressures for change, high turnover, increasingly complex managerial responsibilities—have not abated during the past year. Indeed, they have increased. The demand for professional development programs in higher education management remains high.

The Academy would like to thank all those who cooperated in submitting information on their programs. It welcomes further comments from users of the Guide, and from organizations who would like to have their programs listed in future editions.

In most cases the descriptions presented here were prepared by the sponsoring organizations. The Guide is intended solely as a source of information; the appearance or absence of a particular organization or program represents no endorsement, criticism or other evaluation by the Academy.
FORMAT FOR PROGRAM LISTINGS

The information in each program summary is organized wherever possible according to the following format:

1. Name or title of activity

2. Sponsoring organization(s)

3. Date(s) and location(s)

4. Fees and what they cover

5. Room and board accommodations

2. The Institute for Advanced Technology

   For future dates please contact the Institute.

4. $350 fee includes course materials and luncheons.

5. The cost of hotel rooms is not included in the registration fee. IAT does not arrange hotel reservations; however, the hotels will hold a block of rooms for seminar participants until two weeks before the seminar. Hotel reservation cards will be forwarded with registration confirmation. Please contact the hotels directly for reservations, mentioning IAT, Control Data Corporation, the seminar, and dates attending.

6. Registration should be made two weeks prior to the seminar start date. Contact The Institute for Advanced Technology, 5272 River Road, Bethesda, Maryland 20016.

7. This seminar examines the revolutionary management technique Theory Z, and explains how to employ this technique directly in your own company. Theory Z unites the older management techniques such as Theories X and Y, job enrichment, MBO, PERT/CPM, positive reinforcement, communication and persuasion, etc. into a new unified approach. The other techniques are very useful in certain circumstances; but what happens when things are not going the way they should, when action is needed, and needed immediately? These are the situations that separate successful men from the "also-rans". These are the situations for Theory Z.

7. The accountability seminars, sponsored by the Professional Development Committee of the AAUA, will provide critical information about and analyses of current developments in the area of accountability in the private and public sectors of higher education. The seminars will bring together administrators, faculty members, trustees, and state and federal government representatives to discuss accountability as it affects individual campuses. Enrollment is limited to insure maximum participation.
1. ACADEMIC ADMINISTRATION INTERNSHIP PROGRAM (AAIP)

3. September 1, 1974. The Council invites the almost 1400 member institutions, through their presidents and chief academic officers, to participate in the 1975-76 AAIP. Upon receipt of acceptances, the Council sends nominating forms. Deadline for receipt of acceptances is October 25.
   September 1975-May 1976. Internship (no more than 40) on host or home campuses.

4. ACE pays program costs (e.g., seminars, selection & process, meetings); institution pays salary of Fellow and moving expenses, if any.

5. Presidents of ACE member institutions, between September 1 and November 22, 1974, nominate by prescribed procedure faculty and junior staff who have demonstrated potential for academic leadership. For information write Dr. Thomas M. Stauffer, Director, Academic Administration Internship Program, American Council on Education, One Dupont Circle, Washington, D.C. 20036. Phone (202) 833-4765.

7. Qualifications: 30-40 years of age, though persons 28-45 will be considered; doctorate or generally recognized terminal degree, two years teaching experience; evidence of high potential for administrative leadership. Various qualifications may be waived when other evidence of potential is presented. Week-long seminars, regional meetings, an analytical paper, and extensive reading supplement the internship experience at policy and operational levels; a senior administrator acts as mentor. Thirty-four Fellows have become presidents; others include vice presidents, provosts, academic deans. Race, sex, type of institution represented by candidates for AAIP, or other such factors have no bearing on possibility of selection.
1. WORKSHOP FOR WOMEN CONSIDERING CAREERS IN COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY ADMINISTRATION

3. April 29, 30 and May 1, 1974, Reston, Virginia.

4. $65 registration fee covers program fee and all conference materials, two group dinners, two group luncheons, four coffees and two social hours. (The remaining program costs and related expenses are being underwritten by the American Council on Education.) It is expected that participating institutions will cover participants' expenses.

1. INSTITUTE ON ACADEMIC ADMINISTRATION

2. University of Michigan, Office of the President--Funded by Carnegie Corporation and Ford Foundation

4. A tuition fee of $300 will cover all costs of instruction not covered by the foundation grants.

5. Approximately $28 per week for room; board is to be covered individually.

6. Applications may be made by letter with resume enclosed. Nomination must be by institution. Application must be received by March 1, 1974. Institute on Academic Administration, 2064 Administration Building, University of Michigan, Attention: Virginia Davis Nordin, Director.

7. The Institute was conducted on a pilot-program basis in 1973. The purpose was to train faculty women for leadership positions in administration of large, complex and decentralized universities. It is not necessary for the faculty woman to have previous experience, but Ph.D.s with a tenure-ladder position are preferred. The institution should underwrite the cost of the institute. Candidates who are under consideration for advancement into administrative positions are preferred. Courses are taught by University administrators, including the President, Vice-President, and the Director, Center for the Study of Higher Education, as well as professors of higher education and professors from the business school. Course content includes use of computer simulation in academic decision-making, collective bargaining negotiation, academic problem-solving, legal problems of higher education, budgeting and budgeting systems, fund raising, federal and state relations, legislative relations, affirmative action, counseling, and state coordination. Each participant spends six weeks analyzing a current administrative problem at Michigan, then makes suggestions for its solution.

5. Living arrangements at the discretion of the participant.

6. The deadline for submission of application and fee is March 15, 1974. For information contact William J. Russell, Deputy Executive Officer, American Educational Research Association, 1126-16th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20036. Phone (202) 223-9485.

7. This session is designed to develop the capability to use the general linear models as an approach to the formulation and analysis of research problems. The session will be of special interest to educational researchers who have the basic statistical tools in their repertoire, but because of the rapid improvement of computer techniques for the systematic organization and analysis of data are presently unable to formulate research problems for computer analyses that will yield answers to the questions at issue. The activities will be divided evenly between lecture-discussion and laboratory exercises related to the objectives. Laboratory sessions are designed to provide for individual differences through continuous progress evaluation. The illustrative problems will come largely from the behavioral sciences. Speakers include Dr. Joe H. Ward, Jr., Air Force Human Resource Laboratory, and Dr. Earl Jennings, University of Texas at Austin.
1. CRITERION-REFERENCED MEASUREMENT

4. AERA members $50; non-members $70.

5. Living arrangements at the discretion of the participant.

6. The deadline for submission of application and fee is March 15, 1974. For information contact William J. Russell, Deputy Executive Officer, American Educational Research Association, 1126-16th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20036. Phone (202) 223-9485.

7. The purpose of this training session is to increase the participants' skills in constructing, evaluating and using criterion-referenced tests and to comprehend the issues relating to such measuring devices. Specific topics include: types of criterion-referenced tests, item construction and selection, estimation of domain scores, determining test length and passing scores, assessment of test reliability and validity, and applications of criterion-referenced tests for such educational tasks as needs assessments, individualized instruction, program evaluation, teacher evaluation. The intended audience are educators at all levels concerned with the utility of criterion-referenced testing for the improvement of education. No prerequisites are required to attend. Speakers include Dr. Jason Millman, Cornell University, and Dr. Robert Glaser, University of Pittsburgh.
1. FRONTIERS OF RESEARCH ON INSTRUCTION

4. AERA members $75; non-members $105.

5. Living arrangements at the discretion of the participant.

6. The deadline for submission of application and fee is March 15, 1974. For information contact William J. Russell, Deputy Executive Officer, American Educational Research Association, 1126-16th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20036. Phone (202) 223-9485.

7. This pre-session will consider the implications for research on instruction of current work in cognitive psychology, psycholinguistics, and artificial intelligence. The conference will be organized around three themes: the analysis of knowledge, the structure of educational materials, and the management of learner processes. Analytic instructional research, rather than lesson development know-how, will be stressed. Dr. Richard C. Anderson, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign.
1. NEW MODELS AND METHODS IN EDUCATIONAL EVALUATION

4. AERA members $50; non-members $70.

5. Living arrangements at the discretion of the participant.

6. The deadline for submission of application and fee is March 15, 1974. For information contact William J. Russell, Deputy Executive Officer, American Educational Research Association, 1126-16th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20036. Phone (202) 223-9485.

7. The emphasis of this training session will be on pay-offs for practical evaluation, although some attention will be given to topics of conceptualizations. The session will consist of a discussion of a number of new practices and perspectives in educational evaluation that have emerged in the last 2 or 3 years and are not yet discussed in print--or only briefly.

1. WORKSHOP ON EVALUATION RESEARCH

2. Indiana University

4. $100 covers all workshop costs except for academic credit which may be earned if participants qualify and desire.

5. Participants will live in a conference center within a residence hall area.

6. Apply by May 24, 1974 to Dr. Donald L. Coan, School of Education 228, Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana 47401. Phone (812) 337-0175.

7. The Workshop is intended for college and university administrators with primary responsibilities for directing and assessing the worth of student personnel and related programs and services. Sensitivity to the pressures of educational quality and accountability and commitment to exploring ways of meeting these demands are the major requisites for participation in the Workshop. Participants are encouraged to bring a real evaluation problem from their institution which can be shared and discussed. The Workshop is designed to assess participants' attitudes, needs, and problems of evaluation, to develop evaluation skills, and to increase the relevance of evaluation to college administration. Basic issues, principles, and approaches of evaluation will be examined. Specific topics include developing program objectives and priorities, designing and executing evaluation studies, forming evaluative criteria, political factors in educational evaluation, utilizing results from evaluation research, etc. The Workshop will consist of lecture presentations, discussions, case studies, and role-playing situations led by evaluation specialists as well as college administrators.

PROJECTED PROGRAMS AND RELATED ACTIVITIES
THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY ADMINISTRATORS held its second National Assembly in Washington, D. C., May 6-7, 1973, and is making plans for National Assembly Three, to be held in Boston, Massachusetts, April 28-30, 1974. Policy statements on collective bargaining and on the rights of administrators have been adopted. A 24-hour seminar on collective bargaining and higher education was held in Chicago in February 1973. Three similar seminars on accountability in higher education are being arranged for 1973-74. An invitational conference on major issues faced by higher education administrators will also be held. A Clearinghouse for Career Advancement has been established for members. A newsletter, Communique, is issued quarterly. Investigative services for members are provided. Chapters have been established in Alabama, Rutgers (New Jersey), and Western New York. For further information contact Fred A. Bennett, General Secretary, American Association of University Administrators, One Library Circle, Crosby Hall, Buffalo, New York 14213. Phone (716) 245-5551.

BRAKELEY, JOHN PRICE JONES, INC. has in the past offered seminars in the areas of organization, planning and governance. Though no seminars in these areas are scheduled for 1974, they will be offered in sufficient demand as indicated. For more information contact Charles A. Brecht, President, Brakeley, John Price Jones, Inc., 6 East 43rd Street, New York, New York 10017. Phone (212) 697-7120.

THE COLLEGE PLACEMENT COUNCIL, INC., through its Professional Training and Development Committee, encourages and supports universities in developing and conducting national institutes for career planning and placement personnel. Last summer two such institutes were held: at the University of California—Los Angeles and the University of Houston. Most of the seven regional college placement associations affiliated with the Council conduct annual workshops for placement directors and/or employer representatives who recruit college graduates. For more information contact Warren E. Kauffman, Editor, College Placement Council, P. O. Box 2263, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania 18001.
DOUGLAS TROUT ASSOCIATES, INC. offers the development/total approach to consulting and training for institutions of higher education, including teleproductions consulting services. Committed to the ideal that small, private colleges are a vital and dynamic element in American education, DTA serves its clients - small, private institutions - through a team of specialists working together with a generalist senior consultant. DTA functions to educate and train a college president's staff in the total spectrum of college life - academic, administrative, financial management, long-range planning, and development master plan, establishing client independence through newly acquired competence. For further information, contact Douglas C. Trout, Ph.D., Douglas Trout Associates, Inc., 888 17th Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. 20006. Phone (202) 659-4685.

THE INSTITUTE FOR EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP of the George Washington University was established to meet the need for strengthening existing and potential leadership in American education at all levels of policy formulation and administration. The emphasis is on improving the quality of decision makers by providing current and promising educational leaders with first-hand experience as participants in key issues confronting education today. In carrying out its selection and training functions, the Institute is adaptive in its approach, continuously testing the efficacy of alternative methods of leadership development.

The objectives of the Institute are carried out under the following types of programs and activities: Washington Internships in Education (WIE); the Educational Staff Seminar (ESS) and the extension of activities at the state level; Institute Associates are appointed to serve as technical advisers on educational policy development with congressional and state legislative committees, executive agencies, commissions and councils, and appropriate nongovernmental agencies; Scholars-in-Residence; In-service Training Activities.

For more information contact Dr. Norman Drachler, Institute for Educational Leadership, 2000 L Street, N.W., Room 610, Washington, D. C. 20036. Phone (202) 833-1737.
THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF STUDENT FINANCIAL AID ADMINISTRATORS will conduct a number of training programs in 1974 which are in the process of being developed and planned. The workshops are intended to equip beginning and experienced financial aid administrators to handle the diversity of responsibilities which accompany the position. For further information contact Richard L. Tombaugh, Executive Secretary, NASFA, 212 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20006. Phone (202) 676-6620.

THE NATIONAL CENTER FOR DISPUTE SETTLEMENT (NCDS) of the American Arbitration Association conducts various seminars and workshops under the general designation of Alternative Approaches to Problem Solving Using Negotiations, Mediation and Arbitration. Some activities may apply to the campus situation, others may not. Techniques used in these activities include role playing, case studies, audio-visual aids, small group discussions and general meetings. The seminars and workshops are most often developed in cooperation with other groups such as individual universities and associations, like the American Association for Higher Education and the National Student Association, and groups of specialized professionals such as campus ombudsmen. College and university officials interested in either attending up-coming activities or co-sponsoring an activity with NCDS should contact Phyllis E. Kaye, Assistant Director for Program Development, National Center for Dispute Settlement, 1212 Sixteenth Street, N. W. Washington, D. C. 20036. Phone (202) 628-1545.

THE NATIONAL CENTER FOR THE EXPLORATION OF HUMAN POTENTIAL offers experiential leadership and facilitator training programs, a series of short, intensive training experiences in group methods designed to actualize human potential. These are offered on a fee basis to requesting institutions. For more information contact Dr. Martin Seldman, National Center for the Exploration of Human Potential, 976 Chalcedony, San Diego, California 92109. Phone (714) 272-7330.
PUBLIC SECTOR EDUCATION OF THE NATIONAL CENTER FOR DISPUTE SETTLEMENT/AMERICAN ARBITRATION ASSOCIATION, provides conflict resolution training in the public sector for both advocates and professionals and counter-part training. Our training centers on the various "table processes" include negotiation, mediation, fact-finding, and arbitration. As an integral part of one training approach trainees participate in a collective bargaining simulation including the services of a professional mediator, if needed. Our training capabilities include expertise in labor relations, and public employment sector labor relations. PSE also develops, implements, and administers conflict resolution systems specifically designed for educational institutions. For further information please contact Thomas R. Colosi or Gary Lebowich in Washington, D. C., 1212 16th Street, N.W., at (202) 638-4370.

MANAGEMENT DIVISION PUBLICATIONS

BY 1990: DOUBLED ENROLLMENTS, TRIPLED COSTS. Charts showing the chronic financial squeeze with which most urban universities will have to learn to live.

MEETING THE FINANCIAL PINCH AT ONE UNIVERSITY. The university is Princeton; the saving—one million dollars—reflects the impact of Provost William Bowen's incisive memorandum explaining why the University needed to tighten its belt.

BLACK STUDIES: HOW IT WORKS AT TEN UNIVERSITIES. After the ideological furor dies down, there are these management problems to solve: organization, faculty, money.

319 WAYS COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES ARE MEETING THE FINANCIAL PINCH. An expanded check-list of practices being used right now to save money and increase income.

THE ADVANTAGES OF WORK-STUDY PLANS. In addition to helping balance a university budget, work-study can attract capable students who need a chance to earn their way, and make education more relevant for all students.

SURVIVAL THROUGH CHANGE. A case study of a privately supported urban university's plan to fight the budget squeeze.

RESCUE BEGINS AT HOME. Highlights of To Turn the Tide (Father Paul C. Reinert, President of St. Louis University), including an 11-point self-help plan other institutions can follow.

PUTTING COOPERATION TO WORK. A survey of how voluntary cooperation is helping colleges and universities.

PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT IN HIGHER EDUCATION. Three papers discussing general scope and problems, focusing on the current issues of tenure and collective bargaining, and suggesting ways to decrease costs.

HIGHER EDUCATION WITH FEWER TEACHERS. A survey of colleges and universities which have recently increased their student-faculty ratio to 20 to 1 or more, for those who are considering such a change and wondering how class size affects quality.

THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF BUSINESS MANAGEMENT TO HIGHER EDUCATION MANAGEMENT. Report of a seminar, in which higher education administrators learned from business experience without losing sight of differences between the two institutions.

FINANCING CURRENT OPERATIONS OF AMERICAN HIGHER EDUCATION. An analytical framework for comparing and contrasting the income and expenditures of publicly and privately supported colleges and universities.
ALTERNATIVES IN STATE GOVERNMENT FINANCING OF HIGHER EDUCATION. A description and comparison of various state approaches to the financing of students and institutions and the problems and policy decisions confronting them.

RESOURCE REALLOCATION IN RESEARCH UNIVERSITIES. Case studies of five research universities that reorganized their planning and budgeting efforts.

SYSTEMS MODELS AND PROGRAMS FOR HIGHER EDUCATION. A catalogue of management information systems and computer simulation models available for higher education current operations and long-range planning.

LET'S END THE CONFUSION ABOUT SIMULATION MODELS! A report of the Spring Conference of the Society for College and University Planning, including general discussion of simulation models and case-studies of simulation models at various campuses.

CONFRONTING THE NEW DEPRESSION IN HIGHER EDUCATION. Two budget exercises developed by John D. Millett, Director of the Management Division, one for “Principal College,” and the other for “Major University.”

A SURVIVAL KIT FOR INVISIBLE COLLEGES. The story of how one “invisible” college has met the challenge of staying alive in the period of crisis in higher education, by the President of Aquinas College, Norbert J. Hruby.

MANAGEMENT FORUM. Management Division newsletter containing articles and papers on higher education management and planning; each issue covers one or two current topics.

SINGLE COPIES OF ALL MANAGEMENT DIVISION PUBLICATIONS ARE FREE. There will be a charge for quantity orders. We will be pleased to provide, at your request, information on those charges.
