Abstract

This bibliography covers the literature on four of the feature films of Milos Forman: "Black Peter (Peter and Pavla)" (1964), "A Blonde in Love (Loves of a Blond)" (1965), "The Firemen's Ball" (1967), and "Taking Off" (1971). Listed separately by type are materials found in dictionaries, encyclopedias, and yearbooks; books; and articles. One hundred and four entries are listed. (CH)
THE FEATURE FILMS OF MILOS FORBAM: A BIBLIOGRAPHY OF THE LITERATURE

Charlotte S. Hooker
Professor of English
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia 23901

Address until 15 Jan. 1974:

c/o S. Friei
390 First Avenue
New York City 10010
The Feature Films of Milos Forman: A Bibliography

by Charlotte S. Hooker

The Films

The PIRATE'S BALL. 1967.
TAKE OFF. 1971.

Dictionaries, Encyclopedias, Yearbooks

Books

Articles

_________. "Film Clips," Sight and Sound XXXVI, 1 (Winter, 1966-67), 49.

Blue, J. and de Boisio, G. [Interview with Milos Forman.] Cahiers du Cinema (English version) VIII (February, 1967), 53.

"Cinema: The Eyes Have It," Time LXXXVIII (September 23, 1966), 74.

"Cinema: New Movies," Time XCII (December 6, 1968), 149.

"How I Came to America to Make a Film and Wound Up Owning Paramount $142,000," Show I, 2 (February, 1970), 38.

Hooper, M. "Forman," Film XLV (Spring, 1966), 34.

Interview with Milos Forman] Dialogue on Film I (1972), 1.

--- "SR Goes to the Movies: rotten to the Corpse," Saturday Review XLVIII (October 23, 1965), 75.

--- "SR Goes to the Movies: The Wakening of the West," Saturday Review L (July 15, 1967), 44.

Walsh, Maria. "LOVES OF A BLONDE," America CXV (December 17, 1966), 312-313.

"What Directors are Saying," Action VI, 6 (November-December, 1971), 22.

