This special report was compiled from data supplied by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. The report represents the combined efforts of NASSP and the ERIC Clearinghouse on Educational Management to ascertain trends in secondary administrator contracts. The author has included several contracts as samples of current trends; and defines terms, analyzes 69 contracts individually, draws conclusions from the analyses, and suggests some guidelines for contract development. Report on Educational Practice, Number Two

Clearinghouse Accession Number: EA 005 616
The Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC) is a national information system operated by the National Institute of Education. ERIC serves educators by disseminating educational research results and other resource information that can be used in developing more effective educational programs.

The ERIC Clearinghouse on Educational Management, one of several clearinghouses in the system, was established at the University of Oregon in 1966. The Clearinghouse and its companion units process research reports and journal articles for announcement in ERIC's index and abstract bulletins.

Besides processing documents and journal articles, the Clearinghouse has another major function: information analysis and synthesis. The Clearinghouse prepares bibliographies, literature reviews, state-of-the-knowledge papers, and other interpretive research studies on topics in its educational area.

Prior to publication, the manuscript was submitted to the National Association of Secondary School Principals for critical review and determination of professional competence. This publication has met such standards. Points of view or opinions, however, do not necessarily represent the official view or opinions of the National Association of Secondary School Principals.
PREFACE

Over the past several years, the ERIC Clearinghouse on Educational Management has published a large body of literature on topics in educational management. The majority of this literature, consisting of reviews, analyses, and bibliographies, has been based solely on knowledge in print. With few exceptions, notably the state-of-the-knowledge papers, Clearinghouse publications have not dealt directly with data collected from educational practitioners, since the Clearinghouse has no means of collecting such data.

Almost two years ago, the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP) began looking for a way to help members who were requesting information on particular topics related to their work. Principals in the field wanted to know what other school systems were doing in such areas as salary structures, contract tenure, and fringe benefits. To provide the necessary information, NASSP requested that a contact person in each state gather data from local school systems and forward the information to NASSP.

Before the collected documents could be used to answer particular requests, however, they had to be analyzed to determine content differences, similarities, and trends. At this point NASSP sought the help of the Clearinghouse, whose staff are well trained in document analysis. The Clearinghouse readily agreed to analyze the data and to compile written reports summarizing the findings on each topic.

This report is the second in this cooperative series. The purpose of the report is informational, and, with it, NASSP and the Clearinghouse hope to give direction to states and school districts drawing up administrator contracts. The report provides a cross-section view of employment contracts for administrators. The author has included several contracts as samples of current trends and has suggested some guidelines for contract development. These guidelines are generalized and do not constitute a formula for administrator contracts. A model contract, drawn according to the guidelines and in line with trends indicated by the data, has also been included. The guidelines and model contract represent the opinions of the author, and no endorsement by NASSP or the Clearinghouse should be inferred.

NASSP would still like to receive data on employment contracts for administrators. If your district has any relevant documents on this subject, please send a copy of each to NASSP. Correspondence should be directed to the Office of Professional Assistance, National Association of Secondary School Principals, Dulles International Airport, Post Office Box 17430, Washington, D.C. 20041.

During 1973, the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP) requested from contact personnel in all fifty states information concerning employment contracts for secondary school administrators. As a result of this request, NASSP received copies of 69 contracts and in October forwarded the documents to the ERIC Clearinghouse on Educational Management (ERIC/CEM) for analysis. This report represents the combined efforts of NASSP and ERIC/CEM to ascertain trends in secondary administrator employment contracts.

DEFINITIONS

CONTRACT STANDARD

Local standard contracts are prepared by the local school district in keeping with state policy. These contracts sometimes follow a state formula but are not drawn up by the state. They often include clauses relevant to particular district requirements or provisions not specified by the state. In the individual contract analyses, these contracts are identified by district.

State standard contracts represent official state policy and are drawn up by the state education agency. These contracts are identified as state standard in the contract analyses. Three types of state standard contracts are distinguishable: state standard (limited appointment) contracts for a limited term specified when possible, state standard (continuing appointment) contracts continued until terminated by district or state action, and state standard contracts with no indication of term.

TYPE OF CONTRACT

Teacher/administrator contract w/district identifies contracts used for both teachers and administrators in which the contract is between the administrator or teacher and the local school district. A typical teacher/administrator contract with a local district begins as follows:

It is agreed between the Greater Anchorage Area Borough School District, hereinafter referred to as the District, and the undersigned employee, hereinafter referred to as the teacher [administrator]...

(ALASKA: Greater Anchorage Areas Borough School District)

Administrator contract w/district designates a contract drawn specifically for administrators contracting with the local school district:

THIS CONTRACT, is made and entered into by and between the Montrose County School District, No. Re-1J, County of Montrose, State of Colorado, hereinafter referred to as the School District and...

(COLORADO: Montrose County School District Number Re-1J)

Teacher/administrator contract w/state identifies contracts between teachers or administrators and the state education agency:

Agreement made this day of 19 and between the State Board of Education of New Hampshire hereinafter called the Board, and ______ as ______ of the Supervisory Union No. ______ hereinafter called the Professional Employee.

(NEW HAMPSHIRE: state standard, limited appointment)
TERM OF CONTRACT

One year contracts are for a period of one school year and must be renewed annually.

Unspecified (limited) contracts have an undefined term but are limited to a predetermined maximum. The limitation is noted when available.

Unspecified (continuing) contracts have an indefinite term and require district or state action for termination.

Three year contracts extend for three school years before they must be renewed.

Unspecified term contracts include no information on the contract concerning length of term.

Some contracts include information on the process of renewal. For such contracts, the notation renewable is included in the analysis. A typical renewable contract reads as follows:

In each instance wherein this contract is renewed, a new contract shall be prepared and executed between the parties continuing the provisions of the within contract except with respect to dates describing the contract period as extended and the amount of the Administrator’s salary for the next school year following date of contract renewal.

(VISHERIGAN: state standard, three-year appointment)

If a term of probation is specified by contractual agreement, the notation probationary term and the length of that term, if available is entered in the analysis. The school board of Newport News, Virginia, specifies a three-year probationary term:

A probationary term of service for three years in the Newport News school division shall be required before a teacher administrator is issued a continuing contract.

(VIRGINIA: Newport News)

SALARY

Annual salaries are determined on a per year basis.

Unspecified salaries are indicated when no information concerning salary is included in the contract.

Monthly salaries are determined on a per month basis.

Period of contract indicates that salary is specified per period of contract.

Other notations follow the four basic salary types in the analyses. Most of these notations indicate payment schedule: monthly payments, biweekly payments, nonspecific payments (for example, 24 payments), or optional payment plans (for example, 10 or 12 payments). If additional payment schedules are negotiable, the notation other arrangements negotiable follows the payment schedule in parentheses. Some contracts indicate that salary is adjustable according to available funds or other variables. Other contracts specify additional compensation contracted if the administrator’s salary is adjusted to compensate for extra duties.

ASSIGNMENT

A number of contracts indicate that assignment or reassignment to duties or schools is by superintendent, by district, by state, or by mutual consent of contractor and contractee:

Duties, position, reporting date, and/or location assigned the teacher administrator pursuant to this contract may be changed as the needs of the District require.

(Alaska: Greater Anchorage Area Borough School District)

Assignment to work will be made by the Superintendent of Schools.

(Colorado: School District Number 6, Greeley)

The following individual is hereby appointed in the public school system of Hawaii and assigned as indicated below.

(Hawaii: state standard, limited appointment)

That said person accepts employment in the school as indicated above but agrees to reassignment during said scholastic year when it is recommended by the county or district superintendent and approved by the Board of Trustees of said district.

(Mississippi: state standard)

It is further specifically agreed that the Principal shall not be reassigned to a position of lesser responsibility during the life of this contract unless he has consented in writing to such re-assignment.

(Ohio: Ohio Association of Secondary School Principals)

requirements

Contracts often specify requirements the administrator must fulfill: certification by the state education agency, an oath of allegiance to the United States Constitution and/or the state constitution, health certification from a physician (sometimes only if requested by the district or state), completion of a loyalty questionnaire to indicate loyalty to the state and/or the United States, information on education and experience either on the contract or filed with the district, a transcript of educational experience on file with the district, scores from a national teacher examination on file, a birth certificate on file, a social security card on file, an annual performance evaluation, or certification of records by the district or state.

An example of a certification requirement reads:

You certify by your signing of this contract that you hold a valid and legal Administrator's Certificate in the State of Colorado.

(Colorado: Cheyenne Mountain Schools)

A typical oath of allegiance reads:

I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Alaska, and that I will faithfully discharge my duties as a teacher [administrator] to the best of my ability.

(Alaska: Greater Anchorage Area Borough School District)

A health certification requirement often takes a form similar to the following:

In addition, the Teacher [administrator] must provide to the Board of Education an "Employee Medical Form" completed and signed by a licensed physician.

(North Dakota: Fargo Public Schools)

Georgia requires completion of a loyalty questionnaire:

The teacher [or administrator] agrees ... to execute a written questionnaire concerning his or her personal history, qualification, and loyalty.

(Georgia: state standard)
Richland County, South Carolina, requires that

The employee shall file the following with the personnel office of the district before the beginning of the period for which employed, if then available, or as soon thereafter as available: (a) Birth Certificate, (B) Health Certificate, (c) Transcripts of credit earned for additional increments, (d) Teacher's Certificate, (e) South Carolina Retirement Number or application to join the Retirement system if not already a member, (f) Social Security Number or application for a number if not already a member, (g) Withholding Tax Exemption Certificate.

(SOUTH CAROLINA: School District Number 2, Richland County)

Nashville, Tennessee, requires, in addition, completion of a national teacher examination:

NATIONAL TEACHER EXAMINATION: Must present evidence of a satisfactory score.

(TENNESSEE: Metropolitan Public Schools, Nashville)

The Dallas Independent School District, Texas, specifies:

On or before April 1 of each scholastic year of this contract, the educator shall be subject to a performance evaluation by the District. Such performance evaluation shall be conducted pursuant to the rules and procedures of the District now in force or hereafter promulgated.

(Texas: Dallas Independent School District)

The Seattle Public Schools, Washington, state:

THE SALARY SHOWN IS SUBJECT TO THE VERIFICATION OF OFFICIAL TRANSCRIPTS AND RECORDS OF PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE.

(WASHINGTON: Seattle Public Schools)

Restrictions

Many contracts place restrictions on an administrator, as follows: exclusion of employment w/ another district, exclusion of activity affecting efficiency (as determined by the district or state), or exclusion of extra employment outside the duties of administrator. Clauses excluding employment with another district often take a form similar to the following:

I hereby affirm that I have not entered into valid contract of employment with the governing board of another school district which will in any way conflict with my employment under this contract.

(CALIFORNIA: San Mateo Union High School District)

Several school districts exclude activities affecting an administrator's efficiency:

The School District contracts not only for the time but the good influence of the Teacher [administrator] and no activity, social or otherwise, may be allowed to interfere with the school work.

(NORTH DAKOTA: Bismarck Public School District Number 1)

Others exclude any extra employment:

After signing this contract such administrator agrees to seek no other position for the school year covered by the contract.

(VERMONT: Barre)

Additional Provisions

Termination clauses give the employer the option to terminate the contract for specific reasons: school closure, lack of funds, or, for example, for

a. Insubordination, immoral character; or conduct unbecoming an administrator.
b. Inefficiency, incompetency, or neglect of duty.
a. Physical or mental disability sufficient to impair substantially the administrator’s performance of his duty.

b. Failure to maintain certification.

(NEW YORK: state standard)

Damages clauses give the employer the option of charging damages for termination of contract:

If the administrator is released (for any reason except illness or other equally compelling reason), 5% of the total annual salary will be deducted from the final pay check, as liquidated damage.

(VERMONT: Barre)

Termination by mutual consent clauses guarantee the right of the contractor and contractor to act together in terminating the contract:

This contract may be terminated by mutual consent of both parties upon thirty (30) days written notice by either party and the written consent of the other party.

(ALASKA: Greater Anchorage Area Borough School District)

Resignation clauses give the employee the right to terminate the contract, usually with written notice and district approval:

Administrator may terminate this contract by giving the District written notice of his election to do so at least sixty (60) days prior to any anniversary date of this contract, and such notice shall be delivered to the Superintendent or Secretary of the Board of Education of the District.

(MICHIGAN: state standard, three-year appointment)

Suspension clauses allow the employer to suspend the contract for a concrete time period:

In the event of breach of contract on the part of a teacher [administrator], the superintendent of public instruction shall suspend (attorney general has ruled that a hearing must be held previous to suspension) such teacher’s [administrator’s] certificate for a period of not to exceed one year, during which time it shall be unlawful for such teacher [administrator] to receive payment for teaching in the public schools of North Dakota.

(NORTH DAKOTA: Bismarck Public School District Number 1)

Amendment by mutual consent clauses specify that employer and employee may amend the contract if agreeable to both parties:

This contract of employment shall remain in full force and effect from year to year, subject to all the provisions herein set forth, unless modified by mutual consent in writing by the parties hereto.

(VIRGINIA: state standard)

Leave of absence clauses allow for the possibility of temporarily suspending the contract while the administrator takes a leave of absence for specified reasons:

The Board agrees in its discretion and for good cause shown to grant a leave of absence to the Teacher [administrator] in accordance with policy.

(TENNESSEE: Memphis City Schools)

Retirement clauses mandate retirement at a certain age or under certain conditions:

No educator shall be employed or continued in employment after he has reached the compulsory retirement age of sixty-five (65) prior to September 1 of any year, and any existing contract becomes void as of July 1 of the same year.

(WASHINGTON: Seattle Public Schools)
Some contracts specify a grievance procedure whereby the administrator may present complaints to the district:

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

a. Step One. The administrator shall present his grievance to his immediate supervisor.

b. Step Two. The administrator shall request in writing a review and determination of his grievance by the employer.

(NEW YORK: state standard)

If an administrator's extra duties are entered on the contract or on a supplementary contract, the analysis bears the notation extra assignments contracted:

Please note that the contract salary . . . does not include any extracurricular activity assignments. As in past years, an addendum to your contract, subject to your approval, and at the option of the Board of Education will be issued as soon as these assignments have been completed.

(NORTH DAKOTA: Fargo Public Schools)

GUARANTEES

Many contracts contain guarantees assuring the administrator such rights as notification prior to termination of nonrenewal of contract, a hearing before the district prior to termination or nonrenewal, or an appeal if the results of the hearing are unsatisfactory to the administrator. Also included under the blanket term guarantees are provisions for leave, vacation, insurance, travel allowance, conference expenses, and disability income. Michigan guarantees the administrator the right to notification and hearing:

This contract shall be deemed to have been renewed for a period of __ year(s), unless the Board shall have given written notice to the contrary 90 days prior to its renewal date of ___________, 19__, in which case reasons shall be given in writing and a hearing provided, if requested.

(MICHIGAN: state standard, limited appointment)

Other states guarantee an appeal, if requested:

A decision by the hearing panel, adopted by the employer, which is adverse to the administrator shall not prevent an appeal therefrom by the administrator under applicable provisions of law.

(NEW YORK: state standard)

Leave provisions are common among the contracts analyzed:

The Board shall extend to the Principal, at a minimum, such compensable and noncompensable leaves, leaves of absence, professional days, holiday periods, insurance, and other fringe benefits as are granted by the Board to other certified personnel of the School District . . .

(OHIO: Ohio Association of Secondary School Principals)

Vacation provisions are also common:

That the Professional Employee is entitled to one calendar month annual vacation leave or that proportional part of a month that his employment is of the twelve-month period. Annual vacation leave is not cumulative or transferrable.

(NEW HAMPSHIRE: state standard, limited appointment)

Several states include provisions for insurance in the contract:

1. Health and Accident Insurance. The employer shall provide health insurance coverage at no cost to the administrator and his dependents equivalent to the coverage provided by the State of New York for its employees.
2. Life Insurance. The employer shall provide term life insurance coverage at no cost to the administrator in an amount equal to his annual salary. Such insurance may be made payable to a named beneficiary designated by the administrator or, in the absence of such designation, shall be payable to the administrator’s estate.

(WITH YORK: state standard)

Wisconsin guarantees a travel allowance:

Authorized use of the Administrator’s personal car in his work within the District will be reimbursed at the rate of ____ cents per mile or ____ per year. Authorized use of the Administrator’s personal car outside the District will be reimbursed at the rate of ____ cents per mile.

(WISCONSIN: state standard)

Wisconsin also guarantees conference expenses:

The Board will approve requests for attendance at professional meetings of administrators as permitted by its rules and policies. Necessary expenses will be paid for these meetings as provided by Board policies.

(WISCONSIN: state standard)

In addition, Wisconsin provides a disability income:

In lieu of sick leave beyond 30 days, the Board may provide a long-term disability income policy beginning the 31st day of disability and providing a monthly benefit, equal to seventy percent (70%) of the Administrator’s monthly salary. The benefits under the long-term disability insurance shall be a minimum of 5 years illness and accident to age 65.

CONCLUSIONS

The most common employment contract for secondary school administrators is a local standard contract (2/3 of the contracts analyzed) designed for both teachers and administrators and drawn between the administrator and the local school district (2/3 of the contracts analyzed). Most are for a term of one year (over 1/2 of the analyzed contracts), but a significant number are for an unspecified but limited term (1/3 of the contracts). Nearly all administrator contracts analyzed (over 4/5) stipulate an annual salary.

Twenty-two contracts (nearly 1/3 of the sample) are of the most common contract type: local standard teacher/administrator contracts with the local school district with a one year term and an annual salary. These contracts are from the following sources:

- ALASKA: Greater Anchorage Area Borough School District
- CALIFORNIA: Palo Alto Unified School District
- CALIFORNIA: San Rafael
- CALIFORNIA: South San Francisco Unified School District
- CONNECTICUT: Windsor Locks
- LOUISIANA: Parish of Acadia
- NEBRASKA: Fremont Public Schools
- PENNSYLVANIA: West Shore School District, Lemoyne
- SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA: School District Number 2, Richland County
- TENNESSEE: Oak Ridge
- TENNESSEE: Shelby County Board of Education
- UTAH: Davis County School District, Farmington
- UTAH: Park City School District
- VERMONT: Arlington Memorial School
- VERMONT: Montpelier Public School System
- VERMONT: Orleans-Central Supervisory School District
- VERMONT: Rutland
- VERMONT: Windsor Southeast Supervisory Union
- VIRGINIA: Newport News
- WASHINGTON: Seattle Public Schools
- WASHINGTON: Tacoma Public Schools
- WEST VIRGINIA: Monongalia County Schools, Morgantown

Five contracts are of the next most common contract type: local standard teacher/administrator contracts with the local school district with an unspecified limited term and an annual salary. These contracts are:

- NORTH DAKOTA: Bismarck Public School District Number 1
- NORTH DAKOTA: Fargo Public Schools
- SOUTH DAKOTA: Rapid City Independent School District Number 1
- VERMONT: Missisquoi Valley Union High School District 7
- VERMONT: Washington South Supervisory Union

Employment contracts for secondary school administrators tend, therefore, (1) to be drawn up by local school districts, (2) to use the same form for both teachers and administrators, (3) to be drawn between the administrator and the local district, (4) to be for a term of one year (with a large number drawn for an unspecified but limited term), and (5) to specify an annual salary.
GUIDELINES FOR CONTRACT DEVELOPMENT

The following guidelines are the result of close analysis of the 69 contracts NASSP received from its state affiliates. The guidelines represent opinion rather than hard data and should be considered accordingly.

1. It seems evident from the contracts analyzed that separate contracts should be drawn for administrators and teachers, although this is contrary to current practice. Contracts drawn for both administrators and teachers necessitate an undue amount of revision and addition to cover the duties, responsibilities, and provisions peculiar to administrators.

2. Many of the contracts studied are more complex than necessary. Comprehensive and legally binding contracts need not use obscure language or incorporate provisions for details covered by state law. Contracts, to be readily understood by both parties, should be clear, concise, and straightforward. They should refer the contractee to relevant state laws, but need not include in the body of the contract details covered by law.

3. Contracts should make clear the state or school district's policies on contract renewal and include information on notification, hearing, and appeal policies.

4. Contracts should specify the state or school district's responsibilities to the administrator, briefly listing policies on leave, vacation, and so forth.

5. Length of term, salary, assignment, and restrictions should be clearly specified.

The model contract that follows has been drawn using these guidelines and, hopefully, will aid districts or states in composing future administrator contracts. Paul Hersey, of NASSP's Office of Professional Assistance, has also drawn a model principal's contract. See pages 26 through 28 in Management Crisis: A Solution.
