The purpose of this module cluster, designed for the Camden Teacher Corps project, is to increase the student's (intern's) understanding and skills with regard to his role in the community. Its objectives are to prepare the student to a) identify the characteristics of the community in which he will be working and b) to be involved in community service projects. There are eight modules in this cluster: Introduction to Community Services; The School System; Government, Politics and Law Enforcement; Provisions for Special Groups; Consumer Education; Housing; Health; and Drug Abuse. For each module, objective, prerequisite, preassessment, instructional activities, postassessment and remediation are specified. (JA)

Dear Colleague:

Our involvement in the Camden Teacher Corps Project has resulted in the development of several module clusters. The clusters are the primary mode of instruction in this competency-based teacher education program. The program follows the guidelines set forth by the U.S. Office of Education, Department of H E W.

Many of these modules are based on a list of teacher competencies which has been developed by members of the Elementary Education Department. The list represents the core competencies and is intended to be representative of a behavioral approach to teaching. These competencies comprise the nucleus of Glassboro's teacher education program.

All these modules specify competencies and describe a scenario for self-paced learning in a field oriented setting. Clearly this is a process which is in marked contrast to the accumulation of credits acquired primarily in college classrooms.

We invite your use, criticism, and refinement of these modules as a means of joining us in creating a more generative climate for developing competent, open, and hopefully healthy-minded teachers.

Sincerely yours,

Frank Goodfellow
IHE Coordinator-Camden Teacher Corps Project
Chairperson, Elementary Education Dept.
Instructions for Using a Glassboro State College Module Cluster

A Glassboro State College Module Cluster aims at arranging a learning experience in a very specific way. The goal of the cluster is to facilitate successful, self-paced learning for the student.

1. Glassboro State College module clusters are intended to be used by students with the cooperation of an instructor. The instructor will give a brief explanation about the particular module cluster. This should include the rationale for the cluster as well as general arrangement for completing the module.

2. After the initial meeting with the instructor, the student can begin work on the module cluster. Within a cluster the modules are presented sequentially.

3. When a student begins to study a module, he should first read the Objective, Prerequisite, and Preassessment sections. A number of alternatives are then available. For example the student may decide after reading the preassessment procedures that he is competent in that area. He may then complete the entire preassessment and discuss the results with the instructor. The instructor will then be able to verify the student's competence.

4. A second choice is possible if the student feels unsure of the material as presented in the preassessment. He can then skip the preassessment and complete the module step by step, including the post-assessment procedures.

5. The instructor will consult with the student after the post-assessment is completed. At this point if the student and instructor feel the competency involved has been demonstrated, the student will move to the next module in the cluster. If the post-assessment reveals some deficiency, remediation will be assigned and another form of post-assessment will then be used.

General Objectives of the Module Cluster

The purpose of this module cluster is to increase the student's (intern's) understandings and skills with regard to his role in the community. The general objectives of this cluster should prepare the student to: (1) identify the characteristics of the community in which he will be working and (2) be involved in community service projects.

The rationale for the module cluster is based on the assumption that students generally have preconceived ideas about the inner city life. This module cluster has been so designed as to give the intern an opportunity for firsthand knowledge. He will be able to make interviews and draw conclusions of his own. With this information it is hoped that he would then use it for community action.

Prerequisites to the Module Cluster

Only those requirements necessary for entrance into the program stand as prerequisites to this module cluster.

Modules Within the Module Cluster

This module cluster contains eight modules; these are as follows:

CSC 001.01 - Introduction to Community Services
CSC 001.02 - The School System
CSC 001.03 - Government, Politics and Law Enforcement
CSC 001.04 - Provisions for Special Groups
CSC 001.05 - Consumer Education
CSC 001.06 - Housing
CSC 001.07 - Health
CSC 001.08 - Drug Abuse
CSC 001.01 (GSC) - Introduction to Community Services

Objective

The student (intern) will begin to familiarize himself with the various types of community agencies which he will be working with throughout the year. He will be able to describe the services offered by the various community agencies.

Prerequisites

None.

Pre-assessment

Pre-assessment procedures are relatively informal and consist of an interview of the intern by his instructor. The instructor will assess the intern's level of competency relevant to the objective.

Instructional Activities

2. Conduct and record an interview of three types of agencies from director of agency.

3. Construct a survey form in order to obtain pertinent and uniform information.

4. Survey thirty residents of the inner city to determine what uses are being made of available services.

5. Record findings on graph.

6. Study function of agencies to determine duplication of effort.

7. Collect and keep in scrapbook articles from local publications of pertinent community news and activities.

Post-assessment

The student (intern) shall be able to describe the various types of community services and their functions. The adequacy of this description will be assessed by the instructor.

Remediation

Necessary remediation activities would be designed by the intern and his instructor.
