The bibliography contains approximately 170 listings (all published in 1973-74) of books, professional articles, films, slides, and videotapes as well as working papers and unpublished manuscripts by staff members of the Experimental Education Unit of the Child Development and Mental Retardation Center at the University of Washington. Listings are alphabetical by author and provide titles, publishers, and pagination. References cover topics such as behavior analysis and modification; classroom management techniques; techniques for teaching reading, mathematics, language, and speech skills; motor, cognitive, and perceptual development; the effects of teacher behavior on pupil performance; individualized instruction; precision teaching; Head Start; Learning disabilities; and mongolism.
