The pupil personnel services unit goals and student objectives set down in the booklet were produced by one California high school's counseling staff in order to comply with a State legislature mandate for accountability. Behavioral objectives have been set in five domains: the educational, the social/personal, career development, the consultative, and job satisfaction. The booklet is comprised of one-page forms designed to facilitate the planning and the evaluation of the achievement of each objective. The unit goal, the specific objective, the indicator, an evaluation grid, and a space to record a "work plan" are provided on each form. A brief implementation plan is outlined, and a flow chart related to objectives connected to questions in a career planning survey is given. The career planning survey (a student questionnaire), designed to help counselors meet the student's needs, is included in the document. (AJ)
GOALS AND OBJECTIVES
FOR
PUPIL PERSONNEL SERVICES

Westminster High School
Huntington Beach Union High School District
PREFACE

Over the years procedures utilized to evaluate Guidance Services in our public schools have generally resulted in positive indications. However, indications of success are no longer good enough. As of October, 1973 the California State Legislature has mandated that local school districts be held accountable for what they do or do not do. School personnel must now be concerned with results. No longer can we leave unanswered the question of the "real" effectiveness of pupil personnel programs in our public schools.

The Unit Goals and Student Objectives set down in this booklet are the result of a joint effort on the part of the Counseling Staff at Westminster High School. The objectives even though designed for a special purpose are to be considered a part of a total process, a process that must be periodically reviewed, evaluated and revised to meet the changing needs of the school and society.

The Student Objectives as presented here do not, of course, cover every aspect of pupil personnel services; however, it is expected and desirable that, as the need arises, additional objectives will be contributed by individual staff members.

HUNTINGTON BEACH UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT

General Philosophy and Goals of Education

PHILOSOPHY

The Huntington Beach Union High School District believes that the schools and the community are partners in the education of youth, but that the primary responsibility rests with the school. The Huntington Beach Union High School District believes that the schools and the community should provide an atmosphere where there is an active commitment to further each individual's natural desire to learn, realizing that the ultimate responsibility for the education of any individual rests with the individual himself.

The Huntington Beach Union High School District believes that each individual student, regardless of sex, race, color, religion, ability, wealth, or background, must be prepared for effective living as a contributing citizen in a rapidly-changing society where life-long learning must be viewed as a normal expectation.

The District believes that the educational program should promote excellence based upon the optimum fulfillment of each individual's capabilities as determined by his experiences, needs, and incentives. It accepts the responsibility to provide the maximum opportunity for its students to acquire the basic skills and knowledge to be intellectually curious and aesthetically aware, to think and work creatively, to live healthfully, to achieve self-discipline and economic efficiency, to understand the obligations of democratic living and learn to live in harmony with nature and with others.

In the accomplishment of its philosophy, the District shall strive for constant improvement of the educational program; help each student develop into a well-adjusted, useful, intelligent, contributing citizen; maintain constant involvement with all segments of the community; and provide an efficient and effective management and utilization of human and financial resources.

GOALS

The following goals have been adopted in order to provide more specific direction in the implementation of the philosophy. They fall into four major categories with which the philosophy deals: Self-Realization, Human Relationships, Economic Efficiency and Civic Responsibility.

In the listing of these goals, no priority order is intended.

Self-Realization

1. To provide an educational program which encourages each student to learn how to think and develop modes of inquiry in order to adapt to any of life's challenges with confidence and effective behavior.

2. To provide the opportunity for each student to acquire the basic skills, information, and concepts in order to be intellectually curious; to develop habits of listening, observing, and reasoning effectively; and to think and work creatively.

3. To provide each student the opportunity to develop both verbal and non-verbal skill in communication.
General Philosophy and Goals of Education

4. To provide each student the opportunity to develop skill in intelligent, constructive, critical, and creative thinking so that he may develop the ability to analyze situations, recognize resources, evaluate alternatives, make judgments, accept responsibility, and take intelligent action.

5. To provide each student the opportunity to recognize the value of developing intellectual curiosity and of acquiring a positive attitude toward learning as a life-long process by engaging in educational experiences which are relevant to his present and future needs.

6. To provide each student the opportunity to cultivate an appreciation for beauty in various forms and to encourage the development of individual creative self-expression and talent through various media.

7. To provide each student the opportunity to pursue and develop personal interests and to develop skills which will encourage a creative, productive, and enjoyable use of leisure time.

8. To provide each student with an awareness of the importance of physical fitness and sound personal habits of health and safety, and the opportunity to develop positive attitudes toward the conservation of human resources, both for the individual and for society.

9. To provide an atmosphere conducive to good mental health and to provide each student the opportunity to develop his individual feelings of self worth, self understanding, and self confidence.

Human Relationships

1. To assist the home in providing for each student the opportunity to develop a sensitivity to moral standards which will provide firm support for ethical behavior.

2. To provide each student the opportunity to develop an appreciation and respect for the cultural heritages of other peoples of the world, a respect for the worth and dignity of each person in a society, and an awareness of how each enriches the world.

3. To provide each student the opportunity to increase his understanding and acceptance of himself so that he will learn to accept, understand, and appreciate others.

4. To provide each student the opportunity to appreciate the significance of a stable family unit to an enduring society so he can develop both wholesome and responsible attitudes and skills necessary for functioning within the family structure.

Economic Efficiency

1. To provide each student the opportunity to understand economic principles; to become a well-informed consumer; and to develop an understanding of the effective use of economic, human, and natural resources.

2. To provide each student the opportunity to make mature and appropriate educational and occupational choices and to develop the skills and flexibility necessary for economic competence in a rapidly-changing society.
General Philosophy and Goals of Education

Civic Responsibility

1. To provide each student the opportunity to develop an understanding and appreciation of our American heritage and the corresponding civic obligations, responsibilities and laws of our governing bodies.

2. To provide each student the opportunity to develop an awareness and appreciation of an individual's rights and responsibilities toward all levels of his government and to encourage each student to exercise those rights through individual participation and involvement to the fullest extent.
WESTMINSTER HIGH SCHOOL PUPIL PERSONNEL DEPARTMENT GOAL

To provide each student with the opportunity to participate in various types of programs and activities so he may mature socially and emotionally, progress educationally and make realistic life and career plans.

EDUCATIONAL AND CAREER PLANNING QUESTIONNAIRE

The Educational and Career Planning Questionnaire is designed to provide "Baseline and evaluation" data on students attending Westminster High School. With the exception of Questions #1 and #2, which ask each student to indicate his first and second career interests, all questions are written so they relate directly to a specific measurable objective.

The survey is designed to be given to large groups of students in the very early Fall and requires approximately 40 minutes to administer. Administration of the survey will proceed in an orderly manner if the person in charge is thoroughly prepared and has seen to it that his monitors have received in-service training. For many students the survey will be a learning experience in itself. The phraseology, the ideas, the career possibilities listed for them will be unfamiliar; therefore, questions are encouraged and must be answered promptly during student orientation and during the time students are taking the survey. A key point the survey administrator must bear in mind is that he must fully explain to students why the survey is being administered and how it will benefit them.

Utilization of this needs assessment survey depends to a large extent on when the survey is administered and how soon the results can be tabulated and returned and then utilized by the Pupil Personnel staff in accomplishing their objectives.
1. Accountability: The measure of accomplishments against planned objectives and goals. Accountability is the basis for credit or blame concerning results from the use of resources and authority in meeting responsibilities.

2. Career Development Domain: To establish and maintain a system which will ensure all students the opportunity to develop career objectives consistent with their interests, abilities and values.

3. Consultive Domain: To establish and maintain a system which will ensure that teachers, administrators, board members and community resource people are aware of and involved in giving consideration to the individual needs of students.

4. District Goals: A statement of broad direction, general purpose, or intent which is general and timeless and is not concerned with a particular achievement within a specified time period. Describes what the district wants to achieve.

5. District Philosophy: A composite statement based upon beliefs, concepts and attitudes from which the educational purpose of the district is derived.

6. Educational Domain: To establish and maintain a system which will ensure all students the opportunity to develop educational objectives that are consistent with their interests, abilities and values.

7. Evaluation Staff: Responsibility is on the subordinate and the emphasis is on analysis and improvement rather than on appraisal of the past. The superior works with the subordinate and helps him to analyze his own performance, learn from it and use what he learns to improve his future performance.

8. Illustrative Verb: Words for stating general instruction objectives and specific learning outcomes.

9. Job Satisfaction Domain: To establish and maintain a system which will ensure the opportunity for all pupil personnel workers to achieve job satisfaction.

10. Management by Objectives: Primary emphasis is on mutual planning and problem solving. The method of management which emphasizes goals to be reached and in its full application calls for specific objectives to be established for each position. (It's not what we do but what we get done that counts.)
| 11. Objective Behavioral: | A devised accomplishment that can be measured within a given time and under specifiable conditions which, if attained, advances the system toward a corresponding goal. |
| 12. Outcome: | A result not an activity. |
| 13. Performance Indicators: | Events or behavior which indicate how well you are accomplishing your unit goals. There are generally three or four important performance indicators for each unit goal. |
