Level I

CONVERSE COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL

Douglas, Wyoming

Student's Name_________________________________________
Contents of this packet:

- Literary behavioral objectives and written work assignments (included in capital letters with the objectives)

- Directions

- List of book selections (Note: substitutions of books not on this list are possible, but all substitutions must be cleared by an instructor. The instructor must initial such a substitution on your record sheet before you begin reading a book.)
Objectives:

1. The student will be able to distinguish between subject and theme and be able to identify and discuss each of these concepts as they appear in literary works.

2. The student will be able to identify, compare, and discuss the styles of particular authors and be able to compare different styles.

3. The student will be able to identify, compare, and discuss the various types of literature.

4. The students will be able to identify, compare, and discuss contrast and likeness as they appear in various literary works.

5. The student will be able to identify and discuss conflict as it appears in various literary works.

6. The student will be able to identify and discuss complications, conflict, and resolution as they appear in various literary works.

7. The student will be able to identify and discuss the setting(s) of various literary works.

8. The student will be able to identify and discuss character(s) as it appears in various literary works.

9. The student will be able to identify and discuss such things as image, metaphor, and symbol as they appear in various literary works.
DIRECTIONS:

The student will read three (3) of the following twenty-five (25) novels and non-fiction works. Then study the objectives and do the written work for each of the selections he chooses to read.

OBJECTIVES AND WRITTEN WORK INSTRUCTIONS: Do all work in complete sentences. Use ink.

1. Literature deals with a subject and expresses that subject as a theme. The basic subjects and themes of literature are concerned with man and his relationship to his physical, social, and cultural world. Therefore, the student will be able to distinguish between subject and theme and be able to identify and discuss each of these concepts as they appear in literary works. WRITE A ONE-PAGE DISCUSSION ON THE SUBJECT AND THEME FOR EACH SELECTION HE READ. (example: The subject of Great Expectations is growing up. The theme is that growing up is a flexible situation involving many different attitudes.)

2. The distinctive voice of the writer speaks through his style, which essentially is a product of language—the choice and combination of words, sentence structures, and the rhythms of larger elements. Therefore, students will be able to identify, compare, and discuss the styles of particular authors and be able to compare different styles. WRITE A ONE-PAGE DISCUSSION ABOUT THE STYLE OF EACH BOOK, COMPARING IT WITH THE STYLE OF OTHER BOOKS.

3. Literary forms have common characteristics that make it possible for them to be classified into types. Therefore, the student will be able to identify, compare, and discuss the various types of literature. WRITE A ONE-PARAGRAPH DICTIONARY DEFINITION FOR EACH OF THE FOLLOWING LITERARY TYPES AND IDENTIFY WHICH TYPE IS MOST LIKE THE BOOK YOU READ: ESSAY (NON-FICTION), POETRY, DRAMA, SHORT STORY, NOVEL, AUTOBIOGRAPHY, BIOGRAPHY, JOURNAL.

4. Contrast between and likeness of elements are important aspects of pattern and form in literature. Therefore, students will be able to identify, compare, and discuss contrast and likeness as they appear in various literary works. WRITE A ONE-PAGE DISCUSSION WHICH COMPARES THE LIKENESS AND DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE BOOK YOU READ AND ONE OTHER LITERARY WORK. (Example: Contrast and compare Moby Dick and the Old Man and the Sea.

5. Much of literature deals with storied elements; such storied elements have their beginning in some type of conflict. Therefore, you will be able to identify and discuss conflict as it appears in various literary works. Some of the more common conflicts are: man vs. man, man vs. nature, man vs. himself, man vs. society, man vs. God, man vs. the unknown. Write A ONE-PAGE DISCUSSION COVERING ALL THE EXAMPLES OF CONFLICT WHICH APPEAR IN THE BOOK HE READS.
6. Plot in storied literature moves from complication, through conflict, to resolution. Therefore, students will be able to identify and discuss complications, conflict, and resolution as they appear in various literary works. Refer to the material in objectives 5 to help you with conflict. WRITE A THREE TO FIVE-PAGE DISCUSSION OF THE PLOT OF THE BOOK. TELL, IN DETAIL, WHAT HAPPENED, WHO IT HAPPENED TO, AND WHY IT HAPPENED. INCLUDE MATERIAL REFERING TO COMPLICATIONS, CONFLICT, AND RESOLUTION.

7. Much storied literature takes place in a real or imagined setting--a time and a place. Therefore, the student will be able to identify and discuss the setting(s) of various literary works. WRITE A ONE-PAGE DISCUSSION ON THE SETTING(S) OF THE BOOK YOU READ. INCLUDE BOTH TIME AND PLACE. INCLUDE DETAILS.

8. Much literature deals with and focuses on character. Therefore, students will be able to identify and discuss character(s) as it appears in various literary works. WRITE A CHARACTER SKETCH FOR EACH MAIN CHARACTER OF THE BOOK (ask the instructor if you are unsure about doing a sketch for a particular character). INCLUDE SUCH THINGS as PHYSICAL APPEARANCE, ATTITUDES, AMBITIONS, LIKES, DISLIKES, ETC.

9. Almost all literature goes beyond the plot or literal level to suggest deeper levels of meaning; such deeper levels are often suggested through image, metaphor, and symbol. Therefore, the student will be able to identify and discuss such things as image, metaphor, and symbol as they appear in various literary works. WRITE A TWO TO THREE-PAGE DISCUSSION ON WHAT THE BOOK IS "TRYING TO SAY''. COMMENT ON SUCH POINTS AS SYMBOLISM, PURPOSES OF THE WORK, AND ITS SIMILARITY TO THE WORKS HE HAS READ.

METHOD OF DOING WRITTEN WORK:

1. Include a cover or title page which includes:
   - your name
   - title of the book and author's name
   - the date work is turned in

2. Do all work in complete sentences on 8 1/2 x 11 inch paper.

3. Staple all pages together. Do not hand in any material until all work has been completed.

Students name ____________________________________________
Sophomore American Literature

Individualized Student Work Packet

1. Approximate completion time = 9 weeks

2. Basic Objectives of this unit:

   Students will demonstrate that they are familiar with the technical and historical aspects (see: "Directions") of American literature from the 1600's to the twentieth century.

   Students will, during the course of this unit, work with novel, short stories, essay, and poetry.

   Students will exhibit their familiarity with the selections by achieving an average grade of 80% on selected standardized tests and/or by completing a "literary worksheet" which evaluates character descriptions, plot descriptions, conflict recognition and analysis, and the student's own evaluation of the selection.

   Specific objectives for each worksheet are found directly in front of each worksheet. You should read these very carefully because they will tell you many things you need to get from your reading. You will not necessarily be expected to meet all of the objectives, but you should ask your instructor if you have any questions.

3. Contents:

   a. 6 assignment sheets with resource material lists and objectives.

   29
You will probably want to take advantage of the resource materials. You may use as much of the material or as little as you wish—the choice is yours. Ask your instructor for help in locating the resource materials.

Go as fast or as slowly as you wish, but read very carefully

GOOD LUCK!

40
Objectives For:
"America and the Modern World"

1. You will successfully complete a detailed literary worksheet on a modern American novel, selected from a list which your instructor has.

2. You will be able to explain the place and function of plot in short fiction.

3. You will be able to explain setting as a revelant factor in fiction; in particular, setting, as the total environment of the principal character, whose response to the environment may indicate (a) that he is a more powerful, more godlike, or more knowledgable than the reader, like Daniel Webster, or (b) that he possesses more or less the same range of power and understanding as the reader, like John Andros, or (c) that he is less able to control his behavior, fate, or world than the reader is or thinks he is, like the father in "The Egg".

4. You will be able to explain the importance of "texture" in short fiction whether the details contained in a story and the language used to describe these details deliberately point to a world which the reader can recognize as more or less his own (as in "The Baby Party" and "The Lottery") or whether metaphors and details within the story itself, thus sketching an ambiguous core of meaning or theme nestled somewhere within the first and last lines of the story (as in "The Egg" and in a unique way, "The Big Two-Hearted River").

5. You will be able to explain the importance of point of view in fiction.

6. You will be able to explain style as an integral structural or thematic device, particularly in the works of Hemingway.

7. You will be able to analyze a poem, mentioning such things as meter, rhyme, rhyme scheme, the various structures into which poems can be built, theme, and purpose.
Assignment Sheet VI

Objective

The student will illustrate an ability to use dialogue, narrative, descriptive, voice, and methods of organizing in a grammatically correct short story.

Directions

This assignment asks you to remember and use the skills you learned in the freshmen composition unit. You should select a type of organization (time, space, importance) and a voice model (author, major character, minor character) to write a short story. You should also include elements of dialogue, narrative, and description.
Supplemental Assignments

Level I

1. Write a two page short story. Use correct grammar and complete sentences. Include those elements mentioned in the directions.

Or

List as much information as you know for these elements. Give examples and a short definition for each.

Conversation
Narrative
Voice
Organization
Description
Assignments
Level II

1. Write a five page short story. Use correct grammar, spelling, and complete sentences. Include those elements mentioned in the directions or

Write a one page theme for each of the following elements:

Conversation
Narrative
Voice
Organization
Description

There will be a total of five pages. Each theme should correctly illustrate the element.
Supplemental Assignments
Level III

1. Write a seven page short story. Use correct grammar, spelling, and complete sentences. Include those elements mentioned in the directions.

or

Write a two page sample theme for each of the following elements:

- Conversation
- Narrative
- Description
- Voice
- Organization

Each theme should correctly illustrate the theme.
Objective

The student will illustrate an ability to make comparisons by writing a 500 word analogy.

Directions

An analogy asks the writer to analyze the parts of the two items to be compared. The, you begin by showing how these items are similar and then you show how they are different.

Expanded exposition (like this assignment) is only a series of paragraphs. Good organization will allow you to use these paragraphs to draw conclusions and convince the reader of correctness of your opinions.
1. Write a one page analogy of one of the following pairs of items:

   a. dogs and cats
   b. radio and television
   c. school and home
   d. brothers and sisters
   e. or a pair of items of your own choice
SOPHOMORE COMPOSITION
ASSIGNMENT SHEET 2
EXPOSITION/ANALOGY

Assignments
Level II

1. Write a 500 word (2 pages) composition in which you compare one of the following pairs of items:
   a. love and hate
   b. freedom and responsibility
   c. automobiles and motorcycles
   d. Eastern America and Western America
   e. or a pair of items of your own choice
1. Write a 500 word (2 pages) composition in which you compare one of the following pairs of items.

   a. alone and lonely
   b. freedom and responsibility
   c. classical music and popular music
   d. or a pair of items of your own choice
Objective
The student will illustrate an ability to explain a process by writing a 500 word exposition composition.

Directions
This assignment asks you to look at a process, break it down into its parts and explain each part. The way in which you organize the paper is related to the way you understand the elements. Try to be as complete and as logical as you can.
Supplementary Assignments
Level I

1. Write a one page paper in which you explain one of the following processes:

   a. How to bake a pie
   b. How to make a bed
   c. How to make a long distance phone call - collect
   d. or a process of your choice
Supplementary Assignments
Level II

1. Write a 500 word (2 pages) paper in which you explain one of the following processes:

   a. The method of making friends
   b. How to be a good student
   c. How a television works
   d. or a process of your own choice
SOPHOMORE COMPOSITION
ASSIGNMENT SHEET 3
EXPOSITION/EXPLAINING A PROCESS

Supplemental Assignments
Level III

1. Write a three page paper in which you explain one of the following processes:
   a. How to pass a test
   b. How to change an enemy to a friend.
   c. How to make fewer mistakes
   d. or a process of your own choice
Objective

The student will illustrate an ability to use description in an expository composition by writing a one page paper.

Direction

There are many possible ways that you can explain an idea or describe an event. Usually you select detail from the idea or event which fit your own opinion.

This assignment asks you to write a description using very selective detail. The object of the writing will be to create a specific mood.
Supplemental Assignments
Level I

1. Make a list of ten adjectives which you think illustrate the emotion of fear.

2. Write a complete sentence for each of these adjectives. Underline the adjective in the sentence.

3. Fit these same sentences into a mini-story which illustrates the single emotion of fear.

4. Follow the same steps with an emotion of your choice.
1. Make a list of ten adjectives and ten verbs (action words) which illustrate one of the following emotions:

- fear
- hate
- excitement
- love
- joy
- depression

2. Use this list of 20 words and create a one page short story. Remember, the story should make the single emotion very vivid.
Supplemental Assignments

Level III

1. Write a three page short story in which you carefully select verb and adjectives that illustrate a single emotion.

2. Underline those words or phrase which you think help to create the single effect.
Objective

The student will illustrate an ability to organize and use narrative in expository writing by writing a one page narrative.

Directions

The object of narrative writing is to tell a story. The story is usually told in chronological order. You will be expected to organize your paper in this way.

Narrative is important because you often use it as supportive evidence for an opinion you are trying to illustrate.
ASSIGNMENT SHEET 5
EXPOSITION/NARRATIVE

Supplemental Assignments
Level I

1. Write a one page theme in which you describe an average Saturday afternoon in your life.

2. Use narrative to tell of a single incident during that afternoon. Be sure that you relate the incident in chronological order.

or

Write a one page theme on a subject of your choice. Include at least one incident told in narrative style using chronological order.
ASSIGNMENTS
Level II

1. Write a two-page theme in which you describe the effects of a little brother or sister on family peace and quiet.

2. Use narrative to detail two specific incidents. Be sure that you relate the incidents in chronological order.

OR

Write a two-page theme on a subject of your choice. Include two incidents told in narrative style using chronological order.
Supplemental Assignments
Level III

1. Write a three page theme in which you describe the role of teenagers in modern society.

2. Use narrative detail three specific examples of what youth has done. These examples should serve as supportive evidence to the conclusion which you are trying to make.

3. Use chronological order in all narrative sections

or

Write a three page theme on a subject of your choice. Include three incidents told in narrative style using chronological order.
ASSIGNMENT SHEET 6
EXPOSITION/EXPLAINING AN IDEA

Objectives
The student will illustrate an ability to use exposition to explain an idea by writing a one page paper explaining a concept.

Directions
Explaining an idea is similar to explaining a process. First, you must analyze the component parts of the idea and present them in some logical order.
Supplemental Assignments
Level I

1. Write a well organized one page theme in which you explain one of the following ideas:

   a. puppy love
   b. democracy
   c. freedom
   d. or a topic of your choice
1. Write a well organized two page theme in which you explain one of the following ideas:

   a. the difference between love and hate
   b. The idea of women's equality
   c. The feelings of the American Indian
   d. on a topic of your choice
1. Write a well organized three page theme in which you explain one of the following ideas:

a. all men are created equal
b. love at first sight
c. an empty sack can not stand upright
d. or a topic of your choice.
Objective
The student will illustrate an understanding of the form and use of the metaphor by writing five metaphor sentences.

Directions
The metaphor is a poetic figure of speech which is used to compare non-similar objects. The metaphor uses the verb "to be" to make this analogy. Verbs like; "is", "was", "were" are used as equal signs (=) in the construction of a metaphor sentence. For example, "The sun is a giant orange." or "Mary is a vision of beauty." Notice that most often the metaphor compares one noun with another.
Supplemental Assignment
Level I

1. Make a list of five nouns (people, places, or things)

2. Select five other nouns that have some similar characteristic to the original list of nouns

   Example:   Sun (round, orange-yellow color)
               Orange (round, orange in color)

3. Next, put the pairs of nouns together in a complete sentence using the verb "to be" as equal signs.
Assignment
Level II

1. Make a list of ten nouns (people, places, or things)

2. Select ten other nouns that have some similar characteristic to the original list of nouns

   Example
   - Sun (round, orange in color)
   - Orange (round and orange)

3. Next, put the pairs of nouns together in a complete sentence using the verb "to be as = equal signs.

Write a ten - sentence paragraph in which you include ten metaphors. Label each with a number.
1. Write a one page short story in which you use (15) fifteen metaphors. Label each with a number.

OR

Write twenty complete metaphor sentences.
ASSIGNMENT SHEET 8
SIMILE

Objectives
The student will illustrate an ability to form and use similes correctly by writing five complete simile sentences.

Direction
The simile is similar to the metaphor in that it tries to show a relationship between two things or nouns. The form of the simile does not use the equal signs. The verb "to be" is replaced by either one of two words "like" or "as".

Example: Her smile was like a rainbow.
He was as big as a barn
Supplemental Assignment
Level I

1. Make a list of five nouns (people, places, or things)

2. Select five other nouns that have some similar characteristic to the original list of nouns

   Example: Sun (round, orange in color)
            orange (round, orange in color)

3. Next, put the pairs of nouns together using the words like or as to form five complete sentences

   Example: The sun was like an orange Assessments
Level II

1. Make a list of ten nouns (people, places or things)

2. Select ten other nouns that have some similar characteristic to the original list of nouns

   Example
   - sun (round and orange in color)
   - orange (round and orange in color)

3. Next, put the pairs of nouns together using the words "like" or "as" to form ten complete sentences.

   or

   Write a ten sentence paragraph in which you include ten similes. Label each with a number.
1. Write a one page short story in which you use (15) fifteen similes. Label each with a number.

OK

Write twenty complete simile sentences.
Objective
The student will illustrate an understanding of the form and use of the allegory by writing a one page allegory.

Directions
The allegory is a type of writing that uses objects or animals to represent people and their actions. So, when you write an allegory, you give life to the lifeless or more life to the living. A chair may be alive and feel, or an animal may talk and own a business.

Another important aspect of allegory is that it should illustrate some characteristic of mankind: fear, love, pollution, progress.
Supplemental Assignments

Level I

1. Using school room chairs as characters, write a one page allegory (short story) about what students and teachers are like today.

Write a one page allegory on a topic of your choice
1. A group of love letters are at a convention talking about the styles and customs of today. Make this idea into a three page allegory. Use complete sentences and conversation.

or

Write a three page allegory on a topic of your choice.
Supplemental Assignments
Level III

1. A group of germs are the last living things in earth. They find each other and talk about what went wrong in their germ society. Complete this idea with a five page allegory (short story).

Write a five page allegory on a topic of your choice.
Objective
The student will illustrate an understanding of the form and use of alliteration by writing ten sentences of alliteration.

Directions
Alliteration is an aspect of poetry which requires the writer to repeat similar sounds. For example, "Big black bugs bleed black blood." Notice that the "b" sound is used over and over.
Supplemental Assignments
Level I

1. Starting with the letter "A" go down the alphabet, to "J" and write one sentence for each of the letter sounds. Make sure that your sentences are complete.

or

Find ten examples of alliteration sentences in books and magazines. Copy them down and submit.
Assignments
Level II

1. Starting with the letter "A", go down the alphabet to "J", and write an alliteration sentence for each of those letter sounds.

2. Find five examples of alliteration sentences in books and magazines. Copy them down and submit.

or

Find fifteen examples of alliteration sentences and submit those.
Supplemental Assignments
Level III

1. Starting with the letter "A", go down the alphabet to "J", and write an alliteration sentence for each of those letter sounds.

2. Find 10 examples of alliteration in books and magazines and submit them. Include the name of the poem or book of the alliteration.
ASSIGNMENT SHEET 11
BALLAD

Objective

The student will illustrate an ability to form and use the technical requirement for a ballad by writing a 16 line ballad poem.

Directions

This ballad is a form of poetry which is used to tell a story. You will be required to write 16 lines of poetry which describes the adventures of a single character and concludes with the same sort of moral.
Supplementary Assignments
Level I

1. Using yourself as the main character, write 16 short complete sentences which tell about one specific incident in your life.

2. Compress each of these sentences into phrases of exactly five syllables each.

3. Be sure that the final few lines conclude the story and make some sort of moral statement.

or

Follow the same steps with another character or incident.
ASSIGNMENTS
Level II

1. Choose a famous character from history and write 16 short, complete sentences about a single incident in that person's life.

2. Compress each of these sentences into phrases of exactly five syllables each.

3. Next, find a rhyming word to end each of the phrases. Use the rhyming pattern where each new letter is a new rhyming sound.

   line 1 - A  2 - A  3 - B  4 - B  5 - C  6 - C  7 - D  8 - D  9 - E  10 - E  11 - F  12 - F  13 - G  14 - G  15 - H  16 - H

4. Make the final few lines conclude the story and make some sort of moral statement.
Supplemental Assignments

Level III

1. Create an imaginary hero: Organize in your mind a single incident of this hero's life.

2. Describe this single incident in 16 short complete sentences.

3. Next, find a rhyming word to each of the phrases. Use the rhyming pattern where each new letter is a new rhyming sound:

   line 1 - A  5 - C  9 - E  13 - G
   2 - A  6 - C  10 - E  14 - G
   3 - B  7 - D  11 - F  15 - H
   4 - B  3 - D  12 - F  16 - H

4. Make the final few lines conclude the story and make some sort of moral statement.
Objective

The student will illustrate an understanding of the form and use of the bibliography by writing a sample bibliography page on a specific subject.

Directions

A bibliography requires specific information in a set order and punctuated in an exact way.

For books the information you need is: author's name, the title, publisher, date, volume, city of publication. The order should be author first, book title, volume number, city of publication, publisher, and copyright date.

Sample

Notice that the items are divided by commas, that the first line is indented, that the author's last name comes first and the title is underlined.

For magazine articles you follow basically the same form except you include three more items. The first is the title of the article (in quotation marks), the second is the page numbers of the story itself. The third is the date of the magazine.

Sample:

These are the sample forms for the most common bibliography entries. You also need to know that the bibliography page is organized with all the books first arranged in alphabetical order according to the last name of the author. Next, you arrange all the magazine articles in the same fashion. If the article does not have an author listed then use the first letter of the title (other than a, an, the, etc.)
Supplementary Assignment
Level I

1. Using the topic of dogs, find in the library three (3) books and three (3) magazine articles which deal with the subject.

2. Copy the needed information from the books and magazines.

3. Organize a sample bibliography page using these six (6) entries.

   or

   Select a topic of your choice and follow the same procedure.
Assignment
Level II

1. Using the topic of drug control, find in the library a total of eight (8) books and magazine articles which deal with the subject.

2. Copy the needed information from the books and magazines.

3. Organize a sample bibliography page using these eight (8) entries.

or

Select a topic of your choice and follow the same procedure.
Supplemental Assignments
Level III

1. Using Shakespeare as a topic, find five (5) books and five (5) magazine articles which deal with any aspect of the topic.

2. Copy the needed information from these sources.

3. Organize a sample bibliography page using these ten (10) entries.

or

Select a topic of your choice and follow the same procedure.
Objective
The study will illustrate an understanding of the form and use of bibliography note cards by writing three cards.

Directions
You can see from the work on assignment sheet 12 that the bibliography deals with specific information in a set order. You should also know that the bibliography is the final part of the research paper. In order to write a complete and accurate bibliography you have two options. First, you could carry all the books with you until you complete your paper. Then, you copy the needed information. Or, you can copy the needed bibliography information on small note cards when you finish with each book or magazine article.

The note cards are not only more practical for carrying around, but it also makes it easier to put the books and articles in alphabetical order. You know from assignment 12 what information is needed. All you do is put that same information on a 3 x 5 card.
Supplemental Assignments
Level I

1. Using the topic of weather, write three bibliography note cards on book sources and three bibliography note cards on magazine articles.

2. Place the cards in order as if they were going on the bibliography page.

or

Using a topic of your choice, follow the same procedure.
Assignments
Level II

1. Using the topic of ecology, write four bibliography note cards on book sources and four bibliography note cards on magazine sources.

2. Put the cards in order as if they were going on the bibliography page.

or

Using a topic of your choice follow the same procedures.
Objective
The student will illustrate an ability to make and use source and information note cards by writing five cards of each kind.

Direction
Guides for taking notes
1. Use 3 x 5 or 4 x 6 cards or slips of paper. (Do not confuse these note cards with the source cards already described.)
2. Skim the selection. Reread the first paragraph. Notice headings and topic sentences. Don't take notes until you have discovered what you consider the important facts and ideas.
3. On each card write only one note, or related facts about only one topic.
4. Write the topic in the upper left corner. As you take notes and write down topics, a rough outline of your paper will begin to form in your mind.
5. In the upper right corner write the number of the source card that identifies the source of the note.
6. At the left of the card write carefully the page on which you found the material. You will need this information for your footnotes.
7. Use your own brand of shorthand, but be sure you can read your notes later. Make free use of contractions, abbreviations, and mathematical signs such as \(+\), \(-\), \(\cdot\), \(<\), and \(>\). As a rule, omit articles, connectives, and the verb to be.
8. Ordinarily take notes in your own words. Jot down only facts and ideas, not the author's words. If you are recording an author's opinion, write "Mr. Lynen thinks..."
9. Copy quoted passages, names, places, and figures accurately and clearly. In a quotation preserve the spelling and punctuation of the original.
10. If you copy something word for word, enclose the passage in prominent quotation marks, a reminder that the language is not your own. Use ellipsis marks (page 378) to indicate an omission within a quotation. Enclose explanatory words of your own within the quotation in brackets (page 378).

Example of note card. (The numbers in parentheses are keyed to the preceding Guides.)

Guides for adding footnotes

1. Place the number a little above the line at the end of borrowed material.
2. Number your footnotes consecutively throughout your research paper, or begin again with number 1 on each page.
3. Give the source in a footnote at the bottom of the page. Unless your teacher prefers another arrangement, use the following forms the first time you refer to a source.

FOR A BOOK

FOR A MAGAZINE ARTICLE

FOR A NEWSPAPER ARTICLE

4. Use ibid. (ibidem, meaning "in the same place") for a later reference to the same source as in the footnote immediately preceding. If the page number differs, place a comma after ibid. and give the page number:

Ibid., 20.

5. To refer to a source quoted earlier but not in the immediately preceding footnote give the name of the author if only one book or article by him is used: Nims, p. 62. Some researchers add the abbreviation op. cit. (opera citato, meaning "in the work cited"):

Nims, op. cit., p. 62.

6. To save time and space, you may use these additional abbreviations in your footnotes:

c. or ca. from the Latin circa: about (used with dates)
ed edited by, editor, edition et al. from the Latin et alii: and other persons
f. (plural ff.) line (and the following lines)
l. (plural ll.) number (numbers)
No., no. (plural Nos, nos.) page (pages)
p. (plural pp.) from the Latin quod vide: which see or whom see q.v. (a reference to a previous source) trans. translated by, translator, translation
vol (plural vols.) volume (volumes)

ACTIVITY 8 Preparing the Final Copy

After thoroughly revising your paper, copy it accurately with a minimum of erasures. Retype pages when necessary. Add your footnotes.
There is a sense of the kinship that Wordsworth feels between man and nature in a few of Frost's poems. "All Revelation," according to one critic, is the most Wordsworthian of Frost's poems. From the flowers and stars man receives a response that removes his fear of the immensity of earth and sky. In "Iris by Night" there is also a feeling of kinship as the rainbow circles around the man to protect him from dangers. When the two lovers and the two deer meet in "We Look at Two," there is a moment of communion when nature seems to return man's love:

A great wave from it going over them,
As if the earth in one unlooked-for favor
Had made them certain earth returned their love.

 Assignment
Level I

1. Using the information on forms make five note cards for source (footnote cards) and five note cards for information (see sample for note card). Use the topic of Wyoming History

Use the spaces marked on the pages as if they were 3 x 5 cards.
Level II

1. Using the information on form, make ten information cards and ten source (footnote) cards on the topic of the Equal Rights Amendment.
Supplemental Assignments
Level III

1. Using the topic of Federal Aid to Public Education

   A. Make 10 source cards (footnote information)
   B. Make ten information cards (using the sample card as a model)
   C. Use actual 3 x 5 cards

   OR

   Follow the same steps using a topic of your choice.

- sample of "Sophomore drama technical workshop"
- drama project information
- evaluation sheet (to be placed in your file)
This unit is designed to provide students with an exposure to the world of drama. Each student will be expected to read five plays during the span of about nine weeks. A selection of plays is given in this packet. Also, each student will do a theater project.

Substitute plays (1-3 acts each) are possible, but all substitutions must be cleared with an instructor and the instructor must initial the substitution in your file.

Students are urged to listen to and view the sound filmstrip set entitled "How to Read and Understand Drama" before they begin this unit.

The evaluation methods may include any or all of the following materials, depending on a decision by your instructor. Check with your instructor before you begin reading to see which type you will receive:

- standardized tests (80% is considered passing)
- "Sophomore drama technical worksheets" (see instructions in this packet)
- teacher-presented oral exam (see sample in this packet)
- specially designed exams
