This sixth grade unit is one of a sequential learning series of the Focus on Inner City Social Studies (FICSS) project developed in accordance with the needs and problems of an urban society. A description of the project is provided in SO 008 271. As part of the sixth grade curriculum focusing on world power, this six week unit studies the factors involved in Czechoslovakia's political and economic destiny. Specific student inquiry areas include Czechoslovakian history and geography, the fall of Czechoslovakia 1938-1948, Czechoslovakia in the Communist Camp 1948-1965, the new spirit of liberalization 1965-1968, and the Russian invasion 1968. The content of the unit includes teaching strategies, source materials, learning objectives, specific learning activities, and teacher and student resources. (Author/DE)

INTRODUCTION TO THE CURRICULUM OF GRADE SIX

Scope of the Curriculum of Grade Six

The units of grade six naturally grow out of those of grade five which had as their theme POWER IN THE STATE AND NATION. Grade six, therefore, is concerned with WORLD POWER. In grade five students learned about two major systems in which are involved some large degree of power, Government, and Education. In addition, they learned about some of the elements of social power.

In grade six, the units are geared to help students investigate the conditions under which people in other nations live as a result of the exercise of military, economic and political power in their countries. The extent to which the United States is involved in guiding or controlling the exercise of power is an important issue which is considered.

The existence of power is factual. How it should be exercised is moral. This is true even in the lives of sixth grade pupils; it is no less true of the world. Thus, pupils must consider the moral use of world power for only in this way will they progress toward becoming informed, oral agents.

Specifically the units in the sixth grade sequence are:

6.1 Viet Nam
6.2 Middle East
6.3 Czechoslovakia (1968)
6.4 Biafra and South Africa
6.5 Nazi Germany
6.6 The Moon

To some, the last unit may appear out of place, but it is not. National powers invest a large part of their resources in space exploration. Money is power and one must consider how it is to be used and on what priorities. Thus the 6.7 unit appears most appropriate as a concluding study for this grade level.
This unit deals with the country of Czechoslovakia and its history both as an independent nation and as a Soviet-controlled puppet state.

An attempt is made to analyze and study the factors involved in major events which controlled Czechoslovakia's political and economic destiny. Beginning with the German invasion in 1938 up to the Soviet invasion of 1968, both the actions of invading countries and Slovak citizens are presented to show where ever possible the cause and effect of social and military events on political thought and on the people affected by this thought.

The following terms and identifications

1. Dubcek
2. Benes
3. Hitler
4. Munich Agreement
5. Puppet State
6. Purge
7. Nationalism
8. World War II
9. Slovakia
10. Action Program
11. Censorship
Skills

The pupil will be able to:

1. use resources in the classroom and library to find information.
2. organize and prepare a presentation to share information with the class.
3. evaluate classroom presentations by their own and other committees.
4. use a map or globe to locate and identify areas discussed in the unit.
5. function effectively in a committee as evidenced by his participation and opinions relating to this unit.
6. read and think critically in order to evaluate the facts and opinions about the invasion of Czechoslovakia.
7. list, group, and label questions about the material to be studied in this unit.
8. use discriminating judgment in selecting audio-visual materials.
9. organize and evaluate information used in committee research.
10. listen attentively when others speak.
11. listen to take notes when others speak.
12. learn to take notes while other committee members are presenting their reports.
13. reserve judgment until speaker's entire presentation has been heard.
14. learn to take notes while other committee members are presenting their reports.
15. write with accuracy and exactness.
16. understand the need for rules and the necessity for observing them.
17. accept the role of leader or follower, as the situation requires.
18. distinguish between work that can be done most efficiently by individuals and that which calls for group effort.
Objectives (Continued)

Attitudes

The pupil will:

1. Feel compassion for the Czechoslovakian people as evidenced by his verbal expression or his original graphic material depicting the effects of loss of freedom on the people and their disappointment with the U.S.R.
2. be convinced that freedom must be daily preserved or imperceptibly lost as evidenced by his expression of concern over issues of freedom and/or his action or encouragement of action by adults in behalf of the preservation of our freedom.

Behavior

The pupil will:

1. perform the tasks assigned to him in his committee.
2. follow the rule "one person at a time speaking" in order to promote effective, meaningful discussion.
3. assume a leadership role without frustrating the efforts of other students to contribute to the committee or class.
4. make an active effort to maintain his individual freedoms, without jeopardizing the freedom of the others.
5. voluntarily pursue individually initiated studies on other nations or on Czechoslovakia.
6. take class work seriously.
7. be an effective member of his committee through acceptance of tasks assigned to him.
8. be courteous and polite in class to peers and teacher.
STRATEGY

I. Introductory Activities

A. Displays

B. Silent Film

Show part of the film on Czechoslovakia listed on the resource section - only that part that deals with the German invasion and show it without sound. This should arouse interest concerning the German invasion of 1938 and serve as a basis from which the children can raise questions.

C. Reaction

Have the students write a short essay about their reactions to Communist domination. Discuss the possibilities of resisting Russian domination and what groups might be the leaders for such resistance.

D. Relate

Ask pupils if they have ever heard about Czechoslovakia. Ask them what they know of what happened there. Ask how many know people of Czechoslovakian descent.

E. Role Playing

The teacher and students can enact an "invasion" situation. With the cooperation of pupils from another class, the teacher can allow her class to be "taken over" by an outside force. The students who take over could:
a. Tell teacher this is no longer her class.
b. Change students' assigned desks
c. Force some students to stand by, removing a few desks from the classroom.
d. Send pupils to board and have them write alphabet with their left hand.
e. If pupil refuses to do what he is told, he is sent out into the hall or to the classroom "jail". (If you have principal cooperation in this activity, student may be sent to office for a short time.)
1. Introductory Activities (Continued)

Discussion:

1. How did you feel during this action?

2. Do you think the teacher should have stopped the take over of the class?

3. Why do you think this happened?

4. Would you like this "dictatorship" to continue in the classroom?

5. What would you like to know about the country of Czechoslovakia which was invaded by Eastern powers during 1968?
II. Raising Questions

Purpose:

1. For students to form a basis on which to investigate the various dimensions implied in the title of the unit.

2. Students should ask their own questions to facilitate the development of a student-structured unit.

Potential Questions which the student might ask after experiencing the introductory activities:

1. Why did the Germans invade Czechoslovakia; when did they do it?

2. How were the Communists able to come to control in Czechoslovakia?

3. Were the people of Czechoslovakia happy with their Communist government?

4. Why is Czechoslovakia an important nation?

5. Who was Alexander Dubcek?

Note: This list of questions is not all inclusive nor phrased as the students might really ask the questions. The point is that they should ask: If they don't then more introductory activities are called for. The content section of this unit contains only a small segment of information in answer to these questions. The students will be the guiding force for direction of research based on their questions NOT necessarily those listed above.
III. Categorization of questions by students

Purpose:
To determine the number of committees needed to investigate the topics.
To organize basic ideas that should be explored.
To gain experience in critical thinking.
To identify several areas of Czechoslovakian political and economic history needed to be studied.

A. Although one cannot anticipate the exact questions students will raise and the categories they will devise, it is possible that the following categories will appear.

B. Possible Categories

1. Geography and Background
2. Czechoslovakia, 1938-48
3. Czechoslovakia as a Communist State
4. New Spirit in Czechoslovakia - 1965-68
5. Invasion of Czechoslovakia (1968)
V. Information Retrieval

A. The various committees, at this point -
   1. Determine their tasks.
   2. Assign responsibilities.
   3. Research their topics.
   4. Organize their data.
   5. Make a presentation.

Some content materials have been included that might be useful as resources for the teacher and the student. Since the emphasis in this unit is on the committees doing their own research, it is recommended that the content materials be used as background information for the teacher or student and not as a substitute for student investigation.

It is difficult to project the extent of student research. In all probability, the student research will be somewhat different from what the authors of this unit have included in the Content Materials.

Students may need instruction in the use of the basic library research tools such as:
- Card Catalog.
- Specialized indexes.

They should also not forget that resources other than library resources exist, such as:

1. Interviews with Czechs who have lived under German and/or Communist rule.
2. Make a neighborhood survey on whether the U.S. or United Nations should have gone to the aid of Czechoslovakia in 1968.
V. Information Retrieval

(Con't.)

3. Films - see resources.
4. Records or tapes of Czechoslovakian national songs.
5. Daily newspapers of 1968 especially important for researching the events of the 1968 invasion.
6. National weekly magazines - Life, Look, Time, Newsweek,
7. Radio and TV broadcasts - if available.
8. Information secured from the Czechoslovakian embassy in Washington, D.C.
9. Collect periodicals from 1968 and 1969 which would have covered the Czech crises.
V. Brief Geography and Background of Czechoslovakia

A. Located in the center of Europe - Capital City - Prague.

B. Land is surrounded by other countries
   1. To the east - U.S.S.R.
   2. Germany lies west and northwest.
   3. Poland lies to the north.
   4. Hungary is south and southwest.

C. Czechoslovakia's natural regions are: Bohemia, Moravia, and Slovakia - (these were also political regions or divisions.)

D. Country is drained by the Danube River - flows east and south to the Black Sea.

E. No large lakes - many small lakes in the mountains.

F. Climate
   1. Hot summers and cold winters.
   2. Plenty of rain for crops.

G. Natural Resources
   1. Deposits of Coal - Western Bohemia - Southern Moravia.
   2. Northeast Moravia - iron ore.
   3. Deposits of graphite manganese, lead, zinc, mercury, silver, gold.
   4. Mineral resources: uranium, clay, sand.
   5. Soil: half of the land can be farmed.
   6. Large water supply resources.

H. Transportation and Communication
   1. 9,000 miles of main railroad - owned by Government.
   2. 48,000 miles of roads and highways.
V. Information Retrieval Committee A

Czechoslovakia History and Geography (to 1938) (Con't.)

   1. Treaty with Soviet Union - Czechoslovakia gave up Ruthenia-area was made part of the Ukraine.
   2. "Free" elections brought Communists to power.

IV. Communist rule in Czechoslovakia

A. 1948 - Communists staged a revolt and seized complete control of the government.

B. Communists set up police state patterned under "Soviet Union".
C. All religion and education were brought under Communist control.

D. Benes became head of the "Free Czechoslovakia movement."
   1. Involved Czech and Slovaks who fled the country before German occupation.
I. Czechoslovakia in the Communist Camp

A. Politics
1. Czechoslovakia was a Communist puppet stage considered behind the iron curtain.
2. Communist party politics led to:
   a. Purges.
   b. Trials for Treason.
   c. Eventual dissatisfaction with Communist rule.
3. Liberal factions by Communist rule looked to the Western World.

B. Deterioration of Czechoslovak Economics
1. Czechoslovakia and Poland set a council for economic cooperation aimed to control heavy industries of both countries.
2. Post World War II Czechoslovak economy was relatively sound, and promised great growth potential.
   a. Early postwar years of nationalized industry offered a chance for rapid and extensive growth.
   b. Only country in Europe with uranium ore.
   c. Consumer goods industries were intact at a time when such goods were in great demand.
   d. Czechoslovakia given trading rights to Poland's Baltic sea ports.
3. This great potential was not realized; it fell victim to the Cold War.
   a. After 1948, Czechoslovakia turned toward the East and entered the Soviet bloc.
   b. Foreign trade with the West was stopped almost entirely.
   c. Czechoslovakia was to industrialize Eastern Europe, the Soviet Union and China.
   d. The "iron and steel concept," the basis of the 5-year plans, almost entirely liquidated crafts and private services and seriously crippled trade.

Committee D

A New Spirit in Czechoslovakia (1965-68)

3. By introducing wage equalization and systematically glorifying manual labor—and berating—intellectual work, the Party undermined the social prestige and importance attached to higher education.

d. In December, 1967, the revolt against the repressions of Novotny, first Secretary of the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia, broke out openly.

1. Novotny asked to be relieved of the duties of first Secretary, but remained President of the Republic.

2. Alexander Dubcek, who had been first Secretary of the Communist Party of Slovakia, was elected first Secretary of the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia on January 6.

e. Censorship was abolished, and there was freedom of the press and other media unknown to Czechoslovakia for twenty years.

1. The daily press began to publish accounts of the crimes committed by the secret police in the era of the political trials of the 1950's.

2. This information explosion caused public affairs to become a matter of concern to everyone.

3. Communications media brought to the people the message of change following January and Dubcek's reforms.

   a. They prevented a return to pre-January conditions.

   b. The democratic process was deepened.

   c. The Party was reluctantly pushed toward further fundamental reforms.

B. Rise of Alexander Dubcek

1. Born in 1921 in Uhrovec, Slovakia.

2. In 1925, his family went to the Soviet Union.

   a. His father was a founder of the Slovak Communist Party.

3. Alexander Dubcek completed his education in a Soviet school.
4. Family returned to Slovakia when Alexander was 16.
   a. Stalinist terror was directed against foreigners.
   b. Maintained Communist faith.

5. In 1963, he was chosen First Secretary of the Slovak Party.

6. Dubček remained a staunch Communist, and loyal to the ideals of Marx and Lenin; he interpreted them with the ability to listen to diverse points of views.
   a. Dubček became a world-wide symbol of democratic socialism.

7. On January 6, 1968, he was chosen first Secretary of the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia.
   a. Dubček asked for approval of the Action Program, and spoke of the new political and economic model
   b. He emphasized the necessity for a democratization of the whole society.
   c. He spoke of the new role of the Communist Party must play in order to regain the people's confidence.
   d. He spoke of the Party's humanitarian mission.

8. The Soviet Communist party accused Dubček of revisionism and leading Czechoslovakia away from the Party toward a democracy and the West.

9. August 21, 1968, he was arrested by the Soviets along with other Czechoslovakian leaders, and flown to an unknown destination, as a result of the Soviet invasion.

C. The Action Program

1. The goal of the Program was to create a new model of Socialist democracy.
   a. Became a manifesto for the reforms that the new post-January, 1968, leadership intended to realize.
   b. Wanted to distinguish true leadership from control.
      1. The government, independent of the Party, must pass laws and control administration.
      2. The new political model would safeguard the political rights of citizens.
      3. Legality must be renewed.
State security police was not to control the political acts and views of the citizens.

Rights of national groups, especially Slovaks, were recognized.

The elements of both a planned and a market economy would be united.

Czechoslovakia's determination to remain within the group of Socialist states was proclaimed.

New election policies allowing minor parties.

Open economy to world markets - create a new Slovak currency.

In April, 1968, the Action Program was adopted unanimously by the Central Committee of Czechoslovakia.

Weakening in the country's economy due to the strain of Soviet-imposed production goals.

Bitter resistance on the part of the people to new sacrifices for their Communist bosses.

Russia felt the leading role of the Communist party was in serious jeopardy.

Possibility of invading Czechoslovakia was politically unwelcome (Soviet Union did not want to look bad in the eyes of the rest of the world).

Decision was made to launch a policy of pressure upon the Czechoslovak government and party.

Role of Party Leaders During Invasion

A. Alexander Dubcek
1. Dubcek was told foreign troops had invaded – unwilling to believe the reports since he had reached agreement with the Soviet Union only a few days before.
2. Dubcek was arrested - if Slovak citizens had openly rebelled Dubcek was to be executed immediately.
3. Accused of harboring counter-revolution.

B. World Reaction to Soviet Invasion.
1. Criticism by Western governments was expected.
2. Criticism by fellow Communist Countries such as Rumania, Yugoslavia, Red China was expected.
3. What was not expected was the strong criticism by Western Communist parties in Italy and France.
4. Protests by Student Groups throughout the world.

C. Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia Reach
1. President Svoboda meets with party leaders in Moscow.
2. Svoboda refused to negotiate until Dubcek was present.
3. Communist compromise government for Czechoslovakia.
   a. Moscow protocol was signed about August 24.
   b. Moscow recognized Dubcek as first Secretary of the Party in Czechoslovakia.
   c. Czechoslovak representatives to Moscow were forced to:
      1. Call fourteenth Congress held during invasion illegal.
      2. Reintroduce censorship.
      3. Dissolve all clubs outside the national front.
      4. Undertake no change in foreign policy.
      5. Internal independence consistent with the Socialistic bloc.
      6. Control over country's intellectuals.

4. In return, the armies of occupation would be recalled as the conditions returned to normal.
   1. Soviet Union would decide when normal conditions returned.
   2. Soviet Union would recognize post-January development and not interfere in internal affairs.
5. Refusal to accept this proposal would result in military dictatorship by Russia.

E. Post-August Czechoslovakian-Russia Relations.
      a. Dubcek and other leaders permitted to stay on.
      b. April 2 press censorship restored.
      c. Liberals in Praesidium dismissed.
   2. Dubcek ousted as First Secretary on April 17.
      a. Replaced by Gustav Husak.

F. Czechoslovakia - Russian Relations Today.
   1. Czechoslovakia - Soviet Treaty "Brezhnev Doctrine".
      a. All Socialist states have the right to intervene in the internal affairs of another Socialist state if they think the country involved is losing or is about to lose "the gains of socialism."
      b. What it comes down to is that the Soviet Union has empowered itself to employ force to keep Warsaw Pact nation from becoming too independent, too successful, too prosperous.
      c. Article 10 of the new Czech-Soviet treaty contains an additional obligation. This article commits Czechoslovakia to aid the Soviet Union "no matter what state or group of states" attacks the USSR.

VI. Reporting Findings to the Class.

A. Committee (General Activities)
1. Present a panel discussion of their information.
2. Each member could give an oral report.
3. Each member could give a written report to each member of the class.
4. Use films, guest speakers, community resources, maps, charts, overlays, etc. to aid their presentation.
5. Invent a "diary" of events and feelings.

B. Individual Committees

Committee #1 - special map and picture display of Czechoslovakian geography, people, cities. Slide show using pictures from magazines and newspapers. Czechoslovakian scrapbook.

Committee #2 - special report on Czechoslovakian education system compared to U.S.

Committee #2 and #3 - on a large outline map of Czechoslovakia beginning with Munich - have committee members note the changes in boundaries, through 1968.

Committee #2 could discuss the Munich Agreement in more detail or as a separate report topic.

Committee #2 and #5 - on the German and Russian invasion could present a "You Are There" TV show coverage of the situations. This might include a play or skit as part of the presentation.

Committee #3 - Use map of Europe to show Iron Curtain nations.

Committee #3 could include a special report on the Warsaw pact.
VI. Reporting Findings to the class.

Committee #4 - could include a biographical report on Alexander Dubček.

Committee #5 - role play the various groups in Czechoslovakia (Czech leaders, average citizen, Russian soldiers) at the time of the invasion of 1968 and have each group explain their behavior and defend their positions.
VII. OVERVIEW

After the committees have reported to the class, time should be allowed to review what has been learned and to evaluate the efforts of the learners. Perhaps the class will reconsider all the original questions that were raised and see whether they have been answered. The major questions will require review so that foundation is laid for going beyond the material studied to the generalizations.

There will be some big questions to be considered as a result of the study and possibly some value judgments to be made. Possibly the students will wish to consider the following:

1. Was the Soviet Union justified in its invasion of Czechoslovakia?
2. Should the Western powers have gone to Czechoslovakia's aid?
3. Has the Soviet Union ever accused the U.S. of doing the same thing they did to Czechoslovakia (See references to Santo Domingo or Cuba)?
4. In what ways can Czechoslovakia be considered a "colony" of the USSR; can it be said that Viet Nam is a "colony" of the U.S.?

Such questions and many others will suggest themselves to the teacher and to the class, and they should be discussed, not with the aim of indoctrination, but in order to clarify thinking and to give the children experience in making their own value judgments. It is important that opinions of all be requested and that there be no stress on the "right" answer.
1. "The governments of large and complex social orders have always actively dealt with economic behavior."

2. "The world today, by reason of its rapid transportation and easy means of communication, becomes more and more a single community, the destinies of its still widely divergent peoples inextricable."

3. "National and regional rivalries have not existed because men had no common language, but they have had no common language because they were not in fact engaged extensively enough in the kinds of social behavior which facilitated and made imperative a common language."

4. "Prestige is wielded in the modern world through control over or across to the formal channels of mass communication, press, radio, film, and in another respect, church and school."

5. "Of all such monopolies (of power) the most immediately fatal to democracy is the monopoly of the media of opinion."

6. "...the greater the degree to which members of one group perceive the behavior of members of another as being hostile, the more communication between the two groups will be reduced."

7. "Inherent in the association of beings in society is the problem of regulating the power of some individuals or groups over others."

8. "Society can exist only when a great number of men consider a great number of things under the same aspect, when they hold the same opinions upon many subjects, and when the same occurrences suggest the same thoughts and impressions to their minds."

9. "Every type of great association has at one time or another been considered subversive."
VIII. GENERALIZATIONS

10. "...wherever society exists, man must set up lines of authority for the purpose of organizing for the common defense, the administration of justice, and the preservation of domestic order."

11. "The investment of leaders with the exclusive right to employ force or coercion in government occurs only with the formation of the conquest state."

12. "The conflicting of the most inclusive issue in politics is the relationship between the liberty of the individual and the authority of the state of government."

13. "...individuals and groups oppose vigorously government regulation of their activities, and support vigorously government activities as that directly benefit them."

14. "Out of a situation of social unrest and dissatisfaction, a state of social disorganization, there will arise sooner or later individuals who will lead the sufferers in protest."
IX. CULMINATING ACTIVITIES

SUGGESTED CULMINATING ACTIVITIES

1. Debate:

   Resolved: The U.S. should have aided Czechoslovakia in 1968.
   Resolved: The U.S. should have aided Czechoslovakia in 1938 and put a stop to Hitler then and there.

2. Presentation of the current state of affairs in Czechoslovakia.

3. Continuing bulletin board display on happenings in Czechoslovakia.

4. Timeline with important events listed.

5. Compare the problems faced by Czechoslovakia with those faced by the peoples of the Middle East (6.2 unit) - conclusions?
