ABSTRACT

This teaching module deals with reading readiness. Upon completion of the module, participants should be able to (a) assess readiness needs, (b) list the components of readiness, (c) devise a readiness program for individuals, and (d) determine special readiness needs of the dyslexic child. Participants complete a preassessment test and learning activities, and conclude the module with a postassessment test. (PB)

READING READINESS

Enter

OBJECTIVES

Given a series of alternatives on reading readiness, the participant will be able to:

- list four major skill areas taught in a reading readiness program.
- devise three instructional activities for one of the skill areas as an indice of his ability to devise a total readiness program
- define dyslexia

2.

OBJECTIVES

Given a series of alternatives on reading readiness, the participant will be able to:

- assess readiness needs.
- list the components of readiness.
- devise a readiness program for the individual.
- determine special readiness needs of the dyslexic child.

PRE-ASSESSMENT

To assess your prior mastery of the terminal objectives of this unit of work, complete the following exercise.

Directions: Answer the following questions according to the directions noted in each:

I. Four skills taught in a reading readiness program are:

- A. _____
- B. _____
- C. _____
- D. _____

II. Devise three instructional activities for any one of the above mentioned readiness skills.

- A. _____

- B. _____

- C. _____

III. Define dyslexia _____

4.

I. Required: A and B plus either C or D:

A. Read the following two selections:

1. Harris, Albert J., "Developing Readiness for Reading," How to Increase Reading Ability. (New York: David McKay Co., Inc., 1961), pp. 25-62.
2. Durkin, Dolores, "Readiness for Reading," Teaching Young Children to Read. (Boston: Allyn and Bacon Inc., 1972), pp. 35-59.

B. Attend teacher lecture/demonstration on "Determining and Teaching Readiness for Individual" by the instructor.

Activity: Lecture outline

4. Dyslexia - an introduction
 - a. Diagnosing dyslexia
 - b. Providing remediation for the dyslexic

C. Select three of the early-reading approaches listed below. (These materials may be utilized through an on site visit to the Regional Reading Center of Western Connecticut State College, Danbury, Connecticut or may be secured individually by the participant).

1. Montessori

2. Getting ready to read
3. A.B.C. dictation skills program
4. The "Responsive Environments" approach
5. Read along with me
6. Play 'n talk phonics
7. How to teach your baby to read
8. DISTAR

Activity: Evaluate these three early-reading approaches according to the following "Criteria Checklist."

Criteria Checklist

Suggested scoring: 5-excellent 4-very good 3-good 2-fair 1-poor
0-not part of material

- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Does the author provide the procedures he has recommended in his writings?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Is phonics taught?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Does the child actually read?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Is the word identification taught?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Are the phonic elements taught which will aid a child directly in the identification of strange words that he will encounter in basal-reading programs?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Are exercises provided for the practice of phonic elements?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Does the word development program seem to offer assurance that pupils will be able to analyze newly encountered words?

- 5 4 3-2 1 0 Is there a well developed word analysis program which utilized a variety of specific, clear-cut word exercises applied in day-to-day reading lessons?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Does the readiness program concentrate on specific reading readiness or on general readiness?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Does it develop such skills as ability to use the context; to use auditory clues; to combine auditory and context clues in helping children identify the printed word?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Are listening skills taught as a necessary part?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Is left to right progress specifically taught?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Is visual discrimination and memory specifically taught?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Does the author offer statistical data to support his technique?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Is sufficient practice provided to insure mastery?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Is any content part of the program or does the child only learn skills?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Do the illustrations contribute directly to the movement of the story? Do they add meaning to the text or skill information being taught or are they decorative?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Is the teaching guide specific enough to be useful to the teacher or parent?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Are lessons preprepared?
- 5 4 3 2 1 0 Can the material be easily handled by a preschool child?
