ABSTRACT

Information pertaining to adult education and vocational-technical programs as well as college and university aids is provided in this booklet. The booklet has been divided into three chapters: (1) "Education Beyond High School"; (2) "Native American Programs of Assistance"; and (3) "Student Aids Programs (not specifically for Indians)." Chapter 1 provides guidance for those persons not familiar with programs and requirements for post-high school education. Financial aid forms and college admissions tests are discussed in this chapter. In chapter 2, 111 programs and/or schools specifically for Native American applicants are listed. This chapter contains information relative to Bureau of Indian Affairs, tribal, institutional, and organizational opportunities. Chapter 3 describes 70 student aid programs available to all students. Specific subject areas for undergraduate and graduate students and for students interested in vocational training are also listed in this chapter. Among these subject areas are: agriculture and horticulture, architecture, education, business administration, fashion, foreign study, health professions, law enforcement, and social work. A 9-item annotated bibliography provides an alphabetical catalogue of sources pertaining to institutions, careers, and financial aids. (NQ)

FOREWORD

There is a growing awareness of the need for skilled persons in a wide variety of career fields. Therefore, this booklet has been revised to incorporate information relative to a vast range of educational opportunities, including information concerning Adult Education and Vocational-Technical programs, as well as college and university aids. By providing this type of knowledge, the booklet should be useful to a greater number of persons.

The booklet has been divided into three basic sections. Chapter I outlines those programs restricted to Native American students. The second chapter contains information concerning financial aids available to all students. Each chapter is subdivided into special emphasis categories.

In Chapter I, the first and second subsection, Planning a Future and General Information provides guidance for those persons unfamiliar with programs and requirements for post-high school education.

The second chapter, Native American Programs of Assistance, deals with programs and/or schools specifically for Native American applicants. It contains information relative to Bureau, tribal, institutional and organizational opportunities.

In Chapter III, the subsection, Federal Programs and Non-Federal Programs, describe student aid assistance prospects for all students. Subsection C, in the second chapter, lists specific subject areas for undergraduate and graduates and, in at least one instance, for students interested in vocational training.

The bibliography is annotated and provides an alphabetical catalogue of sources for counselors needing additional guidance pertaining to institutions, careers, and financial aids.

Special appreciation is due all those named and unnamed in these pages who aided in making the revision of this booklet possible. This includes chairmen of scholarship committees, executive secretaries of foundations, institutions, societies and organizations, and other officials.

EDUCATION BEYOND HIGH SCHOOL

A. PLANNING A FUTURE

All Indian people have different feelings and ideas about education. Some say a person must get a college education to get ahead in this world. Others do not think it is that important. However, most people do agree that training, whether it is in a college, vocational school or on the job is important. It does not matter if you do not have a high school diploma, because many types of training are available to you. These different kinds can take from three months (to learn secretarial skills) to nine years (to become a medical doctor).

This booklet deals with education and gives information about how to get it. Most of the information is about colleges. Because there are so many they cover almost every kind of training and many are not that hard to get into.

The first step to take is to check out the various types of schools and colleges and the kinds of programs and training they offer.

PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS

The public schools and colleges are funded by the State and/or local governments. They offer a wide range of programs, including some that will train you in a certain field.

PRIVATE INSTITUTIONS

Private institutions are funded by organizations and by bequests from individuals and by the students who are attending them. They offer all the various types of programs that the public institutions do, but it is important to remember that, generally, the tuition is higher than at the public school or college.

PUBLIC COMMUNITY COLLEGES

Public community colleges are usually two-year colleges, sometimes known as junior colleges. Some offer "terminal" programs that train you for special skills, such as dental technology, secretarial skills, computer programming, practical nursing or even diesel mechanics. They can also offer "transfer" programs for those who want to go on to a four-year college. These schools are often cheaper to attend than if you went to a special "secretarial school" or "computer school." Most students who apply are usually admitted. Even those without a high school diploma can sometimes be admitted if they are "older students."

PRIVATE JUNIOR COLLEGES

Private junior colleges do not always admit everyone who applies and most offer only the "transfer" type of program.

STATE COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

Every State has its own four-year institutions that offer advanced training in a broad range of interests. These schools can be very large or very small. Most States have organized these institutions into Statewide systems and different schools within the system may have different programs. Each institution's catalog will list what that college offers.

PRIVATE COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

These are nearly always four-year non-profit schools. The average cost of going to them is usually the highest, but many times you can expect to get more financial aid from them than many of the others. Their programs are usually much like those of the State colleges and universities.

VOCATIONAL-TECHNICAL INSTITUTIONS

These may be public or private, and their programs range in length from a few months to as much as four years. Their purpose is to train people for careers in specific fields, such as, drafting, data processing, and food services technology. These institutes usually have a placement service to help find you a job after you finish your studies, but they do not guarantee you a job.

For additional information which may be helpful in choosing the school that is "right" for you, read the following explanation of terms that are used in most schools of higher learning.

ETHNIC COMPOSITION

Feel free to ask any college how many of its students are American Indians. It may not change your mind, but those with larger percentages of Indians or some other minority group, may offer programs such as special counselors, or tutoring services.

CALENDAR

Colleges and other schools break up the time they are open in different ways. Some arrange their year in two semesters (like most schools), some in three trimesters (three grading periods), four quarters (three grading periods plus the summer session), or 4-1-4 (two semesters of four months each, with a month in between for independent study).

CURRICULUM (Program of Study)

There are many different kinds of curriculums. Check each college's catalog to see what programs it offers. Here are some terms that are often used in describing some of these programs.

- (a) Undergraduate - This term applies to courses offered by two- or four-year institutions that award degrees. Undergraduate courses lead toward completion of a two-, three-, four-, or in some cases, five-year program of study.
- (b) Major - At most colleges you wind up concentrating in one particular field of study, or major. Each college's catalog lists the majors offered by the college.
- (c) Certification - A certificate states that you are ready to be employed and carry out the responsibilities of a particular job, like being an accountant or teacher. Sometimes, in becoming certified, you not only take courses but gain on-the-job training. You may also have to pass a State approved examination before you can be certified. There are many kinds of certification programs. You can find out if they interest you by reading each institution's catalog.
- (d) Preprofessional - This term applies to all undergraduate programs that prepare you for professional school. Professional schools include medical, veterinary, law, and optometry schools, just to name a few. So, if you want to go on to a professional school, make sure you take courses that meet its requirements of admission.
- (e) Paraprofessional - This term applies to programs in two-year colleges that train people for occupations related to certain professions. For instance, a paraprofessional program might train dental assistants, laboratory assistants, nurse's aides, or teacher's aides.

- (f) Cooperative - Some colleges offer a combined program of work and study. While studying in a certain major, students also work in their field before they graduate from college. Even though these programs take five years to complete, it helps to have a paying job part of the year, and many students end up working full time after they leave college at the same place they got their experience.
- (g) Degree - A degree is the award you receive when you graduate from college. It means that you have completed a course of study in a particular major. Four-year colleges award a bachelor's degree, most commonly called a bachelor of arts (BA or AB) or a bachelor of science (BS). Two-year colleges award an associate of arts (AA) degree.
- (h) Graduate - In most cases, graduate programs begin after graduation from a four-year college. Completion of a graduate program is required for some careers, such as social work or psychology. If you want to go on to a graduate program, make sure you take undergraduate courses that meet the requirements of admission to the program of graduate study.

HIGH SCHOOL EQUIVALENCY CERTIFICATE

Even if you do not have a high school diploma, it is not the end. Although you can get in some colleges even without one, most require it. Sooner or later, something like a diploma could be useful, and you can still get one. Many States award what is known as a High School Equivalency Certificate, which you get when you pass a certain number of tests called the Test of General Education Development (GED). Some local school boards or community agencies have courses to prepare people to take and pass the tests. Once you have received your certificate, most colleges will consider you for admission. For more information on the GED tests, read the BIA Adult Education section which is found on page 6.

B. GENERAL INFORMATION - STUDENT AID PROGRAMS

Many people who want to go on with their education lack enough money to do so. Financial aid can help. Financial aid is the term given to the scholarships, grants, loans and part-time jobs that make it possible for many students to go on who thought they could not afford it.

There are three basic types of financial aid. (1) scholarships or grants, (2) loans, and (3) employment. There are four primary sources of financial aid available at most colleges, universities or other post secondary schools: Federal, State, private and special competition.

Most student aid programs are managed by colleges and universities. Therefore, the student must ask about the programs which are available at the college or school he has chosen during the fall of the year before he wants to enroll.

The following section lists other information which may be required for admission or for obtaining financial aid at the school you have selected.

1. FINANCIAL AID FORMS AND TESTS

In addition to sending in a financial aid application, most institutions and many Agencies require you to fill out either a Parents' Confidential Statement (PCS) or a Family Financial Statement (FFS). Both of these forms ask you, your parents, or your guardian about your family's finances, and nobody — not even your counselor, institutions, or agencies — can see the information you give unless you say so. You should check the section on financial aid in the admissions bulletin or catalog to see which form is required by the school you have chosen.

Once you have sent in the form it will be "processed," or analyzed, and a copy of the form will be sent to the places you have chosen along with a "need analysis report." The need analysis report estimates how much you and your family can pay toward your education. Your "financial need" is the difference between what your family can pay and what it costs to go to school at a particular institution.

Your counselor should have a supply of the PCS and the FFS forms, but if none are around, write to one of the following.

PCS
College Scholarship Service
Box 176
Princeton, New Jersey 08540

FFS
The American College Testing Program
Financial Aid Operations
P.O. Box 1000
Iowa City, Iowa 52240

Once the institutions receive all your financial aid information, they choose how much aid to give you. Most colleges offer a financial aid "package" — a combination of scholarship, grants, loans, and term-time job (work-study) Bureau of Indian Affairs' Higher Education Grants are awarded as a part of this "package." Most colleges also expect you to have savings from a summer job, but if you cannot find work, let them know immediately. This is especially important since summer jobs are very limited for many people, and even if they had part-time or summer employment the money could not be saved toward college costs because it was needed at home. That is a special consideration that should be written on the PCS or FFS, even if you have to write it in the margin. The college should be notified immediately if they send a financial aid package that includes summer earnings that are not realistic.

Perhaps your high school preparation was not as good as it should have been. If that is the case with you, be careful of the work-study job (term-time job). It may be better for you to concentrate on the books during your first term rather than spending any time working. If you get a financial aid package that includes a term-time job, do not be too shy to write to the college and tell them that you feel a job will reduce your chances for a successful first term — if that is how you feel. Your school may not be able to change your aid package, but they may be able to adjust your class hours and give you a job that gives you the most opportunities for study.

TWO OTHER FINANCIAL AID FORMS

Two other financial aid forms you should know about are the Financial Aid Statement or FAS and the Student's Financial Statement (SFS).

The FAS is like the PCS only it is shorter and easier to fill out. The FAS is used mainly for the Guaranteed Loan Program (see page 29), but institutions also use it for other student aid awards. In order to get an FAS form, you must write or ask an institution for one, but, remember you still may have to file a PCS or FFS form if you are also applying to a State scholarship program.

The SFS (Student's Financial Statement) is the form used by students who are self-supporting. To be considered self-supporting, you must not have lived with your parents during the past year (12 months) and you must not have been claimed as a dependent on their last income tax return. You must have some kind of proof to back you up like a copy of your parent's tax return or a rent lease that proves that you have not been living with them. You can get a Student's Financial Statement directly from any institution's financial aid office or by writing to: College Scholarship Service, Box 1501, Berkeley, CA 94701.

2. COLLEGE ADMISSIONS TESTS

Most four-year and some two-year colleges require you to take standardized tests before they will consider you for admission. The most widely known and most used are the American College Testing Program Tests (ACT) and the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) of the college board. Community colleges and vocational technical institutes do not normally require tests, but there are a few that do.

Do not become discouraged if the scores you receive on the test are low, because many students have entered college with low test scores, and they have gotten good grades because they work hard or because they found a course of study that was just right for them. If you feel that your test scores are low, do not let it stop you from applying to a college.

(a) THE AMERICAN COLLEGE TESTING PROGRAM (ACT)

The American College Testing Program (ACT) offers a "student assessment program" which tries to assess a student's ability to succeed in college courses. The ACT test battery is given five times a year (on Saturdays in October, December, February, April, and July). To register for the ACT assessment program, you can get a registration packet from a counselor or the admissions office of the college that requires you to take the test battery, or write Registration Department, The American College Testing Program, P.O. Box 414, Iowa City, Iowa 52240.

(b) THE SCHOLASTIC APTITUDE TEST (SAT)

The Scholastic Aptitude Test, or SAT, is a three-hour test. It is given several times a year by the college board. It is part of the college board's Admissions Test Program (ATP). To register for the SAT see a counselor or write to: College Entrance Examination Board, Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey 08540, or Box 1025, Berkeley, California 94701.

(c) PRELIMINARY SCHOLASTIC APTITUDE TEST/NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLARSHIP QUALIFYING TEST (PSAT/NMSQT)

The Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, or the PSAT/NMSQT, is a two-hour test that is taken mostly by high school juniors. It is given by the College Entrance Examination Board (or college board) and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation once each October. There are three reasons you may wish to take this test:

- (1) In your senior year you will probably apply to a college that requires admission tests. The PSAT/NMSQT will give you practice for these.
- (2) If you want a National Merit or National Achievement Scholarship, it is the only way to get into the competition.
- (3) The PSAT/NMSQT may tell you something about yourself that can help you make plans for college. This test is not required by colleges so if you have missed the test there is no need to worry. If you are interested in any of the reasons listed above and want to take the test, see a high school counselor. They are the ones who set up the test and have all the important information concerning it.

(d) ACHIEVEMENT TESTS

The college board also has tests which are achievement tests and are given several times a year. Although achievement tests may be required for admission to some colleges, they are different from the tests that estimate scholastic aptitude. Achievement tests are like exams — they test you on what you know. Check your bulletin or application form to see if you have to take one or more of the achievement tests.

(e) COLLEGE-LEVEL EXAMINATION PROGRAM (CLEP)

The College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) is a program of the college board that tests knowledge you may have received while in a home-study course, in on-the-job training, or in other ways. Depending on how well you do on the tests, you may be able to get college credit or be admitted to an institution you have applied to. Hundreds of colleges give credit for CLEP, so check out CLEP if you have learned a lot outside school. For information, write to: College-Level Examination Program, Box 1824, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

CHAPTER II

NATIVE AMERICAN PROGRAMS OF ASSISTANCE

A large number of Indian youth do not finish high school at all, and of those who complete high school, most do not complete college. There is concern for the majority of youth who enter the world of work with less than adequate career preparation. Career education is endorsed as a practical means to improve education and occupational opportunities for Indian youth.

Career education is a systematic way to inform students about the world of work in the elementary and junior high school years and to prepare them in high school and college to enter into a carefully chosen field of work. It will not, however, demand that the student make a permanent selection of a career. It will show students all the many choices of jobs open to them and help them develop good attitudes toward work.

INDIAN HOSPITAL ID CARDS

Most colleges and universities have a clinic either on campus or nearby to which all students attending that school may go to receive health examinations or perhaps medications for minor illnesses. However, some Indian students have had problems of a more serious nature and were not sure what to do about them.

It is strongly recommended that career development counselors actively seek to work out an agreement, with the service director of the local Indian Health Hospital, to enable students to obtain identification cards which will insure that these students will receive emergency treatment or hospitalization at institutions near the schools they are attending. A few Indian Health Service areas practice this policy, but it is strictly up to the local unit.

A. BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS PROGRAMS

As a part of the career education concept for those Native Americans who have already finished or left high school, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, is attempting to set up one or more adult education and counseling centers in each of the areas it serves.

An interested person could visit one of these locations and receive counseling on careers and what the various programs of assistance can do to help him or her get more education. These BIA programs of assistance are:

1. ADULT EDUCATION

Adult education offers opportunities for Indians, usually age 16 or over, who are not already attending some type of regular school program, a chance for more education. This program actually sets up classes for interested Indians to attend.

Some of the classes found most often are in the areas of Adult Basic Education which offers schooling for those who want a basic education beyond the fifth grade level and GED training which offers a chance to get a high school equivalency diploma. Classes are held which help you pass the GED tests.

Other classes can be made available as they are requested by the local Indian people themselves. Some groups have asked for topics such as:

Consumer Education — classes to help you become wiser about buying things in the stores.

Tax Preparation — a class in how to prepare income tax forms.

Health and Safety — home health care, baby care, home safety and others.

Personal Satisfaction --Classes in art, music, crafts or any others that might be personally satisfying to the individual.

2. EMPLOYMENT ASSISTANCE AND ADULT VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Employment Assistance and Adult Vocational Training programs provide financial assistance for Indians enrolling in vocational technical schools or in other types of job training. Training is limited to 24 months except for nurses training which has a 36 months limit. Vocational training is available in practically any course offered at recognized trade and vocational schools in many locations nationwide. Career areas for both men and women include:

Secretarial — including clerk typist, stenographic, legal and medical secretarial, and receptionist
Bookkeeping/Accounting
Vocational and Practical Nursing
Appliance and Refrigeration Mechanics
Medical Assistant
Hotel and Restaurant Operation
Barbering and Cosmetology

... and many more. To be eligible for this program, one must:

- (a) Be a member of a recognized tribe, band or group of Indians served by the BIA.
- (b) Reside on a reservation or restricted land. Those who reside near a reservation may apply if the training will have a direct affect upon Bureau programs on the reservation.
- (c) Be between the ages of 18 and 25.
- (d) Need such training to obtain reasonable and satisfactory employment.

Financial support services, while in school, include tuition, maintenance, child care, and related costs. This can be provided for up to 24 months of training.

In addition to institutional training, apprenticeship or on-the-job training can be provided. Direct Employment Assistance (DE) is available to individuals with previous vocational training or employable skills. DE can provide counseling, job interviews and employment.

Interested applicants should contact their local BIA Agency Employment Assistance Office for additional information and applications.

3. BIA HIGHER EDUCATION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

The Bureau of Indian Affairs provides annual scholarship grants to Indian students to aid them in attending institutions of higher learning. This scholarship program is set up for students who meet the following requirements.

- (a) The student must be at least one-fourth degree or more American Indian, Eskimo or Aleut blood and be a member of a tribe, band or group receiving certain benefits from the Bureau of Indian Affairs, for educational purposes.
- (b) Enrollment in or accepted for enrollment in an accredited college or university, and must be pursuing at least a four-year degree.
- (c) Must have financial need. (The amount of need will be determined by the financial aid office of the school the student is attending.)

Any Native American student interested in a scholarship grant must contact the BIA Area or Agency Office that keeps the records of enrollment for his particular tribe. A renewal application and official needs analysis from the school is necessary for each academic year of attendance. This applies to all grant students.

The types of students who may be eligible to receive a grant are:

- (a) UNDERGRADUATES — Most grant students are at the freshman, sophomore, junior, or senior levels, known as undergraduates. Bureau grants may be awarded every year if the student makes satisfactory progress toward earning a degree and is able to show financial need.
- (b) VETERANS — Indian veterans may be eligible for grant assistance in addition to his veterans educational benefits, commonly called the "GI Bill." See application procedures and eligibility requirements outlined above.
- (c) MARRIED STUDENTS — Native American married students may be awarded a BIA grant, including living expenses for dependents. An official needs analysis from the institution is necessary. Application procedure is the same as for all other students.
- (d) GRADUATE STUDENTS — Scholarships are also available for graduate students and married graduate students. The graduate is expected to apply for all other graduate fellowship and scholarship programs that are available to him. A needs analysis from the institution is required. Follow the application procedures outlined earlier.
- (e) SUMMER SCHOOL STUDENTS — Grants for summer school expenses may be awarded to Native American students who can benefit from such attendance. Apply well in advance of the enrollment deadline.
- (f) PART-TIME STUDENTS — Grants for Indian students who are attending an accredited institution and who fulfill the other requirements for receiving a grant, may apply for part-time consideration. Those Bureau employees, and others who receive educational compensation through their jobs, are ineligible for part-time assistance. Procedures for applying are the same as for all other students.
- (g) PRIVATE COLLEGE ATTENDANCE — Applications from Indian students who want to attend a private college or university will be evaluated on the basis of the amount of aid that the institution can provide to the student.
- (h) PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED STUDENTS — Native American students who have some type of physical handicap and who are enrolled or accepted for enrollment at an accredited institution are also eligible to receive a BIA grant to aid them in attending college. The procedure for applying is the same as that for all other students.
- (i) EX-OFFENDERS AND PRISON INMATES — Those Native Americans who have been in prison and those who are in prison now are eligible for higher education grants to aid them in attending the school of their choice. As of 1972, first priority is to be given in attempting to assist in a program of rehabilitation. Procedures for applying and eligibility are the same as for all other students.

1 OTHER BIA COLLEGE ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

WORKING SCHOLARSHIPS — Working scholarships (room and board in exchange for fourteen hours of work a week) are available to Indian students at a few Federal boarding schools located near colleges and universities. These opportunities are limited to the space not needed for the regular boarding school students. For further information, contact the Area Office that operates the boarding school.

LOANS — Educational loans are made to students who cannot otherwise finance themselves in college through a corporation, tribe or band conducting credit operations and who are otherwise ineligible for loans from a credit association. Whenever loans are necessary, students are counseled to apply for a minimal amount. Also the student should be aware that most of these loan monies are reserved for those Indians who are starting small businesses and the competition is very strong. Unless special circumstances prevail, loans are limited to $500 per school year. For further information, contact the Area or Agency Office that has the enrollment records for the tribe of which you are a member.

B. SPECIAL SCHOOLS AND CAREER PROGRAMS FOR NATIVE AMERICANS

1. BIA SCHOOLS

The BIA has formed a consortium (a union) consisting of schools providing post-secondary education programs in the areas of general education, cultural arts and occupational training. The participating schools are Haskell Indian Junior College, Lawrence, Kansas, Institute of American Indian Arts, Santa Fe, New Mexico, Southwestern Indian Polytechnic Institute, Albuquerque, New Mexico, and the Chilocco Indian School, Chilocco, Oklahoma.

The consortium provides opportunities for:

- (a) Instruction and training in arts related occupations
- (b) Broad occupational preparation programs
- (c) Diploma and certificate programs, and
- (d) A college transfer program at Haskell

Application forms may be obtained from the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Agency and Area Offices.

Enrollment is limited to students who have one-fourth or more degree Indian blood and are members of a tribe served by the Bureau, live on or near an Indian reservation or on other Indian-owned tax-exempt land. (The resident requirement is waived for students applying for the Institute of American Indian Arts.) For further information about the courses offered at each of these schools, contact any of the superintendents at the schools or any BIA Area or Agency education office.

2. INDIAN OR MINORITY COMMUNITY COLLEGES

The following is a list of community colleges that have a total enrollment of Native American students, with the exception of DQU, which is a junior college established for Chicanos and Native Americans. For additional information on each college, refer to the section on the college and university opportunities.

Deganawida Quetzlecoatl University, Davis, California
Fort Berthold Community College, New Town, North Dakota
Haskell Indian Junior College, Lawrence, Kansas
Lakota Education Center, Pine Ridge, South Dakota
Navajo Community College, Tsaile, Arizona
Satellite Community College, Norfolk, Nebraska, In care of Northeast Nebraska Technical Community College

3. PUBLIC HEALTH-MASTER'S DEGREE PROGRAM

The Master's of Public Health degree program for Native American students is offered by the School of Public Health, University of California, Berkeley, California, for students interested in graduate study in Hospital Administration, Health Administration and Planning, Environmental Health Sciences, Public Health Education, Epidemiology, Nutrition and others.

Tuition and fees are paid plus traineeships and dependents allowances. Students must be American Indian or Alaskan Native and must have a bachelor's degree. Must be accepted for enrollment by the School of Public Health and must pass criteria set up by the selection committee of the Indian Advisory Board to the program.

The Berkeley program also offers support to qualifying Native American students at other schools of Public Health including University of Texas, University of Minnesota, University of Washington, University of California at Los Angeles, and Loma Linda University-California.

For further information, contact Master's of Public Health Program for Native Americans, School of Public Health, University of California, Berkeley, California 94720.

1. INDIAN HEALTH SERVICE PROGRAMS

A number of career opportunities are available for eligible Indian applicants through the Indian Health Service. Training is available in the following health-related fields. Community Health, Dental Assistant, Nursing, Environmental Health, Food Service, Laboratory Assistant, X-Ray Technology, Medical Records, and Social Work Associate.

Inquiries should be addressed to a local Indian Health Service, Area Office, Division of Training or to the Indian Health Service, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Maryland 20852.

5. INDIAN LAW PROGRAM

The University of New Mexico School of Law (University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, New Mexico) offers a special scholarship program in Law for American Indians. The purpose of the program is to encourage American Indians to attend law school and assist them during their law school career. Students selected will receive grants sufficient to defray expenses, including living expenses for the participant's family. A special summer session on the UNM campus, annually, affords opportunity for 40-50 participants to receive an introduction to legal studies. (Prerequisite, three years college.)

Students under the auspices of the program may enroll as regular law students at UNM or any other accredited law school and receive financial support. The Bureau of Indian Affairs financially assists this unique program. Application forms and additional information may be obtained through: Mr. Phillip S. Deloria, Director, American Indian Law Program, University of New Mexico School of Law, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87106.

6. AMERICAN INDIAN GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS

The Bureau's Higher Education Assistance Program does provide assistance to graduate students and dependents. Eligibility for this program is explained on pages 7 and 8.

The American Indian Scholarships, Inc., also offers assistance in the form of scholarship grants to individuals who are one-fourth or more degree Indian blood, have demonstrated ability, and have a definite financial need. Applications are available from American Indian Scholarships, Inc., 211 Sierra Drive, SE, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87108. These grants may be used to attend any accredited graduate or professional school.

C. INDIAN TRIBAL GRANT AND/OR LOAN PROGRAMS

Most of the tribal financial assistance opportunities are available to bona fide tribal members. Students interested in obtaining specific information relative to a tribal opportunity should contact their tribal group at the earliest date. Tribal financial opportunities range from near full financial support for college-related costs to funds for clothing and incidentals. Tribal, Bureau of Indian Affairs Higher Education and college based assistance program funds may be used in combination to provide adequate funding for Indian students. Some tribal opportunities for financial assistance are available to tribal members who elect to pursue vocational rather than professional training.

D. STATE-SPONSORED INDIAN OPPORTUNITIES

Most States have passed legislation providing for some type of scholarship aid for higher education which is available to State residents. Other States have not enacted special legislation but do permit State institutions to award scholarships under certain conditions.

Indian students are urged to learn what State aid is available and to apply for assistance that they qualify for or have interest in obtaining. Information on Indian State aid may be obtained from the State Department of Education and/or from respective high school guidance counselors.

The States which have made special provisions for Indian assistance are:

ALASKA. Fifteen new State scholarships are provided each year and prior year scholarships are renewed at the University of Alaska for Alaskan Aleut, Eskimo, and Indian students. These scholarships provide for fees and board and room with amounts based on individual needs of the students. Applications should be made to the Financial Aid Office, University of Alaska, Fairbanks, Alaska 99701.

ARIZONA. Scholarships covering tuition and fees are available to qualified Arizona Indian students who demonstrate ability in scholarship and leadership. Inquire. Board of Regents, Phoenix, or directly to individual State colleges.

FLORIDA. The Florida Legislature, in 1963, established the Seminole/Miccosukee Indian Scholarship Program. Scholarships of up to $600 a year with a total maximum of $2,400 are available to Indian students who reside within the boundaries of this State. This award is applicable for study at two or four-year public or private colleges within the State of Florida.

To be eligible to receive a scholarship, an applicant must:

- (a) Have graduated from high school or be enrolled in the final year of high school study.
- (b) Meet the admission requirements of an accredited community college, college, or university in Florida.
- (c) Demonstrate financial need as determined by standards to be established by Student Financial Aid, Department of Education, Tallahassee, Florida 32304.

MINNESOTA. The Minnesota State Legislature in 1955 enacted into law, a bill to provide scholarship awards to State Indian residents for study at colleges, business, technical and vocational schools in Minnesota. Awards are made to individuals possessing one-fourth or more degree Indian blood, residents of Minnesota, who are recommended to and accepted by the school they plan to attend. The average grant is $100 to $800 based on need.

Applications should be made by May 1 of each year. Forms and other information may be obtained from the Director of Indian Education, State Department of Education, St. Paul, Minnesota 55101.

The State of Minnesota also grants tuition scholarships to Indians at the University of Minnesota, Morris.

MONTANA. Legislation enacted in 1951, to permit Indian students of one-fourth or more degree Indian blood who are legal residents of Montana, to attend any Montana institution of higher learning without the payment of fees. Students must have financial need.

For further information, contact any State college or university or write Supervisor of Indian Education, Department of Public Instruction, State of Montana, Helena, Montana 59601.

NEBRASKA. Indian students are assessed in-State tuition costs only to attend Nebraska State colleges. Students must provide certificates of one-fourth or more degree Indian blood quantum at time of application to the institution they will attend.

NEW YORK. The State grants $1,100 per year to Native American students for attendance at post-secondary institutions. Conditions are as follows.

- (a) Maximum entitlement is four academic years.
- (b) Students must be high school graduates or hold a general equivalency diploma (GED) or have certification from the school of attendance of enrollment in the special credit enrollment option which leads to high school diploma status.
- (c) Students must be members of one of New York's eight reservation communities.
- (d) Students must attend a post-secondary institution within the confines of New York State.

(e) This institution must be accredited and approved by the Board of Regents.

Applications and information may be obtained by contacting the Native American Education Unit, State Education Department, Education Building Annex, Albany, New York 12234.

E. VOCATIONAL, COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY OPPORTUNITIES

A number of financial opportunities are established and advertised specifically for Native American students attending or planning to attend an institution of higher learning. In addition, many institutions want Indian student representation in their student body and often will make special arrangements for financial aid.

All institutions of higher learning offer some type of aid to students who have a definite financial need. Such opportunities are often listed in the institution's annual catalog, bulletins or in special supplements. All are available upon request. Indian students are urged to make inquiry or otherwise obtain information on these special assistance sources. The vocational schools, colleges and universities which have indicated the availability of special Native American scholarships are:

ARIZONA

ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY, Tempe, Arizona 85281. Eight four-year scholarships are awarded annually to incoming Arizona reservation Indian students needing assistance, and who have demonstrated ability in scholarship and leadership. The scholarships cover registration, tuition, and class fees and are renewable throughout a four-year period if the recipients keep their grades up to the required standard. Application should be made no later than March of each year to the chairman of the scholarship committee.

The University also provides special advisory service for Indian students in attendance.

GRAND CANYON COLLEGE, Phoenix, Arizona. A loan fund established by Mr. Leo Berndt enables Indian students enrolled at the school, which is operated by the Arizona Southern Baptists, to borrow up to $200 a year. While the fund was established to give preference to Navajo applicants, applications from members of other tribes receive full consideration. In addition, the scholarship committee at the college has approved a scholarship, available to all Indians admitted, amounting to 20 percent of the tuition cost. Further information can be obtained from the Director of Financial Aid, 3300 West Camelback Road, Phoenix, Arizona 87501.

NAVAJO COMMUNITY COLLEGE, Tsaile, Arizona 87328. Navajo Community College is a unique college in that it is the first college located on an Indian reservation, controlled by an Indian Board of Regents, and totally sensitive to the needs of Indian college students. Navajo Community College has an open door policy with opportunity for financial assistance based on need. Several private scholarships are available and especially those students who did not graduate from a high school should apply for any of these. For further information or applications, contact the Financial Aids Office in care of Navajo Community College, Tsaile Lake, Tsaile, Arizona 87328.

UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA, Tucson, Arizona 85721, has various types of scholarship assistance available for American Indians. Some of these are restricted to Indians from tribes of Arizona. Some are for those interested in health careers. For information concerning the types, amounts and application forms, contact the Indian Student Adviser, and/or the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aids, in care of the University of Arizona, Tucson, Arizona 85721.

CALIFORNIA

DEGANAWIDA-QUETZLECOATLE UNIVERSITY (DQU), Davis, California 95616, is a Chicano United States Indian junior college that is governed by a board, half of whose members are Chicano and half of whose members are Indians.

They have an Indian counselor and tutoring services, as well as a financial aid program for Native American students. For more information, contact the Office of Student Affairs, Box 409, DQU Junior College, Davis, California 95616.

HUMBOLDT STATE UNIVERSITY, Arcata, California 95521, offers scholarship assistance to Indian applicants interested in teaching careers. Funding is available from the Education Professions Act. For applications and information, contact the Director of Financial Aids, in care of Humboldt State University, Arcata, California 95521.

MERRIT HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING, Oakland, California 94609. The Righter Nurse Memorial Scholarship Fund offers several annual scholarships, with preference to California Indian high school graduates.

OCCIDENTAL COLLEGE, Los Angeles, California 90041. This private college of 1,800 students offers scholarship aid to any student who is accepted for enrollment. The amount of financial aid is based on the need expressed in the Parent's Confidential Statement. Scholarships are available for American Indians and the amount is well over $4,000. Tuition is $2,900, room and board $1,500, and books and supplies $200. SAT test required though used only as a placement guide rather than entrance criteria. A B+ average in high school is usually the minimum requirement. Apply by February 1 for admittance, to the Office of Admissions, Occidental College, Los Angeles, California 90041.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Palo Alto, California 94035. Enrollment is about 11,000 students (5,000 graduates, 6,400 undergraduates). The student budget is about $6,000 annually. A full financial aids program is available for applicants demonstrating financial need. For more information, contact the Admissions Office, the Financial Aids Office or the Dean of Native Americans in the Dean of Student's Office, Stanford University, Palo Alto, California 94035.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Los Angeles, California 90024. UCLA is interested in American Indian students who have had some academic preparation in high school or a post-secondary institution. Undergraduates apply through the Academic Advancement Program and are eligible to receive a waiver for the application and registration fees, and financial assistance, based on individual eligibility, for tuition, non-resident fees, books, room and board, and personal necessities. Students receive personal orientation to the UCLA campus; academic supportive services including individual and group tutoring, personal counseling, graduate school advisement, career guidance, and housing information and assistance. For additional information and/or application forms, contact: Office of Academic Services, A-153 Murphy Hall, UCLA, 405 Hilgard Avenue, Los Angeles, California 90024.

CONNECTICUT

MITCHELL COLLEGE, New London, Connecticut 06320. Mitchell College has offered two full scholarship grants for any college year to Indian students. Assistance will consist of a combination of funds, including a possible loan. No special field is required. Application deadline for admission is August 1, and for financial aid, the deadline is June 1. Mitchell is a two-year junior college offering an associate degree in a wide range of disciplines. For additional information and/or application forms, contact the Financial Aids Director, in care of Mitchell College, New London, Connecticut 06320.

FLORIDA

BISCAYNE COLLEGE, 16400 NW, 32nd Avenue, Miami, Florida 33044, offers a 50 percent tuition remission to Native Americans and other students residing in the three neighboring counties. Seminole and Miccosukee students are especially urged to apply.

ILLINOIS

ROOSEVELT UNIVERSITY, Chicago, Illinois. A $2,000 renewable scholarship made possible by the Edward A. Filene Goodwill Fund, Inc., is available to any American Indian who is interested in enrolling in the Walter E. Heller College of Business Administration. All inquiries may be directed to the Director of Student Aid, Roosevelt University, 430 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60605.

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS, Urbana, Illinois 61801. The Graduate School of Library Science of the University of Illinois plans to continue the scholarship program in library science for members of minority groups and is seeking qualified applicants. Eligibility requires a bachelor's degree, grade point average of at least 3.5 and financial need. For additional information and application forms, contact: Scholarship Program, Graduate School of Library Science, in care of the University.

IOWA

GRINNELL COLLEGE, Grinnell, Iowa 50112. The college which is privately controlled makes available annually to one or two Indian students, who reside west of the Mississippi River, and who are accepted for enrollment, a partial grant. Further information may be obtained from the Director of Admissions, Grinnell College, Grinnell, Iowa 50112.

KANSAS

HASKELL INDIAN JUNIOR COLLEGE, Lawrence, Kansas 66044. This unique accredited institution, sponsored by the Bureau of Indian Affairs, offers at no cost to eligible Indian students, a comprehensive junior college program. Students may receive either a diploma in vocational skills, an associate of applied science degree in vocational-technical or an associate of arts degree in liberal arts. For additional information and/or application forms, either contact the College or the Bureau Area or Agency Office having record of the applicant's tribal membership.

MAINE

UNITY COLLEGE, Unity, Maine 04988. Unity College offers one scholarship to an American Indian every four years. The scholarship is for tuition and room charges for four years. During the summer of 1978, all applicants for admission to Unity College who are American Indians and who have applied directly to the President of Unity College to be considered for the "Indian Scholarship," will be reviewed to determine which applicant has the highest potential for success at Unity College. Applicants are encouraged to submit recommendations, high school transcripts, and any other pertinent information with their applications.

UNIVERSITY OF MAINE. Tuition and university fees will be waived for qualified and eligible North American Indians residing in Maine who are accepted for undergraduate, graduate or continuing education study at any campus of the University of Maine.

Eligibility is extended to all persons currently listed on the Penobscot or Passamaquoddy Tribal Census, and any person who resides in Maine for one year and who has at least one parent or grandparent included on the tribal census of any North American Indian Tribe or who held a band number for the Micmac or Malecite Tribes. Apply to Director of Admissions at the desired campus of the University of Maine.

MASSACHUSETTS

HARVARD UNIVERSITY, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138. Any American Indian student who is admitted to Harvard University is eligible for financial aid on the basis of financial need. Scholarships granted vary from $200 to $4,200 depending mainly on the applicant's financial need and the distance they live from the college. Application for financial assistance is to be made at the same time application is made for admission. Other college-based opportunities are:

- (a) The Samuel Sewal Scholarship to an Indian student who is able to meet Harvard University's admission requirements and is able to hold a relatively high position on Harvard's rank list after admission
- (b) Several "package-type" (grants, work-study, loans) financial aid programs are available to Indian applicants at the graduate level.

Apply for or obtain additional information on these opportunities through the Director of Admissions or Director of Scholarships, Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02174.

MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02139. MIT's strength in science and engineering has provided a background for extensive research in the environment, economics, psychology, political science, linguistics, architecture, management, and urban studies, as well as the history and philosophy of science and humanities. Recognizing its responsibility to able, but academically disadvantaged minority students, MIT provides a summer program, Project Interphase, for a number of minority students who are offered admission. Financial need is met with scholarship, loan and jobs. For information, write the Director of Admissions, in care of the Institute.

CHAPTER III

STUDENT AID PROGRAMS (NOT SPECIFICALLY FOR INDIANS)

A. FEDERAL PROGRAMS

1. BASIC EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY GRANT

The Basic Educational Opportunity Grant Program is open to those students who began their post-high school education after April 1, 1973, and who are attending college or vocational schools as full-time or part-time students. Grants are available in amounts ranging up to about $800 during the academic year. The grants are based on a Federal formula, (applied to all students throughout the United States), which measures the ability of you and your family to meet your school expenses.

After you have applied for and received the notice that you are eligible, send this notification to the college or school of your choice. They will compute the amount of your grant and will put together a package of other grant, loan or work-study funds to fill your financial needs.

For further information, get the form called, "Application for Determination of Basic Grant Eligibility," at most high schools, public libraries and other locations of this kind or write: Basic Educational Opportunity Grant, P.O. Box 84, Washington, D.C. 20044.

2. GUARANTEED LOAN PROGRAM FOR COLLEGE AND VOCATIONAL SCHOOL STUDENTS

This U.S. Office of Education loan program enables an individual to borrow money directly from a savings and loan association, credit union, bank, or other lender. Each State handles the program in a slightly different way. Students with financial need from families whose income is under $15,000 may borrow as much as $2,500 for each undergraduate year, up to a total of $7,500. Students with families who have higher incomes may also be eligible if the college certifies that the student has financial need. While a student who has received one of these loans is in college, the Federal Government pays the full 7 percent interest on the loan. After the student has completed his education and when repayment must begin, he pays the full 7 percent interest.

For more information, contact your counselor or financial aids officer at the school in which you plan to enroll, or write to the State Department of Education, State Capitol, of the State in which you live.

3. SUPPLEMENTAL EDUCATION OPPORTUNITY GRANTS (SEOG)

Supplemental Education Opportunity Grants (SEOG) is a Federal aid program administered by colleges that provides student aid to supplement the BEOG and is based on need. The grants range from $200 to $1,500 a year for a total of $4,000 for a four-year program. The amount may not exceed 50 percent of the student's financial need. Applications and more information can be obtained through any college financial aid office.

4. NATIONAL DIRECT STUDENT LOANS (NDSL)

National Direct Student Loans (NDSL) is a Federal program based on need that provides for loans with no interest while the student is in school. These loans are usually part of a financial aid package. After his education is completed, repayment on the loan begins at an interest rate of 3 percent and the student may take as long as ten years to pay the loan back.

5. COLLEGE WORK-STUDY PROGRAM

The college Work-Study Program provides part-time, on and off campus, jobs to students who are enrolled at least half-time in colleges and other eligible post secondary institutions. The jobs are limited to those students from low income families, who are in need of money from part-time employment so they can continue attending school.

The average amount earned by students under this program is $600 per year.

For further information, students should contact the Director of Financial Aid or Student Employment Office of the school they select.

TALENT SEARCH

The Talent Search program provides services to young people from low income families or from culturally different environments which are designed to encourage completion of secondary school and help in gaining admission to institutions of post secondary education. Services include help in the selection of career choices in applying for admission to an institution and for financial aid. Projects offer counseling services; academic instruction and tutoring are not authorized. No scholarships or financial aids are available through project funds.

UPWARD BOUND

The Upward Bound program is designed to generate skills and motivation necessary for success in education beyond high school for enrollees from low income backgrounds who have inadequate secondary school preparation to undertake and complete post secondary educational training. Individual projects conduct intensive summer residential programs, generally on the campuses of institutions of post secondary education, which include intensive academic preparation for ongoing secondary school work and preparatory for post secondary admissions requirements. An academic year followup is designed to help students with their educational and personal problems.

Stipends, limited to $30 per month, are paid to students who are enrolled in full-time project activities.

For additional information write, the Office of Education, Bureau of Post Secondary Education, Division of Student Support and Special Programs, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, D.C. 20202, or the Regional Offices of Education. (Note. Individual projects are funded through the Regional Offices of Education.)

6. VETERANS ASSISTANCE AND MILITARY RELATED PROGRAMS

a. THE GI BILL

Veterans who have served continuously on active duty for at least 181 days ended after January 31, 1955, are eligible for educational benefits which are commonly called the GI Bill. Generally, these benefits will last for 36 months of training. An eligible veteran may receive up to nine additional months of entitlement to pursue a program of education leading to a standard undergraduate college degree.

For application or further information, write or visit the Veterans' Administration Office or talk to your college or high school counselor.

b. WAR ORPHANS, WIDOWS AND WIVES OF DECEASED OR DISABLED VETERANS

The children of veterans who are deceased or totally disabled as a result of military service are eligible for assistance from their 18th birthday or graduation from high school until their 26th birthday. In certain instances, this period can be extended. Wives of totally disabled veterans and widows of veterans are eligible for assistance from up to eight years after the death of their husband, after determination of his totally disabling injury or December 1, 1967, whichever is the latest. Assistance is available for study at the secondary level and above.

Monthly allowances for full-time study, three-quarters time study, and half-time study are available for up to 36 months for eligible applicants.

For further information, contact any local regional Veterans' Administration Office or Veterans' Administration, Washington, D.C. 20402

c. MILITARY ACADEMIES

U S Congressmen may nominate qualifying people to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, New York, to the U S Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, to the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colorado, and, to the U S Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York. Each academy confers a BS degree and graduates of the military, naval, and Air Force academies are commissioned regular officers in their respective service

THE U S COAST GUARD ACADEMY

The U S Coast Guard Academy educates young men for careers as commissioned officers in the U.S. Coast Guard. Appointments are made on the basis of an annual nationwide competition. The competitive test consists of the prescribed College Entrance Examination Board tests. There are no congressional appointments and no geographical limitations. Graduates receive a commission as Ensign, U.S. Coast Guard, and a bachelor of science degree. For detailed information, interested students should write to Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Connecticut 06320. Applications should be submitted prior to December 15 of the candidate's senior year in high school.

d. RESERVE OFFICER TRAINING CORPS

THE ARMY RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

The Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps offers an opportunity for a college student to earn a commission in the U S Army Reserve or the Regular Army at the same time he or she earns a baccalaureate degree. Army ROTC is offered at over 290 colleges and universities throughout the 50 States and Puerto Rico. Four-year ROTC scholarships are available to high school seniors who are accepted at any one of the institutions hosting the four-year ROTC program. Female scholarship recipients must enroll at one of the institutions hosting ROTC for women. Requests for application packets must be submitted to Army ROTC Scholarships, P.O. Box 12703, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19134.

For further information, write to: Army ROTC, Fort Monroe, Virginia 23651.

AIR FORCE ROTC

The Air Force ROTC is conducted at colleges and universities in 46 States, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia. Students may earn a commission by successfully completing either the two- or four-year program. The Air Force ROTC offers four-year scholarships to men students who are qualified air crew (pilot or navigator) and who will be entering their college freshman year. They must submit their applications no later than December 31 of their senior year of high school. Individuals should request these forms from Air Force ROTC early in the year to allow sufficient time for processing prior to the deadline date.

Applications and information about the Air Force ROTC programs can be obtained by contacting the Air Force ROTC detachment on campus, or by writing to: Air Force ROTC, Advisory Service, Maxwell AFB, Alabama 36112.

THE NROTC COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The NROTC College Scholarship Program (formerly the Regular NROTC program) offers an excellent opportunity for high school graduates to enroll where NROTC units are established. Candidates are chosen as the result of a nationwide competition and receive educational and other benefits leading to careers as commissioned officers in the Navy or Marine Corps. Applications will be considered based on scores obtained for either the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) of the College Entrance Examination Boards (CEEB), Princeton, New Jersey, or the American College Test (ACT) of the American College Testing Program, Iowa City, Iowa. Applicants may apply for and take either of these tests prior to December 1, and arrange with the appointment testing agency to forward their scores to the NROTC College Scholarship Program. They must also submit their applications for the program during the period of March 1 to November 1. Detailed information and application blanks may be obtained at Navy or Marine Corps Recruiting Stations, from counselors, and the Commander, Navy Recruiting Command (Code 314), 4015 Wilson Blvd., Arlington, Virginia 22203.

e. ARMY PROGRAM - PROJECT AHEAD

Project Ahead is a cooperative education program sponsored by the U.S. Army that lets you enlist in the Army and start college at the same time. High school graduates choose a college and a course of study at a participating college and then while they are in the Army they will be full-time soldiers and part-time students. The Army will pay up to 75 percent of the cost of tuition for these college courses.

After your enlistment is over, you will be eligible for 36 months of financial assistance under the GI Bill.

For further information, contact your nearest Army Recruiting Office or write to Army Opportunities, P.O. Box 5510, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19143.

7. SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

SOCIAL SECURITY CASH BENEFITS FOR STUDENTS

Social Security cash benefits may be paid monthly for furthering the education of dependent, unmarried students whose parents have become eligible for Social Security benefits, in a high school, vocational school, community college, junior college, four-year college or university. The student may receive benefit payments during vacation or other periods of non-attendance, and if he intends to return to full-time student status. Benefits are not payable for on-the-job training or costs of part-time school attendance.

Applicant must be between 18 and 22 years of age and the dependent of a parent who receives Social Security disability, retirement benefits or who is deceased and the student must be recognized as a full-time student by a university, college or junior college, high school, vocational school, or other institutions in the United States.

For further information, contact the appropriate district office of the Social Security Administration or Office of Information, Social Security Administration, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Security Blvd., Baltimore, Maryland 21235.

B. NON-FEDERAL PROGRAMS

1. GENERAL MOTORS SCHOLARSHIP PLAN

The General Motors Corporation (Committee for Educational Grants and Scholarships) offers four-year undergraduate scholarships to undergraduates entering their freshman year at colleges and universities. The selection of GM scholars is left to the discretion of the institutions which participate in the GM Scholarship plan.

No field of specialization is required; although, preference is given to students who look forward to careers in industry: engineering, business administration, economics, mathematics, and science.

The value of the scholarships range from an honorary $200 per year to a maximum of $2,000 per year, based on demonstrated need. The stipend supplements the student's own resources for college expenses. The GM Scholar is expected to contribute to his educational expenses through summer employment and is encouraged to work during the college year if it is consistent with college policy, health and course requirements. Regardless of actual earnings, the College Scholarship Services uses a summer earnings expectancy ranging from a minimum of $300 for freshmen to a maximum of $600 for preseniors. There is no obligation to work for GM. However, if a GM scholar is interested in summer or regular employment at General Motors, he will be given every consideration.

An applicant must be a secondary school senior, male or female, who is a citizen of the United States.

The program is not limited to the sons and daughters of GM employees, but they will receive consideration by the college of their choice along with other applicants.

An applicant must maintain satisfactory academic standards, and conduct himself in a manner that will bring credit to himself, his college and General Motors.

Participating colleges make the awards, usually requiring an interview, demonstrated leadership abilities and broad interests, and financial need.

Application Procedure -

1. A listing of colleges and universities awarding GM Scholarships each year is available from the address below.
2. Application should be made directly to the participating college and not to General Motors. Write to the Director of Admissions at the college of your choice known to participate in the GM Scholarship Plan.

For further information, contact the GM Scholarship Plan, General Motors Corporation, 8-163 General Motors Building, Detroit, Michigan 48202.

2. NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY SCHOLARSHIPS

In the past, the National Honor Society has awarded scholarships largely on the basis of academic records and performance on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT) or similar tests. Beginning with the 26th (1971) competition, each local chapter of NHS nominates two chapter members who have demonstrated outstanding leadership, scholarship, character, and service - identified not on the basis of need, but upon all four qualities mentioned. Each student nominated will complete a questionnaire as a means of assessing his participation in service organizations clubs, and athletics, his achievements in the arts and sciences, his employment experience, and his academic record. PSAT and similar tests are not required.

The value of scholarships is $1,000.

For further information, contact the National Association of Secondary School Principals, 1904 Association Drive, Reston, Virginia 22090.

3. THE NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLARSHIP

The Merit Program is the largest non-Federal financed undergraduate scholarship program in the United States. It is designed to seek out and honor the high school students who are most talented academically and intellectually, and provide them with either an unrestricted, one-time, $1,000 award or a four-year need based sponsored scholarship to an accredited undergraduate college or university in the United States. Merit scholars are selected on the basis of merit, and without regard to financial need.

The unrestricted, one-time, $1,000 award is made only once and about 1,000 of these awards are made each year. The standard four-year Merit Scholarships range in value from a usual $250 a year to a maximum of $1,500 a year. The amount of each of these awards is based on a needs analysis.

A student who wishes to compete for one of these grants must be a U.S. citizen or in process of obtaining citizenship and enrolled as a full-time secondary school student. The student must be scheduled to complete high school and enter college in the same calendar year, and plan to attend a regionally accredited U.S. college, and to enroll in a course of study leading to one of the usual baccalaureate degrees.

Any student wishing to be considered for one of these scholarships must take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) in October of the junior year. The score on this test advances the student to semifinalist status. To become a finalist, a semifinalist must be endorsed by his high school principal, must substantiate his PSAT/NMSQT scores with an equal performance on the SAT and supply standard biographical information, including his high school academic record transcript, and a confidential statement of his family's financial circumstances.

The only application that is necessary is the score on the PSAT/NMSQT. The highest scores in each State will be notified that they are semifinalists and will then take the SAT.

For further information, contact the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, 990 Grove Street, Evanston, Illinois 60201.

C. PROGRAMS FOR GRADUATES AND UNDERGRADUATES - SPECIAL SUBJECT AREAS

1. AGRICULTURE AND HORTICULTURE

AGRICULTURE SCHOLARSHIPS UNDERGRADUATE

Most State land-grant colleges have scholarships available for study leading to a degree in agriculture through the Sears Roebuck Foundation and from other sources. For more information, write the Dean of the land-grant agricultural college of your State.

FELLOWSHIP FOR ADVANCED STUDY IN AGRICULTURE OR HORTICULTURE FOR WOMEN GRADUATE

The Women's National Farm and Garden Association offers the Sarah Bradley Tyson Memorial Fellowship for advanced study in agriculture, horticulture, and allied subjects.

The fellowship is open to properly qualified young women who have proven their ability by several years experience. Awards have been made in recognition of leadership in cooperative extension work and initiative in scientific research.

The amount of the award is $500 and the fellowship is to be used for advanced study at a recognized educational institution within the United States.

There are no application forms. A letter of application should be sent to the chairman of the committee. This letter of application should contain:

1. An account of the applicant's training.
2. A statement in full of the object in view and the plan of study.
3. A certificate from the registrar of the school, college or university awarding the degree or degrees received by the applicant.
4. Testimonial as to character, ability, personality, and scholarship.
5. Thesis papers, or reports of investigation, published or unpublished if available.
6. A health certificate.
7. A small recent photograph.

These applications and recommendations for the fellowship must be received not later than April 15 of the year to be awarded.

The acceptance of the fellowship implies the obligation on the part of the student to devote herself unreservedly to study or research, as outlined in her application, and to submit any proposed change in her plan to the chairman for approval. Also, she will send, to the chairman, at least two reports on her work, one at the end of the first semester and another upon the completion of the year's work. The Committee regards the acceptance of the fellowship as creating a contract requiring the fulfillment of these conditions.

For further information, contact the Chairman of the Committee, Ms. Howard E. Orem, 14 Portland Road, Summit, New Jersey 07901.

2 ARCHITECTURE

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS MINORITY DISADVANTAGED SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM UNDERGRADUATE

Minority students who have completed high school (or its equivalent) and students in junior colleges or technical schools are eligible.

Applicants must have a doctor's degree in certain areas, a master's in another, and a bachelor's in still others. Dental hygiene does not require a bachelor's degree.

For further information, contact individual institutions or Division of Associated Health Professions, Bureau of Health Resources Development Administration, Public Health Service, 9000 Rockville Pike, Bethesda, Maryland 20014.

GRANTS FOR AUDIOLOGY AND SPEECH PATHOLOGY TRAINING GRADUATE

Stipends from $3,320 to $6,000, depending on year of study, are available to enable graduates to pursue advanced degrees in audiology and speech pathology.

Applicants must be U.S. citizens, have a bachelor's degree and be enrolled in an accredited graduate program of audiology or speech pathology.

For further information, contact individual V.A. hospitals or Chief, Audiology and Speech Pathology, Veterans' Administration, Central Office, 810 Vermont Avenue, NW, Washington, D.C. 20420.

PHYSICIAN SHORTAGE AREA SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM DOCTORAL

Scholarship grants up to $5,000 per school year can be awarded to students who agree upon completion of professional training to practice primary care for a period of twelve continuous months for each year for which a grant was awarded in some physician shortage area.

Students who have financial need and live in a physician shortage area and who are willing to return to that area to practice, are given first priority. You must be a U.S. citizen to receive a grant.

Application materials, including lists of physician shortage areas, areas identified as having a substantial portion of migratory agricultural workers, are available in kit form at schools of medicine and osteopathy and the Bureau of Health Resources Development, Health Resources Administration, 9000 Rockville Pike, Bethesda, Maryland 20014

10. HOTEL AND RESTAURANT MANAGEMENT

HOTEL, RESTAURANT AND INSTITUTIONAL MANAGEMENT SCHOLARSHIPS JUNIOR COLLEGE

Three scholarship awards are made annually to high school graduates who are enrolled or planning to enroll, in a program leading to an associate degree in hotel, restaurant, or institutional management in a junior or community college. (An associate degree terminates a two-year junior college program.) These awards amount to $600 each, annually, over a two-year period, plus matching payment to a maximum of $500 for satisfactory employment in the foodservice industry during the summer between the recipients' first and second years. The total award is up to a maximum of $1,700.

For further information, contact Chester G. Hall, Jr., Ph.D., Executive Vice President, National Institute for the Foodservice Industry, John Hancock Center, 875 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

11. LAW ENFORCEMENT

LAW ENFORCEMENT EDUCATION PROGRAM GRANTS AND LOANS UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE

Grants are awarded at a maximum of $250 per academic quarter or $400 per semester to cover tuition and fees. Loans are made at a maximum of $2,200 per academic year payable in ten years at a minimum of $50 per month with an interest rate of 7 per cent compounded annually. Funds are to be used for tuition and fees, however, the institution may lend additional funds for books.

An individual accepted for or enrolled in an undergraduate or graduate program at an institution designated by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration may apply for assistance. The loan applicant must be a full-time student in a program directly related to law enforcement. For a grant, the applicant must be a Federal, State, or local law enforcement officer, enrolled full or part-time in a program related to law enforcement.

For further information, contact the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, U.S. Department of Justice, 633 Indiana Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 10530.

12. LIBRARIANSHIP

PUBLIC LIBRARY PERSONNEL TRAINING ON-THE-JOB

Grants are made to the States to provide library services to areas without such service or with inadequate services. Activities under this program may include the salaries and training of library personnel.

Grants are made to public libraries whose project plans have been approved by the State Library Agency under its State program.

For further information, contact the State Library Agency or Division of Library Programs, Bureau of Post-secondary Education, U.S. Office of Education, Washington, D.C. 20202.

FELLOWSHIPS IN LIBRARY TRAINING UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE

Fellowships including tuition and fees and stipends are available as follows:

UNDERGRADUATE

About $1,500 for the academic year; and a maximum of $250 for summer study. Allowances for eligible dependents shall be $250 for each dependent for an academic year and $50 each for a summer session.

GRADUATE (MASTER'S, POST-MASTER'S AND DOCTORAL)

Graduates can receive stipends ranging from $2,500 for less than twelve months of study to $3,500 for 48 or more months of study.

Additional amounts are provided yearly if the student attends school on a twelve month a year basis for these years. Allowances for dependents are $500 for each eligible dependent during the academic year and no more than $100 for each dependent for a summer session.

To be eligible for either level of college, the student must be a U.S. citizen and must be accepted for enrollment as a full-time student in a program of library and information science.

For further information, contact the individual institution or the Division of Library Programs, Bureau of Post-secondary Education, U.S. Office of Education, Washington, D.C. 20202.

LIBRARIAN ASSISTANCE GRADUATE

Compensation through a work-study program is available to graduate students in library science. Students may receive training in any of 22 Veterans' Administration hospital libraries while pursuing an academic program of study.

Graduate students who are U.S. citizens and are working toward a master's degree in library science may apply to a participating institution.

For further information, write to an individual institution or Chief, Library Division (142D), Veterans' Administration, Washington, D.C. 20420.

13. NATURAL RESOURCES

FOREST SERVICE RESEARCH PROGRAMS

The Forest Service has a work-study program under which students may be employed for various periods (alternating with periods in school) to assist in research studies in Forest Service projects. The Forest Service also makes research grants to limited numbers of faculty members doing research of interest to the Forest Service. These faculty members may hire students to conduct parts of the research.

Students must meet the specific requirements of the participating school in order to be eligible. Research may be in basic and/or applied forestry.

RESEARCH AND TRAINING GRANTS IN FISHERIES AND WILDLIFE GRADUATE

Grants are awarded to institutions and qualified individuals for research dealing with major water problems, fisheries and/or wildlife.

Grants are generally awarded to institutions of higher learning which are competent to carry out research and development in the areas of water resources, fisheries and wildlife. Interested graduate students apply to the institution. Other individuals may apply to the Department of the Interior.

For further information, contact individual institutions or Office of Water Resources Research, U.S. Department of the Interior or Division of Cooperative Research, Fish and Wildlife Service, U.S. Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240.

WATER POLLUTION CONTROL TRAINING GRANTS GRADUATE

These are grants in aid given in support of graduate training in the areas of water pollution control and water quality management. They are made to institutions which have a program breadth and quality which will be productive of quality professionals working in these fields. The institutional project director is authorized to provide support to students for tuition, fees, supplies and a stipend at a rate of from $1,000 to $3,000 per year, depending upon merit and need. These grants have been ordered terminated by August 1976.

WATER POLLUTION CONTROL FELLOWSHIPS GRADUATE

These are grants in aid given to individuals who are employees or prospective employees of a State or local water pollution control agency. A total of up to $6,500 is awarded each fellow, which is to cover tuition, fees, books, and a cost of living allowance.

Should you have any further questions or need additional information please contact the Academic Training Section, Office of Water Program Operations, Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, D.C. 20460.

1. PSYCHOLOGY AND MENTAL HEALTH

GRANTS FOR TRAINING IN MENTAL HEALTH UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE NURSING

Grants cover stipends for trainees and, in some instances, tuition and fees.

Medical students and undergraduates in psychiatric-mental health nursing are eligible. Short term and full-year grants are available but nurses in the full-year program must be enrolled full-time and plan to study psychiatric-mental health nursing at the master's or professional level.

TRAINING GRANTS IN MENTAL HEALTH GRADUATE

Stipends, tuition and fees, a travel allowance and a dependent's allowance are available to qualified graduate students in a discipline related to mental health.

Applicants must meet the specific requirements of a participating institution and must be pursuing graduate training in some field related to mental health, such as psychiatry, psychiatric nursing, social and biological sciences, and the like. Application is made to the individual institution.

TEACHING GRANTS IN MENTAL HEALTH GRADUATE

Stipends are paid to trainees preparing for teaching careers in psychiatry, psychology, social work, psychiatric nursing, and biological sciences and social sciences related to mental health. The amount of a trainee stipend is based upon previous training, individual qualifications, and salaries being paid at the training institute.

Requirements vary for each mental health discipline. Several require doctoral degrees. The grants for social work and psychiatric nursing require master's degrees.

For further information, contact individual institutions or Psychiatry Education Branch, Division of Manpower and Training Programs, National Institute of Mental Health, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Maryland 20852. or Psychiatric Nursing Education Branch, Division of Manpower and Training Programs, National Institute of Mental Health, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Maryland 20852.

TRAINEESHIPS AND INTERNSHIPS IN PSYCHOLOGY GRADUATE

Traineeships, including tuition and fees, of from $2,400 to $2,800 are available to qualified graduate students in psychology. Internships, including stipends, are also available in clinical psychology.

Graduate students enrolled in a doctoral program of clinical, child and developmental, experimental, physiological, or social psychology may apply through a participating institution for a traineeship renewable for up to four years. Students enrolled in a doctoral program of clinical psychology approved by the American Psychological Association may apply through a participating institution for an internship.

For additional information, contact an individual institution or Behavior Sciences Education Branch, Division of Manpower and Training Programs, National Institute of Mental Health, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Maryland 20852.

GRANTS FOR CLINICAL OR COUNSELING PSYCHOLOGY TRAINING GRADUATE

Stipends of from $3,660 to $6,790 and assistantships of from $7,447 to $9,308 are available for graduate students in clinical and counseling psychology.

Students who are enrolled in accredited Ph.D. programs in psychology, who are U.S. citizens, between the ages of 18 and 62, and are recommended by a participating institution, are eligible.

For further information, contact an individual institution or Veterans' Administration Psychology Division (116c), Psychiatry, Neurology, and Psychology Service, Department of Medicine and Surgery, Veterans' Administration, Washington, D.C. 20042.

15. SCIENCE - ENGINEERING

ENGINEERING UNDERGRADUATE

PREFACE — (Prefreshman and Cooperative Education Program) is offering scholarships for minority studies. A $600 scholarship is available for freshmen students wishing to study engineering at the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque. Senior high school students may apply for a summer job and the one-week orientation program at the UNM. Other institutions participating in similar PREFACE programs are Howard University, Washington, D.C.; Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Alabama; Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

For information concerning any of these programs, contact Farris Engineering Center, College of Engineering, University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87131.

AEROSPACE FELLOWSHIPS UNDERGRADUATE

NASA has completed agreements with seven colleges and universities to award 20 aerospace fellowships to students in their junior or senior year who are in the top third of their class and who have shown a potential for space related sciences or engineering and have expressed an interest in these fields of study.

Each student will receive $2,500 for the academic year to cover tuition, fees, books, supplies, and other education related costs. In addition, recipients of the fellowship will be invited to work at NASA installations of their choice during the summer. They will be reimbursed at the prevailing rate for Federal summer intern participants, which is currently approximately $600 per month.

For further information, write National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Washington, D.C. 20546.

SUMMER FACULTY FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM COLLEGE FACULTY

NASA continues its summer Faculty Fellowship Program in research and engineering design. Under these programs, university faculty may spend ten or eleven weeks working at a NASA center in a specific research area or as a part of a design team. University faculty who are minorities are urged to apply.

For further information, write National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Washington, D.C. 20546.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION FELLOWSHIPS GRADUATE

Stipends of $3,600 for twelve months of study (prorated at $300 per month for lesser periods) plus a limited travel allowance to reach the fellowship institution, are available to qualified graduate students in sciences. There are no dependency allowances. The institution may supplement the stipend in hardship cases or for teaching or for other reasons it considers appropriate. A cost of education allowance is paid to the fellowship institution in lieu of tuition and fees.

Applicants for these three-year awards for beginning graduate (or those with less than one year of graduate study) must be U.S. citizens and be admitted for full-time study in a graduate program leading to a master's or doctoral degree in the mathematical, physical, medical, biological, engineering, or social sciences, or in the history and philosophy of science. Awards are not made in clinical, education or business fields, or in history or social work, or for work leading to medical, dental, law or joint Ph.D. professional degrees.

For further information, write the Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, NW, Washington, D.C. 20418. The program opens to applicants in late September, the deadline is in early December, and awards are announced in March.

16 SOCIAL SCIENCES

URBAN TRANSPORTATION UNDERGRADUATE

The Urban Mass Transportation Administration, Washington, D.C. 10590 provides grants to colleges and universities for programs of research and education in urban transportation. These institutions use a portion of the grant for financial aid to students who are enrolled in programs of education in urban transportation.

The schools that participate in this program change from year to year. For a current list of colleges who are supported by the UMTA (Urban Mass Transportation Administration) write: Department of Transportation, Urban Mass Transportation Administration, Washington, D.C. 20590.

DISSERTATION GRANTS IN THE FIELD OF MANPOWER DOCTORAL

Stipends of up to $4,000 a year plus dependents' allowances are available for qualified doctoral candidates in a field related to manpower.

Applicants must be graduate students who have completed all the requirements for a doctoral degree except their dissertation. The applicants prepare a detailed proposal and submit it to the institution of higher learning which in turn files the application on his behalf with the Manpower Administration which assesses the proposals and awards the dissertation grants of up to $10,000 in direct costs.

For further information, contact an individual institution or Office of Manpower Research, Manpower Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C. 20210.

DISSERTATION GRANTS IN THE SOCIAL SCIENCES DOCTORAL

Research assistance, including field expenses, cost of specialized equipment, the purchase of computer time, microfilm, and other research related expenses is available to qualified graduate students. Under this particular program, assistance may not be in the form of stipends or dependents allowances.

Applicants must have completed or be near the completion of all course work for a doctorate in one of the social sciences, and be preparing to conduct research for their dissertations. Application is made to the department head who submits it, on behalf of the student to the National Science Foundation. Grants are made to the institution of higher learning.

For further information, contact the individual institution or Director, Division of Social Sciences, National Science Foundation, Washington, D.C. 20550.

17 SOCIAL WORK

TRAINEESHIPS IN SOCIAL WORK GRADUATE

Stipends of $2,990 to $6,000 depending on year of study are available for graduate students in social work.

Master's and doctoral students enrolled in an accredited school of social work may apply for the stipend and placement in a Veteran's Administration hospital or clinic.

For further information, contact the individual institutions or Chief, Manpower and Staffing, Social Work Service (111D), Department of Medicine and Surgery, Veterans' Administration, Washington, D.C. 20420.

18 OTHER

SMITHSONIAN GRADUATE RESEARCH TRAINING PROGRAM GRADUATE RESEARCH

Each year the Smithsonian Institution offers ten week appointments to graduate students. A limited number of scholarships at $100 per week are offered to support these appointments. Most scholarships are available during the summer, but on occasion, they are available during the winter and spring. Appointments without stipend are generally available through the year. All appointments under these programs are for research and study conducted under the supervision of a member of the Smithsonian.

Applications are accepted for study in the fields of American Art, American History and Material Culture, the History of Science and Technology, the Physical Sciences, Anthropology, and the Biological Sciences including Paleogeology.

The deadline for scholarship applications for the graduate program is March 15 of each year. Notification of awards will be made by April 15 if at all possible. Applications for appointment without stipend may be submitted at any time, with notification shortly thereafter.

The Smithsonian Institution does not discriminate on the grounds of race, color, sex, creed, or national origin.

For further information and application forms, please write to the Office of Academic Studies, Room 356, Smithsonian Institution Building, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C. 20560.

Students interested in astrophysics or geodesy should correspond directly with Mr. Harris Rosenthal at the Smithsonian Astro-physical Observatory, 60 Garden Street, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138.

STATES WITH NO OUT-OF-STATE TUITION CHARGES FOR GRADUATE STUDY

There are several States who do not charge any out-of-State tuition fees to non residents for graduate study at their State supported colleges and universities. Those States are:

Alabama	Georgia	Maryland	Tennessee
Arkansas	Kentucky	Mississippi	Virginia
Florida	Louisiana	South Carolina	West Virginia

Since other States may begin to follow this policy, write to the State Education Department at the State Capitol for information concerning their policy.

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES

Part or all of the expenses involved in scientific, professional, or technical training may be paid by individual Government Agencies or Departments.

Qualified applicants are selected by their Agency or Department for training, which may be conducted by the Agency or Department itself, a college or other educational institution or a professional association.

For further information, contact an individual Agency or Department or U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D.C. 20415.
