PREFACE

The question, "Should we have competition for girls?" has been answered by a resounding "yes" that has echoed across this land. Now those responsible for such programs are faced with the nitty-gritty problems of organization and administration of the programs. It is hoped that this book might provide direction to those who are developing leagues for girls' interscholastic competition.

I should like to express my appreciation to the 1973-1974 California Girls' and Women's Sports Competition committee and its chairperson for encouraging me to develop this material and to Sandra Trigg for her penetrating comments and suggestions.

5. When two preliminary strips exist, coaches shall rank their fencers 1-8. On strip 1 they would assign fencers 1, 3, 5, 7. On strip 2 they would assign fencers 2, 4, 6, 8.

6. The type of competition shall be round robin.

7. The length of the bout will be three minutes of actual fencing time.

8. No coach or teammate shall coach a fencer who is in competition.

9. The team winner is determined by the total school's win-loose record. If a tie exists, the winner is the team which has received the least number of touches. If a tie still exists, the winner is the school which has scored the greater number of touches "against." If the above is not sufficient to determine a team winner, there will be a "fence-off" between the number 1 fencers.

10. If a tie exists between two individuals for first place, there will be an automatic "fence-off." If a tie exists for any other places, the place standing will be determined by touches received, then touches scored.

E. Officiating

1. If two strips are used, each coach will serve as director. In final pool or if only one pool exists, coaches will determine which one of them will direct. If there is any question, coaches will each direct half the bouts. When sharing directing responsibilities, coaches should attempt to change every four bouts if possible.

2. There shall be four student judges per bout, two from each school. One from each school will be positioned on the director's left and one from each school will be placed on the director's right.
3. On each strip there will be a scorer provided by the host school who will inform the director when one fencer has received four touches. If four touches have not been scored at the conclusion of three minutes, and one fencer has received fewer touches, the scorer should refer to the current NAGWS Guide to record the score correctly.

4. On each strip there will be a timer provided by the visiting school who, when play has ceased, will inform the director that two minutes have elapsed. The director will then warn the fencers that one minute is remaining. When play has ceased and three minutes of fencing time have elapsed, the timer will inform the director that the bout is over.

Informing Parents of Injury

When necessary, the athletic director, department chairman or coach shall assume the responsibility for notifying parents of an injury to their daughter. The information necessary to reach the parents both at home and at work should appear on the girl's roster form.

Emergency Procedures for Your School

If a player is injured at your school, the following procedures should be taken:

1. Administer emergency first aid as necessary.

2. If the injury is serious, the Swift Ambulance Service should be called and the girl taken to the hospital of her preference or to St. Elizabeth's. Immediately following the call to the ambulance service, the girl's personal physician should be contacted and given the necessary information. If the family physician cannot be contacted, one of the team physicians should be called.

3. In line with established school policy, report the injury on the appropriate forms.

4. Injuries to visiting players shall be handled in the same manner as the host school's students, assuming this is agreeable with the visiting coach. If the visiting team is from the same general area of the city, the visiting coach may wish to employ his/her own emergency procedures.

Emergency Procedures for Away Games

1. Each coach should have in his/her possession during away games a copy of the roster for the team. This will provide the coach with pertinent information in the event certain telephone calls are necessary relative to personal physician, hospital preference, and how to locate parents or adult(s) responsible for the student.

2. Upon arrival at a game site which is out of the geographic area for the coach's own emergency procedures, he/she should confer with the host coach regarding the host school's medical procedures in the event of an accident and follow these procedures.

3. If an accident occurs in which emergency procedures are necessary, as soon as possible the girls' athletic director should be notified by telephone of the situation. At this time further action will be decided.
4. If the host school has no accident procedures, the visiting coach should use his/her own good judgment.

5. Upon return to Turner High School, the necessary accident report forms must be completed.

6. If a coach becomes incapacitated for any reason, another adult accompanying the team shall assume responsibility for the team members. The adult should notify the girls' athletic director who shall then make the necessary plans.

   If an adult is unavailable or if both the coach and other adults are incapacitated, the team captain shall be responsible and shall call the girls' athletic director immediately.

7. If the girls' athletic director cannot be contacted in any of the above situations, the chairman of the girls' physical education department should be contacted; if no luck, the school principal should be called.

Insurance

All interscholastic players should be insured for injury or accident. To have the insurance plan work efficiently, the coach must report all injuries immediately. The two forms listed below must be completed and submitted:

1. The Department Accident Report -- This is to be completed the day of the accident. One copy is submitted to the department chairman, one copy to the athletic director and one copy is retained.

2. Insurance Form -- Submit three copies to the athletic director.

The girls' athletic director must work very closely with the physicians and hospitals used in the emergency situation. Naturally the physician must be on the hospitals' list of physicians permitted to practice in their hospital. To avoid mishaps at a time when everything must work very smoothly it is recommended that the girls' athletic director/coaches and the physicians meet with the appropriate hospital officials so that every detail will be understood clearly.

It would be very desirable for the girls' athletic director to double-check with the hospital listed by a student to verify that the student's choice of physician is permitted to practice in that hospital. Furthermore, if emergency procedures can be explained to the personnel of the various hospitals it will save a great amount of time later.
It is further recommended that the girls' athletic director have the ambulance service come to the campus and be available within the location of the buildings and field locations. A map would be very helpful to the ambulance service. With a map, plus a personal visit to the site and a discussion of emergency procedures, the service provided by the ambulance company can be that much more swift.
