July 7, 1975

Dear Correctional Educator:

Enclosed you will find a complimentary learning packet on Food Stamps. This packet is for instructors to use with reading students in whatever way they consider most productive. Educators should feel free to use all or only part of the packet. Any supportive material should be added at the instructor's discretion.

This packet was designed to help the student to read, understand and complete food stamp applications. This is an essential skill to cope with today's economy. It is critical for an offender's family to know of these benefits and for ex-offenders to be familiar with the skill for possible use upon release.

Learning packets can be designed for any functional skill that students may want or need. Some possible subjects for individuals in correctional custody are reading the classified ads; reading the yellow pages; preparation for the written driver's license examination; mastery of forms such as social security, W-2's, 1040's, etc.; understanding guarantees for tires, appliances, etc.; paycheck comprehension; recipe utilization; and, emergency word recognition. Learning Packet Number 1 - Job Application is also available through the Clearinghouse. Additional packets are being developed by the Clearinghouse on rental/loan agreements and guarantees/warranties. This packet and the ones to follow are models for teachers to use. We hope it will be an aid in developing your own packets to better meet the learning needs of each student.

If you have questions about using this material or want specific help with any reading problem, please contact me at the Clearinghouse.

Sincerely,

Jane E. Walker
Assistant Director
INSTRUCTIONS TO THE TEACHER

1. Cut the sheets of vocabulary words into flash card size. Note that the cards have words on both sides. The underlined words are those to be learned by the student for the functional skill presented in the packet. If a student does not know many of the words, a suggestion might be to divide the flash cards (corresponding to those words he/she does not know) into small groups of seven. The student should be given the leeway to select the words in the order he/she wishes to learn them. By dividing the words into smaller groups, the student will not be frustrated by a huge stack of unknown words. Time needed to learn the words will vary. Some blank flash cards are enclosed for additional words.

2. Labeling and design of the packet's cover is encouraged. Suggestions might be same color code ink as inside and cutouts from magazines depicting the skill or some area of it.

3. All materials in the packet and the packet's cover should have the same color code. The color code will allow your students to replace the materials easily into the correct packet. Additional packets can be coded in various colors.

4. If you have access to a copy machine, you could make two xerox copies of this application. Use the first application for a pre-test to determine in what areas the student needs practice. The second form could be the actual working copy. The third use as a post-test to determine if the student gained the skills he/she needed. If you are unable to duplicate the application the students could simply work on another sheet of paper so the application could be used again by others.

5. The packet is designed so that the student has very concise learning material with which to deal. Exercises and answers are included in the packet. These exercises are divided into three sections: A) Vocabulary, B) Questions, and C) Activities. We recommend that they be undertaken in the sequence presented. There are two sets of student work and answer sheets, one for the instructor's use and the other for the student. Any material can be reproduced.

A. Vocabulary

1) Use the flash cards with an individual or a group of students - with students reversing roles (vocabulary words vs. definitions) until students are familiar with pronunciation and recognition of words. The reading load is based on the actual food stamp application. The words are approximately on the 8.0 reading level. For students reading below this level, more teacher/tutor involvement will be necessary. The estimated time to complete each learning area will vary according to the students' reading abilities, with each section written at a different level. One of the most workable ways to gear this learning material to those students on a lower vocabulary level is to record a cassette tape which directly follows the application and the student's work and answer sheets.

2) Explain the alphabetizing principle to students, i.e., will need this skill to use the yellow pages, phone book, etc. Have the individual or group alphabetize the vocabulary words.

3) Have each student (individual or group) use the words in an oral sentence.
B. Questions

These three levels of questioning are designed to help students acquire understanding of the subject. Each level employs different skills and different thought processes. More thought is required. The questioning will increase the students' comprehension skills. Guide your student(s) through this section. (In your own design of future packets an attempt should be made to make questions relevant to the actual application of the contents of the packet.)

The levels of questioning are listed below:

- LEVEL I: Factual - Finding facts from the learning materials
- LEVEL II: Interpretation - Paraphrasing & reordering ideas from the material
- LEVEL III: Projection - relating the information on the learning material to other things. Going beyond the learning material.

C. Activities

Resource materials are enclosed for additional information relating to all the learning activities, and to assist the student in developing a better understanding of the food stamp program. Additional copies of the materials may be ordered from the address found on each.

Supplemental Materials included in the packet:

- a. Shopping with Food Stamps - Program Aid No. 1109
- b. Food stamp Program - Program Aid No. 930
- c. Food Stamp Facts - Allotments and Purchase Requirements - FNS70
- d. Food Stamp Facts - Eligibility Requirements - FNS72
- e. Food Stamp Facts - Household Income Deductions - FNS74
- f. Food Stamp Facts - Meals on Wheels - FNS75
- g. Food Stamp Facts - Disaster Situations - FNS99
- h. Food Makes the Difference - Ideas for Economy-Minded Families - Program Aid 934

- k. Food Stamps For You - Comic Version - FNS119
- l. FRAC'S Guide to the Food Stamp Program

Note: Remember that food stamp applications are different in each office. This sample application should adequately prepare a person to complete a similar form.

Help your students with these activities. Initiate beginning conversation.

1. Work with students to locate the food stamp office in the phone directory. The office is usually listed under an area of government, i.e. city, county, or state. The actual listing will usually not be entitled "Food Stamps", but will be listed under a related area that issues the stamps, i.e. Human Resources Department, Social Service Administration, Welfare Agency, etc.
2. Discuss with students possible disaster situations and the eligibility requirements to receive food stamps during a disaster. Utilize form FNS-99 in this discussion.

3. Discuss how the program is offered in cities. Use form FNS-75.

4. A person can request a fair hearing orally but encourage students to make a written request to the food stamp office. Use pages 13-15 in the FRAC booklet. The head of the household or someone he/she may appoint asks for the hearing. The food stamp office must notify an applicant 10 days before it takes any action to keep them from receiving food stamps.

5. Encourage students to use the sheet Food Makes a Difference - P.A. No. 934. Check menu's for balance between food groups. Discuss nutrition, buying, storage, etc. of food to achieve the best service. Utilize Shopping With Food Stamps - P.A. No. 1109 and the Food Stamp Program - P.A. No. 930.

6. Give the student a monthly total pay figure to use as his/her income. Utilize pages 16-18 in FRAC'S Guide to the Food Stamp Program to help the student understand how to figure income. This is a most important activity so sufficient time should be allowed to work through all the steps.

7. Use the FNS-70 sheet: Allotments and Purchase Requirements to calculate the amount of food stamps the student will receive and the cost of the stamps.

Note: Amount of allotments change periodically. Thus it is important to obtain new figures from the food stamp office closest to you.

8. Encourage the students to be creative in the design of the food stamp coupons. FRAC'S Guide to the Food Stamp Program and Food Stamps For You give ideas of actual food stamps and the denominations. Use role playing in this situation. As of March 1, 1975 the Food Stamp series is coded and in these denominations, $1.00 - brown, $5.00 - purple, and $10.00 blue-green, with a bicentennial theme. Encourage students to make their own design rather than duplicating stamps.

The Food Stamp Program enables low-income households to buy more food of greater variety to improve their diets. To purchase food stamps, participants pay a sum of money based on family size and net monthly income. They then receive food stamps of a larger value than the amount paid. The food stamps can be spent like money at authorized food stores.

To qualify for food stamps, households must meet certain nationwide eligibility standards. The following explains these standards in more detail.

1. WHO IS ELIGIBLE FOR FOOD STAMPS? Certain single and family households. To be eligible for food stamps, they must meet nationwide standards for income and resources or have all household members receiving public assistance or Supplemental Security Income (SSI). (SSI recipients are not eligible in New York, Massachusetts, California, Wisconsin, and Nevada.) They must also be living as one economic unit, either singly or as a group of persons, excluding roomers, boarders, and live-in attendants, and be able to prepare meals except in special circumstances. Able-bodied household members 18 and over must register for employment.

2. WHAT IS INCOME? Income is any money received by all members of the household, except students under 18 years old. It includes wages; public assistance, retirement, disability benefits; pensions, veterans', workmen's, or unemployment compensation; old age, survivors', or strike benefits; support payments, alimony, scholarships, educational grants, fellowships and veterans' educational benefits; dividends, interest, and all other payments from any source which may be considered a gain or a benefit.

3. WHAT ARE THE INCOME STANDARDS FOR A HOUSEHOLD? Households in which all members are receiving public assistance or certain general assistance payments are eligible for food stamps without regard to income and resource eligibility standards.

The monthly net income all other households can have and take part in the program is based on family size. The maximum monthly income standards for these households including those in which some members are receiving public assistance or general assistance in any state (except Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands and Guam)* or the District of Columbia are:

<table>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

For each additional household member over eight, add $73.

*These areas have separate standards because of differing food costs.
4. WHAT HOUSEHOLD EXPENSES CAN BE DEDUCTED? Expenses deducted from income include such mandatory expenses as: local, state and Federal income taxes; Social Security taxes under FICA; retirement, union dues, and a work allowance. Other allowable deductions are medical costs (but not special diets) when more than $10 a month; child care to accept or continue employment; training and education; fire, theft, hurricane or other disaster expenses; educational expenses which are for tuition and mandatory school fees; court ordered support and alimony; rent, utilities, or mortgage payments above 30 percent of income after all other deductions.

5. WHAT ARE RESOURCES? Resources are such liquid assets as cash on hand, in a bank, or in other savings institution accounts; U.S. Saving Bonds; stocks and bonds; and such nonliquid assets as buildings (except for the family home), land, and certain real or personal property. Each household is allowed up to $1,500 in resources except for those households of two or more persons with a member or members age 60 or over. Then the resources may not exceed $3,000.

6. WHAT RESOURCES ARE EXCLUDED? Some resources that are not considered in determining food stamp eligibility are home and lot; one licensed vehicle and any other vehicles needed for purposes of employment; life insurance policies; real estate that produces income consistent with its fair market value; tools of a tradesman, farm machinery, etc.

7. DOES EVERYONE HAVE TO REGISTER TO WORK? Yes. With few exceptions, everyone between 18 and 65 years of age who is able-bodied must register to work. If one member refuses to register, the entire household becomes ineligible for food stamps. (For further information, see Food Stamp Facts...Work Registration).

8. HOW SHOULD THE HOUSEHOLD APPLY FOR FOOD STAMPS? The head of the family contacts the local office of the welfare department. He completes an application form and is interviewed by a representative of the welfare department. He should have papers to show where he lives; how many are in the family; how much income they have; how much they are paying for rent, medical bills, child care, education, and other expenses.

9. IF AN ELIGIBLE FAMILY MOVES TO ANOTHER FOOD STAMP AREA, DO THEY HAVE TO REAPPLY? No. A family intending to move to another food stamp area should apply at their welfare office for a transfer certification. If the household composition has not changed at the time of the intended move, certification will be continued for 60 days in the new area. But the household must request recertification within the 60 days following the move.

Any food stamp participant may request a fair hearing the hearing date of the last day on which a request was made.

The Food Stamp Program enables low-income households to buy more food of greater variety to improve their diets. Participants pay a small sum of money—the amount based on family size and net monthly income—and receive a larger value of food stamps, which can be spent like money in participating food stores.

Major changes were made in the Food Stamp Program by the 1971 amendments (Public Law 91-671) to the Food Stamp Act of 1964.

To qualify for food stamp benefits, households must meet certain nationwide eligibility requirements such as income standards and work registration. Certain senior citizens may use food stamps to pay for delivered meals (Meals-on-Wheels). The following questions and answers pertain to this service:

1. WHAT ARE MEALS-ON-WHEELS?
   This is a common name given to meals delivered to the home. Some of these services may be authorized by the Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service to accept food stamps.

2. WHO IS ELIGIBLE FOR MEALS-ON-WHEELS?
   All food stamp recipients—aged 60 or over—who are physically handicapped, feeble or cannot prepare all of their meals may take part in the Meals-on-Wheels service if it is available in their area.

3. HOW WILL THE MEALS-ON-WHEELS RECIPIENT BE IDENTIFIED?
   Each household with one or more persons that are eligible to use food stamps for delivered meals, will be given a regular food stamp identification card marked with the letter "M."

4. HOW LONG MAY A PERSON TAKE MEALS-ON-WHEELS?
   As long as necessary. However, persons who are authorized to buy delivered meals for a short time, such as while convalescing, will have an expiration date on their identification cards.

5. MUST ALL OF THE FOOD STAMP ALLOTMENT BE SPENT FOR DELIVERED MEALS?
   Food stamps may be used for meals delivered to the home or eligible foods in a retail food store authorized to accept food stamps, or both.
6. ARE COOKING FACILITIES NECESSARY FOR DELIVERED MEALS?
Cooking facilities are necessary unless the participant lives alone or lives only with spouse or with a roomer.

7. CAN THE SPOUSE OF THE ABOVE PARTICIPANT RECEIVE DELIVERED MEALS?
Yes, the spouse of a person without cooking facilities may be eligible to receive meals and need not be age 60 or over, nor disabled.

Any food stamp participant may request a fair hearing if he feels a decision regarding his participation has been unfair. Each household should be informed of its right to a fair hearing at the time of application. The standards for participation in the Food Stamp Program are the same for everyone without regard to race, color, religious creed, national origin, sex, or political beliefs.

Participants are allowed certain deductions in determining their income eligibility and purchase requirement. This fact sheet discusses those income deductions.

1. WHAT HOUSEHOLD EXPENSES CAN BE DEDUCTED FROM INCOME?

   (a) Ten percent of earned income or training allowance not to exceed $30 per household per month.

   (b) Mandatory income deductions such as—
       - Local, State, and Federal income taxes
       - Social Security taxes
       - Retirement payments
       - Union dues
       - Some types of garnishments.

   (c) Medical costs, exclusive of special diets, if more than $10 a month.

   (d) Payments for child or invalid care when this care is necessary to enable a household member to accept or continue employment or participate in job training.

   (e) Tuition and required fees for education. This does not include such expenses as books, school supplies, meals at school and transportation.

   (f) Unusual expenses such as losses due to fire, hurricane, flood, or theft and costs of funerals.

   (g) Court-ordered support and alimony payments.

   (h) Shelter costs which are more than 30 percent of household income as calculated after all other deductions. Shelter costs are—
       - Utilities (heating or cooking fuel, electricity, basic service fees for one telephone, water, sewerage fees)
       - Rent
       - Mortgage payments and interest on applicant's own home
       - Real estate taxes and special State or local assessments on applicant’s own home.
2. WHAT INCOME GARNISHMENTS CAN BE DEDUCTED?

The only allowable garnishments are those for items which would have been deductible if they had been paid when due (for example, medical costs of over $10 a month).

3. IF MONTHLY MEDICAL COSTS ARE $15, IS ONLY $5 DEDUCTIBLE?

No. The entire medical costs of $15 are deductible. However, if costs are $9, there would be no deduction.

4. HOW WILL MANDATORY DEDUCTIONS, CERTAIN OTHER EXPENSES, AND SHELTER COSTS BE DEDUCTED?

Here is an example of the calculations for allowable deductions:

(a) Mandatory deductions .......... $ 35
Medical expenses ............ +15
Total expenses ............... $ 50
(b) Monthly household income . $ 400
Less above expenses ............. -50
Remaining income ............. $ 350

(c) Shelter costs ............... $ 110
30% of remaining income ........ $ 105
(d) Remaining income ............. $ 350
Shelter deduction ............... $ 5
Net food stamp income ............ $ 345

5. I WAS CERTIFIED FOR FOOD STAMPS ON JULY 10TH. CAN I DEDUCT A $50 MEDICAL EXPENSE I PAID IN JUNE?

No. You can only deduct those expenses you met during the period of certification.

6. CAN I DEDUCT THE COST OF A NEW BATTERY FOR MY TRUCK?

No. You may not deduct the costs of repair of property, clothing, etc., because of wear and tear, mechanical failure, or other reason not directly connected with a household disaster.

Any food stamp participant may request a fair hearing if he feels a decision regarding his participation has been unfair. Each household should be informed of its right to a fair hearing at the time of application. The Food Stamp Program enables low-income households to buy more food of a greater variety to improve their diets. Participants pay a small sum of money—the amount based on family size and net monthly income—and receive a larger value of food stamps, which can be spent like money in participating food stores. This program is designed to provide food assistance to low-income households either on a continuing or an as-needed basis.

In areas operating the Food Stamp Program, food stamp benefits are available to victims of disasters ranging from individual misfortune such as a loss of family home by fire or flood, to large-scale disasters such as a hurricane, earthquake, flood, or some other major catastrophe.

In the case of individual misfortune, the Food Stamp Program provides for the needs of affected households through a personal hardship provision in the regular program procedures.

During large-scale disasters, when there are authorized retail facilities available with adequate stocks of food, the Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) may declare the entire affected area eligible for emergency food stamp assistance.

The following questions and answers concern food stamp assistance during large-scale disaster situations:

1. WHAT IS A DISASTER?
   A disaster is a loss of food purchasing power through fire, hurricane, tornado, flood, storm, or other catastrophes severe enough to warrant federal assistance. In areas which operate the Food Stamp Program the regular program can be converted into an emergency plan which issues free food stamps to all adversely affected households. Presidential declaration of a disaster area is not necessarily a prerequisite or indication that the emergency plan is warranted.

2. WHEN IS THE EMERGENCY FOOD STAMP PLAN PUT INTO EFFECT?
   When the effects of the disaster occurrence are felt to be long-term, FNS has found that the normal program procedures can best serve the food assistance needs of disaster victims. Under normal program procedures, households may be certified for more than one month if their income is expected to be reduced for an extended period. When the disaster situation occurs unexpectedly and the effects will be felt only for a short period of time, emergency procedures may go into effect. Households who experience a temporary reduction in income as a result of the disaster and are certified under the emergency procedures may receive up to one month’s issuance of food stamps at no cost.

3. WHO IS ELIGIBLE FOR THIS ASSISTANCE?
   Households who have been adversely affected by a disaster should report their situation to the local welfare office to see if they are eligible for food stamp assistance. This applies to persons living either temporarily or permanently in disaster-affected sections of a food stamp area.

4. WHAT ARE THE ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS?
   In order to be certified for food assistance, households must meet the following criteria—
   • Reside either temporarily or permanently within the limits of the disaster project area,
   • Have access to cooking facilities, and
   • Need food stamp assistance because of a reduction or inaccessibility of income or cash resources as a result of the disaster.
5. HOW DO I APPLY?
The head of a household, spouse, or an authorized representative must visit the local welfare office (or an established disaster relief center) and apply. The application requires the applicant to provide family size, address and names of all household members as well as information regarding the household’s need for food assistance.

6. HOW MANY STAMPS WILL I RECEIVE?
Households who are certified eligible for emergency food stamps will receive an allotment of coupons based on household size. Households who receive coupons under regular program procedures may be charged a purchase requirement. There is no charge for an emergency coupon issuance.

7. HOW LONG ARE THE STAMPS GOOD FOR?
There is no time limit on the use of food stamps. Households may use their food stamps at participating stores until they are used up. In the event FNS extends the disaster designation beyond the original period, households may receive an additional emergency allotment if they continue to meet the requirements.

8. IS THERE A SPECIAL WAY TO USE FOOD STAMPS?
The food stamps you receive are taken to an FNS authorized food store. Food stamps can buy all foods for human consumption. Food stamps cannot be used to buy alcoholic beverages, soap, cigarettes or paper goods.

9. WHAT ARE MY RESPONSIBILITIES ONCE THE STAMPS ARE RECEIVED?
Any household that is certified to receive food stamps is obligated by law not to misuse them in any way. They cannot be sold, given away or used to pay back bills or credit accounts.

10. WHEN THE EMERGENCY IS OVER CAN I STILL RECEIVE FOOD STAMPS?
If you have been certified to receive food stamps under emergency standards, you may apply at the welfare office to continue participation after emergency issuance ends. You must meet the standards for the regular program in order to continue to receive the stamps.

11. WILL I HAVE TO REPAY THE MONEY FOR THE STAMPS ONCE THE EMERGENCY IS OVER?
No. If your application was accurate and correct, no repayment is required.

12. WILL THERE BE SOMEONE TO HELP ME IF I NEED IT?
People from disaster relief agencies — or the welfare office — will be available to speed up the process of getting disaster-affected households the food help they need.

Any food stamp participant may request a fair hearing if he feels a decision regarding his participation has been unfair. Each household should be informed of its right to a fair hearing at the time of application. The standards for participation in the Food Stamp Program are the same for everyone, without regard to race, color, religious creed, sex, national origin, or political beliefs.

The Food Stamp Program enables low-income households to buy more food of greater variety to improve their diets. To purchase food stamps, participants pay a sum of money based on their family size and net monthly income. They then receive food stamps of a larger value than the amount paid which they can spend like money at authorized food stores.

To qualify for food stamps, households must meet certain nationwide eligibility standards. Also, except in special circumstances, food stamp households must be able to prepare meals. When certified, participants receive an allotment of coupons based on the number of people in the household and pay for this allotment according to the net total income of the household. The amount paid is determined according to the tables given in this fact sheet. Following are some questions and answers about coupon allotments and purchase requirements.

1. WHAT IS THE PURCHASE REQUIREMENT? The amount a household pays for its food stamps is called the purchase requirement. The amount increases as the household income increases, but in no case will the purchase requirement be more than 30 percent of the household's net income or take-home pay.

2. HOW IS THE ALLOTMENT DETERMINED? The total amount of coupons an eligible household will receive will depend upon the size of the household.

3. WHAT ARE BONUS FOOD STAMPS? "Bonus" or "free" coupons are the difference between the purchase requirements and the total coupon allotment. For example, if a household paid $10 for $90 worth of coupons, the bonus would be $80 worth of coupons. See table on page 2.

4. DOES A HOUSEHOLD HAVE TO BUY ALL THE STAMPS AT ONE TIME? A household can buy stamps twice a month or, in some States, more often. In most States, if a household receives a welfare payment, the cost of the total coupon allotment can be deducted from the check.

5. CAN A HOUSEHOLD BUY LESS THAN THE TOTAL ALLOTMENT? A household is allowed to purchase three-quarters, one-half, or one-quarter of the total allotment unless the household has chosen to have the purchase requirement deducted from the welfare payment. In that case, the household must buy the total allotment.

6. CAN A HOUSEHOLD GO BACK AND BUY THE REST OF THE ALLOTMENT LATER? Once the household buys less than the total allotment in any one month, it will not be able to pick up the balance at a later date. However, the full allotment may be purchased the following month.

For each person in excess of eight, add $22 to the monthly coupon allotment for an eight-person household.

Notes
- An applicant for food stamps may request a fair hearing if he feels a decision regarding his participation has been unfair. Each household should be informed of its right to a fair hearing at the time of application. The standards for participation in the Food Stamp Program are the same for everyone, without regard to race, color, sex, religious creed, national origin, or political beliefs.
The Food Stamp Program enables low-income households to buy more food of greater variety to improve their diets. To purchase food stamps, participants pay a sum of money based on their family size and net monthly income. They then receive food stamps of a larger value than the amount paid which they can spend like money at authorized food stores.

To qualify for food stamps, households must meet certain nationwide eligibility standards. Also, except in special circumstances, food stamp households must have a place to cook meals. When certified, participants receive an allotment of coupons based on the number of people in the household and pay for this allotment according to the net total income of the household.

WHO CAN GET FOOD STAMPS?

Households of one or more persons with low incomes, such as those:

- With no jobs.
- With part-time work.
- Who do not earn much money.
- On public welfare.
- On Social Security or with small pensions.

HOW DOES A HOUSEHOLD GET FOOD STAMPS:

The head of the household should go to his welfare office with papers to show:

- Where his household lives.
- How many are in his household.
- How much money the household receives each month.
- How much the household is paying for doctors' bills and rent.

When certifying the household, the welfare office tells the applicant how much he will have to pay for food stamps, how many stamps he will get, and if he or members of his household must register for work. The total amount of food stamps he receives depends on how many people are in his household.
HOW DO PARTICIPANTS USE FOOD STAMPS?

Anyone in the household can take the food stamp book to an authorized food store and use the stamps like money to buy food.

Food stamps can be used to buy almost any food, or seeds and plants to grow food for the recipient's own use. They cannot be used to buy liquor, beer, cigarettes, soap, or other nonfood items. And recipients cannot sell food stamps to the grocer or anyone else.

Most stores are authorized to accept food stamps.

ARE ALL PARTICIPANTS TREATED THE SAME WAY IN THIS PROGRAM?

Yes. The rules of the program are the same for all participants. The participants' eligibility and willingness to obey the rules of the program are the only things that count. No person may be put in a special place in line or separate line or told to come on a different day because of race, color, or national origin.

If anyone believes his household is being unfairly denied food stamps or has been unfairly dropped from the program, he has the right to get a fair hearing—a chance to present his case with the help of a lawyer or friends. A participant can get food stamps until the date of his fair hearing and can continue to receive them after the hearing if he wins the case.

ARE THERE PENALTIES FOR ABUSING THE PROGRAM?

Yes. Food stamps are obligations of the United States. Any unauthorized use of them may result in prosecution. Penalties for violating the Food Stamp law can be severe and include both a fine and imprisonment.

WHAT IS THE LEGISLATIVE HISTORY OF THE PROGRAM?

A pilot food stamp program was started on March 7, 1961. On August 31, 1964, the Food Stamp Act (P.L. 88-525), which established the program on a permanent basis and made it more widely available, was signed into law. On August 10, 1973, P.L. 93-86 mandated nationwide expansion of the program. Every county in the Nation now participates in the Food Stamp Program.

All programs of the U.S. Department of Agriculture are available to everyone without regard to race, creed, color, sex, national origin, or political belief.
TO HELP KEEP YOUR FAMILY WELL FED AND HEALTHY...

1. Try to have everyone eat some foods from each of these four groups every day.
   - Milk and foods made from milk.
   - Meat and poultry, fish, eggs, dry beans and peas, peanut butter.
   - Vegetables and fruit.
   - Breads and cereals that are whole grain or marked "enriched."

2. Try to give each person the number of helpings shown on "Daily Food Guide," FNS 13.*

3. To round out meals, use
   - Extra helpings of economical foods from the four groups, such as dry beans, potatoes, and breads and cereals.
   - Other foods not in the groups.

* The "Daily Food Guide" shows pictures of some thrifty choices from the four food groups on one side and amounts of foods to try to serve each day on the other side.

The standards for participation in the Food Stamp Program are the same for everyone without regard to race, color, sex, religious creed, national origin, or political beliefs.
SHOPPING WITH FOOD STAMPS
This booklet is for you—the food stamp shopper. It contains many of the important rules for taking part in the Food Stamp Program. It also serves as a reminder on how to shop, store, and use foods. Proper food selection, preparation and storage can mean more food on your table and better health for your family.

- Keep this booklet in a handy place and refer to it regularly. If you have any questions about using food stamps, your local food stamp office for further information.
No person shall, because of race, religious creed, color, sex, national origin, or political beliefs, be excluded from taking part in the Food Stamp Program.

REMEMBER THESE RULES

- When you were certified for the Food Stamp Program, you received a food stamp identification card called the ID card. Keep this card with you when shopping with food stamps. You must show this card if the food store requests to see identification.
The amount of food stamps you get depends on family size. What you pay for food stamps depends on how much money comes into your household each month. You must report any changes over $25 in monthly income or deductions to the food stamp office at once.

If you plan to move to another area, let the food stamp office know. The certification worker will fill out a form that lets you continue getting food stamps for 60 days after the move.
Food stamps cannot be sold or used to pay back bills or credit accounts at any store. It is against the law to misuse your food stamps in any way. The penalties for violating these regulations can be severe and may include a fine and jail sentence.

Take care of any mail or notices you may get from the food stamp office right away. Then you will be sure to get your food stamps on time.

You can shop with food stamps in store authorized to take them.
Look for the “We Accept Food Coupons” sign posted in the store, or ask a store clerk.

- Food stamps are only for food or for seeds and plants to grow food for the eligible household. That means no pet food, soap, cigarettes, paper goods, or alcoholic beverages, including beer. You must pay cash for these items.
- To speed things up at the checkout counter, tell the clerk that you are using food stamps. Also, separate your stamp purchases from those items you will be paying for with cash. Be prepared to show your ID card.

- The $1 coupons are used for change and are allowed to be loose. But loose $5 and $10 coupons can be accepted only if you have the booklets bearing the same serial number as the coupons.

- The clerk cannot give you cash as change. You will be given $1 coupons for change when possible. If your change is less than $1, you can do one thing:

—Ask for a credit slip for the amount due and use the slip at a later time when you shop in that store.
—Buy more food to make up the difference.
—Pay the difference in cash.

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR FOOD DOLLAR

Plan Your Meals  Proper food selection is easier when you plan ahead. Here are a few helpful hints for planning your meal:
Plan each day's meals to include foods from each of the basic four food groups in the daily food guide. The groups are: milk and milk products, meat and meat alternates, vegetables and fruits, and breads and cereals. Illustrations of these groups begin on page 13 of this guide.

- Plan menus for a week at a time.
- Have a serving from the meat group as well as a serving from the milk group at least twice a day.
- Divide the amount of food you eat evenly among meals.
Plan meals with a variety of color, flavor, and texture in your food to add interest.

Plan "leftovers" for another meal.

Shop Wisely You may be able to save money with these smart shopping habits:

- Check foods at home before you shop. Make a list of items you need to prepare meals you planned. It is impossible to remember everything at the Choose your store carefully. Stores which offer special services usually charge higher prices.

- Buy foods in season for best quality. Watch for "specials."
- Buy just what you can use.
- Read food labels carefully for content and food use information.
- Remember that cuts of meat high in bone, fat or gristle are often expensive sources of meat even if they are priced low.

Food Properly

By storing food
properly, you can make sure it will remain safe to eat until you are ready to prepare it. Here are some hints to help you after bringing the food home:

- Unpack and store foods at once.
- Store perishable foods in the refrigerator so they will not spoil.
- Store newer foods to the back of shelves so older items will be used first.
- Store dry foods in jars or cans with tight fitting lids.
- Refrigerate "leftovers" at once.

NEW FOOD STAMP ELIGIBILITY LEVELS AND COUPON ALLOTMENTS

 EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 1975 **

Below are the new food stamp eligibility levels -- called Maximum Monthly Income -- and monthly coupon allotments for the Food Stamp Program which will be in effect between July 1 and December 31, 1975. Please note that the maximum monthly income amounts are incomes after the allowable deductions.

We have updated our GUIDE TO THE FOOD STAMP PROGRAM to include these new tables (the edition is dated July, 1975). Please be sure to use this insert for the tables on pages 8 and 20 in earlier editions. New GUIDES are available at a cost of $.50 per copy, free to people or community groups without funding who cannot afford it.

On the reverse side, we have reprinted the purchase price chart for the 48 states and D.C. which will be in effect on July 1, 1975. Except for the coupon allotments and some minor variations at the upper ends of the tables, it can serve as an indication of purchase prices in the other areas as well. Purchase price charts for non-mainland areas are available from FRAC.

NOTE: This chart will change on January 1, 1976.

The purchase price chart for the 48 states and D.C. is on the reverse side.
This chart tells you how many stamps you will receive each month (the coupon allotment) and how much you must pay. It only applies to the 48 States and D.C. Your monthly cost depends on your income after deduction and your household size. To find out what you pay, look at the left side of the chart until you find the category your income fits into. Look across the top and find your household size. Where these two columns meet is the amount you will have to pay each month.

EXAMPLE: A 5-person household has monthly income of $240. Look down the chart and find $230 to 249.99. Now look across the top and find a household of 5. They will pay $66 and get $192 worth of food stamps.

INTRODUCTION

Inflation and the tremendous increase in the cost of basic foods have hurt poor and working people more than anyone else in America. Many low-income families are simply unable to afford an adequate diet at present prices.

Food stamps, of course, won't solve the problems of hunger and malnutrition. An adequate income for all Americans might. But food stamps can help increase the amount and quality of food that people can buy. And for most people, the Food Stamp Program is the only program available to help stretch food budgets.

This booklet has been rewritten and updated to give you a better working knowledge of the Food Stamp Program. The Program has changed greatly since it was created in 1964, and it is now very complicated. Therefore, this booklet can't explain everything. However, if it is read carefully from the beginning and in order, it will explain your basic rights and show you how to figure out if you or the people you work with are eligible.

This GUIDE explains how the Program should work under Federal law; this may not be the way it operates in your community. But we have seen repeatedly throughout the country that when people work together with the facts and with determination, many of the difficulties can be overcome. In addition, by learning how the Program works, community advocates can make sure that every potential recipient knows about the Program's benefits and has the opportunity to participate.

While the booklet is current as of this date, changes do occur from time to time. We will try to keep you informed of important changes, and will send you new pages that can be added when necessary. We have no objection to the GUIDE being reprinted in whole or in part (please give FRAC credit), but if you do this, keep track of who gets the copies so that you can also keep them informed of changes.

We hope this booklet will be helpful in making the Food Stamp Program work better for those who need and are entitled to the Program's benefits.

1. WHAT ARE FOOD STAMPS?

Food Stamps are coupons that can be used just like money to buy food. Food stamps can help you buy more food because the stamps are worth more than you pay for them.

The Food Stamp Program is a joint Federal and State program that is run by the States (usually the State Welfare Department or the Department of Social Services). Most of the money for the Program comes from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which also makes the rules for how the Program must be run. Whenever it says the Food Stamp Office in this booklet, it means the agency in your State which runs the Food Stamp Program.

There must be a Food Stamp Program in operation in every county in every State, and in Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and Guam.

2. WHAT CAN YOU BUY WITH FOOD STAMPS?

Food stamps can be used to buy any food EXCEPT alcoholic beverages, tobacco, and pet food. They can also be used to buy seeds or plants to grow food for your family, and to buy certain hunting and fishing equipment in Alaska. You cannot buy soap, paper-products, or other non-food items with food stamps.

3. WHERE CAN YOU USE FOOD STAMPS?

You can use food stamps at any store, supermarket, or food co-op that accepts food stamps (and almost any store can accept food stamps if it chooses to). The elderly or disabled can use food stamps to pay for home-delivered meals-on-wheels and for group meals for the elderly. Stores which accept food stamps should treat their customers fairly and courteously.

4. WHO CAN GET FOOD STAMPS?

Food stamps are given to households. There are two kinds of households in the Food Stamp Program:

— a Public Assistance household is one in which every person in the household gets some form of State or Federal welfare. Public Assistance households are AUTOMATICALLY ELIGIBLE for food stamps.

— a Non-Public Assistance household is one in which some people get welfare and others do not (also called a mixed household), OR a household in which no one gets welfare. Non-Public Assistance households can get food stamps, if their income and resources are not too high. This is explained starting at paragraph 12.

IMPORTANT: The eligibility of SSI (Supplemental Security Income Program) recipients is explained in paragraph 9.
5. WHAT IS A HOUSEHOLD?

A household is a group of people EXCEPT ROOMERS AND BOARDERS that:

1. shares common cooking facilities; AND
2. usually buys food together; AND
3. lives together as an economic unit.

It does not matter whether the people are related to each other or not.

Federal law says that all 3 of these requirements must be met in order for a group of people to be considered a household for Food Stamp Program purposes. This won't be used to keep any group of people out of the Program, but it can be very helpful. But first you need to know what an economic unit is.

IMPORTANT CHANGE: Sometime soon, some college students over 18-years old who live away from home will not be able to be part of a food stamp household and therefore will not be able to get food stamps. This applies only to those students who are properly claimed as tax-dependents by a person who is not eligible for food stamps. Only the student will be effected, not the rest of the household.

6. WHAT IS AN ECONOMIC UNIT?

Federal law says that an economic unit is a group of people that shares common living expenses from the income and resources of everyone in the group, and whose basic needs are provided for without regard to who earned the income or who owns the resources.

7. CAN THERE BE MORE THAN ONE HOUSEHOLD IN THE SAME HOUSE?

Yes. Remember in order for a group of people to be a household, it must also be an economic unit, which means that everyone must share all the income, resources, and expenses. If there are people in your house who take care of their own personal expenses or who buy and cook their own food, they can be a separate household. Both households could get food stamps, even though they might share the bathroom and kitchen, and even though they split the rent and utilities.

This can be very important if, for example, you live with an individual or a group of people with a lot of income or resources which is not shared with everybody in the house. Since their income or resources might keep everyone in the house from getting food stamps, you should treat them as their own household (apart from you) OR as roomers or boarders in your household (see paragraph 10).

REMEMBER The Food Stamp Office will assume there is only one household unless you show them otherwise.

8. CAN A PERSON LIVING ALONE GET FOOD STAMPS?

Yes. A person living alone is a one-person household.

9. CAN SSI RECIPIENTS GET FOOD STAMPS?

People who receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI) are eligible for food stamps UNLESS they live in California, Massachusetts, Nevada, New York, and Wisconsin. SSI recipients in these states cannot get food stamps. SSI recipients in other states are automatically eligible for food stamps (but must still apply) IF:

1. they live alone or with other SSI recipients, OR
2. they live with a Public Assistance household; OR
3. they live with other people but as a separate household

Other SSI recipients are members of a Non-Public Assistance household, and that household would have to meet the same requirements as any Non-Public Assistance household (see paragraph 12).

NOTE: Disabled SSI recipients in Nevada are eligible.
10. CAN ROOMERS AND BOARDERS GET FOOD STAMPS?

No. Roomers and boarders are not members of a household and cannot get food stamps. If you have a roomer or boarder living with you, his or her income and resources are not counted as part of your household's income, and you can still be eligible for food stamps.

A roomer is someone who pays you to sleep in your house. The money the roomer pays you must be counted as part of your household's income. You may have as many roomers as you like.

A boarder is someone who pays you to eat with you, OR to eat AND sleep in your home. In order for someone to be called a boarder, he or she must pay you each month at least as much as the coupon allotment for a one-person household (the amount of stamps a one-person household receives each month—see paragraph 20).

Not all of the money a boarder pays you is counted as part of your household's income. The amount that is counted is the amount the boarder pays you minus the coupon allotment for a one-person household.

EXAMPLE: A boarder pays $100 per month to eat with you and sleep in your house. To figure out how much of the $100 is counted as income to you in the Food Stamp Program, subtract the coupon allotment for one person (currently $46) from the amount the boarder pays [$100 - $46 = $54 household's income from boarder].

WARNING: You can only have 2 boarders. If you have more, you will be considered a boarding house, and no one will get food stamps.

11. CAN PEOPLE IN NARCOTIC AND ALCOHOL TREATMENT PROGRAMS GET FOOD STAMPS?

Yes. Any narcotic addict or alcoholic participating in a private, nonprofit drug or alcoholic treatment and rehabilitation program—either as a resident or non-resident—can get food stamps.

12. HOW DO NON-PUBLIC ASSISTANCE HOUSEHOLDS QUALIFY FOR FOOD STAMPS?

There are two basic requirements. income and resources can't be too high. In addition, some household members may have to register for work (explained in paragraph 25).

REMEMBER: Public Assistance households and some SSI recipients (see paragraph 9) are automatically eligible. The income and resource requirements do not apply to them.

13. WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN INCOME AND RESOURCES?

Sometimes the difference between income and resources is not clear. Generally, income is money you receive or expect to receive on a regular basis, and a resource is any other money or property that you have.

IMPORTANT: Money is either income or a resource. It cannot be both.
14. WHAT ARE RESOURCES?

Resources are the things you own. This includes cash you have on hand or in a checking or savings account, stocks and bonds, money from insurance settlements, inheritances, prizes and awards, and lump-sum payments from Social Security (not monthly checks) or from other sources. Resources also include things like boats and camping trailers, and land that you don't live on or rent out.

These things are not counted as resources:

a. Your house, lot, and one licensed vehicle.
b. Your personal belongings and household goods.
c. The cash value of your life insurance policy and pension fund.
d. Income-producing property.
e. Tools, another car, and other things you use to make a living.
f. The resources of a roomer or boarder.
g. Resources that are not available to you (Indian land held with a Tribe, irrevocable trust funds, etc.).

15. HOW MANY RESOURCES CAN YOU HAVE?

Non-Public Assistance households can have resources worth up to $1,500. It does not matter how many people are in the household.

There is one exception: If the household has 2 or more people and at least one of these people is age 60 or older, the household can have resources worth up to $3,000.

16. WHAT IS INCOME?

The Food Stamp Program uses monthly income, which means all the income received or expected to be received each month by all members of the household from all sources.

DO NOT COUNT AS INCOME THE FOLLOWING:

a. Money earned by a child under 18 who is a student at least half-time.
b. Irregular income in small amounts, such as baby-sitting money or money from odd jobs. You don't have to count this kind of income unless it adds up to more than $30 in a three-month period.
c. Money you get because you have to move due to urban renewal or highway construction.
d. Any gain or benefit which is not in money, like free housing. However, if you get free housing from an employer, and it is decent housing, you must count its value as income up to $25 a month.
e. Money from loans (except educational loans which don’t have to be paid back until you finish school).
f. The income received by roomers or boarders (see paragraph 10).
g. Payments received by volunteers for services performed in any of the ACTION programs (VISTA, Foster Grandparents, R.S.V.P., etc.).
17. HOW DO YOU FIGURE OUT YOUR INCOME?

Income for the Food Stamp Program has a special meaning. It means income after deductions.

To figure out your monthly income for the Food Stamp Program, you should subtract these deductions from your income:

a. Ten per cent (10%) of your pay from work or a work training program, BUT only up to $30 a month.
c. All medical bills (as long as they are more than $10 per month).
d. Education expenses (tuition and mandatory fees only).
e. Payments for child care in order to allow a household member to work, go to school, or participate in a training program.
f. Court-ordered child support or alimony you pay.
g. Unusual expenses caused by a disaster, such as fire, theft, flood, etc.
h. Payments for rent (or mortgage payments) plus all utilities which are more than 30% of your income after all the other deductions.

IMPORTANT: There are instructions which more fully explain these deductions and show you how to compute them in paragraph 45. It is very important for you to read these instructions.

18. INCOME AND EXPENSES MUST BE FIGURED ON A MONTHLY BASIS.

In order to find out whether you can get food stamps and how much you will pay, you will have to know your monthly income and expenses. That means that income you get each week or every two weeks will have to be changed to monthly income. Expenses must also be figured on a monthly basis. This is not as simple as it sounds, because the Food Stamp Program has a special rule.

a. To figure out monthly income from weekly income, you must multiply weekly income by 4.3:

EXAMPLE: Ms. Fox gets $75 a week. To find her monthly income, multiply $75 by 4.3 [[$75 \times 4.3 = $322.50 monthly income]].

b. To figure out monthly income from income you get every two weeks, multiply by 2.15:

EXAMPLE: Ms. Sills gets $120 every other Friday. To find her monthly income, multiply by 2.15 [[$120 \times 2.15 = $258 monthly income]].

c. To figure out monthly income from income you receive twice a month, just add the incomes. Twice a month is different than every two weeks (because there are more than four weeks in some months).

EXAMPLE: Mr. Butz gets $150 on the 1st and 15th of each month. To find his monthly income, simply add the two amounts together [[$150 + $150 = $300 monthly income]].

IMPORTANT: When you receive income or have expenses which are for a number of months (like a school loan or tuition), the income or expense should be pro-rated (averaged over the period of time) to determine the monthly income or expense.

EXAMPLE: In September, you pay $600 for a 6-month training program. The educational deduction for September through February would be $100 a month.
19. HOW MUCH MONTHLY INCOME CAN YOU HAVE AFTER DEDUCTIONS?

To find out the maximum monthly income you can have and still get food stamps, look at the chart below.

REMEMBER: The income that counts is monthly income after the deductions listed in paragraph 17.

Find your household size at the left of the chart. Then go across the chart to the column which applies to your State. Under the heading Maximum Monthly Income you will find the highest amount of monthly income after deductions that your household can have and still be eligible for food stamps.

EXAMPLE: The maximum monthly income for a household of 4 in Puerto Rico is $500 a month after deductions.

The maximum monthly income for a household of 9 in Montana is $959 a month after deductions.

20. HOW MANY FOOD STAMPS WILL YOU GET EACH MONTH?

All households of the same size get the same amount of stamps. The amount of food stamps you receive each month is called the coupon allotment. To find out what your coupon allotment will be, look at the chart below.

Find your household size at the left of the chart. Then go across the chart to the column that applies to your State. Under the heading Coupon Allotment you will see how many food stamps you will receive each month.

EXAMPLE: The coupon allotment for a household of 2 in Alaska is $144 each month.

* In Michigan and Wisconsin, the eligibility level for a one-person household is $210 a month.
21. ARE THE COUPON ALLOTMENTS AND MAXIMUM MONTHLY INCOME AMOUNTS ALWAYS THE SAME?

The coupon allotments and the maximum monthly income amounts change every January 1 and July 1 to reflect changes in the cost of food.

22. HOW MUCH WILL YOU PAY FOR YOUR FOOD STAMPS?

The amount of stamps you receive depends on your family size, but the amount you pay for the stamps depends on your monthly income after all the deductions. The higher your income, the more you pay. To find out how much you pay, look at Chart II on page 20 of this booklet. The difference between what you pay and what you receive is called the bonus amount.

REMEMBER: Although all Public Assistance households are automatically eligible, they should compute their income (subtracting all their deductions) to make sure they are paying the right amount for their food stamps.

23. HOW OFTEN CAN YOU BUY FOOD STAMPS?

The Federal law says you must be allowed to buy stamps at least twice each month. In some States, you will be asked to make a decision on how often you want to buy stamps. Your decision can always be changed.

24. DO YOU HAVE TO BUY THE FULL AMOUNT?

No. You can choose to buy either all, 3/4, 1/2, or 1/4 of your monthly coupon allotment in any month. If you choose to do this, you would pay either 3/4, 1/2, or 1/4 of the purchase price as well. This is called variable purchase.

EXAMPLE: You are entitled to a coupon allotment of $140 worth of food stamps each month, for which you must pay $60 a month. If you bought all your stamps, twice a month you would pay $30 for $70 worth of stamps. You could choose, however, to buy only 1/2 of your stamps each time you buy stamps (so you don't have to lay out so much money). Then twice a month you would pay $15 for $35 worth of stamps.
25. THE WORK REGISTRATION REQUIREMENT.

In order to get food stamps, some household members may have to register for work, and may have to report to a State or Federal employment service if requested. This is called the work registration requirement.

26. WHO MUST REGISTER?

Every able-bodied member of the household, between 18 and 65, must register EXCEPT:

- Women or other members of the household who must care for either children under 18 or someone 65 and older.
- Student individuals in school on a training program at least half-time.
- People already working at least 30 hours a week.
- Any household members who are participating either as a resident or non-resident in a treatment or alcoholism program.

Those not required to be in the Work Incentive Program WIN.

27. DO YOU HAVE TO TAKE ANY JOB OFFERED?

A job is not suitable if you are not able, if you are under 18 or over 65, if you are physically or mentally disabled, if you are a full-time student, or if you are on a training program. You must accept any job offered if you are able and not qualified for non-work reasons.
28. CAN PEOPLE ON STRIKE GET FOOD STAMPS?

Yes. A household cannot be refused food stamps because a member of the household is not working due to a strike or lockout at his or her regular job.

Strikers have the same requirements as anyone else does for food stamps, including the work registration requirement (see paragraph 25).

IMPORTANT: You may be denied food stamps if a court has ruled that your strike is illegal. However, we believe that a denial of food stamps for this reason would not be legal.

29. DO YOU HAVE TO BE A U.S. CITIZEN TO GET FOOD STAMPS?

No. But if you are not a citizen, you must be a legal permanent resident or have been legally admitted for permanent residence.

In a household with an alien who is not eligible for food stamps, only the alien is ineligible, and the rest of the household can use food stamps.

30. HOW LONG WILL YOU REMAIN ON THE FOOD STAMP PROGRAM?

Federal law says that once you apply for food stamps, you will remain eligible for a certain number of months (called the certification period). When you are certified for food stamps (told you are eligible) you will also be told when the certification period ends or it will be marked on one of the forms you receive. The certification period varies from one month to a year, but most households will be certified for three months. You should try to be certified for as long a period of time as possible.

IMPORTANT: You must apply again for food stamps before the end of your certification period so you can continue using food stamps. If the Food Stamp Office plans to deny you food stamps or reduce your benefits at the end of your certification period they must notify you before the end of the certification period.

31. DO YOU HAVE TO LIVE IN A STATE FOR A CERTAIN AMOUNT OF TIME BEFORE YOU CAN APPLY FOR FOOD STAMPS?

No. You can apply for food stamps right away.

32. WHAT HAPPENS IF YOU MOVE?

When you move from one food stamp area to another (like from one county to another), you have the right to keep getting your food stamps for 60 days after you move, if your household keeps the same members during the move. This includes a move from one state to another. The Food Stamp Office where your family lives before the move must prepare the papers to transfer your certification. The Food Stamp Office in the area you move to must accept these papers and let you buy your food stamps. There should be no interruption in your use of food stamps.

After 60 days, you must be certified again at your new location.
33. HOW DO YOU APPLY FOR FOOD STAMPS?

Public Assistance households should apply at their welfare office. They only have to fill out a simple form to receive food stamps and will usually be certified for the same length of time as their certification period for welfare.

Non-Public Assistance households and SSI recipients should apply at the city or county Food Stamp Office. It is usually listed in the phone book under "Food Stamps," "Dept. of Social Services," or "Welfare Dept." The person who applies on behalf of the household is called the Head of the Household for food stamp purposes, and that person does not have to be the wage earner. If you are physically unable to get to the Food Stamp Office to apply, you can have someone else apply for you, or the Food Stamp Office can come to your home.

Non-Public Assistance households must fill out an application and be interviewed. The purpose of the interview is to go over the application, check on certain facts, and to figure out whether you are eligible and how much you must pay for the stamps. Although the Food Stamp Office only has to require proof of income and any confusing information, they usually demand proof of everything. In order to make things easier for yourself, and to make sure you pay no more than you have to for your stamps, you should bring with you proof of all income (pay stubs, copy of Social Security check, etc.) and proof of all deductible expenses (rent receipts, utility bills, medical bills, drug bills, etc.).

The law says you must answer all questions on the application honestly, and you must cooperate in giving all necessary information. The Food Stamp Office will deny you food stamps if they claim you are being "uncooperative." But while you have certain responsibilities, the Food Stamp Office also must make sure that you have a reasonable and fair opportunity to apply for food stamps.

All information which you give to the Food Stamp Office when you apply for food stamps must be kept confidential.

IMPORTANT: The Food Stamp Office must give you an application when you ask for one, and they must accept it when you turn it in. They must tell you whether or not you are eligible within 30 days of the date you turn in the application. This is always true, even if they tell you that you need an appointment.

34. WHAT HAPPENS AFTER YOU APPLY?

Federal law says that the Food Stamp Office must decide on your application within 30 days of the day you applied for food stamps. If it takes longer, the Food Stamp Office is breaking the law and you should ask for a fair hearing (see paragraph 36).

Once the Food Stamp Office decides that you are eligible, they must notify you and give you an identification card (which you should have with you when you buy and use food stamps). Then, either once or twice each month, they will mail you an authorization-to-purchase card (usually called an ATP card). The ATP card will show how many stamps you should receive each month and how much you must pay.

REMEMBER to note the date that your certification period ends so you can be certified again for food stamps.
35. CAN YOU GET EMERGENCY FOOD STAMPS?

Yes. The Food Stamp Office can always speed up the application process for special cases. The Food Stamp Office can and should give you an emergency ATP card if you have been found eligible and are in immediate need of assistance.

If your income is less than $30 a month after deductions, you can be certified for free food stamps on the spot if it appears from the interview that you will be eligible. In cases like this, the Food Stamp Office does not need to have proof from you about your income and expenses. You can be certified for 30 days while they verify the information you gave them.

IMPORTANT: If your ATP Card, your food stamps, or the food you have purchased with your food stamps is lost, stolen or destroyed, the Food Stamp Office can and should replace them.

36. WHAT IS A FAIR HEARING?

A fair hearing is the way to appeal any action taken by the Food Stamp Office that is harmful to you. You always have the right to a fair hearing whenever you disagree with any Food Stamp Office action. The fair hearing allows you to tell your story, and to show why the action taken by the Food Stamp Office was wrong and why it should be changed.

Usually, the hearing is held by the State agency (called an Agency hearing). However, in some States you may first have to have another kind of hearing at the local Food Stamp Office called an evidentiary hearing. You can appeal the decision of the local evidentiary hearing to an Agency hearing within 15 days of the date the decision of the first hearing is sent to you. If you do appeal the first decision, make sure that when you request the Agency hearing that you ask that it be a new hearing (because if not, the second hearing will simply be somebody higher up reading over the report of the first hearing).

37. HOW DO YOU ASK FOR A FAIR HEARING?

Even though you can request a fair hearing orally, you should always ask for a fair hearing from the Food Stamp Office in writing. Either the Head of the Household, or someone he or she appoints, can ask for the fair hearing. If you have trouble doing this, the Food Stamp Office must help you.

Send your fair hearing request to the Food Stamp Office. It only has to be a statement saying that you want a fair hearing, and the reason you want it (for example, "My income was figured incorrectly" or "I was denied food stamps"). The Food Stamp Office will arrange the hearing, but the time, place, and date must be convenient for you. They must notify you in writing about the time and place enough in advance to allow you to prepare. If you cannot make it to the hearing, you have to notify them to change the date.
38. YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO BE TOLD ABOUT ANY ACTION THE FOOD STAMP OFFICE PLANS TO TAKE AGAINST YOU.

Federal law says that the Food Stamp Office must notify you 10 days before it plans to take any harmful action against you (like not giving you food stamps or charging you more). They must give you reasons for the action, and must tell you of your right to a fair hearing.

They do not have to notify you when your certification period is coming to an end, unless they plan to take some action against you that would keep you from continuing using food stamps (even though many States do notify you).

39. YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO CONTINUE RECEIVING FOOD STAMPS AFTER YOU ASK FOR A FAIR HEARING.

You can appeal by asking for a fair hearing usually up to 30 days (or sometimes more) after you’ve been notified of a planned action against you. But if you appeal within 10 days after you’ve been notified, you have a right to continue receiving the same benefits until the fair hearing decides whether or not the planned action against you is right or wrong. The Food Stamp Office is allowed to continue your benefits even if you ask for the fair hearing after the 10-day period is over.

NOTE: If your State is using the 2-hearing system (see paragraph 36), then your benefits will not be continued if you lose the first hearing.

40. YOU HAVE IMPORTANT RIGHTS UNDER THE FAIR HEARING PROCESS.

You have the RIGHT:

- To adequately prepare for the fair hearing. This means the right for you or your representative to look at all documents and records which might be used at the fair hearing. This also means giving you enough time to do it well.
- To have someone with you to represent you at the fair hearing (a lawyer, social worker, friend, or anybody you choose).
- To bring witnesses to support your arguments.
- To ask questions of any witness used by the Food Stamp Office, or of anybody else.
- To present arguments or evidence to support you and to reply to the Food Stamp Office’s arguments.

Also, the Food Stamp Office cannot deny or end a hearing until you withdraw the request or fail to show up for the hearing without a good cause.

41. YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO A DECISION ON YOUR FAIR HEARING WITHIN 60 DAYS.

You have the RIGHT to a final decision on your fair hearing within 60 days from the date you requested the hearing. You must be notified in writing. This notification must give you specific reasons for the decision and give evidence which supports that decision.
42. WHAT IF THE FOOD STAMP OFFICE MAKES A MISTAKE?

If the Food Stamp Office charges you too much for your stamps, you are entitled to a cash refund for the amount they overcharged you.

If, for some reason, you have not been allowed to get food stamps and you really are eligible, ask for a fair hearing. If that fair hearing shows that the Food Stamp Office was wrong (or they admit it without a fair hearing), you are entitled to the food stamps you should have had. These are called retroactive benefits. You will receive these benefits by paying nothing for your stamps until the amount you lost is recovered. This is why it is important to always ask for a fair hearing if you think the Food Stamp Office has made a mistake that harms you.

If you know anyone who could not get food stamps because the Food Stamp Office made a mistake, tell them about the right to retroactive benefits. They might benefit from the information if they are still eligible for food stamps.

43. WHAT IF YOUR INCOME CHANGES?

You must tell the Food Stamp Office any time there is a change in your income or deductible expenses over $25 a month, or any other change in your household situation (like people moving in or out of the house).

You must report these changes within 10 days of when you know they have occurred, and the Food Stamp Office must act on it within 10 days.

44. WHERE CAN YOU BUY FOOD STAMPS?

Each State decides how and where it wants to sell food stamps. Some States sell stamps at the Food Stamp Offices and some do it through the mail. Other States pay banks and post offices to sell stamps (and pay them a fee for each sale).

Community organizations and credit unions can also sell stamps, if they are approved by the State. The State would pay to these groups the same fees that it would pay to banks or post offices.

The purchase itself should be simple: The Head of the Household (or a person he or she appoints) goes to the place of sale with the ATP card and the identification card. Then that person pays the amount listed on the ATP card (or a specific portion of it—see paragraph 24) and receives the stamps.

NOTE. Public Assistance households may, if they want to, have the cost of food stamps subtracted from their welfare checks, and have their full coupon allotment mailed to them with their welfare check. They can only do this if they wish to buy their full coupon allotment. (The States do not have to do this until July 1, 1975).
45. INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO FIGURE YOUR INCOME.

Income deductions must be figured out in the order given here. The chart in paragraph 47 will help you do it. But before you begin, you should read these instructions a few times and then read the example on the next page.

(a) Put down your total pay from work or a training program, before payroll deductions (your gross pay). Be sure to use MONTHLY figures, following the rules in paragraph 18.

(b) Figure 10% of your gross pay in (a). (To figure out 10%, move the decimal point one place to the left.)

(c) Now put down your take-home pay, again using monthly figures.

(d) SUBTRACT the answer you got in (b) from the answer to (c). But, if the answer you got in (b) was more than $30, then subtract only $30 instead of the full 10%.

(e) ADD all other income your household gets each month. Income was discussed in paragraph 15. Don't forget: Some income is not counted.

(f) Now SUBTRACT all medical bills that have been paid for in the month you're figuring income for IF those bills add up to more than $10. Medical bills include doctor and dentist bills; hospital bills; prescription drugs, and over-the-counter medicine prescribed by a doctor; medicare and insurance payments; transportation to, and from the doctor or hospital; and more.

(g) Now SUBTRACT all educational expenses for tuition and fees only.

(h) SUBTRACT court-ordered child support or alimony payments that you must pay.

(i) SUBTRACT payment you make to have someone take care of your child while you work, go to school, or participate in a training program.

(j) SUBTRACT any expenses the household had because of a disaster, such as fire, theft, flood, etc.

(k) Now you have to figure your shelter deduction. First look at Chart I (on page 19) called SHELTER STANDARDS. Find your income after you have subtracted all the other deductions listed above. The figure shown across from your household income is your SHELTER STANDARD.

(l) Now put down your SHELTER COSTS. Shelter costs include your rent or mortgage payment, your utilities (heat, electricity, water, sewage), and the basic monthly charge for a telephone. Some States may start to use a standard utility allowance to determine utility costs. However, if you can show that your utility costs are greater than the State's allowance, you can use your actual costs.

(m) If your shelter costs are greater than your shelter standard, subtract the shelter standard from the shelter costs. The answer is your SHELTER DEDUCTION.

(n) SUBTRACT your shelter deduction from your monthly income after the other deductions

(o) After you have taken all those deductions, the answer is your FOOD STAMP INCOME. It is this final figure which you use to see if you are eligible, and to find out how much you must pay for your food stamps.

Now look at the example in paragraph 46. After you have read the example, try to figure your own income (use the form provided on page 18)
46. EXAMPLE

Mr. and Ms. Baggins live in Shire. Mr. Baggins works at a ring factory, where he makes $120 a week before payroll deductions. His take-home pay is $105. In addition to this income, Ms. Baggins, who has been married before, gets $25 a month from her first husband. Ms. Baggins' only child, Sam, who is 16, has a part-time job after school. He earns $10 a week.

The Baggins must pay $15 a month for hospital insurance and Ms. Baggins must pay $12.50 a month for her allergy medicine. In addition to these expenses, Mr. Baggins, who has also been married before, must pay his first wife $20 a month in alimony.

The Baggins' household must pay $130 a month for rent, plus $8 for a telephone and $50 a month for heat and utilities.

What is the Baggins' monthly income for food stamps?

---

ANSWER TO EXAMPLE:

(a) Mr. Baggins' income from working before payroll deductions is $516 a month $(120 \times 4.3 = 516)$.

(b) You need to know 10% of the Baggins' gross pay in (a), which is $51.60 $(10\% \times 516 = 51.60)$.

(c) Mr. Baggins' take-home pay is $451.50 per month $(105 \times 4.3 = 451.50)$.

(d) Subtract the 10% figure in (b) from Mr. Baggins' take-home pay in (c). Remember, the 10% deduction is limited to $30. The Baggins' income is now $421.50 $(451.50 - 30 = 421.50)$.

(e) Now add the $25 a month child support Ms. Baggins gets, and the monthly income becomes $446.50 $(421.50 + 25 = 446.50)$. The money earned by Sam is not counted because he is under 18 and a student at least half-time.

(f) Now subtract the Baggins' medical expenses of $27.50 $(15 + 12.50 = 27.50)$, and their income is $419 $(446.50 - 27.50 = 419)$.

(g) Now subtract the $20 a month that Mr. Baggins must pay to his first wife, and the Baggins' income is $399 $(419 - 20 = 399)$.

(h) To figure the Baggins' shelter deduction, first look at Chart I to find the Baggins' shelter standard, which is $117$.

(i) Next, figure the Baggins' shelter costs, which total $188.00 $(130 + 8 + 50 = 188)$.

(j) Since the Baggins' shelter costs are more than their shelter standard, subtract the shelter standard from the shelter costs. The answer of $71.00 is their shelter deduction $(188 - 117 = 71)$.

(k) Finally, subtract the shelter deduction from the Baggins' income to get their final food stamp income of $328 $(399 - 71 = 328)$.

The Baggins' food stamp income is $328 a month. If you look at Chart II, you will see that their 3-person household will pay $88 and receive $122 worth of stamps.
47. INCOME WORK SHEET

Before you use this chart, make sure that the household is eligible under the resource requirement (see paragraph 15), and make sure you know the number of people in the household. Then figure out the household’s monthly income by using this chart.

(number of household members) _______
(amount of household’s resources) _______

Before you begin, please read the instructions in paragraph 45 and the example in paragraph 46.

(a) Give monthly income from work or work training program before payroll deductions

(b) Take 10% of the answer to (a) up to $30.00

(c) Give monthly take-home pay

(d) Subtract the answer to (b) from (c)

(e) Add ALL other incomes

(f) Subtract all medical bills if totaling over $10 a month

(g) Subtract educational expenses (tuition and mandatory fees only)

(h) Subtract court-ordered child support or alimony you pay

(i) Subtract child care payments you must make in order to work, go to school, or participate in a training program

(j) Subtract any unusual expenses because of a disaster

(k) Subtract your shelter deduction (if your shelter costs are greater than your shelter standard)

Shelter Costs — Shelter Standard — Shelter Deduction

The last answer is your Food Stamp Income for determining eligibility and the amount you must pay for your stamps.
CHART I — SHELTER STANDARDS

Use this chart to help you figure your shelter deduction. Before using it, however, be sure to read the instructions in paragraph 45 and the example in paragraph 46.

Remember: the income figure used here is income after the other deductions (payroll deductions, taxes, medical expenses, etc.).

For monthly income over $509.99, the shelter standard is 30% of monthly income after deductions.
CHART II-COUPON ALLOTMENT & PRICE CHART (January 1 to June 30, 1975)

This chart tells you how many stamps you will receive each month (the coupon allotment) and how much you must pay. It only applies to the 48 States and D.C. Your monthly cost depends on your income after deductions and your household size. To find out what you pay, look at the left side of the chart until you find the category your income fits into. Look across the top and find your household size. Where these two columns meet is the amount you will have to pay each month.

EXAMPLE: A 5-person household has monthly income of $210. Look down the chart and find $220 to 239.99. Now look across the top and find a household of 5. They will pay $66 and get $182 worth of food stamps.

Index to Citations

This index is keyed to the paragraph numbers in this booklet, with some miscellaneous provisions at the end. There are citations both to the Code of Federal Regulations (Title 7, Chapter III) and to the Food Stamp Act, as amended (Title 7 of the U.S. Code). References to the Federal Instructions for the Food Stamp Program (Food and Nutrition Service, USDA) were added where especially helpful. All three sources are available from the U.S. Department of Agriculture Regional Offices (Princeton, N.J.; Atlanta, Ga.; Dallas, Tex.; Chicago, Ill.; and San Francisco, Calif.).
