In order to assess the impact of community colleges in British Columbia from the point of view of the students, the community, and the educational system, and to develop practical means for producing such information on an on-going basis for educational planning purposes, a program of research was undertaken at the University of British Columbia. This bibliography was compiled as part of the research program, and is the result of a comprehensive review of publications pertaining to community colleges in Canada and the United States, with special emphasis on Canadian material. It covers the period 1965-1971, and supersedes a previous bibliography published in October 1971. Over 1,800 entries are included, under 10 categories: (1) books and publications, 331 entries; (2) students and student personnel, 353 entries; (3) history and philosophy, 189 entries; (4) Canada—books and journals, 207 entries; (5) faculty and teaching, 199 entries; (6) admissions, 71 entries; (7) curriculum, 104 entries; (8) systems analysis, 113 entries; (9) bibliographic books, 80 entries; (10) establishment, organization, administration, and financing, 218 entries. INTRODUCTION

This bibliography has been compiled as part of a research program of community colleges in British Columbia. The objective of the research is to assess their impact from the point of view of the student, the community and the educational system, and to develop practical means for producing such information on an on-going basis for educational planning purposes.

The study is financed by a grant from the Donner Canadian Foundation and is under the direction of Dr. John D. Dennison of the University of British Columbia and Mr. Alex Tunner of B.C. Research.

Much of the work of compiling the bibliography was done by Ms Kathy Zahar, Ms Ann Hansford and Ms Judy Weinstein.

This bibliography is the result of a comprehensive review of publications pertaining to community colleges in Canada and the United States, with special emphasis on Canadian material. It covers the period from 1965 - 1971 and supersedes the bibliography published in October 1971.
