These two reports briefly describe the active projects and nationally circulated materials associated with the American Issues Forum Bicentennial Programs. The summary report of active projects is designed to show how various national media, national and international organizations, corporations, and state and community groups are actively participating in the forum. It includes descriptions of over 100 projects, sponsoring agencies, and where to go for additional information and materials. The report on nationally circulated materials describes the calendars, films, public service advertising campaigns, courses by newspaper, pamphlets, debates, essays, and journals that are available to the public. The descriptions of these materials include a short annotation indicating content, price, and source of availability. (DE)
American Issues Forum

Active Projects -- Summary Report

October 20, 1975
INTRODUCTION

The American Issues Forum is a national program for the Bicentennial, uniquely designed to engage the direct participation of every citizen nationwide, as well as others beyond our borders, during the Bicentennial year. In its first two months, the Forum has already engaged millions of Americans in this serious and thoughtful examination of our society.

Although developed under the auspices of the National Endowment for the Humanities and co-sponsored by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, the Forum was designed by a small group of private citizens, and presents only a framework for other programs. Its success as a national Bicentennial program (and as an extraordinary experiment in the creation of a national dialogue) has depended upon the American public—through their organizations, institutions, corporations, foundations, communities, neighborhoods, groups, and families, and as individuals—and the way they have developed programs under the calendar of topics which the Forum affords.

This Summary Report of Active Projects is designed to show how various media, organizations, corporations, and state and community groups are actively participating in the Forum. It includes a description of each project, and where to go for additional information.

It is not too late for you to join in the Forum, and we encourage organizations and individuals who have not done so, to develop their own projects, perhaps using some of the projects listed herein as models. We also would like to obtain the broadest possible dissemination of Forum materials, and we hope you will be contacting those listed in this Report for copies of their Forum materials for use in your own Forum project.

A. FORUM INTRODUCTORY MATERIALS

1. Forum Calendars

Limited Hardcover Edition

During the spring and summer of 1975, the original hardcover version of the Forum Calendar was distributed throughout the country to 225,000 organizational leaders who could commit resources to participate in the Forum.

Government Printing Office Edition

The complete Calendar with original text and illustrations can be obtained in a special softcover edition from:

American Issues Forum
#G36-000-00027
Superintendent of Documents
U.S. Government Printing Office
Washington, D.C. 20402
(Price per copy: $1.40)

The GPO's "Selected U.S. Government Publications" listing for September, 1975 (Vol. 4, No. 9) highlights the Forum Calendar, and states:

"Teachers, students, discussion groups, members of the press, and others searching for meaning in the Bicentennial celebration will find the facts and discussion suggestions outlined each month an interesting and provocative way to participate in the Bicentennial.... It is the spirit of free speech and citizen participation that has made our country so strong, and it is this spirit that the American Issues Forum hopes to foster in all Americans."

"Foro Sobre Temas de Norteamericanos" (Spanish version of the Forum Calendar)

The Forum Calendar is now available in Spanish for community leaders in organizations with Spanish-speaking members and constituents. These Calendars have been distributed nationwide, but a limited number are available from the American Issues Forum Office at the Endowment.

The American Public's Calendar

The Exxon Corporation provided a summary version of the American Issues Forum Calendar, with attractive photographs, as an insert in the following nationally circulated magazines which reach approximately 55% of the nation's households:

- Time
- Reader's Digest
- Ebony
- National Geographic
- Ebony
- Scholastic Magazines
- Ladies Home Journal
- National Geographic
- Scholastic Magazines

The Calendar insert afforded millions of American families the opportunity to participate in the Forum by reflecting on the Forum's issues, and thoughtfully discussing them with friends and neighbors, co-workers and colleagues, in both public and private settings thereby adding a wealth of citizen views to the national dialogue.

Multiple copies of the insert are available from State Humanities Committees and the National Endowment's American Issues Forum Office.

The Calendar for Blind Americans

The National Federation of the Blind has placed the full Forum Calendar text on "talking discs" to enable blind Americans throughout the country to obtain their personal copies of the Calendar and to participate actively in community forums on the issues. Write:

Dr. Kenneth Jernigan, President
National Federation of the Blind
218 Randolph Hotel Building
Des Moines, Iowa 50309
2. The Forum Film

"The American Issues Forum"—A Promotional Film

Screen News Digest/Hearst Metrotone News has produced a 20-minute color documentary film on the Forum to introduce organizations and the general public to the Forum—how it developed into a national program and the scope of nationwide participation. A handsome Summary Calendar/Discussion Guide is available with the film.

Prints are available from State Humanities Committees, State Bicentennial Commissions, Regional Bicentennial Offices, or from the Endowment.

Prints may also be purchased directly for $275 from:

Screen News Digest
235 East 45th Street
New York, New York 10017
Telephone: (202) 682-7690

For those who want to rent the film on a one-week basis for $25, please write to:

Encyclopedia Britannica Education
Corporation
425 North Michigan Avenue
Chicago, Illinois 60611

The film has been shown in all fifty states, including screening by several thousand local community groups and local television stations.

3. Public Service Advertising Campaign—"TALK U.S. UP"

The Advertising Council of America, Inc. has approved the American Issues Forum for a nationwide public service bulletin campaign in order to stimulate further public interest in a thoughtful examination and discussion of American society.

The slogan for the campaign, "TALK U.S. UP", and the campaign materials have been widely acclaimed as unique contributions to the spirit and vitality of public discussion of issues in America which the Forum has helped to generate. The advertisements are now appearing on television and radio, and in newspapers and magazines across America. Public response to the campaign has been overwhelmingly positive.

Media outlets which have not received these public service advertising materials and are interested in the campaign should call or write:

Darrel deChaby
Public Information Officer
National Endowment for the Humanities
Washington, D. C. 20506
(202) 382-5721
B. NATIONAL PRINT MATERIALS

1. Courses By Newspaper

Beginning in September, weekly articles related to the Forum topics written by prominent scholars have appeared in 450 local newspapers throughout the country and will run for thirty-six weeks. The articles have been developed by the University of California Extension, San Diego and are being distributed free to participating newspapers by the National Newspaper Association and United Press International. Credit and non-credit courses are offered through 250 local colleges and universities. The articles have been designed for both the enrolled student and the casual newspaper reader. Several Spanish language newspapers are carrying the articles in Spanish.
