THE CHALLENGE OF TEACHING

Faculty members of Indiana Central College are a group of distinguished persons of competence and ability in their respective academic disciplines who are dedicated to the profession of teaching. Teaching in our institution is conceived as a vocational commitment to service to humanity. Ours is primarily a teaching institution. We are justifiably proud of our tradition of quality teaching as evidenced by our graduates and their influence in many parts of the world. It is our sincere hope and earnest expectation that each member of our faculty will make a significant contribution to this fellowship of scholarly dedication.

We call our faculty to a commitment to education—to the process of leading the minds of youth to the exploration of new truth, the examination of available data, and the careful preparation for a vocation. We also call them to a commitment to the kind of education and environment of a private, church-related, liberal arts institution in which the sanctity of the individual, the search for a meaningful life and the establishment of a system of values is of paramount importance. We believe that a commitment to this particular institution is likewise essential. The very limited change in faculty membership here is evidence of the deep sense of loyalty to this institution and to its goals.

Because education is perpetual, the teacher has an indelible effect on every life forever. To the dedicated teacher each class period and each student presents opportunity and challenge. Both teacher and student should approach each class session with excited expectancy. If an air of anticipation pervades the classroom, something will happen! There is no higher privilege than that of instructing, guiding and inspiring others. At Indiana Central, life is considered sacred and teaching is seen as an important ministry to individual persons.

We are proud of our relationship with the United Methodist Church. While faculty members are responsible for the highest quality academic standards in every course, an educational institution whose historical roots and existence are based in the Christian faith must demonstrate a constant conscious regard for each member of the campus community as a person. Though we have many individuals, each is a person, unique in his own God-given characteristics and abilities. Members of the faculty have the high privilege and awesome responsibility of helping each individual student develop his latent potentialities to the fullest. It is to the challenge of this kind of dedication and teaching that we invite our faculty.

Gene E. Sease, President
Indiana Central College
OUR NATURE AND PURPOSE

The Nature of the College: Indiana Central is a four-year liberal arts college of the United Methodist Church. Founded in 1902 by the church of the United Brethren in Christ, this church merged with the Evangelical Church in 1946 to form the Evangelical United Brethren Church. In April 1968, the E. U. B. Church and the Methodist Church merged to form the United Methodist Church. Our college is related to this church body and will continue its traditionally close association with the church. Among its fundamental commitments, stand these:

--to the liberal arts tradition in education
--to the revelation of and search for truth
--to the challenges associated with the Christian way of life
--to render effective service to mankind

The Purpose of the College: The primary task of any college is to further man's quest for truth. This enterprise may be pursued in various ways. Indiana Central College strives to be a friendly college dedicated to Christian values and high scholastic standards. The emphasis is upon a quality education rather than quantitative growth. Indiana Central believes that provincialism is detrimental to mankind; therefore, through the challenge of a Christian liberal arts education, we seek to provide the student with a better understanding of the physical world; an appreciation of the people of the world; their history and patterns of behavior, their literature, music, and art; and an introduction to the metaphysical foundations which support our values and give meaning and coherence to experience. Such instruction, we believe, will liberate students to assume intellectual leadership in the various enterprises and professions and provide a cosmopolitan background so that they may help bring into being a better world.

Indiana Central bases its program on the assumption that true education includes the harmonious development of the entire person. While a student acquires facts, becoming competent in various skills, and learning to reason, his appreciation of gracious manners, aesthetic values, and honest work is also being enhanced.

Our Objectives: In order to be true to the nature of the college and to elucidate the statement of purpose and implement it, the faculty has adopted the following objectives:

1. To aid students in attaining a more comprehensive understanding of the Christian religion and provide an atmosphere wherein deeper commitment to the teachings of the Christian faith shall be the natural consequence of an academic experience.

2. To lead students toward an achievement of emotional health and social adjustment, and to an acknowledgment that man realizes his essential humanness in the giving of his talents in the service of others.

3. To introduce students to an understanding of the economic, political, and social relationships basic to man.

4. To teach students the principles of creative and logical thinking, the meaning of the scientific method, the nature of artistic creativity, and the satisfaction to be derived from the relentless search for truth.

5. To develop in students the ability to communicate their thoughts effectively both orally and in writing.

6. To guide students into an understanding of and appreciation for the origins, growth, and character of Western and other civilizations.

7. To instruct students about the complex nature of the universe, as revealed by the biological and physical sciences.

8. To develop in students, by the process of achieving competency in one field of inquiry, a knowledge of scholarly method and analysis commensurate with the aims of a liberal education.

9. To prepare students to successfully pursue one of the professions or to continue in an appropriate graduate program.

10. To develop wholesome health habits in students, to train for physical fitness, to instill an appreciation for physical poise, to provide opportunity to acquire skill in recreational activities which can be enjoyed throughout adulthood, and to keep ever before the student body the merits of the competitive spirit and the primacy of sportsmanship.
II: To provide a program of continuing education to enable adults to attain a greater degree of self-realization through the further development of their abilities, skills, and interests, and to equip them to be of greater service in their particular vocations.

Accreditation and Memberships: Indiana Central is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, the National League for Nursing; the Department of Public Instruction of the State of Indiana, and University Senate of the United Methodist Church. Membership is held in the American Council on Education, the Association of American Colleges, the Association of University Women places us on their qualified list. Credits earned at Indiana Central are acceptable and transferable everywhere.

A professional enrichment meeting is also scheduled monthly. Special meetings may be held upon the call of the presiding officer. The President of the college presides, or, in his absence, the Academic Dean. Each faculty member is expected to attend all faculty meetings, unless excused by the President's Office.

The Teacher's Role in the College: The achievement of the purposes and goals of the college rests, in large measure, with those who teach. A teacher imparts much more than knowledge! Consciously or not, his attitudes, philosophies, habits, and influence are never confined to the classroom or particular subject fields. The teacher must essentially be the quality of person he desires his students to become. The program of the college pivots upon good teaching. Administrative activities are designed to make possible the highest quality of instruction. The teacher has the opportunity and responsibility of making each class hour worthwhile and rewarding.

2. Associate Professor

3. Assistant Professor

An assistant professor must have at least a master's degree with a minimum of two years of successful college-level teaching experience.

4. Instructor

An instructor must have at least a bachelor's degree with a minimum of two years of successful teaching experience, although the latter requirement may be waived.

Faculty Appointments:

Faculty appointments are made by the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees upon the recommendation of the President.

Faculty Contracts and Tenure:

This statement concerning tenure applies to a status of job security for members of the full-time teaching faculty of Indiana Central College. Tenure is acquired by meeting requirements established by the governing board of the institution. Faculty contracts to be prepared and sent by March 31 and all full-time contracts for employment shall be on an annual basis.
A person who is on tenure may be dismissed only for cause which may include, but not be limited to, serious misconduct, negligence of duty, or professional incompetence. A person so dismissed has the right to a hearing before the Academic Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees. The decision of this committee will be final unless the faculty member or the administration requests within thirty days a review by the Board of Trustees. The institution shall not be required to continue tenure employment of the faculty member should reduction in student enrollment or changes in curricular offerings so change the institutional teaching requirements that the need for teaching in the area of his competence no longer exists. Should this situation arise, the administration will give notice to the faculty member affected at a reasonable time prior to the issuing of annual contracts.

A person who has been employed by the institution as a member of the full-time teaching faculty and who later is assigned full-time or part-time administrative responsibilities does not lose his tenure rights as a member of the teaching faculty. If the administrative assignment is made before he has sufficient years of service on the teaching faculty to acquire tenure, his continued service in administration shall count toward fulfillment of that requirement provided he merits tenure on the basis of his professional qualifications and teaching competence. However, in any such instance the tenure involved applies only to his status as a member of the teaching faculty.

Professionally qualified members of the library staff may acquire tenure in their library positions.

The requirements for securing tenure may be changed from time to time by the Board of Trustees but shall not be so changed as to invalidate the tenure rights of any person who has already acquired tenure or is in the process of doing so under regulations in effect at the time of his original employment.

Tenure status may be dissolved or modified by mutual agreement between an individual and the institution. Such modification or dissolution must be approved by the Academic Affairs Committee of the Board and by the Board of Trustees and must be signed by the individual faculty member and the President of the college.

The President mails a formal notice of employment to each instructional employee, indicating rank and salary for the ensuing year. The employee must indicate his acceptance in writing. Any member of the faculty who expects to discontinue his connection with the college at the close of a school year must notify the President not later than the beginning of the second semester.
Current Tenure Policy:
(Effective January 1974)

1. Faculty members below the rank of associate professor should not be eligible for tenure.

2. Persons holding the requisite faculty rank should be considered for tenure to be effective after seven years of full-time teaching.

3. Contracts for the first seven years of service are to be made on an annual basis. After a faculty member has served for seven years of full-time teaching without attaining tenure, the college may offer a year's contract with the understanding that another year's contract could be forthcoming for the succeeding year.

4. Tenure should be only in the department in which a faculty member holds his rank.

5. Department chairmen should supervise their probationary faculty members, help them to qualify for tenure, and participate in the evaluation of their competence and the decision to grant or not to grant tenure.

6. What constitutes competence should be clearly stated in writing so that each probationary faculty member can work with confidence toward qualifying for tenure. If the criteria are to differ from department to department, the requirements for each should be explicit. If they are to be tailored to each person hired, there should be a written agreement to prevent misunderstanding.

7. New tenure policies should apply only to faculty members hired after the changes have been adopted by the Board of Trustees.

*Recommendations of the American Library Association with regard to professional librarians shall be applicable.
Salary Ranges:

There is an overlap in salary ranges among the four ranks of Instructor, Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Professor to allow maximum flexibility in salary contracts. The stable financial health of the institution has to date permitted regular improvement in salary ranges. The salary ranges are published each year with the contract letter.

Retirement:

The mandatory retirement age for faculty is 65 years of age.

Teaching Load:

A teaching load of twenty-eight semester hours for the regular semesters and Flexisemester is considered a full teaching load, with the additional understanding that reasonable committee assignments are expected.

Sabbatical Program:

After six years of service, a full-time faculty member may apply for a sabbatical leave for one semester at full salary or two semesters at half salary. Applications for a sabbatical program are available from the office of the President. In passing upon such requests, the President will carefully consider the particular proposal which is contemplated by the faculty member.

The following items are a part of the sabbatical policy at Indiana Central:

1. The applicant must have served as a full-time faculty member continuously at Indiana Central College for six years.

2. Salary or other remuneration, other than fellowships or scholarships, shall not be accepted by a faculty member on sabbatical leave.

3. Faculty members granted sabbaticals are required to give a minimum of two years' service to the college following the sabbatical leave. If such is not done, the member is then under obligation to return a proportionate share of the salary for the period of service not rendered.

4. Items bearing significantly on the approval of sabbatical requests include:

   a. The institution to be attended and the nature and purpose of the work to be undertaken.
b. The nature and purpose of proposed research and its bearing on the subject matter of the faculty member. Under whose auspices will it be conducted?

c. The objectives of proposed travel, places to be visited, and the relevance of such travel to teaching assignments.

In each case, it is incumbent upon the applicant to satisfactorily describe in detail the worth of the experience, both personally, professionally, and to the college. General statements will not be adequate to deserve consideration.

5. Requests for sabbatical leave should be filed with the President by January 15 of the year in which the leave is being requested.

6. Following the leave, the faculty member will present a written report to the President outlining the activities and accomplishments of the period of time away from the campus.

In some instances, arrangements may be made to have a sabbatical leave spread over a succession of summers.

Faculty Sponsors:

All student organizations operate with the assistance and cooperation of a faculty sponsor. The faculty representative to the Central Council and the sponsor of the freshman class are appointed by the President of the college. Other groups may elect their faculty sponsor after consulting with the Academic Dean and the Dean of Students who are responsible for the equitable distribution of groups for faculty sponsorship. Faculty members are not expected to sponsor more than one organization.

The duties of a sponsor include:

Attendance at as many meetings of the organization as possible, and counsel as an official college representative.

The wise integration of extra-class programs with the academic program. Activities of the group should contribute toward the realization of the expressed objectives of the college.

Special care to observe the school image at activities of a public nature, publications, social functions, campaigns and the like. He should acquaint himself in detail with the nature of the programs.
No program of entertainment may be announced until approved by the sponsor. Changes in the constitution or bylaws of any student group must be approved by the Extra-Class Activities Committee and by the faculty, and a copy of the new or revised constitution and bylaws filed with the Dean of Students and with the college President. Copies of the minutes of the business meetings of all campus organizations should be filed with the Dean of Students.

Faculty Representatives to the Academic Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees:

The Academic Affairs Committee is a committee of the Board of Trustees composed of nine members. Four are members of the faculty and are elected by the faculty. Five are members of the Board and are appointed by the Board chairman. The faculty determines election procedures and qualifications for the members which it elects. The faculty has determined that its members shall be elected for two-year terms with two being elected each year and that they shall be elected from among members of the faculty as shown on the faculty list of the President's Office.

This committee serves as a channel of direct communication between the Board and the faculty and concerns itself with matters which relate to faculty employment and service and with other academic matters which may from time to time become the direct responsibility of the Board.

Academic Freedom:

The administration and faculty of Indiana Central College endorse the 1940 statement of the American Association of University Professors relative to academic freedom. That statement is as follows:

1. The teacher is entitled to full freedom in research and in the publication of the results, subject to the adequate performance of his other academic duties; but research for pecuniary return should be based upon an understanding with the authorities of the institution.

2. The teacher is entitled to freedom in the classroom in discussing his subject, but he should be careful not to introduce into his teaching controversial matter which has no relation to the subject. Limitations of academic freedom because of religious or other aims at the institution should be clearly stated in writing at the time of the appointment.

3. The college or university teacher is a citizen, a member of a learned profession, and an officer of an educational institution.
When he speaks or writes as a citizen, he should be free from institutional censorship or discipline, but his special position in the community imposes special obligations. As a man of learning and an educational officer, he should remember that the public may judge his profession and his institution by his utterances. Hence he should at all times be accurate, should exercise appropriate restraint, should show respect for the opinions of others, and should make every effort to indicate that he is not an institutional spokesman.

Faculty Use of the Library:

The library is under the supervision of a trained staff which is responsible to the Librarian and the Academic Dean. The Faculty Library Committee is consulted on major problems and on matters of policy.

1. Book orders

The Library Committee apportions the book budget with a definite amount allocated to each department. Information concerning the state of this budget is available from the librarian at any time.

Book orders are approved by the department chairman who gives them to the librarian. Order slips are available at the librarian's desk. Faculty members will be notified when books they have ordered are ready for use. A list of all new acquisitions to the library is sent periodically to faculty members.

Unused funds: All unused departmental book funds revert to the general book fund on March 1 of each year.

2. Reserve books

The reserve book shelves are located back of the circulation desk. Books are placed there at the request of instructors and are subject to restricted use (two-hour, three-day, seven-day periods.)

Instructors are urged to help keep the reserve collection active by reserving only those books which will be in general use and by removing them from reserve when the occasion for their use is past.

Because of the time involved in placing books on reserve, it is necessary that reserve lists be given to the librarian well in advance of the time that they are given to the students who will use them.
3. Audio-visual equipment

The library audio-visual program is under the supervision of the assistant librarian. A collection of spoken records, filmstrips, microfilm and tapes is housed in the library for general use of faculty and students. A list of available materials is located in the card catalogue.

A fund for the purchase of audio-visual materials is set up as part of the library budget. Faculty members are encouraged to make suggestions for such purchases. A collection of catalogues and source materials is kept on file for their use.

The library has record players, tape cassette players, microfilm reader and microfiche reader available for use by the faculty and students. It is assumed that the equipment will be used for campus instructional programs and for the programs of campus organizations.

A special collection of records is maintained by the Music Department and may be heard or borrowed there.

4. Faculty borrowing

Books from the "two-weeks" shelves may be borrowed for the school year. Several days prior to the close of the school year, each faculty member will be sent a list of the books, periodicals, and audio-visual materials charged to him. He is expected to return them before the end of the current semester. It is assumed that reference books, current periodicals, and reserve books remain in the library for general use and that faculty members will not expect to borrow them.

Faculty and students are permitted to charge periodicals for overnight use under the rule which governs the circulation of reserve books. They may be taken one half hour before closing time to be returned one half hour after the library opens the following day. Because of their value and the difficulty of replacing them, bound volumes of periodicals do not circulate outside the library.

Faculty members will be billed by the business office each June for lost and damaged library materials which have been borrowed by them.
Audio-Visual Services:

The services are under the direction of the Director of Audio-Visual Services.

A fund for the purchase of audio-visual equipment and materials is provided within the budget. Faculty members are encouraged to make suggestions for such purchases.

The equipment is housed in the Audio-Visual Laboratory in room 205 of Good Hall and in the Education Curriculum Laboratory in Good Hall. Facilities for mounting and laminating are provided. Equipment may be scheduled by contacting the consultant in the Education Laboratory. Any defect in equipment should be reported immediately. It is assumed that the equipment will be used for campus instructional purposes and for programs of campus organizations.

Available equipment includes 16 mm projector, slide and filmstrip projector, opaque and overhead projector, tape recorder, record player, screens, language masters, video tape equipment, listening stations, and various specialized equipment. The faculty is encouraged to consult with the audio-visual services for further information.

Tutoring:

A teacher is not permitted to tutor Indiana Central students for compensation. All requests for special tutorial assistance should be channeled through the office of the Academic Dean.

Care of Buildings:

In the interests of safety, economy, and good housekeeping, faculty members are asked to turn out all lights when they leave their classrooms, laboratories, or offices; to close windows; and to report in writing to the superintendent of buildings and grounds such matters as faulty lights, leaking radiators, cold rooms, fire hazards, and other conditions which may cause inconvenience.
FACULTY BENEFITS AND SERVICES

Social Security:

The college pays the appropriate percentage of the Social Security taxes with the balance deducted from the employees salary. This amount is set by the Social Security Administration.

TIAA-CREF Retirement

The college contributes 9% of the gross salary for each faculty member with more than 15 years of service at Indiana Central, 8% for those with at least 10 years but less than 15 years of service, 7% for those with 5 years but less than 10 years of service, and 6% for all other eligible faculty members. The 5% faculty member contribution is on a payroll deduction basis.

Blue Cross-Blue Shield:

The college pays 25% of the premium for all covered employees. Major Medical Insurance is provided at no cost to employees who are enrolled in the base Blue Cross-Blue Shield plan. (Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage in another group through employment of a husband or wife will normally serve as base coverage and make employees eligible for Major Medical coverage.) This coverage pays 80% of all covered charges up to a maximum of $25,000.

Disability Insurance:

This insurance is provided at no cost to the employee and becomes effective after a full year has been completed with Indiana Central. After six months disablement an employee is eligible to receive disability insurance payments ranging up to 60% of the first $1,500 of monthly salary. Benefits also include payment of pension premiums for those covered under the college retirement plan.

Life Insurance:

The college provides a $5,000 term life insurance policy on each full-time employee. Additional coverage, up to $5,000, may be purchased on a payroll deduction basis. Current cost is less than $1 per month for each $1,000 additional coverage. (The employee has the option of paying a modest monthly premium, on a payroll deduction basis, to convert the term insurance to ordinary life insurance. This assures the employee of some paid-up insurance at retirement time.)
Tuition:

Children and spouses of full-time faculty members are granted full tuition in either day or evening school. Half-tuition is granted for graduate courses taken at Indiana Central.

Sabbatical Leave:

Application for sabbatical leave may be filed after completion of six (6) years of full-time service at Indiana Central College. Leave can normally be taken at full salary for one semester or one-half salary for two semesters. (See section on Sabbatical Program, pages 14 and 15.)

Memberships:

The college will reimburse faculty members for personal dues in professional organizations up to $25 per year.

Travel Expenses:

In order to assist in attendance at professional meetings and learned societies, the college will pay one-half of the cost of travel, lodging, and meals for faculty members to attend up to two professional meetings each year. Vouchers should bear the approval of the department chairman and the Academic Dean.

Bookstore Purchases:

A discount of 10% is allowed on personal purchases of $1 or more.

Secretarial Services:

Secretarial services are available through the Printing and Central Duplicating Department. It is recommended that faculty members use student employees for a minimum of such work and these services be requested through Central Duplicating.

Health Services:

The services of the College Health Center in Krannert Hall are available to all employees as needed. Dependents of employees should not use the Health Center on a regular basis.

Activities:

Faculty members are admitted free of charge to regularly scheduled home intercollegiate athletic events and to many music and dramatic presentations by those departments.
Departmental Stationery:

Letterheads and stamped envelopes are supplied to each faculty member for college related use. Requisitions should be sent to Central Printing and Duplicating.

Check Cashing:

The Accounting Office is glad to provide a check cashing service for faculty members. It is requested that such checks be restricted to amounts under $50 and be cashed between 1 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Auto Use:

Faculty and staff members traveling on behalf of the college are reimbursed at 15 cents per mile for the use of their car. Several automobiles are owned by the college and may be used by faculty members on a first-come/first-served basis for approved school business. Use of automobiles should be requested through the Business Office.

Data Processing Center:

The Data Processing Center in Good Hall is operated on an "open shop" basis. During open shop hours the computer and related equipment is available for faculty and student use. Operating assistance is provided by the Data Processing Center staff.

Student Assistants:

Part-time student assistants for supervision of laboratories, keeping instructional records, and performing other duties may be provided where necessary. Employment of such assistants must be approved by the department chairman and the Academic Dean. Requests for use of student assistants should go to the Office of the Academic Dean.

Custodial Services:

The Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds is responsible for janitorial services. Minor suggestions, criticisms, or complaints may be made to the custodian on the job. Repeated failure of a custodian to give satisfaction should be reported to the Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds.

Special Use of Buildings or Rooms:

Persons or groups desiring to use a building or a portion thereof for a special purpose should check with the Information Office for the use of all facilities and equipment needed.
Requisitioning Supplies

Each department should anticipate its need for supplies and equipment as a part of the annual budget estimates. Departmental requisitions within the limits of approved departmental budgets will be accepted by the Business Office.

Forms for requisitioning supplies and equipment may be obtained from the Central Duplicating and Printing Office. When supplies or equipment are needed, a requisition should be completed in triplicate and the original and first carbon sent to the Central Duplicating and Printing Office. Examination books (blue books) are among the items which may be requisitioned from that office. Requisitions for items of major equipment may be sent directly to the Business Office.

Ordering Textbooks:

Department chairmen receive from the bookstore the cards for use in listing textbooks and other materials which the bookstore is expected to order. Department chairmen are responsible for distributing these cards to teachers in their departments (if necessary) and returning the completed cards to the bookstore.

Book cards should be sent to the bookstore no later than March 15 for the summer sessions and fleximester, by May 1 for first semester texts, and by November 1 for second semester texts.

If an advance order proves inadequate, instructors should place a supplementary order with the bookstore. It is suggested that faculty members work closely with the bookstore personnel to be sure texts are ordered in sufficient quantity and that the proper books have been delivered. It is especially important that faculty members check on book orders a few days before the beginning of classes. Forms for requesting desk copies of textbooks will be supplied by the bookstore upon request.

Duplicating Services:

The college is equipped to meet most duplicating and printing needs. Within limits, the office staff will duplicate course outlines and examinations. Copy for outlines normally should not exceed six (6) pages in length, and must be presented for duplicating well in advance of the date of its intended use. More extensive manuals and outlines will be done on a sale basis through special arrangements with the Business Office in cooperation with the Central Duplicating and Printing Office.

Department chairmen should consider requirements for paper, stencils, duplicator carbons and the like when preparing annual budget requests.
THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

Note: The college catalog should be consulted for a complete listing of course descriptions, academic regulations, and requirements.

Academic Sessions:

The college year is organized in two 14 week semesters and a fleximester. During the fleximester, the student may be enrolled in one four-hour course or receive fleximester credit by attending both seven-week summer sessions. Day students are required to take three four-week fleximester courses as a part of their requirement for graduation. Courses may be planned which exceed four weeks in length with credit being given on the basis of one credit hour per week.

The semester hour is the unit of college credit. A semester hour is the unit of credit allowed per semester for a course meeting for one lecture or recitation or for at least two laboratory periods per week.

The normal hour load for a regular student is 14 hours per semester and one hour for each week of the fleximester and/or summer session. Students wishing to carry more than the normal load apply for such privilege to the Classification and Petitions Committee.

Evening Division classes are held during the period 5:30 - 10:15 p.m.

Classes should begin immediately after the ringing of the starting bell and be dismissed promptly upon the ringing of the closing bell. Classes dismissed before the closing bell cause confusion in the halls and disturb others.

The hour for which the class is scheduled or the room in which the class is scheduled cannot be changed without permission from the Registrar or Academic Dean.
Absence or Tardiness of Instructors:

If an instructor finds it necessary to be absent or a few minutes late to a class, he should notify the Academic Dean in advance of the class period.

If an instructor wishes to attend a meeting of a learned society or if for any other reason he desires to cancel his classes he must first receive clearance from the Academic Dean, through the Department Chairman.

Attendance Regulations:

Each student is expected to attend meetings of all classes in which he is enrolled for credit. There is no "cut system" in operation. Each instructor records students' absences, unexcused and excused, and notifies the Academic Dean whenever absences are endangering the academic standing of the student. The student may be required to withdraw from the course.

Grading System:

A discussion of the grading system and quality points used as a scholarship index may be found in the current catalog.

Distribution of Grades:

Faculty action has established that an average of 6.900 to 7.200 quality points per credit hour should be maintained for the grades of the institution as a whole. Grades are analyzed each semester to determine how each instructor's grades and each department's records relate to this institutional standard.

Recording and Reporting Grades:

Class record books are furnished from the Academic Dean's Office for keeping grade and attendance records.

Grade cards are furnished by the Registrar's Office at the close of the first half of the semester for the instructor's report of grades and again at the close of the semester.

Grades are Reported Twice:

1. Mid-semester grades: A preliminary progress report is made for each course, in letter grades, at the close of the first seven weeks of the semester. (Although these grades are not entered on the permanent record of the student, they are especially helpful to advisers in counseling students.)
2. Final grades: After the close of each semester a final letter grade is reported for each student in each course. Grades which have been reported are final and may be changed only in case of error on the part of the instructor, at his request, and with the approval of the Academic Dean.

Examinations:

Examinations may be held at the discretion of the instructor; however, the Registrar will issue a suggested schedule for the last week of school to protect the student from having too many examinations on one day.

Academic Probation:

"Scholarship probation" is the term used to indicate that a student does not meet the minimum scholarship index requirements established by the faculty. (See Catalog for these requirements.)

Students on scholarship or disciplinary probation are not eligible for active participation in any college organization which officially represents the institution (the term "organization" does not include the Symphonic Wind Ensemble, Symphony Orchestra, or Choir).

The Committee on Classification and Petitions determines each semester which students are on "scholarship probation." The committee requires of such students a reduced hour load, the elimination of out-of-school work or activities, or other measures to help the individual student improve his scholastic standing. Many are referred to the Reading Laboratory to improve their comprehension and speed in reading.

Scholastic Honors:

Academic honors are awarded at graduation to students who have completed at least 85 semester hours in residence and who meet scholarship requirements as indicated:

1. Magna Cum Laude - to graduates who have a scholarship index of at least 10.500.

2. Cum Laude - to graduates who have a scholarship index of 9.750 but less than 10.500.

3. With Distinction - graduates who have completed a minimum of 12 semester hours of work in the general honors program plus a satisfactory research paper or project and who have been recommended by the Honors Council.
The Dean's List:

Any student who during a semester completes at least 14 semester hours with an academic index of at least 10.500 shall be eligible for the Dean's List.

Annual Honors:

Any student who during the regular academic year completes at least 30 semester hours with an average of 9.000 shall be recognized at the Annual Honors Program.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha (Senior Honor Society)

Candidates for degrees during the current academic year who have a scholarship index of at least 9.750 on a minimum of 100 semester hours, of which at least 85 must have been completed at Indiana Central College, are eligible to become candidates for election to membership in Epsilon Sigma Alpha.

Candidates for degrees who have completed all course work with a scholarship index of at least 9.750 will become eligible to be candidates for membership on the basis of 127 semester hours, of which at least 85 must have been completed at Indiana Central College.

Election to membership is by a four-fifths majority of the votes cast by the faculty in secret ballot; ballots are to be mailed to the faculty members not later than March 1 and to be returned not later than March 15. (The faculty is reminded that abstention from voting for any one person listed on the ballot would be negative in its effect.)

In election, consideration shall be given to the contribution of the candidate to the general welfare of the college.

Phi Alpha Epsilon (Freshman Honor Society):

Students who earn a minimum of thirty semester hours of credit during their first year of college work with a scholarship index of at least 9.750 are eligible to become candidates for election to membership.

Election to membership is by a four-fifths majority of the votes cast by the faculty in secret ballot; ballots are to be mailed to faculty members.

In election, consideration shall be given to the contribution of the candidate to the general welfare of the college.

Students who are elected to membership are recognized at the Annual Honors Program.
COUNSELING

Academic Counseling:

Indiana Central College maintains a program of academic counseling which is directed by the Academic Dean, assisted by the Registrar, the Curriculum Counselor, the chairman of the Classification and Petitions Committee, and the advisers.

The orientation program, begun during the registration period, continues with a group of scheduled lectures designed to acquaint the student with the program and policies at Indiana Central College and to aid him in adjusting himself to his work and his new environment.

The work of academic counseling is divided into two periods. Upon entering college for the first time, each student is assigned a faculty counselor who assists him with problems which he may confront. The faculty counselor is retained throughout the freshman year and until the major subject has been chosen. Each student is asked to declare his major subject at the end of the first semester in the sophomore year. The professor in charge of the major subject then becomes the academic counselor for the student. The student is counseled concerning the courses to be taken in his field of specialization and his registration is approved by the faculty adviser.

Personal Counseling:

The personal counseling service is coordinated by the Dean of Students and Dean of Women working with other faculty and staff persons. Each professor should consider himself as a counselor for many of the student's personal problems as well as his academic problems. It is assumed that the counselor will base his help upon the purpose of the college and the personal and religious standards of the college as well as upon the individuality of the student.

One of the advantages of a college our size is the opportunity of becoming personally acquainted with students on an informal basis. It is hoped that faculty members will be alert to student needs and opportunities for contact and association outside of the classroom and that faculty members will help initiate such contacts.

The Testing Service:

Individual tests of vocational interests, aptitudes, intelligence, and personality are available to assist in counseling. Counselors desiring such services should contact the Director of Testing.
All students participate in the following testing programs:

1. Scholastic Aptitude Test

   All students entering the day school and all students in the Evening Division who matriculate must take the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

2. The College Board Advanced Placement Examinations

   Superior students are encouraged to take these tests during their senior year in high school.

3. The College-Level Examination Program

   Students of all ages who have participated in nontraditional college-level education and who believe that they can demonstrate mastery of a particular subject are encouraged to take these tests.

4. The English Proficiency Test

   All incoming students to the day division take the English Proficiency Test prior to the time classes begin. All students in the Evening Division take the English Proficiency Test prior to the time they enroll in their first English course, but no later than in the semester after they have completed matriculation requirements.

5. The Undergraduate Record Area Tests

   All juniors are required to take these tests. These must be taken before the student can enroll in Supervised Teaching 405 or 411.

6. The Undergraduate Record Field Tests

   All seniors are required to take the Field Tests in their major subjects.

   The results of these tests are available to the faculty.
