The books listed in this annotated bibliography have been selected to provide pleasurable reading for high school students. Books are arranged alphabetically by author, under 43 main categories. Concluding the book are a directory of publishers and indexes of authors and titles. (JM)
BOOKS FOR YOU

A Booklist for Senior High Students

New Edition

Prepared by Kenneth L. Donelson, Editorial Chairman, and the Committee on the Senior High School Booklist of the National Council of Teachers of English

National Council of Teachers of English
1111 Kenyon Road, Urbana, Illinois 61801
NCTE Committee on the Senior High School Booklist
Kenneth L. Donelson, Arizona State University, Tempe, Arizona, chairman
Hugh Agee, University of Georgia, Athens, Georgia
Edward W. Armstrong, Jr., North Salinas High School, Salinas, California
Cynthia K. Crew, El Toro High School, El Toro, California
Sharon E. Freden, Colorado State Department of Education, Denver, Colorado
Donald R. Gallo, Central Connecticut State College, New Britain, Connecticut
Paul B. Janeczko, Masconomet Regional High School, Topsfield, Massachusetts
Betsy B. Kaufman, Queens College of the City University of New York, New York
Terry C. Ley, Auburn University, Auburn, Alabama
Dorothy O. Matthews, University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois
Maia Pank Mertz, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio
Alfred Muller, East Carolina University, Greenville, North Carolina
William T. Ojala, Arizona State University, Tempe, Arizona
Jesse Perry, San Diego City Schools, San Diego, California
James E. Quick, Tulane University, New Orleans, Louisiana
Thomas E. Shoemate, Marietta City Schools, Marietta, Georgia
Lou Willett Stanek, Marymount Manhattan College, New York, New York
Paul O'Dea, NCTE; ex officio
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

As chairman of the Committee on the Senior High School Booklist, my appreciation must first go to the members of the committee. Given the maturity of high school students, we were faced with the task of sorting and selecting from a universe of books written for the public at large, mindful particularly, however, of what would most appeal to high school readers. The basis for organization upon which the committee finally agreed was related to the elective courses common to high school English departments today. The first broad categories for this booklist came from a study of curriculum guides from all over the nation. Beyond that survey, the collective professional experience of committee members furnished numerous other categories. After that, it was mostly a matter of reading and vainly trying to keep up to date with the books arriving from publishers. If in the final stages committee members wearied, they nonetheless were always a pleasure to work with.

Credit and thanks must also go to the publishers who provided review copies of books; to friends and fellow teachers who jogged our minds, challenged our ideas, and gave specific suggestions; to members of the Secondary Section and the Executive Committee of the National Council of Teachers of English for their honest and frequent help; and to Paul O'Dea, director of NCTE Publications, who pestered and persisted and helped me to pester and persist with the booklist committee.

Several individuals deserve special mention. My wife Annette helped in all ways at all times, but along with Betty Whetton, she helped particularly with the Science Fiction section. Linda Hope, Kathy McCool, and Liz Celis—coworkers all—helped in so many ways to make the job a little easier and a lot more fun. Thanks also to Norma Willson, West High School, Torrance, California; Nancy Wells, San Pedro (California) High School; and Joanne Wilkinson, graduate student at the University of Illinois, for valuable last-minute contributions to the Am Woman section.
Acknowledgments

Joy Scott assisted with correspondence, catalogued the many books as they came in, edited many annotations, and did all sorts of odd jobs that were sometimes difficult but still necessary, almost always happily and always efficiently. Joy may have started her job as my secretary, but by the time we were halfway through, she had become coeditor in almost every way save the title. I herewith award her the title and say that I am most grateful for everything she has done.

Finally, I would like to thank the editorial staff of the NCTE Publications Department: William Ellet, project editor, ably assisted by Carol Schanche, Kathy Stevens, Elaine Dawley, Diane Dieterich, Patricia Leedecke, and especially Lois Haig, who has persevered in this project from the beginning.

Kenneth L. Donelson
CONTENTS

Acknowledgments v
Introduction to the Student 1
Mystery 5
Adventure 12
Western Frontier 22
Science Fiction 32
Beyond Belief 46
Love 57
Coming of Age 64
Problems and Young People 78
Problems of Modern Humanity 88
Reflections 99
Lives, Then and Now 107
Careers 121
I Am Woman 131
American Indian Experiences 144
Black Experiences 162
Chicano Experiences 172
Other Ethnic Experiences 179
Collected Ethnic Experiences 182
Urban Life, Urban Concerns 184
Utopias and Communes 188
Politics, the Law, and Humanity 194
The United States 202
A. Till the Civil War 202
B. About the Civil War 212
C. Since the Civil War 215
Contents

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Topic</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The Third World Yesterday</td>
<td>227</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Third World, Today and Tomorrow</td>
<td>235</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>War</td>
<td>243</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Our Languages</td>
<td>269</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Myth and Folklore</td>
<td>265</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Our Religions</td>
<td>273</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fine Arts</td>
<td>281</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>All the World's a Stage</td>
<td>288</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poetry</td>
<td>297</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Short Stories</td>
<td>307</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Popular Culture</td>
<td>316</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Humor and Satire</td>
<td>325</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mass Media</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A. Seeing Films: Genres and Topics</td>
<td>339</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B. Seeing Films: Focus on Directors</td>
<td>343</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C. Seeing Films: History and Criticism</td>
<td>345</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D. Seeing Films: Film Study</td>
<td>349</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>E. Making Films</td>
<td>351</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>F. Television and Radio</td>
<td>353</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>G. Other Mass Media</td>
<td>356</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sports</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>On the Move</td>
<td>359</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Science, Today and Tomorrow</td>
<td>374</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Digging into Our Past</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nature</td>
<td>379</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ecology</td>
<td>387</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Skies and Mountains</td>
<td>396</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Oceans</td>
<td>408</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Oceans</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Directory of Publishers</td>
<td>414</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Directory of Publishers</td>
<td>414</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Author Index</td>
<td>421</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Title Index</td>
<td>429</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Directory of Publishers</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Author Index</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Title Index</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
INTRODUCTION TO THE STUDENT

Reading very often has an immediate purpose: checking the time a movie begins, making sure a comma is in the right place, learning a skill. But much reading is simply for pleasure—from the uncomplicated enjoyment found in a mystery or adventure book to the intellectual fun of puzzling out an idea or theory found in a philosophical or scientific work. The problem is where to begin. Publishers produce thousands of titles each year and even with the recommendations of parents, teachers, librarians, and friends, locating books that fit specific interests is sometimes frustrating.

Books for You is intended to make the search easier by providing suggestions for all kinds of readers with all sorts of interests. Teachers and librarians may use this book to recommend this or that title, but its primary purpose, from section headings to annotations, is to be of use to you, the student. No book is included just because of its literary reputation as a classic or because it is considered a necessary part of everyone's reading experience. The sole standard of selection for this booklist is pleasurable reading.

What sort of reading will this booklist lead you to? That depends upon what you want a book to do for you. If it's relaxation and imaginative escape, see the sections Mystery, Adventure, Science Fiction, Beyond Belief, Sports, All the World's a Stage, Short Stories, and Humor and Satire.

Do you wonder about yourself and whether your problems and experience are shared by others? Beyond the concerns of the moment, what are the possibilities for your future? Books about such personal concerns are in the sections Coming of Age, Love, Problems and Young People, and Careers.

Each of us occasionally encounters ideas that have been argued for centuries and even now make us wonder, question, and doubt. Sometimes these encounters reward us with something more than the pleasure of thinking things through: a better understanding of humanity.
Introduction to the Student

The sections Problems of Modern Humanity, Reflections, Our Languages, Our Religions, Utopias and Communes, Fine Arts, and Poetry pose such universal concerns.

Almost inescapable today is an awareness of social injustice in our country and others. If you worry about this issue or are simply looking for more information on it, see I Am Woman; the five Ethnic Experiences sections; Urban Life, Urban Concerns; Politics, the Law, and Humanity; and the two Third World sections.

The people and event of the past—and the perspective they can provide on the present—are the subjects of Western Frontier; Lives, Then and Now; the three sections on the United States; War; Myth and Folklore; and Digging into Our Past.

Contemporary culture and leisure activities—television, movies, music, comic books, backpacking, auto racing—are covered in Mass Media, Popular Culture, and On the Move.

Our physical environment is the object of many investigations and the setting for much adventure. Accounts of these and of questions they frequently raise, such as what people and the sciences have done to help the earth or befoul it, are included in Science, Today and Tomorrow; Nature; Ecology; Skies and Mountains; and Oceans.

Before turning to these sections, you should be aware of a few problems faced in putting this booklist together, since some of these problems are really warnings to you, the reader. We would also like to explain a few features of the booklist’s organization.

Books are like readers: they seldom allow simple descriptions and quick categorizations. Thus, be sure to glance through several sections and the indexes before assuming that a certain book isn’t listed. Of course, some books are easy to place. For example, Zander Hollander and Hal Bock’s The Complete Encyclopedia of Ice Hockey clearly belongs in the Sports section. But others are difficult to categorize and could be placed in several sections. For example, Malcolm X and Alex Haley’s The Autobiography of Malcolm X is in the Black Experiences section, but it could just as easily have been put in Lives, Then and Now; Problems of Modern Humanity; or the United States Since the Civil War. The book is in Black Experiences because it seemed that if you were searching for that book, you would expect to find it there; if you didn't know the work but were interested in the section, it seemed likely that you would enjoy the autobiography of a famous black leader.

Although the committee that put together Books for You tried to be comprehensive in its selection of titles, you may find a book you like has been left out. If this is so, the reason could be the inevitable differences in people's reading tastes. However, book selection was limited both by space considerations and the committee's desire to include as many recent works as possible.

We have indicated in the annotations of some books that they have explicit sexual scenes or language which may be offensive to some readers; but modern literature is frank and realistic, so you should be warned that we may not have spelled out all the problems you or your friends may see in a book. A few teachers and librarians suggested that we note certain controversial books with statements like "This book is antifeminist" or "Some readers may object to the racism implied." Yet almost every book could be objected to by someone for some reason (believe it or not, that applies to books as different as the Bible, Sils Marner, Treasure Island, Moby Dick, Slaughterhouse-Five, and Go Ask Alice). To leave out a book simply because of a hypothetical objection to it was not a convincing argument to us. You are therefore warned that some books included here may offend, irritate, or anger you. But books that please and books that disturb may serve equally valid purposes by making you think or by challenging your beliefs. A book, almost by definition, is subversive: it can alter what you believe to be true by testing ideas or theories you have too easily accepted.

The organization of the booklist requires a brief explanation. The books in each section are arranged alphabetically by author or editor; books by the same author or editor in a section are arranged alphabetically by title. If you are looking for a particular book or books by a particular author, see the title or author index. We have indicated "fiction" or "nonfiction" for many books. However, these designations have been omitted in sections containing only fiction or nonfiction (for example, Short Stories and Mass Media). Some books are also described as "mature," which means they are difficult, quite long and complex, or sophisticated in tone or style.
A typical entry for an annotated book reads this way:

The first date, enclosed in parentheses, is the copyright date; the second is the publication date for the edition used in annotating the book. When the two dates are the same, only the one date, of course, is given. In the few cases where we could not determine a publication date, "n.d." appears. An abbreviated form of the publisher's name precedes the publication date. The Directory of Publishers at the end of the book lists these abbreviations with the publishers' full names and ordering addresses.

At the end of many annotations, you will find in parentheses "see also" suggestions for further reading. These books are not annotated anywhere in the booklist but are mentioned as worthwhile reading on the same topics as the annotated books. When the author is the same for both the annotated book and the "see also" title, the author's name is omitted in the "see also" entry.

With this information, you should be able to use Books for You as a convenient starting point for your ventures into reading and the pleasures it offers.
Nineteen-year-old Meg Frazer sets out for the rugged coast of Cornwall to escape from a nightmare which has haunted her for fourteen years, only to find herself at the center of an unsolved murder she witnessed as a five year old. Fiction.

Lyd, a sixteen-year-old orphan, visits the wild and lonely Treloyan Cove in Cromwell with her foster parents and experiences visions of an earlier time when murders were sanctioned by superstitions. Through her visions, she begins to discover her true identity. Fiction.

Sherry is the victim of her father-in-law's terror tactics designed to destroy her sanity so that he can win the custody of his grandson and punish Sherry, who he believes ruined his son. Fiction.

An anthology of mystery stories taking place in the future by science fiction writer Isaac Asimov. Included are stories about the first murder on the moon, the case of the stranded spaceman, and the wrong-way time-traveler. Fiction.

Virgil Tibbs, a black homicide detective from California, becomes involved in solving a murder in the rural South. The story emphasizes investigative procedure and the conflicts of racial prejudice. Fiction.

Ross Thomas, writing under the pseudonym of Oliver Bleeck, adds another chapter to the adventures of the introspective and witty Philip St. Ives, who here attempts to recover a stolen antique sword from con men and murderers. Mature fiction.
Mystery

Hannay, a fugitive wanted for murder, sets out to save himself and his country by solving the riddle of the thirty-nine steps, which he found on a scrap of paper clutched in a dead man's hand. Fiction.

This is a mystery of the "locked room" school of detective fiction in which an apparently impossible murder is committed by a seemingly invisible murderer. Fiction.

Phillip Marlowe, one of America's most famous fictional private investigators, helps a troubled man, then finds himself harrassed by unethical cops and involved in the mysterious death of a beautiful heiress. Mature fiction.

Chesterton's sophisticated writing and intellect make this much more than an account of the brilliant policemen who discover the identity of Sunday, a traitor working at the highest levels of the British government. Mature fiction.

The author's most famous tale in which a group of strangers find themselves on a desert island where, one by one, they are killed. (See also The Murder of Roger Ackroyd, PB; The ABC Murders, PB; and A Murder Is Announced, PB.) Fiction.

Hercule Poirot, Christie's famous detective, eventually solves the murder of a wealthy and lovely woman, but even he cannot fit the clues together in time to keep the killer from striking again. Fiction.

A routine investigation takes Dan Fortune, a one-armed private investigator, into the violent world run by the Syndicate and populated with lonely, defeated people. Mature fiction.

Often called the first mystery novel, this Victorian tale centers on a fabulously costly jewel stolen from the forehead of a statue in India. Fiction.

A wealthy businessman is found murdered in a sleazy motel and before the killer is found, three generations of international greed and guilt are exposed. Fiction.

The lawsuit Jarndyce v. Jarndyce has dragged on for years. Whole families are caught up in the suit, their futures hinging on how the case will be settled. (See also Our Mutual Friend, Penguin; and Dombey and Son, NAL) Fiction.

Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson solve the mystery of the fiendish hound which has terrorized the Baskerville family for four generations. Fiction.

A fine collection of the adventures of Sherlock Holmes, whose deductive powers allow him to solve many baffling cases. Fiction.

Seventeen-year-old Danny Stuart finds himself standing trial for a murder he did not commit. Trying to establish his innocence, her only makes the case against him stronger. Fiction.

Megan acquires a strange and crudely drawn map. Before she can find out who sent it and what it means, she is kidnapped and on her way to a real mystery. Fiction.

Ten stories of mystery and suspense dealing with the capture of criminals through the use of many types of evidence. Fiction.

David Cleveland, an investigator for the English Jockey Club, travels to Norway to investigate the disappearance of a British steeplechase jockey. Instead, he becomes a hunted man. Fiction.

Lisa, a level-headed and talented girl, is terrified: she is a finalist in the Golden Girl Scholastic Pageant, but someone is trying to force her out of the contest even if it is necessary to murder her. Fiction.

Arizona state trooper Sam Watchman, a Navajo Indian, is on the trail of escaped murderer Joe Threepersons on the White River Apache Reservation. The chase ultimately involves a militant Indian group, white ranchers, and Joe's sister. Fiction.

Seven children decide not to report the death of their mother. They bury her in the garden and pretend to the outside world that she is only ill. Then a stranger appears claiming he is their father. Fiction.

Greene takes the reader on a probing journey into the tortured mind of a sadistic murderer. Mature fiction.
Thirteen-year-old Thomas explores the secrets of a house which was a station on the underground railroad traveled by slaves escaping from the South before the Civil War. Fiction.

The valuable statue called the Maltese Falcon is missing in San Francisco; Sam Spade must track it down while avoiding the treachery of a beautiful woman and underworld figures who are also looking for the statue. (See also The Thin Man, VinRandom; and The Glass Key, VinRandom.) Fiction.

An Indian lawman and an anthropologist set out to track down the identity of a "Wolf," a Navajo witch who is spreading death on the reservation. An unusual combination of mystery, Navajo beliefs, and witchcraft. (See also Dance Hall of the Dead, Har-Row.) Fiction.

A bomb explodes in a dean's office and a body is found in the English office. Everybody on campus is a suspect until Rabbi Small unravels the clues and finds the murderer. Fiction.

The author of the popular spy thriller, The Spy Who Came in from the Cold, writes of George Smiley, a British agent assigned to find the double agent who has worked himself into the upper ranks of British Intelligence. Fiction.

Adam Eddington is to spend the summer working for a brilliant scientist who is studying the starfish's ability to regenerate its limbs. Adam becomes tangled in international intrigue involving the scientist's work and has to decide which of the opposing forces really stands for what he believes. Fiction.
Beginning with selections from the Bible and the works of Voltaire, Liebman presents British and American stories tracing the form of the detective tale from its early complexity and ingenuity to its present simplicity and directness. Fiction.

The creator of the Lew Archer detective series edited this anthology of novels by Dick Francis, Agatha Christie, Kenneth Fearing, and Macdonald; and short stories by such authors as Graham Greene, Flannery O'Connor, and James M. Cain. Fiction.

The story begins with an oil spill and a murder on the California coast. As Lew Archer pursues the case, he exposes the corruption, greed, and infidelity of three generations of the wealthy Lennox family. Fiction.

Many of the better short stories of detection written by women over the past two centuries are collected here. Included are stories by Baroness Orczy, Agatha Christie, Dorothy L. Sayers, and Ngaio Marsh. Fiction.

Chief Detective-Inspector Roderick Alleyn must solve the murder which was the unexpected ending to a party game; in solving the crime, Alleyn must deal with greed, jealousy, and hints of the supernatural. Fiction.

An examination of the life and career of Sherlock Holmes as it is given in four novels and fifty-six short stories. Nonfiction.

A contemporary addition to Sherlock Holmes's adventures in which the detective travels to Vienna on the trail of archvillain Professor Moriarty. Fiction.

This book details sixteen famous, unsolved cases of murder, royal intrigue, missing persons, and some mysteries of the ancient world, including the search for lost continents. Nonfiction.

While attending summer school, Steve and his bulldog become involved in solving a 100-year-old mystery, escape from underworld characters, and discover a fortune in treasure. Fiction.

At a rock festival a young woman is murdered. To find her murderer, a British homicide detective must explore the twisted personalities of all concerned and finds important clues in the lyrics of a contemporary love ballad. Mature fiction.

Incognito, Lord Peter Wimsey joins an advertising agency to solve the murder of a copywriter, managing to crack the case and break up a London-based drug smuggling ring. Fiction.

Martin Beck, a Swedish homicide detective, tracks down the brutal murderer of a hospitalized police officer. The setting is Sweden and the language is realistic. Mature fiction.

A British schoolboy and his guardian suddenly move from London into a country house named Blackbriar where the boy becomes caught up in the evil history and secret passages of the house. Fiction.

Biographical information on writers and descriptions of fictional characters and of genres provided here will answer practically any question readers might have about mystery literature. Nonfiction.

Nero Wolfe, an overweight, orchid-collecting private detective, must cope with bugging devices and police surveillance while exposing a murderer. Fiction.

Some boys form their own bluegrass musical group; when a mystery causes problems in their lives, the group is tied together both by their love of music and the desire to solve the mystery. Fiction.

Jan Pendleton visits an old, reconstructed village in Connecticut and becomes involved in discovering the secret of a 'stolen' Chinese idol. Fiction.

An apparently innocent proposal is made to the U.S. Senate to develop a secret underground complex in Washington, D.C., for use in case of nuclear war. Peter Roos, the brother of a senator involved in the proposal, discovers sinister implications in the project. Fiction.

ADVENTURE

Businessman Michael Howell suddenly finds himself battling for survival against an Arab terrorist group determined to use him in their attempt to destroy Israel. Fiction.

Phil Brant's brother is dead, and Phil is being hunted by two of his brother's army buddies. Phil doesn't know why they are after him, but his terror is not as bad as his pain when he finds out why. (See also Shadows Offstage, Nelson.) Fiction.
Bosworth, J. Allan. White Water, Still Water. PB 1966. Chris and his homemade raft are swept miles down river into the Canadian wilderness. Without shoes and armed only with a pocketknife, Chris must fight his way back to civilization before winter. Fiction.

Branscum, Robbie. Me and Jim Luke (© 1971). Avon 1975. While hunting possums, two boys find a murdered man. They set out to discover the killer and learn that the dread Ku Klux Klan may be involved in the murder. Fiction.

Butterworth, W. E. Road Racer. Tempo G&D 1969. Steve Haas, a high school dropout with an interest in cars, not only returns to school but wins a scholarship for a year of study abroad. His knowledge of German and engineering talent serve him well when he comes into contact with a millionaire racing ace working on an experimental racing car. Fiction.

Crichton, Michael. The Great Train Robbery. Knopf 1975. Every possible precaution, from armed guards to special locks, has been taken to safeguard a shipment of gold on a train leaving London. However, master thief Edward Pierce still believes he can pull off the perfect robbery. Based on an actual 1855 case. Fiction.
Many of the characters made famous in Funeral in Berlin reappear in this novel of cold war politics in which Anglo-American war games, underwater spying expeditions, and double agents are the basic elements. Mature fiction.

Dulles, a former director of the C.I.A., gathers together spy stories ranging from the Trojan War to World War II. Fiction.

Trapped in the Jamaica Inn, a haven for smugglers and murderers, Mary Yellen learns of the horrors planned by her fiendish uncle and struggles to escape his evil hold on her. Fiction.

In 1870 a shy six-year-old boy is lost in the Canadian wilds and survives the summer only because he is protected and cared for by a female badger. Fiction.

Danny Gallagher and his uncle set out in the winter of 1784 to track down the "stump-toed wolf." After spending many days in the wilderness, both their lives change once the wolf has been killed. Fiction.

Dingo, a high school student, finds himself leading a hunting party into the wilds when his grandfather, a professional guide, breaks his shoulder. But the hunt is not like any Dingo has ever heard of: they are hunting for "Bigfoot," a huge, gorilla-like creature said to be the American cousin of the Abominable Snowman. Fiction.

What begins as an optimistic journey across the Sierras in 1846 results in treachery, deceit, and murder. The primitive instincts of the wives and mothers of the Donner party take over as they struggle to save their children from the blizzard which has trapped them in the mountains. Mature fiction.

Hornblower commands the Hotspur, a sloop of war, in efforts to thwart Bonaparte's invasion of Ireland. Fiction.

Peter Talbot, a successful businessman and gambler, plans a stock market swindle which carries him into the Australian bush country and will bring him either incredible wealth or utter ruin. Fiction.

The Texas frontier is the setting of this story about a dog's attempt to rescue his young master from Apache raiders. Fiction.

Timid Henry Pulling meets his Aunt Augusta at his mother's funeral. Upon learning that the deceased woman isn't his mother, he embarks with his flamboyant and eccentric aunt on a series of adventures that involve his mother's funeral urn, Interpol, the CIA, and war criminals. Fiction.

Quiller, a master British spy, is sent on a suicide mission into the Sahara to find and destroy a mysteriously downed aircraft. Fiction.

Nineteen-year-old Greg Stewart arrives in Blackwater, South Carolina, to take his first job as a crop duster, but soon finds himself in a search for a B-24 bomber which mysteriously crashed in the area's snake-infested swamp in 1944. Fiction.

Robert Jordan, an American, goes to Spain to fight in the Spanish civil war. He experiences terror in battle and pleasure in love, only to meet death with his guerrilla comrades. Mature fiction.

Five young girls are kidnapped by Arabs in a plot to turn the world against Israel. A French agent is hired to try to save the girls—and world peace. Fiction.

Jane Lindsay attempts to escape the sadness of a shattered romance and a "marriage of convenience" by traveling to Hong Kong and the strange House of a Thousand Lanterns. Soon she finds her life in danger. Fiction.

Rudolph Rassendyll travels to Ruritania to see the coronation ceremonies. To his surprise he finds that he and the new king could easily be mistaken for twins. Because of a plot against the king by Black Michael, Rudolph agrees to take the king's place temporarily. Fiction.

A Gothic romance set in Victorian England in which Susannah, an eighteen-year-old orphan, becomes frighteningly involved in the capture of Jack the Ripper. Fiction.

Fifteen American cowboys and fifteen Russian Cossacks work together on a 4,000-mile cattle drive through Siberia. Fiction.

Todd, a British intelligence agent, spots and tails an enemy agent, only to find himself sentenced to thirty years for treason. Todd must discover those who set him up, but first he has to escape from a maximum security prison. Fiction.
In 1877 a group of schoolboys are hired to herd Wil Andersen's cattle to market. During the 400-mile trip, the boys become accomplished cowhands and learn the realities of human hate. Fiction.

A true account of how the British learned the secrets of a Nazi radar installation by sending an electronics specialist into occupied France. Eleven Canadian rangers went with him to insure that he would not be taken alive. Mature nonfiction.

An Indian youth and a wolf develop a remarkable friendship in the wilderness of British Columbia, and the Indian attempts to protect the wolf from trappers and bounty hunters. Nonfiction.

Sixteen-year-old William Wythers tells of the adventures, mysteries, and hardships he encountered as a member of the ill-fated "Lost Colony" during England's early attempts to colonize America. Fiction.

A. J. Lewinter, an M.I.T. defense scientist, defects to Russia. The U.S. wants to know what secrets Lewinter carried, while Russia wants to know if the secrets are real. So begins a spy-chess game of bizarre gambits and double crosses. Fiction.

A treasonous exchange of war materials necessary for the continuation of World War II takes place between the industrial communities of the U.S. and Nazi Germany. Mature fiction.

During the Civil War, a young boy becomes obsessed with avenging his father's murder, and the obsession dramatically affects all those around him. Fiction.

Travis McGee meets an old friend who leaves $104,200 with him. When the friend dies, Travis investigates and finds himself battling a drug smuggling ring run by a lawyer who has a promising political career if he can control his criminal activities and sex habits. Mature fiction.

A band of civilians tries to smuggle a young woman out of Czechoslovakia into Switzerland, an act which leads to romance, adventure, and intrigue. Fiction.

When an all-out naval bombardment fails to silence the German artillery on the cliffs at Navarone, five men, each a specialist in violence, death, and destruction, are sent on a commando raid to destroy the guns. Mature fiction.

Spending a holiday on a beautiful Greek island with her amorous suitor, Justin becomes intrigued by the puzzling death of a wealthy woman and by the woman’s mute daughter, who holds the key to solving the mystery. Fiction.

Tony Laporte runs away from home to teach his parents a lesson. A car accident leaves Tony and Cindy, the hitchhiker he has picked up, stranded in the wilderness on the U.S. side of the Canadian border, where they must survive a raging blizzard. Fiction.

Melville jumped ship at Typee in the Sandwich Islands of the South Pacific. In this book he presents a semi-autobiographical account of his stay on the island, including his capture by cannibals. Nonfiction.

It is 1983. Six idealistic young people join the underground to fight a dictatorship that has taken over the United States. Fiction.

Jonathan Anders struggles with overzealous Irish rebels, an ex-Nazi, and determined Russian agents to discover a secret device designed to aid in the exploration and control of the sea. Fiction.

Nordhoff, Charles, and James Norman Hall. The Bounty Trilogy. Little's 1946.
The trilogy contains Mutiny on the Bounty, the crew's seizure of a British sailing ship because of what they consider the inhumanity of Captain Bligh; Men Against the Sea, Captain Bligh's heroic struggle to sail an open boat across 3,600 miles of the Pacific after the mutiny; and Pitea's Island, the mutineers' attempt to build a new home for themselves on a remote tropical island. Fiction.

A fast-paced story about a young man and a wolf growing up in the wilderness of Wisconsin in the years following the Civil War. Fiction.

After the French Revolution, a group of men try to seize control of France, but even their terror tactics cannot succeed until they stop the mysterious man who fights for human rights and leaves as his calling card the flower called the Scarlet Pimpernel. Fiction.

Karen, the daughter of a Syndicate chief, finds herself pulled out of school, hurried off to England, and plunged into terror as she battles to escape captors who are using her to control her father. Fiction.

A young English girl visits the ranch of an eccentric California widow interested in the occult and becomes the object of what appears to be a supernatural campaign to drive her away. Fiction.
A young boy in seventeenth-century Germany attempts to escape from a master of necromancy, a conjurer of spirits from the dead. Fiction.

In the days of chivalry, young Myles Falworth fights his way to knighthood and battles his father's mortal enemy in order to remove the stigma of traitor from the family name. Fiction.

Ray, Mary. The Ides of April. FS&G 1974.
After Roman senator Caius Pomponius is found murdered in A.D. 62, his slaves are to be immediately executed according to Roman law. Seventeen-year-old Hylas manages to hide and is determined to find the killer. Fiction.

Seventeen-year-old Allan Gordon is shipwrecked in the Arctic where he is stranded for seven years, much of the time alone. Based on a historical incident. Fiction.

International economic and political conspiracy explodes in Jamaica, and an innocent individual is caught in the middle. Mature fiction.

Ivanhoe returns to England from the Crusades and falls in love with Rowena, but runs afoul of Bois-Guilbert and the Knights Templar who serve the grasping Prince John. Fighting to free himself and others from John's tyranny, Ivanhoe also seeks to restore the throne to its rightful holder. Fiction.

In the early eighteenth century, David Balfour is kidnapped by his uncle and put aboard a ship to the British colonies, but David escapes to a fugitive's life in the Scottish Highlands. Fiction.
An inside account of the July 1976 commando raid into East Africa to rescue over 100 hostages held by a group of terrorists who were being aided by the Ugandan government. Nonfiction.

During World War II Phillip, a young boy prejudiced against blacks, finds himself temporarily blinded and shipwrecked on a barren island where he must rely upon an old black man to help him survive. Fiction.

Australian Ernie Ryan discovers an opal mine while on a school vacation, but his dreams of wealth turn into a nightmare when the opals are stolen. Ernie and his aborigine friend track the thief through the rugged Australian Outback. Fiction.

True stories of lost American treasure grouped in sections on buried, underwater, and pirate treasure, and lost mines. Includes a picture glossary. Nonfiction.

Hired as a guide for a bighorn sheep hunting expedition, Ben, by witnessing a killing and refusing to be a party to a cover-up, finds himself fair game. (See also The Frogmen, Dell.) Fiction.

A young man slowly turns into a psychotic killer and kidnaps a young boy. A determined detective then sets out to find and capture the disturbed man. Fiction.

Wyss, Johann. The Swiss Family Robinson (© 1812). Dell 1967.
Through ingenuity and cooperation, a family survives, and even prospers, on a deserted island after their sailing ship sinks. Fiction.
John W. Burns, a self-sufficient cowboy who hates fences and all they represent, deliberately gets arrested to help a friend. When Burns breaks out of jail, the police go after him. Made into the movie Lonely Are the Brave. Fiction.

From his own experiences as a trailhand and cowboy, Adams creates an authentic picture of the unromantic cowboy—the dust, the boredom, the cattle, and the horses that made up his world. Fiction.

The problems mount up when Carrie, bored with summer and with not being able to do anything "interesting," decides she has to see the Indian mummy on display in the local saloon. Fiction.

Sagebrush Sheridan I, sheriff of Medicine Creek; gathers around him a strange posse of Apache kids, Comanche chiefs, and singing outlaws as he gallops off after the Pecos Gang. Fiction.

Baby Doe Tabor survived a scandalous divorce, the snubs of Denver society, and the unwise generosity of her husband, only to die virtually forgotten, protecting the silver mine which her husband said would some day make her rich again. Nonfiction.

A study of the Little Bighorn Battle based on the unpublished notes of Camp, who, between 1876 and 1920. interviewed both army and Indian participants in the battle. Nonfiction.

Nine-year-old Helen Morrison is captured by Comanches. At first she pretends to accept her fate while awaiting a chance to escape, but slowly she becomes willing to accept Indian ways. (See also The White Man's Road, Ace Bks.) Fiction.

During the early years of this century, some genuine cowboys left their ranches and became extras in movie westerns. The author's cowboy-father, his friends, and their descendants are the heroes of this book. Nonfiction.

When her bohemian father commits suicide, Antonia assumes the burden of working her family's poor Nebraska farm. She finds her greatest satisfaction there in a struggle with the land which demands both energy and optimism.--(See also O Pioneers, HM; The Professor's House, VinRandom; and Death Comes for the Archbishop, VinRandom.) Fiction.

The author, an Englishman who went to Texas in 1872, tells of his life in the Old West, including buffalo hunting, trail drives, and confrontations with the Plains Indians. Nonfiction.

Cook, once superintendent of the Rocky Mountain Detective Association, first published this story of his life as a detective and tracker of criminals in 1882. The language may seem old-fashioned but these stories of crime, hangings, and shootings are true. Nonfiction.

Much mining activity took place in the San Juan Mountains of southwestern Colorado before 1900. The locations of many mines worked by only one man were lost over the years, and rumors of these lost mines persist even today. Nonfiction.

These are the recollections of the Texas Kid, an outlaw, a rancher, and a gold miner. Included are some of the activities of Hole in the Wall outlaws. Nonfiction.

The wife of General George Custer tells of her experiences living in Dakota while her husband was stationed there. She presents a personal portrait of her husband unlike that found in many other sources. Nonfiction.

A realistic tale of the rough, dirty, back-breaking life of the old-time cowboy. Fiction.

In March 1880, former gunfighter and current gambler Jake Hollander comes to New Mexico with two Mexican orphans in his custody. At first anxious to dump the kids, Hollander changes his mind and instead becomes a town marshal. Fiction.

Catherine Crocker runs away from her husband, only to get mixed-up with a train-robbing gang and its leader—the man who loved Cat Dancing. Mature fiction.

More than 5,000 blacks—cowboys, rustlers, homesteaders, and miners—were a significant factor in the development of the American West after the Civil War. Nonfiction.
The year is 1910, and the Eunsons are setting out for the last American frontier—Montana—with adventure and hardship ahead of them. Nonfiction.

Disguised as a murderer, John Hazard sets out to capture a group of army deserters terrorizing the settlers along the Colorado River. Fiction.

When the mountain man returns from a round of his traplines to find his pregnant wife dead, he becomes a person whose only thought is revenge against those who took her life. Fiction.

A group of misfits decides to drive a trail herd north more than ten years after all the cattle trails have dried up. Fiction.

Beginning in 1865, the Chisholm Trail was the main route followed by Texas cowboys taking cattle to railroads in Kansas. The trail drives were hard on men, horses, and cattle, but at the end, they promised wealth, saloons, and gambling. Nonfiction.

Grey, Zane. To the Last Man (© 1922). PB n.d.
Ellen Jorth and Jean Isbel are in love, but their families hate each other. The feud erupts into the bloody Pleasant Valley War in Arizona. Based on fact. (See also Robbers' Roost, PB; and Riders of the Purple Sage, PB.) Fiction.

Dustville is the sleepiest, dullest town in the Old West until the editor of the Dustville Clarion concocts some legends and a hero to go with them. The Eastern press picks up the stories, and tourists begin heading west for thrilling Dustville. Fiction.

Boone Caudill, a rugged Kentucky boy, makes his way to the mouth of the Missouri, falls in with tough frontiersmen, and follows the life of a rough-and-tumble trapper, always keeping ahead of the crush of settlers moving westward. Fiction.
Western Frontier

The trail to Oregon is taken by several kinds of persons—the old mountain man, the power-hungry leader, the quiet but forceful true leader—and by Brownie, who grows up as the caravan wends its way west from Independence, Missouri. Fiction.

Before his death, Crazy Horse commands Crowfoot, his seventy-year-old medicine man, to steal horses from the whites and take them to Chief Joseph, who is leading his Nez Perce tribe away from their home in Oregon to safety in Canada. Fiction.

Based on the 113-day war between the Nez Perce Indians, led by Chief Joseph, and the white man, the story portrays the chief as heroic and dignified. (See also One More River to Cross, Bantam; and The Fourth Horseman, Bantam.) Fiction.

Horgan, Paul. Lamy of Santa Fe: His Life and Times. FS&G 1975.
Juan Bautista Lamy was only thirty-seven in 1851 when he was sent to New Mexico as a Catholic bishop. Though he had enemies and faced one attempt on his life, his frontier drive and strength of character won him friends and increased the power of the Catholic Church in the Southwest. Winner of the 1976 Pulitzer Prize for history. Nonfiction.

Though teenager Judy Hoffman enjoys her high school days in a remote town and her year as teacher in a rural school, she values most her life with her parents on the Nebraska frontier at the turn of the century. Fiction.
The author tells of his life as a handlogger in Alaska from the early years of the twentieth century to the present. Nonfiction.

In 1905, four inexperienced desperadoes plan to stop and rob a payroll train by running a herd of cattle onto the tracks. Fiction.

When Andy goes off to a gold-mining town to live with his father, he finds problems for which his earlier life with his grandparents has not prepared him. Why does the sheriff keep coming around and who is stealing gold from the mine? Fiction.

Jordan relates her family's experiences after they move to a sheep ranch in Idaho and find themselves living on the Snake River just below Hell's Canyon, virtually isolated from the rest of the world. Nonfiction.

An Indian attack that kills all their friends and relatives forces seven-year-old Hardy and three-year-old Betty Sue to set out for safety with only a horse and a knife to help them. (See also Under the Sweetwater Rim, Bantam; and The Ferguson Rifle, Bantam.) Fiction.

The McKaskels, inexperienced in the ways of the West, are joined by Con Valijen, who knows both the good and the bad of frontier life. Together, they find a new home for the family, fighting off an outlaw gang and a band of Indians along the way. Fiction.

Laune describes, through anecdotes from her own life, the pioneer life in a small town in western Oklahoma, starting with its raw early days following the land run and continuing through the time when the town has paved streets and a library. Nonfiction.

A six-year-old white girl is taken by Comanches in a raid, and Amos and Martie set off to rescue her. (See also The Unforgiven, Har-Row.) Fiction.

When young Tot Lohman shoots another cowboy in a dance brawl, the dead cowboy's family swears revenge. Lohman is forced to become a fugitive—and a man. Fiction.

When the glories of the Sioux Indians seemed dead, a great Indian Messiah came to them preaching that they must do a ceremonial dance which would bring back the buffalo and make them safe from white men's bullets. (See also The Last Hunt, HM.) Fiction.

The author relates his experiences as a young boy who goes west and grows up living the life of a cowboy on the largest fenced ranch in the world. Nonfiction.

Mauled by a bear, Hugh Glass is deserted by his companions. His will to live and to revenge himself on his former friends leads him to crawl for weeks to safety. (See also Conquering Horse, NAL; and Scarlet Plume, NAL.) Fiction.
The three Hammett brothers love the same girl, but her marrying one of them does not separate them. When the range wars between the cattle barons and the small ranchers begin, they are caught in the middle. Cain, the oldest brother, finally has to seek revenge for the entire family. Fiction.

Two boys, one an Indian and the other white, go off together during a four-day storm and find themselves to be quite different people when they return home. Fiction.

Wetherill discovered the Indian ruins of Mesa Verde, Colorado, when he was a young cowboy. Later, he ran a trading post in New Mexico where he was murdered. Nonfiction.

Michener, James A. Centennial. Random 1974.
Michener weaves together the stories of the land, various people—including Indians, trappers, farmers, cattlemen, and laborers—and events to present a fictionalized history of an area along the South Platte River in Colorado. Fiction.

In spite of weather, lack of rest, and personal danger, eighty riders rode 400 fast horses to relay the mail almost 2,000 miles from St. Joseph, Missouri, to San Francisco in ten days and nights. This is an account of the Pony Express in the years 1860–61. Nonfiction.

In a highly readable style, the author relates his experiences along the Missouri River. Nonfiction.

Fourteen-year-old Mattie Ross gains the assistance of Marshal Rooster Cogburn in tracking down her father’s murderer. Mattie never loses her nerve in the uproarious adventures which follow. Fiction.
Western Frontier

Ross McEwen robs a bank and flees, pursued by Sheriff Pat Garrett. In his attempt to get away, McEwen runs across a family dying of diphtheria. (See also The Proud Sheriff, U of Okla Pr; and Copper Streak Trail, U of Okla Pr.) Fiction.

The hero of this story is based on Bill Doolin, an Oklahoma Territory outlaw who was befriended by the author. A plot to rob a bank provides the action. Fiction.

A picture of the life of the regular army soldier during the 1866–1891 Indian Wars: the dusty drudgery of frontier life, the recreation of privates and noncoms, and the Indian battles. Nonfiction.

The Western gunfighter has been regarded as a hero by some, a villain by others. The author tries to separate fact from myth to get at the truth. Nonfiction.

The text and photographs give a glimpse of the high West, its inhabitants, its beauties, and its hazards. Nonfiction.

Kept on the reservation by whites, a band of Cheyenne Indians breaks out to return to their ancient home. Based on fact. Fiction.

A collection of observations, memoirs, and reminiscences, this book shows what the cowboy’s life was really like. Mature nonfiction.
Shane, a mysterious gunfighter, drifts into the middle of a range war and sides with the homesteaders.
Fiction.

Wyatt Earp, Doc Holliday, Bat Masterson, Clay Allison, Ben Thompson, Luke Short, and Wild Bill Hickok are the subjects of the author's attempt to show gunfighters as they really were. They turn out to be much less romantic than they usually appear on television or in films and novels. Nonfiction.

A slender blond youth and a towering black man ride into a Wyoming town which is spoiling for a fight. When it is learned that the pair has gold and plans to buy sheep, the local cowboys become even more upset. The outcome of this novel, which contains some harsh language, is quite unexpected. Fiction.

The story of the Donner Party, including the hardships that led to some members surviving only through cannibalism, told in part through letters and diaries of some of the members of the party. Nonfiction.

John Bernard Books, last of the shootists or gunfighters, rides into El Paso in 1901. The doctor he seeks confirms an earlier doctor's prognosis that Books is dying of cancer. Bothered by those wanting something from him, Books decides just how and when he will die. Frank language of the times. Fiction.

Jim Bridger was a great mountain man, an explorer, trappper, Indian fighter, and trailblazer. This biography covers, among other things, his discovery of the Great Salt Lake and his work trapping for the Rocky Mountain Fur Company. Nonfiction.

The author recounts the events in American history in which the Missouri River has been involved. Non-fiction.

Wagoner, David. The Road to Many a Wonder. FS&G 1974.
Twenty-year-old Ike Bender and his young bride-to-be Millie set out on a 500-mile journey to Denver during the Pikes Peak Gold Rush of 1859. Fiction.

Born a slave around 1800, Jim Beckwourth became in turn a fur trapper, an army scout, a trader to the Indians, and a war chief of the Crow Indians. In short, he was one of the great mountain men of his time, living and finally dying among the Indians. Nonfiction.

Wister's stories in this collection of his Western literature take place in settings ranging from a mining camp in the Rockies to a territorial capital in the Northwest. Fiction.

This is the story of a gold mine, the Molly Pitcher, and the many persons who are involved with her in one way or another. Starting in 1871 and ending in 1932, the author portrays the events that might have taken place around a single mine. Fiction.

SCIENCE FICTION

Colonists disenchanted with earth are on their way to another planet when they receive word that they can go back to a new government. They must decide if they will return or continue toward their original destination.

Var, who is animal-like in many ways, fights a duel to settle a dispute between two warring factions. The dual's unexpected results lead him to flee into exile—with the opponent he was supposed to defeat.

The Foundation is created by Hari Seldon to protect civilization against the expanding Galactic Empire, which uses psychology and history to control the behavior of the masses. Following the Seldon Plan, the Foundation achieves supremacy at the edges of the galaxy and the battle begins for control of the entire galaxy. (See also Foundation and Empire, Avon; and Second Foundation, Avon.)

Joseph Schwartz is transported into the future, where he becomes involved in earth's vicious attempt to control the galaxy. He decides to use his newly developed special powers to save the planet.

The only complete collection of best science fiction stories selected yearly at the World Science Fiction Convention.

When Broke 11 wakes from whatever has caused him to lose consciousness, he is insect-sized and apparently stands little chance of survival in the terrifying world that was once his orchard.

The theme of aging is explored in this story about a war of extermination of the elderly. The novel is set in Buenos Aires during the final political struggles of the Peron regime.

The four novels of Blish's epic of the future are brought together here. They Shall Have Stars begins the cycle on Jupiter, anticipating the time when Earth will be too worn out to support life. A Life for the Stars takes the cities, wrenched from their positions in space by the spin-dizzy, on galactic wanderings in search of means of support. In Earthman, Come Home... this planet's original inhabitants return to destroy their ancient home. The Triumph of Time continues the journey through inter-galactic space to the birthplace of continuing creation.

Earth's empire has become so far-flung that even the fastest spaceships take months to deliver messages. A solution is found in the Dirac transmitter, but the problems become even more complex when someone starts tapping Dirac's secret transmissions.

Two men from earth land on a planet governed by intelligent but cruel apes, who have taken over as humans have become weaker. One of the men, Ulysse Merou, is captured and fights for his freedom.

The answer to the machines on Saturn's star must be found, since it is believed they intend to destroy Earth. Dr. Lee sets out to find the secret and finds his arch-rival thwarting his plans.

Len's grandmother remembers the time of supermarkets, TVs, and movies, all swept away by the Destruction. Only those who could adapt to the old Mennonite ways have survived in a United States bereft of machines, with all towns bigger than 1,000 people prohibited by the Thirtieth Amendment. (See also The Ginger Star, Ballantine.)

A man completely covered with colorful illustrations which move and tell stories tries to find peace and some way of ridding himself of the illustrations. Nineteen stories, which make up the book, are illustrated on the man's body.

The chronicles trace man's exploration and colonization of Mars, ending, finally, when the Martians are the only humans left in the solar system.
A collection of science fiction short stories by one of the better-known writers in the field.

Alvin is the only child to have been born in his city during the last 7,000 years. When his quest for truth and knowledge leads him to the discovery that another city still exists, his people face a very difficult choice.

Earth is suddenly invaded by starships whose masters never appear on earth but still control its inhabitants. Karellen, the only Overlord to have any contact with humans, is never seen. As years pass, the populace grows used to the spaceships' presence, but one day the ships descend and Karellen disembarks. (See also Rendezvous with Rama, Ballantine; and The Sands of Mars, HarBrace.)

A strange monolith, apparently left by an alien being, is the object of a space voyage which includes a computer that goes crazy and the survival of only one of the original five space voyagers.

The author uses fiction to explore some possible worlds of the future—or are they possible?

A secret satellite, intended to analyze the upper atmosphere and then return to earth, lands in a tiny Arizona town, and all but two of its inhabitants die. The effort to discover the cause of the deaths turns into a race to prevent atomic self-destruction.

The author explores the consequences of mind and behavior control by computer. Criminal Harry Benson is brought to University Hospital for an experiment but escapes, and the doctors discover they have unleashed a human time bomb on the public.

(For other medical mysteries see Robert Silverberg, To Live Again, Doubleday, Recalled to Life, Doubleday, and Born with the Dead, Random; Isaac Asimov, Fantastic Voyage, HM; and Clifford Simak, Why Call Them Back from Heaven, Ace Bks.)

When Martin Padway is hurtled back to sixth-century Rome, he quickly adapts himself and sets about to prevent the coming of the Dark Ages by using his knowledge of historical events and by introducing “new” inventions.

"Be fruitful and multiply" is the eleventh commandment, and taken literally and enforced by the Church, earth becomes an overpopulated hell. Bitter, logical, and frightening, even more today than when first published.

A story about an alternate universe pertinent to our own time. Germany and Japan win World War II and divide the United States between them.

Rafe Arnaul Harald investigates the force using earth’s buried energy to paralyze society and prevent a voyage to the stars. A special wolf and a crippled girl become his allies against the world which is exploiting their planet.

A collection of Dickson’s short stories first published in science fiction magazines. (See also The Book of Gordon Dickson, originally published as Danger—Human, DAW Bks.)

This collection of materials about various topics related to the future can be used by anyone trying to cope with a changing world. Nonfiction.

Religion as it pertains to the imagined worlds of tomorrow is explored in this collection of short stories. (See also The Learning Maze, Messner; and Showcase, Har-Raw.)

Noren has become a Scholar, one of his society’s elite, though he once scorned the teachings of his order. Now, however, he finds himself in despair because there seems no chance for the survival of his planet.

Elana is a stowaway on a mission sponsored by a highly advanced civilization. The mission is to save a primitive planet from destruction by a technological society attempting to colonize it.

In the Riverworld, millions of resurrected humans retain their hatreds and prejudices, but they cannot die.

Thirteen offbeat short stories, most of them set in the present, about humanity and its attempts to understand puzzling aspects of nature.

When an accident triggers World War III, the inhabitants of a small survival area in Florida search for leadership that will help them build a new life.

Though the city attempts to repel them, two teams of competing explorers are able to enter it. But they find that solving the mysteries of the city's inhabitants is not so easy.

In November 1963, a dying president is rushed to a hospital where a surgeon takes some cells from the president's neck and through a process of cloning reproduces an apparent identical twin of the president.

Harlie is a computer who thinks he's human, and his psychologist believes that Harlie indeed has an id, an ego, and a superego. But which of these may control Harlie at any one moment is the problem, for Harlie has the emotional characteristics of a child. (See also The Man Who Folded Himself, Popular Lib.)

Kier, the warleader of the planet Rhada, lives far in the future when society has reverted to feudalism and science has become suspect.

These are stories of mechanical devices gone wild and people's ability or inability to cope with the cyborgs we find around us now, berserk washing machines and neurotic automobiles included.

Matthew Dilke is the first man to experiment with a process which reduces him to the size of a small insect. When the experiment succeeds, he and the companions who have joined him are assigned to a secret mission behind the Iron Curtain.

The lighter side of science fiction is featured in this collection of short stories subtitled "science fiction for the fun of it."

Jason din Alt, a successful gambler, chances his life on three deadly planets with separate challenges. On Deathworld 1, he is reconditioned to survive the horrifying assaults of both plants and animals. Kidnapped and removed to Deathworld 2, he discovers a world where man either kills or lives as a slave; on Deathworld 3, man is bred to attack and kill. Jason finds the mental powers he has developed in his life as a gambler his most important weapon.

An overview of science fiction writing with stories by authors like Arthur Clarke and Isaac Asimov.

To a young man newly arrived on Earth after being raised by natives on Mars, human civilization is indeed very strange, and he, with his nonhuman reasoning and talents, is very much the stranger.

The desert planet Arrakis (Dune) is the background for the development of a young alien and his ultimate confirmation as religious leader of the planet’s nomadic natives.

Earth is threatened by a black cloud which has somehow entered the solar system. When all other theories prove unsatisfactory, one of the scientists studying the cloud decides that it contains an alien intelligence and that he must communicate with it.

Mike Jerome is exploring the possibility of writing a science fiction novel when he suddenly finds himself living in the future.

Ketan does not like much of what he knows about his native world, but his attempts to change it lead him to other worlds which have their own problems.

As a result of extraordinary surgery, Charlie Gordon progresses from mental dullness to brilliance. His journal reflects his intellectual and social growth—and his fear of unpredictable dangers which may lie ahead.

After an accident transports George Corson 6,000 years into the future, he continues to move across space and time as he becomes part of a master plan to end war.

The subjects handled in this volume include monsters from outer space and superior intelligences caused by mutation.

Tan Dalton, of Terran's Space Navy, is approached by both the Softliners and the Hardliners as they seek to gain support for their political positions. When he actually confronts his planet's enemies, he has to decide which faction he will support.

Facing many problems on his isolationist planet, Shevek travels to the mother planet, hoping to share his discoveries and to break down some of the barriers between peoples, nations, and planets. Mature.

On the planet Earthsea, a world governed by laws of magic as exact and inevitable as those of science, the boy Sparrowhawk begins a journey in the company of wizards, dragons, shadows, and some ordinary people. (See also The Tombs of Atuan, Atheneum; and The Left Hand of Darkness, Ace Bks.)
When a father fails to return to his children, they are taken on a chilling journey through a wrinkle in time into terrors beyond four-dimensional space.

Uni controls everything, including the selection of names, the administering of the proper amount of depressants to keep people content, and the decision about who may and may not have children. Chip tries to rebel against the control.

Many years after the nuclear war which destroyed most of the world, "black" people who think they are the only survivors decide there may be other life on the planet, and they set out to find it.

A time machine takes two boys and a girl thousands of years into the past where they must cope with a landscape and people quite different from what they are used to.

Ex-private Bernhard, sentenced to hard labor on a prison planet, escapes to the biggest spaceship in the galaxy where all the machinery has been accidentally programmed to adore him, while its inhabitants would gladly cut his throat.

Abandoned by Earth and faced with destruction by the dread silver threads, the men of Pern develop a life form of their planet into winged, tailed, and fire-breathing dragons. (See also Dragonquest, Ballantine; and Decision at Doon, Ballantine.)

The perfect brain in a tiny, useless body is rescued by technology and placed in a new body. No one foresees what will happen to the personality developing along with the brain.

Meredith, Richard C. We All Died at Breakaway Station. Ballantine 1969.
Breakaway Station, a vital communications link between the rim worlds and earth, is endangered, and its only defenders are injured officers restored to a temporary, artificial life by medical and mechanical means. Headed by Captain Absalom Bracer, these part machine, part human are the galaxy's only hope for survival. (See also At the Narrow Passage, Berkley Pub.)

A nuclear holocaust renders earth a barren world inhabited by people who have forgotten how to use the machines and knowledge left behind and who return to a feudal society with all its fears and superstitions.

Four unlikely travelers explore an artificial world so enormous it encircles the sun.

Humans have explored and colonized the galaxy to its farthest reaches but are challenged by an equal power. The first contact with that world ends in the accidental death of the alien emissaries, forcing earth to send representatives on a dash through space to explain the incident and avert war.

Krip Vorland discovers that although Yiktor is a neutral planet, with the power of the three-ringed Moon, the Old Ones can exchange spirits among other beings as they will. (See also The Crystal Gryphon, DAW Bks; and Iron Cage, Viking Pr.)

Billy Gimp is a "bladerunner," one who obtains medical supplies for doctors who practice illicit medicine outside the rules of Health Control. The elaborate system of medicine which Health Control has established works until an epidemic strikes, and then both Billy and his doctor become involved in correcting the problems in the system.

O'Brien, Robert C. Z for Zachariah. Atheneum 1975. Sixteen-year-old Ann Burden thinks she may be the only person in the world to have survived the nuclear holocaust until she sees smoke from a campfire.

Offutt, Andrew J. The Galactic Rejects (© 1973). Dell 1974. Bernie, Cory, and Rinegar are stranded on an unknown planet after the ship taking them from the war area is destroyed. They find themselves still involved in the war, however, but also find that their special talents are helpful in resisting the enemy.

Pesek, Ludek (translator Anthea Bell). The Earth Is Near (© 1973). Bradbury Pr 1974. A psychiatrist relates the experiences of men who make the first manned flight to Mars and find that the mental challenges of the journey may be more troublesome than the physical ones.

Pohl, Frederik, editor. The Expert Dreamers (© 1961). Avon n.d. Sixteen stories of science fiction by scientists such as Isaac Asimov, Arthur C. Clarke, and Fred Hoyle. (See also Carol and Frederik Pohl, editors, Science Fiction: The Great Years, Ace Bks.)

Pohl, Frederik. The Gold at the Starbow's End. Ballantine 1972. Science fiction short stories, including one about space travelers who search for a planet which does not exist and then create their own planet. Mature.

Pohl, Frederik, and C. M. Kornbluth. The Space Merchants. Ballantine 1974. Mitchell Courtenay has been assigned the task of selling people on emigrating to Venus. He encounters all kinds of problems, even though advertising has taken over the world.

51
These stories from the television series contain a mix of science fiction and horror in many forms.

Three short science fiction novels, each dealing with a different theme, including one which explores the deaths of all members of certain animal species.

Eight stories of ventures into uncharted deep space.

All his life, David Selig has known what others think and feel. At first fascinated, he wants finally to control his "gift." Then he finds his power disappearing. (See also Hawksbill Station, Avon; The World Inside, Avon; Downward to the Earth, Doubleday; and The Book of Skulls, Scribner.)

This anthology represents the critics' choice of science fiction and illustrates the evolution of the field. Each of the thirteen stories is accompanied by a commentary by other science fiction writers and critics. Includes a bibliography of science fiction criticism.

Half-humorous, half-serious, Odd John is the study of a mutated superman who must accept the fact that he is different and decide what he will do with his gifts. (See also Sirius, Dover.)

A catastrophe has wiped out almost the entire population of the United States. Ish sets out to build a new life for himself and for the few other persons he finds alive.

"Kiddo" runs away and joins a carnival, never wondering why he remains child-sized even as he grows older. When his benefactor tells him he must run away again, the secret of his origins begins to unfold.

Verne, Jules. 20,000 Leagues under the Sea (© 1869). Bantam 1964.

Years before the submarine was invented, Verne wrote about life under the sea in this classic of science fiction.

Two families living in the last fertile valley of North America are involved in a feud. The land around them is gray and the ocean is pink with death and destruction.

Mysterious radio signals from the planet Uranus lead to a trip through space for two highly trained crews. The real reason behind the radio signals turns out to be even more amazing than any of them had dared to guess.

Science fiction short stories and excerpts from science fiction novels are used to explore questions about God.

A collection of stories by Stanley G. Weinbaum, one of the best science fiction writers of his time.

Since earth is a dying planet, a large group of people have set out to find a new home.

The "enemies" of Project Ceres, an experiment in growing food on desert land, could be any of a number of people. Larry McCombe, whose father heads the project, becomes involved, along with two friends, in trying to find the enemy and prevent disaster.
The winners of the 1973 Nebula Awards, presented by the Science Fiction Writers of America, are included in this collection of stories along with two essays about science fiction.

Arne has grown up believing that the crom are an inferior, dangerous people. When an encounter with one of them leads to his being sent to a mysterious woman with strange powers, he begins to wonder if his people may be wrong about the crom.

Tyree is taught music by Amadeus, the great Argon songmaster of the planet Harmony. But when Amadeus gives a special gift to Tyree’s blind sister, Tyree’s people become frightened.

How will men and animals relate to each other in the future? These tales of science fiction and fantasy, all centering on animals, give some imaginative answers to the question.

Zamyatin, Yevgeny (translator Mirra Ginsberg). We. Bantam 1972.
D-503, living in a world of Reason, discovers he has a soul. This Russian novel is summed up in the heroine’s comment, “I do not want anyone to want for me—I want to want for myself.” Written in 1920-21, the book has not yet been published in Russia.

All worlds are a reflection of Amber, and Corwin, long exiled to the Shadow Earth, must try to return to Amber before Eric crowns himself king. (See also The Guns of Avalon, Avon.)

BEYOND BELIEF

Hazel is the leader of a maverick band of wild rabbits who search for a new home after one of their number prophesies death for those who stay behind. To establish their new warren, they must outwit men and predators and battle their own kind. Fiction.

Kate has always both loved and feared her ancestral home, but when she returns to it, she becomes more aware that another girl lives there and that a fearful secret needs to be unravelled. Fiction.

A young American girl in England with her family travels through a time-warp into the life and daily problems of a peasant girl 100 years ago. Fiction.

A brief history of spiritualism, starting with experiments in hypnosis in the eighteenth century, covering famous mediums like the Fox sisters, Douglas Home, Edgar Cayce, and Arthur Ford, and ending with the author's own experiences with a medium. Nonfiction.

Jan Bartell moves from one place to another, but mysterious happenings occur in every place she lives. This book seems like fiction, but it is a true story of incredible events. Nonfiction.

A lovely but lonely unicorn is captured by carnival people, and she travels with them until a magician turns her into a young princess. Although the plot may seem to be a fairy tale, this novel is not a child's book. Fiction.

Such master mystery writers as Edgar Allan Poe and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle lead the willing reader to the brink of the unknown. Fiction.
A mysterious "force field," UFO activity, magnetic pull from the sunken continent of Atlantis, a time-warp—all are possible explanations for the disappearances of ships and planes in the sinister Bermuda Triangle off the Florida coast. Nonfiction.

Two priests struggle to free twelve-year-old Regan from the powerful demon that possesses her. Fiction.

This work contains the unabridged reprints of these Gothic novels: Walpole's The Castle of Otranto, Beckford's Vathek, and Polidori's The Vampyre. Mature fiction.

"The queen of the Yahoos expresses the royal good by pricking her favorite subjects with pins. . . ." Such events are highlighted in these tales of the occult and bizarre by this Argentine author. Fiction.

On Halloween eight boys are escorted through the land of the dead, from ancient times to the present, to discover what Halloween has meant through the ages. Their guide, Mr. Carapace Clavicle Mound-shroud, helps them to retrieve their good friend Pipkin from an untimely end. Fiction.

Brown has had little formal musical training, yet she composes excellent classical music. Her compositions are dictated, she says, by the spirits of such composers as Beethoven and Bach. Nonfiction.

Stephen, the son of a warrior-king in seventh-century England, is suspected of treason and tortured. His spirit escapes his pain-wracked body and travels through time to Victorian England, where he meets two children who live at the site of his former home. Fiction.

Stories about graves, ghouls, and goblins weird enough to frighten any reader. Fiction.

The editor collects some of the most famous and scary ghost stories in English, among them W. F. Harvey's "August Heat" and W. W. Jacobs's "The Monkey's Paw." Fiction.

The author covers many occult mysteries including ESP and the powers of Uri Geller, the Israeli mentalist. Nonfiction.

Louisa, an aunt at eighteen, takes her niece to spend the summer at the Canfield mansion. While there, the spirit of a dead child tries to take possession of the niece and ruin Louisa's romance. Fiction.

A collection of grisly and ghostly tales of curses, beginning with the ancient Greeks and including some shivery ones of recent origin, such as those associated with the Bermuda Triangle. Nonfiction.

Scientific investigation of parapsychology—supernormal occurrences such as telepathy, clairvoyance, and spirit communication—began in the nineteenth century and continues up to the present day, when the predictions and accomplishments of psychics such as Croiset, Peter Hurkos, and Jeanne Dixon are the subject of research by scientists. Nonfiction.

Reincarnation, living a series of lives one after the other, appeals to many people and religions. The author examines those religious beliefs which seem to suggest the reality of reincarnation and concludes with a discussion of the scientific evidence underlying and attacking it. Nonfiction.
Beyond Belief

Davy was born with the gift to see the thoughts of other people in his own mind. Unfortunately, his gift leads him into the planning of a bank robbery and a confrontation with a man he knows only as "Wolf." Fiction.

The author gave up his job to become photographic director of the Loch Ness Investigation Bureau. The Loch Ness monster, a beast reputedly living in a Scottish lake, and its legends are investigated along with alleged monsters in other countries. Nonfiction.

Fifteen true stories of people who claim to remember living other lives. Nonfiction.

Peter Proud is a handsome, young college professor with everything going for him. He only has one problem: he keeps having weird dreams. Then Peter finds that the dreams are really manifestations of a previous life. Mature fiction.

Dracula, born Vlad Tepes in 1431, was a Romanian prince whose cruelties have become legendary. In his short lifetime, Dracula allegedly killed between 40,000 and 100,000 people by driving a stake through his victims. Nonfiction.

One of the world's most famous mediums, Arthur Ford, discusses his unique talent, describes some of the more famous readings he has given, and gives some theories about the nature of psychic phenomena. (See also Nothing So Strange, Paperback Lib.) Nonfiction.
Beyond Belief

The Israeli psychic-performer-clairvoyant learned about his mental powers when he was very young. His performances and mental tricks are currently being investigated by scientists. Nonfiction.

A do-it-yourself guide to self-knowledge through astrology, with charts showing the positions of the planets during the last century and sections describing their influence. Nonfiction.

Do witches really exist? Can magic do what it says it can? Can black magic kill? Answers are based on long traditions of witchcraft and magic in primitive and advanced societies. Nonfiction.

In an isolated English town, a woman whose husband disappeared years before opens her house to some strange young people. One of them begins a series of frightening mental experiments, and sinister events finally lead to a series of murders. Fiction.

Superstition! is a resource book about the origins, persistence, and bases for superstitions in all areas of life. The book includes a bibliography for further reading. Nonfiction.

Judith Osmond knows that two archaeologists have died, supposedly because of the curse of Egyptian kings. She is not personally touched until a young archaeologist who will carry on the investigations into the kings' tombs asks her to marry him. Fiction.

Readers interested in ESP, astrology, palmistry, numerology, and the like will find this informal exploration of psychic feats informative. Nonfiction.

Jackson, Shirley. We Have Always Lived in the Castle. Viking Pr 1962.
Two sisters and their senile uncle live in comfortable isolation, avoided by the townspeople who think one of the sisters poisoned four other members of the family. The arrival of "cousin" Charles and a fire contribute to the tension before the murderer is identified. Fiction.

This volume contains sixteen suspense stories that will keep readers delightfully scared and entertained. Fiction.

Two orphan children from another planet try to find their way back to their own people. Tony and Tia are pursued by a villain who wants to capture them and use their extraordinary powers for evil. Fiction.

After her father's death, Allison Parker wants only the peace and quiet she seems to have found in an old brownstone apartment. Then the headaches begin and her neighbors look less and less normal and more and more frightening. Fiction.

The Bermuda Triangle area of the Caribbean Sea has been the subject of much mystery and investigation since ships and airplanes have been lost in it. The author analyzes the evidence and comes up with his own original theory. Nonfiction.

When Ruth and Anna Hennessy move to an old cottage near Wyndcliffe, England, Ruth starts a busy social life, but Anna is lonely until she meets the spirit of John Hollis who lived in Wyndcliffe 150 years ago. Fiction.
Young Arren and Ged, Earthsea's chief enchanter, travel beyond the world's end to the land of the dead to stop the disappearance of magic from Earthsea. Fiction.

These eleven stories about the supernatural include ones about a boy who turns his teacher into a rabbit and a young man who is afraid of mirrors. Fiction.

Fourteen authors, from Mary Shelley to Shirley Jackson, tell stories about ghosts and goblins and things that go bump in the night. Fiction.

"Unique Summer Home, restful, secluded. Perfect for large family." Marian and David Rolfe look into this summer retreat and find unbelievable evil and horror. Mature fiction.

Ghosts is a collection of tales by famous authors from all over the world. Some are "true" and others are purely fiction. Fiction.

The author relates true stories of psychic experiences, including her own communications with spirits through automatic writing. (See also Here and Hereafter, Fawcett World; A Gift of Prophecy, Bantam; and A World Beyond, Coward.) Nonfiction.

A parapsychologist who works in a laboratory at the University of California, Los Angeles, reports on research in Kirlian photography, telepathy, and the reaches of the mind. Nonfiction.
Beyond Belief

After Bishop Pike's son Jim committed suicide, strange things began to happen in his father's house. As a result of this "haunting" and a televised sitting with medium Arthur Ford, the bishop came to believe that Jim's soul was alive and existed in another dimension. Nonfiction.

The spirit of Seth speaks through the body of the author on such subjects as reincarnation, life after death, the nature of the soul and of reality. Mature nonfiction.

Amy and Jack Bishop move to Long Island, New York, so Jack will be able to write and edit. The peace and quiet they seek turns into a nightmare when a few stray cats near their farm multiply and start attacking humans. Fiction.

Ellen discovers that the ghost of a young woman who died tragically many years before is inhabiting her body in order to uncover an old mystery. Fiction.

Interviews with Californians interested in and involved with the occult, voodoo, Tarot, witches and warlocks, mediums, UFOs, astrology and Satanism. Nonfiction.

The lives of newlyweds Richard and Celia are threatened by memories of a tragic love affair in another lifetime when he was a priest and she was his mistress in sixteenth-century England. Fiction.

Shelley, Mary. Frankenstein (or, the Modern Prometheus) (© 1818). Dell 1965.

Victor Frankenstein, student of science and venturer into the unknown, successfully creates life in the form of a monster. Mistreated and misunderstood by society, the monster gains a measure of revenge. Fiction.

On a school bus trip, epileptic Katie visits an antique shop and sees a portrait of a woman long dead who looks exactly like Katie. Frightened and yet fascinated, she has a seizure and crosses the boundary of time into the past. (See also The Girl Who Knew Tomorrow, Morrow.) Fiction.

After young Jason Morey has been present in the Kessler home for a time, the Kesslers find that a poltergeist, a noisy and mischievous ghost, has also taken up residence with them. The family then tries to rid themselves of their unwanted visitor. Fiction.

Five sixteen-year-old orphans are taken daily to the "house of stairs" where they are guinea pigs in a psychological experiment. Although they do not know it, they are being prepared for a future society where they will be robots for a master class. Fiction.

The story of the mystic Edgar Cayce, who could diagnose other people's physical and mental ailments in his sleep. (See also Yoga, Youth, and Reincarnation, Bantam; The Miracle Workers, Bantam; and The Search for a Soul: Taylor Caldwell's Psychic Lives, Fawcett World.) Nonfiction.

Steele, Mary Q. Journey Outside. Viking Pr 1969.
Floating down an underground river on a raft with his grandfather, Dilar jumps onto a rock and from there into a completely new, frightening, and beautiful world. Fiction.

Stevenson, Robert Louis. Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde (© 1886). Bantam n.d.
Dr. Jekyll is respected and admired, but his experiments lead to discovering a formula which drastically changes his appearance and personality. Fiction.
Stoker, Bram. Dracula (© 1897). Dell n.d.
The famous horror story set in the forests of Transylvania about the century-old vampire Dracula and his lust and need for human blood. Fiction.

Erin lives in New York City today, and Irun lives in ancient Egypt, but both girls have much in common. Erin is fascinated by the past, Irun thinks constantly of the future, and a cat named Ta-she is prominent in both their lives. Fiction.

In this trilogy (The Fellowship of the Ring, The Two Towers, and The Return of the King) the mythical world of Middle Earth is inhabited by many fantastic creatures, including the peaceful and fun-loving Hobbits. Frodo, a Hobbit and the hero of the cycle, is entrusted with a magic ring which he must protect on his long, eventful journey to Mount Doom, the center of all evil in Middle Earth. Mature fiction.

An encyclopedia of people, places, and things associated with the history and practice of witchcraft. Nonfiction.

Prehistoric visits to earth by beings from other planets are one man's explanation for some of the archaeological mysteries of our world. Nonfiction.

These stories have creepy settings: bleak corners of New England, haunted houses in old England, the misty coast of the English Channel; American country mansions with long passageways leading to distant servants' quarters. Mature fiction.

When his portrait is completed, Dorian Gray regrets... that the portrait will forever remain youthful while he ages. He says that he would sell his soul to keep his youth. Before long, friends begin to notice changes in the picture. Fiction.

Zindel, Paul. Let Me Hear You Whisper: A Play (© 1970). Har-Row 1974. Scientists try to teach a dolphin to speak. The dolphin, however, knows they are up to no good and will talk only to the kindly old cleaning lady. Fiction.

LOVE

Agee, James. A Death in the Family (© 1957). Bantam 1971. In this novel about love's power to hold a family together in the face of tragedy, a man dies in an auto accident, leaving behind his wife and his family. Mature fiction.

themselves so that people would begin to think about love and peace. Asinol, a magazine writer, was assigned to interview families and friends about why Joan and Craig, both popular and bright, would commit suicide. Nonfiction.

When author Jane Austen died in 1817, she left an unfinished fragment of a novel, Sanditon, behind. "Another Lady," using Austen's style and tone, completed the story of Charlotte Heywood who is invited to stay at a seaside resort where she meets fortune hunters and finds love. Fiction.

Focuses on questions dealing with finances, use of leisure time, sex and family planning, and relationships with inlaws and friends. Relevant to young people whether marriage is an immediate reality or a distant possibility. Nonfiction.

In frank street talk, Tish tells her love story. She is nineteen, black, pregnant by and in love with Fonny, a sculptor who planned to marry her before he was put in jail on a false charge. Mature fiction.

An unwed pregnant girl goes to a roominghouse to await the birth of her baby. Her few months there change her life and the lives of the other boarders. Fiction.

Johann and Marianne, a quiet, conventional married couple, believe their marriage is nearly perfect. Slowly, Marianne recognizes that something is wrong, and then Johann reveals he is in love with someone else. Much later they meet again. Mature fiction.

Blume, Judy. Forever ... Bradbury Pr 1975.
Katherine and Michael both believe that their love and passion will last forever, and the excitement of first love and first sex seems overwhelming, but...
Some language and situations will offend some readers. Fiction.

Heathcliff, an orphan, falls in love with Catherine Earnshaw. Although class differences prevent their marriage, their love continues long after her death. Fiction.

A historical romance set in fourteenth-century England. Anne Richmond, a rebellious sixteen year old, refuses to stay at her aunt's convent to learn womanly skills and instead runs away to London with the hope of becoming an entertainer. Fiction.

A young couple, much in love, are killed in a motorcycle accident and struggle to be reunited in heaven. A novel about people and religion and love. Fiction.

After the sudden death of her husband, Lalage goes to Coolna-Grena, a lovely but decaying house on the Irish coast. She rebuilds the house and her life with the help of the handsome and mysterious Gregory. Fiction.

Nick, a young Midwesterner, lives in a cottage near Jay Gatsby's fabulous East Coast estate. He learns that the great Gatsby is the self-created myth of a young man from the wrong side of the tracks who happened to fall in love with socialite Daisy. Fiction.

The love story of Emma Bovary, married to a dull but faithful husband whom she leaves in search of her great love and finds nothing but tragedy. Mature fiction.
Thirteen-year-old Jessica Vye wants to be a writer. This ambition causes conflicts with her straight teachers, giggly schoolmates, and socially conscious mother, but it also leads her to romance. Fiction.

Scobie, an assistant police commissioner in West Africa and a devout Roman Catholic, is torn between his love for his wife and his passion for a young girl. Mature fiction.

M. C. Higgins daydreams on a forty-foot flagpole towering over his home on Sarah’s Mountain. His encounter with a young wanderer helps him to realize that fleeing the hills is not the answer for him. Fiction.

The summer that three cousins—Cat, Toby, and Miranda—spend in their ancestral home, a castle on a Scottish island, not only opens the door on the past but foreshadows problems for Cat. Fiction.

During one summer, a beautiful and wealthy lady becomes the lover of a farmer. A very young boy who becomes their go-between is more changed by the experience than the two lovers. Fiction.

Living in the South American jungle, Abel finds that Indians will not go near one area they think is haunted. The ghost turns out to be a mysterious girl named Rimi with whom Abel falls in love. Fiction.

The author writes about a Utah mining town, unemployment in the 1920s and 1930s, his mother and father, and a deep love they felt for each other despite adversity. Nonfiction.
Kikuji's father may be dead, but the father's love life and his women haunt his son who seeks out elements of his father's past to appease his own feelings of guilt. (See also The Sound of the Mountain, Berkley Pub.) Fiction.

Neville, the mad cook who comes with the house Brenan Lucas rents for a summer in the south of France, disrupts the love among Brenan, his mother, sister, and a friend who is also the sister's fiance. Mature fiction.

The Tates declare war in a four-way conflict involving Brian, Erica, and their adolescent son and daughter, with some minor battles with the environment, academia, friends, and the counter culture. Mature fiction.

Psychotherapist Rollo May has treated many patients who are guilt-ridden or deeply disturbed by the sexual and moral revolution. In this frank book, May shows how sex and love are interrelated and not separable. Mature nonfiction.

Kate Adams, pursued by the town's most eligible fellow, is strangely attracted to Dave Burdick, a ruggedly individualistic classmate who is more interested in raising chickens than in belonging to the "in" crowd. Fiction.

Mark Twain fell in love with Livy Langdon when he first saw her in a small photograph. His campaign to win her over the objections of her family is covered in this somewhat fictionalized account of a true story. Fiction.

On his way to his freshman year in college, Jerry Payne meets Pookie Adams. Their love affair runs into problems because of Pookie's personality. Fiction.
A beautiful young Japanese girl finds love and adventure with a young samurai warrior during a civil war in feudal Japan. Fiction.

Feared by townspeople, Morag is a wild child of the woods who wants only love and companionship. An airplane crash provides Morag with a temporary companion, a kind of love, and some reason for living. Fiction.

Born of Hollywood film parents, the author was the divorced mother of two and a speed addict when she fell in love with a gentle, brilliant mathematician. In frank language she relates how their mutual love brought them from the depths of an emotional hell into a genuine and abiding relationship. Mature nonfiction.

The love story of Neil Klugman, librarian, and Brenda Patimkin, beautiful daughter of a nouveau-riche plumber, that satirizes the romance and the contrast between the two lifestyles. Fiction.

Brief poems about nature and the many faces of love.

After she shoots him and then nurses him back to health, Mary Dove, orphaned daughter of a sheep farmer, and Red, a cowboy, fall in love. Then Red comes to realize that the innocent Mary Dove is different. Fiction.

Mrs. Stevens attempts to help Mary, a poetically talented college dropout, deal with a powerful homosexual experience involving one of his professors; this action brings her to consider her own situation: what does it mean to be a woman and a writer? Mature fiction.

Stanford, Gene, and Barbara Stanford, editors. Love Has Many Faces. WSP 1973. Short stories, poems, essays, and interviews with teenagers which explore romance, differences in male and female views of love, cultural views of love, and qualities of mature and lasting love.

Stoltz, Mary. A Love, or a Season. Har-Row 1964. Nan and Harry have been friends since childhood, but in her sixteenth summer, Nan discovers that their relationship is changing toward a physical love she both wants and fears. Fiction.

Tolstoy, Leo (translator Rosemary Edmonds). Anna Karenina. Penguin 1960. Although she loves her young son, Anna finds her husband cold and distant. She falls in love with Count Vronsky, and they run off together despite the condemnation of society. First published in 1875. Mature fiction.

Tyler, Ann. The Clock Winder. Knopf 1972. At twenty, easygoing Elizabeth Abbott is the kind of girl who takes a job as a handyman, finds rides from the nearest bulletin board, and says "I don't" when she gets to the altar. Fiction.

Wakefield, Dan. Starting Over. Dell 1974. Told with compassionate humor, this is the story of Phil Potter, recently divorced and starting over. First as lovers and finally as friends, Phil and Marilyn, also recently divorced, help each other through frustrations, temptations, promiscuous sex, alcohol, women's lib, and group therapy. Mature fiction.
Walsh, Jill Paton. Goldengrove (© 1972). Avon 1973. Separated most of the time by the hatred of their parents, Madge and Paul spend summers at their grandmother's seaside home and learn something about themselves. (See also Fireweed, Avon.) Fiction.

Westheimer, David. My Sweet Charlie (© 1965). NAL n.d. A black intellectual man and a not too bright Southern girl are both fugitives. Forced to share shelter and food, their relationship gradually changes from hate to fear to love. Fiction.

Willis, Jack, and Mary Willis. "... But There Are Always Miracles"—Viking Pr 1974. Paralyzed from the waist down in a surfing accident, Jack Willis struggles through months of treatment and therapy. His fiancee struggles just as hard. Nonfiction.

COMING OF AGE

Bach, Alice. Mollie Make-Believe. Har-Row 1974. Mollie's strict and conventional family has always controlled her and what she thinks she wants. Her grandmother's illness and an accidental meeting with a boy make her question her too easy acceptance of other people's values. (See also They'll Never Make a Movie Starring Me, Dell.) Fiction.

Barnouw, Victor. Dream of the Blue Heron. Delacorte 1966. Wabus is raised by his Chippewa grandparents in the old ways of the tribe and then is suddenly thrust into a white school by his father who lives and works in the modern white world. Fiction.

Benchley, Nathaniel. Only Earth and Sky Last Forever (© 1972). Schol Bk Serv 1973. Dark Elk, an inexperienced brave, seeks desperately to prove himself in battle against the white soldiers in order to gain the hand of the beautiful Lashuka. His efforts eventually take him with Crazy Horse to the Little Big Horn. Fiction.

- When Tony Miglione's father suddenly becomes prosperous, he finds affluence can create problems. They move to a swank suburban neighborhood where Tony finds the preteen years difficult to adjust to. Fiction.

Rufus Henry, on probation for auto theft, struggles to escape from the violent world of street gangs. Fiction.

- Young Thomas Black Bull knows the songs and ways of his Ute ancestors. Following his parents' deaths, he is dragged into the white people's world where he gains fame as a rodeo star. Fiction.

Young Jeremy hates to leave Stony Crick in the Appalachians, but he hates even more his family's move to Chicago. The big city proves even more ominous than he had feared. Fiction.

The summer of 1928 was the last summer Doug was a kid. Miracles then were everyday occurrences to this extraordinary boy who wants to squeeze every last drop out of summer. Fiction.

A southern boy, Josh Arnold, is sent with his mother to a little New Mexico town to wait out World War II. Coping with the Mexican-American language and customs, Josh learns about another culture and about himself. Mature fiction.

Jane's mother runs off to India, her father takes off again, and Jane goes off to Tottenville to find herself. (See also Meanwhile, Back at the Castle, Dell; and Why Not Join the Giraffes?, Dell.) Fiction.
Little Janet Walsh earns a living for her ding-a-ling sister by calling the numbers in Fat Charlie's floating crap game, while evading the neighbors, her social worker, and the law. Fiction.

Crop failure strikes a North Carolina family, and they set off for Chicago, the city of promise. (See also Grover, Lippincott.) Fiction.

Clements, Bruce. The Face of Abraham Candle. FS&G—1969.
Fatherless Abraham Candle leaves his Colorado home to seek Indian artifacts at the Mesa Verde ruins.
While he is digging for his fortune, he remembers the parables his father had once told him. (See also I Tell a Lie Every So Often, FS&G.) Fiction.

An eighteen-year-old girl sees the realities of the movie world when she becomes a script supervisor for a film being shot in Mexico. Fiction.

Corcoran, Barbara. The Lifestyle of Robie Tuckerman.
When Robie's father, a Hollywood writer, decides to take the family off to Mexico to find himself, she decides to go along. Fiction.

Young Zach Kenebec, the last living member of the Agawa tribe, sets out on a cross-country odyssey to find some clues to his tribal identity. Fiction.

Bantam 1964.
This realistic story of a young soldier during the Civil War is a powerful account of the horror of war and how it changes a boy into a man. Mature fiction.

The influence of an ill-chosen friend introduces conflict and tragedy into the life of a ninth grade boy. This book contains language which may be objectionable to some. Fiction.

Brent falls through a trap door in the barn and breaks his back. His stay in the hospital is made tolerable through his friendship with his roommate, Kirk, and a girl named Amy. Fiction.

Daly, Maureen. Seventeenth Summer (© 1942). PB n.d.

Angie Morrow at seventeen—finds herself propelled into the "in" group, largely because of her dates with Jack Duluth, basketball star. Fiction.

Davy moves to New York City to live with his mother and is lonely until he makes friends with a bright but moody classmate. Fiction.

A large farm family dies one by one leaving only John to run the farm on a desolate, rattlesnake-ridden mountain. Then a stray animal becomes an important part of John's life. Fiction.

Three girls, abandoned by their mother, attempt to keep neighbors from finding out about their situation. Fiction.

When Billy leaves his reservation and comes to an Indian school in Phoenix, he has trouble adjusting to his new classmates. Fiction.

A ten-year-old black boy sees policemen kill a young black basketball star. The policemen claim the victim was involved in a robbery, and the community brings pressure on the boy to go along with the policemen's story. Fiction.

The black Sheridan family has two problems: a fat, eleven-year-old daughter who wants to be a lawyer and a skinny seven-year-old son who wants to tap-dance his way to stardom. Fiction.

Jessie Bollier, thirteen, is kidnapped and taken aboard a slave ship bound for Africa. On the trip back to America he is ordered to play his fife so that the slaves will dance and thus stay in decent physical condition for sale in the United States. For Jessie the voyage home is a bitter experience of oppression, human suffering, and compassion for the victims transformed into hate. The book was awarded the 1974 John Newbery Medal but has been criticized for an inaccurate presentation of the slave trade and an insensitive treatment of black characters. Fiction.

In a diary, Anne, a young Dutch Jewish girl, details the events from June 1942 when she and her family hide from the Gestapo until August 1944 when the family is captured. Nonfiction.

Delphie Doud's growing-up years are spent moving from place to place as her impoverished father tries to make a living for his family. Fiction.

Alone and without food among a pack of Arctic wolves, a thirteen-year-old Eskimo girl discovers love as she struggles to survive on the vast tundra. Fiction.

Fifteen-year-old Freddy has looked forward all year to returning with her family to their vacation home so she can renew her summer relationship with longtime friend Dave. But college has changed him. Fiction.
Coming of Age

Greenberg, Joanne. Rites of Passage. HR&W 1972.
Stories that speak about the experiences of adolescence. Fiction.

Green, Constance C. A Girl Called Al. Viking Pr 1969.
Al (short for Alexandra) and her best friend deal with the twin problems of divorce and growing up by trying hard to be nonconformists. Fiction.

When Billy White Hawk's mother dies and his best friend commits suicide, Billy knows he must leave his Idaho reservation. But his move to San Francisco only makes things worse. Fiction.

Jesse Gilford, a broken-down rodeo rider, and Al try to face life without the wife and mother who has deserted them. Mature fiction.

Sixteen-year-old Cat (short for Catherine Anne) runs away from a father and mother who fight and ends up in Canada in a highway accident. Fiction.

Two young people who "have to get married" find that the love they shared as high school students isn't enough to hold a marriage together. Fiction.

Nearing his eighteenth birthday, Jeremy must decide whether he will protest the Vietnam War and stay at home or flee to Canada. Fiction.

A rabble-rousing teacher and several young revolutionary students disrupt an entire high school. Fiction.

Byron confronts the problems of drugs, alcohol, and betrayal when he faces losing his best friend. Fiction.

Peg lives in Italy with her unconventional mother and stepfather. Curious about her real father, Peg keeps questioning her mother only to discover that he is coming to visit and her mother is dying. Mature fiction.

This is the story of what happens when four young people meet and change each other because of the Second Heart, the ancient Indian metaphor for courage. Fiction.

Young Jethro Creighton is left home to work the Illinois farm while the men in his family go off to fight the Civil War. Fiction.

Julie Trelling's growing-up years are made difficult by the death of her mother, the marriage of her beloved sister, and the close supervision of her strict Aunt Cordelia. Fiction.

Stephen Daedalus, a sensitive and artistic Irish-Catholic growing up in Dublin, rebels against his family, school, and traditional religion. Mature fiction.

Handsome and popular sixteen-year-old Alan Bennett has his entire world toppled when plain and balding Duncan Stein begins a school paper and becomes the most popular boy in the school. Fiction.

Adam hides from the fame his father gained as a presidential advisor who dates starlets, and Brenda fights her mother's concept of what a woman should be. Fiction.

Gene, the narrator, both admires and envies Finny, his athletic and handsome friend. One summer during the early years of World War II, Finny is injured diving from a tree into a river near their English boarding school, and Gene has to face himself and his involvement in the accident. Fiction.

Is Rynn a lonely, innocent young girl trying to build a life for herself in a hostile world—or is she a clever murderer? Fiction.

High school-aged Sioux Indians in twelve short stories about ranching, poverty, sport, a beauty pageant, protest, education, and suicide. All experience the conflict between tribal culture and the ways of the dominant white society. Fiction.

Luke Sawyer, whose life has been centered on his boyhood gang and their clubhouse in a Southern river town, meets Milo and learns what it is to have a broken heart. Fiction.

Enie longs to escape from Tired Creek, Alabama, and her widowed father she has grown to dislike, but college and a teaching career seem unlikely destinations for her. Fiction.

As he examines his life, Huw Morgan recognizes the coal mines as a dominant force in his Welsh community and in his own youth. Fiction.

Offered a basketball scholarship, Jay hopes that attending college will allow him to leave his home on the Chuala Indian Reservation forever. Fiction.
Maude Reed, a fifteenth-century British girl, seems destined for a role as a royal lady, but she wants to be a wool merchant.

Laurel is anxious to leave her small mountain town in the South, but her plans change when a young Indian boy moves to her neighborhood. Fiction.

Lonely Jessie lives with a cousin and dreams of becoming important and famous. When Toby comes for a visit, Jessie falls in love and decides to travel by cab to see him. Fiction.

When Joey's parents get a divorce he thinks it must be his fault. He can't see why his dad won't come home if Joey promises to change. Fiction.

McCullers, Carson. The Member of the Wedding. HM 1946.
Frankie Addams, twelve years old, is a loner but feels she finally has someone to belong to when her brother returns home from the army. Her feelings are crushed, however, when he marries and doesn't take her on his honeymoon, yet slowly she recovers from her imagined rejection. Mature fiction.

Three young people, Sonny, Jacy, and Duane, grow up in dusty and desolate Thalia, Texas, where the most exciting event is going to the movies. Some sexually explicit scenes. (See also Hud, original title Horseman, Pass By, Har-Row.) Fiction.

Written by a Kiowa Indian, this Pulitzer Prize novel tells the story of Abel, a World War II veteran who returns to his reservation after the war but finds the old beliefs and traditions are now meaningless to him.
After committing a murder and serving out a prison sentence, he takes a job in Los Angeles and becomes involved with an Indian mission. Eventually he returns to the reservation at the moment of his grandfather's death. Mature fiction.

Murphy, Patrick J., and Shirley Rousseau Murphy. Car-Set in Panama City, this story is about a boy paroled to a Spanish boat builder and how he learns to play a role in shaping his own life. Fiction.

Elly, a high school junior, has always wanted to know her beautiful German cousin, Margot. But she finds that Margot and her mother are not what she expected when they flee Hitler's Germany during World War II and move in with Elly's family. Fiction.

Ney, John. Ox, the Story of a Kid at the Top (© 1970).
Bantam 1971.
Ox is a fat twelve year old who has spent two years in fourth grade. His wealthy parents are drunks and nobody care much about him. Assigned to write a paper on cows, he takes a week-long trip with his father. Fiction.

O'Dell, Scott. Island of the Blue Dolphins (© 1960).
Dell 1971.
The story of a young Indian girl left to fend for herself on an island off the California coast for nearly twenty years. Fiction.

Paterson, Katherine. The Sign of the Chrysanthemum.
A young Japanese boy searching for his father, a samurai warrior, finds himself caught up in the violence of feudal Japan. Fiction.

Peck, Robert Newton. A Day No Pigs Would Die (©
A thirteen year old narrates the story of his growing up as a farmboy in Vermont in the 1920s. Maturity comes early for young Rob when hard times bring the Roger's mother is too concerned with herself to pay any attention to him, and his father is wrapped up in his career in California. Handicapped by this and his severe speech impediment, Roger withdraws into schizophrenia. Fiction.

Two Jewish boys grow up in Brooklyn, one Hasidic, one Orthodox. Danny and Reuven are good friends but live in entirely different worlds. Fiction.

Naomi is only eleven but she is worried about what she will grow up to be and about her life and the lives of her five brothers and one sister. Fiction.

Raucher, Herman. Summer of '42. Dell 1971.
Three young adolescent boys live their last moments of innocence during the early years of World War II. Mature fiction.

Jody Baxter learns that life isn't always good in this classic animal story involving a fawn, dogs, bears, and all the other creatures that inhabit the Florida backwoods. Fiction.

Young Billy Coleman is convinced his Old Dan and Little Ann are the finest coon hounds anywhere. They get a chance to prove themselves in a championship hunt. Fiction.

Eleven-year-old Jay-Jay runs away and becomes a modern Robinson Crusoe with Central Park in New York as his desert island. Fiction.
Billy Catlett loves his summer work as a horse wrangler; for him, it's a perfect life. Then the Depression comes, and Billy faces one problem after another; but in losing his perfect life, he gains maturity. Fiction.

Duddy Kravitz, an ambitious Jewish boy from the streets of Montreal, schemes and hustles his way to his heart's desire. His adventures are full of zest and humor, but they could offend some readers. Fiction.

The adventures of Raymond Buttes and his teacher show Raymond growing up in the nineteenth-century world of the Adirondacks. Fiction.

To Danny Fisher, growing up in Flatbush with his depression-scarred and stern father and the frustrations of poverty, the prizefighting ring promises a way out. Mature fiction.

Chosen to help young people gain insight into themselves, the stories concern growing up and outlooks for the future. Fiction.

Sixteen-year-old Maclovio finds that, as a result of the 1914 Revolution, he can no longer paint miracles but becomes a man who lives and sees them. Fiction.

In 1925, Peakie is almost eighteen and full of dreams and fantasies about life but especially about men and love. Then on a trip to Europe she meets a handsome British lord. Fiction.

A collection of cartoons, pictures, poems, ads, and articles about love and about being male or female today.
Holden Caulfield is dismissed from Pencey Prep and, without telling his parents, returns home to New York City. Sometimes haltingly and sometimes humorously, he tells his story of inescapable encounters with hypocrisy and the "phonies" among his classmates and in the adult world. Fiction.

Aimed at teenage girls, this book explores the development of values in several areas: jobs, marriage, religious beliefs, family relationships, drugs, and sex. Jointly written by a clinical psychologist and a professional writer. Nonfiction.

An awkward, self-conscious young man, "Whichaway" is ignored by almost everyone and expected only to keep the windmills running. His enduring three days in great pain trapped on a windmill begins to turn his life around. Fiction.

Two English youngsters go to live with their shiftless uncle after the death of their parents. Fiction.

Almost seventeen, Graham Hollis is left alone for the first time when his parents go on a week vacation. He takes a part-time restaurant job and meets a waitress who has been around. Fiction.

Thirteen-year-old Kathy (the ninety-eight-pound duckling) begins her slow transformation into a swan in this novel about the awkward age. Fiction.

Ellen blames her parents when her fiancé visits their Coming of Age

Montana wheat farm and, finding her family and their life dull and different from his own, breaks their engagement. Fiction.

Benjamin Braddock graduates from college and returns to his home town. His parents and his friends are all interested in helping him into business but are not willing to listen to his doubts about himself and his future. An affair and then real love clear up some of his confusion. At times, a very funny book, but some situations may offend some readers. Mature fiction.

When Marcia's widowed father marries a perfectionist with kids who are near geniuses, Marcia begins to conform to their high standards and finds that she is losing her own personality. Mature fiction.

In this delightful and sensitive novel set on a ranch in California, Cress Delahanty changes from a twelve-year-old girl to a sixteen-year-old woman. Fiction.

His friends and community expect Manolo Oliver to follow in the footsteps of his father, a great Spanish bullfighter. Confused, frightened, but wanting to prove himself, Manolo learns to recognize his limitations and overcome his fears. Winner of the 1965 John Newbery Medal. Fiction.

A young deaf girl is drawn into the world of humanity by a baby and a marble statue of the Christ Child. Fiction.

Tom Thompson just can't seem to put his life together and is given one more chance when an injured seagull becomes mascot at Last Chance High. Fiction.
A seventeen-year-old boy struggles to deal with the truths about himself—his fear of failure, his con man father, his friends who have died. Fiction.

An unwanted Russian orphan boy tries to survive in a world made up of adults who do not want him. Fiction.

Both a poor thirteen-year-old boy and the crippled daughter of a wealthy rancher claim ownership of a wild Welsh pony, a dispute that eventually involves an entire community. Fiction.

Unusual things happen when David Schoen begins college at M.I.T. and Henry Birnbaum, his closest friend, goes to Oberlin. (See also Earwax, HM.) Fiction.

Beckman, Gunnel. Admission to the Feast. HR&W 1972.
A sixteen-year-old Swedish girl, learning that she is going to die of leukemia, leaves her mother and fiancé and goes off to a summer cottage to write a long searching letter to a friend. Fiction.

The author explains the need for underground publications in high schools and describes the development of the one he edited. Some frank language. Nonfiction.

The three Newman children, ranging in age from six to fifteen, all experience repercussions when their mother and father separate and plan a divorce. Fiction.

Mini-essays written by teenagers on subjects such as friendship, the drug scene, suicide, and love. Accompanying photographs taken by teenagers. Nonfiction.

Cathy Wheeler, blind since she was fourteen, is stunned when her college's speech department chairman suggests that she abandon her plans to become a speech therapist. (See also Light a Single Candle, PB.) Fiction.

It's not until fourteen-year-old Sara's mentally retarded brother, Charlie, is lost that she takes her mind off her own troubles. Fiction.

Fourteen-year-old Mary Call keeps her orphaned brothers and sisters together and provides strength and help for them. (See also The Whys and Wherefores of Littabelle Lee, Athenaeum; Grower, Lippincott; Lady Ellen Gray, Lippincott; and I Would Rather Be a Turnip, Lippincott.) Fiction.

Feelings of anxiety, desire for popularity, the war between parents and their children, sexual changes, sexual feelings and their consequences are teenage problems dealt with frankly here. Nonfiction.

Jerry Renault, freshman in a Catholic boys' school, discovers the devastating consequences of refusing to join the school's annual fund raising drive. Frank language and situations. Fiction.

The treatment Paul receives from a sadistic headmaster and his growing friendship with a German boy make him want to run away from a Montreal boys' home. Candid language. Fiction.
Problems and Young People

A collection of articles and editorials and cartoons from recent high school underground newspapers, including recommendations by students for improving one school system. Nonfiction.

Harry, fourteen and a cynic with an unstable home life, meets Amelia, a seventy-two-year-old rebel who cusses like a sailor and begs for a living. Fiction.

A young English teacher, bored with regular public schools, takes a job teaching in a home for young unwed mothers and learns that understanding the problems of her girls is more important than any subject matter. Fiction.

Tomboy, a fifteen-year-old deb in the Harps street gang is tougher than most of the guys and plans their cruel capers. Fiction.

Her parents do not want Bonnie Jo to have an abortion, but she gets enough money together to travel to New York City and to a doctor who will operate. (See also The Phaedra Complex, Berkley Pub; The Girl Inside, Berkley Pub; Escape from Nowhere, Berkley Pub; and A Girl like Me, Berkley Pub.) Fiction.

Biased but perceptive comments about the treatment of young people in schools, grades, and suggestions for changing the system. Some strong language and many ideas that will offend adults. Mature nonfiction.
Twelve-year-old Carrie and her half brother Ben go to Boston to search for a stranger with a habit of vanishing. Fiction.

“Alice” is the pseudonym of a normal, fifteen-year-old girl from a good home who turned on to drugs and found they really make the world a better place—for a while. Realistic language and sometimes shocking episodes. Mature fiction.

William Melvin Kelley, John Updike, and Carson McCullers are some of the authors whose works appear in this collection which focuses upon the frequent anguish of adolescence. Fiction.

A schizophrenic at sixteen, Deborah Blau is committed to a mental institution where she begins the slow process of abandoning the self-destructive forces of her inner world. Fiction.

Phyllisia Cathy, a bright West Indian girl, is rejected by everyone in her school except Edith when she moves to Harlem. Fiction.

With just a few weeks to go until graduation, Peter Marks gets arrested for speeding in a “borrowed” car. Out on probation, Peter finds those remaining weeks the rockiest of his life. Fiction.

Tom Naylor and his mother move to a small Iowa town after his mother’s divorce. Because Tom plays the piano and is sensitive, people begin to suspect he is a homosexual. Fiction.

Junior Brown, a 300-pound musical prodigy with a neurotic, overprotective mother, and Buddy Clark, a loner known to dozens of homeless waifs like himself as Tomorrow Billy, spend most of their time in a secret cellar in the school where Mr. Pool, the janitor, has made a model of the solar system. Fiction.

Ponyboy Curtis, a tough but sensitive member of a street gang, learns the meaning of tragedy as his friends and enemies are hurt or killed in a senseless series of rumbles. Fiction.

After flunking his entrance exams for prep school, Chuck leaves home and his mean sister to be tutored by a horribly scarred former teacher. Their relationship grows slowly and almost becomes homosexual. (See also Heads You Win, Tails I Lose, Lippincott.) Fiction.

After an unsuccessful try at suicide, Cody is hospitalized and tries to figure out who and what and why he is. Fiction.

Information about the nature and causes and problems of venereal diseases, particularly syphilis and gonorrhea. Many illustrations and specific help for young people in trouble. Nonfiction.

Kellogg, Marjorie. Like the Lion's Tooth. FS&G 1972.
All of the "problem children" in the school have been damaged by warped love. Julie's father figure deserted her; fifteen-year-old Madeline was raped by her father; and Ben hides in the school from a father who abused him. Fiction.

Dinky has a terrific fat problem. Natalia, her cousin, has to go to a school for the mentally disturbed. But Dinky's mother has no sympathy for them, until one night when Dinky gets her attention in a shocking way. Fiction.

Kerr, M. E. Is That You, Miss Blue? Har-Row 1975. After her mother runs off with a younger man, Flanders Brown is sent to an Episcopal boarding school by her father. There, Flanders begins to work out her mixed feelings about herself and her unusual parents. Fiction.

Lee, Mildred. The Skating Rink (© 1969). Dell 1970. Branded as a dummy because he stutters, Tuck Faraday spends most of his spare time watching the construction of a new skating rink. The owner of the rink befriends Tuck and helps him to understand himself and others. (See also Sycamore Year, Lothrop.) Fiction.

Mazer, Harry. The Dollar Man. Delacorte 1974. Marcus's fiercely independent mother, Sally, chooses to raise him without assistance from his father, whom she never married. At fourteen, Marcus, a Walter Mitty type dreamer, decides to find his father. Fiction.

Mazer, Norma Fox. A Figure of Speech. Delacorte 1973. When grandpa is moved out his basement apartment to make room for her brother and his new bride, thirteen-year-old Jenny and eighty-three-year-old grandpa attempt to make it on their own. Fiction.
Problems and Young People

McCord's short stories are recollections of her own adolescent years. Fiction.

Sixteen-year-old Lisa Shilling knows she is slowly going insane. Her parents will not believe her, though her friends do. Lisa becomes more and more withdrawn and self-destructive before her parents take notice. (See also Edgar Allan, NAL; and Twink, published in hardback as Touching, NAL.) Fiction.

The three Patterson sisters live with their mom in Claypitts, Illinois, until seventeen-year-old unwed Ellen has to leave home to have a baby. Then Carol, fifteen, goes to Chicago to try to help her. Fiction.

When Vernia's friend Darlene is named Central United States Super Doll in a beauty contest, the girls see firsthand the sexism practiced by many people. Fiction.

Tit Smith, son of the local prostitute, sets off into an 1898 Adirondack wilderness to find his mother's killer and also to find his father. Fiction.

The response of teenagers to the new morality. What are the new standards and norms of conduct? Is there such a thing as morality and immorality? These are some of the questions explored. Nonfiction.

Poor Monday! Her brother has been expelled from school for smoking marijuana and at nearly the same time she has her first date with a soccer star five years older than she. Fiction.

Rivera, host of a youth-oriented TV talk show, tells the stories of contemporary people, many of them teenagers, who have faced and withstood severe tests of courage and character. Nonfiction.

Her mother an alcoholic and her father an unknown, Shelley Clark escapes from a center for girls in New York and is put in solitary confinement until a sympathetic judge begins to understand her. Fiction.

Ten short stories about lonely young people often frightened by the world around them. Fiction.

Camilla discovers that Phil, the man she loves, and Jeff, her close friend for years, are lovers. Fiction.

The story begins in Vienna in 1937. The narrator, ten years old and Jewish, records honestly her experiences growing up a rootless exile. Fiction.

Facts about VD, how venereal diseases are spread, what and where treatments are available. Ways to avoid VD are discussed by Dr. Sgroi. Nonfiction.

The title story in this collection is about a reform school boy who is pressured by the authorities to represent his school as a long distance runner. For a time he almost knuckles under to them. Fiction.

Josh tells his own story about a visit to his eccentric Aunt Clara. Poet and dreamer, Josh finds romance and agony when he reluctantly enters into the activities of the town's young people. Fiction.

Thirteen-year-old Catty is bewildered by the impact of her brother's death in Vietnam on the rest of her family. Then she learns her father has lost his job and an even greater change is coming to the family. (See also The Edge of Next Year, Har-Row.) Fiction.

Fourteen-year-old Jimmie's attempt to understand her parents' divorce explores the relationships of the whole family—Gram Grandmother Prior, her little brother Goya, as well as her easygoing father and intellectual but unhappy mother. Fiction.

His college freshman year overwhelms Dan and turns him into a person neither his girlfriend nor his parents know. (See also Senior Dropout, Westminster.) Fiction.

Two foster parents sincerely try to help Vic Sian find a place in the world outside of the prison life Vic has known. Fiction.

Six misfits at an Arizona summer camp for rich but unwanted boys try to stop the annual buffalo hunt. Fiction.

Chosen by high school students as their most favorite, the twenty stories represent a cross section of themes which concern young adults. Ring Lardner, Maureen Daly, and John Steinbeck are some of the writers represented. Fiction.

Jean Thompson is a twenty-year-old college girl who is pregnant by a married man. Unwilling to involve her parents, Jean moves to a home for unwed mothers and keeps a journal of her feelings and ideas during this difficult time. Fiction.

George Diener is extremely proud of his son Richie, but the changes in his son, often caused by drugs, lead to a confrontation. Fiction.

Thrasher, Crystal. The Dark Didn't Catch Me. Atheneum 1975.
Seely, a courageous eleven-year-old, tells her own story about the difficult years during the 1930s when she moves into a new neighborhood and has a falling out with her parents. Fiction.

Sarah, at thirteen, got her first taste of alcohol at her mother's second wedding. The drink marked the beginning of a habit that lasted for two years—when this story begins. Fiction.

Alex Housman, sixteen years old, steals automobiles to find respect and manhood and love in the only way he knows possible. Fiction.

Albert Scully is a misfit. He's failing in school, driving his status-conscious mother crazy and his salesman father to drink. Fiction.

Dave Marks and his father have a love-hate relationship. The death of the father provokes Dave into examining his own life, his values and his beliefs. Fiction.

Alexandra is hurt physically and emotionally in the car crash that kills Bradley, her best friend and the first person she has ever really loved. Fiction.
Nick's parents are divorced, but he doesn't know why. When he goes to visit his father, he discovers the reason: his father is a homosexual. Fiction.

Gate Turnholt looks back without bitterness to the last two poverty-stricken years he spent with a father filled with rage, violence, and love. Fiction.

John and Lorraine, outsiders in their families and school, find each other and then Mr. Pignati, a lonely old man living on dreams and daily visits to the zoo. The unlikely trio do zany things, like roller skating in Mr. Pignati's house, as if they were trying to escape into the irresponsibility of childhood. Fiction.

The communication gap between members of different generations sets the theme for this collection of stories. Fiction.

PROBLEMS OF MODERN HUMANITY
Selections by Baldwin, Wright, Faulkner, Welty, and Ellison demonstrate the universality of the human condition. Subheadings such as "Loneliness and Isolation," "Humor and Fantasy," and "Victory" indicate the book's range of concerns. Fiction.

Katharina Blum attends a party, dances with a young radical wanted by the police, and stays all night with him. The police question her, but newspaper reporters hound her mercilessly until she takes drastic action. Fiction.

Irish author Riley McCombe, a cripple, comes to America. His stay and the people he stays with lead him slowly to a recognition of his own emotional cowardice. Mature fiction.

Burgess, Anthony. Enderby (© 1963). Ballantine 1969. Enderby is a middle-aged poet who suffers through many indignities. The one thing no one can take from him is his ability to create. Mature fiction.

Clark, Walter Van Tilburg. The Track of the Cat (© 1949). NAL 1961. Two brothers set out to track down a panther that has been killing their cattle while a third brother is left to tend the ranch. Mature fiction.

On May 4, 1970, four Kent State University students were shot by the Ohio National Guard. Seventy-four photographs indicate what led to the shootings, and the author chronicles the incidents before and after the tragedy. Nonfiction.

Clyde Griffiths, a sensitive and unhappy young man, murders the woman who threatens his opportunity to rise socially. Fiction.

In this collection of essays on modern America, Earle invites philosophy to step once again into public affairs as a counterweight to the "public sorrows" of ideology and radical reformers and to reconnect politics with the broader concerns of the human spirit such as religion and art. Mature nonfiction.

The Compson family had once been one of Mississippi's proudest families, but the remaining members have little faith in the Compson name and even less liking for each other. A complex tale of family relationships, suicide, and greed. (See also Light in August, VinRandom; Absalom, Absalom!, VinRandom; and Sanctuary, VinRandom.) Mature fiction.

This autobiographical novel by the wife of F. Scott Fitzgerald is the love story of Alabama Beggs and David Knight, both extremely sensitive and creative. Fiction.

Racism from the beginnings when Europeans first made contact with Indians and blacks until today with emphasis on the ways humanity might overcome racism. Nonfiction.
Problems of Modern Humanity

Fuller suggests that humanity is in deep trouble unless we face up to what we are doing to our planet. He suggests that we act as if our planet were a space-ship and devise systems which would allow the space-ship to survive in its long trip ahead. Mature non-fiction.

Fuller argues that humanity has the willingness and technical knowledge to solve the problems of the fu-ture if we can avoid a nuclear holocaust in the next few years. Mature non-fiction.

Golding explores human nature in this account of a group of English schoolboys stranded on a tropical is-land. A struggle for power evolves between Ralph, who strives for order and government, and Jack, who represents anarchy. Fiction.

The story of Clay-Boy Spencer's becoming a man was the basis of the popular television series, "The Wal-ton's." The author pays attention to the details of daily life among a close-knit family. Fiction.

The title story in this collection is set in the future when the most popular spectator sport is Roller Ball. During the average contest, deaths and injuries are acceptable and even welcomed by the crowds. Fiction.

Fuller has been called both genius and crackpot. He is a poet, a scientist, the inventor of the Geodesic Dome, a man worried about the future and where we are heading—or drifting.

In words that may offend some readers, the narrator Robert Slocum tells about his middle-age existence with a wife he pities but cares little about, and with his children, especially his imbecile son, whom he tries not to think about. Mature fiction.
Problems of Modern Humanity

Frederic Henry experiences love and war in the tragic story of an American lieutenant in the Italian ambulance corps during World War I. Mature fiction.

Hemingway probes the mind of Santiago, an old Cuban fisherman, and reveals the story by exploring relationships of the old man with a young boy, with the sea, with the fish, and with himself. Fiction.

Cowboy Joe Buck comes to New York sure that he is the answer to the problem of all lovely rich women. But all he finds are loneliness, pettiness, and Ratso Rizzo, a dying derelict. Some use of four-letter words; some people will object to the sexual situations. Mature fiction.

Hans Giebenrath is a disciplined student, but when he goes away to school he meets Hermann, a free spirit whose unwillingness to yield to society's demands creates a terrible dilemma for Hans. Mature fiction.

Set in the Middle Ages, this novel depicts in its dual protagonists the struggle between spirit and nature and the synthesis they achieve. Fiction.

For five years James Monroe is in prison. This novel attempts to give a total picture of prison life and all aspects of a closed society where money, good looks, and intelligence still play an important part. Mature fiction.
George Samsa awakes one morning to find himself transformed into a man-sized cockroach. Life is seen through his eyes in this new state until he meets with tragedy. Mature fiction.

Ken Kesey, LeRoi Jones, and Franz Kafka are included in this collection of contemporary fiction. From Jones's "Answers in Progress" to Kafka's "A Country Doctor," the writers communicate their own personal visions of the world. Fiction.

One of the early statements of the Beat Generation, this novel focuses on the adventures of Sal Paradise as he embarks on a search for self. Ultimately he must choose between a stable existence and the wandering life of his friend, Dean Moriarity. Fiction.

A fun-loving rebel who feigns insanity to escape from a work farm leads a group of inmates in a mental hospital in their struggle against the dehumanizing influence of their ward nurse. Some language may be objectionable. Mature fiction.

At sixteen Kate marries David to escape her unhappy home. At eighteen, the day she learns she is pregnant, she leaves him. When she meets Sam, a guitar player on a motorcycle, it is love at first sight. Fiction.

Madness and the absurdity of society are the two themes in this volume. Alienation and rejection are examined by such talented writers as Saul Bellow, Bernard Malamud, and Tillie Olsen. Fiction.

The author terms prejudice "one of the vilest diseases of all mankind." His collection includes stories from many cultures and religions. Fiction.

Scout Finch recalls the summer when her father, Atticus, an Alabama lawyer, defended a black man unjustly accused of a crime. Fiction.

Martin Arrowsmith makes his way through a maze of commercialism and quackery as he establishes his medical career, first as a general practitioner and finally as a brilliant researcher. Fiction.

Conservative George F. Babbitt is a successful small-town businessman, but also, as he begins to recognize, empty of soul or real purpose. Fiction.

Down and out, Frank Alpine helps to rob a grocer. Guilt-ridden because the grocer has been injured, Alpine devotes his life to atoning for his guilt and trying to find his own redemption. Mature fiction.

During a period of violent anti-Semitism in czarist Russia, a Jewish handyman is wrongly imprisoned for murdering a Gentile boy. Mature fiction.

Thirteen short stories about people today, their fears and amusements and loves but most of all about their essential humanness. (See also Rembrandt's Hat, PB.) Fiction.

Though Philip Carey's deformity affects his view of life, he, like most intellectual youths, struggles with religious beliefs, tragic love affairs, and the necessity of selecting a vocation. Mature fiction.

Each of the ten persons who appear in these stories is isolated from others either by social status, language or physical characteristics, or just because they feel different; nevertheless, all of them learn to cope with their differences. Fiction.

Story of five misfits and outcasts of a Southern town who have one thing in common—an aching loneliness and the need to communicate with other human beings: Mick Kelly, an awkward teenage girl; a bitter black doctor; a drunken radical; the owner of an all-night bar; and a deaf mute from whom they seek understanding. Fiction.

Having mistaken platitudes for personal values, salesman Willy Loman is tragically shaken when his sons turn against him and, at sixty-three, he loses his job. A classic of modern drama.

The author is concerned with the ways in which the modern city is making people much like animals in a zoo, bound in with bars and space and emotional restrictions. (See also The Naked Ape, Dell.) Mature Early one morning in the plastic world of a Los Angeles amusement park, Cocert finds the body of the man who has been hired to play Christ in a Passion play hanging from the cross. Fiction.

Paley, Grace. Enormous Changes at the Last Minute. FS&G 1974.

Paley’s stories contain wit and humor and are filled with the affairs of ordinary human beings as they move through life. Fiction.

Scientists have been working for years to uncover the mysterious workings of the human brain. The author summarizes their work in this field and reports on the implications and dangers of brain research for our lives today and tomorrow. Nonfiction.

A young artist-genius disappoints his father, who views art as undignified foolishness, and creates a scandalous monument to his mother which threatens to cut him off from his family. Fiction.

The adventures and discoveries of the unusual heroine, Oedipa Maas, provide a social satire on America in the 1960s. Sexually explicit, the book is frank in its exploration of contemporary life. Mature fiction.

The Adirondack Mountain region of New York is the setting for this novel about three generations of mountain farmers. Fiction.

Sammy Glick fights his way from the lower East Side of New York City to great financial success in Hollywood. His success is won at the expense of former friends and associates he runs roughshod over. Mature fiction.

An American and his Australian friends, the last of the human race, attempt to fulfill their dreams as they await inevitable death from radiation following an atomic war. Fiction.

Herman Broder finds himself in the unusual predicament of having three wives. His struggle to resolve this complicated situation takes several interesting turns. Mature fiction.
Muriel Spark explores the relationship between Jean Brodie, an unusual and remarkable teacher, and six of her favorite students in a private English girls' school and how she influences their lives. Fiction.

Stallworth, Anne Nall. This Time Next Year. Vanguard 1971.
The title of this work echoes the sentiments of the Birdsong family as each member longs for a better life on or away from their tenant farm in Alabama. Fiction.

Ed Japhet, a popular and gifted sixteen-year-old magician, is attacked by a psychopathic classmate after a successful magic show at a high school prom. Though there is no question of guilt, a clever defense attorney proves that law and justice may be perverted. Fiction.

Victims of the Dust Bowl of the Thirties, the Joad family join thousands of farmers in the great migration to California, the promised land, where they hope to find a new life. Mature fiction.

Ranchhands George and his retarded friend Lennie long for a place of their own, a place where they can find peace and quiet. (See also Tortilla Flat, Bantam.) Fiction.

All male members of the Perry family have met with untimely and violent deaths. Exactly how the twelve-year-old twins, Niles and Holland, are involved in these and other strange events creates a most unusual plot. Fiction.

Toffler contends that humanity is the victim of "future shock," a disorientation caused by the too-sudden tech-
Problems of Modern Humanity

...ological changes taking place all around us. Mature nonfiction.

Harry (Rabbit) Angstrom, finding married life frustrating after his glorious high school years as a basketball star, deserts his wife and sets out for the freedom he longs for. This leads him to adventures that may seem sordid and offensive to some readers. Mature fiction.

A satirical condemnation of violence and war and those who create them. Billy Pilgrim lives three lives: an American soldier in World War II in the Dresden firebombing; a happily married postwar optometrist; and an exhibit transported to a Tralfamadorian zoo to meet with a young movie star. Mature, sometimes shocking reading. Fiction.

Poorly educated Willie Stark fights the political corruption in his state, but after winning the governorship, he becomes as tyrannical and power-obsessed as the system he had originally fought. Fiction.

West, Nathanael. Miss Lonelyhearts (© 1933). FS&G 1957.

A newspaper reporter who writes a lovelorn column is horrified by his editor’s heartlessness and his own inability to find answers to the letters. Mature fiction.

Ethan Frome, a New England farmer, marries an older woman out of loneliness. Their lives are complicated when her young female cousin comes to live with them. Fiction.

A professor of English who is a dull person to most of his fellow teachers comes alive when he finds a young love outside of his conventional and dull marriage. Fiction.
The family as an institution has been both attacked and defended by modern society. The author analyzes the causes of family breakup and parental problems and the attitudes of young people toward the family unit. Nonfiction.

REFLECTIONS
An old man and his twelve-year-old grandson defy the U.S. Air Force when the government decides to condemn a ranch to extend the White Sand Missile Range. (See also Black Sun, PB.) Fiction.

What can people do about the multibillion-dollar, unregulated funeral industry which Arvio feels is secretive and hides under the cloak of the American flag and conventional religion? The author advocates consumer control—"memorial societies" and completely consumer-owned and controlled facilities. Mature nonfiction.

A brief poetic story about seagulls. Jonathan decides that there is much more to life than eating and becomes an outcast when he dares to probe the unknowable. Fiction.

At seventy-six, Daisy Baker acquires a donkey and a cart. While traveling to the woods or the beach, Daisy finds joy in her recollection of the past and her continuing link with life beyond her lane. Nonfiction.

An evangelist and his family are spiritually locked in the ghetto of Harlem. The fanatic father battles against his own nature to find God, and his son John fights to escape to find himself. Mature fiction.
Reflections

1971.

Anne Barry feigned mental illness in order to be committed to the psychiatric ward at New York's Bellevue Hospital. This investigative report includes impressions of her week-long stay in one of nation's most controversial hospitals. Nonfiction.

Berry, Wendell. The Memory of Old Jack. HarBraceJ 1974.

Old Jack, a retired farmer, spends one day reliving his life and trying to find some meaning and purpose in it. Fiction.

Fawcett World n.d.

A young man on a solitary mission in Antarctica tries to study a penguin rookery and skuas which prey on penguin chicks and finds he develops a messianic drive to protect the penguins against all enemies, bird or man. Fiction.

Bloomfield, Harold H., Michael Peter Cain, and Dennis
T. Jaffe. TM: Discovering Inner Energy and Over-

Transcendental Meditation (TM) is a technique for making humanity master of its own emotions and nerves and stresses. This book suggests ways of using TM for mental and physical problems. Nonfiction.

Buck, Pearl S. To My Daughters with Love. John Day 1967.

Thoughts on youth, love, marriage, and eternal truths which are not invalidated by new views of morality.
Nonfiction.

Castañeda, Carlos. The Teachings of Don Juan: A Yaqui

Castañeda is introduced to the wisdom of the peyote cult by Don Juan, a Yaqui Indian medicineman/sorcerer. The experience leads Castañeda into strange and fascinating worlds of thought and perception in his quest to become "a man of knowledge." (See also

An officer on a ship, Jim escapes with other officers while the ship slowly sinks with all passengers still on board. Though the passengers are rescued, Jim's sense of guilt forces him to begin a life as a wanderer seeking redemption. Mature fiction.

Having taken aboard an escaped confessed murderer, a young captain hesitates to return the man to his captors because he feels somehow that, under similar circumstances, he too might have committed the murderer's act. Fiction.

The author lives by Tinker Creek in Virginia's Blue Ridge Mountains and writes of simple mysteries and wonders like stars and hawks and winter and time and stalking animals and insects and death. (See also her collection of poetry, Tickets for a Prayer Wheel, Bantam.) Mature nonfiction.

Raskolnikov, a poor student, believes that he is not bound by normal moral codes. He kills an old woman, but through the love of the prostitute Sonia he recognizes his common bond with others. First published in 1866. Mature fiction.

Prince Myshkin lives a saintly life, trying constantly to help others as much as he can. First published in 1868-1869, this is a novel of compassion and love and torture and frustration. Mature fiction.

In this 1864 novel, a nameless narrator, one of literature's first antiheroes, launches into a tirade about humanity and the endless questions for which there are no easy answers. Mature fiction.

Douglas, William O. Points of Rebellion. Random 1970. In this little book a justice of the Supreme Court tells why he values the rebellion so characteristic of the young: "This period of dissent based on belief in man will—indeed be our great renaissance." Mature nonfiction.

Harris, Sydney J. For the Time Being. HM 1972. Harris selects some of his "Strictly Personal" newspaper columns for this book. The columns include comments on truth, God, the second rate, pro sports, TV violence, obscenity, and education. Nonfiction.

Heqdin, David. Death as a Fact of Life. Norton 1973. Advances in medical technology have led to new questions about death. When is a person legally dead? Should a person have the right to determine the time and means of death? What kind of therapy is most helpful to the dying? Can freezing the newly dead really lead to possible revival at a later time? Nonfiction.
Encouraged by the Buddha to find the ultimate good on his own, Siddhartha abandons his friends, rejects the teachings of his elders, and travels to the city. (See also Steppenwolf, Bantam; Demian, Bantam; and The Journey to the East, Bantam.) Fiction.

This selection of stories offers a spectrum of Hesse's writings from 1899–1948 concerning his own secret dreams and his own anguish. Fiction.

Hesse's collection contains stories concerned with dream worlds, the subconscious, and magical thinking. Mature fiction.

Sent to the psychiatric ward of a large university hospital when she had a nervous breakdown, Howland had time to consider what it means to be "crazy" and to observe others in the W-3 community. Some frank language. Nonfiction.

An economics professor enunciates laws and aphorisms, some funny, some ironic, many profound, about history, politics, economics, revolution, and America. Nonfiction.

Stories dealing with themes of human isolation and frustration and paradoxical human quests for freedom and responsibility. Mature fiction.

A provocative study of death written for young adults. Examines new definitions of death, euthanasia, why people murder, capital punishment, suicide, abortion, the scientific quest for longer life, and some conjectures about the hereafter. Nonfiction.

Honest, open discussion of death is taboo for many people. The author argues that we need to understand death, and he offers medical and legal definitions of death along with interviews of those who are dying and those who take care of the dying. Mature nonfiction.

Sex and death are human realities, but they have often been sources of embarrassment or ignorance. The authors present some facts about creation and death. Nonfiction.

Walking along the shore, the author reflects upon the joys of the simple life and the intricacies of the patterns which together form the complex fabric of modern life. Nonfiction.

When sheltered, introspective Anne Morrow married famous pilot Charles Lindbergh in 1929, he took her into his world of action. These diary entries and letters tell of her learning to fly and take aerial photographs, to live in the glare of fame and publicity—and to live with the loss of their kidnapped son. Nonfiction.

Manchester records his dispute with the Kennedy family over his book on the assassination of President Kennedy and profiles individuals and institutions prominent in America over the last twenty-five years. Nonfiction.

The author believes that anyone should have the right to choose the manner of death with dignity rather than be kept alive with tubes and medicine. Nonfiction.

The author attacks businesses and people that make money out of the sadness of death. Nonfiction.

Yuri Zhivago—doctor, poet, philosopher—struggles to preserve his integrity and his spiritual independence during the Russian Revolution. Mature fiction.

A father and son travel around the West on a motorcycle finding out who and what and why they are. Mature fiction.

Two skeptical writers discover people whose lives have improved because they set aside two twenty-minute periods each day for meditation. Nonfiction.

Artistic reminiscences of a pilot who flew during the exciting first days of airplane flight. Nonfiction.

At seventy-six, Caroline Spencer, intelligent, witty, and dignified, is taken to Twin Elms Nursing Home, where she writes her journal to ward off senility and her fear of death. Fiction.

A novel about a single day in the life of an inmate of one of Stalin's forced labor camps in Siberia. The narrator's account of his feelings, thoughts, and conversations in the barracks, filled with the raw and vulgar language of the peasant, serves as a significant and authentic political document. Fiction.
When Kino finds a very large pearl of great value, he is confident that it will purchase health and happiness for his family. Instead, it calls forth the dark spirits in Kino and those who covet the pearl. Fiction.

Fearing the consequences of the emerging machine age, Thoreau lived a solitary life near Walden Pond for two years. This daily journal is a record of his observations about man and nature. Mature nonfiction.

The Hindu philosophy of Vedanta explores the self and the fear of knowing the self. (See also Beyond Theology, VinRandom; Nature, Man and Woman, VinRandom; and In My Own Way: An Autobiography, VinRandom.) Mature nonfiction.

Living by herself for three months in a travel trailer on a remote bank of the Colorado River, the author shares her experiences, observations, and thoughts on solitude. Mature nonfiction.

Essays written in various sections of the country, describing a hurricane on the Maine coast, a gale in the north Pacific, and a circus in its winter quarters. Nonfiction.

When civil war hits a small East African country, eighty-year-old Father Felix is told to flee the opposing armies, but he decides to take a stand at his mission. Fiction.

Brother Juniper, the only witness of the collapse of a bridge over a deep chasm in Peru, decides to inquire into the secret lives of the five victims. Fiction.
Like a modern Thoreau, John Wyatt took to the woods in order to rediscover himself and achieve a harmony with his environment unattainable in urban life. Nonfiction.

A very young boy remembers the life and problems of his uncle, a Russian herb dealer, during the early 1900s. Fiction.

LIVES, THEN AND NOW
The thirty-eighth president of the United States, from boyhood to the first 100 days in office.

Agee's life as a writer and as a human being unfolds through a series of letters written to his dearest friend, an Episcopalian priest.

From childhood on the Kansas prairies to a mediocre career at West Point, Dwight D. Eisenhower became the leading Allied general in World War II.

Continuing the story of her life and the obstacles she overcame to find security for herself and her son Guy, Angelou relates how she narrowly escaped drug addiction. (See also I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings, Bantam.) Mature.

From 1643, (when he was five years old) until his death in 1715, Louis XIV was king of France. Under his reign, France became the center of the Western world in power and the arts.
An Apache Indian, captured by Pima Indians and sold to a white photographer, becomes well-known physician Carlos Montezuma.

Geronimo's personal account of his life, from his early Apache family life to his capture and life as a prisoner.

An intimate portrait of one of the “most exciting legends of our time,” Bruce Lee. Views his childhood and training in the martial arts, his career in moviemaking, his marriage, his friends, his overall philosophy of life, and the mystery surrounding his untimely death.

The story of the life of Jules Verne, the nineteenth-century science fiction writer whose novels often accurately predicted the future.

Whitewolf's life was buffeted by the radical changes brought by reservations, education, Christian missionaries, and alcohol in the first half of the twentieth century.

Gertrude Stein was a born rebel, a lover of art and fine cooking, a friend to writers and musicians in Paris during the 1920s and 1930s, and a writer of unusual poetry.

A woman shares and suffers with her cancer-stricken husband for months and then begins the period of adjustment to being alone again.

Before May 26, 1967, “Hurricane” Carter was the top contender for a bout with the world middleweight boxing champion, but on that date Carter and another man were found guilty of the murder of three white people in a Paterson, New Jersey, bar. In prison he maintained his innocence and fought for his freedom.

Chamberlain, a controversial figure both on and off the basketball court, tells about his career in basketball, his travels, his friends, his political activities, his views about and his experiences with women, and his relations with other players and coaches.

Born in 1874, the grandson of Cochise tells of his colorful life, from Apache customs and the exploits of his uncle Geronimo to watching the astronauts on TV walking on the moon.

Tape-recorded stories by seventeen young Puerto Ricans who frankly describe what life is like growing up and coping with two distinct cultures.

Unlike most Indian leaders, Tendoy befriended the white settlers, protected them against other Indians, and was in turn honored by many whites when he died in 1907. The life of the Indians in the Lemhi Valley of Idaho and of their distinguished chief is described by Crowder’s use of many original documents and news articles.

Philip and Daniel Berrigan are radical Catholic priests deeply involved in legal battles over protesting the Vietnam War and draft conscription.
An abused child, Laura, is nursed back to life by a courageous doctor and concerned Sisters.

Only four feet tall, Donald Davidson was hired by the Boston Red Sox as a mascot and part-time batboy in 1938. By 1970 he had become assistant to the president of the Atlanta Braves and the team's traveling secretary.

Crowfoot was a strong and devoted leader who saw the futility of fighting superior white armies in both the U.S. and Canada and so guided his people through the humiliating transition from freedom to reservation farming.

At eighteen, Archie Belaney left England and moved to Canada. Adopting the Indian name of Grey Owl and Indian ways, he married an Iroquois girl and wrote. His earlier identity as a non-Indian was not discovered by the public until after his death.

The life and thoughts of the Supreme Court justice from his boyhood in Yakima, Washington, until his appointment to the Supreme Court in 1939. His love of nature and hiking in the mountains is obvious.

Drimmer writes compassionately about the problems and triumphs of people too often called circus freaks—Siamese twins, armless and legless wonders, hairy people, short and tall people, and others.

A Santee Sioux who grew up in the white world and became a physician describes his youth among his people between 1858 and 1873, before his life was changed forever by white institutions.

The true story of a white boy who always wanted to be an Indian and one day finds himself captured by Shawnees.

Eiseley, Loren. All the Strange Hours: The Excavation of a Life. Scribner 1975.
The great popularizer of science begins his life story with his Nebraska boyhood and school in Pennsylvania and then details his career as an anthropologist and writer.

The multifaceted life of one of the most extraordinary men who lived during the Elizabethan age.

An intimate view of the private life of Marlon Brando, one of America's most celebrated contemporary actors, as told by one of Brando's closest friends.

Metaphorical portrait of one of America's most enterprising black female poets.

The English writer describes through personal recollections, memoirs, observations, and experiences his childhood and his early years as a writer. Mature.

An anthology of biographies of some native American women who have made significant contributions to their people as well as to their country: Sacajawea, Winema, Susan La Flesche, Picotte (the first woman physician), Maria Montoya Martinez (master artisan), Elaine Abraham Ramos (college vice president), and others.
Lives, Then and Now

Concise biographies of twenty-six contemporary Indians in a variety of fields, from education and art to politics and social action.

Blacks in Harlem saw Adam Clayton Powell as a savior, a protector of their interests; whites, many of them in the U.S. Congress, tried to force him out of Congress.

Fast-moving biography captures and recreates a momentous event in American history.

An American dramatist covers her painful childhood through the days of her writing career.

A young Scottish veterinarian comes to a northern English town to practice and learns to handle animals and people, birth and death. (See also All Things Bright and Beautiful, St Martin.)

Katherine Hepburn's friendships with Humphrey Bogart, Cary Grant, and especially Spencer Tracy make her life story almost a history of Hollywood from 1930 to the present.

Eighteen short biographies of often terrifying characters whose "madness" (vaguely defined here) had an impact on the history of their times.

A VISTA volunteer candidly recounts his experiences in an inner-city junior high school and community.
Claiming to be the most complete story of Chief Joseph's life, this biography tells the story of the early history of the Nez Percé Indians, the various treaties of the mid-1800s, the unparalleled military campaign of 1877, and the events following Joseph's surrender.

A series of brief biographies, alphabetically arranged, of more than 5,000 famous men and women.

At birth, Donald Hurwitz weighed less than two pounds. Today, at twenty-eight, he is 5'8" tall and weighs 150—but he is mentally retarded. His parents have resisted placing Donald in an institution and have struggled to prepare him to live in a normal environment.

Unlike his Sioux contemporaries Red Cloud and Sitting Bull, Spotted Tail felt it was wise not to fight the white armies. (See also Red Cloud's Folk: A History of the Oglala Sioux, U of Okla Pr; The Pawnee Indians, U of Okla Pr; and Indians of the Woodlands: From Prehistoric Times to 1725, U of Okla Pr.)

The author tells of her experiences in a Japanese war relocation center during World War II.

A catcher with the Boston Red Sox, Moe Berg was fluent in at least twelve languages, was a brilliant student in many fields, and was also a spy for the United States before and during World War II.

This short biography of Edward Lear reveals the loneliness, wanderlust, ill health, and frustrated hopes that saddened the life of a thoroughly charming and loving man who wrote so many limericks.

Sketches of eight men who demonstrated great moral courage in the face of overwhelming opposition. By defending his principles, each man helped to maintain American democracy. Mature.

Part Cherokee Indian and raised on the Oklahoma frontier, Rogers's lassoing ability took him to vaudeville and Broadway plays and from there on to Hollywood. He became one of the most popular political commentators and humorists of his time.

The Killileas and their friends knew little about cerebral palsy until it struck little Karen.

Traces his career from artillery officer to emperor: his enormous influence both within France and throughout Europe, his many successful battle campaigns, and his restructuring of social, political, and legal conditions in France.

Blind since birth, Harold Krents was the inspiration for the young blind hero of the Broadway and film hits, Butterflies Are Free. Determined to live in the world of the sighted, Harold played football, graduated from Harvard College and Law School, and is now a New York lawyer.

Biography of a gentle man who was the last surviving member of the Yahi tribe. When the whites had encroached on the Indians' territory and killed most of them, only Ishi eventually remained to tell his story and live his remaining years in a California museum.

Ten biographical sketches of Texans who helped shape that state include Jose Antonio Navarro (signer of the Texas Declaration of Independence), Sam Houston, David Crockett, and Jim Bowie.

Orphaned at twelve, Ralph Bunche was reared by his grandmother, who guided him toward a higher education. Out of poverty and discrimination, he became an outstanding anthropologist and undersecretary for the United Nations.

A portrait of W. E. B. DuBois: the writer, teacher, and statesman, and his role in the struggle of today's black Americans.

With earthy humor, Lame Deer tells of his life as a boy, a sheepherder, a policeman, a rodeo performer, and, most importantly, a medicine man—a wicasa wakan, a Sioux holy man, experienced with visions, healings, and sacred things.

Eleanor Roosevelt is portrayed during her later years in the roles of teacher, writer, lecturer, worldwide traveler, and ally of the United Nations and Israel. Mature.

A memoir of a much loved parent; a story of the aged and the dying and of sensitive living and life.

Commentary and analysis of a culture and of a man it produced, by thirteen close associates and acquaintances of King.

Reminiscences about the old days, before the passing of the buffalo, especially fighting with General Crook against the Crow enemies: the Sioux, Cheyennes, and Arapahoes.

The experiences and insights of Pretty-Shield, a Crow medicine woman, who describes her youth and early life.

Lives and ideas of such philosophers as Socrates, Lao-tzu, Confucius, St. Augustine, René Descartes, Voltaire, Soren Kierkegaard, and Friedrich Nietzsche.

At seventeen, the author's son found he had leukemia. Given from six months to two years by doctors, Eric went to college, played varsity soccer, and proved that a person can crowd a lot of living into a very few years.

Although Maria Martinez's productivity continued long after this 1948 publication, the biography covers her life with her husband Julian and their world famous pottery designs and process, especially their legendary black-on-black ware. Illustrated.

Aside from being the mother of Winston Churchill, this girl from Brooklyn became a forceful figure in the British monarchy and society.

Hitler's public and private memorabilia encompass a wide range of subjects and the full chronology of his life. Mature.

The Massies discover that their son, Robert, has he-mophilia, and the family faces many problems learning to live with the blood defect.

Black Elk describes his life among the Oglala Sioux, his visions and religious experiences as a holy man, his boyhood experiences at the Custer battle and years later at Wounded Knee. (See also, When the Tree Flowered: An Authentic Tale of the Old Sioux World, PB.)

A short biography of Maria Martinez, one of the finest makers of Indian pottery in the world, describes how Maria and her husband Julian developed their world-famous pottery-making techniques that brought fame and relative wealth to the San Ildefonso Pueblo, New Mexico.

Biography of Hosteen Klah, Navajo medicine man, sand painter, and weaver is told in part by the author's personal reminiscence.

Devoted to the outdoor life, Henry David Thoreau lived by himself for more than two years at Walden Pond on a budget of twenty-seven cents a week.

Heywood Broun (1888–1939) was a fighting liberal newsmen and columnist, a friend of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt and other powerful people, and a man unhappy in his marriage and afraid of death.

A detailed biography which reveals the personal and political life of the late president.
Lives, Then and Now

Eight Africans from Ghana, Guinea, Kenya, Malawi, Nigeria, and South Africa reveal their experiences in the rapidly changing African world.

A dedicated surgeon relates his adventures as doctor and diplomat during the tumultuous days in war-ravaged Bangladesh.

One of the greatest self-taught engineers in history, Eades invented the diving bell, removed snags and wrecks from the Mississippi, and designed the "impossible" Eades Bridge, which spans the river at St. Louis.

The life story of Nat Turner, leader of a slave uprising almost thirty years before the Civil War.

A collection of twenty-nine biographical sketches, tales, letters, and ballads of the men and women in nineteenth-century Western America who helped build a nation from the stuff of dreams.

A candid profile of one of America's most controversial journalists. Mature.

S. B. tells of his youth, education, marriage, hunting, jail, drinking, peyote, and visions.

Parts of this book were plagiarized, but it is nevertheless an insightful autobiography of Crazy Horse's nephew who survived the Battle of the Little Big Horn.
A mother tells about her son, a chess and tennis player, good student and amateur journalist, who contracts leukemia when he is only sixteen.

The legendary Sioux chief from his boyhood in the 1840s through his battles with other Indian tribes and then against white soldiers, culminating at the Rosebud and then the Little Big Horn.

Autobiography of the Armenian-American author traces some of his most humorous and most serious experiences.

Annie Lowry, a half-blood, rejected her white heritage and chose to live with her Paiute people near Lovelock, Nevada. She tells of her mother's hard life as well as hers, trying to live above the cruelties of two cultures.

This book traces the life of Dwight David "Ike" Eisenhower from his boyhood days in Abilene, Kansas.

The author believes America is basically a racist country, and in her autobiography she candidly relates her experiences as a WASP who comes face to face with this dilemma. Mature.

Luther Standing Bear tells of his Sioux boyhood, how he entered the white world, became a teacher and a rancher, toured Europe with Buffalo Bill, but never lost his identification with his Lakota heritage.

A personal account of crucial years in the life of Sylvia
Lives, Then and Now

Plath, the tragic young poetess and author of The Bell Jar, as told by her former college roommate.

Blind since birth, Tom Sullivan has become an athlete, composer, TV personality, husband, and father.

The guerrilla fighter Victorio is less well known than Geronimo and Cochise, but he was an important Apache warrior.

A New York Times reporter recounts seven consecutive days in the life of coal miner Dan Sizemore and the economic system which chains him and his family to the Appalachia mines.

Despite a loving family and a secure home, the author's son killed himself when he was twenty-six. He had suffered for ten years from schizophrenia.

John F. Kennedy "as he really was" by a former White House reporter.

The daughter of an Omaha chief in the mid-1800s, educated in Eastern white schools and without political skills or experience, sought justice for the Omahas and Poncas in public meetings and before the U.S. Senate.

Gertrude Stein from her childhood through her career as a writer and philosopher. Includes accounts of people who directly influenced her—Ernest Hemingway, her two brothers, Matisse and Picasso, Juan Gris, and Alice B. Toklas.
CAREERS

Arnold, Arnold. Career Choices for the '70s. CCMacmillan 1971.
Arnold bases practical advice on the premise that it is wiser for one to make a vocational commitment and to pursue answers to questions about that vocation. Contains chapters directed to minorities and girls and numerous lists of free or inexpensive sources of information.

Do you like paperwork? Can you think in three dimensions? Do you enjoy solving puzzles? Such aptitudes may help to determine a career in which you can find satisfaction.

Careers in social work, fashion design, home health care, product design, and home economics.

Careers in acting, painting, writing, dance, and music, including behind-the-scenes jobs in those fields.

An experienced teacher offers detailed information and advice on teaching positions of all types, from kindergartens through colleges and universities.

Things students wish they had been told before they made the big switch to college—college choices, study skills, academic and social life, finances—are assembled here to benefit younger brothers and sisters.

Information vital to a professional in popular songwriting and recording: what it takes to be a pro; how songs are selected for recording; copyright procedures; roles of sidemen, producers, and engineers; royalties and other profits.

Tells why and how buildings are reduced to rubble by wrecking balls or bulldozers, and describes the variety of careers in the industry.

A twenty-five year veteran of radio and TV sports announcing, Coleman suggests how young people might enter the field and sprinkles his advice with anecdotes recalling his associations with sports heroes.

Describes careers in several aspects of the publication of magazines, books, newspapers, and house organs, including editorial, art, production, advertising, and circulation careers.

Coyne, John, and Tom Hebert. This Way Out. Dutton 1972.
An informal guide to alternatives to traditional college education—-independent study, experimental colleges, and foreign study programs.

Reviews personal services careers open to young people with a high school or technical school education and on-the-job training—interior designer, plumber, florist, caterer, travel agent, and others.

Short sketches on careers whose workers are paid by government taxes: teachers, police officers, foresters, child welfare workers, and customs officials.

Heat, cold, ultraviolet light—three of the physical therapist's most important tools. Learning how to use such tools with skill and compassion is the subject of this collection of personal experiences and factual information.

de Mille, Agnes. To a Young Dancer. Little 1962.
One of America's greatest dancers guides the movement of prospective dancers from their first ballet lessons to their performance as professionals.

Emphasizes jobs in park and recreation departments and in our national parks, and hospitality careers in restaurants and hotels.

The creator of the conservation comic strip "Mark Trail" outlines careers in forestry, wildlife, national parks, fish, and soil conservation. Includes sources of summer employment and a directory of colleges offering courses in conservation. (See also Virginia McCall and Joseph R. McCall, editors, Your Career in Parks and Recreation, Messner.)

Information on career fields that have direct contact with the touring public: travel agencies, car rental, sightseeing, airline stewardess, airline sales, tour operation, and hotel/motel management.

Detailed information on seventy-seven professional careers: duties, income, and training; and lists of jobs with the federal government based on various college majors.

Lab technicians, nurses, nurses' aides, medical secretaries, and administrative personnel describe their duties. Also includes information about medical health associates, jobs in dentistry, physical therapy, pharmacy, and optometry.

Gay, Kathlyn. Careers in Social Service. Messner 1969. Educational requirements, special skills, and desirable personality traits and attitudes are necessary for serving others through social services administered by government agencies, church institutions, and private foundations.

Gray, Genevieve. Jobs in Transportation. Lothrop 1973. Transportation offers a wide variety of careers: tugboat hands, flight engineers, mechanics, bus drivers, and train dispatchers. Many illustrations. (See also Robert A. Liston, Your Career in Transportation, Messner.)

Gummere, Richard M., Jr. How to Survive Education: Before, During and After College. HarBraceJ 1971. Answers common questions about admissions routines, dormitory rules, and curricula, and also deals with more important concerns such as college life today, the grading systems, the agonies of career search, and the chances for survival.
Careers

Accounts of six people and their jobs: an office machine operator, a secretary, a computer programmer, a personnel manager, an owner of a day care center, and an owner of a record store. (See also I. J. Seligsohn, Your Career in Computer Programming, Messner.)

A private company or branch of the government seeking new money requires the skills of increasing numbers of people in sales, research, trading, and operations. Glossary describes nearly fifty securities-related careers.

One out of every five jobs is in the food industry. Jobs described here include raising crops, running a tree nursery, caring for sick animals, and selling seed or tractors. (See also J. J. McCoy, To Feed a Nation: Farming in America, Nelson.)

A veteran news correspondent for ABC-TV addresses young people, especially women and minority group members, who think they might like a career in radio and television news but don't know how to get started. (See also John R. Rider, Your Future in Broadcasting, Arco.)

Advice to young writers from the author of ten books for young people.

Personal services business begun by two young women with $900 capital started with walking dogs and stuff. ing mailboxes. Now they plan promotional campaigns and develop marketing ideas.

Johnson describes a typical advertising agency and the jobs of those who make it tick: copy writer, artist, sales person, and market researcher.

Over 100 usual and unusual outdoor jobs which pay well; some of them very well.

The matters to be considered in the frequently difficult decision to leave college are spelled out by the author, as are the work and study alternatives once the decision is made.

The work of a fashion designer and the building of a designer's collection from its inspiration to its formal showing.

Of every hundred health workers, only nine are physicians. This is a narrative survey of the kinds of work which the other 93 percent perform, some of which require relatively short training periods.

Hundreds of job suggestions for ages twelve to twenty, based on real experiences of young workers: animals, writing, science, and so on.

Describes some careers in construction which can begin right after high school; others which require college training: steel worker, bricklayer, carpenter, engineer, architect, purchasing agent, drafts-person.

Aimed at the high school graduate who cannot go to college, this book emphasizes the skills in greatest demand in a technological society.

Liston, Robert A. Your Career in Law Enforcement.
Because a serious crime occurs in the United States every five seconds, law enforcement officers are in great demand. Relevant to those interested in careers as F.B.I. and treasury agents, state patrol, county, and local officers.

Offers advice concerning sales careers in such diverse fields as real estate, securities, automobiles, industrial and business equipment, insurance, and retail sales.

MacCloskey, Monro. Your Future in the Military Ser-Careers in the all-volunteer services suit a wide range of interests and skills and offer attractive benefits, including excellent pay and educational opportunities.

McCoy, J. J. The World of the Veterinarian. Lothrop 1964.
The evolution of veterinary medicine and planning a career in the field.

McDonnell, Virginia B. Careers in Hotel Management.
Messner 1971.
Hotels and motels are miniature cities which demand imaginative control and thus offer a growing number of career opportunities in management. College list.

McGonagle, Robert, and Marquita McGonagle. Prepare for a Career in Radio and Television Announcing.
Lothrop 1974.
Two, experienced broadcasters share their practical knowledge with prospective announcers. Includes practice scripts and college list.

After demonstrating the need for increased consumer protection, McLeod describes careers in consumer education, inspection, and law enforcement; and science, engineering, and noncollege careers in consumer protection.

The Environmental Protection Agency predicts that the need for environmental professionals will triple by 1980. There will be challenging jobs in ecology, the physical and environmental sciences, and in agricultural, chemical, and civil engineering.

Journalist Myers describes the varieties of education available to would-be journalists and tells how students can get valuable experience in high school.

Sixty-five people tell what their jobs are like. A wide range of careers is included, among them legal secretary, dress shop owner, airline ticket salesman, plumber, and architect.

A librarian describes career opportunities in public and school libraries. List of library schools accredited by the American Library Association.

What it feels like to fly a plane, what it takes to be a private, commercial, or military pilot. (See also Dick O’Kane, Making of an Aircraft Mechanic, Westminster; and Ross R. Olney, Air Traffic Control, Nelson.)

Many kinds of oceanographers band together to explore, study, and understand the mysteries of the marine world. Some are specialists in physics, biology, or chemistry, while others are marine engineers or technicians.

Rusk, Howard A. A World to Care For. Readers Digest Fr 1972.

The success of his rehabilitation program for war-damaged men led Dr. Howard Rusk to establish the Institute of Rehabilitation Medicine (New York University Medical Center), which serves physically disabled patients from all over the world.

What it's really like to be an ad person, a banker, a lawyer, or a teacher. Takes you through typical days, explodes illusions, and issues warnings.

Descriptions of specializations within the legal profession, information on qualifications for the various fields, lists of law schools, and advice on state bar exams and the young lawyer's first professional steps.

Describes the scope of modern nursing, explains the training and personal qualities required, and lists scholarship sources. Also, what the future holds for nurses in an age of outer space and ocean exploration.

Describes more than fifty careers in the medical field, including nursing, psychiatric social worker, speech therapist, dental hygienist, optometrist, and medical doctor. Includes health career self-evaluation test.

Trained home economists may work in many specialized fields: textiles, food, fashion, writing, art, chemistry, teaching, and radio-TV. The author emphasizes practical experience in addition to formal training. Bibliography and college lists.

Brief descriptions of more than 500 nontraditional occupations now open to women in law, medicine, the helping professions, science and math, engineering, the creative arts, business, manual trades, and government services.

Paraprofessionals assist full-fledged professionals in numerous fields: law, architecture, education, medicine, library science, engineering, and science. Their education is not as lengthy and demanding as that of the professional, but they share the same sense of service and satisfaction.

Assists high school graduates in assessing their interests and capabilities, in matching their qualifications with those required for hundreds of jobs described in the book, and in choosing jobs in which they can find success and gain advancement. Bibliographies.

Opportunities for blacks in journalism are increasing and should continue to grow during the next few years. In addition to historical information, Stein offers short sketches on dozens of black Americans currently active in all aspects of journalism.

A dancer and critic offers advice to young men and women who want onstage or behind-the-scenes careers in dance. Includes a chapter on special problems and opportunities of the male dancer.

What happens when a prospective employer wants to give you a polygraph (lie detector) test before hiring you? It is a growing practice—and many people panic because they do not understand the machine or the test.

Brief descriptions of the wide range of careers in television, radio, public relations, advertising, magazine and newspaper publishing, and movies.
I AM WOMAN

Reports across the United States about the legal rights of women in marriage, in having or adopting children, in divorce, in employment, and other areas. Nonfiction.

An anthology of articles about the women's liberation movement and what led to it, discrimination against women in jobs, the role of modern woman and the family, and the cultural identity of women. Mature nonfiction.

One of the first to see parallels between the role of women and that of slaves in nineteenth-century America, Abbey Kelley Foster fought the conservative and the overcautious in helping to clear the path for the abolition of slavery and universal suffrage. Nonfiction.

Joan Baez takes the reader into the days of her childhood, her antiwar protest, and her music. She writes with feeling about her parents, her friends, and her dreams. Nonfiction.

A collection of stories by nine authors about women, young and old, affluent and poor, who are often trapped by the harsh circumstances of their lives, but sometimes see their way through them. Includes a photo essay. Fiction.

Discussing the subject of prejudice against women, the author supplies information about the occupational advancement possibilities, changing roles, and new feminism in the women's movement. Nonfiction.

A high school girl becomes a Suffragist and makes her own decisions. Fiction.
A study of rape as a method used historically by men to keep women in a perpetual state of fear and subjugation. The author argues that rape is intertwined with racism and war and the cult of violence. Mature nonfiction.

The biography of a woman who fought for women's rights at a time when women were considered good for nothing but bearing children, sewing, knitting, and housecleaning. Sarah J. Hale overcame many obstacles, including the death of her husband and having to raise their five children alone. Nonfiction.

Black women's voices in poetry and essays, talking about life as they see it, sometimes with love, sometimes with anger. The language is colorful and expressive. Mature.

Twenty-six stories about women growing up, playing roles men seem to expect women to play, and being what they want to be, by writers Carson McCullers, Joyce Carol Oates, Doris Lessing, and others. Fiction.

Robert Rolt's wife, Sarah, suddenly disappears from a seemingly comfortable marriage. Two years later she is found, unable to recall why she left home or any of the events of her previous life. Fiction.

An explanation of the whys and hows of the women's liberation movement. The introduction concludes, "Tired of being inferior? Read on." The text illuminates the problems that women encounter and offers suggestions on how to solve them. Nonfiction.

The author believes that black women have been forced into silence both because they are black and because they are women. The book is a result of many interviews with women from all walks of life: a woman in charge of adult literacy, a housewife, and a chairperson of a college English department. Nonfiction.

Brief biographies of eighty-five women representatives and senators from 1917, when Montana voters elected Jeannette Rankin to the House of Representatives, to the contemporary scene. Nonfiction.

Chesler shows how psychiatry forces women to behave in certain "acceptable" ways. Those who break the norms by independent behavior are often viewed as mentally ill. She discusses the treatment women receive in mental asylums and cites the case histories of Sylvia Plath and Zelda Fitzgerald, among others. Nonfiction.

Selections from seventy women poets, ranging across the years from Gertrude Stein to Erica Jong.

Living in New Orleans around 1900, a mother of two becomes painfully aware that her artistic and sexual needs are not being filled. She tries to forget her problems on a family vacation, but the sea surrounding them only reminds her of how all-enclosing Victorian society is. Fiction.

Best known for her work with Susan B. Anthony and the women's suffrage movement, Elizabeth Stanton had actually broken ground much earlier when she urged passage, in 1848, of a bill allowing married women the right to own property. Nonfiction.

This anthology of women's liberation writings discusses the role of women in today's society and what can be predicted as their roles in the future. It contains selections from the writings of Diane Di Prima, Jean Tepperman, Marlene Dixon, and others. Nonfiction.

The fictional diary of a Hackensack high school girl in the 1960s. Problems at home—an alcoholic mother, a bad-tempered father—are set against the backdrop of cheerleading tryouts and homework. Fiction.

After a lifetime of service to Israel, Ambassador Meir retired in 1966. Soon she was recruited to head the Israeli Labor Party and three years later became her country's first female prime minister. Nonfiction.

A study of the sociology, psychology, and economics of women at work. Mature nonfiction.

"Her"-storical perspective from the Amazons to the Redstockings (a 1960s radical women's group). Some sections for mature readers only. Nonfiction.

Born in 1853, Lillie Langtry became the toast of London society and the darling of the American stage. Nonfiction.

A semi-autobiographical short story from the late 1800s that accurately depicts the psychological breakdown of a proper Victorian woman. Fiction.

Poems from this immediate, fresh poet selected especially for junior high and high school students.

With acid wit and personal experience, Greer analyzes the conflict between what society expects women to be and what women need to be fulfilled. Nonfiction.

Six short stories, including the title story about a housewife whose life has come to a mad night vigil under her kitchen sink and another which presents a portrait of lesbian love. Mature fiction.

Like the Whole Earth Catalog, this woman's reference book is printed on newsprint and consists of ads and resources focused on the needs of modern women. The products and services offered are all by women. Nonfiction.

The first group of feminists joined together in 1848 to work for women's rights. The book describes those early contributors, among them Susan B. Anthony, the Grimke sisters, and Amelia Bloomer. Nonfiction.

The struggle of American women to leave the pedestal men had placed them on and to gain freedom and self-respect is chronicled by the author. She covers almost everything from the pioneer woman to the women's liberation movement. Nonfiction.

A book for high school students with some frank language and some real incidents. Nonfiction.

The author traveled the country interviewing women jockeys. She found out how they started horseracing, what they like and dislike about their lives, and where they see their careers heading. Nonfiction.
This study of women in literature includes Ibsen heroines, the Brontes, Sylvia Plath, and Zelda Fitzgerald. Nonfiction.

A very personal essay about the author and what it means to grow up as a woman but not quite as a human being. Photographs and diary entries document the state of being a woman today. Some photographs may offend some people. Mature nonfiction.

Hogrefe, Pearl. Tudor Women: Commoners and Queens. Iowa St U Pr 1976.
The Tudor women whose lives Hogrefe traces circumvented English legal and social restrictions of their times (1485–1600) to lead full lives in commercial, political, or intellectual pursuits. Nonfiction.

A tapestry from the eleventh century comes to life in the story of Maria. Maria's marriage to the brother of the man she loves is a convenience for her lover but brings her little happiness. Fiction.

Short biographies of hundreds of American women from 1607 to 1950. Except for the wives of presidents, women cited are all well known in their own right. Nonfiction.

The history and background of the women's movement serves as an introduction to a discussion of the practical problems and potential of women today and the careers and services women now have open to them. Mature nonfiction.

Jeannette Rankin was the first woman elected to the United States Congress. A leading feminist at all times, she was likely even better known as the only member of Congress to vote against America's entry into either World War. Nonfiction.

The life and training of the stewardess and an attack on the profession pointing up the subservient and demeaning nature of the job. Eighty percent of the training is devoted to beauty and only twenty percent to the safety procedures necessary in an aircraft. Nonfiction.

A collection of short stories by women from Asia, Africa, and Latin America, each story illustrating a woman trying to find herself and a valid role in her society. Mature fiction.

Key, Mary Ritchie. Male/Female Language. Scarecrow 1975.

Billie Jean King, champion tennis player, tells about her struggle to become a champion athlete and her wish to become involved in the women's rights movement. Nonfiction.

A collection of articles from Ms. magazine. Explains the meaning behind the rhetoric of the women's liberation movement: sexism, feminism, consciousness-raising sessions, and other topics. Nonfiction.

Suzanne Hagen (she prefers the name Zanballer) loves sports. Even worse for her principal, she believes girls have a right to play team sports. She becomes a thorn in her school's side until girls are given a time and place to play football before an audience. Fiction.

As a young woman, Sanger discovered how horrifying life was for the poor who were unable to find ways to control the size of their families. She devoted her life to educating the world about the necessity of family planning. Nonfiction.

Women become domestic drones after moving to a quiet suburban community known as Stepford. Fiction.

Until recently, women pro tennis players were not as well paid as men players and their matches were not as well attended. With the coming of women players like Billie Jean King, Francoise Durr, Margaret Court, Chris Evert, and Evonne Goolagong, changes took place slowly so that most spectators now agree that women's tennis is as exciting as men's play. Nonfiction.

The story of five young women who fought against the medical practice of the Victorian age to become doctors. Nonfiction.

A documentary about British Suffragettes from 1903 to 1918 centering on Emmeline Pankhurst and her two daughters and using speeches, newspaper articles, photographs, and letters to illustrate the struggle and pain and final victory. Nonfiction.

Poems by a rising young feminist who speaks of both youthful and adult female experience.

The lives and writings of women authors from Mary Wollstonecraft and her Vindication of the Rights of Women to modern writers like Virginia Woolf and Dorothy Parker. Nonfiction.

The authors discuss the frequency and causes of rape, how to avoid entrapment, and how to cope with rape physically and emotionally. Nonfiction.

In 1889 Jane Addams established a settlement house in one of Chicago's teeming immigrant districts "to respond to the immediate primitive needs of the community." She became an important force in fighting for improved social conditions in an era prior to labor laws. Nonfiction.

The life story of Zelda Fitzgerald details her marriage to F. Scott, their reckless life style, and her later breakdown and confinement in a sanitarium. Fond of outrageous stunts and discouraged from pursuing her artistic ambitions, she was unable to assert her own identity apart from her husband. Nonfiction.

An anthropologist asserts that women are superior to men physically, psychologically, and socially. He argues that this knowledge has been available for years, but a male-dominated culture and a female submissiveness to the male ego have maintained the myth of male superiority. Mature nonfiction.
An anthology of writings from the women's liberation movement: articles, poems, and photographs about birth control, television, high school, college, careers, law, and medicine. Mature.

Adrift in her fourth marriage, surrounded by her numerous children, the heroine is still trying to figure out how all her adolescent dreams got away from her. Mature fiction.

Secretary of labor under Franklin Roosevelt in the 1930s and 1940s, Frances Perkins is a model for the current women's movement because of her ability and willingness to act when the times demanded it. Nonfiction.

A collection of interviews with twelve women who make their living in rock and roll. A range of performers from vocalist Grace Slick to electric guitarist Alice Stuart answer questions about the women's movement and the music industry. Nonfiction.

Cress Richardson, age eleven, is forced to examine questions such as the importance of a college degree versus marriage, or about girls engaging in "masculine" activities. Fiction.

Twenty-year-old Esther Greenwood goes to New York to serve on a fashion magazine's editorial board. The hectic and hollow tone of her stay there captures for women the adolescent experience that Holden Caulfield, in Catcher in the Rye, captures so well for men. Fiction.

Rosnacoke, a young woman, works at a tedious job in North Carolina while waiting for Wesley to decide to settle down, but he is more interested in fast motorcycles and women. Mature fiction.

Eight women describe the turning point in their lives, the time each decided upon a career to pursue. The list includes Shirley MacLaine, Shirley Chisholm, Emily Hahn, Margaret Sanger, Althea Gibson, Edna Ferber, Dorothy Day, and Margaret Bourke-White. Nonfiction.

Ideas by and about women concerning education, freedom, sex, equality, politics, and the law, among other things. Mature nonfiction.

Dorothy Thompson was called "The First Lady of American Journalism." She traveled widely in Europe during the 1920s, knew almost anybody of political importance, and was a highly influential reporter before and after World War II. Mature nonfiction.

One of four scientists to work on the molecular structure of DNA (the key to heredity), she was never given credit for her work. Her contributions were downgraded by male scientists apparently unable to accept a woman as an equal. Nonfiction.

A historical collection of writings by and about women, their rights, their self-images, their responsibilities, their freedoms, and their social roles from the eighteenth century until today. Mature nonfiction.

A collection of stories written by women, each struggling to be master of herself and her destiny. Katherine Mansfield, Jessamyn West, and eight other authors. Fiction.

Thirty-six women talk about their jobs—vocations as different as painter, sportswriter, musical conductor, biophysicist, pilot, brigadier general, policewoman, bank vice-president, veterinarian, and filmmaker. Nonfiction.

The adventures of beautiful Sasha Davis, product of the white middle class, as she grows from little girl to twice-married housewife. One woman's search for self and a reflection of the sexist values of society. Fiction.

An autobiography with unique political perspective from an American woman involved in the struggle for India's independence until 1928. Nonfiction.

A collection of ten gifted writers, including Carson McCullers, Doris Lessing, and Colette, who explore growing up and find it is not always a painless and carefree experience. Fiction.

The essays and short stories underscore the inequality of opportunity for women, from nursery school to training for astronauts, from the typist to the prizefighter.

A collection of excerpts from many women crying out for freedom to govern their own destinies, beginning with Abigail Adams in 1776 and ending with Shulamith Firestone in 1970. Nonfiction.

The role of Indian women in early American history. Dispelling many myths, the authors examine living conditions, clothing, family life, adornments, sexual rituals and activities, labor, health, and status. Mature nonfiction.

Sophia, Mary, and Elizabeth were bright and energetic young women of the nineteenth century. Each was specially talented and each left her own mark on those with whom she came into contact. Nonfiction.

Women are getting into politics, often with great success. The authors report on how and why women get into the political arena and some get elected to political office. Nonfiction.

Ten biographies of women who have fashioned worthwhile careers for themselves in fields as different as medicine and TV and police work. Nonfiction.

A collection of contemporary writing by twenty-three women journalists, poets, playwrights, and novelists. Writers like Doris Lessing turn inward to the emotional life of love and breakup while journalists like Joan Didion look at women's roles in society.

Recreating the 1950s with black humor, Weldon tells the story of Wacky Wanda, her daughter, and her friends. Their lives center on troubled relationships with men. Fiction.

Married to the man who will become Richard III of England, Anne Neville becomes queen when Richard usurps the throne. Fiction.
American Indian Experiences

AMERICAN INDIAN EXPERIENCES

American Indian students from many schools and tribes wrote for this collection of poetry and prose. Some of the students celebrate nature, and many allow the reader to get some understanding of what it means to be an Indian.

Living with some Navajo families, Susanne Anderson captures on film a lifestyle, customs, and beliefs that are foreign to her. Nonfiction.

Armstrong’s collection of Indian speeches reflects the historical development of this country from the seventeenth century to the 1970s. Indians speak about the heritage of the land, broken treaties, and their hopes for peace and for the future. Nonfiction.

A collection of songs, prayers, poems, and stories from many tribes revealing deep belief and feelings about Indians and their relationship with each other, to the earth, and to their maker.

The Nez Perce tribe in Oregon did not fight whites until tribal land was taken. Then Chief Joseph, one of the greatest Indian war chiefs and military generals in history, and his tribe tried to fight their way from Oregon to Canada. Nonfiction.

A fascinating collection of 100-year-old glass-plate photographs of American Indians of the southern Plains. who were then in almost constant battles with the U.S. Army. Interspersed with brief histories of the Kiowa, Comanches, Apaches, and others are short biographies of selected individual Indians. Nonfiction.

An adopted Indian, the only white survivor of the Battle of the Little Big Horn, tells the story of his life both as a white frontiersman and as a Cheyenne Indian. Fiction.

With the aid of his wine-guzzling uncle and a kind but crazy lawyer, Henry Crowfoot seeks to confirm the authority of an old treaty proving that his impoverished band owns half of downtown Harbor City. Fiction.

Rolling Thunder is a medicine man of the Cherokee and Shoshone Indians. He reveals to the author secrets that have been passed down for centuries and demonstrates that they are not fairy tales but real powers Indians accept. Nonfiction.

A general overview of the history of American Indians—including Eskimos, Mayans, and Aztecs—from prehistory to the beginning of the twentieth century. Mature nonfiction.

A combination of 160 photographs and brief textual comments presents an unusual portrait of both early and modern life among the Red Lake Band of the Chippewa Indians who live in northern Minnesota. Nonfiction.

Dee Brown presents the Indians' side of the Winning of the West" during the second half of the nineteenth century, using the words of famous Indians themselves wherever possible. (Some readers might prefer the simplified version of Brown's book adapted by Amy Ehrlich, Wounded Knee: An Indian History of the American West, HR&W.) Nonfiction.

A pictorial description of the battles between white men and Indians like Red Cloud and Sitting Bull of the Sioux, and Black Kettle of the Cheyenne. Nonfiction.

Less visible and less publicized than the Indians of the Southwest are the tribes of the Southeast—the Cherokees, Choctaws, Seminoles, and other smaller tribes. This book describes—along with numerous photographs and drawings—the histories, lifestyles, games, foods, music, crafts, and beliefs of those peoples. Nonfiction.

A Cherokee Indian artist writes about her childhood and the legends, prayers, and stories she heard that made her aware of her heritage. Beautifully illustrated by the author. Nonfiction.

The editors list and analyze the modern injustices and miseries which American Indians suffer: poverty, lack of education and health care facilities, dwindling land, loss of identity. Nonfiction.

Navajo prayers and rituals play major roles in this fast-moving story of an intelligent and introspective young woman's preparation to follow in her father's respected footsteps. (See also Journey to the People, Viking Pr; and Circle of Seasons, FS&G.) Fiction.
Clark, LaVerne Harrell. They Sang for Horses: The Impact of the Horse on Navajo and Apache Folklore. U of Ariz Pr 1966.
A beautifully illustrated examination of the importance of horses in the lives and folklore of Navajo and Apache Indians over the past 300 years. Examined are ways of keeping horses holy, ceremonies in raiding for horses, use as wedding gifts, and burial with the dead. Mature nonfiction.

Indomitable and at peace with his world, Agocho becomes defiant, bitter, and withdrawn when his wife Kai-a is brutally killed by white men, who irrigate and develop the once peaceful desert surrounding his home beside the Salton Sea, and his only son N'Chai Chidn forsakes his Apache traditions for the attractions of money, flashy cars, and a white woman. Fiction.

Hoping to counter some of the distortions about American Indians that have been perpetuated in history books and films, this collection of documents reveals the agony and the injustices suffered by the Indians from the sixteenth century to the present. Mature nonfiction.

With the underlying belief in the interrelation of all living things, this collection of myths and legends records the life and development of the Hopi people. Mature.

From the 1903 edition of Curtis's work, the editors have taken a selection of photographs of Indians in 1899.

This is really the Indians' book because it consists entirely of the words and music of their legends and songs. Natalie Curtis has recorded 149 of them from eighteen tribes. Nonfiction.

The editor has selected more than two dozen essays, poems, published speeches, and segments from biographies of well-known Indians to illustrate, in their own words, what it means to grow up Indian, to encounter the white man, and to suffer and endure in the twentieth century.

American Indians before the white man, the coming of whites, the frontier fights, the reservation system, and contemporary Indians and their problems and hopes. (See also The Road to Disappearance: A History of the Creek Indians, U of Okla Pr.) Nonfiction.

Probably the leading spokesman for Indian rights today, Deloria makes a strong and convincing case for a new policy by the federal government toward Indians. Detailing the number of treaties made and broken in the past, Deloria insists that the U.S. must redefine and then protect the rights of Indians. Nonfiction.

In one of the most popular and influential Indian books of the early 1970s, Deloria dispels numerous myths and misconceptions about Indians. He sets the white man straight with unusual wit and irony, on such topics as treaties, religion, government agencies, and Indian humor. (See also We Talk, You Listen: New Tribes, New Turf, Dell; and The Indian Affair, Friend Pr.) Nonfiction.

This history of the white man's inability to treat the Indians with compassion, charity, or fairness covers court decisions, treaties, congressional hearings, and political and military confrontations between Indians and whites. Mature nonfiction.

Ellis, Mel. Sidewalk Indian. HR&W 1974.
Charley Nightwind, a city Indian, escapes to the forests of a Wisconsin reservation after he is unjustly accused of killing a policeman during an Indian protest. Fiction.

The Flatheads (or Salish) are a little-known Indian tribe whose land was the Bitteroot Valley in western Montana. The Flatheads welcomed the white settlers, accepted them, shared their lands with them, and were finally dispossessed and destroyed by them. Mature nonfiction.

Running Standing and Crosses-the-River marry. She returns to help her Cheyenne people develop their reservation land, while he is lured by the white man's riches. Eventually, outwitted by the dishonest whites, Running Standing seeks revenge. Fiction.

An interpretation of the history of the fierce tribe that for sixty years was the single greatest obstacle to the white conquest of the country. Mature nonfiction.

Fergusson describes some of the history and major ceremonial dances of the Pueblo, Hopi, Navajo, and Apache Indians. Although the explanations are somewhat superficial—due to the white writer's limited access to the secrets of the ceremonies, Fergusson's personal observations are honest and recounted with relish. Nonfiction.

In 1680, nearly a century before the revolution of the Americans against British rule, the Pueblo Indians, in what is now New Mexico, revolted against their Spanish rulers. This is the little-known story of that revolution, under the leadership of Popé, against forced labor, involuntary seizure of harvests, and religious persecution. Nonfiction.

The story of Yellow Bird, Indian son of General George Custer, during the years when the Plains Indians fought under Crazy Horse and Sitting Bull against the treachery and lies of the blue-coated soldiers—from the Little Big Horn to the 1890 massacre at Wounded Knee. Fiction.

When the Nez Percé tribe is ordered to leave its Wallowa Valley lands in Oregon, Chief Joseph leads his people in a desperate struggle to remain free. A poetic portrait of a leader who chooses to resist rather than to surrender as the white man usurps the land and assaults the spirit and culture of his tribe. Fiction.

Crazy Horse led his Sioux people against the white men who ravaged Indian land. Nonfiction.

The Wetherills' life as traders in the Southwest during the early 1900s and their archaeology explorations during which they "discovered" the ruins at Mesa Verde, Betatakin, and the famous natural arch, Rainbow Bridge. Mature nonfiction.

The first anthology of Indian literature to be published in Canada contains contemporary poems, stories, speeches, and essays from diverse tribes of Canadian Indians, including Ojibway, Micmac, Taidka, Assiniboine, Cree, and Naskapi.

By first living with Navajos on their arid, peaceful reservation and then "passing" as a Navajo maid with a white family in suburban California, Grace Halsey provides a moving account of Navajo life, Indian-white conflicts, and contemporary values. Nonfiction.

Manacled to a cot in an isolated cell of a girls' reformatory, Hatter Fox, an uncontrollable seventeen-year-old Navajo, asks only one thing of the young doctor who tries to help her: "Kill me!" Fiction.

Articles on history, archaeology, sociology, economics, urbanization, and the present status of California Indian tribes. Mature nonfiction.

The relationship between thirteen-year-old David Marshall, a white boy from the modern world, and his kidnapper, Katsuk, a militant Indian intent on carrying out a ritual sacrifice of vengeance for all the innocent Indians previously murdered by whites. Fiction.

Less well known than Wounded Knee, the massacre of Indians at Sand Creek in Colorado was just as shameful and has been more controversial. Nonfiction.

Old Fish Hawk is the town drunk who decides to return to the wilderness where he once lived freely with his Osage people. But he must first kill a marauding bear and destroy an old killer boar for revenge. Fiction.

This attractively illustrated book has articles about Indian history, art, religion, cooking, women, legal rights, and politics written by Indians such as Vine Deloria, Jr., as well as by non-Indians such as Vincent Price and Stewart Udall. Nonfiction.

Two dozen essays, speeches, and documents by Indians and non-Indians illustrate the rise of the militant Red Power movement throughout the 1960s. The Indians speak out clearly for the right of self-determination—of their lands, programs, policies, and their very lives. Mature nonfiction.

A beautiful collection of full-color photographs of Navajo and Pueblo Indians of the Southwest, accompanied by ancient chants, emphasizing the wonder and harmony of the people and nature. The clarity of the colors contrasts sharply with the encroaching pollution and strip mining which threaten the area. Nonfiction.

LaFarge, Oliver. Laughing Boy (© 1929). NAL 1971.
An innocent young Navajo man, Laughing Boy, meets Slim Girl, a wily, beautiful, and rich young woman whose Indian ways have been bred out of her by education and corruption in the white world. Fiction.

All the details anyone would ever need to know about how to build, decorate, transport, and live in a tipi. From their extensive personal experiences, the authors write for both the outdoor camper and the student of Indian lore. Nonfiction.

A courageous half-breed woman lives alternately with white and Chippewa families in nineteenth-century Wisconsin. The novel offers keen insights into Indian ways, white attitudes, and personal identity. Fiction.

After studying natural remedies of the Indians, J. I. Lighthall published this book in 1883 "to acquaint the people with an important and valuable knowledge of the medical action of a great many of our most common herbs, roots, barks, flowers, and leaves..." Includes everything from sage and sarsaparilla to poke root and pulsatilla. Nonfiction.

Loh examines the Navajo's attachment to the land and emphasizes the dignity and determination that have enabled the people to endure the unrelenting hardships of their world. Nonfiction.

A history of the Indians' defense of their lives and beliefs, covering fifty years of shameful warfare such as the Battle of Wounded Knee and the Sand Creek Massacre. Nonfiction.

Three teenage boys—Charka, a Modoc Indian; Ned, the son of white settlers; and Yankel, a Jewish immigrant soldier—and their involvement in the bloody Modoc Indian War on the California-Oregon border. Fiction.

A huge, well-documented, and profusely illustrated book about the life and customs of the Western, Chiricahua, Mescalero, and Jicarilla Apache. The author includes more than 300 photos and 200 sketches to illustrate his detailed descriptions of food, ceremonies, arts and crafts, games, ornaments, language, weapons, and religion of the Apaches. Mature nonfiction.
This reference book provides the traveler with a panoramic view of American Indian tribes—their customs, crafts, culture, and ceremonies. Included are maps, guides to museums and other points of interest, dates of special events, plus the location of nearby campsites of each tribe in the country. Nonfiction.

A well-written, factual account about the hallucinogen peyote—its origins, its effects, laws regarding its use, its institutional use within the Native American church. The authors vividly describe the rituals and significance that accompany the use of the drug. Nonfiction.

Legends of the Nisqually, Oglala Sioux, Nez Percé, Snohomish, and other tribes. Nonfiction.

An outstanding compilation of speeches and writings of numerous North American Indians. The Indians—Luther Standing Bear, Black Elk, Chief Joseph, Crazy Horse, Vine Deloria, Jr., and others—speak eloquently about the land, about the white man, and about freedom and dignity. Illustrated with more than fifty photographs by Edward S. Curtis. Nonfiction.

Sarah grows up in a Hopi village and then lives with a middle-class white family. After high school and a broken love affair, she returns to the reservation. Fiction.

Based on twenty years of interviews with seventy-one eyewitnesses, Miller describes the Indians’ version of what really happened at the Battle of the Little Big Horn. This authentic account dispels many of the myths about Custer's irrational and fatal attempt to attack overwhelming numbers of Sioux and Cheyenne in 1876. Nonfiction.

Momaday, a Kiowa Indian, tells of his people: their legends, folklore, and stories; their reflections; and their beliefs and suffering. Mature nonfiction.

An impressive documentary survey of American Indian life and history in the words of the people themselves. Starting with descriptions of legends and customs, this collection next examines Indian and white conflicts, broken treaties, and reservation life. The last section deals with urbanization, identity, and the "Red Power" movement of the 1930s and 70s. Mature nonfiction.

Two young traders on a Navajo reservation serve as friends, counselors, and doctors to the people, as well as advocates of the Indians' social and economic welfare. Fiction.

O'Dell, Scott. Sing Down the Moon. HM 1970.
When Bright Morning is fifteen in 1864, soldiers force the people of her village to join other Navajos in the historic Long Walk to New Mexico. Hundreds die; others lose their spirit. Bright Morning makes plans to escape and return to her canyon with her crippled husband and their son. Fiction.

Originally titled Arrow in the Sun, this is the story of a beautiful white woman and an inept soldier who survive a Cheyenne Indian attack on a cavalry train. Fiction.

Over a hundred spectacular full-color photographs by Muench and Pike's thoroughly researched text present the cultural history and enduring remains of the prehistoric Anasazi who built magnificent stone cities among the stark cliffs of the Southwest. Nonfiction.

A vivid and moving account of the Nez Percé War during which only several hundred Indians under the leadership of Chief Joseph outmaneuvered nearly 2,000 soldiers in an unprecedented 1,700-mile retreat. Nonfiction.

Black and white photographs by Adelaide de Menil of totem poles of the Haida, Kwakiutl, Tlingit, and Tsimshian Indians of the Pacific Northwest, accompanied by a very brief text by William Reid about the people and the art of their finely carved poles. Nonfiction.

A collection of Indian portraits only recently found in a file in the American Museum of Natural History. The portraits are of many tribes, but all establish the dignity of humanity. Nonfiction.

This lengthy but exceptionally well-written novel, from shifting points of view and time, takes the reader through four generations of Washo Indians in Nevada during the past century. Powerful episodes reveal the whites as thoughtless, selfish savages, while the doomed Indians struggle to survive and preserve their individuality and beliefs. Mature fiction.

This anthology provides a broad and representative cross section of Native American writings. In addition to legends, folktales, biographies, poems, stories, and essays of protest, the Indian editors comment on Indian life and literature. Mature.

The customs and ideas of the people who were the author's neighbors and playmates when she was growing up in northwestern Nebraska. This short, personal account shows the tenderness and caring within the Sioux family life as opposed to their reputation as fierce warriors. Nonfiction.

An extraordinary collection of photographs of American Indians made between 1847 and 1929. These unusually high-quality photographs from the Smithsonian Institution's Archives are accompanied by a brief and informative text explaining the subtle changes that occurred in Indian life as a result of the expansion of white "civilization." Nonfiction.

An art teacher describes and demonstrates how to make Indian tools, moccasins, drums, beadwork, baskets, and pottery. What makes this book especially valuable is that the author presents only those crafts which he himself has mastered using native materials. Nonfiction.

During the Santee Sioux uprising in the Dakota Territory in 1862, Indians take numerous white captives. The events culminate in the hanging of thirty-eight Indians of the Santee tribe in Mankato, Minnesota. Fiction.

Drawing upon his own experiences and interviews, John Stands in Timber writes a history of the Cheyenne people. Included here are accounts of the Ghost Dance, the Custer fight, and tribal reactions to the twentieth century. Nonfiction.
Using anecdotes, interviews, documents, songs, and statistics, Steiner presents the young Indians' search for identity and their impatience with the lack of justice in America. Nonfiction.

The incredible story of the Tiguas, an ancient tribe of Indians, thought to be extinct, who have been living and carrying on their old traditions, unknown to most of the modern world—not on some obscure reservation, but in a suburb of El Paso, Texas! Nonfiction.

In addition to categorizing titles according to subject matter, the author includes short biographies of twenty-five important American Indian writers and study guides of nine popular literary works. Nonfiction.

Because some books imply that Indian tribes have disappeared from the eastern United States, Alfred Tamarin wrote this book to note the locations and describe the activities of more than 115,000 modern-day Native Americans who live in the states along the East Coast. Nonfiction.

Terrell traces the history of the Apaches from their first encounters with European explorers to the surrender of Geronimo 350 years later. Nonfiction.

The history of the Sioux Nation from their first appearance in North America (possibly as early as 16,000 B.C.) to their emergence as the great horsemen and warriors of the Western plains. Nonfiction.

In 1879 a small group of Ponca Indians defied the government by leaving the reservation and walking to their ancestral home. The trial of their chief led to the first court case in which Indians successfully challenged the federal government's complete authority over them. Nonfiction.

Intending to present the reader with "the traditions and the historical realities of the North American Indian," Turner has assembled a large collection of tales, poems, speeches, stories, biographies, and essays, both ancient and contemporary, which show the Indians' wisdom and perceptivity as well as their humor and obscenity.

Once a proud tribe who ruled most of the desert Southwest, the Navajos were forced to change their lives when Kit Carson and his soldiers defeated them in 1864. Since then, the Navajos have been best known for their weaving and silversmithing. Nonfiction.

Chief Joseph, in 1879, said: "... I have been asked to show you my heart." In this collection of famous speeches, Joseph and other Indian leaders such as Pontiac, Tecumseh, Cochise, and Sitting Bull show their hearts and concerns for freedom, ecology, self-determination, and peace. Nonfiction.

Gerald Vizenor lets the oskhi anishinabe speak for themselves—their uncertainties, their anger, their struggles, hopes, and failures. No stereotypes here, only real people—young and old—in their daily efforts to maintain their individuality and to regain or defend their cultural heritage. Nonfiction.

Based on anthropological readings from "bones and stones," Vlahos describes the ancient Indian cultures in the Western Hemisphere. The cultures are examined in five groups: hunters, fishermen, gatherers, farmers, and empire builders. Nonfiction.

Unlike his predecessors who studied the Hopi Indians, Waters let thirty-two elders of the tribe describe their creation stories, legends, and rituals to his Hopi assistant, Oswald White Bear Fredericks, who translated them into English. Waters introduces and comments on the myths, sacred narratives, and Hopi world-view. (Waters has recorded his personal experiences during his three years of living with the Hopi in Pumpkin Seed Point: Being within the Hopi, Swallow.) Nonfiction.

Martiniano finds himself in constant trouble, trying to make sense of his white education and knowledge of white ways while living by the laws of his pueblo. He looks into himself and his two worlds, hoping to find out who he is. Fiction.

Waters describes the background of Navajo and Pueblo people as well as their songs, dances, and ceremonials. Waters makes interesting comparisons with Taoism and Buddhism. Mature nonfiction.

A. C. Vroman's documentary photographs present unsentimental but sensitive portraits of Southwestern Indians from a time shortly after the Indians had been defeated by the U.S. Army but had not yet been overcome by missionaries, anthropologists, or tourists. Nonfiction.

Both in subject matter and style, this is a superior fictional treatment of Indian life, Welch being particularly deft at creating believable characters. In the stark setting of a rural Montana ranch and its surrounding towns, the narrator describes his dissatisfied life and his search for meaning in past memories and present conflicts. Mature fiction.

After interviewing some old tribal members, Weltfish describes what life was probably like for the Pawnee Indians during the year 1867. Through this technique he is able to describe the yearly ceremonies and activities: planting crops, hunting, cooking, making instruments, harvesting. Mature nonfiction.

Witt conveys a picture of today's Tuscarora Indians, the last of the Indian nations to join the Iroquois Confederacy. Drawing on the past and present, the author shows the lands, the people, their activities, their religion, and their spirit. Nonfiction.

This diversified anthology of American Indian writings speaks for contemporary Indians. It contains essays, documents, and newspaper articles as well as poems, legends, and stories. The writings are grouped into eight sections, including songs, education, laws, death, and prophecies of the future.

A brief and poetic journey through the history and beliefs of the 1,000-year-old pueblo at Taos, New Mexico. A portrait of the present inhabitants through photographs, poems, sayings, aphorisms, and legends. Nonfiction.

Writing in poetry and prose what the old men have told her, Nancy Wood presents the wisdom and philosophy of the Indians of Taos Pueblo, New Mexico. Nonfiction.
162 Black Experiences

This collection of public documents, most of them from the federal government, reveals the long history of white savagery against American-Indians. Not just the outright stealing of Indian lands, but also the barbarous, bloody, horrifying acts of decapitating and skinning Indians, mutilating pregnant women, and paying bounties for Indian skulls. Mature nonfiction.

A written record of the oral literature of the Zuni Indians of New Mexico. Recounted simply and carefully by the elders from generation to generation, these forty-six stories of myths, legends, traditions, and factual experiences provide a unique narrative of the Zuni people.

BLACK EXPERIENCES

Compiled for today’s youth, this collection contains poems by promising young black poets as well as established artists.

Alexander, Rae Paco, and Julius Lester, editors. Young and Black in America. VinRandom 1970.

Eight men and women relate what it is like to be young and black in America today through poignant accounts from their own lives. Nonfiction.

Sounder is the coon dog belonging to the young son of a black sharecropper living in the deep South some years ago. The boy, his family, and the coon dog are all victims, but the boy tells the story without self-pity. Fiction.

Two black writers talk on a London TV show. Transcripts of that show reveal what it means to be black and what it means to be human in today's world. Nonfiction.

Three black teenagers in a ghetto want to raise some money. Uncle Jules offers to sell them an old truck so they can do some hauling. Then they get involved in a drug ring. (See also Nitty Gritty, Dell.) Fiction.

Some of the major speeches Malcolm made during the last chaotic months of his life. Mature nonfiction.

A dramatic and often shocking autobiographical account of one black who succeeded in breaking out of the ghetto. Brown's graphic story of his coming of age during the 40s and 50s packs a terrific emotional wallop by vividly recreating the savagery and pathos of life in Harlem. Despite a sometimes wordy style and crude language, this book is a shattering portrayal of American life. Fiction.

Stories of black athletes who broke down the color barriers in professional baseball, basketball, boxing, and football. Nonfiction.

A collection of short stories and poems and articles about black people and black experiences by writers such as Claude McKay, Malcolm X, Margaret Walker, Frederick Douglass, Paul Laurence Dunbar, and Nikki Giovanni.

"Powerful prose and poetry" written by Afro-American men and women of letters. (See also New Black Voices: An Anthology of Contemporary Afro-American Literature, NAL.) Mature.
Ms. Chisholm reminisces about her childhood, her education, and her “ever-increasing” involvement in politics. From her active involvement in a “boss-run” Brooklyn Democratic clubhouse to the New York State Assembly to the U.S. Congress, she refused and still refuses to be a “sell-out” and a “yes” person in or out of the political arena. Nonfiction.

Clarke presents a collection of uncynical and nonbitter stories written by well-known black writers who describe with realism and hopefulness the black experience in America. Fiction.

Cleaver was sentenced to prison for possession of marijuana. In prison, he began to write to save his sanity, and in the process of writing, he found himself, a better self than he had ever known. The language and ideas may offend some readers. Mature nonfiction.

When Pat Conroy goes as a teacher to Yamacraw Island, off South Carolina, he is not prepared for the task before him. He is not prepared to cope with eighteen black children who cannot spell their names or count to five, nor with adults who fail to understand his mission or his unusual techniques. Nonfiction.

Nineteen blacks write about what it means to be black in America. All true experiences, the book covers the period from slavery till now. Nonfiction.

Folklore is a representative depiction of a culture of a given people, and from the tales which are included in this outstanding collection the reader can get a telescopic view of what the overall black experience is all about. Mature fiction.
Black Experiences

Through candid sketches, fourteen American blacks reveal how they escaped the bonds of the ghetto and racism to find their niche in American society. Nonfiction.

Unfairly expelled from a Southern college, an unnamed black goes north to Harlem. Exploited by Communists, he is shot during a riot and takes refuge by literally living underground. Mature fiction.

Fair, Ronald L. We Can't Breathe. Har-Row 1972.
An autobiographical novel of a young black, Ernie, growing up and attempting to survive in a Chicago slum ghetto during the 1930s and 40s. Fiction.

The story of David Champlin, a young black who escapes the South by winning a scholarship to a small Ohio college. His love for a white girl, his struggles for a legal education, and his dedication to improvement of race relations through nonviolence make this exciting, often melodramatic reading. Fiction.

This is an account of an extraordinary man who had a love for freedom and adventure and a thirst for living. Nonfiction.

An anthology which presents the story of the black American experience through thematically arranged literary selections written by black Americans. Fiction.

Born-and-raised a slave, Jane Pittman is freed as a young girl after the Civil War and lives to see the beginnings of black militancy and civil rights work in the 1960s. Fiction.

While the rather outmoded term "Negro" is used throughout this book, this two volume work is still current as an account of the black contribution to American history, a contribution that has been sorely neglected by historians in the past. Nonfiction.

The black comedian turned social reformer writes about his life and why he turned from being a comedian to hunger fasts and other forms of social protest. A powerful, often bitter, and sometimes quite frank story of a significant man. (See also The Shadow That Scares Me, PB.) Nonfiction.

A person of ordinary status reveals what life has been for her as a woman and as a black American. Nonfiction.

The editor compassionately presents the lives and experiences of twenty-four black youths in both the North and South who relate their hopes of becoming a part of the total scene in America. Nonfiction.

Paul Robeson is a singer, an actor, a former football All-American, and activist in trying to improve the lives of his black brothers and sisters. During the 1940s and 1950s Robeson turned to the Communist Party, but millions of black and white people respect him for his work and his honesty. Nonfiction.

Du Bois was one of America's greatest black spokesmen. His cries for equality and freedom and his opposition to segregation and oppression are clear in the selections from Du Bois's speeches, articles, and let-
This autobiography (in play form) is “the portrait of an individual,” the blueprint of a gifted artist, and “the chronicle of a rebel who celebrated the human spirit.” Nonfiction.

A collection of newspaper clippings, magazine articles, sheet music covers, photographs, movie stills, and much more illustrating the black existence in America from its start to fairly recent times. Nonfiction.

The editors present and discuss the changes within the black community since the advent of the “new” black Renaissance. Some of the added chapters deal with the civilizations of ancient Africa, Afro-Americans and Africans today, the black American in motion pictures, the arts, and literature. Nonfiction.

Louretta Hawkins lives with her seven brothers and sisters and a very strong mother. Lou’s friends are street people only interested in being tough. She believes there is more to life than this, and she and her friends start their own musical group. Fiction.

George Jackson was a revolutionary black leader killed at San Quentin Prison in 1971. He proposes revolution and suggests why revolution is necessary to change the social order and structure. An angry book that will offend some readers. Mature nonfiction.

Although written at the turn of the century, this song, often referred to as the black "national anthem," still creates a firm "bond between black Americans of today and of their past." Accompanying verse and music are fitting illustrations.

Through photographs and dialogue between two young black Americans, Kenny and Jerome, the two distinct periods of history—the Reconstruction era and the decade of civil rights—are presented in another light. Nonfiction.

Buddy and Angela love each other, but neither of their families will accept the love. The two young people find a place of their own, a cemetery, where they can talk and make love. Fiction.

When a popular white coach is ousted by the Walter Williams High School Board in Burlington, North Carolina, black Jerome Evans becomes football coach of the recently integrated school. Evans is a hard man to get to know, and he has problems with players and some townpeople on his way to a generally successful first season. Nonfiction.

A collection of dramatized stories of black Americans who because of their independence rebelled against racial barriers and left a proud heritage for today's blacks. Fiction.

As varied as their lifestyles, their environments, and their experiences, twenty-three playwrights relate through drama "what it is and what it means to be black in the here and now of America as no white has ever really known it." Plays contained in this collection are by Imamu Amiri Baraka, Douglas Turner Ward, Ben Caldwell, Lonne Elder III, and others. Mature fiction.

The story of thirty black actors and actresses, from the earliest days of Hollywood to the present, who have found success and have made an indelible imprint in the medium of film. Two hundred photographs accompany the biographical sketches of Stepin Fetchit, Bill Robinson, Butterfly McQueen, Paul Robeson, Ethel Waters, James Earl Jones, Diana Ross, Diana Sands, Sidney Poitier, Cicely Tyson, and others. Nonfiction.

Many people are not aware of the blacks who lived and worked on the western frontier after the Civil War. Indians called black soldiers "buffalo soldiers," a tribute to black bravery. The author writes of the buffalo soldiers, their battles and frustrations and the prejudice usually directed at them. Nonfiction.

Selections about the meaning and status of black women in the United States from the time of slavery until now. Mature nonfiction.

These folktales are grouped under themes such as love, origins, heroes and people. The fifteen tales have been revised from original sources to provide lively reading. Fiction.

Dr. Drew was an athlete who became a scientist and surgeon famous for his discovery of blood plasma during World War II. Nonfiction.

A brief history of the black people in the United States, the cowboys, the slaves, the revolutionaries. The Hollywood image of the black man, the African impact, the political changes in America, all are used to illustrate the past, the present, and the future of blacks in America. Nonfiction.
In this interview with Eldridge Cleaver, then a political exile, readers get an insight into the philosophy, the political position, and the basic ideology of a man who has traveled extensively throughout the world in quest of answers and possible solutions to the problems which he and other black Americans face. Mature nonfiction.

Speeches, interviews, and letters of one of the foremost leaders of the black revolution. Nonfiction.

In sometimes frank language, the authors tell of the hoodlum, thief, and dope peddler who became one of the leaders of the black Muslims. This man, who at first hated whites, later saw hope for bringing blacks and whites together. Mature nonfiction.

A unique discussion between Margaret Mead and James Baldwin on one of the most pressing problems facing the world today—race and society. Mature nonfiction.

A twelve-year-old girl and her family live in Harlem. The girl knows the evil and the strength of the area and encounters fear and despair and love. Fiction.

A very frank and often bitter picture of New York's Harlem ghetto and the horrors of growing up and staying alive told through the experiences of one young man. The ugliness of some of the incidents demands frank language which may offend some readers. Mature fiction.

Sula and Nel are childhood friends who live in the Black Experiences 171

Bottom, land relegated to blacks. Sula leaves for ten years and when she reappears, she breaks up Nel's marriage. Fiction.

Huey P. Newton's autobiographical account emphasizes influences which contributed to his leadership in the black community: his father, who gave him a sense of dignity and pride; and his brother Melvin, who awakened a love of learning that led Huey, almost illiterate at eighteen, to teach himself to read. Mature nonfiction.

Jesse Owens, hero of the 1936 Olympics, writes a frank and honest story of his life, from his youth to the Olympics. He describes how it feels to be a hero patronized by whites and his struggle against bigotry in our country. Nonfiction.

Parks describes his early life on a Kansas farm, his later life on the edge of crime, and how and why he made the choice to become what he became, a writer, photographer, and thinker. Nonfiction.

A frank autobiographical novel of young Newt Winger, a young black man faced with prejudice while growing up in rural Kansas. Fiction.

Patterson, Lindsay, editor. Black Theater. NAL 1971.
A collection of notable dramatic expressions and experiences as seen through the eyes of eleven of America's foremost black playwrights. In this anthology are plays by Arna Bontemps, Alice Childress, Langston Hughes, Lorraine Hansberry, Ossie Davis, Ed Bullins, and others.

The author tape-recorded and edited Nate Shaw's story. of his eighty-five years as an Alabama sharecropper and tenant farmer. In the 1930s Shaw joined the Alabama sharecropper's union to fight cheating landlords and their allies and spent twelve years in prison for shooting at law officers. Mature nonfiction.

Sellers, Cleveland (with Robert Terrell). The River of No Return: The Autobiography of a Black Militant and the Life and Death of SNCC. Morrow 1973. Cleveland Sellers was raised in a small South Carolina town. He knew little about the white world, but he learned about it in the 1960s when he became involved with the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). Nonfiction.

Sterling, Dorothy. Tear Down the Walls! A History of the Black Revolution in the United States. NAL 1970. The story of a great people, their place in and their contribution to America, their 200-year struggle for equality and survival, and their foes and allies, the white Americans. "It is the story of a people who decided to make history out of their lives." Mature nonfiction.

Young, Al. Who Is Angelina? HR&W 1975. A fortuneteller tells black Angelina Green that she is "lost" and will meet a man soon. Angelina is "lost" and confused, and in Mexico she does meet a smuggler of artifacts from ancient Indian ruins. Fiction.

CHICANO EXPERIENCES

Acosta, Oscar Zeta. The Revolt of the Cockroach People. Bantam 1973. The Chicanos of Los Angeles fight the Anglo-dominated churches, courts, and government. They're led by an angry activist named Buffalo Z. Brown, whose exploits with sex and drugs are depicted as openly and honestly as are his battles in court. Mature fiction.
The history of Mexican-Americans in the United States is a record of injustice and discrimination, and the author suggests how and why some changes can be effected. Mature nonfiction.

Filling many of the gaps in traditional American history books, Alford presents a compact history of the Spanish-speaking people of the country, from the earliest Spanish explorers and settlers to present-day migrants and militants. Sixty short biographies are also included. Mature nonfiction.

The desperate lives and oppressive living conditions of Mexican migrant farm laborers in California are seen in the experiences of Manuel and Lupe Gutierrez and the operators of the Western Grande fruit plantation. Fiction.

Bonham captures the frustration, uncertainty, and hardships of a young Mexican-American, Keeney Durán, as he tries to stay out of trouble and find some cultural identity in a Los Angeles barrio. Fiction.

Castro reviews the realities and dreams of the Chicano movement with particular attention to its recent past and present leadership under men like Corky Gonzales, Cesar Chavez, and Lopez Tijerina. In doing this, he discusses the role of the Chicano movement in recent political campaigns and notes how the movement has been generally ineffective. Nonfiction.

Donna Martinez, a Chicano girl from a small village in Arizona, leaves her village and becomes bitter and disillusioned when she discovers the realities of the world outside her home. Fiction.
Mando, the proud Chicano, Sandy Roosevelt, the determined black, Gil Jones, the rich kid, and Jack Kelly, the middle-class white, learn the necessity of teamwork off the field as well as on it. Fiction.

Although it is not a book about Chicanos in the U.S., this history of the Mexican people provides a better understanding of the culture from which many Mexican-Americans have come. Nonfiction.

An account of one of the most important political events in contemporary Mexican-American history and one of the least known outside of the southwestern United States—the events relating to the New Mexico Land Grant of 1832 and Reies Tijerina's raid on the Tierra Amarilla courthouse in 1967. Nonfiction.

Printed in both English and Spanish and lavishly illustrated with photographs, the long poem traces the colorful history of the Mexican-Americans from the Spanish conquistadores and Aztec princes to the present-day struggles of La Raza. Mature.

The author traces the colorful history of Spanish-speaking people in New Mexico from 1598 to the present, focusing mainly on problems of urbanization and maintaining the Spanish cultural heritage in the face of the dominant Anglo culture. Well-documented. Mature nonfiction.

An anthology of contemporary Mexican-American literature, including eight short stories, four excerpts from Chicano novels, twenty-two poems, and three plays by Luis Valdez that were written for the Teatro Campesino.

Martinez, Elizabeth Sutherland, and Enriqueta Vázquez. Viva La Raza: The Struggle of the Mexican American People. Doubleday 1974. Two women tell the story of their people, the treatment of Mexican-Americans as strangers in their own land, and their vision of a growing nation of people. Nonfiction.

Meier, Matt S., and Feliciano Rivera, editors. Readings on La Raza: The Twentieth Century. Hill & Wang 1974. A well-structured collection of nearly fifty essays by various writers—from Carey McWilliams to Ruben Salazar and Ernesto Galarza—highlighting the progress of the Mexican-American Raza during the twentieth century, from the immigrations from Mexico to Chicano militancy (See also The Chicanos: A History of Mexican Americans, Hill & Wang.) Nonfiction.
Chicano Experiences

From the early coming of the Spanish in the sixteenth century until the problems of the Chicano today, the editors cover problems of historical events, religion, education, migration, immigration, and economic strife. Mature nonfiction.

A slightly offbeat story involving bullfighting, drug smuggling, machismo, cock fighting, and Mexican-American history as seen through the eyes of a Southern California parole officer and the two Chicano gang leaders he supervises. Fiction.

A collection of modern and contemporary poetry, fiction, and essays by Mexican-American writers reflecting history, culture, politics, and emerging power. Mature.

A unified collection of thirty-five short stories whose touching and lighthearted incidents reveal the human nature of people from three cultures—Pueblo, Mexican-American, and Anglo—around Santa Fe, New Mexico, during the Christmas season. Fiction.

A biography of Cesar Chavez emphasizing the events surrounding the historic boycott of California grape growers in the middle to late 1960s as Chavez fought quietly for justice for field laborers. Nonfiction.

Starting with the Spanish penetrations of Columbus and Cortez into the "New World," Prago traces the turbulent history of Mexican-Americans, pointing out distortions and omissions in Anglo-oriented histories. and focusing on Mexican leaders from Juarez and Pancho Villa in the past to Cesar Chavez and Corky Gonzales in the present. Nonfiction.

Rendon speaks strongly and authoritatively against Anglo oppression and for acceptance of Chicano identity—for his way of life, for his culture, and for his language. Noting numerous incidents of both national and local significance, Rendon speaks to Anglos as well as to Chicanos about "a new day and a new world." Mature nonfiction.

The first anthology of Mexican-American writings prepared entirely by Mexican-Americans, parts of which are written in Spanish as well as English. The book includes a play, numerous poems, and several stories about the Chicano experience, many of them reflecting the militancy of the late 1960s. Mature.

A young man, after his mother's death, searches for his missing father in a remote Mexican village. Mature fiction.

With vibrant speech and earthy language, the Chicano poets, dramatists, essayists, and fiction writers in this anthology speak out strongly for chicanismo. Mature.

A balanced examination—both objective and subjective of the culture, problems, and accomplishments of contemporary Chicanos. Relying on a wide variety of sources—both white and Chicano, these thirty-two essays were selected from publications as diverse as the Nation, Newsweek, and Sociology and Social Research to Con Safos and El Grito. Nonfiction.

A vivid, moving account of Mexican-American life in the United States. Steiner does not preach. Instead, he tells the stories of real people—and makes the culture, the concerns, the anguish, and the joys of the people live. Nonfiction.

Paul Guevara finds himself in the city, where he is not accepted as a first-class citizen, and he is torn between his conservative father and his revolutionary Chicano friends. Fiction.

A brief biography of Chavez, from his early days as a poorly paid fieldhand to his efforts to organize and bring power to the United Farm Workers union. Nonfiction.

A collection of material covering the origins of Mexican-Americans and their problems, both past and present. Mature.

The history of the Sandoval family, from a nondescript life in Mexico to the barrios of East Los Angeles, and their search for the good life and their cultural identity. Fiction.

A young Mexican grows up during the Depression and learns how to survive in a white world. Mature fiction.
Other Ethnic Experiences

Roberto Garcia, eldest son of a poor Mexican family, tries to escape the poverty of his village by illegally entering the United States. Fiction.

Waters, Frank. People of the Valley. Swallow 1941.
The story of Maria del Valle who, though raised with goats, grows to be a wise and influential woman among the people who live quietly in the isolation of the Sangre de Cristo mountains as the machinery of modern American "progress" moves in. Mature fiction.

OTHER-ETHNIC EXPERIENCES

An anthology of fiction, autobiography, poetry, and essays by writers like Dorothy Parker, Bernard Malamud, Philip Roth, David Ignatow, Denise Levertov, and Elie Wiesel about the Jewish heritage and experience. Mature.

A teenage daughter convinces her mother to move to the United States where life will be better. However, the family quickly feels the constraints of living in New York's Spanish ghetto. Fiction.

This collection of autobiographical sketches includes selections by Harry Golden, Anne Frank, Edna Ferber, and Alfred Kazin. The recurring theme is the pattern of Jewish family life. Nonfiction.

Japanese-Americans have been a part of the United States for generations, but the stereotyped image of the Japanese and their internment during World War II make clear how poorly they have been understood. Nonfiction.

During World War II a community called Manzanar was hastily created in the east Sierras to house thousands of Japanese-American internees. Jeanne Watastuki, a seven-year-old at the time, recalls with vivid observations the fear, frustration, and bewilderment experienced by her family. Nonfiction.

More than 300 photographs from 1850 to 1945 taken in Russia, Poland, and America illustrating Jewish life. Nonfiction.

Twelve-year-old Gerry Amoroso is born an American but reared by Sicilian parents who act as though they had never left their homeland. Living in two worlds, Gerry tries to cope with the values of his family and the values expressed by Americans outside his family. Fiction.

A bilingual anthology (a poem is given in Spanish on one page and in English on the opposite) of Puerto Rican poets, a few before 1955 but the majority by contemporary poets.

A book of cartoons, from funny to bitter, picturing the life of Japanese-American interned by the government during World War II. Nonfiction.

The author present the moving story of the O’Hares, a Japanese-American family prior to and during its relocation following the bombing of Pearl Harbor during World War II. Fiction.

This volume presents a realistic portrait of New York City Jews and their problems of assimilation. Nonfiction.

The story of Chinatown in San Francisco, the people who live there, their families and societies. Mature nonfiction.
Other Ethnic Experiences

The autobiography of Nuligak, an Eskimo born around 1895. Nuligak very early learns the harsh life of the Arctic cold, hunting caribou for survival and fighting epidemics that wipe out entire villages. Nonfiction.

This volume contains selections by forty writers who examine the oppression of Jews in the Soviet Union and the concerns of younger Jews who are vitally interested in their heritage and social questions. Mature nonfiction.

One nomadic Polar Eskimo family's head-on cultural conflict with the white man's values. Allows the reader to see the world from the Eskimo's point of view, a world in which the struggle for survival is the primary concern. Fiction.

A revealing look at Puerto Rican life both in Puerto Rico and in the United States. Jacinto, torn in his allegiance, his identity, and his language, searches for a place to belong. Fiction.

Thomas speaks from personal experiences as a youth growing up in Spanish Harlem. The eldest of seven children, Thomas recalls his years in prison and his fight for rehabilitation as a step in regaining his manhood. Some readers may find situations and language distasteful. Mature nonfiction.

Thomas recounts his arrest, conviction, and seven years in jail for armed robbery and felonious assault during the 1950s. He hates the racism and insensitivity around him, but he is able to find a safety valve for his emotions in his reading and especially in his writing. Some readers may object to both situations and language. Mature nonfiction.

189
The authors present a historical treatise on Puerto Rico through the eyes and words of this country's famous individuals who struggled for the freedom and dignity of their people. Nonfiction.

Born in Seattle, Washington, of Japanese-American parents, Jim and his sisters were taken to Japan following the death of their father; they were trapped there when World War II started. Forced to serve in the Japanese Army, Jim lost his American citizenship. This is his own account of serving in two wars and his attempt to regain his American citizenship. Nonfiction.

COLLECTED ETHNIC EXPERIENCES

Baron, Virginia Olsen, editor. Here I Am! Ban'am 1971.
Through the medium of poetry, with accompanying photographs, young Americans from various minority groups—black, Cuban, Eskimo, Puerto Rican, Native American, Japanese, and Chinese—speak out for themselves, revealing their innermost joys, dreams, aspirations, sorrows, and sometimes anger.

Light has written a satisfying book on the perplexing problem of minority business enterprise in three ethnic communities. They are the black, Chinese, and Japanese communities. The work contributes to the understanding of both the sociology of ethnicity and the sociology of business enterprise. Nonfiction.
Poems by Chicano, Indian, Puerto Rican, Eskimo, black, and Hawaiian writers appear here for the first time. Lowenfels states: "[The poets] have their own way of speaking, their own music and cultural patterns." Mature.

A history and description of black, Chicano, and Indian newspapers, minority personalities in the media, and communications ideas. Mature nonfiction.

A new reading of poetry from pre-Columbian times to the present, this volume includes selections from American Indian, black, Asian, and Chicano cultures. Represented are such writers as John Cage, William Faulkner, Eugene Jolas, William Carlos Williams, Langston Hughes, and Jose Garcia Villa. Mature.

An account of contributions of various ethnic groups to the building of this famous West Coast city. Nonfiction.

Short stories, poetry, and nonfiction about many minorities, their hopes, dreams, fears, and realities.

A collection of stories, poetry, and essays of people with an Asian heritage. The book covers almost every Asian nationality and has a helpful bibliography for further reading.

Brief articles and historical sketches about the problems of becoming citizens by Irish, Italians, Norwegians, Puerto Ricans, Chinese, Polish, blacks, and Jews. Nonfiction.
URBAN LIFE, URBAN CONCERNS

Writers including W. H. Auden, Buckminster Fuller, Arnold Toynbee, and Margaret Mead speak to the question: "How are persons to remain human in the coming wilderness of steel, concrete and tarmac?" Mature nonfiction.

Disturbed by the nostalgia for the past of the last few years, the author proves that the past was not a happy time. The air was polluted years ago, traffic was dangerous, housing was inadequate, crime was common, health standards were terrible, and working conditions were disgraceful. Many illustrations. Nonfiction.

A collection of brief and simple prayers by young people who composed them while in jail, in detention homes, and in summer camps for disadvantaged youth. Expressed in the kids' own—sometimes frank—language.

Moving from big city ghetto tenements to high-rise apartments, authors such as James Baldwin, Bernard Malamud, Nelson Algren, and Jack Kerouac describe how it is to live in these cities, including methods of survival. Fiction.

Ten people, including his mother, grandmother, stepfather, friends, and teachers, tell the story of Benjie Johnson, a thirteen-year-old black boy well on his way to being hooked on heroin. Fiction.

Primitive cultures, the authors claim, offer alternatives to the urban-industrial organization of the modern state, which they claim can last only another two centuries. Mature nonfiction.

Contemporary sources from 1855 to 1900, such as pictures, magazine articles, newspaper stories, and advertisements, give a picture of the reality of city life, the smells and the bustle, the filth and the poverty, the pleasures and the dangers. Nonfiction.

Dales, Hy, and Joanna Matturri, editors. Inner City Reflections in Black and White. WSP 1973.
Impressions and reflections of life in the inner city are vividly revealed through a collection of visuals by young photographers who live it. Nonfiction.

The author discusses the need for more and better housing for all Americans. Mature nonfiction.

After a violent urban rebellion in the summer of 1967, Detroit's citizens organized to make their grievances against industries, unions, and police felt. Nonfiction.

This book examines the reasons for cities throughout history and proposes some solutions for relieving the polluted environment and improving the quality of modern urban life. Nonfiction.

The authors describe little-known facts about California history, especially as it pertains to several identifiable ethnic groups, such as Mexican, Chinese, Japanese, and black. The two anthropologists document official and general public attitudes toward these groups from the eighteenth century to the early years of the twentieth. Nonfiction.
The author discusses the nature of the city and city living and suggests some aspects of the city in the years to come. Nonfiction.

What would happen if twenty-six ghetto kids from New York City were brought together in a writing workshop to express their ambitions, their frustrations, and their joys? Well, it was done, and the resulting poetry is full of surprises.

An anthology of prose and poetry by young people from the ghetto who write about their world, their joys, sorrows, and problems. Often moving, with occasional use of words that may offend some people.

Young people from the inner city write poems about their lives—the sights and sounds and smells and violence that affect them.

Poverty and the conditions leading to poverty have plagued humanity for hundreds of years. The author describes some conditions of poverty and some attempts made to alter them. Nonfiction.

Alfred, a black seventeen-year-old dropout, wants to get out of the ghetto, so he becomes a prizefighter. Fiction.

Liston writes with understanding and deep concern for those persons who live in America’s cities. He believes that social problems in the cities will only be solved by those who live there. Nonfiction.

This volume contains more than 100 photographs by noted photographers, past and present, who used their cameras for the benefit of others. Included are biographical sketches of the photographers and a pictorial perspective of social change in America. Nonfiction.

Michaels’s collection includes stories whose themes center around life in urban America’s big city—New York. Students will find his stories present a kaleidoscopic pattern of human relationships. Mature fiction.

Good public housing for our citizens has been the aim of the government for years. The author describes some ways of meeting the housing problem without ruining the environment. Nonfiction.

Spanish Harlem is the setting for this story of Nilda, a first generation Puerto Rican growing up in New York City. The author portrays the pleasures, pains, sorrows, and joys that Nilda experiences as she copes with her environment. Fiction.

This anthology indicates the variety of Italian-American life through newspapers, magazines, letters, parish and organizational papers, and other documents which highlight the struggle and success of the Italians in America. Nonfiction.

Founded in 1792 by Alexander Hamilton, Paterson, New Jersey, soon became a center of textile manufacturing more often than not run by city bosses. In 1966, the political machine was ousted and Mayor Lawrence F. Kramer began the fight to remake the town. Mature nonfiction.

Owen Kirby, tough but alone, wanders into the wrong territory in ghetto Los Angeles and nearly gets himself killed. Picked up because of the fight, he is sent to a work camp where he learns about work and hope and maybe even a future. Then he returns to his home and finds that escaping the world of the ghetto is impossible. Fiction.

The author examines key economic problems of the city, such as location, rent and land values, growth and urban renewal. Mature nonfiction.

Smith, Dennis. Report from Engine Co. 82. PB 1972.
A personal account of typical events in one of the world's busiest fire stations in the black ghetto of the Bronx. Smith, an eight-year veteran, portrays what it's like to be a fireman—its excitements, dangers, and everyday demands. Nonfiction.

UTOPIAS AND COMMUNES

A brief history of the development of communes and why people seem to need them. Different groups like Oneida and the Shakers, modern communes, and the problems of living in communes are discussed. Nonfiction.

Julian West falls asleep in the year 1887 and wakes up in the year 2000. In his narrative he describes a world of peace and plenty, a "perfect society" in which no social classes exist, where there is equality of income, and where production is in the hands of the state. Fiction.
Utopias and Communes

A documentary of the predominantly German people who live in Pennsylvania. The author takes a loving look at the Amish, Mennonites, Moravians, Catholics, and Lutherans, as well as others who live a primarily rural life on beautifully cultivated land. Nonfiction.

With the narrative set in the imaginary world of Erewhon, Samuel Butler satirizes institutions and practices such as evolution, medicine, education, and justice. Fiction.

Although many persons believe that communal living is new and revolutionary, the author shows how many types of communes, from the Dutch Labadists to the contemporary Children of God, have been part of the American movement to create utopias in the new world. Nonfiction.

Five young people attempt to set up communal living in the countryside of Massachusetts and establish a coffee house. They take in a young woman who is wanted by the F.B.I. for protesting the draft. Although the commune does not fully succeed, they learn that traditional values are also important. Fiction.

A group of young people establish a communal farm and discover what it means to be outsiders as the nearby townspeople first show suspicion and fear which rapidly becomes antagonism. Fiction.

The author describes how a "creative community" was founded in Sonoma County, California. The journal begins with the building of the temple and includes the routine of the community, called the Church of the Earth, from farming, bee-keeping, fishing, and wine-making to the development of crafts to bring in income. Nonfiction.

The history of the Shakers in America is traced from pre-Revolutionary days to the present. The author attempts to analyze present-day interest in the group, as well as to speculate about reasons for the successes and failures of the sect. Nonfiction.

Mistakenly baptized by a nearly blind old priest, a tribe of penguins is transformed into human beings. Their story provides an allegorical framework for a satirical attack upon French history in particular and all humanity in general. The author’s chief targets are the Church, the institution of private property, and the politics of power. Fiction.

A study of English utopian fantasies from the end of the nineteenth century to the present. Included are appendices listing utopian constructs from 1901 to 1971. Mature nonfiction.

Armel’s brother has left Icaria, a small nineteenth-century Iowa commune, and Armel’s family cannot understand why anyone would want to leave a perfect society. Then Armel begins to detect the rigid restrictions of Icaria and begins to question the wisdom of the elders. Fiction.

New Buffalo, Messiah’s World, Land of Oz, and Hog Farm—just four of the growing number of communes populated by groups of Americans (not all of them young people) who seek a way of life they think we once had. Nonfiction.

Three men and a woman, escaping a revolution, crash-land in a plane on a high plateau in Tibet. They are rescued and brought to a Buddhist lamasery and village called Shangri-la, in the valley of the Blue Moon. There they encounter a utopian civilization practicing the Greek concept of moderation. Fiction.

Living in the wilderness of northeastern Minnesota, the Hoovers establish a harmonious relationship with all of nature. They befriend a family of whitetail deer and observe the living habits of a variety of wild animals. Nonfiction.

The author describes literary utopias and then surveys several collective settlements in the United States, such as the Shakers, New Harmony, Brook Farm, and others, and compares them with contemporary communes which continue the tradition of "the place just right." Nonfiction.

Mr. Homos, a visitor from utopian Altruria, visits America during the great depression of 1893. Through his questions, he uncovers a number of disquieting elements in American culture and society. Fiction.

In the brave new world of 632 After Ford (as time is reckoned in the future), babies are turned out through mass production, people are given the drug soma to keep them happy, individualism is discouraged, and people are conditioned for their roles in life. Then a young man comes from the Savage Reservation and challenges many beliefs of the brave new world. A devastating satire. Fiction.

One of the founders of the Twin Oaks community writes about the reason for establishing the commune.
Utopias and Communes

the people it attracted, and the problems that arose. Nonfiction.

An aging revolutionary is imprisoned by the party he has served all his life. The party asks him to confess his part in some anti-party crimes, and as he waits to be tortured, he relives his life as a member of a totalitarian society. Fiction.

The author surveys several early American communes, such as the Amana community, Oneida, Brook Farm, Shakers, and later ones, like Father Divine's establishment in Harlem during the Depression. Nonfiction.

More wrote this picture of a perfect world in 1516 as a satire on Elizabethan England, but it has influenced writers and political thinkers ever since then. More coined the word "utopia" from Greek words which mean "no place," meaning that no ideal society like Utopia existed. Mature fiction.

Choosing from among some 500 utopian communities existing in nineteenth-century America, the author looks closely at the forms of marriage and family life within these communes. Nonfiction.

The author, having lived with some friends on a farm in Vermont, celebrates the simple life, but notes that many people cannot adapt to the life of a commune. He points out some of the problems that many have found in living such a life. Nonfiction.

Six young people are shipwrecked on a South Pacific island and begin to develop their own society. Fiction.
It is 1984 and a benevolent dictatorship, called Big Brother, rules the world where Winston Smith works. People are indoctrinated to believe that sex is bad; in fact, anything is bad which takes the attention and devotion of people away from Big Brother. Winston finds some forgotten but deep feelings of passion and love for a girl and joins the underground. Fiction.

The great Greek philosopher of the fifth century B.C. seeks the definition of justice through the conversation of Socrates and a group of young men, who together develop the organization of the ideal community. Mature nonfiction.

From a large number of sources, the editor has collected descriptions of various communal experiments from the 1800s to today. Nonfiction.

Frances Wright organized a unique commune, published a radical newspaper, criticized organized religion, opposed marriage as a threat to women's freedom, and preached racial brotherhood—all more than 140 years ago. Her motto: "The mind has no sex." Nonfiction.

From philosophy to recipes, life on Total Loss Farm in Vermont is described by persons who came from all walks of life to live harmoniously with nature and the land. Nonfiction.

For seventy-five years, the Society of True Inspirationists flourished in Amana, Iowa. From the view of one who was born and raised among this religious-communal society, the beliefs and customs of the "ideal community" are portrayed. Nonfiction.

Accounts of twenty-four trials which have been turning points in history, including those of Socrates, Joan of Arc, Galileo, Sacco and Vanzetti, Angela Davis, and the Chicago Seven. Generously illustrated.

"One of America's greatest and most famous defense attorneys tells about his criminal law practice, his trials, and his clients, among them Captain Ernest Medina of My Lai Vietnam War fame and black militant Sonny Carson."

The author discusses the nature and use of dissent in the U.S. Supreme Court and devotes separate chapters to six important dissents, from John Marshall Harlan's 1896 dissent on separate but equal facilities for blacks in Plessy v. Ferguson to William O. Douglas's 1951 dissent on freedom of speech in Dennis v. United States. Mature.

The author's father was Hugo Black, justice of the United States Supreme Court. The elder Black was a Southerner, a member at one time of the Ku Klux Klan, but he became one of the great liberal justices of all time.

Boyer, Paul S. Purity in Print: The Vice Society Movement and Book Censorship in America. Scribner 1968.

The pressures for book censorship increased from the Politics, the Law, and Humanity nineteenth century to the 1930s, particularly because of Anthony Comstock, America's chief unofficial censor for years. Mature.

Freedom to know the truth through books and newspapers and television is basic to our lives. The author analyzes how propaganda and censorship and political chicanery have caused problems in letting us exercise the freedom to know.

The life of the North Carolina senator covers his early work as lawyer and judge, but probably the most interesting parts are devoted to his great influence in Congress and his chairmanship of the committee investigating Watergate.

Attorney Clor believes that obscenity must be legally controlled and a philosophy of censorship developed to serve the public interest. Mature.

An overview of the legal profession and the American court system. Contracts, wills, criminal law, patents, divorce, and many other aspects of law are briefly introduced to give an idea of the nature, purpose, and difficulty of legal rules.

A history of civil law from its origins to today with chapters on different kinds of civil cases. Useful glossary.

Criminal law, the author notes, "defines crimes and fixes penalties." He gives the origins of modern-day criminal law and shows how it works in the courts.
The rights of young people in almost every area of life are examined.

Essays commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the American Civil Liberties Union all dealing with our basic rights, such as the right to vote, the right to legal services, the right to housing, and the rights of women.

Farson, a psychologist, discusses a number of human rights he believes should be granted to children, including the right to a single set of rules for behavior of adults and children; the right to choose their own homes; freedom from physical punishment; and the right to political power.

Ten landmark trials that have helped to shape our legal system, from the Boston Massacre Trial to the Nuremberg Trials.

A history of the creation of law, change in legal systems, the rights granted us under our system of law, and a look at the future of the law.

Though it is more than 150 years old, the Bill of Rights has frequently been reinterpreted to guarantee our basic civil rights as times and conditions change.

A major cause of attacks on the American court system has been the discrepancy in sentences given different persons for the same crimes. The author interviews four judges in depth about this problem.

The rights of all American citizens when arrested, wiretapped, or arraigned.

The authors review major Supreme Court decisions from Earl Warren's appointment as chief justice in 1953 until his retirement in 1969.

The history of the origin of the United States Supreme Court, the changes that have taken place, the court battles, and the personalities of the judges.

The ACLU has devoted its energies for better than fifty years to protecting the constitutional rights of all citizens of whatever political belief. The author recounts some of the controversies the ACLU has been involved in.

Eddie Harrison made some serious mistakes, but he insisted that he did not murder Cider George. He felt victimized by the white establishment and this book details the story of his arrest and conviction, and the final resolution of the case.

The number of juveniles arrested for crimes has risen to more than two million annually. The kinds of crimes, the juvenile justice system, probation, and sentences are discussed.

Brief sections by politicians and political commentators on the coming roles of television, survey research and polling, and computers in creating new kinds of politics and politicians.

A guide to the nature of politics, working at the precinct level, differences in political parties, and voting.

Since humans first spoke or thought or wrote or acted, others (censors) have objected to something about the words or thoughts or actions. The authors tell the story of the censor in our country, the reasons some people believe in censorship, the reasons other people fear the censor and thought control.

Marc Conte, a thirty-two-year-old New York lawyer, firmly believes in the ideals of American justice, but the judicial system he encounters in three cases makes him begin to question just how fair the system really is. Fiction.

A description of surveillance devices like "bugs" and wiretaps which diminish our chances for privacy today. The book has frightening implications about the kind of world we now have, a world that we have made.

Job sketches on nine young lawyers who have chosen to represent people who might otherwise be too poor or unorganized to obtain legal services. Their clients: the poor, juveniles, prisoners, radicals, consumers.

A four-time loser in a Florida prison writes his own legal appeal to the United States Supreme Court. The court did look into his case and in the process evolved a major legal principle.

Liston, Robert A. Politics from Precinct to Presidency. Dell 1970.
What goes on in front of the public and what takes place behind the political scenes from local politics to national elections.

The federal government and how and why it works as it does, from elective officers and appointive personnel to judges and lobbyists.

Stories of men and women throughout history who have suffered torment, even death, in defending their right to remain silent. Settings include the Inquisition, Puritan England, and the McCarthy era.

The development of modern technology has led to electronic threats to our privacy through data banks, computers, and wiretapping. Mature.

Murphy's work in the juvenile office of Legal Aid convinced him that the state, acting as guardian, controlled the lives and destinies of many thousands of young people guilty of nothing more serious than running away from home. He and others have battled to change the juvenile justice system.

The 1924 Democratic convention lasted more than two weeks and 102 ballots before a presidential nominee was selected. The raucous, divisive events of the convention are vividly told and its long-term effects assessed.

The executive secretary of the American Civil Liberties Union documents the data kept on citizens in credit bureau, Defense Department, F.B.I., school, police, and hospital files. He worries that much data are false or inaccurate yet citizens often do not know what is in these files or how the files can damage their lives. Mature.

A famous trial lawyer tells about the cases he's been involved with, how lawyers plan strategy, how they gather and present evidence, and what happens in a real (not TV) trial.

Darrow made himself unpopular by defending unpopular causes and unpopular clients. Three of his major cases involved "Big Bill" Haywood, a union leader accused of murder; Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, accused of killing a young boy; and John T. Scopes, accused of teaching evolution.

A history of civil liberties in the United States from 1920 until the present: the famous Scopes "monkey" trial, civil liberties problems in World War II, the McCarthy era, and student protests. Mature.

An attorney opposed to censorship fights in court to save three books, the most famous being Lady Chatterley's Lover. Mature nonfiction.

Lawyer Rembar looks into several constitutional cases which have become legal landmarks.

A play written for one actor who portrays Clarence Darrow from his earliest days through his attempts to win fair wages and fair hours for workmen.

During 1969-1970, the government charged eight people with conspiracy and with inciting riot during the 1968 Democratic Convention in Chicago. The defendants, the judge, the jurors, and the implications of the trial form the drama of the book.

Questions and answers about the legal rights of young people in many areas—school, marriage, sex, drugs, contracts, the draft, etc.

A brief explanation of how laws are made, with examples of a bill not yet law (gun legislation), why some laws do not work (prohibition), and municipal codes and regulations.

The author contends that journalists will be unable to dig out and present news unless they are legally protected from having to reveal their sources of information.

The authors believe that television has created a new kind of citizen with a new kind of politics. They feel that television has made people more impatient, violent, and intolerant, and those characteristics will likely change democracy as we know it. Mature.

Wilkinson served as law clerk to Supreme Court Justice Louis Powell. He gives sketches of the different justices, their responsibilities and philosophies, and recent court decisions.

Wise documents charges that administrations under Eisenhower to Nixon have engaged in political lying and deception. Mature.
In 1936 a fascist dictatorship comes to Greece. The lives of Melia and her family are dramatically changed under the dictatorship. Fiction.

While everyone is supposed to have the same basic civil rights, some people have to fight harder for equal treatment. Civil liberties in the courts, prison, housing, work, and schools are discussed.

THE UNITED STATES
A. Till the Civil War

Kosciuszko fought bravely for liberty in the American colonies and in his native Poland, where he led an uprising against imperial Russia. Thomas Jefferson called him "as pure a son of liberty as I have ever known." Nonfiction.

The dullness of life in Salem Village, Massachusetts, and the repressive character of the Puritan religion combined with the ignorance of the citizens to create the mass hysteria which resulted in the Salem Witch Trials. The devil's shadow lingered over Salem for one year, during which hundreds were unjustly imprisoned and twenty were executed as witches. Nonfiction.

During the Revolutionary War, the Green Mountain Boys of Vermont, led by Ethan Allen, attacked Fort Ticonderoga and captured guns that helped win the Battle of Boston and made invasion into Canada possible. Nonfiction.

Alderman, Clifford Lindsey. The War We Could Have Lost. Four Winds 1974.
The British should have won the American-Revolutionary War. Not true.
tionary War. They had more money than the colonies, more and better trained troops, and plenty of supplies and ammunition. Alderman writes of the blunders that cost them important victories. Nonfiction.

As a young bride Abbie Deal moves west to frontier Nebraska. There she encourages her children to pursue ambitions that once were her own. Fiction.

A history of the founding and growth of our country from the Treaty of Paris in 1763 till the end of the War of 1812. Nonfiction.

Five scenes from the life of Franklin, whom the crowned heads of England and many others in Europe saw as the most dangerous man in America two hundred years ago. The scenes dramatize Franklin's progress from satiric columnist to inventor to diplomat and revolutionary. Mature nonfiction.

More than sixty songs which present the American Revolution as the folk balladeer sang it: "... a compendium of music and verses, patriotic and treasonous, sung both by the rebels and the adherents of His Royal Majesty George III." Guitar accompaniment and historic commentary, too. Nonfiction.

At the request of Francis Marion, the Swamp Fox, Celia Garth returns to British-held Charleston to spy for the rebels. Fiction.

In 1754 young Alan Pepperill sees service with George Washington, battles with the French, and is captured by Indians. Fiction.

The emotional side of Jefferson, rather than the intellectual side, is the focus of this long biography of the great American president. His love affairs and his feelings about race and religion make him seem more human than he usually appears in history books. Mature nonfiction.

In 1839, at Long Island, thirty-nine ill and starving black men were taken from the slave ship Amistad, which they had controlled since killing the captain. Three years later, after bitter struggles between American slaveholders and abolitionists, the freed "Amistads" set sail for their homes, taking with them America's first missionaries to West Africa. (See also the 1976 National Book Award for history, David B. Davis, The Problem of Slavery in the Age of Revolution: 1770-1823, Cornell U Pr.) Nonfiction.

Hoping to build a home and a future for their children, Whit and Melissa face the hostile British and the rigors of the New Hampshire wilderness. Fiction.

The Hudson River serves as a background to history unfolding as people from many different backgrounds come to settle along its banks during the early days of this country. Nonfiction.

Caudill, Rebecca. Tree of Freedom. Viking Pr 1949.

When each family member is allowed to choose one possession to take to their new home in Kentucky, Stephanie takes an apple seed to start her "tree of freedom." Story of the Venables' homesteading experiences in the late eighteenth century. Fiction.

Constance dislikes her life in Plymouth Colony from the moment she steps from the Mayflower. This book, her journal, is an account of her growing love for her new home and for the young man she marries. Fiction.
Till the Civil War

Shortly after Amity Lyte, her father, and her little brother go to live with her great-aunt Keziah in 1805, Amity converts the family home to an inn and unravels the mystery which makes them so unwelcome in Woburn, Massachusetts. Fiction.

In 1840 Tobias Bright and his Quaker grandfather seek the old man's twin sister, who was kidnapped by Delaware Indians when they were children. Fiction.

Colby's account of that April day in 1775 when Massachusetts colonists challenged the power of the British crown is drawn from letters, diaries, and eyewitness reports which emphasize little-known incidents. Original photographs and old prints and maps complement the text. Nonfiction.

The Cherokee, a fiercely independent nation, dropped their weapons and picked up the plowshare offered them by white men and developed a model republic. Nevertheless, they were driven from their Georgia land in 1838, and one quarter of them perished along their Trail of Tears to Oklahoma. Nonfiction.

Approached by a-threatening British agent who wants him to spy on the Sons of Liberty, young Brad Agnew becomes entangled in the dangerous game of counter-spying as he tries to discover the leader of the revolutionaries in his neighborhood, Sumatra Alley. Fiction.

A neighbor recalls the days when Jesse and Frank James were just the boys next door! Nonfiction.
Whitman was one of the first white women to cross the continent when, in 1836, she traveled with her new husband from New York to Oregon where they hoped to educate the Indians. Nonfiction.

The hardy settlers of the Mohawk Valley fight both British regulars and Iroquois Indians during the war for independence. Fiction.

Adam Cooper learns what growing up means when his father is killed by British soldiers at the start of the Revolutionary War. Fiction.

A young Hessian soldier escapes from Connecticut townsmen who have ambushed and destroyed his detachment. Asked to treat the young man's wounds, Dr. Feversham must decide whether he will aid the enemy soldier or reveal his location to vengeful citizens. Fiction.

Finney, Gertrude E. Is This My Love? McKay 1956.
Beatrice Whitcliff and her friend Jennifer, who arrive on a boat carrying brides for settlers in the colonies, find life in the new land strange and crude. Fiction.

Though Johnny's prospects as a silversmith dim when he injures his hand, he finds that he can still play an important role in the Revolutionary War. Fiction.

The Pulitzer Prize-winning biography of the patriot, silversmith, and soldier. Nonfiction.

Foster offers not only a biographical account of sensible, peace-loving William Penn, first governor of Pennsylvania, but sketches of personalities and his-historical events which significantly affected the world in which Penn lived. Nonfiction.

Indians, nature, and their own disunity—all were threats to the survival of the 150 men who settled Jamestown in 1606. For leadership they looked to Captain John Smith. Nonfiction.

Two men care for Gretje—a lighthearted, wandering shoemaker and a Quaker devoted to the cause of religious freedom. At eighteen she must decide whether to marry one of them or to remain with her family. Fiction.

Johnny, an Osage Indian, tries to arrange a truce between his people and the Cherokee Indians in Oklahoma in the 1820s. Fiction.

Adams was “a firebrand who preached rebellion against authority, sided with the poor and oppressed against wealth and power and suffered years of mockery, hardship and seeming failure.” He was, however, the man who kept the revolutionary flame alive. Nonfiction.

The Boston Tea Party on December 16, 1773, followed a series of protests by colonists and ignited the Revolutionary War. Nonfiction.

The role of this river in the early history of the United States and its function in bringing together people of opposite cultures, the aristocrats and the farmers, as they settle on both sides of its banks. Nonfiction.

When Jonathan runs errands for his captain, he uses the opportunity to spy on the British, a risk which nearly costs him his life. Fiction.

Tobias, a thirteen-year-old Delaware Indian boy, tells of life in the Moravian towns of the Ohio country during the Revolutionary War. Fiction.

Hofstadter, Richard. America at 1750 (© 1971). Vin-
American colonial society, its religions, its slavery, its values, and its problems only two decades before the Revolutionary War. Mature nonfiction.

Jackson, Shirley. The Witchcraft of Salem Village.
Random 1956.
In order to cover the traces of their playing sinful black magic games, several young girls in Puritan Salem Village, Massachusetts, accuse townspeople of being witches in 1692. Their foolishness results in the unjust executions of twenty citizens and the eventual destruction of the village. Fiction.

Ketchum, Richard M. Decisive Day: The Battle for
A well-illustrated record of what led up to the battle of Bunker Hill and what came out of it. Nonfiction.

A concise and authoritative account of our country's struggle for independence, a struggle which we nearly lost. Mature nonfiction.

The Seminoles and the black fugitives who sought refuge with them fought valiantly to keep their freedom and their Florida land. The Seminole War (1835–42) was the longest, bloodiest, and most costly Indian war in America's history. Nonfiction.

Miller, Lilliard. In the Minds and Hearts of the People: Prole to the American Revolution, 1760–1774.
NYGS 1974.
The events that led up to the Revolutionary War,
Till the Civil War

with many contemporary illustrations and paintings. Nonfiction.

Seeking religious freedom, a small group of Pilgrims left Britain in 1608 and settled in Holland. They remained there twelve years before arranging to travel to the New World. Nonfiction.

Vivid and lively narrative of Columbus's life and voyages includes descriptions of fifteenth-century navigational methods and the routes Columbus followed. Nonfiction.

Though his motives were selfish, Arnold became a hero of the American Revolution. Later, greedy for money, he agreed to give the British information which might have led to the capture of West Point, the betrayal of George Washington, and the loss of independence for the American colonists. Nonfiction.

After they murder and scalp his two companions, the Mohawks capture sixteen-year-old Pierre Radisson. Radisson accompanies his captors on war parties and, later, is the first to explore Lake Superior to its western limits and to visit the villages of the Dakota Sioux. Nonfiction.

Journal of a young Easterner who set out to explore the uncivilized West in 1846, his experiences with Indians, outlaws, trappers, settlers, and fellow adventurers. Nonfiction.

Fawn, a seventeen-year-old boy, grows up among his mother's Mohawk people. After refusing to join his French father in defending Fort Carillon, he runs off into the woods alone and gradually comes to understand the man. Fiction.

217

A brief review of events leading to the signing of the Declaration of Independence, followed by excerpts from documents of the period—"voices of the American Revolution." Generously illustrated with reprints of authentic portraits, sketches, and cartoons. Mature nonfiction.

After leaving her native Barbados and coming to serve her new owner in New England, Tituba is accused of being a witch. A fully documented and suspenseful account of the Salem witchcraft era. Fiction.

A gallery of twelve men and women whose daring exploits during the American Revolution still capture the imagination. Includes stories of a woman who enlisted disguised as a man and of a man who spied for the British. Nonfiction.

True Son, a white boy kidnapped and reared by Indians, rebels when he is returned to the settlement.
Fiction.

Jim Fraley tells of his adventures as the only boy to accompany Colonel Zane and his men as they blazed the Ohio trail in 1796. His father and his brother, who went to Ohio to find farm land a year earlier, have not yet returned. Jim vows to find them and to bring them back.
Fiction.

The life and work of Virginia citizens, 1607–1789: the churches, the plantations, arts and entertainment, out-
Till the Civil War

Door life, education, houses, roads, and inns. Mature nonfiction.

When Cholay's little sister is kidnapped during a raid on their Apache village, he and his friend Josh Thane prepare to steal her back from the Papago Indians. Based on a historical incident which occurred in the Arizona Territory in 1853. Fiction.

When a brilliant young English actress toured America in 1832, she fell in love with and married the owner of Georgia's largest plantation. A free spirit, she was deeply distressed to find that her husband owned 700 slaves and was determined to control her life as well. Nonfiction.

The history of colonial America reflected in photographs of the homes people lived in, their houses of worship, and the shops, markets, and inns where they gathered. The text relates architecture of various regions to the ways in which people lived. Nonfiction.

Kit Tyler's friendship with a lonely old Quaker woman, who Connecticut neighbors think is a witch, results in Kit standing trial for witchcraft. (See also Calico Captive, HM.) Fiction.

Aaron Burr is often called a traitor and a murderer, but Vidal's novel pictures him as a man of great charm and intelligence whose influence and ability have been underrated. Fiction.

West, Jessamyn. The Massacre at Fall Creek. Harbrace 1975.
White men murder Indians in 1824 Indiana and are surprisingly (for that time) brought to trial. The men slowly grasp the humanity of the Indians and the horror of their deed. Fiction.

Wibberley depicts Jefferson “as farmer, as worried provider for a huge household, and worried President in a hostile world.” Nonfiction.

Manly Treegate, eighteen, and his younger brother Peter travel to the Northwest in 1811 to aid the militia in its battle with Tecumseh’s forces, the “red pawns,” in what became America’s second war with England, the War of 1812. (See also Leopard’s Prey, FS&G.) Fiction.

Henry David Thoreau called Concord, Massachusetts, his “university.” Wood describes the intertwining lives of writers who, like Thoreau, drew inspiration from their beloved village: Ralph Waldo Emerson, Nathaniel Hawthorne, and Louisa May Alcott. Nonfiction.

Young, Bob, and Jan Young. 54-40 or Fight! The Story of the Oregon Territory. Messner 1967.

The United States and Britain were near war in 1846 over fur-rich disputed territory which lay between northern California and Alaska. Britain’s Hudson’s Bay Company fought hard to keep out American fur traders. Nonfiction.

B. About the Civil War

A Maryland slaveholder is killed in Christiana, Pennsylvania, in 1851 when he attempts to capture some runaway slaves whose leader is William Parker, himself an escaped slave. That incident and subsequent trials made the Fugitive Slave Law ineffectual and thus confirmed attitudes of a growing number of antislavery groups. Nonfiction.

Though he did not have strong feelings about slavery, General Sherman was a fanatic about preservation of the Union. In order to preserve it, he spilled oceans of blood and set fire to Atlanta—necessary tasks which the general loathed. Nonfiction.

Buckmaster, Henrietta. Flight to Freedom: The Story
The Underground Railroad had no tracks, no tunnels.
Instead, it consisted of the combined efforts of dedicated people who risked life and reputation in order to assist the movement of slaves toward freedom.
Nonfiction.

Crane, William D. Patriotic Rebel: John C. Calhoun.
Messner 1972.
As representative, senator, secretary of state, and vice-president, Calhoun struggled to reconcile the interests of his native South with the needs of the federal government during the decades preceding the Civil War.
Ironically, his leadership drew the South toward the disaster he dreaded and tried so hard to avoid. Non-fiction.

Douty, Esther M. Forten the Sailmaker. Rand 1968.
James Forten, a free black man, owned the leading sail-making establishment in Philadelphia and contributed his wealth and his effort to the cause of freeing slaves. Nonfiction.

At the opening of the Civil War, Lee was asked to accept President Lincoln's appointment as commander of the U.S. Army and thus to choose between two deployalities—his country and his family. His performance as commander of the Confederate defense earned him the admiration and respect of even his Northern opponents. Nonfiction.

Foster, John. Rebel Sea Raider: The Story of Raphael Convinced that the South had a right to secede from the Union, Semmes took charge of the Confederacy's only ship in 1861. In 1862 he took command of the "CSS Alabama and made naval history, nearly destroying the American merchant marine. Nonfiction.

Genovese, Eugene D. Roll, Jordan, Roll: The World the Using slave narratives, family papers, and other docu-
About the Civil War

ements, Genovese constructs an exhaustive portrait of slavery and American slave culture. He systematically puts to rest many myths (for example, the powerful master and the happy "mammy") and examines such aspects of slave life as weddings, religion, Afro-American language, clothing, and work. Mature nonfiction.

In 1861 Cowslip is sold to Colonel Sprague and goes to care for his children. Her friends are Job, an educated slave who had once been free, and Reba, who is killed when she tries to run away. Cowslip's growing determination to be free is fed by her realization that "I'm a human person, and I got dignity." Fiction.

The first three years of the Civil War as seen through the eyes of Southern women and recorded in their letters and diaries. Nonfiction.

In order to "tell it like it was," Lester uses unpublished primary sources to assemble these vivid excerpts of firsthand experiences and narratives which communicate what it was like to be a slave. Nonfiction.

A day-by-day account of the five days of bloody rioting in New York City in July 1863, triggered by the nation's first draft act. Analyzes causes for the rebellion in the events, personalities, and social attitudes of the day. Mature nonfiction.

Scarlett O'Hara fascinated many men, among them Rhett Butler, who loved her. Her willingness to play with love and other people's lives is the central theme of this picture of the Civil War period. Fiction.

A biography of the great Civil War president and an analysis of the political and historical causes that involved Lincoln in the life and death struggle to save the Union. Nonfiction.

This collection of anecdotes is written by people who knew Ulysses S. Grant, supplemented by excerpts from Grant's own memoirs. The purpose of the book is to close the debate over whether Grant was a fine military leader or an inferior one. Nonfiction.

Vyry is the daughter of a plantation owner and his black mistress. The story centers on her life as a slave and her attempt to keep her family together after the Civil War. Fiction.

A comprehensive account of a war in which brother fought brother: the personalities and their deeds, the causes of the war, the emotional impact of the war on the people who fought and endured it. Nonfiction.

Though he hated war and did not want to be a soldier, Grant became the most famous general of his time. Because he scorned politics and was not well prepared for his role as politician, he became a president whose name is firmly linked to the scandal and corruption characteristic of his administration. Nonfiction.

C. Since the Civil War

Evans's pictures and Agee's words convey the feeling of what the American Depression of the 1930s did to the hearts and minds of men and women. Nonfiction.

Many people do not react kindly to the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), but the author's research and interviews suggest that the DAR stereotype is not entirely fair. Nonfiction.
Since the Civil War

In July 1933, veterans camped in Washington, D.C., trying to get some money for themselves and their families. General Smedley Darlington Butler led the administration forces. This book explains how and why the veterans' rebellion began and what became of it. Nonfiction.

Haywood, founder of the Industrial Workers of the World (IWW), preached violence to workers to answer the antiunion activities and violence of factory and mine owners. His life parallels the rise in unionism prior to World War I. Nonfiction.

A history of the undercover operation that led to the Watergate break-in on June 18, 1972, and the political and legal issues that came out of Watergate. Nonfiction.

Baker gives an inside account of her investigation of the Symbionese Liberation Army (SLA) and the Patty Hearst kidnapping, which she covered as a reporter for a public television station in San Francisco. Nonfiction.

A major black writer discusses his return to America from a self-imposed exile in Europe, desegregation, what blacks want and what whites are apparently ready to grant them, and where America seems to be heading. Nonfiction.

Baldwin writes, "... The only real concern of the artist [is] to recreate out of the disorder of life that order which is art," and Baldwin tries to make order and sense out of his experiences in Harlem and the South and the black experience generally. Nonfiction.

The author refutes nine lies he has heard about the United States, among them statements that Americans are only interested in material possessions, that the United States is fascist, and that a revolution is needed to change America's social structure. Nonfiction.

Two reporters from the Washington Post who broke open the Watergate story tell how they first uncovered this information and began to put the pieces together. Frank language and honest emotions by the president, his men, and the two reporters come across in this book. Nonfiction.

Breslin, Jimmy. How the Good Guys Finally Won: Notes from an Impeachment Summer. Viking Pr 1975.

Breslin's study of power is built around Representative Thomas (Tip) P. O'Neill, Democratic majority leader from Massachusetts, and his role in the impeachment proceedings against former President Nixon. Nonfiction.

Joseph Remiro went to Vietnam and after leaving the service joined the flower children in San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury. Then he became a member of the Symbionese Liberation Army (SLA) and was tried for the murder of Marcus Foster, the Oakland, California, school superintendent. Nonfiction.

A journal of one week in which the conservative writer comments on America, Dick Gregory, Richard Nixon, the National Review, economics, and just about anything else he cares to. Mature nonfiction.

On the night of August 9, 1969, actress Sharon Tate and four friends were brutally murdered in Hollywood. Charles Manson and members of his "family" were tracked down, brought to trial, and convicted. A frank picture of a horrifying crime, its victims and its perpetrators. Mature nonfiction.
Since the Civil War

A frightening warning about the possibility of war to come and an even more frightening picture of what will happen to humanity should war occur. Nonfiction.

Collier, Peter, and David Horowitz. The Rockefellers: An American Dynasty. HR&W 1976.
Benefiting from access to family records and candid interviews with family members, Collier and Horowitz have put together a remarkable account of four generations of a wealthy and powerful family. Mature nonfiction.

Cooke was born in England but became an American citizen in 1941. He records his lifelong love affair with our country through a well-illustrated history from the Revolutionary War until the present. Nonfiction.

Daniels worked in the administration of President Franklin Roosevelt during World War II. His book, written from a diary he kept, reveals many of the intrigues that surround men in power. Nonfiction.

A political book about the treatment accorded Davis, an avowed and dedicated Communist, in various jails and courtrooms. Includes details about her earlier life. Biased and may offend many readers but worth reading for its insights into the mind of a brilliant woman. Nonfiction.

This apparently accurate, well-researched account of penitentiary life should be of interest to anyone who wants to know about the raw, emotional side of that existence. Fiction.

This book collects reports, book reviews, articles, and miscellaneous short pieces, originally written between 1965 and 1971, which the author claims give evidence of misguided government decision-making during the Vietnam War. Nonfiction.

Selma, Alabama, was chosen as the site of a 1965 demonstration to achieve voting rights for blacks. The sheriff and most of the white establishment opposed the demonstration. This history records the violence, emotionalism, and ultimate victory of justice. Nonfiction.

Yancy Cravat takes part in the rush of homesteaders into Oklahoma in 1889. When adventure calls, he leaves his wife with the responsibility for running his newspaper and raising their son. Fiction.

Today the word "McCarthyism" stands for smear attacks, unsupported accusations, personal vilification, and crimes against civil liberties committed in the name of anticommunism. Who was McCarthy, who sowed so much hate in America? Who must bear the responsibility for the prosperity of his attitudes? Mature nonfiction.

The author argues that things are getting accomplished in the United States: he cites progress toward better living conditions in Seattle, a new kind of urban renewal in Minneapolis, and other signs of genuine progress in many areas of the country. Nonfiction.
Since the Civil War

Griffin, John Howard. Black Like Me. NAL 1961.
Medically aided to make his skin appear black, Griffin traveled in the deep South to find what it is to be part of a minority. Treated as a black, he found himself degraded and treated spitefully, unfairly, and bitterly by whites. Nonfiction.

Both text and many photographs note the rise of the American "Dream," what changed it during our history, and where the American "Dream" is today. Sometimes angry, the book offers hope. Nonfiction.

A collection of stories and poems about the Appalachian Mountains and its people by authors like Robert Penn Warren, Thomas Wolfe, James Agee, Jesse Stuart, and O. Henry. Fiction.

This is a reissue of an 1870 encyclopedia with over 6,400 "receipts" and processes. It presents a unique, informative, and amusing look into the do-it-yourself methods of yesteryear: how to make ginger pop, test gold on silver, the best way to wash a white dog, etc. Nonfiction.

Two boys leave Depression-time Chicago during the 1930s and seek love and financial help wandering around the Midwest. Fiction.

The face of yesterday just as it was, reflected in 226 rare photographs collected by the editors of American Heritage magazine. Nonfiction.

Born in Germany, Henry Kissinger came to the United States when he was young, graduated from Harvard, ultimately became a close adviser to several presidents, and has been secretary of state under Presidents Nixon and Ford. Mature nonfiction.

A frank, well-documented discussion of the alienation felt by the youth of the 1960s. Mature nonfiction.

Lane, Rose Wilder. Let the Hurricane Roar. McKay 1933.
Shortly after they are married, Charles takes Caroline to the Dakota Territory of the late nineteenth century, where they build their home on a lonely stretch of prairie and battle the elements in order to sustain it. Fiction.

Taking an objective view of U.S.-Soviet relations of the past fifty years, the author sees the antagonisms that have existed between the two powers as being the result of each nation's "misperception" of the other. Nonfiction.

Examining violence in the United States today, the author devotes several chapters to the history of violence; the remainder of the book investigates violence in today's society, the causes, and some suggested remedies. Nonfiction.

This documentary of the 1960s explores the lives of ten young people involved in the youthful revolution of the time. Each of the ten had apparently rejected the lifestyle of parents and had created a new way of living. Nonfiction.

Frank Serpico, New York City policeman, set out to uncover and battle police corruption of all kinds. He was an enigma to some policemen and enemy to others.
Since the Civil War

who did everything they could to stop him and his work. Nonfiction.

Magruder joined former President Nixon's staff in 1969. Later in 1972 he served as deputy director of the Committee to Re-Elect the President and became involved in the Watergate cover-up, which eventually led to a prison term. Nonfiction.

A mammoth history of the last forty years in the United States with comments on or stories about politicians, cars, films, and almost everything else. Mature nonfiction.

Comments on the role of the press, the special prosecutor's office, and the House of Representatives' Judiciary Committee in the Watergate investigations. Nonfiction.

Nineteen-year-old Maynard recalls the 1960s when she was growing up: civil rights marches, President Kennedy's assassination, sex, miniskirts, and other ideas and incidents of her adolescence. Nonfiction.

The life of a man who has been one of the most influential, aggressive, and significant protectors of this nation's consumers. Nonfiction.

Meeropol, Robert, and Michael Meeropol. We Are Your Sons: The Legacy of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg. HM 1975.

On July 17, 1950, the lives of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg and their two sons were changed forever when Julius was arrested as a Russian spy. Later, Ethel was arrested and the two were charged with conspiracy to commit espionage. They were found guilty; on June 19, 1953, they were executed. Their sons, Robert and Michael, were adopted by Anne and Abel Meeropol. Nonfiction.
Since the Civil War

A collection of essays on America and Americans today, what we are, who we are, and where we seem to be going, from authors like Marya Mannes, Eldridge Cleaver, John Holt, Pauline Kael, and Tom Wolfe. Mature nonfiction.

Miller tape-recorded the words of President Truman about his childhood, his political life, his presidency, and the major national and world figures he had known. Nonfiction.

Case studies, statistics, anecdotes, and comments by prisoners and prison authorities are used to make a case against retaining the kinds of prisons we presently have in the United States. Nonfiction.

The author recounts her childhood and adolescence in the South, the poverty of blacks and the threats to blacks who tried to change the system. She also discusses her involvement with CORE and the NAACP. Nonfiction.

A former special assistant to President Johnson traveled throughout America and recorded the moods and humor and concerns of people from Ohio, Wyoming, Texas, Kansas, Connecticut, North Carolina, and many other states. Nonfiction.

The last decade, from the Eisenhower administration until 1969. Sections on Ralph Nader, sports, Cesar Chavez, religion, motorcyclists, the death of President
Since the Civil War

Kennedy, civil rights, women's liberation, and many other contemporary topics and issues. Mature nonfiction.

A concise discussion of the most important causes of inflation, various means used to control it, and the ways it has affected people from ancient times to the present day. Nonfiction.

Former President Nixon brought many honest and dedicated people with him when he assumed office in 1968, but more and more he turned to people who became powerful and cared more about the Nixon administration than they did the country. The Watergate burglary and cover-up stemmed from some of those powerful men. Nonfiction.

Per Hansa finds challenge for his energy and his optimism when he brings his family from Norway to settle in the Dakota Territory. His wife Beret, overcome by loneliness and fear, yields to the dark spirits of the prairie and withdraws from life. Mature fiction.

Kitty Genovese was attacked and stabbed repeatedly as she tried to get to her New York City home. Although thirty-eight people heard or saw what went on, all refused to become involved. Nonfiction.

Safire was hired by former President Nixon as a speechwriter. He reports on his years at the White House, the president and his advisors, and some of the people and events that led to Watergate. Mature nonfiction.

Smith gives an insider's view of life in the nation's capital. He provides the background for understanding the residents' position as they struggle to gain the same full constitutional rights as other Americans. Nonfiction.

Stern joined the radical and revolutionary Weathermen and soon became one of the group's most important members. Nonfiction.

"Millard Fillmore needs a face if he is to become more than an abstraction. A caricature ... does more than present a portrait: it provides the reader with a sense of the character's personality." Over 100 caricatures and biographical sketches. Nonfiction.

Sussman, an editor of the Washington Post, was part of the team which helped uncover the Watergate break-in leading to Nixon's resignation. Nonfiction.

Candid views of American workers concerning the jobs they have and the lives they lead, expressed in their own words. Read one interview or ten or a hundred: actor, barber, bar pianist, spot welder, domestic, jockey, priest. Some frank language. (See also Division Street: America, Avon.) Nonfiction.

Truman's poignant and candid account of his first years as president of the United States gives an enlightening and human view of the highest political office in the U.S. The story begins in 1945 with the death of President Roosevelt and ends with the atomic age. Nonfiction.

Margaret Truman's story of her father is rich in family and personal detail. She relates her father's involvement in and instigation of many major historical events. The book is almost a history of the America Dream in our time. Mature nonfiction.
Since the Civil War

Ullman, James Ramsey. Down the Colorado with Majc
Powell. HM 1960.

Major John Wesley Powell, later to become the fore most explorer of the West, began a charting expedition of the turbulent and treacherous Colorado River with nine other adventurers in early 1869. Months later, six men completed the hazardous journey, emerging with the first maps of that new land. Nonfiction.

U.S. News & World Report Editors. Good Things about

The editors of U.S. News & World Report believe that the media have overemphasized the violence, corruption, race problems, and other ills of America. They assemble a report of the positive progress in medicine, science, education, fine arts, and other areas to indicate that the United States is still a great place to live.
Nonfiction.

Utley, Robert M. Frontier: Regulars: The United States

Based mostly on military and Congressional records and on accounts by whites, with comparatively few Indian sources, Utley presents his analysis of the U.S.
Army's campaign against the Indians from 1866 to the Battle of Wounded Knee in 1890, during which time all organized Indian resistance to white expansion was crushed. Mature nonfiction.

Wattenberg examines data of all kinds to determine what Americans are like and what we believe. He arrives at some generally optimistic conclusions. Mature nonfiction.

White, Theodore H. Breach of Faith: The Fall of Rich-

Beginning with the July 24, 1974, Supreme Court decision that Nixon could no longer refuse the Watergate tape recordings to Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski, White retraces the events of the election year 1972 that led up to the fall of the president. Mature nonfiction.
During the Attica (New York) prison riot in September 1971, the convicts invited New York Times reporter-columnist Wicker to be an observer. The deaths, prison conditions, anger, and frustrations are all movingly described. Mature nonfiction.

Searching for the "average American family," the author finds one family—the Neumayers—which fits the census description of an "average" family. Wilkes describes the members of the family, their problems, and their search for the American Dream. Nonfiction.

Truman entered politics after an unsuccessful try at business. After becoming president, he faced many crises, among them dropping the atomic bomb on Hiroshima during World War II. Nonfiction.

Hawaiian Queen Liliuokalani was in her chambers on January 17, 1893, when U.S. troops landed in Honolulu. The troops and Sanford Dole, leader of the island "revolutionaries," forced her to abdicate, which led to the eventual annexation of the islands to the United States. Nonfiction.

THE THIRD WORLD YESTERDAY

An African man of the Ibo tribe has dreams of getting ahead and gaining power in his society. Then the white man enters Africa, destroying customs and a whole way of life. Fiction.

Azuela, Mariano (translator E. Munguía, Jr.). The Underdogs. NAL 1962.
Demetrio Macías, a young, immature, and peace-loving Indian, is forced to take the side of the rebels to protect his family. He proves his courage and becomes a general in this novel of the Mexican Revolution. Fiction.
The Third World Yesterday

This volume represents the first true English anthology of Chinese literature. The reader will find famous Chinese drinking poems, cynical love stories, and lyrical religious tracts. Mature.

A warm and affectionate portrait of the first American woman to win the Nobel Prize for literature. Nonfiction.

This book traces China through more than 3,000 years of history in a manner made more credible by the author's personal experiences. Nonfiction.

A chronological survey of Japanese poetry from about the third century until the present. Classic Japanese verse forms like haiku and tanka are represented as well as forms usually associated with Western poetry.

Included in the six plays are Indian Sanskrit drama, Thai dance-drama, Japanese Noh and Kabuki, and Chinese opera.

Adán has chosen to fight for survival for himself and his family in the Mexican Sierras. His greatest challenge is a killer jaguar. Fiction.

In feudal Japan of 1600 the Lord Protector of Japan dies, leaving his seven-year-old son to be raised by five warlords. All five vie to become the military dictator. Then a British ship's pilot is captured and becomes their political pawn. Mature fiction.
A priest accompanies Cortes in his efforts to conquer the Aztecs and yet preserve their civilization. Nonfiction.

Mahatma, "Great Soul," spent his life attempting to bring India together. Gandhi was many things—patriot, revolutionary, reformer, doctor, statesman—and Coolidge brings out his strengths and weaknesses. Nonfiction.

Benito Juárez, an Indian born in Mexico in 1806, toiled as a shepherd and a servant until his superior intelligence was recognized. His journey takes him from this beginning to the presidency of Mexico. Nonfiction.

Japan's growth is traced from a mere series of mountainous islands to its status as a twentieth-century economic power. Nonfiction.

Urban and rural Chinese tales of love, creation, and supernatural powers.

Sun Yat-sen, a gentle, modest, untiring doctor, dedicated his life to abolishing the corrupt Manchu dynasty and restoring China to its former greatness. Nonfiction.

Legends, myths, and stories involving religion, death, and adventure told by African tribes.

Fuentes, Carlos (translator Sam Hileman). The Death of Artemio Cruz. FS&G 1964.
The history of modern Mexico is revealed through the life of Artemio Cruz. Fiction.
Tales of the Yoruba people of West Africa written and told in the ancient tradition yet applicable to contemporary life.

About half of this book is the history of Korea from its origin 5,000 years ago to the seizure of the USS Pueblo in 1968. The other half is a unique collection of documents that figure in the history of this divided Asian nation. Nonfiction.

These legends, letters, and poems may help to explain the paradox of China to the Western mind.

A cocky young American engineer travels up the Yangtze River in China to see whether it is possible to build a power project in one of the river gorges. In the process, the young man learns much about old and new China and even more about himself. Fiction.

The famous Boxer Rebellion of June 1900, when a fanatical Chinese army trapped the diplomatic envoys of eleven countries behind the walls of Peking. Nonfiction.

Beginning with the Shang farmers of the sixteenth century B.C., this history traces China to the time of Mao. Illustrated with photos, drawings, and maps, this book depicts the major facets of China's political, social, and cultural life. Nonfiction.

Thirteen Xhosa tales from South Africa translated from the oral tradition relate some of the distinctive features of Xhosa customs and life.

Japanese literature from its very earliest times to the mid-nineteenth century. Scenes from famous Noh plays, poetry, and seventeenth-century novels are included. Mature.

A classic introduction for the Western reader by an expert on Eastern literature dealing with theatre, novels, and poetry as well as the Western influence on Japanese literature. Nonfiction.

The cultural and political development of Japan, from its legendary origin in 660 B.C. to its position in the cold war. Mature nonfiction.

Subtitled "Asia through the Eyes of Its Discoverers," this book is a collection of excerpts from the writing of those who explored Asia. China, Japan, Tibet, and Siberia are some of the locales whose early history is discussed in this informative travel/history book. Nonfiction.

The history of East Asia, China, Japan, and Korea during the last 600 years until the fall of the last Chinese dynasty and the beginning of the Chinese Republic in 1912. Nonfiction.

In 1927 China was badly divided. Malraux's psychological novel is based on the Shanghai Insurrection of 1927 and probes ideologies, conspiracy, betrayal, and free will vs. fate. Fiction.

Letters, diaries, maps, songs, illustrations, and other original documents provide a new look at the political and social decay that led to Mexico's defeat in the 1846-1847 war with the United States and the problems that the U.S. faced when it took the vast territory north of the Rio Grande River. Nonfiction.

This book recounts eleven tales of African heroes, some semilegendary, up to the time of Cetshwayo, the last great warrior king of the Zulu, who died after defeat by the British. Nonfiction.

The peoples and lands of Africa yesterday and the emerging nations and their economics, agriculture, and politics today; includes an overview of the future of African nations. Mature nonfiction.

India's distinct culture, the impact of British rule, the resulting struggle for independence, and India's way of dealing with contemporary problems. Nonfiction.

This long, narrative poem is the best-known and best-loved poem in Vietnamese literature. Taking place in the early 1800s, it tells of the love affair, separation, and ultimate reunion of Thuy Kieu and Kim Trong.

Using documents, diaries, legends, and many firsthand accounts of the beginnings and development of a civilization, the author focuses on Indian, Spanish, and Mestizo cultures to help the reader understand the people of Mexico. Nonfiction.

Chinese poetry from the earliest times to the present.
day. Payne includes brief introductions to the selections as well as short notes to provide a clear understanding of the material.

A political rebel, José Rizal was executed in 1896 at the age of thirty-five by the Spanish, who had controlled the Philippines for 200 years. Rizal, an ardent opponent of Spanish colonial oppression, was "the father of his country." Nonfiction.

Ten-year-old Bagoas was sold as a slave after his family was murdered and his father's property sold. His fortunes improve when he is sold first to Darius, the Persian king, and then given to the conqueror of Persia, Alexander the Great. The love affair between these two young men lasts until Alexander's death. (See also The Mask of Apollo, Bantam; and The King Must Die, Bantam.) Fiction.

-People's thirst for adventure, their bravery, greed, desire for victory over nature, and heroic qualities are all present in this story of the building of the Panama Canal. Nonfiction.

San Martín fought against the Spanish Army that trained him, became a general, and led an army in pursuit of liberty for the South American continent. Nonfiction.

After Commodore Perry's visit of 1854, Japan was plunged into civil strife over the question of isolationism. Emperor Meiji set out to learn the ways of the West without giving up Japanese identity. Nonfiction.

A history of China from the Boxer Rebellion until the
The Third World Yesterday

Marco Polo traveled to China two centuries before Columbus left for the New World. A fascinating account of thirteenth-century China and the trader who told the world of its many early monumental discoveries. Nonfiction.

A collection of anecdotes and "parables in action" illustrating the practical thought of the Eastern dervish teachers (instructors in devotional exercises) and offering insights into the thinking of the East. Nonfiction.

The author gives the history of western Africa, from ancient Ghana to the emerging nations today. Nonfiction.

Chinese literature from 2,500 years of an unbroken cultural tradition; the stories, folktales, fables, and parables contained in this volume represent some of the best of this tradition.

A brief portrait of the samurai, the warrior caste responsible for Japan's feudal militaristic tradition. Their code of honor and fearlessness in the face of death influenced Japan well into this century. Nonfiction.

Thirty-one myths accompany a historical account of the past and present culture of the fifteen tribes of the Upper Xingu region of Brazil. Nonfiction.

Wilson considers the main elements in Chinese cul-
Because the people of the small state of Morelos were not willing to move from their cherished land, they became involved in the Mexican Revolution in the early twentieth century. Emiliano Zapata was one of their most famous leaders. Nonfiction.

THE THIRD WORLD, TODAY AND TOMORROW

Chairman Mao is portrayed as a Chinese patriot first and a Communist second, from his days as a strong-minded youth to the time of his dealings with the Nixon administration. Nonfiction.

A brief history of Old Mexico and a look at current relations between Mexico and United States sets the stage for a discussion of the various conflicts, compromises, and cooperative efforts between these countries from colonial times to the present. Nonfiction.

Helena Valero, an eleven-year-old Spanish girl, was kidnapped by Indians of the Upper Amazon and kept captive for twenty years. Nonfiction.

A concise encyclopedia of Israeli society, culture, religion, habits, and mores, treated in a semihistorical perspective. Nonfiction.

Through a collection of well-selected stories, poems, and photographic essays by and about Africans, the reader receives a panoramic view of African culture.

The history of Latin America serves as a background for a discussion of change and the turmoil that change has brought to Latin America today. Nonfiction.

A diverse anthology of twentieth-century writers who have maintained their cultural heritage in spite of their international recognition.

Unlike many adolescents who turn away from religion, Joanne Rueben is determined to find the true meaning of Judaism. The arising difficulties with her non-religious family and her own religious beliefs lead to Joanne's symbolic "exodus" to Israel. Fiction.

A collection of thirty-five biographical selections chronicling the childhood experiences of youngsters who recount their discoveries and awareness in tribal, colonial, and independent Africa. Nonfiction.

This biography captures the life and times of the first prime minister of Ghana, the first African colony to achieve political independence. Nonfiction.

The three sections of this book include an essay on the history and politics of Chile, conversations with the late President Allende, and a postscript by Allende, who was killed in a military takeover of the government. Nonfiction.

A Brazilian mother tells of the struggles to keep herself and her three children alive in the slums of São Paulo. Nonfiction.

This account of the Black September movement points out the futility of the violence that this group of Arab terrorists created. From November 28, 1971, until August 10, 1973, the terrorists killed innocent people in an attempt to frighten and overcome their enemy, the state of Israel. Nonfiction.

The problem of the relationship between Palestinians and Israelis and the uneasy peace in Israel is the subject of this book. Nonfiction.

A history and analysis of Israel—the founders, builders, and workers. The author discusses the problems of the country and the likely conflicts during the next few years. Nonfiction.

Elon, an Israeli, and Hassan, an Egyptian, met in 1974 and began a series of conversations about their countries and the politics and emotions which have caused problems for centuries. Nonfiction.

First-person accounts by fifteen teenagers who emigrated to Israel from points throughout the world, including the U.S.S.R., Iraq, India, Japan, and the United States. Nonfiction.

A young survivor of the Nazi persecution of Warsaw Jews goes to the promised land of Israel. Fiction.

All of the information that the traveler to Mexico needs to get along is included in this comprehensive travel guide. Nonfiction.

This informal account of a 1972 visit to China examines many key aspects of Chinese life. Galston spent most of his visit in a commune but reports equally well his impressions of factories, cities, and schools. Nonfiction.

The establishment and activities of a South American guerrilla movement—active in Uruguay, Argentina, and Chile—and the people involved show what can happen to nations undergoing economic, political, and social problems. Nonfiction.

On September 5, 1972, terrorists invaded the quarters of Israeli athletes at the Munich Olympic Games. The author investigates the events and suggests who was really responsible for the death of eleven Israeli athletes and coaches. Nonfiction.

Some of the selections the reader will find include "Growing-Up," a lyrical story of preadolescence, and Natsume's amusing story, "Botchan." Mature fiction.

Ann Sanger has trouble adjusting to the self-discipline and tolerance of an Israeli kibbutz, partly because it seems foreign to her Texas upbringing. Fiction.

Forty-two documents about the Near East crisis from 1882 to the present are followed by statements from both Arabs and Israelis about Arab-Israel wars, what
The political, social, and cultural life of this Third World power sets the stage for an analysis of current Brazilian problems. Nonfiction.
Individual Asian countries are discussed in terms of their past history and culture and the revolutionary changes that are transforming them into modern states. Nonfiction.

These stories from Asia transcend the barriers of language and culture to communicate turmoil and change through the literature of despair, love, childbirth, hatred, and humor. Fiction.

The author examines the image, personality, and the past and future of Africa; also included is a section on African literature. Mature nonfiction.

Included in this volume of the poetry and prose of black Africa are some works that are published here for the first time. Mature.

This collection of African poetry and short stories provides a sampling of works by major modern African writers. Thematic divisions are aids in understanding African life and culture.

Simon Farid invites some school friends home with him one Friday. As they approach the house, they are ambushed, tied, and gagged by Arab terrorists. The children hear the arguments of the terrorists as they use the youngsters as hostages to free some guerrilla hijackers. Fiction.

The pyramids and their symbolic influence are examined in this historical and philosophical essay about modern Mexico's politics, history, and culture. (See also The Labyrinth of Solitude, Grove.) Nonfiction.

An in-depth view of the past, present, and future of the three nations (Kenya, Tanzania, and Uganda) which comprise the territory of East Africa. Mature nonfiction.

Raswan, Carl R. Drinkers of the Wind. FS&G 1942.
The author's quest for the perfect Arabian stallion begins during his childhood in Austria. Once Raswan reaches Egypt as a young man, he befriends the Bedouins of Saudi Arabia. His travels through the Arabian desert with his new friends are described in detail. Nonfiction.

A time and culture are captured in this book of twenty informal interviews with young people of India. Through words and photographs, this book examines today's Indian adolescents and records their answers to many questions. Nonfiction.

Rosenblum sets the tone by describing the land of Israel. Included in this volume are profiles of famous Israelis such as David Ben-Gurion, Golda Meir, Chaim Weizmann, and Moshe Dayan. Nonfiction.

The superstitions, the tragedies, the humor, the fantasies, and the resentments of the inhabitants of the West Indies are revealed in the dialects of the islands in these stories told by native writers. Fiction.

Mishima was a famous but enigmatic Japanese novelist and playwright. At the age of forty-five he committed suicide by hara-kiri. Nonfiction.

Short stories, poetry, and essays by Asian writers revealing the psychology and philosophy of modern Asia. (See also The Mentor Book of Modern Asian Literature, NAL.)

The author brings Mexican villagers to life in short stories that vividly and warmly capture the Mexican way of life. Fiction.

The changes in lifestyle and the economic, social, and political factors that are operating in each of the nations and in South America as a whole. Nonfiction.

The army is the real protagonist in this novel of guerilla warfare in one of the southern states of Mexico. Fiction.

Ousted by the government from their native hunting area, an African mountain tribe called the Ik has in only three generations deteriorated from a cooperative to a hostile group whose members distrust each other and compete to survive. (See also The Forest People: A Study of the Pygmies of the Congo, S&S; and The Lonely African, S&S.) Nonfiction.

This story of the founding of Israel chronicles the human struggle for freedom. Along with its accounts of war and suffering, it includes the love story of a Jewish leader and an American nurse. Fiction.

Francois Joubert, a thirteen-year-old boy, lives on Hunter's Drift, a farm in South Africa. Through the teachings of his father, an exile from the racist South African government, and from the experiences and teachings of Bamuthi, a Matabele herdsman, and Mpani Theron, a hunter whose name is a legend throughout Africa, Francois learns to make his way and survive in the bush. Fiction.
Africa is just now being recognized as having made important contributions to music. The range of African musical forms and instruments and the place of music in the lives of Africans are discussed. Nonfiction.

From the earliest contacts of the Orient with the West until modern times, contemporary reporters discuss the influence of the West on Asia and what Asia thought and thinks of the West. Nonfiction.

A comprehensive study of the emerging nations of Asia—cultural conflicts, wars, politics, agriculture, and economics, and the roles of the Soviet Union and the United States in the future of Asia. Mature nonfiction.

WAR

The glories and tragedies of the French Revolution are told in this brief account. The revolution of 1789 abolished the monarchy, led to the bloody Reign of Terror, and irrevocably changed the history of France. Nonfiction.

Serjeant Musgrave and three of his men come into a small village in northern England. The coal miners are on strike and first believe the soldiers have been sent to break the strike. They are then led to believe the soldiers are on a recruiting drive. But Serjeant Musgrave's mission is much different. Mature fiction.

A series of accounts of individual campaigns during World War II, beginning with the Nazi buildup in Germany and concluding with the fall of the Axis powers. Nonfiction.

In 1940, Jens Hansen is sixteen years old; it is also the year the Germans occupy Denmark. From that year until liberation, Jens is involved in increasingly dangerous sabotage work, helping fellow Danes resist the occupation. Fiction.

After one chapter on events leading up to the entry of the U.S. in World War II, the author relates the activities of submarine warfare from Pearl Harbor to the surrender of Japan. Using thousands of sources, he has written a detailed account of how submarines contributed to the victory in the Pacific. Nonfiction.

Put in a German concentration camp during World War II because she protected Jews, the author found solace in religion, which protected her during the war and protects her even now. (See also A Prisoner and Yet ... , Chr Lit.) Nonfiction.

When his troops are confined to a Japanese prisoner-of-war camp, Colonel Nicholson proves he is a disciplinarian and perfectionist by leading his men in the building of a railroad bridge over the River Kwai. However, the military value of the bridge to the Japanese and Nicholson's harsh leadership causes dissension among his men.

Fail-safe is the name given to the complex machinery designed to prevent the accidental nuclear bombing of an enemy. How this machinery does fail, leading to thermonuclear destruction, is compellingly narrated. Fiction.

Caidin, Martin. The Last Dogfight. HM 1974.

U.S. Air Force Captain Mitch Ross is an ace in the air but a mystery to his men when he is not flying. His counterpart in the Japanese Air Force is Shigura Tanimoto. Though they admire and respect each other, inevitably they meet in an air duel over the Pacific during World War II. Fiction.

A detailed history of World War II—its background, generals, battles, and campaigns. Illustrated with many photographs. Nonfiction.

One of three surviving members of the original paratroop platoon of the Eighty-second Airborne Division, the author narrates the unit's many battles, from North Africa to the Battle of the Bulge, in World War II. Nonfiction.

Six true stories of submarines and their crews in the Pacific during World War II illustrate how the submariners were instrumental in deciding battles against the Japanese Navy. Nonfiction.

The authors detail how and when Paris was liberated from German occupation in 1944. Hitler had ordered the city to be completely destroyed; how it was saved and how the Gaullists and Communists differed politically in the saving of the city are detailed. Nonfiction.

The author tries to answer three questions. First, why did a modern country like Germany systematically murder a people just because they were Jews? Second, why did the Jews allow this to happen to themselves? Third, why did the world allow this to happen without making any efforts to stop the mass murders? Mature nonfiction.

A thirteen-year-old German girl discovers in the aftermath of the Nazi defeat the importance of caring for others by helping an old man conceal his wife's death from other evacuees aboard their train so he may fulfill his promise to bury her in Cologne, her native city. Fiction.

Thirteen short stories, ranging in time from Roman battles through World War I and Vietnam, each focusing on individuals who face death. Fiction.

With paintings and drawings from the eighteenth century, this short history tells the story of the causes and effects of the French Revolution, from before the fall of the Bastille to Napoleon. Nonfiction.

Chau Li had watched his father being put into a torture box by the Viet Cong, but he was too little to stop them and his father died. Now he sees an American soldier being put in a similar box, and he knows he must do everything he can to save him. Fiction.

In 1943, while German Colonel Claus von Stauffenberg lay in a hospital reviewing the reasons why he was there, he conceived a plan to assassinate Adolf Hitler. Nonfiction.

Hans Amann, a German boy serving as a Nazi close to the end of World War II, witnesses of spirit in his family, himself, and his close friends when they experience adversity and fear in their own country. Fiction.

Forman, James. Ring the Judas Bell. FS&G 1965.
Captured when the Communists are trying to take over Greece, Nicholas and his sister are taken to a prison camp in Albania. Fiction.

A mercenary hired by a British financier sets out to overthrow an African dictatorship, and the details of his planning and the violence of his attempt are given in documentary style. (See also The Odessa File, Bantam.) Mature fiction.

In 1967, draftee John Picciano deserted the army and fled to Canada and then Sweden. His decision involved and affected many people, most of all his family. Nonfiction.

Civil disobedience and draft resistance have been part of our history since the Revolutionary War, beginning with the Whiskey Rebellion in 1794 and concluding with the Vietnam War. Nonfiction.

Nazi Germany was ahead of any Allied country in developing the atomic bomb. But in 1942, a small group of Norwegian commandoes destroyed Germany's nuclear production facility at Vemork in Nazi-occupied Norway. This daring raid halted Germany's development of the bomb. Nonfiction.

Giles, Janice Holt. The Damned Engineers. HM 1970.
In 1944-45, the German Army launched a desperate winter offensive to drive back the Allied forces approaching the German frontier. The 291st Engineer Combat Battalion was the only force in Hitler's way. Nonfiction.

Separated from his company in Vietnam, Harry meets the only surviving members of a bombed-out village, a young girl and her two younger brothers. Though he does not know Vietnamese and they do not know English, they communicate well enough to begin their trek toward a Catholic mission and then Saigon. Fiction.

Nine American soldiers, captured in Vietnam, tell about their daily lives in their jungle prison, the confusion and the terrors. Nonfiction.

The only child of a Jewish family living in a small Arkansas town during World War II, Patty Bergen aids a German soldier who has escaped from a nearby internment camp. Despite the realities of war and politics which make her actions shocking to her parents, Patty is motivated by the soldier's warmth and his insistence that she is indeed a "person of value." Fiction.

A sketch of all phases of the Nazi Schutzstaffel (the SS or "Blackshirts"), from its inception in the 1920s through the end of World War II. Commanded by Heinrich Himmler, the SS carried out the extermination of Jews and others in Germany and in territory occupied by Germany during the war. Nonfiction.

Written by a Vietnamese, these poems cry out the anguish and despair over the years of appalling bloodshed in Vietnam. But still the poet can express his love for humanity. Vivid drawings reflect the emotions in the poems.

Haldeman, Joe W. War Year. HR&W 1972.
In the language of a soldier in the field, John Farmer relates his training as a combat engineer, his duties both on the front lines and in the rear, and the many battles in the highlands of Vietnam. Fiction.
A young, patriotic German volunteers for World War I. Shortly he finds himself in the mud and death of the battle of Verdun, the bloodiest battle in history. Nonfiction.

On March 16, 1968, American soldiers entered My Lai 4, a small village in Vietnam, and killed the inhabitants. Hersh reviews the events of the killing and the legal battles and trials that came out of it. Nonfiction.

General Reinhard Gehlen was Hitler's chief of Intelligence for Russian operations, but in 1945 he became an important operative for the American C.I.A. Nonfiction.

In one year during World War I, two major battles were fought between the Allies and the Germans. In those two battles, the Germans lost over 700,000 men, the French over 500,000, and the British over 400,000. Nonfiction.

This collection of poems, short stories, and essays, none of which glorify war, contains material from a wide variety of times and places. Regardless of the time in which each work was written, each still speaks about today's situations.

At 8:00 p.m. every May 4, the entire country of the Netherlands becomes silent in tribute to the many Dutch who died in World War II during the German occupation. Commenting on the photographs of memorials throughout Holland, the author expresses the need for freedom. Nonfiction.
This chronicle of the Third Reich offers a well-rounded account without an overabundance of facts and analysis. Mature nonfiction.

Dr. John, the last survivor of the conspiracy to assassinate Hitler, gained attention when he disappeared in Berlin in 1954. Had he become a spy for Russia or was he a double agent? Nonfiction.

Wellborn Alexander Moore is a friend of peasant-born Jerry Crowe. When World War I erupts, both boys enlist. Crowe deserts and is sentenced to die; and Moore is put in command of the firing squad. Fiction.

A young Jewish boy is separated from his parents at the beginning of World War II and begins four years of wandering through Eastern Europe. He is a victim, observer, and miraculous survivor of the many forms of evil that humans are capable of when war strips away or perverts the usual restraints of the community. Mature fiction.

In November 1966, five American soldiers were on patrol in Vietnam. Four of them kidnapped, raped, and murdered Phan Thi Mao, a young Vietnamese girl. One reported the crime to army officials and the four were court-martialed, but the questions of how and why are disturbingly brought out. Nonfiction.

From 1609, when Champlain fought against the Iroquois Indians, to the present, America has been in numerous wars. The author outlines and relates them to social, economic, and political factors and looks at some of the personal aspects of wars. Nonfiction.
On August 6, 1945, the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima. In prose and black and white photographs, this book illustrates how the city and some of its people have survived since that day of holocaust. Nonfiction.

In any modern war, civilians suffer, perhaps more than the combatants. Of civilians, children suffer most of all because they do not understand. This book looks at children in prose and with pictures to see how they suffer and endure war. Nonfiction.

In June 1942, American forces in the South Pacific were outclassed in equipment and men by the Japanese. But at the battle of Midway, the American Navy and Army defeated the superior Japanese forces, leading to the reversal of Japanese dominance in the Pacific. Nonfiction.

Sketches of the men of Company K of the American Army during World War I are woven together to reveal courage, stupidity, loneliness, irony, and, at times, bitter humor. The war is shown from the point of view of men who were there. Fiction.

During summer 1945, President Harry Truman, Prime Minister Winston Churchill, and Premier Josef Stalin met in Potsdam, Germany, to determine national boundaries and the conditions that would prevail in Europe after Germany had been defeated. Nonfiction.

In June 1942, the Japanese capture an island in the American Aleutians and parachute guerrillas into nearby Alaska. American scouts are sent on a mission to destroy the Japanese. Fiction.
Lieutenant Commander Ericson takes command of a corvette assigned to escort supply ships across the Atlantic during the early days of World War II. After this ship is torpedoed, he takes command of a larger one, a frigate. Fiction.

By using contrasting black and white photographs, the authors illuminate the contrasts of peace and war, love and hate, joy and grief, hope and despair. Nonfiction.

The author, a former student of French literature, volunteered for the Japanese Air Force. He then became one of those asked to volunteer for suicide missions—the kamikaze, “knights of the divine winds.” The training he received and his thoughts during his training are detailed. Nonfiction.

Questioning the rightness of the Vietnam War and his own ability and courage, the author kept a journal of his experience in the army and in Vietnam. Nonfiction.

In 1944 Second Lieutenant Hiroo Onoda was ordered by the Japanese Army to conduct guerrilla warfare on the Philippine island of Lubang. In 1974 he surrendered after thirty years of battle against the enemy and the elements. Nonfiction.

The life of Wilfred Owen, British poet and soldier, to his death in battle only one week before the armistice that ended World War I. Nonfiction.

The author first gives a brief history of Ireland that provides a better understanding of the Irish Republican Movement and the attempt to make Northern Ireland part of the Irish Republic. Politics rather than religion seems to be the impulse behind the fighting. Many interviews with contemporary leaders and citizens stress an independent Ireland. Nonfiction.

Remarque, Erich Maria (translator A. W. Wheen). All Quiet on the Western Front. Little 1929. Paul Baumer enlists in the German Army during World War I after graduating from school, urged on by the ideas of teachers and friends in his small town. He finds that the war reduces men to fighting for mere survival. Fiction.

Russ, Martin. Line of Departure: Tarawa. Doubleday 1975. Tarawa, one of the atolls of the Gilbert Islands in the Pacific, was heavily fortified by the Japanese during World War II, but, in one of the fiercest battles of the
In a campaign planned by Field Marshall Sir Bernard Montgomery, the Allies attempted to shorten World War II by capturing the crucial bridge across the Rhine at Arnhem. Nonfiction.

When the World War II German invasion of the U.S.S.R. comes, Kolya and Lena, the daughter of a famous Soviet general, flee their small village and live with Kolya's grandfather deep in the woods. Fiction.

Four men fight in Vietnam and return home to a changed America. Their stories, the most famous being that of Lieutenant Calley, are a satiric indictment of much of contemporary life. Nonfiction.

This autobiography shows the fighting person's side of World War II. Joining the German Army at sixteen and later surviving the disasters of the Russian front, the author brings to life the horror of war. Mature nonfiction.

For 900 days the Germans held Russian forces and civilians under siege at Leningrad, the longest siege of a city since Biblical days. During this time, over one million people died. The Russian military blundered, but the Russian people endured. Mature nonfiction.

An unrelenting photographic documentation of the supreme nightmare of our time: the imprisonment and extermination of European Jewry. The horrifying nature of some photographs may be unsettling to some readers. Mature nonfiction.

Arthur Goldman is mistaken by Israeli agents for Colonel Adolf Karl Dorff, a German Nazi accused of committing atrocities against the Jews in World War II. When his trial begins, he does not reveal the mistake but plays the role of Dorff and adopts his anti-Semitic attitude. Mature.

Thayer, Charles W. Guerrilla. Har-Row 1963. From long experience in diplomacy and warfare, the author discusses the underground guerrilla movements in many countries and some of the reasons why guerrilla warfare is effective in this nuclear age. Nonfiction.

Toland, John. Battle: The Story of the Bulge. NAL 1969. In the winter of 1944, the German Army launched a counterattack against the Allied Armies along the Ardennes front. The Belgian town of Bastogne at one time was completely surrounded by German troops. The Allies fought back and eventually defeated the Germans in one of the most important campaigns of World War II. Nonfiction.

A panoramic 1865 novel set in Russia during the early nineteenth century when Napoleon was preparing to attack. Pierre Bezuhov and his friend Andrey Bolkovsky both find the young Natasha fascinating, and Andrey offers to marry her. Though she loves Andrey, she is foolishly attracted to another man and runs off with him only to find he has deceived her and is already married. Napoleon’s approach to Moscow even further disrupts all their lives. Mature fiction.

Published before World War II but only gaining recognition in the 1960s, this unflinching antiwar novel is about Johnny, his entrance into the war, and his life-in-death as a hopeless vegetable in a veterans hospital. Mature fiction.

The dramatic beginning of the long and bloody struggle of World War I is told in this Pulitzer Prize-winning account of August 1914. Mature nonfiction.

In 1944, a German sergeant has his harmonious relationship with a French village ruined when he is ordered to arrest and shoot some hostages. Years later, the much older German is a member of a soccer team playing a French team. One member of the French team is the son of one of the murdered hostages. Fiction.

A lavishly illustrated history of the events that led up to D-Day in World War II. Nonfiction.

The persecution and mass execution of Polish Jews is the background for the epic struggle of the Jewish forces in the Warsaw ghetto whose efforts held the Germans at bay for almost a month and a half during World War II. Fiction.

Abraham Cady believes that Sir Adam Kelno was a sadistic doctor working with the Nazis in a concentration camp. Cady accuses Kelno in a book, and Kelno sues Cady for libel, a legal battle to be heard in the Queen's Bench Courtroom Number 7. Fiction.

From Crispus Attucks, a black man who was the first man killed in the American Revolution, to Colonel Daniel James, Jr., who fought in both the Korean War and Vietnam, the lives of black men are sketched out and their contributions to the wars of the U.S. are narrated. Nonfiction.

During the Vietnam War, twelve American Marines volunteered to live and fight side by side with twelve Vietnamese in the tiny provincial village of Binh Nghia. Nonfiction.

Colonel Joseph Ryan is captured by Italians after his plane is shot down. He is brought to a prisoner-of-war camp where he quickly brings the prisoners into better shape. After the Germans place the prisoners on a train bound for Germany, Ryan leads them in their escape to Switzerland. Fiction.

The first work in this collection tells the true story of a young Jewish boy taken with his family from their home to the Nazi extermination camps of Auschwitz and Buchenwald. The second, a short novel, narrates how the survivor of the Nazi camps has become a member of the underground in British-controlled Palestine. The third has the narrator living in New York and almost killed in an automobile accident.

In 1940 France surrendered to Nazi Germany. From then until the liberation, Resistance groups fought underground against the invaders. Many men and women became heroes as they courageously defied their enemy—and often died. Nonfiction.

Brief accounts of saboteurs and their work, from the sinking of the battleship Maine in 1895, which led to the Spanish-American War, to the British-Irish Republican Army struggle in the early 1970s. Nonfiction.

In a German prison camp, two British officers and their fellow prisoners make a wooden horse in their attempt to escape. Nonfiction.

A reporter for Time magazine reports the Vietnam stories that never made the headlines—the personal conflicts, the brutality, the bombings, the night life, and the deaths. Nonfiction.

The story of how the British cracked the German military's communication code with a machine called "Enigma." The book also documents the invaluable information that the machine provided during World War II. Nonfiction.

Wojciechowska, author of several award-winning books, tells the story of how she and her family fled their estate in Poland at the outbreak of World War II and traveled across France during the Nazi occupation. Nonfiction.

The charge of the English Light Cavalry Brigade against Russian artillery in the 1854 Crimean War, one of the bravest and most senseless acts in military history, is here examined as history, not legend. Non-fiction.

Captain Queeg is put in command of the USS Caine for operation in the Pacific against the Japanese. A number of incidents occur on board until finally, during a typhoon, the officers of the ship decide that the captain is incapable of further command and join in mutiny against him. Fiction.

Zassenhaus, Hiltgunt. Walls: Resisting the Third
Reich—One Woman’s Story. Beacon Pr 1974.
Seventeen when Hitler came into power, the author refused to become a Nazi. She fought Hitler during World War II by accepting a job as a mail censor and then working secretly with the Swedish Red Cross to smuggle food into German prisons. Nonfiction.

Ziemian, Joseph (translator Janina David). The Cigarette Sellers of Three Crosses Square (© 1970). Lerner Pubns 1975.
Few Jews survived confinement in the Warsaw ghetto during World War II. Those who did were the children whose daring and resourcefulness are depicted by a member of the Jewish Underground who aided them.
Nonfiction.

OUR LANGUAGES

From "Absolute Zero" to "Zodiac," Asimov traces some 1,500 scientific terms through history from their simple roots to their complicated usages today. (See also Words from the Myths, NAL.)

Auden, W. H., and Louis Kronenberger, editors. The An aphorism is a general truth expressed succinctly that makes a wise, if often ironic, comment on human behavior. This anthology contains more than 3,000 aphorisms by 450 different authors. The collection is divided into such categories as history, love, marriage, and friendship.
This is a record of many recent terms required and created by our scientific researchers and achievements, our technical and cultural activities, and our social and personal lives. Each of the 5,000 entries receives the standard dictionary treatment.

A survey of modern linguistic analysis that explores the inner workings of language, from basic sounds to complex grammar, as well as the elusive concept of meaning.

An abridgement of a book originally published in 1874, this collection will delight anyone interested in what has been done with the English language. There are plenty of puns, puzzles, and palindromes, not to mention shape poems, riddles, unusual names, hoaxes, and frauds.

A good introduction to the mechanics and psychology of language by a popular novelist. Beginning with language in general, Burgess discusses the ideas of sound and the alphabet. In his section on languages he discusses language families and the development of English.

A delightfully instructive explanation of some familiar—and some unfamiliar—rhetorical devices. The tricks of the verbal trade are named, defined, and shown in action with quotations from Shaw to Nixon.

Language, the author notes, can be used to clear up meaning or obscure it. He comments on the tools of language, how to analyze language, and the dangers one needs to watch for in using language or in hearing the language of others.
According to Davis, all of us communicate nonverbally, most of the time without being aware of it. This book discusses the cultural, sexual, and geographic similarities and differences in nonverbal communication. Good bibliography included.

A history of American English with many details about language changes as English developed from colonial times.

Fast employs the science of kinesics, the study of the relationship between body motions and communication, to examine territory, space, masks, touch, postures, as well as "winking, blinking, and nods." Good bibliography for the novice.

A lively compilation of how more than 400 colorful and familiar expressions in our language originated and developed. A good reference work, this volume also makes fun reading. (See also Horsefeathers, Har-Row; Thereby Hangs a Tale, Har-Row; and A Hog on Ice, Har-Row.)

Starting with communication in animals, Gallant traces communication through speech and writing into the age of the satellite.

A simple basic introduction to the world of secret writing; Gardner covers all the standard items of cryptography as well as some of the more bizarre methods.

A serious discussion of the general principles governing the use and evolution of writing. Charts, drawings, and bibliography cover forerunners of writing, word-syllabic and syllabic systems, as well as the alphabet and the evolution of writing.

A basic handbook for those interested in languages. For the casual reader, it gives fascinating insights into the nature of human and cultural psychology.

These eighteen essays from ETC.: A Review of General Semantics cover the art of communication, semantics, the arts, and human insights.

A good survey of the advances in communication, this book tells of a world of communication satellites, lasers, and machines that talk to other machines. Drawings, diagrams, and photographs help tell this story of tomorrow.

Laird's lively, imaginative work traces language from its origins through its strange development to the complex means of communication we use today.

In addition to the story of peoples' names, this book examines the names of things like animals, institutions, flags, and the seasons.

An informative survey of the present and a projection of the near future in communications. The author talks about the changes in communication, their political and social implications, and the frequent resistance to change.

An investigation of kinesics, more commonly referred to as body language. Written from a teenager's point of view, the book covers such areas as handshakes, courting, aggression, and head movements.

These books give concise, clear answers to hundreds of questions about our language, the latest usage, derivations, and inconsistencies.

A panel of 136 well-known people, mostly writers, is used to determine the degree of acceptability of certain words in our language (like Ms.) or the difference between words often confused or used as synonyms (like imply and infer).

This book examines language not as an object for definition and analysis, but as something we use and respond to every day. There is a good appendix of examples of English from 1014 to the present.

An introduction to communication with an emphasis on communication devices such as the pen, pencil, and typewriter. Begins with an explanation of grunts and giggles and concludes with outer space and ESP.

Veteran newsman Newman explores what he considers to be the sorry state of the English language in America. He attacks stereotypes, clichés, errors, and jargon in our language.
Nierenberg, Gerard I., and Henry H. Calero. How to Read a Person Like a Book (© 1971). PB 1973. People do reveal their beliefs and conflicts through nonverbal communication in the ways they sit and gesture and stand. The authors suggest some ideas about learning how to read the subtle nonverbal talk of other people. (See also Meta-Talk: Guide to Hidden Meanings in Conversation, PB.)

Pei, Mario. Double-Speak in America. Hawthorn 1973. Beginning with a discussion of new "weasel words" (words coined to obscure or distort meaning), the author writes about the way words are used to hide meaning or purpose and the way people in power use those words.

Pei, Mario. The Families of Words (© 1962). St Martin 1974. This book traces the roots of many of our most common words to their original meanings and shows how some words have changed in meaning through time. (See also The Story of Language, NAL.)

Pei, Mario. The Story of Latin and the Romance Languages. Har-Row 1976. History and geography, in addition to linguistics, are brought to bear on the origin and development of Latin and its various transformations that produced the family of Romance languages.

Shipley, Joseph T. Word Play. Hawthorn 1972. This guide defines and explains dozens of word games and gives countless examples of each. Those familiar with riddles, anagrams, and conundrums will find that they've only scratched the surface of possible games.

Smith, Elsdon C. The Treasury of Name Lore. Har-Row 1967. Names are an important part of any language. This book explains how names fit into language, the classification and origin of descriptive surnames, and nicknames. (See also American Surnames, Chilton.)

Thum, Gladys, and Marcella Thum. The Persuaders: Propaganda in War and Peace. Atheneum 1972. Is propaganda as American as apple pie? This book... examine the role propaganda has played in the development of this country, from presidential campaigns and advertising to war and Prohibition.

Weekley, Ernest. The Romance of Words (© 1911). Dover 1912.
A reissue of an informal, nontechnical exposition of the English language. Weekley provides brief, simple coverage of nearly all the important divisions of etymology. Also included are many unusual word histories.

Because language is constantly changing, this book is, by definition, dated. However, it offers a thorough explanation of the slang terms of the past.

Interspersed with intriguing historical incidents is a solid explanation of secret writing. Transposition, substitution, frequency count, grid, and skytale are some of the areas covered.

MYTH AND FOLKLORE

Legends of heroes and rebels from Eastern Europe, Siberia, Africa, Asia, Australia, and America.

Black Elk, at the age of almost ninety, tells the seven rites of his tribe's religion so that it will be preserved. He describes the ceremonies and tells the importance of the sacred pipe in order that "peace may come to those peoples who can understand. . . ."

The Mahabharata is an epic of India about a feud between two branches of an Indian ruling family that results in a gigantic battle.
This standard handbook of mythology is divided into "The Age of Fable" (Prometheus to Beowulf), "The Age of Chivalry" (Launcelot of the Lake to Morte d'Arthur), and "The Legends of Charlemagne" (the Paladins to the Battle of Roncesvalles).

Mythology is seen as something alive today, with the author noting the relationship between myth and science, love, religion, and politics. A difficult but rewarding book. Mature.

Appalachian folksongs and recollections of the last forty years touching on labor union struggles, mining disasters, and the battle of a strong and free people to run their own lives and world.

This collection, selected from the folktales of Cuba, Haiti, Jamaica, Puerto Rico, and the Dominican Republic, includes animal tales, tales of magic, and how and why tales of origin.

Myths, legends, and folklore of the principal Scandinavian and Norse gods like Odin, Thor, and Freyr.

The author, who lived among the Pit River Indians of California, began writing these stories about animal-humans, for his children. Some are authentic translations of Indian tales; others are purely out of the mind of the author.

This retelling of the Finnish epic brings excitement and humor to the feats of singer-magician Vainamoinen and other heroes.

Dorson, Richard M. American Folklore. U of Chicago
Pr 1959.
This topical history of American folklore by a leading folklorist is an excellent introduction to the field.

Dorson, Richard M. Buying the Wind: Regional Folk-
A wealth of oral material collected from Maine Downeasters, Pennsylvania Dutchmen, Southern Mountaineers, Louisiana Cajuns, Illinois Egyptians, Southwest Mexicans, and Utah Mormons.

Little 1974.
This anthology captures the richness of the American oral tradition ranging from children's songs, play-party games, love songs, and child ballads to religious, war, occupational, and westward expansion pieces. An extensive bibliography on the American folksong compiled by Joseph C. Hickerson of the Library of Congress is a valuable addition to the collection.

Emrich, Duncan. Folklore on the American Land. Little 1972.
As an introduction to American folklore, this book has wide coverage of tales, songs, superstitions, riddles, folk grammar, photographs, and engaging commentary on folk medicine, weather, birth, marriage, and death.

Evans, Bergen. Dictionary of Mythology: Mainly Clas-Arranged alphabetically and cross-referenced, the items in the Dictionary are largely from Greek, Roman, and Norse legends.

Evslin, Bernard. The Green Hero: Early Adventures of Finn McCool. Four Winds 1975.
The youthful adventures of Finn McCool, the popular giant of Irish lore, are retold in a highly readable style.
The charm and imagination of the Irish people are re-lected in each of these legends.

The author retells the stories of ancient Greece—of Zeus and the gods of Olympus, of Prometheus and Perseus and Theseus, of Midas and Pygmalion. From this panorama of antiquity emerges the ever familiar struggle of Good and Evil, of Light and Darkness.

This collection of fifty-two representative myths and tales of the American Indians contains stories of creation, the underworld, the flood, the theft of fire, and tales of heroes and supernatural journeys of men, animals, and gods to rival the myths of the ancient Greeks and Romans.

The influence of France and Britain is seen in many of the eighty-two songs of this collection. Songs are grouped under such categories as love, the sea, the land, the woods, and social life.

Myths and legends from Egypt, Greece, Crete, Troy, Persia, India, and Rome.

Stories and myths of the Middle Ages—Beowulf, The Song of Roland, and Prince Igor (a twelfth-century Russian epic), among others.

Graves retells the ancient legends of Greece with wit and humor.

Green retells the story of the Trojan War, from Paris’s abduction of the beautiful Helen to the exploits of Achilles in the long siege of Troy to Odysseus’s incredible journey home. (See also Tales of the Greek Heroes, Penguin.)
Legends of ancient Egypt, the gods men worshipped, boy magicians, the land of the dead, and sea serpents.

First published in 1889, this book contains the recorded legends and tales of the Pawnee Indians as they were told to Grinnell. In addition, the author shares his knowledge about Pawnee life, customs, religions, and history from his visits with the tribe in the 1870s. (See also Blackfoot Lodge Tales: The Story of a Prairie People, U of Nebr Pr; and By Cheyenne Campfires, U of Nebr Pr.)

Ten stories of the supernatural ranging from the tender "Sankichi's Gift" (Japan) to the weird elements of "The Graveyard Rose" (Germany).

A generously illustrated exploration of the importance of the sun as a symbol throughout history—in mythology, religion, science, and art.

Much of Greek, Roman, and Celtic folklore and myth has its roots in the mythology of the ancient Near East, Palestine, Egypt, and Mesopotamia. Here are myths about creation, hell, floods, and great heroes.

Hull seeks to recapture the original flavor of Aesop's fables with a verse translation which allows readers to provide the moral themselves rather than having it stated directly.

The central story is that of Balder, Norse god of innocence and goodness; Odin, Frigga, Thor, Loki, and other characters of Norse mythology are also presented.

Notes by the editor and piano arrangements by Elizabeth Poston enhance this collection of 111 ballads, spirituals, work songs, cowboy songs, and love songs from colonial to modern times.

The first half of the book contains Kiowa Indian stories of the trickster and hero Uncle Saynday, while the second half describes the lifestyle, government, ceremonies, cooking, crafts, and healing practices of the now vanished life of the Kiowas. Numerous drawings illustrate the making of clothes, tools, etc.

The Indian myths in this collection are gathered from over twenty North American tribes and are representative of the religious philosophies of those tribes. Included are stories of creation, the coming of corn, the dancing feather, and death.

Based on the translations of Martin Sampson, chief of the Swinomish tribe, this book recounts thirteen ancient legends of the Puget Sound Indians of the Pacific Northwest.

Man’s relationship with more than 100 animals from myths, legends, and fables is the focus here. Attention is given to animals of the mind: unicorns, harpies, dragons, and the like.

Miller, Joseph. Tales from the Wandering Gypsies. Miller Bks 1969.

Miller presents a collection of eighteen original fables.
filled with humor and warmth; each tale ends with a

Morgan, Fred T. Ghost Tales of the Uwharries. Blair 1968.
An assortment of ghost tales from the folklore of the Uwharrie Mountains of central North Carolina.

Narayan, R. K. The Ramayana. Viking Pr 1972:
A prose retelling of the great epic of India in which Prince Rama courts his beloved Sita and battles her kidnapper.

Nequatewa, Edmund. Truth of a Hopi: Stories Relating to the Origin, Myths and Clan Histories of the Hopi Ancient stories of the Hopi Indian past as well as brief histories of various clans of the Hopi, showing how legends and culture intermingle.

Paredes, Americo, editor. Folktales of Mexico. U of Chicago Pr 1970.
Traditional legends, animal tales, and jokes of the Mexican people.

Reed, A. W. Myths and Legends of Australia (© 1965).
This collection contains fifty-five myths of Australian aborigines that explain the origins of the world, the behavior of the elements, and animal characteristics.

Rugoff, Milton, editor. A Harvest of World Folk Tales.
Viking Pr 1968.
This broad collection of folktale represents nineteen world areas.

Schwartz, Alvin. Cross Your Fingers, Spit in Your Hat.
Lippincott 1974.
A collection of superstitious and other folk beliefs on such topics as love and marriage, children, friends and neighbors, school, money, plants, the weather, and death. The illustrations add a touch of humor.

Sedgwick, Paulita. Mythological Creatures: A Pictorial Alphabetically arranged and with illustrations based on classical descriptions, this work identifies creatures of myth and folklore from many countries.

Seki, a leading folklore scholar in Japan, edited this readable collection of tales which reflect the rich traditions of ancient Japanese villagers.

Stanford, Gene, and Barbara Stanford, editors. Myths and Modern Man. WSP 1972.
This retelling of mythologies from many races and cultures is organized around five fundamental concerns:

Where did we come from? How do men and women differ? What is the perfect individual? Can people live together in peace? Is death the end?

Weland, the smith, is the subject of a Norse myth about courage, endurance, and revenge.

Traveller Bird tells sixteen legends of the Cherokee Indians as told to him by his grandfather. Included are creation stories, "Why the Possum's Tail Is Bare," "The Man Who Became a Lizard," and "Origin of Corn and Beans."

Descriptions and discussions of the deities of the Pueblo Indians including Hopis, Zunis, and Keres. Whenever possible, the author makes comparisons with Greek gods and myths. Mature.

Geomythology is a new science devoted to discovering possible scientific explanations for the origins of myths and folklore and events they describe. Earthquakes, plagues, and volcanic eruptions may have led to myths like the lost continent of Atlantis and the parting of the Red Sea.
A detailed and scholarly examination of various medical cures—some of them miraculous—used by American Indians, including several hundred different plants plus various ceremonies of medicine men. Mature.

Tales and legends from North Carolina's historic coastal folklore offering a combination of unusual, awesome, and sometimes horrifying events. (See also Legends of the Outer Banks & Tar Heel Tidewater, Blair.)

This product of the work of high school students presents the folk culture of the north Georgia mountains and the southern highlands, from mountain recipes and weather signs to detailed instructions for soap-making and chimney building. (See also Foxfire 2 and Foxfire 3, Arch Pr.)

OUR RELIGIONS

The author discusses the Dead Sea Scrolls, their importance to studies of the New Testament, and the possibility of further discoveries of this kind.

A helpful guide to understanding names of people, towns, and things not otherwise explained in the Old Testament. (See also Asimov's Guide to the Bible: The New Testament, Avon.)

The author tells what her faith has meant to her, starting with her early remembrances of childhood and continuing through her life as a well-known entertainer.
Our Religions

Ways of looking at the world and within oneself which have influenced countless numbers of people, especially in Asia. The Dhammapada ("The Way of Truth") is an important part of Buddhism. Mature.

An outline of religions and mysticism, particularly Eastern religions. A difficult and mature book.

The author discusses several of the new religious groups which have become popular in recent years and which have had a particular appeal to the young. The beliefs, the practices, and the founders of such groups and movements as the Children of God, the Jesus People, the Divine Light Mission, Transcendental Meditation, witchcraft, and satanism are included.

A history of religious revivalism in America from 1801 to the current Jesus Movement and such famous revivalists as Billy Sunday, Dwight L. Moody, and Billy Graham.

A good survey of the basic writing and teaching of the Golden Age of Buddhist literature. The collection emphasizes texts for the layman rather than for the monk, showing their humanity rather than their profundity.

With only two years to live, a young minister is sent to his church's most difficult parish—a remote Indian village near the rugged seacoast of British Columbia. There he learns to live with the poverty, strength, and unfamiliar beliefs of the Kwakiutl Indians. Fiction.

Deloria offers an alternative to Christianity, which he feels has failed in its theology and in its application to life today. He suggests that humanity must search for God in terms of our land, seeking a source of religion-in beliefs of the American Indians. Mature.

A young Roman nobleman takes Christ's robe after helping in the Crucifixion. Fiction.

A short history of Judaism including discussions of various aspects of the faith and the contributions of individuals who have helped shape the history of Judaism.

Using the life stories of the founders or leaders of the world's great religions, the author explains many religious faiths.

Ordained at the age of four, Marjoe became a nationally famous evangelist. As he entered his teens, Marjoe lost his religious effectiveness, and as he matured he departed more and more from religion and went into the entertainment world.

Newman decided, at age forty-four, to leave the Church of England, in which he had taken Orders, and to enter the Roman Catholic Church. The resulting furor did not prevent him from becoming a highly influential religious leader who died a cardinal of the Church.

The television series of the same name provides the basis for the text and photographs of this book which deals with the religious experiences and beliefs of a number of Americans.

Poems and stories about the Orisha, who are not quite African gods, but who walk the earth and represent truth, creation, and love.

A Mexican Catholic priest living in a society that has virtually outlawed religion tries to find who he is and what he can do for his people. Mature fiction.

---Harry Powell, a mad, self-ordained messianic preacher, is convinced that the Lord has appointed him to kill evil men and women. Learning from a murderer that robbery loot has not been found, Powell marries and kills the robber's widow and then searches for the widow's two children to get the money. Fiction.

The author traces the historical background of Islam, writes about Muhammad, the founder of Islam, and discusses aspects of Islam from its beginning to the 1950s. Included are some speculations about Islam in the future.

The story of Christ and salvation retold in a modern setting, with political rallies, riots, and troops in the streets replacing the events and characters in the familiar Biblical story. Fiction.

Methods and training in Zen Buddhism are discussed with an attempt to "explain" Zen to the Westerner.

The feelings of a young girl about parents, girl friends, boy friends, school, and other topics are expressed through her conversations with God. (See also Who Am I, God?, Bantam.)

A nun struggles to keep her vows but becomes increasingly concerned over whether she made the right choice when she entered the convent. Fiction.

A collection of Hindu scripture, commentary, and poetry.

The life of Confucius, his teachings, his philosophy, his early training, and other pertinent materials related to the man whose name is associated with the wisdom of the East.

The life story of the founder of Christian Science, emphasizing those periods of her life which were important to her spiritual growth.

Fifteen-year-old Joy Cheever, disillusioned with the religious teachings around her in Washington, D.C., finds a group of Jesus People in Canada. After difficult times, the group writes a successful religious Indian rock opera and Joy finds the meaning of Jesus. Fiction.

Considered to be the principal classic in the thought of Taoism, the work is a collection of wise sayings, compiled in about the fourth century B.C. The Lao Tzu (also titled Tao-te Ching, meaning the "classic of the Way and virtue") encourages a philosophy of meekness as the surest path to survival. (See also Tao-te Ching, VinRandom.)

In this first volume of an allegorical trilogy about religion and humanity, a Cambridge professor accidentally becomes involved in a secret space trip and discovers a plot of a mad scientist aimed at the inhabitants of Malacandra. (See also Perelandra, Macmillan; and That Hideous Strength, Macmillan.) Fiction.
Our Religions

Peter Marshall was a Scot immigrant who became chaplain of the United States Senate, but he never lost his feeling for people in all walks of life. His wife tells both of his relationship with God and with people.

Taking place on a battlefield, the Gita is an eighteen-part discussion between Krishna and Arjuna on the nature and meaning of Love, Light, and Life. A classic of Sanskrit literature and the central text of the Hindu religion, it is believed to have been written about 500 B.C. (See also The Song of God: Bhagavad-Gita, NAL.)

A brief collection of more than 400 aphorisms which illustrate the Buddhist moral system. Pointing out the path to Nirvana, the Dhammapada includes such categories as transient pleasures, self-possession, life, and watchfulness.

In the year A.D. 20, a time of religious and political quarrels before John the Baptist’s appearance, a young man appears claiming to be the Messiah. The author portrays both the religious beliefs and the social and political climate of this time. Some readers may be offended by the discussion of homosexuality. Fiction.

Jewish life in Eastern Europe up to the time of large-scale emigration to the U.S., including such topics as family life and the pogroms or massacres.

Morris discusses and dissects the work, influence, and power of nine modern well-known ministers and evangelists, sometimes sympathetically, sometimes not, from A. A. Allen to Billy Graham.
The author analyzes the appeal of Eastern religions and teachings to modern humanity. Mature.

Bible passages arranged according to provocative themes: "Are You Caught in an Identity Net?"; "Do You Want to Swing Free?"; "Star Trek"; "The Do You Want to Do It Yourself?" Kit"; and "Profiles of Faith." Most are from the King James Version. Imaginatively illustrated.

The author attempts to present the meaning of the Koran, a work which he says cannot be translated and still retain the beauty and power of the original.

A translation of the oldest of India's most sacred Hindu scriptures treating the nature of man and the universe. Mature.

Rampa writes of his experiences in a Tibetan lamasery, where he had an "operation" that opened the Third Eye, allowing him to observe the auras of those about him and to determine what they are really thinking.

In a text liberally illustrated with photographs, the author discusses Judaism, Christianity, Buddhism, Hinduism, and Islam, attempting to point out beliefs, differences, similarities, and origins of the various faiths.

The life story of the founder of Islam and the impact Islam has had on Arab society and culture, yesterday and today.
Our Religions

The author tells of the influence of her Christian faith on her life and discusses some of the problems she sees society facing today.

Five major religions of the East—Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Taoism, and Shinto—are explained in terms of their legends, teachings, and prominent personalities.

The author talks to God about a variety of topics, including the professional clergy, sex, heroes, and bitterness.

The mountain wilderness of central Idaho provides the backdrop for the author's examination of his faith and his attempt to better understand his God.

Brief comparisons between the writings of Zen masters and selections from the Bible with essays about religion and humanity's spiritual plight today.

The lives and faiths of eight founders of living religions.

A retelling of the Biblical David and Jonathan story, with the Cyclops, Sirens, history, and fantasy woven together to give the story a new look which some may find disturbing. Fiction.

The story of the Exodus from Egypt is told through the eyes of the people who lived at that time. Fiction.
The story of Abraham and his followers and the beginning of Judaism, described sympathetically and with vivid insight. Fiction.

Stories, parables, poetry, and anecdotes by writers and thinkers fascinated by Taoism, the religion that has influenced Chinese thought and action for better than 1,500 years.

The Book of Songs contains one of the most important collections of poetry in world literature and is one of the Five Confucian Classics. The followers of Confucius used the songs both for instruction and as examples.

The author of The Caine Mutiny explains what the Jewish way of life is. Wouk discusses the faith, the history, and the laws of Jews. A helpful glossary of Hebrew terms is included. Mature.

FINE ARTS

Detective Robert Volpe of the New York City Police is both an artist and a cop, so what better assignment for him than director of the Art Squad, a unit which puzzles out thefts from museums and galleries as well as art frauds and forgeries.

The New York Philharmonic made its last foreign tour under the direction of Leonard Bernstein in the summer of 1968, and this account of the trip reveals a great deal about both orchestra and conductor.

A dictionary of musical terms, works, trends, and movements.
The twenty-two essays in this collection describe recent trends in American art, with discussions of film, conceptual art, happenings and improvisations, as well as painting and sculpture.

Bernstein analyzes classical music, jazz, and Muzac in five television scripts and a series of essays.

The conductor of the New York Philharmonic discusses Beethoven's _Fifth Symphony_, the world of jazz, the art of conducting, musical comedy, modern music, Bach, and opera.

Bing, for twenty-two years the general manager of New York City's Metropolitan Opera, takes the reader backstage to witness the triumphs and disasters of one of the world's great opera companies.

Casals lived a long and rich life, playing the cello for Queen Victoria in the 1890s and for President Kennedy in the 1960s, winning admirers for his interpretations of Bach's music, and showing courage in refusing to play in his homeland, Spain, because of its totalitarian regime.

Clark, Kenneth. _Another Part of the Wood_. Har-Row 1975.
A great art scholar tells about his early life and his discovery and growing appreciation for art, the artists and art critics he has known, and what he believes important about art. Mature.

The piano is a latecomer among keyboard instruments, having been preceded by the clavichord, the harpsichord, and the virginal, but once established this instrument became the center of musical life.
The arts of architecture, painting, sculpture, and graphics are surveyed from the colonial period to the present.

Jazz, America's contribution to music, is traced from its beginnings among the blacks of New Orleans through its development into blues, Dixieland, and progressive.

Constant, Alberta Wilson. Paintbox on the Frontier:
The Life and Times of George Caleb Bingham. T Y
Crowell 1974.
Bingham, a painter of the early nineteenth century, depicted common people living on the western frontier of his time—fur trappers, Indians, politicians, and people in general. Illustrated with many black and white and color reproductions of his paintings.

de Mille, Agnes. Speak to Me, Dance with Me. Little
The author struggled with the early criticism that she was not "built right" for a dancer to become one of the leading dancer-choreographers in America, reshaping the dance in the musical theater.

Stealing art treasures has been the goal of many individuals, from Vincenzo Perugia, who stole the Mona Lisa in 1911, to modern plunderers who ransack archaeological finds.

Flexner, James Thomas. The Double Adventure of John Copley, who grew up in colonial Boston without the opportunity to see great paintings, developed a style independent of the academic painters of Europe and emerged as the first major artist of the New World.

Furlong, William Barry. Season with Solti: A Year in Georg Solti is one of today's great conductors. The chronicle of one year with the Chicago Symphony portrays the joys and frustrations of working with musicians and creating a deservedly famous orchestra.
A nontechnical history of classical music touching upon major composers and their works. One section is devoted to jazz and modern electronic music.

Dunham, American dancer and choreographer, sought to bring the mood of African dance into works that she developed for her own dance company, which she assembled only after years of struggle.

Catlin spent a large portion of his life painting portraits of American Indians in the unexplored parts of the country in the mid-1800s. Illustrated with his paintings and drawings, this book is the story of Catlin's travels, adventures, insights, and paintings, much of it quoted from his own writings.

The author gives specific recommendations for the beginner who would like to collect classical records. Performers, composers, and specific musical works are discussed.

For over fifteen centuries the cathedral of Reims has adapted to the joys of kings and bishops and to the sorrows of war and revolution. The author thus traces the soul of a nation in one of the landmarks of France.

Though hampered by a bone disease that left him deformed, Henri Toulouse-Lautrec made his mark as an artist, capturing the world of Paris dance halls and cafés in his own unique style. Photographs of the artist and his work accompany this account of his life.

Over thirty great names in the world of classical music—composers, conductors, singers, and instrumentalists—

Kallem, Anne E. (with Louisa B. Hellegers and Steven Morgenstern). Giant Book of Crafts. Sterling 1976. An expensive but inclusive survey of crafts that goes well beyond the usual craft book by covering many unusual arts (for example, net making).

Klein, Mina C., and H. Arthur Klein. Kathe Kollwitz: Life in Art. HR&W 1972. The first complete biography of this very gifted German artist who, through her works, relates themes which are very close to her life—social injustice, oppression, causes related to peace, “the joys and sorrows of maternity, the fathomless mystery of death.”

Marek, George R. Toscanini. Atheneum 1975. Arturo Toscanini was one of the great symphony orchestra conductors of all time. His career in Italy and the United States, his explosive temper at rehearsals, and the great conductor as a sensitive human being are portrayed.
A New York drama and ballet critic spends the spring of 1973 with the New York City Ballet watching rehearsals, observing dancers, and capturing the back-stage life of a ballet company.

One of the major problems facing directors of museums and art galleries is how to protect art works against time and air and vandals. Another problem is how to detect forgeries and fakes.

A reference work, alphabetically arranged, on contemporary painters, sculptors, graphic artists, and architects, from Alvar Aalto, Finnish architect, to William Zorach, American sculptor.

Modern art from Vincent Van Gogh to Jackson Pollock is traced through major movements and painters.

This introduction to American composers of the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries includes brief biographies of twenty-nine representative musicians.

Posell, Elsa Z. Russian Composers. HM 1967.
Short biographies of major Russian composers, such as Fëdor Glinka, Modest Moussorgsky, Petër Tchaikovsky, Sergei Rachmaninoff, Igor Stravinsky, Sergei Prokofiev, and Dimitri Shostakovich.

An alphabetical list of terms used in fine arts, photography, printing, and graphic arts, from "Abbozzo" to "yardstick compass." Many illustrations.

The two great ballet companies of Russia, the Bolshoi and the Kirov, developed under the patronage of the Russian aristocracy and survived the revolution to remain among the foremost companies of the world, especially as showcases for the grand productions of the romantic period.

The life of Isadora Duncan, founding spirit of the modern dance movement, reads more like a novel than a biography and contains romance, political intrigue, tragedy, and scandal.

Music, musicians, and conductors associated with the New York Philharmonic from its origin in 1849 to the present.

This guide is both a history of opera from its birth in sixteenth-century Florence to the present and a collection of plot summaries, important musical motifs, and stage designs of the more important works.

All the great violins were made before 1744. Seventeenth-century fiddlers were applauded when they made their instruments bark like dogs. Nicolo Paganini, the great virtuoso, once lost his violin in a gambling bout. These are only three of the colorful details which fill this history of the violin.

Among the most accomplished of the French Impressionist painters was a woman named Mary Cassatt, an American from Philadelphia, whose father scorned her early dreams of traveling to Europe to study painting.

Born into a family of musicians, Ludwig van Beethoven demonstrated his promise with the publication of his first sonatas at age thirteen. Despite disillusionment in love and eventual deafness, he became one of the monumental composers in musical history.

ALL THE WORLD'S A STAGE

Some of the plays included in this anthology are Elizabeth the Queen, Mary of Scotland, Winterset, and Valley Forge.

The play in this collection, Krapp's Last Tape, is about what happens when a man plays a tape that he had recorded thirty years before on his thirty-ninth birthday. The collection also includes two radio plays and two pantomimes.

This play is a good introduction to the theater of the absurd, with a cast of characters who aimlessly fill up their lives with trivia while waiting for "Godot" without really knowing why they are waiting, or who or what "Godot" is. Mature.

A comparison of Shakespeare's Twelfth Night and the successful off-Broadway rock musical Your Own Thing is provided in this book, which includes both plays.

The manners, customs, and follies of the eighteenth century are satirized in three comedies by Oliver Goldsmith and Richard Sheridan.

The five plays by Samuel Behrman, Clifford Odets,
All the World's a Stage  289

William Saroyan, Robert Sherwood, and John Steinbeck represent the despair and hope of the 1930s.

The frankness and bestiality of many modern plays is seen in this collection which includes Waiting for Godot, A Taste of Honey, The Balcony, Rhinoceros, The Birthday Party, The Connection, and The Quare Fellow.

British drama of the twentieth century is represented in this volume by Heartbreak House, Loyalties, Private Lives, The Chalk Garden, A Man for All Seasons, and The Knack.

The author discusses the accomplishments of many playwrights, describes the theater from which each developed, and argues that romanticism is present in drama's search for reality. Mature nonfiction.

Set in the Harlem of the present, this play realistically captures the hopes, the cynicism, the tragedy, and the humor of a group of blacks concerned with love, lust, money, and a means of escaping their way of life in the ghetto.

Arsenic and Old Lace, Kind Lady, and Detective Story provide entertaining reading about a variety of criminal types and criminal acts.

A comprehensive and critical study of drama from its beginnings to the middle of this century, examining drama from almost every nation and discussing theatrical trends. Nonfiction.
All the World's a Stage

The diaries and letters of Abigail and John Adams help to make this play a realistic portrayal of Boston and Philadelphia during the colonial period.

Helen Keller's frustrations and fears stem from her life as a deaf mute. But Annie Sullivan brings meaning to Helen's world by slowly making Helen aware of language and communication.

Guthrie takes the reader on a behind-the-scenes tour of the greatest theaters in the world as he tells of his life as a director. Nonfiction.

The brilliance and grandeur of Greek tragedy and the satirical nature of Greek comedy can be seen in these nine plays by Aeschylus, Sophocles, Euripides, and Aristophanes.

Hansberry creates universal characters as she looks at life frankly and realistically in these two plays set in two very different worlds of New York City.

Harris, Julie (with Barry Tarshis). Julie Harris Talks to Young Actors. Lothrop 1971.
Harris gives a personal and practical account of every phase of the acting profession. Nonfiction.

This collection of all the author's plays as she has revised them offers slices of life that might offend some readers. Her characters are people whose standards are far from conventional. Mature.

This volume of plays by Maxwell Anderson, Carson
McCullers, Arthur Miller, and Thornton Wilder reflects the development of drama during the war and the postwar years.

The author focuses on the history and criticism of twentieth-century theater to encourage readers to attend the theater and increase their knowledge of it. Nonfiction.

The plays of Anton Chekhov, Gerhart Hauptmann, Henrik Ibsen, August Strindberg, and Émile Zola in modern translations represent the beginning of realism in the theater.

This collection offers a wide variety of classical Asian drama.

The fifties come alive in this rock 'n' roll musical about girls in pedalpushers and bobby sox and guys in ducktails, pegged pants, and black leather jackets.

A Broadway play turns into reality as the author shows the reader what is involved in writing and producing a Broadway play. Nonfiction.

A love of the theater and a revolutionary spirit that caused her to break with the traditions of the theater of her time and to reject her parents' advice characterized Siddons, a famous eighteenth-century actress. Nonfiction.

The anthology presents the wide scope and versatility of the author as we see him using and parodying various types of plays, theatrical experiences, and subjects. Nonfiction.

A zany but poignant Wild West Show, starring Buffalo Bill Cody, Sitting Bull, Wild Bill Hickok, Geronimo, Annie Oakley, Jesse James, Chief Joseph, and numerous others, which (in sometimes strong language) condemns white exploitation of Indians.

The life of one of the most popular American playwrights is examined, with an analysis of his style, the techniques he used, and the themes that are present in his novels and plays. Nonfiction.

The authors base their play on the real life trial of Thomas Scopes. Scopes is accused of teaching evolution contrary to a state law and two famous lawyers appear, one to defend him and the right to think freely, one to support the state and the cause of the Bible.

Thoreau’s search for personal truth and his plea for nonviolence is traced in this work which focuses on the night he spent in jail for not paying his poll tax.

The importance of the off-Broadway theater is shown in this work tracing its influence on the Broadway theater from 1952 to the present. Nonfiction.

In a two-act comedy we find out what really happens to Ulysses when he finally returns home to Ithaca from his many journeys.

This biography shows Kaufman’s many sides as author and director of such hits as You Can't Take It with You, The Man Who Came to Dinner, and The Front Page. Nonfiction.

The corrupting influence of business on the human spirit is reflected in The Adding Machine, Beggar on Horseback, and All My Sons.

Based on the witchcraft trials in Salem, Massachusetts, in 1692, this play emphasizes the irresponsible emotional acts that led to imprisonment and death for many innocent victims.

The death of their father brings together two brothers, one a policeman and the other a surgeon, causing them to reflect on the significance of their lives.

Shakespeare comes to life as a real person in this play skillfully written in Elizabethan blank verse. He is shown in the many and varied roles that he played in his own life, including those of actor, playwright, and producer.

This collection, arranged by scenes for a woman and man, for two men, and for two women, provides a wide variety of acting experiences for students.

O'Neill writes about the tragic aspects of life because he believes that it is through tragedy that one discovers the true meaning of life.

Bill Maitland, the protagonist of this play, is a middle-aged lawyer who subjects himself to a very thorough and ultimately very disastrous self-analysis.

Jimmy Porter, the original "angry young man" in his attack on the Establishment, represents the frustrations of people who hate middle-class complacency.

Piro, a music-drama teacher in a junior high school, works with his black and Puerto Rican students to put on Fiddler on the Roof. In the process, the anti-Semitism of some students emerges, and the story becomes one of music, human relations, and human understanding. Nonfiction.

Plays that reflect the concerns of modern British writers, essays by playwrights and directors, and an introduction that is historical and analytical make up this collection of six of the best plays of the modern theater. Mature.

Quintero, José. If You Don’t Dance They Beat You. Little 1974.
The American theater comes alive in this self-portrait of one of the most highly regarded directors of the American stage. One of the highlights occurs when Quintero tells of his productions of The Iceman Cometh and Long Day’s Journey into Night. Nonfiction.

These four plays represent the greatest achievements of Russian playwrights before Chekhov (late nineteenth century). The plays are The Infant, Chatsky, The Inspector, and Thunder.

Radice, Betty, and Robert Baldick, editors (translator
These plays from the Yuan dynasty (1280–1369) represemble the earliest type of Chinese drama.

Richards, Stanley, editor. Ten Great Musicals of the
This volume contains the texts and lyrics of some of the best musicals in the history of the American theater including Porgy and Bess, West Side Story, Fiddler on the Roof, 1776, and Company.

These two interrelated one-act plays examine order and chaos in the modern world. The first play takes place in the cell of a lawyer who has murdered his wife; the second in the kitchen of the murderer's hangman.

Bantam 1972.
Based on the career of Jack Johnson, the first black heavyweight boxing champion, the rise and fall of a heavyweight titleholder is chronicled as he runs from country to country.

Shaw, George Bernard. Pygmalion (© 1913). Penguin 1961.
The Greek myth about Pygmalion creating a statue and falling in love with it was the inspiration for Shaw's story of a flower girl. Shaw's opinions on middle-class morality, marriage, and other social issues are a part of the play and the epilogue to the play.

Smith, Michael, editor. The Best of Off Off-Broadway.
Dutton 1969.
Seven of the plays that appeared off-Broadway in the last years of the 1960s show the excitement and scope of the movement which gave new playwrights the opportunity to display their talents.

Speaight, Robert. Shakespeare on the Stage: An Illustrated History of Shakespearian Performance. Little In this beautifully illustrated history, the author begins with Shakespeare's Globe Theatre and traces the popularity of Shakespeare through the ages, showing how the plays were adapted and sometimes altered and how the proscenium arch affected the acting and staging of the plays. Mature variation.

Plays by Edward Albee, Maxwell Anderson, Lillian Hellman, and Tennessee Williams show the depth and sensitivity of many playwrights of the 1950s.

The author has included plays representing a wide range of writers in time, subject matter, and technique to give the reader the best that the genre has to offer.

The editor has selected plays about the black experience in America. Along with the plays (Take a Giant Step, Purlie Victorious, The Toilet, We Righteous Brothers), the editor has included an essay on black drama and its place in American culture. Mature.

This space fantasy, an experimental television play about a young poet who wins a jingle contest and is sent off into the time-space warp as his prize, combines excerpts from other stories and novels of the author.

Vonnegut retells the homecoming of ancient Ulysses, who returns after a long absence to discover that his wife has two suitors.

Walcott, Derek. Dream on Monkey Mountain and Other Plays. FS&G 1970.
These four plays written by the director of the Trinidad Theatre Workshop demonstrate the vitality and scope of theater that is currently being performed in the West Indies.
The dreams of Don Quixote are portrayed in this musical adaptation of Cervantes's novel.

This edition captures a wide variety of themes and shows the power of the one-act play in works by Sherwood Anderson, Maxwell Anderson, William Saroyan, Tennessee Williams, and others.

In Chicken Soup with Barley, Roots, and I'm Talking about Jerusalem, two Jewish families trying to protect and practice their socialist beliefs exemplify problems facing working class people in the twentieth century.

These six plays represent trends in current Latin American drama.

A mother, embittered because her childhood dreams have not been fulfilled, takes out her frustrations on her two daughters.

POETRY

Poetry voicing hope, despair, and pride by many black poets.

This volume is a sampling of poems written in most of India's fourteen language groups. From the majesty of ancient hymns to the vivid imagery of modern poems, the reader experiences the moods and ages of India.
An exploration of the major trends in American poetry during the years 1945-60 and selections from the work of important poets of that period.

An assembly of poems by Africans, beginning with poems from the oral tradition, reflecting the "multicultural, multilingual complexity of the continent."

Poems by young Indian writers working at the Institute of American Indian Arts reflecting the dreams, loves, fears, and lore of the writers.

Brief poems that are direct, approachable, and lyric by a popular black poet. (See also her 1975 collection, Oh Pray My Wings Are Gonna Fit Me Well, Random.)

Poems about modern mythologies and the victors and villains of modern life.

This is a slim, delicately illustrated book of sijo (literally, "melody of the times"), one of the oldest and most popular poetry forms in Korean literature. The poetry is highly reminiscent of haiku with its brief, concentrated form which often depicts the beauty of nature and the passing of time.

As the subtitle indicates, this collection covers four centuries of women poets in England and America from 1552 to 1950.

Berrigan wrote these poems during his term at Dan bury Federal Penitentiary. He was convicted of taking part in the destruction of draft board records, and his poems reflect his concern with problems of our lives today.
Poetry

This anthology of 126 traditional poems and chants from over forty different Indian tribes of both North and South America is arranged by theme (for instance, on beginnings, home, war, death, and dreams) so that readers can compare poems from different tribes.

More than fifty poems touch on Bradbury's boyhood, everyday occurrences, and his thoughts about home, life, and space travel.

Songs and poems from such Indian tribes as the Modoc, Maya, Nahuatl, Pima, Hopi, Tewa, Iroquois, and Tlingit. Some selections contain sexually explicit language.

Some were born in the eighteenth century, some in the twentieth; they come from Ghana and Jamaica, Malawi and the United States. But all of these poets have three things in common: they write in English, they are black, and they celebrate being black.

A mammoth anthology of modern American poetry, from the work of Robert Frost and Carl Sandburg to the poetry of Jim Harrison and Diane Wakoski.

Lyrics of the golden oldies from the gilded age of rock—from Chuck Berry to Pat Boone, from "Splish Splash" to "Little Deuce Coupe"—with photographs that catch the mood of the era.

307
Poems about dogs, cats, horses, and just about any creature found in the barnyard or in the wilds.

This anthology of songs and chants about war, love, birth, work, death, and nature was a pioneering work originally published as The Path on the Rainbow. Most of the translations are by non-Indians, and some of the songs are only interpretations of the originals.

Day discusses Indian poetry and presents over 200 poems, translated more in the spirit than in the exact words of the originals, from about forty different tribes, including the Mayas and Aztecs.

A black woman poet writes about her past and present life.

Perhaps more than any other twentieth-century poet, Frost has captured the imagination of Americans with his evocations of rural life and, more generally, with his probing of ideals as they succeed or fail in life, rather than simply in the mind.

A young black poet seeks her own identity. Some poems clearly and articulately express the anger felt by some blacks towards whites, but Giovanni is too skillful a poet to be discounted as merely a militant.

Giovanni has been called the "Princess of Black Poetry." and a look through these pages should tell you why. She writes with compassion about her grandmother wanting to teach her to bake rolls, on the one hand, and with outrage about children maimed by napalm on the other, with a variety of moods in between.

Poems about the author's family but even more about the world of the ocean.

A history of the development of haiku, a brief, lyric form of Japanese poetry with images almost always drawn from nature, along with many examples of this very popular form of poetry.

Fourteen drug addicts in a poetry class write poems about their problems and their attempts at rehabilitating themselves.

Bittersweet poems about the condition of being a black in a nation that has frequently done evil to nonwhites.

Recognized as one of America's foremost poets, the author brings together those poems which he wanted "to preserve from his six previously published volumes, from the privately printed, limited edition, Dear Lovely Death, and from his previously unpublished works."

Poems about the condition of women today by American women poets as different as June Jordan, Erica Jong, Elizabeth Sargent, Robin Morgan, Carolyn Kizer, and Anne Sexton.

The tragic story of the Donner Party's wagon train to California is told in verse form. The good times along the way and the awful ending of the journey are vividly portrayed.

Fourteen poets of different ethnic backgrounds explore and describe their beliefs and their way of looking at our country.

A collection of the poems of more than one hundred modern British and American poets, including Ted Hughes, Kenneth Koch, Gregory Corso, Denise Levertov, and Erica Jong.

Poems of protest by white, Indian, and black poets.

Richly textured, affirmative poems written since the publication of her collection, Up Country, which was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in 1973. The subjects of the poems range from growing up in the 1930s and early 1940s to being Jewish in Danville, Kentucky, to being both a home gardener and lover.

Over a hundred city kids helped the editor select the poems for this book; what they have chosen shows the variety of city life and city people, the sad as well as the ridiculous.

Whether in the mountains, in the woods, or on the prairie, poets, like all people, have relished the special feeling of open space around them. The poems in this anthology celebrate getting outside to keep in touch with what is going on inside.

The themes of self-awareness, childhood, city life, the surroundings of the country, and love are vividly conveyed through photographs and the well-selected poems which accompany them.

Ninety Eskimo poems and a few myths are included here, with illustrations.

Thirty centuries of many kinds of poetry from many nations make up this anthology.

The major British poets to emerge since World War II are represented in this comprehensive collection, which includes both brief essays describing the various “groups” of poets and short biographical introductions to each of the writers.

Science fiction poetry is not necessarily futuristic or written exclusively by science fiction writers. Includes poems by Brian Aldiss, John Brunner, Robert Conquest, and C. S. Lewis.

A collection of contemporary poems which evoke new and unexpected images of modern life and glimpses of unimagined possibilities. Nicely illustrated.

Although obviously political in nature, Mao’s poems often contain the gentle beauty that is found in Oriental poetry. The poems are expressions of the decades of struggle, the hope for a new China, and the final victory over the Nationalist forces.

More than 200 residents of Spoon River speak from their graves in this collection of brief monologue-poems. They speak frankly of hypocrisy, injustice, hatred, poverty—even their town’s secret sex life.

Poems about women and their place in marriage and the role of marriage in American life.

The 2,000 years of Hebrew poetry in this collection include selections from the sages of the Old Testament, the medieval writers of Moorish Spain, and the poets of modern Israel. In other volumes of the Crowell Poems of the World Series are selections from Africa, France, Germany, India, Ireland, Italy, and Latin America.

A large selection of American poems emphasizing the embodiment of experience rather than the expression of ideas.

A collection of “right-on” poems from black youths who poignantly cry out in today’s language.

An attractively illustrated collection of contemporary poems dealing with personal, cultural, and universal experiences by sixteen outstanding Native American poets, among them N. Scott Momaday, James Welch, Duane Niatum, Roberta Hill, Anita Endrezze Probst, Simon J. Ortiz, Wendy Rose, and other less well known young writers.

The ninety poems in this collection—some old, some recent—are divided into four sections exploring the moods of each of the seasons.
The more than 100 poems in this inexpensive collection are divided into a dozen thematic sections dealing with love, identity, pain, war, and the like. The poems are recent and varied, including rock and folk song lyrics.

Historically, the moon has been regarded as a goddess, a source of lunacy, and a fit object to aim a rocket at. This anthology explores our lunar fascination, from ancient times through the Apollo missions.

Poetry from many ages and places with some short discussions of the poems. The poets include E. E. Cummings, Joni Mitchell, Pete Seeger, Bob Dylan, William Butler Yeats, and the Beatles.

Black poets like Claude McKay, Jean Toomer, Countee Cullen, Gwendolyn Brooks, Imamu Amiri Baraka, June Jordan, Don L. Lee, Ishmael Reed, and Nikki Giovanni write about their hopes, dreams, and fears and about their black brothers and sisters.

The author, a black, was sentenced to twenty years in prison in North Carolina because of his civil rights and antiwar activities. The poems are angry and sensitive cries about the injustices suffered by blacks today.

Rich unflinchingly discloses her vision of women, love, and sex tyrannized by a masculine world, admonishing the victims not to be "ignorant of the fact this way of grief is shared, unnecessary/ and political." Cowinner of the National Book Award for poetry in 1974. Mature.

Published after the poet took her own life, many of these thirty-nine poems are meditations on God and death articulating the fear and fascination each held for Sexton. Mature.

Awarded the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1975, this collection of nearly sixty poems combines Snyder's background in Zen philosophy with his passion to re-discover the past of the North American continent ("Turtle Island") and the roots of contemporary America.

These nine stories are quite unlike other translated Indian tales. Tedlock has translated them in such a way that the original rhythm, pitch, and especially the pauses and silences used by the Zuni storytellers are preserved. The stories can therefore be chanted as they were meant to be.

Poems, both serious and humorous, by the distinguished American novelist and short story writer.

Wakoski's chief subject is herself: betrayed by her lovers, by her art, and even by her face, she writes with both wit and anger about the problems of being a woman and a poet. Mature.

Poems serious and funny by the popular musician and lyricist.

This collection remains a bargain excursion through seven centuries of some of the most significant and treasured poetry written in English.

The modern Russian poet speaks about justice and injustice, prejudice and lies.
SHORT STORIES

Eighteen authors select their favorite stories, which range from the forthright humor of Damon Runyon to Vera and Bill Cleaver's story of Dr. Sickles, Flora Katherine, and Jesse who search the woods for "wild, green gold."

Stories by ten contemporary writers (LeRoi Jones, Edward Dorn, and Jack Kerouac, for example), many dealing with the world of the dispossessed poor. Mature.

Stories by social critics such as James Purdy and Tillie Olsen are among those included in this anthology.

Albert Camus, D. H. Lawrence, and Heinrich Böll are but a few of the European authors included in this large collection.

A collection of the author's short fiction demonstrating his rich irony and lyricism.

The stories range from the ancient to the modern and capture the essence of the Jewish experience.

Breé has brought together some of the outstanding French writers of the short story. Included here are such writers as Honoré de Balzac, Albert Camus, and Félix Fénéon, who wrote the following short story: "Abandoned by Delorce, Cecilia Ward refused to take him back except in marriage. The situation seemed indecent to him so he stabbed her."

Capote, author of the novel In Cold Blood, includes "Jug of Silver" and "Shut a Final Door" in this collection of ten stories.

"Hearts and Hands" by O. Henry, "Two Men Named Collins" by Damon Runyon, "That Strange Mr. Lake" by Marilyn Ferguson, and "The Test" by Phil Aponte are but a few of the stories in this collection.

These stories display Chekhov's mastery of realism and irony and his deep sympathy for the frustrations and difficulties of the people of nineteenth-century Russia.

Clark explores the odd ways by which human beings reveal themselves in a collection spanning her entire career from 1937 to the present. Female characters are the major focus of attention in many of her stories. Mature.

This third book by Coover includes stories that challenge the assumptions of our age. Mature.

James Agee's "A Mother's Tale," a shattering parable of life, death, and the inexorable vise of fate, is one among many contemporary and classic stories by American writers in this collection.

Selections from many of the world's finest short story writers: "Guy de Maupassant, James Joyce, Katherine Mansfield, and others.

Crane's short stories, like his novel The Red Badge of Courage, carefully and convincingly describe characters and settings; some of the selections here are "The Pace of Youth," "The Second Generation," and "The Monster."

Dinesen gives a fictional account of the years she spent managing a coffee plantation in Africa. This volume contains four sketches about life in Kenya, including its people, land, and customs.

Selections in this volume are sometimes hilarious, sometimes tragic.

Flores has chosen stories representative of the last 400 years of the Spanish literary tradition.

John Updike's "The Christian Roommates" and Ralph Ellison's "Did You Ever Dream Lucky?" are examples of the contemporary American short stories in this volume.

A cross section of outstanding American short fiction pieces published in 1974. Readers will find works by authors such as William Saroyan, John Updike, and Maxine Kumin. (See also The Best American Short Stories, 1973, HM.)

Stories written by American authors within the last twenty-five years dominate this collection that speaks of love, innocence, marriage, identity, and war.

Henry, O. (editors Richard Corbin and Ned E. Hoopes). Surprises: 20 Stories By O. Henry. Dell 1966. Perhaps the best known and most popular American short story writer, O. Henry has an unusual ability to put special meaning and excitement into his tales of people whose lives are seemingly dull and drab. Almost all of his stories have a surprise ending.

Great Russian writers such as Leo Tolstoy, Fyodor Dostoevsky, Ivan Turgenev, and Anton Chekhov share in common a concern for human nature and love and pity for all human beings.

Huxley, best known for his novel Brave New World, presents a subtle study of suspected murder in “The Gioconda Smile,” one of twenty-one stories collected here.

All the ingredients of great short stories, such as love, loneliness, adventure, crime, humor, and ghosts, appear in this collection of works by British writers W. Somerset Maugham, Joseph Conrad, Rudyard Kipling, George Moore, and others.

Jones, best known for his war novel From Here to Eternity, focuses upon war and loneliness, courtship and marriage. Mature.

“The Cleveland Wrecking Yard,” “Sea,” “Sea Rider,” and “The Babysitter” are only a few of the stories found in this volume by new writers taking different approaches to life and fiction.

Twenty-seven stories from such countries as Mexico, England, Ireland, and Russia; the volume contains a biographical sketch of each author and a discussion of each story.

Selections from the works of Canadian short story writers.
writers like Thomas Haliburton and Ray Smith, ranging from the early nineteenth century to the present.

Mann's stories are complex and notable for their detail and irony. In the title story, Gustave Aschenbach, a brilliant and admired writer, seeks perfect beauty but finds its opposite in the splendor and decay of Venice. The strange magician Cipolla captivates and, at the same time, humiliates his audience in "Mario and the Magician" until the docile Mario suddenly turns on him. Mature.

Some of Maugham's well-known stories such as "Princess September," "Mr. Know All," "The Pool," and "The Happy Man."

Stories about people who are "lost" and who are often desperately seeking to escape their isolation through love.

Mercier believes that a great short story must "echo in the reader's mind" after he or she has closed the book. The author shows how and why the Irish genius for storytelling developed. Included in this collection are works by Samuel Beckett, James Joyce, and William Butler Yeats.

Miller's title story is about a few late summer days in the life of a five-year-old boy.
O'Connor's stories, such as "A Good Man Is Hard to Find," "Everything That Rises Must Converge," and "Revelation," deal with characters in the country and small towns of the South who are forced by usually violent means to realize the connections between human life and the mysteries of the divine.

The author writes short stories in Gaelic, a Celtic language of Ireland and Scotland, and in English. The pervasive theme in this collection is the relationship between people and nature. Mature.

The writers in this collection represent over 600 years of Italian civilization in stories which reveal "the extremes of spirituality and ribaldry" of a people.

Poe's weirdness and dramatic power are clear in the short stories found in this collection.

Porter includes in this volume many of her well-known stories ranging in time and place from revolutionary Mexico to pre-Nazi Berlin, from rural Texas to bohemian New York.

The twenty short stories in this collection were written around the end of World War II.

Unlike most Indian stories which are folktales taken from ancient oral traditions, these nineteen short stories are contemporary and largely written by young, well-educated Indians, whose writing often bears the scars of bitterness, repression, and the struggle for self-determination, although many of the writers retain some of the old traditions and beliefs.

Saki, the pseudonym of H. H. Munro, displays his wit, his love of practical jokes, his interest in the supernatural, and his ability to satirize human frailty.

Each of the thirty-two stories in this volume concerns itself with some aspect of the West. The characters are brave, likeable, and comic at times.

Several of Schaefer's more popular short novels, such as Shane, First Blood, and The Canyon. Schaefer is a storyteller who not only uses sentiment and tragedy, but also wry humor in almost every story.

A collection of short stories written after World War II.

Singer's stories touch many themes, including "Grandfather and Grandson," which deals with the "generation gap."

A collection of stories ranging from the turmoil of school campuses to the discipline of a Chinese commune.

A universal theme pervading most of these stories and, in fact, much of German writing is the struggle between the spiritually healthy and unhealthy way of life.
The author includes stories under the following subtitles as a way of demonstrating the broadness of her experiences in various sections of this country: "The Innocents Abroad," "The Bostonians and Other Manifestations," and "Cowboys and Indians, and Magic Mountains."

Contemporary stories such as Ralph Ellison's "Game," Hernando Tellez's "Just Lather, That's All," and Charles Einstein's "The Now Deal." Mature.

A variety of writers comment on the humor and pathos of the human condition in America. Among the better known authors included are Edgar Allan Poe, James Thurber, Ambrose Bierce, John Steinbeck, and Hortense Calisher.

Thirteen of John Steinbeck's great stories are brought together in one volume of such classics as "The Red Pony," "The Leader of the People," and "The Vindicator."

Stuart celebrates the South with eighteen of his best short stories depicting his native Kentucky.

This volume includes "Dean of Men," "The Other Times," "The Fancy Woman," and other stories selected by the author.

A hacienda deep in the Mexican bush where a lonely American recreates in his imagination an eerie world of Indian folk legend sets the tone for this volume of Traven stories.
Thirty-six short stories of enduring quality, offering reading from the humor of James Thurber to the irony of Ernest Hemingway.

The story of the great country music singer, from his Tennessee childhood to his adult life as a popular entertainer.

The performer who dominated the early days of television tells the frank story of his life and loves along with stories about the first years of television.

Bix Beiderbecke was one of the great cornetists of the jazz age. A prodigy at seven, an admired musician at twenty-one, and dead at twenty-eight, he was both a romantic figure and a very lonely human being.

Comments on songs and musicians, from the beginning of rock music until the late 60s.

A great popular singer, Cole was the first black star to have a national radio and television show, but he could find no national sponsor for his television show and was driven off the air.

The 1930s, the swing era of jazz, are recounted through the careers of forty of the greatest artists of that period, bandleaders like Claude Hopkins, instrumentalists like Cozy Cole, and singers like Billie Holiday.

From the time he joined Columbia Records in 1965 until he left in 1973, Davis may have been the single most important figure in the changing world of the rock and roll recording business.

The story of the popular black singer and entertainer, including his problems growing up among show business people, his friends, and his personal life. He is occasionally bitter but mostly optimistic about America and its racial problems.

Roller derby is one of the most popular entertainments in America. The fans, the players, the teams, and the travel are touched on by the author.

An examination and criticism of folk music since the 1930s and its connection with political movements. Some artists discussed are Pete Seeger, Woody Guthrie, Burl Ives, Bob Dylan, Joan Baez, and the Weavers.

Stan Kenton was and is one of the most influential men in modern music; this biography covers both his life and the changes he caused in music, particularly with his progressive jazz.

Robert-Houdin was the father of modern magic. His life and his tricks (one even stopped a war) influenced other magicians, especially an even more famous performer, Harry Houdini.

History, anecdotes, and details about radio and TV soap operas, from "The Goldbergs" to "Another World."
Duke Ellington was one of the innovators of modern music. In this book, he talks about jazz musicians he has known, his feelings about music generally, and places he has been during his long career.

Joplin died of a heroin overdose at twenty-seven. She had been one of the great singers of the rock music scene, but she was also a young woman with serious personal problems and little self-respect.

A history of rock 'n' roll music from 1954 to 1969. Musicians, trends, styles, and the writing of music and lyrics are covered.

Lyrics of rock songs by writers Chuck Berry, John Lennon and Paul McCartney, the Doors, Bob Dylan, John Phillips, Janis Ian, Paul Simon, and others.

Mahalia Jackson, the great gospel singer, and those close to her talk to the author about her life, gospel music, black life, religion, and civil rights.

A newspaper columnist joins the touring Alice Cooper band in the winter of 1973 to learn what makes the group work as hard as they do.

Portraits of the major figures in blues and rock 'n' roll, from the music of the Delta to today; Muddy Waters to Charlie Rich.

Autograph collecting is a popular hobby, and the authors tell the beginner how to get started, how to purchase autographs, some problems that await the uninformed collector, and some stories about autographs and autograph collecting.

The history of clothing and the uses of clothing to conceal or reveal. Fads, fancies, styles, trends, and whims are discussed. Many illustrations.

Professional wrestling was once both a popular and a colorful spectacle. Gorgeous George and other outlandish but fascinating wrestlers are described.

Illustrated biographies of Ma Rainey, Bessie Smith, Mahalia Jackson, Billie Holiday, and Aretha Franklin, with some suggested books and records.

Both a history of black people and the music they have written and played. Jones covers the period from slavery to modern times, with many comments about jazz, blues, and swing groups.

Hendrix was a superstar of British rock 'n' roll who also became a major success in the United States. His death and the myths that grew out of his life are described.

A brief history of soap operas leads into a detailed discussion of TV soap operas today with stories about writers, actors, and famous bloopers.

Lee introduces the major heroes of Marvel comic books: the Phantastic Four, Spider-Man, Thor, the Hulk, and Dr. Strange. Many color illustrations.

A collection of articles about comic books—the major heroes, series, and publishers—and their impact on readers and American society. Well illustrated.

The Beatles story from the beginning to the end, with comments about records they made and the influence they had on modern music. The Beatles sometimes do not emerge as heroes in this frank study.

A collection of articles about Bob Dylan, his music, his writing, his concerts, and his thoughts.

Comments on the Beatles' music—the early songs, the Sgt. Pepper album, and all the other records and concerts, that changed the course of American popular music. A good glossary of musical terms will help the beginner in reading this book.

A collection of classic poetry paired by theme with modern rock lyrics. For example, Homer's "The Sirens' Song" is paired with Eric Clapton and Martin Sharp's "Tales of Brave Ulysses," and William Butler Yeats's "The Dawn" is paired with John Lennon and Paul McCartney's "The Fool on the Hill."

The history of the rock opera Jesus Christ Superstar, from the record album to the Broadway hit to the motion picture. Many photographs.

A collection of the lyrics of soul music as recorded or written by Otis Redding, Aretha Franklin, Sonny Charles, and others.

Lyrics of blues songs by writers Leadbelly, Blind Lemon Jefferson, Bessie Smith, Big Bill Broonzy, Muddy Waters, B. B. King, and others.

Brief biographical and historical sketches of more than 1,000 popular artists of rock 'n' roll during the 1950s and early 1960s, with lists of the most popular records of each artist.

A long and fascinating book covering many facets of popular culture: minstrel shows, dime novels, early boys' books, bluegrass, radio, television, films, best-sellers, and much more.

Instructions and patterns for making American folkcraft objects, including a carved cherrywood goose, a pinecone cardinal, and corn-shuck dolls. Elaborately illustrated and directed at the beginner. Bibliography.

A music critic who is devoted to classical music but believes it may have reached a dead end argues that rock may prove to be the important music of our time.

A brief history of record collecting and trends of popular music in the 1960s is followed by a long section on the prominent groups and individuals of the period and their individual records.

When writer William S. Gilbert and composer Arthur
S. Sullivan joined forces, they produced a series of unparalleled comic opera successes, for instance, H.M.S. Pinafore, Pirates of Penzance, and The Mikado.

A history of comic strips, beginning in the year 1896. Many illustrations of both black and white and color strips.

A thorough presentation of information about rock music equipment, brands, prices, recording information, and tips for beginners and experienced musicians.

John Denver, the Beatles, the Rolling Stones, Cat Stevens, and many other popular musicians are interviewed and discussed.

Several writers contribute brief accounts of Bob Dylan's musical tour of the United States in 1974, his first since 1966. A good picture of the rock and roll scene, its music, its fans, its fanatics. For Rolling Stone magazine's lengthy 1976 history of rock, see also The Rolling Stone Illustrated History of Rock & Roll, distributed by Random.

Rooney compares and contrasts the careers and music of two important men in popular music, Bill Monroe, a star in bluegrass and country music, and Muddy Waters, the great man of Chicago blues.

In early 1927 the Burma-Shave Company began putting signs advertising its product along America's highways. As time passed, the signs grew funnier and became a part of almost every American motorist's life until 1963 when the signs began disappearing from the roadways. The entire list of Burma-Shave signs from 1927 to 1963 is included.

A fascinating discussion of blues, ragtime, and jazz during the 1920s and 1930s, with many stories about jazz musicians. Some excellent photographs and a lengthy list of books and records.

Sarlin writes about many contemporary songwriters and performers in rock 'n' roll music. Joni Mitchell, Bob Dylan, and Randy Newman are only three of many covered.

When Thomas Edison invented the phonograph in 1877, he called it "my baby." After many innovations, from cylinder to disc, from 78 rpm to 33 rpm, from monophonic to stereophonic, his baby now brings music to millions.

A history of the popular music scene during the 1950s.

Biographies of the leading figures in country music, from Roy Acuff through Faron Young. Lists of country music records, country music radio stations, and a sample of country songs conclude the book.

A collection of essays covering the effect of the deaths of rock 'n' roll stars—such as Janis Joplin, Jimi Hendrix, and Brian Epstein—on other musicians.

The origin and development of country and western music, its trends, styles, music, and musicians. Johnny Cash, Glen Campbell, and Bobbie Gentry, among others, are profiled.

The serial is apparently an American dramatic invention, and the author gives the history and details of movie, radio, and television serials. Many illustrations.

A history of the circus and many of its animal acts and daredevil performers.

Although he died when he was only forty years old, John Coltrane created a legend through the use of black and Indian music and his great skill with the saxophone.

One of the most popular bandleaders in America had his television show cut out from under him and set out to develop a network of TV stations to show his syndicated musical programs.

A history of the beginnings of popular music—ragtime, jazz, swing, and rock 'n' roll—treating trends, styles, and musicians.

The development and trends in jazz, from the work of Jelly Roll Morton to Duke Ellington and on through the work of John Coltrane.

Articles and ideas about many facets of popular culture by the leading writer in the field in America. (See also The Kandy-Kolored Tangerine-Flake Streamline Baby, PB.)
HUMOR AND SATIRE

Subtitled "A history of the Marx Brothers and a satire on the rest of the world," this account of the famous comedy team covers their career from the early days of vaudeville and the movies and continues with Groucho to the present. Dialogue excerpts from their routines and many photographs. Nonfiction.

A collection of hilarious essays written by one of the funniest men around. Best known as a television and movie comedian, Allen demonstrates in this book not only his original comic perspective but also his genuine writing talent.

A collection of many of Allen's articles about love and death and humanity living in our absurd world.

A satire of campus life in a British university where young faculty members struggle in a system dedicated to turning out "the white-collar proletariat." Fiction.

These short pieces cover a range of subjects, from selecting Christmas trees to the reading habits of the young, with a variety of intentions from sprightly nonsense to sharp satire. Nonfiction.

A critic and humorist offers funny summaries of six plays by Shakespeare, some satiric study questions, and many puns. (See also The Classics Reclassified, McGraw.) Nonfiction.

A lifetime's collection of favorite jokes, anecdotes, and limericks with copious notes on how to tell them and why. The material is divided according to comic device (anticlimax, paradox, tables turned, etc.) and subject matter (ethnic, marriage, bawdy, etc.). Nonfiction.
326 Humor and Satire

The author believes that we can get both amusement and understanding about America and the American Dream from reading popular comic strips. Beginning with comics no longer printed, such as "The Yellow Kid" and "Krazy Kat," Berger moves on to currently published comics such as "Little Orphan Annie," "Dick Tracy," and "Peanuts." Nonfiction.

The life of James Thurber, one of America's most delightful humorists—his admiration for strong people, his bullying of others less strong, and his love of writing. Nonfiction.

A biased record of Nixon's career told through the cartoons and commentary of Pulitzer Prize winner Herbert Block of the Washington Post. Demonstrating the devastating effectiveness of a sustained satiric campaign running many years, over 450 cartoons testify to Block's prophetic vision and artistry.

Besides having to worry about adjusting to a new school in a new environment, twelve-year-old Margaret Simon has to cope with a Christian mother, a Jewish father, and a late-to-blossom figure. Fiction.

Armed with a trunkful of weapons, two gunmen set off to kill the monster living in the ice caves under Miss Hawkline's house. The language is often ribald and candid in this modern fantasy. Mature fiction.

Brautigan mirrors the spiritual environment of his time with a unique style, marked by flashes of comic perception. Funny but seldom satiric, Brautigan's casual chattiness has helped make him one of the "in" writers of the 1970s. Fiction.

A brief tongue-in-cheek tale of a timid knight who is conned into heroic deeds. Readers of medieval romances will enjoy the comic contrasts provided by this story of Gawaine le Coeur-Hardy, dragon-killer. Fiction.

In the tall-tale tradition of Huckleberry Finn, eleven-year-old Addie Pray, a born con artist, exploits the gullible as she and Long Boy journey through the South during the Great Depression. Fiction.

A collection of newspaper columns written by a funny journalist on the post-Watergate scene. Buchwald can see the humor in such universals as TV watching, generational sparring, and observing the American political scene. Nonfiction.

After a lifetime of reading and people-watching, Cerf presents his favorite anecdotes and jokes to counteract depression and provide a laugh for the day. Nonfiction.

Written in 1605, this is the story of impoverished and emaciated Alonzo Quixano, who believes so completely in romance and chivalry that he changes his name to Don Quixote de la Mancha, dons armor, acquires a squire, and sets out to rescue heroines and fight villains in seventeenth-century Spain. Mature fiction.

A humorous glimpse behind the scenes of show business through the eyes of a would-be actress. Chase, a delightful personality who was nearly discovered many times, is able to describe the hazards of the acting profession and still entertain the reader with a light-hearted account of what makes actresses persevere against overwhelming odds. Nonfiction.

Although this collection has the format of a children's book, its 521 nonsense verses appeal to all ages. An unusual anthology since some obvious masters of nonsense are omitted and fresh examples are presented instead.

Herman Mack's boast that he will eat a car, half a pound a day in half-ounce cubes, becomes a public relations spectacle in this satire on America's love of cars. Some readers may object to some of the language.
Fiction.

Dutton 1967.
Fifteen of America's finest contemporary novelists are presented in this anthology of excerpts, selected as illustrations of "black humor." These writers respond to the absurdity of humanity's condition by lashing out in satiric bursts of anger and mirth. Represented are such authors as William Burroughs, Walker Percy, Peter De Vries, John Barth, and James Purdy. Mature fiction.

De Vries, Peter. Into Your Tent I'll Creep. Little 1971.
A young man marries his former high school teacher and agrees to do the housekeeping while she continues her career, but it doesn't work out that way. Fiction.

Dickens satirizes the evils of industrialism by contrasting such characters as the ideal worker, Stephen Blackpool, and the ruggedly individualistic manufacturer, Mr. Bounderby. Utilitarianism and the educational abuses it fostered are ironically depicted in Coketown's Mr. Gradgrind, whose school stifles imagination in its pursuit of the facts. Fiction.

Elliott, Bob, and Ray Goulding. Write If You Get Work:
Bob and Ray were two extremely funny writers and performers on radio. They now appear on TV and the stage and make some very funny commercials. This is a collection of some of their best material, satires on radio announcers, soap operas, mystery shows, and children's shows.

Emrich, Duncan, editor. The Nonsense Book. Four Winds 1970.
An award-winning collection for any reader with a taste for the nonsensical. Includes riddles, rhymes, tongue-twisters, puzzles, and jokes from American folklore.....

Feiffer, Jules, compiler. The Great Comic Book Heroes.
Dial 1965.
Samples from the best-loved comic strips of the 1930s and 1940s—"Superman," "Captain Marvel," "Batman," and "Wonder Woman"—with commentary by satiric

Fox, William Price. Moonshine Light, Moonshine Bright
(C) 1967). Bantam n.d.
Earl Edge and his buddy Coley Simms, fifteen year olds living in Columbia, South Carolina, in the late 1940s, have many comic adventures during the sumer when their heart's desire is getting a car. Fiction.

Ballantine 1974.
This collection of highly entertaining stories owes much of its effectiveness to the author's use of the motifs and tone of native American humor. Many of the best stories are set in the rural South of the 1920s and 1930s with moonshiners, short-order cooks, and loose women springing to life. Fiction.

Friedman, Bruce Jay. A Mother's Kisses (© 1964). PB 1970.
Joseph, a seventeen-year-old Jewish boy from New York City trying to get into college, is assisted at every turn by his flamboyant mother who is so colorfully portrayed that she becomes almost a caricature of the overprotective mother. Fiction.

The author of A Thousand Clowns again focuses on the appeal of a nonconformist lifestyle. Hope for a second chance comes to a disillusioned wife with a new nosejob, an aging Coney Island businessman dreaming of a comeback, and a job-dominated middle-aged designer who breaks out of the rut. Fiction.

A classic social and political satire written in 1729, Gay's musical play is still stageworthy. Although composed as a parody filled with topical references, a modern reader need not recognize the allusions to get pleasure from the action-filled plot about eighteenth-century pickpockets, hussies, and highwaymen.

George, Peter. Dr. Strangelove, or How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love the Bomb (© 1964). Bantam 1972.
A novelization of Stanley Kubrick's film of the same name, this is black comedy about nuclear war between the United States and Russia triggered by a mad American general who has a paranoid fear that Communism and other forces are trying to take over America. Fiction.

Harold Ross began the New Yorker, America's leading magazine of sophisticated humor, in 1925. This history by one of the magazine's writers covers the fifty years of its existence with observations and anecdotes about writers James Thurber, Robert Frost, John O'Hara, and many others. Mature nonfiction.

Readers of Holiday magazine may be acquainted with Glashan's pen and ink work, but most of the cartoon sequences originally appeared in England. The tiny, bearded, and bespectacled cartoon character finds himself in situations familiar to all.

An 1842 novel set in Russia when serfs were registered and counted as "souls" and those who died between registrations were called "dead souls." The rogue Chicchikov, wishing to marry an heiress, acquires legal ownership of some dead souls so that he can fraudulently set himself up as a man of means. Mature fiction.

Peter Partout, woodbox philosopher of Peppermint
Humor and Satire

Corner, Maine, writes letters to the editor that are tall tales at their best. Nonfiction.

Guareschi, Giovanni. The Little World of Don Camillo (© 1951). WSP 1973. Stories about life in the small Italian village which comprises the little world of its priest, Don Camillo. There is warmth and humor in his continual opposition to left-wingers, especially his rival, Mayor Peppone, and in his personal relationship with God. Fiction.

Hasek, Jaroslav. The Good Soldier Schweik (© 1923). NAL 1930. Schweik is an open and simple-minded man forced into the armed forces of his country. His leaders all tell him how wonderful it is to die for a country, but Schweik cannot understand. Fiction.

Hein, Piet. Grooks (© 1966). Doubleday 1969. A "grook" is a short poem with a point accompanied by a simple drawing. These poems are funny and sometimes sad, revealing some truths about all of us. (See also Grooks 2, Grooks 3, and Grooks 4, Doubleday.)

Heller, Joseph. Catch-22 (© 1961). Dell 1973. An American bombardier in World War II seeks a way to avoid the combat missions that his glory-mad commander constantly orders. Whole-black market fortunes are made, lives are lost, and the war is somehow won. A bitterly funny war novel which, through a purposely vague theme and structure and antiheroic main character, satirizes a world Heller sees as absurd. Fiction.

Hersey, John. My Petition for More Space. Knopf 1974. Set in the near future when overpopulation forces strict control of living space, the main character stands in a line waiting his turn at the petition window to demand more space than the normal seven by eleven feet. Fiction.

339

Holbrook has traveled around the country portraying Mark Twain, performing selections from Twain's works. This collection offers brief excerpts of these selections as Holbrook uses them.

Combining their medical clinic with a fish outlet ("The Finestkind Clinic and Fishmarket"), Hawkeye, Trapper John, and two colleagues continue their madcap adventures in Spruce Harbor, Maine. Fiction.

This collection of the best stories about Jesse B. Simple, the black "Everyman," presents rare vignettes of life in Harlem. Fiction.

The play, which centers on a simple social act—one married couple visiting the home of another—satirizes, through its comic dialogue, the inability to communicate.

A satirical guide for anyone who wants to succeed as a Washington bureaucrat. Excellent material for analysis of bureaucratic jargon—its protective vocabulary, formula phrasing, and catchwords for adding weight when substance is light. Nonfiction.

A comic, futuristic novel about the zany campaigns of a Washington think tank, a group of intellectuals working under a Nazi-like leader who are assigned to combat an underground movement trying to disrupt leisure time activities in an America freed from the drudgeries of work. Fiction.

Intellectuals representing different branches of the arts and sciences meet at an international symposium to present their views on the world predicament and to offer approaches for working out plans for survival. Satiric and grimly humorous. Mature fiction.

A simple, satiric tale about a mentally retarded young man raised in utter isolation with only a garden and a TV set to occupy his attention. What happens to him when he is forced into the outside world provides a sharp contrastive picture of innocence and experience. Mature fiction.

Autobiographical reminiscences of a popular comedian from some of his folksy comic routines on television that contrast the present with the good old days. Nonfiction.

Hubert Rollins is no athlete, but he is a mathematical wizard. When the coach of the Randolph Institute of Technology baseball team is fired after losing fifty-six straight games, computer expert Rollins applies for the coaching job with some mathematical angles to turn a losing squad into a winner. (See also Double Play, Westminster.) Fiction.

Poems about people and things that writers as different as Thomas Hardy, E. B. White, Jonathan Swift, and Ogden Nash have thought funny.

In this satiric whodunit, a wealthy Philadelphian is assigned by his conservative family to murder his own son, a militant intellectual dodging the draft in Canada. Language may offend some readers. Fiction.

Gunner Milligan's humorous account of barracks life in the British Army in the early days of World War II. Some language may offend some readers. Fiction.

"The Goon Show" was for years one of the most popular and wacky radio comedy shows in England. The three stars were Spike Milligan, Harry Secombe, and Peter Sellers. Contains nine scripts. Nonfiction.

Centering on a group of offbeat but attractive Londoners, the fast-moving plot abounds in humorous episodes in which tangled relationships result in unforeseen complications. Fiction.

A posthumous collection of seventy-seven short pieces which have never appeared before in book form. Although lacking in a basic theme, these comic verses reflect the contemporary scene.

Joe Moudragón taps an irrigation canal to irrigate his meager and parched land. Joe becomes a symbol to other downtrodden farmers in their battle with Anglo water barons. Some language may offend some readers. Mature fiction.

A revolt of farmyard animals leads to the fall of the human owners. This satirical fable, written as an allegory of the Russian Revolution, is really about the nature of power. Fiction.

Parker was at the center of the New York City literary scene during the 1920s and 1930s. Her sharp wit and pointedly feminine viewpoint make this collection of stories, articles, poems, and book reviews captivating reading.
Humor and Satire

Omar Ben Sufi, an aristocratic Persian cat of the purest blood, is lured from his "little $80,000 cottage" by a tragic muse. This is the amusing, tongue-in-cheek tale of the night's adventures and Omar's brief taste of the dangers and joys he has missed during his sheltered life. Fiction.

A psychiatrist with a world-saving invention, a bevy of women in love with him, and a burning ambition for the Nobel Prize struggles through Bantu riots and hospital shenanigans set in the near future. Fiction.

A collection of twenty-two pieces of humor by one of the great contemporary masters of satire and sophisticated wit.

A comprehensive history of writers who have used cartoon and caricature to express "outrage against injustice and tyranny, contempt for stupidity, or grief over tragedy." Mature nonfiction.

A political satire whose targets are unmistakable, with such main characters as President Trick E. Dixon, Vice President What's-his-Name, Attorney General Malicious, Ex-President Lyin' B. Johnson, and Jacqueline Charisma Colossus. Mature fiction.

A collection of 700 Snoopy cartoon strips with Snoopy playing his many roles—World-Famous Author, Flying Ace, and Joe Cool being just a few.

Humorous examples of outlandish lies, riddles, conundrums, puns, numskull tales, "hate" and "sick" jokes, and shaggy dog stories. This illustrated collection includes favorites about Little Audrey, Little Willie, and...
Humor and Satire

the Little Moron as well as elephant, knock-knock, and Confucius-say jokes. Nonfiction.

Two hicks go to New York City to play pro basketball. Not used to city-slicker ways, the brothers cause continuous havoc. Fiction.

A brilliant satire of European society and culture written in 1726. Lemuel Gulliver, seaman, recounts his experiences with the tiny Lilliputians, the giant Brobdingnagians, the Laputan scientists, and the Houyhnhms. Fiction.

The best from the work of one of America's greatest humorists. Includes short stories, fables, and cartoons.

Humorist James Thurber describes the wild and sometimes wacky world of the New Yorker magazine. Harold Ross was the eccentric but brilliant founder and editor of the magazine. Nonfiction.

A series of "Doonesbury" cartoon collections that reflect the contemporary world through the adventures of its college-age comic characters, including Michael Doonesbury, a Sunday liberal; Mark Slackmeyer, a militant always at odds with his father; B. D., a football player with Vietnam experience; and Phred, his Vietcong friend. Satiric views of Washington politics, war, women's liberation, and other current issues.

Huck Finn, a teenage nonconformist, escapes with a runaway slave down the Mississippi River from a civilized life he cannot adjust to. By letting the reader see America and a cross section of its people through Huck's eyes, Twain creates a masterpiece of comic satire. Fiction.
A collection of some of Twain's humor, from the light-heartedness of "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County" to the bitterness of "The Man That Corrupted Hadleyburg" and "The Mysterious Stranger." Fiction.

Subtitled "Mark Twain in Protest," this collection of little-known miscellaneous pieces reveals the master of humor as a pessimistic critic of society appalled by the same evils that abound today—militarism, racism, and greed. Nonfiction.

On the same day in 1830, two boys are born, one the son of a prosperous landowner, the other the son of his mulatto slave girl. To help advance her child, the slave arranges to substitute her child for the other boy. Then the trouble starts. Fiction.

A collection of humorous materials—wit, whimsy, and satire—gathered from a survey of 2,000 years of writings in half a dozen languages.

Written in 1759 as a satire of the philosophy of optimism, Candide is the tale of an innocent's adventures through what his tutor calls "the best of possible worlds." Fiction.

A self-satirizing novel about "two lonesome, skinny, fairly old white men on a planet which [is] dying fast," according to the narrator, Kilgore Trout, a science fiction writer and Pontiac dealer who is going insane. Fiction.

Eliot Rosewater, super-rich, super-sensitive lover of all humankind, is considered insane because of his offbeat views, humble lifestyle, and servile dedication to the world's derelicts. But Rosewater finds solace in alcohol and his hobby of fire-fighting. (See also Cat's Cradle, Dell.) Fiction.

A collection of some of Vonnegut's shorter works. The writer presents the logic of black comedy in twenty-five tales. Fiction.

A macabre novel satirizing California upper middle-class society, especially its burial customs. Dennis Barlow, employed in a Hollywood pet cemetery, falls in love with Aimee Thanatogenos, a mortuary cosmetician, but gets competition from Mr. Joyboy, an embalmer at the deluxe funereal compound. Fiction.

A selection of stories and sketches about school by America's best-known writers of humor. Such authors as Bel Kaufman, Max Shulman, and Robert Benchley are represented. Fiction.

The discovery of Tono-Bungay, a patent medicine, brings fortune and adventures in London to the scientist who discovered it. Fiction.

To help his widowed mother forestall a mortgage foreclosure, young Lem Pitkin sets out for New York to seek his fortune. Before his whirlwind adventures are over, he has unselfishly given of himself—a piece at a time. Fiction.

A satirical novel about Hollywood in the 1930s. Artist Todd Hackett sees his hopes dashed, like those of his grotesque acquaintances—a would-be actress, a dying vaudevillian, a down-and-out cowboy, a dwarf, and a good-hearted bookkeeper. Fiction.
A satirical farce about a small country whose declaration of war against the United States is not taken seriously until, through a series of ludicrous accidents, it achieves a position of global bargaining power. Fiction.

Drawings and poems about the opposites to all kinds of words; for instance, a poem about the opposite of fox or of prince or of July.

Straight-to-the-mark cartoon humor. Funny one-pagers about Ziggy, an antihero we can all identify with.

Two writers specializing in humor have selected what they consider to be thirty of the best pieces of humor by writers of the twentieth century. Included are gems from James Thurber, Clarence Day, Jean Kerr, Stephen Leacock, Robert Benchley, and others. Nonfiction.

Popular comic Henny Youngman presents the best of his short, short jokes. Nonfiction.

MASS MEDIA

A. Seeing Films: Genres and Topics

A comprehensive critical history of nonfiction films with an emphasis on those produced in Great Britain and the United States.

Bogle establishes various stereotypes of blacks found in the movies, tracing them from the early days through the 1970s. Individual films are treated in depth to show the roles blacks performed and how the stereotypes changed historically.

The western film began in 1903 with The Great Train Robbery. The authors discuss the history, styles, actors, and changes in western films with many still photographs.

This book is devoted to the musicals produced by Arthur Freed during his thirty years at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

French's analysis includes topics such as politics and the western, heroes and villains, Indians and blacks, violence, and the "post-westerns."

Among the topics treated in this book are biographical gangster films, detective films, and films from the 1930s to the 1970s. Recent films like Bonnie and Clyde and The Godfather are compared with earlier films.

Major films in the genre, dating from the 1900s to the late 1960s, are emphasized in the discussions; minor films are also mentioned and related to the central topics. A useful index lists directors, production companies, and alternate titles for over 500 films.

Haskell maintains that movies have reinforced the idea of women's inferiority, and she shows the forms that sexual stereotypes have taken. Discussing movies chronologically and topically, the author shows how women have been reduced from one type of sexism, that is, as objects of veneration, to a more recent one. where they are presented as objects of humiliation and subjugation.

A readable and concise history that treats war films chronologically. Surveys films from The Birth of a Nation to Dr. Strangelove and *M*A*S*H.

Among the genres discussed are gangster films, westerns, caper films, horror and science fiction, musicals, and comedies. Two chapters are devoted to genre directors Don Siegel and John Ford.

Kitses begins with a discussion of the dominant themes and images of the American West. The emphasis of the book is on three major directors in the genre: Anthony Mann, Budd Boetticher, and Sam Peckinpah.

A history of the silent serials, which were a popular offering of the American film industry from 1914 to 1930. Lahue discusses the major stars, films, changes in types of films, and audience response to the serials.

A detailed history of Mack Sennett's Keystone comedies. The authors discuss specific films and the stars of these famous comedies. (See also Lahue's World of Laughter: The Motion Picture Comedy Short, 1910-1930, U of Okla Pr.)

This book contains the scenario of the film, a listing of the cast and music, and seventy illustrations. The text evokes the film's depiction of being a teenager in the early 1960s.

In this work the reader follows the step-by-step process of what is involved when an original story, "A Walk in the Spring Rain," is made into a screenplay and then into a motion picture.

An informal history of the western from The Great Train Robbery (1903) to Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid (1969). The book includes a discussion of major stars; classic westerns such as The Virginian, Stagecoach, and High Noon; and the impact of technical developments.

This book begins with a discussion of the origin of horror films in France and their development in Germany by Wegener, Weine, and others. The rest of the book provides a chronological overview of horror films, concluding with Rosemary's Baby and The Planet of the Apes (1968).

This brief history of the sound era in films describes the development of sound and the contributions of major sound pioneers such as Case, Lubitsch, and Disney.

Drawings are used to illustrate how "pictures began to move." Movie stills from early films are included.

Analysis and criticism of the representation of Africa in films and examples of the myth of Africa in popular literature and films.

A collection of essays which explore the West as depicted in literature and in films. The last section deals with the trends in westerns since 1950 and the cowboy antihero.
Topics include a discussion of responses to Birth of a Nation; the stereotyping of blacks in films from 1929–1955; a "new" image as represented by the first black movie star, Sidney Poitier; and a consideration of trends for the future, as seen in such films as Shaft and Super Fly.

Beginning with silent films, Moss surveys developments in horror movies.

Besides a brief section on the invention of the cinema, chapters are devoted to one-reelers, feature films, silents of the war years, and a lengthy discussion of the cinema between 1919–1929.

Topics include direct cinema, television journalism, reenactments, specials, and sponsored films. Among those interviewed are Allan King, Frederick Wiseman, Allen Funt, and Norman McLaren.

An entertaining look at the "screwball comedies" of the 1930s and 1940s. Sennett's analysis of the types of stories and characters which typified these films includes the "Cinderella syndrome," "poor little rich girls (and boys)," and "boss-ladies and other liberated types."

B. Seeing Films: Focus on Directors

Each of the eleven essays surveys the contributions and style of a particular director. Beginning with the career of Edwin S. Porter, the book summarizes the work of Griffith, Sennett, DeMille, Flaherty, Lubitsch, Capra, Ford, Disney, Hitchcock, and Kubrick.

351
This anthology examines the man who directed such films as It Happened One Night, Lost Horizon, and Mr. Smith Goes to Washington.

Beginning with an introduction to film criticism, Harcourt closely examines the work of Eisenstein, Renoir, Buñuel, Bergman, Fellini, and Godard.

The authors interviewed fifteen Hollywood directors, covering the Hollywood scene from the beginning of talking pictures until modern times.

An intensive analysis of the work of the man who directed Dr. Strangelove, 2001: A Space Odyssey, and A Clockwork Orange.

The father of Liza Minnelli, former husband of Judy Garland, and one of the most important directors at MGM, Minnelli shares his life and his experiences with actors and producers from 1940 to the present.

This succinct, chronological treatment of Hitchcock's work covers the silent films through Topaz.

Kurosawa is a Japanese film director who has made an international reputation for himself with the films Rashomon, Ikiru, The Seven Samurai, and others.
Samuels interviews eleven major directors, including Truffaut, Fellini, Bergman, Renoir, and Hitchcock.

Sarris groups 200 American directors into eleven categories and briefly discusses the work of each director. (See also Interviews with Film Directors, Avon.)

Walsh has been a Hollywood director from the time of the talkies, working with actors as different as John Wayne, Mae West, Clark Gable, and Jimmy Cagney.

C. Seeing Films: History and Criticism
The book includes "The Sentinel" by Arthur C. Clarke, the short story which was the basis for the film; articles from various magazines on the making of 2001; portions of the script which were eliminated; a number of interviews with Kubrick; audience response to the film; and reviews.

This difficult, informative book surveys how realism has been presented in movies in the last eighty years. Three major traditions are discussed: directors who saw films as a direct link with reality, those who saw films as imitating life, and those concerned with "inner reality"—the world of dreams and illusions.

A biography of film star Humphrey Bogart that pictures him as both human and admirable.

Collected film essays by the director of Paper Moon, The Last Picture Show, and Daisy Miller. Includes Bogdanovich's impressions of actors, directors, movies, and Hollywood.

Alphabetized entries of many actors, directors, and producers listing their work and an alphabetized list of films with information about dates and stars and production people. A basic reference tool for film enthusiasts.

Corliss examines 100 Hollywood movies in terms of screenwriters' contributions. The work of thirty-six writers is discussed.

This book contains reviews of over 1,500 films shown on television.

This well-illustrated film history provides an introduction to and commentary on major developments in the movies.

Nostalgia, social history, and film criticism are included in this study of comic movie trends, from slapstick to recent comedy.

Garland was both a film star from her youth and a very troubled woman who died long after she had become a legend.

Judy Garland's life story taken from her personal papers and letters and interviews with those closest to the popular and tragic Hollywood star.

Gish was one of America's first movie stars. She worked with the great film director D. W. Griffith and knew almost all the major figures in the early days of American filmmaking.

This is a collection of 150 movie reviews by one of America's most well known film critics. The reviews, written for the New Yorker between 1969 and 1972, provide the opportunity to see, in Kael's words, "the interaction of movies and our national life during a frantic time." (See also Going Steady, Bantam; Kiss Kiss Bang Bang, Bantam; I Lost It at the Movies, Bantam; and Reeling, Little.

In seven chapters, Kardish provides a compact yet detailed history of the movies, ranging from the early Kinetoscope to today's experimental films.

This collection of film criticism and articles on films written between 1958 and 1965 is arranged in sections showing how external pressures of culture, acting techniques, and attitudes of various countries influence movie productions.

This history of the movies traces the cinema's growth from 1895. Includes the author's annotated list of the hundred best books on films.

The last years of author F. Scott Fitzgerald's life, which he spent trying to earn a living writing for the movies, are the focus of this book. Latham discusses Fitzgerald's screenplays and portrays a writer in despair. For a 1976 treatment of Fitzgerald's years in Hollywood—and those of four other distinguished writers—see Tom Dardis, Some Time in the Sun, Scribner.

Individual chapters are devoted to major comedians such as Laurel and Hardy, Wheeler and Woolsey, the Marx Brothers, the Three Stooges, and Abbott and Costello. Each chapter includes a brief biography of the performers, critiques of their films, and plot summaries.

Throughout the book, Manvell is concerned with relating Chaplin’s life and work to broader social and political issues.

A collection of film critics’ essays on their favorite movies. Among the critics included are Dwight Macdonald, Peter Bogdanovich, Jay Cocks, John Simon, Judith Crist, Molly Haskell, and Richard Schickel.

Brief analyses and many photographs comprise this book that focuses on Chaplin’s films made between 1914 and 1918.

A study of the comedies of Buster Keaton. Films are described, analyzed, and related to the circumstances in which they were made.

Part of a series of brief screen biographies of major Hollywood performers. Each volume is devoted to a star and includes a filmography of the performer’s work.

Shales, Tom. The American Film Heritage: Impressions from the American Film Institute Archives. Acropolis 1972.
This anthology of “impressions,” written and visual, is a good resource book. Not intended as a film history, the discussions and photographs dramatically convey the development of the movies.

A collection of essays by one of America’s most caustic and controversial film critics.

Garfield, a Hollywood film star of the 1940s, was born on New York City's lower East Side. A tough kid living in a tough city slum, Garfield became interested in acting and succeeded as one of the first movie antiheroes.

Organized into seven periods, one hundred representative westerns made between 1903–1972 are discussed in terms of cast, production work, and financing.

Pickford’s career began in 1909 and ended in 1932 when she retired. This book provides many stories about stars, directors, and the movie business.

The author believes that the movies of the 1940s and 1950s reveal what America believed in and what it may believe in yet. He discusses such films as Singin’ in the Rain, Best Years of Our Lives, Citizen Kane, Gone with the Wind, and The Ten Commandments.

The life of John Wayne: his football days at the University of Southern California, his early cowboy movies, his first starring role in a major film, Stagecoach, and his many western films since then. The book covers Wayne’s politics, marriages, and his relations with and feelings about Hollywood directors and friends.

D. Seeing Films: Film Study

Bluestone, George. Novels into Film. U of Cal Pr 1957.

The introductory essay, “The Limits of the Novel and the Limits of the Film,” presents a thorough discussion of the differences and similarities between the two forms. The remainder of the book analyzes six films based on novels: The Informer, Wuthering Heights, and The Red Badge of Courage.

The life of John Wayne: his football days at the University of Southern California, his early cowboy movies, his first starring role in a major film, Stagecoach, and his many western films since then. The book covers Wayne’s politics, marriages, and his relations with and feelings about Hollywood directors and friends.

D. Seeing Films: Film Study

Bluestone, George. Novels into Film. U of Cal Pr 1957.

The introductory essay, “The Limits of the Novel and the Limits of the Film,” presents a thorough discussion of the differences and similarities between the two forms. The remainder of the book analyzes six films based on novels: The Informer, Wuthering Heights, and The Red Badge of Courage.

The life of John Wayne: his football days at the University of Southern California, his early cowboy movies, his first starring role in a major film, Stagecoach, and his many western films since then. The book covers Wayne’s politics, marriages, and his relations with and feelings about Hollywood directors and friends.

D. Seeing Films: Film Study

Bluestone, George. Novels into Film. U of Cal Pr 1957.

The introductory essay, “The Limits of the Novel and the Limits of the Film,” presents a thorough discussion of the differences and similarities between the two forms. The remainder of the book analyzes six films based on novels: The Informer, Wuthering Heights, and The Red Badge of Courage.

The life of John Wayne: his football days at the University of Southern California, his early cowboy movies, his first starring role in a major film, Stagecoach, and his many western films since then. The book covers Wayne’s politics, marriages, and his relations with and feelings about Hollywood directors and friends.
Seeing Films: Film Study

Heights, Pride and Prejudice, The Grapes of Wrath, The Ox-Bow Incident, and Madame Bovary.

Gottesman, Ronald, and Harry Geduld, editors. Guidebook to Film. HR&W 1972.
This book contains annotations of books and periodicals and a list of theses and dissertations about films; guides to museums, archives, and film schools; sources for equipment and supplies; distributors of films; film organizations, festivals, and contests; types of movie awards; and a glossary of film terminology.

The chronological format of the essays enables the reader to see how attitudes toward film have changed and how critics at different stages of film development reacted to the medium.

Thirty-six directors present brief statements on filmmaking. Other sections deal with "The Plastic Elements" (image, movement, time and space, color, and sound) and "The Plastic Structure" (composition and form).

An introduction to film that focuses on the relationship between narrative film and literature. Topics such as language, point of view, structure, and sound are discussed.

Kuhns focuses on two aspects of films in America: "the sophistication and broadening of the movies as an art form, and the complex interrelationships between a period and the movies of that period."

A range of topics, including visual language, filmic drama, the documentary, and film criticism, among others, makes up this introduction to film.
Perkins, V. F. Film as Film. Penguin 1972.
Individual chapters are devoted to early films and criticism; the relationship between technology and filmmaking; the concepts of form, imagery, empathy; and the ways in which films are a "collective enterprise."

Biographical information and critical evaluations are given for over 1,000 filmmakers from sixty countries.

Approximately 1,300 films from fifty countries, including America, are discussed.

Examines the relationship between film aesthetics and such topics as space, time, sound, and "reality."

E. Making Films

This brief volume provides an introduction to making animated films. Technical points are clearly explained, and each step in producing the animation is illustrated.

After a brief definition of special effects, Brosnan provides topical and chronological discussions of how "mechanical effects," such as car crashes or explosions, and "photographic effects," such as rear projection or optical printers, are used to create illusions in the movies.

The book's three sections concern plot and characters; camera shots and special effects; and elements that enhance a script, such as tempo, props, sound, music, and format.
Among the topics included are the camera, the script, and the techniques of shooting. Editing, sound, and animation are also discussed.

Kael discusses Welles's movie Citizen Kane as well as the complete shooting script, including major frames from the film. There is also a section on the "cutting continuity"—the record of how the movie was edited.

A comprehensive guide to filmmaking that discusses cameras, lenses, composition, lighting, sound, shooting scripts, editing, and special effects, among other things. Photographs and drawings are used to provide examples of the equipment and topics discussed.

This book ranges from the career of the film's producer, David O. Selznick, to how the original novel was written; and from the casting of the stars to technical details and production costs. Particularly interesting is the description of how the burning of Atlanta was achieved on the screen.

Every aspect of filmmaking, ranging from basic screen techniques to the commercial aspects, is included here.

Discussions of the filmmaker's perspective, film structure and craft, planning, production, and editing.

The authors use the comic book panel format to illustrate the topics discussed.

Major sections focus on types of films, cameras, ex-
Television and Radio

In a collection of twelve interviews, amateur filmmakers tell how they create animated films and special effects.

This comprehensive handbook contains step-by-step directions for making animation without film, handmade films, puppet-doll animation, object animation, cut-out animation, kinestasis, pixilation, and motion distortion.

F. Television and Radio

The book treats such topics as how videotape systems work, the basic techniques of editing and production, and problems of street shooting and interviewing.

The life story of the television personality and talk-show host, his growing up in Nebraska, his beginnings in show business, his show and his guests, and many comments on television and its values and problems.

Epstein examines economic, political, and organizational factors that shape television news. Besides looking at how news is gathered, organized, and presented, Epstein suggests ways television could improve its handling of news reporting.

Friendly, Fred W. Due to Circumstances beyond Our Control. VinRandom 1967.
A former president of the Columbia Broadcasting System combines personal memoirs with a critique of the television industry.
The most popular talk-show in television history is the "Tonight Show." The author gives an anecdote-filled history of the show and its four hosts: Jerry Lester, Steve Allen, Jack Paar, and Johnny Carson.

Gerrold describes how he wrote and sold an episode for "Star Trek." He traces the episode's development through a rough outline to final revised draft.

The development of the TV show, its writers, stars, and technicians, and the fans' reactions. The book includes a listing of each episode's writers and actors.

From the discovery of the wireless by the Italian scientist Guglielmo Marconi, radio has undergone many changes, from a toy and a scientific curiosity to a means of world communication for news, entertainment, and culture.

The growth, organization, and impact of television studio and control equipment, producing, writing, directing, and staging.

The authors examine specific threats to media in the 1970s. Topics include problems of censorship, media bias, and professional ethics in both print and electronic media. Case histories and legal decisions provide concise, clear examples of major issues.

A former member of the Federal Communications Commission discusses the impact of television and how reforms can be made. The first chapters deal with television's influence, the problems of corporate control and censorship, and the growth of communications technology such as cable television. After discussing the problems and implications, Johnson turns to how Congress and the FCC might create changes.

Koch recounts the famous radio show of October 30, 1938, when Orson Welles's Mercury Theatre performed Invasion from Mars. Many listeners did not realize the "invasion" was a radio drama.

A nostalgic look at radio from the late 1930s to the early 1950s, this book contains photos of the original stars, excerpts from scripts, cast listing, and advertisements.

Television's early years are the subject of this pictorial essay. Lackmann briefly discusses major shows produced between 1947 and 1955.

An examination of modern television, its development, quality, news programs, comedies, advertising.

Murrow was a distinguished American radio and TV news reporter assigned to London during World War II. This collection of his broadcasts covers virtually all the big stories he reported on in his career. Mature.

Television is, the author argues, our most popular art form, and he comments on westerns, mysteries, soap operas, sports shows, adventure shows, and situation comedies.

One of the most popular daytime comedies on radio during the 1940s was "Vic and Sade." Ray Bradbury suggests in his foreword why the show was so popular with so many people, including young people. The remainder of the book consists of thirty scripts.

A pictorial survey from 1947 to 1972, this book provides brief essays on changing styles, programs, and fad in television.

Skornia explores problems of handling news, including censorship and legal problems. Three case histories examine news problems in depth.

A comprehensive, often technical, discussion of how television shows are created. Among the topics are program formats, camera concepts, pictorial composition, direction, and production.

Practical advice from a television writer and producer on how to write a television play and outline, working with actors, and selling the script.

This history will appeal to fans of "Star Trek" as well as to those interested in how a television show is conceived and produced. Written with the cooperation of Gene Roddenberry, the program's producer, the text includes memos, letters, production notes, and excerpts from scripts.

G. Other Mass Media
TV producers—their relationship with writers, directors, and actors; their role in terms of the network and of the viewing audience; their concerns in selecting shows; and how their values shape the program’s contents.

Cirino explores the implications for society when the communications system can be used by special interest groups. He discusses how media have manipulated issues such as hunger in America, auto safety, effects of smoking, pollution, and overpopulation, among others.

Through 150 case studies of decision making in media, Cirino presents issues such as objectivity in media, censorship, and the influence of advertisers.

A collage with text describing how we dehumanize ourselves and destroy our language through advertising and mass media.

McLuhan believes that the medium is the message: we need to study both what people send as a message and the means or media used. He comments on films, comics, ads, games, phonograph records, TV, and many other media. An influential and sometimes difficult book by an often provocative thinker. (See also War and Peace in the Global Village; Bantam.) Mature.

A mixed-media presentation of how electronic technology is changing people’s lives. A good introduction to McLuhan’s theories.

A journalist describes how news is gathered, written, and edited; how internal censorship and external pressures often control the news; and how the media may influence voting, life styles, and social change. Mature.
Other Mass Media

Stein explores the implications of how the media increasingly shape people's view of reality. He discusses how media power is affecting various aspects of American journalism, such as the underground press, New Journalism, large newspapers, and magazines.

An advertising man describes how ads are made, why they work, and how one can avoid being misled by advertisements.

Tebbel traces the developments in American magazines from 1741 to the late 1960s.

An overview of the role of newspapers in American society from colonial times to the present. Among the topics discussed are censorship, propaganda, tabloids, development of journalism as a business, changes in newspaper style and design, and the role of news services and syndicates. For the history of a single major newspaper, the New York Times, see Gay Talese, The Kingdom and the Power, Bantam.

The book is divided into three main sections: "The Workings" provides an introduction to the processes of media; "The Mass Message" focuses on the effects of media; and "The Personal Message" examines communication through media such as film, photography, and popular music.

An overview of newspapers, radio, television, magazines, comics, popular songs, and "underground" media. Topics range from brief histories of the various media to analyses of specific advertising techniques.
SPORTS

Acton describes the games and players of the Pottstown (Pennsylvania) Firebirds in their final season of minor league football. Though the season culminates in a championship, the book is not about success or glory but about people who dream of the big time and who will never get there. Nonfiction.

Ashe, Arthur (with Frank Deford). Arthur Ashe; Portrait in Motion. HM 1975.
Ashe, the 1975 Wimbledon champion, covers one year of his life and tennis playing. He explains the world of professional tennis, the players, matches, and travel, his experiences in South Africa, and what it means to be a black man playing a predominantly white professional sport. For the 1976 biography of Bill Tilden, an earlier tennis great, see Frank Deford, Big Bill Tilden: The Triumphs and the Tragedy, S&S. Nonfiction.

The biography of Henry Aaron, baseball superstar who broke Babe Ruth's lifetime home run record. Nonfiction.

Greatness in golfing does not come from winning one tournament but from winning consistently on the tour. The author covers major events and golfers from the 1890s, when golf was a sport of the upper class, to the present, with golf now being played by millions. Nonfiction.

The complete baseball reference book—records of individual players and teams, the baseball Hall of Fame, batting and pitching leaders, world champion teams, and all-star games. (See also A Baseball Century: The First 100 Years of the National League, Macmillan.) Nonfiction.

A history of hockey in the United States and Canada with details and stories about the players, teams, and controversies. Nonfiction.

Bell, Marty. The Legend of Dr. J. Coward 1975.

Julius Erving, Dr. J to those who know pro basketball, has been called the greatest basketball player of our time. His decision to enter the American Basketball Association when it was considered second-rate by the sports establishment is only part of his story. Nonfiction.

The author traces the history of thoroughbreds and thoroughbred horse racing from the time when it was the sport of royalty to the present day. Included are stories about such famous horses as Man o’ War, Citation, and Secretariat. Nonfiction.

Blount spent the 1973 football season observing the Pittsburgh Steelers, a team apparently destined for the Super Bowl but for that year denied the achievement. The accounts of games and players are often frank and rowdy. Nonfiction.

Bradley, a forward for the New York Knicks, presents a succinct but informative look inside pro basketball. A skilled and intelligent writer, he gives more than a player’s view of the game in addressing its issues and problems.

Hayes is the head football coach at Ohio State University, where he has been both successful and highly controversial. Episodes involving his charm and success—and toughness and nastiness—illustrate his complexity. (See also Robert Vare, Buckeye, Harper Mag Pr.) Nonfiction.

Paul "Bear" Bryant has been a most successful coach of football at the University of Alabama for twenty-eight years. Maybe more important than his winning record has been his reputation as a genuinely decent human being who doesn't subordinate character to football skills. Nonfiction.

Chadwick lost the sight in his right eye in a hockey game, but he came back to play again and later became a referee in the National Hockey League. Nonfiction.

Chavoor, who coached Mark Spitz to seven Olympic gold medals, tells how great swimmers are trained and the problems and prejudices that many swimmers encounter. Nonfiction.

Through interviews with players of the early days of pro football, the author creates a history of the conditions, plays, and games that changed the sport from a nearly ignored game to the most popular spectator sport in America today. Nonfiction.

Touch Conover is kicked off his college football team for fighting and feels lucky to get a spot on the Titans, a semiprofessional minor league team. He finds that getting from the Titans to a real pro team is a long, tough road. (See also Playoff, Bantam.) Fiction.

A delinquent sent to St. Mary's Industrial School for Boys in Baltimore when he was very young, Babe Ruth grew up to become the greatest baseball player of his time and a national hero. He was also the subject of many heroic stories, many of them untrue.
The author tries to separate the truth about Babe Ruth from the myths. Nonfiction.

Davis, Mac. Sports Shorts (© 1959). Bantam 1969. Short pieces, some of them no more than a paragraph or two, about strange or exciting moments in sports. (See also Baseball's Unforgettables, Bantam.) Nonfiction.

DeLillo, Don. End Zone (© 1972). PB 1973. The football team at small Logos College badly needs a fast backfield man. Taft Robinson seems to be the answer until he becomes fascinated by mysticism. The narrator, Gary Harkness, is even a less typical jock. Mature fiction.

Dryden, Ken (with Mark Mulvoy). Face-Off at the Summit. Little 1973. The authors recount the tension, excitement, politics, and controversies surrounding the 1972 hockey series between the Canadian all-stars and a team from the Soviet Union. Nonfiction.

Eskenazi, Gerald. The Derek Sanderson Nobody Knows. Follet 1973. Twenty-six-year-old hockey star Derek Sanderson wound up with one of the largest contracts in sports history—$2.6 million. Sanderson is a flashy hockey player admired by many other players. Nonfiction.

Flood, Curt (with Richard Carter). The Way It Is. PB 1972. A former star outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals tells about his life and his decision to challenge the "reserve clause" which allowed baseball team owners to determine what team a player must play for. Nonfiction.

Fox, Larry. The O. J. Simpson Story: Born to Run. Dodd 1974. From a ghetto in San Francisco to the Buffalo Bills, O. J. Simpson has always been a runner. This biography includes the football records O. J. set at the University of Southern California and later with the Buffalo Bills. Nonfiction.

Gilmar, Kay Iselin. Inside the Pressure Cooker: A Season in the Life of the New York Jets. Berkley Pub 1974. A sportswriter talks about the New York Jets, the players and their problems, the coaching staff, the game, and the controversies surrounding a once winning team now on a losing streak. Nonfiction.

Golesworthy, Maurice, editor. The Encyclopaedia of Cricket. St Martin 1974. Although cricket has never been popular in the United States, the sport is extremely popular in England and in many of its former colonies. Anyone curious about this game will find rules, players, and details alphabetically arranged here. Nonfiction.

During spring 1973, several nonplayers joined the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball team for one week of spring training. Poet Hall, literary agent McCauley, physician Parrish, journalist Wooten, and American Civil Liberties Union Director Morgan write about the fun, mishaps, and frustrations of living the dream of playing major league baseball. Nonfiction.

Henry Wiggen, star pitcher of the New York Mammoths, writes about Bruce Pearson, third-string catcher, who is slowly dying of Hodgkins disease. Because of Wiggen's interest in him personally and professionally, Pearson becomes both a better player and a more sensitive human being. Fiction.

Forty world boxing champions tell their own stories, including championship fights and their problems as boxers. Nonfiction.

Once, almost all small towns were visited by barnstorming baseball teams trying to entertain the crowd and pick up a buck or two. This is the story of one of the last of the barnstorming teams, the Indianapolis Clowns, in their forty-fourth year of busing from town to town and living lonely lives on the road. Nonfiction.

Beginning with a history of basketball, the book includes a year-by-year account of college basketball from 1937 to 1972 and professional basketball from 1946 to 1972. Records, stars, rules, teams—almost anything anyone would want to know about basketball. Nonfiction.

Teams, players, records, rules, and history are covered in this mammoth account of a popular sport. Nonfiction.

From 1886 to 1947, when Jackie Robinson was signed by the Dodgers, some of the best baseball played in America was between black teams. The author traveled across the country interviewing veterans of black baseball and getting stories about legendary stars like Josh Gibson, Newt Allen, Buck Leonard, Hilton Smith, Cool Papa Bell, and Satchel Paige. Nonfiction.

Bo Greyarn, star left halfback for Michigan State, wants to play pro football so badly that he allows his feelings to influence his play for his college team. (See also Second Time Around Rookie, Hastings.) Fiction.

Rules, some history, and many illustrations of more than fifty sports and games. Nonfiction.

As a high school baseball pitcher, Jordan was a certainty to make the major leagues in no time at all. But pitching in the minors was no snap and instead of becoming the star everyone knew he'd be, he slowly recognized that he'd never get anywhere in baseball. Honest about sports and sex and graphic in language and situations. Nonfiction.

Profiles of baseball pitchers, well-known ones like Tom Seaver, retired ones like Bo Belinsky and Johnny Sain, and comparative unknowns like Art DeFilippis and Steve Dalkowski. Nonfiction.

The Brooklyn Dodgers of the 1950s were one of baseball's all-time great teams. The author thoughtfully describes the players then and where and what they are now. Nonfiction.

Alphabetically arranged biographies of over 1,500 professional baseball players—from 1846 to the present. Nonfiction.

A history of college football from its beginning. The author writes about the coaches, many of the major players and games, and the changes that have taken place in the rules and the action in the last 103 years. Nonfiction.

At thirty, Killy was regarded as a has-been. Then after five years with no skiing competition, the World Cup and Olympic champion started on his comeback trail which eventually led to his winning the Grand Prix. Nonfiction.

Fox Running runs for many reasons, but when she is asked to run for a university by a former Olympic runner, she is not sure that she can run on someone else's terms. Fiction.

Football, basketball, baseball, and a variety of minor sports, from surfing to bronco busting, figure in these poems, including the popular standard "Casey at the Bat" and some of those prefight harangues by Muhammad Ali. For a 1975 collection of short stories combining sports and science fiction, see Martin Harry Greenberg, et al., editors, Run to Starlight: Sports through Science Fiction, Delacorte.

By reprinting columns from the sports section of the New York Times, the author gives a day-by-day pic-Lipsyte, Robert. Sportsworld: An American Dreamland. Quadrangle 1975. A well-executed examination of contemporary professional sports by a sportswriter who isn't often taken in by the flamboyance of his subject or promotional views of it. Nonfiction.

Lyttle, Richard B. A Year in the Minors. Doubleday 1975. The San Jose Bees are a typical modern minor league baseball club made up mostly of college-educated young players who have one or two years to find out if they have any hope of making the majors. Many details and stories about training young players and promoting minor league teams. Nonfiction.

Sports

...ball thinkers and coaches of all time. His University of Southern California teams won many Rose Bowl games and several national championships. Nonfiction.

The third edition offers records in all sports. Nonfiction.

The most demanding international ski competition is the World Cup, a fifteen-race grand tour in the three Alpine events of downhill, slalom, and giant slalom. Miller recreates the races and the work of the skiers preparing for the World Cup. Nonfiction.

Piccolo’s life, his short career as a Chicago Bear football player, his friendship with star running back Gale Sayers, and his fight against cancer. Nonfiction.

An anthology of poetry about golf, baseball, hiking, boxing, boating, running, football, and other sports.

Most baseball fans would agree that the 1927 New York Yankees were probably the greatest hitting team in history. With Babe Ruth hitting 60 home runs and first baseman Lou Gehrig hitting 47 home runs and driving in a record 175 runs, the Yankees had an incredibly great year, even for a fine team used to good years. Nonfiction.

Clemente won four batting titles, made over 3,000 hits, and was an extraordinary rightfielder. This is his story, from his boyhood days in Puerto Rico until his death in a plane crash on New Year’s Eve, 1972. Nonfiction.

Beginning with the football game just concluded, the author covers the next six days as coaches and football team prepare for the next game. Nonfiction.

Black athletes are an integral part of amateur and professional athletics today, but the author uncovers a history of black athletes that will surprise many readers. Nonfiction.

Short accounts of great teams and great players that have come back from failure—the New York Jets, Sandy Koufax, Joe Louis, the old Boston Braves, the New York Knicks, Muhammad Ali. Nonfiction.

Berra may not have a beautiful face, but he has had an interesting life and has had some funny things happen to him. Nonfiction.

Until 1947, black players were barred from playing in organized baseball, except in the Negro leagues. Great players like Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella, and Satchel Paige played in poorly designed baseball parks under bad conditions for teams like the Birmingham Black Barons, the Indianapolis Clowns, and the Kansas City Monarchs. Nonfiction.

Probably the most exciting event of the 1974 sports year was Aaron's breaking the home run record of Babe Ruth. Plimpton follows Aaron's quest for the new record from the last weeks of the 1973 season until April 8, 1974, when Aaron hit his 715th home run. Nonfiction.

In 1954, a team from Schenectady, New York, won the world championship of Little League baseball. Twenty years later, the author interviewed the players on the team, now in their thirties, none of them having lived. up to their early athletic promise and some of them bitter because of fame that had come too early in their lives. Nonfiction.

Since 1883, the University of Southern California has played football, and during modern times, USC has won five national championships, played in many Rose Bowl games, and placed many players on All-American teams. (See also Will Perry, The Wolverines: A Story of Michigan Football; Clyde Bolton, The Crimson Tide: A Story of Alabama Football; Denne H. Freeman, Hook 'Em Horns: A Story of Texas Football; Jim Weeks, The Sooners: A Story of Oklahoma Football; and Wilbur Snypp, The Buckeyes: A Story of Ohio State Football, all published by Strode.) Nonfiction.

Descriptions of highlights in baseball beginning with the hitting of Ted Williams in the 1946 All-Star game. Nonfiction.

A star receiver with the Dallas Cowboys football team and married to a film star, Rentzel became more and more aware that winning was not just necessary—it was an obsession. When he lost, he could not accept defeat; finally, a psychological problem forced him into acts that nearly ruined his life and his career. Mature nonfiction.

For his weight, Robinson is often said to have been the greatest prizefighter ever to enter the ring. He grew up in Detroit and New York City ghettos, began his rise in the Golden Gloves amateur competition, and finally became a champion. Unfortunately, he found that financial and professional success did not necessarily lead to personal success. Nonfiction.

Russell was a great college basketball center at the University of San Francisco and became one of the pro's greatest centers with the Boston Celtics. Tom Heinsohn was a famous Celtic teammate of Russell's and now coaches that team. For his autobiography, published in 1976, see Tommy Heinsohn (with Leonard Lewin), Heinsohn, Don't You Ever Smile?, Doubleday. Nonfiction.

Ryan takes the reader into the world of small towns and the baseball minor leagues, the bus rides, the adoring fans, the veterans on the way down, and the future heroes on the way up. Nonfiction.

Brief stories about several major-league baseball players who broke records: Lou Brock stealing bases, Henry Aaron hitting home runs, Tom Seaver pitching, Mickey Mantle hitting homers and striking out. Nonfiction.

Sayers, black and shy, and Brian Piccolo, white and uninhibited; were close friends and teammates on the Chicago Bears professional football team. Sayers became one of the greatest running backs in pro football history while Piccolo died at an early age from cancer. (See also William Blinn, Brian's Song, Bantam.) Nonfiction.

The U.S. Open is the single most important golf tournament in the world. The author covers the 1974 Open at Winged Foot Golf Club in Mamaroneck, New York, where Hale Irwin defeated far better known golfers like Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player. Nonfiction.

Lombardi was a great college football player, but he did not become the coach of a professional team until late in life. Then he built a football empire and his own legend at Green Bay. Nonfiction.

Thorpe, an American Indian, was a magnificent football player. He excelled in track and field, but his victories in the 1912 Olympics and the gold medals he was awarded were taken from him because he played professional ball and had not lied about it, as many athletes of his time did. Nonfiction.

Schuyler, Pamela R. Through the Hoop: A Season with the Celtics. HM 1974.

Photographer Schuyler interviewed Tom “Satch” Sanders, former Celtic star and presently Harvard basketball coach, about the work, training, and games of the Boston Celtics professional basketball team. Many photographs of the Celtic players. Nonfiction.

When he attended the University of Texas, Shaw soon discovered that playing football meant total dedication and pain. He began to question whether football was that important, especially when players were hurt in practice and their injuries ignored. Nonfiction.

Smith has been a reporter and sportswriter ever since he graduated from Notre Dame, and for most of his life he has written about sports for either the New York Herald Tribune or the New York Times. This is a collection of his columns about the many aspects of sports that have intrigued him. (See also Jerome Holtzman, No Cheering in the Press Box, HR&W.) Nonfiction.

Beginning with 1845, when Alexander Cartwright conceived the game of baseball, Smith writes about players, teams, records, and World Series games that make up the history of the sport. Nonfiction.

Ruth was more than a great baseball hitter. He was such a national hero his drinking sprees and his foul mouth were ignored or forgiven. Sobol attempts to determine the truth about this complex and little-understood man. Nonfiction.

University of Texas football player Freddie Steinmark learned he had cancer only six days after his team had been voted number one in the nation. Though his left leg was amputated, Freddie never gave up fighting for his life. Nonfiction.

Treat, Roger, editor. The Encyclopedia of Football.
Despite its title, the book covers only professional football, but its coverage of players, teams, history, scores, league standings, and other facts about pro football is extensive. Nonfiction.

Tutko, Thomas, and Umberto Tosi. Sports Psyching:
Playing Your Best Game All of the Time. J P Tarcher 1976.
Athletes in every sport know the problem of "choking" at a crucial moment. This book offers techniques for avoiding such problems and for generally improving one's competitive attitude and performance.

George Blanda had a remarkable career in pro football: first, a star quarterback for many years in the National Football League and the Old American Football League, then a field goal kicker for the Oakland Raiders and the oldest active player in the pro ranks.
Nonfiction.

The life of Roberto Clemente, from his early life in Puerto Rico to his greatness as an outfielder for the Pittsburgh Pirates until his death in an airplane crash

Wolf, David. Foul! The Connie Hawkins Story. Paperback Lib 1972.
A savage picture of college and professional sports, particularly basketball, through the life story of ghetto-born Connie Hawkins, who fought his way out of New York City. Gifted in sports but not in school.
Hawkins lasted only a short time in college and was involved in a point-shaving gambling episode. Years later, he was finally exonerated. Nonfiction.

The life story and philosophy of the one-time high school coach and English teacher who became the basketball coach at UCLA and, over the years, one of the most successful basketball coaches in history. (See also Dwight Chapin and Jeff Prugh, The Wizard of Westwood: Coach John Wooden and His UCLA Bruins, HM.) Nonfiction.

Although the author uses fictitious names for both people and towns, this is about a real high school football team, from its practice sessions through wins and losses. The close relationship between the players and their coach is stressed. Nonfiction.

Ewbank had coached the Baltimore Colts to two world championships and the New York Jets to one world championship. At sixty and in his last year as coach of the Jets, he wanted to go out a winner. Instead, the year for both the Jets and Ewbank was very close to a total disaster. Nonfiction.

ON THE MOVE

Race car drivers, promoters, and racing fans are the subjects of this often frank study of the auto racing circuit, from the small race tracks to Daytona. Nonfiction.

The Mississippi River comes to life in this entertaining story about Willow Joe and his many quests. Fiction.

An account of the 200-year history of gas-filled balloons in which heroic individuals—both men and women—entertained crowds, furthered atmospheric research, helped fight wars, and were the forerunners of today's astronauts. Nonfiction.

Practical information about bicycles, equipment, safety, repairs, trips, road racing, and just about anything else a bike rider would like to know. (See also Anybody's Bike Book: An Original Manual of Bicycle Repairs, Ten Speed Pr.) Nonfiction.

Information about bikes and cycles—safety, repair, troubleshooting, and planning trips. Nonfiction.

Brief sections on the history of auto racing: great races, stock car competition, drag racing, and rally competition. Nonfiction.

The art and sport of motorcycling, including discussions of different kinds of motorcycles, rules for safe driving, motorcycle maintenance, and racing. Nonfiction.

Drivers, cars, records, and accidents are all discussed in this illustrated history of America's most famous automobile race; covers the years 1911-1969. Nonfiction.

Short stories of adventure, mystery, thrills, and speed centering on racing and race drivers. (See also Behind the Wheel: Stories of Cars on Road and Track. Morrow.) Fiction.

An account of a man's hike through the entire length of the Grand Canyon, a feat never before accomplished. Fletcher's two-month struggle against the elements in the beautiful but inhospitable canyon gave him a sense of nature's vastness. Nonfiction.

An expert hiker describes the joy of hiking and the equipment needed to make it safe and fun, from shoes to food, backpacks to tents, first aid to maps. Appendices include information on retailers of equipment and on hiking groups. Nonfiction.

The author, an experienced traveler, gives helpful, specific information on driving anywhere in the world. Facts about costs, how to handle insurance and customs, mechanics, and road damage. Nonfiction.

A history of people's constant movement around the earth: some of the reasons they have wanted to move, some of the ways they have used in the past, and ways they will likely use in the future. Nonfiction.

Truck drivers and the lives they lead with hitchhikers, waitresses, the highway patrol, and deadlines. Many excellent photographs. Nonfiction.

A guide celebrating the joy and freedom of camping in any season with suggestions for making any hiking or backpacking trip more enjoyable. Nonfiction.

German Baron von Drais invented the bicycle in 1816. but even he could not have predicted the changes his invention and its place in society would undergo during the next 100 years. Many illustrations. Nonfiction.

Information about bicycling around the world for sport, for traveling, for health, or for adventure. Information about bike, clubs and techniques of biking and many other things. Nonfiction.

A. J. Foyt has won more national championship races and more national driving titles than any other auto racer. Nonfiction.

A well-illustrated guide to backpacking, covering wearing apparel, safety, bedding, shelter, cooking equipment, the backpack itself, and trip planning. Nonfiction.

An illustrated guide with specific tips on equipment, procedures, and dangers. Nonfiction.

The early history of the American railroad industry told through paintings and photographs. Nonfiction.

An anthology of stories, poems, songs, and essays about the art and joy of riding motorcycles.

A practical and fact-filled guide for planning and completing short and overnight hikes, including advice on almost all related concerns, from planning menus to selecting shoes. Nonfiction.

A college professor and seventeen students hiked for forty days through New Hampshire, Maine, and Canada. Along the way, they met suspicious policemen and natives, but they learned about themselves and what they could endure. Nonfiction.

Great car races and great racers from 1903 until today are the subjects of this book about the spills and thrills of speed racing. Nonfiction.

Evaluations of camping equipment, such as tents, lanterns, backpacks, stoves, and sleeping bags, and recreational vehicles, such as four-wheel drives, tent trailers, motorhomes, and pickups. Nonfiction.

Revson was handsome and wealthy; he was also one of the greatest and most famous car racers in the world, winning several Grand Prix races and living a colorful life until his death in a car wreck in 1973. Nonfiction.

Details, with many photographs, of almost anything one would want to know about canoeing—its excitement, the equipment, portaging, and planning a canoeing trip. Nonfiction.

Color photographs of the scenic beauty of the American West are on pages opposite prose and poetry by naturalists and others who write about life, nature, and humanity. Nonfiction.

Ryback dreamed of walking alone from the Canadian border to the Mexican border. This is his record of the dangers and adventures of the 132 days it took him to walk the 2,500 miles. Nonfiction.
Sprint car racing is described along with its famous races and drivers like Bobby Unser and Mario Andretti. Nonfiction.

Shoumatoff set off in his old car to ramble around Florida finding out about the state's people, natural wonders, flophouses, orange groves, retirement communities, and anything else that attracted his attention. Nonfiction.

Beginning with the early development of the bicycle and the allegations that the contraption was dangerous and a tool of the devil, the author chronicles the development and use of the bicycle and its impact upon American life and habits. Nonfiction.

Both authors are experienced backpackers and their advice on equipment, clothing, and other matters is both sensible and lively. Nonfiction.

Thomas, Bill. Tripping in America off the Beaten Track. Chilton 1974.
An alphabetized, state-by-state list of interesting but little-known places worth exploring. Nonfiction.

Brief chapters about driving motorcycles intelligently and safely, buying a first motorcycle, and the enjoyment and adventure anyone can have riding a motorcycle. Nonfiction.

SCIENCE, TODAY AND TOMORROW

If life exists on other planets in our solar system or elsewhere in the galaxy, the conditions there will have to match a series of criteria which would exclude most planets.
The men of Apollo 11, the first manned spacecraft to land on the moon, describe in detail the events leading up to and following that moment in July 1969 when Armstrong stepped onto the lunar dust.

Einstein's theories of relativity revolutionized twentieth-century science. This account of his discoveries makes all the intricacies of $e=mc^2$ relatively intelligible.

How can we expect to explore even the star nearest to our sun when the trip would take 80,000 years? This and other problems of travel to the outer reaches of the solar system and beyond are discussed in this volume.

Prehistoric people not only survived the last Ice Age, they also underwent physical and cultural adaptations that permitted them to live in the various climates of the globe.

Someday life on earth and then earth itself must end. The author describes the steps by which earth will be claimed by the sun billions of years from now.

Before the first moon rocks were analyzed, scientists speculated about what they might reveal, and while the experts were largely correct, there were still some surprises.

The explosion of scientific investigation in the years since Darwin proposed his theories has yielded new information about evolution from a number of disciplines. Recent advances in molecular biology, geology, and anthropology contribute to this updated account of the rules governing the "life game." Mature.

A collection of tongue-in-cheek essays by scientist and science fiction writer Clarke which demonstrates not only his keen insight into the workings of our planet but also his sense of humor. Mature.

The author of 2001: A Space Odys-sey describes a remarkable event in outer space that will take place in the late 1970s, the orbital alignment of the five outermost planets in the solar system. This occasion will provide scientists a unique opportunity to investigate these planets with a single space probe.

Robot guinea pigs, telemmedicine, deep-freeze techniques, computers endowed with 'memory banks'—these may be common elements of medical practice in A.D. 2000.

A detailed survey of the planet on which we live, beginning with its birth 4.5 million years ago. This book considers many questions that have long puzzled scientists about the origin of earth and the changes it is constantly undergoing.

Studies of animals both in the laboratory and in the wild suggest that overcrowding causes strange changes in behavior and that there may be strict limits to the level of crowding that humans will be able to tolerate.

The idea that there may be inhabited planets circling stars in other solar systems has not always been popular. This book traces the history of the idea and presents a summary of current opinion on the age-old question, "Are we alone in the universe?"
The little-known planet is earth, but the life is the world of insects and their marvelous mechanisms for adaptation and survival.

Research into the functions and abilities of the human brain, including material on biofeedback and the effects of psychedelic drugs, dreams, and meditation.

Even though diminishing supplies of organic fuels have forced scientists to explore other energy sources, nuclear fusion and solar power are still in their planning stages as solutions to the energy crisis.

Everybody talks about the weather, but this book shows what some people have been doing about it. Halacy describes efforts to induce rain, suppress hail and lightning, disperse fog, and modify hurricanes, as well as changes caused by air pollution.

A history of astronomy: how the Egyptians, Greeks, and Romans viewed the heavens; what discoveries of Copernicus, Kepler, and Newton brought to our understanding of stars and planets; and what currently is of major interest to astronomers.

The discovery of the structure of the molecules responsible for heredity may eventually give us the power to manipulate the future of humanity.

Transportation, especially in urban areas, is already a problem, but the future promises even greater concentrations of people in sprawling cities. The author explores the possibilities for innovation in travel systems of all sorts.

Famine and exploding populations in poorer areas of the world are in the headlines today. Developing new strains of crops, irrigating now arid lands, and farming the seas are some of the solutions for averting hunger in the future.

The author reviews the work in biology, surgery, bionics, and cybernetics during the last twenty-five years and details some work that is currently underway in these fields, particularly that dealing with the question, "Is there intelligent life in outer space?"

The director of the Goddard Institute for Space Studies describes the nature of the universe, from the smallest subatomic particles to the grandest of galactic structures, pointing out along the way earth's place in this scheme.

In this account of the development of satellite reconnaissance, the author describes both how spy-in-the-sky systems operate and what they have done to change the techniques of intelligence gathering.

People suffering mental illness were once treated worse than prisoners or traitors. The author discusses modern approaches to mental illness and some of the therapies open to doctors.

The voyages of the Apollo missions (1969-1972) have given scientists much information about the moon. Details about its surface and other findings are analyzed.

The 1945 nuclear explosion near Alamogordo, New Mexico, ushered in the atomic era. The implications of that event as they have unfolded in the years since are discussed here in a series of essays which describe the scientific, political, and moral aftermath of that fateful July day.

McPhee, John. The Curve of Binding Energy. FS&G 1974.
Theodore Taylor, a theoretical physicist, was instrumental in the design of the first atomic weapons and later designed an atomic-powered space rocket that was never built. He presently works on systems for safeguarding nuclear materials from potential do-it-yourselfers.

These eleven essays were adapted from a series of radio broadcasts sponsored by the American Chemical Society. The subjects range from the chemistry of aging to the prevention of polluted oceans. Mature.

Morgenthau, Hans. Science: Servant or Master? NAL 1972.
Not everyone is pleased with the direction that contemporary science has taken in this country. The author investigates what he feels to be vita, problems concerning the relationship of science to politics, technology, and morality. Mature.

Pallas, Norvin. Calculator Puzzles, Tricks and Games.
Sterling 1976.
All manner of puzzles and other entertainments for those who know arithmetic and have access to a pocket calculator. (See also Edwin Schlossberg and John Brockman, The Pocket Calculator Game Book, Morrow.)

Raphael, Bertram. The Thinking Computer: Mind in-A comprehensive survey and explanation of artificial intelligence, including robots and the latest generation of computers.

Rapport, Samuel, and Helen Wright, editors. Science:
Method and Meaning. WSP 1964.
This collection of scientific essays spans the last 100 years and includes topics from a variety of disciplines, yet each essayist grapples with the same fundamental question: how does a scientist approach his or her work?

Some great astronomical discoveries have been made when the discoverers were in fact looking for something else; these finds include the planet Uranus, the sunspot cycle, and radio waves from outer space.

Several possible solutions to the mounting crisis in securing and controlling the use of our energy resources are outlined in this sometimes hopeful, sometimes pessimistic account of what may be possible and what may not be.

An introduction to mechanical brains, how they function, and their place in the world today and tomorrow.

Spaceship Earth is composed of a series of delicately balanced systems: water, energy, food, and the earth itself, which together comprise the ecosphere, the narrow band on the planet that supports life.

This collection of essays about the probability that unidentified flying objects might be extraterrestrial space probes neither assumes that UFOs are myth nor that they are the craft of “little green men.” Mature.

This book addresses itself to truly “universal” questions: Can humanity survive the contamination of this world? What place and value do we have in the universe? Do life forms similar to us exist on other planets?

Genetics, the scientific study of heredity, made rapid advances with the discovery of the structure of DNA, a complex molecule that serves as the master code for the structure and characteristics of all living things.

Smith, Norman F. Uphill to Mars, Downhill to Venus. Little 1970.
An engineer for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration explains the problems of getting a rocket into space, maintaining it during its flight, and getting it safely back to earth.

The promise of the computer age is great, with the application of computer technology to such problems as diagnosing disease, forecasting the weather, and streamlining government bureaucracy.

The science editor of the New York Times describes the evidence that suggests man may not be the only intelligent being in the universe and the dilemmas, political, moral, and religious, that we might face upon encountering other intelligent beings.

Recent breakthroughs in biology present a range of possible changes for the future, including artificial organs and prolonged life expectancy, and such controversial issues as test-tube babies and personality modification.

This fully illustrated introduction to the world of rockets traces their history from tenth-century China and speculates about their future possibilities for both space travel and scientific investigation.

This book contains answers to a whole series of questions that at one time or another might puzzle us, from "How does an aerosol can work?" to "What makes a Mexican jumping bean jump?"
Digging into Our Past

Human beings may be just inhabitants of a smallish planet in a modest solar system, but nevertheless this German scientist sees all phenomena in the universe as participating in an interrelated cosmic event. Mature.

Biochronometry, a branch of biology which investigates rhythms that regulate the life processes, explains such diverse phenomena as the migration of birds, the nectar gathering of bees, and the stress patterns of human beings. Mature.

The inside story of one of the greatest discoveries in biochemistry, the structure of DNA, the heredity molecule, has become a modern classic. Told by one of the men who participated in the discovery, the account bristles with the personal intrigues of life inside and outside the laboratories.

The least understood of all human organs, the brain coordinates all functions of the body and all aspects of our behavior. New discoveries about the workings of the brain present possibilities for the treatment of brain-related disorders but also problems for the discoverers. For example, to what degree should this new knowledge be used to control human behavior?

Present day understanding of the nature of the universe has developed from a series of discoveries and speculations that have won some individuals fame and others a trip to the stake.

DIGGING INTO OUR PAST

Alsop writes of the Greek Bronze Age civilization
Digging into Our Past

(c. 3500 B.C.), its abrupt end, and its discovery many years later. Over 100 photos, maps, a foldout chronological table, and bibliography.

The author examines the territorial drive of animals and birds to control and defend land or airspace and argues that territorial needs are also felt by humans. (See also African Genesis, Dell; and The Social Contract, Dell.) Mature.

Many photographs illustrate the story of how many of our most basic discoveries—fire, the calendar, housing, and the domestication of plants and animals—were made and how many were made more than once. Bibliography.

When dams or roads or houses are being constructed and archaeological finds are made, salvage archaeologists are brought in to work under definite time limits.

Bascom attempts to pinpoint the location of ancient underwater wrecks in the Mediterranean. Includes charts, tables, drawings, and photographs.

An introduction to the whys and wherefores of underwater archaeology, its problems, its successes, its scientific history and future.

Berlitz believes that an advanced civilization existed in the Americas thousands of years before Columbus and that this civilization was enriched by visitors from Europe and the Far East. He also explores the legend of the lost continent of Atlantis. Bibliography.
Digging into Our Past

Written as a companion to C. W. Ceram’s Gods, Graves, and Scholars (also annotated in this section), this book traces the culture of our early ancestors north from the Alps to Scandinavia and west from Russia to Ireland. Annotated bibliography.

From “Abbevillian” to “Ziwiye,” this reference book concisely describes, in more than 1,600 entries, the sites, cultures, periods, techniques, terms, and personalities of archaeology.

The relationships between survey, test, digging, recording, study-analysis, and reporting are described, with details of professional know-how given for each step. Concludes with guides to sites, museums, resources, and periodicals.

Two topics of archaeology are of primary interest here: first, the effects of shifting weather patterns on ancient people; second, the archaeological importance of areas outside of the Middle East.

Begun as a series of TV scripts, this inquiry into humanity and its growth covers great inventions, discoveries, and advancements throughout history.

The reader experiences the excitement of the discovery of the Mayan civilization and the adventures of the eight amateur archaeologists involved in the search.

The romantic story of the settlement of Polynesia by a Stone Age people.
The civilizations and cultures of peoples in Mexico, Central America, Peru, and Ecuador before the ninth century. Many illustrations.

Based on a 1972 British television special, this book explains the work of the "new geologists" who believe earthquakes, volcanoes, and mountain ranges are all caused by a single process: the movement of huge plates that make up the earth's outer shell.

The 1922 discovery of Tutankhamen's tomb was the most important archaeological find in Egypt's Valley of the Kings, because the tomb had not yet been found and looted by grave robbers.

The history of early dwellers in America told through archaeological findings. One section is devoted to answering the question "What is archaeology?"; the remainder of the book is about burial mounds, Mesa Verde, Bandelier, and other Indian ruins and artifacts. Many illustrations, some in color.

The adventures, accidents, and men that contributed to the development of the science of archaeology; explorations at Troy and in Egypt, Babylonia, and Mexico are described.

A pictorial history of archaeology with accounts of findings in Pompeii, Crete, Egypt, Babylonia, and Mexico.

Collier traces the evolution of prehistoric peoples in terms of how they hunted, made tools, built homes, cared for their children, and dealt with their peers.
A brief history of humanity's desire to understand ancient written languages and how that knowledge has helped us understand civilizations like those of Egypt, Crete, and Babylonia.

The story of prehistoric peoples in America before the time of the Aztecs. When did they first arrive, how did they exist, and what remains to establish their early existence in America?

The most concrete evidence for the evolution of our species consists of the fossil bones of human-like creatures who preceded the appearance of modern man. This lavishly illustrated book traces our development from primates, with an emphasis on the evidence of fossil remains, and includes a list of books to read and places to visit.

A study of the major cities of antiquity: Thebes, Nineveh, Tyre, Babylon, Athens, Carthage, and others. Fine photos, drawings, diagrams, and bibliography.

The political and cultural history of Nubia, Egypt, and the Sudan are surveyed. Fairservis recreates the past using geology, geography, paleontology, and archaeology.

This manual covers rock collecting, identification, and storage and also deals with field work—map reading, use of survey tools, making field and lab tests, and staking a claim. Includes color photos, tables, and a list of selected books and magazines.
Ford-Johnston, J. History from the Earth. NYGS 1974.
Archaeological investigations in the Near East, Africa, India, China, America, and Europe.

In 1628 the warship Vasa sank to a depth of 100 feet. This is the story of how the ship was found and raised 300 years later and preserved as a monument to marine archaeology.

Gardner, Martin. Fads and Fallacies in the Name of Science. Dover 1957.
A study of human gullibility and the grotesque dealing with several absurd theories of modern "pseudo-scientists" and the strange, frequently tragic cults spawned by these theories. Included are the flat earth societies, the hollow earth cults, and the sensation created by Bridey Murphy.

Hamblin explores Turkey, the land of Troy, and the Euphrates River. Good photos and short bibliography.

The author offers evidence that advanced civilizations inhabited our world before the end of the Ice Age, thousands of years before the great Egyptian and Greek civilizations.

A behind-the-scenes look at the life of the pharaohs, especially during the period known as the New Kingdom. Plenty of photos and a brief bibliography.

The stone statues of a lost civilization on Easter Island are a major mystery to scientists. The author excavated there and offers some ideas about the builders of the statues.

Seeking answers to certain mysteries about the Mayan... civilization, the author spent two years with the descendants of the Mayans, whose civilization is more primitive than that of their ancestors.

Many ancient ships sank because of battles and storms. Modern archaeologists have learned much about ancient civilization by investigating remains of these ships.

Larue examines the qualities and education necessary to pursue a career in archaeology. Besides explaining the field itself, the book discusses such things as colleges and universities offering archaeology programs, employment opportunities, and writing resumes.

Who discovered America before Columbus did? Anthropologists investigate unusual clues as they seek answers: Peruvian mummies with silky red hair, the use of blowguns with poison darts, and a lump of Rhode Island coal found in Greenland. Many photographs and maps. Bibliography.

Leakey covers the years when he made important anthropological finds at his diggings in the Olduvai Gorge in Africa that startled the scientific world and established that humans first appeared on earth much earlier than scientists had believed.

Primarily an amateur collector's handbook that offers many good suggestions to those interested in fossil collecting and also gives a general introduction to earth history and the many types of prehistoric plants and animals. Includes bibliography, sources of geological information in each state, and a list of museums displaying fossils.
Before the coming of whites to America, several vast and well-developed civilizations—the Mayan, the Aztec, the Inca—had arisen. The author gives a record of those civilizations from their relics, ruins, and burial grounds.

Hailed as the “missing link” in the evolution of human beings, the Piltdown Man was discovered in 1912 and dismissed fifty years later as a hoax.

A comprehensive study of geological discovery. Although many theories are explained, the strong point of this classic is its emphasis on the adventures of prominent geologists.

In 1960 a tribe of cave-dwelling Indians, the Tasaday, was discovered in a Philippine rain forest. Unaware of the outside world, the tribe welcomed Manuel Elizalde, a young Philippine millionaire and amateur scientist, as if he were a god.

In 1947 a young goatherd in the Dead Sea area stumbled upon one of the great archaeological discoveries of our time: scrolls inscribed with ancient Hebrew biblical texts. The author reviews discoveries of more scrolls, their translations, and their meaning.

The archaeological findings, including burial customs, tombs, and the activities of grave robbers, derived from the study of Egyptian burial sites. Many illustrations.

Written for students, collectors, and hobbyists, this is a basic field guide to more than 125 of the most important minerals and rocks, including gems, ores, and metals. Each description is accompanied by a well-labeled drawing illustrating the characteristic features of the rock or mineral.

Probes the question of whether humans have inherited any peaceable characteristics from their hunter-warrior ancestors. Particular emphasis is placed on two digs near the famous Lascaux caves.

The how, why, when, and where for the amateur beginning the hobby of archaeology. Plenty of charts, drawings, and photos. Thorough appendices of sites, museums, courses of study, as well as an outstanding annotated bibliography.

A detailed study of day-to-day life in Mesopotamia describing Babylonian gods, heroes, language, laws, medicine, arts, and sciences.

The fundamentals of the ancient form of Egyptian writing, illustrated by inscriptions on existing remains with explanations of each in words and clear drawings.

Silverberg describes the history and methods of the archaeological dating of ancient peoples and their artifacts.

The earth mounds in Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, and Missouri have fascinated scientists for years. Who made them? Have the makers disappeared or were they Indian tribes? What were the mounds used for? (See also Lost Cities and Vanished Civilizations, Bantam.)

Art did not begin with the Greeks; rather, it began with ancient cave dwellers and their drawings, scattered over a large part of Europe. Well illustrated with both line drawings and photographs.

In 1839 Stephens and Catherwood went into the jungles of Central America on a secret mission for President Van Buren. They soon forgot their mission as they discovered long-lost Mayan cities.

Von Hagen uses the everyday life of the Maya, which was dominated by complex rituals, to explain the Mayan astronomical calculations, analyze their writing and pictures, and describe the high quality of their sculptural arts. Bibliography and photos included.—(See also The Realm of the Incas, NAL; and The Aztec: Man and Tribe, NAL.)

Wellard shows how serious archaeologists competed with individuals interested in obtaining artifacts for private sale during the rediscovery of the Etruscan civilization in Italy.

A British archaeologist counters the currently popular claims that aliens from outer space visited earth in the distant past by showing that the “evidence” of these visits can be explained by the technological capabilities of ancient civilizations.

---

For two summers, Abbey worked as a seasonal park ranger at Arches National Monument in Utah. He had no great love for tourists, but he has an abiding love for the desert and its inhabitants.

Amory, president of the Fund for Animals, details the indiscriminate and cruel slaughter of animals. He contends that we have too often killed for bloodlust or because of an animal's undeserved reputation as a killer (wolves and coyotes, for example).

The mysteries of the tropical forest are revealed in this well-illustrated book, which includes discussions of plants, animals, and insects.

The author and his family rescued and raised two abandoned coyote pups. Shasta and Rogue soon became loyal and loving members of the family who proved many of the unfavorable stories about coyotes to be completely wrong.

A conservationist describes recent battles to save wilderness and wildlife from industry, mining interests, the Atomic Energy Commission, housing developers, and army engineers.

A collection of prose passages by Herman Melville, Charles Darwin, and others and color photographs by Porter portray the history of these famous islands.

For seven years the author lived with Eskimos, observing their world and its animal life: polar bears, seals, caribou, walruses, and musk oxen. Many beautiful color and black and white photographs of endangered species.

Prose and photographs document the activities of a chief veterinarian at a zoo during a week which included the delivery of a monkey by Caesarian section, the treatment of a gorilla for rheumatic fever, and the arrival of four baby elephants.
Color photographs of the animals of Europe and a history of animal life on the continent.

The life of insects: the ways they eat, reproduce, communicate, and protect themselves. Includes a section of projects for observing, collecting, and photographing insects.

A realistic and detailed novel about the Kodiak bear, tracing the story of one bear from conception to death. Fiction.

Carrighar found joy and a way out of the concrete jungle of civilization by observing and writing about the lives, rituals, and habits of animals.

Ten stories by a skilled writer and naturalist about animals living in the High Sierra.

For a decade, the Collett family has been rescuing and caring for injured wild animals, and this book is the story of those years and a guide for helping wild animals.

Professional hunter Corbett writes about tigers who have turned man-eater and his hunting and killing of those tigers.

Diolé argues that animals are essential to humanity and that our attempts to stave off the extinction of many animal species today are doomed to failure unless we rethink our present approaches. Mature.

A Scottish zoologist and a photographer went to an East African game reserve, their job being to chart the migration of elephants and to determine whether they are near extinction. They learned to recognize all 450 individual elephants in their preserve, and they describe the elephants' lives and society.

This fully illustrated book examines the weeds and wildflowers that survive and grow despite the brick and asphalt of the city.

To his family's dismay, Durrell became zookeeper at England's Whipsnade, one of the first zoos to devise natural habitats for its animals. Durrell tells about his humorous encounters with wolves, lions, wombats, polar bears, and many other animals.

Emboden's illustrated book explores the real and imaginary plants which have amazed and intrigued people and the strange and sometimes bawdy folktales that grew up around the plants.

Real life stories of famous people and the horses they rode.

In the late 1960s, the author returned to Mara, Kenya's great animal sanctuary, to study African wildlife and to determine the impact civilization has had on the animals and birds.

Gilbert and three other young naturalists study the coati-mundi, a nearsighted and lanky member of the raccoon family that lives in tribes and has an incredibly effective system of communication.
This work is a revised publication of a 1958 study prepared by the American Committee for International Wild Life Protection and provides encyclopedic accounts of extinct and vanishing forms of birds.

A father and son team of naturalists write about the Serengeti National Park in Tanzania: the animals, the natural predators, and the human predators who threaten to destroy whole species for money.

Descriptions of caves and the people who explore and investigate them, with accounts of their natural and scientific discoveries.

Halmi presents both basic and little-known information about the game animals of North America: the grizzly, the elk, the mountain goat, the wild boar, and other animals.

The culture and life of the Southern highlanders is preserved in this personal recollection of the author's mountain friends.

Mustangs, wild horses, broncos, and playful colts are the central characters of these stories written by Nathaniel Hawthorne, William Saroyan, John Steinbeck, and others. Fiction.

In 1971, three women and their guide spent a month traveling in a Land Rover visiting the wild game reserves in Kenya and northern Tanzania.
The owner of an Oregon ranch writes about his love for his work, his animals, and his soil. Many photographs in this account of one year on the ranch.

Many animals are in imminent danger of extinction, often because people want land or furs or souvenirs. But other individuals are concerned and are finding ways to protect endangered species.

This work provides a number of proven, basic agricultural practices in working a small farm and discusses a variety of activities, including setting seeds, raising bees, and raising and preserving fruits and vegetables.

Keith has edited the journal of Richard Proenneke, who spent eighteen months alone in the Alaskan wilderness.

The starkness and the beauty of the deserts of California, Nevada, Utah, and Arizona, with many photographs by the author and her husband.

All of his life Krutch was a sensitive observer of nature. Here he writes of animals, dunes, flowers, and the Grand Canyon, and of our ability to despoil nature. Mature.

Krutch, a professor at Columbia University, moved west when he retired. His love and awe of the wonders of the Grand Canyon are evident in this account of its geological past and its picturesque present. (See also The Great Chain of Life, Pyramid Pubns; and The Desert Year, Viking Pr.)
Nature

Humanity encroaches more and more each year upon the wilderness of animals, but some animal sanctuaries have been set aside. The four described here are Yellowstone National Park, Mt. McKinley National Park, the Hawaiian Islands National Wildlife Refuge, and Everglades National Park. (See also Wild Travelers, Four Winds.)

A fact-filled and fascinating summary of what is known about sharks: evolution, reproduction, anatomy, and physiology.

Lorenz shares his knowledge and theories about animals in discussing the dogs, birds, and fish he has raised.

A first-person account of the author's years of studying the orangutan, the most mysterious of the world's great apes, in the jungles of Borneo and Sumatra.

The people, animals, birds, and beauty of the jungle environment are vividly described as Matthiessen shares his adventure-packed journey through South America.

Matthiessen describes a 1964 expedition to capture musk ox calves. The expedition's purpose was to see if the calves could be raised domestically for their wool, thus aiding the Eskimo economy.

Although this popular book details Maxwell's life and adventures in the wilderness and his life with his otter pets, the real hero and heroine in this book are the otters, Mijbil and Edal.

An examination of "captive wild animal environments," such as zoos, game farms, and menageries; the care of captive animals; and the role of zoos in the preservation of endangered species.

A close-up view of the buffalo's habits and life cycle tracing the history of the great American bison in the ecology of the grass plains and in the life of the American Indian and settler.

David Brower, an ardent and militant conservationist, takes on three opponents—a mineral engineer, a resort developer, and a dam builder—in a battle to save nature for future generations.

Henri Vaillancourt makes birch-bark canoes in the same way Indians made them. McPhee describes the building of these canoes and a 130-mile canoe trip he took with Vaillancourt in the Maine woods and streams.

An introduction to the Anatidae family of birds; includes maps and full-color illustrations of each of the 140 species described.

In addition to the stories about whaling and the descriptions of life on the southwest coast of Newfoundland, Mowat describes the unfortunate fate of a female fin whale who was stranded in a cove where local people tormented and shot the gentle creature for "sport" while Mowat tried to save her life.

Murphy, Robert. The Peregrine Falcon. HM 1964.
This novel is about the first year in the life of a female peregrine falcon as she learns to survive in the Canadian wilderness and then begins her long autumn migration to the Florida Keys. Fiction.

Part of Bantam's Knowledge through Color series, this is a beautifully illustrated introduction to the world of primates and includes a detailed but restrained discussion of the reproduction cycle.

Olson has been a naturalist ever since his boyhood on a Wisconsin farm. He writes about the spiritual, psychological, and physical values of living in the wilderness.

Courtship and mating are universal urges in all animals, though the rituals associated with them may vary widely.

The "hidden country" flourishes in the city but is frequently overlooked: the world of insects and plants.

This book contains the inside story about creatures that nobody likes: fleas, bats, pigs, vultures, rats, spiders, and other unpopular creatures.

Roots, a collector of rare animals for zoos, discusses the reptiles, birds, and mammals of the night and how they survive.

This sensitive and realistic story gives an account of a crow's life through a full cycle of seasonal change and emphasizes how animals must adapt to the continually changing conditions of life. Fiction.

This book investigates the curious question of where insects go during the winter and explains how to find, recognize, and collect insects and other invertebrates during the winter.

The author's two years of close observation of coyotes convinced her that these much-maligned and hunted animals deserve our respect and affection. Many photographs.

Ryden studies American wild horses as they struggle to survive in the arid bush country.

Schaller tells of the three adventurous years he and his family spent on the plains of Tanzania while he made his famous study of lion behavior and of other African predators. (See also The Year of the Gorilla, U of Chicago Pr.)

A very inexpensive introduction to the vast world of birds with brief descriptions of 140 selected species, each accompanied by a color photograph.

The interaction and interdependence between people, society, and the natural world—an attempt to understand the complex forces that make human nature what it is.

Sullivan, science editor for the New York Times, explains how the revolutionary theory of "continental drift"—the theory that the landmasses of our planet are constantly moving—came into being and how the drift has influenced and affected the natural world.

The beginning of the National Park Service and the work of rangers, naturalists, archaeologists, and historians employed by the Service.

A husband and wife team of naturalists describes the plants and animals in the Grand Canyon, the geological history of the canyon, and the damage done to it by people.

The marshes of the East Coast of the U.S., life forms found there, and the destruction of marshes so important to the environment.

Information about the many kinds of pigeons, including the dodo, the passenger pigeon, the rock dove, and the "city pigeon." The history of these birds stands as an ecological warning.

Teale writes about life on a small Connecticut farm, detailing his search for such a home and the natural wonders and beauty he discovered on his few acres.

This study explores the fascinating possibility that plants are capable of feeling and expressing emotion, reading minds, serving as lie detectors, and other activities which were believed to be beyond the potential of plants.

This true story of an abandoned wild puppy's struggle to survive was the basis for the award-winning TV documentary, "The Wild Dogs of Africa." (See also Innocent Killers, Ballantine.)

For ten years the author observed a herd of wild chimpanzees in Tanzania. Study of their families, their relationships, and the treatment of their young convinced her that these supposedly wild animals have developed a tribal civilization akin to humans.

How animals ingeniously use stone, wood, clay, and other natural materials to construct homes with hinged doors, wells 120 feet deep, air conditioning systems, and other such features.

A testimony in prose, poetry, and pictures to the beauty of these Pacific islands and a plea to protect their beauty from commercial exploitation.

Paul and Joy Wilkes noticed a brown and white dog living in Central Park in New York City. The dog clearly took good care of himself, but he was independent and unwilling to be friends with humans. Then one old man tried hard to win the dog's affection.

Wolf, Marguerite Hurrey. I'll Take the Back Road. Greene 1975.
In 1948, the author and her family left the city to move to rural Vermont. Her love of the farm and the back roads, animals, and people of Vermont is obvious.

Young, Stanley P., and Edward A. Goldman. The Puma: Mysterious American Cat. Dover 1946.
A report about the history, life habits, economic status, and control of the puma, from its place in Inca and Aztec cultures to modern field studies of this giant American cat.

Volume I is a detailed discussion of the history of wolves as well as a report of twenty-five years of field studies. Volume II is a data-filled, scientific classification of the species found on this continent.
ECOLOGY

Three men and a woman who hate our industrialized and mechanized society decide to blow up the Glen Canyon dam. Fiction.

Baron, Robert Alex. The Tyranny of Noise. St Martin 1970.
An authority on noise abatement and the dangers of noise to human beings establishes the case for noise controls and legislation.

A pictorial and narrative account of the current and future roles of the Great Lakes as economic and recreational resources and of the many types of pollutants which threaten the survival of the lakes.

In words and pictures, this book describes six battles won by those who want to preserve our wilderness heritage.

Carson was one of the first ecologists to see the potential dangers of pesticides for plants, animals, and human beings. Her warnings were often ignored but have since become the watchwords of many ecologists and conservationists.

Commoner defines ecology, gives case histories of ecological disasters (smog in Los Angeles and water pollution in Lake Erie), demonstrates that our technological proficiency has led and will lead to more ecological nightmares, and shows how we can change to give ourselves a chance for survival.

The Supreme Court justice recounts what humankind has done to befoul the air, the water, the animals, and itself and suggests ways we may yet win the battle to save the world. Mature.

A fictional account of the life cycle of the eagle that speaks strongly about humanity's senseless destruction of the environment. Fiction.

Eastlake, William. Dancers in the Scalp House. Viking
Pr 1975.
A group of Indians decides to explode an atomic bomb on a dam under construction since the dam will flood their land. Fiction.

Ehrlich, Paul. The Population Bomb (© 1968). Ballantine 1971.
Ehrlich's highly controversial book explores the possible effects of the worldwide population explosion on our air, food, and water supplies and possible effects on our moral codes. (See also Paul Ehrlich and Richard L. Harriman, How to Be a Survivor, Ballantine.) Mature.

Falk, Richard A. This Endangered Planet: Prospects and Proposals for Human Survival (© 1971). Vin-
Random 1972.
An overview of the world environmental crisis, its causes, and some badly needed worldwide strategies for the future. Mature.

A writer for one of Ralph Nader's task forces on American pollution reports on the environmental crisis in Savannah, Georgia, where the Savannah River is being contaminated by sewage and industrial wastes.

The facts about the population crisis, an examination of the special problems faced by developing nations, and an objective examination of moral issues involved.

Godfrey, Arthur, editor. The Arthur Godfrey Environ-
An excellent introduction to environmental studies with excerpts from such major works in the field as Rachel Carson's Silent Spring, Wesley Marx's The

Twelve years ago, Graham and his wife moved to the Maine seacoast to be free from air and water pollution. They gradually discovered that decisions made by marine engineers, oil companies, and others affect the whole world of nature, from Japan to Texas to Maine.

An examination of alleged negative effects the ecology, consumer, and feminist movements have had upon the American economy and lifestyle. The book's takes to task everyone from Rachel Carson to Gloria Steinem. A conservative view of contemporary issues.

The types of pollution confronting modern humanity—air, water, noise, and others—and what is being done and what the reader can do to change the situation.

The former secretary of the interior records his hopes for conservation by the Nixon administration and his final disillusionment. He suggests that we all own America and that we must all work to keep it safe from those who would destroy it instead of preserving it.

The history of the Sierra Club and the battle to save Yosemite from commercialization is also a history of the changing social attitude toward the wilderness—an attitude which holds that wilderness areas are necessary for ecological balance as well as natural beauty.

This Sierra Club handbook is aimed at anyone who would like to keep some open space in the city and who would like to keep housing tracts from swallowing up space that could be used for parks and recreation areas.

Maddox takes issue with popular concern over population growth, pollution, and the depletion of natural resources and disagrees with those who doubt humanity's ability to solve such problems.

The author believes that the ecology of our continent is in danger and that the crisis is due to the "engineering mentality" which has raped the land and wildlife. Mature.

A detailed but readable examination of the earth's ecosystems, of people as polluters, and of our need to solve some major pollution problems. The book is optimistic, suggesting how technology can be used to correct humanity's past ecological blunders.

The author is convinced that life on earth may end soon if humanity does not do something about pesticides and polluted air and water. A list of books, films, and organizations concludes this warning.

Our supply of natural resources is dwindling, and the author explores some problems in finding new resources and suggests how we will have to face the problem.

Mike Harrington thinks about girls sometimes, but most of the time he is absorbed in his study of nature and natural history. Then a land developer plans to build on the woodland that Mike studies, and Mike sets out to fight the intruder. Fiction.

Packard argues that most Americans bear the responsibility for our conspicuous consumption and even more conspicuous waste since we are in some way involved in the businesses guilty of wasting materials and creating the resource, power, and ecological dilemmas we face today.

Papanek, dean of the School of Design at the California Institute of the Arts, discusses designing products and tools to benefit people, not manufacturers and profitmakers. He and his students have devised a tin can radio costing nine cents and an educational TV costing eight dollars to manufacture. Mature.

Worried about the collapse of Western civilization, the author analyzes what madness and drives of humanity have led to our present predicament. He contends that we have lost our sense of community, our ability to identify with others. Mature.

A comparative study of the Arctic and Antarctic focusing on native species' ability to adapt to ecological imbalances. Perry concludes that Antarctica's wildlife is relatively safe but that the Arctic's ecology is precarious.

The case against the use of stronger and stronger pesticides which might be more appropriately called "bioicides" and a plea for the use of alternative methods for dealing with insect pests.

This book speaks lyrically of the history, beauty, and wonder of the Everglades and lashes out at those who have and would destroy this tropical wilderness. Photographs.

A factual and detailed examination of metals and other elements as pollutants and as substances bene-
This work, which avoids technical jargon, is a good starting point in the study of the safeguarding of our resources and life support systems.

Three essays explore the ecological dilemma from the biological, economical, and political points of view. Mature.

A horrifying report of the damage done to human beings when toxic wastes were dumped into Minamata Bay in southern Japan. The authors detail the effects of the mercury poison on those who did not die immediately and the legal battles between the people and the company dumping the poisonous materials.

Snyder, Ernest E. Please Stop Killing Me! NAL 1971.
Snyder notes the many ways humanity and technology have increased the likelihood of death in the twentieth century through radiation, smog-induced cancer, and toxic poisoning in foods or water. He concludes by suggesting ways humanity can stave off some of its self-induced ills.

This collection has stories by such authors as Ray Bradbury, Edgar Allan Poe, E. B. White, and others, all concerned with ecology. Fiction.

The life of the woman whose book Silent Spring warned the world about the dangers of pesticides. While she was attacked by many groups for her comments, she became a heroine to many people who wanted to save humanity from itself.

In the twenty-first century, five teenagers and Aunt

421
Skies and Mountains

Zeb leave the protective dome of "New City" to explore the world of nature which was ravaged and destroyed by twentieth-century humanity's disregard for its natural environment. Fiction.

The former secretary of the interior warns the nation about the destruction of our natural resources and animals and the great American wildernesses through the fouling of the air, water, and land and recommends ways to save our land and ourselves.

In December 1952, 4,000 London residents died when the city was overwhelmed by smog. The author describes what led to the smog, what we should learn from the catastrophe, and what we can do to lessen the chances of a repetition.

A study of water pollution by one of Ralph Nader's groups working on American pollution. Who and what is causing water pollution and what can be done to stop it.

SKIES AND MOUNTAINS

"Buzz" Aldrin, second man to walk on the moon, tells of his challenging exploits as an astronaut and of the devastating depression that overcame him when the journey was over, an illness which required hospitalization and psychiatric counseling before he regained his health.

This first-person account of the historic climb up the treacherous south face of Annapurna—one of the most formidable mountains in the world—presents a detailed picture of the planning, the challenge, and the tragedy which were elements of the climb.
Quasars, bluish star-like bodies that emit unusual amounts of radio energy from the most distant reaches of the universe, receive a thoughtful examination. Included with the numerous photographs and illustrations are discussions of novae, pulsars, and other galaxies.

Two astronomers, two science fiction writers, and a science editor met the day before Mariner 9 arrived at Mars in 1971 and discussed their ideas about the famous planet. And, a year later, they reacted to their original statements in the light of the Mariner 9 discoveries.

This encyclopedic publication offers concise explanations of our present knowledge about the solar system and other galaxies, including pulsars, quasars, and black holes. Eighty pages are devoted to full-color photographs and drawings from American, British, and Australian sources. Mature.

Describes the accomplishments of space technology during the 1950s and 1960s and discusses various possibilities for the future, including the building of cities on other planets and traveling to distant stars. Mature.

This revision of Clarke's 1954 history of rocketry, Going Into Space, reviews the amazing amount of new information that has been generated by space accomplishments in the 1960s.

Mountains have always been important in our mythologies, our religions, our history, and our love of nature. The author examines the geology of mountains and the adventures of people who have tried to scale them.
Collins, the Apollo astronaut who guided the command module while Armstrong and Aldrin landed on the moon, recounts his years with the space program.

The author, a Supreme Court justice and an ardent conservationist, writes of his experiences along the Pacific Ocean but especially his hikes and horseback rides into the Olympic Mountains and the High Sierra.

A history of the development of space stations and shuttles with discussion of future prospects for 100-person space stations and interplanetary probes.

Ten stories about mountain climbing, from a young mountaineer in Germany to the search for the Abominable Snowman. Fiction.

Flying and fliers in America, from the planes they love—be it an Armstrong-Whitworth Argosy or a Boeing 377 Stratocruiser—to the glories of flight itself.

Many legendary lost mines, especially the Lost Dutchman Mine, are reputed to be in the Superstition Mountains of Arizona. Men have died or been killed searching for the Lost Dutchman.

Grissom may have been a shy, small-town girl, but the man she married thrust her into the public spotlight with him. He was Gus Grissom, an astronaut and one of three men to die in the 1967 flash fire in the Apollo command module.

A history of solar energy, with discussions of the promising prospects of orbiting solar power plants, thermal energy from the sea, and the proposal for a 5,000-square mile, pollution-free solar power plant in the desert of the Southwest that could supply energy for the entire United States.

424

Haston has been a mountain climber most of his life. This story covers his climbs, from a railway bridge in Scotland to the Alps and Mt. Everest.

Emphasizing military more than civilian applications, this is the history of photography as a means of reconnaissance and mapping. Heiman also describes the development of aircraft which have been especially useful for aerial photography.

Herzog led a French expedition to the Himalayan Mountains to be the first group to climb 26,493-foot Annapurna.

Hillary was the first white person to stand on the summit of 29,028-foot Mount Everest. He also led an expedition in search of the Abominable Snowman.

King was a geologist, mining engineer, and mountain climber who loved the California Sierra Nevada. His description is especially fresh and fascinating because his climbing came when the whole range was virtually unknown wilderness to the rest of the country.

Klass, Philip J. UFOs Identified. Random 1968.
A new scientific theory is presented by the author to account for the appearances of UFOs, some likely reported by cranks but some identified by scientists and aviators.

The history of the Rockies, beginning in 1859, is traced in this book, which includes people, places, events, and philosophies which shaped this region of America.

During the 1870s, a trainload of passengers is caught by a blizzard in the Rocky Mountains. Fiction.

Because intelligent life almost certainly exists elsewhere in the universe, earth's humans have attempted to contact distant galaxies. Macvey examines the theories of extraterrestrial life, archaeological mysteries, advances of radio astronomy, mathematical language for interstellar communications, and methods of long-distance space travel. Mature.

The dirigibles built by the Zeppelin Company of Germany had a record of more than a million air-miles of accident-free travel. Zeppelin's Hindenburg was to be the greatest of these flying machines, but on its eleventh flight the passengers did not know what the officers knew—that a bomb had been planted to blow up the dirigible.

Beyond our moon lie the planets, their moons, and distant stars. Through text and dramatic paintings, Moore and Hardy take the reader on a tour of what might someday be seen and experienced by earth's explorers.

Two astronomers lay out the evidence for black holes, superheavy masses in space from which neither matter nor light can escape.

One of the great naturalists, explorers, and conservationists of his time, Muir relates his experiences in the California Sierras, the animals, the winds, the majesty. (See also The Yosemite, Anchor Pr.)
Muirden's guide to viewing stars, planets, and other celestial bodies through a telescope includes equipment selection, mirror making, and advice on building your own telescope. Mature.

A thorough and simplified introduction to the basics of locating stars and enjoying star-gazing. Neely's original ideas and step-by-step directions are accompanied by nearly 100 "sky pictures" and charts.

Peltier explains how, without costly telescopes or elaborate charts, an unfamiliar observer can learn to recognize fifteen of the brightest stars which then lead to neighboring stars and constellations. Also contains brief chapters on planets, comets, meteors, variable stars, novae, and zodiacal light.

Helps beginning star-gazers locate key stars, constellations, and various nebulae with the naked eye.

An airplane carrying Uruguayan rugby players to a game in Chile crashed in the Andes in October 1972. The survivors endured cold and hunger, and two of them finally left to find help.

Roberts and his best friend attempted to scale Mt. Deborah in Alaska. Their failure was due to bad luck, bad weather, and a breakdown of their friendship.

Four Harvard students tried to climb Alaska's Mt.
Huntington in 1965. Roberts conveys the fear and thrills of climbing and the horror of watching a companion fall to his death.

From the ancient efforts to comprehend the order of the universe to the present use of radio telescopes and interplanetary space probes, Ronan describes the fascinating history of astronomy. In a later book (Astronomy, B&N), Ronan explores the struggles, both successful and unsuccessful, in the 2,000-year study of astronomy. Mature.

Orland Bartholomew explored the California Sierra Nevada and during six months in 1928–1929 made the first solo climb of Mt. Whitney. Rose reconstructed the story from Bartholomew's diary.

Scott was the first solo pilot to fly directly over the North Pole in a light aircraft. She broke over 100 world air records and has been in many air races.

On June 16, 1963, a Russian spaceship blasted off and went into orbit. The cosmonaut was Tereshkova, the first woman to be directly involved in a space shot. Her biography also gives a history of the development of Soviet science and space knowledge.

After the gold and silver rushes were over, ghost towns remained behind. Silverberg tells about the past glories and present conditions of ghost towns throughout the West.

After a few chapters on the history of aviation, the author discusses how planes fly, how to learn to fly, and many scientific facts about aviation.

Snyder and two friends joined a 1967 expedition to climb 20,320-foot Mt. McKinley in Alaska. Of the twelve men who began the climb, only five survived, in part because of inexperience, in part because of bad luck and bad weather.

Thomas touches on the geological formation of mountains; their beauty and magnificence; mountains in Europe, Asia, Africa, and North and South America; and mountain climbing. Many photographs.

Underhill has climbed mountains in Europe and North America and led the first all-women climbing team to conquer the Matterhorn in Switzerland. She conveys her love of and awe for mountains.

The author describes why and how he took up the sport of gliding and his experiences in learning how to glide and competing with other gliders.

OCEANS

On May 29, 1970, four men set sail on a balsa raft. Their destination—Australia, 8,000 miles from their Ecuadorian homes. Their purpose—to establish the validity of the scientific hypothesis that ancient South American Indians had sailed far from their homeland.

Glimpses into tide pools, coral reefs, and the sea bottom from the point of view of ocean ecology showing the vital importance of the most minute of sea creatures to the entire life of the ocean community.
A contemporary survival story of a couple adrift in two rubber rafts in the Pacific. Catching fish with safety pins and turtles and birds by hand, talking for endless days about food and the new boat they would build, they withstood frequent storms and isolation for an incredible 117 days.

Bardach first surveys and evaluates our present knowledge of the oceans and methods of investigating them. Then he describes some of the possible uses of the oceans’ resources, such as farming fish. Mature.

Beach, Edward L. Dust on the Sea. HR&W 1972.
The author, a former commander on submarines, tells the story of patrol submarines in the last days of World War II in the Pacific. (See also Run Silent, Run Deep, PB.) Fiction.

Behrman describes advances and problems with marine science—from-the-point-of-view-of-various-oceanographers as well as from his own personal experiences.

Paintings and drawings enliven this collection of three diaries of nineteenth-century sailing experiences. One diary is by a young man on tour sailing from London to North America; the second is by an emigrant on his way to Australia; the third by a seventeen year old on his first voyage as a professional sailor.

Somewhat contrived (especially some of the sex-oriented passages), the novel is nevertheless a tension-filled story about what happens to a small Long Island resort town when a twenty-foot-long great white shark—the most vicious creature in the sea—begins to devour unsuspecting swimmers. Mature fiction.

The story of the nuclear-powered submarine Thresher, which sank in April 1963 with 129 men aboard and the naval inquiry that followed the disaster.

Borgese, Elisabeth Mann. The Drama of the Oceans.
Abrams 1976.
Text and pictures explore the shores and oceans of the world. Physical and biological aspects are covered, as are the human uses of the ocean environment, past, present, and future.

Caras, Roger A. Sockeye: The Life of the Pacific Sal-
A well-written narrative of the life of an individual salmon featuring its arduous journey from the ocean back to its breeding place.

Chichester, Sir Francis. “Gipsy Moth” Circles the Chichester kept a diary of his 226-day voyage around the world in his yacht, Gipsy Moth. What made his trip remarkable was that he sailed alone.

Clark, Eugenie. The Lady and the Sharks. Har-Row 1969.

Exciting adventures with sharks, sea turtles, and giant manta rays fill this story of Clark’s ten years as researcher and director of the Cape Haze Marine Laboratory in Florida. (See also Lady with a Spear, Har-Row.)

Coombs, Charles. Deep-Sea World: The Story of
The formation of the world’s oceans and the ways humanity can use the ocean resources intelligently are covered in this study of the science of oceanography.

Cousteau, Jacques-Yves, and Philippe Diole. Diving Colorful adventures with sea lions, elephant seals, and walruses as experienced by Cousteau and his internationally famous team of scientist-explorers aboard the research ship Calypso. (Earlier publications of Cousteau are World Without Sun, Har-Row; The Silent World, Ballantine; and The Living Sea, PB.)
The purpose of this book is "to project into the submarine world, to whet the appetites of future explorers, and to present the issues involved in our oceanic destiny."

Stories of famous ocean explorers who charted the currents, mapped the shorelines, measured the depths, and studied marine life from the South Seas to the Arctic.

Diole, Philippe (translator Alan Ross). The Undersea Adventure. Messner 1953.
Diole describes the poetry and beauty of the undersea world and the death and violence, too. One section is about undersea archaeology.

The Gulf Stream: geography, hydrography, climate, explorations, ecology, and stories from throughout history of famous voyages, exploratory adventures, military exploits, and sea monsters.

The youngest sailor to sail around the world alone, Graham describes the fierceness of the storms, the beauty of living a free life with an attractive girl in the South Pacific, and the incredible loneliness of the five-year journey he began at age sixteen.

The autobiography of Hass, a pioneer of ocean exploration and a popularizer of skin diving and underwater photography.

Heyerdahl struck out across the Atlantic in a reed boat to prove his theory about ancient people's colonization of the Western Hemisphere.
A compact analysis of the nature of the seas and oceans and a description of the food and mineral resources available for future development.

A study of the ocean floor, particularly the effects and significance of continental drift, and the ecological and political factors in oceanography. Mature.

With pictures and text, the authors present the fascinating history—both accomplishments and failures—of undersea craft, from the first diving bells and fanciful submarines to the most sophisticated modern research submersibles and underwater habitats.

Five young men, accompanied by a three-member film crew, sailed a sixty-foot schooner from California to Singapore, battling storms and reefs, encountering fascinating people and sights in the South Seas, and struggling throughout the year-long journey with their personal values, goals, and relationships with each other. Mature.

MacInnis gives a firsthand account of his life underwater, his treasure hunting, his search for a missing plane off Venezuela, the rescue of a diver in Lake Michigan.

An experienced diver describes underwater explorations for the remains of Spanish treasure ships, the Swedish man-of-war Vasa, and a sunken city.

The beauty and wealth of the sea and an urgent warning about the need to protect it from future damage. Mature.
The story of the filming of the movie Blue Water, White Death in which a courageous crew of underwater photographers searched for months to film close-up action shots of the most feared creature of the sea, the great white shark.

Modern life and tourism have almost destroyed the turtle fisheries, but in the Caribbean Sea, Raib Avers and his men on the schooner Lillias Eden set out to catch green turtles. Mature fiction.

The oceans offer great promise if we learn to take care of their resources. The author comments on what we are doing right and wrong with sewage and industrial wastes.

Mostert takes the reader on a long but absorbing journey through the quarter-mile-long oil tanker, Ardshiel, describing the ship and its operations, which threaten the lives of the crew, the security of coastal towns, and the very life and balance of the world's oceans. Mature.

Porpoises—especially those named Kathy, Alice, Keiki, and Pono—and whales—pilots, grays, and sperms—are the subjects of Norris's account of his personal and scientific experiences. Most informative are his descriptions of capturing and training pilot whales and various kinds of porpoises.

Although much information on dolphin behavior and language has been gathered since this book was written, O'Brien offers many insights into the life and behavior of these intelligent and entertaining mammals. Famous dolphin personalities—such as Mitzi (Flipper), Smily, and Carolina Snowball—are featured.
Three ocean disasters of the 1960s were the sinking of the U.S. nuclear submarine Thresher, the dropping of a hydrogen bomb into the sea when an American bomber exploded off the coast of Spain, and the oil spillage from the tanker Torrey Canyon off England. In all these, oceanographers were involved in trying to keep the oceans free from pollution.

After killer whales rammed and sank their schooner in 1972, a family of six struggled to survive in a nine-foot dingy against sun, sharks, storms, and starvation. The father vividly describes the ingenious ways that kept them alive in the Pacific for thirty-seven days.

Based on facts, this story describes the first year in the life of a sperm whale. Fiction.

The authors here describe some of the developments of ocean technology that will hopefully lead to better international laws of the sea.

Two men and a woman struggled to survive after their thirty-one-foot trimaran flipped over in a freak Pacific storm. More than a record of the physical struggle for survival, this true account describes the conflict between one man's belief in himself and the other man's fundamentalist and all-consuming belief in God's will.

Decrying the lack of care with which many amateur divers search shipwrecks for treasures, the author describes the growth of techniques in marine archaeology, many of them based on his personal experiences.
With text and photographs, Throckmorton takes the reader into the wrecks of the Heraclea, the Artemis, the Nautilus, and many ancient ships. Mature.

Tomalin, Nicholas, and Ron Hall. The Strange Last Voyage of Donald Crowhurst. PB 1970. Crowhurst sailed from England as one of many in a contest to sail solo around the world. He doctored records and instruments to make them appear that he had won the race (though he never left the Atlantic Ocean), but decided he could not lie to others and took drastic action to save face.

Trumbull, Robert. The Raft (© 1942). Pyramid Pubns n.d. This is the true story of the heroic endurance of three navy flyers who survived the Pacific in a tiny rubber raft for thirty-four days.

Walton, Bryce. Harpoon Gunner. T Y Crowell 1968. The story of a sixteen year old's experiences on a modern whaling ship hunting the nearly extinct blue whale. Eric had always dreamed of becoming a king gunner like his father, but he has second thoughts about his intentions as he learns to respect the giant mammals he is hunting. Fiction.

Wertenbaker, William. The Floor of the Sea: Maurice Ewing and the Search to Understand the Earth: Little 1974. The dramatic discovery of continental drift was the result of years of work by Ewing, founder of the world's leading marine geophysical research center. Mature.
DIRECTORY OF PUBLISHERS

A & W Visual Library. A & W Visual Library, 95 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10016
A S Barnes A.S. Barnes & Co., Inc., P.O. Box 421, Cranbury, NJ 08512
A-W Addison-Wesley Publishing Co., Inc., Jacob Way, Reading, MA 01867
Abelard Abelard-Schuman Ltd., 666 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10019
Abingdon Abingdon Press, 201 Eighth Avenue, South, Nashville, TN 37202
Abrams Harry N. Abrams, Inc., 110 East 59th Street, New York, NY 10022
Ace Bks Ace Books, 1120 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10036
Acropolis Acropolis Books, 2400 17th Street, N.W., Washington, DC 20009
Aladdin Aladdin Books. Orders to: Book Warehouse, Inc., Vreeland Avenue, Boro of Totowa, Paterson, NJ 07512
Alaska Northwest Alaska Northwest Publishing Co. Orders to: 130 Second Avenue, South, Edmonds, WA 98020
Am Heritage American Heritage Publishing Co., 1221 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10036
Am West American West Publishing Co. Orders to: Charles Scribner's Sons, Shipping & Service Center, Vreeland Avenue, Totowa, NJ 07512
Anch Pr Anchor Press. Orders to: Doubleday & Co., Inc., 501 Franklin Avenue, Garden City, NY 11530
Ann Forfreedom Ann Forfreedom, 1947 Bell, No. 26, Sacramento, CA 95825
Arbor Hse Arbor House Publishing Co., 641 Lexington Avenue, New York, NY 10021
Arc Bks Arc Books. Orders to: Arco Publishing Co., Inc., 219 Park Avenue, South, New York, NY 10003
Archway Archway Paperbacks, 630 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10020

437 429
Directory of Publishers

Arco Arco Publishing Co., Inc., 219 Park Avenue, South, New York, NY 10003

Ariel Ariel, Box 9183, Berkeley, CA 94709

Arlington Hse Arlington House Publishers, 165 Huguenot Street, New Rochelle, NY 10801

Asan Pr Association Press, 291 Broadway, New York, NY 10007

Atheneum Atheneum Publishers. Orders to: Book Warehouse, Inc., Vreeland Avenue, Boro of Totowa, Paterson, NJ 07512

Avon Avon Books, 959 Eighth Avenue, New York, NY 10019

Award Hse Award House. Orders to: Award Books, 350 Kennedy Drive, Hauppauge, NY 11788

Baker Bk Baker Book House, 1019 Wealthy Street, S.E., Grand Rapids, MI 49506

Ballantine Ballantine Books, Inc. Orders to: Random House; Inc., 457 Hahn Road, Westminster, MD 21157

Bantam Bantam Books, Inc. Orders to: 414 East Golf Road, Des Plaines, IL 60016

Basie Basic Books, Inc., 10 East 53rd Street, New York, NY 10022

Beacon Pr Beacon Press, Inc., 25 Beacon Street, Boston, MA 02108

Berkley Pub Berkley Publishing Corp. Orders to: G. P. Putnam's Sons, 200 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10016

Blair John F. Blair, Publisher, 1406 Plaza Drive, S.W., Winston-Salem, NC 27103

Bobbs Bobbs-Merrill Co., 4300 West 62nd Street, Indianapolis, IN 46268

Bradbury Pr Bradbury Press, 2 Overhill Road, Scarsdale, NY 10583

Braziller George Braziller, Inc., 1 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10016

Brigham Brigham Young University Press, 205 University Press Building, Provo, UT 84602
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Publisher</th>
<th>Address</th>
<th>City, State, Zip</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Free Pr</td>
<td>Free Press, Orders to: Macmillan Publishing Co., Inc., Front &amp; Brown Street, Delran Township, Riverside, NJ 08075</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Friend Pr</td>
<td>Friendship Press, 475 Riverside Drive, New York, NY 10027</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>FS&amp;G</td>
<td>Farrar, Straus &amp; Giroux, Inc., 19 Union Square, West, New York, NY 10003</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Funk &amp; W</td>
<td>Funk &amp; Wagnalls Co, Orders to: Thomas Y. Crowell Co., 665 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10019</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Globe</td>
<td>Globe Book Co., Inc., 175 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10010</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greene Press</td>
<td>Stephen Greene Press, P.O. Box 1000, Battleboro, VT 05301</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greenwood</td>
<td>Greenwood Press, Inc., 51 Riverside Avenue, Westport, CT 06880</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grove Press</td>
<td>Grove Press, Inc., 53 East 11th Street, New York, NY 10003</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>H M Gousha</td>
<td>H. M. Gousha, 2001 the Alameda, P.O. Box 6227, San Jose, CA 95150</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harbrace</td>
<td>Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, Inc., 757 Third Avenue, New York, NY 10017</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harper Mag Pr</td>
<td>Harper Magazine Press, 2 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10016</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harvard U Pr</td>
<td>Harvard University Press, 79 Garden Street, Cambridge, MA 02138</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hastings</td>
<td>Hastings House, Publishers, Inc., 10 East 40th Street, New York, NY 10016</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hawthorn</td>
<td>Hawthorn Books, Inc., 260 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10016</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hayden</td>
<td>Hayden Book Co., Inc., 50 Essex Street, Rochelle Park, NJ 07662</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Herald Pr Herald Press, 616 Walnut Avenue, Scottdale, PA 15683
Herder & Herder Herder and Herder, 1221 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10036
HM Houghton Mifflin Co., 2 Park Street, Boston, MA 02107
Holiday Holiday House, Inc., 18 East 53rd Street, New York, NY 10022
Howell-North Howell-North Books, 1050 Parker Street, Berkeley, CA 94710
HR&W Holt, Rinehart & Winston, Inc., 383 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10017
Ind U Pr Indiana University Press, Tenth & Morton Streets, Bloomington IN 47401
Iowa St U Pr Iowa State University Press, South State Avenue, Ames, IA 50010
Japan Pubns Japan Publications Trading Co., Inc., 200 Clearbrook Road, Elmsford, NY 10523
John Day John Day Co., Inc., 666 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10019
John Knox John Knox Press, 341 Ponce De Leon Avenue, N.E., Atlanta, GA 30308
John Muir John Muir Publications. Orders to: Book People, 2940 Seventh Street, Berkeley, CA 94710
Jonathan David Jonathan David, Publishers, Inc., 68-22 Elliot Avenue, Middle Village, NY 11379
Knopf Alfred A. Knopf, Inc. Orders to: Random House, Inc., 400 Hahn Road, Westminster, MD 21157
Lathrop Norman Lathrop Enterprises, 2342 Star Drive, Wooster, OH 44691
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Directory of Publishers</th>
<th>435</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Lawrence Hill</td>
<td>Lawrence Hill &amp; Co., Inc., 150 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10011</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lerner Pubns</td>
<td>Lerner Publications Co., 241 First Avenue, North, Minneapolis, MN 55401</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lippincott</td>
<td>J. B. Lippincott, Co., East Washington Square, Philadelphia, PA 19105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Little</td>
<td>Little, Brown &amp; Co. Orders to: 200 West Street, Waltham, MA 02154</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Liveright</td>
<td>Liveright Publishing Corp. Orders to: W. W. Norton Co., Inc., 500 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10036</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lothrop</td>
<td>Lothrop, Lee &amp; Shepard Co. Orders to: William Morrow &amp; Co., Inc., 6 Henderson Drive, West Caldwell, NJ 07006</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lowell Pr.</td>
<td>Lowell Press, 115 East 31st Street, Box 1877, Kansas City, MO 64141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Macmillan</td>
<td>Macmillan Publishing Co., Inc. Orders to: Front &amp; Brown Street, Delran Township, Riverside, NJ 08075</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Macrae Smith Co.</td>
<td>Macrae Smith Co., 225 South 15th Street, Philadelphia, PA 19102</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McKay</td>
<td>David McKay Co., Inc., 750 Third Avenue, New York, NY 10017</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Messner</td>
<td>Julian Messner, Inc. Orders to: Simon &amp; Schuster, Inc., 1 West 39th Street, New York, NY 10018</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller Bks</td>
<td>Miller Books, 409 San Pasqual Drive, Alhambra, CA 91801</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moody</td>
<td>Moody Press, 820 North LaSalle Street, Chicago, IL 60610</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morrow</td>
<td>William Morrow &amp; Co., Inc. Orders to: 6 Henderson Drive, West Caldwell, NJ 07006</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NAL</td>
<td>New American Library, 1301 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10019</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Nash Pub  Nash Publishing Corp.  Orders to:  E. P. Dutton & Co., Inc., 201 Park Avenue, South, New York, NY 10003

Naylor  Naylor Co.  Orders to:  P.O. Box 1838, San Antonio, TX 78206

NCTE  National Council of Teachers of English, Order Department, 1111 Kenyon Road, Urbana, IL 61801

Nelson  Thomas Nelson, Inc.  Orders to:  407 Seventh Avenue, South, Nashville, TN 37203

New Community  New Community Projects, 32 Rutland Street, Boston, MA 02118

New Directions  New Directions Publishing Corp.  Orders to:  J. B. Lippincott Co., East Washington Square, Philadelphia, PA 19105

New West Pubns  New West Publications, Civic Center, Box 4037, San Rafael, CA 94903

Noble  Noble & Noble Publishers, Inc., 1 Dag Hammarskjold Plaza, 245 East 47th Street, New York, NY 10017

Northland  Northland Press, P.O. Box N, Flagstaff, AZ 86001

Norton  W. W. Norton & Co., Inc., 500 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10036

NYGS  New York Graphic Society, Ltd.  Orders to:  Little, Brown & Co., 200 West Street, Waltham, MA 02154

Overlook Pr  Overlook Press.  Orders to:  Vikeship Co., 253 Murray Hill Parkway, East Rutherford, NJ 07073

Pacific Bks  Pacific Books, Publishers, P.O. Box 558, Palo Alto, CA 94302

Paddington  Paddington Press Ltd.  Orders to:  Two Continents Publishing Group, 5 South Union Street, Lawrence, MA 01843

Pantheon  Pantheon Books.  Orders to:  Random House, Inc., 457 Hahn Road, Westminster, MD 21157

Panther Hse  Panther House, Ltd., P.O. Box 3552, New York, NY 10017

Paperback Lib  Warner Paperback Library, 75 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, NY 10019
Parents Magazine Press, 52 Vanderbilt Avenue, New York, NY 10017

PB Pocket Books, Inc. Orders to: Simon & Schuster, Inc., 630 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10020

Penguin Penguin Books, Inc. Orders to: 7110 Ambassador Road, Baltimore, MD 21207

Pfau/Standard Pfau/Standard. Orders to: 8121 Hamilton Avenue, Cincinnati, OH 45231

Popular Lib Popular Library, Inc., 600 Third Avenue, New York, NY 10011

Praeger Praeger Publishers, 111 Fourth Avenue, New York, NY 10003

Putnam G. P. Putnam's Sons, 200 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10016

Pyramid Pubns Pyramid Publications, Inc., 919 Third Avenue, New York, NY 10022

Quinto Sol Pubns Quinto Sol Publications, Inc., P.O. Box 9275, Berkeley, CA 94709

Rand Rand McNally & Co., P.O. Box 7600, Chicago, IL 60680

Random Random House, Inc. Orders to: 457 Hahn Road, Westminster, MD 21157

Readers Digest Pr Reader's Digest Press. Orders to: E. P. Dutton & Co., Inc., 201 Park Avenue, South, New York, NY 10003

Ritchie Ward Ritchie Press, 474 South Arroyo Parkway, Pasadena, CA 91105

Rosen Pr Richards Rosen Press, Inc., 29 East 21st Street, New York, NY 10010

S & S S. G. Phillips, Inc., 305 West 86th Street, New York, NY 10024

S & S Simon & Schuster, Inc., 630 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10020

Sat Rev Pr Saturday Review Press. Orders to: E. P. Dutton & Co., 201 Park Avenue, South, New York, NY 10003
Scarecrow Scarecrow Press, Inc., 52 Liberty Street, Box 656, Metuchen, NJ 08840

Schol Bk Serv Scholastic Book Services. Orders to: 906 Sylvan Avenue, Englewood Cliffs, NJ 07632

Scribner Charles Scribner's Sons. Orders to: Shipping & Service Center, Vreeland Avenue, Totowa, NJ 07512

Seabury Seabury Press, Inc., 815 Second Avenue, New York, NY 10017

Shameless Hussy Pr Shameless Hussy Press, Box 424, San Lorenzo, CA 94580

Sheed Sheed & Ward, Inc., 6700 Squibb Road, Mission, KS 66202

Sierra Sierra Club Books. Orders to: Charles Scribner's Sons, Shipping & Service Center, Vreeland Avenue, Totowa, NJ 07512

St Martin St. Martin's Press, Inc., 175 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10010

Stackpole Stackpole Books, Cameron & Keller Streets, Harrisburg, PA 17105

Stein & Day Stein & Day, 7 East 48th Street, New York, NY 10017

Sterling Sterling Publishing Co., Inc., 419 Park Avenue, South, New York, NY 10016

Strode Strode Publishers, 6802 Jones Valley Drive, S.E., Huntsville, AL 35802

Swallow Swallow Press, 1139 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago, IL 60605

T Y Crowell Thomas Y. Crowell Co., 666 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10003

Taplinger Taplinger Publishing Co., Inc., 200 Park Avenue, South, New York, NY 10003

Tempo G&D Tempo Books. Orders to: Grosset & Dunlap, Inc., 51 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10010

Ten Speed Pr Ten Speed Press, Box 4310, Berkeley, CA 94704

Tundra Bks Tundra Books of Northern New York, 18 Cornelia Street, Box 1030, Plattsburgh, NY 12901
Twin Circle: Twin Circle Publishing Co., Inc., 86 Riverside Drive, New York, NY 10024

Two Continents: Two Continents Publishing Group, Ltd. Orders to: 5 South Union Street, Lawrence, MA 01843

U of Ariz Pr: University of Arizona Press, P.O. Box 3398, Tucson, AZ 85722

U of Cal Pr: University of California Press, 2223 Fulton Street, Berkeley, CA 94720

U of Chicago Pr: University of Chicago Press. Orders to: 11030 South Langley Avenue, Chicago, IL 60628

U of NM Pr: University of New Mexico Press, Albuquerque, NM 87131

U of Okla Pr: University of Oklahoma Press, 1005 Asp Avenue, Norman, OK 73069

Unicorn Pr: Unicorn Press, P.O. Box 3307, Greensboro, NC 27402

U of Minn Pr: University of Minnesota Press, 2037 University Avenue, S.E., Minneapolis, MN 55455

U of Nebr Pr: University of Nebraska Press, 901 North 17th Street, Lincoln, NB 68508

Vanguard: Vanguard Press, Inc., 424 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10017

Van Nos Reinhold: Van Nostrand Reinhold Co. Orders to: 300 Pike Street, Cincinnati, OH 45202

VinRandom: Vintage Books. Orders to: Random House, Inc., 457 Hahn Road, Westminster, MD 21157

Walck: Henry Z. Walck, Inc. Orders to: David McKay Co., Inc., 750 Third Avenue, New York, NY 10017

Walker & Co: Walker & Co., 720 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10019

Watts: Franklin Watts, Inc.—Orders to: Grolier, Inc., 845 Third Avenue, New York, NY 10022
Directory of Publishers

Westminster Westminster Press, Room 905, Witherspoon Building, Philadelphia, PA 19107

W H Freeman W. H. Freeman and Co. Publishers, 660
Market Street, San Francisco, CA 94104

Wollstonecraft Wollstonecraft, Inc., 6399 Wilshire
Boulevard, Los Angeles, CA 90048

Word Bks Word, Inc., P.O. Box 1790, Waco, TX 76703

WSP Washington Square Press, Inc. Orders to: Simon
& Schuster, Inc., 630 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY
10020
AUTHOR INDEX

| Aaron, Hank, 369 |
| Aaron, Jan, 167 |
| Abbe, Edward, 22, 59, 206, 408 |
| Abell, Harold, 303 |
| Bodisher, David J., 292 |
| Blackburn, China, 227 |
| Costa, Oscar Zeta, 172 |
| Cren, Jay, 350 |
| Cuba, Rudolfo, 173 |
| Dam, Andy, 22 |
| Dam, Laurie, 381 |
| Dam, Richard, 46 |
| Damone, Joe, 225 |
| Doff, Arnold, 162, 297 |
| Gee, James, 57, 107, 215 |
| Gel, Jerome, 342 |
| Guten, Joan, 5, 307 |
| Haines, Chingiz, 78 |
| Idan, Daisy, 267 |
| Ideman, Clifford Lindsey, 202, 243 |
| Idrich, Bass Streeter, 253 |
| Idriss, James, 13 |
| Idren, Edwin E., Jr., 380, 414 |
| Alexander, Rae Pace, 462 |
| Alexander, Shana, 131 |
| Ford, Harold J., 173 |
| Ilen, Mabel Estar, 5 |
| Ilgen, John, 273 |
| Ilen, Donald M., 298, 307 |
| Ilen, Samuel, 298 |
| Ilen, Sylvia, 41 |
| Ilen, Terry D., 144, 298 |
| Ilen, Woody, 329 |
| Ileno, Salvador, 226 |
| Inquist, Alan F., 185 |
| Isar, Vitali, 421 |
| Isar, Joseph, 387 |
| Ibler, Eric, 12 |
| McBee, Stephen E., 107 |
| Mes, Evelyn, 281 |
| Mcil, Kingsley, 335 |
| Mory, Cleveland, 397 |
| Nansen, Tovmo, 351 |
| Nader, Chuck, 253 |
| Nader, Dave, 370 |
| Nader, Margaret J., 47 |
| Nader, Maxwell, 298 |
| Nader, Peggy, 275 |
| Nader, Poet, 62 |
| Nader, Suzanne, 144 |
| Naten, Christine, 47 |
| Nagez, Roger, 359 |
| Nageu, Maya, 197, 298 |
| Nagler, Stanley W., 479 |
| Ngas, Douglas, 307 |
| Ngas, Sylvia, 307 |
| Nanemek, Carol, 88 |
| Nanth, Pierre, 29 |
| Pei, Willi, 291 |
| Eigel, Alfred, 107, 188 |
| Elee, Hector, 344 |
| Eber, Jules, 215, 235 |
| Eden, John, 243 |
| Edert, Robert, 368 |
| Emes, Roy, 238 |
| Meur, Richard, 325 |
| Marmong, Charlotte, 35 |

| Armstrong, Neil, 369 |
| Armstrong, Virginia Irving, 144 |
| Armstrong, William H., 162 |
| Arnold, Adele R., 108 |
| Arnold, Arnold, 121 |
| Arnold, Eddy, 145 |
| Arnold-Foster, Mark, 244 |
| Arnow, Boris Jr., 421 |
| Arvio, Raymond Paavo, 99 |
| Ashe, Arthur, 359 |
| Astinov, Isaac, 5, 33, 203, 229, 273, 425 |
| Asinof, Eliot, 57 |
| Astrov, Margot, 144 |
| Atwood, Margaret, 298 |
| Austin, W. H., 259 |
| Austin, Jane, 58 |
| Avery, Curtis E., 58 |
| Aymar, Brandit, 194 |
| Azuela, Mariano, 227 |
| Babcock, Deborah, 131 |
| Beate, Isaac, 298 |
| Bach, Alice, 66 |
| Bach, Richard, 99 |
| Bach, Walter M., 293 |
| Backus, Richard H., 407 |
| Bacon, Margaret Hope, 131, 212 |
| Baer, Joan, 131 |
| Bailey, F. Lee, 194 |
| Bailey, Marilyn, 422 |
| Bailey, Maurice, 422 |
| Baker, Betty, 22 |
| Baker, Daisy, 99 |
| Baker, Leonard, 194 |
| Baker, Marilyn, 216 |
| Baldick, Robert, 294 |
| Balduc, Carl, 298 |
| Baldwin, Gordon C., 388 |
| Baldwin, James, 56, 99, 162, 170, 216 |
| Baldwin, Lewis M., 174 |
| Baldwin-Stein, 359 |
| Ball, John, 5 |
| Banks, Lynne Reid, 58 |
| Barz, Sharon, 153 |
| Bardach, John, 422 |
| Barker, Mildred, 131 |
| Barkow, Al, 359 |
| Barnett, Lincoln, 206 |
| Barnhart, Clarence L., 260 |
| Barnhart, Robert R., 260 |
| Barnette, Victor, 64 |
| Baron, Robert Alex, 408 |
| Baron, Virginia Olsen, 182, 268 |
| Barret, S. M., 198 |
| Barto, Raymond, 173 |
| Barry, Anne, 130 |
| Barry, James F., 408 |
| Barsam, Richard Moran, 339 |
| Bartell, Jan Bryant, 47 |
| Barth, Alan, 154 |
| Barth, George Francis, 211 |
| Bascom, Willard, 368 |
| Bass, George F., 385 |
| Battocke, Gregory, 282 |
| Batten, Mary, 397 |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Author</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Baumann, Hans</td>
<td>265</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beach, Edward L.</td>
<td>422</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beagle, Peter</td>
<td>47</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beckman, Gunnel</td>
<td>78</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beekman, Arnold</td>
<td>217</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beichman, Arnold</td>
<td>217</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Belcher, Susan</td>
<td>138</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bein, R. C.</td>
<td>422</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bellamy, Edward</td>
<td>188</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bellamy, Francis Rufus</td>
<td>33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bell, Gwen</td>
<td>184</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bellamy, Francis</td>
<td>422</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bennet, Jay</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Benstock, Marcy</td>
<td>414</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bellow, Saul</td>
<td>307</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Benstock, Marcy</td>
<td>422</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bernikow, Lise</td>
<td>298</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bettenbender, John</td>
<td>288</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barch, Cyril</td>
<td>228</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bird, Caroline</td>
<td>131</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Biocca, Ettore</td>
<td>235</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bioy Casares, Adolfo</td>
<td>33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Birch, Cyril</td>
<td>228</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black, H. J.</td>
<td>184</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black, Max</td>
<td>260</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black, E. V.</td>
<td>266</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blair, Clay Jr.</td>
<td>244</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blank, Herbert</td>
<td>236</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Block, Irving</td>
<td>266</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bloodworth, Dennis</td>
<td>228</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bloomfield, Harold H.</td>
<td>100</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

450
Author Index
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Page(s)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Clements, Bruce</td>
<td>66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clifford, Eth</td>
<td>205</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clifford, William</td>
<td>249</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clark, Harry M.</td>
<td>105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clason, Ernest</td>
<td>282</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chalmers, Harold</td>
<td>288, 289</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cohle, Clyde &quot;Nino&quot;</td>
<td>109</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cogswell, Theodore R.</td>
<td>35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cohen, Daniel</td>
<td>40, 183, 274</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cohen, George M.</td>
<td>283</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cohen, Nils</td>
<td>316</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Colby, Jean Poindexter</td>
<td>122, 205</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cole, Bernard</td>
<td>177</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cole, Maria</td>
<td>316</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cole, William</td>
<td>300, 238</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Coleman, Earl</td>
<td>229</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Coleman, Ken</td>
<td>122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Colletti, Rosemary</td>
<td>398</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Collier, James Lincoln</td>
<td>79, 283, 300</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Collier, Peter</td>
<td>265, 218</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Collins, Larry</td>
<td>245</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Collins, Michael</td>
<td>7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Collins, Michael</td>
<td>380, 416</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Collins, William</td>
<td>164</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Colman, Hila</td>
<td>66, 173, 179, 189</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Commoner, Barry</td>
<td>408</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Condon, Richard</td>
<td>13</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Connor, Frank</td>
<td>23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Conlan, Hila</td>
<td>66, 205, 283</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Constant, Alberta Wilson</td>
<td>283</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Constenir, Merle</td>
<td>205</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crow, Edward</td>
<td>274</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cook, Ann</td>
<td>185</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cook, D. J.</td>
<td>23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cooke, Alastair</td>
<td>218</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cooke, Jeanne</td>
<td>133</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Coolidge, Olivia</td>
<td>229</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Coombs, Charles</td>
<td>423</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Coon, Carleton S.</td>
<td>395</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cooper, Pauline</td>
<td>109</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cooper, Robert</td>
<td>88, 336</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Coxe, Myron</td>
<td>361</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Corbett, James E.</td>
<td>398</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Corcoran, Barbara</td>
<td>66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Corfe, Edwin</td>
<td>147</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Corliss, Richard</td>
<td>346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cornett, Robert</td>
<td>79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cornelius, Temple H.</td>
<td>23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Corrigan, Robert W.</td>
<td>289</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cowen, Leonard</td>
<td>122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Costello, John</td>
<td>1, 6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cotrell, Leonard</td>
<td>375, 391</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Couglahan, George G.</td>
<td>155</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Coutantler, Harold</td>
<td>147</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Coutantler, Jacques-Yves Yves</td>
<td>423</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cox, William R.</td>
<td>174, 361</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Coy, Harold</td>
<td>174, 291</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Coyne, John</td>
<td>122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Croy, John</td>
<td>66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crook, Kathryn</td>
<td>178</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crane, Milton</td>
<td>328</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crane, Stephen</td>
<td>66, 309</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crane, William L.</td>
<td>213</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Craven, Margaret</td>
<td>274</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crawford, Charles P.</td>
<td>66, 67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crawford, Thomas Edgar</td>
<td>24</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Creamey, Robert W.</td>
<td>361</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Creasy, John</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Creamey, Robert</td>
<td>307</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crews, Harry</td>
<td>328</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crichton, Michael</td>
<td>13, 35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Criner, Beatrice</td>
<td>122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Criner, Calvin</td>
<td>122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cist, Judith</td>
<td>346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Croichnow, Keith</td>
<td>424</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cronin, A. J.</td>
<td>89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cronyn, George W.</td>
<td>300</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cross, Willard</td>
<td>391</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crow, Jeanne</td>
<td>358</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crowder, David L.</td>
<td>109</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crowe, John</td>
<td>7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crowther, Booker</td>
<td>346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crowther, Booker</td>
<td>358</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Curtis, Edward S.</td>
<td>147</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Curtis, Natalie</td>
<td>147</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Curtis, Richard</td>
<td>109</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cuiter, Elizabeth R.</td>
<td>24</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cuthbertson, Tumi</td>
<td>375</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dales, Hy</td>
<td>185</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Daly, Maureen</td>
<td>67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D'Ambruso, Richard</td>
<td>110</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dan, Uri</td>
<td>21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dance, Stanley</td>
<td>316</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Daniel, Ralph T.</td>
<td>281</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Daniels, Jonathan</td>
<td>218</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Darby, Patricia</td>
<td>122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Darby, Ray</td>
<td>122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Darion, Joe</td>
<td>297</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dassow, Ethel</td>
<td>27</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dauphney, Charles Michael</td>
<td>424</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davil, Jay</td>
<td>148, 164, 172, 295, 361</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davidowicz, Lucy V.</td>
<td>243</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davidson, Basil</td>
<td>236</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davidson, BHI</td>
<td>361</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davidson, Donald</td>
<td>110</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davite-C. H. R. Ellis</td>
<td>266</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davies, Peter</td>
<td>79, 90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davis, Angela</td>
<td>218</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davis, Clove</td>
<td>317</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davis, Douglas M.</td>
<td>328</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davis, Lila</td>
<td>291</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davis, Gwen</td>
<td>59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davis, Marc</td>
<td>362</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davis, Sammy Jr.</td>
<td>317</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Day, A. Grove</td>
<td>300</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Day, Michael H.</td>
<td>301</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>de Angulo, Jaime</td>
<td>266</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Debo, Angel</td>
<td>145</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Debrey, Regina</td>
<td>256</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Debrie, J. R.</td>
<td>301</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>De Camp, L. Sprague</td>
<td>36, 291</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Decker, William</td>
<td>24</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Delford, Frank</td>
<td>317, 359</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Denham, T.</td>
<td>246</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deighton, Len</td>
<td>14, 246</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>De Jesus, Caroline Maria</td>
<td>236</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DeJellie, Don</td>
<td>362</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DeLoria, Vito, Jr.</td>
<td>148, 274</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Del Rey, Lester</td>
<td>36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>De Menil, Adelaide</td>
<td>156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>de Mille, Agnes</td>
<td>123, 283</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Denning, Richard</td>
<td>195</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dempsey, Hugh A.</td>
<td>110</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dęnise, R. Serge</td>
<td>317</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>De Roop, Robert S.</td>
<td>189</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>De Trevico, Elizabeth B.</td>
<td>229</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deutsch, Babette</td>
<td>266</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>De Vries, Peter</td>
<td>328</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dick, Philip K.</td>
<td>36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dickens, Charles</td>
<td>7, 328</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Author Index
Dickey, Glenn, 362
Dickinson, Peter, 50
Dickson, Gordon R.. 36
Dickson, Loyal, 110
Dillard, Annie, 101

Dillard, J. L., 201

Dineley; David, 381
Dinesen, leak, 309

Dinsdale, '11m, 50
Diolit, Philippe, 398, 423, 424

Divoky, Diane, 80
Dizenzo, Patricia, 134
-DoblerrBruce7218
Dobrin, Arnold, 123, 134
Dobson, Christopher, 237
Dodd, Ed, 123
Dohan, Mary Helen, 261
Donovan, John, 67, 80
Dorman; Michael, 196
Doreen, Norman, 196
Dorson, Richard M., 164, 267
Dostoyevsky, Fyodor, 101
Douglas, Lloyd C., 275
Douglas, William 0., 102, 110, 408.
416

Douglas.Hamilton, lain, 399
Douglas-Hamilton, Oria, 399
Douty, Esther M., 213
Dowd, David L., 246
Dowdell, Dorothy, 123
Dowdell, Joseph, 123
Dowden, Anne Ophelie. 399

'Downs, Ray F. 229
Doyle, Sir Artliur Conan, 7
Dreier, Peter, 181
Dreiser, Theodore, 90
Drew, Elizabeth, '219
Drimmer, Frederick, 110

Driver, Tom F., 289
Drotning, Phillip T., 165
Drummond, A. H., Jr., 381
Dryden, Ken, 362
Duckat, Walter, 123
Dulles, Allen, 14
Du Maurier, Daphne, 14
Dunbar, Ann, 232
Dunn, Mary Lois, 246
Dunstan, Mary J., 37
Durant, John, 362
Durgant, Raymond, 346

Ehrlich, Max, 50
Ehrlich, Paul, 409

Eiseley, Loren, Ill
Elder, Lonne, III, 289

Eldridge, Daniel, 232
Elfman, Blossom, 80
Elkin, Stanley, 309
Ellington, Edward Kennedy, 318
Elliott, Bob, 328

Ellis, Harry B., 237
Ellis, Mel, 7, 149
Elliscui, Ralph, 165

EilsbergrDantelr219
Ellson, Hal, 80

Elon, Amos, 237
Elwood, Roger, 37
Emboden, William A., 399
Emery,IGuy, 213
Emrich, Duncan, 267, 329
Engdahl Sylvia Louise, 37, 381
Engebrecht, P. A., 67
Engel, Lyle Kenyon, 375

Englebirdt, Stanley N., 123
Epstein, Cynthia Fuchs, 134
Epstein, Edward Jay, 353

Epstein, Isidore, 275
Erdoes, Richard, 115, 149
Erno, Richard, 67
Erskine, Albert, 316
Eskenazi, Gerald, 362

&darer, Arnulf K., 229
Esterer, Louise A. 229
Esterow, Milton, 2.83
Eunson, Dale, 25
Evans, Bergen, 267

Evans, Edna H., 399

Evans, Howard Ensign, 382
Evans, Mari, 300
Evans, Walker, 215

Evarts,'Hal G., 14, 25
Evers, Dora R., 124
Everson, William K., 340
Evslin, Bernard, 267, 268
Eyerly, Jeannette, 8, 80

East, Ben, 409
Eastlake, William, 409
Eastman, Charles A., 110
Easton, Carol, 317
-Eaton, Jeanette; 296
Eberhard, Wolfram, 229

Faber, Doris, 190
Faderman, Lillian, 177
Fager, Charles E., 219
Fahey, John, 149
Fair, Ronald L., 67, 165
Fairbairn, Ann, 165
Fairseivis, Walter A., Jr., 391
Falk, Irving A., 102
Falk, Richard A., 409
Fall, Thomas, 149
Follows, James M., 409
Farber, Jerry, 80
Farmer, Philip Jose, 37
Farson, Richard, 196
Fast, Howard, 37, 206
Fast, Julius, 261
Faulkner;-William,'90
Fay, Gordon S., 391

Edmondson, Madeleine, 317
Edwards, Anne, 346
Egle, John, 214

Fehrenbach, T. R., 149
Feiffer, Jules, 329
Feingold, S. Norman, 124
Feldmann, Suaan, 229, 268
Fenin, George N. 340
Fenner, Phyllis R., 8, 375, 416
Ferber, Edna, 219
Ferguson, Marilyn, 382

Durham, Marilyn, 24
Durham, Philip, 24
Durrell, Gerald, 399

Dwiggins, Don, 416
Dwyer-Joyce, Alice, 59

Earle, William, 90

.Ebert, P. K., 366
Ebon. Martin, 50
Eckert, Allan, 14, 111
Edmonds, I. G., 317, 375
'Edmonds, Walter D., 14, 206

945

Fecher, Constance, 111

452


Ferguson, Robert, 121, 146
Ferguson, Ems, 149
Feuerlicht, Roberta Strauss, 219
Finnery, Gertude E., 206
Fiore, Carlo, 111
Fiore, Quentin, 307
Fisher, John, 219
Fisher, Stan, 300
Fisher, David, 105
Fisher, Yadd, 406
Fischer, Yardi, 14, 25
Fitzgerald, Barbara, 113
Fitzgerald, Zelda, 90
Flaubert, Gustave, 59
Flender, Harold, 237
Fletcher, Colin, 276, 290
Fletcher, James Thomas, 283
Fleischer, Stuart, 265
Flood, Curt, 363
Flores, Angel, 300
Florescu, Radu, 59
Fowke, Edith, 268
Fox, Larry, 363
Fox, Paula, 68, 81
Fox, William Price, 329
France, Anatole, 190
Francis, Dick, 8
Francis, Dorothy Brenner, 8
Frank, Arno, 68
Frank, Gerald, 346
Frank, Pat, 57
Frank, Herbert W., 37
Frankel, Haskel, 316
Franken, Lecinda, 247
Franz, Carl, 238
Fransen, Greta, 392
Fraser, Walt, 363
Frederickson, Edwin, 68
Freudley, George, 289
Freedman, Frances S., 165
Freedman, Nancy, 38
French, Philip, 340
Friebourg, Marjorie G., 196
Fried, Joseph P., 185
Friedman, Bruce Jay, 329
Friedman, Leon, 247
Friedman, Myra, 318
Friendly, Fred W., 353
Froman, Robert, 190
Frost, Robert, 300
Fry, Ron, 108
Puentes, Carlos, 229
Pujal, Abeyomi, 230
Puller, R. Buckminster, 91
Puck, Charles Earl, 261
Furlong, William Barry, 263
Gabres, John, 340
Gaal, Joseph, 275
Garb, David, 300
Gaines, Ernest J., 165
Gaines, Steven S., 275
Galanos, Terry, 364
Gallaher, Thomas, 247
Gallant, Roy A., 261
Galsong, Arthur W., 238
Gammage, Allen L., 124
Gans, Ernest K., 416
Gard, Wayne, 25
Gardam, Jane, 63
Garber, Herb, 329
Gardner, Martin, 201, 202
Gardner, Richard, 174
Garfield, Brian, 5
Garlan, Patricks W., 37
Garrett, Emmeline, 275
Garr, Thomas, 159
Garvey, Andrew, 15
Garvin, Philip, 275
Gaskill, Thomas F., 424
Gaster, John, 269
Gat, Diniti V., 364
Gates, Gary Paul, 224
Gay, John, 330
Gay, Kathlyn, 124
Gaylin, Willard, 126
Geduld, Harry, 350
Gell, E. J., 262
Geller, Uri, 51
Genovese, Eugene D., 213
Gentry, Curt, 217, 416
Gergakas, Dan, 185
George, Jean Craighead, 68
George, Peter, 330
Gerber, Richard, 100
Gerold, David, 354
Gerson, Noel B., 243, 207
Gianfranco, Thomas F., 352
Gibbs, Alonzo, 207
Gibran, Khalil, 102
Gibson, Donald B., 88
Gibson, William, 260
Gifford, Denis, 340
Gilbert, Bill, 399
Gilles, Janice Holt, 207, 247
Gill, Marla Esther, 328
Gill, Brenda, 330
Gill, Dorka, 120, 424
Gillies, Stephen, 197
Gillett, Charlie, 318
Glimm, Frances, 130
Gilman, Charlotte Perkins, 134
Gilman, Kay Faolin, 263
Gilman, Robert C., 38
Giovanni, Nikki, 111, 134, 162, 306
Gipson, Fred, 15
Gleason, Michael, 262
Gish, Lilian, 346
Gitt, Ira, 369
Gittell, Marilyn, 185
Glassow, Brian, 353
Glazkosky, R., 344
Gluck, Richard, 344
Glueck, Judith, 275
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Author</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Gloag, Julian</td>
<td>8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Godfrey, Arthur</td>
<td>409</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goe, Lewis</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gogol, Nikolai</td>
<td>330</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gold, Robert S.</td>
<td>81</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Golden, Jeffrey</td>
<td>102</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goldman, Dan</td>
<td>129</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Golding, William</td>
<td>91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goldman, Edward A.</td>
<td>407</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goldstein, Kenneth K.</td>
<td>124</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goldstein, Richard</td>
<td>318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goldsworthy, Maurice</td>
<td>363</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gonzales, Rodolfo</td>
<td>174</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gonzales, Nancie L.</td>
<td>174</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goodavage, Joseph F.</td>
<td>51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goodman, Roger B.</td>
<td>310</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goodman, Walter</td>
<td>197</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goodrich, L. Carrington</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goodrich, Norma Loree</td>
<td>22</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gordon, Edhel Edice</td>
<td>98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gordon, John</td>
<td>357</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gordon, John Steele</td>
<td>318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goreau, Maurice</td>
<td>363</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Good, Merle</td>
<td>310</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greer, Germaine</td>
<td>136</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gregor, Arthur S.</td>
<td>61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gregory, Dick</td>
<td>106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grene, Hannah</td>
<td>91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Green, Margaret</td>
<td>207</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greene, Roger Lancelyn</td>
<td>265, 269</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greenberg, Al</td>
<td>306</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greenberg, Joanna</td>
<td>59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greenberg, Joel</td>
<td>344</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greenberg, Martin E.</td>
<td>45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greene, Reba</td>
<td>243</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greene, Bob</td>
<td>318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greenslade, Constance C.</td>
<td>69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greene, Graham</td>
<td>8, 15, 60, 111, 276, 330</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greenway, James C.</td>
<td>400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greensky, John</td>
<td>156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Green, Germaine</td>
<td>135</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gregory, Arther S.</td>
<td>51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gregory, Dick</td>
<td>106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grey, Zane</td>
<td>25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Griffith, Marion E.</td>
<td>111, 112</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Griffin, John Howard</td>
<td>220</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Griffin, Susan</td>
<td>135</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Griffith, A. Kinsey</td>
<td>109</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grinnell, Kirtsten</td>
<td>135</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grinnell, George Bird</td>
<td>269</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grimsen, Betty</td>
<td>415</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grimes, Wesley S.</td>
<td>207</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grossfield, Donald</td>
<td>121</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grossbard, Serge</td>
<td>336</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grubb, Davis</td>
<td>278</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grunick, Charles A.</td>
<td>124</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grunberger, Richard</td>
<td>248</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gruzinska, Bernhard</td>
<td>400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grumbach, Michael</td>
<td>400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Guarasci, Giovanni</td>
<td>331</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Guza, Chuck</td>
<td>166</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Guillaumet, Alfred</td>
<td>276</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Guitek, Bill</td>
<td>23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gummers, Richard M.</td>
<td>124</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gunderson, Keith</td>
<td>301</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gundersen, Peter</td>
<td>318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gurney, A. B.</td>
<td>25, 26</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Guthrie, Norma</td>
<td>26</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Guinan, Judith Ann</td>
<td>220</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gutteridge, Lindsey</td>
<td>50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Guy, Ross</td>
<td>51, 169</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Habenstreit, Barbara</td>
<td>197</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hadas, Moses</td>
<td>200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hadfield, Cedille</td>
<td>220</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Haggard, Elizabeth</td>
<td>81</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hahn, Emily</td>
<td>126</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hahn, Thid N.</td>
<td>248</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Halacy, D. S.</td>
<td>185, 276, 325, 410, 418</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Halderman, Joe W.</td>
<td>38, 248</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hale, Jacob Campbell</td>
<td>59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Haley, Alex</td>
<td>170</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hall, Adam</td>
<td>15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hall, James</td>
<td>364</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hall, James Norman</td>
<td>19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hall, Lynn</td>
<td>81, 197</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hall, Nancy Lee</td>
<td>135</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hall, Ron</td>
<td>248</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Halliday, William</td>
<td>400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Halliday, William F.</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Halfin, Robert</td>
<td>400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hajel, Grace</td>
<td>151</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Haman, Leo</td>
<td>93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hamlin, Dona Jane</td>
<td>392</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hamilton, Charles</td>
<td>318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hamilton, Diane</td>
<td>318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hamilton, Virginia</td>
<td>9, 60, 81, 156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harnett, Dietrich</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harmer, Earl, Jr.</td>
<td>91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Handsfield, Harriet</td>
<td>220</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Handsfield, Leicester</td>
<td>220</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Haney, Lynn</td>
<td>135</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hannum, Alberta</td>
<td>400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hanbury, Lorraine</td>
<td>197, 290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Happegood, Charles H.</td>
<td>392</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harcourt, Peter</td>
<td>344</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hardwick, Elizabeth</td>
<td>136</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hardy, David A.</td>
<td>434</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harker, Herbert</td>
<td>69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harman, Carter</td>
<td>284</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harmon, Terry</td>
<td>284</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harrington, Helene</td>
<td>236</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harris, Christie</td>
<td>319</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harris, Julie</td>
<td>250</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harris, Marilyn</td>
<td>51, 60, 161</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harris, Mark</td>
<td>364</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harris, Mitchell</td>
<td>187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harris, Rosemary</td>
<td>60, 209</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harris, Sydney J.</td>
<td>102</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harman, Edie</td>
<td>157</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harrison, Harry</td>
<td>39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harrison, William</td>
<td>23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hart, Dorothy E.</td>
<td>174</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hartley, L. P.</td>
<td>60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Haek, Jaroslav</td>
<td>331</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Author</td>
<td>Page Numbers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>--------</td>
<td>--------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Has'ell, Molly</td>
<td>340</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Haskins, James</td>
<td>112, 125</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Haskins, Jim</td>
<td>102</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Haslam, Gerald</td>
<td>310</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hayes, Hans</td>
<td>494</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hassan, Sansa</td>
<td>237</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Husto, Douglas</td>
<td>417</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hatch, Alden</td>
<td>91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Havercroft, Mary Sayre</td>
<td>284</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hawkes, Jacqueline</td>
<td>362</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hawkes, Gerald S.</td>
<td>382</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hayakawa, S.</td>
<td>262</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hayman, LeRoy</td>
<td>112</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Haynes, Betsy</td>
<td>207, 214</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Head, Ann</td>
<td>69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hase, Willard A.</td>
<td>61, 197</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harmer, David W.</td>
<td>146</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robert, Tom</td>
<td>152</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hedgpeth, William</td>
<td>190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Heiman, Grover</td>
<td>417</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Heisler, Robert F.</td>
<td>151, 185</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Helfman, Elizabeth S.</td>
<td>269</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hellegers, Louisa B.</td>
<td>285</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Heller, Joseph</td>
<td>91, 331</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Heller, Peter</td>
<td>364</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hellerman, Leon</td>
<td>230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hillman, Hal</td>
<td>184, 202, 302</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hellman, Lillian</td>
<td>112, 200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hemingway, Ernest</td>
<td>15, 92, 310</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hemmingsway, Joaquin</td>
<td>16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Henriksen, Harold G.</td>
<td>301</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hendin, David</td>
<td>102</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Heflin, Peter</td>
<td>364</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Henry, Oxford</td>
<td>310</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Henry, Will</td>
<td>95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Herloff, Nat</td>
<td>69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Herbert, Frank</td>
<td>39, 151</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Herod, James Leo</td>
<td>92</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Herman, Lewis</td>
<td>351</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hermann, William</td>
<td>249</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Herrigel, Eugenio</td>
<td>276</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Herriot, James</td>
<td>112</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Herron, Edward A.</td>
<td>354</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hensley, John</td>
<td>230, 381</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hensley, Seymour M.</td>
<td>249</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Herron, Maurice</td>
<td>417</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hesse, Hermann</td>
<td>92, 103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Heward, Bill</td>
<td>364</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hever, Henry</td>
<td>260</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hey, Nigel</td>
<td>303</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Heyerdahl, Thor</td>
<td>202, 424</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Heyman, Abigail</td>
<td>136</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hickel, Walter J.</td>
<td>410</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hickling, C. F.</td>
<td>425</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hickman, Janet</td>
<td>308</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hiebert, Roy</td>
<td>137</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Himan, Charlie</td>
<td>112, 344</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Illar, Sir Edmund</td>
<td>417</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Illman, Tony</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hillard, Robert L.</td>
<td>364</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hilton, James</td>
<td>100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hines, Chester</td>
<td>92</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hindley, Geoffrey</td>
<td>184</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hinton, S. E.</td>
<td>65, 82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hirschfeld, Burt</td>
<td>230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hochstein, Rolaine</td>
<td>78</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holzinger, Richard</td>
<td>208</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hogrefe, Pearl</td>
<td>136</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holme, Heinz</td>
<td>249</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holf, Stan</td>
<td>151</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Halsbrook, Hal</td>
<td>332</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Halsbrook, Sarah</td>
<td>284</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holland, Cecilia</td>
<td>126</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holland, Isabella</td>
<td>70, 82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holland, Zarela</td>
<td>264, 365</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holmes, Marjorie</td>
<td>270</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holmes, Edward</td>
<td>151</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holt, Victoria</td>
<td>16, 51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hook, Donald D.</td>
<td>112</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hook, Samuel H.</td>
<td>209</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hooker, Richard</td>
<td>332</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hookman, Hilda</td>
<td>230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hoppe, Nell E.</td>
<td>400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hoppe, Roy</td>
<td>198</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hoover, Helen</td>
<td>191</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hope, Anthony</td>
<td>16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hopkins, Lee Bennett</td>
<td>301</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Horgan, Paul</td>
<td>209</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Horni, Alistair</td>
<td>249</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Horowitz, David</td>
<td>208</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Horwitz, Brenda</td>
<td>425</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Horvath, Joan</td>
<td>382</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Horwitzz, Eleanor Landers</td>
<td>51, 191</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Horwitz, Sylvia</td>
<td>384</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Horwitz, Joseph</td>
<td>384</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Horwitz, William</td>
<td>112</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Howard, Helen Addison</td>
<td>113</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Howard, Vanesa</td>
<td>301</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Howat, Gerald</td>
<td>113</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Howells, William Dean</td>
<td>191</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Howland, Betty</td>
<td>103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hoy, Fred</td>
<td>39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hoyt, Geoffrey</td>
<td>39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hoyt, Edwin P.</td>
<td>198, 354</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hoyt, Oils G.</td>
<td>198, 364</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Huberman, Edward</td>
<td>249</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Huberman, Elizabeth</td>
<td>249</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hubermann, Franz</td>
<td>190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hugon, W. H.</td>
<td>69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Huff, Tom</td>
<td>16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Huffaker, Clair</td>
<td>16, 60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hughes, Langston</td>
<td>167, 301, 332</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hughes, Terry</td>
<td>256</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hull, Denison B.</td>
<td>269</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hull, Eleanor</td>
<td>70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hulme, Kathryn</td>
<td>276, 400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hunt, Irene</td>
<td>70, 200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hunter, Krista</td>
<td>167</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hurwitz, Howard L.</td>
<td>113</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hurwood, Bernard J.</td>
<td>330</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Huxley, Aldous</td>
<td>191, 311</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Huyck, Willard</td>
<td>341</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Huydeshem, Jan</td>
<td>232</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hyde, Dayton D.</td>
<td>401</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hyde, George B.</td>
<td>113</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iannuzzi, John Nicholas</td>
<td>198</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fonseca, Eugene</td>
<td>332</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Irwin, Vera R.</td>
<td>201</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Issacs, Neil D.</td>
<td>342</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Isherwood, Christopher</td>
<td>311</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ishigo, Estelle</td>
<td>113</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Isawa, Charles</td>
<td>103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ivanoff, Pierre</td>
<td>392</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iverson, Lucille</td>
<td>301</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jacker, Corinne</td>
<td>383</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Author Index

A C V7-
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Author Name</th>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Konvita, Jeffrey</td>
<td>52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kopit, Arthur</td>
<td>292</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kopitt, Leonard</td>
<td>366</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kornbluth, C. M.</td>
<td>45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kosinski, Jerry</td>
<td>250, 333</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kostelanetz, Richard</td>
<td>93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kramer, Aaron</td>
<td>302</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kreutz, Harold</td>
<td>114</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kriegel, Leonard</td>
<td>311</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kriner, Theodore</td>
<td>314</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kronenberger, Louis</td>
<td>259</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kruer, Robert</td>
<td>276</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Knuich, Joseph Wood</td>
<td>401</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kohls, Daniel James</td>
<td>114</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kugelmass, J. Alvin</td>
<td>115</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kunas, William</td>
<td>350, 352</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kumin, Maxine</td>
<td>292</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kurer, M. C.</td>
<td>299</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kusche, Lawrence D.</td>
<td>52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lachmann, Reg</td>
<td>355</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lacy, Leslie Alexander</td>
<td>115, 239</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Laferne, Lawrence</td>
<td>138</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>LaGuardia, Robert</td>
<td>319</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lahoe, Kalton C.</td>
<td>341</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Laird, Chaflton</td>
<td>262</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lambert, Elsie</td>
<td>262</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lambert, Gavin</td>
<td>362</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lane, Dee</td>
<td>116</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>L'Aoumou, Louis</td>
<td>27, 28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lancaster, Bruce</td>
<td>208</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Landau, Saul</td>
<td>182</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Landau, Irene</td>
<td>188</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lansdown, Gregory</td>
<td>253</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lass, Rose Wilder</td>
<td>221</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lang, Daniel</td>
<td>250</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lange, Suzanne</td>
<td>328</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Langer, Richard W.</td>
<td>376</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Langone, John</td>
<td>126, 127, 128</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Laro, 27</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lagierre, Dominique</td>
<td>245</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>La Pointe, Frank</td>
<td>71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lassieur, Walter</td>
<td>239</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Larivier, Nancy</td>
<td>186, 302</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Laron, Charles H.</td>
<td>83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Larue, Gerald A.</td>
<td>293</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lash, Joseph F.</td>
<td>115</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Laxer, Abramson</td>
<td>313</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Latham, Aarom</td>
<td>187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Latimore, Eleanor</td>
<td>221</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lattimore, Owen</td>
<td>221</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lasher, Patricia</td>
<td>203</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Laskin, Gladys</td>
<td>102</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Laskin, Reinald</td>
<td>102</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lauer, Keith</td>
<td>49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Law, Seguius Russell</td>
<td>28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lavender, David</td>
<td>417</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lawrence, Jerome</td>
<td>292</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lawrence, Louise</td>
<td>32</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lawson, Donna</td>
<td>192</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lawson, Marion</td>
<td>152</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Laycock, George</td>
<td>402</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lazo, Maria</td>
<td>229</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lee, C. H. D.</td>
<td>200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Leazer, James</td>
<td>17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Le Corre, John</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Leckie, Robert</td>
<td>260</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Leckie, William H.</td>
<td>169</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Leder, Caryl</td>
<td>166</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lee, Beryl E.</td>
<td>126</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lee, Harper</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lee, Mildred</td>
<td>71, 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lee, Robert E.</td>
<td>292</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lee, Stan</td>
<td>319</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Leek, Stephen</td>
<td>376</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Leek, Sylvia</td>
<td>376</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lee, Harley M.</td>
<td>377</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Le Guin, Ursula K.</td>
<td>40, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Le May, Alan</td>
<td>29</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Leonbeck, Ruth</td>
<td>126</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>LeMond, Alan</td>
<td>158</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>L'Eplie, Madeleine</td>
<td>9, 115</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lenz, Sidney</td>
<td>189</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lerner, Gerard</td>
<td>150</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Leslie, Robert Franklin</td>
<td>17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lessing, Julius</td>
<td>162, 163, 214, 302</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Levenson, Sam</td>
<td>333</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Levin, Ir.</td>
<td>189</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Levinsohn, Isidore</td>
<td>17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Levy, Elie</td>
<td>198</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Levinstein, Stephen B.</td>
<td>333</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lewis, Anthony</td>
<td>186</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lewis, C. S.</td>
<td>277</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lewis, Gladys</td>
<td>10, 303</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lewis, Richard</td>
<td>303</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lewis, Richard S.</td>
<td>383</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lewis, Sinclair</td>
<td>94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Libby, Bill</td>
<td>367, 377</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Liberty, Marget</td>
<td>157</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Libella, Robert</td>
<td>169</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lichtenstein, Grace</td>
<td>138</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Liebers, Arthur</td>
<td>126</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Liebman, Arthur</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lifton, Betty Jean</td>
<td>251</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lifton, Robert Jay</td>
<td>104</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Light, Ivan H.</td>
<td>105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lighthall, J. L.</td>
<td>105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lightner, A. M.</td>
<td>111</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Limburg, Peter R.</td>
<td>425</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lincoln, C. Eric</td>
<td>116, 167</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lindenberg, Aage Morrow</td>
<td>104</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lindemeyer, Otto</td>
<td>169</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Linderman, Frank B.</td>
<td>115, 116</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lineaweaver, Thomas H., III</td>
<td>402</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lipscomb, James</td>
<td>425</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lipsyte, Robert</td>
<td>176, 186, 377</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Liston, Robert A.</td>
<td>126, 127, 128</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Liston, Robert A.</td>
<td>196, 197, 221</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Littell, Robert</td>
<td>17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Little, Charles E.</td>
<td>419</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Little, Stuart W.</td>
<td>292</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Livingston, Dan</td>
<td>352</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Livingston, James T.</td>
<td>239</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Livingston, Myra Cohn</td>
<td>333</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Llewellyn, Richard</td>
<td>71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Locke, Charles O.</td>
<td>28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lockerbie, Jeanette</td>
<td>118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lockett, Sherron</td>
<td>71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lockwood, Lee</td>
<td>170</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Loeper, John J.</td>
<td>116</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lofia, Norma</td>
<td>72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lofis, Jules</td>
<td>153</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lomax, Alan</td>
<td>270, 303</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Longstreet, Stephen</td>
<td>153</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lopez, Enrique Hank</td>
<td>421</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lord, Walter</td>
<td>253</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lovett, John</td>
<td>197</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lomza, Konrad Z.</td>
<td>402</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lomuyn, Carol Lee</td>
<td>72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lottin, Lawrence T.</td>
<td>367</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lotin, Ernest</td>
<td>137</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lott, Milton</td>
<td>28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lowenstein, Walter</td>
<td>183</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lucas, Alec</td>
<td>311</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lucas, George</td>
<td>341</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meltzer, Milton</td>
<td>138, 167, 197, 199, 208, 211, 222, 278</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Melville, Herman</td>
<td>18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mercantini, Anthony S.</td>
<td>270</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mercer, Vivian</td>
<td>312</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meredith, Richard C.</td>
<td>42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meredith, Scott</td>
<td>262, 339</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meredith, Louise</td>
<td>170</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mene, Oscar J.</td>
<td>439</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Merrill, Eve</td>
<td>304</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Merrill, Bill</td>
<td>377</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Merzand, Joseph</td>
<td>293</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Metzger, Norman</td>
<td>364</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Metzker, Isaac</td>
<td>180</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>May, Nicholas</td>
<td>19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mayzey, Robert</td>
<td>304</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Michelle, Leonard</td>
<td>187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Michelleohn, David Reuben</td>
<td>187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Michten, James A.</td>
<td>29</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, Robert</td>
<td>233</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Milford, Nancy</td>
<td>139</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, Ronald</td>
<td>294</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Millard, Reed</td>
<td>128, 411</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, Albert G.</td>
<td>61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, Arthur</td>
<td>263, 312</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, Arthur H.</td>
<td>199</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, David Humphreys</td>
<td>154</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, Joseph</td>
<td>270</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, Lillian B.</td>
<td>206</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, Merte</td>
<td>223</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, Peter</td>
<td>362</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, Walter M. Jr.</td>
<td>42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, Warren</td>
<td>170</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Milligan, Spike</td>
<td>334</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mills, John Fitz Maurice</td>
<td>286</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Milk, Ron</td>
<td>168</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miltstein, Nancy</td>
<td>137</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Minelli, Vincente</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mitchell, John G.</td>
<td>410</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mitchell, Margaret</td>
<td>214</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mitchell, Naomi</td>
<td>232</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Milford, Jessica</td>
<td>105, 223</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Minnelli, Vincente</td>
<td>34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mitchell, John G.</td>
<td>410</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mitchell, Naomi</td>
<td>232</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Milford, Jessica</td>
<td>105, 223</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mitgang, Herbert</td>
<td>214</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moffat, Mary Jane</td>
<td>129</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mohr, Nicholas</td>
<td>187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Molloy, Anne</td>
<td>236</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Molloy, Paul</td>
<td>304</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Monckley, N. Scott</td>
<td>72, 152</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Monsey, Arline Bryant</td>
<td>239, 250</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Monsarrat, John</td>
<td>252</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Montgomery, Ruth</td>
<td>43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moody, Anne</td>
<td>223</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moody, Ralph</td>
<td>29</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moe, Rebecca</td>
<td>133</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mooney, Michael M.</td>
<td>418</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moore, Clark C.</td>
<td>232</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moore, Patrick</td>
<td>418</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moore, Ruth</td>
<td>394</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morgan, Wayne</td>
<td>155, 176, 187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moore, Sir Thomas</td>
<td>192</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morgan, Charles</td>
<td>364</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morgan, Fred T.</td>
<td>271</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morgan, Robin</td>
<td>133, 140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moog, Steven</td>
<td>262</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moog, Hannah</td>
<td>384</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morris, Samuel E.</td>
<td>330</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morris, Desmond</td>
<td>95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morris, James</td>
<td>278</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morris, Jeannette</td>
<td>328</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morris, Margaret</td>
<td>252</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morris, Mary</td>
<td>308</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morris, Taylor</td>
<td>377</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morris, William</td>
<td>263</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morrison, Lillian</td>
<td>368</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morrison, Paul</td>
<td>170</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morrow, James</td>
<td>302</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Morse, David</td>
<td>320</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mortimer, Penelope</td>
<td>140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mosesdale, John</td>
<td>368</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moses, Den</td>
<td>413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Most, Robert F.</td>
<td>343</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mott, Thelma</td>
<td>83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mostert, N.</td>
<td>436</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moses, Walter</td>
<td>403</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moser, Bill</td>
<td>220</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mphahlele, Ezekiel</td>
<td>240</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Muench, David</td>
<td>155</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Murt, John</td>
<td>418</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Muten, James</td>
<td>419</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mulvihill, Mark</td>
<td>362</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nance, Raymond Lee</td>
<td>192</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Munsu, Raymond</td>
<td>192</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Murdoch, Iris</td>
<td>304</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Murphy, Beatrice M.</td>
<td>304</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Murphy, Patrick</td>
<td>172</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Murphy, Patrick T.</td>
<td>199</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Murphy, Robert</td>
<td>403</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Murphy, Sharon</td>
<td>183</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Murphy, Shirley Housaux</td>
<td>73</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Murray, Michele</td>
<td>73</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Murray, Robert K.</td>
<td>199</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Murrow, Edward R.</td>
<td>355</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Musick, Phil</td>
<td>363</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Myers, Arthur</td>
<td>128</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Myers, Bernard</td>
<td>230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Myers, Elizabeth F.</td>
<td>149</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Myers, Shirley D.</td>
<td>286</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nagatouch, Ruyji</td>
<td>252</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nance, John</td>
<td>304</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Napier, Faye</td>
<td>404</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Naryan, R. K.</td>
<td>271</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nash, Ogden</td>
<td>324</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nash, Walter</td>
<td>333</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Naasour, Elia</td>
<td>339</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nathanson, E. M.</td>
<td>95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Neal, Harry Edward</td>
<td>263</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nee, Brett de Barry</td>
<td>180</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nee, Victor G.</td>
<td>190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Needelman, Jacob</td>
<td>270</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Neely, Henry M.</td>
<td>419</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Neier, Arny</td>
<td>159</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Neihardt, John G.</td>
<td>29, 117</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Neilsen, Paul</td>
<td>171</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nelson, Mary Carroll</td>
<td>117</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nelson, Roswell S., Jr.</td>
<td>152</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nequatewa, Edmund</td>
<td>273</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nettinga, James Z.</td>
<td>279</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Neufeld, John</td>
<td>128</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Newton, Charles</td>
<td>156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Newcomb, Franc Johnson</td>
<td>117</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Newcomb, Hope</td>
<td>355</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Newcombe, James</td>
<td>368</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Newman, Edwin</td>
<td>263</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Newman, Sarah</td>
<td>286</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Newton, Huay P.</td>
<td>171</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ney, John</td>
<td>73</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nguyen Du</td>
<td>232</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nie, Duong</td>
<td>304</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nicholls, A. L.</td>
<td>220, 321</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nielson, John</td>
<td>1, 334</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nicholas, Alan</td>
<td>118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nicole, Christopher</td>
<td>19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nietsch, Geraud L.</td>
<td>264</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Author Name</td>
<td>Page Numbers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>------------------------</td>
<td>----------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>le, Norm N.</td>
<td>321</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ren, Larry</td>
<td>42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ser, Louis</td>
<td>200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ble, Philip</td>
<td>346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ble, Iris</td>
<td>250, 294</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ble, Jeanette Covert</td>
<td>209</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ble, Barbara</td>
<td>223, 240</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ble, Charles</td>
<td>19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ble, Kenneth S.</td>
<td>46</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ble, Sterling</td>
<td>19, 117, 209</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ble, Andre</td>
<td>42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ble, Joseph L.</td>
<td>128</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ble, Christopher</td>
<td>187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ble, Alan E.</td>
<td>42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ble, Russel</td>
<td>321</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>luses, Vanya</td>
<td>126</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brien, Buse Forrester</td>
<td>426</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brien, Robert C.</td>
<td>43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brien, Tim</td>
<td>262</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Connor, Flannery</td>
<td>313</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Connor, Richard</td>
<td>117</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Drell, Scott</td>
<td>73, 185, 176</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Drell, Kenneth F.</td>
<td>117</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Drell, Andrew J.</td>
<td>43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Drell, Liam</td>
<td>313</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, O. Gideon</td>
<td>118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Liam</td>
<td>343</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Lewy</td>
<td>253</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Ross K.</td>
<td>378</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Theodore V.</td>
<td>155</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Viggo</td>
<td>118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Eric</td>
<td>104</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Sigurd F.</td>
<td>404</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, David F.</td>
<td>192</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Eugene</td>
<td>253</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, William L.</td>
<td>223</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>moda, Hiroo</td>
<td>253</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Barness Komuaka</td>
<td>19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Katherine</td>
<td>140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Jack</td>
<td>305</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Arthur</td>
<td>118, 252</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Philip D.</td>
<td>176</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, George</td>
<td>155, 334</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, John</td>
<td>234</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Michael</td>
<td>252</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Jesse</td>
<td>119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Jesse</td>
<td>119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elg, Mildred Martin</td>
<td>294</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jackard, Vance</td>
<td>411</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Thornton</td>
<td>385</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Charlotte</td>
<td>129</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Grace</td>
<td>95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Norvin</td>
<td>294</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Daniel</td>
<td>118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Victor</td>
<td>412</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Martha R.</td>
<td>118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Adrian A.</td>
<td>224</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Ames</td>
<td>271</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Dorothy</td>
<td>334</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Ellinor</td>
<td>304</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Richard</td>
<td>240</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Francis</td>
<td>209</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Gordon</td>
<td>171</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, John A.</td>
<td>304</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Elwood</td>
<td>211</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Pittinetti</td>
<td>313</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Boris</td>
<td>196</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Katherine</td>
<td>52, 73</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Lindsay</td>
<td>171</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Age, Martin</td>
<td>412</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Payne, Robert</td>
<td>232</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Paz, Octavio</td>
<td>240</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pearl, Richard M.</td>
<td>394</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pearson, Charles H.</td>
<td>367</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Peck, Richard</td>
<td>13, 84, 300</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Peck, Robert Newton</td>
<td>73, 84, 209</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Peck, Walter W.</td>
<td>166</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Perl, Marie</td>
<td>262, 264</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Perl, Eve</td>
<td>182</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pettifer, Leslie G.</td>
<td>419</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pennington, Howard</td>
<td>427</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Penler, Otto</td>
<td>11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pepe, Phil</td>
<td>369</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pepp, Edward</td>
<td>235</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Percy, Walker</td>
<td>355</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Perelman, S. J.</td>
<td>335</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Perkins, V. F.</td>
<td>331</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Perl, Lila</td>
<td>160, 241</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Perry, George</td>
<td>244</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Perry, Jim</td>
<td>367</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Perry, Richard</td>
<td>412</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pesek, Ladis</td>
<td>43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Peterson, Robert</td>
<td>369</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pelcy, Anne</td>
<td>310</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pett, Florence</td>
<td>9, 321</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Peyser, Joen</td>
<td>574</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pfeiffer, John</td>
<td>365</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philip, Richard</td>
<td>395</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Richard, David N.</td>
<td>365</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pickhall, Monarch</td>
<td>273</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pike, Donald G.</td>
<td>150</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pike, James A.</td>
<td>94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pit, Oliver</td>
<td>119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pilsbury, Dorothy L.</td>
<td>176</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pinchot, Ann</td>
<td>346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pinza, Edward</td>
<td>352</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pine, Mayes</td>
<td>95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Piros, Richard</td>
<td>294</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pinon, Robert M.</td>
<td>105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pitrz, Thomas M.</td>
<td>215</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pitron, Jean Makkven</td>
<td>176</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Place, Marian T.</td>
<td>196</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plato, Sylvia</td>
<td>140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Platinick, Kenneth B.</td>
<td>11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plate, 183</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Platt, Jean</td>
<td>353</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Platt, Rin</td>
<td>11, 74, 198</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pleasant, Henry</td>
<td>321</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pliantown, George</td>
<td>369</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plumb, J. H.</td>
<td>206</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poe, Edgar Allan</td>
<td>313</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poli, Frederik</td>
<td>43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Polgreen, Cathleen</td>
<td>419</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Polgreen, John</td>
<td>419</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pols, Doris</td>
<td>19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Popkin, Harry</td>
<td>294</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Porter, Eliot</td>
<td>297</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Porter, Jack N.</td>
<td>181</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Porter, Katherine Anne</td>
<td>313</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Portierfield, Christopher</td>
<td>353</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Portia, Charles</td>
<td>29</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Powell, Eless E.</td>
<td>286</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Potok, Chaim</td>
<td>74, 96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poumelle, Jerry</td>
<td>42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Powers, David F.</td>
<td>117</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Prabhavandana, Swami</td>
<td>279</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Prago, Albert</td>
<td>179</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Prathers, Alfred V. J.</td>
<td>197</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pressure, Germain</td>
<td>313</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Preusler, Otfried</td>
<td>20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Prince, J. F.</td>
<td>432</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pringle, Launette</td>
<td>412</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Proctor, Richard</td>
<td>255</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Author Name</td>
<td>Page Numbers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------</td>
<td>--------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ryden, Hope</td>
<td>405</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ryden, Jonathan</td>
<td>20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ryan, Yevgeny</td>
<td>254</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sabin, Lou</td>
<td>371</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sack, John</td>
<td>294</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sackler, Howard</td>
<td>255</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sadow, Georges</td>
<td>351</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Safire, William</td>
<td>224</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sagan, Carl</td>
<td>355</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sagatkin, Edward</td>
<td>194</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sage, H. W.,</td>
<td>208</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sage, Lawrence W.</td>
<td>277</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saint Exupery, Antoine de</td>
<td>105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sajer, Guy</td>
<td>254</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saki</td>
<td>314</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Salinas, Luis Omar</td>
<td>177</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Salinger, J. D.,</td>
<td>76</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Salsbury, Harrison E.</td>
<td>254</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Salk, Andrew</td>
<td>241</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Samachson, Dorothy</td>
<td>287</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Samachson, Joseph</td>
<td>287</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Samuel, Charles Thomas</td>
<td>345</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Samuels, Gertrude</td>
<td>85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sanchez, Thomas</td>
<td>156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sand, George X.</td>
<td>412</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sanderson, Owena</td>
<td>119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sander, Marion L.</td>
<td>141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sander, Thomas E.,</td>
<td>166</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sandman, Peter M.</td>
<td>229</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sandor, Marly</td>
<td>310, 118, 157</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Santillanes, James</td>
<td>175</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sarlin, Bob</td>
<td>323</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sarnoff, Paul</td>
<td>129</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Savoyan, William</td>
<td>119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sarra, Andrew</td>
<td>345</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sarou, Mary</td>
<td>222</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Savar, Don</td>
<td>255</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Savage, Jean S.,</td>
<td>238</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Savage, William W., Jr.</td>
<td>30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sayers, Dorothy L.,</td>
<td>11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sayers, Dale</td>
<td>371</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sayre, Anne</td>
<td>141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scialo, Joe</td>
<td>379</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schap, Dick</td>
<td>371</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scheffer, Jack</td>
<td>31, 314</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schaller, George B.</td>
<td>405</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scheff, Victor R.</td>
<td>427</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schellie, Don</td>
<td>311</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scherer, Joanna Cohan</td>
<td>157</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schieke, C. A.</td>
<td>353</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schmitt, Martin F.,</td>
<td>146</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schneider, Richard C.</td>
<td>157</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schrader, Miriam</td>
<td>141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schoenberger, Dale T.,</td>
<td>31</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schoenberner, Gerhard</td>
<td>224</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schonfeld, Robert D.,</td>
<td>329</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schoon, Gere</td>
<td>371, 372</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schroeder, Henry A.,</td>
<td>412</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schulberg, Budd</td>
<td>96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schulten, L. M.,</td>
<td>85, 141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schultz, John</td>
<td>299</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schultz, Charles M.</td>
<td>335</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shuler, Pamela R.,</td>
<td>372</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schwartz, Alvin</td>
<td>371, 335</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scoppelton, Sandra</td>
<td>85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scott, France</td>
<td>427</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scott, John Anthony</td>
<td>211</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scott, Joseph</td>
<td>395</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scott, Lalla</td>
<td>119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scott, Lenore</td>
<td>386</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scott, Sheila</td>
<td>423</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scott, Sir Walter</td>
<td>20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scott, Walter</td>
<td>427</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scott-Stokes, Henry</td>
<td>241</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Seabright, Mary</td>
<td>129</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Seare, Paul B.</td>
<td>413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sedgewick, Paulita</td>
<td>271</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Seed, Suzanne</td>
<td>142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Seeger, Elizabeth</td>
<td>280</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Seelye, John</td>
<td>31</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sefton, Catherine</td>
<td>64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Segal, Lore</td>
<td>65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Seide, Diane</td>
<td>129</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Seki, Kaigo</td>
<td>272</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sellers, Cleveland</td>
<td>172</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Selvin, David</td>
<td>183</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bennett, Ted</td>
<td>343, 348</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Serling, Rod</td>
<td>44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Servoff, Victor</td>
<td>249</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Selton, Anya</td>
<td>44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sewell, Tom</td>
<td>113</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sexton, Anne</td>
<td>205</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sgroi, Suzanne M.</td>
<td>85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shah, Idries</td>
<td>224</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shales, Tom</td>
<td>348</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shanfie, Howard</td>
<td>287</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shapley, Harvard</td>
<td>285</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sharpe, Mitchell R.</td>
<td>420</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shaw, Arnold</td>
<td>255</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shaw, Derral</td>
<td>109</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shaw, Gary</td>
<td>372</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shaw, George Bernard</td>
<td>295</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shaw, Robert</td>
<td>355</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shelley, Mary</td>
<td>54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shepard, Thomas R., Jr.</td>
<td>410</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shepherd, Zoe</td>
<td>55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sherman, Diane</td>
<td>119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sherrill, Elizabeth</td>
<td>244</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sherrill, John</td>
<td>244</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sherrick, Melvin</td>
<td>302</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shimer, Dorothy Blair</td>
<td>241</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shipley, Joseph T.</td>
<td>204</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Short, Lester L.</td>
<td>405</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shoumatoff, Alex</td>
<td>379</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shulman, Alvin</td>
<td>142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shulman, Arthur</td>
<td>356</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shule, Nevi</td>
<td>96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Shule, Ivan, 180</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Silliphant, Striking</td>
<td>342</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Still, Alan</td>
<td>85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Silverberg, Robert</td>
<td>44, 395, 415, 420</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Silverman, Al</td>
<td>371</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Silverstein, Alvin</td>
<td>385</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Silverstein, Virginia</td>
<td>385</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Simon, Edward</td>
<td>177</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Simon, John</td>
<td>314, 346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Singer, Isaac Bashevis</td>
<td>96, 314</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sirkis, Nancy</td>
<td>211</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Siwall, Maj.</td>
<td>11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Skowronski, Harry J.,</td>
<td>536</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Skrymyszyn, Gloria</td>
<td>53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Skeeter, William</td>
<td>11, 55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smeal, Agnes</td>
<td>142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, Aileen M.</td>
<td>413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, Charles Merrill</td>
<td>289</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, Dennis</td>
<td>198</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, Don Ian</td>
<td>290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, Edith Huxtable</td>
<td>242</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, Edson C.</td>
<td>264</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, Grahame J. C.</td>
<td>413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, John M.</td>
<td>349</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, Michael</td>
<td>296</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, Norman F.</td>
<td>386, 420</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Name</td>
<td>Page Numbers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>---------------------</td>
<td>--------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, R. Harris</td>
<td>355</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, Red</td>
<td>372</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, Robert</td>
<td>372, 379</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, Sam</td>
<td>254</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, W. Eugene</td>
<td>413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Smith, Virginia Driving Hawk</td>
<td>157</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Snyder, Gary</td>
<td>306</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Snyder, Howard H.</td>
<td>421</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Snyder, Jerome</td>
<td>260</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sobel, Ken</td>
<td>372</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sol, Robert</td>
<td>280</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sol, David A.</td>
<td>314</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sohail, Ken</td>
<td>372</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sohn, David A.</td>
<td>314</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sommer, John</td>
<td>311</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Somma, Robert</td>
<td>209</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>South, Wesley W.</td>
<td>425</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>South, Ivan</td>
<td>85, 225</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spark, John Thom</td>
<td>336</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spark, Muriel</td>
<td>97</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spiegelt, Robert</td>
<td>295</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Speare, Elizabeth</td>
<td>211</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Speck, Helen</td>
<td>65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spence, Lila</td>
<td>129</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spender, Stephen</td>
<td>314</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spinner, Stephanie</td>
<td>142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spirer, Sarah</td>
<td>120</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>St. Clair, David</td>
<td>54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>St. John, Primus</td>
<td>303</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stadler, John</td>
<td>413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stafford, Jean</td>
<td>315</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stallworth, Anne Nall</td>
<td>97</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Staley, Lois Mark</td>
<td>119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stammel, Irwin</td>
<td>263</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stanley, Burr, Luther</td>
<td>119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stand in Timber, John</td>
<td>157</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stanford, Barbra</td>
<td>63, 142, 272</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stanford, Gene</td>
<td>63, 272</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stanley, Robert</td>
<td>395</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Staunton, Donald L.</td>
<td>315</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stapledon, Olaf</td>
<td>44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stashoff, Edward</td>
<td>356</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stearn, Jess</td>
<td>65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Steck, Henry J.</td>
<td>413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stein, Raymond William</td>
<td>324</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Steele, Mary Q.</td>
<td>55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stenger, Mary</td>
<td>315</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stigler, Wallace</td>
<td>315</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Steinhart, Kurt R.</td>
<td>306</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stein, Alan L.</td>
<td>230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stein, M. L.</td>
<td>120, 357</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stein, Robert</td>
<td>358</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stein, S. J.</td>
<td>97</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Steinebeck, John</td>
<td>97, 106, 315</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Steinhammer, Chris</td>
<td>11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Steiner, Nancy Hunter</td>
<td>119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Steiner, Stan</td>
<td>106, 161, 178</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Steinmark, Freddie</td>
<td>373</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Steinmetz, Sol</td>
<td>260</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stenland, Anna Lee</td>
<td>158</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stephenson, Ralph</td>
<td>351</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stirling, Dorothy</td>
<td>172</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sterling, Philip</td>
<td>413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stern, Philip Van Deren</td>
<td>395</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stern, Susan</td>
<td>223</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stevens, Paul</td>
<td>358</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stevenson, Robert Louis</td>
<td>20, 55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stevenson, William</td>
<td>21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stewart, George R.</td>
<td>31, 44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stewart, John</td>
<td>264</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Still, Henry</td>
<td>418</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stiller, Richard</td>
<td>193</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stock, Dennis</td>
<td>190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stoker, Bram</td>
<td>96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stuiz, My.</td>
<td>56, 63, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stutz, Peter Bonifel</td>
<td>425</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sutter, John H.</td>
<td>405</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stute, Ann</td>
<td>379</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stut, James</td>
<td>379</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stute, Rex</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stutenberg, Adrien</td>
<td>413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Streber, Lee</td>
<td>261</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stroup, Herbert</td>
<td>290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Strode, Jean</td>
<td>201</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stuart, Jesse</td>
<td>315</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stuart, Theodore</td>
<td>41</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sturman, Daniel A.</td>
<td>76</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stull, Murray</td>
<td>322</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sullivan, Mary W.</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sullivan, Tom</td>
<td>120</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sullivan, Walter</td>
<td>386, 406</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summers, James</td>
<td>95, 176</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summers, Mark W.</td>
<td>225</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Burnett, Gerald</td>
<td>413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Suryin, Marvin</td>
<td>182</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Susan, Barry</td>
<td>225</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sutton, Ann</td>
<td>380, 405, 406</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sutton, Myron</td>
<td>386, 406, 406</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Swann, Thomas Burnett</td>
<td>290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Swartzout, Glendon</td>
<td>31, 70, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Swartzout, Kathryn</td>
<td>76</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sweeney, James B.</td>
<td>425</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Swift, Jonathon</td>
<td>330</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Swindell, Larry</td>
<td>349</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Switzer, Ellen</td>
<td>261</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Synge, Ursula</td>
<td>272, 280</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Taggart, Ernestine</td>
<td>96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tamarin, Alfred</td>
<td>156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tannen, Leslie B.</td>
<td>142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tarshis, Barry</td>
<td>290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Taylor, Alice</td>
<td>342</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Taylor, Ellen G.</td>
<td>281</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Taylor, Gordon Batty</td>
<td>386</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Taylor, John W. R.</td>
<td>396</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Taylor, Peter</td>
<td>315</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Taylor, Theodore</td>
<td>21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Test, John</td>
<td>406</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Test, Mildred</td>
<td>406</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teste, Edwin Way</td>
<td>406</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tebbel, John</td>
<td>358</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tedlock, Dennis</td>
<td>306</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Terry, Studs</td>
<td>225</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Terrell, Donna M.</td>
<td>142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Terrell, Robert</td>
<td>172</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Terry, Walter</td>
<td>130</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tesser, James P.</td>
<td>178</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thackeray, William Makepeace</td>
<td>65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tharp, Louise Hall</td>
<td>143</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thayer, Charles W.</td>
<td>255</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thiele, Colin</td>
<td>21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thomas, Bill</td>
<td>379</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thomas, J. C.</td>
<td>324</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thomas, Lowell</td>
<td>421</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thomas, Piri</td>
<td>181</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thompson, Dan</td>
<td>230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thompson, Jean</td>
<td>85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thompson, Kathleen</td>
<td>139</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thompson, Thomas</td>
<td>87, 427</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thorneu, Henry David</td>
<td>106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thrapp, Dan L.</td>
<td>120</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Author Index

Welk, Lawrence, 324
Welsh, James, 306
Welsh, Owen, 352
Wells, H. G., 338
Wells, Rosemary, 77
Welsh, Gene, 215
Wenger, William, 428
Wesley, Arnold, 297
West, C. A., 273
West, F. J., Jr., 257
West, Jessamine, 77, 106, 211
West, Nathaniel, 36, 338
Westcott, Jan, 143
West, Nathaniel, 98, 338
Westemep, David, 64, 257
Weber, Louisa Wade, 150
Whalen, Charles W., Jr., 201
Whelan, Edith, 56, 86
Whedbee, James Harry, 273
Wheeler, Harvey, 243
Wheeler, Thomas C., 183
Whipple, M. A., 151
White, E. B., 106
White, James, 45
White, Jo Ann, 243
White, Peter, 256
White, Robb, 21
White, Ted, 50
White, Theodore H., 252
Whitfield, Stephen E., 356
Whitney, Charles A., 387
Whitney, Phyllis A., 12
Wilder, Leon, 106, 212, 339
Wicker, Tom, 159, 227
Wiesel, Elie, 257
Wigington, Elliot, 273
Wilbur, Richard, 339
Wilde, Oscar, 58
Wick, Thornton, 106
Wilhelm, Karl, 12, 46
Wilhelm, Martha, 258
Wilhelmsen, Frederick D., 201
Wilkes, Paul, 227, 407
Wilkinson, Burke, 256
Wilkinson, J. H. Hesse, 11, 201
Williams, Byron, 245
Williams, Eric, 258
Williams, Jay, 46
Williams, John, 98
Williams, Martin, 224
Williams, Mason, 306
Williams, Oscar, 306
Williams, Jack, 64
Wills, Mary, 64
Wills, James, 256, 317
Wilson, Colin, 87
Wilson, Dick, 234, 243
Wilson, Dorothy Clarke, 120
Wilson, Ellison, 82
Wilson, Ellen, 120, 227
Wilson, Jane, 303
Wilson, Tom, 339
Wisleder, Robert, 349
Windsor, Patricia, 57, 87
Wint, Guy, 245
Winterbotham, F. W., 258
Wise, David, 201
Wiseman, William, 414
Wister, Owen, 52
Witt, Shirley Hill, 161
Witkowski, Richard, 150
Witte, F. G., 339
Wolf, Burton, 99
Wojciechowska, Maia, 77, 258
Wolf, David, 375
Wolfe, James, 255
Wolfe, Tom, 324
Wolfe, Victor, 227
Wolters, Richard A., 421
Womack, John, Jr., 335
Wood, James Playsted, 212
Wood, Michael, 349
Wood, Nancy, 161
Wood, Phyllis Anderson, 77
Wooden, John, 374
Woodham-Smith, Cecil, 258
Woodley, Richard, 374
Woods, George A., 21, 178
Woodward, Bob, 217
Woodward, George, 207
Woolley, Borean, 88
Wooten, James T., 364
Wouk, Herman, 250, 281
Wright, Helen, 384
Wright, Theon, 277
Wrong, David R., 162
Wyatt, John, 397
Wydam, John, 107
Wynn, John, 21
Wynn, J. B., 193
Yamamura, Barbra S., 46
Yen, Laurence, 46
Yevgenisko, Yevgeny, 306
Yelet, Jane, 46
Yoshida, Jim, 182
Youngman, Roger, 256
Young, Al, 173
Young, Bob, 212, 215
Young, I. S., 107
Young, James, 212, 215
Young, Leonard, 98
Young, Olga E., Jr., 32
Young, Stanley P., 497
Youngman, Henry, 359
Zamyatin, Yevgeny, 46
Zasche, Hilgen, 259
Zaik, Aliki, 202
Zelazny, Roger, 46
Zeman, Joseph, 220
Czarniak, Paul, 374
Zindel, Paul, 17, 26, 297
Zins, Howard, 352
Zobey, Fritz, 283
Zolling, Hermann, 249
Zolows, Charlotte, 68
Zolow, Maurice, 349
Zwick, David, 414
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ABC of Witchcraft Past and Present, An</td>
<td>56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abominable Man, The</td>
<td>11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>About Paterson</td>
<td>187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>About Television</td>
<td>285</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>About Three Bricks Shy of a Load</td>
<td>26</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Across Five Apriis</td>
<td>70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adam Clayton Powell, An</td>
<td>112</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Admission to the Feast</td>
<td>78</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adolph Hitler: My Part in His Downfall</td>
<td>334</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adventure of Language, The</td>
<td>262</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adventures of Huckleberry Film, The</td>
<td>356</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, The</td>
<td>36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adventures of the Negro Cowboys, The</td>
<td>24</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Aerial Photography</td>
<td>417</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Aesop's Fables</td>
<td>253</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Africa is Thunder and Wonder</td>
<td>240</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Africa on Film: Myth and Reality</td>
<td>242</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Africa Yesterday and Today</td>
<td>222</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>African Heroes</td>
<td>252</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>African Image, The</td>
<td>240</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>African Myths and Tales, 229</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>African Rhythm-American Dances: A Biography of Katherine Dunham</td>
<td>204</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>African Rhythms</td>
<td>235</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>African Writing Today, 240</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Against the Ball</td>
<td>224</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Against Our Will: Men, Women and Rape</td>
<td>132</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Against Rape</td>
<td>129</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Against the Fall of Night</td>
<td>35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>All-One, Ah-Two: Life with My Musical Family</td>
<td>224</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alco-Aku</td>
<td>395</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alamogordo Plus Twenty-five Years</td>
<td>333</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alas, Babylon, 37</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alive: The Story of the Andes</td>
<td>419</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>All-American English, 201</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>All Creatures Great and Small, 112</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>All God's Dangers: The Life of Nest Shaw</td>
<td>171</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>All in Color for a Dime</td>
<td>229</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>All Quiet on the Western Front, 253</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>All the King's Men</td>
<td>96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>All the President's Men</td>
<td>217</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>All the Wrongous Hours</td>
<td>111</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>All the World's a Stage</td>
<td>35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alternative: Communal Life in New America, The</td>
<td>190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Amateur Archaeologist's Handbook, The</td>
<td>396</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Amateur Astronomer's Handbook, The</td>
<td>419</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>America, 218</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>America a Prophecy</td>
<td>183</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>America at 1700</td>
<td>206</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>America in the Movies</td>
<td>349</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>America the Raped</td>
<td>411</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Album</td>
<td>220</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Cinema, The</td>
<td>345</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Composers</td>
<td>284</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Film Genres</td>
<td>341</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Film Heritage, The</td>
<td>318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Folk Poetry</td>
<td>267</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Folklore</td>
<td>357</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Girl, An</td>
<td>134</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Graffiti</td>
<td>341</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Heritage Book of Indias, The</td>
<td>145</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Heritage Book of the Revolution, The</td>
<td>208</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Indian, The</td>
<td>148</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Indian Mythology</td>
<td>270</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Indian Poetry</td>
<td>350</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Indian Portraits from the Wasmaker Expedition of 1913</td>
<td>156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Indian Prov and Poetry</td>
<td>144</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Indian Women</td>
<td>111</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Life: One Man's Road to Watergate, An</td>
<td>222</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Magazine, The</td>
<td>358</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Negro Folktales</td>
<td>154</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Negro Short Stories</td>
<td>164</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Painter in Paris: A Life of Mary Cassatt</td>
<td>267</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Policy Failures in Cuba</td>
<td>259</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Primitive</td>
<td>290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Tragedy, An</td>
<td>90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Way of Death, The</td>
<td>105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American West on Film, The</td>
<td>342</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Among the Elephants</td>
<td>399</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Among the Maya Ruins</td>
<td>206</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>An Overpraised Season</td>
<td>88</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Annaqazi: Ancient People of the Rock</td>
<td>155</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anatomy of China</td>
<td>234</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ancient: Kingdoms of the Nile</td>
<td>391</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ancient Myths</td>
<td>268</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>And/Or, 252</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>And Then There Were None</td>
<td>6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Andromeda Strain, The</td>
<td>35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Angela Davis, 218</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Animal Architecture</td>
<td>407</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Animal Farm</td>
<td>204</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Animals Nobody Loves</td>
<td>404</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Animals of Europe</td>
<td>396</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Animals of the Dark</td>
<td>404</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anna Karenina</td>
<td>63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Annapurna</td>
<td>417</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Annapurna: South Face</td>
<td>414</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Another Part of the Wood</td>
<td>232</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anthology of Chinese Literature</td>
<td>226</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anthology of Japanese Literature</td>
<td>231</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Apache Chronicle</td>
<td>158</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Apple to the Core: The Unmaking of the Beetles, 320</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Apprenticeship of Duddy Kravitz, The</td>
<td>75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>April Age, The</td>
<td>75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>April Morning, 206</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Archaeology of Ships, The</td>
<td>323</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Archaeology under Water</td>
<td>388</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Title Index</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Are You There, God? It's Me, Margaret, 236</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Arm of the Starfish, The, 9</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Arrows Four, 144</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Armstrong, 94</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Art Cop, 281</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Art STEELER, The, 283</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Arthur Ashe, Portrait in Motion, 333</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Arthur Godfrey Environmental Reader, The, 499</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Artists' and Illustrators' Encyclopedia, 286</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>As on a Darkling Plain, 34</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>As We Are Now, 105</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ascent of Man, The, 389</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Asia Awakes, 243</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Asia in the Modern World, 240</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Asian American Heritage, 183</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Asimov's Guide to the Bible: Old Testament, 273</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Asimov's Mysteries, 5</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Assault on Privacy, The, 199</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Assistant, The, 94</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Astronomy in Color, 415</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atta, 33</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Authors' Choice, 307</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Autobiography of a Winnebago Indian, The, 118</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Autobiography of Malcolm X, The, 170</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman, The, 165</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Awakening, The, 133</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Awful Rowing Toward God, The, 305</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Author's An Anthology of Mexican American Literature, 178</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Babbit, 94</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Babe, 361</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Babe Ruth and the American Dream, 372</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baby Needs Shoes, 66</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Back to the Top of the World, 181</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Backpacking One Step at a Time, 372</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Backpacking with Small Children, 379</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bad Fall, 65</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bad Henry, 169</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bald Soprano, The, 332</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ballad of the Sad Cafe and Other Stories, The, 312</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Balloon Man, The, 5</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bang the Drum Slowly, 364</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barefoot in the Sky, 420</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barnhart Dictionary of New English Usage, 1963, The, 280</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baseball, 372</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baseball Encyclopedia, The, 359</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baseball's Great Moments, 370</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bear, 361</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bear Paw Horses, The, 29</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Because I Loved Him: The Life and Loves of Lillie Langtry, 134</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bed/Time/Story, 62</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Before the Fall, 224</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bemag's Opera, The, 330</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beginner's Guide to Archaeology, 305</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beginners of Art, The, 395</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Relied the Camera, 352</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beneath the Trail of Broken Treasures, 148</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Being There, 323</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bell jar, The, 140</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bellusco Is a State of Mind, 100</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beneath the Wheel, 92</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Benedict Arnold, Traitor to His Country, 209</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bewilled to Beatles, 305</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bermuda Triangle Mystery—Solved, The, 33</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bermuda Triangle, The, 45</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bernard the Conqueror, 41</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bergman Brothers, The, 109</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bessie Yellowhair, 151</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Best American Short Stories, 1974, The, 305</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Best Nature Writing, 387</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wood Krutch, The, 401</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Best of Baseball, The, 377</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Best of Off-Off-Broadway, The, 295</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Best of Simple, The, 332</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Best of Stanley G. Weinbaum, The, 45</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Betrayed, 157</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Between Enemies, 237</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Between Myths and Morning, 136</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Between Time and Timbuktu: Or, Prometheus-5, A Space Fantasy, 295</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bev of Beasts, A, 399</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bewilled Beings, 33</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beyond Bevel: New Directions in Communication, 292</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beyond Jupiter, 381</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beyond the Tomorrow Mountains, 37</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bhagavad Gita, The, 278</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bicycle—That Curious Invention, The, 376</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Big City Stories by Modern American Writers, 184</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Big Name Hunting, 318</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Big Sky, The, 25</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Big Star Fallin' Mama: Five Women in Black Music, 319</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Big Whistle, The, 361</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bigfoot, 14</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bike Tripping, 375</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bill of Rights, The, 196</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Billie Jean, 137</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Billion Dollar Baby, 318</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Billy Lightfoot, 67</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bintel Brief, A, 180</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Biological Revolution, The, 383</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Biological Time Bomb, The, 386</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Birds of the World, 403</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Birthright, 106</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bitter Is the Hawk's Path, 95</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black &amp; White: Stories of American Life, 28</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black American Experience, The, 165</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Athlete, The, 369</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Title Index</td>
<td>461</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------</td>
<td>-----</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Book, The, 167</td>
<td>Born Female, 131</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Cloud, The, 39</td>
<td>Boskman: Bill Monroe and Muddy Waters, 322</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Drama Anthology, 169</td>
<td>Bounty Trilogy, The, 19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Drama in America, 296</td>
<td>Boy from Ablene: The Story of Dwight D. Eisenhower, The, 119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Elk Speaks, 117</td>
<td>Boy Who Could Make Himself Disappear, The, 74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Feeling, Black Judgement, 300</td>
<td>Boys of Summer, The, 365</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Fiddler, 294</td>
<td>Brain Changers, The, 96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Fighting Men in U.S. History, 257</td>
<td>Brain Revolution, The, 322</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Film Stars, 168</td>
<td>Brave Cowboy, The, 22</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Folktales, 169</td>
<td>Brave New World, 191</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black History, 257</td>
<td>Brazil, 239</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Holes in Space, 418</td>
<td>Breast of Faith: The Fall of Richard Nixon, 226</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Like Me, 220</td>
<td>Breakfast of Champions, 337</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Man on Film, The, 343</td>
<td>Breakheart Pass, 418</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Odyssey: The Case of the Slave Ship Amiatad, 204</td>
<td>Breaking In, 254</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Out Loud, 162</td>
<td>Brian Piccolo, 366</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Poets, The, 305</td>
<td>Bridge of San Luis Rey, The, 106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black September: Its Short, Violent History, 267</td>
<td>Bridge over the River Kwai, The, 244</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Ship and Rising Sun, 233</td>
<td>Bridge Too Far, A, 254</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Star: A View of the Life and Times of Kwame Nkrumah, 266</td>
<td>Bright Candle, 244</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Theater, 171</td>
<td>Bright Eyes: The Story of Susette La Flesche, an Omaha Indian, 120</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Voices, 365</td>
<td>Brighton Rock, 8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Women, The, 132</td>
<td>British Poetry since 1945, 303</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Women in White America, 169</td>
<td>Brothers and Sisters All Over This Land, 152</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blackbiria, 11</td>
<td>Buckminster Fuller at Home in the Universe, 142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blacks in Communications, 130</td>
<td>Bumpkin Fuller at Home in the Universe, 142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blackthink: My Life as Black Man and White Man, 171</td>
<td>Buried Alive: The Biography of Janis Joplin, 318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bladerunner, 42</td>
<td>Buried Cities and Ancient Treasures, 392</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bless the Beasts and the Children, 66</td>
<td>Buried Treasure of Archaeology, The, 369</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blessing Way, The, 8</td>
<td>Burnt Offerings, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blood in My Eye, 107</td>
<td>Burr, 211</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blood of Israel, The, 238</td>
<td>Bury My Heart at Wounded Knee, 145</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bloodwater, 7</td>
<td>But There Are Always Miracles, 64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bloody Bozeman, The, 27</td>
<td>By the Evidence, 243</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bloomers-and-BalLOTS—Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Women’s Rights, 193</td>
<td>By the Highway Home, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blow for a Landing, 374</td>
<td>Buying the Wind: Regional Folklore in the United States, 287</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blowfish Live in the Sea, 81</td>
<td>Caine Mutiny, The, 295</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blue Jacket: War Chief of the Shawnees, 111</td>
<td>Calculus Puzzles, Tricks and Games, 384</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blue Mandarin, 106</td>
<td>Call Girls, The, 323</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blood I Can Whistle, A, 82</td>
<td>Cameras West, 342</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blue People, 319</td>
<td>Camp 11, Block 211, 180</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bob Dylan, 259</td>
<td>Captive Capital: Colonial Life in Modern Washington, 204</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Body and Soul: The Story of John Garfield, 349</td>
<td>Captured by the Mohawks, 209</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Body: Language, 261</td>
<td>Car, 329</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bequest, 345</td>
<td>Car Thief, The, 67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bold Leaders of the Revolutionary War, 210</td>
<td>Career Choices for the ’70s, 121</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bold New Women, The, 143</td>
<td>Career Choices for the ’70s, 121</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bonnie Jo, Go Home, 80</td>
<td>Career Choices for the ’70s, 121</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Book, The, 106</td>
<td>Career Choices for the ’70s, 121</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Book of Animal Poems, A, 300</td>
<td>Career Choices for the ’70s, 121</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Book of Revi, The, 122</td>
<td>Career Choices for the ’70s, 121</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Book of Songs, The, 281</td>
<td>Career Choices for the ’70s, 121</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Book of the Hopi, 160</td>
<td>Career Choices for the ’70s, 121</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Title Index

Careers and Opportunities in Teaching, 121
Careers for the '70s:
- Conservation, 123
- Dance, 130
- Journalism, 128
- Securities, 125
- Consumer Protection, 127
- Environmental Protection, 129
- Hotel Management, 127
- Medical Science, 129
- Social Service, 124
- Health Field, 126
- Legal Profession, 129
- Outdoors, 126
- Caribbean Rhythms, 239
- Carlos Charles, 73
- Carnival of Modern Humor, A, 330
- Careers Outdoors, 126
- China: Selected Readings on the Middle Kingdom, 250
- Chinese Looking Glass, The, 228
- Chisholm Trail, The, 25
- Chocolate War, The, 79
- Choice of Weapons, A, 171
- Chosen, The, 74
- Christopher Columbus, Mariner, 209
- Chronicles of a Corner and Other Religious Fiction Stories, 27
- Chronicles of American Indian Protest, 147
- Chula, 395
- Church of the Earth, 189
- Cigarette Sellers of Three Crosses Square, The, 259
- Cities in Flight, 33
- Citizen Kane Book, The, 352
- Citizen Nader, 222
- City in the World of the Future, The, 186
- Cinema as Art, The, 351
- Cinema of Stanley Kubrick, The, 344
- Civic Life, 1865-1900, 185
- Clarence Darrow, 200
- Clarence Darrow: Defense Attorney, 200
- Classic Contests of Sports, 367
- Clemente, 373
- Clove, 317
- Clock Winder, The, 63
- Clocks for the Ages, 395
- Closer Look at Ariel, A, 119
- Cloud Forest, The, 403
- Cloud—Womanpower and Politics, 143
- Code Name Valkyrie, 246
- Code of Life, The, 385
- Codes, Ciphers and Secret Writing, 231
- Cold War in a Country Garden, 36
- Collected Stories of Jack Schaefer, The, 314
- Collected Stories of Peter Taylor, The, 315
- College Football U.S.A. 1860...1972, 367
- Communication from Stone Age to Space Age, 263
- Communication in the World of the Future, 262
- Compact History of the American Newspaper, The, 358
- Company R, 254
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title Index</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Design for the Real World, 412</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Destiny’s Darlings, 369</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Detroit: I Do Mind Dying, 185</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dr. Zhivago, 105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dictionary of Film Makers, 351</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dictionary of Film, 351</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dictionary of Mythology, 267</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dictionary of Word and Phrase Origins, 263</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dinky Hocker Shoots Snaps, 82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Disaster Lobby, The, 410</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Discovering the Universe, 420</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Discovery of Our Galaxy, The, 387</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Disenchanted Isles, The, 227</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dispossessed, The, 40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Divided Companions, 423</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Divided into the Wreck, 305</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Doctor Brodie’s Report, 48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Doctor Zhivago, 105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Documentary History of the Italian Americans, A, 187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Documentary History of the Mexican Americans, A, 176</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dogs of War, The, 247</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dollar Man, The, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Delphilis—Sea People, 426</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Don Quixote, 328</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Donald, 113</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Donner Party, The, 301</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Don’t Blame the People, 357</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Don’t Come Back a Stranger, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Don’t Look and It Won’t Hurt, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Don’t Shoot—We Are Your Children, 221</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Doomsday Syndrome, The, 411</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Doorbell Ring, The, 12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dorothy Thompson, 141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dovers: The Secret Files They Keep on You, 199</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Double Adventure of John Singleton Copley, The, 283</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Double Bed, The, 304</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Double Helix, The, 387</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Double Speak in America, 284</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Drown, 424</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Down among the Women, 143</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Down the Colorado with Mayor Lowell, 226</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Down the Long Hills, 27</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Down These Mean Streets, 181</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Downtown—Our Challenging Urban Problems, 186</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dr. Heart: A Novella and Other Stories, 386</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dr. Strangelove, or How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love the Bomb, 100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dremalia, 60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dremalia: A Biography of Vlad the Impaler, 1431-1476, 60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dragonflight, 41</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dreams of the Ocean, The, 423</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dreadful Lemon Sky, The, 18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dream Millennium, The, 45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dream of the Blue Hotel, 64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dream on Monkey Mountain and Other Plays, 226</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dream Watcher, The, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Drew Pearson, 118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Drinkers of the Wind, 241</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dross along the Mohawk, 206</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dry Victoria, 186</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Drucks, Goose and Swans, 303</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dust on the Deck, 422</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Duncan Uncle, 24</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dwellers at the Source, 160</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dying Inside, 44</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title Index</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Earth Abides, 44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Earth Is Near, The, 43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Earth, the Great Recycler, 385</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Earth We Live On, The, 294</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Earth’s Voyage through Time, 381</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>East Africa, 241</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eastern Relations, 280</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Easy Motorcycle Riding, 379</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eco-Fiction, 413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Edgar Cayce: The Sleeping Prophet, 35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Education of a WASP, The, 119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds, The, 297</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Egyptology, 134</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Egyptian Hieroglyphs for Everyone, 395</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>18 Best Stories by Edgar Allan Poe, 313</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>El Espejo, the Mirror, 177</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>El Tigre, 212</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eleanor: The Years Alone, 115</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Electric Journalist, The, 354</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Electric Rock, 322</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eleventh Commandment, The, 36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Enchantment from the Stars, 37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Encountering Directors, 345</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Encounters with Arctic Animals, 297</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Encounters with the Archdruid, 403</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Encyclopedia of Cricket, The, 362</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Encyclopedia of Football, The, 373</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Encyclopedia of Mystery and Detection, 11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>End of Obscenity, The, 200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>End of the World, The, 280</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>End Zone, 362</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Enquirer, 29</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Enemies, a Love Story, 96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Energy Crisis, The, 285</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Energy Trap, The, 382</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Enormous Changes at the Last Minute, 96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Erich von Däniken, 189</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eric, 116</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ernest K. Gann’s Flying Circus, 416</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ernest Ark, The, 258</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Title Index</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Escape to Witch Mountain, 52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Edith Wharton, 49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eternal Vigilance, 157</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Edgar Rice Burroughs, 98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Estonian Enterprise in America, 182</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Faust's Today, 122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Everlasting Sky, The, 126</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Exciting Careers in Home Economics, 159</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Excalibur, 216</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Exodus, 228</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Exorcist, The, 48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Expert Detective, The, 43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Exploding Submarine, The, 291</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Exploring Ocean Frontiers, 427</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Exploring the Unknown, 294</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Extinct and Vanishing Birds of the World, 400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eye in the Last Storm, 258</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eye of Conscience: Photographers and Social Change, The, 197</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Faces of Abraham Lincoln, The, 66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Face-Off at the Summit, 362</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fads and Fallacies in the Name of Science, 392</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fail-Safe, 245</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fallen Angel and Other Stories, The, 308</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Families of Words, The, 254</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Family and the Fugitive, The, 189</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Famous American Plays of the 1930's, 288</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Famous American Plays of the 1940's, 290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Famous American Plays of the 1950's, 292</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Famous Ghost Stories, 49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Famous Horaces and Their People, 399</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Famous Kemblo's America, 211</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Far Tortuga, 426</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farwell to Armas, A, 92</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farewell to Manzanar, 179</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farel's Retreat, 333</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farthest Shore, The, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fashion Design for Moderns, 126</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fate of the Lakes, The, 408</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Favorite Movies, 348</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Favre, 209</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feel Like Going Home, 318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Female Eunuch, The, 135</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ferngarden, 142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feminist Papers, The, 141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feria, 54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fiction into Film, 342</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fields Breathe Sweet, The, 207</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fine Gas, 187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fire and Steel, 190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fire in the Stone, 251</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Florida Ramble, 379</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Floral and Fantasy in the Name of Science, 392</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Flowers for Algernon, 40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Forty Days of Terror: The Story of the Boxer Rebellion, 220</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>For the Defense, 194</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>For the Glory of France, 256</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>For the Time Being, 102</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>For Whom the Bell Tolls, 192</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Forsaken and the Penguin, The, 100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Forgettaba, The, 309</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Forgotten Soldier, The, 254</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| Forty Miles a Day on Beans and
Hay: The Enlisted Soldiers Fighting the Indian Wars, 30
Fossil Man, 391
Fossil, 393
Foul! The Connie Hawkins Story, 373
Foundation, 33
Founders of Living Religions, 280
Four Classical Asian Plays, 291
Four Russian Plays, 294
Four seasons, Five Senses, 304
Fourteen for Now, 314
Fourteen Hundred Cowries and Other African Tales, 230
Fourth World of the Hopis, The, 147
Fox Running, 366
Foxfire Book, The, 273
Fractured Family, The, 99
Fragment from a Lost Diary and Other Stories, 127
Frank Capra, 344
Frankenstein, 54
Freedom of the News Media, 354
Freedom to Know, 195
French Revolution, The, 240
Friedrich, 323
Friends and Strangers on Location, 66
Friends, The, 81
From Revenance to Rupe, 349
From the Burrito, 177
From the Belly of the Shark, 183
From the Silent Earth, 357
From Where the Sun Now Stands, 26 Frontier Regulars, 226
Future Shock, 97
Galactic Rejects, The, 43
Galapagos, 397
Gallows Humor, 265
Game That Was, The, 361
Gandhi, 229
Gandahl in Films, The, 340
Gather Together in My Name, 107
Gathering Storm: The Story of the Green Mountain Boys, 202
Gandini, 111
General from the Jungle, 242
General Was a Spy, The, 249
Genetic Engineering, 385
Gentle Tadaday, The, 394
George S. Kaufman and His Friends, 292
Gerald R. Ford, 107
Germamia, 118
Gertrude Stein, 106
Getting Even, 395
Getting into Broadcast Journalism, 123
Getting Justice, 197
Getting with Politics, 198
Ghost Plane of Blackwater, 15
Ghost Stories of Edith Wharton, The, 36
Ghost Tales of the Uwharries, 271
Ghost Towns of the American West, 420
Ghosts, 53
Giant Book of Crafts, 285
Giants in the Earth, 224
Gideon's Trumpet, 198
Gift, The, 50
Gift from the Sea, 104
Gift of Gold, 79
Gift of the Deer, The, 191
Gilbert and Sullivan, 321
Gipsy Moon Circles the World, 423
Girl Called Al, A, 69
Girl from Puerto Rico, A, 179
Girls Are Equal Too, 132
Girls of Huntington House, The, 83
Give Me the Hills, 421
Glow and the Dream, The, 222
Glow Game, The, 40
Glow of the Violin, The, 287
Go Ask Alice, 81
Go East, Young Man, 110
Go Tell It on the Mountain, 99
Go Up for Glory, 370
Go-Between, The, 83
God Bless You, Mr. Rosewater, 337
God Is Red, 274
Gods and Myths of Northern Europe, 366
Godd's Dog, 405
Gods, Graves, and Scholars, 300
Gods or Demons?, 41
Going Places, 197
Gold at the Starbow's End, The, 43
Golden Girl, 214
Golden Guitars, 323
Golden Oldies, 231
Golden Shadows, Flying Hooves, 405
Golden Touch, A, 27
Golden Treasures of the San Juans, 23
Gogol, 61
Golgelon, 89
Golf's Golden Grid, 329
Gone with the Wind, 214
Good-Bye to Budapest, 8
Good-Bye to Sleepy Critch, 65
Good Clean Violence: A History of College Football, 366
Good Life, The, 105
Good Night Prof, Dear, 76
Good Old Days—They Were Terrible, The, 184
Good Soldier Schweik, The, 331
Good Things about the U.S. Today, 226
Good Times/Bad Times, 83
Goodbye People, The, 329
Goodbye to Bedlam, 283
Goodbye Columbus, 62
Goodbye to the Jungle, 76
Goodbye to the Purple Sage, 22
Goon Show Scripts, The, 354
Goshawk Squadron, 283
Gospel According to Joe, The, 276
Gospel According to Zen, The, 230
Graduate, The, 77
Grand Canyon, 401
Grand Dames of Detection, 10
Grandfather Rock, 293
Grant the Soldier, 216
Grave of Wrath, The, 97
Grass Harp and a Tree of Night and Other Short Stories, The, 308
Title Index 469

In the Morning of Time: The Story of the Norse God Balder, 269
In the Shadow of a Rainbow, 47
In the Shadow of Man, 406
In the Trail of the Wind, 299
In the Wilds of North America, 400
In This Corner, 364
Inadmissible Evidence, 254
Incredible Tales: Saki Short Stories, 314
Incredible Victory, 251
Indestructible Old Time String Band, The, 153
Indian Gallery: The Story of George Catlin, 204
Indian Heritage, Indian Pride, 146
Indian Heritage of America, The, 152
Indian Oratory, 159
Indian Tales, 260
Indian Tipi, The, 152
Indian Women of the Western Morning, 147
Indianapolis "500," The, 375
Indians, 252
Indians' Books, The, 147
Indians of the Southwest, 146
Infinite Variety of Music, The, 282
Inflation in Action, 224
Inner City Reflections in Black and White, 130
Innocent Wayfaring, The, 59
Innovative Fiction, Stories for the Seventies, 311
Insect Behavior, 398
Inside Intuition, 261
Inside Jazz, 263
Inside the Pressure Cooker, 363
Insight and Outlook, 75
Into Space, 416
Into the Hidden Environment, 424
Into the Ocean World, 428
Into the Unknown: The Story of Space Shuttles and Space Stations, 416
Into Your Tent I'll Creep, 328
Introduction to Haiku, An, 301
Introduction to the Art of the Movies, 300
Inventors and Inventions of the Ancient World, 308
Iron Doors Between, The, 86
Is America Used Up?, 220
Is Paris Burning?, 245
Is That You, Miss Blue?, 83
Is There Life After Graduation, Henry Birnbaum?, 78
Is This My Love?, 236
Isaac Asimov's Treasury of Humor, 325
Isaac Babel: The Collected Stories, 207
Isbi: Last of His Tribe, 114
Island, 276
Island of the Blue Dolphins, 73
Island Voices, 241
Israel, 237
Israel-Arab Reader, The, 228
Israel's, The, 237
Israel's Laws of Social Motion, 103
"It Is I, Sea Gull": Valentina Tereshkova, First Woman in Space, 420
It's a Long Way from Chesters County, 316
It's Not the End of the World, 78
Ivanhoe, 29
Jamaica Inn, 14
James Eades, 118
Jane Addams, 139
Jane-Emily, 49
Japan Yesterday and Today, 229
Japanese Literature, 231
Jaw, 422
Jazz in Kansas City and the Southwest, 253
Jazz Tradition, The, 234
Jeanette Rankin, 136
Jennie, 116
Jesus James Was My Neighbor, 205
Jane Stuart Harvest, A, 315
Jesus Song, 277
Jewish American Literature, 179
Jewish Family Album, The, 180
Jewish Radicals, 181
Jim Beckworth, 35
Jim Bridger, Mountain Man, 31
Jim Thorpe Story, The, 372
Jim Whitewolf, 108
Jim, 219
Jobs in Agribusiness, 125
Jobs in Business and Office, 125
Jobs in Communications, 130
Jobs in Construction, 126
Jobs in Fine Arts and Humanities, 121
Jobs in Health Care, 123
Jobs in Marine Science, 128
Jobs in Personal Services, 122
Jobs in Public Service, 122
Jobs in Recreation, 123
Jobs in Transportation, 124
Jobs That Help the Consumer and Homemaker, 121
Jock Empire, The, 362
Joe McCarthy and McCarthyism, 219
John Marshall, 194
John Muir and the Sierra Club, 410
Johnny, 119
Johnny Got His Gun, 256
Johnny Osage, 207
Johnny Temple, 206
"Johnny, We Hardly Knew Ye": Memories of John Fitzgerald Kennedy, 117
Jonathan Livingston Seagull, 99
Josh, 85
Joshua Son of Nun, 38

477
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title Index</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Joy in Stone, 284</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Joy of Music, The, 282</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Joaquin, Man of Law, 229</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jubilee, 215</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judith, 276</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judy, 346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judy Garland, 346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judy Harris Talks to Young Actors, 290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Julie of the Wolves, 68</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just a Country Lawyer: A Biography of Senator Sam Ervin, 156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just Give Me a Cool Drink of Water, 298</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just Mahalia, Baby, 318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Justice in Everyday Life, 202</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Justice, 116</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Journey Outside, 55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Joy in Stone, 284</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Joy of Music, The, 282</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Joaquin, Man of Law, 229</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jubilee, 215</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judith, 276</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judy, 346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judy Garland, 346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judy Harris Talks to Young Actors, 290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Julie of the Wolves, 68</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just a Country Lawyer: A Biography of Senator Sam Ervin, 156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just Give Me a Cool Drink of Water, 298</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just Mahalia, Baby, 318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Justice in Everyday Life, 202</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judy, 346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judy Garland, 346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Julie Harris Talks to Young Actors, 290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Julie of the Wolves, 68</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just a Country Lawyer: A Biography of Senator Sam Ervin, 156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just Give Me a Cool Drink of Water, 298</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just Mahalia, Baby, 318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Justice in Everyday Life, 202</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Justice, 116</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Journey Outside, 55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Joy in Stone, 284</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Joy of Music, The, 282</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Joaquin, Man of Law, 229</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jubilee, 215</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judith, 276</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judy, 346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judy Garland, 346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judy Harris Talks to Young Actors, 290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Julie of the Wolves, 68</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just a Country Lawyer: A Biography of Senator Sam Ervin, 156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just Give Me a Cool Drink of Water, 298</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just Mahalia, Baby, 318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Justice in Everyday Life, 202</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judy, 346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judy Garland, 346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Judy Harris Talks to Young Actors, 290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Julie of the Wolves, 68</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just a Country Lawyer: A Biography of Senator Sam Ervin, 156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just Give Me a Cool Drink of Water, 298</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just Mahalia, Baby, 318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Justice in Everyday Life, 202</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just a Country Lawyer: A Biography of Senator Sam Ervin, 156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just Give Me a Cool Drink of Water, 298</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Just Mahalia, Baby, 318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Justice in Everyday Life, 202</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Literature by and about the American Indian, 156
Literature of the American Indian, 156
Li Lie Big Man, 145
Little Girl Who Lives Down the Lane, The, 71
Little World of Don Camilo, The, 331
Liveliest Art, The, 347
Liveliest Town in the West, 25
Lone Heart Mountain, 113
Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner, The, 85
Loners, The, 85
Lonely Heart Mountain, 113
Lone and Happy Life, A, 140
Lonelies of the Long Distance Runner, The, 85
Long Black Coat, The, 12
Long and Happy Life, A, 140
Long Black Coat, The, 12
Long Goodbye, The, 6
Long Night, The, 17
Long Tomorrow, The, 34
Long Valley, The, 315
Long Way Baby, A, 138
Long Way from Verona, A, 60
Longhouse Legends, 270
Longtime Californ', 190
Look a Lion in the Eye, 400
Look Back in Anger, 294
Look Back with Love, 400
Look to the Mountain Top, 151
Looking Back, 222
Looking Forward, 188
Lord Grizzly, 28
Lord Jim, 101
Lord of the Flies, 91
Lord of the Rings, The, 227
Lords of the Earth: A History of the Navajo Indians, 153
Lord's Pink Ocean, The, 45
Lost, 427
Lost Honor of Katharina Blum, The, 58
Lost Horizon, 190
Lost Universe, The, 163
Love and Marriage, 58
Love and Will, 61
Love Has Many Faces, 63
Love in the Ruins, 335
Love, or a Season, A, 63
Loved One, The, 338
Lovel Thomas' Book of the High Mountains, 421
L-shaped Room, The, 58
Lucky Jim, 225
Lumina and Lovers, 343
Lure of Sunken Treasure, The, 425
M.C. Higgins the Great, 60
Mach, 179
Maiden Secretory: Frances Perkins, 149
Madame Bovary, 69
Maiden of History, 112
Magpie and Other Stories by Stephen Crane, 309
Magpie Flying Bird, 162
Magic Barrel, The, 94
Magic Medicines of the Indians, 273
Magic World, The, 299
Magicians, The, 97
Mahabharata, 365
Make Your Own Animated Movies, 351
Making It Move, 353
Making of a Pilot, The, 228
Making of Gone with the Wind, The, 362
Making of Kubrick's 2001, The, 345
Making of Man, The, 309
Making of "Star Trek," The, 356
Malcolm X Speaks, 137
Male/Female Language, 137
Maltese Falcon, The, 9
Man Against Man, 115
Man and Society, 126
Man Called Peter, A, 278
Man Comes to America, 391
Man-Eaters of Kumaon, 398
Man-Eating Machine, The, 254
Man from Yuma, The, 25
Man in the Box, The, 245
Man in the Glass Booth, The, 255
Man in the High Castle, The, 26
Man in the Web of Life, 405
Man Kind?, 397
Man Lay Dead, A, 10
Man Must Speak, 251
Man of La Mancha, 297
Man of Liberty: A Life of Thomas Jefferson, 215
Man of Two Worlds, 39
Man on a Short Leash, 16
Man to Send Rain Clouds, The, 215
Man Who Cared: A Life of Harry S Truman, The, 227
Man Who Killed the Deer, The, 160
Man Who Loved Cat Dancing, The, 34
Man Who Walked Through Time, The, 276
Man Who Was Thursday, The, 6
Man without a Face, The, 92
Man and the Promise Land, 143
Manchurian Candidate, The, 13
Man's Fate, 214
Many Faces of the Civil War, The, 215
Many Winters, 161
Man Tso-tung, 235
Man Tso-tung: An Anthology of His Writings, 239
Man of the Ancient Sea Kings, 295
March of Archaeology, The, 200
Marco Polo's Adventures in China, 234
Margaret Sanger, 138
Maria Martinez, 117
Maria: The Potter of San Ildefonso, 116
Marjoe, 377
Mark Twain in Love, 61
Mark Twain Tonight!, 332
Title Index

Mars and the Mind of Man, 415
Martian Chronicles, The, 34
Martin Luther King, Jr., 115
Mark Baker Eddy, 277
Mary Dove, 62
"W*A*S*Y" Goes to Maine, 322
Masked Gods, 100
Mason Williams Reading Matter, The, 306
Massacre at Fall Creek, The, 211
Massacre at Winged Foot: The U.S. Open Minute by Minute, 371
Masters of Bow Street, The, 13
Masters of the Drama, 289
Masters of the Short Story, 311
Maude Reed Tale, The, 72
McKay, 367
Me and Jim Luke, 13
Me, Chopay & Co., 211
Me Nobody Knows, The, 186
Meaning of the Glorious Koran, The, 279
Meat on the Hoof, 372
Media Power, 358
Media Reader, The, 358
Media Works, The, 358
Medicine Man's Daughter, 146
Medieval Myths, The, 268
Medium Is the Massage, The, 357
Mediums, Mystics, and the Occult, 49
Meeting at Potsdam, 251
Memoir of China in Revolution, A, 233
Memoirs of an Ex-Prom Queen, 142
Memoirs of Chief Red Fox, The, 118
Memoir of Old Jack, The, 100
Men and Molecules, 384
Men of Ideas, 116
Men of Iron, 20
Men Who Have Walked with God, 274
Metamorphosis, The, 53
Method of Zen, The, 276
Mexicans, The, 174
Mexico and the United States, 235
Mexico In People, 232
Mid-Century: An Anthology of Distinguished Contemporary Short Stories, 313
Middle Eastern Mythology, 260
Midnight Cowboy, 92
Midwich Cuckoos, The, 57
Midnight in God's Eye, The, 42
Mom, the Wolfman and Me, 83
Monarch of Deadman Bay, 398
Monkeys and Apes, 404
Monsanto, 60
Moon of Three Rings, 42
Moonshine Light, Moonshine Bright, 285
Mormons, The, 7
Moonstruck, 305
Most Dangerous Man in America: Scenes from the Life of Benjamin Franklin, The, 204
Motto in God's Eye, The, 42
Mother Earth, Father Sky, 152
Mother India's Children, 241
Mother's Kisses, A, 329
Mothers, The, 14
Motion Will Be Denied, 200
Motorcycle Betrayal Poems, The, 306
Mount Builders, The, 395
Mount Allegre, 180
Mountain Man, 25
Mountain of My Fear, The, 419
Mountain People, The, 242
Mountaineering in the Sierra Nevada, 471
Mountains, 415
Mountains of California, The, 415
Mouse That Roasted, The, 339
Moved-Outers, The, 193
Movie Buffs' Book, The, 348
Movie Comedy Teams, 317
Movie Magic, 351
Moviemakers, The, 343
Moviemaking Illustrated, 352
Movies As Medium, The, 300
Movies in America, 350
Movies into Film, 348
Mr. & Mrs. BoJo Jones, 69
Mr. Nonsense: A Life of Edward Lear, 113
Mrs. Stevens Hears the Mermaids Singing, 62
Murder Must Advertise, 11
Murder on Board, 7
Music Is My Mistress, 318
Music of Africa, The, 243
Mustangs, 407
My Antonia, 23
My Dad Lives in a Downtown Hotel, 72
My Essay, My Brother, 237
Miracle of Language, The, 262
Miracle of the Air Waves, 354
Miracle Worker, The, 250
Mirror of Infinity, The, 44
Miss Lonelyhearts, 28
Missouri, The, 31
Modern British Drama, 294
Modern Encyclopedia of Basketball, The, 394
Modern Japanese Literature, 236
Modern Stage in Latin America, The, 297
Moe Berg, Athlete, Scholar, Spy, 113
Mohammed, 279
Mollie Make-Believe, 64
Mom, the Wolfman and Me, 83
Moment of Silence, A, 219
Monarch of Deadman Bay, 398
Monkey Wrench Gang, The, 438
Mondays and Apes, 404
Monster Hunt, 60
Moon of Three Rings, 42
Moonshine Light, Moonshine Bright, 285
Mormons, The, 7
Moonstruck, 305
Most Dangerous Man in America: Scenes from the Life of Benjamin Franklin, The, 204
Motto in God's Eye, The, 42
Mother Earth, Father Sky, 152
Mother India's Children, 241
Mother's Kisses, A, 329
Mothers, The, 14
Motion Will Be Denied, 200
Motorcycle Betrayal Poems, The, 306
Mount Builders, The, 395
Mount Allegre, 180
Mountain Man, 25
Mountain of My Fear, The, 419
Mountain People, The, 242
Mountaineering in the Sierra Nevada, 471
Mountains, 415
Mountains of California, The, 415
Mouse That Roasted, The, 339
Moved-Outers, The, 193
Movie Buffs' Book, The, 348
Movie Comedy Teams, 317
Movie Magic, 351
Moviemakers, The, 343
Moviemaking Illustrated, 352
Movies As Medium, The, 300
Movies in America, 350
Movies into Film, 348
Mr. & Mrs. BoJo Jones, 69
Mr. Nonsense: A Life of Edward Lear, 113
Mrs. Stevens Hears the Mermaids Singing, 62
Murder Must Advertise, 11
Murder on Board, 7
Music Is My Mistress, 318
Music of Africa, The, 243
Mustangs, 407
My Antonia, 23
My Dad Lives in a Downtown Hotel, 72
My Essay, My Brother, 237
Title Index 473

Night the Revolution Began, The, 207
Night Thoreau Spent in Jail, The, 205
Night Visitor and Other Stories, The, 315
Nilda, 187
Nine Bows Row, 16
900 Days, The, 254
Nine Lies about America, 217
Nine Princes in Amber, 46
1984, 193
90 Minutes at Estebbe, 21
Niciel, 179
No Language but a Cry, 110
No Man for Murder, 7
No Moccasins Today, 71
No More Trains to Tiptonville, 65
No One Waved Good-bye, 323
No Place to Hide, 198
No Promises in the Wind, 220
No Surrender, 202
No Time for Dying, 197
Nobody Else Will Listen, 276
Nobody Knows My Name, 216
Nobody Waved Goodbye, 81
Nobody's Family Is Going to Change, 68
None of the Above, 77
Nonfiction Film, 339
Nonsense Book, The, 329
Nontraditional Careers for Women, 129
North from Mexico, 175
North to Yesterday, 25
Not of the World, 195
Notable American Women, 136
Notes from Underground, 101
Notes of a Native Son, 216
Nothing ventured, Nothing Win, 417
Novels into Film, 319
Now or Never, 410
Nun's Story, The, 276
O Captain! The Death of Abraham Lincoln, 112
O. J. Simpson Story, The, 353
O. Those Extraordinary Women or The Joys of Literary Lib, 138
Obscenity and Public Morality, 195
Occult, The, 57
Occupied America, 173
Odd John, 44
Oddities and Curiosities of Words and Literature, 260
Of Human Bondage, 94
Of Life and Death and Other Journeys, 70
Of Mice and Men, 97
Of Nightingales That Ween, 62
Of People Good Faith, 149
Old Broadway, 222
Oh, What Nonsense, 328
Olly, 310
OP Prophet Nat, 118
Old Dog Barks Backwards, The, 334
Old Fish Hawk, 151
Old Man and the Sea, The, 379
On Being Female, 142
On City Streets, 323

My Father, 184
My House, 300
My Lai 4, 249
My Life in Court, 200
My Life in the Theatre, 290
My Name Is Asher Lev, 96
My Orphans of the Wild, 208
My People the Sioux, 119
My Petition for More Space, 331
My Sweet Charlie, 64
My Wilderness: The Pacific West, 415
Mysteries from Forgotten Worlds, 388
Mysteries of Reincarnation, The, 49
Mysterious Stranger and Other Stories, The, 337
Mystery of the Angry Idol, 12
Myths and Legends of Australia, 271
Myths and Modern Man, 272
Myths to Live II, 266
Naked Fictions for the Seventies, The, 93
Naomi, 74
Napoleon, 114
Narcissus Whitman, 206
Narcissus and Goldmund, 92
Nat King Cole, 316
Natural History of Sharks, 402
Natural Resources, 411
Natural Superiority of Women, The, 139
Naturalist Buys an Old Farm, A, 463
Navajo, The, 150
Nazi Germany, 206
Natives, The, 233
Nebula Award Stories Nine, 46
Never Jam Today, 131
New Age of Medical Discovery, The, 381
New American Poetry, The, 296
New American Story, 307
New Art, The, 292
New Awareness, The, 45
New Believers, The, 274
New Complete Walker, The, 376
New Documentary in Action, The, 343
New Frontiers of Medicine, 124
New Indians, The, 138
New Music, The, 286
New Ocean Explorers, The, 427
New Religions, The, 270
New Woman's Survival Catalog, The, 135
New Women, The, 133
New World Beginnings, 159
New World of the Oceans, The, 422
New York Times at the Super Bowl, The, 366
News from Nowhere, 353
Nick Adams Stories, The, 310
Niagara, 150
Night, Down the Accident, 257
Night Fall, 5
Night Gallery 2, 44
Night of the Hunter, The, 276
Night Owl, A, 325
474 Title Index

On Freedom's Side, 302
On Stage, 291
On the Bench, 96
On the Job, 126
On the Job Training and Where to Get It, 126
On the Loon, 378
On the Move, 376
On the Road, 93
On Two Wheels, 377
Once upon a Pedestal, 135
Once upon a Thermal, 421
One Day in the Life of Ivan
   Denisovich, 105
One Flew Over the Cuckoo's
   Nest, 53
One for the Record, 369
103rd Ballot, The, 199
One Man's Wilderness, 401
One of the Raymonds, 75
One Sunset a Week, 120
One Time, I Saw Morning Come Home, 40
Only Earth and Sky Last Forever, 64
Only the Ball Was White, 369
Oomingmak, 402
Open Horizons, 404
Opera Guide, 287
Operating Manual for Spaceship
   Earth, 91
Operation Neptune, 190
Opposition, 329
Orbit Unlimited, 32
Orchid Case, The, 97
Ordeal by Hunger, 31
Ordeal of Running Standing
   The, 149
Oregon Trail, The, 209
Origenes, 235
Orison, 255
Other, The, 97
Other Californians, The, 185
Other Mexico, The, 240
Other People's Houses, 85
Other San Francisco, The, 183
Other Side, The, 64
Other Voices, 183
Other Worlds, Other Beings, 379
Our Brother's Keeper, 146
Our Captive Animals, 493
Our Chop is Broken, 154
Our Ecological Crisis, 413
Our Experience of Language, 263
Our Gang, 335
Our Kindly Parent—The State, 199
Our Mother's House, 8
Our Names, 292
Our Overcrowded World, 493
Our Own Words, 261
Our Time Is Now, 78
Out of My Mind, 325
Out of the Silence, 166
Out of the Silent Planet, 277
Out There, 413
Outsiders, The, 82
Overlanding, 376
Over the Mountain, The, 40
Owl's Song, The, 69

On, the Story of a Kid at the Top, 73
Pain and Promise, 177
Paintbox on the Frontier: The Life and Times of George Caleb
   Bingham, 283
Painted Bird, The, 260
Painter of Miracles, The, 75
Palace Guard, The, 224
Palaver, 236
Panic Broadcast, The, 355
Paper Moon, 277
Papers on the War, 219
Parables of Peter Patout, The, 330
Paraphernalia, 130
Partial Justice, 125
Pastor Por Aqui, 90
Past Is Human, The, 396
Path to Snowbird Mountain:
   Cherokees Legends, The, 272
Patriot Graves: Resistance in Ireland, 292
Patricio Rebel: John C.
   Calhoun, 213
Paul Revere and the World He Lived In, 266
Paul Robeson, 166
Peabody Sisters of Salem, .The, 143
Pearl, The, 106
Pebble in the Sky, 23
Peck of Salt, A, 112
Peter Pan, 177
Pen Warmed-Up in Hell, A, 337
Penguin Book of American Folk
   Songs, The, 270
Penguin Book of Canadian Folk
   Songs, The, 269
Penguin Book of Japanese Verse,
   The, 228
Penguin Dictionary of Archaeology,
   The, 269
Penguin Island, 190
People and the Promise, The, 280
People Called Apache, The, 152
People of Concord, The, 212
People of the Az, The, 46
People of the Dream, 150
People of the Valley, 179
People Pieces, 310
People's Guide to Mexico,
   The, 258
People's Hero: Rizal of the Philippines, A, 233
Perseus Falcon, The, 403
Perfect Life: The Shakers in America, The, 190
 Persistent Ascent, 416
Persian Boy, The, 233
Perspective, 290
Persuaders, The, 264
Pets and People, 412
Peter Pan Bag, The, 83
Peyote, 154
Pharaohs of Egypt, 392
Philharmonic, 287
Pictorial History of Black Americans, A, 167
Picture of Dorian Gray, The, 56
Pieces of Another World, 398
Pieces of Time, 345

482
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title Index</th>
<th>475</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Pigeons and People, 406</td>
<td>Preachers, The, 278</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pigman, The, 98</td>
<td>Prejudice, 93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pilgrim at Tinker Creek, 101</td>
<td>Prepare for a Career in Radio and Television Announcing, 127</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pioneer in Blood Plasma: Dr. Charles Richard Drew, 169</td>
<td>President Is a Lot Smarter than You Think, The, 438</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pioneers of Black Sport, 163</td>
<td>Pretty-Blue, 116</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pistol, 75</td>
<td>Price, The, 293</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Place Where I've Done Time, 119</td>
<td>Privileged, The, 230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plain Speaking, 223</td>
<td>Puzzled and Despondent, 308</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Planet-Girded Suns, The, 381</td>
<td>Prime of Miss Jean Brodie, The, 97</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Planet of Junior Brown, The, 81</td>
<td>Primer for Star-Gazers, A, 413</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Planet of the Apes, 34</td>
<td>Prince of Central Park, The, 74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plantes and Pioneers, 219</td>
<td>Prison Poets, 228</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Playing Around, 364</td>
<td>Private Future, 412</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Please Stop Killing Me!, 413</td>
<td>Probability of the Impossible, The, 43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pimplo, Chief of the Crow, 115</td>
<td>Profiles in Courage, 114</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Piolet to Seize the White House, The, 216</td>
<td>Promise of Space, The, 415</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plum Plum Pickers, The, 173</td>
<td>Prophecy for the Year 2000, 101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poems, A, 300</td>
<td>Prophet, The, 192</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poems from Africa, 296</td>
<td>Prophet with Honor, 194</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poems from India, 297</td>
<td>Proud Peoples, The, 173</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poems from the Hebrew, 304</td>
<td>Psychic World of California, The, 74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poems of Chairman Mao, The, 303</td>
<td>Public Sorrows and Private Pleasures, 39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poems of Rock, The, 318</td>
<td>Puddled Head Wilson, 337</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poems of Soul, The, 320</td>
<td>Pueblo Gods and Myths, 272</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pogo Revisited, 332</td>
<td>Puerto Rican Poets, The, 180</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Points of Departure—Nineteen Stories of Youth and Discovery, 51</td>
<td>Puerto Rico: Commonwealth, State, or Nation?, 243</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Points of My Compass, The, 106</td>
<td>Puma, The, 497</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Points of Rebellion, 102</td>
<td>Pump House Gang, The, 324</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poisons around Us, The, 412</td>
<td>Pumpkin Eater, The, 140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Polar Worlds, The, 412</td>
<td>Purify in Pirl, 194</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Po),(le and Portage, 278</td>
<td>Pursuit of the Wilderness, The, 408</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Political Image Merchants, The, 197</td>
<td>Pursuit of Wilderness, The, 397</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Politics from Precinct to Presidency, 135</td>
<td>Pyramid, 285</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Politics of Lying, The, 291</td>
<td>Qi VII, 257</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Political Testament of Hoxie Morcy, The, 57</td>
<td>Quiet Crisis, The, 414</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Potgog Chiefs: An Account of the Trial of Standing Bear, The, 158</td>
<td>Quiquuncx, of Time, The, 34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pop, Rock and Soul, 222</td>
<td>Quotations from the Bible for Modern Man, 279</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Popular History of Music, A, 234</td>
<td>R.U.R., 69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Populistic Bombs, The, 459</td>
<td>RA Expeditions, The, 424</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Populati, popolous, 281</td>
<td>Rabbit Ress, 156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Porcupine, The, 281</td>
<td>Rabbit Run, 98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purpose of Space: The Story of Salvage Archaeology, 385</td>
<td>Race against Time: The Story of Salvage Archaeology, 385</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pursuit of the Wilderness, The, 397</td>
<td>Racism, 90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purrity in Pirl, 194</td>
<td>Radical of the Revolution: Samuel Adams, 207</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pursuit of the Wilderness, The, 397</td>
<td>Raff, The, 428</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pursuit of the Wilderness, The, 408</td>
<td>Railroad Days of Stein, 527</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pursuit of the Wilderness, The, 397</td>
<td>Rainbow Glass, The, 59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pursuit of the Wilderness, The, 396</td>
<td>Ralph in the Sun and the Sign in Sidney Brustein's Window, A. 290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pursuit of the Wilderness, The, 397</td>
<td>Ralph J. Bunche, 116</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pursuit of the Wilderness, The, 397</td>
<td>Ramayana, The, 271</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pursuit of the Wilderness, The, 397</td>
<td>Rap on Race, A, 170</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Purify in Pirl, 194</td>
<td>Reading the Past, 301</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pursuit of the Wilderness, The, 397</td>
<td>Readings on La Raza, 173</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pursuit of the Wilderness, The, 397</td>
<td>Real America, The, 226</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pursuit of the Wilderness, The, 397</td>
<td>Real Joads, The, 237</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pursuit of the Wilderness, The, 397</td>
<td>Reason Why, The, 238</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pursuit of the Wilderness, The, 397</td>
<td>Rebel of Rheda, The, 33</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Title Index

Rebel Sea Raider: The Story of Raphael Semmes, 213
Rebellion at Christians, 212
Record-Breakers of the Major Leagues, 371
Red Hedge of Courage, The, 68
Red Giants and White Dwarfs, 383
Red Pawns, 212
Red Power, 152
Red Power on the Rio Grande, 150
Red Sky at Morning, 65
Red Son Rising, 108
Red Plastic Magic, 347
Reflections of 1776, 211
Reincarnation in the Twentieth Century, 50
Reincarnation of Peter Proud, The, 60
Religious America, 275
Reluctant Warrior: Ulysses S. Grant, 215
Remember Radio, 355
Remember Television, 355
Remembering Bix, 216
Remove Protective Coating a Little at a Time, 80
Report from Engine Co. 82, 188
Report on Planet Three and Other Speculations, 351
Reporting, 124
Representing Super Doll, 84
Republic, The, 153
Requiem for War: The Life of Wilfred Owen, 252
Restless Earth, The, 390
Retreat to the Bear Paw: The Story of the Nez Perce, 156
Return to Earth, 414
Return to Hiroshima, 251
Revelations, 139
Reverberations, 284
Revolutions, 284
Road Racer, 13
Road to Many a Wonder, The, 32
Roanoke, 17
Robe, The, 279
Robert E. Lee, 213
Rock and the Willow, The, 71
Roll, Jordan, Roll, 213
Roller Ball Murder, 81
Rolling Thunder, 145
Romance of Words, The, 265
Romantic Quest and Modern Query, 250
Room for Me and a Mountain Lion, 302
Rosalind Franklin and DNA, 141
Rosa Bowl Pro, 355
Rosbud, 16
Ross MacDonald Selects Great Stories of Suspense, 10
Rules of the Game, 252
Run, Shelley, Run, 85
Run Softly, Go Fast, 97
Runaway's Diary, The, 69
Running Head, The, 361
Ruritania Complete, 16
Russian Ballet and Three of Its Masterpieces, The, 287
Russian Composer, 296
S Is for Space, 35
Sacred Pipe, The, 265
Sal Si Puedes: Cesar Chavez and the New American Revolution, 175
Sandal, 234
Sand Creek Massacre, The, 151
Sand in My Eyes, 28
Sanditon, 58
Sarah T., 87
Satanic Mill, The, 20
Saturday's Child, 142
Savage Sam, 15
Save Me the Waltz, 90
Seymour's People, 270
Scientific American, 349
Science Fiction Reader, A, 39
Science Fiction Reader, The, 19
Science Fiction Film, 340
Science Fiction Reader, A, 39
Science in the World around Us, 386
Science: Method and Meaning, 38
Science: Servant or Master?, 384
Screaming Whisper, A, 301
Sea and Earth: The Life of Rachel Carson, 413
Sea and Oceans in Color, The, 4
Sea Magic and Other Stories of Enchantment, 269
Sea of Troubles, A, 426
Send Singing, The, 60
Seasons and Spiritualists, 47
Seasons: Behind the Lines, 254
Search for Early Man, The, 395
Search for the Crescent Moon, 220
Search for the Etruscans, The, 39
Search for the Truth, A, 53
Searchers, The, 28
Searchers of the Sea, 424
Searching for Ourselves, 223
Season with Solti, 283
Second Earth, The, 70
Second Rebellion, The, 214
Title Index

Silent Voices, 122
Silks, Spires, and Empires, 231
Sinbad and His, 11
Sing Down the Moon, 155
Single Light, A, 77
Single Pebble, A, 230
Sire, The, 135
Situ, The, 71
Sioux Trail, 158
Sisterhood Is Powerful, 140
Six Centuries in East Asia, 231
Six Days to Saturday: Joe Paterno and Penn State, 368
Six European Directors, 344
Six Short Plays of Eugene O'Neill, 293
Six Yuan Plays, 294
Sixteenth Round, The, 106
Shaking Rink, The, 83
Sky Climber: Poetry of the American Indians, The, 330
Slaughterhouse-Five, 88
Slave Dancer, The, 68
Sleepride, 8
Sleep Two, Three, Four!, 18
Sleeping Beauty, 10
Scoop, The, 37
Society and the Bicycle, A, 379
Soldier Blue, 155
Soldier of the Andes: José de San Martín, 233
Soldiers, The, 317
Soul Brothers and Sister Lou, The, 167
Soul Catcher, 151
Soul on Ice, 164
Sound and the Fury, The, 90
Sound of the City, The, 318
Soup, The, 122
Spain, 11
Spanish-Americans of New Mexico, The, 174
Speak to Me, Dance with Me, 283
Speak Up You Tiny Fool, 330
Special Kind of Courage, A, 85
Sleep Two, Three, Four!, 18
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title Index</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Speed with Style: The Autobiography of Peter Revson, 378</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spencer's Mountain, 91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spies on the Devil's Belt, 237</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spirit Is Willing, The, 22</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spirit of the Land: Revivalism in America, The, 274</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Splendor in the Sky, 382</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Split Ends, 136</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spoon River Anthology, 303</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sporadic Psycho, A, 78</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sports Poems, 306</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sports Psychology, 373</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sports Shorts, 363</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sportsworld, 367</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spirit of the Land: Revivalism in America, The, 274</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spirit Is Willing, The, 22</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spirit of the Land: Revivalism in America, The, 274</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Splendor in the Sky, 382</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Split Ends, 136</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spoon River Anthology, 303</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sporadic Psycho, A, 78</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sports Poems, 306</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sports Psychology, 373</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sports Shorts, 363</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sportsworld, 367</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spirit of the Land: Revivalism in America, The, 274</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spirit Is Willing, The, 22</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spirit of the Land: Revivalism in America, The, 274</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Splendor in the Sky, 382</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Split Ends, 136</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spoon River Anthology, 303</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sporadic Psycho, A, 78</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sports Poems, 306</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sports Psychology, 373</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sports Shorts, 363</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sportsworld, 367</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spotted Tail's Folk, 113</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spreading Fires, 61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sprints and Distances: Sports in Poetry and the Poetry in Sport, 368</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spy Story, 14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stand on the Gas, 279</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Star over Adobe, 176</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Star Road, The, 36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Starfall, 415</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Starlight and Other Improbabilities, 390</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stars and Serendipity, The, 385</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stars Tonight, The, 419</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Starlight Over, 63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>State-by-State Guide to Women's Legal Rights, A, 131</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Slaying Alive, 422</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spfirdford Wife, The, 138</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sterile Cuckoo, The, 61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sticks and Stones, 81</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stolen Fire, The, 265</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stone for Danny Fisher, A, 75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stone, 98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stoping Out, 122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stories to Make You Feel Better, 328</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Story Like the Wind, A, 242</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Story of Latin and the Romance Languages, The, 264</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Storytelling Stone, The, 268</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Straight Ahead: The Story of Stan Kenton, 317</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Strange Last Voyage of Donald Crowhurst, The, 429</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Strange News from Another Star &amp; Other Tales, 103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stranger, The, 89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stranger in a Strange Land, 39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Strangers in Their Own Land, 176</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Strawberries in the Wintertime, 372</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Strictly Speaking, 262</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Strikes, Bomba, and Bullets: Big Bill Johnson and the IWW, 216</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Student as Nigger, The, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Student Cartoonist's View of Great Figures in American History, A, 225</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Study of Writing, A, 262</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stuff, Etc., 357</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Super Ray, 370</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Susan of Spring, The, 365</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sals, 170</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sumatra Alley, 205</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summer Before, The, 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summer Garden, The, 359</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summer of '42, 74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summer of My German Soldier, 245</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summer of the Great-Grandmother, The, 115</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summer of the Swans, The, 79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sun Dance People, The, 169</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sun King: Louis XIV of France, The, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sun Yat-sen, China's Great Champion, 229</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sunset in a Spider Web, 296</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sunshine, 93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Supertrips, 125</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Supersharp, 422</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Superstition!, 51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Surprises: 20 Stories by O. Henry, 310</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Survival: Jamestown, First English Colony in America, 207</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Survival of the Bark Canoe, The, 403</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Survive the Savage Sea, 247</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Survivors, 245</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sweetheart: The Story of Mary Pickford, 349</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sweetwater, 46</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Swiss Family Robinson, The, 21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Synthetic Man, The, 44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tales of Ieu, The, 222</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tales of Troy, The, 268</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tales from Southern Africa, 230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tales from the Wandering Gypsies, 270</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tales of Ancient Egypt, 269</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tales of Terror and Suspense, 47</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tales Out of School, 338</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Talking Pictures, 348</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tango Briefing, The, 15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Toast Tales, 261</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teachings of Don Juan, The, 100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teachings of the Compassionate Buddha, The, 274</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Team, 374</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tear Down the Walls!, 172</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teenage Jobs, 122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teenager and the New Morality, The, 84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teen-Agers Inside Out, 79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teleplay, 328</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Telepolines, 201</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Television and the News, 356</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Television Program, The, 356</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Television Years, The, 356</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ten Great Musicals of the American Theatre, 265</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ten Great One Act Plays, 206</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ten Modern American Short Stories, 314</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ten Short Plays, 297</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ten Tall Texans, 114</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tendoy, Chief of the Lemhi, 109</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Terminal Man, The, 45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Terrible Tense Bunch, The, 27</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Territorial Imperative, The, 388</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Terrors of the Span, 342</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Testimony of the Span, The, 389</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>That Certain Summer, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>That Crazy April, 140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>That Persistent Cosmetic Rhetoric, 269</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>That Was Then, This Is Now, 69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Then Again, Maybe I Won't, 65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Title Index</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tomb of Tutankhamen, 390</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tomboy, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tom, Coons, Mulattoes, Mammys, &amp; Bucks, 325</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tonight, 354</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Toni-Bluesy, 338</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Too Near the Sun, 190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tormented Angel: A Life of John Henry Newman, 270</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Toxocanini, 255</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total Loss Farm, 192</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total War, 245</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Touch of Infinity, A, 37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Touch the Earth, 154</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Touhouse-Laurens, 254</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Toward Infinity, 40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trace through the Forest, 210</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Track of the Cat, The, 89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Traders to the Navajos, 150</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tragedy Asian Plays, 228</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tranquility without Pills, 105</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Transportation in the World of the Future, 382</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Traveler from Alturia, A, 191</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Travels in a Donkey Trap, 99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Travels with My Aunt, 13</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Treasure Keepers, 286</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Treasure of the Caves: The Story of the Dead Sea Scrolls, 394</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Treasury of Chinese Literature, A, 234</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Treasury of Modern Asian Stories, A, 249</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Treasury of Name Lore, The, 264</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tree of Freedom, 234</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tricks That Made Headlines, 196</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trimming in America off the Beaten Track, 379</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trojans: A Story of Southern California Football, The, 370</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tropical Forest, The, 297</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trouble on Project Ceres, 45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trouble with Tribbles, Th, 354</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trout Fishing in America, 326</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>True Grit, 29</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>True Story of a Drunken Mother, A, 132</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trusty Knaves, The, 30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Truth about Kraf Slatie, The, 90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Truth of a Hopi, 184</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trying Hard to Hear You, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trying Out the Dream, 227</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tudor Women, 136</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tuesday the Rabbi Saw Red, 9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tupamaro Guerrillas, The, 238</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Turn It Up! (I Can't Hear the Words), 323</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Turn Not Pale, Beloved Snail, 125</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Turtle Island, 306</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tuscaroras, The, 161</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TV, 356</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TV Guide to the Movies, 346</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Twentieth-Century British Drama, 229</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Twenty Grand Stories, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Twenty Grand Short Stories, 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Twenty Thousand Leagues under the Seas, 45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Twice Through the Lines: The Autobiography of Otto John, 250</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Title Index</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Twilight of the Gods: The Beatles in Retrospect, 329</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vikings of the Pacific, 389</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Two Hundred Tales from Shakespeare, 325</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2001: A Space Odyssey, 35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Village, The, 257</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Twisted Tales from Shakespeare, 325</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vinegar Flats, 335</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Two Worlds of Jim Yoshida, The, 182</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Violence in America, 221</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Type, 18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vision of Stethen, The, 48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tyranny of Noise, The, 406</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vital Signs: The Way We Die in America, 194</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>U.S. v. Richard M. Nixon, 222</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vital Signs, U.S.A., 219</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Two Worlds of Jim Yoshida, The, 182</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Voice of the Children, The, 186</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Uncle Herschel, Dr. Padilsky, and the Evil Eye, 107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Voice That Is Great within Us, The, 229</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Uncommitted, The, 221</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Voices from the Great Black Baseball League, 366</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Under the Haystack, 67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Voices from Women's Liberation, 142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Under the Net, 334</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Voices of Aztlán, 174</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Underdogs, The, 227</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Voices of Modern Asia, 241</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Undersea Adventure, The, 424</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Voices of the American Revolution, 210</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Understanding Media, 357</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Von Ryan's Express, 257</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Understanding Television, 354</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Voyages of Apollo, The, 333</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Underwater Man, 425</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>W-3, 103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Unembarrassed Muse, The, 321</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wait Till I Make the Show, 371</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Unfinished Symphonies, 48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Waiting for Godot, 268</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Unfinished Woman, An, 112</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Waiting Out a War, 247</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>United States and the Soviet Union, The, 221</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Walk in the Paradise Garden, 18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Universal Baseball Association, Inc., J. Henry Waugh, Prop., The, 89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Walk of the Conscious Ants, The, 377</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vessels for Underwater Exploration, 306</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Universal Economics, 153</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Undersea Adventure, The, 424</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Uri Geller, 51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Underwater Man, 425</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Use and Misuse of Language, The, 262</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Undersea Adventure, The, 424</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Utopia, 192</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Uncommitted, The, 221</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Utopia or Oblivion, 91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Voices from the Mountains, 266</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Utopian Fantasy, 190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Way It Is, 363</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>V.D., 83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>War Year, 248</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>V.D.: A Doctor's Answer, 85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>We are Resisting the Third Reich, 259</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Valley of the Shadow, The, 208</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>War against the Jews, 1933-1945, The, 235</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vanity Fair, 63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>War and Peace, 256</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vanishing Point, 229</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>War between the Tates, The, 61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Varday, 61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>War Chief Joseph, 112</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vase of Glass, 46</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>War Crimes on Horseback, 153</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vessels for Underwater Exploration, 223</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>War Films, 341</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>We Could Have Lost, The, 239</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>War We Could Have Lost, The, 202</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>We Could Have Lost, The, 202</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>War Year, 248</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>We Are Chicanos, 176</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Warrior on Two Continents: 252</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>W. A. C. Altman, 61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>We are Your Sons: The Legacy of Edel and Julius Rosenberg, 222</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>We Can't Breathe, 165</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>We Can't Breathe, 165</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Title Index 481

Have Always Lived in the Stele, 52
Have Not Vanished: Eastern Indians of the United States, 158
Too, Belong, 183
Their Changes, 382
Then Changes Man, 390 and Smith of the Gods, 272
Come to the Monkey House, 338
The, 297
Africa, 224
of Owen Wister, 22 of the Texas Kid, 1881-1910, 24
Rem from Silents to the Asties, 340 etc., 349
le for the Killing, A, 403 are Wonderful Bird the Frog, 353 lakes Sammy Run?, 96 ever Happened to Gourds, 319 a Becomes of Screwloose? And her Inquiries, 38 ns, 375
ll from Space, 418
a Pony, The, 232
the Ship, The, 78
a Water, Still Water, 15
Did What, 113
cerpted America?, 393
I Am, 393
Is Angelina?, 172
Owns America?, 410
Really Runs America?, 399
Speaks for Appalachia?, 220
Was Roberto? A Biography of berto Clemente, 358
s the Savage?, 162
Who in Professional whall, 360
Have the Birds Stopped singing?, 56 an Angel, 89
w. 108
imals, Safe Places, 402
Green Things in the City, 399
i in the World, 67
Life in Danger, 401
ivers and Mountain Trails, 372
ning, A, 62
Widest under Glass, 202
Wilderness Man: The Curious Life of Archie Belaney Called Grey Owl, 119
Wilderness World of the Grand Canyon, The, 403
Wildfire, 13
Will Rogers, 114
Will Smith of the Gods, 272 ome to the Monkey House, 338
eter Trilogy, The, 297
Africa, 224
Wilderness World of the Grand Canyon, The, 403
Wildfire, 13
Will Rogers, 114
Will Soule, 144
Will the Real Monday Please Stand Up, 84
William Tecumseh Sherman, 212
Wilt, 199
Wind from the West, A, 281
Wind, Sand and Stars, 103
Winds of Mars, The, 369
Wings of Feathers, Wings of Flame, 420
Winter in the Blood, 160
Winter Search Party, 404
Winter Wheat, 78
Wise Minority, The, 247
Wit and Wisdom of Yogi Berra, The, 369
Witch of Blackbird Pond, The, 211
Witchcraft and Magic, 51
Witchcraft of Salem Village, The, 297
Widcracks, 335
With the Weathermen, 225
Without Feathers, 225
Wizard of Earthsea, A, 40
Woke Up This Morning', 321
Wolf Hunt, 14
Wooling, The, 19
Waves of North America, The, 407
Woman at the Well, The, 290
Woman in Levi's, 22
Woman of the People, A, 23
Woman's Place, A, 141
Women, 131
Women and Fiction, 122
Women and Madness, 133
Methods, 138
Women Gain a Place in Medicine, 138
Women in History, 134
Women Today, 143
Wonderful World of Horses, The, 100
Wonderful World of TV Soap Opera, The, 319
Wooden Horse, The, 258
Wooly Hynes and the 100-Yard Wall, 300
Word Play, 264
Words of Science, 259
Working, 225 world at War, The, 244
World Encyclopedia of the Film, The, 346
World Encyclopedia of the Film, The, 346
World Heavyweight Boxing Championship, The, 397
World of Black Humor, The, 228
World of Entertainment, The, 340
World of Our Fathers, 278
World of "Star Trek," The, 354
World of Swing, The, 316
World of the Mays, The, 358
World of the Veterinarian, The, 27
World of William Penn, The, 206
World on Film, A, 347
Title Index

World Split Open, The, 298
World to Care For, A, 128
World within the Brain, The, 367
World’s Best Short Short Stories, The, 310
World in the Making, 37
World’s Number One, Flat-Out, All-Time Great, Stock Car Racing Book, The, 374
Wounded Commaneci and Other Stories, The, 313
Wounded Earth, The, 411
Wrapped for Eternity, 394
Wrinkle in Time, A, 41
Write If You Get Work, 328
Writings of W.E.B. Du Bois, The, 169
Wuthering Heights, 59
Xingu, 234
Xil Buck, 28
Yamai, 401
Year, The, 323
Year in the Minors, A, 367
Yearling, The, 74
Years before the Mayflower, The, 209
Years with Rose, The, 335
Yellow Star, The, 254
Yellow Wallpaper, The, 134
Yoga I Can: The Story of Sunny Davis, Jr., 311
Yevtushenko, Selected Poems, 306
You Bet Your Boots I Can, 36
You Better Believe It, 259
You Can Get There From Here, 239
You Can’t Make it by Bus, 178
You and Black in Africa, 118
You and Black in America, 162
Young and Female, 141
Young Animators and Their Discoveries, 333
Your Aptitude, 121
Your Bird Is Here, Tom Thompson, 77
Your Career If You’re Not Going to College, 133
Your Career in Advertising, 126
Your Career in Law Enforcement, 127
Your Career in Nursing, 129
Your Career in Physical Therapy, 122
Your Career in Selling, 127
Your Career in the World of Travel, 125
Your City Tomorrow, 185
Your Future in Archaeology, 333
Your Future in Exotic Occupations, 134
Your Future in Law Enforcement, 124
Your Future in Publishing, 122
Your Future in the Military Services, 127
Your Introduction to Law, 195
Your Own Thing and Twelfth Night, 258
Your Right to Know, 201
Your Silent Language, 263
Z for Zachariah, 43
Zach, 69
Zamith, 137
Zapata and the Mexican Revolution, 235
Zebras, 139
Zen and the Art of Motorcycle Maintenance, 105
Zero Makes Me Hungry, 303
Zoo of the Gods, 270
Zoo 2000, 46
Zunis, The, 162