THE "HOLLOW SQUARE" EXPERIMENT

GOALS

I. To become aware of the dynamics involved in planning for the accomplishment of a task which will be carried out by others.

II. To become aware of the dynamics involved in carrying out the planned instructions of others in accomplishing a task.

III. To become aware of the crucial role of communications when giving or receiving instructions for carrying out a task.

GROUP SIZE

No more than twenty-three members in a single experimental group. Two or more groups of up to twenty-three members each may be used if a competition situation is desired.

TIME REQUIRED

Approximately one hour.

MATERIALS UTILIZED

I. Planning Team Briefing Sheets for each individual on a planning team.

II. Hollow Square Patterns for each individual on a planning team.

III. Hollow Square Key for each individual on a planning team.

IV. Envelope containing four of sixteen puzzle pieces for each individual on a planning team. Each envelope contains pieces with the same code letter, as designated on the Key (four envelopes).

V. Observation Team Briefing Sheets and Observer Notes for each individual on an observing team.

VI. Operating Team Briefing Sheets for each individual on an operating team.

VII. Pencils for all group members.

VIII. Small table (card table size) for each experimental group.
PHYSICAL SETTING

Room large enough to accommodate the experimental groups comfortably with access to other rooms where the planning and operating teams can be isolated. If two or more experimental groups are competing, choose the size of the room in proportion to the number of participants. Tables should be set up to become the center of activity; individuals should be able to move freely around them.

PROCESS

I. The facilitator selects four people for the planning team and sends them out of the room to be isolated.

II. The facilitator selects four people for the operating team and sends them to another room. This room should be comfortable, since this team will have a waiting period.

III. The facilitator designates those members left (up to fifteen) as the observing team. He gives each individual a copy of the Observing Team Briefing Sheet and allows them time to read it. Each member of the observing team chooses one member of each of the other teams to observe.

IV. The facilitator explains to the observing team that they will gather around the table where the planning and operating teams will be working, and that their job will be to observe, take notes, and be ready to discuss the results of the experiment after the operating team has finished.

V. The facilitator then brings in the planning team, gathers them around the table, and distributes puzzle pieces, envelopes, Planning Team Briefing Sheets, Hollow Square Patterns and Keys to each individual on the team.

VI. Following this distribution of materials, the facilitator explains to the planning team that all the necessary instructions are on the Briefing Sheet but that he will be there to answer questions. The facilitator answers all questions, if raised, with the phrase, "All you need to know is on the Briefing Sheet."

VII. The facilitator then cautions the observing team to remain silent and not to offer clues.

VIII. The experiment proceeds of its own accord, including summoning of the operating team without further instructions from the facilitator. If a competition situation has been established, the facilitator has the responsibility of timing the experimental groups from the moment Step Seven has been completed until the experimental groups have completed the assembly of the hollow squares. If an operator team is not finished at the end of 10-12 minutes, you may need to call time in order to have time left to discuss the exercise before the session must close.
IX. Discussion of the Exercise

Call upon the observers for comments, the planners and operators for their reactions, and add your own observations. There are several points which can be drawn out of this exercise which may not be raised by others. Often planners build artificial constraints; that is, they assume there are things they cannot do, which, in fact, are not forbidden. For example, it is permissible for them to draw a detailed design on the Pattern Sheet or draw a template on the table or on another sheet of paper. It is only the Key Sheet which they cannot show the operators. Secondly, planners usually wait until most of the twenty-five minutes is gone before they bring in their operators to instruct them. When planners choose to bring in the operators earlier (or when the operators come in on their own, as they sometimes do) often more effective instruction occurs. Thirdly, very often this exercise demonstrates the differences in effectiveness of various methods of instruction. Some planners will choose to write out detailed instructions, others will use oral instructions, others will visually demonstrate the instructions by positioning the pieces of the puzzle on their work surface in some fashion, and still others will use sketches to reinforce their instructions. Often there is a dramatic difference in the effectiveness of the methods (demonstrated by how the operators perform), and this helps to emphasize the point that it is important to select a method of instruction which is appropriate for the task.

X. Summarize the exercise by tying back into the major points of directing and training which this experience has illustrated.
HOLLOW SQUARE PLANNING. TEAM BRIEFING SHEET

Each of you will be given a packet containing four cardboard pieces which, when properly assembled with the other pieces held by members of your team, will make a hollow square design.

YOUR TASK

During a period of twenty-five minutes you are to do the following:

1. Plan how the sixteen pieces distributed among you should be assembled to make the design.

2. Instruct your OPERATING TEAM on how to implement your plan (you may begin instructing your OPERATING TEAM at any time during the planning period--but no later than five minutes before they are to begin the assembling process).

GENERAL RULES

1. You must keep all pieces you have in front of you at all times.

2. You may not touch or trade pieces with other members of your team during the planning or instructing phase.

3. You may not show the KEY at any time.

4. You may not assemble the entire square at any time (this is to be left to your operating team).

5. You are not to mark on any of the pieces.

6. Members of your operating team must also observe the above rules.

7. When time is called for your team to begin assembling the pieces you may give no further instructions, but you are to observe the operation.
HOLLOW SQUARE OBSERVING TEAM BRIEFING SHEET

You will be observing a situation in which a planning team decides how to solve a problem and gives instructions to an operating team for implementation. The problem consists of assembling sixteen pieces of cardboard into the form of a hollow square. The planning team is supplied with the general layout of the pieces. This team is not to assemble the parts itself, but is to instruct the operating team on how to assemble the parts in a minimum amount of time. You will be silent observers throughout the process.

SUGGESTIONS:

1. Each member of the observing team should watch the general pattern of communication but give special attention to one member of the planning team (during the planning phase) and one member of the operating team (during the assembling period).

2. During the planning period, watch for the following behaviors:
   a. Is there balanced participation among planning team members?
   b. What kinds of behavior block or facilitate the process?
   c. How does the planning team divide its time between planning and instructing? (How early does it invite the operating team to come in?)

3. During the instructing period, watch for the following behaviors:
   a. Which member of the planning team gives the instructions? How was this decided?
   b. What strategy was employed in orienting the operating team to the task?
   c. What assumptions made by the planning team are not communicated to the operating team?
   d. How effective were the instructions?
   e. Did the operating team appear to feel free to ask questions of the planners?

4. During the assembly period, watch for the following behaviors:
   a. What evidence do the operating team members illustrate that instructions were clearly understood or misunderstood?
   b. What non-verbal reactions did planning team members exhibit as they watched their plans being implemented or distorted?
HOLLOW SQUARE OPERATING TEAM BRIEFING SHEET

1. You will have responsibility for carrying out a task for four people according to instructions given by your planning team. Your planning team may call you in for instructions at any time. If they do not summon you, you are to report to them anyway. Your task is scheduled to begin exactly twenty-five minutes from now. After that, no further instructions will be permitted.

2. You are to finish the assigned task as rapidly as possible.

3. During the period when you are waiting for a call from your planning team, it is suggested that you discuss and make notes on the following questions:

   a. What feelings and concerns do you experience while waiting for instructions for the unknown task?

   b. How can the four of you organize as a team?

4. The notes recorded on the above will be helpful during the discussion following the completion of the task.
HOLLOW SQUARE PATTERN
HOLLOW SQUARE KEY.
An example of that is the farmer who set out to plow his "south forty" one spring morning. That was an essential job. But listen to how he went about doing it.

"He started early to fuel his tractor. Then he found he needed more fuel so he went to the barn to get it."

"On the way he noticed the pigs hadn't been fed. This sent him to the corn crib, where he saw some sacks. This reminded him that the potatoes were sprouting. So he started for the potato pit. As he passed the wood pile, he remembered that his wife wanted some wood for the house. While he was picking up some sticks, he spotted a chicken that was ailing. So he dropped the wood and went to the aid of the chicken."

"When noon arrived, the tractor was still in the barn and the 'south forty' was still unplowed."

Poor farmer. He worked hard all morning and yet he didn't accomplish a single thing.
BENEFITS OF GOOD PLANNING

1. Higher production
2. Lower costs
3. Satisfied employees
4. Decreases misunderstandings and confusion
5. Lessens pressure from above
6. High quality work
7. Improves safety - decreases accidents
8. Increases chance for promotion and advancement

GUIDELINES FOR WRITING PERFORMANCE STANDARDS

1. Base standards upon results which are related to tasks and responsibilities of the position.

2. Base standards upon meaningful and important elements of those tasks and responsibilities.

3. State standards in measurable or observable terms.

4. Be specific about target dates and quantity and quality of performance, as appropriate.

5. Include references to applicable manners or conditions of performance, such as policies, standards, or procedures of the organization.

6. Use a form for expressing measurement which is suitable for the standard: positive, negative or zero expressions.

Sample Standards

1. Prepares for posting by end of workday, with no more than one corrected error per page, all letters received to within one hour of closing, unless given other priorities by supervisor.

2. Completes orientation of new employees according to the city's orientation checklist within one week of employee's beginning date for at least 95% of the new employees.

3. Places orders for all office supplies, using the city's approved procedures, so that there are no instances where the regular supplies are exhausted.

4. Follows all federal and state guidelines for hiring practices so that the city has no more than one complaint per year of discriminating practices from job applicants.
GUIDELINES FOR WRITING OBJECTIVES

1. Be brief and to the point; include only one major item in each objective.

2. Use an action verb to describe the expected result.

3. Specify a time frame or target date for completion.

4. Specify limits in use of resources (money, personnel, equipment, as appropriate).

5. Specify results to be achieved in measurable or observable terms.

6. Choose areas over which you have direct influence or control; don't write objectives that only other units or people can accomplish.

7. Make objectives realistic in terms of previous performance, total responsibilities of the unit, and existing resources.

8. Include enough challenge in an improvement or change objective to make it worth formulating.

9. Select objectives which are supportive and consistent with overall organizational missions and objectives.

Sample Objectives

1. To increase by 15% the average number of chuck holes which the crew fills per hour, measured over a three month period, with no increase in crew size.

2. To decrease by 20% the amount of lost work time due to on-the-job injuries during the next 12 months.

3. To decrease by 12% the total dollar amount of tools which are lost or stolen during the next 12 months.

4. To increase the quality of building cleaning service by scrubbing and waxing each floor surface in the building once every three weeks with no increase in personnel or equipment and no decrease in other services.
PRESENTING A BUSY DAY -- TYPICAL AND TRUE IN THE LIFE OF ONE TODD ROBERTS.

IT'S A BEAUTIFUL MORNING -- ONE OF THOSE "GREAT-TO-BE-ALIVE" DAYS. TODD IS RARIN' TO GO. HE HAS BIG PLANS. THIS IS THE DAY WHEN HE'S GOING TO CATCH UP ON ALL THAT PAPER WORK. HE'LL DO THAT SPECIAL REPORT FOR SURE TODAY. HIS INTENTIONS ARE THE BEST. BUT WHAT TODD IS OVERLOOKING IS THAT... FEW DAYS GO AS PLANNED.

DID WE SAY SOMETHING ABOUT "THE BEST LAID PLANS?"

THAT'S BOB, ONE OF HIS ASSOCIATES. HE LOOKS FLUSTERED. SOMEBODY DISCONNECTED THE FROZEN FOOD CASE.

WHAT A START! WELL, TODD'S REAL COOL IN EMERGENCIES. HE'LL HANDLE THIS ONE ALL RIGHT. BUT WAIT THIS IS NOT THE ONLY EVENT INTERRUPTING TODD AT THE MOMENT.

HERE COMES A CUSTOMER .... AND SHE GETS TOP PRIORITY.

MAY HE HELP HER! YOU SHOULD HEAR THAT WOMAN TALK.

SHE'S TELLING HIM ABOUT LOSING HER BRAND NEW HANDBAG. SHE HAD $48.25 IN IT WHEN SHE CAME INTO THE SHOPPING CART.

THE TROUBLE ALL STARTED WHEN SHE STEPPED OVER TO GET A JAR OF THAT SPECIAL ON RASPBERRY PRESERVES. WHEN SHE GOT BACK TO THE CART, THE BAG WHICH SHE HAD LEFT IN THE SHOPPING CART WAS GONE.

NOW SHE WANTS TODD TO DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT AND QUICK.

TODD WILL, BUT SITUATIONS LIKE THIS HAVE A WAY OF TAKING TIME.

CUSTOMERS ARE WONDERFUL; BUT SO IS STORE PERSONNEL. AND, ABOUT NOW, ONE OF HIS ASSOCIATES WANTS HELP AND A BIT OF COMFORT. YOU SEE, THERE WAS A CRASH.

SOME KID TAKES A BOX OFF THE BOTTOM OF THE STACK.

Sweep it up . . . or Build it up? TODD HAS TO MAKE A DECISION. YOU SEE, TODD'S JUST HAD A PHONE CALL. SOME OF THE VISITING BRASS ARE ON THE WAY OUT TO SEE HIS STORE.

"THANKS FOR SHOWING US AROUND:"

46
TODD IS PROUD OF THE ORGANIZATION. HE SHOWED THEM THE STORE FROM TOP TO BOTTOM—STEERING THEM AWAY FROM THE SCENE OF THE ACCIDENT, OF COURSE.

AFTER THE GOOD-BYES, TODD HEADS BACK TO HIS OFFICE AND THAT SPECIAL REPORT. REMEMBER? TODD'S BEHIND SCHEDULE NOW. SOON HE'LL BE RUNNING TO CATCH UP.

HE'S HARDLY STARTED WHEN HE HEARS TWO GIRLS ARGUING, WHAT’S IT ALL ABOUT? IT SEEMS THAT PAT IS TRYING TO TELL ANN HOW TO DO HER WORK, AND ANN DOESN'T LIKE IT ONE BIT.

ABOUT THIS POINT, TODD PROBABLY WISHES HE WERE RUNNING, ALL RIGHT . . . ONLY THE OTHER WAY. BUT THAT'S NOT REALLY OUR TODD, BECAUSE HERE HE COMES.

TODD HAS TO BE BOTH JUDGE AND JURY. IT'S NOT GOOD TO HAVE EMPLOYEES QUARRELING. TODD'LL DO HIS BEST TO GET THIS STRAIGHTENED OUT BY SEEING THAT THE TWO GIRLS GO OUT OF HIS OFFICE FRIENDS AGAIN.

THE DAYS NOT STANDING STILL. LOOK AT THE CLOCK AND THEN AT THE PILE OF WORK THAT TODD STILL SEES ON HIS DESK.

AND JUST WHEN TODD THOUGHT HE HAD A SMOOTH-WORKING TEAM: KNOW OF ANY-ONE WHO'S LOOKING FOR A JOB IN A SUPERMARKET?

THAT'S TODD'S WIFE. SHE'S CALLING TO TELL HIM THAT THE BABY IS MISSING. WHAT SHOULD SHE DO?

COULD ANYTHING ELSE POSSIBLE HAPPEN? OR IS TODD TEMPTING FATE?

WELL, I CAN SEE SOME OF YOU SAYING TO YOURSELVES: "THAT TODD ROBERTS HAS NOTHING ON ME. YOU SHOULD SEE SOME OF MY DAYS."

Lakein's suggestions for better using time include:

1. List goals and set priorities.
2. Make a daily "To Do" list.
3. Start with A's, not with C's.
4. Ask Lakein's question, "What is the best use of my time right now?"
5. Handle each piece of paper only once.
6. Do it now!

Additional Notes on the Film...
SETTING PRIORITIES

Group A - Must Do's - Those tasks you must do or serious consequences may occur. Some of these can be delegated.

Group B - Should Do's - Those tasks you should do to keep the normal wheels of progress moving. Many of these should be delegated. A Should Do may become a Must Do after a period of time if not completed.

Group C - Nice To Do's - If you rarely did them or never did them, no serious consequences would occur.

Working With Your Secretary

There is nothing that can save time for a department chairman more than a good secretary. Today's effective secretary must be knowledgeable and effective in the management of people as well as of paper and pushbuttons.

How does your secretary rate?

1. Does your secretary know the full range of your responsibilities and activities in your organization? Does she understand your personal goals and ambitions and how they fit in with the department's objectives?

2. Can you leave the office for as much as three or four weeks, confident that your business and personal affairs will be conducted responsibly and expeditiously in your absence?

3. Does she help you organize your time, coordinate your appointments and schedules, meet your deadlines without nagging and pestering you? Is she herself a well-organized person?

4. Does she initiate, handle and follow through on projects without your having to remind her about them?

5. Is she courteous, helpful, respectful and solicitous of your business associates, visitors, clients and customers? Do they speak of her favorably?

6. Is she imaginative? Creative? Does she present original ideas for your consideration? Does she suggest new ways to improve your work? Does she suggest new systems or procedures?

7. Is she resourceful? Does she show initiative in getting past a problem without running to you with her trouble?

8. Does she move paper efficiently? Can she tactfully pry loose papers and projects that have remained on your desk too long - and that other executives are waiting for? Does she shake loose data other executives are holding and that you are waiting for?

9. Are her basic secretarial skills (such as filing, stenography and telephone manner) beyond reproach?

10. Is she calm in a crisis? Gracious when tension mounts? When the pressure is on and you lose your temper or self-composure, does she shrug it off and continue to function as well as before?
11. Do you have her absolute loyalty and confidence? Can you trust her with confidential information, both personal and business?

| Yes | No |

12. Does she read widely and knowledgeably, bringing to your attention published items pertinent to your business or personal affairs?

|   |   |

13. Is she a valuable source of department information, obtaining facts that would be difficult, awkward or impossible for you to obtain on your own?

|   |   |

14. Does she have a personal self-improvement program? Does she try to learn more about your department, your particular job, your students or your type of work?

|   |   |

15. Is she articulate? Does she express herself well in summarizing information for you, both verbally and in writing? Does she give instructions clearly and precisely? Does she know how you feel about certain policies or practices, and does she communicate this to others as well as you do?

|   |   |

16. Does she work every day until her job is done, regardless of the hour or the many interruptions without giving up?

|   |   |

17. Is she a manager in the sense that she can farm out her work to others when necessary? That is, can she delegate, supervise and take responsibility for work not completed by herself? Can she train or help train other members of your staff?

|   |   |

18. Can she handle routine matters and projects for you on a day-to-day basis without your intervention?

|   |   |

19. Does she keep track of vital dates for you, dates needed by your boss, or his office (meeting dates, deadlines, vacations and such).

|   |   |

20. Can she do basic research for you — gather information for a report, for example, or even write a rough draft?

C. W. Lifer - Ohio
DO YOU DELEGATE AS MUCH AS YOU SHOULD?

There's no easy way to determine how much of his work a supervisor should delegate to his subordinates. The amount will vary with the job and the capabilities of subordinates. But you can get a rough idea of whether you are delegating enough -- and properly -- by asking yourself the following questions?

Do you have to take work home almost every night?

Do you often have unfinished work piling up?

Do you have several long-range projects postponed until you "get time?"

Do you feel it's a sign of weakness to need subordinates' assistance to keep up with your work?

Do you believe that to really earn his salary a manager has to be overworked?

Do subordinates often interrupt you for help and advice?

Do most of them feel they should bring problems to you rather than make decisions themselves?

Do you spend part of your working day doing things for others they could do themselves?

Is as much of your time spent on details as on planning and supervising?

Do you reserve those details for yourself that you particularly enjoy, even though someone else could do them?

Do you feel you must keep a close tab on details to have a job done right?

Do you lack confidence in subordinates (I.e., are you afraid to risk giving them more responsibility?)

Are you a perfectionist about details that do not affect the final outcome of a project?

In delegating a job, do you often withhold full job information?

After delegating a project, do you grow apprehensive and hover over the subordinate who's doing the job?

Are your employees unprepared to take on more responsibilities -- either because of lack of training or self-confidence?

"YES" answers indicate the need for more delegating.
MEASURE YOUR ABILITY AS A DELEGATOR

You can check your skill in delegation simply by studying the operations of your department and then answering the following questions. If you say "NO" to nine of them, you have trained a competitive working team that accepts its responsibilities -- is thriving on them. But if you must honestly answer "YES" to three or more of the following questions, it's time to reappraise your supervisory methods. Better training, better communications, better individual coaching of subordinates may help you solve your delegation problem.

DELEGATION

Review your job responsibilities and select those tasks which you can delegate to others. Note how often the task occurs and how long it takes per day/week/month. Select the person to whom you will delegate the task and record the preparation or training which the person will need. Note what new authority (decision making) the person will have. Estimate when you will be able to delegate the task. Make note of any other person you should consult concerning the proposed delegation.

THE INDISPENSABLE MAN

Sometime when you're feeling important,
Sometime when your ego's in bloom,
Sometime when you take it for granted,
You're the best qualified in the room.

Sometime when you feel that your going
Would leave an unfillable hole,
Just follow this simple instruction
And see how it humbles your soul.

Take a bucket and fill it with water,
Put your hand in it, up to your wrist;
Pull it out, and the hole that's remaining,
Is a measure of how you'll be missed.

You may splash all you please when you enter,
You can stir up the water galore;
But stop, and you'll find in a minute,
That it looks just the same as before.

The moral in this quaint example,
Is to do just the best that you can.
Be proud of yourself, but remember,
There is no indispensable man.

RULES FROM
HOW TO WIN FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE PEOPLE

FUNDAMENTAL TECHNIQUES IN HANDLING PEOPLE

1. Don't criticize, condemn or complain.
2. Give honest, sincere appreciation.
3. Arouse in the other person an eager want.
4. Become genuinely interested in other people.
5. Smile.
6. Remember that a man's name is to him the sweetest and most important sound in any language.
7. Be a good listener. Encourage others to talk about themselves.
8. Talk in terms of the other man's interests.
9. Make the other person feel important and do it sincerely.
10. The only way to get the best of an argument is to avoid it.
11. Show respect for the other man's opinion. Never tell a man he is wrong.
12. If you are wrong, admit it quickly and emphatically.
14. Get the other person saying, "yes, yes" immediately.
15. Let the other person do a great deal of the talking.
16. Let the other person feel that the idea is his.
17. Try honestly to see things from the other person's point of view.
18. Be sympathetic with the other person's ideas and desires.
19. Appeal to the nobler motives.
20. Dramatize your ideas.
21. Throw down a challenge.
TRUE...OR FALSE? MAINTAINING DISCIPLINE

1. Discipline starts with the very beginning of a new employee's training.

2. Many disciplinary problems can be prevented if the supervisor explains the rules and regulations carefully.

3. Employees who violate the rules should always be punished.

4. Discipline that controls is the primary preventive discipline available to a supervisor.

5. The chief purpose of a warning is to punish the offender.

6. "Ignorance of the law" is never an excuse when an employee violates a department regulation.

7. An employee's past record should not influence the disciplinary actions of the supervisor.

8. A good supervisor punishes an offender to make an example out of him and to thereby deter others from breaking rules.

9. The supervisor should not be swayed by the man's reasons for breaking a rule.
GETTING READY TO TRAIN

Step I - Use a Training Time Table
1. List jobs to be performed
2. List worker's names
3. Check jobs against names
4. Identify training needs
5. Plan training

Step II - Make a Training Outline
1. List major points
2. List special points

Step III - Prepare to Train
1. Have necessary supplies, equipment and teaching material on hand
2. Review training outline
3. Arrange work place
CONDITIONS FAVORABLE TO LEARNING

1. NEED AND DESIRE ON THE PART OF THE LEARNER
2. A PLEASANT LEARNING SITUATION
3. A GOOD FIRST IMPRESSION
4. INFORMATION THAT CREATES INTEREST
5. INFORMATION RELATED TO WHAT IS ALREADY KNOWN
6. INFORMATION PRESENTED IN SMALL AMOUNTS
7. APPEAL TO MORE THAN ONE OF THE FIVE SENSES
8. REPETITION WITH VARIATION
9. LEARNER'S AWARENESS OF OWN PROGRESS
10. OPPORTUNITY TO PUT LEARNING INTO IMMEDIATE USE
FOUR-STEP METHOD OF TRAINING

Step 1 - Prepare the trainee.

- put him at his ease; he'll learn faster.
- find out what he already knows.
- stimulate his interest in the job.
- show purpose of job.
- place in correct position to see.

Step 2 - Present the job.

- tell, show, illustrate, step by step -- no more than he can master.
- stress key points (see job breakdown).
- be clear, thorough, patient.

Step 3 - Try out performance.

- test by having the trainee perform.
- have the trainee TELL and SHOW you.
- have trainee explain key points.
- correct errors; reteach if necessary.
- continue until YOU know that HE knows.

Step 4 - Follow up and evaluation.

- check frequently; encourage questions.
- correct errors; reteach if necessary.
- put trainee "on his own."
- designate to whom he goes for help.
- evaluate whether he is meeting work standards.
Plan your work,
work your Plan.
WITH SKILLFUL PLANNING, THE SUPERVISOR WILL CONSERVE:

TIME - Saving wasted minutes, hours, days.

MATERIALS - Saving waste, spoilage or unnecessary inventories.

MACHINES - Because they will be operated to their best capacity.

SPACE - Eliminating overcrowding and poor coordination of incoming supplies and outgoing production.

MANPOWER - Because employees will be fully occupied.

FACILITIES - Will be utilized to their best advantage.

ENERGY - Because of increased efficiencies our natural resources as well as the supervisor's energy (stress) will be conserved.
TYPES OF PLANNING A SUPERVISOR GETS INVOLVED IN:

1. Participation in Setting Goals.
2. Improvement Programs.
3. Personnel Management in the Department.
4. Production Planning.
5. Organization of Work in the Department.
7. Paper Work & Reports.
8. Changes.
10. Other.
KEY PLANNING QUESTIONS

1. What is to be Done (Goals, Results, Objectives)?

2. When Will it be Done?

3. Where Will it be Done?

4. Who Will do it?

5. How Will it be Done?

Additional Questions to ask yourself when planning

1. WHAT REPORTS OR RECORDS ARE DUE NEXT WEEK?

2. WHAT REGULAR WEEKLY ACTIVITIES DO YOU HAVE TO GET DONE?

3. DO YOU HAVE ANY IMPORTANT ACTIVITIES PLANNED WITH ANY OF YOUR PEOPLE?

4. WHAT OTHER IMPORTANT ACTIVITIES DO YOU KNOW NOW THAT YOU MUST GET DONE IN THE WEEK AHEAD?
MEASUREMENT OF SUPERVISORY TASKS

- MEASURED BY GOALS OR OBJECTIVES
- MEASURED BY STANDARDS

INNOVATIVE TASKS

PROBLEM SOLVING TASKS

ROUTINE TASKS
Pareto Principle

If you put on a sheet of paper all of the work tasks you do—20% of those tasks will produce 80% of your productivity.
DELEGATION

DEFINITION: Giving an Activity to Another Person to do

CHARACTERISTICS:

- Freedom of Action
- Shared Decisions
- Shared Responsibility
- Granting of Authority
WHY DELEGATE

A. PROVIDES TIME FOR THINKING AND PLANNING.
B. EASIES JOB PRESSURE.
C. PERMITS DECENTRALIZATION OF ADMINISTRATION.
D. DEVELOPS ASSISTANTS.
E. MAKES ROUTINE JOBS MORE SATISFYING TO EMPLOYEES.
F. PROVIDES GROUP GOALS AND FACILITATES GREATER TEAMWORK.
G. IMPROVES THE QUALITY OF PERFORMANCE.
H. BECAUSE A SUPERVISOR'S RESPONSIBILITY IS OFTEN GREATER THAN HIS PERSONAL CAPACITY TO CARRY IT OUT, HE MUST DELEGATE TO BE SUCCESSFUL.
THREE ASPECTS OF DELEGATION

1. ASSIGNMENT OF DUTIES.

2. GRANTING OF AUTHORITY TO MAKE COMMITMENTS, USE RESOURCES OR TAKE ACTION.

3. RESPONSIBILITY - CREATION OF AN OBLIGATION ON THE PART OF A SUBORDINATE FOR THE SATISFACTORY PERFORMANCE OF THE ASSIGNMENT.
WHY WE DON'T DELEGATE

Reasons Given by Managers and Supervisors for Not Delegating:

1. Subordinates lack experience.
2. It takes more time to explain than to do the job myself.
3. Experimentation and mistakes can be too costly.
4. My position enables me to get quicker action.
5. There are some actions for which I am responsible that I can't delegate to anyone.
6. Most of my subordinates are specialists without the overall knowledge many decisions require.
7. My people are already too busy.
8. Many of my people just aren't willing to accept responsibility.
9. We lack adequate controls and performance measurements.
10. I like keeping and making my own decisions. Fear of loss of prestige.
11. Fear of losing control of an activity.
12. Reluctance to give up activities that a supervisor performs well.
BASIC ATTITUDES YOU NEED TO DELEGATE

A. Be Receptive to the Ideas of Others.

B. Be Willing to Entrust Duties and Authority.

C. Be Willing to Give Freedom of Action.

D. Be Willing to Delegate to Strengthen the Organization.

E. Be Willing to Start by Easy Stages.

F. Be Willing to Forego the Luxury of Blowing Your Top.
WHEN TO DELEGATE

A. When you and your subordinates are mentally ready.

B. When a new employee is added.

C. When a subordinate leaves.

D. When a new activity is added.

E. When you are given new duties.

F. When you must be absent or on vacation.

G. When you are promoted.

H. When retirement approaches.

I. When you want to develop an employee.

J. In emergency situations.

K. When overburdened.
WHAT TO DELEGATE

A. Delegate that which can be Routinized.

B. Delegate that which will Increase Job Satisfaction.

C. Delegate that which will Develop Subordinates.

D. Delegate that which will Challenge.

E. Delegate a Success Sequence.

F. Delegate those Matters of Least Importance which will Lighten Your Load.
   1. Filling out Routine Reports;
   2. Checking Materials, Supplies, Etc;
   3. Running Errands;
   4. Making Calculations and Entries;
   5. Etc.
WHAT NOT TO DELEGATE

A. Executive Authority

2. Organizing Work Group.
3. Communicating with Subordinates.
4. Evaluation of Results.

B. A Duplicate of Your Job.

C. Final Disciplinary Authority.

D. Responsibility can be shared, but it cannot be delegated.

WHEN NOT TO DELEGATE

A. When Work-Group is inexperienced.

B. When it would divert employee from his main job.

C. When it might cause friction in work-group.
SUPERVISOR'S TASK & DELEGATION CHART

1. YOU MUST DO

2. YOU SHOULD DO, BUT SOMEONE ELSE COULD HELP YOU

3. YOU COULD DO; BUT OTHERS COULD DO IF GIVEN AN OPPORTUNITY

4. OTHERS SHOULD DO, BUT YOU CAN HELP OUT IN AN EMERGENCY

5. OTHERS MUST DO
HOW TO DELEGATE

1. Assign as many tasks as you safely can.

2. Expect and accept some mistakes.

3. Give enough authority to complete the task. "Back up" the employee to whom you've delegated a task.

4. Delegate results and not method. Define work and objective.

5. Let others know to whom the task has been delegated.

6. Communicate your confidence in his ability to succeed.

7. Call for progress reports and schedule reviews.
HOW CAN YOU LEARN TO DELEGATE?

1. Analyze Your Present Work Habits.

2. Gradually Work to Change Your Habitual Responses.

3. Train Others to do New Jobs, Even Your Own.
ORGANIZING MEANS DESIGNING THE DEPARTMENTS STRUCTURAL FRAMEWORK WITHIN WHICH THE VARIOUS DUTIES ARE PERFORMED AND DECIDING HOW THE DUTIES SHOULD BE PERFORMED.

ORGANIZING ANSWERS THE QUESTION - HOW WILL THE WORK BE DIVIDED AND ACCOMPLISHED?
SUPervisor's Responsibility To:

1. DETERMINE AND ENUMERATE THE VARIOUS ACTIVITIES WHICH ARE REQUIRED.

2. ASSIGN THESE ACTIVITIES.

3. GIVES SUBORDINATES THE AUTHORITY NEEDED TO CARRY OUT THE ACTIVITIES ASSIGNED.
THE BASIC PURPOSE OF ORGANIZING IS TO GROUP THE WORK TO BE PERFORMED TO UTILIZE PERSONNEL MOST EFFICIENTLY. THIS IS DONE AT THE SAME TIME AS THE PLANNING FUNCTION.

THE SUPERVISOR IS IN THE BEST POSITION TO KNOW WHEN A SHIFT IN JOB ASSIGNMENTS WILL ACCOMPLISH THE WORK OF THE DEPARTMENT MOST EFFICIENTLY.
KNOW WHAT KIND OF PERSON YOU WANT.

DON'T -- Describe him/her as "A good worker who will stick on the job."

DO -- Make a checklist of necessary or desirable qualities

EXAMPLE

EXPERIENCE -- This person ought to have worked a couple of years on multiple Spindle Drill presses.

BLUEPRINT READING -- This person will have to be able to work directly from prints.

SPEED -- This job doesn't require a fast person so much as it requires a steady, consistent worker.

INITIATIVE -- Can this person work alone on his/her own without close supervision?

- Employees who far exceed job requirements are compared to leaping tall buildings with a single bound.
- Those who exceed job requirements must take a running start to leap over tall buildings.
- Employees who meet job requirements can only leap over short buildings with no spires.
- Employees who need some improvement crash into buildings when attempting to jump over them.
- Employees who do not meet minimum requirements cannot recognize buildings at all much less jump.

- Employees who perform better are compared to a speeding bullet.
- Employees who need improvement are shown as being slower than a bullet.
- Employees who are far below requirements are shown as not recognizing targets at all.
WHY SUPERVISORS AVOID APPRAISING EMPLOYEE PERFORMANCE

1. Difficulty in setting standards

2. Inconsistency of rating by different supervisors

3. Appraisal forms that don't cover the job

4. Dislike for the formality involved.
WHY EMPLOYEE EVALUATION IS IMPORTANT TO THE SUPERVISOR

A supervisor's most productive talent is leadership.

Leadership means employee development.

Employee development means training based on facts.

Facts are the basis for employee evaluation.

Employee evaluation measures the leader's success.

Hence, employee evaluation is vital to the supervisor's success.
KEY USES OF PERFORMANCE APPRAISAL

1. To improve performance
2. To provide a basis for personnel actions
3. To determine training needs
4. To improve supervisor-employee communication
5. To gain feedback on performance standards and supervision
INFORMAL EVALUATION - occurs daily on the job and involves job performance, work standards, and plans for the future.

FORMAL EVALUATION - occurs periodically and involves an evaluation interview with the employee.

PERFORMANCE STANDARDS

Performance standards - or work standards are what the employer and, the supervisor, expect of the employee in terms of what is to be done, how much is to be done, and how well it is done. Performance standards should be made clear to the employee when he/she is first selected, oriented, and trained. Both you and the employee should review these standards occasionally, especially if the job changes. It is important that you and the employee have the same understanding of what is expected.
GUIDELINES FOR CONDUCTING THE EVALUATION INTERVIEW

1. Prepare for the Interview. Review the Employee's Strengths and Weaknesses.

2. Encourage Preparation by Employees.

3. Arrange for Uninterrupted Privacy.

4. Develop a Friendly and Informal Atmosphere.

5. Ask the Employee how He/She is Doing.

7. Shift to the Weak Points.

8. Close the Interview After Both of You have Agreed on a Plan for Self-Improvement.

9. Write Down Important Information for Future Use.

10. Follow-Up -- Live up to Your Promises and see if the Employee is Improving His Work.
It is the supervisor's duty to train his subordinates. If he is to do this well, he must learn how to train and he must have a training plan. The employee evaluation interview is an ideal method of identifying employee training needs.
WHO NEEDS TRAINING?

--- Newly hired employees or transferred employees need to receive basic skill training to be able to satisfactorily perform their job.

--- Present employees need upgrading training to keep current with changing technology.

--- Newly promoted employees need training to be able to satisfactorily perform their new job assignment.

--- Present employees who are not performing at a satisfactory level need training to correct and improve their work performance.
HOW TO DETERMINE TRAINING NEEDS

1. Analyze the job to determine what the employee needs to know to satisfactorily perform the job. Be sure to make a distinction between the skills an employee needs to know to be able to perform the job and the skills which are nice to know.

2. Observe the employee to determine their present level of performance and what the employee needs to know to be able to perform at a satisfactory level.

3. Discuss those areas in which the employee is deficient with him/her and arrive at a training plan for the employee.
TYPES OF TRAINING

Individual instruction (on-the-job)
Demonstration
Written instruction
Oral directions
Adult or extension courses
Conferences and seminars
Programmed instruction
THE TRAINER

The Trainer is the Most Important Factor in Any Training Program. A Good Trainer is One Who:

1. Knows the Subject Matter.

2. Can Hold Interest and Manage the Group.

3. Has a Pleasing Appearance; Also a Pleasant Voice and Manner of Speech.

4. Is Patient, Cheerful, and Enthusiastic; Has a Sense of Humor.

5. Maintains Self-Control.

6. Displays Tact and Sympathy in Dealing with Trainees.

7. Speaks Clearly and Distinctly, Using Understandable Language and Talking Directly to the Trainees.

8. Emphasizes Important Points.

9. Use Proper Gestures and Avoid Mannerisms That Might Detract from the Presentation.
Role of Supervisor in Contractor Supervision

1. You should be thoroughly familiar with all the provisions of the contracts which you are administering.

2. You should be thoroughly familiar with the plans and specifications including all revisions, changes, and amendments.

3. You should be thoroughly familiar with the pertinent administrative policies.
RESPONSIBILITY OF SUPERVISOR IN CONTRACTOR SUPERVISION

Supervisors have different responsibilities and authorities, this being dependent on the organization set-up which he is working under and the supervisor's own capabilities.

Each supervisor should answer the following questions:

1. Do I understand the importance of my responsibility for the highest quality construction?

2. Do I have the technical knowledge, tact and good judgement to effectively perform my supervisory duties?

3. Do I fully understand the extent of my responsibility?

4. Have I accepted all of my responsibilities?

5. Have I overstepped my authority?

6. Do I understand my supervisor's attitude with respect to my responsibilities?

7. Am I aware of my responsibility to record and report all verbal instructions?
AUTHORITY OF SUPERVISOR IN CONTRACTOR SUPERVISION

A. MAKE SURE YOU KNOW THE EXTENT OF YOUR AUTHORITY. YOU ALWAYS HAVE THE AUTHORITY TO REQUIRE WORK TO BE ACCOMPLISHED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE CONTRACT PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS.

B. CHECK WITH YOUR SUPERVISOR ON POLICIES WITH RESPECT TO YOUR AUTHORITY TO STOP CONTRACTOR OPERATIONS FOR SUCH THINGS AS SAFETY VIOLATIONS OR CONSTRUCTION DEFICIENCIES.
DEALING WITH THE CONTRACTOR

1. Are My Relations with the Contractor Impersonal, but Friendly, Fair and Firm?

2. Am I Business-like and Cooperative with the Contractor?

3. Do I have a Clear, Accurate and Appreciative Understanding of the Contractor's Problems?

4. Do my Decisions and Instructions to the Contractor Provide the Greatest Latitude Possible, Without Prejudice and Without Waining the Contract Requirements in Choice of Equipment, Material and Methods?
   a. Are they Executed Promptly and at the Right Time?
