This resource listing is a selective annotated bibliography of nonsexist books, pamphlets, articles, and other materials for teachers, students, librarians, and parents. The five major divisions represented in the bibliography are: Overview, Preschool and Elementary Education, Secondary Education, Higher Education, and Sources for Further Information. The Overview section begins with basic readings on consciousness-raising and feminist theory; five other categories within the section are Book Studies, For the Counselor, Law, Sports, and Strategies for Change. The next three sections, organized according to educational level, are each divided into Readings and Curriculum. The final section includes general and education bibliographies, a guide to nonprint resources, organizations active in eliminating sex discrimination in the schools, newsletters and journals, and publisher/book distributors. Entries in each section are arranged alphabetically by author, followed by title, imprint and/or source of availability, date of publication, and brief annotation. This is a revised listing of the first edition published in 1973. (Author/JPP)

Revised Edition by Merle Froschl and Jane Williamson
First Edition by Carol Ahlum and Jacqueline M. Fralley

"Permission to reproduce this material has been granted by Brett Harvey to the Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC) and users of the ERIC System."

The Feminist Press
The Clearinghouse on Women's Studies
Table of Contents

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Page</th>
<th>Section</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>vii</td>
<td>ACKNOWLEDGMENTS</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ix</td>
<td>INTRODUCTION</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>OVERVIEW</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>Basic Readings</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Sexism in Education</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Sex-Role Socialization</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>The Women's Movement</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>Book Studies</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Textbooks</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Trade Books</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Guidelines and Analyses</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11</td>
<td>For the Counselor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>General Readings</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Career Information</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Statistics</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>19</td>
<td>Law</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Women's Legal Rights</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Legal Mandates for Schools</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>20</td>
<td>Strategies for Change</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Models</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Inservice Education</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>25</td>
<td>PRESCHOOL AND ELEMENTARY EDUCATION</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>25</td>
<td>Readings</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Nonsexist Booklists</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>General Readings</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>27</td>
<td>Curriculum</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Print Curricular Materials</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Nonprint Curricular Materials</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>31</td>
<td>SECONDARY EDUCATION</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>31</td>
<td>Readings</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>33</td>
<td>Curriculum</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Social Studies</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Social Studies/Multi-Media</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Literature</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Literature/Multi-Media</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Interdisciplinary</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Interdisciplinary/Multi-Media</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>43</td>
<td>HIGHER EDUCATION</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>43</td>
<td>Resources for the Teacher</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>45</td>
<td>Anthologies</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Anthropology</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>History</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Law</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Literature</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Psychology</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>48</td>
<td>SOURCES OF FURTHER INFORMATION</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>48</td>
<td>Bibliography</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>General Bibliographies</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Education Bibliographies</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>50</td>
<td>Guides to Nonprint Resources</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>51</td>
<td>Organizations</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>53</td>
<td>Periodicals</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>54</td>
<td>Publishers/Book Distributors</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Distributors</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Presses</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>57</td>
<td>LIST OF PUBLISHERS</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>65</td>
<td>CLEARINGHOUSE PUBLICATIONS</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Acknowledgments

We would like to acknowledge the help of four people who contributed time and energy to this edition of Feminist Resources. Ilene Hertz, a year-round volunteer at The Feminist Press, helped in the early stage. Lauren Rosenbloom, a student at Kenyon College, gave up a promising career as a waitress to devote her summer to The Press and spent most of it working on Feminist Resources. Lucy Whittaker arrived at a crucial point near the end of the project, proofread the entire manuscript and compiled the publishers' list. Her help was indispensable. But most of all, we want to thank Jeanne Ford, Director of the Women's Center at the University of Texas/Arlington, who devoted six weeks of the summer to all phases of this project. She not only researched the material in the "Law," "Strategies for Change" and "Preschool and Elementary Education" sections, but cut, pasted and typed in true cooperative spirit. Jeanne has proven her dedication by becoming the only transcontinental volunteer The Feminist Press has ever had.

M.F./J.W.
Introduction

Feminist Resources is an annotated bibliography of nonsexist books, pamphlets, articles and other materials for teachers and students, preschool through higher education. The first edition was published in 1973 to meet the needs of and support an emerging feminist consciousness among those concerned with sex-equality in education. Since 1973, the tremendous leap both in the quantity and quality of materials has created an urgent need for an up-dated edition. The size of this new bibliography and the quality of the materials included testify to the continuing energy of feminists engaged in long-range efforts to change the education of women and men.

We began our compilation for this edition by evaluating every entry in the original Feminist Resources. Approximately two-thirds of these items were eliminated either because they were no longer available or because they had been replaced by newer materials. We also searched other resource guides and consulted our own rich curriculum files. Finally, we checked the catalogs of more than fifty commercial publishers and ordered all appropriate materials. Our goal throughout was to be inclusive yet selective.

The organization of the material in the second edition has been revised in order to help readers find appropriate citations more quickly. The five major divisions are Overview, Preschool and Elementary Education, Secondary Education, Higher Education and Sources of Further Information. The Overview section begins with "Basic Readings" on consciousness-raising and feminist theory, five other categories within the section are "Book Studies," "For the Counselor," "Law," "Sports," "Strategies for Change." The next three sections, organized according to education level, are each divided into "Readings," and "Curriculum." Educational levels, of course, are not finite and materials listed in the section for one level may well be used in the classroom of another.

Comparing the original edition of Feminist Resources and this revised version reveals significant similarities and differences. This edition reaffirms the validity of the basic concept of the original editors. As Carol Ahlum and Jacqueline Fralley stated in their introduction:

"This resource list is a selective guide for teachers, students, librarians and parents interested in challenging sexism in education and in creating...

Some of the citations in this edition are not annotated because we were unable to examine the materials first-hand. When we could not examine a piece, we would include it only if it came from a source we respected. Each annotation includes complete information with two exceptions: price and publishers' addresses. Because prices change frequently, we did not include them, publishers' addresses are listed in a separate section at the end of the publication.
nonsexist and feminist curriculum. First, the entries should help teachers and others to understand the ways in which sexism is institutionalized in elementary and secondary school. Second, the list should help teachers to locate materials with which to create nonsexist and feminist curriculum.

When Ahlum and Fralley put together the first Feminist Resources, they noted that the majority of curriculum came from small and alternative sources. This is still true in 1976. While these "fugitive" materials are excellent, one would expect that in the past three years, commercial, trade and educational publishers would have responded with excellent new materials to meet what are obviously growing demands. However, our search demonstrated that these publishers have not begun to meet these demands.

In the catalogs of the more than fifty major educational publishers we examined for this edition, only one-third advertised any relevant material—and much of that did not meet our standards for inclusion. In general, commercial publishers have made superficial, not fundamental changes. For example, publishers will not rewrite an anthropology text titled, say, Man and His World to eliminate its pervading male bias and to add new research on women in prehistory. Instead, they might tack a filmstrip called "Women Today" on to a current affairs series. This kind of patching, plainly a simplistic reaction to pressure, currently fills publishers' catalogs with token pieces on women, blacks and other minorities. While it is important to continue to pressure for change in textbooks, it will probably also be necessary to let publishers know that a few miscellaneous filmstrips will not be adequate; that it will in fact be necessary to rewrite (not to mention retitle) Man and His World.

Although commercial publishers have not responded to meet the needs of teachers and students, it is still true that there are two to three times as many materials in 1976 as there were in 1973. The reasons for this growth are worth examining here, since they illuminate recent trends and help us to draw some useful general conclusions.

Perhaps the most effective force for change is the passage and implementation of Title IX, which assures that "no person . . . shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving federal financial assistance." The section of Feminist Resources which most directly reflects the response to Title IX is "Strategies for Change." The material cited there provides step-by-step guidance to help parents, teachers and school administrators make the new law a reality in their schools. Title IX also speaks to the question of equal opportunities in athletic programs and vocational channeling. We see these concerns mirrored in this edition of Feminist Resources in the entirely new category on "Sports" and the greatly expanded section, "For the Counselor."
Another reason for the growth in the number, scope and sophistication of materials is the growth of women's studies—research, programs, courses, teachers. Three years ago, the field of women's studies was still young and the notion of institutionalized sexism in education was relatively new. Teachers who needed help, in the form of consciousness-raising for themselves and nonsexist materials for their classroom, had a difficult and potentially fruitless search ahead. Now, research in such diverse areas as sex-roles socialization, biology, history and literature has produced so significant a new body of knowledge, that the standard curriculum has to be turned inside out to incorporate it. Thus, a women's studies program on a college campus in 1976 may resemble a mini-college, with courses in most disciplines and in many interdisciplinary areas as well. There are more than 150 such programs now, compared to 75 three years ago. Women's studies has also grown off the college campus—both in the high school and the elementary classroom. More teachers are interested in nonsexist education, and as a result, are revamping their curriculum. In the past three years, we have corresponded with more than 4,000 elementary and secondary school teachers looking for new ideas and resources.

The original Feminist Resources attempted to draw together in one place as many of the resources as possible. Essentially, that bibliography reflected the early stages of the women's studies movement. Since then, feminist thinking and nonsexist education have advanced on all levels. It is our hope—and our intention—that this edition of Feminist Resources not only reflect that growth, but further it.
Overview

BASIC READINGS This section attempts to give background and consciousness-raising readings in three areas: sexism in education, sex-role socialization and its ramifications, and the general questions of the women's movement. The first section includes a wide variety of materials, many on specific topics, plus the four or five major anthologies which provide a framework for understanding the institutionalization of sexism in the schools. The section on sex-role socialization is much less comprehensive and includes only a selection of the most basic works. There is an enormous amount of periodical literature on sex roles which it did not seem useful to list fully here since access is easily available through standard indexes. The last section gives the basic books on the current women's movement, with an eye to covering all of the major issues.

SEXISM IN EDUCATION
Bereaud, Susan, and Stacey, Judith, eds. And Jill Came Tumbling After. New York: Dell, 1974. An anthology of contemporary essays on sexism in American education from preschool through the university. Includes a valuable resource and bibliography section.
Ernest, John. Mathematics and Sex. 1975. Available from John Ernest. This is an excellent pamphlet on sex discrimination in mathematics teaching. A survey of women in the field of math indicates that girls are limited and stereotyped from kindergarten through graduate school.
Frazier, Nancy, and Sadker, Myra, eds. Sexism in School and Society. New York: Harper and Row, 1973. Written especially for teachers, this book, the only one of its kind, contains thorough but readable reviews of scientific literature on both sex roles and socialization as well as analyses of the various aspects of sexism in schools.
Gersoni-Stavn, Diane, ed. Sexism and Youth. New York: R. R. Bowker, 1974. This 468-page anthology is in four parts: the first deals with the general question of sex-role socialization; part two covers the general atmosphere of schools; part three includes 20 studies of sexism in texts and children's books; the last section deals with toys and children's games. An excellent basic resource.

McCune, Shirley, ed. Nonsexist Education for Survival. Washington: National Education Association, 1973. This collection of working papers and reprints from the first NEA Conference on Sexism in Schools includes analyses of sexism and sex-role socialization as they are institutionalized in the school system.

McCune, Shirley, ed. Nonsexist Education for Survival. Washington: National Education Association, 1973. This collection of working papers and reprints from the first NEA Conference on Sexism in Schools includes analyses of sexism and sex-role socialization as they are institutionalized in the school system.

Mullis, Ina Y. S. Educational Achievement and Sex Discrimination. Denver: National Assessment of Educational Progress, 1975. This paper summarizes and analyzes the data from NAEP studies of male/female performance in a variety of subject areas. It should be accompanied by Male/Female Achievement in Eight Learning Areas, a compilation of selected assessment results, also available from NAEP.

Phi Delta Kappan (November 1973). This special issue contains papers from the Teacher Leadership Program Conference. (April 1973), focusing on the feminist movement and sexism in the schools.

Saario, Terry N.; Jacklin, Carol Nagy; and Tittle, Carol Kehr. "Sex Role Stereotyping in the Public Schools." Harvard Educational Review 43 (August 1973): 386-416. In this excellent article the authors investigate sex-role stereotyping in three areas: school basal readers, educational achievement tests and differential curricular requirements for males and females.

Social Studies Journal/Sexism in Education (Winter 1973). This special issue contains articles for educators at all grade levels.

SEX-ROLE SOCIALIZATION

This 64-page pamphlet by a group of men about their childhood and adolescent socialization into sex roles is a must for parents and teachers. Be prepared for strong language.

Broverman, Inge K. et al. “Sex Role Stereotyping and Clinical Judgments of Mental Health.” Journal of Consulting and Clinical Psychiatry 34 (February 1970):1-7. This article reports on a study of the assumptions of clinical psychiatrists and psychologists about the healthy male, the healthy female and the healthy adult.

Horner, Matina. “Women’s Will to Fail.” Psychology Today 3 (November 1969):37. An account of Horner’s study of “women actively seeking out failure because they anticipate or expect positive consequences from failing.”

———. “How Ideology Shapes Women’s Lives.” Scientific American 226 (January 1972):34-42. Reply and rejoinder, 226 (March 1972):8. This data shows that a woman’s life goals are guided by the type of sex-role ideology acquired in childhood.

Moffert Foundation. Bibliography: Male-Female Role Research. New York: Moffert Foundation, 1974. The Moffert Foundation has sponsored research on male/female roles since 1966 and this is a bibliography of the resulting publications.

School Review (February 1972). This special feature features articles on new psychological and sociological research on sex differences.

Spiegel, Jeanne. Sex Role Concepts: How Women and Men See Themselves and Each Other. Washington: Business and Professional Women’s Foundation, 1969. The bibliography covers books, pamphlets, reports, theses, articles and microfilm. The material is limited to that published in the last 15 years and covers a wide spectrum—from the popular to the scholarly.

THE WOMEN’S MOVEMENT

Adams, Elsie, and Briscoe, Mary L., eds. *Up against the Wall, Mother: A Women’s Liberation Reader. Los Angeles: Glencoe, 1971. One of the best introductory anthologies about the issues of the women's movement; includes short stories, poetry and nonfiction of both traditional and feminist views of women.

de Beauvoir, Simone. The Second Sex New York: Bantam, 1970. Called the first of the recent feminist manifestoes, this book, though lengthy, is a classic and well worth reading.

Boston Women's Health Collective. Our Bodies, Ourselves. New York, Simon, and Schuster, 1975. This classic on women and their health and bodies has been revised and expanded. It is the best book on the subject.

Friedan, Betty. The Feminine Mystique. New York: Dell, 1963. A classic; includes analysis of the exploitation of women as a so-called marginal labor force; explanation of women's manipulation by industry and advertising in the years following World War II; a clear feminist analysis of Freud's theories on women.

the best collections of essays from the current feminist movement, includes articles by and about a variety of women: secretaries, houseworkers, prostitutes, high school women. Includes an extensive bibliography.

BOOK STUDIES

The first two sections in this category document the early research on sexism in books and bring it up to date with the most recent studies and reports on textbooks and trade books. Publishers have responded to this pressure and have produced guidelines for analysis of sex and race bias. These will be found in the last section, along with the newest development: evaluative instruments to help teachers and students analyze their own books.

TEXTBOOKS

A well-researched article that documents the extent of sex-role stereotypes in textbooks and reports on the efforts being made to counteract the effects of these books. The author concludes that "given constitutional requirements of equality for all children ... the obligation of those choosing textbooks for use in public schools is to choose nondiscriminatory textbooks even though there might be some sex-biased books which are considered more 'learnable.'"

ERIC

Written in 1973, this paper points out the need for supplementary classroom materials about women. It documents women's absence from standard history texts and the demeaning, negative roles allotted to women in literary selections used in most high school classrooms.

A review of the stories in five series of readers, this analysis goes far beyond a mere counting of numbers and discusses the connections between racism and sexism and their effect on all students. A 1975 postscript compares the 1973-74 Scott, Foresman Open Highways series with the 1965-68 version.

Beaven, Mary H. "Responses of Adolescents to Feminine Characters in Literature." Research in the Teaching of..."
English 6 (Spring 1972): 48-68. An arresting study which shows that "women in the literature read and discussed in high school English classes play minor unpleasant roles... The result of the survey indicates that boys and girls can relate to few of these feminine characters." This is the only survey of its kind to study the effects of female literary characters on high school students.

Burton, Gabrielle: "Sex-Role Stereotyping in Elementary School Primers." Pittsburgh: NOW, 1974. A position paper prepared for the Montgomery County NOW, based on a review of studies conducted independently in different sections of the country. This is a good overall view of the findings of sexism in elementary textbooks. We recommend this with one reservation: the author's use of the word Negro, instead of black, throughout.

Committee to Study Sex Discrimination, Kalamazoo Public Schools. Report of the Task Force on Elementary Textbooks. Kalamazoo: Kalamazoo Public Schools, 1973. This study of texts, supplements and sets of study prints is one of the pioneering efforts in text analysis. It includes evaluation sheets and guidelines as well as detailed findings of the materials approved for use in the 1971-72 school year.

Lysne, Ruth, and Warner, Margo. "A Women's Place: What's Cooking in Junior High School English Anthologies." Minnesota English Journal 8 (Fall 1972): 27-42. A well-documented study, with many examples, that raises questions concerning the portrayal of women in the books used either as basic or supplemental texts. Twenty anthologies from major publishing houses were surveyed and charted for this article.

Michigan Women's Commission. Sex Discrimination in an Elementary Reading Program. Lansing: Michigan Women's Commission, 1974. A comprehensive report based on the work of the Committee to Study Sex Discrimination in the Kalamazoo Public Schools. The textbooks under scrutiny were the 12 texts in the elementary reading program published by Houghton-Mifflin. This booklet includes the complaint filed and correspondence with Caspar Weinberger, at HEW, as well as tables and a bibliography.

Mullen, Jean S. "Freshman Textbooks." College English 34 (October 1972): 79-93. A survey of 112 textbooks, issued by 18 publishers, which documents the underrepresentation of women writers used in college freshman English classes.

Schmidt, Dolores. "Sexism in Education," in Female Studies V, ed. Rae Lee Siporin. Pittsburgh: KNOW, 1972. Review of studies on sexism in a variety of books that affect the self-image of girls throughout their education. Included are children's books, the elementary history text, the high school and college literature anthology.

———. Images of Males and Females in Elementary School Textbooks. Available from The Feminist Press and The Resource Center on Sex Roles in Education. This lively slide show (with music) is based on two years of comprehensive research focusing on the latent content of texts. The show analyzes the most widely used textbooks in the United States in science, mathematics, reading, spelling and social studies, according to age, race and sex.

---. Sexism in Foreign Language Textbooks. Princeton: Women on Words and Images, 1975. This slide show explores the sexist content of 25 French, Spanish and German textbooks.

TRADE BOOKS

Czapinski, Suzanne M. Sexism in Award-Winning Picture Books. Pittsburgh: KNOW, 1973. The author reviews previous articles on sexism in picture books, looks at the psychological implications of early sex stereotypes, analyzes the award-winning Caldecott and Carroll books. Included is a time study that analyzes the 60-book sampling in regard to the changes in sex bias from the 1940's to the present.

Fort Worth Education Task Force, NOW. This Book Is Rated S* ( “Sexist”). Available from Fort Worth Education Task Force, NOW. An 18-minute slide show about sexism in children's literature from preschool books through teen-age novels.

English Bulletin 60 (May 1973): 1. A study of the image of women in selected popular junior novels. The author's conclusion is that "in most junior novels girls are brainwashed to accept their inferior station in society . . . English teachers should become more sensitive to sexist propaganda."

Racism and Sexism Resource Center for Educators. Human Values in Children's Books. New York: Racism and Sexism Resource Center for Educators, 1976. The first volume of an annual series that will examine each year's juvenile books on minority, feminist and social-issue themes. This volume analyzes more than 200 books to identify what values they transmit to young people.

GUIDELINES AND ANALYSES

"Any Change in Sexist Texts?" Women's Studies Newsletter 2 (Summer 1974): 1. A report on interviews conducted in the spring of 1974 with 15 major educational publishers. The publishers discuss their plans and attitudes toward the sexist bias of their texts.

Lewis, Jennifer. "What the Publishers Are

Massachusetts Department of Education. A Guide for the Evaluation of Instructional Materials Under Chapter 622. Boston: Massachusetts Department of Education, 1975. This booklet is designed to aid school personnel to identify racial and sexual stereotyping in materials. It contains sheets and checklists for evaluating fiction, readers, mathematics texts, science books, social studies texts. A selected bibliography is included.

New York State Education Department. Reviewing Curriculum for Sexism. Albany: New York State Education Department, 1975. Initiated by the Task Force on Equal Opportunity for Women, these 88-page guidelines outline the procedures used by the New York State Education Department in examining its own publications for sexism. Included are suggestions for eliminating sex bias in instructional materials.

Racism and Sexism Resource Center for Educators. Stereotypes, Distortions and Omissions in U. S. History Textbooks: A Content Analysis Instrument for Detecting Racism and Sexism. New York: Racism and Sexism Resource Center for Educators, 1976. Contains detailed charts against which you can check a textbook's treatment of African Americans, Asian Americans, Native Americans, Mexican Americans, Puerto Ricans—and women of all groups. The charts list the most common errors which appear in elementary and secondary American history books, and provide information to counteract the bias against racism and sexism.

FOR THE COUNSELOR  The counseling section is organized into three parts: general readings, career information and statistics. These correspond with the major areas of concern to counselors: self-awareness, career awareness and labor market trends. Although this section is designated "For the Counselor," we realize that everyone is a counselor at some point—teachers, administrators, librarians. Therefore, we recommend that everyone look through this section for appropriate material. Likewise, we recommend that counselors read the curriculum sections since they will find relevant materials there as well.

GENERAL READINGS

American Personnel and Guidance Association. This organization has developed a variety of materials useful for counseling women:

Assertive Training Procedures for Women. 1973. This film series describes methods which enable girls and women to stand up for their basic human rights. Two companion paperbacks contain enough relevant material to be used on their own. "An Introduction to Assertive Training Procedures for Women,"

"Leader's Guide to Assertive Training for Women."

Back to School, Back to Work. 1973. A film that focuses on counseling women in transition from, for example, housewife to student or mother to career woman. Theory, discussion questions and models are presented in the 24-page "Leader's Guide."

Counseling Girls and Women over the Lifespan. 1972. This 96-page book is designed to promote the awareness, understanding and knowledge needed to counsel girls and women.

Women and Counselors (October 1972). This special issue of Personnel and Guidance Journal provides a complete framework for counseling women. It states the problems, proposes solutions and suggests steps for implementation. Includes articles on the elementary school, working women and sexism and racism.
Bent, Sandra, and Bent, Daryl. Homogenizing the American Woman: The Power of Nonconscious Ideology. Pittsburgh: KNOW, 1972. Recently revised, expanded and retitled, this article is a clear explanation of the effect of sex-role conditioning on women's aspirations. Includes an analysis of the child's socialization at home and in school.

Birk, J., and Tanney, M. Career Exploration for High School Women. A Model. ERIC, 1972. This paper, presented at the National Education Association Conference at Airlie, Virginia, is a curriculum model for junior and senior high school designed to heighten awareness of the influence of sexism on women's roles.

“Career Planning for High School Girls.” Occupational Outlook Quarterly 17 (Summer 1973). An article that looks at the importance of career planning and exploring nontraditional occupations for high school women.

The Center for Vocational Education, The Ohio State University. The Center has produced a variety of publications related to women in the world of work: Implications of Women's Work Patterns for Program Development in Vocational-Technical Education. Sylvia L. Lee et al. 1967.

The Counselor and the Feminine Protest. ERIC, 1971. (CG 400 034). A program originally presented at the 1971 American Personnel and Guidance Association National Convention. Included are role-playing situations and speeches that dramatize the difficulties faced by counselors as a result of their own sex-role conditioning and conflicts.

Diamond, Eleanor, ed. Issues of Sex Bias and Sex Fairness in Career Interest Management. Washington: National Institute of Education, 1975. A series of in-depth papers with bibliographies which represent a comprehensive analysis of sex bias in measurements and inventories. Included are the guidelines developed to combat sex bias in interest measurements.

ERIC Counseling and Personnel Services Information Center, School of Education, Room 2108, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI 48104. One of the 16 ERIC Clearinghouses that contain current educational materials. Write for information on women and counseling.

Gardner, Jo-Ann. “Sexist Counseling Must Stop.” Personnel and Guidance Journal 49 (May 1971):705-713. An appeal for a change in counseling, the article includes a useful chart listing the similarities between two oppressed groups: women and blacks.

Green, Cynthia P. The Choice Is Yours. 1975. Available from Cynthia Green. This 128-page xeroxed resource kit contains supplementary printed materials and suggestions for audio-visual materials. The four units cover the status of women, role options for women, self-awareness and career development. It can be used as a women’s studies course for noncollege-bound high school students.

Guidance Associates. This organization has developed several good filmstrip series on sex-fair counseling that would be useful in interdisciplinary women’s studies courses. Each contains two filmstrips, plus records or cassettes, and a discussion guide:

Jobs and Gender. Explores ways in which gender may influence vocational choices: discusses changing concepts of “masculine” and “feminine” work roles.

Women Today, 1976. Presents various women with strong, positive self-images who have made conscious life choices. Will help students look at themselves and at their sex prejudices and stereotypes.

Women at Work. Choice and Challenge. 1976. Explores the changing roles of women in the labor-force and the challenges these changes have generated. Presents a detailed documentary of women’s work roles from colonial times to the present; examines changing work patterns in the 70′s.

Mitchell, Joyce Slayton. Other Choices for Becoming a Woman. Pittsburgh: KNOW, 1974. A feminist handbook for high school women to help them realize their potential and plan for the future. Especially useful are the sections on educational choices in and out of high school.

National Institute of Education, Education and Work Group. Guidelines for Assessment of Sex Bias and Sex Fairness in Career Interest Inventories. Washington:
U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, 1974. The guidelines developed as part of the NIE Career Education Program are presented in three sections: Inventory, Technical Information, Interpretive Information.

Nontraditional Careers for Women. Filmstrips and cassettes. Pathoscope Educational Films.

Oliver, Laurel W. “Counseling Implications of Recent Research on Women.” Personnel and Guidance Journal 53 (February 1975): 430-437. Survey of recent research on women in four areas: counselor bias, demographic changes, sex differences, sex-role stereotypes. Includes suggestions for counselors who wish to increase their sensitivity to the issues raised.

Project on Sex Equality in Guidance Opportunities, American Personnel and Guidance Association. A Chance to Choose. This filmstrip on counseling is included in the multi-media kit developed by the SEGO project. Distribution information can be obtained by writing to the Office of Education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Project on Status and Education of Women. American Personnel and Guidance Association. City Vocational Test for Sex Bias. Washington: Project on the Status and Education of Women, 1972. A copy of the unprecedented ruling presented at the APGA annual meeting in March 1972, in which the Strong Vocational Interest Blank was cited as being discriminatory and was slated for revision.

San Fernando Valley AAUW Great Expectations. Available from Center for New Directions. A packet of exercises for young women about the future and work.

Scholz, Nelle; Prince, Judith; and Miller, Gordon. How to Decide: A Guide for Women. New York: College Entrance Examination Board, 1976. A how-to workbook, using case studies, charts, checkpoints, inventories and simulation games to help women of any age improve their decision-making abilities in regard to home, family and work. Sex-role stereotyping is an important consideration throughout.

Scing, Jeanne, and Rabin, Maureen. The Vocational Readiness Package. Available from Jeanne Scott. A five-day program for junior and senior high school women utilizing simulation games and improvisational drama to stimulate more realistic thinking about careers and marriage.

overview of the problems of counseling high school women.

When I Grow Up I'm Going to Get Married. Available from Michigan State University, Counseling Center. A game for teen-age girls, developed to create an awareness of the realities of life. Based on statistics, ten profiles give students experience in planning for ways to deal with a variety of life situations.

Women on Words and Images. Help Wanted: Sexism in Career Education Materials. Princeton: Women on Words and Images, 1975. An analysis of the sexism found in a study of 100 career education materials. A slide show of the same title which focuses on how females and males are stereotypically tracked into traditional careers is also available.

YWCA. A Job at the End: Guidelines for Teen Counseling, Training and Career Development. New York: YWCA, 1975. In 1973, the Resource Center on Women of the YWCA conducted a research project which revealed that "81% of the teen women interviewed listed job counseling as their top priority need." This book offers specifics for setting up local job placement and career development programs for teen women. Two earlier booklets published under this project are also available: Attention Is Needed, Action Is Called For and Let's Try a Workshop with Teen Women.

CAREER INFORMATION

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. Heritage Series. Chicago: AKA Sorority, Five free booklets with photographs and short biographies recount the work of professional women in the judiciary, politics, business, medicine and dentistry.

American College Testing Program. Women in Science and Technology: Careers for Today and Tomorrow. Iowa City: American College Testing Program, 1976. Depicts women who have careers in the field of science and technology and discusses the myths and realities of these careers.

Fenten, D. X. Ms-Attorney. Philadelphia: Westminster Press, 1974. Examines the discrimination against women in the field of law and gives a brief history of law from primitive societies to the present. A list of American law schools with admission requirements and costs is included.

and practice, along with practical information concerning scholastic preparation, required training, medical schools and tuition costs.

Medsger, Betty. Women at Work. New York: Sheed and Ward, 1975. A beautiful photographic documentary of hundreds of women across the United States doing the work women have always done. The factory worker, household worker, teacher, office worker, coal miner, blacksmith and garage mechanic are all included. Thoughtful essays and comments accompany the photographs of women at their jobs.

Women’s Work, Washington Opportunities for Women, 1111 20 St. N.W., Washington, DC 20036. A bi-monthly publication with regular columns on employment, trends, jobs, career ideas. Many women professionals have formed their own associations and have free or inexpensive career planning materials specifically for girls and women. Among them are:

- American Medical Women’s Association, 1740 Broadway, New York, NY 10019.
- Boalt Hall Women’s Association, School of Law, University of California, Berkeley, CA 94720.
- Council on Dental Education, American Dental Association, 211 E. Chicago Ave., Chicago, IL 60611.
- National League for Nursing, 10 Columbus Circle, New York, NY 10019.
- Women in Communications, Inc., 8305-A Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, TX 78758.
- Women Leaders Round Table of the National Association of Life Underwriters, 1922 F St., N.W., Washington, DC 20006.

STATISTICS

SPORTS

This category reflects the growing interest in sports for girls and women and lists a wide variety of materials including books, articles, conference reports, periodicals, organizations and curricular materials.

Committee to Study Sex Discrimination, Kalamazoo Public Schools. The Kalamazoo schools have four documents relating to sports and physical education available as a result of their efforts to eliminate sex discrimination: In Search of the Freedom to Grow (1973), the report of their physical education/athletics task force which details their work and recommendations; Program Plan to Implement Title IX Physical Education Program Provisions (1975), suggests changes to be made year by year on all levels; Revised Physical Education Program for Junior and Senior High Schools (1975), the new program designed by the Department of Physical Education which outlines overall and specific goals for each grade as well as plans for meeting them; Master Plan for Men's and Women's Athletics (1975), a master chart of the program and schedule. All are good models.

Division for Girls and Women's Sports, American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, 1201 16 St. N.W., Washington, DC 20036. A good source for all kinds of information on girls and women in sports.

Gerber, Ellen et al. The American Woman in Sport. Reading, Mass.: Addison-Wesley, 1974. Comprehensive and definitive text on American women in sport, including some original research and some synthesis of the research of others. Sections on history, society's attitudes, portrait of the woman athlete and the biophysical perspective.

Journal of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. The activities and research of the Division for Girls and Women's Sports are regularly reported in this journal of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Levy, Maury Z. "The Girls of Summer." WomenSports 1 (August 1974): 37-39. This brief article on the fight to have girls admitted into Little League teams summarizes the issues and describes the cases of several girls. Good consciousness-raising reading for parents, teachers, coaches and students.

Project on the Status and Education of Women. What Constitutes Equality for Women in Sport? Washington. Project on the Status and Education of Women, 1975. This excellent paper outlines the issues related to equal opportunity for women in sports, gives a good summary of the legal mandate and explores some of the alternatives that have been proposed. College level, includes an excellent bibliography.

"Revolution in Women's Sports." WomenSports 1 (September 1974). This 22-page report covers all aspects of sports in school as well as the professional scene, including information on Title IX, an action manual for eliminating discrimination in school sports programs, discussion of the origins of sexist attitudes and more. One of the best resources around. Available as a reprint from the Women's Sports Foundation (see below).

Skidmore, Patricia. Women in Sports. Washington: Women's Equity Action League, 1975. This "sports kit" includes information on Title IX, on filing discrimination complaints, on federal law and has a bibliography.

The Sportswoman, Jensen-Fane Publications, 6150 Buckingham Pkwy., Culver City, CA 90807.

Task Force on Women in Sports, NOW, 5 S. Wabash, #1615, Chicago, IL 60603. A good resource.

Women in Sports. Available from Cathy Cade. Six durable 8" x 10" reproductions of women skilled in gymnastics, softball, track, weight-lifting and judo. Suggestions for using the photos in the classroom included.

WomenSports, 1660 S. Amphlett Blvd., San Mateo, CA 94402. Monthly magazine which is an excellent resource for all teachers and students. A must in all school libraries.

Women's Sports Foundation, 1660 S. Amphlett Blvd., #266, San Mateo, CA 94402. The Women's Sports Foundation was founded in 1974 as a public, nonprofit corporation by Billie Jean King to "encourage all women to be involved in sport activities." The Foundation's services and programs include an information and referral center, a comprehensive library, encouragement and backing of competitions and clinics for women, support for research and financial aid. A quarterly newsletter is sent to all members; write for complete information.
LAW This section is in two parts: the first is very brief and lists guides to women's legal rights generally; the second concerns itself with the legislation regarding sex discrimination in the schools.

WOMEN'S LEGAL RIGHTS

LEGAL MANDATES FOR SCHOOLS
Dunkle, Margaret, and Sandler, Bernice. Sex Discrimination against Students; Implications of Title IX. Washington: Project on the Status and Education of Women, 1974. Explains each section of the law, piece by piece and includes a summary of developments since Title IX regulations became effective. Addendum dated November 1975.
Inequality in Education/ Sex Discrimination (October 18, 1974). This special issue contains six readable articles on the law prohibiting discrimination in education:
laws covering sex discrimination in education and analyzes the issues involved.
Final Title IX Regulation Implementing Education Amendments of 1972 Prohibiting Sex Discrimination in Education.
Washington: U.S. Department of HEW, 1975. This copy of the complete regulation includes a statement by Secretary Weinberger which discusses major issues of the law and other helpful information.

STRATEGIES FOR CHANGE Strategies for Change is divided into two sections. The first includes how-to reports from school districts which have made effective studies of their institutions, pinpointing areas of discrimination and implementing the necessary changes. Also listed are a number of programs and guidelines developed by research institutions to help in implementing Title IX. These serve as models. The second section provides a number of resources and syllabi for inservice education which, though not legally mandated, is an essential component of nonsexist education.

MODELS

Bostick, Nan; Kaspar, Patricia; and Sallan, Nancy. How to Deal with Sex-Role Stereotyping—At a School Board Meeting—In a Workshop—In the Classroom. Cupertino, Cal.: Choice for Tomorrow, 1976. This booklet provides step-by-step suggestions for positive action in countering sex stereotyping in schools, including classroom activities for grades K to six. Appendices provide useful recommendations, bibliography and checklists help evaluate sexism in reading materials.

Citizens' Advisory Council on the Status of Women. Need for Studies of Sex Discrimination in Public Schools. Washington: U.S. Department of Labor, 1972. This revised overview provides suggestions to assist organizations planning to review a school system. Appendices include selected bibliography.
Cohen, M. Stop Sex Role Stereotypes in Elementary Education: A Handbook for Parents and Teachers. Hartford: Connecticut Public Interest Research Group, 1974. Provides ways to identify and combat sex-role stereotyping in curricula, teaching methods, administration policies and parent-teacher-child relations; suggests alternative materials and methods.

Dallas Women's Coalition. A Study of Sex Discrimination in the Dallas Independent School District. This study, originally done in 1973, is being revised. Contact Jeanne Ford, Women's Center, University of Texas, Arlington, TX 76019.

Kalamazoo Public Schools, Committee to Study Sex Discrimination. Kalamazoo was one of the first systems to do a thorough self-evaluation, then recommend and implement a program for combatting sex discrimination. They have published a number of their reports, guidelines and recommendations, including Report of the Task Force on Student Oriented Concerns, Recommendations for Eliminating Sex Discrimination in the Reading Program, Guidelines for the Evaluation of Print and Nonprint Materials, Sex Discrimination and Stereotyping in Music, Recommendations for Eliminating Discrimination in the Instructional Program. Other Kalamazoo publications are listed in the appropriate sections of Feminist Resources. Write for a complete list of publications.

Kunkel, G. Eliminating Sexism from the Public Schools of Washington State. Seattle: Ad-hoc Committee for Women and Girls in Education, 1973. This 16-page guide includes an outline of the laws and regulations, information on career education, sexism in curriculum and counseling as well as recommendations for change.

Minnesota State Department of Education, Sex Bias Task Force. Report to the Minnesota State Board of Education. St. Paul: Department of Education, 1974. This study includes a summary of antidiscrimination laws and regulations, recommendations on employment along with a model affirmative action program, examination of extracurricular athletics: suggestions for curriculum improvement, preservice and inservice training. Appendix provides background and supplementary information.

Nassau-Suffolk Council of Administrative Women in Education. Guidelines for the Implementation of Title IX. Oakdale, N.Y.: SCORE, 1976. These guidelines help to clarify the subtleties and complexities of Title IX and to encourage investigation of sexist practices in an effort to seek positive change.

Project on the Status and Education of Women. Partial List of Actions Institutions Must Take under Title IX. Washington: Project on the Status and Education of Women, 1975. Explication of specific actions to fill some of the requirements of Title IX.

Resource Center on Sex Roles in Education. Complying with Title IX - A Resource Kit. Washington: Women's Program Staff, U.S. Office of Education, 1976. A kit of technical assistance materials for the implementation of Title IX includes the following:

Equal Opportunity - A Fundamental American Right. This introductory pamphlet establishes a context for understanding Title IX.

Why Title IX? This booklet reviews some research evidence of sex discrimination in those areas covered by Title IX and discusses the possible implications of such discrimination.

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. This detailed, pocket-size summary of the Regulation is intended to be used for easy reference.

Complying with Title IX: The First Twelve Months. This booklet outlines the five required procedures that must be completed by July 21, 1976 and gives step-by-step aids for implementation.

Complying with Title IX. Implementing Institutional Self-Evaluation. This 142-page manual is organized into sections according to the substantive requirements of the Regulation. Each section contains a citation, a discussion of issues relating to compliance, specific data and questions for use in determining compliance and procedural checklists to assist in conducting the evaluation.

Title IX: Selected Resources. This is an annotated list of summaries, analyses, guidelines and other materials on Title IX.

Equal Educational Opportunity and Equal Employment Opportunity. These two posters outline the rights of students and employees to equal opportunity without regard to race or sex.

Timpano, Doris M. Is Your School District in Compliance with Title IX? New York: Career Women in Education, 1975. This brief pamphlet is a series of checklists to guide and gauge a school's compliance with Title IX.

INSERVICE EDUCATION

Cornelia Wheadon Task Force on the Socialization of Children. Growing Up Human: A Four-Session Course on Sex-Role Stereotyping. Boston: Unitarian Universalist Women's Federation, n.d. The four sessions include: introduction and sexism in children's books; toys, games, imaginative play; sex-role stereotyping in schools; TV.

Golden, Gloria, and Hunter, Lisa. In all Fairness: A Handbook on Sex Role Bias in Schools. San Francisco: Far West Laboratory, 1974. This booklet and the films which accompany it are designed to help teachers become aware of what sex-role stereotyping is. The handbook suggests classroom activities and discussion questions and provides factual information about sex differences.

Howard, Suzanne. Liberating Our Children Ourselves. Washington: American Association of University Women, 1975. A handbook of women's studies course materials for teacher educators, this is a valuable resource for inservice education. National Education Association. The Labels and Reinforcement of Sex Role Stereotyping. Two full-color filmstrips (with 33 1/3 rpm sound narration) which can form the core of an inservice course or workshop, or be used as a supplement.

——. Sex Role Stereotyping Edupak. Washington: National Education Association, n.d. This multi-media kit includes all of NEA's resources on sex-role stereotyping and discrimination in schools.

Nickerson, Eileen-T. et al. Intervention

Inservice kit for combatting sex discrimination in education, contains tests, exercises, bibliography. Useful for teachers of all levels as well as other education staff and community groups.

Preschool and Elementary Education

READINGS The readings for the elementary school teacher include lists of annotated bibliographies of nonsexist readings for children as well as general materials to aid in the understanding of sex-role stereotypes and bias-free teaching.

NONSEXIST BOOKLISTS
American Association of University Women. Books with Options. 1976. Available from A. C. Simmons. This is an annotated bibliography of nonsexist books for children which provide strong role models without regard to sex or social situation.
Davis, Enid. 156 Good Books for Girls. Available from Enid Davis. Annotated list of fiction and nonfiction with positive images of girls for ages four to fourteen.

GENERAL READINGS
Childhood Education/Overcoming Sex-Role Stereotypes (February 1976). This special issue of the Journal of the Association for Childhood Education International contains articles that describe the research on ascribed and biological sex differences between girls and boys. The suggestions for eliminating stereotyped behavior in the classroom will prove useful to parents, students and teachers.

...
CURRICULUM  The elementary school curriculum has been divided into two sections. In the first are lesson plans, books, articles and entire units to help in planning a nonsexist curriculum. The second section contains nonprint materials—photos, posters, records—for use in the classroom.

Abt Associates. Career Education Activities for Subject Area Teachers. Cambridge: Abt Associates, 1975. This set of nonsexist lesson sheets and activities on career education are designed to be integrated into the existing core curriculum, grades one to six.

Froschl, Merle, ed. Storypack. Old Westbury: The Feminist Press, 1974. Five separate stories in booklet form that deal with children's feelings about divorce, about being called a sissy, about their bodies and masturbation, about being heroes and about sex roles. A guide for teachers and parents is included.

Goldreich, Gloria, and Goldreich, Esther. What Can She Be? A Lawyer/Veterinarian/Newscaster/Architect/Musician/Police Officer. New York: Lothrop, Lee and Shepard. These six books give a realistic introduction to careers and depict women in a variety of family situations who work and are happy with their lives. Includes pictures of women involved in nontraditional careers.

Gould, Lois. "X: A Fabulous Child's Story." Ms. (December 1972):74-77. This ingenious story is an excellent tool for consciousness-raising with children of all ages. "X," a child whose gender is not known, is brought up to explore all kinds of games and develop all kinds of skills which cause havoc among family, friends and teachers.

Groves, Susan et al. Women's Studies Program. Berkeley: Berkeley Unified School District, n.d. A wealth of nonsexist curricular materials designed for early childhood through grade six has been developed by the Women's Studies Program, which is an integral part of the Berkeley Public Schools. Write for their brochure which describes the materials (lessons and activities, units, media and library materials) in detail.

title is somewhat misleading as the book deals with women of the nineteenth century as well as with women of the west. Amply illustrated with reproductions of old political cartoons, advertisements, illustrations and photographs, it contains much useful and interesting information. Recommended for upper elementary school students.

Olsen, Laurie, ed. Nonsexist Curricular Materials for Elementary Schools. Old Westbury: The Feminist Press, 1977. This packet of materials for the teacher and student is being revised. The new edition will include detailed suggestions for recognizing sexism, model curricular units, a student workbook, readings, a bibliography of available histories and biographies and a nonsexist fiction list.

Project Equality. Occupation Simulation Packets. Seattle: The Highline School District, 1975. Packets aid students to identify and apply their skills in a simulated work experience designed to reduce sex-role stereotyping. Activities are focused on a single skill which is already possessed by the student, such as crawling and/or squatting, color discrimination, measuring.

---

Resource Center on Sex Roles in Education. Today's Changing Roles: An Approach to Nonsexist Teaching. Washington: Resource Center on Sex Roles in Education, 1974. This 108-page book contains lesson plans that clearly define concepts and goals as well as list the materials that will be necessary for students to explore the issue of sex-role stereotyping on a personal level. Helps identify sex roles in magazines, texts and on television.

---

Women with a Cause. Champaign: Garrard.

---

Four Women of Courage. Champaign: Garrard.

NONPRINT CURRICULAR MATERIALS

The American Women's Role—Yesterday and Today. Elgin: David C. Cook. Six eeen 12" x 17" color pictures that dramatize the past achievements of women. The pictures are accompanied by a 32-page manual.

Feminist Resources for Equal Education. Women in Nontraditional Roles. Framingham: Feminist Resources for Equal Education. Two sets each contain eight 8½" x 11" photographs: Set #1, Community Helpers; Set #2, Professional Women.

Home and Family. Paoli, Pa.: Instructd. Twenty-four pictures of families which include representations of family members of various age groups and of many different racial groups.

Judy Puzzles. This company produces a variety of nonsexist, nonracist puzzles: Occupations Puzzles. Thirteen wooden puzzles representing women and minorities in a variety of roles.

The City. A 2' x 3', 20-piece "floor puzzle" showing people working and going about their daily chores in a big city.

The Park. Another "floor puzzle" depicting women and men, some in nontraditional roles, in a park setting.

Kane, Irene. Women at Work. San Francisco: Change for Children, 1974. This packet includes fifteen 8" x 10" photo reproductions of women of different ages and ethnic backgrounds working in nontraditional jobs. An effective visual resource.

Living Together in America. Elgin: David C. Cook. Twenty 12" x 17" color pictures of various ethnic groups in American society.

Project Equality. Many Thousand Worlds—Work Pictures. Seattle: The Highline School District, 1975. This collection of 8" x 10" laminated, black-and-white pictures shows that all people (girls and boys, women and men) use their skills and abilities to do a variety of jobs—at home, at school, in the community.

Racism and Sexism Resource Center for Educators. Picture-Pac Activity on Sexism. New York: Racism and Sexism Resource Center for Educators, n.d. Ten photos to be examined by small groups of students who discuss which are, and which are not, sexist. Recommended for grades five and up.

Robot. Pasadena: Fundamentals. An alternative to "Old Maid" this nonsexist card game portrays women and men in almost identical work roles and clothing.

Women's Action Alliance. This group has developed a variety of nonprint materials for use in the early childhood and elementary classroom. Some are now produced by commercial companies, all materials are available through the Women's Action Alliance.

Our Helpers. Milton Bradley. Twelve stand-up cardboard figures show men and women in a variety of jobs in the community. Includes teacher's guide.

My Family. Milton Bradley. Twelve stand-up cardboard figures allow children to dramatize a variety of family situations. Figures represent black and white people of different ages. Included are suggestions for using the figures in classroom situations.

People at Work. Instructo/McGraw-Hill. Twenty-four nonsexist, multi-racial, 8" x 11" photographs of women and a few men involved in nontraditional careers. Includes a teacher's guide for use with the visual aids.

Community Careers. Instructo/McGraw-Hill. Flannel board plus figures (women and men), props (fire hydrant, mailbox, etc.) and name cards (police officer, construction worker, etc.) for students to mix and match and develop an understanding that both women and men do important jobs of all kinds in the community.

Play Scenes Lotto. Milton-Bradley. Multi-racial, nonsexist game showing possible active roles for boys and girls playing together.

Pictures of Men in Nurturing Roles. Eight 8" x 10" photographs that show girls and boys in active play and men working closely with them in nurturing roles.
READINGs The readings for the teacher in this section include the few available volumes of course outlines and syllabi, as well as articles on the teaching of women's studies in high school. General information of interest to all teachers can be found in the Overview (see Basic Readings).

California Council for the Social Studies Review/Women in the Social Studies (Fall 1972). This special issue is a collection of essays on methods and curriculum for teaching about women in high school social studies classes.

Feminists Northwest. Again at the Looking Glass. Seattle: Feminists Northwest, 1975. These materials were developed to encourage teachers and students to overcome the sexism often present in the language arts curriculum. A good resource for teachers, it includes suggestions for activities and discussions, as well as bibliographies for sexist language, autobiography, nonsexist literature and sexism in the media.

Grambs, Jean Dresden, ed. Teaching about Women in the Social Studies: Concepts, Methods and Materials. Arlington: National Council for the Social Studies, 1976. A resource book for social studies teachers who want to avoid sexism and make women a viable part of the study of history. Each chapter presents basic concepts to help teachers analyze and revise their current teaching as well as build new units and courses. Resources and bibliographies are included.

Gates, Barbara; Klaw, Susan, and Reich, Adria. The Group School Curriculum (tentative title). Old Westbury. The Feminist Press, forthcoming. This comprehensive women's studies curriculum has been developed and taught at The Group School, an alternative high school for working-class youth in Cambridge, Massachusetts. The curriculum is divided into nine thematic units, which range from “Messages from Society,” to “Women and Work.” Throughout, suggestions are made on “how to,” as well as “what to” teach.

No More Teachers’ Dirty Looks (Summer 1973) Available from BARTOC. This special issue is an illustrated guide to teaching materials on women’s studies—articles that are easy to obtain and duplicate for the classroom. In general, this magazine regularly features articles on sexism in education and on women’s studies.

Olejniczak, Gabrielle. “Women’s Studies in the Junior High School.” ERIC/Chess. Description of a nine-week course, “Woman: Her Image and Her Role,” taught at the Cherry Creek, Colorado, middle school. Included is a discussion on the introduction of women’s studies into the curriculum.

Rosenfelt, Deborah Silverton, ed. Strong Women. Old Westbury: The Feminist Press, 1976. More than 100 widely available paperbacks are annotated in this bibliography of literature for the high school classroom. Includes sections on anthologies, autobiography, biography, drama, novels, short stories and poetry, as well as a cross-topical index. Illustrated with photographs of women writers—all of which will help to supplement the traditional male bias of contemporary textbooks.

Valiant, Sharon. People "Working (Especially Women)." New Brunswick: Training Institute for Sex Desegregation of the Public Schools, 1976. This resource book is mainly bibliography; but also contains some activities and ideas for the classroom about women working, past and present.

Wells, Nancy. “Women in American Literature.” English Journal 62 (November 1973):1159-1161. Description of a modular course, taught at San Pedro High School, using examples from literature to introduce the concept of alternative choices for women in the American culture.

CURRICULUM The high school curriculum has been divided into three areas: Social Studies, Literature and Interdisciplinary. The categories necessarily overlap, since by their very definition all high school women's studies courses are interdisciplinary in nature. The Social Studies section contains much historical material along with information on the American woman's role in today's society; the Literature section has been kept small, in order not to duplicate the bibliography Strong Women (see Readings); the Interdisciplinary section covers the areas of health, family living and sex roles in general. Teachers should also refer to the Women's Movement section (see Overview/Basic Readings) for materials that would be appropriate as classroom texts. Multi-media curricular materials have been grouped together at the end of each subject category.

SOCIAL STUDIES
The American Family: Life Styles in a Changing Society. Columbus: Xerox Education Publications, 1975. This paperback explores the ways in which the American family is changing, focusing on the characteristics and values of the middle-class American family. There is a discussion of alternatives to the traditional family. Separate teaching guide.

Committee to Study Sex Discrimination, Kalamazoo Public Schools. Famous American Women. Kalamazoo Public Schools, 1973. Brief biographies of 125 American women who have made significant contributions to art and literature, athletics, performing arts, science, education, professions, politics, women's rights and humanity.

of 80 slides available from the Kalamazoo Art Center presenting works of women artists in the fields of graphics, painting, sculpture, photography and media. The brief biographies and comments regarding each artist's style make this good general reference material for students.

The Black Scholar. This publication has produced three special issues (December 1971, March 1973, March 1975) containing articles on a variety of aspects of black women's experience.

Corrective Collective. She Named It Canada. Available from Hogtown Press. This pamphlet of cartoons is a people's history of Canada in which women are consistently present.

Never Done: Three Centuries of Women's Work in Canada. Toronto: Canadian Women's Educational Press.

Article on Sarah and Angelina Grimké, ex-slaveholders from South Carolina who, in the mid-1830's, were the "midwives of the birth of American feminism."

Flexner, Eleanor. Women's Rights—Unfinished Business. 1974. Available from Public Affairs Pamphlet Series. Description of the ways in which "all women are not equally well off or equally satisfied."

Franki, M., and Hillstrom, J. America's First Unfinished Revolution. Detroit: News & Letters Committees, 1976. A pamphlet that counteracts the myths that have distorted America's revolutionary history. It tells the story of the workers, yeomen, blacks, Indians and women and makes the connection with the freedom movements of today.

This paperback provides a perspective on the history of women in the United States—outstanding women as well as those whose names are forgotten. Divided chronologically into three sections—From Plymouth to Fort Sumter (1620-1860), Beyond Appomattox (1860-1900) and The Twentieth-Century Women—each section includes original diaries and primary materials, pictures of women in art and questions for discussion.

Journal of Afro-American Issues/Black Women in America (Summer, 1974).

Landau, Elaine. Woman, Woman! Feminism in America. New York: Julian Messner, 1974. This book describes the achievements of women in America's history, the stereotypes that limited their potential, the demands for full equality now and in the future. Includes chapters on health, life styles and minority women.

McBee, Mary Louise, and Blake, Kathryn A. The American Woman: Who Will Be? Beverly Hills: Glencoe Press, 1974. Ten essays focus on the present status and future possibilities of women, covering a wide range of topics—history, adjustment and mental health, self-actualization, androgyny, life styles, occupations, new social structures, the media, government, politics and higher education. Discussion questions, suggested projects and selected readings are included.

Maupin, Joyce. Working Women and Their Organizations: 150 Years of Struggle. Berkeley: Union WAGE Educational Committee, 1974. This booklet outlines in detail how women organized, from the first women's strike in 1824 to drives and picket lines today.

Meltzer, Milton, ed. Women of America. New York: Thomas Y. Crowell. This series of biographies provides inspiring examples of women who have led active and purposeful lives and who have made major contributions to our society. Included are: Frances W. Wright, Fanny Kemble, Felisa Rincon de Gautier, Gertrude Stein, Abby Kelley Foster, Ida Tarbell, Mother Jones, Pearl Buck, Margaret Sanger, Emma Goldman, Lydia Maria Child, Marry Cassatt.

Millstein, Beth, and Bodin, Jeanne. We, The American Women: A Documentary History. New York: Jerome S. Ozer, 1975. A combination of narrative, historical documents and illustrations record the history of women's contributions to American life from the earliest settlements to the 1970's. An extensive bibliography follows each of the 12 chapters; a teacher's manual is available.

Osen, Lynn M. Women in Mathematics. Cambridge: The-MIT Press, 1974. This 185-page book profiles the lives of women who have had an impact on the development of mathematical thought—from antiquity through the present.

Pollack, George, and Cutter, Charles L. Women in American Life. Columbus: Xerox Education Publications, 1976. Women are part of the history of our country, and this 48-page booklet documents it with diaries, writings and true-life stories of America's little-known women heroes. Also included is a look at the American woman's role today. Most appropriate for junior high school; a separate teaching guide is available.

San Francisco Women's History Group. What Have Women Done? San Francisco: United Front Press, n.d. An excellent photo essay on the history of working women in the United States, beginning with the colonial period, and including the story of slavery, the Lowell Mills, European immigrants, labor organizing, civil rights.

Osen, Lynn M. Women in Mathematics. Cambridge: The-MIT Press, 1974. This 185-page book profiles the lives of women who have had an impact on the development of mathematical thought—from antiquity through the present.

San Francisco Women's History Group. What Have Women Done? San Francisco: United Front Press, n.d. An excellent photo essay on the history of working women in the United States, beginning with the colonial period, and including the story of slavery, the Lowell Mills, European immigrants, labor organizing, civil rights.

Vidal, Mirta. Chicanas Speak Out—Women's New Voice of La Raza. New York: Pathfinder Press, 1971. This article first appeared in the International Socialist Review and includes the major resolutions approved at the first national Chicana conference of Raza women. The article focuses on the results of the two largest workshops: “Sex and the Chicana” and “Marriage—Chicana Style.”

Women's Liberation Center of Nassau County. A Special Unit on Women for High School Classes. Available from Barbara Sussman. This unit provides high school teachers and students with comprehensive materials for exploring many of the issues of the women's liberation movement.

SOCIAL STUDIES/MULTI-MEDIA

Avon Molly Jackson. Rounder Records. Songs from the 1930's in Kentucky, sung by a union organizer and storyteller.

But the Women Rose: Voices of Women in American History. Folkways Records. These two volumes contain moving statements by women throughout American history, 1700's to the present; script included.

The Feminist Revolution/Pioneers in a Man's World. Documentary Photo Aids. Twenty-six 11” x 14” photo posters in black and white. Each poster provides explanation of social/political attitudes of the time. Teacher's guide with discussion questions for students is included.

Identity Female. New York: Don-Donnelly, 1975. A modular multi-media women's studies program that examines its subject from the viewpoint of different disciplines: anthropology, history, psychology, sociology, economics, law. Although advertised for use in high school through junior college, we recommend the materials for a younger audience. Particularly good for high school is the filmstrip which reviews 700 years of art by women.

Jackdaw Kits. New York: Grossman Publishers. These excellent kits contain primary source materials (letters, facsimiles, manuscripts, songs and pictures) not found in standard texts. They provide valuable references and teaching tools for the social studies classroom: Women's Rights in the United States, compiled by Mary Stetson Clarke; Women in the American Revolution, compiled by Carol Berkin; Women in Revolt, compiled by Judith Kazantzis.

Ms. America. Englewood Cliffs: Scholastic
Audio-Visual Center. Part of Scholastic's "American Adventures" filmstrip program, this is an excellent summary of women's role in America from the colonies to the present. Photographs, selections from diaries and other primary sources are included in the narrative.

Pioneer Women: Selections from Their Journals. Caedmon Records. Sandy Dennis and Eileen Heckart read moving selections that describe the experience of four pioneer women: a homesteader, an army wife, a missionary and a pioneer daughter.

Recovering Our Past: Part I, The Struggle for Women's Suffrage. The Feminist History Research Project. This research project has recorded hundreds of hours of oral history with participants in the women's movement at the beginning of the century. The first program, a 24-minute slide/tape presentation, combines the recorded voices of women who participated in the 72-year-long battle for the right to vote, with historical engravings and photographs.

Seneca Falls. Interact. This simulation of the first women's rights convention in July, 1848, recreates the activities of the convention, using historical documents.

The Silenced Majority. Media Plus. This five-part multi-media presentation on the status of women in the United States contains full-color filmstrips, records or cassettes, discussion guide, poster and stickers.

Women Artists. New York: Harper and Row, 1976. This slide program grows out of years of intensive research by J. J. Wilson and Karen Petersen. The four programs—a total of 360 unique transparencies and notes—feature the long-ignored abilities and perspectives of more than 200 women artists. The four include: A Historical Survey (Early Middle Ages to 1900); The Twentieth Century; Third World; Images—Themes and Dreams. The authors have also written a book based on their research, entitled Recognition and Reappraisal from the Early Middle Ages to the Twentieth Century. New York: Harper Colophon, 1976.

Women in American History. Educational Activities. An excellent narrative and expressive and moving illustrations bring to life women in: The Colonies, After the Revolution, Slavery and Suffrage, Reformers, The Artist, Crisis of Identity.
Six filmstrips, plus cassettes or records; teacher's guides included.

The Women's Kit. Toronto: The Ontario Institute for Studies in Education. This multi-media kit about women and their socialization contains records, slides, articles, filmstrips, posters, photos, plays, newspapers, poems, drawings, stories, lists, booklets. Among its varied contents are 50 slides of work by contemporary Canadian women artists and a recorded interview with a militant suffragist.

Women's Work; America: 1620-1920. Schloat Productions. This historical survey of work in and out of the home presents a factual and meaningful view of events in America's past. Four filmstrips with records or cassettes.

The Work of the Women. Womenfolk Song Project. Songs reflect American women's experiences throughout history, including housework, mothering, the labor movement, suffrage, temperance. Teacher's guide and bibliography, suitable for a mini-course on Women in History, is included:

LITERATURE

Folsom, Marcia McClintock, and Kirschner, Linda Heinlein. By Women: An Anthology of Literature. Boston: Houghton-Mifflin, 1976. A collection of short stories, poetry, drama and nonfiction organized into units arranged by genre as well as themes: Search for Self, In a Role, Breaking Free. This anthology, unlike standard high school texts, speaks to the creative energies of women over some 2500 years and reflects a variety of backgrounds, races and culture. The companion Instructor's Resource Book includes discussion questions, background information, suggested readings and a bibliography.

Hall, James; Jones, Nancy J.; and Sutherland, Janet, R. Women: Portraits. New York: McGraw-Hill, 1976. An anthology of literature that presents realistic portraits of women from differing cultures. It was designed not only to familiarize students with positive female characters; but to help them examine critically the unrealistic images of women found in the popular media. Three chapters are entitled: Women Becoming, Women Being and Women Stereotyped. Questions and activities are included.

Larrick, Nancy, and Merriam, Eve, eds. Male & Female under 18. New York: Avon, 1973. Selected from more than 2,500 replies to the question "How does it feel to be a girl or a boy today?" this anthology contains about 200 poems and brief prose statements by young people ages eight through eighteen. A useful topic index reveals the enormous variety of concerns beyond the expected ones, including games and sports, pride, schoolwork, jobs and discrimination.

LITERATURE/MULTI-MEDIA

To Be a Woman and a Writer. Guidance Associates. Dramatization of the prejudices and challenges women writers have encountered in the past four centuries. Part one concentrates on nineteenth-century authors, including Auster, Alcott and Brontë. Part two illustrates recurring themes of twentieth-century writers, including Olsen, Sexton, Hansberry, Woolf, Lessing. Includes two filmstrips plus guide, and records or cassettes.
INTERDISCIPLINARY

Abt Associates. Career Education Activities for Subject Area Teachers. Cambridge: Abt Associates, 1975. Developed for the National Institute of Education, these materials are consciously nonsexist in approach and language and represent an effort to infuse career education into existing subject areas. Volume II for grades six to nine and Volume III for grades nine to twelve—each an unbound looseleaf set of lesson sheets—contain activities for social studies, language arts, math, health, science, art and physical education.

Adams, Carol, and Laurikietis, Rae. Book 1: Education and Work; Book 2: Sex and Marriage; Book 3: Messages and Images. London: Virago-Limited, 1976. Available from Quartet Books. A series about the sex roles imposed on girls and boys in our society. Book 1 looks at how children are raised, and how girls in particular have their options limited from an early age through schools, career expectations and work. Book 2 examines the relationships between girls and boys and the role played by accepted ideas of masculinity and femininity. Sex and sex education are discussed together with contraception, abortion, medical issues, rape. Book 3 deals with language and the media, showing how they reinforce and often create popular ideas about sex roles. A list of resources and bibliography is included in each book.

Dispenza, Joseph E. Advertising the American Woman. Dayton: Pflaum Publishing, 1975. An anthology of advertising that points out how we have been conditioned to think about the roles of women in our society. Ads dating from 1900 to the present are organized around seven themes, among them: facial beauty, domestic relationships, romance and courtship, woman’s shape, consumerism.

“Whatever Happened to Debbie Kraft” is an awareness game in pamphlet form that poses the hypothetical (but realistic) situation of an 18-year-old about to graduate high school, who has to decide about college, work and marriage.

High School Women's Liberation. Ann Arbor: Youth Liberation Press, 1976. A collection of some 20 articles about liberation of interest to young women. Includes book reviews and poetry, as well as discussions of sexism in schools, textbooks, sports, lesbianism, black women and legal rights. One of the few materials written by and for high school women.

Merrick, Toni. The American Woman: Her Image and Her Roles. Columbus: Xerox Education Publications, 1975. Written especially for grades seven to twelve, this 64-page paperback on the status of women today contains sections that could be used as curriculum units to analyze male and female roles.

Resource Center on Sex Roles in Education. Today's Changing Roles: An Approach to Non-Sexist Teaching. Washington: Resource Center on Sex Roles in Education, 1974. An excellent 108-page paperback designed as supplemental material to assist students explore and understand the limitations of sex-role stereotyping. For elementary, intermediate and secondary school teachers.

Status of Women Committee, San Fernando Branch, AAUW. Jack and Jill. 1972. Available from AAUW, California State Division. Written especially for high school students, this 30-page booklet contains exercises of sex-role stereotypes that are a model for developing school curriculum.

Tax, Meredith. Woman and Her Mind: The Story of Daily Life. Somerville: New England Free Press, 1970. This provocative pamphlet describes and analyzes social and psychological forces that impinge on women—in the home, the family, at work and on the street.

Wells, Theodora. Woman—Which Includes Man, of Course. Beverly Hills: Wells Associates. A consciousness-raising essay for both students and teachers that includes useful exercises in sex-role stereotype analysis.

INTERDISCIPLINARY/MULTI-MEDIA

The Cult of True Womanhood. Multimedia Productions. An excellent tool for dealing with male and female roles in the classroom. Two filmstrips, with record or cassette.

Herstory. Interact. A provocative simulation game for high school students emphasizing male and female roles in our society.

Male/Female: Changing Lifestyles. Educational Audio-Visual. These sound filmstrips focus on biological and behavioral differences with an emphasis on the history of sex roles.

Masculinity/Femininity. Guidance Associates. Two highly recommended filmstrips (with records or cassettes) from a company that has produced much useful Material about sex roles.

The Role of Women in American Society. Newton: EDC; 1976. A multi-unit program, each built around a half-hour documentary film of a stage in women's lives. Unit I, "Girls at 12" explores socialization: How did you learn to be a girl, or to be a boy? The Teacher's Guide provides a basis for classroom discussion, the Students Resource Book includes a bibliography and activities. Although the film is limited in that it looks at a small sector of society, the unit is valuable in any course that discusses the role of women. Unit II, "Clorae and Albie," features two young black women talking about how they are trying to create lives for themselves. The Resource Book makes a teaching package with the books that accompany the first unit.

Sex Stereotyping in the Schools. Available from Women's Education Resources. Slide tape series.

A Woman's Place. Schlafat Productions. A realistic, four-part examination of the current status of women in society: Images, Biology and Destiny, Myths, The Women's Movement. Program guides help turn the filmstrips into effective study units. Four color filmstrips, plus records or cassette tapes. As a companion filmstrip program, Masculinity examines man's position in a changing society.
RESOURCES FOR THE TEACHER

This section lists readings and general resources in women's studies including guides to courses, volumes of syllabi and essays on teaching; and a number of major anthologies dealing with issues of employment and discrimination.

Abramson, Joan. The Invisible Woman: Discrimination in the Academic Profession. San Francisco: Jossey-Bass, 1975. This volume is in three parts. The first examines in some detail the case history of the author's own sex discrimination suit. Part two explores the academic setting and explains the establishment's control and how they maintain it. The last section describes the various methods of appeal women have open to them, the pitfalls and risks of legal action.

Chmaj, Betty, ed. American Women and American Studies. Pittsburgh: KNOW, 1971. Includes a few course syllabi and essays; comparative analysis of several reports on the status of academic women and a personal, vivid account of the effect of the women's movement on academic women.

Hoffman, Nancy; Saor, Cynthia; and Tinsley, Adrian, eds. Female Studies VI: Closer to the Ground. Old Westbury: The Feminist Press, 1972. Twenty-one essays on the practice of women's studies in the classroom, literary criticism from a feminist perspective, course materials.

--- and Ahlum, Carol, eds. Female Studies III. Pittsburgh: KNOW, 1971. Fifty-four new course descriptions and bibliographies, descriptions of 17 wom... en's studies programs and Guide to Female Studies I.

Kundsin, Ruth. Women and Success: The Anatomy of Achievement. New York: William Morrow, 1974. This anthology deals with the development of, attitudes toward and problems of professional women, particularly scientists. Family attitudes, the impact of education, economic factors and the women's individual life experiences are all explored.

Project on the Status and Education of Women. Women in the Curriculum. Washington: Project on the Status of Education of Women, n.d. This paper is based on a comprehensive review of the literature on women's studies and provides an excellent introduction and overview. It describes the history of women's studies, defines its major objectives, analyzes the curricular and pedagogical issues. A basic, annotated bibliography is included.

Rossi, Alice, and Calderwood, Ann, eds. Academic Women on the Move. New York: Russell Sage Foundation, 1973. This anthology is in three parts: recruitment, training and employment; women on the contemporary academic scene; action toward change. The research explains the history and social status of women in academe, documents the nature and range of sex discrimination and reports on the remedial efforts now being made.

Showalter, Elaine, and Ohmann, Carol, eds. Female Studies IV. Pittsburgh: KNOW, 1971. Includes an overview of feminist studies and 12 essays by teachers, as well as several bibliographical reports and reviews of current anthologies.

Women's Equity Action League. Higher Education Kit. Washington: WEAL, 1976. The revised Kit includes items on... federal laws and regulations concerning sex discrimination in educational institutions as well as information on filing complaints.

ANTHOLOGIES
This compilation includes the major anthologies and texts on women in history, law, literature, anthropology and psychology. They were written for the college classroom, but many can also be used in advanced high school classes.

ANTHROPOLOGY

HISTORY
Carroll, Berenice, ed. Liberating Women's History: Theoretical and Critical Essays. Urbana: University of Illinois Press, 1976. An anthology of theoretical and critical essays in women's history collected with the intention of meeting the need for a critical historiography, to test old and new theories on a comparative basis, to find conceptual clarity and to help define new directions for research.
Cott, Nancy, ed. Root of Bitterness. New York: E. P. Dutton, 1972. Documents of the social history of American women from colonial times to 1900; selections from journals, autobiographies, fiction, manifestoes; source material for high school curriculum or background reading for the teacher.

LAW

LITERATURE

Cade, Toni, ed. The Black Woman: An Anthology. New York: New American Library, 1970. This collection contains contemporary writings by and about black women. It is one of the first anthologies presenting the black woman through her own eyes, in her own voice.

Cornillon, Susan Kappelman, ed. Images of Women in Fiction: Feminist Perspectives. Bowling Green: Bowling Green Popular Press, 1972. This wide-ranging collection of feminist literary criticism is a must for the English teacher; students will also enjoy many of the essays, which resolutely refuse to be pedantic.

Ferguson, Mary Anne, ed. Images of Women in Literature. New York: Houghton-Mifflin, 1973. One of the best anthologies of its kind, this collection includes a wide and thoughtful selection of short stories, some poems and a short play. The selections are arranged according to stereotypes.

Moreno, Dorinda. La Mujer—En Pie de Lucha. Fremont, Cal.: Espina del Norte Publications, 1973. This singular folio of poems, essays, photographs, drawings, manifestoes, by and about Chicana women and other women of the Spanish-speaking Third World, reflects a consciousness both feminist and revolutionary. It demonstrates the diversity, strength and creativity of La Raza women.

Pearson, Carol, and Pope, Katherine, eds. Who Am I This Time? Female Portraits in British and American Literature. New York: McGraw-Hill, 1976. This anthology of poetry and short stories is divided into two major parts: the Heroine and the Hero. The selections in the Heroine include portraits of women which are predominantly stereotypical or archetypal; the Hero section traces an alternative tradition of female characterization.

Showalter, Elaine, ed. Women's Liberation and Literature. New York: Harcourt, 1971. This anthology contains substantial excerpts from Mary Wollstonecraft and John Stuart Mill, all of Ibsen’s A Doll House, a few poems and short stories and helpful selections in literary criticism (including Virginia Woolf and Kate Millett) and women and psychology (including Betty Friedan).

Psychology
Cox, Sue, ed. Female Psychology: The Emerging Self. Chicago: Science Research Associates, 1976. This textbook of feminist psychology is excellent. It includes many classic articles in eight sections. The introductory sections take a frankly feminist stand and set the articles in a larger context.
Sources of Further Information

BIBLIOGRAPHY  This compilation is not meant to be exhaustive. It includes, rather, several of the major general bibliographies on women and several of those on women’s education, including other curriculum guides like this one. Specific subject-oriented bibliographies appear in the appropriate sections throughout.

GENERAL BIBLIOGRAPHIES

Cardinale, Susan. Special Issues of Serials about Women, 1965-1975. Monticello, Ill.: Council of Planning Librarians, 1976. This bibliography provides a much-needed handle on the myriad special issues on women. The citations are alphabetical by journal title and are selectively annotated. This list is very comprehensive and covers a wide subject range.

Cisler, Lucinda. Women: A Bibliography. 1970. Available from Lucinda Cisler. This partially annotated bibliography is one of the first women’s bibliographies to appear and has been the personal project of Ms. Cisler through six editions. It is classified into 14 subjects and also includes a periodical list. Notations indicate editions in paperback and those worthy of special attention. It has much historical material and much that is new.

Daniels, Arlene Kaplan. A Survey of Research Concerns on Women’s Issues. Washington: Project on the Status and Education of Women, 1975. This pamphlet is a comprehensive review of the literature in the central areas of research relating to women.

ERIC. The Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC) is a nation-wide network of 16 clearinghouses. Each clearinghouse acquires educational material in its subject field. Among these materials are curriculum guides, teaching units, games, descriptions of innovative programs, bibliographies and research reports. Once acquired, they are summarized and indexed in the monthly publication, Resource in Education, and are made available in microfiche and/or hard copy. ERIC is particularly valuable since it provides access to “fugitive” materials—those that are not commercially published and easily available. Unfortunately, its massiveness and computer base scare off many potential users. The 16 topics covered by the clearinghouses are: career education; counseling and personnel services; early childhood education; educational management; handicapped and gifted children; higher education; information resources; junior colleges; languages and linguistics; reading and communication skills; rural education and small schools; science, mathematics and environmental education; teacher education; tests, measurement and evaluation; urban education; and social studies/social science education. While there is no center for women’s studies, all the banks contain... information relevant to women in the curriculum and other issues. A complete computer search can be done to locate all materials on a particular subject, such as women. A search costs $16.50 for up to 50 citations and $10 per citation after that. ERIC is a useful tool for teachers, parents, librarians and administrators.

Harrison, Cynthia Ellen. Women's Movement Media: A Source Guide. New York: R. R. Bowker, 1975. This is not a bibliography, but a guide to sources of information. It includes approximately 500 descriptions of organizations, arranged by function, type or main interest of group, and what materials they supply. There are geographic, title, group name and subject indexes.

Williams, Ora. American Black Women in the Arts and Social Sciences: A Bibliographic Survey. Metuchen: Scarecrow Press, 1973. The bibliography contains over 1200 entries of works by American black women including print and non-print media. There is a comprehensive listing subdivided by subject, a section on black women in the graphic arts and music, list of audio-visual aids, periodicals and black publishing houses. There is a name index and there are selected portraits throughout.

Women’s Studies Abstracts, P.O. Box 1, Rush, NY 14543. This quarterly journal includes a book review essay, book reviews and abstracts which are arranged by subject. Articles for which there are no abstractions are given just a listing. Author, subject indexes.
subject into seven chapters and one for miscellaneous. Entries are annotated and there are author and subject indexes.

Haller, Elizabeth S. Images of Women: A Bibliography of Feminist Resources for Pennsylvania Schools. Harrisburg: Department of Education, 1973. This resource booklet was compiled to help Pennsylvania schools comply with Memorandum 544 calling for an end to sexist practices in the public schools. It includes annotated sections on biography, careers, fiction, history, the arts and the women's movement. There is a section on stereotypes in trade and textbooks, a brief guide to nonprint media and a list of other resources.

Hart, Lois B. A Feminist Looks at Educational Software. Amherst: Everywoman's Center, University of Massachusetts.

Leib, Prudence. Sex Roles: Past, Present and Future. Washington: The Population Institute, 1975. This annotated list is in two parts: games on feminism and sexism and vocational simulation games. The annotations provide suggestions for use and age/grade level.

Software Committee, Sexism in Education Conference. Recommended Nonstereotyped Software and Educational Materials. 1975. Available from Arlene Metha. This annotated list includes a wide variety of materials of use to the teacher including records, tapes, films, filmstrips, posters and photographs. Grade level is indicated.

Westervelt, Esther, and Fixter, Deborah. Women's Higher and Continuing Education, An Annotated Bibliography. New York: College Entrance Examination Board, 1971. The primary focus of this list is women's higher and continuing education with secondary emphasis on women's employment. It is a highly select list that tries to cover and represent a broad spectrum of materials; items were chosen for quality, representativeness and timeliness. No foreign language materials are included and there is no index.

GUIDES TO NONPRINT RESOURCES Films by or about women have proliferated in the last few years. Because of this recent activity, there are now excellent guides to these films in print. This section lists several of the best of these guides and also a number of producers of audio tapes about women.
Audio Visual Center. Women's Films - A Critical Guide. Bloomington: Indiana University, 1975. This Guide is the result of several months of film viewing and evaluating. It lists the films by subject and includes a title index, distributor list with addresses, a bibliography for further searching and list of late releases.

Betancourt, Jeanne. Women in Focus. Dayton: Pflaum Publishing, 1974. This is probably the best film guide for the teacher. It annotates over 75 films by and about women, categorizes them by subject and provides ideas for use in the classroom as well as readings to accompany each film. It includes distributors, their addresses and price information.

Film Library Quarterly/Women in Film (Winter 1971-72). This special issue is one of the best collections of information about women in film; contains analysis and reviews.

Pacifica Tape Library, 5316 Venice Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90019. Write for catalog of audio tapes on women listing over 150 programs.

Sounds from Within, 26 W. 20 St., New York, NY 10011. Write for catalog of available audio tapes.

Women and Film, P. O. Box 4501, Berkeley, CA 94704. Published tri-annually.

ORGANIZATIONS This section lists a number of organizations working for the elimination of sex discrimination in the schools at all levels. Their activities are wide-ranging and include research, lobbying, publishing, teaching.

American Association of University Women, 2401 Virginia Ave. N.W., Washington, D C 20037. Write to the Association for the latest listing of women's caucuses, committees and professional associations.

American Federation of Teachers, Women's Rights Committee, 1012 14 St., N.W., Washington, D C 20005. This group has produced a number of pamphlets about rights for the woman teacher; write for a listing.

Change for Children, 2588 Mission St., #226, San Francisco, CA 94110. This multi-ethnic resource center and library is concerned with nonsexist education. It assists child-care centers, pre- and elementary schools, and has produced a number of excellent materials.

Cornelia Wheaton Task Force, Women's Liberation Center, 2214 Ridge Ave., Evanston, IL 60201. Task Force members include parents and teachers who are concerned about the detrimental effects of sex-role stereotyping on children. Their objectives include providing information and resources, putting pressure on publishers and schools and raising the consciousness of teachers.
Emma Willard Task Force on Education
P. O. Box 14229, University Station,
Minneapolis, MN 55414. The Task Force is a group of feminists working to combat sexism in the schools. They are an excellent resource for Minnesota teachers; their materials are available nationally.

Feminists Northwest, 5038 Nicklas Pl.
N.E., Seattle, WA 98105. This nonprofit education group has worked to combat sexism in the schools in a number of ways. They have: developed nonsexist curriculum, produced a slide show on stereotyping in elementary textbooks, worked with teachers.

National Education Association, Customer Service Section, 1201 16 St. N.W., Washington, DC 20036. Write for their brochure of nonsexist print and audio-visual materials.

National Organization for Women, 5 S.
Wabash, #1615, Chicago, IL 60603. One of the national organizations that has grown out of the current feminist movement, NOW has many local chapters and local Education Task Forces. Write for addresses.

Ontario Institute for Studies in Education,
252 Bloor St. W., Toronto, Ontario,
Canada MSS 1V6. The Women's Kit (records, slides, articles, posters, photos, plays, poems, stories) began as a curricuum project and is now an entire department. Write for more information.

Project on Equal Education Rights, 1029
Vermont Ave. N.W., Washington, D C
20005. This Project of the NOW Legal Defense and Education Fund monitors and disseminates information on the enforcement of Title IX in elementary and secondary schools. Write to receive their newsletter.

Project on the Status and Education of Women, Association of American Colleges, 1818 R St. N.W., Washington D C 20009. The Project compiles materials on women in higher education, including legal developments, federal action on employment, women's groups on campus,
Write to receive their newsletter.

Racism and Sexism-Resource Center for Educators (Council on Interracial Books for Children), 1841 Broadway, #300,
New York, NY 10023. The Council opened in 1965 as a voluntary group of concerned editors, librarians and writers to initiate needed change in the all-white world of children's books. Since then, it has grown enormously and produced a wide variety of materials. The Resource Center develops original materials, provides training and conducts workshops for schools and other groups, evaluates text and trade books and maintains a resource library. Write for their catalog.

Resource Center on Sex Roles in Education, 1201 16 St. N.W., Washington, D C 20036. The Center's three primary functions are to develop materials for use by administrators, teachers, parents and students; to operate a clearinghouse of resource persons and materials; to provide technical assistance to states and other groups in developing or implementing programs for equal opportunity in education. Write for a list of publications.

Research Center on Women, Alverno College, 3401 S. 39 St., Milwaukee, WI 53215. A center for its own college, but also for other organizations and individuals. Contains a growing library of feminist periodicals, books, audio and visual tapes and an information file on women's lives. A good resource for Midwest teachers.

Women's Equity Action League, 821
National Press Bldg., Washington, D C
20004. A nonprofit, tax-exempt organiization which helps to pay costs of legal cases, sponsors research and publishes material on sex discrimination. Its priorities are women in the military, women and sports, work and education.

Women on Words and Images, P. O. Box 2163, Princeton, NJ 08540. One of the earliest groups to analyze textbooks, they produced Dick and Jane as Victims in 1972. Since then they have done work on sexism in career education materials and foreign language textbooks.

Women's Action Alliance, 370 Lexington Ave., New York, NY 10017. A non-profit educational organization established in 1971 to help translate a growing awareness of sex discrimination into concrete actions, it offers information, research resources, model projects, referral. A major project on sex-role stereotyping in early childhood includes inservice teacher training, parent education and materials development.

Women's Bureau; U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, DC 20210. Write for their publications list of over 75 excellent resources. Much of the material is free and most of it is of use in the classroom.

PERIODICALS This list includes newsletters and journals of two kinds: those from the women's movement and those concerned with women and education. The compilation is certainly not exhaustive, but represents a selection that is both wide-ranging and useful for the classroom. The address listed is for subscription information.

Aphra, P. O. Box 893, Ansonia Station, New York, NY 10023. Quarterly feminist literary journal of prose and poetry; a good source of material by and about women for English classes.

E.E.O. Reporter, P. O. Box 391, Madison, NJ 07940. Bi-monthly newsletter on equal educational opportunity, provides accurate and authoritative information on employee rights, litigation and court cases.

ERIC/Early Childhood Education Newsletter, University of Illinois, 805 W. Pennsylvania Ave., Urbana, IL 61801.

The Feminist Art Journal, 41 Montgomery Pl., Brooklyn, NY 11215. Quarterly about women's art and art history, primarily the visual arts, but includes poetry, film, drama.

Feminist Studies, 417 Riverside Dr., New York, NY 10025. Quarterly journal of analytic responses to current feminist issues; concentrates primarily in history.

Ms., 123 Garden, Marion, OH 43302. This monthly is a useful periodical for teachers and students of women's studies; includes articles about forgotten women in history, samples of nonsexist children's stories, information about skills that women have rarely learned and articles about and by men. Useful as supplementary classroom material.

Research Action Notes, Resource Center on Sex Roles in Education, 1201 16 St. NW., Washington, DC 20036. This newsletter reports on recent research in. sex roles and education, new developments in the law, etc.

Second Wave, P. O. Box 344, Cambridge A, Cambridge, MA 02139. Monthly journal of feminist issues, reporting Boston and national news and analysis.

Sex Discrimination in Education Newsletter, Department of Psychology, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI 48104. A new publication to facilitate communication and share resources in combating sex discrimination in education.

Signs: A Journal of Women in Culture and Society, University of Chicago Press, 11030 Langley Ave., Chicago, IL 60628. Quarterly journal that is both international and interdisciplinary.

The Spokeswoman, 5464 South Shore Dr., Chicago, IL 60615. This independent monthly newsletter for women includes analysis of the critical issues with coverage of the news.

Women Today, National Press Bldg., Washington, D.C. 20004. This bi-weekly newsletter keeps track of women in the news, as well as issues and current events of importance to women.

Women's Rights Law Reporter, 180 University Ave., Newark, NJ 07102. Quarterly report of legal developments affecting women; includes articles on important cases.

Women's Studies, Gordon and Breach Science Publishers, One Park Ave., New York, NY 10016. Quarterly interdisciplinary journal about the study of women; a resource for the teacher of women's studies.

Women's Studies Newsletter, The Feminist Press, P. O. Box 334, Old Westbury, NY 11568. Quarterly of information on and analysis of feminist curriculum, with articles from teachers of women's studies; includes pieces on elementary and secondary teaching.

Women's Work, Washington Opportunities for Women, 1111 20 St. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036. Bi-monthly magazine providing information about employment for women: job ideas, employment trends, listings, resources, etc.

PUBLISHERS/BOOK DISTRIBUTORS

This section reflects the growth of alternative publishing organizations across the country. It lists many of the major women's publishers of both adult and children's books and the distributors of alternate materials.

DISTRIBUTORS

Child's Play, 226 Atlantic Ave., Brooklyn, NY 11201. Write for their catalog of books, toys.

Feminist Book Mart, 47-17 150 St., Flushing, NY 11355. Write for catalog of nonsexist materials for people from three years to adult.

First Things First, P. O. Box 9041, Washington, D.C. 20003. Write for catalog of nonsexist books for women and children.

Learn Me, 642 Grand Ave., St. Paul, MN 55105. Write for catalog of over 700 items including children's books, puzzles, games, toys—all selected with an eye to avoiding stereotyped images of people by sex, race, class and national origin.
Women in Distribution, P. O. Box 8858, Washington, D.C. 20003. Write for catalog of over 160 titles by women's publishing concerns.

PRESSES
Alice James Books, 138 Mt. Auburn St., Cambridge, MA 02138. Publishes poetry only.
Before We Are Six, 15 King St. N., Waterloo, Ontario, Canada. Nonsexist children's books.
Belladonna Publishing, 844 Elm St., New Haven, CT 06511. Adult nonfiction.
Diana Press, 12 W. 25 St., Baltimore, MD 21218. Publisher and printer.
The Feminist Press, P. O. Box 334, Old Westbury, NY 11568. Nonsexist children's books, reprints of literature by women, biographies and nonsexist educational materials.

Kids Can Press, P. O. Box 5974, Postal Station A, Toronto, Ontario, Canada. Nonsexist children's books.
KNOW, P. O. Box 86031, Pittsburgh, PA 15221. Extensive selection of articles, reprints and materials for women's studies courses.
Lollipop Power, P. O. Box 1171, Chapel Hill, NC 27514. Nonsexist children's books.
New England Free Press, 60 Union Sq., Somerville, MA 02143. Extensive selection of articles and pamphlets, many about women.
New Seed Press, P. O. Box 3016, Stanford, CA 94305. Nonsexist children's books.
The Shameless Hussy Press, P. O. Box 424, San Lorenzo, CA 94580. Publishes fiction and poetry.
Times Change Press, P. O. Box 98, Louisa, VA 23093. Extensive selection of books, pamphlets, posters about current issues. They have a special catalog of cloth editions for libraries.
United Sisters, 4312 West Bay Ave., Tampa, FL 33616. Publishes fiction and poetry.
The Women's Press Collective, 5251 Broadway, Oakland, CA 94610. Publishes poetry.
List of Publishers

AAUW California State Division
Box 661
Livermore, CA 94550

Abé Associates, Inc.
55 Wheeler St.
Cambridge, MA 02138

Academy Press, Ltd.
176 Williams St.
Chicago, IL 60603

Addison-Wesley Publishing Co.
Reading, MA 01867

Ad-hoc Committee for Women and Girls in Education
3409 S.W. Trenton St.
Seattle, WA 98126

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.
5211 S. Greenwood Ave.
Chicago, IL 60615

Amazon Reality
P. O. Box 95
Eugene, OR 97401

American Association for Higher Education
1 Du Pont Circle, #780
Washington, DC 20036

American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation
1201 16 St. N.W.
Washington, DC 20036

American Association of School Administrators 1801 N. Moore St.
Arlington, VA 22209

American Civil Liberties Union
22 E. 40 St.
New York, NY 10016

American College Testing Program
P. O. Box 168
Iowa City, IA 52240

American Education Week
P. O. Box 327
Hyattsville, MD 20781

American Federation of Teachers
Women's Rights Committee
1012 14 St. N.W.
Washington, DC 20005

American Personnel and Guidance Association
1607 New Hampshire Ave. N.W.
Washington, DC 20009

Anchor Press/Doubleday
245 Park Ave.
New York, NY 10017

Atheneum
122 E. 42 St.
New York, NY 10017

Avon Books

Customer Service
250 W. 55 St.
New York, NY 10019

Balick, Nancy L.
1801 E. 12 St.
Cleveland, OH 44114

Bantam Books
666 Fifth Ave.
New York, NY 10019

BARTOC
388 Sanchez
San Francisco, CA 94114

Basic Books
10 E. 53 St.
New York, NY 10022

Behavioral Publications, Inc.
72 Fifth Ave.
New York, NY 10011

The Belknap Press of Harvard University Press
79 Garden St.
Cambridge, MA 02138

Benziger
8701 Wilshire Blvd.
Beverly Hills, CA 90211

Berkeley Unified School District
1414 Walnut St.
Berkeley, CA 94709

B'nai B'rith Career and Counseling Services
1640 Rhode Island Ave. N.W.
Washington, DC 20036

Booklegger Press
555 29 St.
San Francisco, CA 94131

Boston Area Women in Libraries
100 Emerson Rd.
Somerville, MA 02144

R. R. Bowker Co.
1180 Sixth Ave.
New York, NY 10036

Bowling Green Popular Press
Bowling Green University
Bowling Green, OH 43402

Business and Professional Women's Foundation
2012 Massachusetts Ave. N.W.
Washington, DC 20036

Cade, Cathy
2103 Emerson St.
Berkeley, CA 94705
Garrard Publishing Co.
1607 N. Market St.
Champaign, IL 61820

Glencoe Press
8701 Wilshire Blvd.
Beverly Hills, CA 90211

Government Printing Office
Superintendent of Documents
Washington, DC 20402

Green, Cynthia P.
1718 P St. N.W., #619
Washington, DC 20036

Grossman Publishers/Viking Press
625 Madison Ave.
New York, NY 10022

Guidance Associates
Distribution Center
Castleton St.
Pleasantville, NY 10570

The Handbook Collective
P. O. Box 1000, Station G
Montreal, Que. H2W2N1
Canada

Harcourt Brace Jovanovich
757 Third Ave.
New York, NY 10017

Harper and Row
10 E. 53 St.
New York, NY 10022

Highline Public School District 401
P. O. Box 66100
Seattle, WA 98166

Houghton Press
12 Hart House Circle
University of Toronto
Toronto, Ont.
Canada

Holt, Rinehart and Winston
383 Madison Ave.
New York, NY 10017

Houghton-Mifflin Co.
1 Beacon St.
Boston, MA 02107

Human Interaction Research Institute
10889 Wilshire Blvd.
Los Angeles, CA 90024

Human Sciences Press
72-Fifth Ave.
New York, NY 10011

University of Illinois Press
Urbana, IL 61801

Indiana University
Audio Visual Center
Bloomington, IN 47401

Institute for Educational Leadership
George Washington University
1001 Connecticut Ave. N.W.
Washington, DC 20036

Instructo Corp.
Paoli, PA 19301

Interact
P. O. Box 262
Lakeside, CA 92030

Iowa State University
Ames, IA 50010

Jerome S. Ozer
475 Fifth Ave.
New York, NY 10017

Charles A. Jones Publishing Co.
4 Village Green S.E.
Worthington, OH 43085

Jossey-Bass Publishers
615 Montgomery St.
San Francisco, CA 94111

Judy Puzzles
General Learning Corp.
Minneapolis, MN 55401

Julian Messner/Simon and Schuster
1 W. 39 St.
New York, NY 10018

Kalamazoo Public Schools
Instructional Media Dept.
1220 Howard St.
Kalamazoo, MI 49008

Kendall/Hunt Publishing Co.
2460 Kerper Blvd.
Dubuque, IA 52001

Alfred A. Knopf, Inc.
201 E. 50 St.
New York, NY 10022

KNOW, Inc.
P. O. Box 86031
Pittsburgh, PA 15221

Lexington School Committee
1557 Massachusetts Ave.
Lexington, MA 02173

Little, Brown and Co.
34 Beacon St.
Boston, MA 02106

Liveright/W. W. Norton
500 Fifth Ave.
New York, NY 10036

The London Seminars
c/o M. Rendel
71 Clifton Rd.
London NW8 OJN England
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Organization</th>
<th>Address</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Lothrop, Lee and Shepard Co.</td>
<td>105 Madison Ave. New York, NY 10016</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Macmillan Publishing Co.</td>
<td>866 Third Ave. New York, NY 10022</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mafer Foundation</td>
<td>124 E. 28 St. New York, NY 10016</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Massachusetts Department of Education</td>
<td>182 Tremont St. Boston, MA 02111</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McGraw-Hill Book Co.</td>
<td>1221 Avenue of the Americas New York, NY 10020</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Merl Media Plus</td>
<td>60 Riverside Dr., #11D New York, NY 10024</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Menard, Sharon L.</td>
<td>2348 N. 107 St. Lafayette, CO 80026</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Julian Messner/Simon and Schuster</td>
<td>1 W. 89 St. New York, NY 10018</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Metha, Arlene</td>
<td>Software Committee for the Conference on Sexism in Education Arizona State University Tempe, AZ 85282</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Michigan State University Counseling Center</td>
<td>207 Student Services Bldg. East Lansing, MI 48824</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>University of Michigan</td>
<td>Center for Continuing Education of Women Ann Arbor, MI 48104</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Michigan Women's Commission</td>
<td>230 N. Washington Lansing, MI 48933</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Minnesota Department of Education</td>
<td>Capitol Square 500 Cedar St. St. Paul, MN 55101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M.I.T. Press</td>
<td>77 Massachusetts Ave. Cambridge, MA 02139</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>William Morrow and Co.</td>
<td>105 Madison Ave. New York, NY 10016</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Multimedia Productions</td>
<td>P. O. Box 5097 Stanford, CA 94305</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>National Assessment of Educational Progress</td>
<td>700 Lincoln Tower Denver, CO 80203</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>National Council of Teachers of English</td>
<td>1111 Kenyon Rd. Urbana, IL 61801</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>National Education Association Customer Service Section</td>
<td>1231 16th St. N.W. Washington, DC 20036</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>National Institute of Education</td>
<td>1201 19th St. N.W. Washington, DC 20036</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>National Organization of Women (NOW) 5 St. Wabash, #1615 Chicago, IL 60603 (Write for address of local chapter)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>National Project on Ethnic America</td>
<td>American Jewish Committee 165 E. 65 St. New York, NY 10022</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New American Library</td>
<td>1301 Sixth Ave. New York, NY 10019</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New England Free Press</td>
<td>60 Union Sq. Somerville, MA 02143</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>University of New Mexico Press</td>
<td>Albuquerque, NM 87131</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York State Education Dept. State University of New York Division of Curriculum Development Albany, NY 12234</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>News and Letters Committee</td>
<td>1900 E. Jefferson Detroit, MI 48207</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nickerson, Eileen T. Boston University</td>
<td>111 Cummington St., #240 Boston, MA 02215</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Office of Equal Educational Opportunity Michigan Department of Education</td>
<td>P. O. Box 420 Lansing, MI 48902</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Ontario Institute for Studies in Education</td>
<td>252 Bloor St. W. Toronto, Ont. Canada</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jerome S. Ozer</td>
<td>475 Fifth Ave. New York, NY 10017</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Women in Literature Collective
Box 441
Cambridge, MA 02138

Women on Words and Images
P. O. Box 2163
Princeton, NJ 08540

Womenfolk Song Project
237 W. Lena Ave.
Freeport, NY 11520

The Women's Action Alliance
370 Lexington Ave.
New York, NY 10017

Women's Education Resources
430 Lowell Hall
610 Langdon St.
Madison, WI 53706

Women's Equity Action League
821 National Press Bldg.
Washington, DC 20045

Women's History Research Center
2325 Oak St.
Berkeley, CA 94708

The Women's Kit and More
Ontario Institute for Studies in Education

252 Bloor St. W.
Toronto, Ont.
Canada

Women's Sports Foundation
1660 S. Amphlett Blvd., #266.
San Mateo, CA 94402

Women's Task Force
1401 Walnut St.
Berkeley, CA 94709

Xerox Educational Publications
1250 Fairwood Ave.
P. O. Box 444
Columbus, OH 43216

Youth Liberation Press, Inc.
2007 Washtenaw Ave.
Ann Arbor, MI 48104

YWCA National Board
600 Lexington Ave.
New York, NY 10022
Clearinghouse Publications

FEMALE STUDIES VI
Closer to the Ground: Women's Classes, Criticism, Programs—1972

FEMALE STUDIES VII
Going Strong: New Courses/New Programs

Deborah Rosenfelt, ed. (1973) Syllabi for over sixty recent women's studies courses; descriptions of twelve new programs. Introductory essay assessing recent developments in women's studies.

FEMALE STUDIES IX
Teaching About Women in the Foreign Languages

FEMALE STUDIES X
Student Work—Learning to Speak

Deborah Silverton Rosenfelt, ed. (1975) The fruits of some five years of undergraduate women's studies courses on campuses across the country: a first play, a "group autobiography," poems, short stories, papers.
FEMINIST RESOURCES FOR SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES
A Guide to Curricular Materials

Merle Froschl and Jane Williamson, eds. (Revised ed. 1977) A selective guide to curricular materials at every level from the elementary school to the university—for teachers, students, librarians and parents who want to challenge sexism in education and create nonsexist and feminist curriculum.

HIGH SCHOOL FEMINIST STUDIES

Carol Ahlum and Jacqueline Fralley, compilers. Florence Howe, ed. A collection of curricular materials in women's studies for and from the high schools including essays, bibliographies, teaching units.

NONSEXIST CURRICULAR MATERIALS FOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Laurie Olsen Johnson, ed. (1974) A collection of materials for the elementary teacher and student, including quizzes, checklists, bibliographies, workbook, model units.

STRONG WOMEN

Deborah Silverton Rosenfelt, ed. (1976) Annotated bibliography of widely available paperbacks to help the teacher supplement the male-biased curriculum: anthologies, autobiography, novels, short stories, drama, poetry.

WHO'S WHO AND WHERE IN WOMEN'S STUDIES

Tamar Berkowitz, Jean Mangi, and Jane Williamson, eds. (1974) Complete directory of women's studies programs, courses and teachers, arranged by institution, department and instructor.
WOMEN’S STUDIES FOR TEACHERS AND ADMINISTRATORS
A Packet of Inservice Education Materials

WOMEN’S STUDIES NEWSLETTER

Quarterly containing articles on new women’s studies programs, innovative courses, teaching techniques, curricular materials, book reviews, conference reports, bibliography, job information.