This secondary unit of instruction on applying for a job is one of sixteen Common Core Units in Business Education (CCUBE). The units were designed for implementing the sixteen common core competencies identified in the California Business Education Program Guide for Office and Distributive Education. Each competency-based unit is designed to facilitate personalized instruction and may include five types of materials: (1) a teacher's guide, which provides specific strategies for the units as well as suggestions for the use of the materials; (2) a student manual, which directs the student through the unit's activities and jobs and brings the student to the competency level for the unit; (3) working papers, which are consumable materials used in completing the jobs and activities described in the student manual; (4) pre/post tests and quizzes; and (5) suggested electronic media. A strategies manual and the California Business Education Program Guide and supplements are also available--see note. (LRA)

SO, YOU want to apply for a job! BEFORE you apply, you will need a Social Security number.

You will need to know how to fill out a Federal Withholding Form (W-4) and a job application form. You may also need to know how to take an employment test, answer a newspaper advertisement, and write a follow-up letter. Probably the most important step in the whole process is the personal job interview. The right job is important! You will be identified by your job; it will affect your life style, and your future.
The steps you take when applying for a job depend largely on the type of job you want. You would apply for a job at the local variety store in a different way than you would an office job or for a job as a dental assistant. Therefore, this booklet is divided into two sections. PART A will show you how to apply for a job informally (a fast-food job, variety store, sales clerk, janitor or thousands of other entry-level jobs). PART B will show you how to formally apply for a job which requires skills. (An office or professional type job).

Turn to Page 2 of your Working Papers. Complete the Crossword Puzzle using common terms when applying for a job. If you need help with the definitions, turn to the back of this book. The words and their meanings are listed on pages 35, 36, and 37.
An employer will not pay anyone who does not have a Social Security Card with a Social Security number. No one else will have your number. You will keep it for your entire life. Each time you receive a check, whether it is weekly or monthly, your employer will take a few cents out of every dollar you earn and send it into a special government fund for you to draw upon when you retire or to take care of your family in case of your death or disability. Your employer will also send in a few cents of his profit to apply to your account.

It is a good idea to apply for your social security number as soon as possible, as it takes a few weeks to obtain it.

THE PERSONAL INTERVIEW

PROBABLY the most important part of applying for a job is the PERSONAL INTERVIEW! The first impression counts! How you look, what you wear, what you say verbally and nonverbally, and your attitude count.

When applying for a job in a small business, you will probably be interviewed by the owner or manager of the business. If you are applying at a department store or other large business, you may be interviewed by the personnel manager. Of course you will be nervous, but with a little preparation you will be ready for the interview.

The purpose of the personal interview is to allow the employer to learn as much as possible about you and your qualifications for the job. He will be looking at:

- Your attitude toward work and people.
- Your education and work experience.
- Your reliability.
- Your future plans.
- Your ability to represent his company favorably.
- Your personality.

The interview also gives you a chance to learn about the company and the job for which you are applying.
Activity 8

CHECK OUT THE FILM STRIP "THE PERSONAL JOB INTERVIEW" FROM YOUR TEACHER. You will need the Working Papers for ACTIVITY 8. Be sure you have a pen or pencil handy also.

Activity 9

TURN TO WORKSHEET 9 in your Working Papers and follow the directions closely! When you are finished, turn your Working Papers in to the teacher.

Activity 10

During the personal interview, there are often questions about you and what you like to do. It is important that you think about these questions before you are actually asked. Turn to ACTIVITY 10 in your Working Papers and complete the questions the best you can.
PUT YOUR BEST SELF FORWARD

REMEMBER! You want to make a good impression on the person interviewing you. CHECK the following things before your interview:

* Take 2 BLACK or BLUE pens with you.

* If you are applying for a job requiring a typing skill, take a typing eraser.

* Learn something about the company before you apply.

* Tell someone who you are and what you are there for when you arrive for the interview.

Often, when advertising for a new employee, an employer will ask for a RESUME' (rez' u ma') to be sent before any personal contact is made. A RESUME' is a typed sheet telling an employer all the qualifications you have for a job, your address and the names of people who will recommend you. It is a good idea to make one up and to keep it up to date at all times in case you need it. It is also extremely important to be prepared when going to apply for a job. You will need to take with you information which will be needed when filling out an application blank. Such information includes: personal information; skills you have learned; education; experience; hobbies; and references. The resume' differs from the pocket data sheet. The pocket data sheet is for your own information and is to be used by you and not to be seen by the employer. The RESUME' is often seen and evaluated by the employer.

OH NO!
I didn't know getting a job was this much work!

DON'T BE DISCOURAGED!

If you follow a few easy steps,

writing a letter of application

WILL BE EASY!
The LETTER OF APPLICATION is often your first contact with a company. It can either "make" you or "break" you. Many companies use this letter to "screen out" (get rid of) the people who they do not want to work for their company. YOU MUST WRITE THIS LETTER CAREFULLY!

An application letter should include three (3) parts:

1. An introductory paragraph telling how you found out about the job. You want to get the reader's attention.

2. The main paragraph telling what skills, experience, and qualifications you have which would qualify you for the job.

3. A concluding paragraph expressing your desire for a personal interview and indicating where you can be reached.
OK, LET ME PUT IT IN SIMPLE TERMS:

- GET ATTENTION
- CREATE INTEREST
- SHOW YOUR PERSONALITY
- MAKE IT EASY TO BE REACHED

If you still don't know what to do, let me give you some examples:

1. GET ATTENTION

   (teacher)

   The Kennedy High School work experience coordinator, Mr. Arnot, told me that you have an opening in your company for a bookkeeper.

   OR

   A friend of my father's, Mr. Jack Harper, told me you were interested in hiring four young people as trainees to learn computer programming. I would like to be considered for one of these positions.

   OR

   I am writing in regard to your advertisement for a dental assistant in the Sunday, January 6, Daily News. I would like to be considered for this position.
OR

Please accept my application for the job of office mail clerk which was advertised in the TIMES Tuesday, January 10.

SEE HOW EASY IT IS!

Activity 14

Turn to your Working Papers and write three (3) introductory paragraphs which YOU might use when writing a letter of application. Be honest. Make them YOU! (Page 16).

FINISHED?? Show your paragraphs to your instructor and have him (or her) discuss them with you.
2. CREATE INTEREST (sell yourself)

The main paragraph should tell what special qualifications you have to be considered for the job. Here you may also refer to the enclosed resume.

As you will see on the enclosed Resume, I will graduate from High School in June, 1976. I have taken a complete business course preparing me for an office position. I also worked in the front office and greatly enjoyed both my classes and my work experience. I know I would like working for a company such as yours.

OR

For the past year, I have been working in the school district offices after school. My responsibilities included the mail, taking dictation, typing, and some bookkeeping. I feel that this experience would prove to be invaluable if I were working for your company.

OR

In high school, I was very active in student government, the school newspaper, sports, and the outside work program. My typing skill is in excess of 50 net words per minute and I can take shorthand at 90 words per minute. I feel that I am well qualified for the position you wish to fill.

OR

Although I do not have any office experience, I have worked for the past two summers babysitting and caring for neighbors' yards while they were on vacation. I feel that I accept responsibility very well and am well trained for the position you wish to fill.
Activity 15

Turn to your Working Papers and write two main paragraphs which you might use when writing a Letter of Application. Be honest, list only your own experience and education. Don’t make anything up! (Page 17).

WHEN YOU ARE FINISHED, TAKE YOUR COMPLETED MAIN PARAGRAPHS TO YOUR INSTRUCTOR AND HAVE THEM CHECKED.

3. MAKE IT EASY TO BE REACHED

Sometimes a newspaper advertisement says to call for an appointment and indicates a telephone number. If the job for which you are applying requires any contact with the public on the telephone, that first call you make to the company is very important. WRITE DOWN WHAT YOU ARE PLANNING TO SAY! and WHAT QUESTIONS you need to ask!

FIRST IMPRESSIONS COUNT!

BE CAREFUL WHEN CALLING FOR AN APPOINTMENT!!!

Planning how you are going to set up an appointment for a job interview is like planning a letter of application. You must first get the listener's attention. Be sure to sound alert, enthusiastic, and interested in the position. Be ready to answer specific questions if they are asked. It is a good idea to have your resume' nearby so you can refer to it if you need to. Be certain to obtain the interviewer's name and ask how to spell it to be sure. Repeat the time and day the appointment has been made. Be courteous, friendly, and brief.

Tune in on the following pages and follow carefully as Chris makes her first call for an appointment for an interview.
HELLO, MY NAME IS CHRIS BISH, AND I AM CALLING ABOUT YOUR AD IN THE SUNDAY TIMES FOR A RECEPTIONIST? IS THAT POSITION STILL OPEN?

YES, IT IS STILL AVAILABLE. HAVE YOU ANY EXPERIENCE?

NOT OFFICE EXPERIENCE, BUT I HAVE HAD INSIDE WORK EXPERIENCE AT SCHOOL AND I AM REALLY ANXIOUS TO LEARN.

THIS JOB REALLY DOESN'T REQUIRE THAT MUCH EXPERIENCE, DO YOU HAVE ANY REFERENCES?

YES, I DO. I HAVE A COMPLETE RESUME. I COULD BRING IT WITH ME IF YOU WOULD LIKE ME TO COME FOR AN INTERVIEW.

YES, I WOULD. CAN YOU COME TOMORROW AT 2 O'CLOCK? HOW DO YOU SPELL YOUR NAME?
TOMORROW WILL BE FINE. MY NAME IS MISS

Activity 18

Using a tele-trainer (if available), telephone your instructor and make an appointment for a job interview. You are to be the job applicant and the teacher is the prospective employer. Say your name clearly and spell it if necessary. Be sure to write down the exact time and place of the interview, check the correct spelling of the interviewer's name, how to pronounce it, and his title. Tell where you read or heard about the job. Did the company request you to call for an interview or are you calling about an ad in the newspaper or information given to you by a friend.

OR

If a telephone or tele-trainer is not available, make a personal appointment with the teacher acting as a receptionist and the student acting as the applicant. Say your name clearly and spell it if necessary. Be sure to write down the exact time and place of the interview. Check the correct spelling of the interviewer's name, how to pronounce it, and his title.
EMPLOYMENT TESTS

Often when applying for a job which requires a skill, you will need to take an employment test. On the following pages you will find some questions commonly asked on an employment test for office skills. You will also find a sample typing test and a sample shorthand test.

TESTING PROCEDURE FOR STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA

All applicants for typing and stenographic positions are required to complete a typing test, a spelling test, and a punctuation test. Those applicants applying for a stenographic position will take a shorthand test as well. The amount of salary offered will be affected by the test scores.

After a brief warm-up period, the applicant is given two five-minute typing tests on material of average syllabic intensity. The material is to be typed line for line and double spaced with a five-stroke paragraph indentation. Standardized International Rules are used for scoring. A net speed of 55 words per minute is the minimum required for the positions of typist and stenographer. (In an attempt to alleviate tension, the applicant is informed, prior to testing, that two timed writing tests will be given and the better of the two tests will be used for scoring).

A short punctuation test involving the use of the comma, semi-colon, colon, quotation marks, question mark, and apostrophe is given. This test also includes the proper use of the pronoun. The applicant is asked to correctly punctuate eight sentences and to select the correct pronoun in two additional sentences. A desirable score would not exceed five errors out of a possible 25.

The third section of the testing program is a spelling test. The applicant is given a list of 50 words. Some of these words are spelled correctly and some are spelled incorrectly. The applicant is to underscore those words that are spelled incorrectly and write them correctly in the space provided. This spelling test is comprised of words commonly misspelled; i.e., words containing double letters or troublesome vowels, etc. The passing grade is 80 percent.

The shorthand test is given at 100 words per minute and the material used for dictation is counted by the standard words (28 syllables equal 20 standard words). Two short letters are dictated for warm up; then a letter three minutes long is dictated for transcription. The applicant is to transcribe his notes in mailable form—all typographical errors corrected, correct punctuation, spelling, etc. The minimum requirement is 100 words per minute with a maximum of five errors.
SAMPLE SPELLING TEST

Underscore all words spelled incorrectly and spell correctly on the dotted line.

itenerary  (itinerary)  feasible latteral  (lateral)  relevent  (relevant) serviceable  perserverance  (perseverance) teritory  (territory)  recipient incumbent  allege siege  advisory

SAMPLE PUNCTUATION TEST

Punctuate each of the following sentences correctly.

1. Mr. Garrison, manager of our Chicago office as well as five managers of other branch offices attended the meeting.

2. As long as Mr. Foster opposes the modernizing of our offices we shall be unable to purchase new desks and chairs.

3. His car was out of gas mine had two flat tires.

4. You will find that most high grade products are manufactured by businesses that employ up to date methods and that maintain plants that are well managed.

5. The following are the primary colors red, blue, yellow.

6. We met them on Monday, October 13 at Tom Hardys house.

7. Susan asked Will you be able to join us.

Cross out the incorrect pronoun.

8. The manager asked (her/she) to buy the typewriter, but it was not (her/she) who placed the order.
SAMPLE TYPING TEST

The most important job you and every other young person will have through life is that of critic of your own thoughts, words, and deeds. And this is a job that may be very interesting, pays well, and never is lost. How well it is done depends largely on how early you begin to function on this job, how intelligently criticisms are made, and how soon good habits of doing this work are formed.

Why did I think about a certain person as I did? Why did I say what I said? Why did I do what I did? These are questions which should be asked and answered over and over again concerning important matters of daily conduct.

At first you must consciously force yourself to ask these questions. In time, if this practice is persisted in, the habit of trying to account for your conduct in important situations will be formed. Then without conscious effort you will seek reasons for what you think, say, or do.

It will surprise you to find that often your thinking is not based on facts; or that what you say is not literally true; or that some of the things you do are not the things you really should have done under the circumstances. Once you discover these things, you will want to make amends for wrong things said and done. But what is more important, you will be on your guard against a repetition of them. Thus bad habits will be broken and good ones formed.

Not the least important result of self-criticism and the correction of one's own faults is the elimination, in large part, of the criticism of others. No one really likes to be criticized by his associates. The only way to avoid such criticism is to do your own and do it first.
Dear Mr. Green:

No doubt you, like most of us, pay a percentage of your salary toward Social Security. Yet the chances are you have never taken the time to investigate fully the Social Security benefits available to you or to your family.

For example, do you know how much you will receive each month at the age of 65? Do you know what will happen to your Social Security fund in the event of your death? Do you know what papers are necessary in claiming benefits?

These are things you should know. To help you answer them, our representative, whose name is on the enclosed card, will gladly supply you with an analysis chart that clearly shows what benefits you or your family may expect to receive. This as well as other information will be furnished by our representative with no obligation on your part.

We are extremely sorry that our representative will not be able to personally visit with you at this time. However, it is our hope that his analysis chart will provide you with sufficient answers.

If you should have questions which are not answered by the analysis chart, please complete the enclosed form requesting further information. This form should be mailed to our representative for a prompt response.

Very truly yours,

THE FOLLOW-UP LETTER

AS SOON AS POSSIBLE following your interview, you should write a follow-up or thank you letter. This will help to keep your name foremost in the interviewer's mind.

KEEP THE LETTER SHORT AND TO THE POINT!

1st paragraph: Mention when you had your interview, and what position you were applying for. For example:

I would like to thank you once again for the consideration you gave me in your interview on January 15. You gave me a very good picture of what is expected of the person you will hire to work in your office.

2nd paragraph: If you would like the job and are interested, say so! Give a reason why and any special qualifications you may have. For example:

I am very interested in the opening you have available. It is exactly what I have been looking for. I feel that the courses I have taken in school and the work experience I have had, prepared me for just such a position.

3rd paragraph: Offer further assistance or information.

If I can answer any further questions regarding my qualifications, please call me at 328-3445.

HOW TO APPLY FOR A JOB

Teacher’s Guide

HOW TO APPLY FOR A JOB is a unit designed to be used with students prior to obtaining their first job. It may be used by either boys or girls. Part A is designed to help the student apply for an entry-level job. The student obtains a Social Security Number, successfully completes a job application form, participates in a job interview, learns the vocabulary commonly used when applying for a job, and actually sees students in a filmstrip applying for a job. The student will also complete a withholding allowance certificate.

Part B is designed for the student who would like a job requiring a skill. A Resume’ or Personal Data Sheet is typed and the student learns how to write a letter of application and a follow-up letter.

The following performance objectives will be met in Parts A and B:

- Given a list of 25 words, and phrases, commonly used on employment forms and in test instructions and a list of definitions, the student will match the words/phrases to the definitions with at least 20 correct responses. (Part A)

- Given an application form for a Social Security Number, the student will indicate his Social Security Number or complete the application form legibly, correctly, and completely. (Part A)

- Given an Employees Withholding Exemption Form (W-4), the student will type or print the required information legibly, correctly, and completely. (Part A)

- Given a sample pocket data sheet, the student will prepare the information necessary to complete a job application form. (Part A)

- Given application blanks from 3 companies and his pocket data sheet, the student will fill out each application form completely, accurately, and legibly with typewritten or printed in ink responses, all questions acknowledged, all errors corrected, and a legal signature. (Part A)
• Given a list of questions frequently asked by personnel officers in an interview, the student will type, write or respond orally to the questions to the satisfaction of the instructor. (Part A)

• Given a role-playing situation in which the student is a job applicant and the teacher is a prospective employer, the student will make an appointment by telephone (if possible) and/or in person to the satisfaction of the instructor. (Part A)

• Given the opportunity to participate in an interview with the teacher or a person designated by the teacher, the student will do so at the appointed time and then meet with his teacher to discuss his strengths and weaknesses as indicated on the employment interview sheet completed by the interviewer. (Part A)

• Given a sample personal data sheet as a guide and any necessary personal information, the student will prepare and have typed his own personal data sheet (Resume') including personal information, education, employment experience, activities, and references accurately and in an acceptable format. (Part B)

• Given a blind want ad requiring a letter of application and sample application letters, the student will write an application letter that is original conveys the appropriate message, and meets standards of mailability (neatness, style, vocabulary, spelling, punctuation). (Part B)

• Given a sample follow-up letter after having completed an interview, the student will write and mail a similar letter to the interviewer which conveys the appropriate message and meets standards of mailability (neatness, style, vocabulary, spelling, punctuation). (Part B)
For the best experience for the student in this unit, you will need to have on hand originals or copies of:

Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate

(Use for wages paid after April 30, 1975 and before January 1, 1976)

The explanatory material below will help you determine your correct number of withholding allowances, and will assist you in completing the Form W-4 at the bottom of this page.

Avoid Overwithholding or Underwithholding

By claiming the proper number of withholding allowances you are entitled to, you can fit the amount of tax withheld from your wages to your tax liability. In addition to the allowances for personal exemptions to be claimed in items (a) through (g) below, be sure you claim any additional allowances you are entitled to in item (h) "Special withholding allowances," and item (i) "Allowance(s) for itemized deductions." While these allowances may be claimed on Form W-4 for withholding purposes, they are not to be claimed under "Exemptions" on your tax return Form 1040 or Form 1040A.

You may claim the special withholding allowance if you are single with only one employer, or married with only one employer and your spouse is not employed. If you have unusually large itemized deductions, you may claim the allowances for itemized deductions to avoid having too much income tax withheld from your wages. On the other hand, if you and your spouse are both employed or you have more than one employer, you should take steps to assure that enough has been withheld. If you find that you need more withholding, claim fewer exemptions or ask for additional withholding. If you are currently claiming additional withholding allowances based on itemized deductions, check the table on the back to see that you are claiming the proper number of allowances.

How Many Withholding Allowances May You Claim?

Please use the schedule below to determine the number of allowances you may claim for tax withholding purposes. In determining the number, keep in mind these points: If you are single and hold more than one job, you may not claim the same allowances with your employers at the same time; or if you are married and both you and your spouse are employed, you may not claim the same allowances with your employers at the same time. A nonresident alien, other than a resident of Canada, Mexico, or Puerto Rico, may claim only one personal allowance.

(a) Allowance for yourself—enter 1

(b) Allowance for your spouse—enter 1

(c) Allowance for your age if 65 or over—enter 1

(d) Allowance for your spouse's age if 65 or over—enter 1

(e) Allowance for blindness (yourself)—enter 1

(f) Allowance for blindness (spouse’s)—enter 1

(g) Allowance(s) for dependents—you are entitled to claim an allowance for each dependent you will be able to claim on your Federal income tax return. Do not include yourself or your spouse

(h) Special withholding allowance—if you are single with only one employer, or married with only one employer and your spouse is not employed—enter 1

(i) Allowance(s) for itemized deductions—if you do plan to itemize deductions on your income tax return, enter

The explanatory material below will help you determine the number to which you may claim allowances for withholding purposes, they are not to be claimed under "Exemptions" on your tax return Form 1040 or Form 1040A.

See Table on Back if You Plan to Itemize Your Deductions

Completing Form W-4—If you find that you are entitled to one or more allowances in addition to those which you are now claiming, increase your number of allowances by completing one form below and filing it with your employer. If the number of allowances you previously claimed decreases, you must file a new Form W-4 within 10 days. (Should you expect to owe more tax than will be withheld, you may use the same form to increase your withholding by claiming fewer or "0" allowances on line 1, or by asking for additional withholding on line 2, or both.)

Give the bottom part of this form to your employer; keep the upper part for your records and information.

HOW TO USE THE TABLE

1. Find the line in the table that includes your estimated salary and wage amount and that shows your status as either a single employee (Part I), a married employee whose spouse is not employed (Part II), or a married employee whose spouse is also employed (Part III).
2. Use the line or lines that include the amount of your estimated itemized deductions.
3. Note the number of allowances shown at the maximum number of additional withholding allowances you may claim on line 3.

Married Couples—If you and your spouse are both employed and file a joint return, determine your withholding allowances based on your combined wages and deductions. If you file a joint return and your spouse is not employed, use Part II. If you are filing a joint return and both are employed, use Part III to determine the total number of withholding allowances to which you are jointly entitled (you may allocate such withholding allowances between yourselves). However, if in your last filing you filed separate returns and if you expect to file separately this year, each of you must make your determination on the basis of your own wages and deductions and determine the number of withholding allowances for each from Part III.
