These lessons in Chichewa, the official language of Malawi, aim to enable the student to achieve working competency in the language in the shortest time possible. The "A" lessons in the book present basic grammatical patterns through explicit discussions of the patterns involved. The "B" lessons present language in use. They contain dialogs, monologs, narratives, proverbs, riddles, and exercises based on these forms of communication. The text is illustrated with pen-and-ink drawings. (AMH)

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Many people have given us their time and the benefit of their expertise in our preparation of the Learning Chichewa packet. For discussions on grammatical points, we especially want to thank Mr. E.J. Chadza, Secretary of the Chichewa Board of Malawi, a gentleman, a scholar, and a source of inspiration; Dr. J.K. Louw, now of the University of South Africa, but a long-time resident of Malawi and an avid student of Chichewa; Dr. Sam Mchombo, head of the Department of Chichewa at Chancellor College, University of Malawi; Dr. Hazel Carter, School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London; and Mr. Alfred Mtenje and Mr. Francis Moto, Department of Chichewa, Chancellor College, University of Malawi.

We wish to thank our language resource persons for their efforts and insights. Mr. John Chiwala Banda, Chichewa Working Board, was a major resource person and also diligently ferreted out errors in Chichewa usage in our first draft of the materials. Others whose help was invaluable were Mr. Rajab Sulaimana, who worked with us extensively when he was completing his doctoral degree at Michigan State University; Mr. Ernest John Haundi, Chichewa Board, who helped us mark tone on the dialogues; and Mr. Hexton Chimkono, Mr. H. Y. Mateche, and Mr. G. M. Bulirani, who, while students at Chancellor College, served as resource persons. We especially want to thank Mrs. Patricia Pagaja for her help in recording tapes of the dialogues at the Zomba studio of the Malawi Broadcasting Corporation. We want to thank Mr. Chiwala Banda, Mr. Haundi, Mrs. Pagaja, and Miss Emmie Mandala for serving as actors in the taped dialogues.

We would also like to thank Peace Corps director Mr. Ernest Yancey, assistant director Mr. Richard Ainworth, and other staff members of the Peace Corps office in Lilongwe, Malawi for their help during our research in Malawi.

Special thanks go to three graduate students at Michigan State University. Ms. Jan Behrs produced an excellent first draft of the Teacher's Manual. Mr. Juanquin Villa-Baretto's editing work on the final draft of the manual was appreciated, as was Mr. Jeffrey Hadebe's work on the dictionary. Mr. Robert Brent did most of the fine illustrations, with Ms. Sharon Cooper also making her contribution.
We appreciated comments on the first few lessons from the following consultants: Professor Grover Hudson, Michigan State University; Dr. Sam Mchombo, University of Malawi; Professor James Redden, Southern Illinois University; and Ms. Lee Trithart Weiss, UCL doctoral candidate.

Finally, we want to thank those administrative and secretarial persons at Michigan State University who helped us. Dr. David Wiley, Director of the African Studies Center, was an important source of encouragement; Ms. Anne Schneller aided us with administrative concerns; Ms. Melba Lacey provided cheerful and accurate advice about financial matters; Ms. Kay Irish was always willing to help with important administrative details. We want to thank Mrs. Linda Hanson, who typed the first draft and part of the final draft. Special thanks go to Mrs. Jan Meade, who came in at a crisis point and typed much of the final draft. Ms. Nancy Radtke, Ms. Susan McMahon and Ms. Erin Byrnes also deserve thanks for their typing. We also thank our editorial assistants, Ms. Marie Pane and Ms. Margaret Corcoran.

We, of course, take responsibility for any errors in the forms or interpretations we have provided for Chichewa.

FORWARD

The goal of the three books that make up this Learning Chichewa packet is to enable students to develop a working competency in Chichewa within the shortest time possible, with the minimum of strain, and with the maximum of satisfaction. Achieving working competency and satisfaction means that students will be able to participate in conversations about everyday events because they have a knowledge of everyday vocabulary, but more importantly, because they are able to put into use the basic grammatical patterns of Chichewa in order to talk about such daily activities as planning to do something tomorrow, telling someone about what happened yesterday, asking someone to do something, or describing something, etc. The three books in the packet are (1) ten lessons which introduce the student to Chichewa language patterns and put those patterns to use; (2) a second set of ten lessons which extend the first set and a set of supplementary cultural and technical language materials; and (3) a teacher's manual. The lessons books include 'A lessons' and 'B lessons'.

The 'A lessons' teach the student the basic grammatical patterns of Chichewa. This teaching is accomplished through explicit discussions of the patterns involved. In some senses, these discussions follow the model of traditional grammars; however, the traditional model has been severely modified in a number of important aspects:

(1) Most importantly, we present grammar as a set of structural patterns rather than as a set of lists. (The noun paradigms and the verb conjugations in traditional grammars are examples of grammar as lists.) This presentation reflects our theory of language: language is seen as a set of underlying structures which language learners internalize and then use as the template to guide the production of sentences. That is, once students learn these structures, they use them to produce sentences. But it is the structures which the students must learn, not the sentences. The patterns presented emphasize the following information: (a) the forms involved in a specific pattern and their relation to other forms in the grammar of Chichewa; and (b) rules of co-occurrence within the particular pattern: what co-occurs with what, and where; what is optional and what is obligatory.

(2) Language in practice is stressed. This means that while attention is focused on grammatical patterns, it is not focused on reading about them, but rather on using them. To meet this objective, the 'A lessons' include a large number of exercises. In fact, exercises occur after the introduction of each grammatical pattern. Further, there are review exercises at several points in each set of lessons. Also, translation exercises occur only in the first two lessons. Exercises which give the student practice in using Chichewa patterns rather than in performing translations are the rule. Our major criterion for evaluating exercises was, "Is this exercise communicatively useful?" That is, "Is the student likely to have occasion to use this particular grammatical pattern to produce a sentence like this?" Many of the exercises involve dialogues between students, with one student asking a question and the second one providing an answer.

(3) Vocabulary is de-emphasized until a large number of basic grammatical patterns are mastered. Learning vocabulary is a matter of learning lists (although there are, of course, some relationships between vocabulary items). Once students have learned lists, what can they do with them? They can recite them, but that does not mean they can produce sentences in the target language. So we have emphasized the learning of grammatical patterns, because it is patterns which enable speakers to produce sentences and also because Chichewa is a highly inflectional language, with many patterns to be learned. At a later point, once a grammatical pattern is learned, students can plug into the pattern new vocabulary and produce a new sentence. But the point is that just learning vocabulary does not prepare students for the real business of speaking: producing sentences which are appropriate in their context. What vocabulary we do teach is of the type which students can use immediately. They first learn words for such people and things and actions as 'friend', 'plate', 'is', 'has', 'see' and even 'toilet'. Such vocabulary is a far cry from the faintly colonial first sentence which I learned as a Swahili student:

Nyamsa! Hatutaki manung'uniko yako hapa.
'Shut up. We don't like your grumbling here.'

The 'B lessons' present language in use. They contain dialogues, monologues, narratives, proverbs, riddles, and exercises based on these forms of communication. While the 'A lessons' are designed to develop grammatical competence in students, the 'B lessons' are designed to develop communicative competence. That is, they teach students appropriate and typical usage. Students learn, for example, exactly how to converse with a seller in the market; they learn how to refer to a typical unit of sale ('it's a mulu 'a pile'), how to say 'that's too much', how to close a purchase, what words the seller uses to ask for his/her money, etc.

The Teacher's Manual first gives the teacher a concise, but complete, overview of the current state of theory regarding successful second language learning. Next it gives the teacher a set of 'teaching devices'--that is, types of exercises which the teacher can adapt for use when additions to the existing exercises are called for. Finally, the manual gives the teacher lesson-by-lesson advice on how to teach the lesson. For example, scheduling is discussed (when it might be useful to shift from the 'A lesson' to its 'B lesson' counterpart, and then back to the 'A lesson'); and additional exercises or quizzes which might be particularly appropriate at a certain point are discussed.

In closing, it is useful to say what this Learning Chichewa packet is NOT:

(1) Even though basic grammatical patterns are taught in detail, not all Chichewa grammatical patterns are even mentioned. That is, this is by no means a definitive reference grammar. (A short reference grammar is part of the packet, however, but it only covers those structures discussed in the lessons.) Our mandate was to 'adapt existing materials' in order to bring Peace Corps volunteers to a specific level of competency. We hope that the materials achieve this objective, but we do not claim our treatment of the structure of Chichewa is in any way exhaustive.
We have relied on existing treatments of Chichewa to some extent in our discussions of specific grammatical patterns. As noted above, this was our mandate. However, parts of all discussions and the whole of some discussions are based on field research which the project associate, Gregory John Orr, and I conducted in Malawi. We made two trips to Malawi and spent approximately three months working with native speakers of Chichewa to determine the form and use of various grammatical patterns. As a result of this research, our treatment of some forms, such as the demonstratives, is different from that in existing studies.

(2) While there are a number of tonal exercises in the 'A lessons' and while an essential part of mastery of the 'B lessons' is the learning of the tonally-marked dialogues and monologues while listening to the tapes of these lesson parts, these lessons do not explicitly teach the tonal patterns of Chichewa as rules. Students who master the exercises and who learn to produce the dialogues as they are on the tapes will show some ability in speaking Chichewa with correct tones and will be equipped to go on to learn more about Chichewa on their own. But because of the inconclusiveness of research on Chichewa tone and because of the clearly complex nature of the interaction of individual word tone with the specific environment in which the word occurs in a sentence, it was decided that trying to teach Chichewa tone rules in any exhaustive way would be counter-productive.

In summary, then, the Learning Chichewa packet does include discussions and exercises regarding the basic grammatical and communicative patterns in Chichewa. The students who master these materials, either in a formal classroom situation, or on their own, will be able to converse about daily events in Malawi, speaking with reasonable grammatical accuracy and correctness of pronunciation. In short, they can go about their business by carrying on conversations with Malawians.

INTRODUCTION

II. BACKGROUND

Chichewa was declared the national language of Malawi in 1968. As the national language, Chichewa is an important vehicle for promoting a sense of national integration among the culturally and linguistically diverse peoples of Malawi. Although English is the official language and is used in government and many business activities and as a medium of instruction in the schools, Chichewa is the language which Malawians use on many other occasions and especially in inter-ethnic contacts. As such, Chichewa is viewed as the symbol of national unity and its use heightens the pride which Malawians have regarding their nation.

Linguistic and cultural diversity is common among African nations for two reasons. First, Africa is a continent of at least 800 different languages so that it is difficult to travel far without meeting speakers of more than one language. Second, national borders were drawn during the colonial era for reasons other than a desire to create linguistically homogeneous nations. For these reasons, Malawi, like other nations, is the home of people who speak different mother tongues. In addition to Chichewa, at least seven other languages are spoken including Chichomwe, Chingonde, Chingoni, Chisena, Chitonga, Chitumbuka, and Chiyao. While these languages are not mutually intelligible, they are relatively closely related. They are all in the Bantu group of the Niger-Congo branch of the Niger-Kordofanian family of languages. The Bantu group is the largest group in Sub-Saharan Africa, with at least 300 languages extending from the Niger-Cameroon border to South Africa. It is believed that a language spoken centuries ago in the present-day region of Eastern Nigeria and Cameroon served as a prototype for all Bantu languages. Migrations spread this prototype throughout Central, Eastern, and Southern Africa. Over time, the varieties of this prototype evolved in different ways in different places with the result that modern-day descendants exist as separate languages, such as Kikongo (Central Africa), Kiswahili (East Africa), and IsiXhosa (South Africa). However, despite their differences, all Bantu languages share many basic similarities in structure and vocabulary because of their common descent. The languages of Malawi are so related, making it relatively easy for someone who knows one Malawian language to learn another.

Because it is the native (first) language of more than half of the total population of Malawi, Chichewa was the natural choice as a national language for Malawi. Since another quarter of the population also speak Chichewa or at least understand it, Chichewa is very useful for inter-ethnic communication. Furthermore, Chichewa has international standing as well since there are speakers of Chichewa in the bordering nations of Zambia and Mozambique. A dialect of Chichewa called Chinyanja is an important lingua franca in Zambia and one of the seven indigenous languages designated for official uses there.

Native speakers of Chichewa in Malawi are concentrated in the Central Region, which includes the cities of Dedza, Lilongwe (the new capital), and Kasungu. The Life President, His Excellency Ngwazi Dr. H. Kamuzu Banda, is a native of Kasungu and has taken a keen interest in the standardization and promotion of Chichewa as the national language. Along with English, Chichewa is used in government publications, some newspapers, as a subject in the schools, for broadcasting by the Malawi Broadcasting Corporation (MBC), and in religious materials. There is also a Department of Chichewa at Chancellor College of the University of Malawi.

II. CHICHEWA STRUCTURE

Chichewa, and the Bantu languages in general, can be characterized as agglutinating-inflectional languages. In order to understand what this means, we first need to know something about the basic meaningful units of any language. The minimal meaningful unit of a language is a morpheme; that is, a morpheme is a unit which carries a meaning but which cannot be further subdivided so that its parts yield other meanings. In terms of their occurrence or distribution, morphemes are classified as either free forms or bound forms. Free morphemes can stand by themselves as separate words in a language. A language such as English has many free morphemes, such as boy, go, and little. It also has a few bound morphemes, too, such as -s 'noun plural' occurring with singular nouns to form such words as boys. An agglutinating language, such as Chichewa, is different from English in that it has many more bound morphemes than free morphemes. That is, it has many morphemes which can only occur when they are joined with other morphemes to form a word. In Chichewa, then, words are most often composed by 'sticking together' a number of bound morphemes. For example, the Chichewa word for 'person' is composed of two bound morphemes, a prefix mu- and a stem -nthu. Together they form the word munthu, but characteristically composed of at least two bound morphemes, a prefix and a stem. Most nouns in Chichewa are composed of much longer strings of bound morphemes. For example tingalankhulana 'we talked together (yesterday)' has these bound morphemes: ti- 'we', -na- 'past tense (yesterday)', -lankhut- 'talk', -an- 'reciprocal action', and -a- 'indicative mood final vowel'.

A major difference between English and Chichewa, then, is the ratio of bound to free morphemes. Chichewa has very few free morphemes, such as ndi 'be' and 'with'; in comparison, English has a number of bound morphemes (e.g. -ed in walked), but not many. So overwhelmingly, Chichewa is a language of words composed of several or more bound morphemes and English is a language of words of single free morphemes.

Morphemes are also divided into two types of terms of the meanings they carry: content morphemes and inflectional morphemes. Content morphemes carry basic referential 'dictionary' meanings such as 'tall', 'come', and 'animal'. For example boy in English is a content morpheme carrying the dictionary meaning 'young, male person'. An example of a content morpheme in Chichewa is -futa- 'want'. Both languages have many content morphemes, but most of them are bound morphemes as well in Chichewa.

Inflectional morphemes also carry meanings, of course, but their meanings refer specifically to relationships which hold between content morphemes. A language such as English has relatively few inflectional morphemes. Instead, it relies more on word order and other devices to signal relationships between content morphemes. For example, in the sentence The little boy fell down the stairs, we know that little refers to boy and not stairs because of word order. An example of an inflectional morpheme in English is 's as in the boy's hat. This morpheme indicates that the morpheme which follows is possessed by the previous morpheme, boy.

Chichewa, as opposed to English, has many inflectional morphemes to signal relationships, particularly ones to signal that a certain modifier (adjectives, etc.) or verb is related to a certain noun rather than another one. For example, in the sentence,

Nyumba yanga yaikutu yagwa
'My big house has fallen down' the prefixes on 'my' and 'big' and the first prefix on the verb are all inflectional morphemes which signal that the stems to which they are attached refer to the noun 'house' in this sentence rather than to a noun of another class. Chichewa also utilizes word order to signal relationships.

Often, inflectional morphemes are bound morphemes which occur as affixes. Chichewa has many such morphemes which are prefixes and also a number of suffixes. Learning these many inflectional morphemes will be one of the most difficult parts of learning Chichewa because, as an English speaker, you are not used to so much inflection.

In summary, then, when we say Chichewa is an agglutinating-inflectional language, we mean that its words are often composed of a series of bound morphemes and that many of the relationships between the elements of a sentence are conveyed by special inflectional morphemes. In these two ways, Chichewa is very different from English.

III. NOUN CLASSES/AGREEMENT

The most distinctive feature of Chichewa structure is the marking of nouns with prefixes which signal class membership, as well as a similar marking of other elements in the sentence to indicate relationship to nouns.

Some means of dividing nouns into classes is a feature of many other of the world's languages. The system employed by the Bantu languages, however, has an exceedingly large number of classes. Chichewa has many different noun classes, for example. These classes may be compared with the two or three noun classes in certain European languages where they are called gender. French, for example, classifies all nouns into either a masculine or a feminine gender.

In all the Bantu languages, including Chichewa, the significance of dividing nouns into classes extends well beyond the nouns themselves. All modifiers of nouns (adjectives, etc.) as well as verbs which stand in a subject-verb relationship with nouns (and sometimes those in an object-verb relationship) must 'agree' with the nouns. This relationship of agreement is signalled by a series of prefixes for each noun class. (Since these prefixes signal relations among elements, they are inflectional morphemes.)
Nouns themselves are composed of at least two morphemes, a nominal stem and a class prefix. For some classes (class 1a, and some nouns in classes 5 and 9/10) there is nothing which appears on the surface as a class prefix. But we say in these cases that the class prefix is realized by zero. The prefix indicates class membership, as the name implies. Further, in the case of most class prefixes, the prefix also indicates whether the noun is singular or plural, since certain classes only include singular nouns and others only include plural nouns.

For example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Stem</th>
<th>Class Prefix (Singular)</th>
<th>Class Prefix (Plural)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>-gthu</td>
<td>mu = munthu 'person'</td>
<td>a- = nthu 'persons'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-tseko</td>
<td>chhi = chitseko 'door'</td>
<td>zi- = zitseko 'doors'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Note: It is important to remember that the nominal stems can never occur without a class prefix (except in those cases when the prefix is realized as zero). Further, the nominal stem itself does not have the 'full meaning' of the noun until it is combined with its class prefix.

Many of the Chichewa noun classes are paired into singular nouns and their corresponding plurals. These noun classes are referred to by number and/or by their characteristic class prefixes. For example, in classes 1/2, class 1 is the singular class and class 2 is its corresponding plural. Class 1 nouns have either m-, mu-, or mw- as their class prefixes and class 2 nouns have a- as a class prefix. The class numbers and prefixes are convenient organizational devices in learning Chichewa. Try to refer to all nouns from the start by their class numbers and/or prefixes.

It is hypothesized that the classification of nouns into classes in Bantu languages had a semantic basis at one time. That is, all nouns referring to a certain type of object were put into a single class, it is suggested. If such a semantic system did exist, it has largely collapsed today, leaving only a large number of noun classes behind. Except in the case of a few classes, it is difficult to see any semantic unity in the nouns falling in any one class. Classes 1/2 do have a semantic unity in that all nouns in these classes refer to human beings. Further, all nouns in classes 12/13 refer to small objects. The locative classes (classes 16, 17, and 18) also have only nouns which have locational meanings. Finally, class 15 now includes only verbal nouns with meanings such as 'to go' and 'going'. In all the other classes, however, a semantic unity simply does not exist. Since this is the case, the wisest course for the student seems to be this: for those few classes which do have a semantic unity, learn quickly what it is and it will aid you in learning Chichewa; for those classes without semantic unity, accept their diversity and learn to recognize them by their class prefixes.

As noted above, in Chichewa all words that 'go with' a particular noun must be in agreement with that noun. For example, consider these sentences:

Anthu aquiri ana ali pakhomo.
persons two these are outside
'These two persons are outside.'
Notice that in the first sentence, all the words which are related to anthu 'persons' begin with the prefix a- .. In the second sentence, all the words related to ziteeko 'doors' must begin with the prefix zi- to show this relationship.

Many nouns are 'regular' in that their class prefix (that which occurs with the noun itself) is the same as their agreement prefix or AP* (that which occurs with words related to the noun). For example, the class prefix for class 2 is *) and so is the agreement prefix. However, there are noun classes with agreement prefixes which are somewhat different from the class prefix, as we will see in the lessons. At first, the different prefixes look very formidable, but rest assured that other English speakers have learned them and survived. They become much less formidable as you meet them one-by-one in the lessons and practice them in the accompanying exercises.

IV. VERBS

A sentence in Chichewa could consist of only a verb. Put another way, the verb is the most important part of the Chicnewa sentence, since it is the only obligatory part. This is so because a sentence need include only a noun phrase (or its substitute) and a verb phrase which the rules of the Chichewa must agree with the noun which is their subject, all verbs automatically must contain a noun phrase substitute--that is the agreement prefix which goes with the noun. Further, all verbs are inherently verb phrases. Therefore, a Chichewa verb has the wherewithal to stand alone as a sentence.

The noun phrase substitute which verbs contain in Chichewa is the agreement prefix which relates the verb to its subject. If the subject also actually occurs in the sentence, then the subject is, in effect, marked twice. In the following sentence, for example, muwana 'child' and the prefix a- 'he/she' both have the same referents:

muwana aliyumbasa 'The child is in the house.'

child he/she is in the house

Provided we know to whom the 'he/she' meaning refers, the sentence could stand by itself without muwana being present. (The prefix a- is obligatory, however, since all verbs which refer to subjects must have subject prefixes.)

* Agreement prefix is abbreviated as AP in the lessons.
 Except for infinitives (infinitives are verbs such as 'to write,' 'to sleep').
Chichewa verbs consist typically of a verb root, several obligatory prefixes, and at least one suffix. The first prefix (in affirmative sentences) relates the verb to its subject. A second prefix signals tense or aspect in relation to the meaning of the verb within the sentence. A third prefix referring to the object of the verb may be present. For example:

Subject Agreement Prefix + Tense/Aspect Prefix + Object Prefix + Verb Root + Suffix

I past it buy = 'I bought it'.

Note: \text{-\texttt{l}\texttt{i}-} is the object prefix to represent a class 5 noun object.

v. SYNTAX

The basic sentence structure in Chichewa is subject + verb + object, just as it is in English:

Subject Verb Object

Joni akudya chippatso
John he is eating fruit

However, Chichewa is very unlike English in the order of its noun modifiers. In Chichewa, most modifiers follow the nouns they describe:

buku la gaba lili pano. 'My book is here'.
book my it is here

The syntax of questions in Chichewa is somewhat different from that in English. In English, an auxiliary verb usually comes first in questions (preceding its subject), and the question word comes at the very beginning of the sentence (for example, Where did you go? where = question word; did = auxiliary). But in Chichewa most question words come at the end of the sentence and the subject-verb order remains exactly the same as it is in statements:

Subject Verb Question Word

Mukudya ohiyani? = \text{-mu- you} -kudya ohiyani
Mukudya ohiyani? = Are you eating?

Amayi anu ali bwanji? = \text{Amayi anu your} ali bwanji
Amayi anu ali bwanji? = How is your mother?
Questions with 'who' (ndani) and 'why' (chifukwa chiyani) usually do have their question words at the beginning of the sentence, as in English:

VI. SYLLABLE STRUCTURE

All syllables in Chichewa end in vowels (except for word-initial syllables composed only of a syllabic m), with the obvious result that all words in Chichewa end in vowels. Further, only consonant clusters of either a consonant plus a semivowel (y or w), or a nasal plus a consonant are possible. The following are the possible syllable types in Chichewa, with type #1 being the most common:

1. CV mato 'fire' (CVCV)
2. V ee 'yes' (VV)
3. NCV londa 'to watch' (CVNCV)
4. CSV bvino 'fine' (CSVCV)
5. N mlendo 'traveler' (NCVNCV)

It is a convention within Chichewa orthography to insert y or w in many (but not all) places where two vowels come together within a single morpheme (within a single meaning unit):

mayi  'mother'
meewu  'road'

Try to pronounce Chichewa words in such a way that your syllable grouping is accurate: pronounce your syllables so that a vowel ends each syllable:

masu  'words' ma-wu bvino  'fine' bwi-no choona  'truth' cho-o-na anapita  'he/she went' a-na-pi-ta mlendo  'traveler' m-le-ndo (note: syllabic m ends its own syllable)

Note that each vowel forms a separate syllable so that ndawaona 'I have seen them' consists of four syllables (nda-wa-o-na).
VII. SEGMENTAL SOUNDS IN CHICHĘWA

A knowledge of the sounds which occur in Chichewa and how they are represented in the spelling system will help you learn Chichewa. The language is written in the same Romanized alphabet as English, but the two languages do not share all the same sounds, combinations of sounds, or placement of sounds.

Vowels

There are five vowels in Chichewa which are written as a, e, i, o, u. The five vowels are different from English vowels, but correspond to the vowel sounds of many Romance languages, such as French. (Even though English uses only the same five letters to represent its vowels, English has more vowel sounds than Chichewa. For example, in English bite, the i stands for a diphthong which glides from an a sound position to an i sound position. Chichewa does not have any such diphthongs.)

Vowels in Chichewa are either long or short, but all vowels in English are short. A long vowel is a sound consisting of two identical vowels, not a diphthong which is two different vowels. The second from the last vowel in a phrase is always long; otherwise Chichewa vowels are usually short.

Certain Chichewa vowel sounds are similar to some vowel sounds in English, but they are rarely exactly the same. Most English vowel sounds are diphthongs, which always have a slightly gliding sound, but Chichewa vowels do not have such off-glides. The Chichewa a is similar to the a in an English word such as tot. But Chichewa a is made with the tongue somewhat more forward so that the result is somewhere between the sound of the letter a in tattle and the one in ah! The Chichewa e is similar to the sound in English bet, but not quite the same. The mouth is somewhat more open and the tongue is lower. Do not make the mistake of using the e sound in English bait, which is a diphthong gliding from an e to an i sound. Chichewa e is somewhere between the vowel sound in bet and bat. Chichewa i is produced higher in the mouth than the English sound in bit, and it is also different from the sound in English be, which is a diphthong containing a glide from a higher i sound to a lower one.
The back vowels (with the tongue kept at the back of the mouth rather than advanced to the front as in the vowels i and e) in Chichewa, u and o, are both pronounced with more lip-rounding than their English counterparts. Further, in American English, o and u mainly occur only as diphthongs; that is, they both have off-glides. When you pronounce Chichewa o and u, avoid the lowering off-glide you produce in English doe and too. Also, Chichewa o is a more 'open' sound than the sound in English oh; that is, the mouth is more open and the tongue is lower in the mouth.

When bound morphemes are joined to form a word in Chichewa, two vowels may end up occurring side by side. In this case— at morpheme boundaries when two minimal meaningful units are joined, but not within a single morpheme—either vowel will be dropped (contraction) or the two vowels will combine to form a different vowel (elision):

Contraction

\[ i + a = a \]

example: \[ ci + a + mpanhu 'strong' = champhamvu \]

(\[ chihombo champhamvu 'strong beast' \])

\[ u + ku = o \]

example: \[ u + kulamba 'old' = wokalamba \]

(\[ munthu wokalamba 'old man' \])

\[ a + a = a \]

example: \[ a + anga 'my' = anga \]

(\[ agalu anga 'my dogs' \])

\[ a + ku = o \]

example: \[ a + kuswa 'enough' = okwanira \]

(\[ anthu okwanira 'enough people' \])

Elision

\[ a + i = e \]

\[ a + ini = eni 'owners' \]

\[ u + a = wa \]

\[ u + anga = wanga 'my' \]

\[ i + a = ya \]

\[ i + anu = yanu 'your' \]

Try to learn these contraction and elision rules since they apply frequently in Chichewa. They will be reviewed when their specific application comes up in the lessons, but try to learn this generalization now: when two vowels come together when morphemes are joined, something happens to the vowels.
Vowels are not always short in Chichewa, as they are in English. Whether they are long or short does not seem to make a difference in meaning, so vowel length is not one of the most important features of Chichewa for you to concern yourself with. Our object here is just to make you aware that vowels are sometimes long in Chichewa in predictable places.

First, the vowel in the penultimate position in any phrase (that is, the vowel in the syllable before the last syllable) will lengthen and have the quality of two vowels.

Example: Ndipika nkhuku. 'I'll cook chicken.'
Phonetically: Ndí-phi-ka nkhu-u-ku (Note the lengthening of the u in nkhuku.)

Second, some tense/aspects in Chichewa are distinguished partially by vowel length. For example, the past tense prefix is -na- and the remote past perfect tense prefix is -naa-.

Example: Ndinaayenda. 'I went' (in the recent past)

Ndínáayéndá. 'I had gone...' (at a past time before some other past time which is also mentioned in the same sentence, such as in 'I had gone before he arrived last year'.)

Note that there are also tonal differences which help keep these two verb forms apart (tone will be discussed in a later section). The second a in -naa- has a low tone, while the a in -na- has a high tone. Also, the tones on ndi- 'I' are different as well as the tones on the verb stem -yenda 'go'. (To make things more complicated, we might just note there is a recent past/perfect form which also has -na- but with a low tone! Example: ndinayéndá 'I had gone' (at a past time relatively recently, but still past in relation to some other past time expressed in the same sentence).

As we said above, our object here is not to teach you about all the nuances of vowel length in Chichewa, but just to make you aware there are long as well as short vowels.
Consonants

Most of the consonant sounds in Chichewa are familiar to the English speaker, but some of them are represented differently in writing. Further, some sounds are entirely new. The following points need to be noted:

Four different pairs of sounds in Chichewa differ only in terms of aspiration. When sounds are pronounced with aspiration, an especially strong puff of air (a 'voiceless noise') if you can imagine that) marks their production.

Both aspirated and unaspirated versions of the same sound occur in English as well as in Chichewa. The letters p, t, and k in English actually represent two different sets of sounds, one marked by aspiration and the other by non-aspiration. When p, t, and k occur as the first sound in an English word, they are automatically aspirated by any native speaker of English. They are also automatically produced as unaspirated when they occur elsewhere. To experience aspiration, place the palm of your hand in front of your mouth and say the words, pill, till, kill. Notice the puff of air you can feel when the initial sounds are pronounced. Now say the words, spill, still, and skill. Notice that you now don't feel the same strong puff of air as you did when p, t, or k came first in the word. This is because they are now unaspirated.

Chichewa also has both aspirated and non-aspirated p, t, and k sounds. The difference is that while English writes both the aspirated and non-aspirated versions with the same letters, Chichewa writes them differently. Further, in Chichewa, either aspirated or non-aspirated versions of these sounds can occur in word-initial position. In Chichewa, the letters p, t, and k stand only for the non-aspirated versions. The aspirated versions are written with an h ' added to mark aspiration: ph, th, and kh. (When you see th in Chichewa texts, don't confuse it with the sounds for which th stands in English. Those sounds don't exist in Chichewa at all (as in English this and thigh).

The unaspirated version of p, t, and k never occurs in English in word-initial position. Since in Chichewa either version can occur in word-initial position, you simply have to learn the correct version of the sound as part of learning the sounds of each word. One generalization you can follow is this: class 5 nouns having initial aspirated sounds lose that aspiration when the class 6 plural prefix m- is added: phiri 'mountain' mapiri 'mountains'.

Pronounce ph, th, and kh as you would pronounce a word-initial version of these sounds in English, but with an even stronger puff of air than you use in English. Pronounce p, t, and k in Chichewa as a much 'weaker' version (non-aspirated). It may help to keep these ideas in mind:

'think b' when you pronounce p—but don't pronounce b!
'think d' when you pronounce t— but don't pronounce d:
'think g' when you pronounce k—but don't pronounce g!

The sounds represented by ch and tch in Chichewa can be a real source of confusion. The problem is that the letters tch stand for the sound which approximates what is written as ch in English (this is an aspirated sound, an affricate which combines t and s). But ch in Chichewa stands for the unaspirated version of the same sound—and this is not a sound found in English at all. In order to pronounce ch in Chichewa accurately, 'think d' and try to produce a 'weak' version of English ch. Try to place the tip of your tongue against the lower front teeth while raising the central part of your tongue. Compare the aspirated and non-aspirated versions:

Each of these letters represents two different sounds in Chichewa, one of which is called explosive and the other implosive. English has only the explosive versions of these sounds. An explosive sound is one in which the air is expelled outward from the mouth when the sound is made; you already know how to make such sounds. An implosive sound is produced by drawing the air into the mouth as the sound is made. There is a slight amount of pressure created and a slight pop when you release the sound.

These rules apply to differentiate what is spelled as b and d:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Implosive</th>
<th>Explosive</th>

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>when b or d occur alone</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>when b or d occur with w or y</td>
<td>when b or d occur with other consonants or English or other loan words</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Examples:

- bodza 'lie'
- bwani 'how'
- dengu 'basket'
- dwaia 'be sick'
- kudya 'eat'
- mbale 'plate'
- bedi 'bed'
- mowda 'field'
- derei 'dress'

Practice with the common word bambo 'father, sir'. The first b is implosive and the second b is explosive.

---

Nasal sounds (the air is expelled through the nose instead of through the mouth as it is with most sounds) are very common in Bantu languages. The letters m and n represent sounds which are equivalent to the English nasals in must and need and should present no problems:

- mawu 'words'
- mudii 'village'
- mara 'words'
- ganiza 'think'

Either m or n may occur as the first element in a cluster with another consonant. Such clusters also occur in English. What will be different in Chichewa is that such clusters may occur at the beginning of words as well as elsewhere. Further, when m occurs in such a consonant cluster, it may or may not stand as a separate syllable. N is never syllabic. The rules covering the syllabicity of m are these:

1. When initial m occurs in a class 1 or class 3 noun, it is syllabic except before the labial sounds represented by ph, f, v, and most instances of b. Therefore:
   - mpeni 'knife' (m-pe-ni)
   - mphepo 'wind' (mphe-po)
   - mkeka 'mat' (m-ke-ka)
   - mfumu 'chief' (mfu-mu)

   Note that mpaunzita 'teacher' (m-pha-nzi-tai) is an exception to this rule since its initial m is syllabic.

2. When initial m occurs in a class 9 or class 10 noun, it is always non-syllabic. (It only occurs in these classes before the labial sounds represented by ph, b, f, and v; as noted above, m is never syllabic before these sounds.) Therefore:
   - mbale 'plate' (mba-le)
   - mphamvu 'strength' (mpha-mvu)
   - mvula 'rain' (mvu-la)
No vowel sound should precede n- when it occurs in a cluster in word-initial position; that is, don't say in-. Remember also that it is only part of the syllable and is more of a nasal 'onset' than anything else:

\(\text{ny}\) The letters \(\text{ny}\) stand for a single nasal sound which is produced with the tongue blade (portion behind the tip) against the palate (the area behind the hard ridge behind the teeth). It is similar to the English sound in canyon:

\(\text{ng}\) The letters \(\text{ng}\) stand for a single nasal sound produced in a velar position. (the velar area of the mouth is toward the back of the mouth in the region where a g is made). The important thing to remember is that \(\text{ng}\) is a nasal sound with no g sound at all. We have this sound in English in such words as singing. The problem is that we never have it in word-initial position where it can occur in Chichewa. To learn to produce it initially, start out by saying sing in front of the word which you want to produce. For example, say sing and then \text{nga}ombe. Run the two together and then gradually drop the sing, keeping the \text{ng} sound:

\(\text{ŋ}\) These letters simply stand for two different sounds, as they do in the English word anger. Don't confuse \(\text{ŋ}\) with \(\text{ng}\), which stands for a single sound only. The first sound of \(\text{ŋ}\) is a velar nasal (the same single sound as represented by \(\text{ng}\)), not an \(\text{n}\). The second sound is the same as English g:

\text{ŋ} \quad \text{gala} - \text{nde} \quad \text{'ditch'} \quad \text{ŋ} \quad \text{guluse} \quad \text{'wild pig'}

\(\text{ŋ}\)gi

\(\text{ŋ}\)gozi

\(\text{ŋ}\)panga

\(\text{ŋ}\)gala

\(\text{ŋ}\)gali

\(\text{ŋ}\)gusali

\(\text{ŋ}\)gala
The sound written as ɪ in Chichewa is similar to that represented by ɪ in English. It is pronounced somewhat more forward in the mouth in Chichewa, sounding somewhere between an English ɪ and ɪ:

\[\text{lija} \quad \text{manja}\]

The sound written as ɡ in Chichewa is similar to the English ɡ:

\[\text{gogo} \quad \text{galimoto}\]

The sound written as ɬ in Chichewa does not occur as such in English and stands for a combination of sounds similar to English ɬ and ɡ; however, it is a single sound:

The sound written as dʒ is also a single sound in Chichewa and is the voiced counterpart to ɬ (vocal cords vibrate). It is a combination of what is represented in English by d and z. Be sure to pronounce both dʒ and ɬ as single sounds, not a sequence of two sounds as they are in English:

\[\text{mudzi} \quad \text{'village'}\]

The letters y and w stand for semi-vowels in Chichewa which are pronounced as they are in English (want, yard). The only difference is that w has more lip-rounding in Chichewa than in English and y is made with the tongue higher in the mouth and the mouth more tightly closed:

\[\text{yana} \quad \text{my'} \quad \text{relish'}\]

This letter stands for an important sound in Chichewa because it appears in the name of the country of Malawi and also in the name of the language. It is not a sound which occurs in English and therefore it will be a little difficult for English speakers to produce it correctly at first. The sound represented by w is made with the lips in the same position as they are for a b sound. But instead of closing the lips as you would for b, bring the lips close together so that they vibrate slightly when you expel the air. In many ways, you are making a sound which is a 'relaxed' b. In some dialects of Chichewa, a simple w is said instead of w, but the w sound occurs in the standard dialect:

VII. Supra-Segmental Sound Features: Tone and Intonation

Like most other Bantu languages (and most African languages in general), Chichewa has the feature of tone as part of its sound system. Tone and intonation are both features of relative pitch. When we talk about relative pitch within a single word, we refer to the phenomenon as tone. English does not mark its words with differences in relative pitch. You may associate tone in Chichewa with stress, which English words do have. But tone is not the same thing as stress. Stress is a matter of the relative intensity of the sound of one syllable compared with another, while tone refers to the relative pitch level of one syllable in comparison with another. Syllable stress seems to be absent in Chichewa.

Like most languages (if not all), English and Chichewa both have relative pitch differences within a unit longer than a single word, such as a clause or a full sentence. When we talk about relative pitch within these larger units, we refer to the phenomenon as intonation. To give you an example of relative pitch with which you are already familiar, consider the different pitch levels which any native speaker will produce consistently within an English sentence:

I bought three eggs and some ham.
The three men walked to the store.

Notice that the last word in each sentence is said with a higher pitch than the rest of the sentence. Also notice that there is a final falling tone which is lower than that at which the sentence began and continued until the last word.

Since you already speak a language (English) which has its own characteristic sentence intonation patterns or 'melodies', having to learn to produce Chichewa intonation patterns should not strike you as unusual. Listen carefully to the way your instructor produces sentences and try to imitate.

Having to learn to produce a distinctive pitch pattern for a single word—that is, having to learn Chichewa tone—will strike you as exotic. You may even think that tone is just an unnecessary complication. But you are wrong. You cannot hope to pronounce Chichewa correctly unless you also pronounce its tones correctly. The best way to learn to produce Chichewa tones correctly is to listen carefully to native speakers of Chichewa, especially your instructor, and then try to imitate their speech. Tone rules as such will not be given in the lessons, but there are exercises to make you aware of tone as an essential feature.
Linguists and Chichewa scholars disagree on how many distinctive levels of tone occur in Chichewa, some say two (high and low) and some say three (high, low and mid). For teaching purposes, we will assume Chichewa has two different tone levels: high and low. While tone in Chichewa is an integral part of the language, it is not the meaningful part of the great number of words which it is in some Asian languages, or even in some West African languages. Yet, a long list of Chichewa words are kept apart only by differences in tone. For example, mtengo (with a high tone on the second syllable -e-) means 'tree' and mtengo (with all low tones) means 'price'; thumba 'mound' and thumpha 'sack'.

Certain grammatical relations are signaled by tone, especially tense features. The difference between past tense (through yesterday) and the remote past (before yesterday) is signaled only by a tonal difference:

\begin{align*}
\text{ndinapita} & \quad \text{'I went (yesterday)'} \\
\text{ndinapita} & \quad \text{'I went (before yesterday)'}.
\end{align*}

When tones are marked, we will be using the following conventions:

\begin{itemize}
  \item (') high tone
  \item (') low tone
\end{itemize}

Note that sometimes variations of these basic tones involve a rising or a falling tone.

All Chichewa words have their characteristic tonal patterns when spoken in isolation, just as all English words have their characteristic stress patterns. The new Chichewa dictionary now in preparation will contain important information on the tones of all dictionary entries when spoken in isolation. However, when Chichewa words are spoken in context, the basic tonal patterns change. It is therefore important that you learn to produce the tonal patterns for words which characterize their use in phrases or sentences. For example, in isolation the word for 'name', dzina, has a high tone on the first syllable and a low tone on the second syllable. But in the sentence, dzina langa ndina joni, 'My name is John', the tone of the second syllable becomes high.

Like many tonal languages, Chichewa exhibits a tonal feature called downdrift by linguists; that is, both high and low tones fall in pitch from the beginning of the sentence to the end of the sentence. However, tones can still be identified as either high or low at any time because high tones are always higher than a low tone occurring next to them. (In fact, it is important to remember that all tones are characterized as low or high only in terms of relation to the other tones which occur around them; there is no such thing as an 'absolute high' or 'absolute low'.)

But in the sentence, Dzina lānga ndina joni 'My name is John', the tone of the second syllable becomes high.

Like many tonal languages, Chichewa exhibits a tonal feature called downdrift by linguists; that is, both high and low tones fall in pitch from the beginning of the sentence to the end of the sentence. (In fact, it is important to remember that all tones are characterized as low or high only in terms of relation to the other tones which occur around them; there is no such thing as an 'absolute high' or 'absolute low'.)
Downdrift in Chichewa and apparently many Bantu languages can be characterized in the same way:

(1) Each successive low tone is lower in pitch the the preceding one:
Example:
Ndinapita kavathu dzulo kukatenga nyama. 'I went home yesterday to take meat.'

(2) But a sequence of high tones tends not to show any drop from one high tone to the immediate next high tone:
Example:
Udsabweru kavathu manya ndidsakuwese nkhani. 'Come home tomorrow so that I can tell you a story.)

But note in the above example that high tones which come late in the sentence are lower than those which come earlier (note the high tones on -dza- and -use- in ndidsakuwese and compare them with the high tones on udsabweru).

You will notice another tonal feature about Chichewa: Any tones which are at the end of a non-question sentence will lower. This tendency, which occurs in some other tonal languages as well, seems to be very strong in Chichewa. In some ways, we can say there is an interaction between the intonation pattern— the tonal pattern of the entire sentence— and the tonal pattern of individual words, with the intonation pattern dominating. Chichewa sentence intonation is generally characterized by a final lowering (in statements, but not in questions). This lowering overrides the basic tonal pattern of individual words in sentence-final position (if their tones are high).

Finally, the main controversy between linguists who say there is a distinctive mid-tone in Chichewa and those who say there is not seems to rest on their analysis of utterances in sentence-final position. For example, J. R. Louw and probably E. J. Chadza would analyze the sentence, Ntchowa anali mwana wanga. "Ntchowa was my child' as having two mid tones on the final word, wanga 'my'. However, Francis Moto and Hazel Carter would predictably mark wanga with a rising tone on the first syllable and a high tone on the second syllable. (Within their system, rising tone is a variant of low tone—see Francis Moto's M.A. thesis for more details.) Moto, however, makes it clear that he considers these sentence-final tones as much lower than high tones occurring earlier in the sentence. That is, all analysts seem to agree that the listener perceives both tones on wanga, (the example sentence above) as low in relation to mwana (which would be L-M for Louw, but LH for Moto) and even lower in relation to anali. Moto specifically states, that 'in the final position, high tones may be phonetically realised as low tones, (and) such high tones may be referred to as having been flattened.' (1980:9).

1. Watkins, Mark Hanna. 1937. A Grammar of Chichewa. Baltimore: Linguistic Society of America. Watkins (p.16) states there are two basic tonal distinctions in Chichewa (High and Low), but also notes, "A low tone on a final syllable...may be either higher or lower, according to circumstances, than a low tone on a preceding syllable."

What does this brief overview of Chichewa tone mean to the language learner? Anyone learning Chichewa should be aware that, while the matter of tone still needs more analysis, there is consensus on the following points:

1. To speak Chichewa in a way approximating native speaker competence means paying attention to the relative tones on each word.

2. Be aware that the same word will not have the same tonal pattern in all of its occurrences. Tonal patterns depend on where a word occurs and with what other words it co-occurs. For example, nkhuku 'chicken' has three realizations (among others):

   - Nkhúkú (said in 'citation form' --i.e., by itself)
   - Nkhúkú ïnáfá. 'The chicken died.'
   - Ñáphá nkhúkú. 'He killed the chicken.'

3. Expect the tones on sentence-final words to be low. For example, notice that nkhuku (above) has a low final tone in sentence-final position.

4. Expect there to be a general 'downdrift' for all tones from the beginning of the sentence to the end. Further, expect each successive low tone to be noticeably lower than the one preceding it.
A MESSAGE TO THE STUDENTS

You are about to begin your study of Chichewa. Learning a new language has two parts: (1) learning the meaningful elements of that language and how to manipulate them in order to produce well-formed sentences, and (2) learning when it is appropriate, within the social context, to use one form rather than another. The Learning Chichewa materials have been designed to help meet your needs in both areas: to acquire grammatical competence and to acquire communicative competence.

The Materials

The materials for students consist of six parts: a set of 20 grammar lessons (the 'A lessons'), a set of 20 communication/culture lessons (the 'B lessons'), supplementary materials, tape recordings of the dialogues of the 'B lessons', a reference grammar, and a vocabulary listing.

The 'A lessons' will teach you how to produce well-formed sentences in Chichewa. To do this, they will teach you the meaningful forms in Chichewa and how they are used. Therefore, each 'A lesson' will introduce you to new vocabulary and new grammatical patterns. The explanation of new grammatical patterns has these components: (1) occurrence restrictions—where a particular form occurs and with what other forms; (2) comparative statements—how the same meaning is conveyed in English; (3) example sentences; and (4) exercises. The exercises are designed to develop your facility in recognizing and producing well-formed sentences making use of the new grammatical pattern. All exercises in the body of the lesson are meant to be done out loud in class. The Summary Exercises at the end of each 'A lesson' and the Review Exercises at the end of a block of lessons should be done at home to reinforce the oral practice you had in class.

The first six 'A lessons' also have tone and pronunciation exercises to help you recognize and produce the sounds which characterize Standard Chichewa.

While the 'A lessons' will help you develop grammatical competence in recognizing and producing correct sentences, the 'B lessons' will develop your communicative competence. They will teach you how to use Chichewa appropriately through dialogues and monologues which show you how to talk about everyday activities: meeting someone for the first time, going to the hospital, hiring someone, riding the bus, telling someone how to do something, and so forth.

The Communication/Culture 'B lessons' each begin with a dialogue, monologue, or a text which illustrates language in various social contexts. The lessons include an explanation of new vocabulary or new usages in the initial text. The Cultural Notes put certain aspects of the text into a cultural perspective. You'll learn, for example, why you should be wary when someone says that a place is 'not far'; you'll also learn what to say when you leave someone's house, etc. Communicative exercises are part of each 'B lesson' to give you practice in real life situations in using the vocabulary and structures which have been introduced in both the 'A' and 'B' lessons.
The Learning Chichewa packet also includes cassette tape recordings of the dialogues and monologues in the 'B lessons.' These recordings are a very important part of the overall course because they will develop your listening skills as well as your production skills. They may be used in class, under your teacher's direction, or used outside class for practice on your own. But wherever they are used, it is essential that they be heavily used because they will be your main source of learning-by-listening, a process which second language acquisition experts are finding leads to successful language learning.

A set of Supplementary Lessons follow the 20 Grammar and Communication/Culture lessons. It's unlikely your formal classroom training in Chichewa will cover these lessons, and, in fact, they are really designed for study on your own, or perhaps with the help of a tutor. These lessons include texts about the people, towns, and wildlife of Malawi; folktales and myths; job-related materials (agriculture, health education, for example); and an English-Chichewa medical dictionary.

A reference grammar, which gives you an overview of the grammatical structures taught in the lessons, also is included. Finally, there is a dictionary of all the Chichewa words used in the core lessons (the 20 'A' and 'B' lessons).

The Learner

Even well-designed language materials on their own will not make a fluent Chichewa speaker out of you. Learning a foreign language requires a good deal of effort; don't believe those people who say they picked up French by going to the movies. Some people are more rapid language learners than others, it is true, although this skill isn't necessarily related to your overall academic ability. But everyone is going to have to work hard, even if a special language learning aptitude gives some learners a lead over others.

Why are you studying Chichewa? As Peace Corps volunteers you are learning it for two reasons: Knowing Chichewa will (1) make it easier for you to do your job; and (2) make it easier for you to become friends with Malawians. For some of you, one reason will outweigh the other. For many jobs in agriculture and community development or health, knowing Chichewa will make your work much easier and also more satisfying in its variation because you'll be able to interact with the Malawians whom you meet, not just those with advanced schooling. That is, your reason for learning Chichewa will be an instrumental one, since Chichewa will be the instrument which makes your work-related experiences more successful. For all of you, there will be integrative (socially-related) reasons for learning Chichewa. When you speak Chichewa, it will be easier for you to become more a part of Malawian society. The pleasure that you'll give Malawians by trying to use their language will tell them that you are interested in learning more about them, since people often see the mother tongue as a part of themselves.
Using the Language

Are you making the most of all the language resources that are available to you? Your study of Chichewa should not end with the hours you spend in class, or with the summary exercises in your textbooks, or with the cassette tapes. Although these resources provide you with the 'basics' of Chichewa with some structured practice, they can not provide you with the unrehearsed conversational encounters you can have outside of the classroom. You are surrounded by speakers of Chichewa and they are the best language resources available to you, the learner.

Whether in the market, a bar, or on the street, the opportunity is always there to use Chichewa. Take the initiative by asking or stating something in Chichewa (as simple as giving a greeting, or asking for directions). Don't be surprised if you get a blank stare--Malawians are probably not expecting Chichewa to come out of your mouth so that they actually didn't hear it. So try, try again. They'll get the idea soon enough and they'll respond appropriately. Moreover, don't be surprised if you don't understand them. They might be speaking too quickly or using vocabulary unfamiliar to you. Now it's their turn to try again as you really begin to listen and learn. If you don't understand, ask them to repeat and then imitate what they are saying. It is under these circumstances that you truly begin to function competently in the language.

Evaluation

As part of the evaluation of your language abilities, you'll be tested to determine your FSI (Foreign Service Institute) level of proficiency in Chichewa. The test consists of a 15-20 minute interview during which you will demonstrate your ability to use and understand Chichewa in a realistic conversational situation. There is no set interview but you will be asked general questions about yourself, your work, your family. Special attention will be paid to pronunciation, accent, grammatical accuracy, vocabulary, fluency and listening comprehension.

The F.S.I. scoring ranges from 1.0 to 5.0, 1.0 being a beginning level and 5.0 being a native speaking level. At the end of your language training, you'll be expected to achieve a proficiency level of 2+. This level includes the ability to:

- talk about yourself, your family, your country
- introduce and converse casually
- discuss current events, the weather
- talk about your job and work-related topics
- handle transactional situations (buying, bargaining, hiring, giving directions, making a complaint, ordering food)
- speak with reasonable grammatical accuracy and correctness of pronunciation and tone

The Learning Chichewa materials are designed so that a conscientious student will attain a 2+ level of proficiency in Chichewa by Lesson 15 of the Grammar and Communication/Culture materials. The most useful grammatical structures, vocabulary, and conversational situations are presented in the first 15 Lessons so that a functional mastery of them will give you the necessary grammatical and communicative competence.

1.2 NOUN CLASSES

The most distinctive aspect of Chichewa grammar is the division of nouns into classes. For those of you who have studied such languages as French, Spanish or German, gender in those languages is analogous to noun classification in Chichewa. Chichewa has 18 classes of nouns identified by their characteristic prefixes. For convenience, noun classes are referred to by both a number and a prefix pattern.

Many of the noun classes are referred to in pairs, which have different prefixes in the singular and plural. The following lessons will introduce many of the noun classes in such singular-plural pairings.

1.2.1 Classes 1/2 (Mu/A)

Classes 1/2 are also known as the Mu/A classes. Mu- is the generalized singular class prefix for Class 1 and a- is the plural class prefix for Class 2. An example of a Class 1 noun is munthu meaning 'person'. It is composed of the prefix mu- and the stem -nthu. To form the plural of 'person', the singular prefix mu- is replaced by the plural prefix a- (or ìa*) to form anthu meaning 'people'.

SINGULAR

\text{Munthu} = \text{mu-} + \text{-nthu}

\begin{array}{c}
\text{SINGULAR} \\
\text{(class prefix)} \\
\text{(stem)}
\end{array}

\text{munthu} = \text{'(a, the) person'}

PLURAL

\text{Anthu} = \text{a-} + \text{-nthu}

\begin{array}{c}
\text{PLURAL} \\
\text{(class prefix)} \\
\text{(stem)}
\end{array}

\text{anthu} = \text{'(the, some) people'}

There are no words such as a, an, some in Chichewa; the singular and plural forms of the nouns themselves incorporate the sense of a, an and some in English, and also sometimes the sense of the. Other words, however, do convey the 'definite' sense which can be carried by the in English. These will be introduced in later lessons.

*A dialectal variant of the Class 2 a- is ìa (anthu = ìanthu 'people'). Both forms are equally acceptable but for the sake of expediency and traditional orthography, the a- form will be used in these lessons.
The designation of Class 1 as the mu- class is only a generalization, since both m- and mw- also appear.

The Class 1 prefix will be:

- mu- before a consonant introducing a monosyllabic stem.
  - munthu 'person' (-nthu = one syllable)
- mw- before a vowel
  - mwana 'child' (-ana)
  - mwamuna 'man, husband' (-amuna)
- m- before a consonant introducing a polysyllabic stem.
  - mkasi 'woman' (-ka-zi = two syllables)
  - mtsikana 'girl' (-tsi-ka-na = three syllables)
  - mphunxitei 'teacher' (-phu-nxi-tei = three syllables)

Despite these variations in the singular, all Class 1 nouns form their plurals with the Class 2 plural prefix a-:

- mkasi - akasi 'women'
- munthu - anthu 'people'
- mwana - ana 'children' (a- + -ana = ana)

In addition to being generalized according to class prefix, some classes can be generalized according to the types of nouns included in the classes. It is believed that in the past, nouns with similar characteristics were grouped together so that there was a 'person' class, an 'instrument' class, etc. Some classes retain a semantic homogeneity. For example, Classes 1/2 (Mu/A) could be called the 'people' classes because all of the nouns in them refer to human beings. Generalizations of this sort (even for other noun classes less uniform than Classes 1/2) can be helpful in determining the classification of new nouns that you'll encounter.

Throughout these lessons, noun classes will appear in tables such as the following one which includes class numbers, prefixes, and examples:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class #</th>
<th>Class Prefix</th>
<th>Examples</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| 1       | mu- (m-, mw-) | munthu 'person'
          |              | mkasi 'woman, wife'
          |              | mwamuna 'man, husband'
| 2       | a-           | anthu 'people'
          |              | akasi 'women, wives'
          |              | amuna 'men, husbands' |

4. mwamuna
5. mnyamata
6. mkazi

6. atsikana
7. azungu
8. amuna
9. asungwana
10. alendo
11. amuna
12. azungu
13. ana
14. amsikana
15. alendo
16. akazi
1.2.2 Agreement Prefixes

Agreement is a further aspect of noun classification. Agreement is a means by which a noun 'marks' those words that are directly related to it. This agreement is achieved by attaching the agreement prefix (sometimes called the concordial prefix) of the noun to its modifiers (adjectives, numbers, demonstratives) and to its verb if it is the subject of one. In many cases this agreement prefix is the same as the class prefix. It may also be a modified form of the class prefix. Or this agreement prefix may have no relation at all to the class prefix.

For Class 1 (mu-) nouns, the agreement prefix is irregular. Depending on the part of speech to which it is attached, it can be m-, a-, y- or u-. Before the possessive stem ('my', 'your', etc.) we will see it as u-. The agreement prefix of Class 2 nouns is uniformly a-; we can say that this prefix is regular because it also happens to be the class prefix.

To understand how these agreement prefixes work, let's look at their relationship to possessive pronouns. Possessive pronouns must 'agree' with the noun and this agreement is marked by the appropriate agreement prefix. The possessive pronoun is really a stem to which is attached an agreement prefix. In Chichewa, possessive pronouns and other modifiers (such as adjectives) follow the noun. Take, for example, the possessive stem -anga 'my/mine':

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class Prefix</th>
<th>Noun Stem</th>
<th>Agreement Prefix</th>
<th>Possessive Stem</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>m-</td>
<td>-kazi</td>
<td>u-</td>
<td>-anga</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>mkazi wanga</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>(u + a = wa)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'wife'</td>
<td></td>
<td>'my wife'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>(lit. 'wife my')</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

'wife' the agreement prefix for possessives in Class 1, is attached to the stem -anga. A sound change occurs by which u + a becomes wa-. Wanga then has been 'marked' by agreement to show its relationship with the Class 1 mkazi 'woman'. For Class 2 nouns:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class Prefix</th>
<th>Noun Stem</th>
<th>Agreement Prefix</th>
<th>Possessive Stem</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-ana</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-anga</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>ana anga</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'children'</td>
<td></td>
<td>'my children'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>(a + a = a)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

a-, the Class 2 agreement prefix, combines with the stem -anga and the resulting anga shows agreement with the Class 2 noun anga 'children'. (The a- of the prefix and the a- of the stem merge to form one a-.)
This general procedure of agreement is followed by the noun classes with all of the possessive stems:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Possessive Stem</th>
<th>Examples</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| -anga 'my, mine' | mwamuna wanga 'my husband'
|                  | ana anga 'my children' |
| -ako 'your, yours' (singular, informal) | mwana wako 'your child'
|                  | alendo ako 'your guests' |
| -ake* 'his, her, hers' | mikasi wake 'his wife'
|                  | ana ake 'her children' |
| -athu 'our, ours' | mnyamata wathu 'our boy'
|                  | anyamata athu 'our boys' |
| -anu 'your, yours' (plural, honorific) | mwamuna wanu 'your husband'
|                  | alendo anu 'your guests' |
| -owo 'their, theirs' | mwana wao 'their child'
|                  | ana awo 'their children' |

The Class 2 prefix a- can convey respect for an individual as well as plurality. For example, alendo anu can refer either to 'your guests' (plural) or 'your guest' (respectfully). Referring to someone in the plural is then a way of showing respect. The distinction between plurality and respect can be determined from context.

*You may hear -ache as a dialectal variant of -ake for 'his, her, hers'.

Exercises

A. Translate the following phrases into Chichewa:

Example: our guests + alendo athu

1. his child
2. their guests
3. my teacher
4. his children
5. her husband
6. your wife
7. their boys
8. our girls
9. my children
10. your people
B. Combine the following singular nouns with the appropriate form of the possessive stem -anu 'your' to make the statement 'your _____ is well.' (For Class 7/2, 'is/are well' = ali bwino.)

Example: mkazi + mkazi wanu ali bwino 'your wife is well'

1. mlendo
2. mwamuna
3. mwana
4. mzungu
5. mtsikana
6. munthu
7. mnyamata
8. msungwana
9. mkazi
10. mwana

C. Change the nouns preceding exercise into their plural forms before combining them with the possessive stem -anu 'your' making statements as in Exercise B. (Note: 'ali bwino' remains the same.)

Example: mlendo + alendo anu 'your guests are well.'
('your guest is well' - respectful sense)

D. Change the following possessive stems from the first person singular (-anga) to the first person plural (-athu) changing the statement from 'my _____ is/are well' to 'our _____ is/are well'. In this exercise, the nouns remain the same; only the possessive stem changes.

Example: mlendo wanga ali bwino + mlendo wathu ali bwino 'my guest is well' 'our guest is well'

1. mtsikana wanga
2. ana anga
3. anthu anga
4. mnyamata wanga
5. atsikana anga
6. mwana wanga
7. alendo anga
8. mwamuna wanga
9. atsikana anga
10. anyamata anga

E. Change the following possessive stems from the third person singular (-ake) to the third person plural (-owo) changing 'his/her _____ is/are well' to 'their _____ is/are well'.

Example: ana ake ali bwino. + ana awo ali bwino. 'his/her children are well' 'their children are well'

1. mnyamata wake
2. aphunzitsi ake
3. alendo ake
4. mtsikana wake
5. mwana wake
6. anyamata ake
7. mphunzitsi wake
8. mlendo ake
9. asungwana ake
10. ana ake
1.2.3 Classes 1a/2 (G/A)

In Noun Classes 1/2, we saw that singular nouns had the class prefix mu- (or m-, mu-), that the members of the class referred to people, and that they formed their plurals with a-. But there are nouns which, although they take Class 1/2 agreements, do not have Class 1 nominal prefixes. These nouns are in Classes 1a/2 and they include both animate and inanimate things. Class 1a nouns take zero (Ø) as a class prefix.

Galu 'dog' is an example of a Class 1a noun. To say 'my dog', the noun will be followed by the agreement prefix of Class 1 (u-):

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class Prefix</th>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>Agreement Prefix</th>
<th>Possessive Stem</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Ø</td>
<td>-galu</td>
<td>u-</td>
<td>-anga</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

= galu wanga

(u + a = wa)

'dog'        'my' = 'my dog'

Class 1a nouns form their plurals with the Class 2 prefix a-. These plurals behave like any Class 2 noun and therefore take the Class 2 agreement prefix a-:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class Prefix</th>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>Agreement Prefix</th>
<th>Possessive Stem</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-galu</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-anga</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

= agaluanga

(a + a = a)

'dog'        'my' = 'my dogs'
Here is a table with other examples of nouns in these classes:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class</th>
<th>Class Prefix</th>
<th>Agreement Prefix</th>
<th>Examples</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1a</td>
<td>(\emptyset)</td>
<td>(u-) ((a-, m-, y-))</td>
<td>bambo wake 'his father' fodya wanga* 'my tobacco' mayi wawo 'their mother' mphaka 'cat'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>(a-)</td>
<td>(a-)</td>
<td>abambo ake 'his father' amayi awo 'their mother/mothers' amphaka 'cats'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

The Class 2 plural prefix \(a-\) also serves as an honorific prefix for an individual. \textit{Amayi awo} can be a plural reference 'their mothers' or a respectful one, 'their mother'.

*Some Class 1a nouns such as \textit{fodya} 'tobacco' are mass nouns in Chichewa and therefore have no plural forms such as sugar in English. Other Class 1a nouns such as \textit{katundu} 'luggage' are also mass nouns but may have a plural form (\textit{akatundu}) when they refer to types or pieces of luggage, etc.

Exercises

A. Give the plurals of the following Class 1a nouns:

Example: bambo \(\rightarrow\) abambo

1. gogo
2. mayi
3. mphaka
4. galu
5. katundu
6. mayi
7. gogo
8. bambo
9. mphaka
10. galu
B. Substitute the following forms into the model expression, making all necessary agreement changes required by each new substitution:

Example:

model: bambo wake 'his/her father' substitution: -anga 'my' new model: bambo wanga 'my father' substitution: abambo 'father' (respectful) new model: abambo anga 'my father' (respectful)

1. -athu
2. -awo
3. galu
4. agalu
5. -anga
6. gogo
7. -anga
8. agogo
9. mphaka
10. -ako
11. -ake
12. fodya
13. -anga
14. -anu
15. katundu

C. Translate the following phrases into Chichewa:

Example: our mothers + amayi athu

1. your dogs
2. his father
3. their cat
4. my tobacco
5. her mother
6. his mother
7. their luggage
8. our fathers
9. your dog
10. my grandparent
1.2.4 Classes 3/4 (Mu/Mi)

Classes 3/4 are also known as the Mu/Mi classes with mu- being the generalized singular class prefix and mi- being the plural class prefix. Variations in the Class 3 prefix mu- (m- and mw-) follow the same rules as those followed by Class 1 prefixes:

- mu- before a consonant introducing a monosyllabic stem (mu*di* 'village'; m*onda* 'field' (cultivated field))

- mu- before a vowel
  (m*wala* 'stone')

- m- before a consonant introducing a polysyllabic stem
  (m*tengo* 'tree'; m*ando* 'chair')

Despite these variations in the singular, all Class 3 nouns form their plurals with the Class 4 prefix mi-:

- m*tengo + mi-tengo 'trees',
- mu*di* + midzi 'villages'
- m*wala + miyala 'stones'

(Wher i- is followed by a vowel, -yi- is used to separate the vowels: mi + ala + miyala.)

The agreement prefixes of the Mu/Mi classes are not the entire class prefixes but the vowels of those prefixes. Therefore, the agreement prefix of the class mu- is u- and that of the mi- class is i-:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class Prefix</th>
<th>Noun Stem</th>
<th>Agreement + Possessive Prefix + Stem</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>m-</td>
<td>-tengo</td>
<td>u- + -awo = mtengo wawo (u + a = wa)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>'tree'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>m-</td>
<td>-peni</td>
<td>i- + -ake = mipeni yake (i + a = ya)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>'knife'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Note that sound changes occur when these agreement prefixes precede another vowel such as the a of the possessive stem. We see above that the Class 3 agreement prefix u- + a becomes wa and the Class 4 agreement prefix i- + a becomes ya.
Exercises

A. Translate the following phrases into Chichewa:

Example: their trees + mitengo yawo

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Phrase</th>
<th>Chichewa</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. our stones</td>
<td>6. our trees</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. his chair</td>
<td>7. your knives</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. my village</td>
<td>8. their villages</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. her stone</td>
<td>9. my stone</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. their roads</td>
<td>10. her village</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

B. Give the plurals of the following Class 3 nouns:

Example: mudzi + midzi

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>Plural</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. mwala</td>
<td>6. mudzi</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. mtengo</td>
<td>7. mwala</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. msewu</td>
<td>8. munda</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. munda</td>
<td>9. mpando</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. mpeni</td>
<td>10. mtengo</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

C. Using the singular nouns in the preceding exercise, combine them with the possessive stem -anu 'your' making statements 'your ___ is here.' (For Class 3 nouns, 'is here' = uli pano.)

Example: mudzi + Mudzi wanu uli pano. 'Your village is here.'

D. Give the singular forms of the following nouns:

Example: miyala + mwala

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>Singular</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. mpeni</td>
<td>6. misewu</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. midzi</td>
<td>7. minda</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. msewu</td>
<td>8. miyala</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. mtengo</td>
<td>9. midzi</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. mpeni</td>
<td>10. mipando</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
E. Using the plural nouns in the preceding exercise, combine them with the possessive stem -athu 'our', making statements 'our _____ are here.' (For Class 4 nouns, 'are here' is 'ili pano'.)

Example: miyala + Miyala yathu ili pano. 'Our stones are here.'

F. Combine the following nouns with the possessive stem -anga 'my' making all necessary changes in agreement:

Example: mwala + mwala wanga 'my stone'

1. mudzi
2. msewu
3. minda
4. mpando
5. miyala
6. mitengo
7. misewu
8. mipeni
9. mtengo
10. mwala

1.3 VERB 'BE' -li/ndi

As in many languages, the verb 'to be' in Chichewa is characterized both by its frequency of use and by its irregularity in form. In Chichewa 'be' has two different basic forms: a -li form that indicates location and state, and a ndi form that indicates quality, identity, and possession.

Verbs in Chichewa 'agree' with the class of their noun subjects. This agreement is accomplished by attaching the agreement prefix to the stem of the verb. (This is, of course, the same agreement prefix we used with possessive stems.) To say that 'the child is well' (or in any state or location), we use the verb stem -li with the appropriate agreement prefix:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>Agreement Prefix</th>
<th>-li</th>
<th>State Location</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>mwana</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-li</td>
<td>mwana ali bwino</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| 'child'  | 'he'             | 'is' | 'well'         | 'The child is well.'

The agreement prefix for Class 1 nouns is a- (as it is for Class 1a nouns):

bambo wake a- -li pano = Bambo wake ali pano.
'father his' 'he' 'is here' 'His father is here.'
The other noun classes follow the same pattern:

Noun + Agreement Prefix + -li

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class</th>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>Agreement Prefix</th>
<th>-li</th>
<th>State Location</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>mkazi</td>
<td>a</td>
<td>-li</td>
<td>bwino</td>
<td>Mkazi ali bwino. 'The woman is well.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>akazi</td>
<td>a</td>
<td>-li</td>
<td>bwino</td>
<td>Akazi ali bwino. 'The women are well.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1a</td>
<td>galu</td>
<td>a</td>
<td>-li</td>
<td>pano</td>
<td>Galu ali pano. 'The dog is here.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>agalu</td>
<td>a</td>
<td>-li</td>
<td>uko*</td>
<td>Agalu ali uko. 'The dogs are there.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>mtengo</td>
<td>u</td>
<td>-li</td>
<td>pano</td>
<td>Mtengo uli pano. 'The tree is here.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>mtengo</td>
<td>i</td>
<td>-li</td>
<td>uko*</td>
<td>Mtengo ili uko. 'The trees are there.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Notice it is the agreement prefix and context which indicate the 'is' (singular) or 'are' (plural) sense of 'to be'.

*In Chichewa there are several ways to express 'here' and 'there', depending on the type of location you are describing: general, specific, interior, etc. Another word for 'there' is apo, and 'here' can also be expressed by ukw, kako, and apa.

Exercises

A. Combine the following singular nouns with the verb phrase -li bwino 'be well, o.k., all right' using the correct agreement prefix for each noun class.

Example: mwana + Mwana ali bwino.

1. bambo wawo
2. mtengo
3. mtsikana/msungwana
4. mlendo wathu
5. mudzi wawo
6. mwamuna
7. mzungu
8. msewu
9. mlendo wawo
10. mpeni
B. Change the nouns in the previous exercise into the plural and then combine them with -lì pano 'be here'/-lì uko 'be there'.

Example: mwana → ana → Ana ali pano. 'The children are here.'

C. Translate the following sentences into Chichewa:

Example: Your knives are here. → Mipeni yau ili pano.

1. My mother is well. 6. Our guests are well.
2. Some trees are here. 7. His father is there.
3. Your cat is well. 8. Her children are well.
4. A stone is here. 9. Their guests are here.
5. Some stones are there. 10. Some Europeans are here.

D. In this listening exercise, the teacher will make a variety of statements about the classroom and its environment in the form: 'something/someone is here/there'. If the statement is true, say inde 'yes'. If it is false, say iyayi 'no'. You will then make your own statements about the classroom.

Example: Teacher: Galu ali pano.   Student: Iyayi!
'A dog is here.'   'No!'
Mipando ili pano.   Student: Inde!
'Some chairs are here.'   'Yes!'
1.4 PERSONAL PRONOUNS

Personal pronouns (I, you, he, she, etc.) have two forms in Chichewa: an agreement subject prefix and an emphatic form.

The agreement prefix for personal pronouns is attached to the verb stem in the manner of the agreement prefixes of the noun classes.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Pronoun Agreement Prefix</th>
<th>Verb Phrase</th>
<th>Meaning</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ddi-</td>
<td>-li bwino</td>
<td>Ndili bwino. 'I am well.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>u-</td>
<td>-li bwino</td>
<td>Uli bwino. 'You are well.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-li bwino</td>
<td>Ali bwino. 'He/she is well.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ti-</td>
<td>-li bwino</td>
<td>Tili bwino. 'We are well.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mu-</td>
<td>-li bwino</td>
<td>Muli bwino. 'You are well.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-li bwino</td>
<td>Ali bwino. 'They are well.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Compare with 'The child is well':

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>Agreement Prefix</th>
<th>Verb Phrase</th>
<th>Meaning</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>mwana</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-li bwino</td>
<td>Mwana ali bwino. 'The child (he/she) is well.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'child'</td>
<td>'he/she'</td>
<td>'be well'</td>
<td>'The child (he/she) is well.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Pronoun Agreement

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Pronoun Agreement Prefix</th>
<th>Verb Phrase (-li + bwino)</th>
<th>Meaning</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ddi-</td>
<td>'I' + -li bwino = Ndili bwino.</td>
<td>'I am well.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>u-</td>
<td>'you' + -li bwino = Uli bwino.</td>
<td>'You are well.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a-</td>
<td>'he, she' + -li bwino = Ali bwino.</td>
<td>'He/she is well.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ti-</td>
<td>'we' + -li bwino = Tili bwino.</td>
<td>'We are well.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mu-</td>
<td>'you' + -li bwino = Muli bwino.</td>
<td>'You are well.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a-</td>
<td>'they' + -li bwino = Ali bwino.</td>
<td>'They are well.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
The emphatic forms of the personal pronouns are never used as subject prefixes. They precede the subject prefix to emphasize the identity of the subject, but they are optional:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Emphatic Pronoun</th>
<th>Prefix + -li pano</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Iye 'I, me'</td>
<td>ndi- + -li pano = (Iye), ndili pano.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'As for me, I am here.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iwe 'you'</td>
<td>u- + -li pano = (Iwe), uli pano.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'As for you, you are here.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iye 'he, she, him, her'</td>
<td>a- + -li pano = (Iye), ali pano.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'As for him/her, he/she is here.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ife 'we, us'</td>
<td>ti- + -li pano = (Ife), tili pano.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'As for us, we are here.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Inu 'you'</td>
<td>mu- + -li pano = (Inu), muli pano.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'As for you, you are here.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iwo 'they, them'</td>
<td>a- + -li pano = (Iwo), ali pano.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'As for them, they are here.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

In addition to being used emphatically, these pronouns occur with the verb ndi 'be', with prepositions, and in brief questions such as Kaya inu? 'I don't know (about) you.' These functions will be discussed in the next lesson.

The second person singular pronoun u- 'you' is used mainly in referring informally to a very close friend, an inferior, or a young child. The second person plural pronoun mu- is much more commonly used, referring not only to more than one person but also to an individual with respect and politeness. The same usage distinction holds for iye and iwo with the result that iwo is more common and is used for 'he/she' as well as 'they'.

Notice that the agreement prefix for both 'he/she' and 'they' is a-.

Context will help determine which is intended.

Exercises

A. Give the appropriate personal pronoun agreement prefix for the following pronouns.

1. I
2. They
3. He
4. We
5. You
6. You
7. They
8. I
9. He
10. We
B. Combine the following personal pronoun agreement prefixes with the verb phrase "ulu bwino 'be well':

Example: u- + Ulu bwino. 'You are well.'

1. a-  6. u-
2. mu-  7. mu-
3. ti-  8. a-
4. ndi-  9. ti-
5. a-  10. ndi-

C. Repeat the above exercise adding the appropriate emphatic pronoun to the sentence to emphasize the subject:

Example: u- + Iwe, ulu bwino. 'As for you, you are well.'

D. Translate the following sentences into Chichewa:

Example: She is well. → Ali bwino.

1. I am well.  6. You are well. (formal)
2. They are there. → 7. I am here.
3. You are here. (informal)  8. He is there.
4. We are well.  9. She is here.
5. You are here. (informal)  10. They are there.

E. Answer the question with 'yes' and an affirmative statement. The teacher should ask the questions the first time this exercise is performed. Note the rising intonation, similar to that of English when asking questions in which the word order remains the same. Then do this exercise again, with the students asking the questions.

'Is she there?'  'Yes, she's there.'

Mulî bwino?  Eee/Inde, ndîlî bwino.
'Are you well?'  'Yes, I'm well.'

*You will hear eee very often as a response meaning 'yes'.

10. Cutting tools

Note: The aspiration marker is not considered a separate letter. Thus, kh, ph or th take only one box in the puzzle.
1.6 PRONUNCIATION EXERCISES

A. Syllabic m-

Syllabic m- should be pronounced as a 'short hum' ('mmm'); however, this is only a single sound, so don't hold it too long or add a vowel before the consonant which follows it. Word-initial m may be syllabic; this means it forms a syllable on its own. In all the words you've had so far with an initial m, this is a syllabic m. We'll see later that initial m is not syllabic when it occurs before the labials b, ph, f, and v. (Mphusitei is an exception to this rule, since its m is syllabic.)

- mkasi (m-ka-zi)  mphusitei (m-phu-nzi-tei)  mnyamata
- maungu (m-zu-ngu)  mpeni (m-pe-ni)  (m-nya-ma-ta)
- mtengo (m-te-ngeo)  mlendo (m-le-ndo)  (note: ny- stands for one sound)

B. Aspirated ph and th vs. Unaspirated p and t

The letter h after p and t indicates that a puff of air follows these consonants when they are pronounced. The corresponding unaspirated consonants, which don't have this special puff, are written without the h: p and t. (See the Introduction for more on the difference between the two sets of sounds.) In practicing these sounds, place the palm of your hand in front of your mouth. You should feel the puff of air when you say ph or th, but not when you say p or t. Don't confuse the English sounds represented by th (as in the or thigh) with the Chichewa th. They are very different. Listen to the following words as your teacher says them and then repeat:

Aspirated ph and th  Unaspirated p and t phunsiro  mpaka 'until' mphaka / amphaka  mpeni / mipeni muthu  mtengo anthu  mnyamata wathu  anyamata yathu  katundu athu  akatundu

C. \( \mathbb{1} \) and \( \\mathbb{r} \)

Both \( \mathbb{1} \) and \( \\mathbb{r} \) are written in Chichewa for what is essentially the same sound. This sound has two variants. Before \( i \) or \( e \), either \( \mathbb{1} \) or \( \\mathbb{r} \) are pronounced as the \( \mathbb{1} \) sound in English leap. Before \( u \), \( o \), or \( a \), either \( \mathbb{1} \) or \( \\mathbb{r} \) is pronounced similarly to the \( \mathbb{1} \) in English Tuck, but with the tongue somewhat more 'bunched' in the back (or velar) region of the mouth.

The important things to keep in mind are these:

1) There is no sound in Chichewa at all such as the English \( \mathbb{r} \).

2) Whether the letter used to write the sound is \( \mathbb{1} \) or \( \\mathbb{r} \) has no effect on its pronunciation. Rather, what counts is the vowel which follows the \( \mathbb{1} \) or \( \\mathbb{r} \) symbol.

Pronounce the following, making an effort to imitate the pronunciation of your teacher:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Before ( i ) or ( e )</th>
<th>Before ( u ), ( o ), or ( a )</th>
<th>Before both types of vowels</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>kwambiri 'very'</td>
<td>galu</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ali bwino</td>
<td>tambala 'unit of money'</td>
<td>lepo 'today'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ndili bwino</td>
<td>sukuulu 'school'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mchere 'salt'</td>
<td>chipatala 'hospital'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>muli bwani?</td>
<td>-tandala 'spend'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>dereesi 'dress'</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

D. Implosive \( b/d \)

When \( b \) and \( d \) appear between two vowels or followed by \( w \) or \( y \) they are pronounced implosively (air sucked in). When \( b \) and \( d \) are preceded by a nasal (\( n \), \( m \)) or appear in a borrowed word, they are pronounced explosively (air expelled out). All \( b \)'s and \( d \)'s in English are explosive:

\begin{array}{ll}
\text{b / d (implosive)} & \text{b / d (explosive)} \\ \text{bambo} & \text{bambo} \\
\text{bwino} & \text{minda} \\
\text{fodya} & \text{abambo} \\
\text{bwani? 'how'} & \text{kwambiri} \\
\text{banja 'family'} & \text{buleni 'bread'} \\
\end{array}

Note: \( dz \) in such words as mudzi 'village' or dzina 'name' is a single sound which is a combination of two English sounds \( d \) and \( z \). It is explosive.
1.7 TONE EXERCISES

A. The following pairs of words differ in tone, the single feature which keeps them apart in meaning. Tone is a feature of relative pitch (be sure you've read the discussion on tone in the Introduction). There are two distinctive tones in Chichewa: high and low (that is, relative high contrasts with relative low). There is also a rising tone which is a variant of low tone. High-toned syllables will be marked with a (') and low-toned syllable will have no mark at all. Therefore, mtengo 'tree' is m-té-ngó with the middle syllable high in tone, but the first and final syllables low in tone.

Listen to your teacher's pronunciation of the following pairs and try to identify the difference in tonal pattern. Then try to produce the pairs yourself, with the correct tonal pattern.

mtengo 'tree' mtengo 'price' khángu 'blindness' khángu 'skin' ohikúku 'measles' ohikúku 'a pram (baby carriage)' thumbá 'mound' thumba 'pocket' nyénje 'cicada (type of insect)' nyenje 'grass torch' ohitete 'type of basket' ohitete 'grasshopper' múana 'back' msáaná 'daylight between 10-3' chánga 'my/mine' chánga 'a lemur' mphásá 'twins' mphásá 'a mat' chilére 'a groundnut field' chilére 'a type of snake' mbálá 'a thief' mbálá 'a burn from scorching' mphánda 'a branch' mphánda 'a hole in a tree'

B. Two and Three Syllable Words

1. Listen to the following pairs of words. If the tone is the same in both say 'same'; if the tone is different in both say 'different':

Example: bwíno - ife (same) akasi - mtengo mayí - manthu amúna - aléndú ínú - ife mlendo - Chichewá ánga - ndíli mtengo - amayí múdúsi - bvanji bambo - ndíli

etc.
2. Listen to the following three words; two have the same tonal pattern and one is different. Indicate the 'different' word by saying '1' if the first word is different, '2' if the second word is different, and '3' if the third word is different. (Or show fingers to keep the noise level down.)

Example:
wares - gogo - inu  (3) bwino - bambo - bwanji amuna - alendo - mitengo akazi - amayi - Chichewa bwino - inu - anga ife - gogo - bwanji abambo - ndilipo - bwinonso tealani - kwambiri - pepani mayi - amu - ndili zikomo - pitani - chabwino

3. Two and three syllable words can have various combinations of the high (H) and low (L) tones. Here are some words grouped according to tonal characteristics. Listen well to your teachers and try to match the tones they produce:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>LL</th>
<th>HL</th>
<th>LLL</th>
<th>LHL</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ndili 'I am'</td>
<td>mwa 'woman/mother'</td>
<td>abambo 'sir/father'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bwino 'well'</td>
<td>anga 'my/mine'</td>
<td>pitani 'go'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>

C. In Context

The previous exercises have introduced the tone of individual words in isolation. However, the characteristic tone of a word may change when the word appears in context. For example, observe what happens to tone when *ndili 'I am', bwino 'well', and -nso 'also' are combined:

When the low-toned *ndili is combined with the low-toned *bwino, the low tones are maintained throughout. With the addition of the high-toned -nso, the second syllable of *bwino (bwi-no) becomes high and -nso becomes low in its sentence final position. Similar changes in tonal pattern occur when *ndili 'I am' is combined with -pó 'there, all right' and -nso 'also':

\text{ndili } + \text{ -pó } = \text{ Ndilípo.} \quad / \text{Ndilípo } + \text{ -nso } = \text{ Ndilípónso. 'I am also all right.'}

By adding the high-toned suffix -pó to the low-toned *ndili, -lí becomes high and -pó becomes low in sentence final position. And the addition of -nso to *ndilípo causes a shift of the high tone from -lí to -pó before the word final low tone of -nso.

These tone changes illustrate the importance of learning tone as it occurs in context, not just in individual words.

1. Listen to your teacher and ask the question *Muli bwánji? 'How are you?' and answer it with *Ndili bwino. Practice asking and answer this question with the proper tone, first with the teacher and then with another student.

   Teacher: Muli bwánji?  Student: Ndili bwino.
   Student: Muli bwánji?  Student: Ndili bwino.

   a) Vary the pronoun subject of the question and answer:

   All bwánji?  Ali bwino.
   Muli bwánji?  Tili bwino.
   Ulí bwánji?  Ndili bwino.

   b) Vary the answer by replacing *bwino with -pó 'there/all right':

   Muli bwánji?  Ndilípo.
   Muli bwánji?  Tiliño.
   Ulí bwánji?  Ndilípo.
c) Vary the answer by adding -nea to both -po and buino:

John: Ndili bwino. Kaya inu?
John: Zikomo kwambiri.

1.2 VOCABULARY NOTES

moni - 'Hello'. This is one of the most common greetings in Chichewa. It is used with anyone at any time of the day. The expression is derived from muone (mu-one) meaning 'you may see' or 'you should see'. Therefore, in greeting someone, you are asking them to 'see' you.

abambo - (Cl. 2) 'sir'. Abambo is a respectful form of address for a man, equivalent to calling him 'sir'. Bambo also means 'father', but it may refer to any man. You may also hear (a)bwana for 'sir' as well as (a)dona for 'madam' (bwana is from Swahili and dona is from Portuguese).

bwanjii? - 'how?'

kaya - 'What about..., And...?, I don't know...'

-neso - 'too, also'. This suffix (e.g. word ending) can be attached to many words, including nouns, adverbs, pronouns, conjunctions, etc.

* Note that tone is marked in this and subsequent dialogues and monologues included in the 'B' lesson. High tones on syllables are indicated by (') and low tones are unmarked. Use these tone markings (in addition to the models provided by your teachers and the cassette tapes) to aid you in your pronunciation.
zikomo - 'thank you', 'excuse me', 'hello...'. This versatile expression ranges in meaning from an equivalent of moni to an expression of thanks. It may be derived from the word for 'entrance' khomo (a visitor is expected to announce his/her presence at the entrance to someone's home), although some think it is related to the verb -koma 'to be agreeable'. Whatever its origin, it is the word you'll hear most often in Chichewa as a general 'filler' to show solidarity as well as for its other meanings.

kwambiri - (adverb) 'very much', 'a lot...'

dzina lanu ndani - 'What's your name?'

dzina - (C1. 5) 'name'

lanu - (li + anu) 'your'

ndani - 'who?'

dzina langa ndi... 'My name is...'

langa - (li + anga) 'my' ndi - 'is'

1.3 USAGE NOTES

1.3.1 Respect

Demonstrating respect to persons who have a high status in the society can be done by using certain prefixes or forms of address.

The Class 2 plural prefix a- is frequently used as a sign of respect when addressing an individual. Abambo 'sir' or 'father' and amavi 'ma'am' or 'mother' would be more respectful forms of address than maji and bamo. Similarly, to be respectful to a guest, wife, or husband, you would again use the plural a- forms: glendo, akazi, amano. A- may also be used before actual names, first and last, with the same respectful effect (aBill, aMary, aSmith). A dialectal variation combines the plural prefix a- and a prefix -izi- meaning 'big' to indicate respect: azimaji, azibambo.

Using plural pronouns also conveys respect to someone. The second person plural pronoun mu- 'you' is used more often than u- ('you' singular) because of the former's respectful connotation. Mulu bwonji? 'How are you?' then is appropriate for a group or individual. And the response Ndili bwino 'I am well' can as well be in the plural Tili bwino 'we are well'. However, this plural response is mainly used by older people with the implication that you are speaking for those in your household or group as well.

1.3.2 Other Responses

Another way of responding to muli bwonji? is simply to say ndilipo (literally: ndi 'I', li 'be', po 'here') 'I'm here'. Instead of actually saying that you are well, your statement that you are 'here' is less positive. The plural, polite form of this construction is tiliipo 'we are here'.

Still another response is Ndili bwino chonoho 'I'm fine a little'. Chonoho has slightly different translations, depending on the context in which it is used; it can also mean 'just like that'.

1.3.3 Kaya

Kaya means 'I don't know (about)'. It is often used as a device to repeat a question which has already been asked. In the dialogue, kaya imu? 'I don't know (about) you?' implies a repetition of the question muli bwonji? 'how are you?' But it can be used to respond to a question as well as to ask one, meaning 'I don't know'.
1.3.4 Dzina lanu ndani?

Dzina lanu ndani? is literally 'name-your-who?' Whereas in English we would ask 'what' a person's name is, in Chichewa asking about a person's name is equivalent to asking 'who' he is so ndani is used.

Ndani is actually a contraction of ndi 'is' and yani 'who' (and yani is the form of 'what?' applied to Class I nouns--i.e., individual persons).

1.4 CULTURAL NOTES

1.4.1 Greetings

Greetings are an integral part of daily life in Malawi. Personal relationships are prized and cultivated through conversation, and appropriate greetings are an initial step in establishing friendship. The American expediency of a wave or a mere 'hi!'; without taking the time to inquire further about someone's well-being would seem rude and inadequate.

Chichewa etiquette requires that a host initiate greetings with a guest. In neutral territory, the person approached (on a street, perhaps) begins the greeting with the person who approaches. In a neutral situation where the host-guest, approached-approacher relationships are not clear, the younger or inferior status person may sometimes begin the greetings.

Chichewa etiquette also requires that both hands be presented when greeting someone. This is usually accomplished by grasping the wrist of your right hand with your left hand as you shake someone's hand. Sometimes the hands are lightly clapped together as when older men greet one another:

A: Moni, wawa / Moni, bombo.
B: Zikomo.

Similarly, in thanking someone by saying zikomo, one's own hands are often gently clasped together. This practice stems from a more violent period in the past when the presentation of hands would assure those conversing that no harm was intended.

1.4.2 General Forms of Address

It is common just to refer to someone by bombo or mayi. Although the primary meaning of bombo and mayi is 'father' and 'mother', they can refer generally to any man or woman. Young girls and women are often called chemwali/achemwali, the Yao words for 'sister/sisters', and young men and boys are called monimwene/cohimwene, the Yao words for 'brother/brothers'.

72
1.4.3 Names

A Chewe person usually has several names, often as many as four: a given name, a father's name, a family name, and a clan name. For example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Given</th>
<th>Father's</th>
<th>Family</th>
<th>Clan</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bexten</td>
<td>Richard</td>
<td>Chimkono</td>
<td>Mbewe</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bannock</td>
<td>Ydwikani</td>
<td>Mateche</td>
<td>Banda</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Catherine</td>
<td>Elias</td>
<td>Ntajiri</td>
<td>Nkhoma</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Although the above name will be someone's legal name, not all of the names are appropriate as terms of address in all situations.

Outside of the family, the given name is rarely used except among young children or very close friends. It is more likely that you would be called by your family name (Chimkono) or clan name (Mbewe). It is more common in the North for people to use their clan names (some common ones are Phiri, Banda, Mwale). The family name or clan name will usually be prefaced by the honorific a- (aChimkono, aMbewe) to show respect. With the clan name, aBanda will imply 'Mr. Banda'. To refer to a woman according to the family in which she was born, na- is prefixed to the name: NaBanda. To refer to a woman as 'Mrs.', either of these forms is used: (a)mayi Banda, akazi a Banda. In this case, Banda is her husband's family name.

Within the home, the husband will call his wife by her given name, but she will probably call him by his family name (with or without a-). Or a husband may call his wife 'mother of...' and she may call him 'father of...'

- abambo a NaBanda 'Father of NaBanda' (a gir)
- amayi a Banda 'Mother of Banda' (a boy)

1.4.4 Choosing a Name

Choosing the name of a child is rarely the concern of only the parents. Other members of the family (brothers, sisters, uncles, aunts, etc.) may end up naming the child. In one tradition, the name of the first born child is given by the husband's side of the family; the name of the second born will be given by the wife's side of the family; and the third born (and subsequent others) can be named by either side of the family. The father decides who should name the child. Usually this person gives the father two names after the baby is born and the father selects one. This person who names the baby is called mmwanga wa dzina 'friend of the name' and he/she is expected to give a gift to the baby as an infant and then also to pay special attention to the baby as it grows (rather like a godfather or godmother).
1.4.5 What's in a Name?

Although the use of Christian names is widespread, traditional Malawian names still abound and in fact are becoming increasingly popular. Many of the traditional names have meanings; however, this is not so unusual since even our Christian names have meanings in English (Faith, Constance, Hope) or in their source language (Hebrew, Greek, or Latin). Some of the Chewa names are descriptive and others make a commentary on personal history or previous events.

Some of the descriptive names which are appropriate for both girls and boys are:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Meaning</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Chikondi</td>
<td>'Love'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chimwemwe</td>
<td>'Happiness'</td>

<tr>
<td>Ufulu</td>
<td>'Freedom'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mfatso</td>
<td>'Gift'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mavuto</td>
<td>'Trouble'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Other names may comment upon family history. For example, parents who have lost a number of children at birth might choose a name that reflects that situation. In a spirit of pleading, they might name the child:

Lekeleni - 'leave this one for me'

Or in exasperation they might choose the name:

Nditani - 'what (more) shall I do?'

Or in defiance, they might choose a name that mocks death:

Chidothi - 'soil'
Nyamayapansi - 'meat of the earth'

Although it is not common for people to name themselves, traditional doctors have been known to choose their own names to show their power:

Puludzu - 'I don't feel beaten'
Ukaziuta Limba - 'If you provoke (me), you'd better be strong'
Bololoakondomadzi - 'The one who can walk on water'

1.4.6 Nicknames

Chewa nicknames are given in the manner of most nicknames—in recognition of some distinctive physical feature, habit, quality, talent, etc.

Here are a few examples:

Komagalasi  'glasses' (for someone who wears them)
Mavu       'wasp' (for someone very thin, wasp-waisted)
1.5 EXERCISES

1.5.1 Practice greeting each other with Moni and an appropriate form of address:

1st student: Moni ____________________________
(abambo, amayi, a _____ (name), etc.)

2nd student: Moni ____________________________
(abambo, amayi, a _____ (name), etc.)

1.5.2 Practice asking and answering the question Mulli bwanji?

1st student: Mulli bwanji?

2nd student: ____________________________
(Ndili bwino, tili bwino, ndilipo, etc.)

__________________________
(Kaya inu, Mulli bwanji, etc.)

1st student: ____________________________
(Inenso, ndili bwino, zikomo, ndilipo, ndili bwino choncho, etc.)

1.5.3 Practice asking and answering Dzina lanu ndani? 'What's your name?'

1st student: Dzina lanu ndani?

2nd student: Dzina langa ndi ____________________________ (name)

Vary the pattern by asking:

Dzina lake ndani? 'What's his/her name?'

Dzina lake ndi ____________________________. 'His/her name is ________.'
1.5.4 Using the vocabulary you have learned so far, ask one another 'how something/someone is' -li bwanji? Answer with the expression -li bwino 'be well, o.k., all right'.

Example: 1st: Abambo anu ali bwanji? 'How is your father?'
2nd: Abambo anga ali bwino. 'My father is well.'

Continue:
1st: __________-li bwanji?
2nd: __________-li bwino.

1.5.5 Ask how other people/things are with the construction: Kaya _____? (Kaya inu? 'I don't know (about) you?'). The first student asks a -li bwanji question and the respondent answers, then asks a similar question using kaya _____?

Example: 1st: Amayi anu ali bwanji?
2nd: Ali bwino. Kaya (amayi) anu?
1st: Ali bwinonso.

1st: __________-li bwanji?
2nd: __________-li bwino. Kaya ________?
1st: __________.

1.5.6 Perform the introductory dialogue with students alternating role A and B.

Vary the dialogue by substituting appropriate forms of address, questions, and responses.

1.5.7 Carry on the following conversations in Chichewa:

A: Hello, Mary.
B: Hello, Rosie. How are you?
A: I'm here. I don't know (about) you?
B: Me too, I'm here. Thanks.

**********
A: Hello, traveller.
B: Hello, ma'am. How are you?
A: I'm fine. How are you?
B: We're fine too. Thank you.
A: Thank you very much.
1.5.8 Can you understand the following informal conversation:

A: Moni Joni.
B: Zikomo. Mulu bwânj1?
A: Ndili gwâ.* Kaya iwe?
B: Inénsô, ndilîpo.

*Gwâ is called an ideophone. Such words (and we have some in English) occur frequently in Bantu languages, such as Chichewa. Ideophones sound like the meanings they represent in some way. Gwâ means 'strong', its sounds convey the meaning in this way: gwâ as a sound made toward the back of the mouth has strength in its resonance, and -â as a low vowel made with the mouth quite open sounds 'full' or 'strong'.

2.2 NOUN CLASSES

2.2.1 Classes 5/6 (Li/Ma)

Nouns in Classes 5/6 are diverse in form and meaning. There are several different forms of the class prefix for Class 5. Some nouns take li- (liu 'word'), some da- (dzina 'name'), some di- (dise 'eye') and some ta- (taiku 'day'), for example. But the most common class prefix for Class 5 is zero; that is, there is nothing before the noun stem (tebulo 'table'). And while all classes have some words borrowed from English, there is an especially large number of such loans in Classes 5/6, such as tebulo/matebulo. Class 5 nouns, however, do show regularity regarding the AP* (agreement prefix): all Class 5 nouns take li-.

From now on, AP will be used to abbreviate agreement prefix.
These Class 5 nouns form their plurals with the Class 6 plural prefix \textit{ma-}. The Class 6 AP (agreement prefix) is \textit{a-}. In addition to the plurals of Class 5 nouns, certain mass nouns (\textit{mfuta ‘oil’}) and abstract nouns (\textit{matenda ‘sickness’}) which don't occur as singular/plural pairs are also in Class 6. As a set, then, Classes 5/6 are known as the \textit{li/ma} classes.

When adding the Class 6 plural prefix \textit{ma-}, some Class 5 nouns go through sound changes. Some general rules for these changes are:

1) Some nouns with \textit{dz-} as a class prefix retain part of that prefix when adding \textit{ma-}:
   \begin{itemize}
   \item \textit{dzira ‘egg’} \quad \textit{ma- + dzira \Rightarrow mazira ‘eggs’}
   \end{itemize}

2) Nouns with \textit{ts-} as a class prefix retain \textit{ts-} when adding \textit{ma-}:
   \begin{itemize}
   \item \textit{tsiku ‘day’} \quad \textit{ma- + tsiku \Rightarrow masiku ‘days’}
   \end{itemize}

3) Nouns with a zero Class 5 prefix, but which have nominal stems beginning with aspirated consonants (\textit{ph, th, kh}), change those consonants to their non-aspirated counterparts when adding the Class 6 prefix \textit{ma-}. (Aspiration is the 'extra puff of air' which accompanies some sounds in Chichewa and also other languages, such as English. Notice that puff of air with initial p- in English ‘pill’. Compare that p- with the non-aspirated p- in English ‘spill’.) Whenever p, t, or k are written in Chichewa without a following h-, they are non-aspirated.
   \begin{itemize}
   \item \textit{thumba ‘pocket/bag’} \quad \textit{ma- + thumba \Rightarrow matumba ‘pockets/bag’}
   \item \textit{phiri ‘mountain’} \quad \textit{ma- + phiri \Rightarrow mapiri ‘mountains’}
   \item \textit{khasu ‘hoe} \quad \textit{ma- + khasu \Rightarrow makasu ‘hoses’}
   \end{itemize}

4) Most other nouns take the \textit{ma-} plural prefix without change:
   \begin{itemize}
   \item (Class prefix = \texttt{0}) \textit{dengu ‘basket’} \quad \textit{ma- + dengu \Rightarrow madengu ‘baskets’}
   \item (Class prefix = \texttt{0}) \textit{buku ‘book’} \quad \textit{ma- + buku \Rightarrow mabuku ‘books’}
   \item (Class prefix = \texttt{dz}) \textit{dzanja ‘hand’} \quad \textit{ma- + dzanja \Rightarrow manja ‘hands’}
   \end{itemize}

A few Class 5/6 nouns show more radical sound changes. For example, \textit{dziga ‘flow’} has as its plural \textit{malwa ‘flowers’} (initial \texttt{d} becomes \texttt{t} after \textit{ma-}).

Exercises

A. Give the plural form of the following Class 5 nouns:

Example: dengu → madengu

1. dzira 6. dzanja
2. tebulo 7. tebulo
3. tsiku 8. dengu
4. khasu 9. tsiku
5. phiri 10. dzina

B. Combine the singular nouns in the preceding exercise with the possessive -ake 'his/her' making statements, 'his/her _____ is there'. (For Class 5, 'is there' = ili uko.)

Example: dengu + Dengu lake ili uko. 'His/her basket is there.'

C. Combine the following words or phrases with other phrases you already know to make complete sentences. For example: Matebulo ake 'his/her tables'; your sentence: Matebulo ake ali bwino / ali pano / ali uko 'His/her tables are fine / are here / are there.'

1. Mabuku anga 6. Madengu anu
2. Makasu athu 7. Mapiri
5. Maina awo 10. Mabuku ake

D. Substitute the following expressions into the model sentence:

Example: model: Madengu anu ali pano.
substitution: Dengu new model: Dengu lanu 1fl pano.

1. -anga 6. buku
2. khasu 7. mabuku
3. makasu 8. -athu
4. -ake 9. dzira
5. tebulo 10. mazira
E. Translate the following sentences into Chichewa:

Example: Some books are here. - Mabuku ali pano.

1. Some eggs are all right.
2. My table is there.
3. His hands are all right.
4. Their hoes are here.
5. My pocket is here.

2.2.2 Classes 7/8 (Chi/Zi) (Vi)

Classes 7/8 are probably the easiest classes to recognize because of their characteristic class prefixes chi- and zi- which also serve as APs (agreement prefixes). Class 8 (zi-) is the plural of Class 7 (chi-), but a dialectal variant of the zi- class is vi-. The examples and exercises in this book will feature the zi class prefix. Recognize, however, that in using either zi- or vi- forms, uniformity is important.

Compare these examples:

Chitseko 'door'

Chitseko changa chili pano. 'My door is here.'

'door' 'my' 'is' 'here'

Zitseko 'doors'

Zitseko zanga zili pano. 'My doors are here.'

'doors' 'my' 'are' 'here'

Vitseko 'doors'

Vitseko vanga vili pano. 'My doors are here.'

'doors' 'my' 'are' 'here'

The zi- and vi- should not be mixed:

Viteeko zanga vili pano. (incorrect)
Here are other examples of Classes 7/8 nouns and their appropriate agreement. (Note that chi- and zi- merge with stems beginning with -a to produce cha- or za- respectively):

E. Using the nouns and verb phrases (-ii bwino, -li pano, -li uko) you have already learned, point to and make true and false statements about objects and people in the classroom. If a statement is true, the other students should say inde 'yes'. If a statement is false, students should respond with iyayi 'no'.

Examples: Chitume chili pano. - Iyayi. 'A well is here.'
Mabuku awo ali uko. - Inde. 'Their books are there.'
Mphunzitsi wathu ali bwino. Inde. 'Our teacher is well.' - 'Yes.'
2.3 VERB -li/ndi ‘Be’

2.3.1 -li ‘be’

In English, the same forms of the verb 'be' are used to indicate 'being' whether in regard to location, state, quality, identity or possession. However, in Chichewa these senses of 'being' are divided between two forms of the same verb. You will see later in this lesson how the two forms combine for the sense of 'have'. This is not surprising since 'have' has an underlying semantic relation to 'be' in its sense of 'be with'.

As we have already seen, -li means 'be' when location and state is involved. -li takes the AP (agreement prefix) of its noun and pronoun subjects:

- Ali bwino. 'He/she is well.' (state)
- Mabuku anu ali pano. 'Your books are here.' (location)

The verb -li is made negative by adding si- before the agreement prefix. Before an AP beginning with a consonant, si- is unchanged (si + ndili = sindili 'I am not'). However before an AP beginning with a vowel, the i of si- drops* (si + ali = sali 'he is not'):

Examples:

- Ndili bwino. - Sindili bwino. 'I'm not well.'
- Tili bwino. - Sitili bwino. 'We aren't well.'
- Uli bwino. - Suli bwino. 'You aren't well.'
- Muli bwino. - Simuli bwino. 'You aren't well.'
- Ali bwino. - Sali bwino. 'He/she isn't well.' / 'They aren't well.'

- Akazi anga ali pano. - Akazi anga sali pano. 'My wife isn't here.'
- Bambo wake ali bwino. - Bambo wake sali bwino. 'His/her father isn't well.'
- Mtengo uli pano. - Mtengo suli pano. 'A tree isn't here.'
- Mtengo ili uko. - Mtengo sili uko. 'Some trees aren't there.'
- Khasu lanu lili pano. - Khasu lanu sili pano. 'Your hoe isn't here.'
- Makasu anu ali uko. - Makasu anu sali uko. 'Your hoes aren't there.'
- Chakudya chili bwino. - Chakudya sichiili bwino. 'Some food isn't all right.'
- Zakudya sili bwino. - Zakudya sichiili bwino. 'Some foods aren't all right.'

*The dropping of i when i + a come together at the boundary of two meaningful elements (morpheme boundary) is a regular process operating in Chichewa. We saw it already with the Class 5, 7 and 8 APs (agreement prefixes) before a possessive pronoun stem: dmangala langa (li + anga) 'my hand'; chipinda chathu (shi + athu) 'our room'; sipinda sathu (si + athu) 'our rooms'.
Exercises

A. Change the following sentences from the affirmative into the negative:

Example: Mudzi uli pano. + Mudzi suli pano.
'The village isn't here.'

1. Chipatso chili bwino.
2. Dengu lanu lili pano.
3. Ana ake ali uko.
5. Zimbudzi zili uko.

B. Change the following sentences from the negative into the affirmative:

Example: Mipeni sili uko. + Mipeni ili uko.
'The knives aren't there.'

1. Mabuku anga sali pano.
2. Chakudya chathu sichili bwino.
3. Fodya wanu sali uko.
4. Simul' bwino.
5. Munda wawo suli pano.

C. Answer the questions as the teacher asks them, with 'yes' and an affirmative statement or 'no' and a negative statement, according to the true existence of the items in the classroom. Then repeat the exercise with the students asking the questions.

Example: Mipeni ili pano?
'Irayi, mipeni sili pano.
'No, some knives aren't here.'

Inde, mipeni ili pano.
'Yes, some knives are here.'

1. Mabuku ali pano?
6. (Inu), Mulb bwino?
2. (Mwana), Ali bwino?
7. Chipatso chili bwino?
3. Fodya ali pano?
8. Chitseko chili pano?
4. Chakudya chili bwino?
9. Chimbudzi chili uko?
5. Bambo wake ali uko?
10. Matebulo ali bwinho?

D. As in the preceding exercise, ask and answer questions about the well-being or presence of items.
2.3.2 ndi 'be'

The ndi form of the verb 'be' is used to indicate identity, possession, and quality. ndi is unusual because it takes no agreement prefix (AP) with a noun subject:

'kasi wanga ndi mphunzitei. 'My wife is a teacher.' (identity) wife / my / is / teacher

Mipeni ndi yanu.* 'The knives are yours.' (possession) knives / are / yours

With a pronoun subject, ndi requires a subject marker. The forms you learned as emphatic pronouns serve this purpose: ndi + ine 'I am'. The two parts of this construction often merge: ndi + ine = ndine. Note that these forms follow ndi (as a suffix) in this construction. With -lz forms, you remember the emphatic pronouns precede (Ine ndili bwino 'As for me, I'm fine'):

Examples:

Ndine mlendo. 'I am a traveler.'
Ndive mwana. 'You're a child.'
Ndive mphunzitei. 'He/she is a teacher.'
Ndive ana anu. 'We are children.'
Ndine Azungu. 'You are Europeans.'
Ndwo agogo anga. 'They are my grandparents.'

ndi may also appear without any subject at all, with the meaning 'it is...':

Ndine chipateo. 'It's fruit.'
Ndine Maungu. 'It's a European.'
Ndine. 'It's me.'

*The possessive pronouns can also stand alone, provided their antecedents (the nouns they refer to) are understood or previously mentioned:

Ndine chipinda changa. 'It's my room.'
Ndine changa. 'It's mine.'

With third person singular subjects ('he' or 'she'), the use of ndi by itself is more common. For example:

Ndi mphunzitei. 'He/she is a teacher.'
The negative form of ndi 'be' is si 'be not' when there is a noun subject:

- Mkazi wanga ndi mphunzitsi.
  'My wife is a teacher.'
- Mkazi wanga si mphunzitsi.
  'My wife isn't a teacher.'

- Zipatso ndi zake.
  'Some fruits are his.'
- Zipatso si zake.
  'Some fruits aren't his.'

When ndi is combined with a pronoun subject rather than a noun, there are two possible negative forms of the expression, with a slight difference in meaning. In the first form, note that si- is a prefix meaning 'not'. But it does not replace ndi or the meaning of 'be' as it did with a noun subject:

- Sindine mphunzitsi wanu.
  '(si- + ndi + ine = sindine) not / be / I'
  'I'm not your teacher.'
- Sindinu Azungu.
  'You aren't Europeans.'
- Sindiye mlendo wathu.
  'He's not our guest.'

The above pattern is a simple negation. However, in a stronger statement of denial, si replaces ndi for a meaning of 'be not' and the emphatic pronoun occurs in its uncontracted form:

- Si ine mphunzitsi wanu.
  'I'm not your teacher.'
- Si inu Azungu.
  'You're not Europeans.'
- Si iye mlendo wathu.
  'He's not our guest.'

Similarly to ndi, si can appear without any subject at all, with a meaning 'it is not...'

- Si chitseko.
  'It's not a door.'

2.3.3 Contractions with ndi 'be'

In fluent speech, words are frequently contracted; this happens in Chichewa, and the contractions which result are both spoken and written.

New spelling rules recommend that ndi 'be' and si '(be) not' should be written conjunctively (together) with the words that follow them in a sentence:

- Examples:
  - Mipeni ndiyake.
    'Some knives are his.'
  - Mipeni siyake.
    'Some knives aren't his.'

But for teaching purposes, the lessons and exercises in this book present ndi and si disjunctively (separately) from the words that follow. But you should remember the practice of writing them together.
Ndi is often changed in association with the words which follow it. For example, we have seen the contracted form when ndi is followed by the personal pronoun (ndi 'be' + ine 'I' = ndine 'it's me', 'I am'). Ndi can be reduced further to n:

Ndi can also merge with the initial sound of the following words:

And ndi can become m before p, b, m:

Just as the contraction of will not to won't can cause confusion for learners of English, so can contractions like ndi wanga to ngwanga cause confusion for learners of Chichewa. Make yourselves aware of these contractions for you'll hear them often in Chichewa. A more extensive discussion of contractions appears in Lesson 12.

*[Note in all of these sound changes that ndi—first reduces to n and then changes to a sound which is made in the same position in the mouth as the sound which follows it. This means that the sound represented by the letter n before a q (in ngwa) is produced toward the back of the mouth (in the same velar position as the q). Similarly, the sound represented by n before j (in njang) is produced toward the middle of the mouth (in the same palatal position as the j). And when n becomes m before the sounds p, b, and m, this is simply another case of n being produced in the same position as the sound which follows (The sounds p, b, and m are all made with both lips.).]

2.4 LOCATIVES: Pa/Ku/Mu (NOUN CLASSES 16/17/18)

2.4.1 Locatives

To indicate the location of something or someone, there are a group of class prefixes which appear before a place name or a noun indicating a place. The prefixes (pa-, ku-, mu-) and their place names are considered together to be nouns in Classes 16, 17, and 18. These locative classes have no singular or plural aspects as do the other noun classes we have studied. Note that the locative noun (locative class prefix + noun stem) includes meanings of location, such as 'in' or 'to' which are conveyed in English by separate prepositions.

The locative class prefixes pa-/ku-/mu- each refer to different types of locations although there is some overlap in their English translations.

- pa = 'at, on' (a specific location)
- ku = 'to, at' (a general location)
- mu = 'in, inside' (an interior location)

Examples:

- pakhomo 'at the entrance/outside' (specific)
- patebulo 'on the table' (specific)
- kumudzi 'to/at the village' (general, somewhere in the vicinity)
- ku Blantyre 'to/at Blantyre' (general, somewhere in the vicinity)
- mu (m')chipinda 'in the room'
- mu (m')dengu 'in the basket'

The locative mu- may be reduced to m' before nouns beginning with any consonant except syllabic m (mutengo 'in the tree'). Mu may not be reduced to m' before vowels or semi-vowels (o, u).

*Note that before proper nouns (names of places and the like), the class prefix for locative class nouns is written separately (disjunctively) from the noun. For all other nouns, the prefix is written with the noun, according to the latest spelling rules. In older books, you may see the class prefix written separately from its noun.
You remember that to indicate that 'something/someone is somewhere' the -li form of the verb 'be' is used. The sentence pattern with a locative sun will be:

Chakudya chili patebulo. 'The food is on the table.'

Notice that locative class prefixes are, in effect, pre-prefixes, since the nouns which take them already have a class prefix. Any noun standing for an object can be changed into a noun of location by the addition of a locative class prefix.

Other examples:

Ndili m'chipinda. 'I'm in the room.'
Muli pakhomo. 'You're at the entrance/outside.'
Ali ku Lilongwe. 'He's at Lilongwe.'
Munthu ali m'chitsime. 'The person is in a well.'
Akazi anga ali kamsika. 'My wife is at a market.'
Mxala uli patebulo. 'The rock is on a table.'
Mitengo ili paphiri. 'The trees are on a mountain.'
Exercises

A. Combine the following noun subjects and pronoun subjects with the phrase -li m'chipinda 'be in the room', using the appropriate AP where relevant:

Example: Mkazi wake + Mkazi wake ali m'chipinda. 'His wife is in a room.'

2. Chinthu chanu
3. Mipeni yake
4. Alendo awo
5. Tebulo

B. Repeat the above exercise using -li pakhomo 'be outside':

10. Mabuku awo ali patebulo?
2.4.2 Pali/Kuli/Muli 'There is/There are'

As do other nouns, the locatives have agreement with their modifiers and verbs. When the locatives appear with the verb -li 'be', they form 'there is/there are' constructions, with pa-, ku-, or mu- as the AP. The resulting forms pali/kuli/muli use the locative AP which corresponds to the type of location either expressed or implied. The locative noun may either precede or follow the verb with little difference in meaning:

- Kuli anthu kumeika. 'There are people at a market.'
- Kumeika kuli anthu. 'At a market there are people.'

Other examples:

- pali = 'there is/there are' (a specific location)
  - Patebulo pali dengu. 'On the table there is a basket.'
  - Pali mlendo pakhomo. 'There is a traveler outside.'

- kuli = 'there is/there are' (a general location)
  - Ku Zomba kuli msiika. 'At Zomba there's a market.'
  - Kuli anthu kumeika. 'There are people at a village.'

- muli = 'there is/there are' (an interior location)
  - M'apinda muli mipeni. 'In rooms there are knives.'
  - Muli chakudya m'munda. 'There's food in a field.'

In the above examples, the verbs take their AP from the locatives. When the locative phrase is followed by a modifier such as a possessive pronoun, the modifier may take the AP of either the locative or the class of the place noun with no difference in meaning. But it is more common for the modifier to agree with the locative noun:

Examples:

- Patebulo panga 'On my table' (pa- + -anga = panga)
- Patebulo langa 'On my table'
Here is a table of the locative classes, their prefixes and examples:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class #</th>
<th>Class Prefix</th>
<th>AP</th>
<th>Examples</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>16</td>
<td>pa-</td>
<td>pa-</td>
<td>Patebulo panga pali mpeni. 'On the table there's a knife.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17</td>
<td>ku-</td>
<td>ku-</td>
<td>Kuli chipatso kunsika kwaso. (ku- + a = kwa) 'There's fruit at their market.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>18</td>
<td>mu-</td>
<td>mu-</td>
<td>Muli ana m'chipinda mwana. (mu- + a = mwa) 'There are children in your room.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Possessive pronouns with locative APs indicate one's home:

Locative + Stem

- ku- + -athu = kathu 'our home' similarly: pathu/mxathu (literally: 'to/at our (place)')
- ku- + -anu = kwuru 'your home' similarly: panu/mxuru (literally: 'to/at your (place)')
- ku- + -awo = kwao 'their home' similarly: pawo/mxowo (literally: 'to/at their (place)')

In referring to home you should always refer to it in the plural:

Kathu ndi ku Boston. '(My) Our home is in Boston.'

Your home is considered more of a possession than a location: therefore, the form ndi 'be' is used instead of the -Li form.

Similarly, other locations which are considered as possessions will take the ndi form of 'be'. This will be the case when locations refer to locative nouns:

Pa Zomba ndi pano. 'At Zomba is here.'

Contrast such a form with a location used with a non-locative noun. Now the location is considered as only a location, not a possession (and therefore-zi functions for the meaning 'be'):

Miendo ali pano. 'A traveler is here.'
Exercises

A. Change the following sentences into 'there is/there are' constructions using the appropriate locatives and agreements:

Example: Mledo ali pakhomo. 'A traveler is at the door.'

Pali mledo pakhomo. 'There is a traveler at the door.'

Pakhomo pali mledo.

1. Zinthu zili m'dengu.
2. Mkazi wanga ali m'chipinda.
3. Msika'uli Kumudzi.
4. Matebulo ali pakhomo.
5. Anthu ali kumunda.
7. Chakudya chili patebulo.
8. Amuna awo ali ku Blantyre.
10. Mwala uli m'chitsime.

B. Translate the following sentences into Chichewa:

Example: There's a tree on the mountain.

Pali mtengo paphiri.

1. There are people at a market.
2. In a well, there are stones.
3. There's somé fruit in a basket.
4. There are some children in a road.
5. There's a toilet in a room.
6. There's a market in a village.
7. There are men in some fields.
8. Outside there are travelers.
9. There are some things in your room.
10. On a road there are trees.
C. Using the vocabulary provided below, make 'there is/there are' statements in the pattern:

Example: Locative AP + -li noun Locative Phrase (locative AP + noun)

| Pa-  + -li buku | pampando = Pali buku pampando. 'There's a book on the table.' |

2.4.3 Pakbe/Kulibe/Mtilibe. ‘There isn’t/There aren’t’

To express 'there isn't/aren't', a negative suffix -be is attached to pali, kuli, mali (kuli 'there is/are': kulibe 'there isn't/aren't'). You remember that you've been using si- 'not' with non-locative subjects of both -li and ndi:

Mkazi wanga sali pano. 'My wife isn't here.' (si + a + li = sali)
Mkazi wake si mphunzitai. 'His wife isn't a teacher.'

While -be also means 'not', its meaning is slightly different from si and that is why it is used with locative nouns. -be means more 'be without' than just 'be not', which is the sense of si:

Pampando palibe mphaka. 'On the chair there isn't a cat.'

Pampando palibe mphaka. 'On the chair there isn't a cat.'

Other examples:
Kumudzi kulibe anthu. 'In the village there aren't any people.'
Palibe chipatso patebulo. 'There isn't any fruit on a table.'
M'chitsime mulibe miyala. 'In a well there aren't any stones.'

Exercises

A. Change the following sentences from the affirmative into the negative:

Example: Paphiri pali mudsi. + Paphiri palibe mudsi.

1. M'dzanja langa muli mpeni.
2. Pali mpando pakhomo.
3. M'chipinda muli chitseko.
5. Pamsewu pali mlendo.
7. Pali mabuku patebulo.
8. M'dengu muli chipatso.
B. Change the following sentences from the negative into the affirmative:

Example: Palibe m'èwu paphiri. → Pali m'èwu paphiri.
'There's a roar on a mountain.'

1. Mulibe chipaşso mumitengo.
2. Pakhomo palibe alendo.
4. M'dengu mulibe fodya.
5. Patebulo palibe chakudya.
7. Palibe aphunzitsi pano.
8. Mulibe miyala m'munda.
10. M'manja mwake mulibe mpeni.

C. Answer the questions with 'yes' and an affirmative statement or 'no' and a negative statement.

Example: Palibe m'èwu paphiri? 'Is there a road on a mountain?'
Inde, pali m'èwu paphiri. 'Yes, there's a road on a mountain.'

1. Patebulo pali buku?
2. Pampando pali mwamusa?
3. M'chipinda muli akazi?
4. Kumsika kuli zakudya?
5. Paphiri pali mitengo?
6. M'mudzi muli gogo?
7. Alendo anu ali m'chipinda?
8. Aqa ake ali m'mudzi?
9. M'mudzi muli m'seu?
10. M'munda muli mpeni yawo?

D. Make true and false statements in the form 'there is/are; there isn't/aren't' about a picture, the classroom, or any shared information. The other members of the class will say inda if the statement is true, or iyayi if the statement is false.

Example: Paohithunzi pali anthu.
In this picture there are people. 'No.'
(lit.: 'on this picture...')

Ku Zomba kuli mapiri.
In Zomba there are mountains. 'Yes.'
2.5 VERB: -li ndi 'HAVE'

'Have' is expressed in Chichewa by combining the two forms which you have learned for the verb 'be': -li + ndi. Think of this combination as having the meaning 'have' in the sense of 'be with'.

Examples:

Tili ndi mabuku athu. 'We have our books.'
Muli ndi khasu. 'You have a hoe.'
Ali ndi mpeni wanga. 'He has my knife.'
Akazianga ali ndi mazira. 'My wife has some eggs.'
Midsi yowo ili ndi zitsime. 'Their villages have wells.'
Khomo lili ndi chitseko. 'An entrance has a door.'

'Have' is expressed negatively by dropping ndi and adding the suffix -be to -li (ali ndi 'he has' + alibe 'he doesn't have'). Notice that -be is the same negative suffix used with the negative of the locative constructions pali, kuli, muli (kuli + kulibe). Remember the -be suffix implies 'be without': Ndili ndi ana 'I have children' + Ndilibe ana 'I am without children'.

Examples:

Tilibe mabuku athu. 'We don't have our books.'
Mulibe khasu. 'You don't have a hoe.'
Alibe mpeni wanga. 'He doesn't have my knife.'
Akazianga alibe mazira. 'My wife doesn't have any eggs.'
Midsi yowo ilibe zitsime. 'Their villages don't have any wells.'
Khomo ilibe chitseko. 'The entrance doesn't have any door.'

In Chichewa there are certain common expressions employing the -li ndi construction, which translates as 'have', whose English equivalents use the verb 'be'. For example, in English, one would say 'I am 25 years old' whereas in Chichewa one would say 'I have 25 years' (Ndili ndi maka 25). Other examples:

-li ndi njala = 'be hungry' (literally 'have hunger')
-li ndi ludsu = 'be thirsty' (lit. 'have thirst')
-li ndi mwayi = 'be lucky' (lit. 'have luck')
Exercises

A. Combine the following nouns and pronouns with the verb phrase \(-/i\ ndi\ chakuda\) 'have food', using appropriate APs where necessary:

Example: \(U + -/i\ ndi\ chakuda\). \(\rightarrow\) \(Uli\ ndi\ chakuda\).

'You have some food.'

1. A-
2. Mkazi wake
3. Atsikana
4. Mu-
5. Mphunzitsi
6. Anyamata
7. Ti-
8. Mzungu
9. Mwamuna wanu

6. I don't have a name.
7. The room doesn't have any doors.
8. He doesn't have any guests.
9. They have a field.
10. The dogs don't have any food.

etc.

2.7 PRONUNCIATION EXERCISES

Aspirated toh vs. Unaspirated oh

The sound represented by oh in Chichewa doesn't occur at all in English. It's confusing, but the oh sound in English is represented by toh in Chichewa. To pronounce Chichewa toh, just try to produce English oh. This sound is aspirated, meaning that it is preceded by an extra puff of air when it is said. What is represented by oh in Chichewa is unaspirated; therefore, it doesn't have that same puff of air. To produce Chichewa oh, 'think d' (but otherwise approximate English oh). The unaspirated oh is more common in Chichewa than the aspirated toh. Listen to your teacher say these words and then repeat them:

Aspirated toh

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ntohito  'work'</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>tohalitohi 'church'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ntohentoha 'fly'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-otoha 'to roast'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Unaspirated oh

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ohinthu 'thing'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ohiteeko 'door'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ohaka 'year'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ohakudya 'food'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ohimbudzi 'latrine'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Aspirated kh vs. Unaspirated k

The letter k stands for the unaspirated counterpart of kh. Remember that kh is pronounced as k in English when it occurs as the first sound in a word. To pronounce the letter k in Chichewa, 'think g' but pronounce k. Listen to the following words and repeat them after your teacher:

Aspirated kh

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>khoewe  'rat'</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>khoomo 'entrance'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>khasu 'hoe'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>khate 'leprosy'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>khutu 'ear'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>khozo 'ancestor'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Non-aspirated k

<table>

<tbody>

<td>mkulu 'elder brother'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>makuwu 'hoes'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>kalata 'letter'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>makutu 'ears'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Single sounds but two letters:  te- and dz-

The letter combinations te- and dz- each stand for a single sound. Think of the sound represented by te as an English t merged with an English s. Think of dz in the same way—as an English d said at the same time as an English s. Listen to the following words and repeat them after your teacher:

- litaiko 'dirt'
- teiku 'day'
- chipateo 'fruit'
- teamba 'leaf'
- uzi 'smoke'
- mtedza 'ground nut (peanut)'
- chimbuzei 'latrine'
- dzamje 'hole, pit'
- dzina 'name'
- dziko 'country'

Consonant clusters with w-

A number of consonants form a cluster with w; that is, the consonant and w are each pronounced individually, but they form a single syllable along with the vowel which follows the w. Such clusters should give you no special problems, but listen to the following words and repeat them after your teacher:

- minimana (mxa-na) 'child'
- minimesi (mwe-si) 'month, moon'
- khoswe (kho-swe) 'rat'
- -bwereka (bwe-re-ka) 'borrow'
- -bwenzi (bwe-nsi) 'friend'
- -gwirizana (gwi-ri-xa-na) 'agree'
- -gwiritsa (gwi-ri-tea) 'hold firmly'
- -uwaxati (u-kwa-ti) 'marriage'
- -kwaya (kwa-ya) 'take'
- -pwezeka (pwe-te-ka) 'hurt'
2.8 TONE EXERCISES

The following listening exercises are designed to make you aware of tone so that you will be able to recognize tonal differences and to make them in your speech.

A. TWO AND THREE SYLLABLE WORDS

1. Listen to the following pairs of words said in their 'citation forms'. If the tonal patterns of the words are the same, say 'same'. If they are different, say 'different':

Example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>shinthu</th>
<th>'thing'</th>
<th>dengu</th>
<th>'basket' (same)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>dzina</td>
<td>'name'</td>
<td>/</td>
<td>'village'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>tsiku</td>
<td>'day'</td>
<td>/</td>
<td>'things'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>maina</td>
<td>'names'</td>
<td>/</td>
<td>'room'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>khasu</td>
<td>'hoe'</td>
<td>/</td>
<td>'egg'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ohimbudzi</td>
<td>'latrine'</td>
<td>/</td>
<td>'door'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>buku</td>
<td>'book'</td>
<td>/</td>
<td>'basket'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>maiku</td>
<td>'days'</td>
<td>/</td>
<td>'market'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>dengu</td>
<td>'basket'</td>
<td>/</td>
<td>'day'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mudzi</td>
<td>'village'</td>
<td>/</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2. Listen to the following three words; two have the same tonal pattern and one is different. Indicate the 'different' word by saying '1' if the first word is different, '2' if the second word is different, and '3' if the third word is different. (or show fingers to keep the noise level down).

Example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ohinhu</th>
<th>'thing'</th>
<th>buku</th>
<th>'book'</th>
<th>tsiku</th>
<th>'day' (1)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>

<tr>

<td>'village'</td>
<td>dengu</td>
<td>'basket'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>manthu</td>

B. Tone in Context

1. Possessives and Verb Phrases

The tone of a word in isolation may change when the word is used in context. For example, nouns consisting of or ending in a L-L tonal pattern remain low when they are followed by a pronoun and the verb phrase -li pano 'be here':

dengu 'basket'  Dengu langa lili pano. 'My basket is here'

Repeat the following examples of nouns ending in or consisting of a L-L tonal pattern in similar contexts:

zinthu 'things'  Zinthu zangá zili uko. 'My things are here.'
abambo 'father'  Abambo athu ali bwino. 'Our father is well.'
mudsi 'village'  Mudsi wawó uli pano. 'Their village is here.'
ohipinda 'room'  Ohipinda chaká chilli uko. 'His room is there.'

a) Combine the following nouns consisting of or ending in the tonal pattern L-L with the possessive pronoun -anu 'your' and the verb phrase -li pano. 'be here'. Listen to your teacher's pronunciation before saying it yourself with the proper tonal pattern.

Example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>Possessive</th>
<th>Verb Phrase</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>bambo</td>
<td>Bambo</td>
<td>warinu</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>madengu</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ohimbudzi</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

'Your father is here.'

However, observe what happens to the tone of a noun ending in or consisting of a H-L tonal pattern when it is followed by a possessive pronoun and a verb phrase:

amáyi 'mother'  Amáyi anu ali pano. 'Your mother is here.'
The effect is to raise the tone of the final syllable of the noun to a high one. Repeat the following examples of nouns ending in or consisting of a H-L tonal pattern in similar contexts:

- dsína 'name' - Dzíná langá ndi Jim. 'My name is Jim.'
- masíra 'eggs' - Masírá awó ali uko. 'Their eggs are there.'
- mkázi 'wife' - Mkázi wake ali bwino. 'His wife is well.'
- chipáto 'fruit' - Chipáto charu chili pano. 'Your fruit is here.'

b) Combine the following nouns ending in or consisting of high-low tones with the possessive pronoun -anga 'my' and the phrase -li uko 'are there'. Listen to your teacher's pronunciation before saying the sentence yourself with the proper tonal pattern.

Example:

(L) HL
Example: máyi - Máyi wanga ali uko.

amáyi akázi mténgó maxámena búku maxíra mhásu chipáto

c) Repeat exercises a and b with different possessive pronouns (-ako, -ako, -athu, -awo) and the verbal phrase -li bwino 'be well' where appropriate.

2. Ask each other's name with Dzíná lanú ndani? 'What's your name?', answering with Dzíná laná ndi ________. 'My name is ________.'

- Dzíná lanú ndani?
  Dzíná laná ndi ________.

Vary the question with -ake:

- Dzíná laké ndani?
  Dzíná laké ndi ________.
3. Ask and answer questions about each other's well-being in various ways (-li, -gona, -swera, -tandala) using the proper tonal patterns:

Muli bwáñji? - Ndili bwino.
Nyaswera bwáñji? - Ndawera bwino.
Nwatandala bwáñji? - Ndatandala bwino.
Nwagoná bwáñji? - Ndagóná bwino.

a) Vary your answer by adding pang'ono 'a little'.
Muli bwáñji? - Ndili bwino pang'ono.
Nyaswera bwáñji? - Ndawera bwino pang'ono.

b) Comment upon the preceding answer with pepání 'sorry.'
Muli bwáñji? - Ndili bwino pang'ono. - Pepání.
Nwagoná bwáñji? - Ndagóná bwino pang'ono. - Pepání.

2.1 MWAGONA BWANJI?

aBanda: Moni abambo. aChibwe: Zikomo aBanda: Mwagona bwansi? aChibwe: Ndagona bwino. Kaya inu? aBanda: Inensó ndagona bwino. aChibwe: Kunyumbá kuli bwansi? aBanda: Kunyumbá kuli bwino ndíthu.
Nanga máyi ndí āná ali bwansi?

2.2 VOCABULARY NOTES

mwagona bwansi - 'How are you?' (literally: 'How have you slept?') mu - 'you have' (mu 'you' + a 'present perfect "have"' = mwa)

gona - 'sleep'

ndagona bwino - 'I'm well.' (literally: 'I have slept well.')

nda - 'I have' (ndi 'I' + a 'present perfect "have"' = nda) nyumba (Class 9/10) - 'house/houses'

ndíthu - 'really, truly'

nanga - 'what about..., And...?'

ná - 'and' This conjunction links words in a sentence.

óanse - 'all'
2.3 USAGE NOTES

2.3.1 Other Greetings

A greeting of moni does not always require moni in response; you may respond with silomo or even see, a filler that means 'yes'.

In the previous lesson you learned Nuli bwandi? which is a general expression for 'How are you?' that can be used at any time of the day.

Nyagona bwandi? has a similar connotation with specific reference to how are you that morning (after a night's sleep). Therefore this greeting is used only in the morning until about 10 o'clock.

An equivalent expression is -wadiska bwandi? (wadiska 'get up') - 'How have you gotten up?' (again with particular reference to the morning after a night's sleep).

A: Wadiska bwandi?
B: Ndiska bwino.

Later on in the day, you would be more likely to ask Muaswera bwandi? (-swera 'spend time') 'How have you spent (your day)?' This greeting doesn't demand a recounting of the day's events--it simply asks 'How's it going?':

A: Muaswera bwandi?
B: Ndasa bwino.

An equivalent expression for -swera is -tanda. Muatandala bwandi? would also be a late morning, afternoon or evening greeting:

A: Muatandala bwandi?
B: Ndato bwanji.

2.3.2 Ndithu 'really'

This adverb is used as an intensifier to add emphasis (something/someone being 'really well'; ndi 'be' + thu 'really' = ndithu):

Tili bwino ndithu. 'We are really well.'

Ndithu can be used as an exclamatory filler to express agreement:

Ndithu! 'Really!' / 'I agree!'
2.3.3 Ndí 'and'

Ndí serves as a conjunction (a joining word) between words and phrases:

> Nanga mayi ndí ana?  'How about your wife and children?'

However, to join sentences together, ndípo, which also means 'and', is used:

> Ndí ndí mkawí ndípo ali bwinó. 'I have a wife and she is well.'

*Note that we have had four different uses of ndí:

1) ndí - 'I' pronominal subject prefix.

   Ndí bwinó. 'I'm fine.'

2) ndí - 'be' (with complement--which follows--of identity, possession, or quality):

   Rosi ndí dokotála. 'Rosi is a doctor.'

3) ndí - 'with' (also 'have' in the combination -li ndí):

   Ali ndí m'ani. 'He is with a wife' = 'He has a wife.'

4) ndí - 'and'

> Nanga mayi ndí ana ali bwanji?

   'What about (your) wife and the children, how are they?'
2.4 CULTURAL NOTES

2.4.1 Extended Greetings

In Cheŵa society, greetings are characterized by their extensive nature. In greeting someone, you not only inquire about his/her health but also about the state of his/her family, friends, and even job.

It is common for someone to ask about your village (if it is known that you've been there recently):

Kumudzi kuli bwanji?

Or about your work:

Kantchito ikayenda bwanji? 'How are things at work?'

Or:

Ntchito ikayenda bwanji? 'How is the work going?'

More specifically, you may ask about the members of the family:

Ranga mayi ndi ana? 'What about (your) wife and children?'

Ranga akazi anu ali bwanji? 'And how is your wife?'

Maiyi is a respectful term of address for women, and it is often used in referring to someone's wife. However, if one's wife and mother are both present in the household, there could be momentary confusion about whose well-being one is inquiring about.

2.4.2 Borrowing

All languages are in a constant state of change and expansion, and one such means of expansion is through borrowing words and expressions from other languages. (The English language is greatly enriched from its borrowings from Greek, Latin, French, and the Scandinavian languages.) One of the legacies of British colonialism was the introduction of the English language in Malawi. After Independence, it remained the official language alongside Chichewa. The recent and intimate contact between Chichewa and English has caused some borrowing of English words into Chichewa. Words have also been borrowed from other cultures with which Malawians have had contact (or still do); for example, some loan words have come from Portuguese (from Mozambique) or from other African languages in Southern Africa. Borrowed words include mainly words (such as technical and modern terms) for which there were no equivalents in Chichewa but also words for which such equivalents already existed.

These borrowed words went through orthographic (spelling) and phonological (sound) changes to 'Cheŵaize' them. One aspect of 'Cheŵaization' is to add vowels at the end of syllables since nearly all syllables in Chichewa end in vowels. Vowels too are changed since Chichewa has only five sounds compared with the dozen or more in English.
Here are some examples of borrowed nouns (either in Class 5/6 or 9/10) which have been so changed:

- book - buku
- table - tebulo
- school - sukulu
- conductor - kondakitala
- driver - dilevala
- tea - tii
- March - malichi
- store - sitolo

Names, too, are increasingly being affected by a similar spirit of 'Chewa-ization', a spirit which emphasizes pride in one's language and culture. Traditional names are being used more than in recent past, and Christian names are being modified (as the borrowed nouns were) although the change is mainly oral, not written. For example, 'John' might be pronounced 'Joni', 'James' might become 'Jemusia' and Eunice might become 'Yunisi'. Officially, however, the names will still be written 'John', 'James' and 'Eunice'.

1st student: Nanga ____________?

2nd student: Si-______________.

2.5.6 Using the vocabulary in Lessons 1A and 2A, one student should make sentences using -ti/ndi 'be' and -ti ndi 'have' and another should give its negative form:

1st: Ndine mphunzitsi.  (mlendo, mzungu, mnyamata, mwana...)

2nd: Sindine mphunzitsi.

1st: Ndili ndi mphaka.  (galu, fodya, katundu, mpeni...)

1st: Tilili pasukulu.  (khomo, sitolo, ntchito, munda...)

2nd: Sitili pasukulu.
2.5.7 Practice the expression -nso 'too, also' with one student making a statement and another student agreeing with it:

1st student: Ndili bwino. 'I'm well.'
2nd student: Ndili bwinonso. 'I'm well too.'

Pali phiri. 'There's a mountain.'
Paphiri pali mitengo. 'On the mountain there are trees.'
Paphiri palibe nyumba. 'On the mountain there aren't any houses.'

You would draw the mountain and the trees but omit the house. At the end of the teacher's description, compare your pictures to the teacher's original and to those of the other students.

Proverbs form an important part of Chewe oral history and tradition. They are frequently used (much more than proverbs in our society) in speech to reinforce an idea, to argue a point, or even to instruct. In the arbitration of disputes in traditional courts, proverbs are used by both parties to bolster their cases. Parents may instruct their children in correct social behavior by quoting proverbs and telling the explanatory story which often accompanies a proverb. And a leader may use proverbs to justify a particular decision or course of action.

A well-chosen proverb used at an appropriate moment then can wield influence and exhibit the speaker's wisdom. Throughout these lessons we'll introduce proverbs that you as a learner may be able to use in everyday speech. Try them and 'exhibit your wisdom!'

Here is one:

\textit{Pulumira adadiya gaga.} (He who was in a hurry ate the husks.)

Discuss the imagery and meaning of this proverb. When would you use it? In general this proverb means that if you are in too much of a hurry, you will do foolish things such as eating grain before the husks have been removed. In English we might say, 'Haste makes waste.'

3.2 NOUN CLASSES

3.2.1 Classes 9/10 (i/zi)

Classes 9 and 10 are unusual because the singular is identical to the plural in form. For example, nyumba can mean either 'house' or 'houses'. However, the agreement in the rest of the sentence distinguishes the two; i- is the singular AP for Class 9 and zi- is the plural AP in Class 10. Therefore, calling these classes i/zi classes refers to their agreement prefixes, and not any class prefixes:

Examples: Nyumba yake ili pano. 'His house is here.'

Nyumba yake ziili pano. 'His houses are here.'

In these classes there are many words that have been borrowed and adapted from English:

- sukulu 'school/schools'
- sitolo 'store/stores'
- galimoto 'car/cars'

You will also hear some speakers put these loan words in Classes 5/6; for example, sukulu/masukulu and sitolo/masitolo.

Not all nouns in Classes 9/10 have an overt class prefix; that is, like some Class 5 nouns, they have a zero prefix. But those which do have a class prefix present have some type of nasal sound (m-, n-, nki-, ny-) that appears with other sounds in combinations. Because of these prefixes, some call these the 'N Classes'. There are phonological rules that guide these combinations, and it may be useful to know a few rules to help you to recognize the combinations when they do occur. Some of these rules are at work in English.

For example, the negative prefix in- remains unchanged in 'indecisive', 'insensitive', etc. but becomes im- in 'impossible' and 'imbalance'.

*M-, a bilabial nasal sound produced at the lips, precedes other bilabial sounds (b- and ph-). This m as well as the other Class 9/10 nasals, is never syllabic, so these nasals always form a syllable with the consonant and vowel which follow:

- mbale (mba-le) 'plate/plates'
- mpateo (mpa-teo) 'gift/gifts'

mabala 'plate' is kept apart in meaning from mbala 'brother' by differences in pronunciation which are detailed later in this lesson in the pronunciation exercises.
N-, a nasal sound produced in the alveolar (mid) region of the mouth precedes the sounds d-, g-, k-, g-, t-, tag-:

Exercises

A. Change the Class 9/10 nouns in the following sentences from the singular to plural or from the plural to the singular:

Example: Njira zili bwino. → Njira ili bwino.

1. Nyumba ndi zathu.
4. Ng'ombe zanga zili m'munda.
5. Sukulu yathu ili uko.

B. Answer the following questions, first in the affirmative (essentially by repeating the sentence) and then go through the exercise again, answering in the negative (by making the sentence negative). Note that kodi has no meaning other than to signal that a question is being asked. It is optional with questions.

Example: Kodī muli nsomba m'nyanja?
'Are there fish in the lake?'

    Yaye, muli nsomba m'nyanja.
'Yes, there are fish in the lake.'

    Yaye, muli nsonba m'nyanja.
'No, there aren't fish in the lake.'

1. Kodī palı mphatso patebylo?
2. Kodī mphunzitsi ali pasukulu?
3. Kodī ali pantepto?
4. Kodī ng'ombe zake zili kunyumba?
5. Kodī nyumba yake ili ndi zitseko?
6. Kodī sitolo zili pamudzi?
7. Kodī njinga ili munjira?
8. Kodī muli ndalama mumanja mwanu?
9. Kodī muli ndi nsomba?
10. Kodī mbale zili patebulo?

*Note pantepto but munjira are commonly heard rather than other locative prefixes with these nouns.
C. Using your knowledge of Chichewa to date, make a sentence with each word listed below (use the nouns in singular form), using an possessive pronoun such as m'nya 'my'.

Example: njinga + njinga yanga ili m'nyumba/kumudzi/etc.

1. mbale 9. mphatso
2. nsomba 10. njinga
3. ntchito 11. njira
4. sukulu 12. ndalama
5. sitolo 13. ng'ombe
6. nyumba 14. galimoto
7. ndalama 15. nkhuku
8. nyanja

D. Repeat exercise C, this time using the nouns as plurals, making a sentence for each, and using a possessive pronoun such as m'nyuwa 'our'.

Example: Njinga m'nyuwa zili m'nyumba. 'Our bicycles are in a house.'

E. Make true and false statements about a picture, the classroom, or any shared information. The other members of the class will say inde if the statement is true or iyayi if the statement is false.

Example: Tili m'nyumba. Inde.
'Ve're in a house.' 'Yes'

Pali galimoto patebulo. Iyayi.
'There is a car on the table.' 'No'
3.2.2 Classes 12/13 (Ka/Ti)

These classes are the 'diminutive' classes with the Class 12 singular prefix ka- indicating a 'small person or thing' and the Class 13 plural prefix ti- indicating 'small people or things'. Theoretically, any noun can become a member of this class by taking either the ka- or ti- prefix. The result is a double prefix* with the original noun retaining its singular or plural class prefix even with the addition of the diminutive class prefix:

Examples:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Diminutive Class Prefix</th>
<th>Original Class Prefix</th>
<th>Noun Stem</th>
<th>Noun</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ka-</td>
<td>mu-</td>
<td>-ana = kamwana</td>
<td>'small child'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ka-</td>
<td>m-</td>
<td>-peni = kampeni</td>
<td>'small knife'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ti-</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-ana = tiana</td>
<td>'small children'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ti-</td>
<td>mi-</td>
<td>-peni = timipeni</td>
<td>'small knives'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

However, the diminutive class prefixes have their own APs (ka-, ti-) and they are used, not the agreements of the noun that is 'diminished':

Examples:

Kamwana kathu kalibe chakudya.
'Our small child doesn't have any food.'

Tinsomba tili m'nyanja.
'Some small fish are in a lake.'

Here is the table of the diminutive classes, their prefixes and examples:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class #</th>
<th>Class Prefix</th>
<th>AP</th>
<th>Examples</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| 12      | ka-        | ka- | Kadengu kanga kali panjinga.
My small basket is on a bicycle.
Kanyumba ndi kanu.
'A small house is yours.' |
| 13      | ti-        | ti- | Timadengu tanga tili panjinga.  (ti- + -a = ta)
'Very small baskets are on a bicycle.'
Tinsomba ndi tanu.
'Small houses are yours.' |

Diminutives are often used in a derogatory sense, especially with people, and although it may be all right to say kamwana 'a small child' (especially if it is clear from the context that 'a nice, small child' is meant), kamanthu 'a small person' may imply insult.

*However, kanthu 'a small thing' (ka + chi + nthu = kanthu) drops the Class 7 prefix when adding the Class 12 prefix.*
Exercises

A. Change the singular subjects of the following sentences into the diminutive by adding the prefix ka. Make all necessary changes in agreement:

Example: Mwala uli pamsewu. → Kamwala kali pamsewu.

'A small stone is on a road.'

1. Njinga yake ili m'nyumba.
2. Galu ndi wanga.
4. Dengu ndi lake.
5. Mtengo uli pakhomo.
8. Tebulo lili m'nyumba.
9. Mpando uli m'sitolo.
10. Mwana sali pasukulu.

B. Change the plural subjects of the following sentences into the diminutive by adding the prefix ti. Make all necessary changes in agreement:

Example: Nkhuku zili pa msika. → Tinkhuku tili pamstika.

'Some small chickens are at a market.'

1. Mipando ili m'chipinda.
2. Ana ilibe abambo.
3. Madengu ndi anga.
5. Amphaka ali pampano.
7. Mazira ali bwino.
8. Agalu anu ali pakhomo.
9. Miyala ili m'chitsime.
10. Makasu ali m'nyumba.
C. Substitute the following expressions into the model sentence, making all necessary changes in agreement:

Example: Model: Kadengu kanga kali panjinga.
Substitution: timadengu
New model: Timadengu tanya tili panjinga.

1. pakhomo  9. timipando
2. tiana    10. kampando
3. kamwana  11. -athu
4. -anu     12. kabuku
5. kagalu   13. timabuku
6. tiagalu  14. pampando
7. m'nyumba 15. -anga
8. -ake

D. Make a sentence using the following items and give the translation of what you say:

Example: kamwala + Kamwala kali pamewu. 'A small stone is on a road.'

1. kanyumba  6. kampeni
2. tiana     7. tinkhu
3. tinsomba  8. kasitolo
4. kanthu    9. kamwala
5. tisukulu  10. tinyumba
3.3 LOCATIONAL DEMONSTRATIVES 'The, This/That, These/Those'

As we have seen, there are no articles such as 'a, an, the' before a noun in Chichewa as there are in English. The noun itself can imply 'a' (example: chiteeko = 'a door'). The use of demonstratives specifies a person or object in one of two major senses: as either previously mentioned or as located in terms of proximity.

In Chichewa there are various demonstratives to distinguish whether something is 'near, very near, far, very far, or previously mentioned.' Two common demonstratives refer to something either 'near' or 'far'. They are equivalent in English to 'the', 'this/that', and 'the', 'these/those' when the English words are used in a locational sense. For example:

Take this book. (the one near me)
Give me that pen. (the one near you)
Do you see the spoon near Mary? (the one over there)

These demonstratives are formed according to the class of the noun:

the/this/these : agreement vowel + AP

The agreement vowel is the characteristic vowel of the AP; that vowel is prefixed to the entire AP. For example, the characteristic vowel of the Class 7 AP ahi- is i-. According to the above formula:

Agreement vowel + AP = Demonstratives

i- + ahi- = ichi 'the'/this'

When the AP is only a vowel, then w or y is inserted between the two vowels:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class</th>
<th>Agreement vowel</th>
<th>AP</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>a- + w- + a</td>
<td>axa* 'the'/'these'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9</td>
<td>i- + y- + i</td>
<td>iyi 'the'/'this'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

To form far locational demonstratives of 'the', 'that/those', o replaces the final vowel of the near demonstrative:

Example: Agreement vowel + AP + o i- + ahi + o = icho 'the/that' i- + azi + o = izo 'the/those'

*Demonstratives for noun classes 2 and 9 have two acceptable forms axa/awi or axa/aixo.
The full table of the noun classes and the 'near' and 'far' locational demonstratives is as follows:

</tbody>

The demonstratives follow the nouns they modify. When the demonstratives refer to location (as when you're pointing at something and saying 'this' or 'that' thing), they are written disjunctively from the noun. However, demonstratives may refer to something previously mentioned. In this case, they are suffixed to their nouns by dropping their initial vowel:

- Munthu uyo + Munthuyo 'that person' (the one we mentioned)
- Anthu awa + Anthawo 'these people' (the ones just mentioned)

These demonstratives can be used as suffixes only to make a second reference to something already mentioned in the conversation. When used in this way (as suffixes and as a second reference) they are no longer locational in a physical sense -- they now function more to tie together elements in a conversation, therefore they can be said to locate elements in the discourse.
Used as pronouns, the demonstratives are free standing:

'Izi ndi zinthu zanga.'  'These are my things.'
'Izo ndi zinthu zanu.'  'Those are your things.'

Other examples:

Munthuyu ndi bambo wake.
Agalu awo ndianga.
Mabuku ali pampondowo.
Mulibe olimanga m'mindayi.

'This person is his father.'
'Those dogs are mine.'
'The books are on that chair.'
'There isn't any maize in the fields (near here).'

Thumba lake ndi ilo.
Awa si madengu athu.
Chakudya icho ndi chawo.
Izi ndi ziptso.

'This bag is that one.'
'These aren't our baskets.'
'The food (over there) is theirs.'
'These are fruit.'
'The chicken (over there) is mine.'
'Those stores have knives.'
'My small child is that one.'
'These small houses have small doors.'
'There's work at that village.'
'At the school (near here) there's a farm.'

Kamwana kanga ndi ako.
Tinyumbati tili ndi tizitseko.
Pali ntchito pamudzipo.
Kusukuluyi kuli munda.

'My small child is that one.'
'These small houses have small doors.'
'There's work at that village.'
'At the school (near here) there's a farm.'

Kusukuluyi kuli munda.

'Mulibe ndalama m'thumbamumu.

2. chitseko 7. thumba
3. mwamuna 8. mpando
4. mkazi 9. kabuku
5. buku 10. munthu
3.4 YES/NO QUESTIONS

A yes/no question simply demands an affirmation or negation of a particular situation or state. (Do you have any money? Yes, I do... / No, I don't.) In Chichewa, yes/no questions are formed in either of two ways:

First, a simple sentence can be made into a yes/no question by preceding it with kodi:

Example:
Ichicoridichinechane. + Kodicorchicoridichane?  'This is yours.'
Ali kusukulu. + Kodicalikusukulu?  'He's at school.'

Kodi is merely a question marker which announces the fact that a question is being posed. It appears more often in formal situations. Kodi can also be used as a general exclamation (of surprise).

Second, a yes/no question can be asked simply by raising one's voice at the end of a simple sentence, a practice we have in English, too. (It's already eight o'clock?):

Example:
Ichicoridichinechane. + Ichicoridichinechane?  'It's yours.'
Ali kusukulu. + Alikusukulu?  'He's/she's at school?'

This latter method of forming a yes/no question is commonly used in informal situations and when questions are brief in length.

In answering yes/no questions, the equivalents of 'yes' (inde or eee) and 'no' (iyayi) precede the response:

(Kodi) muli ndi galimoto?  'Do you have a car?'
Inde, (ndili ndi galimoto).  'Yes, (I have a car).'
Iyayi, ndilibe.  'No, I don't.'

Although yes/no questions containing locatives ('is there/are there') are formed as other yes/no questions (with or without kodi), their answers may take two forms, one long and the other short. The long answer essentially repeats the information provided in the question:

Example:

Kodicorukuzukulukuliphunzitsi.  'Are there any teachers at school?'
Inde, kusukulu kuli aphunzitsi.  'Yes, at school there are teachers.'
Iyayi, kusukulu kuli beaphunzitsi.  'No, at school there aren't teachers.'
The short affirmative answers combine the verb -li 'be' with the locative suffixes (-po, -ko, -mo) to form -lipo, -liko, -limo. These constructions take APs referring to the class of the noun subject (chiteime...chilipo.)

Examples:

Kodi ku Zomba kuli chipatala?  'Is there a hospital at Zomba?  Inde, chiliko.  'Yes, there is.'  (literally: Yes, it's at there.)

Kodi patebulo pali dengu?  'Is there a basket on the table?'  Inde, lilipo.  'Yes, there is.'  (literally: Yes, it's on there.)

Kodi muli nsomba m'nyanja?  'Are there fish in that lake?'  Inde, zilimo.  'Yes, there are.'  (lit.: Yes, they are in there.)

To express a short negative answer, the palibe, kulibe, mulibe forms are used.

Examples:

Kodi ku Zomba kuli chipatala?  Iyayi, kulibe.  'No, there isn't.'  (lit.: It's not at there.)

Kodi patebulo pali dengu?  Iyayi, palibe.  'No, there isn't.'  (lit.: It's not on there.)

Kodi muli nsomba m'nyajamo?  Iyayi, mulibe.  'No, there are not.'  (lit.: They're not in there.)
Exercises

A. Provide answers for the following yes/no questions:

Example: (Kodi) muli ndi ana? 'Do you have children?'
    Inde, ndili ndi ana. 'Yes, I have children.'
    Iyayi, ndilibe (ana). 'No, I don't have children.'

1. (Kodi) ndinu mnyamata?
2. (Kodi) muli pasukulu?
3. (Kodi) mphunzitsi wanu ndi Mzungu?
4. (Kodi) ku Malaqi ndi kwamu?
5. (Kodi) muli ndi galimoto?
6. (Kodi) muli ndalama m'thumba mwanu?
7. (Kodi) ndinu mlimi?
8. (Kodi) abambo anu ndi aphunzitsi?
9. (Kodi) muli ndi mlongo?
10. (Kodi) pali zimbudzi pasukulu?

B. Practice making questions out of simple sentences, first by adding kodi and second by adding intonation. Then provide an appropriate answer.

Example: Muli anthu m'nyumba. → Kodi muli anthu m'nyumba?
                     Muli anthu m'nyumba?
    'Are there people in the house?'
    Answer: Inise, muli anthu m'nyumba.
             'Yes, there are people in the house.'
    Iyayi, mulibse anthu m'nyumba.
             'No, there aren't any people in the house.'

10. Muli ndi bukuli.
C. Using the following vocabulary, ask each other questions about objects and people using the "kodi" form and answering with 'yes' (inde) or 'no' (iyayi) and a short answer.

Example: Kodi muli ndi ndalama? 'Do you have any money?'
Iyayi, ndilebe. 'No, I don't.'
Inde, ndili ndi ndalama. 'Yes, I have money.'

13. nyumba
14. mlongo
15. nsomba
3.5 QUESTION-WORD QUESTIONS

As in English, question-word questions (such as who, what, where, how, etc.) in Chichewa are formed by adding an appropriate question word to the structure of a basic sentence. However, these types of questions in Chichewa differ from those in English in two major respects. First, certain question words come at the end of the sentence. Second, there is no inversion of sentence elements.

KUTI - 'where?'

Kuti is used for asking about the location of someone or something; it comes in word-final position. Pati 'where' (more specific) and muti 'where' (within) are used instead when appropriate.

Example: Nyumba yanu ili kuti? 'Where is your house?' (literally: Your house is where?)

Nyumba yanga ili ku Zomba: 'My house is in Zomba.

Ali kuti? 'Where is he?' (lit.: He is where?)

Ali kusukulu. 'He's at school.'

CHIYANI - 'what?'

Chiyani is used when asking about the identity of something; it usually follows the verb, and therefore is often at the end of the sentence.

Example:

Ichi { ndi chiyani nochiyani } pa Chichewa? (ndi + chiyani = nochiyani)

'What's this in Chichewa?' (lit.: This is what in Chichewa?)

Icho ndi chimanga. 'That's maize.'

M'dengu muli chiyani? 'What's in the basket?'

M'dengu muli ufa. 'In the basket, there's flour.'

NDANI - 'who?'

Ndani comes at the beginning of the sentence when asking about the identity of someone. The verb which follows will take the AP of the 'person class a'. (Ndani* is the subject governing the verb.)

Example: Ndani ali m'eatolo? 'Who is in the store?'

Mlongo wanga ali m'eatolo. 'My sister is in the store.'

*When the question asks about a person object of the verb, yani is used and it follows the verb. Anaona yani 'Whom did he see?': Yani will be discussed in a later lesson.
However, when asking about someone's name, ndani comes at the end of the sentence:

Example: Dzina lanu ndani? 'What's your name?'
(literally: 'Your name who?' -- 'what?' (chiyani) is only used in reference to things.)

Dzina langa ndi Joni. 'My name is John.'

Exercises

A. Make questions for the following answers, using the question words in parentheses:

Example: Ana ali ndi mphaka. (chiyani)
'The children have a cat.' (what?)

Ana ali ndi chiyani?
'What do the children have?'

1. Dzina lake ndi Sam. (ndani)
2. M’dzanja lanu muli ndalama. (chiyani)
3. Mlongo wanga ali m'nyumba yake. (muti) (ndani)
4. Icho ndi chimanga. (chiyani)
5. Joni ali ndi njinga. (ndani) (chiyani)
6. Sukulu ili paphiri. (pati)
7. Bambo wake ndi mphunzitsi. (ndani)
8. Ali pantchito. (kuti)
9. Muli dzira m'thumba lake. (chiyani)
10. Alendo anu ndi Azungu. (ndani)

B. Answer the following questions:

Example: Kxaru ndi kuti? → Kwathu ndi ku Boston.
'Where's your home?'
'My home is Boston.'

1. Mphunzi[it]si wanu ndani?
2. Dzina lanu ndani?
3. Ndani ali m'chipindamu?
4. M’dzanja lanu muli chiyani?
5. Muli kuti?
6. Patebulo pali chiyani?
7. Ndani ali bwino?
8. Ndani ali ndi akazi?
9. Ndani ali ndi njinga?
10. Dzina lake ndani?

3.7 PRONUNCIATION EXERCISES

A. Nonsyllabic nn- is the first consonant in a consonant cluster (ntch-, nd-, ns-, nj-, nk-) in many Class 9/10 nouns. It is always pronounced as part of the following syllable. Repeat the following words after your teacher, paying attention to syllable division. Do not pronounce a vowel before the n such as i finda:

- mamba (neo-mba) 'fish'
- njira (nji-ra) 'road'
- njinga (nji-nga) 'bicycle'
- ntchito (ntchi-to) 'work'
- ndani (nda-ni) 'who'

- nkhuku (nkhu-ku) 'chicken'
- ndalama (nda-la-ma) 'money'
- njoka (njo-ka) 'snake'
- nkhu (nkhu-ni) 'firewood'
- nthawi (ntha-ši) 'time, occasion'

B. Nonsyllabic m vs. syllabic m

M never forms a separate syllable (i.e., is syllabic) before the labials b, ph, f and v. This means that any nouns beginning with m in Classes 9/10 are never syllabic since all such nouns in these classes have m only before b, ph, f, and v. (There are two exceptions to the rule: mbole 'brother' and mphunsiti 'teacher', but both of these nouns are in Class 1.) M is only syllabic before the labial p and other consonants (which means those Class 1 or Class 3 nouns which meet these conditions do have syllabic m). Repeat the following words after your teacher. Try to hear—and then produce yourself—the contrast of nonsyllabic m vs. syllabic m:

Nonsyllabic

- mbole (mbo-le) 'plate'
- mphateo (mpha-teo) 'gift'
- mbeu (mbe-u) 'seed'
- mfu (mfu-mu) 'chief'
- mphapo (mpha-po) 'wind'
- mru (mru-u) 'hippo'

Syllabic

- mbole (m-ba-le) 'brother'
- mphunsiti (mphu-nsi-tsi) 'teacher'
- msewu (m-se-wu) 'path'
- msomali (m-so-ma-li) 'nail'
- mpeni (m-pe-ni) 'knife'
- mthunzi (m-thu-nsi) 'shade'

Note that mbole 'plate' and mbole 'brother' also differ in tonal patterns; mbole 'plate' has two low tones, and mbole 'brother' has the pattern low-high-high.
C. Ny

Ny (pronounced as ny in 'canyon') stands for a single sound even though it is represented by two letters; therefore, avoid saying n + y. Ny stands for a nasal sound made with the tongue blade pressed against the middle area (palatal) area of the mouth. All nouns beginning with ny- will be in Classes 9/10. Repeat the following words after your teacher.

- nyumba 'house'
- nyanja 'lake'
- nyali 'lamp'
- mmyamata (m-nya-ma-ta) 'boy'
- nyimbo 'song, hymn'
- nyenyezi (nyc-nye-zi) 'star'

D. Ng’ and N before g, kh

The letters ng’ and the letter n before g or kh stand for a single nasal sound which is made with the back of the tongue somewhat bunched toward the back of the mouth in the same place where you pronounce g and k. When you have n before g or kh, pronounce first the nasal and then the g or kh. A few Class 9/10 nouns begin with ng’. Take care not to pronounce these letters as n + g; rather, they represent a single nasal sound (similar to g, but not g itself). Repeat the following words after your teacher.

- ng’ombe 'cow'
- ng’ona 'crocodile'
- ng’oma 'drum'
- mpunga 'rice'
- chiponque 'insolence'
- mnyamata (m-nya-ma-ta) 'boy'
- mkhale 'cooking pot'
- chilankhulo 'language'
- nkhoswe 'tutor, advocate'
- nkhwangwa 'ax'
- mznanga 'my companion'

E. N before t, th, d, s, z, ch, j

When n is followed by these consonants, it is pronounced just like n before these sounds in English. In these combinations, n should give you no trouble at all, but practice the following words after your teacher pronounces them:

- ndege 'airplane'
- njinga 'bicycle'
- nthawi 'time, season'
- manja 'hands'
- ndiwo 'relish, sauce'
- msendo 'leg'
- mphunzite 'teacher'
- nseengo 'small basket'
- nohiyani 'what is'
3.8 TONE EXERCISES

The following listening exercises are designed to make you aware of tone so that you will be able to recognize tonal differences and make them in your speech.

A. TWO AND THREE SYLLABLE WORDS

1. Listen to the following pairs of words. If the tonal patterns of the words are the same, say 'same'. If they are different, say 'different':

Example:

njinga 'bicycle' - ntchito 'work' (different) sitolo 'store' - sukulu 'school' mbole 'plate' - myali 'lamp' ndalama 'money' - chimanga 'maize' neomba 'fish' - khome 'entrance' chitsulo 'tool' - chimanga 'maize' nkhu 'hen' - ntchito 'work' mongo 'sister' - dengu 'basket' sukulu 'school' - ndalama 'money'

2. Listen to the following three words; two have the same tonal pattern and one is different. Indicate the 'different' word by saying '1' if the first word is different, '2' if the second word is different, or '3' if the third word is different:

Example:

njira 'path' - nyali 'lamp' - dengu 'basket' (2) mlongo 'sister' - mbale 'plate' - neomba 'fish' chitsulo 'tool' - sukulu 'school' - chabwino 'fine' ntchito 'work' - njira 'path' - myali 'lamp' nkhu 'hen' - buku 'book' - mbale 'plate' zikomo 'thanks' - chimanga 'maize' - ndalama 'maize' ntchito 'work' - khasu 'hoe' - khomo 'entrance' mlongo 'sister' - neomba 'fish' - njira 'path' chabwino 'fine' - sitolo 'store' - sukulu 'school'
3. The following are two and three syllable words grouped according to their characteristic tonal patterns. Practice saying these words after your teacher:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>H-L</th>
<th>L-L</th>
<th>L-H-L</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>nkhuku</td>
<td>'hen(s)'</td>

<td>dengu</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>búku</td>

<td>khomo</td>
</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

<td>L-H-L</td>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>zikomo</td>
<td>'thanks'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>chabinuo</td>
<td>'fine'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

B. Tone in Context

1. The negative prefix si-

APs are normally low toned in positive verb phrases. For example, all tones in the sentence Ndili bwino 'I am well' are low. But with the addition of the high-toned negative prefix si-, the AP changes from L to H:

Si + Ndili bwino = Sindili bwino.

a) Combine the following low-toned APs with various verb phrases:

- li bwino 'be well'
- li pano 'be here'
- li uko 'be there'

Then add the negative prefix si-, making all necessary tonal changes:

Example: ndi-

1. u-
2. a-
3. ti-
4. mu-
5. a-
6. ndi-
b) Vary the above exercise with other verb phrases:

- li kamsika 'be at the market'
- li kumudzi 'be at the village'
- li kusukulu 'be at school'

Example: ndi-
Ndili kusukulu. Sindili kusukulu.

c) Practice saying * Sindikumva* ('I don't understand') as a response to various questions. Ask any questions you have learned so far and answer with Sindikumva in the proper tonal pattern:

Example:
Muatandala bwani?
Sindikumva. 'How are you?'
*Sindikumva.
Zaina laké ndani?
Sindikumva.

2. Practice saying the H-L toned greeting Ôdi with its L-H-L toned response Odîni. (You may wish to act out these greetings by having someone go outside.)

Ôdi  Odîni

a) Vary the greeting with zikomo as a first greeting and the responses Loûani or Eee:

Ôdi  Odîni
Zikomo  Loûani
Zikomo  Eee

b) Continue the dialogue with other appropriate greetings in the correct tonal patterns:

S1: Ôdi
S2: Odîni
S1: Zikomo abambo
S2: Zikomo amayi. Muli bwâni?
S1: Ndîli bwîno. Muli bwâni?
S2: Ndîli bwinónso.
3. Practice departures with Ndapita 'I'm going', Pitani bwino 'Goodbye (go well)', Tsalani bwino 'Goodbye (stay well)', and *Pitani bwinonso 'Goodbye too'.

S1: Ndapita. Pitani bwino.
S2: Tsalani bwino.

S1: Pitani bwino.
S2: Pitani bwinonso.

      with us íanu - 'with you' na + ínu = íanu with you
Eee - 'Yes' (a common expression of assent)
3.3 USAGE NOTES

3.3.1 Contractions

Nafe and nanu are contractions which occur between the particle na 'with' and the emphatic pronouns. Although uncontracted forms with ndi meaning 'with' do occur (ndi ife and ndi inu), the contractions with na are more representative of fluent, colloquial speech:

na 'with' + emphatic pronoun:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>na</th>
<th>ine</th>
<th>= nane</th>
<th>'with me'</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>na</td>
<td>iwe</td>
<td>= nase</td>
<td>'with you'</td>

<tr>
<td>na</td>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>na</td>
<td>inu</td>
<td>= nanu</td>
<td>'with you'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>na</td>
<td>iwo</td>
<td>= nawo</td>
<td>'with them'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

3.3.2 Kwa Chimono

Kwa is a locative form which occurs only with people to mean the 'place of someone'. Kwa is a contraction of the locative AP ku- 'at' + a of association meaning 'of'. Therefore kwa Chimono literally means 'at (the place) of Chimono'. Any name can follow kwa to indicate 'someone's place/home'; kwa Bill, kwa Sally, kwa Phiri.

You may hear villages referred to with kwa as in kwa abuluzi. In this case, abuluzi is the name of the village chief who, in a sense, 'owns' the village, so kwa abuluzi would mean 'at (the place) of Abuluzi.'

3.3.3 Odi / Odini

On arrival at someone's home or office, it is appropriate to announce your presence. This can be done by knocking, clapping, or saying zikomo or odi. In this context, both zikomo and odi have no special meaning other than as attention-getters. (Either zikomo or odi are also used as attention-getters (but then meaning roughly 'excuse me') at any point during a conversation when the speaker wishes to shift attention to something.) When one of these forms is heard at the door, the resident of the home or office will respond with Odini, a polite recognition of your arrival and an invitation to enter. An alternate response is to use the imperative form of the verb -loa 'enter': Loaani! 'Enter!'
3.3.4 Kodi mwabwera kudzacheza nafe?

When visits are informal in nature, the question of any purpose for the visit is never raised. However, there are times when the visit is something more than a social call. The host, sensing 'another' purpose, may ask such a question as: Kodi mwabwera kudzacheza nafe? It is a polite way of saying 'why have you come?', and it gives the visitor the opportunity to 'get to the point' (if there is one).

Another similar type of question is:

- Kodi nxangotiyendera? 'Have you just come to visit us?'
- Kodi/mwa/ngo/ti/yendera Inde, ndangokuyenderani. ? you've just us visit 'Yes, I've just come to visit you.'

This is also a polite inquiry. It is best to avoid such questions as 'Why have you come?' or 'Can we help you?' (Tikuthandizeni?) which are too abrupt at home but often heard in a business transaction in a store or bank.

3.4 CULTURAL NOTES

3.4.1 Visiting

One of the favorite leisure activities of Malawians is visiting with friends. Friends are expected to visit and to be visited frequently. There doesn't have to be a reason for the visit beyond just seeing how your are. Africans are group-oriented, and the loner is unusual, even suspect, in society. Therefore, visits are both social and a means of keeping someone from being alone. The visits may occur at any time of the day, and the visitors are to be allowed to enter the home where they will then be greeted. Then the chatting begins which may be an end in itself or may lead up to another 'purpose' for the visit.

When you are visiting friends in town, you don't need to give prior warning of your visit. Such a visit is very informal, and does not require any prior preparation by the host since you have not come from any great distance.

However, if you are visiting someone in another village whom you do not normally see, it is expected that you will forewarn them of your arrival. That will give them time to prepare to receive you with adequate food and, if necessary, lodging.
3.4.2 Food

Africans entertain with talk and good food. The longer you visit, the more food you will be offered. The guest is to be treated well, and food, to the Malawians, is at the center of generosity. The mere arrival of a guest sets in motion the preparation of some food to offer. Often, your host will prepare a special meal for you if your visit isn't an everyday occurrence. Chicken or pigeon is often served visitors. One Malawian referred to his pigeon loft as his 'refrigerator' since it's a ready source of food when unexpected visitors turn up.

For a casual visit around town, you will be offered something small to drink or eat. It may be water or beer, roasted maize or cassava. Most likely you will not be offered a meal unless you arrive at or near mealtime. In that case, you will be invited to join in the family meal in the following manner:

Chimono: Bwerani, tidye {nsima chakudya}.

'Come, let's eat some nsima (food).'

If you are willing to eat something, then you simply respond: Chabwino! 'O.K., Fine!'. If you do not want something to eat, you answer: Ndakhuta, zikomo! 'I'm fine, thanks!' or Ndili bwino, zikomo 'I'm all right, thanks.' An answer of just zikomo is not clear since it could imply either 'yes, thanks' or 'no, thanks'.

Note that chakudya 'food' has as its primary meaning nsima (ground maize meal porridge) since nsima is the primary Chewa food. Chakudya is also applied to other types of foods, but if you are offered some chakudya, especially in rural areas, don't be surprised if chakudya always turns out to be nsima.

A visit to another town or village is no casual affair since the visitor has come from some distance. He/she must therefore be hungry, thirsty or tired and the hosts see it as their duty to prepare something substantial for the visitor to eat, even if it is between meal times. This may cause some difficulties for the guest who has already eaten or who doesn't want to eat just then. In these cases, there are some linguistic signals you can offer at an appropriate time to indicate that you don't require food.

One useful phrase is:

Musavutika ndi chakudya. 'Don't bother with food.'
(i.e., Don't trouble yourself with preparing food.)
This is a polite way of indicating that you are fine and don't need anything to eat. However, you must be careful when you use it. It is not appropriate to say this upon your arrival since your hosts may not have even begun to do anything yet. In that case, it would almost seem like you were asking them to prepare something for you. It would be better to wait a while, keeping your eyes and ears open to any sign that 'kitchen activity' is going on. At that point, it would then be all right to indicate that you need nothing. You probably will be offered something anyway. Accept it and eat a little out of politeness, but you are not expected to finish everything you have been offered.

3.4.3 Departing

When it comes time to leave, your host won't just see you to the door and wave, as might happen in America. He/she will 'help you on your way' by walking at least a short way with you and possibly insisting on helping you carry something, no matter how little you have to carry. You'll no doubt be a bit surprised at all the attention showered on your departure, but it's just customary in Malawi. It may even happen when you've made a business call at an office. And you, in turn, should remember to treat your guests to more attention on their departure than you would be expected to in America.
3.5  EXERCISES

3.5.1  Odi/Odini

Practice these expressions by greeting each other at the door of the classroom:

1st student:  Odi!
   (outside)
2nd student:  Odini! / Loワンi!

Vary the structure by saying:

1st student:  Zikomo!
2nd student:  Eee!

3.5.2  Mwabwera kudzacheza nafe?

Practice this expression in the following pattern:

1st student:  Mwabwera kudzacheza nafe?
2nd student:  Inde, ndabwera kudzacheza nanu.
   Mwabwera ________?
   Inde, ndabwera ________.

Use an equivalent expression:

1st student:  Kodi mwagotiyendera?  'Have you just come to visit?'
2nd student:  Inde, ndangokuyenderani.  'Yes, I've just come to visit you.'
   Kodi mwa-__________.
   Inde, nda-__________.

3.5.3  Bwerani, tidye nsima.  'Come, let's eat nsima.'

Practice responding appropriately to this invitation:

1st student:  Bwerani, tidye nsima.
2nd student:  Chabwino!
   OR:  Ndakhuta, zikomo.
   OR:  Ndili bwino, zikomo.

1st student:  Bwerani, ____________.
2nd student:  ______________.
3.5.4 THE DIALOGUE

Perform the dialogue at the beginning of the lesson by taking the roles of Chimono and Bill and by acting out the scene with the classroom serving as Chimono's home.

Vary the dialogue using different participants, equivalent structures, and expanded greetings.

3.5.5 Ichi/Icho nchiyani pa Chichewa?* 'What's this/that in Chichewa?'

This expression can be useful to review previously learned vocabulary and to learn new vocabulary. Student #1 should point to or hold a familiar object and pose the question. Student #2 should answer:

1st student: Ichi nchiyani pa Chichewa?
2nd student: Icho ndi ____________.

Vary the pattern by asking each other yes/no questions about the identity of objects and people:

1st student: (Kodi) ili ndi buku?
2nd student: Inde, ilo _________.
          Iyayi, ilo ________.

3.5.6 SUPPLEMENTARY DIALOGUE

Try and understand the following dialogue:

aMary: Ódi!
Mayi Banda: Loñani! Moni aMary.
          Mulî bwângi?
aMary: Ndî li bwîno. Mulî bwângi amáïyi?

Ujeni - 'whatshamacallit, whatsisname' (ujeni is a filler used when you can't think of the name of someone or something at the moment. It's only used when both the speaker and listener know the person or object referred to. It's rather like saying 'you know what I mean'. The actual name will follow ujeni as the speaker recalls it.

Example: Chiwala ndi - ujeni - Mateche alipo.

'Chiwala and - whatsisname - Mateche are there.'

Kumsika kuli - ujeni - chimanga.

'At the market there's - whatchamacallit - maize.'

3.7 PROVERBS

Discuss the imagery and meaning of these proverbs.

Mlendo sathyola mphasa. (A visitor doesn't break a mat.)

Mlendo ndi mame. (A visitor is dew.)

When would you use them? Mlendo sathyola mphasa means, in general, that a visitor is never too much of a burden, that a visitor can always be accommodated with no harm to anyone. Mlendo ndi mame means that a visitor refreshes and even can be seen as a fresh opportunity (for enjoyment), as the dew marks the beginning of a new day.

4.2 VERB FORMS

We have already seen the verb -li and ndi 'be' and its combination as -li ndi 'have'. They are perhaps the most common verbs, and they are somewhat simpler in form compared to other verbs in Chichewa.

A typical Chichewa verb has four basic parts in this order:

(1) AP* (subject prefix)
(2) a tense/aspect prefix (hereafter abbreviated as T/A)
   (tense = time; for example, 'past', 'future') (aspect = nature of the occurrence of action; for example, 'usually', 'completed')
(3) a verb root
   (contains the content; for example 'eat', 'go')
(4) a final suffix
   (either -a or -e, depending on tense and voice; adds no meaning)

An example of a typical verb is this:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>AP</th>
<th>T/A</th>
<th>Verb Root</th>
<th>Final Suffix</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-ma-</td>
<td>pit-</td>
<td>-a</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

amapita = they usually go

The root plus the final suffix is called the verb stem. When new verbs are introduced, they will be presented as verb stems. Since most verb forms take -a as the final suffix, this will be used in listing verb stems.

An infinitive form of the verb (translated by 'to + root meaning') consists of the AP of the infinitive noun class (ku-) plus the verb stem. Kapita, then, means 'to go'. It can also be translated as 'going'.

4.3 The Present Progressive/Continuous

One of the most common verb forms refers to actions occurring at this very moment. The T/A for this form is:

-(li)ku-

This T/A is actually a combination of -li- (from the verb 'be') and -ku-(the AP for the infinitive noun class). The final suffix is always -a with -(li)ku- in the T/A slot. Here are some common verbs in this form:

We are referring to all subject prefixes as APs. However, first and second person pronominal forms (ndi 'I', ti 'we'; u 'you', mu 'you') don't, of course, have any nouns (with which they are in agreement) which stand before them (as antecedents) in the discourse.
In most spoken and written usage, the -\( \text{i} \) is dropped from the progressive construction with no loss in meaning:

\text{alikupita} = \text{akupita}

'he is going'    'he's going'

We will use the -\( \text{ku} \) form throughout the book, but just remember that the two T/A forms (-\( \text{iku} \) and -\( \text{ku} \)) mean exactly the same thing.

Here are some other examples of the present progressive:

\begin{align*}
\text{Muku\( \text{pita} \) kuti?} & \quad \text{'Where are you going?'} \\
\text{Ndikupita kumeika.} & \quad \text{'I'm going to the market.'} \\
\text{Alikudy a chiyani?} & \quad \text{'What is she eating?'} \\
\text{Alikudy a nsomba.} & \quad \text{'She's eating fish.'} \\
\text{Kodi muku\( \text{gwira} \) ntchito tsopano?} & \quad \text{'Are you working now?'} \\
\text{Inde, ndikugwira ntchito tsopano.} & \quad \text{'Yes, 'I'm working now.'} \\
\text{Ndani akumwa madzi?} & \quad \text{'Who is drinking water?'} \\
\text{Bwenzi laka likumwa madzi.} & \quad \text{'His friend is drinking water.'} \end{align*}

To form the negative of the present progressive, the negative prefix \( \text{si} \) is attached to the beginning of the verb construction:

\text{si- + akupita} = \text{sakupita} \quad (\text{si} + \text{a} = \text{sa})

not / he's going    'he isn't going'

Examples:

\[
\begin{align*}
\text{Sindikupita kumeika.} & \quad \text{'I'm not going to the market.'} \\
\text{Sukupita kusukulu.} & \quad \text{'You aren't going to school.'} \\
\text{Sakumanga nyumba.} & \quad \text{'He isn't building a house.'} \\
\text{Sitikumanga sitolo.} & \quad \text{'We aren't building a store.'} \\
\text{Simukulemba kalata.} & \quad \text{'You aren't writing a letter.'} \end{align*}
SakuLemba mahuku.

'That boy isn't reading his book.'

Ana sakwereenga mabuku awo.
'The children aren't reading their books.'

Tete wangya sakugula nyama.
'Those women aren't selling any fish.'

Exercises

A. Make some sentences in the present progressive using the following vocabulary and pattern:

Example: Ndikugula nsomba.  'I'm buying some fish.'
Amayi akudya chipatso.  'Mother is eating fruit.'

B. Repeat the preceding exercise, making sentences with present progressive verbs in the negative:

Example: Ndikugula nsomba. Sindikugula nsomba.
C. Answer the following questions:

Example: Mukudya chiyani? + Ndikudya chipatso.
'What are you eating?' 'I'm eating fruit.'

1. ngo wanu akupita kuti?
2. Ndani akulemba kalata tsopano?
3. Mukuwerenga kuti?
4. Amayi akugulitsa chiyani?
5. (Kodi) mukupita kusukulu?
6. (Kodi) abambo anu akumanga nyumba?
7. Ndani akugulitsa galimotoyo?
8. Alikugwira ntchito kusitolo?
9. Anu akuwerenga chiyani?
10. Mukumanga nyumba yamu kuti?

D. Make questions in the present progressive T/A -(Li)ku- using the vocabulary provided and then give an appropriate answer:

Example: -Werenga/kuti Akuwerenga kuti? 'Where is he reading?' Akuwerenga pakhomo. 'He's reading outside.'

1. -manga/chiyani
2. -kodi/-gulitsa/njinga
3. -pi tä/ku'i
4. ndani/-mwa/mọwa
5. kodi/-pitu/kusukulu
6. -lemba/chiyani
7. -gula/chiyani/m'sitolo.
8. kodi/-dya/tsopano
9. ndani/-gwira ntchito/kumiska
10. -Werenga/chiyani

E. Make true and false statements in the present progressive about activities going on in a picture or in the classroom. If the statement is true, say inde 'yes'; if it is false, say iyayi 'no' and correct it.

Example: Ndikuerenga kalata. Inde.
'I'm reading a letter.' 'Yes'

Iyayi, mukuwerenga buku.
'No, you're reading a book.'
4.4 NOUN CLASSES

4.4.1 Class 15 (Ku) : the Infinitive

Just as in English, the infinitive form of the verb in Chichewa (ku + verb stem, for example kugula 'to buy') functions in three ways:

(1) as the object of a main verb:
   example: Ndikufuna kugula goli'moto. 'I want to buy that car.'

(2) as a noun which may be the subject of a verb:
   example: Kudya 'akudya kuli brino. 'To eat food is good.'

(3) as a noun which may have modifiers:
   example: KuDerenga kwanu ndi kwa pang'onono pang'onono.
   'Your writing is slow.'

Note that in Chichewa, since infinitives are nouns in Class 15, their modifiers must take class elements for Class 15. The class prefix and the AP are the same for Class 15: ku-. Before vowels, ku- becomes kw-, as in kwanu.

|         |              |    | Agogo anga akufuna kugulitea sitalo yawo.
 'My grandparents want to sell their store.' |

Exercises

A. Change the present progressive verbs in the following sentences into verbs expressing '...want to...' with the pattern -kufuna + infinitive and give the meaning.

Example: Mukugula chimanga. + Mukufuna kugula chimanga.
'We want to buy maize.'

1. Sindikugwira ntchito tsopano.
2. Bambo wake akupita kuti?
3. Akuwewenga sukuli.
4. Sitikyuda pakhomo.
5. Ndani akupita ku Blantyre.
6. Mukumwa chiyani?
7. Ana akuwerenga kalatazo.
8. Kodi mukudy a nsomba?
B. Substitute the following expression into the model question and then provide an appropriate answer:

Example:
Model: Mukufuna kugula ohiyani?
What do you want to buy?

Substitution: kudya

New Model: Mukufuna kudya ohiyani?
What do you want to eat?

Answer: Ndikufuna kudya n'imza.

1. kuwerenga
2. kumwa
3. kuchita
4. kumanga
5. kudya
6. kuti? ('where')
7. kupita
8. kugwira ntchito
9. kulemba
10. kugulitsa chimanga icho

4.4.2 Classes 14/6 (U/MA)

Class 14 is often known as the U-class because all of the nouns in it begin with the singular class prefix u- and take the AP u-:

Examples: Ukonde uli m'madzi. 'The net is in the water.'
Ndikumanga ulalo uwo. 'I'm building that bridge.'
(u+u=wo)

Mukupita kuulendo wanu. 'You're going on your journey.'

Class 14 singular nouns use Class 6, the ma-class (discussed in Lesson 2) for plurals:

Examples: Maukonde ali m'madzi. 'The nets are in the water.'
Ndikumanga maulalo awo. 'I'm building these bridges.'
(maulalo = wa)

Mukupita kumaulendo anu. 'You're going on your journeys.'
Many of the Class 14 nouns are abstract or collective and have only a singular form:

- ufa 'flour'
- ulemu 'honor'
- udzudzu 'mosquito'*

*Yes, 'mosquito' is considered a collective noun in Chichewa, much like 'sugar' or 'flour' in English.

Exercises

A. Make sentences using the vocabulary provided below:

Example: -pita/ulendo + Abambo anga akupita kuulendo. 'My father's going on a journey.'

1. -manga/ulalo/pano
2. ng'ombe/-dya/udzu
3. -li/udzudzu/kunyanja
4. -gulitsa/maukonde/kusitolo lyo
5. ufa/-li/patebulo

B. Make the following substitutions into the model question and then provide an appropriate answer:

Example: Model: Mabukuwo ali kuti? 'Where are the books?'
Substitution: Bukuto
New Model: Bukulo lili kuti? 'Where is the book?'
Answer: Bukulo lili m'thumba langa. 'The book is in my pocket.'

1. ukonde 6. sitolo
2. nsomba 7. udzudzu
3. ulalo 8. zolemera
4. mowha 9. ufa
5. udzu 10. madzi
4.5 THE HABITUAL ASPECTS

Habitual acts can be referred to either in the present or past time. In Chichewa, the same low-toned T/A (-ma-) is used for both times, but a contextual tonal difference keeps them apart. The present habitual -ma- is preceded by a high-toned agreement prefix; the past habitual -ma- is preceded by a low-toned agreement prefix.

Compare: *Ndimapita. 'I usually go.'
Ndimapita 'I used to go.'

The habitual past will be discussed in a later lesson. Whereas the present progressive -(li)ku- expresses an action taking place at this very moment, the habitual present indicates a habitual action, one that usually occurs (but not necessarily at this very moment). This habitual form may refer to either present or future actions. (The nature of the occurrence 'usually' rather than time is the main meaning conveyed.) It is represented by a high-tone and the prefix -ma-:

\text{a-} -\text{ma} - -\text{pit-} -\text{a} = \text{ämoplasta (masiku onse)}

He/she / usually / goes 'He/she usually goes (everyday)'

Other examples:

*Ndimagwirí nchito masiku onse. 'I work everyday.'
Ômadýá nyama kwambiri. 'You usually eat a lot of meat.'
*Amagulí chiptsso kuašíka. 'She usually buys fruit at the market.'
Timagulí chiptsso kušíto. 'We usually buy fruit at the store.'
Kodi múmamá moíva masiku onse? 'Do you usually drink beer everyday?'
*Amášerànga kuti? 'Where do you usually read?'
Muanayu āmapitá kusuku. 'This child goes to school.'

Adding the word-initial prefix si- makes the habitual form negative, as it did with the present progressive -(li)ku- form. But for the negative habitual, there is a zero in the T/A slot:

\text{Negative + AP + } \emptyset + \text{verb root} + -\text{a}

\text{si-} + \text{ndi-} + \emptyset + \text{pit-} + -\text{a} = \text{Sindipita kusuku} \text{ masiku miš.}

'Not / I / usually / go I don't usually go to school every day.'

*Amungu sadýa nsíma. 'Europeans usually don't eat nsíma.'
*Amayi anga salemba kaluta. 'My mother usually doesn't write letters.'
The verb -/i 'be' can not take the -ma- prefix; instead, -khala 'be/stay/live' replaces -/i in the present habitual form:

Ndili pantchito. + ŋdimakhala pantchito. 'I'm usually at work.'
Ali ndi galu. + ŋmakhalá ndi galu. 'He usually has a dog.'

In sum, compare the habitual with the present progressive:

HABITUAL: 'usually/everyday'

Amapita kusukulu masiku onse.
'The goes to school everyday.'
Ndímadlyá chopatso masiku onse.
'I eat fruit everyday.'
Sapita kusukulu masiku onse.
'He doesn't go to school everyday.'

PROGRESSIVE: 'now'

Akupita kusukulu tsopano.
'He's going to school now.'
Ndikudyá chopatso tsopano.
'I'm eating fruit now.'
Sakupita kusukulu tsopano.
'He's not going to school now.'

Also compare the present/future habitual tense 'usually' (AP with a high tone) with the past habitual tense 'used to' (AP with a low tone):

PRESENT/FUTURE: 'usually'

Amapita kumudzi masiku onse.
'She goes to the village everyday.'
Timagwirá ntchito tsiku lili lonse.
'We work each day.'

PAST: 'used to'

Chaka ohatha amapitá kumudzi masiku onse.
'Last year she went to the market every day.'
Timagwirá ntchito tsiku lili lonse.
'We used to work each day.'

9. Kodi amayiwo amagula ufa masiku onse?
10. Kodi aBanda amagwira nt.hito kwambiri?
4.6 INTERROGATIVE: BWANJI?

Of all the question words, bwanja is perhaps the most versatile. It can ask about state, manner, cost, means, reason, and even time. It is usually (though not exclusively) translated as 'how?' and it follows the verb.

What We first encountered bwanja in the initial greetings asking about someone's well-being:

Example: Muli bwanja? 'How are you?'
Mdili bwino. 'I'm fine.'

Similarly, you can ask about the state of an inanimate object with bwanja.

Example: Njinga yanu ili bwanja? 'How is your bike?'
Ili bwino. 'It's all right.'

MANNER You can ask about the manner in which something is done with bwanja. Manner can imply two different aspects of the way something is done. For example, consider the following question:

Example: Amalemba bwanja? 'How does she write?'

There can be two possible answers to this question, one which mentions manner and another which speaks of a means or instrument:

Example: Amalemba {bwino. meanga.} 'She writes {well. quickly.}'
Amalemba ndi cholembera. 'She writes with a pen.'

Not all bwanja questions of manner provide the possibility of two interpretations. Context will usually determine which aspect of manner is implied.

There are two particles used to designate means or instrument by which something is done. The locative pa is used with a conveyance or when the sense of the means indicates 'by' or 'on':

Panapita bwanja kusukulu? 'How do you go to school?'
Ndimapita panjinda. 'I go by bicycle.'
Ndimapita pagalimoto. 'I go by car.'
Ndimapita pabasi. 'I go by bus.'
Ndimapita pansi. 'I go on/ by foot.'

Nd is the particle used to express the instrument 'with' which something was done:

Pumadiza bwanja nsima? 'How do you eat nsima?'
Ndimapita nsima ndi manja. 'I eat nsima with the hands.'
Ndimapita ndi fotoko. 'I eat with a fork.'
Ndimapita ndi supu.' 'I eat with a spoon.'
Exercises

A. Give the translations of each sentence below and then make bwanji? questions for the sentences:

1. Amayi anga ali bwino.
2. Mwana wanu amawerenga bwino.
3. Ndimapita pansi kumsika.
4. Timadya chipatso ndi manja.
5. Akumanga nyumba yanga ndi miyala.
7. Amagwira ntchito bwino.
8. Amaweza kalata ndi cholemba icho.
10. Mlongo wanga amamanga ulalo bwino.

B. Answer the following questions:

Example: Kumusi kuli bwanji? + Kumudzi kuli bwino.

2. Azungu amadya nsima ndi manja?
3. Mumawera bwanji ku Chancellor College?
4. Mumaleza bwanji kalata?
5. Kodi banja lanu lili bwino?

C. Practice using bwanji by asking each other questions about manner (means) and state.

2nd student: Ndimapita panjinga.

4.8 PRONUNCIATION AND TONE EXERCISES

A. Pronunciation

1. W AND Ŵ

The sound of \(w\) in Chichewa is similar to that sound in the English words 'water', 'unwed' and 'word'. But, \(w\) contrasts in Chichewa with the sound \(\hat{w}\), which does not occur at all in English. Think of \(\hat{w}\) as 'halfway between' the English \(b\) and the English \(v\). But the lips are closed to make \(b\), and making \(v\) involves using the teeth against the lower lip. \(\hat{w}\) is a sound produced by the friction of air as it passes through nearly closed lips, with no teeth contact involved. Try making the sound \(b\), but don't close your lips, so that a steady stream of air escaping through them causes a vibrating sensation. This will be the sound you hear in such words as Malawi and Chichewa. Listen to the following words as your teacher says them and repeat:

\begin{align*} \text{awa} & \quad \text{‘these’} \\ \text{wawa} & \quad \text{‘man’} \\
\text{kuwaza} & \quad \text{‘to sprinkle’} \\
\text{iwe} & \quad \text{‘you’} \\
\text{ndiwo} & \quad \text{‘relish’} \\
\text{uwa} & \quad \text{‘bark (of a dog)’} \\
\text{wanga} & \quad \text{‘my/mine’} \\
\text{wophunzira} & \quad \text{‘student’} \\
\text{msewu} & \quad \text{‘road’} \\
\text{a\(\hat{w}\)a} & \quad \text{‘these’} \\ \text{-\(\hat{w}\)a} & \quad \text{‘hurt’} \\
\text{k\(\hat{w}\)asa} & \quad \text{‘to split’} \\
\text{-\(\hat{w}\)a} & \quad \text{‘enter’} \\
\text{-\(\hat{w}\)ala} & \quad \text{‘forget’} \\
\text{-\(\hat{w}\)erenga} & \quad \text{‘read’} \\
\text{mo\(\hat{w}\)a} & \quad \text{‘beer’} \\
\text{nth\(\hat{w}\)i} & \quad \text{‘time’} \\
\text{-ds\(\hat{w}\)a} & \quad \text{‘know’}
\end{align*}
2. VOWELS: A, E, I, O, U

The five vowels in Chichewa represent single sounds that are pronounced either short or long. They differ from English vowels, which are always short and often characterized by a gliding from one vowel sound to another. Therefore, when pronouncing vowels in Chichewa, concentrate on saying a single vowel sound without any off-glide.

A in Chichewa is halfway between the vowel sounds in English pot and pat. It is made more forward in the mouth than the English a. Repeat the following words containing the sound a after your teacher:

kalata 'letter' kanawa 'these children' sala 'fingers' abanda 'Mr. Banda' shanga 'my, mine'
somala 'take care of'
tondala 'pass time'

I in Chichewa is similar to the vowel sound in the English word bet, but it is pronounced with the tongue lower in the mouth and the mouth more open. But don't confuse it with the vowel sound in English bait. That is a different sound. Repeat after your teacher the following words containing the sound e:

amene 'which, who, that' nee 'yes' jekeseni 'injection' ndeo 'airplane'
-werenga 'read'
-pereka 'offer'
Nuseka 'You should laugh.'

I in Chichewa is different from any vowel sound in English. It definitely is not the vowel sound in the English word bit. Rather, it is made with the tongue higher in the mouth and the lips closer together. It is somewhat like the first part of the vowel sound in English beat, but it does not have the off-glide that this English sound has. Repeat after your teacher the following words containing the sound i:

"I am"
"these paths"
'a lot, much'
'mountains'
'hello'
'we aren't'

O in Chichewa is similar to the vowel sound in the English word go, but it is made with the mouth more open and the tongue lower in the mouth. Try to avoid the off-glide on the o which we produce in English. This sound in Chichewa is made with a good deal of lip-rounding. Repeat after your teacher the following words containing the sound o:

'shorts, excuse me, etc.'
'store, shop'
'life'
'o'clock'
'now'
'in front'

U in Chichewa is similar to the vowel sound in the English word too, but it doesn't have the off-glide to an 'uh' sound which also accompanies this vowel in English. The u sound in Chichewa also has more lip-rounding than its counterpart in English. Repeat the following words containing the sound u:

'book'
'respect'
'this person'
'head'
'grass'
'school/schools'
B. Tone

1. Chichewa verb stems have been categorized as being either low or high. Low verbs have only low tones in their imperative form (Pita! 'Go!'); high verbs have L-H tonal patterns in their imperative form (Goná 'Sleep').

Listen to your teacher pronounce the following lists of low and high verbs. Try to distinguish the tonal patterns and then say them yourselves:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Low</th>
<th>High</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>dzaa 'be, stay, live'</td>
<td>khalá 'go'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pita 'go'</td>
<td>tealá 'stay'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>choka 'go away'</td>
<td>kondá 'like'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>chita 'do'</td>
<td>goná 'sleep'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>yenda 'walk'</td>
<td>pená 'find'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>lemba 'write'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2. In the infinitive ku- form, these two syllable stem verbs have a uniform L-H-L pattern in sentence final position regardless of the tonal distinctions made in their stem forms. Therefore:

a low verb dzaa becomes ku dzía 'to know'.

a high verb goná becomes ku goná 'to sleep'.

Practice this infinitive tonal pattern by first saying the verb in its high or low imperative form and then by saying it in its infinitive ku- form.

Example: dzaa - kudza pita - choka - khalá - goná -
          etc.
3. The present continuous/progressive form of the verb consists of a low-toned AP + (-li) 'be' + ku- + verb stem. (Note that ku- + stem is, in fact, the infinitive form. Therefore, it has the same tonal pattern as the infinitive (L-H-L). The tonal pattern of the present continuous/progressive in sentence final position would be:

\[ \text{AP} + (-\text{li}) + \text{ku-} + \text{verb stem} \]

a- (-\text{li-}) -\text{ku-} -\text{pita} = \text{alikupita or akupita} \]

'he's/she's/they're going'

a) Practice the tonal pattern of the present continuous/progressive form of the verb by combining the AP a- with the T/A prefix -(li) ku- and the verb stem:

Example:
\[
a- + (-\text{li}) \text{ku-} + \text{verb stem} \]
\text{gona} = \text{alikugona/akugona} \] gona tealá yendá chita lemba

b) Vary this exercise by using other APs:

Example:
\[
\text{ndi-} + (-\text{li}) \text{ku-} + -\text{pita} = \text{ndilikupita/ndikupita} \]

uti-mu-
a-
4. The present/future and past habituas (T/A -ma-) are distinguished by the tone of the AP. (The T/A -ma- is always Tow and the two syllable verb stem is H-L in sentence final position.) For the present/future habitual verb form 'usually', the AP is high:

\[ \text{AP} + \text{T/A} + \text{Verb Stem} \]
\[ a- \quad -ma- \quad -lemba = \text{amalèmba} \]

For the past habitual verb form ('used to') the AP is low:

\[ a- \quad -ma- \quad -lemba = \text{amalèmba} \]

a) Using various APs and verbs, make present/future habitual verbs with the proper sentence final tonal pattern: H-L-H-L

Example: ndi- -ma- -lemba = ndimalèmba 'he usually writes' u- yenda a- tsala ti- pita mu- dziiwa a- choka peza konda

b) Repeat the preceding exercise, making past habitual verbs with the proper sentence final tonal pattern L-L-H-L:

Example: ndi- -ma- -lemba ndimalèmba 'he used to write'

c) The following pairs of verbs consist of a present/future habitual verb and its past habitual form; they differ only in tonal pattern. Your teacher will read one of the two verbs; circle which one he/she reads:
timapita 'we usually go' amakhala 'we usually live' mimagona 'you usually sleep' imapéza 'you usually find' ndimakonda 'I usually like' timalémba 'we usually write' mumahoká 'you usually go out' amadziwa 'they usually know' úmayénda 'you usually walk'

we usually go'
we used to live'
you used to sleep'
you used to find'
I used to like'
we used to write'
You used to go out'
they used to know'
you used to walk'

d) Practice asking and answering the question Mumachokérá kuti?* with Ndímachokérá ku Améleka. 'I come from America.'

S1: Mumachokérá kuti?
S2: Ndímachokérá ku Améleka.
S2: Mumachokérá kuti?
S3: Ndímachokérá ku Améleka.

e) Vary your answer with different APs and place names:

S1: Ñmachokérá kuti?
S2: Ñmachokérá ku Améleka.
S1: Ñmachokérá kuti?
S2: Ñmachokérá ku Mangalandi.

*Where does he come from?'
*He comes from America.'
*Where does he come from?'
*He comes from England.'

Notice that in non-sentence final position, the tonal pattern of the habitual verbs ends in H-H:
Ndímachokérá  -  Ndímachokérá ku Améleka.

4.2 VOCABULARY NOTES

anzanga - 'my friend(s)/companion(s)' a ku Améleka - 'from America' a - 'a' of association ku - 'to, at' (locative Class 17) aka ndi... - 'this person/these persons is/are...'
Zooná? - 'Really?/'Truly?'. This exclamation is an expression indicating mild surprise or disbelief; it always has high tones and is said with extra force. As a noun, it means 'truth'.
Ndakondwa kukudzíwani. - 'I'm happy to know you.'
nda / kondwa - 'I' / 'be happy' ku...dziba - 'to know' ku...ni - 'you'
Kodi ntchito yanu ndi yotani? - 'What's your work?'

Sing'anga - 'doctor'

4.3 USAGE NOTES

4.3.1 mchimwene/achimwene

Achimwene is the Yao word for 'brother' which has been borrowed into Chichewa and generalized to mean also 'any (young) man'. Friends often use this as a form of address but it is also common to call someone achimwene even if you don't know him. For example, achimwene may be used to get a waiter's attention in a restaurant or a worker's attention in an office.

4.3.2 a ku (Ameleka)

The a- of this phrase is the a of association used between two nouns, with the second as a modifier of the first. In this case, the a is associating the noun alendo 'guest' to the locative phrase ku Ameleka 'to/at America'. The phrase alendo athu a ku Ameleka means 'the American guest' or literally, 'the guest of at America.'

For a fuller discussion of this a of association, see Lesson 8a on modifiers.

4.3.3 yotani?

Yotani? is a question word derived from the question verb stem -tani ('do how/what?'). This verb stem takes the verbal modifier prefix of the class of the noun it is modifying. (The verbal modifier prefix is a combination of the AP with other forms. It is discussed in Lesson 11a.) yotani? then literally means 'what kind of (work)?'.

4.3.4 Anzanga

This form is a noun fused with a possessive stem. The noun will either be singular (ansa 'companion') or plural (ansa 'companions') depending on the reference (or degree of respect being conveyed) and the possessive stem will vary according to the intended meaning ('my', 'your', etc.).

ansa + anga = ansanga (a + a = a)

<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mznawo</td>
<td>anzawo</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'their friend'</td>
<td>'their friend(s)'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

These expressions for 'friend' and 'companion' are used in a general sense for any type of acquaintance. However, bwenzi which also means 'friend' has taken on the connotation of a very close friend, even 'girlfriend' or 'boyfriend'.

4.4 CULTURAL NOTES

4.4.1 Ameleka

Some names of countries have been adapted to conform to phonological and orthographical characteristics of Chichewa. 'America' then became Ameleka. Some other 'Chewaized' names of countries are:

- Mangalande - 'England'
- Fulana - 'France'

People of these and other countries are often referred to in 'Chewaized' fashion and they also take 'Class 1 prefix m-' for individuals and 'Class 2 prefix a-' for groups:

- Mngelesi - 'an Englishman'
- Angelesi - 'English people'
- Mzangu - 'a European'
- Anzangu - 'Europeans'
- Mfilika - 'an African'
- Afilika - 'Africans'
- Mweneze - 'an Indian'
- Amweneze - 'Indians'

Languages take the prefix chi- which refers to the 'language and culture' of a people:

- Chingelezi - 'the English language'
- Chisungu - 'the languages of Europeans'
- Chifulanjea - 'the French language'

Similarly, note that Cheəa refers to the 'Chea people' and Chioheəa to their 'language'. Languages, because of their chi- prefix, are in Class 7 and take agreement in that class:

Chioheəa ohili bwinoo. 'Chicheəa is fine.'
4.4.2 Departing

As important as it is to know how to greet someone, you should also know what to say when you leave. You can simply say:

\[ \text{Ndapita.} \quad (\text{ndi} \, + \, \text{a} \, + \, \text{pita}) \]
\[ \text{I'm going.} \quad \text{I} / \, (\text{perfect}) / \, \text{go} \]

Usually coupled with \textit{Ndapita} is the expression \textit{Tsalani bwino} 'Stay well'/ 'Goodbye'. This expression is used if you are leaving someone behind who will remain at that place (perhaps, a home or office). The usual response to your farewell is \textit{Pitani bwino} 'Go well'/ 'Goodbye'.

Example:
\[ \text{A: Ndapita. Tsalani bwino.} \quad \text{(A is going)} \]
\[ \text{B. Pitani bwino.} \quad \text{(B is remaining)} \]

If a meeting has occurred on a street and both participants will be departing, then both may say \textit{Pitani bwino}. An alternate expression is \textit{Yendani bwino} 'Go/move/wait well'.

\[ \text{A: Ndapita. Yendani bwino.} \]
\[ \text{B: Pitani bwino.} \]

If you are going to see someone again later, you may add to the farewell:

\[ \text{Tionananso.} \quad \text{We'll see each other again' (later today or soon)} \]
\[ \text{Ti} + \, g + \, \text{ona} + \, \text{ana} + \, \text{nsa} \] \[ \text{we / immediate future / see / each other / again} \]

or

\[ \text{Tidaaonanso (ma} \, \text{a).} \quad \text{'We'll see each other again (later--likely tomorrow or after that).'} \]
\[ \text{Ti} + \, \text{dza} + \, \text{ona} + \, \text{na} + \, \text{nsa} \]
\[ \text{we / will / see / each other / again} \]

4.4.3 Occupations

The names for occupations include both Chichewa words and English words that have been borrowed and adapted. We have already seen the Chichewa \textit{mphantsiti} 'teacher'. Here are the words for some other common occupations:

\begin{align*}
\text{mimi} & \quad \text{(Cl. 1/2)} & \quad \text{farmer}' \\
\text{mlambo} & \quad \text{(Cl. 1/2)} & \quad \text{secretary}' \\
\text{mmisiri} & \quad \text{(Cl. 1/2)} & \quad \text{skilled worker'} \\
\text{sing'anga} & \quad \text{(Cl. 1a/2)} & \quad \text{'doctor'} \\
\text{wophunsira} & \quad \text{(Cl. 1a/2)} & \quad \text{'student'} \\ \text{namwino} & \quad \text{(Cl. 1a/2)} & \quad \text{'nurse' (medicine aid)}
\end{align*}
Many of the English names for occupations are 'new' occupations for which no equivalents exist in Chichewa; however, some English terms have been adopted and exist alongside corresponding Chichewa forms.

- dokotala 'doctor' (Note: sing'anga originally referred to local herbal medicine doctors; it now is used for any doctor.)

- sisitala 'nurse' (Note: namwino - This also means nurse but sisitala refers to a head nurse whereas namwino refers to a nurse's aide, usually dressed in blue.)

- kalipentala 'carpenter'

- telala 'tailor'

- dilaivala 'driver'

- makanika 'mechanic, engineer'

Note that you may hear slightly different variants of English loan words. Since these words are not yet 'settled' in Chichewa, different speakers may produce them differently.

4.5 MONOLOGUE

4.6 NEW EXPRESSIONS

- chokera ku - 'come from'

  - Sindinakwatiire - 'I'm not married.' (man)

    - si / ndi / na / kwatiire
    - not / I / (past) / married

- anayi - 'four'

- mkulu / akulu - (Cl. 1/2) 'older brother/brothers' Literally meaning 'The big one', mkulu refers to an older brother, although out of respect an older brother is often referred to in the plural: akulu anga 'my older brother'.

- banki - 'bank' phunzira - 'study/learn' kuyunivese - 'at university'
ndipo - 'and' This conjunction joins sentences; ndi 'and' joins words and phrases.
kusekondale sukulu - 'at secondary school'

4.6.1 Numbers

There are Chichewa expressions for numbers, but English numbers are favored in many situations (times and dates, for example). Both an English number (25) and a Chichewa number (anayi) appear in the monologue, but for a full discussion of numbers and their forms, see Lesson 6a.

4.6.2 Sindinakwatire

There's a new T/A introduced in this expression. The T/A -na- indicates past action. Like other T/A's, it follows the AP directly. Sindinakwatire can be the response to the question Kodi munakwatira? 'Are you married?' Notice carefully that while the verb suffix is the usual -a in the affirmative past verb (munakwatira), it is -e in the negative past verb (sindinakwatire). Therefore:

Affirmative past verb: Verb root + -a Negative past verb: Verb root + -e

The verb -kwatira is used to refer to the married status of men. It literally means 'marry' so that sindinakwatire can be translated as 'I didn't marry' (reflecting the notion that men do the action of marrying). For women, the verb -kwatiaa 'be married' is used, reflecting the practice that women do not initiate the marriage.

Example: Kodi munakwatira? 'Are you married?' (woman)

Iyayi, sindinakwatise. 'No, I'm not married.'
(literally: I wasn't married.)

Inde, ndinakwatise. 'Yes, I'm married.'
(literally: I was married.)
4.6.3 phunzira 'study'

We've seen variations of this verb root in previously presented vocabulary:

- phunziro 'lesson'
- mphuntsi 'teacher'
- wophunsira 'student'

In context, phunzira is usually followed by the object of your study:

Ndikaphuntsira Chichewa. 'I'm studying Chichewa.'
Akufuna kaphuntsira Chigelesi. 'He wants to study English.'

4.6.4 ndipo 'and'

This conjunction joins sentences together in the following manner:

Ndimagwira ntchito masiku onse. Ndiphuntsirano.

Ndimagwira ntchito masiku onse, ndipo ndiphuntsirano.

Ndimagwira ntchito masiku onse. Ndipo ndiphuntsirano.

'I work everyday and I study too.'

4.6.5 koma 'but'

Whereas ndipo joins sentences of similar, complementary ideas, koma is a conjunction which joins dissimilar and contrasting sentences:

Ndimagwira ntchito masiku onse, koma ndilibe ndalama.
'I work everyday, but I don't have any money.'

Ndinakwatira koma ndilibe ana.
'I'm married but I don't have any children.'

4.6.6-chokera ku- 'come from'

This expression is used to indicate one's place of origin. In the question, M Hipokaru ka? the present/future habitual T/A -ma- expresses the sense of 'usually': 'Where do you usually come from?' If you were asked this by a Malawian, you'd probably be expected to respond with your country of origin:

M Hipokaru ku Ameiska.
However, if you were asked Mukuchokera kuti? 'Where are you coming from?', you'd be expected to mention a place from which you have just departed:

Mukuchokera kusukulu. 'I'm coming from school.'

If more specific information about a place of origin were desired, you might be asked:

Kodi ku Ameleka mumachokera kuti? 'Where are you from in America?'

Mudimaachokera ku Boston. 'I come from Boston.'

4.6.7 Your home/village

In the preceding lessons on greetings we saw that referring to people in the plural was a way of showing respect (abambo, tili, muli). Places are also usually referred to in a plural fashion to show not only respect but also the reality of a community.

Kwanu nkuti? means 'Where is your home?' and you would answer with the plural form kwathu (Kwathu ndi ku Zomba. 'My home is at Zomba.')

Similarly Kwawo nkuti? means 'where is his/her, their home?' and the answer would also include the plural form kwawo (Kwawo ndi ku Blantyre. 'His/her/their home is in Blantyre'.)

In speaking of your village, you would again use the plural pronouns:

- Mudzi wathu 'our (my) village'
- Mudzi wanu 'your village'
- Mudzi wawo 'their (his/her) village'

The only person who usually calls a village Mudzi wanga 'my village' is the chief (Mphumu) who theoretically owns it.

Carry on the following conversation in Chichewa:

A: Hello Mary.
B: Hello Bill. How's your day been going?

4.9 PROVERB

Mwana wa ng’ona sakulira dziwe limodzi.
child/of/crocodile/doesn't grow/pond/one

'The child of a crocodile doesn't grow in just one pond.'

Discuss the imagery of this proverb and how that relates to its meaning. When would you use it? Would it be appropriate for your own situation now? Is there a common proverb in English that carries the same message?

(This proverb is similar in meaning to 'Travel broadens', but it has a slightly different twist.)

5.2 THE PRESENT PERFECT

5.2.1 Action Verbs

We have already learned to use a number of action verbs (-dyo 'eat', -pita 'go', etc.) with the progressive T/A -(zi)ku- and the present/future habitual T/A -ma-:

Ndikupita. 'I'm going.' (progressive)
Ndimapita. 'I usually go.' (habitual)
Ndimapita. 'I used to go.' (habitual)

There's another T/A called the 'present perfect' (a-) which has a present aspect to it. When it is used with an action verb, the perfect T/A indicates an action that 'has recently been completed' (i.e., 'has done', 'have eaten'). It may also indicate a recently performed action that might continue or be repeated. (In English, the present perfect of 'go' would be 'have gone', 'I've gone there three times'.) The crucial part of its meaning is that the action even has some relevance to the present.

The present perfect form in Chicheqa has the following pattern:

\[ \text{AP} + \text{T/A} + \text{verb root} + -a \]

\[ \text{Nd} + a- + -dy- + -a = \text{Ndadya.} \quad (\text{ndi} + a = nda) \]

\[ \text{I} / \text{have} / \text{eat} \]

'I have eaten.'

All action verbs can take this perfect T/A. When the present perfect a- comes in combination with the vowels of the different AP's, some modification occurs.

Note the AP for Classes 1 and 1a is $u$- with the present perfect T/A so that the resulting form is $wa$-.
Similarly the APs of the personal pronouns are combined with the a- to form:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>AP + Perfect T/A a-</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ndi- + a- = nda</td>
<td>Ndalembe kalata. 'I have written a letter.'</td>

<td>Muagona bwanji? 'How have you slept?'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a- + a- = a</td>
<td>Apita kwawo. 'They have gone home.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The present perfect has no distinctive negative form; instead, the simple past T/A -na- (or -da-) is used to express the negative perfect:

Kodi mwadya?
'I have eaten?'
Iyayi, sindinadye. 'No, I didn't.'

Formation of the simple past verb form was introduced in Lesson 4b and is more fully discussed in Lesson 6a. Note that -e is the final suffix.

5.2.2 Stative Verbs

Most of the verbs that we have studied up to now have been action verbs, verbs that indicate something gets done (as a process or a single act). There are other verbs that refer to a state, not an action. These stative verbs can usually be recognized by their combination in English with the verb 'be': 'He is tired', 'They are late', 'She is sick'. These verbs indicate a state of being that is experienced rather than an action that is performed.

Stative verbs take the perfect T/A a- to express a present state, a state that exists now:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>AP</th>
<th>T/A (a-)</th>
<th>V. root + -a</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Ndi</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-dwalay</td>
<td>'I am sick.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mu-</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-topay</td>
<td>'You are tired.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>U-</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-chedyay</td>
<td>'He is late.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Udsu</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-fay</td>
<td>'The grass is dead.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Anthuwo</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-mwaliryay</td>
<td>'Those people are dead.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Munthuyu</td>
<td>u-</td>
<td>-konday</td>
<td>'This person is happy.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dsanja</td>
<td>la-</td>
<td>-tupyay</td>
<td>'My hand is swollen.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mwendo</td>
<td>u-</td>
<td>-thyokay</td>
<td>'My leg is broken.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The perfect form of the stative verbs takes the same combined form of AP + T/A as the perfect form of the action verbs:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>State</th>
<th>Action</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Makondwa.</td>
<td>Wapita.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

*Although the usual 3rd person singular AP is a-, it is u- (as in Classes 1 and 1a) with the perfect T/A -a-.
Sometimes these stative verbs can be used with a progressive T/A to indicate that a state is coming about—such a verb form differs in meaning from the perfect aspect which indicates that the state already exists.

State (perfect)             Developing (progressive)

Ndatopa (kale).            Ndikutopa.
'I am tired (already).'

Wamwalira (kale).          Akumwalira.
'He's dead (already).'

'I'm tiring (becoming tired).'
'He's dying (in the process of dying).

The negative of the perfect stative verb is identical in form to the present progressive (with -(li)ku-):

Ndadwala. 'I'm sick.'    Sindikudwala. 'I'm not sick.'

Taahedwa. 'We're late.'  Sitikuchedwa. 'We're not late.'

But remember that action verbs with the perfect aspect prefix (for example, apita 'they have gone') use the simple past tense to form their negatives. We'll see more about this in Lesson 6a.

Exercises

A. Change the following sentences from the singular to the plural, using appropriate APs were necessary.

Example: Dmanja langa latupa. 'My hand is swollen.'

7. Cholembera chathyoka.
8. Mphunzitsi wachedwa.
9. Mwendo wanga watupa.
10. Mayi wathu watopa.
B. Answer the following questions affirmatively using the perfect T/A with the verb in parentheses:

Example:.Mongo wamuli ali bwanji? (-wala) 'How is your sister?'
         Mlongo wamula wadwala. 'My sister is sick.'

1. Joni ali kuti? (-chedwa)
2. Mipando ili kuti? (-thyoka)

         'Your father is late.'

Substitution: -topa
         New Model: Abambo anu atopa.
         'Your father is tired.'

1. bwenzi langa 6. -chedwa
2. mwana wake 7. aphunzitsi athu
3. akazi anu 8. wophunzirayo
4. -dwala 9. mnyamatayo
5. -kondwa 10. alendowo
D. Ask each other the following questions. Respond with either a negative or affirmative sentence.

Example: Kodi amayi anu adwala? 'Is your mother sick?'

Inde, adwala. 'Yes, she's sick.'

Iyayi, ali bwino. 'No, she's well.'

1. Kodi manja anu ali bwino?

5.3 MORE DEMONSTRATIVES

5.3.1 The 'Affinity' Demonstrative: -no

We have already seen the locational demonstratives of either the ichi or ioho types. These have two different meanings:

1. They locate people and things physically in reference to the speaker:

   - munthu ugu 'this man' (he's near the speaker)
   - munthu uyo 'that man' (he's far from the speaker)

2. They locate people and things within the discourse at hand:

   - munthuyu 'this man' (he's been mentioned already in this conversation)
   - munthuyo 'that man' (he's been mentioned already in this conversation)

Note that when referring to physical location, these demonstratives are self-standing; but when referring to location in the discourse, they become suffixes.

There are other demonstratives, which are also translated in English by 'the' or 'this/these' or 'that/those', but which have other meanings. One such demonstrative (-no) means 'this/these' but stresses possession or affinity rather than proximity.

This demonstrative is formed by attaching the AP of the noun to the root -no:

\text{Noun \ AP + -no}\]

njira \ i- + -no = njira ino \ 'this path' (on which we are)\]

The -no demonstrative is not used with the Class 1 and Class 2 nouns ('the people classes') since the possession implied by -no can not be applied to people. The -no demonstrative has limited use. But it is always the form used in some very common expressions such as: ohaka ohino 'this year', maest uno 'this month', masiku uno 'these days', mutungu uno 'this week'. Learn to use it in these expressions and to recognize its sense when you hear it used elsewhere.

There is no contracted form of the -no demonstrative and its noun.

9. Kodi wamanga nyumba iyo?
10. Kodi mukufuna mpando uwo?
5.3.2 The 'Shared Information' Demonstrative: -ja

This is probably the demonstrative you will hear the most. It is used to refer to something which is shared background information for the speaker and listener. That is, it refers to something which has already been discussed. It does not refer to location, but rather to a previous topic about which both participants share information. In English, this form is translated by either 'the' or 'that' and it should be used in Chichewa whenever the topic is a matter of 'old' or 'shared' information.

'I have gone to that village. (the one we talked about).

'That was a good book.' (already mentioned)

'Where's the book?' (the one I asked you to bring)

The -ja demonstratives are also formed by adding the AP of the noun to the -ja stem:

8. Matebulowo athyoka?
9. Muli nsomba m'nyanjazo?
10. Muli madzi m'chitsimemo?
5.4 RELATIONAL LOCATIVE NOUNS

We have already seen that we can make nouns standing for things into nouns standing for locations by adding the locative noun class prefixes to already-existing nouns:

- tebulo 'table'
- patebulo 'on the table'
- mudzi 'village'
- kumudzi 'at the village'
- nyumba 'house'
- m'nyumba 'within the house'

Nouns which refer to relational locations, such as 'behind', 'near', etc., also can be created; but in this case, locative class prefixes are added to stems which are not already nouns in their own right. For example, the stem -fupi may be combined with each of the locative class prefixes to mean 'near'. Such stems also occur with other prefixes for slightly different meanings. The stem -fupi has the adjectival meaning 'short' when combined with a variation of the AP of any noun class: for example, mitengo yafupi 'short (small) trees'.

The resulting relational locative noun is used adverbially just like other locative nouns (they answer the question 'where?'). We use these nouns in the same way in English:

- 'Where is good?'
  'In front is good.'

In this example, in front is an adverb of place which also is the subject of is.

If the specific place with which the relational locative is associated appears in the same sentence ('near the market', for example), then the relational locative must be followed by either ndi or a form of the AP + -a to complete its meaning:

(1) The relational locative nouns for 'rear' (pafupi, etc.) and 'far' (patali, etc.) must be followed by ndi in order to give a complete meaning (although ndi adds nothing to the translation):

| ku-                   | -fupi| kufupi ndi | 'near to' (to a place near...) |
|                       |      | Tikupita kufupi ndi moika.

<tbody>
<tr>

<td>Sukulu ili patali ndi mudzi.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'The school is far (from) town.'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

(2) Other relational locative nouns must be followed by a form composed of their AP + -a. This form means 'of'. Therefore, we have

- pa 'in front of' (from -tegolo), panja pa or kunja kwa 'outside of' (from -njia), etc. These pa, kwa, and mwa forms which accompany the relational locative nouns are written disjunctively (separately) from the nouns that follow:

| pategolo pa nyumbayo | 'in front of that house' |
| kunja kwa mudzi     | 'outside of the village' |

- mbuyo 'behind': pambuyo pa, kumbuyo kwa, m'buyo mwa

Example: Tikupita kumbuyo kwa nyumba yake. |
'He's going behind his house.'

- tegolo 'in front of' (*): pategolo pa, kutsegolo kwa, mutsegolo mwa

Example: Anawo ali pategolo pa ine. |
'Those children are in front of me.'

- mwamba 'on top of': pamwamba pa, kumwamba kwa, mumwamba mwa

Example: Mphaka ali m'mwamba mwa tengo. |
'There's a cat in the top of the tree.'

- njia 'outside': panja pa, kunja kwa, munjia mwa

Example: Amagulitsa ufa panja pa nyumba yake. |
'She sells flour outside of her house.'

- nse 'down, under, below': pansi pa, kunsii kwa, munsii mwa

Example: Akuwhokera m'munssi mwa phiri. |
'They are coming down from the mountain.'

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>pansi pa galimoto pali y i</th>
<th>'Under the car there's a dog.'</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Kuli mphaka kunsi kwa bedi</td>
<td>'There's a cat under the bed.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

*Another meaning of tegolo is 'in the future': mutsegolo, kutsegolo
If no specific place follows the relational locative noun, then it stands on its own:

Pamweka ndi patali? Iyayi, si patali.
'Is the market far?' 'No, it's not far.'

Mnyamatayo akupita kunja.
'That boy is going outside.'

Exercises

A. Make the following substitutions into the model sentence:

Example: Model: Ndimakhala patsogolo pasukulu.
'I live in front of a school.'

Substitution: -fupi
New Model: Ndimakhala pafupi ndi sukulu.
'I live near a school.'

1. -mbuyo 6. -mwamba
2. -tali 7. -mbuyo
3. chipitala 8. -tali
4. phiri 9. kupita
5. -fupi 10. msika

B. Answer the following questions using the stems and locations provided in parentheses:

Example: Ndimakhala kuti? (-fupi...msika)
'Where do you live?' (near... market)

Ndimakhala pafupi ndi msika.
'I live near the market.'

1. Galimoto yanu ili kuti? (-nja...nyumba yang')
2. Muli kuti? (-kati...Bill ndi Linda)
3. Chipitala chili kuti? (-tsogolo...banki)
4. Nyumba yanu ili kuti? (-mwamba...phiri)
5. Galu ali kuti? (-nsi...tebulo)
6. Chimbudzi chili kuti? (-mbuyo...nyumba)
7. Namadzi ali kuti? (-fupi...Zomba)
8. Alendo athu ali kuti? (-nja...nyumba yathu)
9. Joni ali kuti? (-mbuyo...ine)
10. Mumagwira ntchito kuti? (-tsogolo...sitolo)
C. The following sentences contain only nouns with locative prefixes. Add an appropriate relational locative noun to each sentence and make all necessary changes in the structure of the sentence. (Remember that the pa, kwa, and mwą forms which accompany the relational locative nouns are written disjunctively (separately) from the nouns that follow.)

Example: Nabuku anga ali patebulo. 'My books are on the table.'
Nabuku anga ali pansi pa tebulo. 'My books are under the table.'

1. Ndimakhala m’nyumba umo.
2. Tikupita kumudzi uko.
3. Anawo ali pakhomo.
4. Akumanga nyumba kunyanja.
5. Ndikupita kuphiri uko.
7. Aphunzitsi athu ali m’chipinda mwawo.
8. Kuli chitsime kusukuluko.
9. Mphaka wanu ali pamtengo.
10. Amayiwo amagulitsa chim-nga kunsika.

D. Using the relational locative nouns, make true and false statements about the location of various items and people in the classroom. If the statement is true, the other students should say 'inde'. If it is false, they should say 'iyayi' and correct the statement:

Example: Mphunsitsi ali patsogolo pa tebulo. 'He teacher is in front of a table.'
Inde. 'Yes.'
Iyayi, mphunsitsi ali pambuyo pa tebulo. 'No, he teacher is behind a table.'
5.5 SUMMARY EXERCISES

Wapita ku Lilongwe. 'He has gone to Lilongwe.'

1. Tikudya pakhomo.
3. Ndikugula buku.

Example: Mufuna chiyani? mpeni

Ndifuna mpeni uno.

1. nthochi 6. kalata

5.6 TONE EXERCISES

TONE IN CONTEXT

A. Demonstratives with two-syllable nouns

1. Uncontracted Demonstratives

The 'near and far' locational demonstratives (e.g. umku/umwo 'this/that') have a L-L tonal pattern and the 'shared information' demonstratives (e.g. uja 'the/that') have a H-L tonal pattern.

a) When these demonstratives follow a L-L toned noun, the tonal patterns of the nouns and demonstratives are unaffected:

Mudzi
\begin{align*}
\text{'village'} & \quad \text{'this village'} & \quad \text{'that village'} & \quad \text{'the/that village'} \\
\end{align*}

Anthu
\begin{align*}
\text{'people'} & \quad \text{'these people'} & \quad \text{'those people'} & \quad \text{'the/those people'} \\
\end{align*}

Practice adding demonstratives to each of the following L-L toned nouns:

L-L
\begin{align*} mudzi & \quad \text{mudzi uwu} / \text{mudzi uwo} / \text{mudzi uja} \\ imdzi & \quad \text{bambo} \\ manthu & \quad \text{chinthu} \\ dangu & \quad \text{njira} \\ mbal & \quad \text{mbale} \\
\end{align*}
When these demonstratives follow a H-L toned noun, the noun becomes H-H and both types of demonstratives are L-L:

- Bīku - būkū ili / būkū ilo / būkū lija
  - book'

- Nămbo - nówmba iyi / nówmba iyo / nówmba ija
  - fish'

Practice adding demonstratives to each of the following H-L toned nouns:

- H-L
  - Bīku - būkū ili / būkū ilo / būkū lija
  - khasu
  - nówmba
  - māyi
  - nówli
  - ntô希to
  - gōgo

B. Practice the pattern *Ndikufunā kapitā ku ... 'I want to go to ...', with various locations and place names. Concentrate on saying the sentence with the correct tonal pattern:

- S1: Ndikufunā kapitā ku kwpata.
- S2: Ndikufunā kapitā ku Lilongwe.
- S3: Ndikufunā kapitā ku__________.
  - etc.

1) Expand this exercise into a dialogue by asking the question *Kōti mukudziwako? 'Do you know that place?' Then answer appropriately with either of these choices:

- Bee, ndikudzīwako.
  - 'Yes, I know the place.'
- Sindikudzīwako.
  - 'I don't know the place.'
For example:

S1: Ndikufúná kufita ku Blantyre.
S2: Kodi mukudziwâko?
S1: Ees, Ndikudziwâko.

or

S1: Ndikufúná kufita ku chipekete.
S2: Kodi mukudziwâko?
S1: Sindikudziwâko.

S1: Ndikufúná kufita ku______________.
S2: __________________________?
S3: ____________________________.

5.3 USAGE NOTES

5.3.1 -dziwa 'know (how)'

In one sense, -dziwa means simply 'know' as in 'know someone/something':

Ndikudziwa muthayo. (kudziwa 'knowing')
'I know that man.' (that man just mentioned)

Tikudziwa bukulo.
'I know that book.' (that book just mentioned)

In another sense, -dziwa means 'know how' as in 'know how to do something':

Akudziwa kulankhula Chichewa. 'He knows how to speak Chichewa.'
'to speak'

(Kodi) mukudziwa kumanga ulalo? 'Do you know how to build a bridge?'

5.3.2 Locative Suffixes

-po (there/at a specific place), -ko (there/at a general place),
-mo (there/in a place)

The locative suffixes were introduced in Lesson 3a in 'short answers' for questions containing locatives:

Kodi ku Zomba kuli ohipatala? 'At Zomba, is there a hospital?'

(long) Inde, ku Zomba kuli ohipatala.
'Yes, at Zomba there's a hospital.'

(short) Inde, ohiliko.
'Yes, there is.' (literally: 'it is there')

The answer ohiliko is composed of the AP ahi- (representing the Class 7 noun ohipatala), the verb -zi 'be', and the locative suffix -ko (as a substitute in place of the locative phrase ku Zomba).

These locative suffixes are shorthand for a longer locative phrase. The appropriate suffix -po (at/on a specific place), -ko (at/to a place), -mo (in a place) can be attached to the end of a verb to refer to a previously mentioned location. Notice the examples in the dialogue:
Ndikufuna kupa kuchipatala.

Kodi mukudziwako? 'Do you know the place (kuchipatala),' Nanga pameika paja mukudziwako? 'Well, do you know (the location of) that market? (you know the one)

Inde, ndikudziwako. 'Yes, I know the place.' (pameika paja)

In the first example, -ko replaces kuchipatala. In the second example, Nanga pameika paja mukudziwako the suffix -po emphasizes the locative phrase pameika paja. And in the answer Inde, ndikudziwako, -po replaces the locative phrase pameika paja.

5.3.3 Kodi ndi patali?

The verb ndi 'be' also has the meaning of 'it is':

ndine 'It is me/I.'

Used by itself, ndi stands for an unexpressed subject + the verb 'be', as in the example:

Kodi ndi chanu? 'Is it yours?'

? / It is / yours

Note the following contrast in the use of ndi and -li:

Sentences and questions indicating location use ndi when the subject is not expressed:

Kodi ndi patali? 'Is it far?'

Eee, ndi patali. 'Yes, it's far.'

However, when the subject is present, -li 'be' is used (with the appropriate AP):

Kodi nyumba yau ili patali? 'Is your house far?'

Eee, nyumba yanga ili patali. 'Yes, it's far.'
5.4 CULTURAL NOTES

5.4.1 Directions

In asking for directions from Malawians, you may be surprised to receive seemingly imprecise information about locations. This vagueness is not an attempt to lead you astray. Unlike in America, where streets are named and buildings are precisely numbered, the streets and roads of most African towns (other than the capitals and largest cities) go unnamed. Or even if they are named, there's a scarcity of sign posts to identify them. While we are accustomed to precision in addresses such as '243 West Acacia Street' or '34th and Vine', an African address might indicate only that some place is 'near' or 'between' or 'behind' or 'in front of' another place.

5.4.2 Distance

Any foreigner who has spent some time in Africa will undoubtedly have a then woeful, but now funny, tale to tell about 'African distance'. The tale usually begins with a pedestrian asking directions to some location and receiving the assurance that it is 'not far'. Inevitably, 'not far' turns out to be at least several miles, and the pedestrian ends up walking a good deal farther than anticipated, wondering all the while about what exactly was meant by 'not far'.

With good public transportation limited to only the main population centers, most Africans are accustomed to getting around on foot to school, work, church, and town. On market days, it is very common to see men and women heavily laden with goods arriving in town after a walk of ten or more miles, a walk that they will repeat at the end of the market day. Therefore, walking several miles would be a common, even daily experience for most Africans. In this context, then, that distance would be 'not far'. But to those of who consider 'far', to be any distance greater than a city block, 'not far' in the African context can attain marathin proportions. The next time you are told that your destination is 'not far', banish your Western notions and wear some comfortable shoes.

'You'll find the hospital in front of that market.'

Change to a 'where?' question, giving an answer in the form: \textit{Mupeza} + noun + locative compound phrase:

\begin{itemize}
\item \textbf{1st student:} \underline{______}-li kuti?
\item \quad \textit{(chipatala, msika, sukulu, banki, sitolo, munda, etc.)}

\item \quad \textit{-mbuyo}
\item \quad \textit{-fupi}
\item \quad \textit{-tali}
\end{itemize}

1st student: Muli kuti?
2nd student: Ndili _________.
               patsogolo pa, pambuyo pa, pakati pa... ndi...

2nd student: Ndikukhala _________.
             or
1st student: Mukuima kuti?  'Where are you standing?'
             (-ima 'stand')
2nd student: Ndikuima _________.

c) Change the pronoun subject prefixes to ask 'Where is he/she?'/ 'Where am I standing?', etc.

Ali kuti?
Ndikuima kuti?

d) Ask yes/no questions about the classroom environment:

(Kodi) aphunzitsi akuima patsogolo pa Tom?
   -khalu pakati pa tebulo ndi mpando
   -li pambuyo pa Mary
   etc.

Inde, ________

____________-li kuti?
Kodi __________-li pafupi ndi _________253
pambuyo pa- patsogolo pa-
5.7 Twenty Questions

This game, normally used with names of people, can also be adapted to names of places. One person chooses a place on the map as his/her 'secret' location and the other students ask questions about the nature of its location as a means of discovering the 'secret'. The person who guesses correctly is the next person to choose a 'secret' location:

Student: Kodi ndi pafupi ndi banki? (Iyayí, Inde)
        Kodi ndi patentsolo pa boma?

5.8 Try and understand this dialogue:

aBill: Zíkomo, Bambo. aBambo: Zíkomo. Ndikuthándízéni?

aBill: Kodi ndi kutálí? aBambo: Íyayí, sí kútálí.

5.6 SURVIVAL VOCABULARY

Ndasočhera - 'I'm lost.'
Nda / sočhera
I / be lost

Mundithandiza? - 'Will you help me?'
Ndí / thandiza
you / help

Pitaní kumanja - 'Go to the right'
Piti / ku / manja go / to / right

Pitaní kumansere - 'Go to the left'
Piti / ku / mansere go / to / left

Pitaní kutsoalo - 'Go ahead, forwards'
Piti / ku / tsogolo go / to / front

Bwererani kambuyo - 'Return backwards' (go backwards)
Bwereraní / ku / mbuyo return / to / back (behind) kambuyo - 'behind/at the back'

It is polite to announce your arrival at someone's home by saying Odi!, clapping your hands, or knocking. An extension of this politeness is to indicate your presence when you are passing someone whose back is to you. You would say Kambuyo which literally means 'at the back' or 'behind'. You are letting someone know that you are there so that there will be no fear that you intend any harm to him 'behind his back'. The person who is approached can respond with Zikomo or with the sentence: Sindidatamere, pitani! There means literally 'I wasn't tattooed.' When you want to get special protection against your enemies, you often get tattooed with a special medicine which will protect you and can do harm against your enemies. So, by saying that you haven't been 'tattooed' indicates that the person who said kambuyo to you also has nothing to fear.

5.7 PROVERB

Safausa analošera njira ya komanda.

'He (who) doesn't ask took the path to the cemetery.'

-fusa - 'ask'           -lošera - 'take'

Discuss the imagery and meaning of this proverb. When would you use it?

It implies that it's dangerous not to seek advice, or that the person who needs information--but won't ask for it--leads himself to his own destruction.

6.2 VERBS: SIMPLE PAST

6.2.1 Affirmative (Positive) Past

Either of two prefixes in the T/A slot, -na- or -da-, convey simple past actions or states:

\text{AP} + \text{T/A} + \text{V. Root} + -a

Action verb:

\text{Mu-} + -na/-da- + -pit- + -a = \text{Munapita/Mudapita} you / (past) / go 'You went'

Stative verb:

\text{Ti-} + -na/-da- + -chedw- + -a = \text{Tinachedwa/Tidachedwa}

we / (past) / be late 'We were late'

The two tense prefixes are interchangeable, but for teaching purposes only the -na- form will be used in these exercises and lessons. It is important to remember that they are equivalent forms.

Other examples:

- Tinagula tebulo lija. 'We bought the table.'
- Nipandyo inathyoka. 'Those chairs were broken.'
- Ng'ombe zinamwa madzi. 'The cows drank the water.'
- Buwendi lake linapexa zinthunsi sija. 'His friends found those pictures.'
- Anthuwa anapita panei kamsika. 'These people walked to the market.'

The verb 'be' -li also forms its past with the past T/A -na- (using the same verbal assembly of AP + T/A + verb stem as do other verbs, but without the final suffix). This verb handles all the functions (state, possession, identity, location) of 'be' in the past. Remember that in the present, -li functions for 'being' only with location or state; ndi means 'be' with identity or possession.

Other examples:

Panali mpeni patebulo.  'There was a knife on the table.'
Anayi anga anali bwino dsulo.  'My mother was well yesterday.'

The verb 'have' -li ndi takes an identical past tense verbal assembly:

AP + T/A + -li ndi // object a- + -na- + -li ndi  cholembera = Anali ndi cholembera.  'He/she has a pen.'

Other examples:

Tinali ndi alendo dsulo.  'We had visitors yesterday.'
Munali ndi njinga yanga.  'You had my bicycle.'

2. amayi/-dy/a/nsomba
3. mipandoyo/-thyoka

8. amunawo/-manga/ulalo
9. -mwa/madzi
10. anawo/-li/m'nyumbamo

D. Answer the following questions with 'iyayi' and a past tense verb:

Example: Kodi muli ndi galimoto?+Iyayi, ndinali ndi galimoto.
'Do you have a car?'
'No, I had a car.'

2. Kodi muli ndi alendo kwanu?
3. Kodi ndinu opunzira?
4. Kodi mumsika muli chimanga?

7. Kodi agogo anu ndi alimi?
8. Kodi bwenzi lanu lili pano?
9. Kodi muli ndi akazi?
10. Kodi patebulo paja pali ndalama?
6.2.2 Negative Past

The negative past of action and stative verbs differs from the affirmative in two ways: (1) the negative prefix Si- begins the verb construction; (2) the final vowel of the verb stem is -e (not -a):

\begin{align*}
\text{Si-} & + \ AP & + \ T/A & + \ V. \ Root & + \ -e \\
\text{Si-} & + \ ndi & + \ na & + \ dy & + \ -e = Sindingwe.
\end{align*}
\]

Examples:

AFFIRMATIVE PAST

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Negative</th>
<th>Positive</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Si- galu uja.</td>
<td>Tinapexa galu uja.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The boys worked.</td>
<td>We found that dog.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Munatopa dzuto.</td>
<td>You were tired yesterday.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mnlelo uja amamwa muda.</td>
<td>That stranger drank beer.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

NEGATIVE PAST

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Negative</th>
<th>Positive</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Si- galu uja.</td>
<td>Tinapexa galu uja.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The boys didn't work.</td>
<td>We didn't find that dog.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Situnatopa dzulo.</td>
<td>You were not tired yesterday.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mnlelo uja amamwa muda.</td>
<td>That stranger didn't drink beer.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The negative past of -li has the same form, but no final suffix (Si + AP + na + li).

Examples:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Negative</th>
<th>Positive</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Analii paulendo.</td>
<td>Sanali paulendo. (si + a = sa)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The pen was mine.</td>
<td>He wasn't on a journey.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cholembera chinali changa.</td>
<td>Cholembera sichinali changa.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>My family was well.</td>
<td>The pen wasn't mine.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Banja langa linali bwino.</td>
<td>Banja langa stilinali bwino.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

However, the verb *-li ndi 'have' and the palii, kuli, muli 'there is/are' constructions take a different negative form. As you remember, these expressions form their negative with the suffix -be (*ndilibe 'I don't have'; palibe 'there isn't/aren't'). Like other verbs in the negative past, these verbs have -na- in the T/A slot. But unlike other verbs, they take -be as a negative suffix (instead of ai- as a negative prefix):
AP + T/A + -li- + -be

Ndi- + -na- + -li- + -be = Ndinalibe.
I / (past) / be / without 'I didn't have'

Pa- + -na- + -li- + -be = Panalibe. there / (past) / be / without 'There wasn't/weren't.'

Examples:
Palibe moto.
'There isn't a fire.'

Chipindacho chinali ndi chitseko.
'That room had a door.'

Munalibe meonkhano mano.
'There was a meeting in here.'

Exercises

A. Change the verbs in the following sentences from the past to the negative past:

Example: Anapita kuminda yawn. 'They went to their fields.'
Sanapite kuminda yawo.

D. Make true and false statements in the past tense about the environment of the classroom or about information that you share. If the statement is true, say 'inde' or 'eje'. If the statement is false, say 'iyayi' and correct it.

Example: Joni anadwala dsulo.
'John was sick yesterday.'

Inde. or Iyayi, sanadwale dsulo.
'Yes.' or 'No, he wasn't sick yesterday.'

6.3 OBJECT PREFIXES

As we have already seen, most verbs take a subject prefix that corresponds to the noun class or the person of the pronoun subject. The object can also be reflected by an object prefix in the verb. However, the necessity of an object prefix will depend on the type of object, its placement in the sentence, and the emphasis put on it. In general, object prefixes for a pronoun object ("you", "me", etc.) are necessary while those for noun objects are optional.

6.3.1 Pronoun Object Prefixes

When pronoun objects are expressed in a sentence ('I saw you'), they will appear as object prefixes placed directly before the verb root and after the subject prefix and any tense marker:

| Subject Prefix + T/A + Object Prefix + V. Root + -a | -e |
|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| ndi. + -na- + ku + -on- + -a = Ndinakuona. | 'I saw you.' |

272
Some of the pronoun object prefixes differ from their corresponding pronoun subject prefixes:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject Prefix</th>
<th>Object Prefix</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Ndi- 'I'</td>
<td>-ndi- 'me'</td>
<td>Anandiona. 'He saw me.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-u- 'you'</td>
<td>-ku- 'you'</td>
<td>Ndimakuthandiza masiku onse. 'I help you everyday.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A- 'he/she'</td>
<td>-mu- (m)*</td>
<td>Munampeza. 'You found him/her.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ti- 'we'</td>
<td>-ti- 'us'</td>
<td>Anatithandiza dzulo. 'She helped us.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mu- 'you'</td>
<td>-ku...-ni</td>
<td>Tinkudikirani. 'He waited for you.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A- 'they'</td>
<td>-wa- 'them'</td>
<td>Ndiwosapatsa chakudya. 'I'm giving them some food.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

* The object pronoun mu 'him/her' is often contracted to -m- before a verb beginning with a consonant: Munampeza, but munamuona 'you saw him'.

 The object pronoun prefix for 2nd person plural you is composed of a prefix and a suffix. -ku-...-ni: Ndinakuonani 'I saw you'.

Exercises

A. Insert the following pronoun objects into the verb of the model in order to make complete sentences.

Example: Model: Anapatsa ... chithunzi. (wa) 'He gave ... a picture.'
Complete sentence: Anawosapatsa chithunzi. 'He gave them a picture.'

1. -ku-
2. -mu-
3. -ndi-
4. -ti-
5. -ku...-ni
6. -ndi-
7. -wa-
8. -mu-
9. -ku...-ni
10. -ti-
B. Answer the following questions using pronoun object prefixes:

Example: Munaona Joni? → Inde, ndinamuona.
'Yes, I saw him.'

1. Akukudziwani?
2. Mukukonda mtsikanayo?
3. Mukuthandiza agogo anu?
4. Anapeza āna awo?
5. Munandipatsa ndalama?
6. Waona mphunzitsi wake?
7. Mukukonda anu anu?
8. Munapeza mkazi wanu?
9. Anakuthandizani?
10. Munampatsa chiyani?

C. Make true and false statements using pronoun object prefixes. If a statement is true, the students will say 'in'e or 'eee'. If it is false, the students will say 'iyayi' and correct the statement.

Example: Akuthandiza.
He's helping you.
'I'm helping you.'
Iyayi, akumthandiza.
'No, he's helping her.'

6.3.2 Noun Object Prefixes

Noun objects in a sentence may also have an object prefix as part of the main verb. These object prefixes correspond to the noun class of the object; they are placed directly before the verb stem. However, while object prefixes for pronouns are necessary, the object prefixes for noun objects are optional. They are used only for additional clarity and emphasis.

Object prefixes are often used when:

(1) The noun object precedes the verb: Tebulo, ndinaligula.
(additional emphasis) 'The table, I bought it.'
(-Zi- is the object prefix for Class 5 nouns)

(2) The expressed noun object 's to be emphasized: Ndinaligula tebulo.
'I bought it, the table.' (emphasizing a specific table apart from others)

(3) The noun object is not expressed in the sentence: Ndinaligula.
'I bought it.' ('it' clarifies the reference to a previously mentioned table.)
However, if additional clarity and emphasis are not particularly important, the object prefixes can be omitted:

Example: Kodi munagula tebulolo?
'Did you buy that table?'

Inde, *ndinagula."
'Yes, I bought (it).'

Inde, *ndinagula tebulolo.
'Yes, I bought the table.'

Here are the object prefixes for the noun classes. Except for Classes 1 and 1a and 2 and Class 6, they are identical with the AP:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

6.4 MODIFIERS (AP + STEM)

Modifiers of nouns limit the meaning of those nouns from generality (a store) to specificity (that store, our store, another store, a new store, two stores, etc.). In Chichewa these modifiers (which follow their nouns) are usually stems which must take a prefix to relate them to their nouns. Some modifiers need only the AP to agree with their nouns. These modifiers are (1) numbers, (2) the question stem -ngati 'how many?' and (3) -ina 'other, another, some'. As you remember, the AP is that characteristic prefix of a noun class that is affixed to parts of the sentence related to the nouns (modifiers, verbs, etc.).

6.4.1 Numbers

Most of Chichewa numbers appear as stems which take the AP of the nouns they modify. The stems of the first five numbers are as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Stem</th>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>AP</th>
<th>Stem</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>-modzi</td>
<td>'one'</td>
<td>mudi</td>
<td>u-</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-wiri</td>
<td>'two'</td>
<td>midzi</td>
<td>i-</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-tatu</td>
<td>'three'</td>
<td>madengu</td>
<td>a-</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-nayi</td>
<td>'four'</td>
<td>ziptala</td>
<td>zi-</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-sanu</td>
<td>'five'</td>
<td>nkhuku</td>
<td>zi-</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

'modzzi umodzi' means 'one village', 'mizdi iwiri' means 'two villages', 'madengu atatu' means 'three vessels', 'ziptala zinayi' means 'four hospitals', and 'nkhuku zisanu' means 'five hens'.
After -sanu 'five', the numbers become additions to five:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Stem</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>-sanu ndi</td>
<td>tinsomba tisanu ndi komodzi*</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-modzi</td>
<td>'six small fish'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'5 and 1'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-sanu ndi</td>
<td>maukonde asanu ndi aîiri</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-ôiri</td>
<td>'seven nets'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'5 and 2'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-sanu ndi</td>
<td>anthu asanu ndi atatu</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-tatu</td>
<td>'eight people'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'5 and 3'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-sanu ndi</td>
<td>mitengo isanu ndi inayi</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-nayi</td>
<td>'nine trees'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'5 and 4'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The number ten khumi is an exception because it does not take the AP of the noun it 'counts':

nyumba khumi 'ten houses'  ana khumi 'ten children'

*Whenever -modzi appears, it takes the AP of the singular form of the noun, whether or not the noun in the sentence is plural:

chitseko chîmodzi 'one door'

chiteko sisanu ndi chîmodzi 'six doors'

'I saw four girls.'

'He bought six books.'

'We ate nine bananas.'
Exercises

A. Combine the following nouns with the number stem -modzi 'one' and the correct AP and give the meaning.

Example: mpeni + mpeni umodzi 'one knife'

1. mlendo 11. dziko
2. munda 12. galu
3. ulalo 13. ulendo
4. nyali 14. njinga
5. kamtengo 15. mphika
6. dengu 16. kapu
7. chithunzi 17. s’iculu
8. bwenzi 18. tebulo
9. mwana 19. mayi
10. chipewa 20. nyanja

B. Make the nouns in the preceding exercise plural and then combine them with the number stem -saru ndi -modzi 'six', making statements 'I have _______':

Example: mpeni + mipeni + Ndili ndi mipeni isaru ndi umodzi. 'I have six knives.'

C. Using the plural form of the nouns in Exercise A, make sentences in the form Ndinaona ______ 'I saw ______', completing them with a noun and any number.

Example: mipeni + Ndinaona mipeni tdiri. 'I saw two knives.'

D. Make 'what?' questions with the following verbs and give numerical answers with the following nouns:

Example: -gula/mabuku Mangula ahiyani? Ndagula mabuku awiri. 'What did you buy?' 'I bought two books.'

1. -ona/ng'ombe 6. -lemba/mabuku
2. -gulitsa/mipando 7. -dya/nkhuku
3. -li ndi/nthochi 8. -werenga/kalata
4. -werenga/kalata 9. -peza/mwala
5. -manga/nyumba 10. -ona/alendo
E. Answer the following questions affirmatively in full sentences and then negatively with a different number:

Example: Kodi munagula mipeni iðiri? 'Did you buy two knives?'

Inde, ndinagula mipeni iðiri.
'Yes, I bought two knives.'

'Iyayi, ndinagula mpeni umodzi.
'No, I bought one knife.'

1. Kodi munagula nyumba ziðiri?
2. Kodi mwaQerenga mabuku atatu?
3. Kodi mwapita kusitolo ziðiri?

8. Kodi munapita kumudzi umodzi?
9. Kodi mwadya nsomba zinayi?
10. Kodi muli ndi achimwene asanu ndi mmodzi?
6.4.2 How Many?

To ask 'how many' people or things there are, the question stem -ngati? is used. Like number stems, -ngati takes the AP of the noun whose quantity it is measuring. The -ngati construction is in the following form:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>AP</th>
<th>-ngati</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>misewu</td>
<td>i-</td>
<td>-ngati</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>roads</td>
<td>/</td>
<td>how many</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Misewu ngati? 'How many roads?'

Mukuona misewu ingati? 'How many roads do you see?'

'you are seeing'

Other examples:

madengu a- + -ngati = Anagula madengu angati?

baskets / how many? 'How many baskets did he buy?'

achemwali a- + -ngati = Muli ndi achemwali angati?

'How many sisters do you have?'

ng'ombe zi- + -ngati = Zinadwala ng'ombe zingati?

'How many cows were sick?'

-ngati can be used with ndalama, a collective noun in English but a countable one in Chichewa (Munapeza ndalama zingati? 'How much money did you find?'). Chichewa nouns which are collective, such as madzi 'water' and ufa 'flour', can not take the question stem -ngati.

-ngati is also used to ask 'how old' someone is. In English we would ask 'How old are you?', but in Chichewa, we would literally say 'you have years how many?':

Muli ndi zaka zingati? 'How old are you?'

Ndili ndi zaka misanu ndi sitatu. 'I have years five and three.' = 'I'm eight years old.'
Exercises

A. First, substitute the following nouns into the model question making all necessary changes in agreement. Then, answer the question with a number:

Example: Model: Mwaona anthu angati?
'How many people have you seen?'

Substitution: nkhuku

New Model: Mwaona nkhuku zingati?
'How many chickens have you seen?'

Answer: Ndaona nkhuku ziðiri.
'I have seen two chickens.'

1. maukonde 6. mazira
2. agalu 7. misewu
3. zipeWa 8. tinyumba
4. minda 9. maiko
5. akazi 10. nyali

B. Answer the following questions:

Example: Muli ndi mikono ingati?
'How many arms do you have?'

Ndili ndi mikoni ziðiri.
'I have two arms.'

1. Chipinda chanu chili ndi zitseko zingati?
2. Muli ndi maina angati?
3. M'kalasimu muli anthu angati?
4. Mwaphunzira Chichewa masiku angati?
5. Muli ndi nsapato zingati?
6. Muli ndi miyendo ingati?
7. Munabwera ku Malawi ndi mabuku angati?
8. Mukufuna kudya nthochi zingati?
9. Muli ndi achimwene angati?
10. Tebulo limakhala ndi miyendo ingati?
C. Make -ngati questions out of the following vocabulary and answer the questions:

Example: -gulitea/njinga... Anagulitea njinga zingati?
'How many bikes did he sell?'

Anagulitea njinga imodzi.
'He sold one bike.'

1. -dwala/ana...
2. -li pakhomo/alendo...
3. -tupa/zala...
4. -li m'galimoto/anthu...
5. -thyoka/mipando
6. -manga/maulalo...
7. -lemba/kalata...
8. -li ndi/achemwali...
9. -gula/mipeni...
10. -dy/a/tinsomba...

6.4.3 Which?

-ti is a question stem used to ask about the identity of someone or something from a choice of more than one: 'Which book do you want, this one or that one?' / 'Which are your children?' -ti 'which?' takes the agreement prefix of its noun referent (which it may or may not follow directly):

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>AP</th>
<th>-ti</th>
<th>Result</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>buku</td>
<td>li-</td>
<td>-ti</td>
<td>buku liti? 'Which book?'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Managula buku liti? 'Which book did you buy?'
Anapene zinthu siti? 'Which things did he find?'
Kamwana kanu ndi kati? 'Your small child is which (one) aldığı?'
Kazira ake ndi ati? 'Their eggs are which (ones) agréated?'

The question itself will sometimes specify the choices to be made:

Njinga yake ndi iti, iyi kapena iyo?
'His bike is which one, this one or that one?'

Mukufuna mpseni uti, wanga kapena wamu?
'Which knife do you want, mine or yours?'
When the locative APs are combined with the -ti stem, the resulting forms puti?, kuti? and muti? are synonyms for 'where?' (depending on the type of location); however as ku- is the general locative AP, kuti is more frequently used.

Nyumba yanu ill puti? 'At which place (where) is your house?'
Kwanu ndi kuti? 'At which place (where) is your home?'
Ana anu ali muti? 'In which place (where) are your children?'

Exercises

A. Substitute the following nouns into the model question making all necessary changes in agreement. Then answer the question with an appropriate demonstrative, possessive or modifier.

Example:

Model: Munapeza njira iti?
'Which path did you find?'

Substitution: buku

New Model: Munapeza buku iti?
'Which book did you find?'

Answer: Ndinapeza buku lija.
'I found that book.'

1. ana
6. makasu
2. cholembera
7. fodya
3. ukonde
8. tikapu
4. miyala
9. mphunzitsi
5. zithunzi
10. dengu

B. The nouns in the following sentences contain no modifiers. The first student should make a question with -ti from the following sentences and then the next student should give an answer with an appropriate modifier.

Example: NdinaWerenga kalata.
'I read a letter.'

MunaweWerenga kalata iti?
'Which letter did you read?'

Answer: NdinaWerenga kalata yanu.
'I read your letter.'

1. Ndinaona galimoto.
2. Galu wafa.
7. Ndinaona ndalama patebulo.
3. Anamanga nyumba.
8. Mwana wadwaia.
9. Mulî madzi m'chitsime.
5. Ndimakhala kumudzi.
10. Tinagula ukonde.
C. Answer the following questions:

Example: Munagula njinga iti, iyi kapena iyo?
   'Which bicycle did you buy, this one or that one?'
   Ndinagula njinga iyi.
   'I bought this bicycle.'

1. Bwenzi liti linabwera kuno?
2. Mumakonda sitolo iti?
3. Chipinda chanu ndi chiti?
4. Kamwana kati kagwa, kanu kapena kanga?
5. Dzina lanu ndi liti, ili kapena ilo?
6. Anachedwa aphunzitsi ati?
7. Munagula mipando iti?
8. Mukufuna k'ona munda uti, úwu kapena uwo?
9. Mulí ndi nyali iti?
10. APhiri a'peza cholembere chiti, changa kapena chanu?
6.5 RELATIVE PRONOUN (AP + -MENE)

The stem -mene can, in combination with APs, be used as a relative pronoun ('who, which, whom, that).* These relative pronouns introduce additional information about a noun or pronoun in a sentence. For example, in the sentence 'I saw a chair which was broken,' the relative clause 'which was broken' adds more information about the 'chair' to the rest of the sentence.

In Chichewa the relative pronoun is formed by adding an AP to the -mene stem; this AP agrees with the noun to which -mene refers. For example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>AP + -mene</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>cholembere</td>
<td>chi- + -mene = cholembere chimene</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'the pen which/that'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mpando</td>
<td>u- + -mene = mpando umene</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'the chair which/that'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>atsikana</td>
<td>a- + -mene = atsikana amene</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'the girls that/who/whom'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ukonde</td>
<td>u- + -mene = ukonde umene</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'the net which/that'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Sometimes the relative pronoun stands for the subject of the sentence:

Buku limene lili patebulo ndi langa.
'The book which is on the table is mine.'

Mnyamata amene akuswerenga pano ndi mahimsene zanga.
'The boy who is reading here is my brother.'

Sometimes the relative pronoun stands for the object of the verb:

Aphonzitsi amene tinawona anapita kusukulu.
'The teachers whom we saw (them) went to school.'

Zitesu rosimene anacipesa zinali zake.
'The tools which they found (them) were his.'

In these examples, an optional object prefix agreeing with the antecedent of the relative pronoun appears in the verb of the relative clause (...tinawona/...anacipesa).

In either case, whether the relative -mene stands for the subject or the object, it always agrees with the noun which it stands for.

*The relative pronouns are distinct from the question words 'who?' ndani, 'whom?' yani, and 'which?' -ti.
Exercises

A. Substitute the following nouns into the model sentence making all necessary changes in agreement:

Example: Model: Ndikufuna chipateo chimene chili patebulo.

6.3 USAGE NOTES

6.3.1 Mukudwala chiyani?

The question Mukudwala chiyani? generally means 'What are you sick (with)?' A literal reading of this question is 'You are sick what?' The implication of this question is that you are really asking:

'You are sick (as to) what?'

There are several ways to answer this question, one being an answer that models the structure of the question:

Mukudwala chiyani?

Ndiikudwala mutu. 'I am sick (as to) head.'
Ndiikudwala chiftona. 'I am sick (as to) chest.' ('I have a cough.')
Ndiikudwala malungo. 'I am sick (as to) fever/malaria.' ('I have a fever.')
Ndiikudwala chinfini. 'I'm sick (as to) cold.' ('I have a cold.')
Ndiikudwala kamoasi. 'I'm sick (as to) dysentery.' ('I have dysentery.')

In the answers (as in the questions) no form stands between 'sick' and the body part. Moreover, there is no possessive pronoun to indicate 'my head' or 'my chest.'

The lack of possessives and modifiers can be explained by the idea of inalienable possession. We are said to be in inalienable possession of our body parts since there is no doubt that they belong to us and no one else. With this reasoning, to say that 'I have hurt my head' is redundant: 'your head' is your inalienable possession so that the use of a possessive pronoun such as 'my' is not obligatory once I was already mentioned.* Similarly, when you say that 'you are sick (as to) head' (Ndiikudwala mutu), it is obvious that you are talking about your own head; again the possession which is clearly implied need not be stated.

If you were talking about someone else's head, then you would need a form to express 'someone else's' (mutu wake 'his head'). With no such form, the assumption is that the body part referred to belongs to the speakers or the person referred to.

*However, a possessive is obligatory in a sentence such as Nyangwa wahyoaka ('My leg is broken') because there is no personal pronoun subject or object to indicate identity.
6.3.2 Mutu ukundipweteka.

This possible answer to the question Mukudbata chiyani? literally means 'Head is hurting me.' Here also there is no possessive needed to indicate 'whose' head. Other examples of this structure are:

- M’nimba mukundipweteka. 'In (my) stomach hurts me.'
- Nhutu likunipweteka. '(My) ear hurts me.'
- Mkono ukundipweteka. '(My) arm hurts me.'
- Dzanga likunipweteka. '(My) hand hurts me.'

6.3.3 -mva mutu

Another way of indicating an illness is to use the verb -mva which means 'feel' (also 'hear/listen'). To say that 'you feel (your) head' implies that you 'feel pain' there:

- Ndikumva mutu. 'I'm feeling (pain) head' = 'I have a headache.'
- Ndikumva diso. 'I'm feeling (pain) eye' = 'I have a sore eye.'
- Ndikumva m’nero. 'I'm feeling (pain) throat' = 'I have a sore throat.'

6.3.4 Mumakhala kuti?

This question asks 'where do you live?' With the habitual T/A ma indicating 'usually', the question implies a place of residence or an address. This constructions with the question Mumachokera kuti? 'Where do you come from?' which asks for a place of origin.

- Mumachokera kuti? Ndimachokera ku Amelika.
- Mumakhala kuti? Ndimakhala ku Chancellor College.

6.4 USAGE NOTES

6.4.1 Illness

In the past, illness, for many Africans, was not just a question of biological malfunctioning. People could become ill because of other factors, such as through witchcraft or even through the 'bad thoughts' of other people. Illnesses whose symptoms were familiar to the traditional doctors were considered to be natural and biological in origin. However, when a seemingly healthy person suddenly fell dead from a disease whose symptoms and characteristics were unfamiliar, the charge was often made that the illness was not natural, caused by some unknown force. Because of jealousy, envy or hatred, enemies could try to bring you harm through the powers of witchcraft. Western medicines and ordinary traditional medicines would do no good against these types of illnesses; witchcraft had to be fought by special protection (sacrifices, talismans, incantation) provided by traditional doctors (sing'anga).

Nowadays, with the loosening of ties with traditional life, many people no longer believe that there are reasons other than purely biological for illnesses. Yet, other people still maintain that there are diseases that ordinary medicine can not cure; for them it is still reasonable to look to witchcraft for the source and the cure.

6.4.2 Traditional Medicine vs. Western Medicine

Contrary to Western stereotypes, Africans did enjoy the benefits of effective traditional medicine before the arrival of Colonialism. With a knowledge based on the known and assumed curative powers of various parts of plants and animals, traditional doctors administered to both internal and external ills that afflicted people. As importantly, the traditional doctors administered to the psychological needs of their patients by providing comfort, assurance, and understanding. This psychological bond of confidence between a patient and a comprehending doctor who is familiar with the patient's personal and public life played an important role in the success of their medicine.

This bond, however, was damaged by the advent of Western medicine in Africa. With their medicine based on extensive scientific knowledge, these new 'flashy' medicine men (called either dokotala or sing'anga) provided a challenge to the ways of the traditional sing'anga or witch doctors. Instead of trying to learn from each other, the two became rivals in the practice of medicine. Western medicine attracted patients because of its impressive array of pills, injections and technical paraphernalia for examination and operations which were able to diagnose and cure successfully. What was lacking was the psychological medicine which an aloof Western doctor could not provide. It was this psychological need that kept people going to the traditional sing'anga (whether a witch doctor or not) who administered both to the body and the mind (and with success, too).

This rivalry between the traditional and Western medicines has created dual loyalties in many Africans who will often go to both the Western and the traditional doctor. If they are not cured to their satisfaction, with either medicine they will just as easily go to seek cures with the 'other side'. It would seem then that the best medical system in Africa would be one that combines the practice and knowledge of both medical traditions.
The following dialogue points out this issue of 'traditional medicine vs. Western medicine'. Thengo, the father of two sick children, has gone to visit a relative, Chimono, who is a traditional doctor.

Thengo: Zoonadi, kwathuku sikuli bwino adzukulu anu, Kaphute ndi Kampini akudwala kwambiri.

Chimono: Anawo akudwala chiyani? Anayamba liti matendawo?

Thengo: Akudwala maso teopano ndi sabata limodsi. Tinapita nazo kuchipatala koma teopano tataya chikulupiriro. Sitikupitanso.

Thengo: Really, (things) at home are not well with your grandchildren. Kaphute and Kampini are very sick.

Chimono: What are those children sick with? When did this sickness begin?

Thengo: They've been sick with conjunctivitis for one week. We went with them to the hospital but now we have lost hope with them. We are not going there again.

Chimono: (I'm) very sorry bambo. Why didn't you come here quickly? Don't forget that (the things of) the hospital are (the things of) the Europeans. We have our own medicine. Going to the hospital you can't help those children. But since you've come, we'll cure that sickness.
6.5 EXERCISES

6.6 SURVIVAL VOCABULARY

Ndadsitsma ndi mpeni - 'I have cut myself with a knife.' (also -cheka 'cut')

Msomai wandilasa - 'A nail has pricked me.'

Mukuonana nti dokotala womkulu - 'You'll go and meet the head doctor.'

6.7 IDIOMATIC EXPRESSIONS

An idiomatic expression has a meaning that is more than the sum of its parts; even if you know which each part means alone, you can't necessarily hit upon their combined meaning. Consider, for example, the expression: Bwemari la mphasa. It's parts mean 'friend of the mat'. But it is used to describe someone who is always sick or has been sick for a long time. While it's true that someone who must lie down gets to know the mat well, there is no logical progression from being a 'friend of the mat' to necessarily being sick. Such is an idiom—you can't entirely predict its meaning:

A: Ndili bwanji?
B: Nsine bwemari la mphasa.
A: Fapani.
Other idioms:

- langisa ku phasi 'show foot'  This expression is used to describe someone who ran away at great speed -- he ran so fast that he 'showed his feet'.

- tsina khutu 'pinch the ear'  This expression means to give information to someone else, to tell a secret, or even to warn someone.

- phimba mmao 'cover the eyes'  This expression means that you fool someone by 'covering his eyes' to the truth. An equivalent expression in English is 'pull the wool over someone's eyes'.

- mera mmao 'grow teeth'  To grow teeth' means to grow bold, even to fight back. It is used to describe a formerly meek person who finally takes a bold stand against someone or something.

7.2 THE FUTURE TENSES

In Chichewa a distinction is made between the immediate future (very near in time) and the distant future (somewhat removed in time). It would be the difference between doing something 'today or later in the day' and doing something 'next week'. For intermediate times, such as 'tomorrow', either form can be used.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>IMMEDIATE</th>
<th>DISTANT</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>They'll come today (or in a moment). They'll come next week.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

7.2.1 Immediate Future

The immediate future is indicated by the absence of any tense/aspect prefix in the verb construction and by a high tone on the subject prefix.

\text{AP} + \text{T/A} + \text{verb root} + -a
a- + # + -\text{bwer} - + -a = \text{ábwera}

they / (will) come 'they will come'

Compare: \text{gáwera} (they have come) and \text{ábwerá} (they will come)

The time expressions 'today' \text{lero} and 'soon' \text{posachedwa} (literally: 'being not late') often accompany the immediate future:

Examples:

\[
\text{Ndipita kusitoZo lero.} \quad \text{'I'll go to the store today.'}
\[
\text{Tidy posachedwa.} \quad \text{'We shall eat soon.'}
\[
\text{Ndari ábewenga kalatayi?} \quad \text{'Who'll read this letter?'}

The negative immediate future is formed by adding the negative suffix \text{st-} to the verb construction:

\text{Abwera lero.} \quad + \quad \text{Sábwera lero.}

'He'll come today.'  'He won't come today.'

\text{Ndipita kusukulu.} \quad + \quad \text{Sindipita kusukulu.}

'I'll go to school.'  'I won't go to school.'
7.2.2 Distant Future

-dxa- is the T/A prefix for the distant future:

AP + -dxa- + verb root + -a
A- + -dxa- + -bur- + -a = Adsabwera.

he / will / come 'he will come'

Time expressions, such as sabata lamaña 'next week' occur with the distant future:

Ndidsapita kusitolo sabata lamaña.
'I will go to the store next week.'

Ndani adsathandiza alimi aja sabatu lamaña?
'Who'll help the farmers next week?'

Time expressions such as maí 'tomorrow' occur with either the immediate future (-b- T/A prefix) or the distant future (-dxa-):

Tidya neombayi maí.  }  'We'll eat this fish tomorrow.'
Tidsadya neombayi maí.
Tonana maí.
Titidsanana maí.  }  'We'll see each other tomorrow.'

As with the immediate future, the negative distant future is formed by adding si- to the verb:

Adsabwera maí.  }  Sadsabwera maí.
'He will come tomorrow.'  'He won't come tomorrow'

Ndidsapita kusukulu.  }  Sindidsapita kusukulu.
'I'll go to school.'  'I won't go to school.'
Exercises

A. Change the verbs in the following sentences to the distant future -dza-, adding sabata 'next week' at the end of each sentence:

Example: Nd-inagulitse khasu langa. 'I sold my hoe.'
Ndidsagulitea khasu langa sabata lamaiwa.
'I'll sell my hoe next week.'

1. Akupita pansi kuminda yawa.

6. Alendo amadya kwa aPhiri.
7. Munagona kuti?
8. Sanalembe bwino.
10. Tawo chiyani?

B. Repeat the preceding exercise, changing the verbs into the immediate future and adding lero at the end of each sentence:

Example: Nd-inagulitse khasu langa. 'I sold my hoe.'
Ndigulitea khasu langa lero. 'I will sell my hoe today.'

1. Kodi mulemba kalata lero?

6. Tidya kuti?
7. Kodi adzaphika nsomba zingati mawa?
8. Kodi mudzagona kuti mawa?
9. Mugulitse dengulo?
10. Mudza-werenga chiyani?
7.2.3 Future of the Verb 'Be'

To form the distant future of any expression containing a form of the verb 'be' -zi, a new verb stem -khala 'be, live, stay' takes the place of -zi. To this new stem will be added the AP and T/A -da-

\[ \text{AP} + -da- + -khala \]

\[ \text{Ndi} + -da- + -khala = Ndidzakhala. \]

I / will / be 'I will be'

Examples:

- Ali bwino. 'He's well.'

- Ndinali ndi nyali ziůiri. 'I had two lamps.'

- Nyumbayo ndi yanga. 'That house is mine.'

- Kuli msonkhano. 'There's a meeting.'

As with the action and stative verbs, the negative future is formed with the negative prefix si-:

\[ \text{Si} + \text{adsakhala bwino.} = \text{Sadsakhala bwino.} \] 'He won't be well.'

\[ \text{Si} + \text{ndidsakhala ndi nyali ziůiri.} = \text{Sindisakhala ndi nyali ziůiri.} \] 'I won't have two lamps.'

Nyumbayo aidsakhala yanga. 'That house won't be mine.'

As with the action and stative verbs, the negative future is formed with the negative prefix si-:

Nyumbayo aidsakhala yanga. 'That house won't be mine.'

Sikudzakhala msonkhano mawa. 'There won't be a meeting tomorrow.'
Exercises

A. Change the verbs in the following sentences into the distant future (-nda-):

Example: Ndine mphunzitsi. → Ndidsakhala mphunzitsi.
'I am a teacher.' → 'I will be a teacher.'

1. Mu'li bwino.
2. Aphunzitsi ali ndi nthawi.
5. Tili ndi njala.
7. M'chitsime muli madzi.
8. Galimotoyo ndi yanu.

B. Answer the following questions with iyayi and a future T/A prefix.

Example: Kodi munali pasukulu dzulo?
'Were you at school yesterday?'
Iyayi, ndidsakhala pasukulu mafa.

7.3 TIME EXPRESSIONS

7.3.1 Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow

These time expressions were introduced in this and in preceding lessons which presented various T/A 'time' prefixes for verbs:

- Ananyatawa adwala zero. 'These boys are sick today.'
- Ndipita ku Blantyre zero. 'I'll go to Blantyre today.'
- Anandithandisa msulolo. 'They helped me yesterday.'
- Tidzogula nyumba mafa. 'We'll buy a house tomorrow.'

There are also expressions for the 'day before yesterday' and the 'day after tomorrow':

- Ndinamona dzana. 'I saw him the day before yesterday.'
- Adzabwera m'kuja. 'He will come the day after tomorrow.'

7.3.2 Morning, Noon, Evening, Night

The day is divided into parts with m'maika beginning at sunrise and continuing until about 11 a.m. From 11 o'clock until 3 p.m. is masana. Msulolo is the time between 3 p.m. and sunset. And usiku extends from sunset until just before sunrise:

- Ndimadsiku m'maika. 'I get up in the morning.'
- Sindigwira ntchito masana. 'I don't work at noon.'
- Apita panei lamsika msulolo. 'He will walk to the market in the afternoon.'
- Tipite kukanema usiku. 'Let's go to the cinema at night.'

7.3.3 This Morning/Yesterday Afternoon

Further precision about 'what part' of the 'what day' can be achieved by adding demonstratives and by combining these time expressions.

For example, the 'affinity' demonstrative -no is used to specify that it was 'this morning/afternoon', etc. (today's):

- Sindinadye m'maiko meno. 'I didn't eat this morning.'
- Musapite msulolo ano. 'He came this noon.'
'Nzapatite masulo ano. 'Don't go this afternoon.'

'Ribwere kuno usiku uno. 'We'll come tonight (this night).'</n

To speak of things that happened or will happen during a part of 'yesterday' or 'tomorrow' masana and izulo may either be preceded or followed by m'ma, masana, and usiku to mean 'yesterday morning, tomorrow evening', etc.:

- Anagula ufa dzulo madsulo. (masulo izulo) 'She bought some flour yesterday afternoon.'
- Sinaphunzira Chichewa m'ma dzulo. (izulo m'ma) 'We studied Chichewa yesterday morning.'
- Adidzakwonzani masana usiku. (usiku m'ma) 'I'll see you tomorrow night.'
- Adaagwira ntchito m'ma masana. (masana m'ma) 'He'll work tomorrow noon.'

7.3.4 Meals of the Day

Meals are referred to as being the 'food of morning', 'food of noon' and 'food of evening':

Exercises

A. Substitute the following time expressions into the model sentence making all necessary T/A changes:

Example:

'Did you cook lunch?'

'Iyai, ndinaphika chakudya cha m'ma've.'
'No, I cooked breakfast.'

1. (Kodi) Mudzabwera ma've madzulo?

10. (Kodi) Mugwira ntchito m'ma've muno?
7.4 WHEN?

Liti? is the question word for 'when?'. It may either follow the verb or appear in word final position:

Munafika liti? 'When did you arrive?'
-(-fika 'arrive')
Ndinafika madzulo dzulo 'I arrived yesterday evening.'

Adzagulitsa liti galimoto yake? 'When will he sell his car?'
Adzagulitsa galimoto yake mausahaan 'He'll sell his car tomorrow.'

Mulemba kalata liti? 'When will you write a letter?'
Ndilemba kalatayo musahaan 'I'll write the letter tomorrow.'

Munalankhula ndi Joni liti? 'When did you speak with John?'
Ndinalankhula ndi Joni dzana 'I spoke with John the day before yesterday.'

Exercises

A. Answer the following questions with the time expression in parentheses:

'I'll go tomorrow morning.'

1. -fika
6. -fa
2. -yamba/ntchitoyi
7. -peza/galu
3. -pita/kumudziwo
8. -ona/bwenzi lanu
4. -dwala
9. -lemba/kalata
5. -phunzira/Chichewa
10. -lankhula/Joni

7.5 MORE RELATIVE PRONOUNS

In Lesson 6A, the relative pronouns 'who, which, that, whom' were introduced in their subjective and objective cases:

Ndinaona munthu amene anakuthandia. 'I saw the person who helped you.'

Pali galimoto imene muifilna. 'There's the car that you want.'

This AP + -mene construction can also express the possessive 'whose' and a relative expressing 'the one/ones'.

7.5.1 Whose?

When -mene expresses the possessive relative pronoun 'whose', it is followed by a noun (the thing/person possessed) and a possessive pronoun referring to the possessor:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>AP</th>
<th>-mene</th>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>Possessive Pronoun</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ana</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-mene</td>
<td>abambo</td>
<td>aso = ana amene abambo aso</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>children/ the ones</td>
<td>/ father / their</td>
<td>= 'the child whose father'</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>nyumba</td>
<td>i-</td>
<td>-mene</td>
<td>moini</td>
<td>wake = nyumba imene moini wake</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>house</td>
<td>/</td>
<td></td>
<td>/ owner</td>
<td>/ its = 'the house whose owner'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
In a full sentence:

Ana amens abambo awo sakugwira ntchito sakudya bwino.
'The children whose father isn't working aren't eating well.'

Nyumba amene mwezi wadzala ili pafupi ndi ohipatala.
'The house whose owner is sick is near the hospital.'

Mumuna amene dzina lake ndalamba ndi sing'anga.
'The man whose name I have written is a doctor.'

7.5.2 The One/Onces

Occasionally the relative pronouns amens, chimene, and simene are used without any specific antecedent in the sentence, but they may refer to someone or something that is previously mentioned. In that case, amene will mean 'the one(s) who' in reference to a person or people:

Ndiye amene ndikusunzisa.
'He's the one I know.'

Amene akubwera kuno ndi bwenzi langa.
'The one who's coming here is my friend.'

Chimene and simene will refer to a thing (chintha) or things (zinthu) and can be translated as 'the one/ones' or 'what':

Chimene mukufuna kugula chiliti m'etolomo.
'The one (thing) you want to buy is in that store.'

Ridinaona simene monasihita.
'I saw what (the things) you did.'
Exercises

A. Combine the following pairs of sentences with -mena to mean 'whose':

Example: Ndiye mtsikana. Abambo ake adwala.
Ndiye mtsikana amena abambo ake adwala.
'She's the girl whose father is sick.'

3. Tikupita kusitolo. Mwini wake ndi mznathu.

B. Answer the following questions using the vocabulary in parenthesis and the appropriate relative pronoun amena 'the one/ones who', chimena 'the one thing/what', simena 'the one thing/what', and an appropriate form of the verb:

Example: Munaona chiyani? (simena/-gula) 'What did you see?'
Ndinaona simena amasigula. 'I saw what he bought.'

1. Ndiye ndani? (amena/-konda)
2. Munalembe cha chiyani? (chimena/-ona)
3. Munamerenga cha chiyani? (simena/-lemba)
4. Mukudziwa muntu uyi? (amene/-peza ndalama zija)
5. Icho nchiyani? (chimene/-phika)
6. Zinthu zo nchiyani? (simene/-gulitsa)
7. Anthuwo ndani? (amene/-manga nyumba)
8. Icho nchiyani? (chimene/-peza panjirapo)
9. John ndani? (amene/-imba bwino)
10. Munadya chiyani? (chimene/-funa)
7.6 THE OTHER/ANOTHER/SOME (AP + -INA)

The stem -ina expresses the idea of 'additional' in the sense of 'the other, others, another, etc.' It takes the AP of the noun it modifies. To say 'another song':

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>AP + -ina</th>
<th>Nyimbo ina</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>song</td>
<td>another</td>
<td>'another song'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The particular meaning of -ina will depend on the context of the whole sentence. For example, in the following sentences, -ina will mean 'another':

Sanaimbe nyimboyo; anaimba (nyimbo) ina.
'He didn't sing that song; he sang another (song).'

Sindikufuna buku lanu; ndikufuna (buku) lino.
'I don't want your book; I want another (book).'

In the above examples, the nouns nyimbo and buku need not be repeated in the second half of the sentence since the AP on the -ina form makes its reference clear. In the first sentence, ina 'another' must refer to a noun in Class 9, and nyimbo 'song', as the nearest Class 9 noun, is its obvious referent. Similarly, ina in the second sentence must refer to a Class 5 noun, and buku is therefore the obvious referent.

In another context, the -ina stem means 'one...the other':

Ndikudziwa anthu awiri: wina ndi mphunsitsi, wina ndi sing'anga.
'I know two people: one is a teacher, the other is a doctor.'

-ina can also mean 'some' or 'other' with plural nouns:

Anthu ena ali pakhomo; ena ali m'nyumba.
'Some people are outside; others are in the house.

*When the AP is added to the -ina stem, two sound changes occur:

1) When i is preceded by a: a - i - e

'anbanga a- + -ina = anbanga ena
'my friends' 'other' 'my other friends'

2) When i is preceded by u-: u- + -ina = m'nyumba

'meanu u- + -ina = meanu wina
'road' 'other' 'the other/another road'
<table>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>18</td>

<td>Ndinapema ndalamano m'thumba mwina. 'I found that money in another pocket.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Notice that:

--An alternate form of the Class 4 and 9 form ina is yina.

--kwina can also mean 'somewhere':

kwina kuli nyanja, kwina kuli mapiri.
'Somewhere there are lakes, somewhere there are mountains.'

--kapena (ka- + -pa- + -ina) 'or' is based on the -ina stem, having a double prefix: ka- + -pa.

Mukugula chipedi ioho kapena chipedi ioho?
'Are you buying this hat or that hat?'

E. TONE

As you get more used to the 'melody' (intonation) of Chichewa sentences, you will notice that 'statement' sentences regularly end on a low tone. Many times, the second to the last syllable in the sentence has a high tone, it is true, but high tones near the end of the sentence are relatively much lower than high tones earlier in the sentence. Even those 'question' sentences which contain a 'question' word (such as kodi or chiyani) tend to end on a low tone. Listen to your teacher say the following sentences and then repeat them. (The sentences are from dialogues in the "B" lessons.) Pay attention to the individual tones on the words, but notice the final falling of tone at the end of the sentences:

Sindikudziwako. 'I don't know where it is.'

Buana anapita kawaso. 'The boss went to his home place.'

Ndipateneeni mbale yäiku yä nsima. 'Give me a large plate of nsima.'

Sindinaghone. 'I didn't sleep.'

Nditsiteireni mtengo. 'Lower the price for me.'

Ndalama isti. Zikomo. '(Here's) the money. Thank you.'

Ndabwereka kaudzachere na mu. 'I've come to chat with you.'

Chawino. Ndiyembekeza. 'Fine. I'll come back.'

Ndimalika posaahindo. 'I'll finish soon.'

Kuli basi zwiiri teiku lili lomse. 'There are two busses a day.'

Mukudzala chiyani? 'What are you sick (with)?'

Kodi Chikondi alipo? 'Is Chikondi here?'

Dzinä lanu ndani? 'What's your name?'

7.3 USAGE NOTES

7.3.1 What's the time?

In English the question of time is asked with what, but in Chichewa the question is asked with how:

\[ \text{Nhawáji ili bwanji? = 'What's the time?/What time is it?' } \]
\[ \text{time is } / \text{ how (much)} \]

The question literally asks 'The time is how much?', and the implication is that time is considered to be a quantity rather than a mere number.

In order to answer the question about time, there are Chewaized English equivalents of 'o'clock, hour, past, half, quarter' and the numerals:

- koloko 'o'clock'
- ola/maola 'hour/hours'
- kota 'quarter'
- pasiti 'past'
- tu 'to'
- hafu 'half'
- (+ mphindi) 'minute')

Possible answers to the question Nhawáji ili bwanji? are:

- (Nhawáji ili) saifi koloko. 'It's five o'clock.'
- (Nhawáji ili) hafu pasiti naini. 'It's half past nine.'
- (Nhawáji ili) kota tu-agveni. 'It's quarter to seven.'
- (Nhawáji ili) teni pasiti sikisi. 'It's ten past six.'*

You can also ask the time in relation to an activity: 'What time did you eat?' In this case, the question stem *nji? meaning 'what?' will follow Nhawáji to be translated as 'what time?':

Munadya nhawáji yonji? 'What time did you eat?'

---

Generally, time is referred to as 'past' or 'to' an hour rather than with the alternative form 'nine thirty' or 'seven ten'.)
Other examples:

Mumapita kuntchito nthawi yanji?
'What time do you go to work?'

Ndimapita kuntchito hafu pasiti seveni.
'I go to work at half past seven.'

Mudsafika kumudi kuja nthawi yanji?
'What time will you arrive at that village?'

Ndidsafika kumudi kuja sikisi koloko m'maîa.
'I'll arrive at that village at 6 o'clock.'

Alendo anu anadya nthawi yanji?
'What time did your guests eat?'

Alendo athu anadya k'ata tu teni.
'They ate at qua... o ten.'

7.3.2 Days of the Week

'Days'

The days of the week in Chichewa are composed of the work tsiku 'day' and various types of modifiers:

- (tsiku) lamulungu
  'day of God' = 'Sunday'

- or

- (tsiku) lasabata
  'day of the sabbath' = 'Sunday'

- (tsiku) lolemba
  'day of writing' = 'Monday' (sometimes Monde)

- (tsiku) lachiwiri
  'second day' = 'Tuesday'

- (tsiku) lachitatu
  'third day' = 'Wednesday'

- (tsiku) lachinayi
  'fourth day' = 'Thursday'

- (tsiku) lachisanu
  'fifth day' = 'Friday'

- (tsiku) loweruka
  'day of leaving work' = 'Saturday'

Tsiku is in parenthesis because the days of the week are often mentioned without including it (although the Class 5 prefix *la- and lo- do refer to it).

Example:
'He'll come Wednesday.'

'I didn't work Saturday.'
Although 'on' (as in 'on Tuesday') need not be expressed, it may be included through the use of pa. However its use may demand some changes in the construction:

Examples: Tidzaswera lachitatu. 'We will play Wednesday.'
           Tidzaswera pachitatu. 'We will play on Wednesday.'
           Tidzaswera palolemba. 'We will play on Monday.'

The prefix la- is dropped when it directly follows pa, but la- remains.

7.3.3 From ... Until

We first saw the verb stem -chokera in the question asking 'Where do you come from?':

Mumachokera kuti? Ndimaginakera ku Ameleka.

The sense of -chokera in this context is one of distance, 'coming from' a place. -chokera can also refer to time, '(coming) from' a certain time. Combined with mpaka which means 'until', we have the structure 'from (time expression) to (time expression)' to indicate an expanse of time. Almost any time expression may be used in this structure (hours, days, months, years, etc.):

_________ kuchokera __________ mpaka __________.

Ndimadya kuchokera seveni koloko mpaka hafu paseiti seveni.
'I usually eat from seven o'clock until half past seven.'

Amagwira n'tchito kuchokera m'mafu mpaka usiku.
'I work from morning until night.'

Ndimapita kusukulu kuchokera palolemba mpaka 'phiusanau.
'I go to school from Monday until Friday.'

7.4 CULTURAL NOTES

7.4.1 African Time

'African Time' is an expression used to point out that Africans often have a different attitude towards time than Americans. Whereas the latter tend to be ruled by the hands on their watches and clocks, the Africans have a more relaxed, informal attitude toward the passage of time. In Chichewa there are no indigenous expressions to correspond to the English 'hours, o'clocks, seconds'; these expressions have been borrowed into the language as certain time-conscious aspects of Western lifestyle have become a part of daily life in Africa. Banks, schools, businesses, and government offices are all run on schedules and time-tables which are no different from American ones. Public transport can be more flexible, but that is true anywhere.
However, when it comes to the leisure domain and areas outside of the cities and towns, correct times becomes less crucial. More time is spent simply greeting and visiting people, but less attention is paid to its passage. If you are in a village, a meeting with someone might be arranged by his/her merely pointing to a certain area in the sky and saying, ndikupexani m'mada daua lili ape. This literally means 'I'll see you in the morning (when) the sun is here', and it indicates a familiarity with the movement of the sun characteristic of rural-based societies.

You may be puzzled at first by this reckoning of time, but it is not so difficult. By observing the sun and shadows, you can get a general idea of what time it may be without having to refer to your watch. So respect time when your work is concerned, but also learn to enjoy its flexibility and informality at other times.

7.4.2 Daily Life

Daily life in an African town is quite similar to that in any American town with people rising early and pursuing their respective activities at school, the market, home and at work. Africans must rise somewhat earlier since they most likely have to walk some distance to the office or school. And when noon comes, most offices, schools, and stores close for an hour or an hour and a half as everyone either eats lunch at home or in town. On Saturdays, also a day of work, most offices close for the day at noon. After their offices, stores and schools reopen, people work till 4 or 5 o'clock when they leave for home or for visits with their friends. Dinner may not occur until 8 p.m. or later, and the rest of the evening is spent with the family.

8.2 VERB ROOT + -a

Most verb tense/aspect values that we have already studied have verb roots that take final -a:

- Present progressive: Akupita. 'He's going.'
- Present/future habitual: Anapita. 'He usually goes.'
- Present perfect: Wapita. 'He has gone.'
- Simple past: Anapita. 'He went.'
- Immediate future: Apita. 'He will go (soon).'
- Distant future: Adapita. 'He will go (later).'

In one instance, the negative past, we encountered a verb root followed by final -e:

Sitinapite. 'We didn't go.'

There are other verb forms which require final -a after a verb root; one of these is the subjunctive mood.

8.3 THE SUBJUNCTIVE

As a general rule, the subjunctive verb is used to indicate a wish, request, or invitation.

In Chichewa, the subjunctive verb has an AP, but a zero in the tense/aspect prefix slot in the verbal assembly and -a as the final vowel suffix:

- AP + T/A + root + -e
  - Ti- + ø + -pit- + -e = Tipite. 'We should go.'
  - Mu- + ø + -bwe- + -e = Mubwere. 'You should come.'

Depending on the context, subjunctive verbs are weaker or stronger requests for action:

- Tipite! 'Let's go!'
- Mubwere! 'Come!'
Some other examples are:

- Tiguie chipatechoo.
- Ndithandize!
- Ndipite kuti?
- Ana aloe!
- Adye ndiwo.
- Udikire pang'ono!
- Muserenge mapumzirowo!
- Mutole nsapato sanu.

'Let's buy the fruit.'
'Let me help!'
'Where should I go?'
'Let the children enter!'
'Let him/her eat the relish.'
'Wait a little!'
'Read those lessons!'
'Pick up your shoes.'

The negative of the subjunctive uses a special negative prefix, -sa-. This occurs after the AP—in the T/A slot. (Remember that the negative of other (indicative) verbs is formed by prefixing si- to the verbal assembly so that it comes before the AP.)

\text{AP } + \emptyset + \text{verb root } + e + \text{AP } + sa + \text{verb root } + e

- Tipite kusika. → Tisapite kusika. 'Let's not go to the market.'
- Ana aloko. → Ana asaloë.
- Mubwere kuno. → Musabwere kuno. 'Don't let the children enter.'

'Let's not come here.'

EXERCISES

A. Change the verbs in the following sentences from the present/future progressive to the subjunctive:

Example: Tikudya. 'We are eating.' → Tidye! 'Let's eat!'

1. Ana akugona.
2. Ndikuthandiza munthuyo.
3. Tikugula nsomba.
4. Anthuwa akumwa moña.
5. Akugwira ntchito.
7. Tikulankhula.
8. Akubwera.
10. Mumakhala pansi.
B. Change the verbs in the following sentences from the affirmative subjunctive to the negative subjunctive:

Example: Tidy! + Tisadye! 'Let's not eat!'

1. Agone!
2. Atithandize!
3. Ndiwapeze!
4. Akuone.
5. Agwire ntchito.
6. Adye nsima.
7. Tigule zinthuzi.
8. Andithandize.
9. Ndigone!
10. Alankhule!

C. First read the following sentences. Then, as a response to each sentence, make a new sentence which contains a suggestion or request for action using a subjunctive verb form.

Example: Akufuna kugona. + Agone. 'He wants to sleep.' 'Let him sleep.'

1. Akufuna kupita kwathu.
2. Tikufuna kuyamba msonkhanowu.
3. Mukufuna kwerenga buku lanu.
4. Sitikufuna kudikira.
5. Akufuna kugulitsa njinga yake.
7. Tikufuna kuloft m'sitolo umo.
8. Akufuna kuona anzake.
9. Ukufuna kudyaka nsima.
8.4 DIRECTIVES

Commands, requests and suggestions (directives) can be made in Chichewa by the subjunctive form of the verb and also by the imperative form. These forms are used in varying situations depending upon the urgency of the request, the degree of politeness, and the number of people addressed.

8.4.1 Imperatives

In English, the imperative verb (Come!, Wait!, Be ready!) has the connotation of a command unless it is softened by the use of please.

The simplest form of the imperative in Chichewa also conveys a command. It is a 'bald' directive that implies immediacy, informality, and certainty about compliance. You would most likely use it in addressing a peer or an individual who is either younger or lower in status than you (a child, a younger sibling, a classmate). It has the following form:

Verb Root + -a

Bwera- + -a = Bwera! 'Come!'  Bwera kuno! 'Come here!'
Yang'an- + -a = Yang'ana! 'Look!'  Yang'ana bukuli! 'Look at this book!'
Chok- + -a = Chokal! 'Go away!'

Note that no AP appears at all, although 'you' is an understood subject:

Bwera! '(You) come!'

Also, nothing appears in the T/A slot with positive imperative verbs.

Monosyllabic verbs (verb stems of one syllable) take i before the verb root:

i- + verb root + -a i- + -dy- + -a = Idya! 'Eat!'  Idya shakudya shako! 'Eat your food!'

i- + -mw- + -a = Imwa! 'Drink!'  Imwa madsi! 'Drink some water!'

In addressing a person of older or higher status, or just someone to whom you wish to show respect, you need a different directive. One form is the plural imperative: the verb root + -a + -ni. (Example: La5ani! 'Enter!'). Although it conveys the sense of a command when addressed to a number of people, it can be used as a show of respect to an individual. Therefore, it is more of a request than a command when addressed to one person. The understood subject is still 'you', whether one person or a group.

‘Eat! (please)’
‘Eat your food!’
‘Drink! (please)’
‘Drink some water!’

(Remember Pitani bwino! 'Go well' and Tealani bwino! 'Stay well' from the lesson on greeting.)

Exercises

A. Make respectful directives (the plural form of the imperative -ni) out of the following verbs:

Example: -yang’ana munthuyo + Yang’anani munthuyo! 'Look at that man!'

1. -tseka chitseko
2. -lowa
3. -dya chipatso
4. -thendiza anawa
5. -mvera abambo anu
6. -pita bwino
7. -tsala bwino
8. -tsala zweno
9. -yang’ana galimotyo
10. -mwa mowa
B. Using the verb phrases below, give an appropriate directive when addressing the people indicated in parentheses.

Example:
- bwera kuno (cmayi anu)
  Bwerani kuno. 'Come here!'

- khala pansi (mxana)
  Khala pansi. 'Sit down!'

1. - choka (galu)
2. - yang'ana anthuwo (abambo anu)
3. - dya nsomba fyi (alendo)
4. - mwa madzi (ana)
5. - loka m'nyumba umo (mnzako)
6. - tsegula buku lako (wophunzira wina)
7. - lemba dzina lanu (mphunzitsi)
8. - tseka chitseko icho (annyamata)
9. - pita kusukulu (mlongo wako)
10. - tsala bwino (atsikana)

C. Practice giving directives and responding to them. First respond to the directive given by the teacher and then give directives to each other about the classroom or your belongings and respond to them:

Examples:
- Tsegulani buku lanu.
  'Open your book!'
- Tsegulani buku lake.
  'Open his/her book!'
- Pitani paftpi ndi tebulu.
  'Go near the table!'
- Yang'ana John.
  'Look at John!'

8.4.2 Requests with the Subjunctive

When the subjunctive is used to request something it has the effect of softening a command, making it less abrupt and less urgent (i.e. 'you should go', 'you ought to go').

The singular form of the subjunctive will take the AP u- 'you' in the following formula:

\[ u- + \text{root} + -e \]

\[ u- + \text{lo}- + -e = \text{Ulove!} \quad \text{'Enter! (please)'/\text{You should enter'}/etc.} \]

Although *uloqe! would be directed to a peer or to someone who is younger or of lower status, the sense of urgency is lessened, as is the necessity of compliance.

Note that the subjunctive verb form always requires an AP; the imperative form does not.
Examples:

\[
\begin{align*}
\text{U- + verb root + -e} & \quad \text{= U} \text{verb root + -e} \\
\text{U- + bwer- + -e} & \quad \text{= Ubwere! 'Come! (please)'} \\
& \quad \text{Ubwere kuno! 'Come here!'/'You ought to come here'/etc.} \\
\text{U- + yang'an- + -e} & \quad \text{= Uyang'ane! 'Look!'} \\
& \quad \text{Uyang'ane bukuli! 'Look at this book!'} \\
\text{U- + dy- + -e} & \quad \text{= Udye! 'Eat!'} \\
& \quad \text{Udye chakudya oharu! 'Eat your food!'} \\
\text{U- + mwe- + -e} & \quad \text{= Umwe! 'Drink!'} \\ & \quad \text{Umwe madzi! 'Drink some water!'}
\end{align*}
\]

(Monosyllabic verbs don't need the prefix i- which they require for the imperative verb form (with no AP).)

The more respectful (and plural) subjunctive form uses the subject prefix mu- 'you' (plural):

\begin{align*}
\text{mu- + root + -e} & \quad \text{= Muverb root + -e} \\
\text{mu- + bwer- + -e} & \quad \text{= Mubwere! 'Come! (please)'} \\
& \quad \text{Mubwere kuno! 'Come here! (please)'}
\end{align*}
\]

The plural (and thus more polite) subject and the less urgent tone of the subjunctive verb (-e) make this more of a request than a command. Again, it will be addressed to a group, an older or higher status person, or to someone you wish to show respect.*

Examples:

\[
\begin{align*}
\text{Mu- + verb root + -e} & \quad \text{= Muverb root + -e} \\
\text{Mu- + yang'an- + -e} & \quad \text{= Muyang'ane! 'Look! (please)'/ 'You ought to look'/ etc.} \\
& \quad \text{Muyang'ane njoka iyo! 'Look at that snake! (please)'/etc.} \\
\text{Mu- + dy- + -e} & \quad \text{= Mudye! 'Eat! (please)'} \\
& \quad \text{Mudye chakudya oharu! 'Eat your food! (please)'} \\
\text{Mu- + mwe- + -e} & \quad \text{= Mumwe! 'Drink! (please)'} \\
& \quad \text{Mumwe madzi! 'Drink some water! (please)'}
\end{align*}
\]

*To show politeness when making a request, villagers reportedly use the mu- + root + -e subjunctive form more often than the plural imperative (the verb root + -a + -ni form). The plural imperative is heard more often in towns.
Exercises

A. Change the following -a imperatives into corresponding singular and plural subjunctive forms (-g):

Example: Tsegula chiteko! → Utesegule chiteko!
           Tsegulani chiteko! → Mutsegule chiteko!

1. Loñani! 6. Choka!
2. Ona galuyo! 7. Tolani dengu ilo!
5. Idyani ichi! 10. Tsalani bwino!

B. Make singular subjunctive forms with the following verbs:

Example: -yang'ana munthuyo + Uyang'ane munthuyo!

1. -tsekachitseko 6. -tsegula buku lako
2. -bwera kuno 7. -loña muno
3. -dya chipatso 8. -mwa moña
4. -peza madzi 9. -tsala bwino
5. -thandiza amayi 10. -yang'ana galimotolo

C. Repeat the above exercise using the plural respectful subjunctive form of the verb:

Example: -yang'ana munthuyo + Myang'ane munthuyo!

D. Change (if necessary) the model directive when addressing the following people (indicated in parentheses):

         (aphunsitei)
         New Model: Mubwere kuno!

1. (mwana) 6. (galu wako)
2. (bwenzi lako) 7. (mkazi wanu)

8.4.3 Suggestions with -YENERA + Infinitive

Another verbal construction can be used instead of the subjunctive to make a strong suggestion. This is the verb stem -yenera, which is always followed by an infinitive and has the meaning of 'should' or 'ought to'. It can be used with no expectation of immediate compliance.

-yenera takes an AP but has a zero in the T/A slot (just like the immediate future ndipita 'I'll go'):

<table>

<td>Muyenera kusamba.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>you</td>
<td>/</td>
<td>/</td>
<td>should</td>
<td>(to) wash</td>
<td></td>
<td>'You should wash.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Muyenera kusamba m'ma6a. 'You should wash in the morning.'
(It's a good idea.)

Ana ayenera kumwa mkaka. 'Children should drink milk.'

Ndiyenera kapita kusukulu masiku one. 'Children should go to school everyday.'

When the main verb has an object prefix, it is placed between the ku- of the infinitive and the verb stem:

Ayenera kunendidikira. 'He should wait for me.'

Tiyenera kawanye'ana. 'We should look at them.'

In the negative, the -yenera verb takes si- before the AP:

Simuyenera kutenga cholembere chimene si chanu. 'You shouldn't take a pen which isn't yours.'

Sitiyenera kuchedwa. 'You shouldn't be late.'
Exercises

A. Change the verbs in the following sentences into ones expressing 'should' with -yenera + infinitive:

Example: Muyenera ntchito. + Muyenera kugwira ntchito. 'You should work.'

1. Simulankhula.
2. Ndiwerenga kalatazi.
3. Timvera aphunzitsi athu.
4. Anthu samwa mowa.
5. Ndidikira chemwali wanga.
7. Aphika chakudya cha m'mawa.
8. Tipita posachedwa.
9. Simutenga ana anu.
10. Mundiyang'ana.

B. Answer the following questions:

Example: Muyenera kudya chiyani masiku onse? 'What should you eat everyday?'

Ndiyenera kudya chipateo. 'I should eat fruit.'

1. Muyenera kubwera kuti masiku onse?
2. Muyenera kugoná maola angati?
3. Ndani ayenera kuphunzira Chichewa masiku onse?
4. Muyenera kulankhula chiyani m'Malawi?
5. Simuyenera kuchita chiyani?
6. Ndani akuyenera kukuthandizani?
7. Simuyenera kumwa chiyani masiku onse?
8. Muyenera kuwerenga chiyani masiku onse?
9. Muyenera kumwa chiyani masiku onse?
10. Ndani ayenera kukuphunzitsani masiku onse?

C. Change the following requests into -yenera suggestions:

Example: Tipite! 'Let's go!' + Tiyenera kapita. 'We should go.'

1. Muyenera kuwerenga bukulo.
2. Mutithandizei!
3. Utenge anzanu.
4. Muyang'ane ana awo mumtengo.
5. Udikire pano.
7. Utsegule mabuku anu.
8. Mugule chipatso ichi.
10. Mupite pansi msanga.
D. Make suggestions with -yenera + infinitive. If the suggestion is appropriate, then students should say ‘inde’ or ‘ees’. If the suggestion is inappropriate, say ‘iyayi’ and correct the suggestion.

Example: Muyenera kulankhula Chinglezi tsopano.
‘You should speak English now.’

Iyayi, muyenera kulankhula Chichewa tsopano.
‘No, you should speak Chichewa now.’

Tiyenera lamwa madi masiku onse.
‘We should drink water everyday.’

Inde.
‘Yes.’
8.5 NEGATIVE DIRECTIVES

Directives can be expressed negatively in order to request or command that something 'not be done': (i.e. 'Don't go!). Whether an imperative command or a subjunctive request is intended, must be determined by the context because both the negative imperative and the negative subjunctive have the same form: 'you' + negative prefix -sa- + verb root + -e.

\[ \text{AP} + -sa- + \text{root} + -e \]

\[ u- + -sa- + \text{root} - e = \text{Usaloâ€²!} \]

you / not / enter 'Don't enter!' / 'You shouldn't enter!

Usaloâ€² is the singular, familiar negative directive. Other examples:

\[ u- + -sa- + \text{root} + -e = \text{Usabwere kwâ€²!} \]

'You ought not come here!' / 'You ought not come here!'

\[ u- + -sa- + \text{root} + -e = \text{Usalâ€²e mabuku!} \]

'Don't forget the books!'

\[ u- + -sa- + \text{root} + -e = \text{Usalâ€²e mnyamatayo!} \]

'Don't look at that boy!'

And a plural, and thus more respectful, negative directive uses the plural subject prefix mu-:

\[ mu- + -sa- + \text{root} + -e \]

\[ mu- + -sa- + \text{root} - e = \text{Musaloâ€²!} \]

'Don't enter!' / 'You ought not enter!

\[ mu- + -sa- + \text{root} - e = \text{Musapite kanyumbalo.} \]

'Don't go to that house!'

\[ mu- + -sa- + \text{root} - e = \text{Musatseke chitseko icho.} \]

'Don't shut that door!'

There are dialectal variants of the negative imperative which, while not considered standard usage, do enjoy some currency in the country. One variant uses the root -a instead of -e:

\[ -sa- \]

\[ -sa- \]

\[ -sa- \]

\[ -sa- \]

Musaloâ€²! 'Don't enter!' Musaloâ€²! 'Don't enter!'

Musaiâ€²ale! 'Don't forget!' Musaiâ€²ala! 'Don't forget!'
There is no difference in meaning between these two forms. Another variant consists of o- (as the AP) + the negative prefix -sa- + the verb root with -a:

o- \ + \ -sa- \ + \ -dy- \ + \ -a = \text{Osadya!} \quad \text{'Don't eat!'} \\
o- \ + \ -sa- \ + \ -lan'k'ul- \ + \ -a = \text{Osalankhula!} \quad \text{'Don't talk!'}
\]

Exercises

A. Make singular negative directives (with the AP u-) using the following verbs:

Example: -lemba 'write' + uealembe! 'Don't write!'/'You ought not to write!'

1. -lówa
2. -lankhula
3. -gula njingayo
4. -pita uko
5. -werenga bukulo
6. -tseka chitseko
7. -tsegula zenera
8. -chita icho
9. -bwera kuno
10. -yang'ana atsikanawo

B. Repeat the previous exercise making plural, respectful negative imperatives (mu-):

Example: -lemba + Muelaembe! 'Don't write! (please)'/

'You ought not to write!'

C. Change the following affirmative directive verbs into their corresponding negative forms:

Examples: Upite kumeika! 'Go to the market! (please)'/

'You should go to the market!'

Usapite kumeika! 'Don't go to the market!'

Gulitesani nyumba yamu! 'Sell your house! (please)'

Mueagulitese nyumba yamu! 'Don't sell your house!', etc.

1. Muthandize bwenzi lanu!
2. Gulani chitunzicho!
3. Ulankhule!
4. Pitani pansi kusukulu!
5. Mu'embe dzina lanu!
6. UiWiile mnyamat-yo!
7. Choka!
8. LoWani!
9. MuWerenga bukuli!
10. Uchite icho!
8.6 DIRECTIVES WITH OBJECT PREFIXES

Commands and requests may have pronoun objects ('Help me!'; 'Listen to him!') which appear as object prefixes with either the imperative (no AP) or the subjunctive form of the verb. There are three constructions which accommodate object prefixes and they vary in form and respectfulness. All take -e as the final vowel suffix.

The most respectful form contains an AP (u/-mu-) in the following formula:

\text{Mu-} + \text{Object Prefix} + \text{Verb Root} + -e

| You / me / help | 'Help me!'/'Please help me!', etc. |
| Mu- + -ti- + pate- + -e | 'Give us money!'/You ought to give us money!' |

Another respectful form is the plural imperative (no AP, but -ni as a suffix), used with an object prefix:

| Object Prefix + root + -e + -ni |
| Ndi- + -yang'an- + -c + -ni = Ndiyang'aneni! |

The meaning of this imperative construction is no different from the one above.

Other examples:

| ndi- + -pate- + -e + -ni = Ndiyamve! |
| Me / give / (you) 'Give me some money! (please)' |

| mu- + -mver- + -e + -ni = Nmvereni! |
| Him / listen / (you) 'Listen to him! (please)' |
The preceding requests can be reduced to abrupt, less respectful commands which delete both the subject and object prefixes.

When the 'understood' (not expressed) object refers to 'me', the final vowel suffix -e is used:

Verb Root + -e + -ni give / (you) 'Give (me) some money!'

yang'an- + -e + -ni = Yang'aneni!
'Look (at me)!'
thandiz- + -e + -ni = Thandizeni!
'Help (me)!'

These forms of commands and requests with object prefixes (implied or expressed) use the same negative verbal assembly as other negative imperatives and subjunctives. The only difference is the presence of the object prefix.

Mundithandize! 'Help me!' Musandithandize! 'Don't help me!'
Ndithandiseni! 'Help me!' Musandithandize! 'Don't help me!'
Thandiseni! 'Help me!' Musanthandize! 'Don't help (me)!

Whether the intended meaning is more of a command ('don't help me!') or a request ('you should not/ought not to help me, etc.) depends on the context.

Exercises

A. Substitute the following object prefixes into the model sentence:

Example: Model: Mundipatse ndalama!
          'Give me some money! (please)'/
          'You should give me some money!'

3. -ti-
4. -ndi-
5. -mu-
6. -ti-
7. -wa-
8. -mu-
9. -ndi-
10. -ti-
B. Change the following requests into the negative:

Example: Mumuvere! + Muvereni! 'Listen to him.'

8.7 'WHY?' QUESTIONS

Chifukwa chiyani, the question words for 'why?', is composed of the Class 7 noun chifukwa 'reason' and chiyani 'what?' ('why?' = 'what reason?'). This 'why' expression may come either at the beginning of the sentence or at the end:

Chifukwa chiyani sanapite?/Sanapite chifukwa chiyani?
'Why didn't he go?'

The answer to a 'why' question can take several forms. One possibility is using chifukwa (which also means 'because') followed by a sentence:

Chifukwa chiyani sanapite? 'Why didn't he go?'
Sanapite chifukwa anatopa. 'He didn't go because he was tired.'
Sanapite chifukwa mvula inagwa. 'He didn't go because it rained.' rain / fell

Another possible answer uses chifukwa oha 'because of' followed by a noun:

Sanapite chifukwa oha mvula. 'He didn't go because of the rain.'
Sanapite chifukwa oha ntchito. 'He didn't go because of work.'
Other examples:

Chifukwa chiyani machedwa? 'Why are you late?'
Machedwa chifukwa njinga yanga yathoyoka.
'I'm late because my bicycle is broken.'

Chifukwa chiyani munaghira nthito kwambiri? 'Why do you work a lot?'
Munaghira nthito kwambiri chifukwa ndikufuna kupeza ndalama.
'I work a lot because I want to earn money.'

Exercises

A. Answer the following 'why? chifukwa chiyani?' questions:

Example: Mukudya chakudya chifukwa chiyani?

G. Tone

1. While we can make no generalization about the tonal pattern of positive imperative and subjunctive verbs, we can about the negative forms of such verbs. Note that both the AP and the negative T/A -sa- are typically low toned in the form which is used for both the negative imperative and the negative subjunctive. (The rest of the verbal assembly, however, can have either high or low tones.) Practice the following positive and negative forms by repeating them after your teacher:

Positive Imperative

idya 'eat!' (L-i)  Phunsita 'teach!' (L-H-H)
peza 'find!' (L-H)

Negative Imperative and Subjunctive (Same Form but different meanings)

Usayend 'Do not walk!' (Imperative) (L-L-H-H)
Usayend 'You should not walk!' (Subjunctive) (L-L-H-H)
Musatsale 'Don't remain!' (Imperative) (L-L-H-H)
Musatsale 'You ought not remain!' (Subjunctive) (L-L-H-H)
Musaphik 'Don't cook!' (Imperative) (L-L-H-H)
Musaphik 'You'd better not cook.' (Subjunctive) (L-L-H-H)
Musathandiza 'Don't help!' (L-L-L-L)
Musathandiza 'You should not help.' (Subjunctive) (L-L-L-L)
2. For other verb forms, we can say that the prefixes have certain characteristic tonal patterns, at least when the verb forms are said in their 'citation forms'. (Each verb stem has its own characteristic tonal pattern in its 'citation form'. The generalizations being made here apply only to the prefixes, not the verb stem.) These tonal patterns may change somewhat, when the verb actually occurs in a sentence, under the influence of other tones in the context. Still, it is useful to know the characteristic tonal patterns of verbal prefixes. For example, the general future typically has high tones on its AP and T/A as in Ndīdāyendā 'I will walk', but the stative typically has low tones on these prefixes. It is also helpful to realize that the verb form is exactly the same for both the stative past tense and the simple past in the negative. This means you must use context to tell which meaning is intended. Try to get used to associating different tonal patterns on the prefixes with different verbal assemblies. Repeat the following verbs in their 'citation forms' after your teacher:

Immediate Future (H on AP)

- Ṣhīyēndā 'I'll walk now,' (H..)
- Ṣuťōtōkōza 'You'll explain now' (H..)

General Future (H-H on AP and T/A)

- Ṣhīdīsāyendā 'I will walk..' (H-H..)
- Ṣuđīsōťōkōza 'You will explain..' (H-H..)

Stative (L-L on AP and T/A -- which merge)

- Ṣhīayendā 'I have walked...' (L-L..)
- Ṣuđāpīka 'I have cooked...' (L-L..)

Stative-Past-Negative (L-L-L on prefixes)

- Ṣiđīnayēndē 'I've not walked (L-L-L..)
- Ṣiśīnatsalē 'You have not remained...' (L-L-L..)

Simple Past-Negative (L-L-L on prefixes)

- Ṣiđīnayēndē 'I did not walk...' (L-L-L..)
- Ṣiśīnatsalē 'You did not remain...' (L-L-L..)

8.3 USAGE NOTES

8.3.1 Imperatives

In telling someone how to do something, the respectful, plural imperative is appropriate (Mu\(\text{dikire/Dikirani}\) 'Wait...'). In the above text, the respectful imperative (-\(\text{ni}\)) and the subjunctive (-\(\text{e}\)) forms are interchangeable, even appearing in the same sentence.

Where two commands appear one after the other (Take the pot and wash it) the first verb will be in the imperative and the second take the form of the infinitive:

\text{Tengani poto ndi kutsuka.}

\text{take / pot / and / wash}

The structure of the sentence with an initial imperative verb also gives an imperative aspect to the second verb even though it is an infinitive form. Another example:

\text{Muthirem, madii ndi kuika pamoto.}

\text{Pour in water and put on the fire.}

8.3.2 Ka-'go and...'

Ka- is a high-toned verbal prefix that implies motion 'go and do something'. In an imperative verb construction, ka- precedes a verb stem ending in -\(\text{e}\):

\text{ka-} + \text{Verb Root} + -\text{e} (+ -\text{ni})

\text{Ka-} + -\text{tgul-} + -\text{e} = \text{Katsegule chitseko.}

\text{'Go and open the door.'}

\text{Ka-} + -\text{ik-} + -\text{e} + -\text{ni} = \text{Kaikeni patebulo.}

\text{'Go and put (it) on the table.'}

In other verb constructions, ka- appears between the T/A prefix and the verb stem:

\text{AP + T/A + -ka- + Verb Root + -a}

\[
\text{Ndi- + }# + -\text{ka-} + -\text{gul-} + -a \text{ Ndi\(\text{cgula nsomba kumeika.}

\text{'I'll go and buy some fish at the market.'}

\text{A- + -dza- + -ka- + -phunsir- + -a Adu\(\text{kauphunsira sdbata lam\(\text{a.}

\text{'He'll go and study next week.'}
There is another -ka- prefix which has the meaning of 'when', 'if', or 'after'. It differs from the -ka- prefix meaning 'go and do something' in tone and its placement in the verbal assembly. While -ka- (meaning 'go and do...') is high-toned and appears between the T/A prefix and the verb stem, -ka- meaning 'if, when, after' is low-toned and appears between the AP and the T/I prefix. Compare:

Akadya... Åkadya.
'When he eats...' 'He'll go and eat.'
Mukadsaphika... Mudsakoph ka.
'If you'll cook...' 'You'll go and cook.'

8.3.3 Ngati 'if'

Ngati is a conjunction meaning 'if'. As a conjunction, it joins two parts of a sentence: a condition and a result. For example, in the sentence 'If he goes, I will stay', the first part 'if he goes' is the condition and the second part 'I will stay' is the result. In Chichewa, ngati introduces a condition either before or after the main clause of the sentence.

Ngati atentha, kandireni ndi ufa.
'If it is hot, mix it with some flour.'

Ngati apita, ndikhala pano.
'If he goes, I will stay here.'

Ndidaqwira ntchito, ngati muzandithandiza!
'I will work if you help me.'

8.3.4 Komalizira 'finally'

In telling someone how to do something, you may choose to organize your directions into steps by prefacing each direction with expressions such as:

Choyamba 'first': Choyamba, tengani poto.
'First, take a pot.'

Chachiwiri 'second': Chachiwiri, muthiremo madzi.
'Second, pour in some water.'

These steps may be continued with chachitatu 'third', chachinayi 'fourth', etc.

Other useful transitional words between steps are:

Komalizira - 'finally'
Kondika - 'after that'
Pambuyo pa - 'after...'
8.3.5 Please

The word 'please' in English is used frequently with any manner of polite request or command. There is a word in Chichewa, chonde, which is often translated as 'please', but it is not used as freely as in English. It has a begging connotation that is appropriate only in certain situations. For example, if you were at the post office, you would normally use a simple respectful imperative: Ndipatseni masitampa 'Give me some stamps'. The respectful structure of this imperative actually implies 'please' in the English sense.

However, if you had been waiting a while to be served and were in quite a hurry, then you might say:

Chonde, ndipatseni masitampa! (Ndafulumira)
'Please, give me some stamps' (I'm in a hurry!)

Observe how it is used by Malawians and use it sparingly yourself.

8.4 CULTURAL NOTES

8.4.1 Nsima and Ndiwo

It appears at almost every meal and in fact it is synonymous with the word chakudya 'food'.

Nsima is the staple food of Malawi. It is a starch made from ufa, corn flour, which is mixed with water and boiled until it becomes stiff. This cooked corn meal is similar to Southern 'grits' in its consistency and flavor. When it is finished, the nsima is removed from the cooking pot, heaped on a large plate, and smoothed to form a 'mountain'. The nsima is served with a spoon but it is eaten with the hand (the right one, please).

Accompanying nsima is a thin sauce or relish called ndiwo. (Ndiwo always takes plural agreements; for example: ndiwo za ngombe 'fish relish'.) There are various types of ndiwo, some made with just vegetables, and others with meat or fish. Although in other parts of Africa, the ndiwo can be quite hot (spicy), Malawian ndiwo tend to be somewhat mild. The proper way to eat nsima is to take a mouth-size portion in the right hand, form it into a ball, dip it into the sauce, and place it in the mouth. It is an art that takes practice. Nsima can be eaten with a spoon or fork, but true nsima lovers claim that it tastes best when eaten by hand.
8.4.2 The Left Hand

In many African societies, there are often restrictions upon the use of the left hand. For example, food is usually picked up and eaten with the right hand; giving and receiving things is also done with the right hand. Using the left hand in these and other restricted cases might be taken as an offense even though it is unintended.

8.5 EXERCISES

8.5.1 COMMANDS

Practice the use of imperatives by issuing each other commands to do something. For example, using both the -ni and subjunctive forms of the imperative, one student can request another student to perform an action or several actions; the second student will perform the actions to demonstrate his/her understanding of the structures and vocabulary:

1st student: Mubwere kuno!
Bwerani kuno: 'Come here!'
Mu-_______ -ni
-ndipatse
-tseke
-ike
-ndipatse
-pite
etc.

etc.

8.5.2 Vary the command by mixing in negative directions:

1st student: Mupite kuchitseko! / Pitani kuchitseko!
Musatsegule chitseko! / Musatsegule chitseko!
etc.
etc.

8.5.3 Soften the command by using the prefix ka- to indicate 'go and do something':

1st student: Kaikeni bukuli patelulo. 'Go and put this book on the table.'
Ka-_____________

-366-
8.5.4 Give a double command in the structure: Imperative verb + ndi + infinitive.

1st student: Mutsegule buku ndi kuwerenga.
'Open the book and read it.'

'Take a pen and write.'

8.5.5 'HOW TO DO SOMETHING'

Practice using the imperative verbs in order to give directions on how to do something.

Step 1: Using the text on how to cook nsima, observe the teacher as he/she reads the directions and performs the accompanying actions (of pouring, stirring, mixing, etc.).

Step 2: Repeat the directions in the text after the teacher models them.

Step 3: Perform the actions of cooking nsima while the teacher or another student reads the directions.

Step 4: Recite the directions and perform the accompanying actions.

8.5.6 READING

Read the directions on the following pages on 'how to make tea with lemon and tea with milk'. Refer to the English text for any work or structures you do not know. Then practice the text using the steps outlined in the preceding exercise.

Explain to the students in the class 'how to do something' that you are familiar with. Use the structures and vocabulary in this and in past lessons. Ask your teacher for any words you may not know in Chichewa.

HOW TO MAKE TEA WITH LEMON AND MILK

1. Put two or three pieces of lemon in a tumbler or in a cup.

2. Pour hot water on top of the pieces of lemon in the tumbler.

3. Fill the tumbler or cup with hot tea.

4. Add sugar to make it sweet. Such lemon tea or ice-cold tea is nice to drink.

1. Put one small spoonful of leaves of Malaawi tea in any cup of good tea you want to make.

2. Pour hot water. Wait for a short time for the tea to steep.

3. When the leaves have colored the water in the tea pot add sugar and milk in the amounts of your choice.

4. Pour into the same cup of fragrant tea. Now you can drink good Malawi tea.
8.6 SURVIVAL VOCABULARY

Samlira! - 'Be careful!'
Osapanga phokoso! - 'Don't make noise!'
(you) / panga / phokoso not / make / noise (Cl. 5/6)

Ndoli ndalamazi! - 'Pick up this money!'

8.7 RIDDLES

On those bright moonlit nights when children and adults alike stay outside late, one of the sources of amusement for young and old is to exchange riddles. Often parents will 'test' their children with riddles, new and old. Recalling them is a feat of memory, but deciphering them is an exercise in intellectual skill. It's a challenge for the children to be the first to interpret the clever imagery and concept in the riddles.

When a riddle is answered correctly, a little bit of joking is often carried out in the following manner with A, the correct guesser, and B, the teller:

B: Ndikupatsa ng'ombe. 'I'll give you a cow.'
A: Zingati? 'How many?'
B: Zisanu? 'Five?'
A: Baa! 'Moo!' = (O.K.)

Try these riddles to test the cleverest among you:

Q: Phiri lokwera ndi makadabo. 'A hill you climb with your fingernails.'
   - kwera - 'climb' makadabo - 'fingernails'
A: Nsema!

A: Ndinapita kwa bwense ndiyo anandiyalira mphasa; ndisanakhale, anakhala ena.
   'I went to my friend's and he laid a mat for me;
   before I sat, another sat.'

A: Ntchentche! 'A Fly' (It's customary for the guest to be the first to sit down on a newly-laid mat.)
VERB REVIEW LESSON

A number of verbs have already been introduced in preceding lessons. We have seen how different prefixes and suffixes can be attached to the verb root to indicate subject and object agreement, tense/aspect, and negation. This agglutinative character of the verb (the putting together of 'parts' to make the verb construction) must be understood as an interrelated process. The presence of a particular prefix may determine what other affixes (or 'parts') can or cannot accompany it. For example, the simple positive past construction, consisting of an AP, the past T/A prefix -na-, the verb root and a final vowel always takes -a as the final vowel:

Ndinapita. 'I went.'

But the final vowel is -e in the negative simple past construction. The fact that the negative prefix si- is now present correlates with a final -e:

Sindinapite. 'I didn't go.'

The interrelationship among the parts of a verb is useful to remember as more verbs, verb suffixes, and verb prefixes are introduced in the following lessons. You will be better able to understand and produce verb forms in Chichewa by being aware of the nature of their interdependency.

Realizing that the verb in Chichewa is made up of interrelated parts, we can visualize it as a verbal assembly pattern composed of slots which may or may not be filled with a particular affix or root. The following tables set out lists of slots horizontally and lists of verb forms vertically. Remember that:

AP represents the agreement prefix that is attached to the verb and refers to the pronoun or class of the noun subject:

\begin{align*} \text{AP} & \\
\text{Ndizapita.} & 'I'll go.' & \text{AP} & \\
\text{Muana anadwala.} & 'The child was sick.'
\end{align*}
\]

T/A represents the tense/aspect marker which indicates time or aspect in reference to the semantic content of the verb root: simple past, perfect, present continuous, habitual, future, etc. These T/A prefixes always occur after the subject prefix:

\begin{align*}
\text{T/A} & \\
\text{Tinadya.} & 'We ate.' & \text{T/A} & \\
\text{Udzalembe.} & 'You will write.'
\end{align*}
\]

OP represents the object prefix marking the pronoun object or referring to the class of the noun object. Pronoun object prefixes are required but those representing noun objects are emphatic and optional:

\begin{align*}
\text{OP} & \\
\text{Munamuona.} & 'You saw him.' & \text{OP} & \\
\text{Ndidasigula nthochi.} & 'I'll buy these bananas.'
\end{align*}
\]
VR represents the verb root, the case form of the verb without any prefixes or suffixes:

VR
Mumaiderenga. 'You usually read.'

Achedwa. 'They are late.'

VS represents the vowel suffix ending with -a or -e. In general, all of the positive verb forms (with the exception of the subjunctive) end in -a:

VS
Akudikira. 'He's waiting.'

Sitinadwale. 'We aren't sick.'

The verbal assembly pattern of each form is presented, with 'yes' indicating that the particular slot is filled for that form and Ø indicating that it is not filled. Remember that a Ø still carries information in the sense that you can learn to identify verb forms in terms of whether certain slots are filled with Ø's or not. The first tables show the positive and negative forms of regular verbs (those verbs having VS -a or -e). Subsequent tables will show the positive and negative verbal assembly patterns of the irregular verbs 'be', 'have', and 'there is/are' and the imperative and subjunctive forms.

The preceding table shows a uniform pattern among the verb forms which all have APs, verb roots, and final vowel suffix -a. But the T/A prefix is less uniform. It is realized most often as a single prefix, but it takes the form of a double prefix for the present progressive (-li- 'be' and -ka- 'ing') and a zero (Ø) for the immediate future.

An additional prefix to consider is the negative prefix si- (attached to the verb before the subject prefix). Its presence alters the verbal assembly patterns of one of these verb forms, the simple past. Otherwise there is a uniform pattern among these negative verb forms:

<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The table also shows that the negative forms of the habitual and perfect T/As are the same as the negative forms of the present progressive, past, and immediate future T/As.

1) A negative response to a perfect T/A question is equivalent either to the negative present progressive (with stative verbs) or to the negative past (with action verbs):
IRREGULAR VERBS: 'BE'(-LI/NDI), 'HAVE'(-LI NDI), 'THERE IS/ARE'

These verbs are treated separately because they don't use the same assemblies as other verbs. One major irregularity is that these verbs (-li and ndi) take a final vowel suffix -e or -a as other verbs do. Another irregularity is that the verbs -li and ndi cannot accommodate all T/A prefixes; instead the root itself will change to -khala in many instances (e.g. with habitual, perfect, and future T/As).

PRESENT (POSITIVE) OF THE VERB -LI AND NDI

In contrast to the regular action and stative verbs, the verb -li takes no T/A prefix in the present tense. Furthermore, the verb ndi takes neither an AP nor a T/A prefix. The assembly pattern for these verbs in the present is:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>AP</th>
<th>T/A</th>
<th>VR</th>

</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Present (positive)</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>ndi</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Present (positive)</td>
<td>yes</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>-li</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
In the past tense, the distinction between -li and ndi disappears. The past tense of all uses of the verb 'be' takes the same T/A as do regular verbs in the past for the following pattern:

\[ \text{AP} + \text{-na-} + \text{-li} \]

Table 4: Past (Positive) Forms of 'be', 'have', 'there is/are'

Habitual/Perfect/Future (Positive) Forms of the Verb -li

To express the above T/A forms of the verbs 'be', 'have', and 'there is/are', another verb stem -khala ('be, live, stay') is used. While -li can accommodate the past T/A prefix -na- or -da-, it cannot accept any other such prefix and so -khala is used instead with other T/A prefixes (including the imperative and subjunctive). -khala is a regular verb and the assembly pattern for it and the following T/A prefixes is, therefore, the same as that for other regular verbs:

NEGATIVE FORMS OF 'BE, HAVE, THERE IS/ARE'

The negative of these verbs varies considerably in form. The 'be' verb forms take the negative prefix si- but 'have' and 'there is/are' verb forms take si- in some instances and the negative suffix -be in others. Each verb and its negative expression will be discussed separately in the following tables.

NEGATIVE OF NDI 'BE' (PRESENT T/A)

The negative of ndi 'be' has two forms:

1) When ndi is free standing and not joined with an emphatic pronoun, the negative prefix si- replaces ndi.
Ndì mlendoyo.

Si mlendoyo.

'It's/He's not the guest.'

2) When ndì is joined with an emphatic pronoun, the negative prefix si- is attached to the whole construction, that is, it does not replace ndì but both si- and ndì appear:

Ndìne Mateche.

Sindine Mateche.

'I'm not Mateche.'

NEGATIVE FORMS OF 'BE': -Li FORMS (PRESENT AND PAST T/AS)
-KHALA FORMS (OTHERS T/AS)

To express the negative, si- becomes a prefix to the 'be' verbs having -li (with the present and past T/As) and -khala (with other T/As).

The Negative of 'Have' and 'There Is/Are' Verb Forms

With the verbs -li ndi 'have' and pali/kali/muli 'there is/are', the negative has two forms depending on the T/A prefix and verb root used:

1) The negative suffix -be is used when the verb root is -li (with present and past T/As). In fact, -be as a negative suffix never appears with any other verb EXCEPT -li in the expressions -li ndi 'have' and pali/kali/muli 'there is/are'.

- Muli ndi mwana. 'You have a child.'
- Mulibe mwana. (-be replaces ndi) 'You don't have a child.'
2) The negative prefix si- is used when the verb root is -kha/a (in the immediate and distant futures, for example). That is, -kha/a, as a regular verb, takes the same verbal assembly as other regular verbs.

POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE FORMS OF THE IMPERATIVE AND SUBJUNCTIVE

Imperative and subjunctive verbs are discussed separately from other T/A forms because of differences in their verbal assembly patterns. For example:

1) Imperative verb forms have no AP in the positive.
2) Imperative and subjunctive verb forms have zero (Ø) realization for their T/A prefixes.
3) In their negative form, subjunctive and imperative verbs take the negative prefix -sa-. No other verb forms take -sa- as a negative form. -sa- occurs AFTER the AP, not before as does -si-.
4) Imperative verb forms take final vowel suffix -e in the negative; subjunctive verb forms take final vowel suffix -e in both the positive and the negative.
5) Respectful, plural imperatives take an additional suffix -ni after the final vowel suffix -a in the positive.

9.2 MODIFIERS

Modifiers of nouns limit the meaning of those nouns from generality (a store) to specificity (that store, a new store, a bookstore, etc.). In Chichewa, nouns, adjectives, and even verbs can serve as noun modifiers. The relationship of a noun modifier to its noun is signalled by an appropriate prefix. Modifier prefixes consist of different combinations of the AP, the 'a' of association, and the class prefix of the infinitive ku-.

9.3 MODIFIERS: (AP+'a')

The 'a' of association is a particle that is used to show a relationship (or an association) between a noun and some of its modifiers. We first came across the 'a' of association in relation to possessive pronouns in Lesson 1. The possessive pronominal stem -anga 'my' is really composed of the 'a' of association + nga. To signal agreement between a noun and the possessive stem, the AP of the relevant noun class is combined with the 'a' of association and attached to the rest of the pronominal stem -nga.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class 1 Noun</th>
<th>AP + 'a' + -nga</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>mkasi</td>
<td>u- + a = wa- + -nga = mkasi wanga</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

'mkasi wanga' is the 'associative form' for Class 1 nouns. This associative form can show relationships not only between nouns and possessive pronouns but also between nouns and other nouns.

Before looking at these other types of relationships, it might be useful to review the noun classes and their respective 'associative forms'. These forms represent a combination of the AP for each noun class with a. The combining of the AP with a results in these sound changes:

1) If the AP is i, it becomes u before a (i + a = wa).
2) If the AP is composed of a consonant + i, the i drops before a (ochi + a = oha).
3) If the AP is composed of a consonant + a, the a drops before the a of association (ka + a = ka).
4) If the AP contains u, it becomes u before a (u + a = wa).
9.3.1 Possessive Nouns: 'Something of Someone'

Possession also can be expressed by linking two nouns (the possessor and the thing possessed) with the 'a' of association. While we can say 'the man's house' in English, we would have to say 'the house of the man' in Chichewa:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Possessed</th>
<th>Associative Form</th>
<th>Possessor</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>nyumba</td>
<td>ya</td>
<td>mwamunayo = nyumba ya mwamunayo</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'house'</td>
<td>'of'</td>
<td>'man'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

*An alternative form for class 14 is bu + a = bwa.
The associative form is always in agreement with the noun which comes first, the possessed noun. Therefore, ya (which generally means 'of') is in(concordial)agreement with the Class 9 noun nyumba and not mwamuna. Furthermore, if this noun phrase became the subject of a full sentence, nyumba would be the subject and therefore the AP on the verb would agree with nyumba not mwamuna.

Example: Nyumba ya mwamunayo ili pafupi ndi chipatala.

'The man's house is near the hospital.'

The associative form will always be disjunctive (free standing) when used to express this possessive aspect of 'something of someone'.

Examples:

Mwana wa bamboyo akulira.

'The child of that man is crying.'

Ana a bamboyo akulira.

'The children of that man are crying.'

Galu wa Joni sadwala.

'John's dog (the dog of John) is sick.'

Agalu a Joni sadwala.

'John's dogs are sick.'

'The girl's leg is broken.'

'The girl's legs are broken.'

Buku la mwana lili patebulo.

'The child's book is on the table.'

'The child's books are on the table.'

Chovala cha mnyamatayu chili m'dengu umo.

'This boy's clothes are in that basket.'

'This boy's clothes (pl.) are in that basket.'

Njinga ya bwensi langa yathyoka.

'My friend's bike is broken.'
"Jinga na anzanga zathyoka.
'My friends' bikes are broken.'

Kampeni ka Chiwala kanali m'thumba mwake.
'Chiwala's small knife was in his pocket.'

Timipeni ta Chiwala tinali m'thumba mwake.
'Chiwala's small knives were in his pocket.'

Ukonde wa bambo wake uli m'madzi.
'His father's net is in the water.'

Maukonde a bambo wake ali m'madzi.
'His father's nets are in the water.'
Exercises

A. Substitute the following nouns into the model sentence, making all necessary changes in agreement:

Example: Model: Mwana wa mphunzitsiyo wagua.
'The teacher's child has fallen.'

Substitution: Buku

New Model: Buku la mphunzitsi lagwa.
'The teacher's book has fallen.'

1. mpando
2. khesu
3. chithunzi
4. nyali
5. ulalo
6. kambale
7. dengu
8. mpeni
9. chipewa
10. katundu

B. Repeat the preceding exercise, making the nouns plural before substituting them into the new model sentence:

Example: Mwana + ana + Ana a sing'anga agwa.
'The doctor's children have fallen.'

C. Answer the following questions using the noun in parenthesis in a 'something of someone' pattern. Therefore, you must use the correct associative form and follow it with an appropriate 'possessor'.

Example: Munaidišala okiyani? (dśina) + Ndinaidšala dśina la munthuyo.
'What did you forget?' 'I forgot that man's name.'

1. Ndani anamuona? (mkazi)
2. Munapeza chiyani? (ndalama)
3. Anadya kuti? (m'nyumba)
4. Chathyoka chiyani? (mwendo)
5. Ndani wadwala? (wenzi)
9.3.2 Whom/Whose?

In a preceding lesson on questions, ndani was introduced as the question word for who?

\[ \text{Ndani anapanga tebulo lanu?} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'Who made you table?'} \]

\[ \text{Muamunayo analipanga} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'That man made it.'} \]

Ndani then is the subjective case of the question word for people. In order to ask about people that are objects in a sentence (Whom did you see?) there is an objective form of the question word yani 'whom'. Whereas, ndani as the subject usually appears at the beginning of a question, yani will appear at the end.

\[ \text{Mukufuna kuona yani?} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'Whom do you want to see?'} \]

\[ \text{Ndikufuna kuona aChimwemwe.} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'I want to see Chimwemwe.'} \]

\[ \text{Akudya ndi yani?} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'With whom is she eating?'} \]

\[ \text{Akudya ndi Bill.} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'She's eating with Bill.'} \]

\[ \text{Muthandiza yani?} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'Whom will you help?'} \]

\[ \text{Ndithandiza abambo anga} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'I will help my father.'} \]

When preceded by an associative form, -a, yani functions as a noun to mean 'whose' (literally 'of whom'). The basic 'whose' construction is the same as that discussed under 9.3.1 for nouns modifying nouns. It consists of a noun followed by the appropriate associative form and yani, all written disjunctively:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>Associative Form</th>
<th>yani</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>galimoto 'car'</td>
<td>ya</td>
<td>yani = Galimoto ya yani?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

\[ \text{Mubwereka galimoto ya yani?} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'Whose car have you borrowed?'} \]

\[ \text{Ndabwereka galimoto ya John.} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'I've borrowed John's car.'} \]

\[ \text{Chimpawacho ndi oha yani?} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'Whose hat is that?'} \]

\[ \text{Chimpawacho ndi oha abambo anga.} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'That hat is my father's'} \]

\[ \text{Adwala uma a yani?} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'Whose children are sick?'} \]

\[ \text{Ana ake adwala.} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'His children are sick.'} \]

\[ \text{Munalandira kalata za yani?} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'Whose letters did you receive?'} \]

\[ \text{Ndinalandira kalata za bwensi langa} \quad \rightarrow \quad \text{'I received my friend's letters.'} \]
"Whose book is on the table?"

'The boy's book is on the table.'

'In whose house does she live?'

'She lives in Mr. Chibwe's house.'

As with the breakdown of the 'who/whom' distinction in English, the ndani/yani distinction is not rigidly observed in everyday speech. Ndani commonly appears in situations where usage rules used to call for yani. For example:

Mukufuna kuona ndani (yani)?

'Who (whom) do you want to see?'

Amakhala m'nyumba mwa ndani (yani)?

'In whose house does she live?'

Exercises

A. Answer the following questions, using the expressions in parenthesis in the answer:

Example: Mukufuna kuona yani? (aphunsitsi athu)

Ndikufuna kuona aphunsitsi athu.

'I want to see our teachers.'

1. Munagula nyumba ya yani? (-a Chiwala)
2. Chatupa chala cha yani (-a bwenzi langa)
3. Mumakonda nsima ya yani? (-amayi anga)
4. Mukudziwa yani pano? (anthuwo)
5. Uyu ndi katundu wa yani? (-a alendc)
6. Munapeza ndalama za yani? (-a Linda)
7. Munathandiza chemwali wa yani? (-a Bill)
8. Mukuwerenga buku la yani? (-ake)
9. Munaona dzina la yani? (-a mwanayu)
10. Mwalandira kalata ya yani? (mchimmene wanga)
B. First substitute the following expressions in the model question, making all necessary agreement changes; then answer each question.

Example:

Model:  Musabwereka galimoto ya yani?
        'Whose car have you borrowed?'

Substitution: Buku

New Model:  Musabwereka buku la yani?
            'Whose book have you borrowed?'

Answer:  Ndabwereka buku la mwanayu.
           'I borrowed this child's book.'

1. njinga
2. zovala
3. khasu
4. mphika
5. kampeni
6. katundu
7. matebulo
8. nsapato
9. chipewa
10. zinthu

9.3.3 Nouns Modifying Nouns (description)

In addition to having a possessive relationship, two nouns can have a descriptive relationship. That is, one noun can add descriptive detail to another noun. Many such details which are conveyed by adjectives in English are expressed by nouns modifying nouns in Chichewa.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>Associative Form</th>
<th>Descriptive Noun</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>mwanafwa</td>
<td>wa</td>
<td>nseru = mwanafwa wa nseru</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>'intelligent child' (literally, 'child of intelligence')</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>munda</td>
<td>wa</td>
<td>ohimanga = munda wa ohimanga</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'of'</td>
<td>'maize'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>'field'</td>
<td>'maize field'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Notice that, as before, the associative particle is disjunctive and agrees with the first noun in the construction (munda or mwanafwa in the above example).
Other examples:

- Mabuku kusitolo ya mabuku.
- Tidzagula tebulo la chitsulo.
- Muli ndi chitseko cha nsungwi.
- Tigula, mkaka wa lero.
- Sindidya nsomba za m'nyanja.
- Timabuledi ta lero tili momeika.

/ Amayi awo akugulitsa ufa wa mtedza.

I'm going to the bookstore.'
'We'll buy an iron table.'
'You have a bamboo door.'
'We'll buy today's milk.'
'I won't eat lake fish.'
'Today's small loaves of bread are in the market.'
'Those women are selling groundnut flour.'

Exercises

A. Substitute the following nouns into the model sentence, making all necessary changes in agreement.

Example:

Mipando ya nsungwi ili pakhomo.
'The bamboo chairs are outside.'

Model:

Tebulo

Substitution:

New Model:

Tebulo la nsungwi ili pakhomo.
'The bamboo table is outside.'

1. zitseko
2. dengu
3. matebulo
4. nkhokwe (s.)
5. mpando
6. bedi
7. chitseko
8. madengu
9. nkhokwe (pl.)
10. mabedi
B. Make sentences by using the following verbs and by combining the nouns with the appropriate associative form:

Example: ona / sitolo / mabuku. 'I saw the bookstore.'

1. -mwa / madzi / m'chitsime
2. -gula / nsomba / lero
3. -lima / munda / chimanga
4. -tseka / chitseko / chitsuló
5. -dyá / buledi / nthochi
6. -dziwa / ana / nzeru
7. -manga / nyumba / nsungwi
8. -gula / ufa / mtedza
9. -panga / ndiwo / nyama
10. -peza / buku / nyimbo

C. Repeat the preceding exercise making yes/no questions from the vocabulary provided. The student who is asked should answer negatively, providing a different modifier:

Example: -ona...sitolo...mabuku. 'Did you see the bookstore?'
Kodi munaona sitolo ya mabuku?
'Iyayi, ndinaona sitoto ya sovala.
'No, I saw the clothing store.'

D. Answer the following questions with a noun modifying a noun:

Example: Anapita kusitolo kuti? 'Which store did he go to?'
Anapita kusitolo kwa neapato. 'He went to the shoe store.'

1. Mumwa madzi ati?
2. Ana ati akuphunzira bwino?
3. Anatseka chitseko chiti?
4. Ali m'munda muti?
5. Mpando uti wathyoka?
6. Amunawo anapanga nyumba iti?
7. Patebulo pali mabuku ati?
8. Simudya nsomba ziti?
9. Anagula ufa uti?
10. Tígona pabedi pati?
9.3.4 Qualifiers

The qualifiers in this section are similar to the noun modifiers previously discussed. As modifiers, qualifiers behave like nouns, describing a noun by means of the associative form. The only difference is that the associative form is written as part of the qualifier and not separately as with nouns:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Noun AP + -a-</th>
<th>Noun AP + -a- + Qualifier</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>munda u- + -a-</td>
<td>munda u- + -a- + buwino</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>munda wa ohimanga 'a maize field/ munda wa buwino a good field.'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

However, qualifiers are not nouns: they cannot appear as subjects with which other parts of the sentence must agree. On their own, most of the qualifiers function as adverbs (Ndili buwino 'I'm well.' / Wabwera kale 'He's come already.')

Here are some qualifiers which follow the basic pattern of Noun AP + -a- + qualifier:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Qualifier</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ohiširi</td>
<td>'second'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ohitatu</td>
<td>'third'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ohinayi</td>
<td>'fourth'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ohisanu</td>
<td>'fifth'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ohisanu ndi ohimodzi</td>
<td>'sixth'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>tsopano</td>
<td>'new'(fresh)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>kale</td>
<td>'old'(former)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ohabe</td>
<td>'worthless'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>buwino</td>
<td>'good'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mbiri</td>
<td>'much,many'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The ordinal number 'first' is not formed with the number stem -modzi but with the verb stem -wamba 'begin/start': ohoyamba 'first'. Modifiers like ohoyamba will be discussed in Lesson 11A.
Other examples:

Ndi kufuna mphunzitsi wabwino.  'I want a good teacher.'
Taona anthu ambiri.  'We have seen many people.'
Iyo ndi minda yamhabe.  'Those are worthless fields.'
Mulii ndi chipewa chatsopano  'You have a new hat.'
Ndumakhala m'nyumba yaohiwiiri.  'I live in the second house.'
Anagula ufa wabwino.  'He bought some good flour.'
Ndinaona tiagalu tambiri.  'I saw many small dogs.'

*'Second', 'third', etc. are possible only with singular nouns.

Exercises

A. Combine the following singular nouns with the model expression
   -a bwino 'good' in the sentence: Ndi kufuna ... -a bwino.

   Example: mwana + mwana wabwino  Ndi kufuna mwana wabwino.
          'I want a good child.'

   1. kamphika
   2. ukonde
   3. ntchito
   4. chovala
   5. dzina
   6. munda
   7. galu
   8. mkazi

   10. msewu
   11. buku
   12. sitolo
   13. mphunzitsi
   14. chaka
   15. ulendo
B. Repeat the preceding exercise, changing the nouns into the plural before combining them with the model expression -a bwino in the sentence:
Ndikufuna ... -a bwino.

Example: mwana + ana + ana abwino. Ndikufuna ana abwino.
'I want good children.'

C. Answer the following questions, using the noun and noun stem provided in parenthesis:

Example: Munatenga chiyani? (mabuku ... -mbiri) Ndinatenga mabuku ambiri.
'I brought a lot of books.'

1. Kalipentalayo adzapanga chiyani? (mpando ... -chinayi)
2. Mumakhala kuti? (nyumka ... -tsopano)
3. Mumagulitsa chiyani? (njinga ... -chabe)
4. Mwaona chiyani? (sitolo ... -tsopano)
5. Mukufuna chiyani? (anzanga ... -mbiri)
6. Munapeza chiyani kumausa? (nsomba ... -bwino)
7. Mukulemba chiyani? (kalata ... -chitatu)
8. Mudzatenga chiyani? (ndalama ... -mbiri)
9. Mary akugwira ntchito kuti? (chipatala ... -bwino)

9.4 MAY/CAN/BE ABLE

The expressions 'may/can/be able' have four forms (a VA prefix -nga- and the verb stems -tha, -ngathe, and -khosa) in Chichewa depending upon the sense of permission, possibility, and ability. Although in theory semantic distinctions can be made among these forms, in practice the forms are generally interchangeable. (Consider in English how you can request permission to enter by saying either 'May I come in?' or 'Can I come in?' even though prescriptive grammarians say only may is allowable as a permission request.) Therefore, while learning about the differences in meaning among these 'may/can/be able' forms, don't be surprised by the actual flexibility in their usage.
9.4.1 -nga- (permission/possibility)

The T/A prefix -nga- indicates permission or possibility (Can you go tomorrow?/May I help you?). -nga- acts as other T/A prefixes do, coming between the AP and the object prefix or verb root. -nga- is followed by a verb stem ending in -e (Remember that verbs in either the negative past or the subjunctive also end in -e):

\[ \text{AP} + -\text{nga-} + \text{verb root} = -e \]

- mu- -nga- -bwer- -e
  - 'You can/may come'

- kodi mungabwere usticku?
  - 'Can you come tonight?' (possibility)

- ndingakuthandiseni?
  - 'May I help you?' (permission)

- simangayendetse galimotoyo kantucho.
  - 'You can't drive the car to work.' (possibility/permission)

9.4.2 -tha, -ngath, -khora (possibility/ability)

All of these verbs can mean 'may/can/able' in the sense of possibility and ability to do something (I am able to climb mountains./I can speak French). In this usage, these verb forms are followed by an infinitive (ku- + verb root + -a).

- tha

- tha is a verb stem which means both 'finish' and 'can/be able'; both meanings are related if we consider that 'being able to do something' implies 'finishing it'. In the context of 'finishing', -tha has two constructions:

- tha is the main verb of the sentence with an AP and T/A:
  - Nthaai yatha. 'Time is finished.' (Time is up.)

- tha is followed by an infinitive to express the idea of 'finishing doing something':
  - Tinatha kugwira ntohito daub. 'We finished working yesterday.'

In the context of 'can/be able', -tha takes an AP but no other verbal prefixes and it must be followed by the infinitive form of the verb. It is therefore an irregular verb (in this context) since it never takes a T/A prefix or an object prefix as regular verbs do. (If there is an object referred to, the object prefix appears in the infinitive after ku-.)

Example: nditha kunyamula tabula°. 'I am able to carry that table.'

- atha kumidya. 'He's able to eat them.' (the three chickens - note -si- as object prefix)

- Sinditha kwamba Chichewa. 'I'm not able to understand Chichewa.'
-ngathe

The combination of -nga- and -tha forms the verb stem -ngathe. Like the verb stem -tha, -ngathe is not complete on its own and must be followed by an infinitive. It is also an irregular verb stem ending in final vowel -a which cannot take a T/A prefix or object prefix:

AP + -ngathe + infinitive

Ti- + -ngathe kukwera = Tingathe kukwera
'we' 'can' 'climb' 'We can climb'

Tingathe kukwera phiri la Mulanje. 'We can/are able to climb Mt. Mulanje.'

Simungathe kuyendete galimoto pamadzi. 'You can't drive a car on water.'
Kodi angathe kavina bwino?
Ndingathe kukuthandizani.

-khosa

-khosa is a verb stem which means both 'succeed' and 'can/be able'. In the context of 'succeeding', -khosa acts as the main verb if the sentence with an AP and T/A:

Example: Ndinakhosa maseo anga. 'I succeeded (in) my exam.'

To mean 'can/be able', -khosa is followed by an infinitive:

AP + T/A + -khosa infinitive

Nd- -dza- -khosa kudikira. Ndizakhosa kudikira.
'I'll be able to wait.'

Example: Mukhosa lamenwe. 'You'll be able to see him.'

-tikhosa kuswa anamwe. 'We can't find your friends.'
Exercises

9.3 USAGE NOTES

9.3.1 matimati 'tomatoes'

Matimati is the Chewaized word for 'tomatoes'. However, there is a Chewa expression for 'tomato': phustekene (5/6) which is more commonly used in villages. The fact that there are both a Chewaized English term and Chewa term for 'tomato' illustrates the influence that English has on all aspects of Malawian life. Some other example of Chewaized English expressions for foods and market produce are.

anyenzi 'onions' hofi 'coffee' dii 'tea' suga 'sugar' lalange 'orange' buledi 'bread'
mbatata 'potato'
Some of the names of produce which are known by their Chewa names are:

- nsawa/mtedza  'peanuts'/ 'ground nuts'
- mafuta  'oil'
- mahere  'salt'
- nyemba  'beans'
- mpunga  'rice'

9.3.2 Bwanji? 'How much?'

The literal meaning of the question Mukugulitea bwanji matimati? is 'You're selling how the tomatoes?' Although money is not mentioned, the implication of the question word is 'how much (money)'. The mu-'you' of the question is directed to the seller.

A variation of the question is: Akugula bwanji matimati? which literally means 'They are buying how the tomatoes?' Again the implication of bwanji is 'how much (money)'. The subject of the question is the prefix a- which refers to 'they' (the customers in general).

You may also ask Ndalama singati? - 'how much money?' or simply Mtenge wake ndi ohiyani? 'What is its price?'

9.3.3 50 tambala

In transactions dealing with money, the English numbers are used. Most people modify the numbers in Chewaized fashion, so that 'one' would be said wani. Other numerals would be:

- two - thu
- three - fuli
- four - folo
- five - faifi
- six - sikisi
- seven - seveni
- eight - syiti
- nine - naini
- ten - teni
- eleven - leveni
- twelve - thwelufu
9.3.4 mulu uli onse 'each pile'

Foodstuffs in the market are not sold in prepackaged units. Everything from fruit to dried fish may be arranged into small piles, and you buy according to the number of piles that you want:

Seller: Ndikugulitea 50 tambala mulu uli onse.

'I'm selling (them) at 50 t. each.'

Buyer: Chabwino. Ndikufuna miyulu/milu inayi.

'Fine. I want 4 piles.'

Often instead of piles, foodstuffs are sold by the number of items. For example: you may buy bananas at '3 for 2 tambala':

Buyer: Mumagulitea bwanji? 'How do you sell (them)'

Seller: Mumagulitea sitatu 2 tambala. 'We sell them for 2 tambala.'

Buyer: Ndipateseni sa 10 tambala. 'Give me (for) 10 tambala.'

For things such as flour ufa, maize chimanga, peanuts mtedza, and beans nyemba, you will buy them by the 'plateful'. For example, a woman who sells beans will have a large basket of them and a small plate mbale which she uses to measure. She sells the beans according to the number of platefuls you wish.

Buyer: Mumagulitea bwanji?

Seller: Mbale imodzi ya nyemba ndinoshita 5 tambala.

'One plate of beans I do (sell) at 5 tambala.'

Buyer: Ndikufuna sa 35 tambala. 'I want some for 35 tambala.'
9.4 CULTURAL NOTES

9.4.1 Bargaining

Bargaining is an accepted form of the African marketplace. Whether you are buying a measure of cloth or an egg, you might very well be expected to join in the good-natured negotiations over the price. It should be noted that bargaining does not take place in most Western-style stores (Kandodo, PTC, Bata, etc.) and restaurants, and some commodities such as drinks, meat, and certain grains are at fixed prices. However, there are lots of other items (food and handicrafts) for which the first price is merely a suggestion. Then the fun begins in a gentle give-and-take that terminates with the arrival upon a price usually acceptable to the buyer and seller. The volunteer might initially feel that he/she is being 'taken' since he/she has been brought up in a world of fixed prices. But bargaining reflects the personal element that Africans inject into transactions that humanize such relations. Half the fun of buying something is the process of bargaining, so relax and enjoy the matching of wits and wills between the customer and seller.

9.4.2 Money

Malawian currency is based on the kwacha (represented as K K55). Kwacha itself means 'dawn' and one kwacha (K1) is composed of 100 tambala (100t.); tambala means 'rooster' or 'cock'. Rooster and dawn are important symbols of the Malawi government, appearing on the national flag as well as on the currency.

There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, and 20 tambala. Some old coins from pre-independence days still circulate and you may find a coin called a 'florin' which is the same size as a 20 tambala piece and worth as much.

Bills come in denominations of 50 tambala and 1, 5, and 10 kwacha.

9.5.3 The Dialogue

Practice the dialogue, first by modeling the structures after the teacher and then by performing the dialogue with appropriate gestures and actions.

Vary the content of the dialogue, using different produce, participants, and even outcome.
9.5.4 Market Excursion

Make a 'fact-finding' excursion to the market either as a group or individually with a pre-arranged list of things to buy. The purpose of the excursion will be to familiarize yourselves with the plan of the market (i.e., location of meat, fish, vegetables, fruits, etc.) and to try your hand at bargaining. Each person may have a different item to buy, so that on return to the classroom, everyone can relate their experience in bargaining (success or failure). You may want to have more than one person buying a particular item so that a comparison can be made. The teacher can help by telling you the normal price a Malawian would pay for the produce.

Some suggested items:

- a papaya
- a pineapple
- bananas
- bread
- a mango
- etc.

9.5.5 Supplementary Dialogue

The time expressions for 'day' tsiku, 'week' sabata/mulungu, 'month' mwnzi, and 'year' chaka are general references to time. They can be made more specific ('last week, six months, two days ago') with various modifiers.

There are four different ways of making time modifiers:

1) a time noun plus a number or question stem
2) a time noun plus the affinity demonstrative
3) a time noun plus another time noun
4) a time noun plus verb forms

10.2.1 Counting Time

Time is counted in Chichewa by a 'time' noun followed by a modifier. If the modifier is a number, the appropriate AP (which agrees with the 'time' noun) must be prefixed to it:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time expression</th>
<th>AP</th>
<th>number stem</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>masiku</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-diri</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'days'</td>
<td></td>
<td>'two'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>'two days'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Examples:

Anagwira nthitho milungu iseenu.
'I worked (for) five weeks.'

Ndinakhala ku Blantyre miyeni itatu.
'I lived in Blantyre (for) 3 months.'

Mudsakhala kuno zaka ndi diri.
'You'll stay here (for) two years.'

Tadikira masabata aseenu ndi limodzi.
'We've waited (for) six weeks.'

'For' and 'during', when referring to time, are not translated into Chichewa; the literal meaning of the first example is 'I worked five weeks'.
The question stem -ngati is used in counting time by asking 'how many days, weeks,...'. Like numbers, -ngati follows the time expression it is counting and takes the AP of the time noun:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time expression</th>
<th>AP + -ngati</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>saka</td>
<td>zi- -ngati</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>'years'</td>
<td>'how many'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>si- -ngati</td>
<td>'how many years'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Examples:

Munalima m'mundamo masiku angati?
'How many days did you work in that field?'

Ndinalima m'mundamo masiku atatu.
'I worked in that field (for) three days.'

Mudzaphunsira Chichewa miyezi angati?
'I'll study Chichewa one month.'

Anal: mphunzitsi zaka zingati?
'How many years was she a teacher?'

Anali mphunzitsi zaka khumi.
'She was a teacher (for) 10 years.'

Exercises

A. Substitute the following expressions into the model sentence, making all necessary changes in agreement:

Example:

Model: Ndakhala pano miyezi isanu.
'I have lived here five months.'

Substitution:

New Model: Ndakhala pano miyezi tawiri.
'I have lived here two months.'

7. khumi
8. miyezi
9. -sanu nd1 -tatu
10. masiku

8. Adsatenga tebulolo liti?
(the day after tomorrow)

9. Tidsakhala pano zaka singati?
(two)

10. Munafika liti?
(yesterday)

C. Ask each other -ngati questions like the ones you have practiced in this lesson:

Example:

1st student: alinda, munali mphunsitsi zaka singati?
'Linda, how many years were you a teacher?'

2nd student: ndinali mphunsitsi zaka sisamu.
'I was a teacher for five years.'
10.2.2 This Week, Month, Year

To speak of 'this week, month, year', the 'affinity' demonstrative -no will follow the time expressions in this construction:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time expression</th>
<th>AP</th>
<th>+</th>
<th>-no</th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>sabata</td>
<td>li</td>
<td>+</td>
<td>-no</td>
<td>Ndidsamwena sabata lino/mulungu uno.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mulungu</td>
<td>u</td>
<td>+</td>
<td>-no</td>
<td>'I'll see him this week.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mwezi</td>
<td>u</td>
<td>+</td>
<td>'-no'</td>
<td>Tidsapita kwilendo mwezi uno.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>chaka</td>
<td>chi</td>
<td>+</td>
<td>-no</td>
<td>Adsalima chimanga chaka ohine.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- 'They'll cultivate maize this year.'

10.2.3 Next Week, Month, Year

'Next week, month, year' are expressed as an association between the time expression and the time noun/adverb maaa 'tomorrow'. In this 'next..' construction, the time expression is followed by the associative form (AP + 'a' of association) that is written conjunctively with maaa:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time Expression</th>
<th>Associative Form</th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>sabata</td>
<td>lama</td>
<td>Ndidsagyira nthito sabata</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mulungu</td>
<td>lama</td>
<td>lama/mulungu wamaaq.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mwezi</td>
<td>wa</td>
<td>Mudsawera mwezi wamaaq.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>chaka</td>
<td>oha</td>
<td>Tidsaphunsira Chichewa</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- 'We will study Chichewa next year.'
10.2.4 Last Week/Two Months Ago

The expression 'last week' and 'two months ago' are formed with a time noun followed by a verb (either -tha or -pita).

To express 'last week, month, year' the verb stem -tha meaning 'finish' is used in a perfect tense construction:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time Expression</th>
<th>AP + a + -tha</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>sabata</td>
<td>li- + a + -tha</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mulungu</td>
<td>u- a -tha.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mwesi</td>
<td>u- a -tha.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ohaka</td>
<td>ohi- a -tha.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

'Ago' is expressed in a similar fashion to 'last' as in mwesi watha 'last month'. The 'ago' construction consists of a time expression and number followed by the perfect T/A of -pita 'go' and the far Vocational demonstrative:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time Expression</th>
<th>AP + Stem</th>
<th>AP + a + -pita + demonstrative</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>miyasi</td>
<td>i sibiri</td>
<td>i- a -pita + iyo 'two' 'has gone' 'the'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

miyasi tibiri yapitayo
'two months ago'

Ndinafika miyasi tibiri yapitayo.
'I arrived two months ago.'

Anabwera masabata atatu apitayo.
'They came three weeks ago.'

Namawala masiku asanu apitayo.
'You were sick five days ago.'

Anamwalia saka sibiri sopitayo.
'She died two years ago.'
Questions:

Anamanga sukuluyi liti?
'When did they build this school?'

Anamanga sukuluyi saka zisanu zapitayo.
'They built this school five years ago.'

'When did you help them?

Ndinawathandisa milungu isanu ndi umodzi yapitayo.

Example: Munabwera kuno liti? (mwezi watha). 'When did you come here?'
Ndinabwera kuno mwezi watha. 'I came here last month.'

1. Mudzamuona liti? (mulungu wamaowa)
2. Anadwala liti? (chaka chatha)
3. Kudzakhala msonkhano liti? (sabata lamawa)

Substitution: -tatu
New Model: Ndinagula nyumba ino miyessi itatu yapitayo.

D. Make true and false statements with time expressions about any shared information you may have. If the statement is true, students should say Inde or Eee; if the statement is false, students should say Iyayi and then correct it.

Example:

Tinafika pa Zomba sabata latha.
'We arrived at Zomba last week.'

Inde
'Yes.'

Iyayi, tinafika pa Zomba muesi xatha.
'No we arrived at Zomba last month.'

10.3. RELATIVE PRONOUNS WITH LOCATIVE PREFIXES

The locative form of -mane are kamanene, pamanene, and m'mene. Depending on context, they can mean 'when' or 'where'. Like the other relative pronouns, these locative forms are not question words. They introduce a clause (subject and verb) which adds additional information about a location or time:

There's the house where he was killed.
I don't know when he'll return.
10.3.1 Where

All three locative forms indicate 'where' according to the type of location 'at, in, on, to'. The relative clause may either follow a locative noun or have an 'understood' antecedent:

Ndinapita kumudii kumene ansanga anakhala.
'I went to the village where my friends live.'

Tipita kumene kuli ntchito.
'We'll go where there is work.'

Sididsalo m'nyumba m'mene m'menyu anamwaira.
'I won't enter the house where the man died.'

Sindidsiwa kumene ndigona usiku.
'I don't know where I'll sleep tonight.'

Ndinadikira pamalo pamene mumagwira ntchito.
'I waited at the place where you work.'

10.3.2 When

M'mene and pamene are general time expressions for 'when'. They are used interchangeably to introduce a relative time clause which acts as a modifier describing general time:

Sadiya m'mene akudvala.
'He doesn't eat when he is sick.'

Pamene mvula ikugwa, ndimakomda kukhala kwathu.
'When it rains, I like to stay home.'

Whereas locative class AP's are used with -mene for general time, more specific expressions for time are tsiku limene 'on that day which/when' and nthabi imene 'at the time when/which':

Anafika tsiku limene kunali msokhano.
'He arrived the day when there was a meeting.'

Ndinamuona nthabi imene anali kushipatala.
'I saw him the time when he was at the hospital.'
Exercises

10. Timagwira ntchito kwambiri pamene . . .
In addition to uyo, uno, and u&I, there is another type of demonstrative composed of -mene with the appropriate verbal subject prefix plus the 'near' or 'far' demonstrative (of the form uyu and uyo) as a suffix. Together they mean 'this' or 'that' for something or someone previously mentioned. Although uuyu and uyo can also designate someone or something in this manner, the -mene + demonstrative is more emphatic, specifying 'this very person' or 'that very thing':

Noun | AP + -mene + near/far demonstrative
---|---
mnzanga | a- + -mene + uyu = mnzanga ameneyo | 'this friend'
 | + uyo = mnzanga ameneyo | 'that friend'

Kodi mukudziida mnzanga wa ku Lilongwe?
'Do you know my friend from Lilongwe?'

mnzanga ameneyo wandithandiza.
'That friend has helped me a lot.'

The friend is being referred to for a second time and ameneyo leaves no doubt which friend the 'that' implies. As with other demonstratives, the noun referent generally precedes the demonstrative:

Buku limene imanali nalo dmulo lili kuti? Limenelo linali lokondweretsa.
'Where is the book you had yesterday? That one was interesting.'

Here is a list of the noun classes, their corresponding demonstratives, and some examples:

10.3 USAGE NOTES

10.3.1 Ukhukhi cooking

U- is a common nominalizing prefix in Chichewa. It can be attached to some stems to create nouns that refer to abstract concepts not things. Compare the following examples:

mlendo 'traveler' khuki 'cook' mimí 'farmer' bwenzi 'friend'

ulendo 'journey' úkhukhi 'cooking' mimí 'agriculture'
ubwenzi 'friendship'

These u - nouns will all be Class 14 nouns.

10.3.2 Bwana boss

Bwana is the word for 'boss, master, sir'. During the colonial era it was a common form of address to one's superiors, especially if they were white. Although it is used less frequently nowadays, bwana has been generalized to mean 'boss' for anyone. Malawians themselves may refer to their Malawian bosses as bwana and it is considered a polite form of address. A corresponding term for a woman is the Portuguese word dona that means 'lady, woman, mistress.'
10.3.3 -lemba write/hire

This verb stem -lemba generally means 'write':

Ndinalembe kalata ziidiri.
'I wrote two letters.'

-lemba also appears in lolembe 'Monday' indicating the 'day of writing' when people begin the week's work. This sense of working is evident when -lemba is used to mean 'hire' or 'employ'.

Ndinamlembe dsulo.
'I hired him yesterday/I employed him yesterday'

10.4 CULTURAL NOTES

10.4.1 Hiring Someone

You may have already been approached by someone looking for work. Azungu are 'known' to need someone to cook, clean, and do the gardening for them. The assumption is correct since it can be difficult to both hold a full time job and manage all aspects of one's household.

Potential employees will find you and present themselves and their kalata za ntchito 'letters of work'. These letters are also called Tefeleni, for that is what they are: 'references' from former employers. They take the form of a letter (addressed 'to whom it may concern') which describes the work (dates, type, quality) and character of the former employee. References are invariably good so it is common to give a potential employee a trial period to see whether he/she lives up to the letters of reference.

Before hiring someone, be informed about tax status, family situation and former salary. Every bonafide worker should have a msonkho, a tax receipt/card which indicates that he/she has indeed paid taxes in the past. A Malawi Congress Party Card is also essential. Knowledge of the family situation can help you to decide on a salary since it may make a difference whether you are supporting an individual or a whole family. In addition to a salary, employers often give workers what is known as a phoso 'an allowance' which may be a little extra money or food (a sack of flour thumba la ufa). And it is also important to know what his/her salary was previously as a guideline for negotiation.

Some useful questions to ask when you are interviewing someone you may want to hire are:

Mumakhala kuti? 'Where do you live?'
Kodi kwanu nkuti? 'Where is your home?'
Kodi msonkho mull nawo? 'Do you have your tax card?'
Kodi card la chipani muli nalo? 'Do you have a MCP card?'
Once you have hired someone, there are various ways to address your employee. You may call him/her by title (akhukhi, agadeni boyi), by first name (Thomas, Chikondi, etc.), or bambo, mchimwene. These latter forms of address are considered polite, and your employee will certainly appreciate this show of respect.

10.4.2 Ku Halale

If someone is said to have gone ku Halale, the implication is that he is not on a journey but has gone to look for employment outside of the country. Ku Halale has come to mean Zimbabwe, but it actually refers to a suburb of Salisbury where many of these migrant laborers live. The history of labor migration from Malawi to the mines and farms of Zimbabwe and South Africa began in the early twentieth century. The lack of jobs and cash in the north made the availability of work in Zimbabwe and South Africa very attractive to young men. Many migrant laborers would find jobs and send part of their salaries home to support their families, a practice which still continues today. They might stay only a few years or much longer. The supplementary reading in this lesson describes the experience of one migrant laborer who is leaving Zimbabwe after family obligations force him to return home to Malawi.

10.5.7

Role Playing

Using the vocabulary and patterns used in the introductory and supplementary dialogues, create a dialogue between a European and someone looking for work in the following situations:

-- The European doesn't have a cook or garden boy and claims he doesn't want one. The potential employee tries to convince the European why he should have someone to help around the house.

-- The European already has the help he/she needs. He has to tell the worker firmly that he should look elsewhere.

-- The worker tells the European about his personal problems and situation as a means of convincing the European to hire him/her.
10.6 SUPPLEMENTARY DIALOGUE

See if you can understand this dialogue.

Bill:  Moni Bambo!

aPhiri:  Moni Bwana!

Bill:  Ndikuthándizéni 'chiyáni?

aPhiri:  Ndikufúná ntchíto.

Bill:  Pepáni. Palíbe ntchíto.

Bill:  Alípoi kále khúkhí wína.

aPhiri:  Mungadziwéko améne akufúná khúkhí?

Bill:  Nyumbá iyo akufúná khúkhí.

aPhiri:  Zikomo kwámbíri.

Bill:  Pitani bwíno.

10.7 WHAT’S MY LINE?

In this game, someone thinks of an occupation and the other students have to guess it by asking yes/no questions about the nature of the work.

For example, a student can imagine that he/she is a teacher. Students may ask the following types of questions to which the 'teacher' will respond:

1st student:  Mumapanga mipando? 'Do you make chairs?'
Teacher

2nd student:  Mumamanya myumba? 'Do you build nouse?'
Teacher

3rd student:  Mumalemba mabuku? 'Do you write in books?'
Inde

3rd student:  Mumalemba nyuzi pepala? 'Do you write newspapers?'
Teacher

A 'yes' answer allows a student to ask an additional question. The person who identifies correctly the 'occupation' then chooses his own secret 'occupation' and the game continues.

REVIEW EXERCISES
Lessons 6-10

A. Change the following verbs first into polite imperative commands, then into polite subjunctive requests, and finally into -yenera suggestions. Remember that:

1) The polite imperative verb consists of the verb root + vowel suffix -a + -ni.

2) The polite subjunctive verb consists of the AP mu- + the verb root + the final vowel suffix -e.

3) A -yenera suggestion consists of an AP + -yenera followed by an infinitive.

Example:
-teska mabuku anu → Tsakani mabuku anu.
'Close your books.'

Muteseka mabuku anu.
'You should close your books.'

Muyenera kuteseka mabuku anu.
'You should close your books.'

1. -yang'ana mitengoyo

3. Answer the model question with the following nouns and appropriate form of the modifier. Remember that:

1) Numbers and the stem -ina take only the AP.
2) Nouns modifying other nouns take the disjunctive (separate) associative prefix (AP + 'a' of association).
3) Qualifiers take the conjunctive (joined) associative prefix.

Example:

Model Question: Munaona chiyani?
'What did you see?'

Noun/Modifier: naapato/-tsopana

C. Complete the verb forms with the appropriate vowel ending -a or -e. Remember that:

1) -a is the vowel ending for the progressive, habitual, perfect, past (positive), immediate future, distant future, and imperative.

2) -e is the vowel ending for the past (negative) and the subjunctive forms of the verb.

Example:

Amaphunzira Chichewa. → Amaphunzira Chichewa.
'They learn Chichewa.'

1. Sitikupita kusukulu. 'We aren't going to school.'

6. posachedwa
7. anaka chatha
8. mwezi kwa
9. masiku case
10. mawa
F. Complete the following sentences with a relative clause (an appropriate form of -mene plus a subject and a verb). Remember that -mene takes the agreement prefix of the noun to which it refers.

Example:

Ndinaona ulalo umene anamonga okaka chatha.
'I saw the bridge that they built last year.'

H. Make 'may/can/be able' questions using the appropriate verb prefix (-nga-) or verb stem (-tha, -ngathe, -khoza) with the following vocabulary and sense in parentheses (permission, possibility, ability). Then answer the questions. Remember that:

1) -nga- is a T/A prefix which indicates permission or possibility; its verb stem always ends in -e.

2) -tha is a verb stem indicating possibility and ability which takes only an AP and is followed by an infinitive.

3) -ngathe is a verb stem which combines -nga- and -tha to mean possibility or ability. It takes only an AP and is always followed by an infinitive.

4) -khoza is a verb stem meaning 'succeed' and 'can/be able' also in the sense of possibility or ability. It too is followed by an infinitive.

Example:

MIGRANT LABORER

My name is Jambo. Our (my) village is Amkoko. On this journey, I'm coming from Rhodesia. I went there 5 years ago. But now I've decided to return here to my village.

I went to Rhodesia because of the terrible hunger in our village. In Rhodesia I found work on the farm of a European named Jones. I was second foreman. My boss and his wife liked me a lot. They tried to raise my salary so that I would not leave work. But here in the village there is much to do. They called me (home) to become a headsman of the village in the place of my maternal uncle because he is old. Also my family needs a man who can help with various work at home. I'm returning home because of all these things.
REFERENCE GRAMMAR

I. NOUN CLASSES

Nouns in Chichewa are divided into classes. These noun classes are characterized by class prefixes, agreement prefixes, numbers, plural/singular pairings, and some semantic homogeneity of nouns in some classes.

A. Class Prefix

Most nouns in Chichewa consist of a prefix* + a stem, and it is this prefix (the class prefix) which determines the classification of the noun. For example:

Class Prefix + stem
chitsime 'a well' = chi- + -tisme

The class prefix chi- identifies chitsime as a noun in the chi- class (which includes other nouns having the class prefix chi- such as chitseko 'a door', chingwe 'a string', etc.)

For some classes, what is labeled the class prefix is the most general prefix for that class. For example, the mu- class includes nouns having the class prefix mu- and also its variants m- and mw-:

Class Prefix + Stem
mu- + -nthu = munthu 'person' m- + -lendo = mlendo 'guest' mw- + -ini = mwini 'owner'

In other classes, there is either no uniform class prefix or the prefix is realized as zero. These classes are referred to by the agreement prefix (AP).

B. Numbers and Singular/Plural Pairings

In addition to being identified by a characteristic prefix, noun classes are also numbered, according to a system of classification used by other Bantu languages. For example, the ma- class is also called Class 6, the chi- class is called Class 7, and the zi- class is called Class 8.

* Nouns in Class 1a and some nouns in Class 5 and Classes 9 and 10 have a zero realization of their class prefixes (e.g. Class 1a 'katundu' 'luggage' and Class 5 dengu 'basket', and Classes 9 and 10 sukulu 'school'). And Classes 12 and 13 include nouns which consist of two class prefixes (the diminutive prefix ka- or ti- + a class prefix + a stem):

ka- + m- + -peni = kampeni 'a small knife' ti- + -zi + -tseko = tizitseko 'small doors'
Many class prefixes identify a noun as being singular or plural. For example, chi- is the singular class prefix for the stem -tsime' (chi-tsime 'a well') and zi- is the plural class prefix for the same stem -tsime (zi-tsime).

Most noun classes are classified in numbered pairs or prefix pairs, with the first item being the singular form and the second being the plural. Chitsime/zitsime would be classified as belonging to the Chi/Zi classes or Classes 7/8. There are eight regular singular/plural pairings of nouns in Chichewa:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Class Numbers</th>
<th>Prefixes</th>
<th>Examples</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Classes 1/2</td>
<td>Mu/A (class)</td>
<td>munthu/anthu 'person/people'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Classes 1a/2</td>
<td>Ø/A (class)</td>
<td>bambo/abambo 'father/fathers'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Classes 3/4</td>
<td>Mu/Mi (class)</td>
<td>mudzi/midzi 'village/villages'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Classes 5/6</td>
<td>I1/Ma (agreement/class)</td>
<td>dzina/ma'ina 'name/names'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Classes 7/8</td>
<td>Chi/Zi (class)</td>
<td>chitsulo/zitsulo 'tool/tools'</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>J/Zi (agreement)</td>
<td>njinga/njinga 'bicycle/bicycles'</td>

<tr>

<td>kamwana/tiana 'smallchild/children'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Classes 14/6</td>
<td>U/Ma (class)</td>
<td>ulalo/maulalo 'bridge/bridges'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Some nouns are irregular; their singular comes from one class pairing and their plural from a different class pairing:

- Classes 5/2  | LI/A bwenzi/abwenzi 'friend/friends'
- Classes 9/6  | I/Ma tawuni/matawuni 'town/towns'

In the first example, the Class 5 noun bwenzi 'friend' goes to Class 2 for its plural form and agreements while a regular Class 5 noun goes to Class 6. Similarly, the Class 9 noun tawuni 'town', instead of going to Class 10 for its plural form and agreements, goes to Class 6.

Classes 15 (Ku), 16 (Pa), 17 (Ku), and 18 (Mu) have no singular/plural pairings.

*Ø indicates a (zero) realization of the class prefix for Class 1a nouns.
C. AGREEMENT PREFIX (AP)

Agreement is another characteristic of noun classification in Chichewa. Modifiers (demonstratives, adjectives, possessives) and verbs must agree with the class of the noun with which they are linked. Agreement is marked by an agreement prefix (AP) characteristic of each noun class. The AP is attached to those modifiers and verbs.

For some noun classes, the AP is the same as the class prefix:

Zingwe izi zinali razitali. 'These strings were long.'
Zingwe 'strings' agrees with other parts of the sentence through the AP zi-, which is identical with the class prefix zi-.

In other noun classes, the AP is different from the class prefix:

Namuna wokalamba mmodzi akuwerenga. 'One old man is reading.'
Namuna 'man' agrees with other parts of the sentence, not by the class prefix mu- or mw-, but by other variations of the Class 1 AP (m-, u-, and a-).

In some noun classes, the AP has little or no relationship at all to the class prefix:

Dengu ilo'si lodula. 'That basket isn't expensive.'
Dengu 'basket' agrees with other parts of the sentence by means of the AP ti- and not by any class prefix.*

D. ITEMS IN NOUN CLASSES

Some noun classes can be generalized according to the types of nouns in the class. For example, Classes 1/2 (Mu/A) are often called the 'people' classes because all of the nouns in them refer to human beings. Class 14 (U) is characterized by the number of abstract nouns included in it (ulemu 'respect', ubwenzi 'friendship', etc.) And Classes 12/13 (Ka/Ti) are called the diminutive classes because they 'diminish' whatever nouns they are prefixed to (kampando 'a small chair', timipando 'small chairs').

* Due to lack of a uniform class prefix in Class 5, this class is labeled the li- class after the agreement prefix. Similarly, Classes 9/10 are called the I/Zi classes after their characteristic APs.

II. PRONOUNS

Personal pronouns (I, me, my, mine) in Chichewa appear as one of three forms: APs, an emphatic form, and a possessive form.

A. SUBJECT APs

The subject APs for personal pronouns are prefixed to the verb stem. However, personal pronouns do not usually have an expressed referent in the sentence:

\[ \text{AP} + \text{verb} \]

\[ \text{Mu-} - \text{bwera} = \text{Mubwera 'You will come.'} \]

\[ 'you' 'will come' \]

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>AP</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Ndi- 'I'</td>
<td>Ndiphun'ra. 'I will study.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>U* 'you'</td>
<td>Ukumviri chito. 'You are working.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(singular/familiar)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A- 'he, she'</td>
<td>Amakhala pano. 'He/She lives here.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ti- 'we'</td>
<td>Tikudikira. 'We are waiting.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mu- 'you'</td>
<td>Munadwala 'You were sick.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(plural/respect)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A- 'they'</td>
<td>Adzathandiza. 'They will help.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

* Singular forms of pronouns such as u- (You) are used infrequently and then only in referring to young people or very close friends. It is more common (and preferable) to use plural and therefore respectful forms of pronouns such as mu- when referring to people.

B. OBJECT PREFIXES (OPS)

There are also verbal prefixes for pronoun objects. These object prefixes (which are placed after the T/A prefix before the verb root) vary in some instances from the corresponding subject APs:

\[ \text{Subject AP} + \text{T/A} + \text{Object OP} + \text{VR} + \text{VS} \]

\[ A- \quad - \text{na-} \quad - \text{mu-} \quad - \text{on-} \quad - \text{a} \quad \text{= 'He saw him.'} \]

\[ 'he' \quad (past) \quad 'him' \quad 'see' \]
C. EMPHASIC PRONOUNS

The emphatic form of personal pronouns is used for emphasizing the subject of a sentence, for marking the subject of the verb ndi 'be', (whether it is emphasized or not) and for objects of prepositions and other particles.

1. Don't confuse emphatic forms with APs. Emphatic forms may precede the AP to emphasize the identity of the subject, but they are optional:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Emphatic Pronoun</th>
<th>AP</th>
<th>+kupita</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Ine 'I, me'</td>
<td>ndi-</td>
<td>+kupita. =Ine, ndikupita. 'As for me, I'm going.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iwe 'you'</td>
<td>u-</td>
<td>+kupita. =Iwe, ukupita. 'As for you, you are going.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iye 'he/she,'</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>+kupita. =Iye, akupita. 'As for him/her, he/she is going.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ife 'we/us'</td>
<td>ti-</td>
<td>+kupita. =Ife, tikupita. 'As for us, we are going.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Inu 'you'</td>
<td>mu-</td>
<td>+kupita. =Inu, mukupita. 'As for you, you're going.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iwo 'they, them'</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>+kupita. =Iwo, akupita. 'As for them, they are going.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2. With a pronoun subject, ndi 'be' requires a subject marker. The emphatic forms of personal pronouns are used for this purpose instead of APs. But note that emphatic forms follow ndi and are often merged with it. (Remember an AP always precedes its verb stem):

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Ndi 'be' + emphatic pronoun</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Ndi + Ine</td>
<td>= Ndine mphunzitsi. 'I am the teacher.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ndi + Iwe</td>
<td>= Ndiwe wophunzira. 'You are a student.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ndi + Iye</td>
<td>= Ndiye Mzungu. 'He/She is a European.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ndi + Ife</td>
<td>= Ndiye abwenzi. 'We are friends.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ndi + Inu</td>
<td>= Ndinu alendo. 'You are guests.'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ndi + Iwo</td>
<td>= Ndiwo alimi. 'They are farmers.'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
3. Emphatic forms of personal pronouns are used as objects of prepositions and other particles. The emphatic pronoun may merge with the preceding preposition or particle:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Preposition/Particle</th>
<th>Emphatic Pronoun</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>na- 'with' + ine 'me' (nane)</td>
<td>= Adzawera nane. 'He'll come with me.'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>patsogolo pa 'in front of' + iwe 'you'</td>
<td>= Ndikukhala patsogolo pa iwe. 'I'm sitting in front of you.'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pa 'by' + ife 'us'</td>
<td>= Ngozi inaonedwa pa ife. 'An accident was seen by us.'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

D. Possessive Pronouns

Personal pronouns also have possessive forms (my, mine, your, yours, etc.). These possessive pronouns are stems which agree with noun referents by means of an associative prefix (AP + 'a' of association):

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Noun</th>
<th>AP</th>
<th>Possessive Stem</th>
<th>Possessive Form</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>dzina</td>
<td>1i-</td>
<td>-a- -nга 'my/mine' = dzina langа 'my name'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mabuku</td>
<td>a-</td>
<td>-ko 'your/yours' = mabuku ako 'Your books'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>chala</td>
<td>chi-</td>
<td>-ke 'his/her/hers' = chala chake 'his/her finger'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>nyumba</td>
<td>i-</td>
<td>-thu 'our/ours' = nyumba vathu 'our house'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>zipewe</td>
<td>zi-</td>
<td>-nu 'your/yours' = zipewe zanu 'your hats'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mphaka</td>
<td>u-</td>
<td>-wo 'their/their' = mphaka wawo 'their cat'</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
III. VERBS

The verb in Chichewa is characterized by an assembly pattern of a number of bound parts, (that is parts which never occur on their own.) Various prefixes and suffixes are attached to the verb root to mark subject, object, tense/aspect, negation etc. A verb construction may be only a verb stem or it may include the subject and object as well (Dikira: 'Wait!' / Ndinamudikira. 'I waited for him.') In fact, a verb can give so much information that a statement in Chichewa may consist of only the verb.

There exists an inter-relationship among the verbal prefixes and suffixes which determines the parts that can appear together in a particular verb construction. For example, all verbs which form their negatives with the prefix -sa- take final vowel suffix -e:

- musapite 'Please don't go!' / 'You shouldn't go.'
- asanachoke, tifuna kumuona. 'Before he leaves, we want to see him.'

A. REGULAR AND IRREGULAR VERBS

In Chichewa, regular verbs are those verbs which
1) end in final vowel -a or -e and
2) can have a tense/aspect prefix. (T/A).

Most verbs in Chichewa are regular by this definition: nattl 'go'; -nel 'come'; -kol 'stays'; -seers 'play', etc...

Irregular verbs in Chichewa do not satisfy either one or both of the above requirements. For example, the verb kul 'to say' can have a T/A prefix but it can not end in either -a or -e; -venera 'should/ought to' ends in -a but it can never have a T/A prefix in its construction.

The following is a list of some of the irregular verbs in Chichewa:

- li/ndl 'be'
- li ndl 'have'

Pa11/Puli? Kul1 'There is/are'

- venera 'should/ought to'
- tan1? 'do what/say what?
- tha 'can/be able'
- nothe 'can/be able'
- ti 'say'
- tore/-tero 'say/do this, say/do that'

For a full explanation of -li/ndl -li ndl, and Pa11/Puli/Puli, see the Verb Review after Lesson 8.
B. A/C-T-O-R-S

The verbal assembly line (or pattern) can be summarized by the acronym A/C-T-O-R-S, and it is a useful guide to remembering how the component parts of the verb are arranged:

A/C These letters represent the agreement (or concordial) prefix that is attached to the verb and refers to the pronoun or class of the noun subject. All verb forms except the imperative (with the understood subject 'you' Pita: 'Go!')

\text{AP} \quad \text{AP} \\
\text{Nd}-\text{ku}-\text{lemb}-a \quad \text{Naphunzitsi a -ku-lemb-a}

'The teacher is writing.'

T This letter represents the tense/aspect marker which indicates time or aspect in reference to the meaning of the verb root. Some verb forms have a zero for their tense/aspect prefix; others have a double prefix. These T/A prefixes always occur after the agreement prefix.

Prefix -(ii) ku-

Some of the major T/A prefixes are: present progressive/continuous'. This is a double prefix consisting of -ii 'be' and ku- of the infinitive 'be...ing':

\[
\text{AP} \quad \text{T/A} \\
\text{Ti - iku - dy-a.tsopano. We are eating now.'}

-na- 'present/future habitual and past habitual'. Habitual aspects can be either present/future 'usually' or past 'used to'. In Chichewa, both aspects are handled by the prefix -ma-, distinguished by a high-tones AP in the present/future habitual and a low-toned AP in the past habitual:

\[
\text{AP} \quad \text{T/A} \\
\text{A-ma}-\text{lemb-a} \quad \text{A-ma-lemb-a.}

'He usually writes.' 'He used to write.'

-da- 'simple past'. These T/A prefixes are dialectal equivalents indicating the past action or state:

\[
\text{AP} \quad \text{T/A} \quad \text{T/A} \\
\text{Mu-na - bwer-a} \quad \text{Mu-da-bwer-a.}

'You came' 'You came'

-a- 'perfect' The perfect T/A prefix appears with both stative verbs (to indicate a present state) and action verbs (to indicate a recently completed action):

\text{AP} \quad \text{T/A} \quad \text{AP} \quad \text{T/A} \\ \text{Nd-a-dwal-a} \quad \text{Nd-a-wereng-a}

'I am sick.' 'I have read.'
Prefix

-naliku- 'past progressive/continuous'. This is a combination of the remote past T/A -na- and the progressive -liku- to indicate a progressive action in the past:

\[
\text{AP T/A} \\
A-naliku-se\text{-}a. 'He was playing.'

-dza- 'distant future.' This T/A prefix indicates a future action or state which may be as soon as tomorrow or far into the future:

\[
\text{AP T/A} \\
T\text{-dza-}g\text{wir}\text{-}a\ \text{ntchito}. 'We will work.'

-0- 'immediate future'. The immediate future is indicated by a zero \( \emptyset \) T/A prefix (in the pattern of an AP + verb root + final -a). It refers to an action or state as soon as today or tomorrow or soon in a relative sense:

\[
\text{AP T/A} \\
A-g\text{-}im\text{-}a. 'He will sing.'

-imperative'. The imperative verb experiencing a command or a request) is also indicated by a zero \( \emptyset \) tense/aspect prefix in a pattern of a zero AP + verb root + -a:

\[
\text{Loi-}\text{-}a\ 'enter!' \quad \text{Loi\text{-}a\text{-}ni\ 'enter!'} \\
\text{(singular, informal)} \quad \text{(plural, respectful)}

-subjunctive'. The subjunctive verb has a zero \( \emptyset \) T/A prefix in the pattern of an AP + verb root + -e to mean a polite request in the sense of 'should':

\[
\text{AP T/A} \\
T\text{-}\emptyset\text{-}yamb-e 'Let's begin'/ 'We should begin'.

-nqa- 'permission/possibility'. This T/A prefix indicates permission or possibility in the sense of 'may' or 'can':

\[
\text{AP T/A} \\
N\text{d}i\text{-}nqa\text{-}chok-e 'May I leave?'/ A\text{-}nga\ \text{bwere\ posachedwa.} 'He may come soon.'

-ta- 'after'. This T/A prefix indicates that one action or state occurred after another. It appears in one of two verbs in the sentence:

\[
\text{AP T/A} \\
T\text{-ta-}fik-a\ tinadya. 'After we arrived, we ate.'
-sana- 'before'. This tense/aspect prefix is composed of the negative prefix -sa- and the past tense/aspect prefix -na- to indicate something 'before' or 'not yet occurred': It appears in one of two verbs in the sentence:

AP T/A
Mu-sana-bwer-e, muyenera kundifunsa.
'Before you come, you should ask me.'

-ka-
-kadza-
-kana-
-kada-

'if/when'. The T/A -ka- expresses 'when' or 'if' in one verb whose result is expressed in the second verb. -ka- may appear with or without an accompanying T/A prefix:

AP T/A
A-ka-bwera-, nditsala. 'If he comes, I'll stay.'

AP T/A
Mu-kadza-gwir-a nthito, mudzapeza ndalama zambiri.
'If you will work, you'll earn a lot of money.'

AP T/A
A-kana-phunzir-a, a-kana-khoz-a mayeso.
'If he had studied, he would have passed the exam.'

In the past conditional with -kana/-kada-, the T/A prefixes appear in both verbs of the sentence.

-daka-

'still'. The compound T/A -daka- expresses 'still' to describe a state or action that is continuing or going on:

AP T/A
A-daka-dwal-a 'He's still sick.'A-daka-dikir-a
'He's still waiting.'
This letter represents the object prefix (OP) that marks the pronoun object or referring to the class of the noun object. Pronoun OPs are required, but those representing noun objects are emphatic and optional. The reflexive verb prefix -dzi- is also an OP which indicates that the subject and object are the same person.

AP T/A OP
A-na-ndi-thandiz-a
Buku ndi-ku-li-wereng-a
'He helped me.'
'I'm reading (it) the book.'

AP T/A OP
Mu-ku-dzi-menya-a
'You're hitting yourself.'

This letter represents the verb root, the base form without and prefixes or suffixes:

AP T/A OP R
Ndí-na-mu-thandiz-a
'I helped him.'

This letter represents the verb suffix, the ending of the verb after the verb root. All regular verbs and in a final vowel end in a suffix -a or -e. Negative past verbs, subjunctive verbs, verbs with the T/A prefixes -sana- 'before' and -nga- 'may/can' and their verb stems in -e; all other verb forms end their stems in -a:

AP T/A OP R S
Ti-na-mu-on-a
Si-ti-na-mu-on-e
'We saw him.'
'We didn't see him.'

AP T/A OP R S
Ndí-na-wa-funs-a
Mu-bwer-e
'I asked them.'
'You should come.'

There are some additional suffixes which can appear between the verb root and the final vowel suffix:

-DW-
'passive voice' This suffix makes the verb passive 'be found' while also making the patient the subject and the agent the object of the particle ndi.
Ndalama zanu zi-na-peze-dzí-a ndi ana awo.
'Your money was found by those children.'

-K-
'stative' This suffix makes the verb describe a state with the patient as subject.
Mapiri aja a-ma-one-kí-a.
'Those mountains are usually visible.'

-R-
'applied' This suffix (meaning 'to, for, from') allows the verb to accommodate an object (usually indirect):
A-na-ti-tenge-í-a nsima.
'They brought us nsima.'
'causative' This suffix indicates an action made or caused to happen:

-AN-

Ti-na-kudabwi-ts-a 'We surprised you.'

'reciprocal' This suffix expresses the idea of doing something together or to each other:

-AN-

Ti-na-lankhul-an-a 'We talked to each other.'

A/C-T-O-R-S is only a general guideline for the order of placement of the component parts of the verb. All verb constructions do not have to have an object prefix and some verb forms have a $\emptyset$ in their AP slot (positive imperative) or $\emptyset$ in their T/A slot (imperative, subjunctive, immediate future). Moreover, there are other verbal prefixes and suffixes which can appear in addition to the basic such as A/C-T-O-R-S pattern. Nevertheless, this pattern is useful as a basis for comprehending the verb structure in Chichewa.

Negative Verb Forms

There are four ways to make verbs negative.

1) Si- 'not' is the most common negative prefix, appearing before the AP of most verbs (or replacing the verb in the case of ndi 'be'):
   - Sindizadikira. 'I won't wait.'
   - Sali bwino. 'He's/She's/They're not well.'
   - (si + a = sa)
   - Si mkazi wanga. 'She's not my wife.'

2) -sa- is the negative prefix for subjunctive verbs, imperatives, and the expression 'before/not yet' -sana--; -sa- appears immediately after the AP in the T/A slot:
   - Tisapite. 'We shouldn't go./Let's not go.'
   - Musabwere. 'Please don't come.'
   - Asanachoke, adya. 'Before they leave, they will eat.'

3) The negative suffix -be 'be without' is used exclusively with the verb -li (with present and past T/As) in the expressions -li ndi 'have' and Fali/Kuli/Nuli 'there is/are':
   - A:li be galimoto. 'He doesn't have a car.'
   - Munali be ana m'chipindamo. 'There weren't any children in that room'

4) -panda 'be without' is a verb stem used to form the negative of verbs with the -ka- double T/A prefix. -ka- and its accompanying T/A appears in the T/A slot of -panda which is followed by the infinitive form of the main verb:
   - Tikapanda kugona, tidzatopa mawa.
     'If we don't sleep we'll be tired tomorrow.'
   - Mukapananda kufulumira, mukanachedwa.
     'If we don't hurry, we'll be late.'

IV. MODIFIERS

Modifiers of noun describe, specify, qualify, and limit the meaning of those nouns. Modifiers include demonstratives, possessives, numbers, some question words, adjectives, verbs and even other nouns. In Chichewa these modifiers follow nouns and they agree with their nouns by various types of agreement prefixes.

There are five types of modifiers in Chichewa differentiated by their form of agreement:

1) AP + modifier stem

Modifiers of this type take only the AP of their nouns in agreement. Some examples are the affinity demonstrative -no, the shared information demonstrative -ja, the question stems -ngati? 'how many?' and -ti 'which?', number stems -tatu 'three', relatived stem -mene 'which, that, who', and the stem -ina 'other, some, another'. (For a fuller discussion of these modifiers, see Lesson 5A for the -no and -ja demonstratives, Lesson 6A for numbers, -ngati, -ti, and -mene, and Lesson 7A for -ina).

</tbody>
</table>
2) AP + A + modifier

Modifiers of this type combine the AP of their nouns with the 'a' of association to create an 'associative form'. Some modifiers which take this associative form as a prefix are the question stem -nji 'what?', possessive stems (e.g. -nu 'your/yours'), and qualifiers (e.g. -mbiri 'much, many'). Noun-derived modifiers (e.g. -a nzere 'intelligent') take the associative form disjunctively (separately) and not as a prefix. (For a fuller discussion of these modifiers, see Lesson 9 A).

3) AP + -a- + AP + Modifier Stem

Modifiers of this type have a double prefix: the 'associative form' (AP + -a-) and the AP. The only modifiers which take this agreement are adjectival stems such as -tali 'long/tall', and -kulu 'big'. (For a full discussion of these modifiers, see Lesson 11 A).

4) AP + the perfect T/A verb (-a- + verb stem)

Modifiers of this type combine the AP with the perfect T/A -a- and a verb stem. The modifiers in this category are those with the verb stems -tha 'finish' as in the expression 'last month' and -pita 'go' as in the expression 'five days ago'. (For a full discussion of these modifiers see Lesson 11 A.)

5) AP + -a- + -ku- + Modifier stem

Modifiers of this type combine the associative form (AP + -a-) and the Cl. 15 (infinitive) prefix ku- to form a verbal modifier prefix (VMP). A sound change occurs in this combination as the -k- is dropped and the vowels merge to form -o-. (For a full discussion of these modifiers, see Lesson 11 A).

IV. ADVERBS OF MANNER

Adverbs of manner tell how or in what manner something was done (e.g. 'well', 'slowly', 'lazily'). These adverbs come in three forms:

1) Some adverbs are base forms with no prefix:
   - msanga - 'quickly'
   - bwino - 'well'

2) Some adverbs are made from nouns. They are formed by attaching the Class 17 associative form mwa-(AP Mu- + -a- of association) to the noun; these adverbs express the idea that something is done 'in the manner of':

<td>'intelligent' = mwanzeru 'intelligently'</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>ulemu</td>
<td>'respect' = mwaulemu 'respectfully/politely'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

3) Some adverbs are made from verbs. They are formed by attaching the Class 17 verbal modifier prefix mo-(the AP mu- + the infinitive prefix ku-) to the verb stem; these adverbs express the idea of something done 'in the manner of being...':
