Introduction

Speech Communication is an interdisciplinary field and its amorphous and heterogenous nature comes out any time an effort is made to limit its contents.

For practical reasons the scope of this guide is limited to these general subject headings used by the NIU Subject Catalog (Library of Congress subject headings) in the area of Speech Communication:

- Communication
- Communication Research
- Communication Theory
- Content Analysis (Communication)
- Educational Broadcasting
- Intercultural Communication
- International Broadcasting
- Mass Media
- Nonverbal Communication
- Oral Communication
- Radio Broadcasting
- Rhetorical and Public Address
- Speech
- Speech Education
- Television Broadcasting
- Verbal Behavior

This is a selected list of subject headings which should be used for finding books in the card catalog and periodical articles in the indexes.

The Card Catalog in the NIU library is divided into Author-Title and Subject sections. For looking up a subject in the card catalog, the Library of Congress subject headings should be used. There is a book of LC Subject Headings at the card catalog in the General Reference area on the 1st floor.

Periodicals are not listed in the card catalog. There is a computer print-out of periodical holdings. It is located in the General Reference area on the 1st floor. It lists all the periodicals which the library has in alphabetical order, and gives their location. Bound volumes of per-periodicals in the Speech Communication field are located on 1st floor, behind the General Reference area, current issues are on 2nd floor.

Government Publications are generally not listed in the card catalog, because they have their own classification system (different from the Library of Congress). For finding these, the indexes in the Government Publications Department (on 2nd floor) should be used.

If the material needed for research is not in the NIU library, Inter-library Loan Department should be consulted (or General Reference Department).

The library users and researchers are advised to consult a general reference librarian or a subject specialist at any time they need help in using the library, the card catalog, indexes, bibliographies, etc.

All the listed sources were examined and annotated by the compiler to whom any comments, criticism and suggestions from the users should be directed.

Special thanks go to Dawn Ericksen, the reference department secretary, for her patience with typing. I am also grateful to Dr. Emmanuel Boateng of the Speech Communication Department for his valuable suggestions.

The primary purpose of interlibrary loan is to aid original research.

Books

The library can get on loan only those books which are not listed in Books in Print GenRef Z 1215 P972 (i.e. those which are not on the market, and therefore impossible to buy). The book title must be verified in National Union Catalog GenRef Z 881 Al 'N384x. If not found there, a reference librarian will have to be consulted. The National Union Catalog gives location of books in American and Canadian libraries.

Periodicals

A xerox copy of a periodical article could be requested (a patron pays for the copying). The periodical article has to be verified in an index or in the abstracts according to a subject. A reference librarian should be consulted. The location of periodicals is given in Union List of Serials GenRef Z 6945 U45 and New Serials Titles GenRef 6945 U5 S42.

Dissertations, Microfilms, etc.

Inquire in the Interlibrary Loan Office or at the General Reference Desk.
