These three video-based learning modules, covering job search skills, career planning, and interpersonal communication skills on the job, were designed for use in basic English as a Second Language (ESL) classes. The Job Search Skills module covers topics such as warm and cold behaviors, identifying job skills, job interviews, and application forms. The Career Planning module focuses on topics including body positions signifying openness or control, setting short- and long-term career goals, the difference between a career and an occupation, training programs, and finding and analyzing information about careers. The last module, Interpersonal Communications, considers topics such as territory, non-verbal interaction, and facial cues to emotion. Each of these modules includes the following materials: a five-hour lesson plan; vocabulary, definitions, and sentences using the vocabulary; information on body language cues and two-sentence micro-dialogues calling for the use of these cues; related grammar and sentence patterns; four-sentence mini-dialogues; a complete videoscript which students are to rehearse and perform, if possible before a videocamera; supplemental information and exercises; and an annotated bibliography. Instructions for the use of videotapes prepared to model each packet's contents are also included. (KL)
VIDEO-AID ESL

Sheila Crofut Roth (Electronic Media Producer, Part-time, OC)
--Researcher, Writer, Producer-Director: Instructional Packets I, II, III

Judy Williams (Office Assistant, OC)
--Clerical Support

John C. Dreaney (Director of Continuing Education, Extensions, and Community Service, OC)
--Project Director

These materials have been produced with partial support from "Video-Aid ESL," a project funded by the Washington State Community Colleges Humanities Project under a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.
CONTENTS

"VIDEO-AID ESL" PURPOSE ........................................ iii

INSTRUCTIONAL PACKET I: JOB SEARCH SKILLS (Lesson Plans; Vocabulary; Body Language Cues; Grammar; Patterns; Mini-dialogues; Script; Video Questions; Supplementary Materials; Bibliography) ........... 1 to 27

INSTRUCTIONAL PACKET II: CAREER PLANNING (Lessons Plans; Vocabulary; Body Language Cues; Conjugating the Verb "To Have"; Contractions; Sentence Patterns; Mini-dialogues; Script; Video Questions; Supplementary Materials; Bibliography) .......................... 28 to 56

INSTRUCTIONAL PACKET III: INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATIONS ON THE JOB (Lesson Plans; Vocabulary; Micro-dialogues; Grammar and Sentence Patterns; Mini-dialogues; Script; Supplementary Materials; Bibliography) .................................................. 57 to 80
The intent of "Video-Aid ESL" has been to generate three instructional packets for use in basic English-second-language classes.

Each packet of twenty-plus pages emphasizes a different "topic" ("Job Search Skills," "Career Planning," or "Interpersonal Communication Skills on the Job") and includes the following materials: five hour lesson plan; vocabulary, definitions, and sentences using the vocabulary; information on body language cues and "micro-dialogues" using body language cues; related grammar and sentence patterns; "mini-dialogues"; a complete videoscript; supplemental materials; annotated bibliography. Additionally, three videotapes, each approximately ten minutes long and using native-speaking student actors, have been prepared to model the packets' materials.
"VIDEO-AID ESL"

INSTRUCTIONAL PACKET 1

JOB SEARCH SKILLS
This is one of three learning packets designed for use with ESL classes. The other two packets are Career Planning and Interpersonal Communication Skills on The Job.

Printed material for each packet includes:

a. Vocabulary, definitions, and sentences using vocabulary;
b. Information on body language cues;
c. Micro-dialogues using body language cues. These are two sentences in length. They begin to prepare the student for the script memorization process.
d. Grammar;
e. Sentence patterns;
f. Mini-dialogues. These are four sentences in length. The student is being prepared for the script memorization process.
g. A videoscript;
h. Video questions;
i. Supplemental materials;
j. Bibliography.

Hour 1

Introduce the topic. Introduce, as time allows, vocabulary, body language cues, grammar, micro-dialogues, sentence patterns, and mini-dialogues. The vocabulary, body language cues, and micro-dialogues are performed on Section One of the videotape. You may use this section of the tape either as a summation or an introductory activity for Hour 1 activities. Section Two of the tape contains the videoplay and will be viewed in Hour 2 WITHOUT SOUND first.

Hour 2

During Section One of the videotape, you may have noticed how each speaker signalled the beginning of a communication. The head went back as the communication began and forward as the communication ended. Mention this to the students. Play Section One again if you want. See if they notice this behavior.

Section Two of the tape is ten minutes in length. Prepare your students for the without sound playing of Section Two. Mention that this is going to be like a game, that everyone can guess by facial expressions and body postures what is going on in this play. Tell them that you will discuss the guesses after they have seen the videoplay.

The without sound phase may be handled in at least one of three ways (or more - just invent them) depending upon the level of your class.

a. You may run the whole play through and ask questions later.

b. You may play it section by section and ask questions after each section.

c. You may run the whole play through and then run it section by section asking questions after each section.

Here are some questions to ask:

a. What do you think each of the men wants?

b. How do you know?

c. What is the woman's job?

d. How do you know?

e. What are the two men doing in the office?

f. How do you know?

How do you know?

This last question receives more emphasis in the Interpersonal Communication Skills tape, but it would not hurt to introduce these emotions and how they are recognized at this point if you have time. A Facial Cue Sheet is included in this packet in the Body Language Cues section.
Replay Section Two WITH SOUND for verification of guesses. Discuss content and communication problems. Video questions on script content are provided at the end of the script in the instructional materials section of the packet. Use them if you have time.

Hour 3

The students get a chance to act in this hour. Break the script down into manageable sections and have them rehearse body language, intonation, and facial expressions as well as the words. Let them check Section Two of the videotape and use the performers on tape as models. Circulate in the classroom and coach the rehearsal of these elements in the mini-scripts you have assigned.

Hour 4

If there is a videocamera (or cameras) available, the students can tape the prepared script. If there are no videocameras, the students can perform the script in an area of the room set aside for that purpose.

The student is to be encouraged to see him/herself as a performer. To use a theatrical metaphor, one learns a part when rehearsing a play. Vocabulary, grammar, and sentence patterns are learned, but they do not operate as communication elements in and of themselves. One must also learn to act like a person from another culture when speaking. One must be able to decode non-verbal communication when listening. To do this, the student as performer will practice and perform physical attitudes and expressions which might be culturally unfamiliar but which are as important to the conveyance of meaning as words.

Hour 5

If there is videocamera equipment in the class, the teacher can use this hour to play back the student tape. If there are no videocameras, the performance of the script can be extended to Hour 5. Students will compare their version with the original version. In their role as performers, students will discuss their communication problems as if they were acting problems. Students will attempt to approximate as much as possible the body language, intonations, and facial expressions used by the performers in the videoplay.
JOB SEARCH SKILLS VOCABULARY application  a form filled out when requesting employment appointment an agreed upon time and/or date to meet someone or be somewhere assign to give a duty or job background a person's training and experience counselor an advisor; a person who gives advice experience anything or everything observed or lived through introduce to arrange for one person to meet another job task or duty; employment; work lobby an entrance hall of a building mechanic a worker skilled in using tools or repairing machines skill ability to perform sponsor a person who assumes responsibility for another person or thing tomorrow the day after today work something one makes or does; employment; occupation

SENTENCES USING VOCABULARY

1. Here is an application form.
2. I will make an appointment for you.
3. I will assign you to work on diesel trucks.
4. You have a good background for this sort of job.
5. I will introduce you to the employment counselor.
6. You do not have enough experience for this job.
7. Please introduce me to her.
8. How do you like your new job?
9. I will wait for you in the lobby.
10. He is a skilled mechanic.
11. Where did you learn this skill?
12. I would like for you to meet my sponsor.
13. Tomorrow we will visit the employment counselor.
14. I start work at 7 o'clock.
BODY LANGUAGE CUES

WARM BEHAVIORS
- Looks into eyes
- Moves toward speaker
- Smiles frequently
- Has a happy face
- Sits directly facing speaker
- Has eyes wide open
- Uses expressive hand gestures

COLD BEHAVIORS
- Looks away
- Moves away from speaker
- Gives cold stare
- Frowns
- Sits at an angle from speaker
- Looks away
- Cracks fingers

INTERPRETATIONS OF BEHAVIOR

If you look away while you are speaking to a person, you may be signalling, "I am not certain of what I am saying."

If you look directly at the person most of the time while speaking, you may be signalling, "I am sure of what I am saying. I want you to understand what I am saying."

EXERCISES

Practice the following micro-dialogues using looking (gaze) and not looking (non-gaze) behavior.

Then practice the following micro-dialogues using first a warm behavior and then a cold behavior from the above list.

MICRO-DIALOGUES

a. How long have you been in this country?
   I have been in this country__________________.

b. Where are you from?
   I am from__________________.

c. Do you have a sponsor?
   Yes,__________________.

d. What is his/her/their name?
   His/her/their name is__________________.

e. Have you ever worked in the U.S.?
   Yes,__________________.

f. What did you do?
   I__________________.

g. How long were you a__________________?
   I worked as a__________________ for__________________.
Some verbs do not follow the regular rules for past tense which you have learned. These are the irregular verbs. The prefix ir- means "not," so the irregular verbs are those which do not follow the regular rules.

There are a number of commonly used irregular verbs. Let us first study one which may be the most important of all. It is be. This verb is very important because it may be used in two ways: it may be used by itself, and is used as a helper with other verbs.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>BE</th>
<th>Present</th>
<th>Past</th>
<th>Future</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Singular</td>
<td></td>
<td>I am</td>
<td>I was</td>
<td>you</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>you are</td>
<td>you were</td>
<td></td>
<td>you</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>he</td>
<td>he</td>
<td></td>
<td>he</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>she is</td>
<td>she was</td>
<td>she will be</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>it</td>
<td>it</td>
<td>it</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plural</td>
<td>we</td>
<td>we</td>
<td>we</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>you are</td>
<td>you were</td>
<td>you will be</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>they</td>
<td>they</td>
<td>they</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
JOB SEARCH SKILLS SENTENCE PATTERNS

I am an uncle.
You are an uncle.
He is an uncle.

I am an aunt.
You are an aunt.
She is an aunt.

I am a nephew.
You are a nephew.
He is a nephew.

I am a niece.
You are a niece.
She is a niece.

I am a counselor.
You are a counselor.
He/she is a counselor.

JOB SEARCH SKILLS MINI-DIALOGUES

Directions: The asterisk indicates a response from another person. This exercise can be done as a group or in units of two persons each. Appropriate names may be used instead of the ones given. Use either the warm and cold body language cues or the looking at, looking away cues.

1. Come in, Craig.
   * Hello, uncle.
   I'm in the kitchen.
   * How are you, uncle?

2. Hello, Mr. Gwyn.
   * Hello, Miss Burns.
   I would like for you to meet my nephew, Craig Payne.
   * How are you, Mr. Payne. I am pleased to meet you.
3. My name is Craig Payne. I want to apply for the job you listed.

* Have you ever worked in the U.S.?

I worked in Erewhyna as a mechanic. I have not worked in the U.S.

* How long have you been in this country?

I have been in this country two years.
"VIDEO-AID ESL"

Job Search Skills
by Sheila Crofut-Roth

Characters:
The Nephew - Craig Payne
The Uncle - Mike Gwynn
Employment Counselor - Lisa Burns

CLOSE UP OF FRYING PAN SET OVER BURNER ON HOTPLATE. PULL BACK TO HANDS ON SPATULA TURNING HAMBURGER. PULL BACK TO UNCLE FRYING HAMBURGER. KNOCK AT DOOR.

OFF CAMERA

TWO SHOT

PULL BACK

UNCLE: Come in.

NEPHEW: Hi, Uncle.

UNCLE: Hi, Craig. I'm in the kitchen.

NEPHEW: How are you, uncle? (SNEAKS A BIT OF HAMBURGER FROM THE PAN.)

UNCLE: Fine. (SLAPS NEPHEW'S HAND) Dinner will be ready in a minute. How is your job search coming?

NEPHEW: Thanks for asking. I'm not having much luck. I was hoping you could help me.

UNCLE: I would like to, Craig, but I can't. You can still get help though. I know someone who can give you advice.

NEPHEW: Oh good, who is it?

UNCLE: An employment counselor. Her name is Miss Burns. I'll call her today. I'll make an appointment for you to see her tomorrow. I'll take you there and introduce you to her.

NEPHEW: Will it cost me money?

UNCLE: No. She is paid by her agency. You do not have to pay her.

NEPHEW: How nice.

PAN TO TABLE AND CHAIRS

UNCLE: Dinner is ready. We can talk some more while we eat. Let's sit down.
DOLLY IN TO NEPHEW: Thank you.

TWO SHOT: UNCLE: Here, have a hamburger. Do you want ketchup?

CUT TO SLIDE, EXTERIOR OF BUILDING. DISSOLVE TO INTERIOR OF OFFICE.

WITH EMPLOYMENT COUNSELOR AT DESK. CLOSE UP OF HER.

TWO SHOT AS THE COUNSELOR RISES AND SHAKES HANDS WITH UNCLE.

EMPLOYMENT COUNSELOR: Hello, Mr. Gwynn.

UNCLE: Hello, Miss Burns. I would like for you to meet my nephew, Craig Payne.

PULL BACK TO MEDIUM SHOT OF EMPLOYMENT COUNSELOR WHO SMILES AND EXTENDS HER HAND.

COUNSELOR: How are you, Mr. Payne? I am pleased to meet you.

NEPHEW: Hello.

UNCLE: I want you to meet my nephew because he is looking for work. I thought you could help him.

COUNSELOR: I will be happy to. Please sit down, Mr. Payne.

UNCLE: I'll wait for you in the lobby, Craig. (He exits)

COUNSELOR: Mr. Payne, what kind of job are you looking for?

NEPHEW: (LOOKS AWAY DURING QUESTIONS, SITS AVERTED FROM COUNSELOR.) I don't know. My uncle is a mechanic. I could do that.

COUNSELOR: To help you, I need some information. How long have you been in this country? (COUNSELOR GETS PEN AND PAPER READY.)

NEPHEW: Nine months.

COUNSELOR: (WRITES DOWN ANSWERS.) Where are you from?

NEPHEW: Erehwyna.

COUNSELOR: Do you have a sponsor?

NEPHEW: Yes, he wanted me to get a job.

COUNSELOR: Have you worked in the U.S. or Erehwyna?

NEPHEW: No.

NEPHEW: I lived in the country and worked on a farm. Then I went into the army.

TWO SHOT COUNSELOR: That is all considered work in this country. Your experience on the farm and in the army is work.
Your experience can help you find work. What did you do in the military?

NEPHEW: I spent one year fighting. Then I was assigned to take care of diesel trucks.

COUNSELOR: What did you do?

NEPHEW: I did basic maintenance. I changed the oil and filters. I also did brake work and engine repair.

COUNSELOR: Had you ever done anything like that before?

NEPHEW: Yes. My uncle had a blacksmith's shop and no sons. Sometimes I helped him.

COUNSELOR: What did you do to help him?

NEPHEW: I kept the fires hot and helped to make metal parts.

COUNSELOR: You have many skills, Craig. These skills will help you find work.

NEPHEW: What do you mean by skills?

COUNSELOR: Skills are things you are good at doing. You may have some skills you don't know about. You have survived a lot. You are patient. You can adapt. Those are skills.

NEPHEW: I never thought of that.

COUNSELOR: Let's see what skills you have. List six of them on this paper. (COUNSELOR HANDS NEPHEW A SHEET OF PAPER AND A PENCIL.)

FADE TO NEPHEW WRITING

FADE TO COUNSELOR LOOKING AT PAPER.

COUNSELOR: Craig, you listed making metal parts, riding a motorcycle, following orders, finishing a job, cooking, and fishing. Making metal parts is at the top of your skill list. Is that something you would like to do in a job?

PULL BACK TO TWO SHOT

NEPHEW: Yes.

COUNSELOR: Good. Now we must find places where you can use your skills. These will not be places where you ask for work. That comes later. These will be places where you go to find information. You need to find many places where you can use your skills.
NEPHEW: What do I do?
COUNSELOR: Visit six people who use your favorite skill. You like to make metal parts. Find six people who do that. You may or may not know them. They may be strangers to you. That is alright. Ask them about their work.
NEPHEW: You want me to visit six people and ask them about their work?
COUNSELOR: Yes.
NEPHEW: What do I say to them?
COUNSELOR: Say that you are taking a class in Job Search Skills. Here are some questions to ask.
What is your job title?
What do you do?
How did you find out about your job?
What did you do before that prepared you for this job?
What does this type of job pay?
What skills must you have for this job?
NEPHEW: Thank you for your help, Miss Burns. (THEY STAND. SHE SHAKES HANDS WITH HIM. NEPHEW EXITS. HOLD ON COUNSELOR'S FACE AS SHE LOOKS AT PAPERS.)

DISSOLVE TO
TWO SHOT OF NEPHEW AND UNCLE AT TABLE HAVING COFFEE
NEPHEW: Uncle, who can I ask these questions to? I don't know many people.
UNCLE: Perhaps you know more than you think you do. Let's ask our family. Perhaps someone will know a person who makes metal parts.
NEPHEW: Alright.
UNCLE: We can ask friends. We can ask the people we do business with. We can ask the grocer. We can ask the owner of the gas station. We can ask the people at church.
NEPHEW: Is it alright to ask people questions like this?
UNCLE: Yes. They will be glad to help.
NEPHEW: Let me practice with you first.
UNCLE: I will pretend to be the owner of a diesel repair shop. Come in the door. Pretend to greet me for the first time. (NEPHEW EXITS) NEPHEW: (ENTERS) Hello. My name is Craig Payne. I am taking a class in Job Search Skills.

UNCLE: Don't forget to shake hands when you give your name. Try it again. (NEPHEW EXITS)

NEPHEW: Hello. (OFFERS HANDS) My name is Craig Payne. I am taking a class in Job Search Skills. Would you mind answering a few questions about your job?

UNCLE: I would be happy to. Won't you sit down?

NEPHEW: Thank you. What is your job title?

UNCLE: I am the owner of a diesel repair shop.

NEPHEW: What do you do?

UNCLE: I take orders from customers who need to have their trucks repaired. I order parts. I supervise the work of the mechanics in my shop.

NEPHEW: How did you find out about your job?

UNCLE: My uncle told me about it. (THEY LAUGH)

CUT TO MEDIUM SHOT OF NEPHEW AND COUNSELOR IN COUNSELOR'S OFFICE.

COUNSELOR: Craig, it is good to see you again. Did you have any luck visiting people and asking them questions?

NEPHEW: Yes, I did. I practised at home first with my uncle. Then I visited six people who make metal parts. I found two places where I would like to work. What should I do now?

COUNSELOR: You need more places. Then you can make a choice. Find six places you like. Get information about these places. Find out how each place will use your skills. Find out what your future will be at each place. Don't be afraid to ask questions about each business.

NEPHEW: What if they offer me a job?

COUNSELOR: Wait until you have talked to everyone. Then make your choice. Make an appointment for a job interview. While you are there, you may have to fill out this. (PULLS OUT APPLICATION FORM) Do you know what this is?
NEPHEW: No.
COUNSELOR: This is a job application form.
NEPHEW: What is it for?
COUNSELOR: It tells the employer what skills you have. Sometimes it is used to select people for the job. Because of this, it is very important. It is like a test. It tells the employer whether you are neat and careful. Here is the space for your name and address. (POINTS TO SECTION) Here is the space for you to tell what skills you have. (POINTS TO SECTION) Fill it out as practice.

PULL BACK TO MEDIUM SHOT AS NEPHEW FILLS OUT APPLICATION

COUNSELOR: When you go to the appointment, Craig, you may take this practice application. Use it to fill out the application they give you.

TWO SHOT
NEPHEW: What else should I do?
COUNSELOR: You will need to go by yourself. I am sure you can do that now.

COUNSELOR: Let me know what happens.
NEPHEW: I will COUNSELOR: Good luck.
VIDEO QUESTIONS

1. What are skills?

2. List three skills you have.

3. What is your favorite skill?

4. What kind of job uses your strongest skill?

5. List one person who uses your favorite skill.

6. List one place that would use your skill.

7. What is an application form?

8. Why must you go to a job interview by yourself?
"VIDEO-AID ESL, PACKET 1"

JOB SEARCH SKILLS

SUPPLEMENTARY MATERIALS
BODY LANGUAGE CUES

EXPERIMENT WITH THESE DIFFERENT CUES WHILE REHEARSING THE MICRO-DIALOGUES AND THE SENTENCE PATTERN MINI-DIALOGUES. PRACTICE EYE CONTACT AND SOCIAL DISTANCE.

In the video tape, Craig looked away from the employment counselor while she was asking him questions. He also sat on the side of the chair so that his body was away from the counselor. In this country, that is not polite. What is the polite way to answer questions during an interview?

Various Meanings of Looking Away

If someone looks away while he is speaking, it generally means he is still explaining himself and doesn't want to be interrupted.

or

If the speaker pauses and is not looking at his partner, it means he hasn't finished yet.

or

If you look away from the person who is speaking to you while you are listening it signals, "I am not completely satisfied with what you are saying."

or

Looking away while you talk may mean you are concealing something from the other person.

Various Meanings of Looking At

A locking gaze with the partner at a pause point would be a signal to interrupt when the speaker pauses.

or

If while you are listening you look at the speaker it signals, "I agree with you," or "I am interested in what you are saying."

or

If while you are speaking you look at the listener it may signal "I am certain of what I am saying."
1. What is your job title?

2. What do you do?

3. How did you find out about your job?

4. What did you do before that prepared you for this job?

5. What does this type of job pay?

6. What skills must you have for this job?
JOB SEARCH SKILLS

My strongest skill is:________________________________________

I know six people who use that skill.
1. _______________________________________________________
2. _______________________________________________________
3. _______________________________________________________
4. _______________________________________________________
5. _______________________________________________________
6. _______________________________________________________

I know six places which use my strongest skill.
1. _______________________________________________________
2. _______________________________________________________
3. _______________________________________________________
4. _______________________________________________________
5. _______________________________________________________
6. _______________________________________________________

I know three places I can return to and apply for a job.
1. _______________________________________________________
2. _______________________________________________________
3. _______________________________________________________
"VIDEO-AID ESL, PACKET 1
JOB SEARCH SKILLS
BIBLIOGRAPHY
JOB SEARCH SKILLS

The most influential self-help book in the job search market and the basis for the job search skills suggested in the script.

NONVERBAL COMMUNICATION

This material has been used in the body language cues section of the scripts.

Fast, Julius, Body Language, M. Evans, 1970

Material relating to gaze and non-gaze can be found in the body language cues section.

Goffman's use of the theatrical metaphor ignited this particular approach to the teaching of English as a second language.

USING TELEVISION TO TEACH ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE

This document is available from the British Council, Suzuki Building, 12 Samon-cho, Shinjuku-ku, Tokyo, Japan. The experiment described was undertaken in 1967 under a grant from the U.S. Educational Commission in Japan at Tokyo Gakugei Daigaku. It was designed to try to answer the following questions: (1) Can language learning material presented with aural and visual stimuli by means of video tape be better learned than material presented with only aural stimuli? (answer: a probable positive reply), (2) Can kinesics be better learned through active role playing? (answer: an unqualified yes), (3) What is the effect of allowing adult language learners to see themselves speaking a foreign language? (answer: it is beneficial)

This is available from: CATESOL, 2773 Bush Street, San Francisco, California 94115 for $2.50. Alan and Lotte Marcus have successfully used soap operas for American English language modeling while teaching Mexican migrant workers in Salinas, California.

This was a paper presented at the Colloquium of the Swiss Interuniversity Commission for Applied Linguistics, Neuchatel, Switzerland, March 15-17, 1976. It describes CINAO, a beginning course in English for adults which uses brief excerpts from video and sound recordings that are motivating in content and that can aid in the learning of comprehension and expression. In a first level, students use the recorded excerpts to learn and use rules for each activity separately. In a second level, they learn to use the rules internalized during the first stage, not from existing documents but by construction their own situational dialogues under the guidance of a native speaker. A two-part lesson outline completes the essay.

This is an excellent source for use in writing your own scripts.

Marsch, Ken, Independent Video: A complete guide to the physics, operation, and application of the new television for the student, the artist, and for community TV. Simon and Schuster, 1974.

This self-aid book has lots of pictures which explain the inner workings of video cameras and just about everything else you might want to use when filming your own scripts.

"An ESL-ABE Video Tape Bank" announces a set of fifteen color video tapes developed by Palomar College, San Marcos, California, which can be borrowed or purchased. The tapes deal with a variety of practical strategies and techniques.

This report describes a testing scheme designed specifically to determine the effectiveness of fifteen English as a Second Language video programs among rural adult Mexican Americans in two different geographical areas, urban Mexican American adults in two different geographical areas and time arrangements, and urban Cuban and Puerto Rican adults. This report includes an outline of the research design, statistical findings, summary, conclusions, and recommendations.
This publication represents the development of a discrete Formula Phonics Video Reading/Language Arts Program for teaching English as a second language. Introductory chapters describe the program and the program design, explain how to prepare for teaching the lessons, and show how to introduce the program to students. The major part of the publication consists of detailed lesson plans to be used in conjunction with nine videotapes designed to teach word-attack skills and to move students from patterned dialogues into student-centered dialogues. The plans outline vocabulary and concepts to be taught; list essential tape activities, contingency activities, and test questions; and provide information and notes for teachers. Two concluding chapters discuss methods for teaching word-attack skills and for setting up dialogue groups: an appendix offers instructions for the video operator and information to aid in scheduling each segment of the nine videotapes.

OTHER SOURCES FOR TEACHER EXPLORATION

This material can be ordered from the Kansas City address or your region office of the U.S. Department of Education.
"VIDEO-AID ESL"
INSTRUCTIONAL PACKET II
JOB SEARCH SKILLS
CAREER PLANNING LESSON PLANS

This is the second of three learning packets designed for use with ESL classes. The other two packets are Job Search Skills and Interpersonal Communication Skills On The Job.

Printed material for each packet includes:

a. Vocabulary, definitions, and sentences using vocabulary.
b. Information on body language cues.
c. Micro-dialogues (short talks) using body language cues. These are two sentences in length. They begin to prepare the student for the script memorization process.
d. Grammar.
e. Sentence patterns.
f. Mini-dialogues. These are four sentences in length. The student is being prepared for the script memorization process.
g. A videoscript.
h. Video questions.
i. Supplemental materials.
j. Bibliography.

Hour 1

Introduce the topic. Introduce, as time allows, vocabulary, body language cues, grammar, micro-dialogues, sentence patterns, and mini-dialogues (short talks). The vocabulary, body language cues, and micro-dialogues are performed on Section One of the videotape. You may use this section of the tape either as a summation or an introductory activity for Hour 1 activities. Section Two of the tape contains the videoplay and will be viewed in Hour 2 WITHOUT SOUND first.

Hour 2

In the lesson plans for Job Search Skills, your attention was directed at the nonverbal cue for beginning and end of a communication (head back, head forward). Warm and cold behaviors were also stressed. Be careful to stress that these always occur within a context.

Career Planning stresses body positions which signify openness and self-control. The student may benefit from practice which enables him/her to identify and use these cues in a work or social context. These cues can also be combined with the warm and cold behaviors from the previous lesson.

Section Two of the tape is ten minutes in length. Prepare your students for the without sound playing for Section Two. Mention that this is going to be like a game, that everyone can guess by facial expressions and body postures what is going on in the play. Tell them that you will discuss the guesses after they have seen the videoplay.

The without sound phase may be handled in at least one of three ways (or more - just invent them) depending upon the level of your class.

a. You may run the whole play through and ask questions later.

b. You may run it section by section and ask questions after each section.

c. You may run the whole play through and then run it section by section asking questions after each section.

Here are some questions to ask:

a. Is the counselor showing warm, cold, open or closed behavior?
b. How can you tell?
c. Is the nephew showing warm, cold, open or closed behavior?
d. How can you tell?
e. Is the uncle showing warm, cold, open or closed behavior?
f. How can you tell?
g. What does the nephew want from the counselor at the beginning?
h. What does the nephew want from the counselor at the end?
i. What does the nephew want from the uncle?
j. What does the nephew want? How can you tell?
Replay Section Two WITH SOUND for verification of guesses. Discuss content and communication problems. Video questions on script content are provided at the end of the script in the instructional materials of this racket. Use them if you have time.

Hour 3

The students get a chance to act in this hour. Encourage memorization. Break the script down into manageable sections and have them rehearse body language, intonation, and facial expressions as well as the words. Let them check Section Two of the videotape and use the performers on the tape as models. Circulate in the classroom and coach the rehearsal of these elements in the sections of the script you have assigned.

Hour 4

If there is a videodrama (or cameras) available, the students can tape the prepared script. If no videocameras are available, the student can perform the script in an area of the room set aside for that purpose while the rest of the class acts as an audience.

The student is to be encouraged to see him/herself as a performer. To use a theatrical metaphor, one learns a part when learning another language just as a performer learns a part when rehearsing a play. Vocabulary, grammar, and sentence patterns are learned, but they do not operate as communication elements in and of themselves. One must also learn to act like a person from another culture when speaking. One must be able to decode nonverbal communication when listening. To do this, the student as performer will practice and perform physical attitudes and expressions, which might be culturally unfamiliar but which are as important to the conveyance of meaning as words.
Hour 5

If there is videocamera equipment in the class, the teacher can use this hour to play back the student tape. If there are no videocameras, the performance of the script can be extended to Hour 5. Students will compare their version with the original version. In their role as performers, students will discuss their communication problems as if they were acting problems. Students will attempt to approximate as much as possible the body language, intonations, and facial expressions used by the performers in the videoplay. If the student tape is played back and then the original videoplay is played back, they should have an idea of how well they have accomplished that goal.
CAREER PLANNING VOCABULARY accomplish - to get something done career - a profession or occupation customer - a person who buys something employer - someone who hires others; who hires and pays others future - that which is going to happen goal - something one works at to get done important - meaning a lot, having much significance or value maintenance - keeping something in good repair occupation - work organize - to put in order restaurant - a place where meals can be purchased and eaten supervisor - a person who directs workers in getting a job done training - instruction that teaches skills warehouse - a building where goods are kept

SENTENCES USING VOCABULARY

1. You have a lot to accomplish.
2. You can have a career in the restaurant business.
3. He is a new customer.
4. I like my employer.
5. This business has a good future.
6. My goal for this week is to save ten dollars.
7. It is important to have good skills.
8. I have a job doing motorcycle maintenance.
9. What is your occupation?
10. I need to organize my time.
11. This is a good restaurant.
12. My supervisor helps me learn the job.
13. You will begin training today.
14. The warehouse is across the parking lot.
BODY LANGUAGE CUES

BODY POSITIONS
SIGNIFYING OPENNESS

Elbows away from body

Arms held outward from body either directly at side or raised.

Hands held outward

Knees apart (not always appropriate for women)

Feet apart

Legs stretched out or one ankle crossed over other knee (more appropriate for men)

BODY POSITIONS
SIGNIFYING CONTROL

Elbows next to body

Arms crossed

Hands folded in lap

Knees pressed together

Feet together

Legs crossed at knees or ankles

SHORT TALKS USING ABOVE BODY CUES

1. What skills do you have?
   One of my skills is ________________.

2. What goals do you have?
   One of my goals is ________________.

3. Do you have good work habits?
   Yes, ____________________.

4. Does this job have a good future?
   (Yes, no) this job (does, does not) have a good future.

5. Why does (doesn't) this job have a good future?
   This job doesn't have ____________________ because ________________________________________.

6. What skills do you need to meet your most important goal?
   I need the skill of ____________________ to meet that goal.

7. Do you want responsibility?
   ____________________.

8. How much will I make in two weeks?
   You ____________________.

9. How much will I make in a month?
   ____________________.

10. What would you like to make in a month?
    I would like to ____________________.
CONJUGATING THE VERB TO HAVE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>HAVE</th>
<th>Present</th>
<th>Past</th>
<th>Future</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Singular</td>
<td>I have</td>
<td>you have</td>
<td>you will have</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>you</td>
<td>you had</td>
<td>you will have</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>he</td>
<td>he had</td>
<td>he will have</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>she</td>
<td>she had</td>
<td>she will have</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>it</td>
<td>it</td>
<td>it will have</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plural</td>
<td>we have</td>
<td>we</td>
<td>we will have</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>you</td>
<td>you</td>
<td>you will have</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>they</td>
<td>they</td>
<td>they will have</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

As a helper verb, have is used with a special form of the second verb. This form is called the "past participle". This past particle of go is gone. These examples show how to use have with gone to make the present perfect, the past perfect, and the future perfect tenses:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Present-Perfect</th>
<th>Past Perfect</th>
<th>Future Perfect</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Singular</td>
<td>I have gone</td>
<td>you have gone</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>you</td>
<td>you</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>he</td>
<td>he</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>she</td>
<td>she</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>it</td>
<td>it</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plural</td>
<td>we have gone</td>
<td>we</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>you</td>
<td>you</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>they</td>
<td>they</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Contractions

Contractions are shortened forms of what were originally two words. I am becomes I'm. The apostrophe tells the reader a letter or letters is missing.

What two words do these contractions replace?

it's isn't hadn't don't can't let's I'm you'll CAREER PLANNING SENTENCE PATTERNS

I have a job.
You have a job.
He/she has a job.

I have a career.
You have a career.
He/she has a career.

I have a supervisor.
You have a supervisor.
He/she has a supervisor.

I have a goal.
You have a goal.
He/she has a goal.

I have a future.
You have a future.
He/she has a future.

I have training.
You have training.
He/she has training.

I have a customer.
You have a customer.
He/she has a customer.

I have customers.
You have customers.
He/she has customers.
Directions: The asterisk indicates a response from another person. This exercise can be done as a group exercise or in units of two persons each. Appropriate names may be used instead of the ones given. Use the open and closed body language cues.

1. How long have you been in this country?
   * I have been here nine months.
   Do you like it here?
   * I like it very much.

2. What would you like to do in a month?
   * I would like to speak better English.
   What else would you like to do?
   * I would like to make more money.

3. What goals have you set for that month?
   * I would like to buy a wheel for my motorcycle.
   What else would you like to do?
   * I would like to see the new movie in town.
"VIDEO-AID ESL"
Career Planning
by Sheila Crofut-Roth

Characters:
The Nephew - Craig Payne
The Uncle - Mike Gwynn
Employment Counselor - Lisa Burns

FADE IN TO INTERIOR OF EMPLOYMENT COUNSELOR'S OFFICE. SHE IS SEATED AT HER DESK WITH THE NEPHEW.

COUNSELOR: Thank you for coming to see me on your day off, Craig. How do you like your job as a diesel mechanic?

NEPHEW: I like it very much.

COUNSELOR: How long have you been there?

NEPHEW: About a year.

COUNSELOR: What do you do?

NEPHEW: I do basic maintenance. I change the oil and filters on trucks. Soon I will do brake work and engine repair.

COUNSELOR: Do you like that?

NEPHEW: I like it very much. It's very nice to have work.

COUNSELOR: Is it work that you think you will like for a long time?

NEPHEW: No, but for now it's a good job.

COUNSELOR: Have you thought of trying to find work you would like more?

NEPHEW: What do you mean?

COUNSELOR: Do you know what a career is?

NEPHEW: Isn't that a job you plan to do for a long time?

COUNSELOR: Yes. You plan to be in the same occupation for a long time. You may do different things in the same occupation. Let's say you had a career in the restaurant business. You would do many things. You might start work as a bus boy. Then you could become a waiter or cook. Later, you might become a head waiter. Perhaps one day you might own a restaurant.

NEPHEW: What does that have to do with me?
COUNSELOR: You have skills. You are using your skills in the job you have now. What do you see yourself doing with those skills in five years?
NEPHEW: I don't know. I hadn't thought about it. This job seems good enough for me right now. It is hard to think about what I will do in five years.

CUT TO CLOSEUP OF A HAND POURING COFFEE INTO A CUP. PULL BACK TO MEDIUM SHOT OF NEPHEW AND UNCLE SEATED AT TABLE.

NEPHEW: Why do you think Miss Burns asked me what I want to do in five years, Uncle?
UNCLE: Perhaps she thinks you might make more money, Craig. Perhaps she is thinking of your future happiness. Do you remember the first job Ed had when he came here? He started as a janitor. Then he worked in the warehouse. Later, he became supervisor. He planned it that way. He wanted a career.

NEPHEW: I can't leave my job. I need the money.
UNCLE: You don't have to. Just think about what you would like to do in five years. Do you want to be doing what you do now?
NEPHEW: Not really.
UNCLE: What do you think you would like to do?
NEPHEW: I like motorcycles.
UNCLE: Do you think you would like to be working with motorcycles in five years?
NEPHEW: I would like to do that, but the pay is not as good.
UNCLE: Don't worry about that now. Let's look at your skills and your experience.
NEPHEW: You sound like Miss Burns.

UNCLE: I have learned a lot since I have been in this country. If you would like to work with motorcycles, think about it. There might be a way to make as much money as you do now. Thinking about your future doesn't hurt. Now, what are your skills?

NEPHEW: I am skilled at working with machines.

UNCLE: Yes, Craig, you are. Even when you are not at work you fix machines. You spend a lot of free time fixing your motorcycle.

NEPHEW: I also like working with people.

UNCLE: That is a skill. Do you get much chance to do that on the job you have now?

NEPHEW: No.

UNCLE: I know you like working with people. I know that people like you. When you help me with the shop, I see that the customers like to talk with you. They want you to work for them. Perhaps a good career for you would combine two skills. You could have a career where you work with people and machines.

NEPHEW: How do you think I could do that? I like the idea.

UNCLE: Craig, do you know what a goal is?

NEPHEW: Sure, soccer players make goals.

UNCLE: It's almost the same. A goal is something you want to accomplish. In soccer, you want to make a goal. In life, you want to reach a goal. A goal can be anything. If you have one, you can organize time better. You can organize your work. You can plan your future. Here are some 3 x 5 cards.

CUT TO CLOSEUP OF UNCLE HOLDING 3 x 5 CARDS.

Think of three things you want to do at the end of this month. Put each goal on a card.

CUT TO MEDIUM SHOT OF NEPHEW WHO WRITES ON CARDS.

NEPHEW: Like this?

UNCLE: Yes.

NEPHEW: I'm done.

UNCLE: What did you write?
I want to speak better English. I want to buy a wheel for my motorcycle. I want to see the new movie that's in town.

Good. Make the most important goal your first card. Make the least important goal the last card.

Then what?

Set aside ten-minutes each day to think about your goals. See yourself doing each goal. Work to accomplish the goal.

That sounds easy.

It's also work, Craig. Use the same idea to set goals for a year. Use the same idea to set goals for five years.

Is that all?

No. Ask yourself about your skills.

My skills?

Yes. Ask yourself what skills you need to accomplish your month goals. What do you need to accomplish your one year goals? Your five year goals?

That sounds like work.

It is, but it's worth it. You are planning your life. You're planning a career. That gives you a lot of power.

Is there anything else I need to do?

There's a lot to do. Find out which occupations use the skills you have.

Then what?

Ask if your skills will be needed in the future. Find someone who works with motorcycles for a living. Ask them what the future is for their job.

Thanks, Uncle. I know someone I can talk to this afternoon.

You care about how much money you make. Find out what you can make in five years.

Alright, Uncle. You have given me a lot to work on.
UNCLE: Remember, Craig. You are someone an employer will want to hire. You want to work. You have good work habits. All you need to do is find the best career for your skills.

NEPHEW: Goodbye, Uncle. Thank you again.

CUT TO EMPLOYMENT COUNSELOR'S OFFICE

TWO SHOT NEPHEW: Miss Burns, I'm glad you asked me what I wanted to do in five years.

COUNSELOR: Oh?

NEPHEW: Yes. I talked to my uncle. He gave me some ideas which helped me decide on a career.

COUNSELOR: What did you decide?

NEPHEW: I decided that I would like to work with people and machines. I decided that I like to work with motorcycles better than trucks.

COUNSELOR: Did you change jobs?

NEPHEW: Yes. First, I looked at careers that use my skills. Then I talked to some people. I'm pretty good at that now.

COUNSELOR: Yes, I know you are. What did you ask them?

NEPHEW: I asked them what the future was for their jobs. I set some goals for myself. I set a goal for a work change. I set a goal for the money I want to make.

COUNSELOR: What has happened?

NEPHEW: I am working for a motorcycle shop in their parts and service department. The pay is less, but it's something I have always wanted to do.

COUNSELOR: What is that?

NEPHEW: I get a chance to work with people and motorcycles. My boss wants to send me to a training program. He wants to give me more responsibility. Working with motorcycles is going to be my career.

COUNSELOR: Craig, you won't believe this. I have been thinking of getting a motorcycle. Gas is so expensive. I think I could save money on a motorcycle. Could you help me?

NEPHEW: Miss Burns, I would be glad to. Why don't you come to the shop tomorrow? We could look at a good motorcycle for you. I know just the one you'll like.

CUT TO END, MOTORCYCLE NOISE, STAR WARS MUSIC.
VIDEO QUESTIONS

1. What is a career?

2. What is an occupation?

3. What is a goal?

4. What is a training program?

5. How much time might you spend each day thinking about your goals?

6. What do you do when you think about your goals?

7. What do you do after you think about your goals?

8. Why should you think about the future?
9. How can you find out about an occupation?

10. Does the uncle's suggestions for planning a career seem useful to you? Would you suggest anything else?
"VIDEO-AID ESL," PACKET 2
CAREER PLANNING
SUPPLEMENTARY MATERIALS
CAREER PLANNING QUESTIONS TO ASK YOURSELF

SETTING YOUR GOALS
1. What do you want to accomplish at the end of one month?
2. What do you want to accomplish at the end of the year?
3. What do you want to accomplish at the end of five years?
4. What do you want to accomplish before the end of your life?
   a. Write your goals on 3 x 5 cards. Place them in order with the most important goal first, the least important last.
   b. Set aside ten minutes a day to think about your goals. See yourself doing each goal. Imagine yourself at work on each goal. Imagine you have always been where you want to be.
   c. Celebrate when you achieve a goal.
5. What skills do you have now?
6. What skills do you need to accomplish your goal(s)?
   a. at the end of one month?
   b. at the end of a year?
   c. at the end of five years?
   d. by the end of your life?

USING YOUR EXPERIENCE
1. Write three skills you enjoy using most - at work or away from work.
2. Write three skills you want to have or use in your future career.
3. Write three skills you don't want to use in your future career.
4. What is the most important thing in your life? or What are the two most important things in your life?
CAREER PLANNING QUESTIONS

5. Are you most interested in people, data, or things? Or in all of them? In what order?

6. Make three columns on a piece of paper. In Row 1 write the things you have already accomplished. In Row 2 write things to be accomplished. In Row 3 write what you need to do in order to accomplish things in Row 2.

CHOOSING YOUR OCCUPATION

1. What occupations use the skills you have?
2. What people use the skills you have?
3. Where can you meet the people who need your skills?
   a. Make a list of occupations in your area where the skills you have are used.
   b. Interview six people who have skills like yours. Ask them:
      a. What is your job title?
      b. What tasks do you perform on your jobs?
      c. How did you find out about the job?
      d. How did you prepare for the job?
      e. What does this type of job pay?
      f. What skills must you have for this job?
      g. Who did you see when you applied for this job?
      h. What do you like best about your job?

PROJECTING YOUR FUTURE

1. What is the future for three occupations which use your skills?
   a. over a five year period?
   b. over a ten year period?
2. What are the earning and working conditions for three occupations which use your skills?
QUESTIONS TO ASK ABOUT THE OTHER PERSON'S JOB

1. In the position you now hold, what do you do on a typical day?
2. What were the jobs you had before this one?
3. What is the top job you can have in this career?
4. What experience does a person need for this field?
5. What do you like most about this job? What do you dislike?
6. What special advice would you give to a person entering this field?
7. Do you think there will be many jobs in this field in the future?
8. What changes do you think might come in five years? Ten years?

QUESTIONS TO ASK YOURSELF

1. How could I prepare myself for such changes?
2. What is the best way to find a position that will start me in this career?
TOOLS OF THE TRADE

INSTRUCTIONS: (Check each item as completed).

1. Look at the two columns below. Match each item on the right with an occupation on the left.

2. Place the letters that match correctly in the spaces at the left.

3. Use the Occupational Handbook if you need help.

1. Architect
2. Barber
3. Bricklayer
4. Carpenter
5. Disc Jockey
6. Dentist
7. Forester
8. Geologist
9. Mechanic
10. Librarian
11. Pilot
12. Plumber
13. Pharmacist
14. Telephone Operator
15. Typist
16. Cosmetologist
17. Teacher
18. Bank Teller
19. Artist
20. Nurseryman
21. Dietician
22. Ceramics engineer
23. Soda Jerk
24. Judge
25. Stevedore

REVIEW:

1. How many did you match correctly?
2. Did you learn any new occupations?
3. Make up a list of your own with at least 5 occupations and tools of the trade.
CAREER ANALYSIS FORM

Name of Student ____________________________ Grade ________ Date ________

Name of Career Being Analyzed: ____________________________

1. General description of duties and responsibilities involved on this job:

__________________________________________________________________________

2. Specific qualifications required:

A. Sex: Predominantly Female _____ Male _____

B. Age limits, if any? ____________________________

C. General physical requirements:
   Height _______ Hearing _______ Weight _______ Other _______ Vision _______

D. Physical activities involved during most of the working time:
   Standing _____ Balancing _____ Carrying _____ Sitting _____ Bending over _____ Pushing _____ Walking _____ Kneeling _____ Pulling _____
   Climbing _____ Crouching _____ Feeling _____
   Lifting _____ Crawling _____ Finger dexterity Kicking _____

E. Mental Factors:
   Requires that frequent decisions be made
   Requires careful following of precise instructions Work under continual pressure from people _______ by a machine _______ by a schedule ______
   Requires ability to work when surrounded by noise and activity _______ Requires ability to perform monotonous routine jobs for long periods of time Requires ability to work harmoniously and closely with other people Requires ability to work by yourself
   Requires that you work long periods of time where it is very quiet _______

F. Social and moral qualifications, if specifically stated:

__________________________________________________________________________
G. Special talents or skills required:

________________________________________________________________________

H. Special tools or other equipment (such as clothing) required:

________________________________________________________________________

3. Preparation required for the job:
   A. General educational requirements:
       ______________________________________________________________________

   B. Specific training required:
       ______________________________________________________________________

   C. Previous experience required:
       ______________________________________________________________________

4. Federal, state or local laws relating specifically to this vocation:

________________________________________________________________________

5. General working conditions:
   Primarily outdoor work____
   Primarily indoor work____
   Basically a factory set-up____
   Basically an office set-up____ Special problems, such as unusual exposure to weather, heat, cold, dirt and dust, acids, fumes, noise, oils and greases, vibration, and poor lighting:
   Stability of employment:
       Regular work, no lay-offs Requires that you work in a variety of locations but all within easy driving distance of home
       Requires much travel out of town
       Requires periodic changes of residence
       Lay-offs because of seasonal and other conditions occur more or less periodically
   Work hazards present_____. If so, what is the nature of these?

________________________________________________________________________

56
6. Earnings:
Pays on salary basis
Hourly wage paid
Pays on piece work basis
Range of pay for this job: Minimum per Maximum per Average per Fringe benefits offered:

Group life insurance Company paid?
Medical and hospital insurance Company paid?
Sick leave time: ________ days per year. Total that can be accumulated Company pension
Terminal leave pay Bonuses
Profit-sharing plan
Stock-sharing plan
Paid holidays
Paid vacation time

7. Working time:
Regular hours
Extra work often required Extra pay for extra work?
If so, at what rate?
Primarily night work
Weekend work required regularly periodically
Number of days work each week

8. Beginning jobs that lead into this job:

9. Opportunities for advancement:
Titles of jobs into which you might advance:
Obstacles in the way of advancement:
Training opportunities provided by the employer:

10. Organizations or associations related to this career.
Trade organizations
Professional organizations
Labor unions
11. Significance of this vocation to the community:

_____________________________________________________________________

12. Approximate percentage to the working population engaged in this vocation:
   Locally_________  Nationally_________

13. Need for employees in this vocation is:
   Increasing____  Stable____  Decreasing____

14. Reasons why this vocation appeals to you:
   __________________________________________
   __________________________________________
   __________________________________________

15. Problems you would expect to encounter in this vocation:
   __________________________________________
   __________________________________________
"VIDEO-AID ESL," PACKET 2

CAREER PLANNING

BIBLIOGRAPHY
Mr. Bolles offers a philosophy of life along with advice on job search skills, resume writing, and career planning. Used as a primary reference in the writing of this video script.

This is an excellent activities source. It uses the approach of Richard Bolles. "The Tools of the Trade" activity sheet and the "Career Analysis Form" to be found in the Supplementary Materials section, have been adapted from this series.

This three volume directory locates careers by physical demands, individual working conditions, interest aptitude; and educational requirements.

This was the inspiration for the Body Language Cues section of this packet.

Although it is heavily slanted for use by the Indian or Black student, information relating to general employment, educational assistance programs, federal assistance programs, women's career counseling, and job assistance programs are given state by state and may be useful for students of English as a second language.

"VIDEO-AID ESL"

INSTRUCTIONAL PACKET III

INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATIONS ON THE JOB
LESSON PLANS

This is the third of three learning packets designed for use with ESL classes. The other two packets are Job Search Skills and Career Planning.

Printed material for each packet includes:

a. Vocabulary, definitions, and sentences using vocabulary.

b. Information on body language cues.

c. Micro-dialogues using body language cues. These are two sentences in length. They begin to prepare the student for the script memorization process.

d. Grammar.

e. Sentence patterns.

f. Mini-dialogues. These are four sentences in length. The student is being prepared for the script memorization process.

g. A videoscript.

h. Video questions.

i. Supplemental materials.

j. Bibliography.

Hour 1

In addition to introducing the vocabulary, body cues, dialogues, grammar, and sentence patterns, the student will need to be prepared for the content of the videoplay. It is radically different from the other two and concentrates on behaviors, the acting of emotions, and the process of improvisation. It is the desire of the writer to encourage the teaching of these so that the student can recognize them when they occur, relate to them appropriately, and enact them genuinely within an appropriate context.

The use of improvisation in the videotape opens the possibility of improvisation to the teacher and students for a variety of on-the-job social behaviors.
At the very least, alternate behaviors (when and how to look at an employer during an interview) and recognition of the use of personal space in a job situation (territories in the cafeteria and in the office) can be explored.

The important concept to be put forth at this time is that the student is a performer. The students in the videoplays have improvised, rehearsed, and practiced behaviors. The student from another culture can do the same thing in the classroom or at home. The student can practice roles, being a boss and an applicant. The student can practice behavior, openness, closedness, and emotions, anger, happiness, which in this case will be behaviors which will be interpreted as emotions. The students can stretch his personal, cultural repertoire of behaviors and decide when and how to use these elements of nonverbal communication.

You may want to use this hour only for the verbal vocabulary and the vocabulary of emotions designated on the facial Cues Sheet.

Hour 2

Refer to the Improvisation Suggestion Sheet in Supplementary Materials at the end of this packet. Show only the part of Section Two of the tape which goes up to the line, "Craig, do you need a job?" After the class has seen this section of the tape and discussed it, break them up into groups. Assign each group an emotion. Let them reproduce the emotion as described on the Facial Cue Sheet. Have each group perform their emotion for the class. Have them invent a job situation where the emotion would be used. Combine the use of the emotion with open, closed, cold, and warm behaviors.

If you have students who want to do the mirror exercise, tell them that the challenge of the exercise is to pass the leadership back and forth so that the audience can not tell who is and who is not the leader. Have your students do the mirror exercise without words first. Later, they can use words.

Give the students an opportunity to play boss and employee. Have them reverse roles in a variety of situations.

Hour 3

Play the job interview section of the script. Discuss the use of warm and cold behaviors in the interview. Let the students practice and perform this job interview. Suggest interview techniques. Film these.

Hour 4

Discuss the concept of reciprocals with the students. A reciprocal is an escalating nonverbal face-to-face interaction.

Divide the class into emotion groups again. Assign emotions. See how soon the other students can guess the emotion. Let them interrupt the acting when they know the emotion.

Discuss territories. Demonstrate how they can be marked off by clothing, books, cups. Demonstrate how people stand or sit in relation to each other, look at each other, and take distance from each other. Replay the mirror exercise, the boss, employee improvisation, and the job interview sections of the tape. Discuss how people stand and sit in these improvisations, Look at the new employee meeting the other employee section.

Divide the students into groups and have them practice each of these situations: the boss-employee, the job interview, and the new employee at lunch. Have them practice establishing, entering, and leaving territories. Rotate the improvisations so that each group gets to rehearse several behaviors.

Hour 5

Tape the students, or have them perform for each other, the following situations: boss-employee, the job interview, and the new employee at lunch.
acting behavior communicate forceful gesture leader nonverbal opening performer pretend reflect reputation training

pretending to be another person, emotion an action give information, exchange information very strong a movement of the body which shows a feeling someone who shows another or others what to do without speech an unfilled job someone who acts, dances, or sings make believe give back an image, mirror another an evaluation of whether a person or thing is good or bad instruction that builds a worker's skills

Sentences Using Vocabulary

1. He is acting as if he is the boss.
2. Her behavior makes me think she is sad.
3. You can communicate with words and with your body.
4. She has a forceful way of talking.
5. This gesture means "goodbye".
6. I am the leader now.
7. Nonverbal means without words.
8. There is an opening for you with our company.
9. Opportunity comes many times if you are ready for it.
10. She is an excellent performer.
11. I will pretend to be you.
12. I will reflect the expression on your face.
13. This car dealer has a good reputation.
14. This training will help me in my job.
MICRO-DIALOGUES

1. Why are you afraid of me?
   I don't know.

2. You make me happy.
   I am glad.

3. Why are you sad?
   My husband is in the hospital.

4. Do you need a job?
   Yes, I need a job.

5. How did you hear about this position?
   My friend, Mark Edwards, told me about it.

6. What about this job interests you?
   It gives me a chance to use my skills.

7. What is the pay?
   The pay starts at minimum.
GRAMMAR

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>to give</th>
<th>Present</th>
<th>Past</th>
<th>Future</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I give</td>
<td>I gave</td>
<td>I will give</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>you give</td>
<td>you gave</td>
<td>you will give</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>he</td>
<td>he</td>
<td>he</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>she gives</td>
<td>she gave</td>
<td>she will give</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>it</td>
<td>it</td>
<td>it</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>we give</td>
<td>we gave</td>
<td>we will give</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>you give</td>
<td>you gave</td>
<td>you will give</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>they give</td>
<td>they gave</td>
<td>they will give</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

SENTENCE PATTERNS

I give you an hour to do this.
You give me an hour to do this.
He gives you an hour to do this.

I gave you an hour to do this.
You gave me an hour to do this.
She gave me an hour to do this.

We gave you an hour to do this.
They gave you an hour to do this.

I will give you an hour to do this.
You will give me an hour to do this.
He will give you an hour to do this.
MINI-DIALOGUES

Directions: The asterisk indicates a response from another person. This exercise can be done as a group exercise or in units of two persons each. Appropriate names may be used instead of the ones given. Use open and closed body language cues; use warm and cold body language cues.

1. How did you hear about this position?
   *Mark Edwards told me you had an opening.
   What do you know about our company?
   *Your company has a good reputation for service and quality.

2. What about this job interests you?
   *It offers me a chance to use my skills.
   What skills do you have for this job?
   *I have had two years experience working as a mechanic for Yamaha.

3. Why did you leave your last job?
   *I wanted more of an opportunity to use my skills.
   Do you have any questions you would like to ask.
   *Yes. Do you have a training program here?

4. What is the pay?
   *The pay starts at minimum.
   When will I know whether I have the job?
   *We will let you know by Wednesday.
"VIDEO-AID ESL"

INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATIONS ON THE JOB

by

Sheila Crofut-Roth

Characters: Narrator
Performer 1 - Craig Pajne Performer 2 - Lisa Burns
Performer 3 - Mike Gwynn

CLOSE UP OF OPEN EYES VOICE OVER

NARRATOR: The eyes speak. I see you, say the eyes.

CLOSE UP OF EYES SHUTTING
I do not see you, say the eyes.

CLOSE UP OF THE MOUTH
The mouth speaks. It says,

PERFORMER: You surprise me.

PAN TO FURROWED BROW

PAN TO THE EYES
PAN TO THE NOSE, JAW AREA
CUT TO THE WHOLE FACE AS THE PERFORMER SAYS

PERFORMER: You surprise me.

NARRATOR: The face says,

PERFORMER: I am afraid of you.

PAN TO NOSE, JAW
PAN TO EYES AREA
PAN TO BROW/FOREHEAD

NARRATOR: You make me happy.

HOLD ON BROW/FOREHEAD
PAN TO EYES
PAN TO NOSE, JAW AREA
CUT TO WHOLE FACE

PERFORMER: You make me happy
NARRATOR: You make me angry.

THE PERFORMER'S FACE CHANGES TO ANGER, AND THE CAMERA PANS TO NOSE, JAW EYES FOREHEAD

NARRATOR: You disgust me.

THE PERFORMER'S FACE CHANGES TO DISGUST, AND THE CAMERA QUICKLY PANS FROM FOREHEAD TO EYES TO NOSE, TO JAW, TO FACE

NARRATOR: You make me sad.

THE PERFORMER'S FACE CHANGES TO SADNESS, AND THE CAMERA PANS FROM THE FACE BACK UP AGAIN TO THE NOSE, JAW AREA TO THE EYES, TO THE FOREHEAD, AND BACK TO THE FACE FOR A REPEAT OF THESE EMOTIONS.

CLOSE UP OF FACE.

NARRATOR: I see you.

I do not see you.

You surprise me.

I am afraid of you.

You make me happy.

You disgust me.

You make me sad.

The body speaks.

Alone.

THE CAMERA CUTS TO A LONG SHOT OF A PERSON IN A CHAIR.

Sad

ANOTHER PERFORMER ENTERS.

Happy.

LONG SHOT OF THE TWO PERFORMERS DOING THE MIRROR EXERCISE.

This is an acting exercise. It is used to help performers share. It helps performers learn to communicate without words. One performer is the leader now. Soon the other performer will become the leader. They share a nonverbal conversation. They reflect each other's faces. They reflect each other's bodies. They speak warmly.

THE PERFORMERS ENACT THE WARM FEELING STATES DESCRIBED BY THE NARRATOR. They look into each other's eyes. They touch hands. They move toward each other. They smile frequently. They stand directly facing each other. They agree with each other. They are friends. They speak coldly. (THE PERFORMERS ENACT COLD BEHAVIORS.) One sneers at the other. One yawns. One frowns. One moves away. Looks at the ceiling. Picks his teeth. Shakes his head negatively. Cleans his fingernails. Looks away. Cracks his fingers. One looks around the room. They are enemies. Now, let's try another acting exercise. Guess which one of the performers is the boss?

LONG SHOT AS THE PERFORMERS SET CHAIRS. THE PERFORMERS ENACT AN IMPROVISATION WITHOUT SOUND ON THE SUBJECT OF TOO MANY LONG LUNCH HOURS FOR AN EMPLOYEE. WHEN THEY ARE FINISHED, THEY TURN TO THE CAMERA AND SMILE.
Which one of you is the boss?
Are you the boss?

PERFORMER 1 SHAKES HEAD NO.

PERFORMER 3 SHAKES HEAD YES, SMILES.

I knew you were the boss. Your head was up more. Your legs and hands were more relaxed. You took more space. You spoke more.
Your gestures were more forceful. What were you saying?

THE PERFORMERS THE IMPROVISATION WITH SOUND

CLOSE UP OF MALE PERFORMER AS THE NARRATOR ASKS A QUESTION.

Craig, do you need a job?

PERFORMER 1: (Smiles, nods head yes)

NARRATOR Let's do another exercise. Let's pretend this is an office.

LONG SHOT AS THE TWO MALES MOVE A DESK, SET CHAIRS FOR A MOCK INTERVIEW.

Let's pretend you are going in for a job interview.

CAMERA FOCUS ON PERFORMER 1

You haven't worked for a month. The rent needs to be paid. You are hungry. You need this job. This is the office of the person who could give you a job. You have made an appointment.

The boss is ready to see you.

PULL BACK TO REVEAL A WOMAN BOSS AT THE DESK.

MEDIUM SHOT AS SHE RISES, COMES FROM BEHIND THE DESK TO SHAKE HANDS, RETURNS TO THE DESK TO INTERVIEW NONVERBALLY. SHE DISPLAYS CLOSED, COLD BEHAVIOR.

BOSS (PERFORMER 2): How did you hear about this position?

APPLICANT (PERF.1): Mark Edwards told me you had an opening.

BOSS: What do you know about our company?

APPLICANT: Your company has a good reputation for service and quality.

BOSS: What about this job interests you?
APPLICANT: It offers me a chance to use my skills.

BOSS: What skills do you have for this job?

APPLICANT: I have had two years experience working as a mechanic for Yamaha. I worked for a year before that with diesel trucks.

NARRATOR: Let's stop. Did you notice that the interviewer is doing the cold behavior. They are mirroring each other, Let's see what will happen if the applicant does warm behaviors. Can he get the boss to relax a little more?

BOSS: Why did you leave your last job?

APPLICANT: I wanted more of an opportunity to use my skills.

BOSS: Do you have any questions you would like to ask me?

APPLICANT: Yes, thank you. Do you have a training program here?

BOSS: Yes, we do. We have an orientation period. We give you a chance to improve your skills on the job.

APPLICANT: What is the pay?

BOSS: The pay starts at minimum. You have a pay increase every six months.

APPLICANT: When will I know whether I have the job?

BOSS: We will let you know by Wednesday.

APPLICANT: Thank you for your time. I have enjoyed interviewing with you. (RISES, SHAKES HANDS WITH EMPLOYER) I hope there is a place in your company for me.

BOSS: Thank you. We will be done with our interviewing by Wednesday. You will know whether you have the job then. Goodbye.

NARRATOR: Let's do one more acting exercise.

THE PERFORMERS CHANGE THE FURNITURE AROUND WHILE THE NARRATOR SPEAKS.

Craig, you have the job.

CUT TO APPLICANT WHO STOPS WORK AND SMILES.

This is your first day at work. Your boss shows you your area.
You share it with another employee. He asks you to eat lunch with him since it is your first day.

PERFORMER 1 and 3 SIT AT THE TABLE. PERFORMER 3 ASKS QUESTIONS, PERFORMER 1 DOES HEAD AVERTING, ONE WORD ANSWERS.

NARRATOR: Hey. (THE PERFORMERS LOOK UP) Remember the warm and cold behaviors we practiced earlier?

THEY NOD YES, SMILE.

Let's use those. Share the expressions and body postures of the other person as much as you can. Start again. Start again, please.

THE PERFORMER BEGINS THE IMPROVISATION AGAIN. AS THEY BEGIN TO SHARE MORE AND BECOME MORE COMFORTABLE, THE NARRATOR BEGINS TO SPEAK. THE NARRATION CONTINUES TO THE END OF THE IMPROVISATION AND THE FILM.

The eyes speak. I see you say the eyes. I do not see you say the eyes. The mouth speaks. It says, surprise me, I am afraid you, disgust me, you make me sad, you make me happy. The body speaks. It says, surprise me, I am afraid of you, you disgust me, you make me sad, you make me happy.

Sharing, we speak together.

Our bodies and our voices speak together.

CUT TO BLACK.

75
INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATIONS ON THE JOB

VIDEO QUESTIONS

1. What is a warm feeling behavior? Demonstrate.
2. What is a cold feeling behavior? Demonstrate.
3. What is the expression for surprise? Demonstrate.
4. What is the expression for fear? Demonstrate.
5. What is the expression for disgust? Demonstrate.
6. What is the expression for anger? Demonstrate.
7. What is the expression for sadness? Demonstrate.
8. What is the expression for happiness? Demonstrate.
9. What is an open behavior? Demonstrate.
10. What is a cold behavior? Demonstrate.
FACIAL AFFECTS

Adapted from Ekman, Frisen, and Tomkins, as cited on pp. 271-278 on Mark Knapp’s, Nonverbal Communication in Human Interaction

SURPRISE
- The brows are raised, so that they are curved and high.
- The skin below the brow is stretched.
- Horizontal wrinkles go across the forehead.
- The eyelids are opened; the upper lid is raised and the lower lid is drawn down; the white of the eye - the sclera - shows above the iris, and often below as well.
- The jaw drops open so that the lips and teeth are parted, but there is no tension or stretching of the mouth.

FEAR
- The brows are raised and drawn together.
- The wrinkles in the forehead are in the center, not across the entire forehead.
- The upper eyelid is raised, exposing sclera, and the lower eyelid is tensed and drawn up.
- The mouth is open and the lips are either tensed slightly and drawn back slightly or stretched and drawn back.

DISGUST
- The upper lip is raised.
- The lower lip is also raised and pushed up to the upper lip, or is lowered and slightly protruding.
- The nose is wrinkled.
- The cheeks are raised.
- Lines show below the lower lid, and the lid is pushed up but not tense.
- The brow is lowered, lowering the upper lid.

ANGER
- The brows are lowered and drawn together.
Vertical lines appear between the brows.

The lower lid is tensed and may or may not be raised.

The upper lid is tense and may or may not be lowered by the action of the brow.

The eyes have a hard stare and may have a bulging appearance.

The lips are in either of two basic positions: pressed firmly together, with the corners straight or down; or open, tensed in a squarish shape as if shouting.

The nostrils may be dilated, but this is not essential to the anger facial expression and may also occur in sadness.

There is ambiguity unless anger is registered in all three facial areas.

HAPPINESS

- Corners of lips are drawn back and up.
- The mouth may or may not be parted, with teeth exposed or not.
- A wrinkle (the naso-labial fold) runs down from the nose to the outer edge beyond the lip corners.
- The cheeks are raised.
- The lower eyelid shows wrinkles below it, and may be raised but not tense.
- Crow's-feet wrinkles go outward from the outer corners of the eyes.

SADNESS

- The inner corners of the eyebrows are drawn up.
- The skin below the eyebrow is triangulated, with the inner corner up.
- The upper eye inner corner is raised.
- The corners of the lips are down or the lip is trembling.
IMPROVISATION SUGGESTION SHEET

Emotions

Provide a partner for each of these improvisations.

SURPRISE
You come into a room and see someone you do not expect to see.

AFRAID
You are in a dark room when you hear a footstep behind you.

HAPPY
You see someone you love whom you have not seen in a long time.

DISGUST
Someone does something very rude and low class.

SAD
Someone you love is ill.

WARM BEHAVIORS, COLD BEHAVIORS

Use warm behaviors as the following dialogue is acted.

Hello, John. How are you?

I am fine.

I haven't seen you in a long time.

I know. It is good to see you again.

Use cold behaviors with the same dialogue.

Invent other situations, other dialogues.

Play the job interview with warm, mirrored behaviors.

Play the job interview with cold, mirrored behaviors.

OPEN, CLOSED BEHAVIORS

Use the same improvisations given above for open, closed behaviors.

APPROPRIATE DISTANCE

Use a tape measure and measure the distance between two people as they move through the various forms of taking up social space. Indicate afterward the preferred distance for this culture.

Spaces:
- Intimate (love, comfort)  1" - 1 1/2"
- Personal (used by family members)  1 1/2' - 2 1/2'
- Acquaintance  2 1/2' - 4'  Approximations
- Impersonal (business meetings)  4' - 7'
- Civil inattention (passing people do not know)  12' - 15'

Discuss reasons for the difference in comfortable space. Improvise situations when the usual space for a particular context is lengthened or shortened.
BEHAVIORS WHICH MAY BE MISINTERPRETED

Lunch lines may be a problem for some ESL students. They may not be able to read directions. They may not know the American-English interpretation of the line. "Crowding in" is acceptable to some cultures and is a result of wartime conditions. It may cause confrontations among other students. Explain the difference.

In some cultures ma'as, hold hands or walk arm in arm which is a sign of friendship. This behavior is not acceptable in the American-English culture. It is interpreted as homosexual behavior, not as friendship.

The "come here" gesture is a vulgar one to the Indochinese as is the "O.K." gesture. Demonstrate and explain the differences; fingers and palm down with the fingers moving toward you is not a vulgar gesture for persons of Indochinese culture.

Giggling or smiling in inappropriate situations may mean embarrassment or misunderstanding. Looking away while talking is a sign of respect which is interpreted as disrespect in this culture.

A book, a newspaper, or a piece of clothing placed over a chair, or in front of a chair, or on a lunch table indicates that someone else has chosen that place to sit in. To remove the objects is an insult and an invasion of territory.
"VIDEO-AID ESL," PACKET 3

INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATIONS ON THE JOB

BIBLIOGRAPHY
Nonverbal Communications On The Job

A very useful and provocative book.

Something of a picture book but very useful for pictorial examples of all kinds of nonverbal communication.

The pictures are dated and distracting. The concepts are clear and in some instances controversial.

The arrangement of objects, the perception of being perceived were sections that were of particular interest. A gentle sense of humor pervades the book.