REFUGEES IN THE UNITED STATES

A BIBLIOGRAPHY OF ERIC DOCUMENTS

Compiled by

Carol Ascher, Ph.D.

and

Darryl Alladice

This publication was prepared with funding from the National Institute of Education under contract number 400-77-0071.
This bibliography contains 303 citations drawn from the ERIC data base. The items have been organized according to a number of issues central to understanding the resettlement and adaptation of Indochinese, Cuban, Haitian, and Soviet refugees. The categories include: refugee background, orientation materials, refugee adjustment/host acceptance, health and associated services, school curriculum (excluding language instruction) and other school information, government documents which include policy statements and statistical reports, testing, and bibliographic resources. Because of the newness of the field of refugee resettlement, periodical articles of a scholarly nature are still rare. The included documents were generally produced as conference papers, research and project reports, or materials directed to a specific interest group. Thus they are not widely available, except through the ERIC system.

Document Availability

Most ERIC documents can be read at any location that houses an ERIC microfiche collection and can be purchased in microfiche or paper copy from ERIC Document Reproduction Service (EDRS), P.O. Box 190, Arlington, VA 22210 unless otherwise specified.
