This guide is intended to assist Latin teachers and English teachers with background in Latin to expand the English vocabulary and reading skills of students through the study of Latin roots, prefixes, and suffixes. It is also intended to familiarize students with aspects of classical culture and its impact; to introduce orally some basic Latin; and to stimulate interest in the study of language and the humanities. An introduction provides general notes on teaching Latin in the Philadelphia School District and notes on the use of the guide. This section includes notes on scheduling, staffing, articulation with other materials, the organization of each lesson, general teaching hints, and an overview of the material to be taught in this unit. The main part of the guide presents 13 lesson profiles and a unit review lesson. Each profile contains objectives, instructions, materials to be used, and the vocabulary and other necessary information. A selected annotated bibliography and summary of the classical pronunciation of Latin are appended. (AMH)
LEGAL LATIN
Teacher's Guide 1983

PERMISSION TO REPRODUCE THIS MATERIAL HAS BEEN GRANTED BY Rudolph Masciantonio

TO THE EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES INFORMATION CENTER (ERIC)

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF EDUCATION EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES INFORMATION CENTER (ERIC)

THE SCHOOL DISTRICT OF PHILADELPHIA
Office of Curriculum and Instruction
Division of Foreign Language Education
BOARD OF EDUCATION

THE SCHOOL DISTRICT OF PHILADELPHIA

Arthur W. Thomas, President

Mrs. Edward Oberholtzer, Vice President

Augustus Baxter
Samuel P. Katz
Herman Mattlemann
Helen Oakes
Joseph H. Previty
Dr. Ernestine Rouse
Samuel H. Rubin

Superintendent of Schools
Dr. Constance E. Clayton

Deputy Superintendent
Charles A. Highsmith

Associate Superintendent for Curriculum and Instruction
Dr. Bernard G. Kelner

Director of Foreign Language Education
Dr. Eleanor L. Sandstrom

Ass't. Director of Foreign Language Education
Dr. Rudolph Masciantonio
LEGAL LATIN

Teacher's Guide

by

Mr. Rudolph Masciantonio et al.

Tentative Edition

Division of Foreign Language Education
Office of Curriculum and Instruction
The School District of Philadelphia
Copyright, 1983
The School District of Philadelphia
VIRO ROMANO LAT Distinguisse ROBERTO M. SEBASTIAN HOC LIBELLUM PLENE CORPUS.

DANUS DONANUS ATQUE DEDICANUS

Qui mente factis pectore Latinitatem coluit scholis in nostris publicis hymnis Robertum pangimus!

Ut stilla rorans gramina mentes tenelles adjuvit divisque sparsit floribus antiquitatis semitam.

In barbaros tam acriter pugnavit instans undique ut linguas discant liberi et ament fontes temporum.

Causidicus tam eminans amicus noster sapiens magister patientiae tu es, Roberto, in cordibus.

Et nunc librum de legibus feliciter cum gratiais nos dedicamus, optime, tributum plenis animis.

(sectore Rudolpho Masciantonio)

O v áp eπαύετο ἐκκατὰ ἡμίν τῶν περὶ σὲ διηνούμενος, to megaloprepēs tēs psuchēs, tō φρονήματος τὸ ἀγαθότητα, tōn trōpōn tēt ēmerōtētē, ἐμπειρίαν πραγμάτων, συνειδή γνώμην ἐκμετάτω ἑβίον φανερότητι κεκραμένην, λόγοι δυναμίν, τέλλα ...

"For people do not cease recounting to us your every characteristic— your magnanimity, the loftiness of your spirit, the gentleness of your manners, experience in affairs, sagacity of judgment, dignity of life mingled with affability, ability as a lawyer, and the many other qualities..."

(St. Basil, Epistulae 63, written in 371 A.D. to the Roman Governor of Neocaesaria in Asia Minor)
Table of Contents

Dedication .................................................. iii
Acknowledgements ........................................ v
Foreword ...................................................... vi
Introduction ................................................... vii

I. General Notes on Teaching Latin in the Philadelphia School District .................. vii

II. Utilization of This Guide .................................. viii
   A. Scheduling .............................................. viii
   B. Staffing ................................................. viii
   C. Articulation with Other Materials ........................ ix
   D. Organization of Each Lesson ............................ ix
   E. General Hints to the Teacher ............................ x
   F. An Overview of the Material To Be Taught in This Unit ........................ xii

Lesson Profiles .............................................. 1
Unit Review ................................................... 73
Appendix I - Selected Annotated Bibliography ............................ 83
Appendix II - The Classical Pronunciation of Latin .......................... 85
Evaluation Form for Curriculum Publications (Form FL 75) ........... 87
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This Teacher's Guide was written by:

Dr. Rudolph Masciantonio, Ass't. Director of Foreign Language Education, The School District of Philadelphia

Assisting and advising him in the development of this Guide were the following members of the Latin and Greek Curriculum Committee of the School District:

Harry J. Farnon, Teacher of Latin, Martin Luther King High School, District 6
William J. Farnon, Teacher of Latin, Pitler Academics Plus School, District 6
Helen Lamont, Itinerant Teacher of Latin, Luckey School, District 4
Robert F. MacNeal, Foreign Language Department Head, Germantown High School, District 6
Grace McFarland, Itinerant Teacher of Latin, Lingelbach School, District 6
Richard Miller, Teacher of English, Bok Area Vocational Technical High School, District 2
Charles L. Kyers, Itinerant Teacher of Latin, Howe School, District 7
Roland Nemeth, Teacher of Latin and Greek, Middle Years Alternative (MYA) for the Humanities, District 1

Dr. Eleanor L. Sandstrom, Director of Foreign Language Education, The School District of Philadelphia
William O. White, Itinerant Teacher of Latin, Bache School, District 2
Georgine Wickel, Teacher of Latin, The Philadelphia High School for Girls, District 6

Special appreciation is due to Mrs. Marlene Masciantonio Easley who typed most of this Guide gratis from a very difficult manuscript. Gratitude is also due to classes and teachers throughout the School District who assisted in the field testing of various drafts of this Guide and to Pierre St. Germaine, Illustrator for the Division of Foreign Language Education, who designed the cover.

We are pleased to acknowledge the pro bono assistance of the following attorneys in the preparation of these materials:

Robert M. Sebastian, Esq., Emeritus Member of the Philadelphia Board of Education
Dr. Francis X. Kelly, Esq., Itinerant Teacher of Latin, Jackson School, District 2
Andrew Coates, Esq., Emeritus Teacher of Latin, The School District of Philadelphia

Our gratitude to Mr. Sebastian goes far beyond that due for his valuable suggestions and insights in the development of this Guide. His interest in and strong support for the study of Latin and other foreign languages in the school system over the years are well known. As the dedicatory page and poem indicate, we are proud and happy to publish this Guide in his honor.

The National Endowment for the Humanities through its two grants to the School District for the Language Arts through Latin project has greatly expanded the teaching of Latin in the School District and provided a catalyst for the development of this Guide. We are very grateful to the Endowment for its support.
FOREWORD

This guide is intended to assist Latin teachers and English teachers with background in Latin to expand the English vocabulary and reading skills of pupils through the study of Latin roots, prefixes and suffixes.

Recent research in various parts of the country has shown the significantly positive effect of the study of Latin on the vocabulary and reading skills of pupils of all backgrounds and abilities. Over 65% of the words in English come from Latin either directly or indirectly, including most literary and scientific terminology. Latin roots, prefixes, and suffixes provide the key to unlocking the meanings of these words. In addition, the inflected nature of the Latin language affords pupils the opportunity to acquire a linguistic perspective that is helpful in learning English.

This guide also is designed to familiarize pupils with aspects of classical culture and its impact; to introduce orally some basic Latin; and to stimulate interest in the study of languages and the Humanities in general.

DR. ELEANOR L. SANDSTROM
Director
Foreign Language Education

DR. RUDOLPH MASCIANTONIO
Assistant Director
Foreign Language Education

DR. BERNARD G. KELNER
Associate Superintendent for Curriculum & Instruction
INTRODUCTION

I. GENERAL NOTES ON TEACHING LATIN IN THE PHILADELPHIA SCHOOL DISTRICT

The major goals for the teaching of Latin in The School District of Philadelphia have been stated as follows by the Latin and Greek Curriculum Committee and the K-12 Foreign Language Curriculum Committee:

1. To teach pupils to understand, speak, read, and write Latin within an appropriate cultural context.

2. To widen the cultural horizons of the pupils, especially through comparing the classical past with our own world and through showing the relationship between our world and that of the ancient people.

3. To extend the verbal functioning of the pupils in English, especially through vocabulary building based on Latin roots and affixes.

4. To foster interest in the study of classical and modern languages and the humanities in general.

Other goals are:

1. To develop an appreciation of the relationship between Latin and other foreign languages, especially the Romance languages.

2. To improve the self-concept of pupils by giving them the opportunity to study a subject area with which they might not otherwise identify.

To aid in the accomplishment of these goals certain basic principles have been postulated regarding Latin instruction. These principles, together with the goals listed above, constitute School District policy on Latin instruction.

1. Latin programs must be geared to the needs of all children -- not just the academically talented or the college bound.

2. Latin teaching must be multisensory, lively, dramatic, enthusiastic, and creative. Pupils must be fully involved in the learning process.

3. Aural-oral work must be emphasized since this tends to heighten student interest and leads ultimately to a more natural and facile reading ability. Listening and speaking should always precede reading and writing.

4. Emphasis should be given to usage and to practice in the structure of the language as opposed to minute grammatical analysis.

5. Extending the English verbal functioning of pupils, especially by relating English words to their Latin roots and affixes, should form a major part of the Latin program. Attention should be given to contrastive study of the structures of Latin and English.
6. Comparing and contrasting classical culture with our own and tracing the influence of the past on the present should be emphasized.

II UTILIZATION OF THE GUIDE

A. Scheduling

This guide may form part of a minicourse or "course-within-a-course" on Word Power through Latin. The scheduling patterns that may be used for such a minicourse or "course-within-a-course" are very flexible; some workable possibilities include:

- one class period (circa 45 minutes) per week for an entire school year devoted to Word Power through Latin
- two class periods per week for a semester devoted to Word Power through Latin
- five class periods per week for one or two months devoted to Word Power through Latin
- a portion of almost every class period (e.g. 20 minutes) for an entire school year devoted to Word Power through Latin

The guide may also form part of the basis of a completely separate course (either a major or minor) called Word Power through Latin.

The guide may be used with pupils in grades 7-12 who have not necessarily studied any Latin previously. It may be used with pupils of all backgrounds and abilities.

B. Staffing

The guide may be used by a Latin teacher as part of a Latin course.

An English (or Reading or Language Arts) teacher with some background in Latin could also utilize the guide as part of the English course. Conceivably teachers in other fields may find the guide useful. Secondary school English teachers who are participants in the Language Arts through Latin project receive supportive help from the Division of Foreign Language Education. Secondary School English teachers who are not already participants in the Language Arts through Latin project and who wish to use this guide with their classes are urged to join the project. For details contact the Division of Foreign Language Education.
This guide is part of a group of curriculum materials designed to build the English vocabulary and reading skills of secondary school pupils. The guide may be used before or after the other components of the group or completely independently of them. To date the following materials have appeared:

Word Power through Latin: A Curriculum Resource

The Numbers in Latin

Star Trek with Latin

Greco-Roman Sports and Games

Latin the Language of Health Sciences

The teacher who uses these materials should be aware of those parts of the elementary school Latin curriculum materials which deal with English vocabulary development. These include:

Look for the Latin Word: A Gamebook on English Derivatives and Cognates to Accompany How the Romans Lived and Spoke

Latin the Key to English Vocabulary: A Gamebook on English Derivatives and Cognates to Accompany Voces de Olympo

With adaptations it is possible to use the above listed elementary school materials with secondary school pupils just as parts of the secondary school Word Power through Latin materials may be adopted to elementary school pupils.

D. Organization of Each Lesson

Each lesson is conceived of as approximately 45 minutes of instruction for an average secondary school class. Naturally some classes will require more time and some less. In general thorough mastery of what is covered is preferable to simply "covering" material without mastery.

Each lesson specifies what can be taught (objectives) and how to teach it (activities). In a way the teacher is provided with a step-by-step recipe for accomplishing the objectives of each lesson. The teacher at first may wish to follow the "recipe" very closely. Later, of course, adaptations in the activities (and in the objectives of the lessons) may be made. All adaptations, however, should be made within the framework of the general notes on teaching Latin in the Philadelphia School District given... at the beginning of this introduction.

Latin utterances (quotations, dialogues, phrases) appearing in the guide are to be introduced orally. Teachers should let the pupils hear these utterances and then have them repeat them chorally and individually. Reading and writing these utterances should come only as a third and fourth step after understanding and speaking. In other words a strict four skills or audio-lingual or aural-oral-lecto-graphical approach is envisioned.

The same audio-lingual approach is to be used for the teaching of English derivatives and cognates. Hearing and speaking should always precede reading and writing.

Wordgames which are included in the guide in general should be reproduced so that each pupil receives a copy. Due to shortages in paper and breakdowns in duplicating machines in the schools, teachers may prefer to treat the copies of the wordgames as non-consumable items.

The guide ends with a unit review which enables the teacher to gauge how well pupils have mastered the content.

E. General Hints to the Teacher

The following list of helpful hints for using this guide was drawn up as a result of field testing:

1. Be sure to adhere to the audio-lingual approach. Presenting the four language skills (listening comprehension, speaking, reading, and writing) distinctly and in proper order will provide required re-entry for pupils. It is also a more natural way to acquire knowledge of a first or second language.

2. Be sure to appeal to as many of the senses of pupils as possible. A talking teacher is not enough --- no matter how engaging or interesting. Use visual cues (where appropriate), charts, the chalkboard, and other realia. Get the pupils physically involved in the learning process as much as possible.

3. Be enthusiastic about your subject! Your enthusiasm will be contagious!

4. Get the pupils involved in enrichment projects of various kinds. Pupils can be asked to make posters illustrating etymological relationships or illustrating quotations and proverbs introduced in the course of the unit or illustrating cultural concepts.

5. Give emphasis to the usage of new English derivatives and cognates. Get the pupils using the derivatives and cognates in sentences.
6. Relate what is taught in the Word Power through Latin unit to the rest of the curriculum whenever appropriate. Invite pupils to use etymological principles, for example, in learning new vocabulary in any subject. Encourage them to become aware of the impact of the classical heritage in such areas as art, literature, music, history, and science.

Be sure to intersperse choral and individual response in your teaching. Pupils need the practice and security that choral response and repetition provide. They also need to be heard individually so that the teacher can assess their efforts and provide individualized help.

8. Be sure that material placed on and copied from the chalkboard is accurate. Teachers should supervise carefully the transcription of material by pupils.

F. An Overview of the Material To Be Taught in This Unit

1. Latin maxims and phrases used in modern law.

2. English derivatives and cognates connected with the Latin utterances.

3. Information on the Greco-Roman legal heritage.

4. Some significant and interesting passages on law from Greek and Latin literature.
LESSON PROFILES FOR

LEGAL LATIN
LESSON I

Objectives

1. To make pupils aware of the influence of Latin and the Romans in the area of law.

2. To introduce the following Latin legal maxims:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Latin Maxims</th>
<th>English Translation</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Caeveat emptor</td>
<td>Let the buyer beware.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Caeveat vendor</td>
<td>Let the seller beware.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>De minimis non curat lex.</td>
<td>The law does not care for trifles.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lex dubia non obligat.</td>
<td>A doubtful law does not oblige.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Res ipsa loquitur.</td>
<td>The thing speaks for itself.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Activities

1. Show the class a map of the world. Mention that one of the great inheritances of the modern world from the ancient Romans lies in the field of law. Roman law is used today in vast areas of the world:

- virtually all of Africa, except for English-speaking countries
- all of Europe, except England and the Soviet Union
- all of South America
- Mexico, Central America, Quebec, and Louisiana
- most of Asia, except for the Soviet Union

Point to those areas as you mention them. Roman law is based on great codifications or summaries. One of the most famous of these is the Corpus Juris Civilis ("The Body of Civil Law") or Codex Justinianii ("Code of Justinian"), compiled under the direction of the Eastern Roman Emperor Justinian in the 6th Century A.D. Naturally, the civil law of the Romans has been modified and adapted to new conditions over the centuries. But the basic idea remains of summarizing all laws in one book or codification.

The other great system of law in use in the modern world is Common Law. This system is used in England, the United States, and many British Commonwealth countries. Rather than being based on codification, it is based on precedents, i.e., what previous courts have decided. Point to the countries using Common law (United Kingdom, the U.S., Canada, Australia, anglophone Africa). The common Law has been influenced by the Roman Law.

You might also point out that Roman Law is loftier and more noble in its conception than Common Law. In actual practice though, Common Law tends to provide more real fairness and justice. In other words, Roman Law may "look good" on paper, but may not actually be put into practice. In some dictatorial regimes, for instance, elemental legal rights may in practice be ignored (e.g., habeas corpus exists only in some countries, but is not actually used in practice.)

*Since the maxim Lex dubia non obligat is more common in ethics than in law, the teacher may wish to omit it.
Also, Roman Law allows more excuses than Common Law. Common Law insists on the letter of the law. Roman Law shows more epikeia (Greek term for "mercy, equity"), at least on paper.

Put the following chart on the chalkboard and ask the pupils to explain it.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Basis</th>
<th>RO[AN LAW</th>
<th>COMMON LAW</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Codification</td>
<td>Most parts of the world, except English-speaking countries</td>
<td>Most English-speaking countries</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Precedent</td>
<td>Tends to be noble, lofty, and beautiful in concept</td>
<td>Tends to be pedestrian, commonplace, and prosaic by comparison to Roman Law</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Characteristics</td>
<td>Allows excuses more readily than Common Law. Shows epikeia</td>
<td>Insists on the letter of the law more than Roman Law</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Application</td>
<td>In many situations the lofty principles are ignored, (e.g., in left-wing and right-wing dictatorships)</td>
<td>Real justice and fairness tends to take place in Common Law countries</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2. Tell the pupils that lawyers, judges and legal scholars use a good deal of Latin terminology. Many concepts in Common Law as well as Roman Law have Latin names or names derived from Latin. Also, many well known legal principles are expressed as Latin maxims. Explain that they will learn some of these.

3. Explain that the first two maxims are used frequently in the consumers' movement. Say the maxims Caveat emptor and Caveat vendor. Have the pupils repeat. Give the English translation of each and ask pupils to give examples of how these maxims are used. Explain that the consumers' movement seeks to replace Caveat emptor (which is the maxim currently in force) with Caveat vendor. Caveat emptor puts the burden on the buyer or customer if there should be something wrong with a product or service.

4. Tell the pupils that there is a legal maxim which means that the law is not concerned with trifles. The maxim is De minimis non curat lex. Say the maxim several times. Have the pupils repeat chorally and individually. Ask for some examples of how they think the maxim might apply. (One example would be that a law suit for $0.01 against someone would probably be thrown out of court on the grounds that De minimis non curat lex). You might point out that some humorous jingles have been coined involving this maxim. An example follows:

   There was a small puppy named Rex.
   A cat tried to give him a hex.
   So Rex went to court,
   But the Judge did retort:
   De minimis non curat lex!

5. Tell the pupils that another interesting legal maxim indicates that a doubtful law does not oblige. The maxim is Lex dubia non obligat. Say the maxim several times. Have the pupils repeat chorally and individually. Ask for some examples of how they think the maxim might apply. (One example would be that if there is some doubt about whether parking is permitted in a particular spot, one should not receive a ticket for parking there). You might mention that in Common Law, the presumption is that everyone knows the law. In ethics (where the maxim is also applied) a distinction is made between a dubium juris ("a doubt of law") and a dubium facti ("a doubt of fact").

6. Tell the pupils that a legal maxim meaning "The matter (or thing) speaks for itself" is Res ipsa loquitur. Say the maxim several times and have the pupils repeat chorally and individually. This maxim is fairly famous and is used outside the law as well as in law. It is used in actions for injury by negligence, where no proof of negligence is needed beyond the accident itself. Ask for some examples. (one example would be that in getting hit by a falling brick, one would not have to prove negligence. The accident itself indicates negligence. The matter speaks for itself.)

7. Ask pupils whether they agree with the maxims Lex non curat de minimis, Lex dubia non obligat, Caveat emptor, Caveat vendor, Res ipsa loquitur.

8. In connection with Res ipsa loquitur, the teacher may point out that the word res occurs in the following legal Latin phrases:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>res adjudicáta</th>
<th>the adjudicated or decided matter</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>res gestae</td>
<td>the matter done, the subject matter</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Have the pupils repeat phrases. Point out that a lawyer might refer to the res gestae of a case. He might say that something is not pertinent to the res gestae. He could also point out that res adjudicáta is an issue—that has already been decided by a competent court. It cannot be the subject of further litigation. That tenants must pay their rent is, in effect, a res adjudicáta, and cannot be brought before a court as an issue.

LESSON 2

Objectives

To introduce pupils to the following Latin legal maxims:

| Ignorántia legis néminem excúsat. | Ignorance of the law excuses no one |
| Ad impossíbilíria nemo tenéatur. | No one is bound to do the impossible |
| In generálibus versátor error. | Error thrives in general terms |
| Excéptio probat régulam. | The exception proves the rule |
| Cujus est solum ejus est usque ad coelum. | The person who owns the land owns it all the way up to the sky |

Activities

1. Tell the pupils the following story in dramatic terms: Mr. DeProfundis, a teacher in a nearby school, received a ticket for parking on the north side of Spruce Street. He appeared in traffic court and said he did not know that parking was forbidden on the north side. The Judge, however, found him guilty of the violation on the grounds that Ignorántia legis néminem excúsat. Have the pupils say the Latin maxim after you several times. Ask them to explain what they think it means in English.
Supply the English meaning, if necessary.

The Judge said that Mr. DeProfundis would have to pay up at once. However, Mr. DeProfundis had left his apartment without his wallet or checkbook. He could not pay his fine on the spot. The Judge said that he could leave without paying because Ad impossibilia nemo tenetur. Have the pupils say the Latin maxim after you several times. Ask them to explain what they think it means in English. Supply the English meaning, if necessary.

The Judge went on to say that the usual rule was for someone to pay immediately, but Excepción probat régulam. Follow the same procedure with this maxim as with the others.

2. Tell the pupils the following story in dramatic terms: Ms. Lexdubia decided that she was tired of paying high electric bills. She saw an advertisement for a windmill that could produce electricity free from wind power. She decided to have the windmill built in her backyard. Her neighbors objected. They did not want a windmill there. They claimed that the windmill would block their sun and air. In court, however, the Judge cited the principle that a person who owns the land owns it all the way up to the sky — Cujus est solum ejus est usque ad coelum. (Have the pupils echo the Latin several times). The Judge went on to say that the principle of Cujus est solum ejus est usque ad coelum was apt to become more and more important as people became concerned about air rights, the sun, etc.

The neighbors did not give up. They locked up the deed to Ms. Lexdubia's property. It did not describe as specifically as possible the dimensions of her property. The neighbors claimed that perhaps she did not own the yard. The Judge stated that the deed was not as exact as it should be and that In generálibus versátur error, "Error thrives in general terms." However, despite the general terms, Ms. Lexdubia was still the owner of the yard.

3. Have the pupils repeat and fill in orally as indicated.

Repetite omnes ("Everybody repeat"): Ignorántia legis néminem excusat Ignorántia legis néminem excusat.

Repete ("Repeat" addressed to one student): Ignorántia legis néminem excusat Ignorántia legis néminem excusat.

Finite sententiam ("Finish the sentence"): Ignorántia legis néminem ________ Ignorántia legis ________ Ignorántia ________

Fini sententiam ("Finish the sentence" addressed to one person): Ignorántia legis néminem Ignorántia legis ________ Ignorántia ________

Dicite sententiam, omnes ("Say the sentence, everyone"): ________

Dic sententiam ("Say the sentence"): ________
Follow a similar procedure with the other maxims. The English meaning of each maxim may be written on the chalkboard to help assure comprehension.

LESSON 3

Objectives

1. To introduce the reading and writing of the Latin maxims presented in previous lessons.

2. To introduce the English derivatives and cognates from recently-learned Latin lexical items: caveat, emporium, vendor, vendible, curator, sinecure, minimal, Captain Nemo, tenacious, tenable, regulator, irregularity, probation, probate.

Activities:

1. Have pupils echo each of the following legal maxims chorally and individually:

Caveat emptor
Caveat vendor
De minimis non curat lex.
Lex dubia non obligat.
Res ipsa loquitur.
Ignorantia legis neminem excusat.
Ad impossibilia nemo tenetur.
In generalibus versatur error.
Exeption probat regulam.
Cujus est solum ejus est usque ad coelum.
2. Give the maxims to the pupils on a dittoed sheet or put them on the chalkboard. Have the pupils read them aloud chorally and individually.

3. The pupils may be asked to illustrate the meaning of some or all of the maxims, either in a written composition or in oral discussion or through posters. The posters may feature pictures cut from magazines or illustrations drawn by the pupils. The Latin maxim should always be clearly and accurately printed on such posters.

4. Discuss the English derivatives and cognates, their etymologies, and their meanings, with the pupils. Elicit as much information as possible from the pupils. Have the pupils echo the derivatives and cognates chorally and individually:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ENGLISH WORD</th>
<th>LATIN ROOT</th>
<th>MEANING OF ENGLISH WORD</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>caveat</td>
<td>cáveat &quot;beware&quot;</td>
<td>warning</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>emporium</td>
<td>emptor &quot;buyer&quot;</td>
<td>place to buy things</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vendor</td>
<td>vendor &quot;seller&quot;</td>
<td>seller</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vendible</td>
<td>vendor &quot;seller&quot;</td>
<td>salable</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>curator</td>
<td>curat &quot;cares&quot;</td>
<td>director of a museum of similar institution</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>insecure</td>
<td>curat &quot;cares&quot; sine &quot;without&quot;</td>
<td>an office which requires no work, yet provides compensation</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>minimal</td>
<td>minimis &quot;small things&quot;</td>
<td>smallest in amount or degree</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>minimize</td>
<td>minimis &quot;small things&quot;</td>
<td>to reduce to the smallest possible amount or size</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>dubious</td>
<td>dubia &quot;doubtful&quot;</td>
<td>undecided, questionable</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>indubitable</td>
<td>dubia &quot;doubtful&quot;</td>
<td>too apparent to be doubted, unquestionable</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Captain Nemo</td>
<td>nemo &quot;no one&quot;</td>
<td>a fictional character in Jules Verne's writings</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>tenacious</td>
<td>tenetur &quot;is held&quot;</td>
<td>holding firmly, persistent; stubborn</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>tenable</td>
<td>tenetur &quot;is held&quot;</td>
<td>capable of being held or defended; logical</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>regulator</td>
<td>regulam &quot;rule&quot;</td>
<td>a device to control or govern</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>irregularity</td>
<td>régulam &quot;rule&quot;</td>
<td>something which is unusual or not according to the rule</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>probation</td>
<td>probat &quot;proves&quot;</td>
<td>a trial period in which a person's fitness is tested</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>probate</td>
<td>probat &quot;proves&quot;</td>
<td>legal establishment of the validity of a will</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
5. Ask the following questions:
   a. What would it mean to say that the teacher issued a caveat to the class?
   b. What goes on at an emporium?
   c. Is General Motors an automobile vendor?
   d. Is old junk vendible?
   e. What is the job of the curator of a museum?
   f. Is a teacher's job a sinecure?
   g. Do students who do minimal work receive good marks in school?
   h. Do fire extinguishers help to minimize the dangers of a fire?
   i. What is a dubious reputation?
   j. Is it indubitable that fire is hot?
   k. Is Captain Nemo a real historical figure?
   l. Are cats tenacious when they climb trees?
   m. Is sleeping during class a tenable practice?
   n. Do heaters have regulators?
   o. Would sleeping during class be considered an irregularity?
   p. Are criminals sometimes put on probation?
   q. What would a book called How to Avoid Probate be about?

6. You may want to explain that a testamentary caveat may be filed with the Registrar of Wills if one has a will written by a deceased person and suspects that someone will seek letters of administration claiming that there is no will. The testamentary caveat warns people that there is a will written by the deceased and that the deceased person's property cannot be administered as though no will existed.

LESSON 4

Objectives
To review derivatives and cognates presented in the previous lesson.

Activities
1. Have the pupils echo the derivatives and cognates chorally.

2. Ask the following questions in rapid-fire fashion:

   True or False:
   a. Wills normally are declared legally valid in a process known as probate. (T)
   b. Excellent students are frequently placed on probation by the principal. (F)
   c. The Internal Revenue Service is a regulator of the amount of income taxes paid. (T)
   d. Irregularity in attendance seriously hinders progress in school. (T)
   e. Misers keep a tenacious hold on their money. (T)
   f. Getting drunk is not a tenable solution to problems. (T)
g. The name of Jules Verne's science fiction character, Captain Nemo, is Latin for Captain "Nobody." (T)

h. The fact that the earth revolves around the sun is indubitable. (T)

i. Being called the most disruptive pupil in a school is a dubious distinction. (T)

j. Brushing your teeth after meals is a good way to minimize tooth decay. (T)

k. Insulating a house helps keep heating expenses minimal. (T)

l. Being a lawyer is a sinecure. (F)

m. A background in history and classical languages is necessary to be the curator of the University Museum. (T)

n. Sometimes old furniture may be vendible. (T)

o. People who sell goods on the sidewalks are called street vendors. (T)

p. The Gallery shopping center is a vast emporium in Center City Philadelphia. (T)

q. A judge may issue a caveat to people about their behavior in the courtroom. (T)

3. Distribute the following Wordgame to the pupils. Have them work on it in class.
   The teacher should assist individual pupils and check on their work during this "quiet time."

   WORDGAME A

   This basketball player has a large number of basketballs with English derivatives and cognates written on them. Put each basketball in its proper place in the sentences below. The Latin root is given with each sentence to help you.

   1. The medicine had a _______ printed on the label to help prevent overdoses. (Caveat)

   2. Chestnut Street is a great _______. (Emptor)

   3. Damaged clothing is not generally _______. (Vendor)

   4. The City of Philadelphia requires a street _______ to get a licence in order to sell merchandise on the sidewalk. (Vendor)

   5. A person in charge of a museum is called a _______. (Curat)

   6. In a big city, a job on the police force is certainly not a _______. (Curat)
7. People on parole must stay in touch with their __________ officer. (Prolat)
8. Good eating habits will _________ the danger to health. (Humilis)
9. Plenty of fire extinguishers in a building help to keep danger from fire _________. (Minutis)
10. That the sun is vital to the survival of life on earth is an _________. (Humilis)
11. Criminals often have a ___________ reputation in the community. (Humilis)
12. Captain _______ is a character in Jules Verne's writings. (Aemus)
13. The human hand has a ___________ grasp. (Tenetum)
14. The position of the Nazis in the Holocaust was not ___________ by any standard of morality. (Minutis)
15. The Pan-African Conference acts as a ___________ of the conduct of its member nations. (Regulam)
16. ___________ in attendance is a cause of problems in school work. (Regulam)
17. The services of a lawyer are usually useful in trying to ________ a will. (Prolat)

LESSON 5

Objectives
1. To compare modern American and ancient Roman courts.
2. To acquaint pupils with terms used in reference to American and Roman courts.

Activities
1. Show the class a list of the terms used in reference to an American court and then, beside it, list the terms which refer to parallel functions in the ancient Roman court.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>AMERICAN</th>
<th>ROMAN</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A. JUDGE</td>
<td>A. MAGISTRATUS (PRAETOR) et CONSILIUM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B. JURY</td>
<td>B. JUDICES</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C. PROSECUTOR</td>
<td>C. ACCUSATOR et SUBSCRIPTORES</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D. DEFENSE ATTORNEYS</td>
<td>D. PATRONI et ADVOCATI</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>E. DEFENDANT</td>
<td>E. REUS</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>F. COURT CLERKS</td>
<td>F. SCRIBAE</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>G. WITNESSES</td>
<td>G. TESTES</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2. Tell the students of the duties of the persons in an American court and in a Roman court and point out the contrasts between them. Elicit information from pupils wherever possible. Have pupils echo orally the Latin terminology.

A. JUDGE: The judge in an American court presides over the activities of the trial, decides points of law and procedure, and instructs the jury on what the issues are in the case and what the law says about these issues. Judges in federal courts are appointed by the President of the United States. State and local judges are elected by the people. Minor judges in Philadelphia were formerly called magistrates, as are minor federal judges.
In a Roman court, the praetor or magistralus supervised the operation of the various courts. Praetors were elected by the people. In the courtroom, the Roman magistrate performed basically like an American judge, but he had a consilium, a panel of three legal experts, to advise him on the law. Have pupils echo Latin terminology such as praetor, consilium, and magistralus.

B. JURY: In the United States, any citizen can be selected to serve on a jury ("jury duty"); it is both a right and an obligation of an American citizen. Both the prosecutor and the defense attorney can "challenge" a certain number of potential jurors and have them excluded from the jury. There are two types of challenges: (1) for cause; (2) peremptory. In a peremptory challenge, no reason need be given. Peremptory comes from the Latin verb peremptus meaning "taken away completely."

... Trial juries do not exceed twelve, and the vote must be unanimous for acquittal or for conviction. Where juries cannot agree (a "hung jury"), a mistrial is declared and a new trial must be arranged.

Rome. Each year a list of several hundred jurors was drawn up from males of senatorial or equestrian (knights) rank. From this list (album judicium), the panel for a particular trial was chosen by lot. Both the prosecution and the defense could reject a certain number of unacceptable jurors. Juries varied in size, the smallest recorded being 32 and the largest 75. The term juror comes from the Latin verb jurare "to swear" which in turn is connected with the noun jus, "right."... Jurors were provided with a wooden tablet covered on both sides with wax. On one side, C for condemnō was written; on the other A for absolvō. The juror erased one letter. He could erase both if he thought there wasn't enough evidence to prove either guilt or innocence. A majority of votes decided the case.

C. PROSECUTOR:

In the United States, a government official is always the prosecutor, never a private citizen. The prosecutor makes his summary statement at the end of the trial after all the evidence and testimony has been presented. Whether the defendant is acquitted or condemned, the prosecutor incurs no personal blame or merit since he is acting for the state.

In ancient Rome, the accusātor was always a private citizen, and he might be supported by others (subscriptores). The accusator made an initial conclusive statement, then presented evidence (including witnesses, testes), followed by questions and answers by both sides in the case. In case of acquittal, the prosecutor was liable for the charge of calumnia, making a groundless accusation, or praevaricatio, conspiring with the defense to secure acquittal. In case of conviction, he received a præmium, a reward, fixed by the magistrate and jury.

D. DEFENSE ATTORNEYS:

In the United States, every defendant is entitled to be represented by a lawyer. Character witnesses may be called to testify to the qualities and past good life of the defendant. The term "defendant" comes from the Latin verb deféndere, "to protect." The defense attorney, like the prosecutor, makes a conclusive statement at the end of the trial, after evidence and testimony have been presented. The term "prosecutor" comes from the Latin verb prósequi, "to follow after, to pursue."
Among the Romans, the defendant had a lawyer or lawyers (patronus or patroni) to present his case in court. Also, he could bring along any influential friends (advocati) to be seen in court and to give advice. The patronus made an initial, comprehensive statement regarding the case, and then presented evidence, witnesses, and responses to inquiries.

E. THE DEFENDANT:

In the United States, a person is considered innocent until proven guilty. Criminal charges are always brought to court against a defendant by the government, even if the initial charges are made by a private citizen. After an initial hearing, the defendant may be imprisoned or allowed free "on bail" until the time of his trial.

In Rome, the reus could be brought to court and charged with a crime either by the government or by a private citizen. The reus was considered innocent until proven otherwise. After an initial hearing the reus could be imprisoned or allowed freedom until the time of his trial.

F. CLERKS:

In American courts, clerks are present to keep word-for-word records of what is said and done during the entire trial. In Roman courts, scribae were present to record what was said and done during the trial.

G. WITNESSES:

In the United States, people who have any knowledge of the case can be required to attend and testify under penalty of the law. For this purpose, a subpoena can be issued by the judge.

In Rome, witnesses could be required by the magistrate to come to the court and give accurate information of their knowledge of the case. They were so required sub poena (under penalty of the law) to do so.

3. Play the game "U.S.A., ROME, or BOTH" with the class.

U.S.A., ROME, or BOTH GAME

Have the students read or the teacher can read to the class the following statements. Then the students must indicate whether the statement applies to the American courts only by answering "U.S.A." or to the ancient Roman courts only by answering "ROME" or to the courts of both nations equally by answering "BOTH."

The teacher may wish to make each student a reus and let each correct answer count as a vote of absolve (not guilty) and each incorrect answer count as a vote of condemno (guilty). At the end of the game, the individual students would tabulate their votes and perhaps be appropriately rewarded.

STATEMENTS:

1. "Ladies and gentlemen of the jury"
2. The defense attorney declared the juror unacceptable.
3. The 42 jurors voted 30 to 12 for acquittal and the defendant was freed.
4. At the end of the trial, the prosecutor made a summary statement about the entire case.

5. He could not serve on the jury because he was not a citizen.

6. The District Attorney of the city was the prosecutor.

7. She could not serve on the jury.

8. The jury was swayed in its judgement by the presence of the defendant's influential friends in the courtroom.

9. He was the 17th juror to be selected for the jury.

10. He was the 9th juror to be selected for the jury.

11. She was the 3rd juror to be selected for the jury.

12. The jury took into account the testimony of the defendant's employer about his honesty and hard work.

13. At the beginning of the trial, the defense attorney made a complete statement about the facts in the case.

14. The juror erased the C from his tablet to vote for the defendant's acquittal.

15. Only two jurors insisted on voting "guilty", so the defendant had to be tried again.

16. Only two jurors insisted on voting "guilty", so the defendant was freed.

LESSON 6

Objectives

1. To review the following Roman court terms:

| magistratus | magistrate |
| judices | jury |
| accusator | prosecutor |
| patronus | lawyer |
| advocati | advocates |
| reus | defendant |
| scribae | recorders |
| testes | witnesses |
| consilium | panel of experts |
| jus | right law |
| jurare | swear |
| prosequi | prosecute |
| defendere | defend |
2. To introduce the following English derivatives and cognates:

- magistrate, magistracy
- judicial, judiciary, judicious, injudicious, adjudicate, prejudice
- accuse, accusatory, accusation
- patron, patronize, patronal
- advocate, advocacy
- scribe, inscribe, prescribe, proscribe, describe, script
- testify, testimony, testament, attest, protest
- counsel, counsellor
- jurist, jurisprudence, juridical, perjure, perjury, abjure, conjure
- prosecute, prosecution
- defensible, indefensible

Activities

1. Say each of the Roman court terms listed in the objectives. Have the pupils repeat each term. Ask for an explanation of each.

2. Approach the following chart of English derivatives and cognates in the usual way. With some classes it may be possible to finish the entire list in one lesson; other classes may require more time.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ENGLISH WORD</th>
<th>LATIN ROOT</th>
<th>MEANING OF ENGLISH WORD</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>magistrate</td>
<td>magistra &quot;magistrate&quot;</td>
<td>an officer of the government who has power to apply the law and put it into force</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>magistracy</td>
<td>magistra &quot;magistrate&quot;</td>
<td>the position, rank or duties of a magistrate or judge</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>judicial</td>
<td>júdices &quot;jury, judges&quot;</td>
<td>relating to the court</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>judiciary</td>
<td>júdices &quot;jury, judges&quot;</td>
<td>relating to the court; the court system</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>judicious</td>
<td>júdices &quot;jury, judges&quot;</td>
<td>careful, with adequate thought</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>injudicious</td>
<td>júdices &quot;jury, judges&quot;</td>
<td>careless, without adequate thought</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>adjudicate</td>
<td>júdices &quot;jury, judges&quot;</td>
<td>to solve a problem by court intervention</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>prejudice</td>
<td>júdices &quot;jury, judges&quot;</td>
<td>forming an opinion in advance of adequate consideration</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>accuse</td>
<td>accusátor &quot;prosecutor&quot;</td>
<td>to charge with having done something wrong</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>accusatory</td>
<td>accusátor &quot;prosecutor&quot;</td>
<td>charging</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>accusation</td>
<td>accusátor &quot;prosecutor&quot;</td>
<td>a charge of wrong-doing</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>patron</td>
<td>patrónus &quot;lawyer&quot;</td>
<td>special protector</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>patronize</td>
<td>patrónus &quot;lawyer&quot;</td>
<td>to act as a protector, benefactor or customer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ENGLISH WORD</td>
<td>LATIN ROOT</td>
<td>MEANING OF ENGLISH WORD</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>--------------</td>
<td>------------</td>
<td>-------------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>patronal</td>
<td>patrónus &quot;lawyer&quot;</td>
<td>relating to a patron</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>advocate</td>
<td>advocátí &quot;advocates&quot;</td>
<td>supporter</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>advocacy</td>
<td>advocátí &quot;advocates&quot;</td>
<td>supporting something</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>reus</td>
<td>reus &quot;defendant&quot;</td>
<td>a defendant in an action</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>scribe</td>
<td>scribae &quot;recorders&quot;</td>
<td>a person whose occupation is copying or writing</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>inscribe</td>
<td>scribae &quot;recorders&quot;</td>
<td>to write on</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>prescribe</td>
<td>scribae &quot;recorders&quot;</td>
<td>to set down authoritatively</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>proscribe</td>
<td>scribae &quot;recorders&quot;</td>
<td>to forbid</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>describe</td>
<td>scribae &quot;recorders&quot;</td>
<td>to relate, express</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>script</td>
<td>scribae &quot;recorders&quot;</td>
<td>handwriting</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>testify</td>
<td>testes &quot;witnesses&quot;</td>
<td>to give evidence</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>testimony</td>
<td>testes &quot;witnesses&quot;</td>
<td>statement used for evidence or proof</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>testament</td>
<td>testes &quot;witnesses&quot;</td>
<td>a will</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>attest</td>
<td>testes &quot;witnesses&quot;</td>
<td>to bear witness</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>protest</td>
<td>testes &quot;witnesses&quot;</td>
<td>to object to</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>counsel</td>
<td>consilium &quot;panel of experts&quot;</td>
<td>advice; a lawyer; to give advice</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>counsellor</td>
<td>consilium &quot;panel of experts&quot;</td>
<td>a person who advises; a lawyer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>jurist</td>
<td>jus &quot;right, law&quot;</td>
<td>one skilled in the law</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>jurisprudence</td>
<td>jus &quot;right, law&quot;</td>
<td>legal science; system of laws</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>juridical</td>
<td>jus &quot;right, law&quot;</td>
<td>pertains to the law</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>perjure</td>
<td>jus &quot;right, law&quot;</td>
<td>to swear falsely</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>perjury</td>
<td>jus &quot;right, law&quot;</td>
<td>a false swearing</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>abjure</td>
<td>jus &quot;right, law&quot;</td>
<td>to renounce, to swear to give up</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>coerce</td>
<td>jus &quot;right, law&quot;</td>
<td>to summon solemnly</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>prosecute</td>
<td>prósequi &quot;to prosecute, pursue&quot;</td>
<td>to bring before a court of law</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>prosecution</td>
<td>prósequi &quot;to prosecute, pursue&quot;</td>
<td>the side that starts action against another in a law court</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>defensible</td>
<td>défendere &quot;to defend&quot;</td>
<td>capable to being defended, upheld</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>indefensible</td>
<td>défendere &quot;to defend&quot;</td>
<td>not capable of being upheld or defended</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>defendant</td>
<td>défendere &quot;to defend&quot;</td>
<td>the accused; the one who needs defense in a trial</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
3. Ask the following true or false questions in rapid-fire fashion:
   a. The President is the chief magistrate of the United States. (T)
   b. The presidency is the chief magistracy of the United States. (T)
   c. The judicial system in the United States does not include the Supreme Court and the various federal courts. (F)
   d. When people complain about the slowness of the judiciary, they are referring to the slowness of the court system. (T)
   e. A judicious statement is usually carefully prepared and considered. (T)
   f. Off-the-cuff, hastily put together statements are injudicious. (T)
   g. It is sometimes desirable to adjudicate a property dispute. (T) h. Racial prejudice was an important factor in the history of the United States. (T)
   i. It is not proper to accuse someone without evidence. (T)
   j. Pointing a finger at someone can be considered an accusatory gesture. (T)
   k. Calling someone a liar and a thief is a fairly serious accusation. (T)
   l. A patron of the arts is someone who supports and helps them. (T)
   m. A person who buys in a store is said to patronize the store. (T)
   n. Patronal help is important for a struggling young artist. (T) o. An advocate of the ERA is someone who supports it. (T)
   p. Advocacy of natural foods (as opposed to junk foods or foods with artificial ingredients) is becoming popular. (T)
   q. A defendant in a court case may be called a reus by his lawyer. (T)
   r. Before printing was invented, there were many scribes who made copies of books by hand. (T)
   s. When an author inscribes a book, he writes his name and perhaps a greeting in it. (T)
   t. Teachers prescribe the rules in a classroom. (T)
   u. Talking during class is usually proscribed. (T)
   v. Newspapers describe what happens. (T)
   w. The actor's part in the play is called the script. (T)
   x. Witnesses come to court to testify. (T)
   y. Witnesses give testimony in court. (T)
   z. People ask their lawyers to prepare their last will and testament. (T) aa. A handwriting expert can attest to the genuineness of a signature. (T)
   bb. Fans sometimes protest a referee's decision. (T)
   cc. It would be foolish for a defendant to refuse the help of legal counsel. (T)
   dd. A lawyer is also called a counsellor. (T) ee. A member of the Supreme Court may be called a jurist. (T) ff. Lawyers study jurisprudence. (T)
   gg. A court has judicial power. (T)
   hh. A person who lies under oath is said to perjure himself. (T)
   ii. Perjury is usually punishable under the law. (T)
jj. People do not often abjure the right to eat. (T)
kk. A medium tries to conjure up the spirits of the dead. (T)
ll. The district attorney's job is to prosecute criminals. (T) mm. The prosecution is the side that starts action against another in court. (T) nn. Trying to provide food for hungry people is certainly defensible. (T) oo. Sleeping during class is indefensible. (T)
pp. The defendant in a criminal case needs a good lawyer. (T)

4. If time allows, you may ask the pupils if they have ever heard of the legal terms parole and probation. Explain that both these terms have Latin backgrounds. Ask pupils to investigate the etymology and meaning, point out that sometimes knowing the etymology or word history can help one to appreciate the richness of language and the way it is used. The background that pupils may find in good dictionaries is summarized as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ENGLISH WORD</th>
<th>LATIN ROOT</th>
<th>MEANING OF ENGLISH WORD</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>parole</td>
<td>parabola &quot;discourse, word&quot;</td>
<td>release of a prisoner before his term has expired on condition of continued good behavior</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>probation</td>
<td>probare &quot;to try, to prove&quot;</td>
<td>suspending a sentence of a minor offense and granting provisional freedom on the promise of good behavior</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

LESSON 7

Objectives
To review the derivatives and cognates presented in the previous lesson.

Activities
Distribute Wordgames B and C to the class. Have the pupils work on these during the class period while you assist individuals needing help.

WORDGAME B
Our old friend Claudius has gotten himself all covered with derivatives and cognates. Help him out by putting the derivatives and cognates into the proper sentences. Latin roots are provided with each sentence to help you.

1. If you shop at a supermarket you are said to ________ it. (PATRÓNUS)
2. A ________ of music donates money to help musicians and musical groups. (PATRÓNUS)
3. ________ help is important for a struggling young artist. (PATRÓNUS)
4. The head of government in a country may also be the chief ________. (MAGISTRATUS)
5. A district under the jurisdiction of a magistrate may be called a ________. (MAGISTRATUS)
6. It is an honor to be selected for the federal ________. (JUDICES)
7. Acceptance of a bribe by a judge would be an example of ________ abuse. (JUDICES)
8. The ________ use of medicine can be helpful to a sick person. (JUDICES)
9. Sculptors frequently want to ________ their names on the base of the status. (SCRIBAE).
10. Doctors will frequently ________ medicine for their patients. (SCRIBAE)
11. Witnesses will ________ what they see. (SCRIBAE)
12. Actors and actresses must study the ________. (SCRIBAE)
13. A person whose occupation in ancient times was to copy or write is called a ________. (SCRIBAE)
14. A defendant is also called a ________. (REUS)
15. Saying that a person is a crook is an ________. (ACCUSÁTOR)
16. A prosecutor will sometimes speak in an ________ tone of voice. (ACCUSÁTOR)
17. A careless remark could be described as ________. (JUDICES)
18. It is possible for a court to ________ a property dispute. (JUDICES)
19. Racial ________ is an unfortunate fact of life in today's world. (JUDICES)
20. It is not fair to ________ someone of theft without adequate evidence. (ACCUSÁTOR)
21. An ________ of the Equal Rights Amendment is a supporter of it. (ADVOCATI)
22. ________ of violence as a means of solving problems is not a popular point of view. (ADVOCATI)
23. A teacher will ________ talking and disorder during class. (SCRIBAE)
24. A witness normally will ________ in court. (TESTES)
25. A statement used for evidence is called ________. (TESTES)
26. Everyone should prepare a last will and ________. (TESTES)
27. An eyewitness can ________ to the truth of a statement (TESTES)
28. Anti-nuclear ________ marches are becoming more frequent. (TESTES)
29. To tell a lie deliberately in court is to ________ oneself. (JUS)
30. ________ is false swearing. (JUS)
31. To ________ ownership of a house would be to give it up. (JUS)
32. A fortune teller will try sometimes to ________ up the spirit of a dead person. (JUS)
33. The District Attorney in Philadelphia has an obligation to ______ criminals. (PROSEQUI)

34. The ______ in a trial is frequently the state. (PROSEQUI)

35. Being disrespectful to a teacher is ______ at any time. (DEFENDERE)

36. Sometimes an army will retreat to a more ______ position (DEFENDERE)

37. The help of legal ______ is important in the preparation of a will. (CONSILUM)

38. Cicero was a famous Roman ______. (JUS)

39. Lawyers must study ______. (JUS)

40. A ______ matter requires careful professional legal attention. (JUDGES)

41. The ______ use of medicine can be harmful to a patient. (JUDGES)

WORDGAME

Imperial Country Club
Legal Latin Golf Tournament

PAR for this course: 68. Count 1 for each blank space you fill in correctly on the first try. Count 2 for each space you fill in incorrectly or have to erase.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Par</th>
<th>HOLE</th>
<th>______</th>
<th>______</th>
<th>______</th>
<th>______</th>
<th>______</th>
<th>______</th>
<th>______</th>
<th>______</th>
<th>______</th>
<th>______</th>
<th>______</th>
<th>______</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>D_S_I_E</td>
<td>WRITE ABOUT</td>
<td>1._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>P_R_U_E</td>
<td>SWEAR FALSELY</td>
<td>2._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>J_R_T</td>
<td>ONE VERSED IN THE LAW</td>
<td>3._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>D_M_T</td>
<td>A FORMAL DECISION</td>
<td>4._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>V_C_A_Y</td>
<td>ACT OF PLEADING FOR</td>
<td>5._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>A_C_S_T_O_N</td>
<td>ACT OF ACCUSING</td>
<td>6._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>P_E_U_I_E</td>
<td>JUDGING BEFORE EVIDENCE IS IN</td>
<td>7._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>E_S_I_Y</td>
<td>TO BEAR WITNESS</td>
<td>8._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>O_N_S_L_O</td>
<td>ONE WHO GIVES ADVICE</td>
<td>9._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>S_P_</td>
<td>WRITING</td>
<td>10._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>I_E_EN_I_E</td>
<td>CAN'T BE DEFENDED</td>
<td>11._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>P_R_N_I_E</td>
<td>TO GIVE ONE'S SUPPORT TO</td>
<td>12._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>J_I_R</td>
<td>SYSTEM OF COURTS</td>
<td>13._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>A_T_S</td>
<td>TO ASSERT THE TRUTH OF</td>
<td>14._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>15</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>R_S</td>
<td>THE ONE ON TRIAL</td>
<td>15._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>16</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>S_R_E</td>
<td>ONE WHO WRITES</td>
<td>16._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>T_E_A_M_T</td>
<td>A WRITTEN DECLARATION</td>
<td>17._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>18</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>J_Y</td>
<td>THEY DECIDE GUILT OR INNOCENCE</td>
<td>18._______</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

TOTAL: 68  YOUR SCORE: ________
Lesson 8

Objectives

To introduce orally the following legal Latin phrases used in English:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>LATIN EXPRESSION</th>
<th>LITERAL MEANING</th>
<th>SPECIAL MEANING, IF ANY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>pro tēmpore (abbr. pro tem.)</td>
<td>for the time being, temporarily</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pro forma</td>
<td>as a matter of form</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ipso facto</td>
<td>by the fact itself</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>bona fide</td>
<td>in good faith</td>
<td>sincere, genuine</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mala fide</td>
<td>in bad faith</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ex post facto</td>
<td>from the action afterwards</td>
<td>operating retroactively</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>subpoena (also written subpoena)</td>
<td>under penalty</td>
<td>a writ requiring someone to do something under the threat of legal penalty</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>per se</td>
<td>through itself, by itself</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>prima fīcie</td>
<td>at first sight</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>nolo contendere</td>
<td>I will not contend</td>
<td>a plea made by the defendant equivalent to admission of guilt, but leaving open the possibility for him to deny alleged facts in other proceedings</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ex officio</td>
<td>in virtue of one's office</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>corpus delicti</td>
<td>body of the crime</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>habēas corpus</td>
<td>you shall have the body (brought to court)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>obiter dictum</td>
<td>said by the way</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>non compos mentis</td>
<td>not having control of the mind</td>
<td>not of sound mind and hence not legally responsible</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>nolle prósequi (almost always used in the abbreviated form nol. pros.)</td>
<td>to be unwilling to pursue</td>
<td>a declaration that the plaintiff or prosecutor will drop prosecution of all or part of a suit or indictment</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cuius probāndi</td>
<td>burden of proof</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ex uxor (abbr. ex ux.)</td>
<td>and his wife</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>necessus operandi (abbr. n.o.)</td>
<td>manner or way of operating</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cui bono</td>
<td>for what good, for what purpose</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>et alii, et alia (abbr. et al.)</td>
<td>and the other persons, and the other things</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Term</td>
<td>Translation</td>
<td>Definition</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>--------------------------</td>
<td>--------------------------------------------------</td>
<td>-----------------------------------------------------------------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>amicus curiae</td>
<td>friends of the court</td>
<td>a person who advises a court on a matter of law in a case to which he is not a party without a lawyer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>in propria persona</td>
<td>in one's own person</td>
<td>for this purpose, i.e., special</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ad hoc</td>
<td>ad hoc</td>
<td>for this purpose, i.e., special</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>in flagrante delicto</td>
<td>in flagrant crime</td>
<td>in the act</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>per capita</td>
<td>by heads, individually</td>
<td>by heads, individually</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>per stirpes</td>
<td>by the stalk or stem</td>
<td>by the stalk or stem</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>de facto</td>
<td>according to fact, actually</td>
<td>according to fact, actually</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>de jure</td>
<td>according to law, legally</td>
<td>according to law, legally</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>quid pro quo</td>
<td>something for something</td>
<td>something for something</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>sine die</td>
<td>without a day (set for reconvening)</td>
<td>without a day (set for reconvening)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Activities

1. Without writing the Latin expressions on the board, have the pupils echo them. Explain the meaning of each in English. Explain to the pupils that some of the terms have an anglicized as well as a Latin pronunciation, e.g.,

- subpoena has the anglicized pronunciation sub peena
- bona fide has the anglicized pronunciation bona fide
- prima facie has the anglicized pronunciation prima fashe
- ex officio has the anglicized pronunciation eks ofisheo

After pupils have mastered the Latin pronunciation, you may have them look up anglicized pronunciations in an English dictionary.

2. In distinguishing per capita from per stirpes, explain that both terms are used in inheritance law. A grandfather dies. He has three sons—Manny, Moe, and Jack. Manny has three sons, Moe has two, and Jack has one. Everything was left to the grandsons. How much does each get on a per capita basis? (1/6) How much does each get on a per stirpes basis? (Each branch gets 1/3).

3. Ask pupils to explain the Latin expressions(s) in each of the following sentences:
   a. The Senator who presides over the U.S. Senate in the absence of the Vice President is called the president pro tempore or pro tem, of the Senate.
   b. A company will sometimes send a pro forma invoice.
   c. An alien, ipso facto, has no right to a U.S. passport, but when aliens are deported their airfare is sometimes paid as a quid pro quo for leaving.
   d. The real estate agent brought a bona fide offer to the woman who wanted to sell her house.
   e. The student who deliberately sleeps during class and then complains that he does not learn much is acting mala fide.
   f. A subpoena is usually delivered in person.
g. Talking is neither good nor evil per se.

h. Prima facie evidence is required to arrest a person, even if the person is arrested in flagrante delicto.

i. Spiro Agnew, former Vice President of the U.S., pleaded nolo contendere to the charges against him.

j. The Queen is an ex officio member of Parliament.

k. The judge issued a habeas corpus.

l. In an obiter dictum, the judge expressed his opinion of the law.

m. The institutionalized person was declared non compos mentis.

n. The District Attorney was anxious to agree to a nol. pros.

o. The onus probandi rests with the accuser.

p. The modus operandi in each murder was similar according to the police; in each case the corpus delicti was found hidden in a closet.

q. The lawyer asked the prosecutor to explain cui bono in regard to the request for a delay.

r. The psychologist filed a brief as amicus curiae.

s. The defendant appeared in court in propria persona.

t. The ad hoc committee was established to consider the problem of crime.

u. The grandmother wanted to will all her possessions to her grandchildren, but she did not know whether to do it per capita or per stirpes.

v. De facto segregation exists in many schools.

w. The Supreme Court decision of 1954 (Brown vs. the Board of Education) prohibited de jure segregation in the schools.

x. Congress normally adjourns sine die.

y. Ex post facto laws et al. are unconstitutional.

z. Deeds to houses will frequently contain the owner's name followed by the abbreviation et ux.

3. As an enrichment project, you may ask the pupils to see if they can discover the meaning and history of the legal term "eleemosynary corporation". (The term refers to a charitable organization such as the United Way, the Red Cross, etc. The word "eleemosynary" is from the Latin eleemosyna - "alms" which is, in turn, related to the Greek word eleison - "have mercy" as in the liturgical expression Kyrie eleison.)

LESSON 9

Objectives

To introduce the reading and writing of the Latin expressions introduced orally in the preceding lesson.

Activities

1. Put the chart which appears in the objectives of the preceding lesson on the board. Have the pupils copy it as you discuss it. Have pupils echo the Latin expressions. Circulate around the classroom to be sure that the copying is done carefully and correctly. OR Provide the chart in duplicated form—preferably with the "literal meaning" and "special column" blank, so that pupils can fill it in.

2. Distribute the following word games:
ECONÓMICUS REX IS ABOUT TO CONSUME ALL THE LEGAL LATIN PHRASES FLOATING AROUND OVER THE WHITE HOUSE. BUT HE IS TOO FAT ALREADY. GET THESE PHRASES INTO THE SENTENCES BELOW TO PREVENT ECONÓMICUS REX FROM EATING THEM.
1. When a jury is dismissed s____ d____, it is dismissed without a date being set for reconvening.

2. For many years, the United States recognized Nationalist China based on Taiwan as the d____ j____ or legal government of China, whereas the Communist government on the mainland was clearly the d____ f____ or actual government.

3. The p____ c____ per pupil expenditure for the Philadelphia School District is found by dividing the total expenses for salaries, supplies, etc. by the total number of students.

4. A special committee to investigate drug abuse could be termed an a____ h____ committee.

5. Lawyers caution people against acting i____ p____ p_______ or without legal counsel in court.

6. An expert on a particular subject can file a brief as a____ c____, even though the expert is not directly involved in the case.

7. When given homework, students sometimes ask to know c____ b______ the homework is given.

8. The m____ o______ in a crime is carefully investigated by police.

9. The o____ p______ lies with the accuser.

10. The district attorney was able to arrange a n____ p______.

11. People in mental hospitals who cannot manage their own affairs are declared n____ c____ m______.

12. A judge's o____ d______ is interesting to be read, but it does not have the same legal weight as the decision itself.

13. The privilege of the writ of h____ c____ is guaranteed by the U.S. Constitution to prevent long imprisonment without a trial.

14. The Superintendent of Schools is in virtue of the office, or e____ o_______, the secretary of the Board of Education.

15. A defendant may plead innocent, guilty, or n____ c______.

16. In the absence of p____ f______ evidence that a crime has been committed, no one may be arrested.

17. Automobiles are not destructive p____ s____, but they can be in the hands of an intoxi-cated driver.

18. One cannot ignore a s____ p______ without incurring legal penalties.

19. A person who lies deliberately is not acting b____ f____; it could be said that he or she is acting m____ f______.

20. A lake that is completely surrounded by the territory of one country is by that very fact or i____ f______ part of that country's territory.

21. Since everyone knew what had happened, watching the news report on television was p____ f______.

22. A p____ t______ chairman serves on an interim or temporary basis.

23. A law that was passed on December 1, 1982 and took effect November 1, 1982 would be described as e____ p______ f______.

24. Real estate transaction notices use the phrase e____ u____ to indicate that a married couple is involved; the phrase e____ a____ is used to indicate "and other persons".
25. The dentist performed free dental services for his lawyer as a q____ p____ q_____ for the lawyer's free legal services.

26. The gang was arrested while they were robbing the bank; they were caught i__ f_____ d_____.

27. Without a c_____ d_____ a conviction for murder is unlikely.

28. Grandma decides to leave her estate to her grandchildren in such a way that the two grandchildren by her daughter Ingemisco would get ½ each and the one grandchild by her daughter Lacrimosa would get ½. Such a distribution would be p_____ s____.

WORDGAMEE Crossword Puzzle on Legal Expressions

ACROSS

5. PRIMA __________. At the first consideration

7. Done to observe a set procedure.

8. _______ CONTENDER. I do not wish to debate (whether I'm guilty or not).

9. _______ DICTUM. Mentioned in passing.

10. Not having a healthy mind.

12. Release him. No charges have been made against him.

13. OBITER _________. Not part of the essential text.

DOWN

1. Because of the fact or deed itself.

2. I don't choose to prosecute.

3. Temporarily.

4. Because of the position or rank someone has.

6. For whose benefit?

11. _______ PROBANDI. The burden of proof.
ACROSS

5. PRIMA facie. At the first consideration.

7. To observe a set procedure.

8. Nolo Contendere. I do not wish to debate (whether I'm guilty or innocent).

9. Obiter Dictum. Mentioned in passing.

10. Not having a healthy mind.

12. Release him. No charges have been made against him.

13. Obiter Dictum, not part of the essential text.

DOWN

1. Because of the fact itself.

2. I don't choose to prosecute.

3. Temporarily.

4. Because of the position someone holds.

6. For whose benefit?

11. Onus Probandi. The burden of proof.
WELCOME TO THESE PROGRAMMED LEARNING MATERIALS! WE ARE GOING TO BE DISCUSSING SOME OF THE LEGAL PRACTICES OF THE ANCIENT ROMANS, SINCE THESE PRACTICES SHED LIGHT ON OUR OWN.

IN THE EARLY DAYS OF THE ROMAN REPUBLIC AND DURING THE STILL EARLIER PERIOD WHEN ROME WAS RULED BY KINGS, THE NORES MAJORUM OR "CUSTOMS OF THE ANCESTORS" HAD THE FORCE OF LAW. WRITE THE LATIN PHRASE WHICH MEANS "CUSTOMS OF THE ANCESTORS" ON YOUR ANSWER PAD.

OLD CUSTOMS ARE A POWERFUL CONTROLLER OF BEHAVIOR EVEN TODAY. CAN YOU THINK OF ANY OLD CUSTOMS IN YOUR OWN EXPERIENCE THAT HAVE THE FORCE OF LAW?

There are many possible answers. The use of titles such as Mr., Ms., Miss, Mrs., Dr., etc is an old custom. Many governmental practices and procedures are old customs. Many holiday observances, also.
FRAME 3
A simple body of custom would be sufficient law for a primitive society. But when cases of conflict between two families arose, arbitration by some other authority became necessary. The state gradually assumed this authority. A famous codification or gathering together of existing law was made in 451 B.C. in the publication of the Law of the Twelve Tables. The Twelve Tables were considered a great landmark in the history of liberty and

FRAME 4
A group of magistrates called praetors became the judges or law officers in the Roman Republic. Their decisions came to comprise the most substantial part of law in the late republic. The praetors would follow in the main the precedents established by their predecessors. On your answer pad, write the name given to a judge or law officer in the late Roman Republic.
THE PROCESS OF INTERPRETING THE LAW WAS ASSISTED BY A CLASS OF LEGAL EXPERTS KNOWN IN LATIN AS PRUDENTES OR JURIS CONSULTI. THESE LAWYERS RECEIVED NO PAY. THEIR RESPONSA OR ANSWERS WERE ORDINARILY BASED ON PRINCIPLES TAKEN FROM PRECEDEANTS AND ON PHILOSOPHIC GROUNDS, BUT THE ROMAN ESSAYIST SENECA THE YOUNGER SAYS THAT THE PERSONAL PRESTIGE OF THE LAWYER CARRIED A LOT OF WEIGHT.

FOR PRACTICE, WRITE THE TERMS PRUDENTES, JURIS CONSULTI, AND RESPONSA ON YOUR ANSWER PAD:

THERE WERE A FEW GREAT JURISTS OF THE ROMAN EMPIRE WHO DESERVE TO BE MENTIONED. MANY OF THEM HELD THE OFFICE OF PREFECT OF THE CITY, WHICH IN THEIR DAY, GAVE THEM LEGAL, ADMINISTRATIVE, AND MILITARY POWER SECOND ONLY TO THE EMPEROR. JULIAN, PAPINIAN, ULPIAN, PAUL, POMPONIUS, AND GAIUS WERE THEIR NAMES. WHAT THEY WROTE AND THOUGHT WAS LATER INCORPORATED INTO THE GREAT CODIFICATION OF ROMAN LAW DONE BY THE EMPEROR JUSTINIAN IN THE 6TH CENTURY A.D. YOU MAY NOT BE ABLE TO REMEMBER THE NAMES OF THE OTHER JURISTS, BUT YOU CERTAINLY SHOULD REMEMBER THE EMPEROR JUSTINIAN FOR HIS GREAT CODIFICATION OF ROMAN LAW.
THE ROMAN LAW WHICH PERTAINED TO ROMAN CITIZENS OR CIVES WAS CALLED THE JUS CIVILE. WHEN THE ROMANS ASSUMED PROVINCIAL RESPONSIBILITIES IN VARIOUS PARTS OF EUROPE, AFRICA, AND ASIA, THEY DID NOT TRY TO IMPOSE A RIGID ROMAN SYSTEM ON THE MANY RACES AND COMMUNITIES WITHIN THE EMPIRE. THE ROMAN ADMINISTRATORS TRIED TO BUILD, AS FAR AS THEY COULD, ON THE EXISTING TRADITIONS OF THE PROVINCES. THEY NOTICED COMMON PRINCIPLES AMONG DIFFERENT PEOPLES, WHICH THE LEGAL EXPERTS CALLED JUS GENTIUM ("THE LAW OF THE NATIONS"). THEY ALSO RECOGNIZED THE "LAW OF NATURE", JUS NATURALE, WHICH CONSISTED OF PRINCIPLES BINDING ON ALL HUMAN BEINGS EQUALLY AS SHARERS IN DIVINE REASON.

a. JUS CIVILE IS THE CIVIL LAW OR LAW THE APPLIES TO ROMAN CITIZENS.

b. JUS GENTIUM IS THE "LAW OF THE NATIONS" OR COMMON LEGAL PRINCIPLES AMONG MANY PEOPLE.

c. JUS NATURALE IS THE "LAW OF NATURE" OR PRINCIPLES BINDING ON ALL HUMAN BEINGS EQUALLY AS SHARERS IN DIVINE REASON.

Now explain in your own words the terms Jus Civile, Jus Gentium and Jus Naturale.
THE ROMAN LEGAL EXPERIENCES WORKED OUT

MANY FAMOUS MAXIMS WHICH IN SOME WAYS GIVE US THE "FLAVOR OF ROMAN LAW." SOME OF THE MAXIMS ARE GIVEN IN THE FRAMES THAT FOLLOW IN ENGLISH TRANSLATION AND THEN IN LATIN. READ EACH MAXIM IN ENGLISH AND THEN IN LATIN. THE SOURCE OF THE MAXIM IS GIVEN IN PARENTHESES.

"THE BEST INTERPRETER OF THE LAWS IS CUSTOM." (JULIUS PAULUS, ROMAN JURIST OF THE 3RD CENTURY A.D.)

"TO KNOW LAWS IS TO GRASP NOT MERELY THEIR WORDS, BUT THEIR FORCE AND POWER." (CELSUS, ROMAN JURIST OF THE 1ST CENTURY A.D., AUTHOR OF A MANUAL ON LAW)

"BY NO MEANS ARE THOSE THINGS TO BE CHANGED THAT HAVE ALWAYS HAD A CERTAIN INTERPRETATION." (JULIUS PAULUS)

"LAWS SHOULD BE INTERPRETED IN THE MORE GENEROUS SPIRIT SO THAT THEIR WILL MAY BE PRESERVED." (CELSUS)
"In doubtful matters, always the kinder spirit is to be preferred."

(Gaius, renowned Roman jurist of the 2nd century A.D., author of a law textbook called Institutâ)

It was during the later Roman Empire that the great codifications of Roman law were made. In the 5th century A.D., an important codification was made by command of the Emperor Theodosius the Great. In the 6th century A.D., as we have already noted, the most important codification was made under the command of the Emperor Justinian.

As we mentioned before, the code of Justinian (called sometimes by its Latin name, Codex Justiniani or Corpus Juris Civilis) is the foundation of the Roman law used in a very large part of the world today: Roman law today is used in all countries and areas where the Romance languages are spoken. The chief Romance languages are Spanish, French, Portuguese, Italian, Roumanian. These languages are derived from Latin, the language of the ancient Romans. Hence they are called Romance languages.
Frame 17
Turkey also uses Roman law, probably because the Roman Empire survived in what is now Turkey until 1453 A.D. In 1453, the greatness of Constantinople, the last outpost of the Eastern Roman or Byzantine Empire, was captured by the Turks. Note the location of Constantinople on the map in the right hand column. The Turks recognized a good thing like Roman law when they saw it and adopted it for their own empire.

The Eastern Roman or Byzantine Empire helped to preserve ancient Greek and Roman law, literature, culture, and civilization almost to the time of Christopher Columbus.

Frame 18
One important worldwide organization which uses a form of Roman law is the Roman Catholic Church. Its Code of Canon Law is derived from Justinian's Code. The Church, in fact, is sometimes cited as a successor to the Roman Empire in its organization, preservation of classical traditions, the location of its central government in Rome, its use of the Latin language, and, of course, its use of Roman law.
AS WE HAVE NOTED PREVIOUSLY, THE OTHER GREAT SYSTEM OF LAW BEIDES ROMAN LAW USED IN THE WORLD TODAY IS COMMON LAW.

THIS SYSTEM IS USED IN THE UNITED KINGDOM (WHERE IT ORIGINATED), IN THE UNITED STATES, AND IN THE COUNTRIES OF THE COMMONWEALTH (i.e., THE 44 OR SO NATIONS THAT USED TO BE PART OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE AND WHERE ENGLISH IS WIDELY USED).

CAN YOU NAME SOME COMMONWEALTH COUNTRIES?

CHECK WITH A RECENT ENCYCLOPAEDIA FOR A COMPLETE LIST. SOME OF THE MEMBERS OF THE COMMONWEALTH ARE:

CANADA, AUSTRALIA, NEW ZEALAND, NIGERIA, GHANA, KENYA, TANZANIA, THE GAMBIA, GUYANA, BELIZE, JAMAICA, GRENADA, TRINIDAD-TOBAGO, MALTA, CYPRUS, INDIA, BANGLADESH, THE BAHAMAS, BARBADOS, BOTSWANA, DOMINICA, FIJI, KIRIBATA, LESOTHE, MALAWI, MALAYSIA, MAURITIUS, NAURU, PAPUA-NEW GUINEA, ST. LUCIA, THE SEYCHELLES, SIERRA LEONE, SINGAPORE, SOLOMON ISLAND, SRI LANKA, TONGA, TUVULU, WESTERN SAMOA, SWAZILAND, UGANDA, ZAMBIA
SEVERAL ENGLISH-SPEAKING COUNTRIES OUTSIDE THE COMMONWEALTH USE COMMON LAW. THE UNITED STATES IS ONE EXAMPLE. OTHERS ARE IRELAND, BURMA AND PAKISTAN. IN GENERAL, COUNTRIES WHERE ENGLISH IS USED USE COMMON LAW. COUNTRIES WHERE ROMANCE LANGUAGES OR LANGUAGES OTHER THAN ENGLISH ARE USED USE ROMAN LAW.

COMMON LAW IS GREATLY IN DEBT TO ROMAN LAW. IN FACT, COMMON LAW, WHICH TRADITIONALLY HAS RELIED HEAVILY ON LEGAL PRECEDENTS, IS GROWING CLOSER TO ROMAN LAW WITH ITS EMPHASIS ON CODIFICATION. MANY EMINENT LAWYERS HOLD THAT THE STUDY OF ROMAN LAW IS AN EXCELLENT PREPARATION FOR THE PRACTICE OF COMMON LAW. READ IN THE RIGHT-HAND COLUMN WHAT LORD CHIEF JUSTICE HEWART SAID TO THE CANADIAN BAR ASSOCIATION ABOUT ROMAN LAW.

"IT IS IN THEIR COMMAND OF LEADING PRINCIPLES AND THE CERTAINTY WITH WHICH THEY APPLY THOSE PRINCIPLES TO CONCRETE CASES THAT THE ROMAN JURISTS EXCEL. A LAWYER, IT GOES WITHOUT SAYING, ALWAYS SEeks THE PRINCIPLE UNDERLYING THE DECISION OF ANY CASE WHICH HE MAY CONSULT, OR UPON WHICH HE MAY RELY IN ARGUMENT. HE WANTS THE RATIO DECIDED, AND HAVING FOUND IT, ASKS HIMSELF WHAT IS THE REASON FOR THE RULE. WHEN HE HAS OBTAINED CLEAR PERCEPTION OF THE PRINCIPLE, HE IS THE MORE ABLE TO DETERMINE WHETHER THE CASE HE RELIES UPON, THE FACTS WHICH MAY AT FIRST SIGHT APPEAR TO BE ALMOST ON ALL FOURS WITH THOSE OF HIS OWN CASE, REALLY SUPPORT THAT CASE, OR WHETHER THE TWO CASES ARE DISTINGUISHABLE."
THE FAMOUS BRITISH JURIST OF THE 18th CENTURY, SIR WILLIAM BLACKSTONE, WROTE COMMENTARIES ON COMMON LAW. EVEN A CASUAL LOOK AT THE COMMENTARIES WILL REVEAL THE IMPORTANCE OF LATIN PHRASES AND WORDS IN COMMON LAW, AS WELL AS THE INFLUENCE OF ROMAN LAW OVER...

FRAMES 22 and 23

ROMAN LAW FILLS SEVERAL STOUT VOLUMES. WE CAN ONLY LOOK HERE AT A FEW OF ITS FEATURES. IT DEFINES, FOR ONE THING, THE RIGHTS OF A FULL-FLEGGED CIVIS OR CITIZEN. THE RIGHTS INCLUDE: OWNERSHIP OF PROPERTY, DOING BUSINESS, INHERITANCE, WILL-MAKING, MARRIAGE, VOTING, AND OFFICE HOLDING. BEING A CITIZEN WAS CONSIDERED VERY DESIRABLE. A ROMAN CITIZEN COULD SAY WITH PRIDE CIVIS ROMANUS SUM! ("I AM A ROMAN CITIZEN"). IN HIS FAMOUS SPEECH IN BERLIN, PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY QUOTED IN LATIN THIS ANCIENT MAXIM. REPEAT IT SEVERAL TIMES TO YOURSELF UNTIL YOU HAVE LEARNED IT.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY TALKED ABOUT THE PRIDE WITH WHICH PEOPLE IN ANTIQUITY WOULD SAY CIVIS ROMANUS SUM! HE WENT ON TO SAY THAT MODERN PEOPLE COULD SAY WITH THE SAME KIND OF PRIDE ICH BIN EIN BERLINER, WHICH IS GERMAN FOR "I AM A BERLINER."
FRAME 24

Roman law also defined property rights. Such distinctions as absolute ownership and squatters' rights and licensed use are made. These distinctions were important to the Romans and even made their appearance in literature. For instance, the great Roman poet, Lucretius, says that "life is given to none outright, but to all as tenants." Read the Latin of this famous remark from the right-hand column. Lucretius wrote about the atomic theory. You may want to learn more about him in the Encyclopædia.

FRAME 25

The Romans valued contracts highly. They valued written contracts as much as we do, but oral contracts more than we do. In fact, they preferred oral contracts to any other kind. Can you think of an example of an oral contract?

Two examples are:
1. Making a loan from a friend and agreeing to repay the loan by a certain time with no written agreement;
2. Renting an apartment with an oral lease (i.e., a non-written agreement about how much the rent is, etc.).

Oral leases are common in South Philadelphia, Bridesburg, and certain other parts of the city.
SOME OF THE PROCEDURES USED IN ROMAN COURTS ARE INTERESTING AND ARE STILL IN USE TODAY. IN A TRIAL, THE PRAETOR ("JUDGE") DETERMINED WHAT LEGAL PRINCIPLE WAS INVOLVED. THE JUDICES ("JURY" OR "SUBORDINATE JUDGES") FOUND OUT THE FACTS IN THE CASE. THE JUDICES ACTED ON "INSTRUCTIONS" (FORMULA) FROM THE PRAETOR.

MODERN LEGAL PRACTICE, LIKewise, RESERVES POINTS OF LAW TO THE TRAINED JUDGE, WHILE FINDING OUT THE FACTS IS LEFT TO THE COMMON SENSE AND JUDGEMENT OF AN UNTAINED JURY. THE JURY RECEIVES INSTRUCTIONS REGARDING THE LAW FROM THE JUDGE.

ROME NEVER PROVIDED FOR A PUBLIC PROSECUTING ATTORNEY IN CRIMINAL CASES. INSTEAD, THERE WERE VOLUNTARY PROSECUTIONS ON THE PART OF AMBITIOUS YOUNG LAWYERS WITH REPUTATION TO MAKE. CAN YOU THINK OF ANY PROBLEMS THAT MIGHT BE CREATED BY A LACK OF A PUBLIC PROSECUTING ATTORNEY?
Penalties included fines (called multae) or exile from Rome or Italy. In the late Republic, the death penalty was not used very often, and if imposed, it could usually be avoided by voluntary exile. Although exile was a serious punishment for some, it could also be very pleasant.

Under the Empire, penalties grew more severe. The death penalty was used increasingly. Voluntary exile was no longer permitted as a substitute, though distinguished persons convicted of political offences were often permitted to commit suicide. Flogging, beheading, crucifixion, and death in the arena by combat with people or wild animals came into use. Deportation to a remote island, penal servitude, and torture for the examination of witnesses were also put into use. Crucifixion was eventually abolished at the time of Constantine the Great because of religious considerations.
LESSON 11

Objectives

To acquaint pupils with some interesting passages from Greek and Latin literature dealing with the law.

Activities

Have the pupils work through the following frames of programmed learning materials in the way suggested in the previous lesson.
Frame 30

In the frames which follow, we are going to read some interesting passages from Greek and Latin literature pertaining to law. Although we are focusing on legal Latin and Roman law, Greek civilization and literature are so closely connected with Rome that we cannot separate the two.

Frame 31

In early Greek times, the law was simple and primitive. Every murder had to be avenged by a member of the family, which, in turn, led to additional murders in endless cycle. The Furies were divine powers who sprang from the blood of Uranus, the sky, when he was attacked by his son, Saturn, using a sickle. They tracked down murderers and pursued whoever ignored her or his obligation to avenge the blood of a kinsman. The law of vengence, or lex talionis, prevailed—an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth. Copy the term lex talionis onto your answer pad carefully. Then explain what it is in your own words.
THE GREEKS TRANSFORMED THE LEX TALIONIS AND EVOLVED A MORE HUMANE SOLUTION TO THE OBLIGATION FOR REVENGE--A TRIAL IN WHICH A MAN IS JUDGED INNOCENT OR GUILTY
BY A JURY OF HIS PEERS OR EQUALS. THE
MOST FAMOUS EXAMPLE OF THIS TRANSFORMATION IS SEEN IN THE TRILOGY CALLED THE ORESTÉIA
BY AESCHYLUS, THE GREAT GREEK PLAYWRIGHT.
IN THE ORESTÉIA, ORESTES IS DUTY BOUND TO AVENGE THE MURDER OF HIS FATHER, AGAMEMNON.
TO DO SO, HE MUST PERFORM THE HORRENDOUS
DEED OF MURDERING HIS MOTHER, CLYTEMNESTRA.
UNSURE OF WHAT TO DO, ORESTES GOES TO DELPHI TO CONSULT THE ORACLE. APOLLO'S ADVICE IS CLEAR. EVERY DEATH MUST BE AVENGED.
AFTER ORESTES MURDERS HIS MOTHER, THE FURIES
PURSUE HIM RELENTLESSLY. FINALLY, ORESTES
GOES TO ATHENS TO THE WISDOM GODDESS ATHENA; FOR SANCTUARY. THERE, ATHENA SAYS THAT THE CASE IS TOO IMPORTANT TO BE DECIDED BY HER ALONE AND APPOINTS 12 WISE ATHENIANS TO HEAR
THE CASE, WITH HER AS JUDGE.
THE GOD APOLLO WANTS ORESTES TO BE FREE OF THE HOUNDING OF THE FURIES. THE FURIES ARE ANGRY AND CLAIM THAT IT IS THEIR RIGHT AND OBLIGATION TO PURSUE ORESTES, ESPECIALLY SINCE THEY ARE OLDER THAN APOLLO. THE VOTE OF THE JURY IS TIED, 6-6. ATHENA CASTS THE DECIDING VOTE FOR ACQUITTAL. TO SOOTH THE FEELINGS OF THE FURIES, ATHENA OFFERS THEM A PLACE OF HONOR IN HER CITY AS THE EUMÉNIDES, OR DISPENSERS OF BENEFIT AND GOOD FORTUNE.

NOW LET'S READ SOME OF THE STORY OF THE TRIAL IN A TRANSLATION OF THE ORESTÉIA OF AESCHYLUS BY RICHMOND LATTIMORE. REMEMBER THAT YOU ARE READING POETRY THAT IS VERY VERY ANCIENT. QUESTIONS APPEAR IN THE RIGHT-HAND COLUMN TO HELP YOU APPRECIATE THE POETRY. THE SCENE OPENS WITH ORESTES SPEAKING TO THE WISDOM GODDESS, ATHENA.

Orestes: Lady Athene, first I will take the difficult thought away that lies in these last words you spoke. I am of Argos and it is to my honor that you ask the name of my father, Agamemnon, lord of seafarers, and your companion when you made the Trojan city of Ilium no city any more. He died without honor when he came home. It was my mother of the dark heart, who entangled him in subtle gyves and cut him down. The bath is witness to his death. I was an exile in the time before this. I came back and killed the woman who gave me birth. I plead guilty
My father was dear, and this was vengeance for his blood. Apollo shares responsibility for this. He counterspurred my heart and told me of pains to come if I should fail to act against the guilty ones. This is my case. Decide if it be right or wrong. I am in your hands. Where my fate falls, I shall accept.

Athene:

The matter is too big for any mortal man who thinks he can judge it. Even I have not the right to analyse cases of murder where wrath's edge is sharp, and all the more since you have come and clung a clean and innocent supplicant, against my doors. You bring no harm to my city. I respect your rights. Yet these, too, have their work. We cannot brush them aside, and if this action so runs that they fail to win, the venom of their resolution will return, to infect the soil, and sicken all my land to death. Here is dilemma. Whether I let them stay or drive them off, it is a hard course and will hurt. Then, since the burden of the case is here, and rests on me, I shall select judges of manslaughter, and swear them in, establish a court into all time to come.

Litigants, call your witnesses, have ready your proofs as evidence under bond to keep this case secure. I will pick the finest of my citizens, and come back. They shall swear to make no judgement that is not just, and make clear where in this action the truth lies.

(Exit)

(Eumenides 443 et seq.)

FRAME 35

Chorus of Furies:

Here is overthrow of all the young laws, if the claim of this matricide shall stand good, his crime be sustained. Should this be, every man will find a way to act at his own caprice; over and over again in time to come, parents shall await the deathstroke at this children's hands.

We are the Angry Ones. But we shall watch no more over works of men, and so act. We shall let loose indiscriminate death. Man shall learn from man's lot, forejudge the evils of his neighbor's case, see respite and windfall in storm; pathetic prophet who consoles with strengthless cures, in vain.

a. Who was Agamemnon?

b. How did Agamemnon die according to Orestes?

c. Why does Athena want to establish a court for "all time to come?"

d. Athena is the symbol and personification of wisdom and, in a sense, is wisdom. Is she saying that "the finest of her citizens are wiser than wisdom itself?"

e. Do you feel sympathetic towards Orestes? Why, or why not?
Nevermore let one who feels the stroke of accident, uplift his voice and make reply, thus:
"Oh Justice! Throned powers of the Furies, help!"
Such might be the pitiful cry of some father, of the stricken mother, their appeal. Now the House of Justice has collapsed.

There are times when fear is good. It must keep its watchful place at the heart's controls. There is advantage in the wisdom won from pain. Should the city, should the man rear a heart that nowhere goes in fear, how shall such a one any more respect the right?

(Eumenides, 490 et. seq.)

FRAME 36

(Athene re-enters, guiding twelve citizens chosen as jurors and attended by a herald. Other citizens follow.)

Athene:

Herald, make proclamation and hold in the host assembled. Let the stabbing voice of the Etruscan trumpet, blown to the full with mortal wind, crash out its high call to all the assembled populace. For in the filling of this senatorial ground it is best for all the city to be silent and learn the measures I have laid down into the rest of time. So too these litigants, that their case be fairly tried.

(Trumpet call. All take their places. Enter Apollo.)

Chorus:

My lord Apollo, rule within your own domain What in this matter has to do with you? Declare.

Apollo:

I come to testify. This man, by observed law, came to be as suppliant, took his place by hearth and hall, and it was I who cleaned him of the stain of blood. I have also come to help him win his case. I bear responsibility for his mother's murder.

(To Athene) You who know the rules, initiate the trial, preside.
Athene (to the Furies):

I declare the trial opened. Yours is the first word. For it must justly be the pursuer who speaks first and opens the case, and makes plain what the action is.

Chorus:

We are many, but we shall cut it short. You, then word against word answer our charges one by one Say first, did you kill your mother or did you not?

Orestes:

Yes, I killed her. There shall be no denial of that.

Chorus:

There are three falls in the match and one has gone to us.

Orestes:

So you say. But you have not even thrown your man

Chorus:

So, Then how did you kill her? You are bound to say.

Orestes:

I do. With drawn sword in my hand I cut her throat.

Chorus:

By whole persuasion and advice did you do this?

Orestes:

By order of this god, here. So he testifies.

Chorus:

The prophet guided you into this matricide?

Orestes:

Yes. I have never complained of this. I do not now.

Chorus:

When sentence seizes you, you will talk a different way.

Orestes:

I have no fear. My father will aid me from the grave.

Chorus:

Kill your mother, then put trust in a corpse! Trust on.
Orestes:
Yes. She was dirtied twice over with disgrace.

Chorus:
Tell me how, and explain it to the judges here.

Orestes:
She murdered her husband, and thereby my father too.

Chorus:
Of this stain, death has set her free. But you still live.

Orestes:
When she lived, why did you not descend and drive her out?

Chorus:
The man she killed was not of blood congenital.

Orestes:
But I am then involved with my mother by blood-bond?

Chorus:
Murderer, yes. How else could she have nursed you beneath her heart? Do you forswear your mother's intimate blood?

(Eumenides, 566 et seq.)

FRAME 37

Orestes:
Yours to bear witness now, Apollo, and expound the case for me, if I was right to cut her down. I will not deny I did this thing, because I did do it. But was the bloodshed right or not? Decide and answer. As you answer, I shall state my case.

Apollo:
To you, established by Athene in your power, I shall speak justly. I am a prophet, I shall not lie. Never, for man, woman, nor city, from my throne of prophecy have I spoken a word, except that which Zeus, father of Olympians, might command. This is justice. Recognize then how great its strength. I tell you, follow our father's will. For not even the oath that binds you is more strong than Zeus is strong.

Orestes:
This is the end for me. The noose, or else the light.
Chorus:
Here our destruction, or our high duties confirmed.

Apollo:
Shake out the votes accurately, Athenian friends. Be careful as you pick them up. Make no mistake. In the lapse of judgement great disaster comes. The cast of a single ballot has restored a house entire.

Athene:
The man before us has escaped the charge of blood. The ballots are in equal number for each side.

(Eumenides, 609 et. seq.)

FRAME 38
As you remember, Athena casts the deciding vote for acquittal. Athena offers the Furies a place of honor in her city as the Eumenides or dispensers of benefits and good fortune.

FRAME 39
Another famous trial in the Greek tradition was the trial and death of Socrates. Socrates was a great teacher, one of the greatest in the history of the world. He saw himself as a gadfly who went about stimulating his students to think. He was known for using the so-called Socratic method, which involved repeated and pointed questioning designed to elicit the truth. Socrates had an unkempt appearance. He developed many enemies over the years who resented his excellence as a teacher.

In the spring of 399 B.C., when Socrates was 70 years old, he was accused of impiety and corrupting the youth. The chief accuser was a man named Meletus.

FRAME 40
Socrates never wrote any books. His famous student, Plato, wrote dialogues in which Socrates is a leading figure. One famous dialogue is the Apology which is the defense Socrates made before the court, according to Plato. We will read some extracts from this very beautiful dialogue. Socrates is speaking. Questions appear in the right-hand column to help you.
I speak rather because I am convinced that I never intentionally wronged anyone, although I cannot convince you—the time has been too short; if there were a law at Athens, as there is in other cities, that a capital cause should not be decided in one day, then I believe that I should have convinced you. But I cannot in a moment refute great slanders; and, as I am convinced that I never wronged another, I will assuredly not wrong myself. I will not say of myself that I deserve any evil, or propose any penalty. Why should I? Because I am afraid of the penalty of death which Meletus proposes? When I do not know whether death is a good or an evil, why should I propose a penalty which would certainly be an evil? Shall I say imprisonment? And why should I live in prison, and be the slave of the magistrates of the year—of the Eleven? Or shall the penalty be a fine, and imprisonment until the fine is paid? There is the same objection. Should have to lie in prison, for money I have none and cannot pay. And if I say exile (and this may possibly be the penalty which you will affix), I must indeed be blinded by the love of life, if I am so irrational as to expect that when you, who are my own citizens, cannot endure my discourses and words, and have found them so grievous and odious that you will have no more of them, others are likely to endure me. No indeed, men of Athens, that is not very likely. And what a life should I lead; at my age, wandering from city to city, ever changing my place of exile, and always being driven out! For I am quite sure that wherever I go, there, as here, the young men will flock to me; and if I drive them away, their elders will drive me out at their request; and if I let them come, their fathers and friends will drive me out for their sakes.

Wherefore, O judges, be of good cheer about death, and know of a certainty, that no evil can happen to a good man, either in life or after death. He and his are not neglected by the gods; nor has my own approaching end happened by mere chance. But I see clearly that the time had arrived when it was better for me to die and be released from trouble; wherefore the oracle gave no sign. For which reason, also, I am not angry with my condemners, or with my accusers; they have done me no harm, although they did not mean to do me any good; and for this I may gently blame them. Still I have a favour to ask of them. When my sons are grown up, I would ask you, O my friends, to punish them; and I would have you trouble them, as I have troubled you, if they seem to care about riches, or anything, more than about virtue; or if they pretend to be something when they are really nothing—then reprove them, as I have reproved you, for not caring about that a. What does Socrates say about deciding cases in one day?

b. What does Socrates think of exile as a penalty?
c. Do you agree with him?

a. What does Socrates think about death?
b. What request does Socrates make about his sons?
c. Why did Socrates think the death penalty was particularly foolish? for which they ought to care and thinking that they are something when they are really nothing. And if you do this, both I and my sons will have received justice at your hands.

The hour of departure has arrived, and we go our ways--I to die, and you to live. Which is better, God only knows.

FRAME 43

The high moral character and genuine religious faith of Socrates are made abundantly clear throughout this whole discourse. It would seem almost incredible that the Athenian court voted for his condemnation. His condemnation is explained by the general hostility produced by or resulting from his causing people to examine and question things. He was sentenced to death and died by drinking hemlock.

One of Socrates' most famous remarks was that "the unexamined life is not worth living." At no extra charge we are giving you this remark in the original Greek followed by a transliteration into Roman letters. Try to pronounce the transliteration. Then compare the transliteration with the original.

Ω ἄνεξήταστος ὁ ἄνθρωπος

Bios ou biotos

ἀνεξήταστος

ho anexetastos

bios ou biotos

anthropo.
CICERO WAS A FAMOUS LAWYER OF THE LATE ROMAN REPUBLIC. HE WAS ALSO A GREAT POLITICAL FIGURE AND AUTHOR. MANY OF HIS SPEECHES WERE WRITTEN TO DEFEND CLIENTS IN COURT.

ONCE, FOR EXAMPLE, CICERO HAD TO DEFEND A GANG LEADER AND HOOLIGAN NAMED MILO, WHO WAS ACCUSED OF MURDERING ANOTHER GANG LEADER AND HOOLIGAN NAMED CLODIUS, OF THE GREAT AND NOBLE CLAUDIAN FAMILY.

CICERO'S SPEECH IN MILO'S DEFENSE IS A MODEL OF SPECIAL PLEADING. IN FACT, MODERN LAWYERS STILL STUDY IT. IT APPEALS TO EMOTION AND POLITICAL RANCOUR; IT ENDEAVORS TO PUT MILO'S CONDUCT IN FAVOURABLE CONTRAST TO THAT OF CLODIUS, BY ASTUTE SUGGESTION AND SUPPRESSION. WE WILL ONLY HAVE TIME HERE TO READ BRIEF EXTRACTS FROM THE SPEECH. READ THE ENGLISH TRANSLATION FIRST IN THE LEFT-HAND COLUMN. THEN READ THE ORIGINAL LATIN IN THE RIGHT-HAND COLUMN. THE LATIN WILL GIVE YOU SOME OF THE SENSE OF CICERO'S GRAND STYLE.
For myself, gentlemen, all life and spirit is taken out of me by those words of Milo which ring ever in my ears and amid which I daily move: "Farewell!" he cries, "farewell, my fellow-citizens! Security—success—prosperity be theirs! Long may this city, my beloved fatherland, remain glorious, however ill she may have treated me! May my countrymen rest in full and peaceful enjoyment of their constitution, an enjoyment from which, since I may not share it, I shall stand aloof, but which none the less is owed to myself! I shall pass and go hence. If it shall not be mine to live under good government, at least I shall be saved from bad, and in the first well-ordered and free community where I shall set foot, there I shall find repose. Alas! that I must see my labours disfigured, my dreams unrealized!

When the constitution lay in the dust, and I, as tribune of the plebs, had put myself at the disposal of the Senate, whom I had found annihilated, of the Roman knights, whose power was weakened, of all you as a second father? What to you, Quintus my brother, who now are far away, but who shared with me my hours of bitterness? Shall I say that I was unable to protect Milo's warfare by the aid of the same men who had enabled him to protect my own? Unable in what a cause? A cause that all nations approved. Unable to protect Lim from whom? From those who found the most relief by the crossing of the Rubicon, and who, and who...

Me quidem, iūdices, examingānt et interium hae voce Milonis, quas audeo adducēre et quibus interum colīde: "Valeant," inquit, "vāleant eīvēs miō; sīnt inæquales, sint sintūntāres, sint bāti; stet hāce urbs praeclara mīhique pātria carissima, quoquo modo egrīt merita de me; tranquilla reā publicae miō eīvēs, quōniam miēi cum illīs non licet, sine mi īpse, sec propter me tāren perfœctūrū; ego cēdam atque abīvo: si mihi bona reā publicae fruā non licerēt, at carēbo māla, et quam primum tēgīerē bene morātām et libērām civitātem, in ea conquēam. O frustra" inquit "mihi suscepī labōres! O spēs fallīcēs et cogitātiones inānes meae! Ego cum tribūnus plebis reā publicae oppressa me senātūdi dedīsem, quem extinctum accēperam, equītibus Romanīs, quorum vires erant deōtēs, bonī visīs, qui omēm parentēm alterum pytūant? Quid tibi, Quinte frater, quī munē absc, consorts mi cūnam tampōrum ilipsum? Mone non potissiē Milonis salutem tuōri per eōden, per quos nostram illam servāsent? At in qua causa non potissiē? Quo gēt grātī gentībus ōmulūs. A quibus non potissiē? Ab eā, qui māxime P. Cōdii mortē aeqūierunt. Quo deprecatē? Me. Quōdēm ego contegī tantum secūrī aut quid in me tātum faciūs admissi, iūdices, enum illa inficiā commūnis exītī indigāvi, putātē si, putātē, existiō! Omnes in me mēquē reūΝīunt ex fonte illo dolōres. Quīd me redūcēm esse volūsīus? An ut inspēcūant ē mi expedēntūrū, ei, per quos essēm rēstitūtū? Nōlite, obsērō vos, accepīrm mihi pati rēstitūtū esse, quam fūcrīt ille ipse discēssū; jam qui possim patēre mi rēstitūtū esse, si distrēner ab hīs, per quos rēstitūtū sum?

XXXIV. Sed iam satis multa de causa, extra causam etiam nimis fortasse multa. Quid restat nisi ut orem obtenterque vos, iūdices, ut exercitātīm tribūtās fortissimā virō, quam. ipse non imporat, ego etiam repugnāntē hoe et implorō et expōso? Nōlite, si in nostro omnium fletu nullam larīnām apēxesīsilis Milonis, sī vōltumsemper ūndum, si yecum, si orbitētēm stabilem ac non mutātām visidēt, hōc minus ei parēcē: haud scio an multō sit etiam adiuāvānles magis: etenim si in gladiatorīs pugnis et inflixī generēs hominum conditiones atque fratūnim omiđicā atque supplerēs et ut vivēre liēcēt observātūs etiam orēre solēmus, fortēs atque animōsās et suōtīripō morti sīc. ὶcis servāre επίμοιον, καταρακτύμενα της ἑυτῆς οὐκετήριον, quae nondum misericōrdiam non requirant, quam qui illam effāgiant, quanto hoc magis in fortissimis civibus facēre debēmus?

Do you think that Cicero would have made a good television soap opera lawyer?
XXXVIII. Would that the immortal gods had brought it about—for the wish, O my country!—for I fear lest expressions that are dutiful to Milo's cause may be treasonable to thee—would that Publius Clodius, not merely licid, but were praetor, consul, dictator, indeed, and one whose life, and whose, you may well preserve! "Nay, nay!" he cried. 'Tis well that he has paid a penalty that he deserves; let me, if fate so ordains, submit to one that I deserve not!"

Shall this man, born for his country, die anywhere save in that country, or, it may be, in that country's cause? Will you retain the memorials of his heroism, and will you suffer no sepulchre for his body in all Italy? Shall any man by his free vote banish from this city one whom, when banished by you, all cities will welcome to themselves? O happy land, that shall give a haven to this hero! Ungrateful this, if it shall cast him forth! Unhappy, if it shall lose him!

But no more. Indeed I can no longer speak for tears, and my client forbids that tears should plead his cause. I implore and beseech you, gentlemen, have the courage of your convictions in recording your votes. Your courage, justice, and honour will, believe me, meet with high approval from him who, in his choice of the jury, has fixed upon the best, the wisest, and the most brave.

XXXVIII. Ultimam di immortales fecissent—pace tua, patria, dixerim: nemo enim ne secretere dicam in te quod pro Milone dixi—ultima P. Clodius non modo viveret, sed etiam praetor, consul, dictator esset potius quam hoc spectaculum viderem! O di immortales! Fortem et a volvis, iudices, conservandam virum! "Minimim, minimim"; inquit "immo vero poenas ille debitis lucit: nos subeamus, si ille necesse est, non debitis." Hicene vir patriae natus usquam nisi in patria morietur, aut, si forte, pro patria? Huius vos animi monumenta retinibus, corporis in Italia nullum sepulcrum esse patiCmini?

Hinc sine quisquam sententia ex hac urbe expellet, quem nonur urbes expulsam a volvis ad se vocantum? O terram ilam beantam, quo hunc virum exceperit, hanc ingratam, si cicerit, nikeram, si amiserit!

Sei finit sit; neque enim praet Lierinis iniqui possunt, et hic se Lierinis defendi vetat. Vos omne obtestoque, iudices, ut in sententias serendis, quod sentiatis, in audiletis. Vestram virtutem, iustitiam, fidem, milii credite, is maxime probabit, qui in iudicibus legendis optimum et sapientissimum et fortissimum quomque eligit.
The orations of Cicero against Catiline are among the most famous legal orations that Cicero wrote. Catiline was a member of the Roman Senate and apparently the leader of a conspiracy against the Republic. At a meeting of the Senate, Cicero condemned Catiline in the strongest possible terms while Catiline was present. In some ways, the Catilinarian conspiracy resembled the Watergate conspiracy. In the case of the Catilinarian conspiracy, most of the evidence is from Cicero's point of view. We can't go into the details of the conspiracy here, but you might want to do so on your own. The conspiracy is a fascinating topic.

A few lines from Cicero's first speech against Catiline are very famous. Students of Latin often memorize them. Read them first in English and then in the right-hand column in Latin. If you feel "How far I ask you, Catiline, will you abuse our patience? How long will this madness of yours make sport of us? To what end will this unbridled boldness make itself conspicuous?...Oh what times! Oh what a situation."

Quo usque tandem abutere. Catilina patiēntia nostra?
Quam diu ētiam furor iste tuus nos elūdet?
Quem ad finem sese effrenāta jactābit audācia?
...O tēmpora! O mores!

a. Do you think that modern lawyers try to live up to the ideal that Cicero expresses?

b. Do you agree that a lawyer should be non minus juris consultus quam justitiae? Why, or why not?

Another genial and kindly author who practiced law in ancient Rome (in the 1st century A.D., after Cicero's time) was Pliny the Younger. Inexperienced lawyers in his day were trained in the so-called centumviral or "hundred men"...
REAITPLINY'S DESCRIPTION OF THE

HUNDRED MEN COURT:

The business there (he says) is more fatiguing than pleasant. The cases are mostly trifle and inconsiderable. Rarely is there one worth speaking in either from the importance of the question or from the rank of the parties. There are few advocates there I take any pleasure in working with. The rest, a lot of imprudent young fellows, many of whom we know nothing about, come here to gain practice in speaking and conduct themselves with such forwardness and such an utter want of deference, that my friend Attilius put it exactly when he said, "Boys set out at the bar with cases in the Hundred Court, just as they do at school with Homer," meaning that they begin with what they ought to end. But in former times, so my elders tell me, no youth even of the lowest families was allowed in court unless introduced by some person of consular dignity. As things are now, all distinctions are leveled and the present young generation, instead of waiting to be introduced, break in of their own accord. The audience at their heels is worthy of such orators. It is a low rabble of hired mercenaries supplied by contract. They get together in the middle of the court, where the dole is dealt out openly to them...This dirty business increases every day. Only yesterday, two of my household were paid fifty cents apiece to cheer somebody or other. This is what the higher eloquence goes for. The leader of the gang stands up and signals for applause; most of the thick-headed fellows know nothing about what is said and must have a signal. If you hear cheering in the court, you know that the one who gets the most applause deserves it the least. Licinius began this by asking his friends to come and hear him. My tutor Quintillian told me that the great lawyer Domitius Afer was once speaking in his usual slow and impressive way, when he heard near him in another court a great applauding. He stopped until the noise ceased. He began again and was interrupted a second and a third time. He asked them, "Who is speaking?" "Licinius," he was told, upon which he broke off his speech, saying, "Eloquence is no more." But then it had simply begun to decline; now it is almost extinct. I stay in the court because of my years and the interests of my friends, as I fear they would think I stayed out to avoid work, rather than these indecencies, but I am effecting a gradual retreat.

(Epistulae 2.14)

It is necessary that imperial majesty be decorated not only with arms, but also armed with laws, so that both in war and peace the nation can be rightly governed and so that the Roman Emperor may be a conqueror not only in battles with the enemy, but even through legal channels while expelling the wickedness of false accusers. Let him also become a most vigorous advocate of the law, as he is a most vigorous conqueror in vanquishing the enemy.

a. Why do you think Justinian lists his various titles at the beginning of the Codex?

b. Why does Justinian think that "imperial majesty" must have laws as well as weapons?
MANY LEGAL DOCUMENTS HAVE BEEN WRITTEN IN LATIN THROUGH THE AGES. ONE OF THE MOST FAMOUS IS THE MAGNA CHARTA OR GREAT CHARTER. THIS DOCUMENT WAS ONE OF THE EARLIEST IN HISTORY TO RECOGNIZE THE RIGHTS OF THE COMMON MAN. IT WAS GIVEN BY KING JOHN OF ENGLAND TO THE BARONS AT RUNNYMÈDE IN 1215. HERE ARE SOME BRIEF EXTRACTS FROM THIS DOCUMENT TO HELP GIVE YOU ITS "FLAVOR." READ THE ENGLISH FIRST AND THEN THE LATIN:

"Let no free person be taken into captivity or imprisoned. We shall not pass sentence on people except through the legal judgment of their peers or through the law of the land. We shall not sell to anyone or deny to anyone or postpone for anyone right or justice. Let all merchants have safe and secure exit from England and through England as much on land as on the water for buying and selling... Therefore we wish and firmly command that people in our kingdom have and hold all liberties, rights, and concessions well and in peace, freely and quietly, fully and wholly, for themselves and their heirs... in every matter and place forever... It has been sworn, however, by us and the barons that all their provisions will be preserved in good faith and without evil intent. Given by our hand in the meadow which is called Runnymede... on the 15th day of June and in the 17th year of our reign."

Nullus liber homo capiátur, vel imprisonétur... nec super eum mittemus nisi per legálé judicium párium suórum vel per legem terrae. Nulli vendémus, nulli negábimus, aut différímus rectum aut justitiam. Omnes mercatóres hábeant salvum et securum exire ab Ánglia, et venire in Angliam, morári et ire per Ángliam, tam per terram quam per aquam, ad eméndum et vendéndum... Quare volumus et firmiter praecipimus... quod hómines in regno nostro hábeant et teneant omnes... libertátes, jura et concesiones, bene et in pace, libere et quiéte, plene et íntegre, sibi et haerédibus suis... in omnibus rebus et locis, in perpetúum... Jurátum est autem, tam ex parte nostra, quam ex parte barónum, quod haec ómnia... bona fide et sine malo íngénio servábuntur... Data per manum nostram in prato quod vocátur Runnimède... quintó décimo die Júniì, anno regni nostri séptimo décimo.

a. Notice that King John refers to himself in the plural, as is customary for monarchs. Does the plural lend weight or force to the document?

b. What rights do merchants have under the Magna Charta?
A FAMOUS PASSAGE ABOUT LAW IS FOUND IN A GREAT BOOK BY THE 13th CENTURY PHILOSOPHER, THOMAS AQUINAS, CALLED SUMMA THEOLÓGICA. IN THE SUMMA, THOMAS AQUINAS GIVES HIS FAMOUS DEFINITION OF LAW. HE SAYS: "LAW IS A CERTAIN ORDINANCE OF REASON FOR THE COMMON GOOD PROMULGATED BY HIM WHO HAS CARE OF THE COMMUNITY." --LEX EST QUÆDAM ORDINATIO RATIONIS AD BONUM COMMUNEM AB EO QUI CURAM COMMUNITATIS HABET

TRY TO LIST THE 4 CHARACTERISTICS OF LAW ACCORDING TO AQUINAS.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Characteristic</th>
<th>Latin Phrase</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. It is an ordinance of reason, i.e., a reasonable rule.</td>
<td>quaedam ordinatio rationis</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. It has fostering of the common good as its purpose.</td>
<td>ad bonum communem</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. It must be promulgated, i.e., publicized.</td>
<td>promulgata</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. It comes from the person who has care of the community, i.e., the government.</td>
<td>ab eo qui curam communis habet</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
THE FOLLOWING EXTRACT IS TAKEN FROM THOMAS AQUINAS. IT WILL GIVE YOU SOME NOTION ABOUT HOW THOMAS AQUINAS HANDLES QUESTIONS AND TOPICS:

Question 96: Fourth Article

Whether Promulgation is Essential to Law?

We proceed thus to the fourth Article:

Objection 1. It would seem that promulgation is not essential to law. For the natural law, above all, has the character of law. But the natural law needs no promulgation. Therefore, it is not essential to law that it be promulgated.

Objection 2. Further, it belongs properly to law to bind one to do or not to do something. But the obligation of fulfilling a law touches not only those in whose presence it is promulgated, but also others. Therefore, promulgation is not essential to law.

Objection 3. Further, the binding force of law extends even to the future, since laws are binding in matters of the future, as the jurists say. But promulgation concerns those who are present. Therefore, it is not essential to law.

On the contrary, it is laid down in the Decretals that laws are established when they are promulgated.

I answer that, as was stated above, a law is imposed on others as a rule and measure. Now a rule or measure is imposed by being applied to those who are to be ruled and measured by it. Therefore, in order that a law obtain the binding force which is proper to a law, it must needs be applied to the men who have to be ruled by it. But such application is made by its being made known to them by promulgation. Therefore, promulgation is necessary for law to obtain its force.

Thus, from the four preceding articles, the definition of law may be gathered. Law is nothing else than an ordinance of reason for the common good, promulgated by him who has the care of the community.

Reply Obj. 1. The natural law is promulgated by the very fact that God instilled it into man's mind so as to be known to him naturally.

Reply Obj. 2. Those who are not present when a law is promulgated are bound to observe the law, in so far as it is made known or can be made known to them by others, after it has been promulgated.

Reply Obj. 3. The promulgation that takes place in the present extends to future time by reason of the durability of written characters, by which means it is continually promulgated. Hence Isadore says that lex (law) is derived from legere (to read) because it is written.
WE WILL END THIS BRIEF SURVEY OF GREEK AND LATIN LITERATURE AND THE LAW WITH SOME QUESTIONS FROM PROMINENT AMERICAN LAWYERS ON THE VALUE OF CLASSICAL LANGUAGE
BACKGROUND TO A LAWYER.

"A lawyer must needs study uninteresting old statutes, dry and ancient blue books, stupid, antiquated ordinances, early black-letter preced-dents, to find out what the law is and what his client's rights are. Unless he can study alertly, patiently, and discriminately, all these uninteresting, hard, and dry sources of the law and bases of rights, he will never reach the higher walk of his profession. Many men have natural aptitude for this. Many men have such superior ambition and industry that they will learn how to do this work when the necessity for it overtakes them. Of them we do not speak.
But for the average youth who aims to become a lawyer, there is great need that he be given special training in the interpretation of documents which are uninteresting, hard, and dry. He will have no end of it to do in his profession. He should conquer this preliminary difficulty before he enters upon his work. And while hard work for hard work's sake is a solecism, hard work in something worthwhile, for the strength and skill to be gained thereby, is the essence of all disciplinary education. And this applies to the study of the classics by the would-be lawyer." Meritt Starr, of the Chicago Bar

"In my opinion, everyone entering upon the profession of law should be a proficient Latin scholar."
John J. Healy, Former State's Attorney for Cook County, Illinois.
LESSON 12

Objectives

To introduce orally and then in written form the following legal Latin expressions used in English, including some terms from international law:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>LATIN EXPRESSION</th>
<th>LITERAL MEANING</th>
<th>SPECIAL MEANING, IF ANY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>mandamus</td>
<td>we command</td>
<td>a writ issued by a superior court ordering that something be done</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>certiorari</td>
<td>to be informed</td>
<td>a writ from a higher court to a lower court requesting a transcript of proceedings in a case for review</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(defunctus) sine prole</td>
<td>(dead) without issue</td>
<td>(a deceased person) with no children or descendants</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>nunc pro tunc</td>
<td>now for then</td>
<td>to have effect as of an earlier date when it ought to have been made, done, or recorded</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ad valorem</td>
<td>according to the value</td>
<td>in proportion to the value</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>affidavit</td>
<td>he has pledged</td>
<td>a sworn statement</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a priori</td>
<td>from the previous causes or hypotheses</td>
<td>proceeding from cause to effect, deductive, based on hypothesis or theory, not supported by factual study</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a posteriori</td>
<td>from the subsequent</td>
<td>reasoning from facts to general principles or from effects to causes</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pendente lite</td>
<td>while the litigation is in progress</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>lis pendens</td>
<td>a suit in progress</td>
<td>argument directed at one's prejudices, rather than one's intellect</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ad hominem</td>
<td>to the man</td>
<td>argument directed at one's prejudices, rather than one's intellect</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>casus belli</td>
<td>occasion of war</td>
<td>an act or event that justifies a declaration of war</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mare clausum</td>
<td>a closed sea</td>
<td>a sea that is under the jurisdiction of one nation only</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mare liberum</td>
<td>a free sea</td>
<td>a sea that is open to the navigation of all nations</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ab initio</td>
<td>from the beginning</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
LATIN EXPRESSION | LITERAL MEANING | SPECIAL MEANING, IF ANY
--- | --- | ---
status quo ante bellum | the situation as it was before the war |
Sui juris | of his or her own right | of full legal capacity
Sui généris | of its own kind | unique

Activities

1. Approach the chart given in the Objectives in the usual fashion orally. In connection with the term certiorári, you might note the common anglicized pronunciation sershoraree. You might note that the terms casus belli, mare clausum, mare liberum and status quo ante bellum are used in international law in treaties and agreements between and among nations.

2. Ask the pupils to indicate whether each of the following statements is true or false:
   a. A sales tax of 5% of the price of an item is an ad valórem tax. (T)
   b. A court could issue a writ of mandamus requiring a school system to desegregate its schools. (T)
   c. A certiorári is issued when there is need for a higher court to review the work of a lower court. (T)
   d. A deceased person without children might be described in a will as defunctus sine prole. (T)
   e. Witnesses are asked to sign an affidávit. (T)
   f. A tax cut to take effect in January of the preceding year would be approved nunc pro tunc. (T)
   g. Attorneys are reluctant to discuss the specifics of a case pendente lite. (T) h. A prióri argumentation goes from the general theory or hypothesis to the specifics of a case. For example: John is a very good citizen; therefore, he would never commit burglary. (T)
   i. A posteriórí argumentation goes from the specific facts to general principles. For example: John was arrested for burglary on February 2, March 1, and April 15; therefore, he is a crook. (T)
   j. Ad hómínum arguments are directed at the prejudices of people rather than to the merits of the issue itself. (T)
   k. The casus belli clause of a peace treaty lists the occasions or events that justify the declaration of war. (T)
   l. The Atlantic Ocean is a mare liberum. (T)
   m. The Pacific Ocean is a mare clausum. (F)
   n. Washington, D.C. has not been the capital of the United States ab initio. (T)
   o. When the Korean War finally ended, the status quo ante bellum was almost restored. (T)
   p. In order to vote in an election, a person must be sui juris. (T)
   q. A case that is unique could be called sui généris. (T)
1. Before buying a house, it is important to check at the Recorder of Deeds to see whether anyone has a lis pendens against the property. (T)

3. After pupils have mastered the expressions aurally and orally, have them practice reading and writing through the following word game.

WORDGAME F

JUSTITIA OR JUSTICE OR LADY JUSTICE IS THE ROMAN GODDESS ASSOCIATED WITH THE LAW. SHE IS BLIND AND FREQUENTLY CARRIES SCALES (LIBRA IN LATIN). SHE REPRESENTS LAW AND IS THE SYMBOL OF THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE IN THE UNITED STATES. (THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT APPROPRIATELY HAS FOR ITS MOTTO THE LATIN PHRASE QUI PRO DOMINA JUSTITIA SEQUITUR—"WHICH PROSECUTES ON BEHALF OF LADY JUSTICE.")

Take the Latin expressions from the lips of Lady Justice and fit them into the sentences below:

1. _______ arguments, which appeal to people's prejudices rather than to cool reason are among the weakest kind of arguments.

2. An injunction is a court order prohibiting something; a _______ on the other hand, is a court order commanding that some thing be done.

3. The judge told the jury not to discuss the case _______ _______.

4. The following is an example of _______ logic: All cats are animals. Claudius is a cat. Therefore, Claudius is an animal.

5. The following is an example of _______ logic: Claudius the cat is an animal. Octavia the cat is an animal. Bad News Jimmy the cat is an animal. Whiskers the cat is an animal. Therefore, all cats are animals.

6. When a case is appealed to the Supreme Court, the Supreme Court will issue a writ of _______ in order to be informed of what the proceedings were in a lower court.
7. Howard Hughes, the deceased millionaire with no children would be described in legal terms as _______ _______.

8. A suit against a property at a time when the property was being sold would be known as a _______ _______.

9. When the Internal Revenue Service orders people to pay for previous years that did not originally seem due, it does so _______ _______.

10. Police will ask a witness of a mugging to sign an _______.

11. A tax on restaurant bills that varied with the size of the bill is an _______ tax.

12. An heir is often required to be _______ in order to use inherited money.

13. When the state of Israel restored the Sinai to Egyptian control, it restored, in effect, the _______ _______.

14. The Caspian Sea in the Soviet Union is a clear-cut example of a _______, since it is totally surrounded by Soviet territory.

15. A case which was unique and which involved a new point of law rather than precedents would be called _______.

16. The Mediterranean Sea is open to the traffic of all nations and is an example in international law of a _______.

17. India has been a democracy since it first became an independent country in 1947; therefore it has been a democracy _______.

18. The Argentine invasion of the Falkland Islands was really a _______.

LESSON 13

Objectives

1. To introduce (or review) orally and then in written form the following legal Latin expressions used in English in connection with divorces, trusts, and estates.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>LATIN EXPRESSION</th>
<th>LITERAL MEANING</th>
<th>SPECIAL MEANING, IF ANY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>a mensa et thoro</td>
<td>from table and couch</td>
<td>a type of divorce which terminates the obligation and right of cohabitation, but leaves the marriage intact otherwise; this type of divorce is also called a legal separation</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>a vinculo matrimonii</td>
<td>from the bond of marriage</td>
<td>a type of divorce which dissolves the marriage</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>inter vivos</td>
<td>among the living</td>
<td>a type of trust created during the lifetime of the trustor.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>per capita</td>
<td>by heads, individually</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>per stirpes</td>
<td>by the stalk or stem</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>LATIN EXPRESSION</td>
<td>LITERAL MEANING</td>
<td>SPECIAL MEANING, IF ANY</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>----------------------------------</td>
<td>-----------------------------------------</td>
<td>----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>administrítor cum testámento annéxo (c.t.a.)</td>
<td>an administrator with the connected will</td>
<td>someone appointed by the Registrar of Wills to administer the terms of a will when the will mentions no executor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>in terrórem</td>
<td>to the frightening, to the terror, for the purpose of frightening</td>
<td>a clause in a will invalidating a bequest if the beneficiary thereof challenges any provision of the will</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>corpus</td>
<td>body</td>
<td>the capital of a fund or trust as distinguished from the income</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>sui juris</td>
<td>of his (her) own right</td>
<td>of full legal capacity</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ultra vires</td>
<td>beyond powers</td>
<td>beyond the scope of one's authority</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>in extrémis</td>
<td>in the last moments, at the point of death</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(defunctus) sine prole</td>
<td>(dead) without issue</td>
<td>(a deceased person) with no children or descendants</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>stare decisis (et non quieta movère)</td>
<td>to stand on what has been decided and not to stir up what is at rest</td>
<td>when a point is settled by a decision, it forms a precedent which is not afterwards to be departed from</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2. To introduce orally (and then in written form) the following legal expressions relating to divorce and wills in terms of their Latin etymologies.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ENGLISH EXPRESSION</th>
<th>LATIN ROOT</th>
<th>MEANING OF EXPRESSION</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>nuncupative will</td>
<td>nuncupáre - &quot;to call, to proclaim public&quot;</td>
<td>an oral will</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>holographic will</td>
<td>holographus - &quot;written entirely in one's own hand&quot; (from the Greek ὅλογραφος)</td>
<td>a will written entirely in one's own hand</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>fiduciary</td>
<td>fidúcia - &quot;trust&quot;</td>
<td>a trustee of a trust or the executive administrator of a will</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>antenuptual agreement</td>
<td>ante - &quot;before&quot; nuptuae - &quot;marriage&quot;</td>
<td>a contract whereby a person about to be married surrenders the right to inherit from his or her intended spouse</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>appellate court</td>
<td>appelláre - &quot;to appeal&quot;</td>
<td>a court having the power to hear appeals and to reverse court decisions; the appellate court is one of the greatest contributions of the Romans to our legal system</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
ENGLISH EXPRESSION | LATIN ROOT | MEANING OF EXPRESSION
---|---|---
venue | venire = "to come" | the locality where a crime is committed or a cause of action occurs

Activities

1. Tell the students that they are going to learn some legal Latin terms and Latin-based terms used in connection with divorces and wills. Tell the following story, in a dramatic fashion. Have pupils echo the Latin terminology and Latinate words underlined. Explain the underlined items in terms of the charts given in the Objectives of this lesson.

CLARENCE AND LACRIMOSA FALL IN LOVE

Once upon a time, Mr. Clarence Claravox fell in love with Ms. Lacrimosa Lexdubia. They decided to marry, but since they were mature people with grown children and grandchildren to whom they each wished to leave their respective estates, they had their attorney (Mr. Hedgeclip of the renowned law firm of Hedgeclip, Uptight, and Churn) draw up an antenuptual agreement. Under the terms of this antenuptual or premarital agreement, both Clarence and Lacrimosa surrendered all rights of inheritance from one another. Mr. Hedgeclip told them that without this antenuptual agreement in Pennsylvania and other states, a spouse gets one-half or one-third of the other's estate regardless of what the will says. Both Clarence and Lacrimosa each wanted their own grandchildren to inherit everything.

When Clarence and Lacrimosa asked if the antenuptial agreement would be upheld, Mr. Hedgeclip explained the appellate courts had already upheld such agreements. According to the principle stare decisis (et non quieta movere) the validity of antenuptual agreements could not be successfully challenged in appellate court.

THEIR DIVORCE

Unfortunately, Clarence and Lacrimosa did not get along after they were married. They decided on a formal separation or divorce a mensa et thoro. The divorce a mensa et thoro was just the beginning. Later, Clarence and Lacrimosa decided to ask Mr. Hedgeclip to arrange a divorce a vinculo matrimonii. The venue was Philadelphia.

CLARENCE MAKES A WILL

After the divorce a vinculo matrimonii, Clarence meets with Mr. Hedgeclip to talk about his will. Clarence is getting on in years, and feels that a will would be a good idea, even though he had already told his grandchildren about his plans. Mr. Hedgeclip explained that in making known his intentions, Clarence had made a nuncupative will... when he was in the hospital after suffering a near-fatal heart attack. Courts, however, look with disfavor on nuncupative wills except in extremis, such as on the battlefield.

Clarence asked, "Couldn't I just write out what I want done with my money?" Mr. Hedgeclip pointed out that such a handwritten or holographic will was valid in Pennsylvania. However, it is better to have witnesses and give the will to a lawyer or trusted friend, lest it be lost or destroyed by a relative who would otherwise get the money under the intestate laws. A fiduciary, executor, or administrador cum testamento annexo might experience some problems with a holographic will, such as establishing that the holographic will was in Clarence's own handwriting, and that he was of sound mind. The administrador c.t.a. must operate only within the scope of his or her authority; otherwise, he or she would be acting ultra vires.

Mr. Hedgeclip explained that since the corpus of Clarence's estate was large, a fiduciary would be needed. If a fiduciary was not mentioned in the will, then the Registrar of Wills would appoint an administrador cum testamento annexo (c.t.a.).

Clarence decided to divide everything evenly among his six grandchildren. Thus, he made his bequests on a per capita basis rather than per stirpes, since he had three sons with one, two and three children respectively. He also decided to establish a testamentary or inter vivos trust for the grandchildren, especially since each grandchild was sui juris.

At the suggestion of Mr. Hedgeclip, he added an in terrorem clause to discourage squabbles among his grandchildren. Mr. Hedgeclip joked that, if Clarence had been defunctus sine prole, things might have been simpler for the firm of Hedgeclip, Uptight and Churn. At any rate, the firm would be careful not to act ultra vires.

2. Now approach the charts in the Objectives in the usual fashion. Have pupils echo the expressions chorally and individually.

3. Have the pupils work through Wordgames G and H.

WORDGAME G

Choose the correct ending for each sentence. Then check your work with the answer key.

1. A divorce a mensa et thoro (a) terminates the obligation and right of cohabitation but leaves the marriage otherwise intact; (b) dissolves the marriage; (c) is designed to frighten people with its name.

2. A divorce a vínculo matrimonii (a) terminates the obligation and right of cohabitation; (b) dissolves the marriage; (c) is a divorce only "from table and couch."
3. An inter vivos trust (a) is a type of divorce; (b) is a trust worked out for people without children; (c) is a type of trust created during the lifetime of the trustor.

4. Per stirpes inheritance is (a) that which comes according to branches or stakes or stems of a family; (b) that which comes by heads or individually; (c) the same as a nuncupative will.

5. Per capita inheritance (a) takes into account branches or stakes or stems of a family; (b) is by "heads" or individually; (c) is the same as a holographic will.

6. An administrator cum testamento annexo is (a) someone appointed to administer the terms of a will when no executor is mentioned; (b) the person who inserts an in terrorem clause; (c) a person who is not of full legal capacity.

7. An in terrorem clause (a) is almost the same as a Fiduciary; (b) is designed to frighten the beneficiaries from challenging any part of the will; (c) is designed to prevent people from leaving money to fox terriers.

8. The corpus is (a) the capital of a fund or trust; (b) the income of a fund or trust; (c) a change in venue to Corpus Christi, Texas.

9. A person who is 21 years or older is usually considered to be (a) sui juris; (b) in extremis; (c) defunctus sine prole.

10. A will made in extremis is made (a) at the point of death; (b) at the point of birth; (c) before marriage.

11. A decedent with no children is (a) a person divorced a mensa et thoro; (b) a defunctus sine prole; (c) an administrator cum testamento annexo.

12. The principal stare decisis et non quieta movere means (a) that once a point is settled by a decision, it forms a precedent to be followed; (b) that precedents can be appealed to appellate courts; (c) that staring is not being quiet in court are not allowed.

13. A nuncupative will is (a) a handwritten will; (b) an antenuptial agreement; (c) an oral will.

14. A holographic will is (a) a handwritten will; (b) written in Egyptian hieroglyphics; (c) an oral will.

15. A trustee of a trust or the executive administrator of a will is also known as a (a) venue; (b) fiduciary; (c) corpus.

16. An antenuptial agreement is (a) a legal document against nuclear war; (b) a contract whereby the persons going to marry surrender the right to inherit from the intended spouse; (c) a nuncupative will.

17. An appellate court is (a) one having the power to hear appeals; (b) one that makes decisions on the validity of nuncupative and holographic wills; (c) one which deals with change in venue.

18. The locality where a crime is committed or a cause of action occurs is (a) the corpus; (b) the venue; (c) the fiduciary.
19. When an officer of a corporation acts ultra vires, he (a) does something beyond the scope of his authority; (b) with the full approval of the Board of Directors; (c) with a virus.

KEY - NOW CHECK YOUR ANSWERS

IF YOU HAD 17 or 18 CORRECT, WRITE MAXIMA CUM LAUDE ("WITH THE HIGHEST PRAISE") ON YOUR PAPER.
IF YOU HAD 15-16 CORRECT, WRITE MAGNA CUM LAUDE ("WITH HIGH PRAISE").
IF YOU HAD 13-14 CORRECT, WRITE CUM LAUDE ("WITH PRAISE").
IF YOU HAD A PERFECT PAPER, ALSO WRITE JURIS DOCTOR, HONORIS CAUSA!
("DOCTOR OF LAW, FOR THE SAKE OF HONOR") ON YOUR PAPER.
Ms. Prima Facie is the very efficient head secretary of the renowned law firm of Hedgeclip, Uptight, and Churn. Mr. Churn has given Ms. Facie the task of fitting into legal documents a number of Latin expressions and other legal terms. The list of expressions and terms appears above. Sentences taken from the legal document's appear below. See if you can help Ms. Facie (and Mr. Churn) by fitting the expressions and terms into the appropriate slots.

1. Since an unprejudiced jury cannot be found in this locality, a request was made for a change of

2. Mr. Claravox and Ms. Lexdubia were about to get married. To prevent inheritance from one to another from taking place they signed an

3. Since the lower court did not reach a verdict that was satisfactory to Hedgeclip, Uptight, and Churn, an appeal to an was necessary.

4. An executor or was appointed in the will.

5. In time of war when written wills are not always possible, a may be valid at the point of death or

6. A or will written entirely in one's own hand is valid in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
7. According to the principle of [blank], the validity of a holographic will in Pennsylvania cannot be challenged, since precedent has established its validity.

8. A dead man without children is a [blank].

9. A person in good mental health and over the age of 21 years is [blank].

10. The [blank] of a fund is the capital as distinguished from the interest or income.

11. When people wish to avoid challenges to their wills by any beneficiaries, they in sort an [blank] clause. This clause invalidates a bequest if the beneficiary thereof challenges any provision of the will.

12. If no executor is mentioned in a will, the Registrar of Wills or another appropriate "official" will appoint an [blank] to carry out the terms of the will.

13. An [blank] trust is one created "among the living", i.e., during the lifetime of the trustor.

15. A divorce [blank] does not end a marriage, but ends the obligation and right to live together.

16. A final divorce is [blank]. This divorce dissolves the bond of marriage.

17. A judge must act within the scope of his authority; otherwise, he would be acting [blank].

LESSON 14 (UNIT REVIEW)

Objectives

To review the linguistic and cultural material presented in this unit.

Activities

Praenotandum: Due to the length of this unit, more than one class period may be needed for review purposes. The amount of time needed will vary from class to class. In general, it is suggested that a balance be maintained among the various elements of the unit, viz, Latin quotations and phrases, English derivatives and cognates, and cultural information.

1. Have the pupils echo each of the following legal maxims orally:

   Caveat emptor.
   Caveat vendor.
   Res ipsa loquitur.
   Lex non curat de minimis.
   Lex dubia non obligat.
   Ignorantia legis neminem excusat.
   Ad impossibilia nemo tenetur.
   In generalibus versatur errores.
   Exceptio probat regulam.
   Cujus est solum ejus est usque ad coelum.
Then, ask pupils to apply the appropriate maxim or principle to each situation:

a. The buyer of a used car without a guarantee is completely responsible for any defect in the car.

b. The store that sells new televisions with guarantees is responsible if one of the sets fails to work properly.

c. A judge refuses to hear a case where $\ell$ has been stolen.

d. A sign reading "No Parking" is directly above a sign which reads "Meter Parking Permitted."

e. A motorist claims that he did not know that the speed limit for 50 miles per hour.

f. A bankrupt man is sued for a million dollars.

g. The precise location and extent of a vacant lot is not described on the deed.

h. Everyone except Octavia fell asleep during the lesson.

i. Claudius decided to build a skyscraper on the vacant lot he owns.

j. A landlord trips over the junk that a tenant has left in the hallway of an apartment building and breaks his ankle. The tenant challenges the landlord to prove negligence.

2. Assign one or more of the following topics as the subject(s) of compositions. The compositions may be written as homework or in class. Different students may write on different topics. Or the topics may be discussed in class.

a. The similarities and differences between Roman Courts and American Courts

b. The Code of Justinian and Its Influence

c. The Story of Orestes and Its Influence on Legal Practice

d. The Definition of Law of Thomas Aquinas

e. Common Law Compared with Roman Law

f. Cicero's Courtroom Techniques

3. Have pupils work through the following wordgames, either in class or for homework.
Stanley's mother-in-law is shouting legal Latin expressions at him. Try to help Stanley by placing the expressions in the proper sentences below, and thereby getting them out of his ear:

a. The Queen participates ______ in the opening of Parliament in Great Britain.

b. ______ segregation is separation of the races that exist in fact, though not necessarily allowed by law. An example would be the segregation that exists in big city schools.

c. ______ segregation is separation of the races enforced by law. The so-called apartheid policy in the Republic of South Africa is an example.

d. A ______ promise would be one made in good faith.

e. A teachers' union might file a brief of ______ in a case involving educational issues.

f. ______ evidence must be presented at a preliminary hearing in order for a criminal trial to be scheduled.

g. A committee especially formed to look into race relations could be called an ______ committee.

h. When a session is completed, the Congress adjourns ______.

i. ______ laws, or laws that operate retroactively are forbidden by the U.S. Constitution.

j. A temporary chairperson could be called a chairperson ______.

k. When a series of robberies occurs, police will study the ______.

l. Citizenship ______ confers all the rights and privileges thereof.
m. In trying to prevent Israel from using the Red Sea, the Arab nations at one time said that it was a _______ and, therefore, not open to other nations without permission.

n. _______ taxes add considerably to the cost of living.

o. A recent statement about foreign policy by Richard Nixon was criticized by a newspaper editor on the grounds that Nixon is an unsavory character and a crook. The editor was using an _______ argument.

---

MR. BELLEFONTAINE IS A CLIENT AT THE DISTINGUISHED LAW FIRM OF HEDGECLIP, UPTIGHT, AND CHURN. HE IS MEETING WITH MR. HEDGECLIP ABOUT SOME LEGAL TERMINOLOGY THAT HE DOES NOT UNDERSTAND. SEE IF YOU CAN EXPLAIN THE UNDERLINED TERMINOLOGY IN YOUR OWN WORDS, AND THEREBY SAVE MR. HEDGECLIP TIME.

Injudicious(1) statements must be avoided in a court of law. Jurisprudence (2) and a proper respect for the dignity of a jurist(3) require the prosecutor(4) and the defendant(5) to avoid perjury(6). A magistrate(7) will adjudicate(8) any problems including evidence of prejudice(9) and indefensible(10) attitudes.

1. __________________________
2. __________________________
3. __________________________
4. __________________________
5. __________________________
6. __________________________
7. __________________________
8. __________________________
9. __________________________
10. __________________________
TO MAKE THINGS EVEN CLEARER FOR MR. BELLEFONTAINE, SEE IF YOU CAN FIT EACH WORD INTO THE APPROPRIATE WORD TREE. THE LATIN ROOTS ARE GIVEN UNDER EACH TREE.

DEFÉNDERE
"to defend"

MAGISTRATUS
"magistrate"

JUDICES "jury"

JUS
"right, law"

PROSEQUI
"to pursue"

THEN, MR. BELLEFONTAINE SHOWS SOME NOTICES ON PROPERTY SALES TO MR. HEDGECLIP AND ASKS FOR AN EXPLANATION OF THE ABBREVIATION ET UX. AND ET AL. HERE ARE THE NOTICES:

APRIL 5-11, 1982
PHILADELPHIA BUSINESS JOURNAL

CHELTENHAM, 731 Sunset Road, Glen- 10 MORELAND CIRCLE (7824 Moreland); $117,000; Alice R. Giess sida, Pa. 19038; $117,000; Alice R. Giess to William J. Oxchell et ux. to William J. Oxchell et ux.

MR. HEDGECLIP TELLS HIM THAT ET UX. STANDS FOR ET UXOR AND MEANS "AND HIS WIFE." IT IS OFTEN USED ON DEEDS AND OTHER LEGAL DOCUMENTS PERTAINING TO PROPERTY TO SAVE SPACE IN INDICATING NAMES. ET AL. STANDS FOR ET ALII (OR ET ALIA) AND MEANS "AND THE OTHER PEOPLE" OR "AND THE OTHER THINGS."
AS A BONUS - AT NO EXTRA CHARGE-- MR. HEDGECLIF GIVES MR. BELLEFONTAINE A LIST OF LEGAL LATIN ABBREVIATIONS USED IN ENGLISH. SEE IF YOU CAN FILL IN THE MEANINGS OF THE ABBREVIATIONS:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ABBREVIATION</th>
<th>FULL VERSION</th>
<th>MEANING IN ENGLISH</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>pro tem.</td>
<td>pro tempore</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>nol. pros.</td>
<td>nolle procēqui</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>m.o.</td>
<td>modus operandi</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>et ux.</td>
<td>et uxor</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>et al.</td>
<td>et ālii (et ālia)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

WORDGAME K

JUDGE ROSA SINESPINA IS PRESIDING AT A TRIAL. A NEW COURT STENOGRAPHER HAS TAKEN NOTES AND IS NOT SURE OF CERTAIN WORDS WHEN TRANSCRIBING THE NOTES. HELP OUT BY SELECTING THE CORRECT WORD FOR EACH OF JUDGE SINESPINA'S STATEMENTS. LATIN ROOTS HAVE BEEN CARVED ON THE BENCH TO HELP YOU.

1. Being a juror is not a ________ (sinecure/probate).
2. Wills must go to ________ (probate/vendor)
3. In dealing with the court system, one must be ________ (tenacious/indubitable).
4. A court is in a sense a ________ (curator/emporium) of justice.
5. The criminal has a ________ (dubious/caveat) reputation.
6. Criminals are sometimes put on ________ (probation/regulator)
7. The judge must sometimes issue a stern ________ (caveat/emporium).
8. The jury is not ________ (vendible/probate).
9. People will _______ (minimize/probate) guilt on occasion.
10. The government serves as a _______ (irregularity/regulator) of business.

LESSON 14  (UNIT: REVIEW)

Objectives

To evaluate pupil mastery of material covered in this Unit.

Activities

Distribute the following test and have pupils work on it during the class period. When you have corrected the test, return it to the pupils and go over it, question-by-question. Questions may be added to the following test in accordance with the emphasis placed on certain sections of the Unit by the teacher. Prompt return of corrected test papers will provide pupils with desirable feedback.
EXAMEN LATINUM

Nomen meum est ________________________________
Schola __________________
Die ________ Mense ________ 19____

I. Eligere respondendum correctum (circle the correct completion).

1. Cæveat _______ (A. ignorantia; B. emptor; C. error)
2. Exceptio probat _______ (A. emptor; B. régulam; C. vendor)
3. Ignorantia ______ néminem excusat. (A. lex; B. legis; C. solum)
4. Lex dubia non _______ (A. cæveat; B. obligat; C. versatur)
5. Lex non curat _______. (A. emptor vendor; B. de mínimís; C. ad coelum)
6. Ex _______ (A. sine die; B. post facto; C. pro témpore)
7. Ipso _______ (A. fatso; B. facto; C. operándi)
8. Sine _______ (A. amicus; B. die; C. fácie)
9. Et _______ (A. hoc; B. uxor; C. fide)
10. Modus _______ (A. operándi; B. amicus; C. sine)

II. Fini sententias verbis aptis. (Finish the sentences with the appropriate words).

1. A _______ person is one who is persistent and "holds on."
2. The teacher issued a _______ for students not to cheat during the test.
3. Teaching is a job with many responsibilities and problems; it is not a ____________.

4. Lawyers study ____________ or legal science.

5. A shopping center is a vast ____________.

6. The married couple who owned the house were listed in the deed as C.S. Marquis ____________.

7. Two bank robberies involved masked bandits carrying guns; the ____________ in each case was similar to the other.

8. Miss Piggy's favors and affections are not ____________.

9. A stupid remark could also be called ____________.

10. Getting the lowest marks in the class is a ____________ distinction.

III. Respond to the questionibus (answer these questions):

1. Explain some of the differences between Roman Law and Common Law.

2. According to Thomas Aquinas, what are some of the characteristics that law must have?
IV. Elige responsum correctum (Choose the correct response).

1. Cicero was:
   A. Milo's archenemy
   B. a friend of the Emperor Justinian
   C. a famous Roman lawyer, writer, and statesman

2. Orestes was pursued by the Furies because:
   A. he had killed his mother, Clytemnestra
   B. he hated Apollo and Athena
   C. he had written the Codex Justinian

3. Justinian is remembered for:
   A. his great codification of Roman law
   B. his participation in the trial of Socrates
   C. his belief in the lex talionis

4. The Romans distinguished between jus civile, jus gentium, and jus naturale. Jus civile was:
   A. the civil law that applied to Roman citizens
   B. the law of nations of common legal principles among many people
   C. the law of nature or principles binding on all human beings

5. When the Roman jurist, Gaius, said that "in doubtful matters, always the kinder spirit is to be preferred" he meant that:
   A. people should be given the benefit of the doubt
   B. the law should be as harsh as possible
   C. strict judges are needed

6. Roman law is used today as the basic legal system in:
   A. most parts of the British Commonwealth of Nations
   B. Latin America, most of Europe, and most of Asia, except for English-speaking countries and the Soviet Union
   C. the United States

7. In ancient Roman courts, the praetor ("judge") determined what legal principle was involved. The judices ("jury" or "subordinate judges") had to:
   A. find out the facts in the case and act on "instructions" (formula) from the praetor
   B. wait for the praetor to give a verdict and then agree or disagree
   C. serve as prosecutors on behalf of the state

8. The Latin legal maxim caveat vendor means:
   A. "Let the seller beware"
   B. "Let the buyer beware"
   C. "Error thrives in general terms"
SELECTED ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY

Praenotandum: The following list of works is intended primarily for teacher reference where the teacher may wish to supplement or expand the content of the unit or deepen his or her knowledge of legal Latin and Roman law.

This thorough alphabetical listing of legal terms, Latin phrases used in law, and legal Latin maxims gives full history of the entries, as well as current usage. The anglicized pronunciation of the Latinity (which is used by many modern lawyers and legal scholars) is provided. The entries are engagingly written and, despite the technical nature of the content, attractive enough to sustain reading interest.

This standard reference work is available for purchase at university book stores (e.g., Temple, University of Pennsylvania) as well as directly from the publisher. It is also available in some public libraries.

This overview of Roman legal practice treats such topics as the machinery of the law, family and succession, property, labor, the law in commerce, and the citizen vis à vis the state. Ancient documents are often quoted. The book is difficult reading, however, for the novice, since it presupposes some knowledge of ancient history and mores.

This book examines the fundamental rules and institutions of the two systems of law and their approaches to the same problems and facts of human life. Contracts, obligations, property laws, and legal procedures are treated in detail. Though apparently a locus classicus for comparative study of Roman and Common Law, it is fairly difficult reading and perhaps is best approached in small doses.

Though probably long out of print, this book is available in some public libraries and has the advantage of being suitable for reading by students as well as teachers. Though there is some treatment of law among primordial people and middle-eastern law, the emphasis is distinctly on the development of Roman law and its use in antiquity, the middle ages, and modern times.
- Posters from the American Classical League Teaching Materials and Resource Center.

A number of posters made available from the ACLTMRC are useful in connection with this unit, e.g., "Legal Terms," "Latin Phrases in Common Use," "Loan Word Chart," and "Latin Abbreviations in English." Write for a free catalogue of offerings c/o The American Classical League Teaching Materials and Resource Center, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio 45056.

Similar in content and format to Ballentine's Law Dictionary, this standard reference work sheds light on Latin terminology and the impact of Roman Law on Common Law. The book has been out of print for several years, but is available in libraries.
Prænotandum: The following very brief summary of the Classical Pronunciation of Latin is presented for the convenience of teachers. Teachers trained in other systems of pronunciation should review the summary carefully.

1. Long vowels have the following sounds:
   - a as in father
   - e as in they
   - i as in machine
   - o as in lone
   - u as in rude
   - y as in the French tu

2. Short vowels are supposedly the same qualitatively as long vowels; quantitatively, however, they take less time to say than long vowels.

3. Diphthongs have the following sounds:
   - ae as in aisle
   - au as in round
   - oe as in oil
   - eu as in they plus rude

4. Consonants are, in general, as in English. Note, however, these sounds of letters and groups of letters:
   - g is always as in good
   - t is always as in top
   - c is always as in cat
   - v is like the English w in wet
   - gn is not a special character
   - ti is not a special character
   - qu is always as in queer
   - j is like the English y in yes
   - bs equals ps
   - s is always as in say
   - ch is almost like k in look
   - ph is almost like p in put
   - th is almost like t in ten
4. Accent falls on the first syllable of a two-syllable word. In a longer word, the accent falls on the next-to-the-last syllable, if it is long. If that syllable is short, the one immediately preceding it is stressed. A syllable is long if it contains a long vowel or diphthong, or if the vowel is followed by two consonants.

Long vowels are marked with the long mark or macron (-) in Latin dictionaries and some textbooks, as a convenience to students and teachers. Vowels without long marks are short.

A sentence with macrons inserted looks thus:

Dé minimis nón cūrat lex.

Inasmuch as teachers of varying preparations in Latin will be using this curriculum guide, ad experimentum, Latin words of three or more syllables are marked with an acute accent to indicate the stressed syllable. This practice is in imitation of the usage in liturgical Latin books. The acute accent is, in no sense, part of the orthography of the word as in Spanish or French, but simply a practical pedagogical device.
EVALUATION FORM for CURRICULUM PUBLICATIONS
(Form FL 75)

TO THE TEACHER:

In order to make sure that possible future editions of this publication are of maximum usefulness to you, your suggestions for its improvement would be appreciated. Please fill out this Evaluation Form (or facsimile) after you have used the publication long enough to form a judgment about it. Please send the Evaluation Form to:

Dr. Rudolph Masciantonio
Asst. Director of Foreign Language Education
The School District of Philadelphia
21st and Parkway
Philadelphia, PA 19103

Thank you very much for your help. Please note that student reaction where appropriate is also very welcome.

Name of Publication

How has this publication helped you in your instructional program?

__________________________________________________________

What aspects did you find most helpful?

__________________________________________________________

In what ways could this publication be made more helpful?

__________________________________________________________

Did you notice any errors (typographical or otherwise)? If so, please list.

__________________________________________________________

What materials related to this publication would you like to see made available to you?

__________________________________________________________

Your Name (Optional) __________________________ Date __________

School ____________________________ (Subdistrict)

Form FL 7-5 - Evaluation Form for Curriculum Publications Division of Foreign Language Education, Phila: School District