Gilbert Gude, Director
Congressional Research Service
LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
Washington, D.C. 20540

Dear Gil:

It has come to my attention that Mr. Richard Jones, Specialist in American National Government, Library of Congress, is updating a publication entitled "Federal Programs of Assistance to American Indians" which was last prepared by the Library of Congress in June of 1981.

I believe this document can be an invaluable guide to tribal chairmen, tribal planners, and Federal and State officials in determining program eligibility of Indian individuals and Indian tribes and providing knowledge on how to obtain access to such programs.

I would like to urge your support for an expeditious completion of the update which is currently in progress. I would then propose to have the document printed as a Senate document with general distribution to all federally recognized Indian tribes and to interested Indian organizations.

With best wishes, I am

Sincerely,

William S. Cohen
Chairman
December 15, 1982

Honorable William S. Cohen
Chairman, Select Committee on Indian Affairs
United States Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Mr. Chairman:

In response to your request, I am submitting a report entitled "Federal Programs of Assistance to American Indians." The report provides information on programs that specifically serve or are of particular interest to American Indians or Alaskan Natives.

The report, which is based upon information provided by executive agencies of the Federal Government, was designed, compiled, and edited by Richard S. Jones, Specialist in American National Government, of the CRS Government Division.

We hope that this report will serve the needs of your committee.

Sincerely,

INTRODUCTION AND FORMAT GUIDE

Information contained in this report concerns (1) programs specifically designed to benefit Indian tribes and individuals; (2) programs which specifically include Indians or Indian tribes as eligible beneficiaries; and (3) programs which may not specifically denominate Indians or Indian tribes as eligible beneficiaries, but which are deemed to be of special interest to Indians. We have attempted to contact every agency which we know to operate and administer programs meeting the criteria noted above. A sample of the letter sent by CRS requesting the desired information is reproduced on p. 3, and all correspondence received in reply to our inquiry is reproduced preceding the relevant material submitted by each agency.

Numbers, where used in related programs entry, refer to entry numbers in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance.

The format requested of all agencies, and to which all entries correspond, unless otherwise indicated, is as follows:

1. Name, nature and purpose of program.
2. Eligibility requirements (assistance prerequisites).
3. How to apply (application deadlines; approval deadlines).
4. Who to contact for information regarding the program.
5. Printed information available concerning the program.
7. Administering agency.
8. Available assistance.
9. Use restrictions.
10. Appropriations for fiscal year 1983.
12. Obligations incurred.
14. Local contacts throughout the United States.
15. Related programs.

\[1\] In some cases agencies have submitted their responses in a different format of their own design which is self explanatory.
Hon. James G. Watt,
Secretary of the Interior
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Secretary: The Congressional Research Service is currently engaged in a project to update a compilation and description of all Federal programs which specifically benefit Indians or which are of special interest to Indians. We greatly appreciate the past cooperation of your agency in this effort and would like to ask your assistance once again in the preparation of this project with reference to all such programs under your jurisdiction. This would include:

1. programs which are specifically designed to benefit Indians as Indians, or Indian tribes as Indian tribes;
2. programs which specifically include Indians or Indian tribes among designated beneficiaries; and
3. programs which, while not specifically naming Indians or Indian tribes as beneficiaries, may nevertheless be of special interest to Indians or Indian tribes.

Using the attached copy of our previous report as a guide, please provide information about each relevant program according to the following format:

1. the name, nature, and purpose of each program;
2. eligibility requirements (assistance prerequisites);
3. how to apply (application deadlines; approval deadlines);
4. whom to contact for information regarding the programs;
5. printed information available concerning the program;
6. authorizing legislation;
7. administering agency;
8. available assistance;
9. use restrictions;
10. appropriations for fiscal year 1983;
11. appropriations for each of the past 3 fiscal years (1980, 1981, 1982);
12. obligations incurred;
13. Washington contacts;
14. local contacts throughout the United States; and
15. related programs.

Obviously, we are especially interested in information which will accurately reflect changes mandated by the Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 1981 (P.L. 97-35), fiscal year 1982 appropriations legislation, and fiscal year 1983 budget requests.
We would appreciate receiving this information by June 30, 1982. Upon completion of the project we will be happy to forward you a copy of the finished product.

We greatly appreciate your previous and current assistance to us in implementing this project.

Sincerely,

GILBERT GUDE,
Director.
Mr. GILBERT GUDGE,
Director, Congressional Research Service
Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.

DEAR MR. GUDGE: We received your request for information on programs administered by our agency that specifically benefit or are of special interest to American Indians. Because the Commission on Civil Rights lacks funding authority, we do not administer any programs that provide economic assistance to Indians. Our agency's statutory mandate authorizes us to make findings and recommendations to the President and the Congress concerning legal developments constituting discrimination or denials of equal protection because of race, color, religion, sex, age, handicap, or national origin, or in the administration of justice. Under this mandate, we study and report on a variety of issues affecting American Indians.

Recently, the Commission published a report entitled "Indian Tribes: A Continuing Quest for Survival." The report is based on a study begun in 1978 of the civil rights implications of several highly charged conflicts involving Indian rights and the interests of non-Indians. The report discusses the major events in Federal-Indian relations throughout history, traditional civil rights problems of Indians, State-Tribal governmental relations, and the developments of the seventies in which judicial and Congressional tribal victories were partially eclipsed by the reaction of non-Indians against Indians. The report also contains detailed case studies of the major conflicts that occurred in the seventies, such as eastern land claims, fishing rights, and law enforcement. The last chapter of the report contains a list of the Commissioner's findings and recommendations.

The Commission is now preparing a statement on religious discrimination based on our 1979 Consultation, "Religious Discrimination: A Neglected Issue." One of the chapters in the report will discuss the American Indian Religious Freedom Act and the special First Amendment concerns of Native Americans. We expect to release the report within the next several months.

In addition, the State Advisory Committee of New Mexico issued a report in January of 1982 on the effect of the energy industry on Indian country in that State. The report was entitled: "Energy Development in North Western New Mexico: A Civil Rights Perspective." The Southwestern Regional Office is in the process of compiling data on the effect of block grant funding on the Indian inhabitants in each of the 5 States in our southwestern region, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana. The results of this study will be published later this year.

Since its inception, the Commission on Civil Rights, its regional offices and state advisory committees, have published various reports on topics of particular interest to Native Americans. Each of the reports is available upon request from: The U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, Publications Warehouse, 621 North Payne Street, Alexandria, Va.

I hope this information will be useful to you. Thank you for your interest in the Commission and its work in this area.

Sincerely,

JOHN HOPE III,
Acting Staff Director.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
U.S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE,
OFFICE OF GOVERNMENTAL AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS,
Washington, D.C., July 16, 1982

Mr. GILBERT Gcade,
Director, Congressional Research Service, Government Division, the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Gude: Enclosed is the information you requested about the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) programs and servces of interest to American Indians. I am proud to say that the interest to American Indians in the entire package of USDA programs and services has never been greater.

Shortly after Secretary John Block took over the reins of USDA, he expressed concern about the American Indian population and whether Indian tribes and their members were being served by the programs and services available in USDA as they were to the rest of the population. To assure this unique rural group that they are fairly treated by USDA agencies, Secretary Block has reassigned the Indian Affairs coordination function of the Department to the Office of Intergovernmental Affairs. In this Office, the Indian Affairs activity is treated as a separate and highly visible unit with the authority to work with Indian communities and all agencies of the Department.

We are again pleased to assist you in this project. Mr. Stuart Jamieson is coordinating this activity for the Department. If you need additional information, please contact Mr. Jamieson on 447-3805.

Sincerely,

LEORA DAY,
Director, Intergovernmental Affairs.

Enclosure.
The following program does not specifically name Indians or Indian Tribes as beneficiaries. Indians are nevertheless eligible to participate in it as are others, and it may be of special interest to Indians and Indian Tribes. This program will be described in general rather than specifically tied to Indian concerns.

Food Stamp Program

Nature and Purpose: The Present Food Stamp Program (Food Stamp Act of 1977, as amended) helps low-income households buy more food for a more nutritious diet. It is a cooperative Federal-State effort to provide an allotment of food coupons to eligible households in the 50 States and in the outlying territories of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and Guam. Eligible households receive a monthly allotment of food stamps at no charge based on household income, assets, and number of household members.

Eligibility Requirements: Agency Eligibility: State agencies request the program from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Food and Nutrition Service. The State agency is responsible for conducting the Food Stamp Program in each State. The State agency is also responsible for conducting the Food Stamp Program on Indian Reservations unless the Secretary of Agriculture determines that a State is failing to properly administer the program. If the Secretary also determines that an Indian Tribal Organization is capable of operating an efficient and effective program, then the Indian Tribal Organization may be allowed to administer the program.

Beneficiary Eligibility: Eligibility is based on household net income, size, and level of resources. In addition to financial criteria, the household must meet several non-financial standards which include: residency in the project area; citizenship or legal alien status; work registration; etc.

How to Apply: Households apply through their local food stamp certification office. This office provides an application for the Food Stamp Program to any person upon request, and must accept an identifiable application on the same day that contact is first made. The certification office must determine eligibility within 30 days, and if approved the household receives an allotment retroactive to the date of application. Expedited service is available for households determined to be destitute.

Whom to Contact for Information Regarding the Program: On the national level, contact the Deputy Administrator, Family Nutrition Programs, Food and Nutrition Service, USDA, Alexandria, Va. 22303. Refer to the attached list for regional contacts.

Printed Information Available Concerning the Program: Printed information may be obtained from the Director, Office of Public Information, Food and Nutrition Service, USDA, 3101 Park Center Drive, Alexandria, Va. 22302

Available Assistance: Direct payments of food coupons for specified use, at no charge to beneficiaries. The food coupons can be used by participating households to purchase the following items at participating retailers:
(a) most food and food products for home consumption;
(b) seeds and plants for use in gardens to produce food;
(c) meal services for the elderly and the physically and mentally handicapped;
(d) meals for narcotics addicts or alcoholics in State-certified treatment and rehabilitation programs;
(e) of special interest to some Indians and Indian tribes, food stamps in Alaska may be used by certain eligible households to purchase equipment such as fish hooks and harpoons for procuring food by hunting and fishing.

Use Restrictions: Coupons may be used by beneficiaries only to purchase food items in authorized food stores. However, except in the cases listed above, meals or hot food may not be purchased; non-food items may not be purchased with food stamps, including alcoholic beverages, household materials or tobacco.

Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1983: Requested $9.78 billion for fiscal year 1983 with a separate authorization for Puerto Rico limited to $825 million.

Appropriations for Fiscal Years: 1980: $9,191,000,000; 1981: $11,480,000,000; 1982: $10,293,394,000 (to date).

Obligations Incurred: 1980: $8,685,000,000; 1981: $10,683,000,000; 1982: $10,347,000,000 (including supplemental request).

Title VI Indian Nutrition Programs

Nature and Purpose: The Food and Nutrition Service donates foods or cash-in-lieu of foods to the Title VI Indian Nutrition Program administered by the Administration on Aging under authority on the Older Americans Act.

The Title VI program grantees request annually from USDA to have their meal assistance provided either in donated foods or in cash-in-lieu of foods. The foods are served to elderly Indians either in a congregate setting or through a home delivered meal program.

Eligibility Requirements: (a) Agency eligibility—The nutrition programs must be approved as Title VI program grantees by the Administration on Aging in the Department of Health and Human Services. With Title VI grantee status the tribal agencies may apply to USDA for Title VI program meal assistance. (b) Beneficiary eligibility—Elderly Indians participating in Title VI programs that have requested and are receiving USDA meal assistance automatically beneficiaries of the USDA assistance to the program.

How to Apply: Tribal Indian nutrition-programs approved by the Administration on Aging as Title VI grantees apply to the appropriate FNS regional office, (See attached list.) There are no deadlines for application for USDA meal assistance to Title VI grantees.

Whom to Contact for Information Regarding the Program: General information is available from the Food Distribution Division, Food and Nutrition Service, 3101 Park Center Drive, Alexandria, Virginia 22302. Telephone (703) 756-3660.

Printed Information Available Concerning the Program: General information on the program should be obtained from the Administration on Aging in the Department of Health and Human Services, Washington, D.C. 20201. Information regarding USDA’s meal assistance provided to the program is available in the Food Distribution Program Regulations, dated December 16, 1980. (Federal Register Vol. 45, No. 243).

Authorizing Legislation: The Older Americans Act as Amended (42—US. Code E 3001 Et Seq.)

Administering Agency: Although the program is chiefly administered by the Administration on Aging in the Department of Health and Human Services, the USDA agency responsible for providing meal assistance to the program is the Food and Nutrition Service.

Available Assistance: A wide range of federally donated foods including: fruits and vegetables, meats and poultry, grain, dairy and oil products are provided for support of congregate or home delivered meals served to the elderly Indians participating in the program. Cash assistance instead of the foods is available for the purchase of foods or meals served in the program.

Use Restrictions: The donated foods are to be used in the preparation of meals served to the elderly Indians participating in the nutrition program. The donated foods are not to be sold, exchanged, or otherwise disposed of (except as authorized) without prior specific approval of USDA. Cash-in-lieu of the donated foods must be used to purchase foods used in the preparation of meals or for the purchase of meals.

Appropriation for Fiscal Year 1983: The USDA does not receive a separate appropriation for food donations or cash-in-lieu of food assistance to the Title VI Indian Nutrition Program. The Title VI program receives a very small fraction of USDA's appropriation for food donations to the State administered under the Title III nutrition program. The Older Americans Act authorizes an appropriation of $100,000,000 for fiscal year 1983, of which approximately $500,000 will be used for support of meals served by Title VI grantees.

Appropriations and Obligations Incurred for Past Three Fiscal Years: USDA meal assistance to Title VI grantees commenced in fiscal year 1981, the year of inception for the nutrition programs. USDA provided approximately $300,000 to the Title VI grantees for support of meals served in fiscal year 1981. USDA meal assistance should be slightly greater in fiscal year 1982, since the Title VI grantees are completely operational for the whole fiscal year.

Washington Contacts: Joseph E. Shepherd, Director, Food Distribution Division, Food and Nutrition Service, Room 502, 3101 Park Center Drive, Alexandria, Virginia 22302.

Local Contact Throughout the United States: For information on participating organizations, contact the Administration on Aging in the Department of Health and Human Services, Washington, D.C. 20201.

Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations

Nature and Purpose: The Food and Nutrition Service donates foods to help meet the nutritional needs of low-income households on Indian Reservations and Indian households near these reservations. The program also helps to expand markets for food that American farmers produce. USDA commodities are distributed to beneficiary households on a monthly basis from warehouse facilities located on reservations. Participating agencies are either (preferentially) Indian Tribal Organizations or State agencies. The distributing agents order food items from the list of approved USDA commodities taking into account local Indian household food preferences.

Participants also receive information about nutrition, proper food storage, sanitary food preparation methods and suggestions for recipes using donated foods from nutritionists, County Extensions, home economists and other sources.

Eligibility Requirements: (a) Agency Eligibility: Participating food distribution agencies at the State level may be Indian Tribal government organizations (ITO's) located on Federally recognized reservations. They are preferentially eligible to administer this program. State Agencies may also submit requests for the Program to distribute food to eligible Indian Reservations. Once the request is approved, the participating agency submits an annual State plan of operations.

(b) Beneficiary Eligibility: Eligibility requirements are based on the criteria used in the Food Stamp Program. Eligibles include low-income households of Indians and members of non-Indian households living on a reservation who buy and cook food together, work for low pay, are unemployed or are elderly or disabled and on a small income. Indian households with these qualifications living near a participating reservation are also eligible for the program.

How to Apply: Indian household heads must make written application to local Indian or State Food Assistance offices. There are no application deadlines.

Whom to Contact for Information Regarding the Program: General information is available from the Indian Section, Food Distribution Division, Food and Nutrition Service, USDA, Alexandria, Virginia 22303 Telephone (703) 756-3660.

Printed Information Available Concerning the Program: The printed information includes the Regulations, Food Stamp and Food Distribution Programs on Indian Reservations, Tuesday, June 19, 1979 (Federal Register Vol. 44 No. 119); FNS Handbook No. 501, Procedures for the Food Distribution on Indian Reservations; Brochures: "The Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations" (FNS-222) and "Food Distribution Program" (FNS-214); Also see the Bi-monthly FNS Publication, Food and Nutrition, Vol. 10, No. 5, August, 1980.

Available Assistance: The Indian Food Package is issued according to FNS Guide Rate. Donation of foods are provided to households along with the provision of nutrition information. Technical assistance to Indian Tribal Organizations of State Agencies administering the program is available from FNS Regional Offices. Administrative costs are provided by FNS at one more than 75 percent of cost unless special exceptions are granted by the Administrator of FNS.

Use Restrictions: Food is made available for distribution to qualified households only at no charge. Donated foods are not to be sold, exchanged or otherwise disposed of (except as authorized) without prior, specific approval of the Department. Funds provided must be expended to assist in meeting operating expenses incurred in administering food distribution programs. These funds may not be used to purchase real property (land and buildings); administrative costs should not exceed 30 percent of food costs.

Appropriations: The total appropriations for the programs in Fiscal Year 1983 (including the Pacific Trust Territory and Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands) are: Food costs, $53,980,000; administrative costs, $11,220,000.

Washington Contacts: Joseph E. Shepherd, Director, Food Distribution Division, Food and Nutrition Service, USDA, Room 502, 3101 Park Center Drive, Alexandria, Virginia 22302.

Local Contracts Throughout the United States: FNS Field Offices. The Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations currently operates on 120 reservations and is administered locally by 44 Indian Tribal Organizations and 5 State Agencies. The Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC).

Nature and Purpose of Program: The program provides specific supplemental food and nutrition education to pregnant, postpartum and breastfeeding women, and infants and children up to age 5 who are determined by a competent professional authority to be at nutritional risk due to inadequate nutrition and inadequate income.

Legislation for the WIC Program permits Indian tribes, band or groups recognized by the Department of the Interior, or an intertribal council or group which is an authorized representative of such Indian tribes, bands or group recognized by Interior, to apply for direct funding to administer a WIC Program. Thirty-one Indian State Agencies are currently operating WIC Programs. Additionally, other States are serving Indians as part of their own administration of the Program.

Eligibility Requirements: There are three eligibility criteria. First, competent professionals such as physicians, nurses, nutritionists, dietitians or other health officials must determine applicants to be at nutritional risk and therefore in need of the supplemental foods. Second, they must meet specified income standards. The income criteria for the WIC Program cannot be greater than 185... percent of the Office of Management and Budget's income poverty guidelines. Each State agency can establish the income criteria to be used by their local agencies within this range, provided the criteria is not less than the applicable State or local income limit for free or reduced price health care.

Thirdly, if the State has residency requirements, applicants must live in an approved project area or belong to a special population group, such as migrant farmworkers, Native Americans, or Refugees. There is not, however, a length of residency requirement.

How to Apply: A. State health departments or comparable State agencies. Indian tribes, bands or groups recognized by the Department of the Interior, or their authorized representatives, must submit a State Plan of Program Operation and Administration and enter into a written agreement with the Department for administration of the Program.

B. Individual applicants must apply to receive program benefits at operating local agency clinic sites. Applicants are notified of their eligibility or ineligibility within 20 days of the date of the first request for program benefits. Those within extreme nutritional risk are notified within 10 days.

Whom to Contact for Information Regarding the Program: A. National Office, B. Regional Offices, C. State Agencies, or D. Local Agencies.

Printed Information Available Concerning the Program: Numerous publications are available which provide general program information and discuss such topics as nutrition education, supplemental foods, breastfeeding, and retailer education.

Authorizing Legislation: Public Law 95-627.

Administering Agency: U.S. Department of Agriculture—Food and Nutrition Service.

Available Assistance: See above.

- Fiscal year 1981: $10,002,434
- Fiscal year 1982: $17,617,748

Obligations Incurred: Our current national grant level is $958,121,304. During the fiscal year, if it becomes apparent that State agencies cannot expend all funds received, these funds will be recovered and reallocated.

Washington Contacts: Barbara P. Sandoval, Director, Supplemental Food Programs Division, Food and Nutrition Service, Park Office Center, Room 407, Alexandria, Virginia 22302.

Local Contacts Throughout the U.S.: Local agencies may be contacted through the WIC State Agencies. See attached WIC State Coordinators Directory.

Related Programs: The Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP) provides nutritious foods to supplement the diets of low-income pregnant, postpartum, and breastfeeding women, and in-tants and children under 6 years of age who are vulnerable to malnutrition. Nutrition education is also provided.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture donates commodity foods to the appropriate State agency for distribution, and provides funds to State and local agencies to cover certain administrative costs.

Currently there are 2 Indian State Agencies out of a total of 12
State agencies administering the Program. The following amount of funds were received by these 2 State agencies:
Fiscal year 1980: Administrative Grant, $63,275.
Fiscal year 1981: Administrative Grant, $75,724.
Fiscal year 1982: Administrative Grant, $81,902.

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS AND COMMODITY PROGRAMS

AGRICULTURAL STABILIZATION AND CONSERVATION SERVICE

Forestry Incentives Program

1. The Forestry Incentives Program provides cost-sharing for private non-industrial forest landowners for planting trees and timberland improvement. Purpose is to increase the Nation's supply of quality timber products from private non-industrial forest lands by sharing the costs, long term investment in forest management practices with small land-owners who do not have funds to make improvements.

2. Landowners must:
   a. Be a private non-industrial forest landowner.
   b. Own no more than 1,000 acres of forest land unless a waiver is granted in the public interest by the State ASC Committee for cost-sharing on up to 5,000 acres.
   c. Have land suitable for the afforestation, if not presently in trees, reforestation or improved forest management.
   d. Have land capable of producing industrial wood crops and which meets minimum productivity standards.
e. Complete FIP practices in accordance with an approved forest management plan developed by the forester.

Private entities principally engaged in the business of manufacturing forest products or providing public utilities service of any type or the subsidiaries of such entities, are not eligible.

Indian tribes or other native groups which meet the eligibility requirements are eligible for cost-sharing.

Individual Indians or other native groups on tribal or native land are not eligible for FIP.

3. Apply at County ASCS Office, no deadlines.
4. County ASCS Office or Local Forest Service Office.
7. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) and Forest Service (FS), USDA.
8. Up to 65 percent cost-sharing for transplanting and timber-stand improvement practices.
9. No landowner can receive more than $10,000 total cost-sharing funds during a program year.
10. The fiscal year 1983 Budget proposes $56 million for a consolidated conservation program account including the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP), Emergency Conservation Program (ECP), Forestry Incentives Program (FIP), and Water Bank Program (WBP).
12. Obligations for fiscal year 1979: $15,040,000; fiscal year 1980: $15,541,000 and fiscal year 1981: $13,431,000.

15. None.

Agricultural Conservation Program

1. The Agricultural Conservation Program is the principal channel through which the Federal Government shares with farmers and ranchers the cost of essential enduring conservation and pollution abatement practices on their land to help maintain the productive capability of American agriculture. With latest emphasis being on the enduring practices aspects of the program, County ASC Committees review with selected conservation interests the conservation needs of the county, looking toward what the most urgent conservation needs would be.
2. By law, program eligibility is limited to agricultural producers. For program purposes, an agricultural producer is an owner, landlord, tenant, or sharecropper of a farm or ranch used to produce commercial grains, row crops, seed crops, vegetables, hay, pasture, orchards, vineyards, flowers, bulbs, trees, or fieldgrown ornamentals. Other agricultural commodities are included such as livestock and naval stores.

3. The farmer must receive approval for assistance from the County ASC Committee for ACP cost-sharing, before carrying out the practice. Details of sign-up periods are available from the local County ASCS Office.

4. County ASCS Office.

5. “Solving Agricultural Conservation Problems.” ASCS Background Information, B.I. No. 5, Agricultural Conservation Program.

6. Section 7 to 15, 16(a) and 17 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, approved February 29, 1936, as amended and supplemented, particularly by Rural Development Act of 1972, and Title X of the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 and Section XV of PL 95–113, the Food and Agriculture Act of 1977. The most recent amendment which included authority under ACP to cost-share to encourage energy conservation was made by Section 259 of the Energy Security Act of 1980.

8. The ACP helps farmers solve conservation problems in several broad practice groups. The program is designed to cost-share basically for enduring practices. These are practices primarily to meet definite needs to:

- Establish long-lasting protective cover;
- Improve or sustain protective cover;
- Conserve or safely dispose of water;
- Benefit wildlife;
- Establish or improve stands of forest trees;
- Give protection against soil erosion;
- Prevent or abate agricultural-related pollution of water, land, or air; and
- Meet special county conservation needs.

Generally, cost-sharing assistance is up to 75 percent of the cost of performing the approved practices. Higher rates are authorized for low income farmers who otherwise would be unable to carry out needed practices.

9. By law, the total Federal cost-shares that a person may receive under the ACP on all farms, ranches in the United States, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands shall not exceed $3,500 per fiscal year. However, under pooling agreements the total payment a person may receive shall not exceed $10,000 minus any cost-shares earned under practices outside pooling agreements.

10. The fiscal year 1983 Budget proposes $56 million for a consolidated conservation program account including the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP), Emergency Conservation Program (ECP), Forestry Incentives Program (FIP), and Water Bank Program (WBP).

11. Appropriations for fiscal year 1980, fiscal year 1981 and fiscal year 1982 were $190 million each year.

13. Director, Conservation and Environmental Protection Division.
14. Contacts can be made at the local county office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

15. Emergency Conservation Program (ECP)

Emergency Conservation Program

1. The Emergency Conservation Program (ECP) provides emergency funds for sharing with farmers and ranchers the cost of rehabilitating farmland damaged by wind erosion, floods, hurricanes, or other natural disasters, and for carrying out emergency water conservation measures during periods of severe drought.

2. Eligibility for ECP assistance is determined by the County ASC Committee on an individual basis, taking into account the type and extent of damage.

3. Apply at County ASCS Office.

4. County ASCS Office.

5. Program aid number 1288, Emergency Conservation Program, December 1980, and ASCS Background Information No. 8, Emergency Conservation Program.

8. This law authorizes financial assistance for emergency measures in all States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands that have experienced a disaster of such magnitude that emergency measures are required, as determined by the County ASC Committee.

9. The County ASC Committee or its representative make an "on-site" inspection of the area prior to approving the request to determine if the damage is of sufficient magnitude to warrant cost-sharing. The natural disaster must be such as to create new conservation problems, which, if not treated, would: (1) impair or endanger the land, (2) materially affect the productive capacity of the land, (3) represent damage that is unusual in character, except for wind erosion, is not the type likely to recur frequently in the same area, and (4) be so costly to rehabilitate that Federal assistance is or will be required to return the land to productive agricultural use. Conservation problems existing on eligible land prior to the disaster involved are not eligible for ECP cost-sharing assistance.

NATURAL RESOURCES AND ENVIRONMENT

SOIL CONSERVATION SERVICE

American Indians and Alaska Natives are eligible to participate in all SCS programs on the same basis as non-Indians. Three recent actions which have increased Indian access to SCS programs and assistance are: (1) Authorization of Indian tribes to be legal sponsors of watershed projects; (2) the 1977 Office of the General Counsel review of policy and the resulting determination that the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) can provide the same assistance, through conservation districts, to Indians and Alaska Natives on their lands as it does to non-Indians; and (3) the establishment, in 1980, of USDA policy to provide conservation assistance through conservation districts organized under Indian or Federal law.

The Soil Conservation Service (SCS) gives technical help in soil and water conservation to individual landowners and operators, organizations, and city, county, and State governments, through nearly 3,000 local soil and water conservation districts. Technical and financial help is provided for watershed protection and flood prevention, and for resource conservation and development. Natural resource information is available to land use officials for planning and maintaining housing, schools, water supply, highways, and recreation facilities.

Three recent actions which have increased Indian access to SCS programs and assistance are: (1) Authorization of Indian tribes to be legal sponsors of watershed projects; (2) the 1977 Office of the General Counsel review of policy and the resulting determination that the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) can provide the same assistance, through conservation districts, to Indians and Alaska Natives on their lands as it does to non-Indians; and (3) the establishment, in 1980, of USDA policy to provide conservation assistance through conservation districts organized under Indian or Federal law.

Soil Survey Program

Assistance Available: Published soil surveys of counties or other comparably sized areas are available for use by interested agencies, organizations, and individuals. Many of the soil surveys include Indian land both on and off reservations. Soil surveys are in progress on other reservations. They contain basic and detailed information needed for agricultural and natural resource development programs.

How to Apply: Contact the County SCS Office, Extension Service, State Agricultural Experiment Station, the nearest Agricultural Service Center, Soil Conservation District Office, or the local Congressman.

Technical Assistance Program

Assistance Available: Help is provided through SCS field offices and local conservation districts to farm and ranch owners and operators in the planning and application of more than 100 conservation practices to manage, conserve, improve, and develop soil, water, and related resources. SCS has expertise in agronomy range management, forestry, agricultural engineering, soils, water management, wildlife habitat management, recreation, aquaculture, rural development, resource inventories, and watershed and flood protection.

How to Apply: Contact the County SCS Office, Conservation District Office, or the nearest Agricultural Service Center.

Rural Development Assistance

Assistance Available: The Soil Conservation Service provides resource data, technical assistance, and financial assistance which can be used to strengthen community planning and other rural development activities.

SCS resource data includes:
1. SCS National Resource Inventories on soil, water, and related resources.
2. Important farmlands inventories on prime farmlands, unique lands for special crops, and other lands of Statewide or local importance.
3. Soil survey reports which contain soils maps and interpretive data on the constraints and potentials for various uses of soil.
4. Regional economic and resource data gathered for river basin studies.
5. Local data gathered for watershed projects, resource conservation and development projects, and local field offices use in conservation planning and implementation.

Technical assistance is provided to Indian communities through units of government such as Tribal Councils on natural resource conservation problems and other rural development activities.

Technical assistance is provided and coordinated at the National level by the SCS Rural Development staff. This staff maintains contact with Indians, Tribes, and organizations through a staff member designated as the LSC liaison for Indian assistance. State SCS Offices also have people designated for leadership on Indian affairs. Field office personnel provide assistance upon request, to any district cooperator, Indian tribe, Tribal Council, or other community leadership. Through their participation in National, State, and local rural development committees, they can help Indian community leaders access other U.S. Department of Agriculture programs.

How to Apply: Contact the County SCS Office, Conservation District Office, or the nearest Agriculture Service Center.

Great Plains Conservation Program

Assistance Available: Technical help and cost-sharing assistance are available to individual farmers and ranchers in selected counties in the 10 Great Plains States. These States are Colorado, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, and Wyoming. Technical assistance is given in developing a conservation and management plan jointly with the land operator. The plan includes land treatment and management practices needed to control wind and water erosion. It is submitted as part of an application which, if approved, can be incorporated into a Great Plains Conservation contract. The contract extends from 3 (at a minimum) to 10 years. The plan and the contract are agreed to by both SCS and the farmer or rancher prior to final approval. Cost-share assistance will be provided for contract items for physical land treatment or improvement such as range seeding, terracing, erosion control structures, fences, etc.

Resource Conservation and Development Program

Assistance Available: Both technical assistance and financial assistance are available to help local people in initiating and carrying out long range programs of Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D). RC&D assistance may be used (1) on reservation lands for public water-based recreation and fish and wildlife developments, or (2) on private lands owned or operated by American Indians for flood prevention, sedimentation and erosion control, farm irrigation, water quality management, and control and abatement of agriculture-related pollution. The RC&D Project Steering Committee and local leadership plan and carry out associated project measures funded by other non-U.S. Department of Agriculture sources, both Federal and private. Associated measures deal with any project the RC&D and local people need and desire.

Following are appropriations for fiscal years 1979-1982: Fiscal year 1979: $25,441,000; fiscal year 1980: $32,000,000; fiscal year 1981: $34,046,000; and fiscal year 1982: $26,000,000.

Soil and Water Conservation Program

Assistance Available: Technical assistance in conservation planning, plan implementation, and related actions needed to carry out programs for the wise use and conservation of soil, water, and related plant and animal resources, is available to individual Indians (Native Americans), Tribal Councils, and other Tribal organizations. It is available upon their request to the conservation district, the same as any other land user. Assistance is provided through conservation districts formed under State law and/or Federal or Tribal law.
Using available resource data or data collected onsite, assistance is given in developing conservation and management plans geared to and agreed upon by each land user.

SCS has technology for more than 100 conservation practices.

How to Apply: Contact the County SCS Office or the Conservation District Office, or the nearest Agricultural Service Center.

Watershed Projects

Assistance Available: Watershed projects begin with local initiative and responsibility. Local proposals are reviewed by the State, which may make financial and other assistance available. Federal technical and financial assistance is also available.

State agencies, Indian tribes, and qualified nonprofit local organizations can sponsor a watershed project.

Watershed projects help cities, towns, and rural areas stimulate economic growth. Where projects are developed for multiple purposes, both urban and rural areas benefit. Control of flooding, erosion, and siltation reduces risks in farming and lowers maintenance costs for roads and bridges. It also reduces reservoir sedimentation and prevents costly flood damage in urban communities.

Reservoirs built through watershed projects provide opportunities for fishing, boating, swimming, and other recreation. They supply water for irrigation, municipal use, and industry. They also help communities attract new industry and accommodate the expansion of existing industry.

A watershed project has an immediate and positive effect on the economy of a rural community, and it often acts as a catalyst to a wide range of rural development actions.

The Federal Government gives technical help in planning and installing the project measures, pays the full cost of measures for flood prevention, and shares the cost of other measures. To help sponsoring organizations finance their share of the cost, it lends a maximum of $5 million per project for a maximum of 50 years at a reasonable interest rate. To develop water supply for future municipal or industrial use, it can advance funds amounting to a maximum of 30 percent of the costs of a multipurpose reservoir and can defer payment for a maximum of 10 years without interest.

Watershed works of improvement (flood control dams, diversion channels, land treatment, etc.) provide multiple rural development benefits which can best be optimized when the projects are included in local rural development plans.

Following are appropriations for fiscal year 1979–1982: Fiscal year 1979: $169,607,000; fiscal year 1980: $185,099,000; fiscal year 1981: $192,524,000; and fiscal year 1982: $192,044,000.

How to Apply: Contact the County SCS Office, or the nearest Agricultural Service Center.

The Forest Service is responsible for managing and protecting the nation’s 154 National Forests, conducting forestry research and providing assistance to State and private forest landowners across the country. Assistance is available for improving the management for production of privately owned forest land. Permits granting special privileges for use of National Forest lands may also be obtained. The Forest Service also sponsors the Job Corps and Youth Conservation Corps, both of which are work and training programs for young people and the Senior Community Service Employment Program, a training program for low-income people who are at least 55 years of age.

Topic: Forest Service programs impacting on native American Indians

Details: The Forest Service (FS) administers several programs that individual Indians or tribes can qualify for. Some provide cost sharing, some employment, but the majority are limited to free technical assistance.

In general, the Cooperative Forestry Assistance Act of 1978 (Public Law 95-313) provides assistance for a large number of programs available to individuals and/or tribes. Section 3, Rural Forestry Assistance, includes utilization and marketing services to improve harvesting, milling, and marketing forest products. It includes assistance in site preparation, reforestation, thinning and other silvicultural practices designed to increase the quantity and quality of timber and other forest resources.

Utilization and marketing assistance, including sawmill studies have been made for Indian sawmills in Oregon, Arizona, Montana, and Mississippi. Both State and Forest Service personnel provided the services. These agency people have also provided timber harvesting and management planning assistance on a number of other reservations plus some native village corporations in Alaska Acre-age and dollar limitations, or total dollar limits on cost sharing, have prevented providing much assistance on tribal owned land. Assistance is directed more toward individual owners, especially off reservation on individual owners.

Sections 5 and 7 of Public Law 95-313 include forest insect and disease management programs and the protection of forest lands from fire. The Forest Service and tribal councils have cooperated on a number of forest insect suppression projects in the west. The Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) and State forestry organizations have provided forest fire protection for rural lands on reservations. The program includes a community fire protection element which authorizes assistance in organizing, equipping, and training rural fire departments. It is directed toward communities with substan-dard or no current protection.

Range Management Program

Assistance Available: Grazing privileges on National Forest land are provided to rural families (mainly small livestock operators) to supplement their yearlong supply of forage for cattle. Grazing permits are granted for which fees are charged. Technical assistance on proper grazing use of privately owned forest land is also available through cooperation between State agencies and the Forest Service. Act of April 24, 1950 (64 Stat. 88; 16 U.S.C. 5801).

How to Apply: Contact the Forest Supervisor or District Ranger of the National Forest or the nearest Agricultural Service Center.

Forest Pest Management Program

Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973.

How to Apply: Contact the county ADCS office, local State forestry agency office or the nearest Agricultural Service Center.

Free Use Timber Program

Assistance Available: Free use of timber from the National Forests may be granted to residents of the area in which such forest is located. Use of such timber is for non-profit ventures only. Timber may be used for firewood, fencing, building and other domestic purposes.

Residents outside the area where a National Forest is located are entitled to firewood after obtaining a “free use permit” from the nearest District Ranger’s office.

How to Apply: Contact the District Ranger, the Forest Supervisor of the National Forest, of the nearest Agricultural Service Center.

Job Corps Civilian Conservation Program

Assistance Available: Both educational training and vocational training are provided to young men and women between the ages of 16 and 21 who need such training to gain meaningful employment. Public Law 93-203.

How to Apply: Contact the local State Employment Office of the nearest Forest Service Ranger Station.
Special Land Use Program

Assistance Available: Special use of National Forest System lands for specific purposes under specific conditions is authorized. A Special Use Permit or other appropriate authorization is required for the occupancy and use of these lands such as for pastures, fences, roads and trails, buildings, water developments, resorts and any commercial enterprises.

Eligibility: Any individual, partnership, group, or other business entity and any agency of the Federal, State, or local government is eligible for consideration for a special use authorization.

How to Apply: Persons proposing to establish a use on lands within a National Forest or National Grassland should contact the local Forest Service office responsible for the lands to be affected so that potential constraints may be identified, the proposal can be considered in land management plans, and processing of an application can be tentatively scheduled. Applications may be made by letter by bid in response to a prospectus, by Form 2700-3, or by some other specifically prescribed forms and are filed with the District Ranger or Forest Supervisor having jurisdiction over the affected land. The responsible officer may require additional information on which to determine approval or denial and will provide written acknowledgement. No rights or privileges are conveyed until a special use authorization is issued.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

Office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense

September 22, 1982.

Mr. Richard S. Jones,
Congressional Research Service, Government Division, the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Jones: This is in reply to your letter requesting information on the Department of Defense (DoD) programs which benefit Indians or which are of special interest to Indians.

I regret that the DoD response took so long; however, the following information may be of interest to you:

1. The Department of the Army, Corps of Engineers has provided a compilation of programs benefiting American Indians.

2. The Department of the Navy has conducted a review of its current programs and has determined none meet the criteria in your April 29, 1982 memorandum.

3. The Department of the Air Force does not administer any separately funded program within the purview of the CRS requirement. Air Force, however, administers an awards program for outstanding contributions by American Indians which is of special interest to Indians or Indian tribes.

4. The Office of the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Administration reports that it does not have any programs which specifically affect Indians or Indian tribes; however, American Indians are included in its affirmative action plan.

5. The National Guard Bureau has identified specific program efforts regarding Eskimo Indians.

In 1981 we contacted the rest of our DoD components which are not included in this report. They reported that they had no programs of financial assistance, direct or indirect, which benefited Indians. To save time and resources, we did not contact those components this year.

Should you have any questions concerning the information provided, please contact Mr. Claiborne D. Haughton Jr., Director, Equal Opportunity Programs (Civilian), at (202) 695-0105.
We hope you find this information useful. Thank you for your patience and understanding in this matter.

Sincerely,

STUART NELSON,
Acting Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Equal Opportunity and Safety Policy.

OFFICE OF ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY EDUCATION

SCHOOL ASSISTANCE IN FEDERALLY AFFECTED AREAS—MAINTENANCE AND OPERATION

Objectives

To provide financial assistance to local educational agencies when enrollments or availability of revenue are adversely affected by Federal activities where the tax base of a district is reduced through the Federal acquisition of real property, where there is a sudden and substantial increase in school attendance as the result of Federal activities; to assist local agencies in the education of children residing on Federal, including Indian, lands and children whose parents are employed on Federal property or in the Uniformed Service. To provide major disaster assistance for replacing or repairing damaged or destroyed supplies, equipment, books and for repairing minor damages to facilities.

Assistance Considerations

Formula and Matching Requirements: Formula: Section 2—the otherwise assessed valuation times the tax rate required to balance the local budget while not, exceeding current expense tax rate. The statistical factor used for fund allocation: Section 2—Entitlement Computation Formula: Assessed valuation of federally owned real property if it were still on the tax rolls multiplied by the tax rate for current expenditures. This computation represents the maximum entitlements. Continuing need or burden are also included in formula. Source of data—Assessed valuation, records of tax rates, etc. are obtained from local or County Tax Assessors/Collectors. burden or needs data obtained from school district fiscal records and pupil records. Section 3—the Federal ADA times local contribution rates. The statistical factors used for fund allocation: Section 3—Entitlement Formula: Prior year's average daily attendance of all pupils divided by prior year's total membership is used to determine ratio. Ratio is then multiplied by each applicable category of federally connected pupils to determine federally connected ADA for payment purposes. Source of data—Average Daily Attendance and membership figures from prior applications, school district pupil accounting records or from State Education Department. Eligible federally connected pupils from actual pupil—parent survey forms. Section 4—the current per pupil cost of comparable districts less the State aid of applicant district. The statistical factors used for fund allocation: Section 4—Entitlement Factors—Assuming eligibility requirements have been satisfied, entitlement is computed by applying the number of increased pupils and the amount the Secretary determines to be the current expenditure per child minus amounts available from State, local or other Federal sources. Source of data—Pupil—parent surveys, pupil accounting records and local district fiscal records. See 34 CFR 222 formerly 45 CFR 115. Statistical factors used for eligibility do not apply to this program. There are no matching requirements. This program has maintenance of effort (MOE) requirements, see funding agency for further details.

Authorization

Assistance considerations

Formula and Matching Requirements: Funds for the 50 states, and the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, are allotted on the basis of a certified count of the number of handicapped children receiving special education and related services on December 1 of the fiscal year preceding the fiscal year for which the grant is made. Funds to the outlying areas and the Bureau of Indian Affairs are allotted on the basis of their respective need not to exceed 1 per centum of the aggregated amounts available to states in a fiscal year, as determined by the Secretary of Education. There are non-supplanting and excess cost requirements. State funds available to the State for direct and support services must be matched on a program basis. The statistical factors used for fund allocation are: 1. the total number of handicapped children receiving special education (3 to 21 years old) by State and the source is the unpublished reports from State education agencies; and 2. the average national per pupil expenditure by State and the source is the “Revenues and Expenditures”, NCES. Statistical factors used for eligibility do not apply to this program. This program has maintenance of effort (MOE) requirements, see funding agency for further details.

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

JUNE 28, 1982.

Mr. Richard S. Jones,

Dear Mr. Jones: This responds to Mr. Gilbert Gude's recent inquiry to the Department of Energy (DOE) requesting information on ongoing programs which are of benefit or special interest to Indians and Indian tribes.

The main thrust to the Department of Energy's assistance to Indian tribes is via the contract with the Council of Energy Resource Tribes (CERT). The CERT contract represents the jointly funded effort of the Departments of Energy, Interior's Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA), and Health and Human Services' Administration for Native Americans (ANA). The primary purposes of the contract are to assist the member tribes in assessing, developing and managing Indian-owned energy resources. The development of Indian energy resources will not only contribute to the national goal of reducing our dependence on imported oil, but also provide the revenue necessary to promote the development of healthy reservation economies.

As a result of the Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 1981, a number of DOE programs, for which Indians as well as others were eligible, have been terminated or are being phased out in FY 82 (i.e., geothermal, unconventional gas, coal loan guarantees, appropriate technology, etc.). However, there are a limited number of DOE programs still available for which Indians as well as others may qualify. These programs, along with information on each, are identified in the enclosed material.

If we can be of further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact members of my Indian Affairs staff listed below:

Marie M. Monsen

BLOCK GRANTS

The Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981 created seven DHHS block grants. INDIAN HEALTH SERVICE

DIRECT SERVICES

The Indian Health Service is the primary health resource for approximately 800,000 Indians and Alaskan Natives. Its mission of raising the health status of these Americans to the highest possible level is accomplished through a comprehensive high-quality health care delivery system of hospitals, health centers, and health stations operated by the IHS, supplemented by contractual arrangements with public and private health practitioners, institutions and tribal governments. Environmental health services also are provided, including construction of water supply and waste disposal facilities and the training needed to man them.

The IHS is committed to act as the Indians’ advocate in seeking out other interests and resources and to offer every assistance to Indian efforts to staff and manage their own health programs. Emphasis will continue on encouraging Indian leadership in health activities and on closing the health gap between Indians and the rest of the population in the shortest possible time.

Dear Mr. Jones: This is in response to Mr. Gilbert Guide's letter of April 29, 1982 to Secretary Pierce requesting that we provide updated information to be included in your compilation and description of Federal programs which specifically benefit Indians, or which are of special interest to Indians.

Enclosed, please find update information summaries for the Department of Housing and Urban Development's (HUD's) housing and community development programs which fall into the above mentioned categories, as well as a listing of the Department's Indian Program Field Offices.

The previously listed Comprehensive Planning Assistance Program (701) is deleted because the program no longer exists.

When the report is completed, please forward a copy to: Director, Office of Indian Housing (Attention: Cyrus Toll), 451 Seventh Street, S.W., Room 6230, Washington, D.C. 20410.

If we may be of further assistance, please contact us.

Sincerely,

Philip Abrams,
General Deputy Assistant Secretary—Deputy Federal Housing Commissioner.

Indian Housing Program

Nature of Program: The HUD-assisted Indian Housing Program provides housing in Indian and Alaska Native areas through Indian Housing Authorities (IHAs), established by tribal governments or in some instances pursuant to state law, which operate within their territorial jurisdiction.

HUD furnishes technical assistance to IHAs and provides financial assistance in the form of (1) preliminary loans for surveys and planning (2) development loans during construction and (3) debt service annual contributions to pay interest and principal on the obligations issued to provide the permanent financing. HUD also provides operating subsidies to assist IHAs in meeting their operating expenses (see Enclosure C).

Some of the projects provide rental housing but most are mutual-help homeownership opportunity projects. In rental projects, the low-income families pay rent based on a specified proportion of their income. All maintenance is paid for by the IHA and utilities are either paid for by the IHA or a rent allowance is provided where tenants pay for the utilities directly. In mutual-help projects, the participating families make a contribution of land, labor, material or equipment in the construction of the project for which they are given credit toward acquiring homeownership. The participants must provide all the maintenance, must pay for or provide all utilities and must make monthly payments based upon income.
which, however, must at least cover the cost of insurance and the IHA's administrative expenses. Homeownership is acquired when the obligations to finance the development cost are fully amortized.

Two basic methods have been used for construction of the housing. (1) conventional bid and (2) Turnkey. Under the conventional bid method, the IHA advertises for competitive bids from construction contractors on the basis of detailed drawings and specifications, and makes progress payments to the construction contractor as work proceeds. Under the Turnkey method, the IHA advertises for proposals on the basis of less detailed specifications, and enters into a Contract of Sale with the selected developer under which the developer must provide his own interim financing and is entitled to be paid only when he delivers the acceptably completed housing.

Purpose of Program: The purpose is to provide decent housing in their Indian and Alaska Native areas, where the needs have been great. This HUD assisted program has been providing a substantial portion of all the housing in the Indian areas.

Eligibility Requirements: There must be an Indian Housing Authority (IHA) which has been established either by a tribal government having police power jurisdiction or pursuant to state enabling legislation. Eligibility of families is determined under income limits and other relevant criteria established by the IHAs and approved by HUD.

How to Apply: Pursuant to the applicable HUD Regulation, 24 CFR Part 805, a duly qualified IHA files an application for a project in the form and with supporting information as required by the regulation and HUD procedures. Preliminary inquiry is usually made to the appropriate HUD Indian Program Field Office, which provides technical assistance in connection with the preparation of the application.

Who to Contact: HUD Regional Office of Indian Programs in Chicago, Denver, San Francisco and Seattle; and HUD Area Office in Oklahoma City and Anchorage (see Enclosure G).

Printed Information: The HUD Indian Housing Regulations, 24 CFR Part 805 and the HUD Indian Housing Handbook (7440.1) which may be obtained from the appropriate HUD Field Offices.

Administering Agency: Assistant Secretary for Housing-FHA Commissioner, Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 7th Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20410.

Available Assistance: See explanation under 1a. Funds for training and counseling of families may be included in the development cost of projects.

Use Restrictions: Housing projects must be administered in accordance with HUD requirements. For example, IHAs are responsible for collection of rents or monthly payments, for seeing that the housing is maintained in safe, decent and sanitary condition, for payment of all expenses, and maintenance of books of account. In addition, only low income families are eligible for participation, where 'low income is defined as being insufficient to cause private industry to provide an adequate supply of decent, safe and sanitary housing.
Appropriations/HUD Allocation for Fiscal Year 1983: Funding for new projects is provided by Congress in the form of authorization to enter into Annual Contributions Contracts for payment of annual contributions aggregating not more than a specified number of dollars per year (called Contract Authority), and a corresponding limitation on budget authority, the total amount paid out during the term of the projects. No additional Contract Authority is proposed for Indian housing in Fiscal Year 1983.

Appropriations/HUD Allocations for the Past Three Fiscal Years:

- Fiscal year 1980: $30.8 million of additional Annual Contributions Contract Authority which was sufficient to finance approximately $405.2 million of development.
- Fiscal year 1981: $13.8 million of additional Annual Contributions Contract Authority which was sufficient to finance approximately $173.7 million of development.
- Fiscal year 1982: $18.96 million (anticipated) of additional Annual Contributions Contract Authority which will be sufficient to finance approximately $192.2 million of development.
- Fiscal year 1983: $19.8 million (anticipated) of additional Annual Contributions Contract Authority which will be sufficient to finance approximately $192.2 million of development.

Obligation Incurred (Actual Contract Authority Reserved):

- Fiscal year 1980: $27.8 million of additional Annual Contributions Contract Authority which was sufficient to finance approximately $365.7 million of development.
- Fiscal year 1981: $11.05 million of additional Annual Contributions Contract Authority which was sufficient to finance approximately $139.1 million of development.
- Fiscal year 1982: Unknown.

Comprehensive Improvement Assistance Program (CIAP) (Modernization for Public Housing Agencies and Indian Housing Authorities)

Nature of Program: Under this program, HUD provides modernization funds to Indian Housing Authorities (IHAs) to finance needed physical and management improvements in existing rental projects and to finance selected physical improvements in existing homeownership projects. The improvements are financed over a 20-year period, during which the IHAs must operate the modernized projects in accordance with HUD requirements.

Purpose of Program: CIAP provides financial assistance to improve the physical condition and upgrade the management and operation of existing Indian housing projects.

Eligibility Requirements: There must be an IHA which has either been established by a tribal government having police power jurisdiction over the area or which has been otherwise established with comparable jurisdiction.
How to Apply: Under the applicable HUD regulation, 24 CFR Part 686, the IHA submits to the appropriate HUD Field Office an application for modernization funds in forms prescribed by HUD.

Who to Contact: HUD Regional Offices of Indian Programs in Chicago, Denver, San Francisco, and Seattle; and HUD Area Offices in Oklahoma City and Anchorage. (See Enclosure G).

Printed Information: The HUD Comprehensive Improvement Assistance Program (CIPA) Regulations, 24 CFR 868, and the HUD CIPA Handbook 7485.1 REV., which may be obtained from the appropriate HUD Indian Program Field Office.

Authorizing Legislation: U.S. Housing Act of 1937 (Public Law 75-412), as amended by the Housing and Community Development Act of 1980 (Public Law 96-399).

Administering Agency: Assistant Secretary for Housing-FHA Commissioner, Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 Seventh Street, SW., Washington, D.C. 20410.

Available Assistance: See explanation in Indian Housing Program.

Use Restrictions: For homeownership projects only, eligible physical improvements are limited to alterations to meet applicable physical standards for family need or suitability, including work items for energy conservation or elimination of barriers for the handicapped. Major repairs or replacements and management improvements are not eligible modernization costs for homeownership projects. Modernization of homeownership projects results in an increase in the purchase price and amortization period of each home and must be agreed to by each affected homebuyer family.

Appropriations/HUD Allocation for Fiscal Year 1983: Funding for new projects is provided by Congress in the form of authorization to enter into Annual Contributions Contracts for payment of annual contributions aggregating not more than a specified number of dollars per year (called Contract Authority) and a corresponding limitation on budget authority, the total amount paid out during the term of the projects.

The amount of contract authority which will be allocated to IHAs in Fiscal Year 1983 is unknown at this time.

Appropriations/HUD Allocations for Past Three Fiscal Years:

Fiscal year 1980—$659,000 in additional Annual Contributions Contract Authority to IHAs which financed approximately $7.2 million of improvements.

Fiscal year 1981—$1,446,000 in additional Annual Contributions Contract Authority to IHAs which financed approximately $15.8 million of improvements.

Fiscal year 1982—$2,698,000 (preliminary estimate) in additional Annual Contributions Contract Authority which will finance approximately $20.6 million of improvements.

Fiscal year 1981—$1,446,000 of additional Annual Contributions Contract Authority for IHAs.

OPERATING SUBSIDIES FOR PUBLIC HOUSING AGENCIES, INCLUDING INDIAN HOUSING AUTHORITIES

Nature and Purpose of Program: HUD provides operating subsidies required to help Public Housing Agencies (PHAs) and Indian Housing Authorities (IHAs) maintain and operate their projects, retain minimum operating reserves and offset certain operating deficits. The operating subsidies for most Indian Housing Authorities are based on the Performance Funding System (PFS) or a special funding system of the Mutual Help Homeownership Program.

The Performance Funding System calculates operating subsidy eligibility based on what it would cost to operate a comparable well-managed housing project. Subsidy is provided for the Mutual Help Homeownership Program to cover Independent Public Accountant (IPA) audit costs and other specified costs which are not properly apportionable to all homebuyers of a project as part of the Administration Charge.

As of October 1, 1981, Indian housing projects comprising approximately 42,408 units were receiving operating subsidies.

Eligibility Requirements: There must be an Indian Housing Authority which has either been established by a tribal government having police powers over its jurisdiction or has been established pursuant to a State Law. An IHA must have entered into an Annual Contributions contract with HUD in order to be eligible to receive operating subsidy.

How to Apply: Under the applicable HUD regulations, 24 CFR Part 890 or 805, an IHA submits a proposed operating budget to the appropriate HUD Field Office for financial analysis.

Who to Contact: HUD Regional Offices of Indian Programs in Chicago, Denver, San Francisco and Seattle; and HUD Area Offices in Oklahoma City and Anchorage (See Enclosure G).

Printed Information: The HUD regulations governing Annual Contributions for Operating Subsidy, 24 CFR Part 890; Indian Housing Final Rule, 24 CFR 805; HUD Handbook 7475.1 (Low-Income Housing Financial Management Handbook); and HUD Handbook 7475.13 (Performance Funding System Handbook), which may be obtained from the appropriate HUD Field Office.

Authorizing Legislation: Section 9 of the U.S. Housing Act of 1937 (Public Law 75-412), as amended by Title II of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-383) and subsequent amendments.

Administering Agency: Assistant Secretary for Housing-FHA Commissioner, Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington D.C. 20410.

Available Assistance: See explanation under (nature and purpose of program).

Use Restrictions: For Indian Mutual Help Homeownership projects, operation subsidy may only be paid to reimburse an IHA for
(1) HUD-approved costs of Independent Public Accountant audits;
(2) Administrative Charges for vacant units; (3) collection losses due to payment delinquencies on the part of Homebuyer families whose Mutual Help and Occupancy Agreements have been terminated, and who have vacated the home and the actual cost of and maintenance (including repairs and replacements) necessary to put the vacant home in a suitable condition for a substitute Homebuyer family; (4) the costs of HUD-approved Homebuyer counseling but not in duplication of such counseling funded under a Development Cost Budget; (5) HUD-approved costs for training of IHA staff and Commissioners; and (6) other unusual operating costs as determined by HUD Headquarters justifying a payment of operating subsidy.

For Mutual Help projects, no operating subsidy shall be paid for utilities, maintenance or other items for which the Homebuyer is responsible under the Mutual Help and Occupancy Agreement.

Appropriations/HUD Allocation for Fiscal Year 1983: $1,075 million for Public Housing Agencies and Indian Housing Authorities (Budget Estimate). No HUD breakout available for IHAs.

Appropriations/HUD Allocations for Past Three Fiscal Years:
- Fiscal year 1980—$907.1 million for PHAs and IHAs combined.
- Fiscal year 1981—$1,102.6 million for PHAs and IHAs combined.
- Fiscal year 1982—$1,152.3 million (estimate) for PHAs and IHAs combined.

Obligations Incurred:
- Fiscal year 1980—$907.1 million for PHAs and IHAs combined.
- Fiscal year 1981—$1,102.6 million for PHAs and IHAs combined.
- Fiscal year 1982—1,152.3 (estimate) million for PHAs and IHAs combined.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANTS FOR INDIAN TRIBES AND ALASKAN NATIVE VILLAGES

Nature of Program: Modeled after the block grant program for cities, this program has been made especially responsive to the special needs, cultural traditions, and legal circumstances of Indian tribes and Alaskan Native villages.

Each year HUD allocates to its field offices funds for which eligible tribes and villages may compete. Interested tribes and Alaskan Native villages determine their most pressing community development needs and decide which activities can best meet those needs. The applications they submit for funds for those activities are rated by selection criteria developed by each Regional Office in consultation with all eligible tribes in the region. The criteria include the extent of poverty, the extent to which activities to be funded address particular needs for housing, community facilities and economic development, and the extent to which the activity will benefit low and moderate income persons. Tribes and Alaskan Native villages are ranked. Those with the higher ranking are funded until all the funds are committed.

Activities which are eligible for funding include housing rehabilitation programs, construction of tribal and other facilities for single or multiple use; and economic development projects, particularly those by non-profit tribal organizations or local development corporations.

Purpose of Program: Block grants to Indian tribes and Alaskan Native Villages promote sound community development by improving the housing stock; providing community facilities; and assisting the economic development of Indian communities.

Eligibility Requirements: Any Indian tribe, band, group, or nation including Alaskan Indians, Aleuts, and Eskimos and any Alaskan Native village of the United States which is considered to be eligible under either the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act as determined by the Bureau of Indian Affairs or the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act of 1972 as determined by the Department of Treasury, Office of Revenue Sharing.

How to Apply: Eligible tribes and villages must submit an application by a prescribed deadline to the Office of Indian Programs or Area Office within whose jurisdiction they fall. (See Enclosure G.) Applications must include a standard form 424; a narrative statement which includes demographic data, description of activities proposed, and their scope and magnitude; and a description of how the activities will meet their community development needs.

Who to Contact: For more information on the specific requirements of the Indian CDBG program contact the appropriate Indian Programs Field Office listed in Enclosure G.

Printed Information: Copies of the regulations governing the Indian CDBG program (24 CRR 571) may be obtained from the appropriate Indian Programs Field Office.

Available Assistance: 100 percent grants.

Use Restrictions: Grant funds may only be used for eligible activities such as: property acquisition; construction of recreational facilities, senior centers, or tribal facilities; water and sewer improvements; street improvements; housing rehabilitation; commercial or industrial facilities; etc. Only 20 percent of a grant can be used for planning and administrative costs associated with the project.

Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1983: Approximately $30.0 million.

Appropriations for Past Fiscal Years: Fiscal year 1980—$31.0 million.
Fiscal year 1981—$33.3 million.

Local Contacts: Appropriate HUD Office of Indian Programs. (See list of field offices.)

Related Programs: HUD Indian Housing Program. HUD Urban Development Action Grants.

URBAN DEVELOPMENT ACTION GRANTS (UDAG)

Nature of Program: The Urban Development Action Grant Program is a major Federal assistance program directed to the economic development revitalization and conservation of distressed areas. A 1980 legislative amendment permitted Indian tribes to be considered eligible to apply for UDAG if they meet the “distressed community” eligibility requirements. UDAG is not an entitlement program for distressed communities. Proposals submitted in a given quarter are reviewed for feasibility and effectiveness. Those meeting that standard are selected based upon specific criteria.

Purpose of Program: The purpose of UDAG is to assist distressed communities which require increased public assistance and private investment to alleviate physical and economic deterioration. Assistance will be made available for economic revitalization in communities with population outmigration or a stagnating or declining tax base, and for reclamation of neighborhoods having excessive housing abandonment or deterioration.

Eligibility Requirements: Cities and urban counties are eligible for UDAG if they meet the minimum eligibility standards of physical and economic distress as determined by the Secretary of HUD. The 1980 amendment to the Housing and Community Development Act extended eligibility to Indian tribes which are located on a reservation or in an Alaskan Native village and eligible recipients under the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act of 1972. The Department has been instructed by Congress not to consider any tribe as eligible unless it has a level of distress similar to that of small cities which are eligible for UDAG.

How to Apply: Contact appropriate HUD Indian Programs Office for instructions. (See list of field offices.)

Who to Contact: See Washington and local contacts.

Printed Information: Urban Development Action Grant Program regulations 24 CFR Part 570 Subpart G.

Authorizing Legislation: The Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended.

Administering Agency: Department of Housing and Urban Development, Assistant Secretary for Community Planning and Development, Office of Urban Development Action Grants, 451 7th Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20410.

Available Assistance: 100 percent grants, however no project will be funded unless there is a firm commitment of private resources for activities which have a clear direct relationship to the activities for which funding is being requested.

Use Restrictions: (a) Metropolitan cities and urban counties may not use UDAC funds for planning the project or developing the application; (b) UDAG funds cannot be used for public services; (c) No assistance will be provided for projects intended to facilitate the relocation of industrial or commercial plants or facilities; and (d) Eligible activities are limited to those eligible under the Community Development Block Grant program and which support a commercial, industrial, or residential project.

Appropriation for Fiscal Year 1983: No Indian set aside; $440,000,000 for total UDAG program.

Appropriations for Past Fiscal Years: No Indian set aside. $440,000,000 for total UDAG program in fiscal year 1982 and $675,000,000 in fiscal year 1981.

Examples of funded projects

Quileute Demonstration Project-Quileute Reservation, approximately one mile outside of La Push, Washington, 24 single units. Four elderly units. (These units are two duplex units.) This is one of the finest examples of HIP which can produce a quality house taking into consideration local wishes and desires. Eighteen units in Little Diamede, Alaska. Prior to HIP undertaking there was no housing in this area. No other federally-assisted housing program was able to meet this need. The impact of this housing in the area has been significant. Not only the Natives have been able to live in decent housing but the effort proved decent housing could be a reality in remote Alaska Villages. Thus, as a result of this HIP effort housing programs started in Alaska Villages.

Criteria for selecting proposals

There are no proposals in the HIP per se: Requests for HIP funding are made by tribes for the repair and renovation of their existing Indian housing. The repair and renovation is accomplished by direct grants. Priorities are set by tribes and families to receive assistance under the HIP and are selected by tribes taking into account the family size, income, condition of present housing and the availability of other federally-assisted housing programs.

Self-Determination Grants—Indian Tribal Governments

To improve tribal governing capabilities, to prepare for contracting of Bureau programs; to enable tribes to provide direction to the Bureau, and to have input to other Federal programs intended to serve Indian people.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS SERVICE

Prevention and conciliation of community disputes: Nature and Purpose: To help resolve problems causing tension and conflict affecting racial and ethnic minority groups, the Community Relations Service (CRS) offers a third-party intervention service to help disputants work out their difficulties on a voluntary basis. While issues concerning administration of justice, education, and economic opportunity are the most frequent kinds of problems drawing the attention of CRS, the agency also has proved to be of assistance to Indian groups in conflict situations concerned with treaty rights, hunting and fishing jurisdiction, commercial uses of Indian land and allegations of economic exploitation of tribal lands or of individual Indians. CRS also provides training in conflict management and community relations techniques to tribal officials and Indian police and education agencies.

Assistance is available to tribal groups as well as urban Indians.

Conciliation services include the assistance of staff specialists to help clarify issues, to improve communication between the contesting parties, and to identify and arrange for specific technical assistance or other resources when necessary. The service also provides expert mediators in those situations where the parties are ready to engage in formal mediation of specific issues with the intention of reaching a written agreement.

Eligibility requirements and application for services: The Community Relations Service is authorized to provide assistance upon the request of government agencies, private organizations, concerned individuals, or on its own motion. Tribal governments, Indians organizations, or individual Indians may request services at any time through a letter or phone call to any CRS regional office listed below. In crisis situations, emergency request may be made at any hour of the day or night.

Requests for service or information: Requests for assistance should be made to the appropriate regional director listed below. General information should be requested of the Office of the Director, Community Relations Service, Department of Justice, Washington, D.C. 20530.

Administering agency: Community Relations Service, Department of Justice

Use restricting: The Service is not available in cases involving conflicts or grievances among individuals unless community or group relationships are significantly involved.

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION
OFFICE OF INDIAN AND NATIVE AMERICAN PROGRAMS

Native American Employment and Training Program

This program is funded under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) of 1978. It provides employment, training and related services to Native Americans who are unemployed, underemployed or economically disadvantaged. It is administered nationally by the Department of Labor (DOL), which gives annual grants to about 193 Native American organizations. The program serves residents of State and Federal reservations, recognized tribes in the State of Oklahoma, Alaska Native villages, Native Hawaiians, and nonreservation Indians and other Native Americans in all 50 States.

Each Native American grantee designs its own program, based on local needs. Grantees are encouraged to formulate employment and training goals that support local economic development and the creation of unsubsidized employment opportunities.

In March of each year, interested groups submit applications to DOL to be designated Native American grantees for the fiscal year beginning the following October. Over the years, the grantees for the previous year have usually been redesignated. This is because the bulk of the funds go to established tribes and Native Alaskan organizations. New designations are made when an existing grantee fails to perform adequately or an existing group disbands and individual grants are given to one or more of its members.

The Act gives grantees the responsibility for actual program operations. It prohibits the Federal Government, within certain reasonable limitations, from directing the grantees to undertake or refrain from undertaking specific activities. The guiding principle is that any activity must increase the employability of participants. The DOL's role vis-à-vis the grantees' operations could be described as advisory and educational, but also includes monitoring of the grantees to ensure conformity with regulations. Specifically, the DOL provides technical assistance to the grantees on how best to operate the programs to achieve the desired results of training and placing Native Americans in jobs and thereby improve their social and economic well being.

For the first time in the history of Federal employment and training programs, Native Americans have their own set of regulations, i.e., designed with their input and with their special problems in mind. These comprehensive CETA regulations cover in one volume all the CETA programs for which Native Americans are eligible.

The Title III funds are allocated on the basis of unemployed and low income persons in an area. Funds from the other titles are allocated on the basis of unemployed persons, without including the low income persons. It is felt that the unemployment level of an area is generally indicative of the need for federally assisted employment and training programs. Title VII funds for the Private Sector Initiative Program are not allocated by formula, but rather on a competitive basis. Applications are submitted to DOL, which turns them over to a panel of experts for evaluation and recommendations.

All Native American grantees are entitled to CETA Title III, Section 302 program funds. In addition, Native American grantees which administer programs for Federal and State reservations, receive funds for Title IV youth programs—Youth Community Conservation and Improvement Projects, Youth Employment and Training Programs, and Summer Youth Employment Programs. Under Title VII of CETA, reservations, Native Alaskans and Oklahoma tribes are entitled to funds for programs to develop tribal and private industry jobs in their areas.

2. Eligibility Requirements.—Grantees must be a Native American entity with a governing body and a service population of at least 1,000 persons and possess the capability to administer a program. This is covered in detail in 20 CFR 688.10.

3. How to Apply.—This is covered in 20 CFR, Subpart C. Applications must be submitted to the DOL by March 1 for a grant to begin on October 1 of the same year.

4. Whom to Contact for Information Regarding this Program.—Mr. Pete Homer, Jr., Acting Director, Division of Indian and Native American Programs, U.S. Department of Labor, Employment and Training Administration, 601 D Street, N.W., Room 7112; Washington, D.C. 20213.

The Department of the Treasury administers the General Revenue Sharing Program (State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act, as amended (PL 96-604)) which provides financial assistance to general purpose governments including eligible Indian tribes and Alaskan native villages. The following information concerning the General Revenue Sharing Program is categorized according to the numbers used in your letter.

If you have further questions concerning the General Revenue Sharing Program, please contact Mr. Fred Williams at Office of Revenue Sharing, Intergovernmental Relations Division, on (202) 634-5229.

Sincerely,

MICHAEL F. HILL.

THE GENERAL REVENUE SHARING PROGRAM

(1) The General Revenue Sharing Program was created with the passage of the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act of 1972 (PL 92-512). The program was renewed and modified by the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Amendments of 1976 and 1980. The Amendments of 1980 authorized the return of $13.7 billion to more than 39,000 counties, parishes, boroughs, municipalities, towns, townships, Louisiana law enforcement officers and, Indian Tribes and Alaskan Native Villages. The current legislation expires on September 30, 1988. The amounts to be distributed to each unit of government are determined each entitlement period (October 1–September 30) by inserting descriptive data into the statutory allocation formulas. The formulas and data are used to determine each government's share of the total amount allocated to the State area. Indian governments and Alaskan native villages receive their share of the amount allocated to a State area based on the Indian population as a percentage of the total county area population in which the government is located. Governments with explicit governmental boundaries which extend to multiple county or State areas have allocations computed for each relevant county area and subsequently, these allocations are summed to determine the government's aggregate allocation amount. Payments then are made quarterly based on each government's allocation for an annual entitlement period. Payments are made five working days after the quarter to which they apply.

The purpose of revenue sharing is to strengthen the Federal system by sharing a portion of the progressive Federal income tax with local governments which traditionally have had to depend on more regressive taxes. Its major goal is to disburse Federal Assistance with minimum restrictions on use therein, permitting the local decision-making process to determine the programs and activities where limited funds are most needed.

(2) The General Revenue Sharing Program provides fiscal assistance to units of general purpose government which perform substantial governmental functions. All general purpose governments as determined in accord with Census Bureau criteria are eligible to participate and receive revenue sharing funds. In addition, Section 108(d)(1) of the Revenue Sharing Act extends eligibility to include the governing bodies of Indian tribes and Alaskan native villages which perform substantial governmental functions.

Any person, group or agency is an eligible beneficiary of revenue sharing funds allocated to a recipient government and must be permitted to participate in two required public hearings on the use of these funds. The final decision concerning the use of the funds is made by the governing body.

(3) Revenue Sharing is an entitlement program; thus, no formal application procedure is required. A new certified or restored native government is eligible for the next entitlement period after the period in which it is activated. Newly eligible tribes and native villages are currently identified by the Bureau of Indian Affairs for Federally affiliated tribes and Alaskan native villages or by the Governor of the State in the case of State recognized tribes. Each eligible government, through its chief executive officer, must assure the Secretary of the Treasury that it will comply with the provisions of the law in order to receive payments for an entitlement period.

(4) Contact for information on the General Revenue Sharing Program:
Mr. Fred Williams, Native Government Coordinator, Intergovernmental Relations Division, Office of Revenue Sharing, 2401 E Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20226, telephone (202) 634-5229.

(5) The Office of Revenue Sharing publishes a variety of printed material describing the General Revenue Sharing Program. Copies are provided nationwide to libraries designated as depositories for Government publications. The Office of Revenue Sharing also has a limited number of these publications available to interested parties.

General publications explaining General Revenue Sharing are entitled, Revenue Sharing 1981-1983, A Plain Language Explanation of the Revenue Sharing Program and The Public Participation Handbook. The Intergovernmental Relations Division publishes Revenue Sharing Facts for Local Governments a handbook on topics of interest to recipient governments. This publication covers topics such as: General Revenue Sharing; Comparison of Old and New Programs; The General Revenue Sharing Allocation Process; Uses and Restrictions for the Expenditure of General Revenue Sharing Funds; Publication Participation Requirements; General Revenue Sharing Audit and Accounting Requirements; General Revenue Sharing and the Davis-Bacon Act; Nondiscrimination and the Revenue Sharing Program; and The Checklist! A Guide to Federal Revenue Sharing for Indian and Alaskan Native Government Officials.

(6) Title I of the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act of 1972 (PL 92-512) as amended by the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Amendments of 1976 (PL 94-488) and, the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Amendments of 1980 (PL 96-604) is the authorizing legislation for the General Revenue Sharing Program.

(7) The General Revenue Sharing Program is administered by the Office of Revenue Sharing (ORS), U.S. Department of the Treasury.

(8) The Intergovernmental Relations and Technical Assistance Division of ORS has a Native Government Coordinator who provides technical advice and assistance to governments and maintains liaison with public interest groups.

(9) Native governments may spend entitlement funds for any purpose which is legal under tribal law. Discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age or handicapped status is prohibited in any program or activity funded in whole or in part with revenue sharing funds. Provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act must be observed. Funds must be expended, obligated or appropriated within two years from the end of the entitlement period to which the payment applies.

(10) The estimated fiscal year 1983 (Entitlement Period 14) allocations to the 341 eligible Indian Tribes and Alaskan native villages total approximately $10.8 million.

(11) Indian tribes and Alaskan native villages were allocated $9.5 million for fiscal year 1980, $11.4 million for fiscal year 1981, and $8.5 million for fiscal year 1982.

(12) Obligations to Indian tribes and Alaskan native villages are incurred after their allocations have been calculated as prescribed by the statutory formulas.

(13) The Intergovernmental Relations and Technical Assistance Division of ORS has a Native Governments Coordinator who provides technical advice and assistance to governments and maintains liaison with public interest groups.

(14) ORS has established a network of liaison persons throughout the 50 State governments to facilitate communication with recipient governments. This liaison network includes the National Tribal Chairmen's Association, National Congress of American Indians, Alaskan Federation of Natives, the twelve Alaskan Regional Corporations, as well as, State Departments' of Indian Affairs, Inter-Tribal Councils, and State Tribal Chairmen's Associations. Liaison also is maintained with the area of offices of the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

(15) No related programs. The Office of Revene Sharing administered the Antirecession Fiscal Assistance Program (Title II of the Public Works Employment Act of 1976—PL 94-369, as amended by Title VI of the Intergovernmental Antirecession Act of 1977—PL 95-30) which was enacted in July 1976, renewed in 1977, and expired in 1978. No Antirecession Assistance was authorized during fiscal years 1979 through 1982, and there is no authorization for FY83.

The other four enclosures, pertaining to Water, Drinking Water, Underground Injection Control and Hazardous Waste Management Programs, are significantly rewritten and are intended to replace the entries for those programs in your 1981 Report.

If you have any further questions, please contact Leigh Price at 382-5070.

Sincerely yours,

Paul C. Cahill,

For fiscal years 1982 and 1983, the overall budget allocations for the "Objectives" of this program did not include specific line items for Indians or other recipients, as did the 1981 budget (in which the $925,000 was designated for tribal programs). However, the overall EPA budget proposal for program support activities cited under "Objectives" was continued unchanged from fiscal year 1981 to fiscal year 1982 and reduced by 20 percent in fiscal year 1983.

Range and average of Financial Assistance

$10,500 to $50,000; $33,600.

Program Accomplishments

In fiscal year 1980, the program funded grants to demonstrate new or improved methods for abatement and control of air pollution.

WATER PROGRAMS

MUNICIPAL WASTEWATER TREATMENT CONSTRUCTION GRANTS PROGRAM

Implementing section 201 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, as amended

1. The Construction Grants Program assists eligible municipal grantees to construct cost-effective wastewater treatment works which control and reduce water pollution sources. Prior to 1981 when the Act was amended, EPA provided grants for the planning, design, and construction of municipal treatment works. However, since the signing of the amendments on December 29, 1981, grants solely for planning and design are no longer awarded. States are authorized to use a portion of the funds allocated to States each fiscal year to advance to potential grant applicants the costs of planning and design work. Further, effective October 1, 1984, EPA funding will be limited to 55 percent of the eligible cost for construction of such pollution control projects, effective October 1, 1984.

Regulations promulgating these and other recent changes to the Act were published in the Federal Register as interim final and proposed rules on May 12, 1982.

2. Section 201(g)(1) authorizes the EPA Administrator to make grants to any State, municipality, or intermunicipal or interstate agency for the construction of publicly owned treatment works. Indian tribes or authorized Indian tribal organizations are specifically included in the definition of “municipality.” Each State receives an allotment based on unfulfilled needs (as estimated by the biennial Needs Survey) from the annual or multi-year appropriation. Grant assistance is awarded to projects on a State priority list developed in accordance with an approved State priority system. All projects for building treatment works to be funded by EPA must be included on a State project priority list, except training facilities funded under Section 109(b) of the Act.

3. For procedures on how to apply for placement on the State project priority list, contact the State water pollution control agency.

4. The appropriate EPA Regional Administrator should be contacted for further information regarding the program.

5. Printed information available concerning the program can also be obtained from the appropriate EPA Regional Office.

7. Administering Agency: Environmental Protection Agency.
8. Available Assistance: 75 percent Federal funding prior to October 1, 1984 unless lowered uniformly throughout a state by the governor; thereafter, 55 percent Federal funding.

9. Use Restrictions: Not applicable.

IMPLEMENTATION OF THE PUBLIC WATER SYSTEM SUPERVISION PROGRAM (SAFE DRINKING WATER ACT)

1. Purpose and Description. Implementation of the Public Water System Supervision (PWSS) program. The PWSS program requires that states, when they have legal jurisdiction, carry out a PWSS program. When the state does not have legal jurisdiction, the EPA must carry out the program. The state PWSS program must be approved before the state has primary enforcement responsibility (primacy) and before the state can qualify for a PWSS grant. It should be noted that in many cases, the states are not able to exercise legal authority over public water systems on Indian land.

The purpose of each state PWSS program is to carry out a data gathering effort to inventory public water systems and track the degree of compliance with the regulations, States must require that public water systems see that drinking water is analyzed and information on water quality is provided to the consumer. Water systems are required to take necessary steps to install treatment in order to meet health standards. In most Indian land areas EPA acts as a state to oversee public water systems and assure they comply with the regulations.

2. Eligibility Requirements. The state agency is eligible to receive grants if the state has primary enforcement responsibility. Indian tribes have not been provided with funds to carry out this work because the Safe Drinking Water Act (SDWA) does not define Indian lands as a "State." Only states may receive PWSS grants. In some cases, EPA Regional Offices could provide direct grants and contracts to organizations to carry out a particular segment of the required work. However, these funds are minimal.

3. Application Procedures. For the procedures of applying on grants and information on available grants and contracts, the appropriate EPA Regional Office should be contacted, or John Trax, State Programs Division, ODW, EPA, Washington, D.C. 20460, (202) 472-4152.

4. Further Program Information. For further information on the program and requirements under the Safe Drinking Water Act and 40 CFR 142 regulations, the EPA Regional Offices should be contacted.

5. Printed Information. Printed information on the PWSS program may be available through the EPA Regional Offices or John Trax (See item 3).

8. Available Assistance. Assistance varies from year-to-year. No Regional Office contracts and grants are available in fiscal year 1983.

IMPLEMENTATION OF THE UNDERGROUND INJECTION CONTROL PROGRAM (SAFE DRINKING WATER ACT, PART C)

1. Purpose and Description: The Purpose of the Underground Injection Control (UIC) program is to require the states (when they have primary enforcement responsibility (primacy)) to control underground injection wells. In cases where the state is not able to exercise legal authority over injection wells or does not have primacy, the EPA must carry out the program.

Program Description: States must be seeking primary enforcement responsibility in order to qualify for State UIC grants. However, Indian organizations and Indian land do not meet the definition of a "state" in the Safe Drinking Water Act (SDWA). Hence, Indian organizations cannot qualify for State UIC grants.

In order to fulfill the purpose of the SDWA, that is to control injection wells, the EPA must carry out a UIC program on Indian land. The EPA program includes providing technical assistance, permitting injection wells, identification of underground sources of drinking water, establishing the injection well inventory and developing adequate reporting, surveillance and enforcement procedures. Through the introduction of the proposed 40 CFR § 122.46, EPA has flexibility in the implementation of the program.

2. Eligibility Requirements: Under Part C of the Safe Drinking Water Act (SDWA), the states may be eligible to receive grants for carrying out an underground injection control program. In the allotment of funds to the state, injection facilities in Indian lands are taken into consideration. The state grant allocations which not accepted by states may be converted to Regional Office contract funds and can be issued as contracts or grants by the Regional offices to carry out the UIC program in non-primacy states. Regional Offices can issue grants and contracts for Indian land areas where there are injection wells. Few states have shown that they have legal authority over injection wells on Indian land. In these states, funds do not go directly to the Indian organizations, but the Indian land areas benefit from the underground injection control program which is administered in such areas.

3. Application Procedures: For information on how to apply for UIC grants and contracts from the Regional Offices, the appropriate EPA Regional Office should be consulted.

4. Further Program Information: The appropriate EPA Regional Office or Tom Belk, ODW, EPA (WH-550), Washington, D.C. (202/426-3934) should be contacted.

7. Administering Agency: Environmental Protection Agency.

8. Assistance Available: In fiscal year 1983, Regional Office contracts and grants are available on a limited basis. The purposes of these funds are to plan and to carry out UIC programs on Indian lands and in non-primacy states.

Renewals: For states under Section 3011, grants are renewed annually, provided all requirements are met.

Assistance Considerations

Formula and Matching Requirements: This section operates under a regulatory formula. Statistical factors used for allocation include 1) State population, as determined by the 1970 Census, Revised 1976 Estimates of the Population of the States and Provisional 1977 estimates of the Population of the States, P25 CPR; 2) area measurement report for land area data, from the Census Area Measurement Reports; 3) number of generators of hazardous waste of States, based on studies conducted by EPA, Office of Solid Waste; and 4) quantities of waste generated annually, based on studies conducted by EPA, Office of Solid Waste. The statistical factor used for eligibility is that of States and trust territories, no source of data indicated. The formula is based on each State’s population (40 percent); amount of waste produced (40 percent); number of manufacturers (15 percent), and land area (5 percent).

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance: Grants are normally funded on a 12-month basis (Federal Fiscal Year). Total project period varies according to program requirements. Assistance is awarded by advance payment method.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY COMMISSION

Mr. Richard S. Jones,
Congressional Research Service, Government Division, the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Jones: This is in response to Mr. Gilbert Gude's correspondence of May 17, 1982, requesting information on any Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) program that is of special benefit to Native Americans. The only program which EEOC administers which specifically aids this group is the Tribal Employment Rights Office (TERO).

The following information pertains to each of the numbered areas in your report's format:

1. The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission funds the Tribal Employment Rights Office (TERO) program to encourage and facilitate the use of Indian employment in businesses and industries located within the geographical boundaries of a particular reservation or within commuting distance of the reservation. To achieve these goals, the TERO seeks to identify, eliminate and remedy illegal employment discrimination.

2. Any land based Native American Tribe that has a tribal employment rights office established under an ordinance passed by the tribal council.

3. Application Deadline: June 30; Application Approval: Approximately six weeks.

5. Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance.

8. Program is funded for FY 1982.

9. Contract funds are limited to salaries, travel, supplies and support activities incidental to operation of the TERO.

10. No earmarked appropriations. Program is funded from $18.5 million State and Local appropriations in fiscal year 1982. Current (fiscal year 1983) proposal for State and Local is $18 million; a reduction of $.5 million; approximately the cost of full year TERO funding.

Los Angeles District Office, EEOC, 3255 Wilshire Blvd., 9th Floor, Los Angeles, California 90010.

Phoenix District Office, EEOC, 201 North Central Avenue, Suite 1450, Phoenix, Arizona 85703, 602/261-3882.

San Francisco District Office, EEOC, Ten UN Plaza, 4th Floor, San Francisco, California 94102, 415/556-0260.

Seattle District Office, EEOC, 710 Second Avenue, 7th Floor, Seattle, Washington 89104, 206/442-0968.

15. None.

I hope this information is of assistance to you. If I can be of service in the future, please do not hesitate to contact me again.

Sincerely,

ALFRED L. SWEENEY,
Director, Office of Public Affairs.

LEGAL SERVICES CORPORATION

LEGAL SERVICES CORPORATION,

MR. RICHARD S. JONES,
Congressional Research Service, Government Division, the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.

DEAR MR. JONES: Thank you for Mr. Gude's inquiry of April 29 seeking information for an update of your compilation of Federal programs of special interest to Indians. The information you requested is below, following the format of your letter. In addition I am enclosing a copy of the Legal Services Corporation Act, as amended.

NAME, NATURE AND PURPOSE

The Legal Services Corporation was created in 1974 by Act of Congress (P.L. 93-355, 95-222) to provide funds to qualified locally controlled legal services programs and other service providers to furnish a full range of legal services to low-income clients [Sec. 1006(a)].

The LSC Act established a Washington, D.C., nonmembership nonprofit corporation to provide financial support for legal assistance in noncriminal proceedings or matters to persons financially unable to afford legal assistance. [LSC Act Sec. 1003(a)].

The Corporation is governed by an eleven-member Board of Directors appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate. [LSC Act Sec. 1004(a)].

One aspect of LSC's activities is the funding of thirty-four entities to provide services to Native American clients. These entities are located throughout the United States in states with significant Native American populations. There are 10 Indian legal services programs; 22 Indian components of a general legal services program and one National Support Center currently receiving funds from LSC. (Please see attached list of programs, components, and the Support Center along with contact persons.)

During the late 1970s, LSC expanded services to serve all eligible Native Americans. During the period from 1975 to 1981, this expansion effort took shape in several forms. Some of the programs enlarged their service areas to provide access to previously unserved clients. Also, all the Indian components were created during this period.

At present LSC has no funds available to further expand services to American Indians. In 1982, the Native American programs have absorbed a roughly proportionate share of the Corporation's overall funding reduction. (See Appropriations section below.)

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Eligibility of individual clients seeking services is keyed to poverty levels established by LSC pursuant to regulation. (See 45 C.F.R. Pt. 1611.)

HOW TO APPLY

Using the standard application form furnished by LSC a proposal for developing a program for the delivery of legal services is submitted to the Indian Desk of LSC in accordance with rules and regulations for funding under the Legal Services Corporation Act.

Deadlines: Deadlines are established annually and are published in the Federal Register.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time: 120 days.

INFORMATION CONTACT

Mr. Britt E. Clapham II, Assistant Regional Director for the Indian Desk, Legal Services Corporation, Denver Regional Office, 1726 Champa Street, Suite 500, Denver, CO 80202, (303) 837-5981.

PRINTED INFORMATION AVAILABLE

LSC Act, regulations and general information available at no charge upon request from the Indian Desk at the address above.

AUTHORIZING LEGISLATION

AVAILABLE ASSISTANCE

Formula funding is based upon population and poverty rate statistics. Funds are typically granted on an annualized basis.

USE RESTRICTIONS

Grants are for the purpose of providing legal services to low-income persons in a manner consistent with the LSC Act and regulations. The boards of directors of local recipient programs establish policies and priorities for the allocation of funds within the framework of the legislative mandate.

Other use restrictions are established by the LSC Act and regulations 45 C.F.R. Pt. 1600.
APPROPRIATIONS

The Legal Services Corporation receives an appropriation and a specific amount of that appropriation is allocated to Native American program activities.

IMPACT OF O.B.R.A. OF 1981

Our program was not affected by the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act. However, the level of our appropriations in the fiscal year 1982 continuing resolutions fell 25 percent short of the level for fiscal year 1981, necessitating a substantial reduction in the size of the staff devoted to Indian programs. In 1981 the ten Indian legal services programs employed 86 attorneys while in 1982 these same programs are employing 69 attorneys. A corresponding reduction took place in other staffing categories also.

Sincerely,

DENNIS DAUGHERTY,
Director, Government Relations.

Enclosure.

Mr. RICHARD S. JONES,
Congressional Research Service, Government Division, the Library of Congress Washington, D.C.,

DEAR MR. JONES: Enclosed please find a list of National Endowment for the Arts Program Grants which have been made since fiscal year 1980 and which directly benefit the Indian population. At the end of the list you will find the total amount granted for all these projects and individuals.

I am also sending you copies of our current program guidelines. Indian organizations can apply directly to the programs for grants as long as they meet the eligibility requirements. These requirements are included in the guidelines along with information on the nature and purpose of each program, how to apply, and whom to contact for further information. I have also enclosed a copy of the Endowment's authorizing legislation.

I hope this will give you the information you need for your project. If you have any further questions or requests, you may direct them to the Civil Rights Division, 634-1640.

We would, of course, like to receive a copy of the project when it is completed. We will also send you a copy of our current project, a directory of minority arts organizations, when it is printed later this summer.

Sincerely yours,

JUNE D. HARRISON,
Director, Division of Civil Rights.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION,

Mr. Richard S. Jones,
Congressional Research Service, Government Division, the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Jones: This is in response to Mr. Gilbert Gude's letter of April 29, 1982. I have enclosed information on current National Science Foundation programs which, while not exclusively for Inди-anus or Indian tribes as beneficiaries, may nevertheless be of special interest to Indians or Indian tribes.

Using the format in Mr. Gude's letter, I have prepared information on three NSF programs: The Minority Graduate Fellowship Program, the Research Improvement in Minority Institutions Pro-program, and the Minority Research Initiation Program. If I can provide any additional information, please let me know.

Sincerely,

RAYMOND BYE, Jr.,
Head, Congressional Liaison.

MINORITY GRADUATE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

1. To increase the number of practicing scientists who are members of ethnic minority groups which traditionally have been underrepresented in the advanced levels of the Nation's science talent pool by offering three-year fellowship assistance to minority individuals who have demonstrated ability and special aptitude for advanced training in the sciences.

2. Applicants must: (a) be citizens or nationals of the United States at the time of application; (b) be members of an ethnic minority group underrepresented in the advanced levels of the United States scientific personnel pool (American Indian, Alaskan Native, Black, Mexican American/Chicano, or Puerto Rican); and (c) have not completed more than 20 semester/30 quarter hours, or equivalent, of study in any of the eligible science fields following completion of their first baccalaureate degree in science.

3. Application deadline: November of each year. Award Announcement: March of each year.

4. Application information may be obtained from the Office of Scientific and Engineering Personnel and Education, National Science Foundation, 1800 G Street N.W., Washington, D.C. 20550.

9. All Fellows are required to enroll in full-time programs leading to graduate degrees in eligible science fields. Fellows may not accept additional remuneration from another fellowship, assistantship, scholarship or similar award.

10. Fiscal year 1983 (estimated)—$1.5 million.

11. Fiscal year 1982 (estimated)—$1.5 million; fiscal year 1981—$1.6 million; fiscal year 1980—$1.08 million.

American, and Puerto Rican—with the necessary instrumentation and other resources to initiate a program of scientific research; to increase the quality of research performed at participating institutions; to encourage greater collaboration between scientists at major research universities and scientists at predominantly minority colleges and universities; and to strengthen research environments at participating institutions.

2. Institutions eligible to submit proposals are those institutions of higher education whose enrollments are predominantly (more than 50%) composed of minorities, as defined above. An institution's eligibility for the program will be on the basis of ethnic enrollment data furnished by the institution to the Office for Civil Rights, Department of Education. Proposals may involve collaboration in which some of the research is carried out at institutions that do not meet these criteria.

7. National Science Foundation.

8. No upper limit on the size of requests, however on the basis of prior award history, awards have averaged less then $25,000 per year for release time, equipment, materials, other research-related costs and institutional indirect costs.

OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

U.S. Office of Personnel Management,
Washington, D.C., June 8, 1982.

Mr. Richard S. Jones,
Congressional Research Services, Government Division, the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Jones: Enclosed you will find information describing the Office of Personnel Management programs of interest to American Indians as requested in Mr. Gude’s letter of April 29, 1982.

The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) has been active since 1975 in providing training and technical assistance activities to Indian tribal governments. Most of the funds currently available for this program are based on agreements entered into with the Administration for Native Americans. Our four western regional offices (Northwest, Rocky Mountain, Southwest, and Western) offer technical assistance to tribal organizations, including personnel management internships for tribal employees. The purpose of this assistance is to help tribal organizations improve their personnel system. Indian tribal organizations are also eligible to attend OPM’s reimbursable training program courses. Tuition for attendees is paid by the Indian tribal organization. Although these courses are designed for the Federal workforce, many of the courses may also be applicable to the needs of the tribal organizations. The OPM Intergovernmental Mobility Program provides for the temporary assignment of personnel between Federal agencies, State and local governments, Indian tribes or tribal organizations, and other eligible organizations. Using specific assignments of up to two years, with possible extensions, participants perform work that is beneficial to both the gaining and the contributing organizations. Funding for these assignments is negotiated between the gaining organization and the participant's permanent organization.

Within our limited resources we are continuing our efforts to provide tribal governments with information and assistance in improving their personnel management and employee training programs.

Sincerely,

MICHAEL R. FROST,
Associate Director,
Workforce Effectiveness and Development.

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

MR. RICHARD S. JONES,
Congressional Research Service, Government Division, the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.

DEAR MR. JONES: This is in response to Mr. Gude's letter dated April 29, 1982, concerning this Agency's Indian programs.

Enclosed, as requested, is a complete updated listing of all programs available through the Small Business Administration. Because SBA's programs are available to all qualifying individuals regardless of their ethnic groupings, the Agency does not have a specific Native American Program, per se. We do, however, have several programs which can benefit the socially and economically disadvantaged individual and these programs, for your convenience, are listed below.
Economic Opportunity Loans.
Minority Business Development [Section 8(a) Program].
Management and Technical Assistance for Disadvantaged Businessmen.
Small Business Investment Companies [Section 301(d)].
Bond Guarantees for Surety Companies.
Minority Business and Capital Ownership Development.
Procurement Automated Source System (PASS).

You will note that all requested information pertaining to our programs is addressed under each program listing individually. You will also note that applications are made at the local area office and to assist in this matter, we are submitting a current listing of our offices located nationwide. In addition, as requested, SBA's budget authority, Agencywide, for the designated fiscal year is as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Fiscal year</th>
<th>Billions</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1980</td>
<td>$1.996</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1981</td>
<td>1.200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1982</td>
<td>.570</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1983</td>
<td>.379</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

We trust the above accommodates your needs and should further information be desired, please do not hesitate to contact Mrs. Maureen Fisher, Native American Affairs Officer. Her telephone number is FTS-653-6526.

Your interest in the Small Business Administration and Native American Affairs is appreciated.

Sincerely,

ROBERT L. WRIGHT, JR.,

SMALL BUSINESS INVESTMENT COMPANIES (SBIC; SECTION 301(d) LICENSES)

Authorization
Small Business Investment Act of 1958, as amended; Public Law

Objectives
To make equity and venture capital available to the small business community with maximum use of private sector participating, and a minimum of government interference in the free market, to provide advisory services, and counseling.

Types of assistance
Direct Loans; Guaranteed/Insured Loans; Advisory Services and Counseling.

Uses and Use Restrictions
The investment companies provide management and financial assistance on a continuing basis to eligible small business concerns.
Financial assistance is provided by making long-term loans to these small concerns, and/or by the purchase of debt or equity type securities issued by these firms. Emphasis is on providing assistance to the pioneering, innovating type concerns developing new products, processes, and markets. Section 301(d) SBIC investment policy is directed toward providing assistance, which will contribute to a well balanced national economy by making it easier to become the owner of small business concerns by individuals who have been disadvantaged by social or economic reasons. Debentures are issued by the SBIC and guaranteed by SBA for a term not to exceed 15 years. Under certain circumstances, Section 301(d) licenses may apply for the sale of a limited amount of their preferred stock to SBA. Investment companies generally may not self-deal, take control, finance "big business," or invest over 20 percent (30 percent for Section 301(d) SBICs) of private capital in any single small concern.

Eligibility Requirements
Applicant Eligibility: Any chartered small business investment company having a combined paid-in capital and paid-in surplus of not less than $500,000 having qualified management, and giving evidence of sound operations.

ship, partnership or corporation) which satisfy the established criteria of a small business and, for Section 301(d) license beneficiary eligibility, of a disadvantaged small business.

Credentials/Documentation: Investment company must be chartered as a corporation or limited partnership (with corporate general partner). Determination is made as to need in area, general business reputation and character of proposed owners and management and probability of successful operations. All loans to small concerns shall be of such sound value, or so secured, as reasonably to assure repayment.

A portion of the leverage provided to Section 301(d) licenses may be through preferred stock.

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION,

Mr. Richard S. Jones,

Dear Mr. Jones: Unaccountably, your letter of April 29th addressed to Secretary Ripley, which was forwarded to the Office of Museum Programs for the preparation of a draft response, became mislaid in transit from one office to the other, and only came to my attention Friday evening. I deeply regret this delay and hope it did not cause any inconvenience.

The Native American Museum Program of the Office of Museum Programs offers museum training opportunities to members of those communities, Indians, Eskimos and Aleuts, who have established tribal museums and cultural centers but who have difficulty in administering these in an efficient fashion for lack of trained personnel. This training is provided by the Office of Museum Programs either directly or in cooperation with other museums of the Institution. Participants attend seminars and workshops, visit various departments of the Institution, depending upon their needs, work in exhibit design and production departments and in conservation laboratories. The program is offered free of charge and is structured in such a way as to meet the specific needs of the individuals. Participants furnish their own transportation and subsistence.

In fiscal years 1980 and 1981 this program was subsidized by a grant from the Department of Labor, but, this has expired and now, on a more reduced scale, it has been integrated into the Institution’s regular professional enhancement programs. Applicants can obtain further information by writing directly to the Office of Museum Programs, A&I 2235, Smithsonian Institution, Washington D.C. 20560 for the attention of Nancy Fuller. There are no deadlines for application and there is no printed information available at the moment.

If I can be of any further assistance, do let me know. Again, our apology for this delayed response.

Sincerely,

Paul N. Perrot,
Assistant Secretary for Museum Programs.
